Panda Ethanol to Build 100 Million Gallon Ethanol Plant in Sherman County, Texas Cattle Manure Used To Fuel Plant

DALLAS — August 29, 2006 — Panda Ethanol Inc. today announced that it intends to build a 100 million gallon per year ethanol plant in Sherman County, Texas. The facility will annually refine approximately 40 million bushels of corn and milo into a clean-burning, renewable fuel for the nation's transportation needs.

The Sherman plant will generate the steam used in the ethanol manufacturing process by gasifying more than 1 billion pounds of cattle manure a year. Once complete, it will be one of the most fuel efficient ethanol refineries in the nation and equal in size to Panda's Hereford facility which is the largest biomass-fueled ethanol plant in the United States.

The Sherman facility is the fourth 100 million gallon ethanol project announced by Panda, and the third to be powered by cattle manure.

"This plant will significantly expand our ethanol production portfolio, strengthen the economy of the Texas Panhandle and enhance our nation's energy independence," said Todd Carter, chief executive officer of Panda Ethanol. "We are excited by the community's support for this project and look forward to working with state and local officials in seeing it through to completion."

Sherman County, Texas Judge Terri Beth Carter said Panda representatives have been active involved in the community since the beginning of the site selection process. "They've done a good job answering questions and building support for this project. We're pleased they chose Sherman County as the location for their next ethanol plant."

"This facility will be an economic boon to the area" added Kathy Alien, executive director of the Sherman County Development Committee. "It will create an estimated 61 skilled jobs and 77 additional support jobs. All together, the construction and ongoing operation of the plant is expected to infuse more than $220 million into the area's economy over the next 10 years."

Panda's Sherman refinery will be located on a 1,200 acre site three miles northwest of Stratford, Texas. Construction will take approximately 18 months. The completion date is dependent upon financing, regulatory approvals and other conditions. Panda has submitted its request for an air permit with the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality.

Panda Ethanol previously announced that it successfully completed the debt and equity financing on its 100 million gallon ethanol plant in Hereford, Texas. The company has begun facility construction on the 380-acre site and anticipates ethanol production to commence in the second half of 2007. The company also announced that it has entered into a merger agreement with Cirracor, a publicly-held corporation which trades over the counter. The merger is currently expected to become effective in the fourth quarter of 2006, subject to the satisfaction of certain requirements, and the combined entity will operate under the name of Panda Ethanol Inc.

About Panda Ethanol

Panda Ethanol is headquartered in Dallas, Texas. The company is currently developing fuel ethanol refineries and biomass facilities in the United States. Panda Ethanol's largest single shareholder is Panda Energy International Inc., a privately-held company which has built over 9,000 MW of electric generation capacity at a cost of $5 billion. In 2005, Newsweek magazine named Panda one of the most eco-friendly companies in America. ## SO LONG, GOOD BYE, THANKS FOR THE RIDE

Well, I would like to take this time to thank you all for helping me out and the many friends I have made. Well Stratford, my time here is done, and now its time to move to greener pastures, to start a new chapter in my life.

I will miss this place called Stratford, some people here, the friends I have made, you farmers that I have worked with, and the kids, but I will not miss the heartaches and headaches. I have an opportunity that came about and I feel that it is my best interest to take it.

Also, for the record, anyone having knowledge of the rumor about me thanks for talking about it and not asking me face to face. The sad thing is, who ever is behind it did not even sign the letter I got, and when asked they will not show me an email. That's fine if you want to talk and speculate issues but it's not ok when you don't know what you are talking about. Like the saying goes "People who talk DON'T KNOW, People who know DON'T TALK!"

Well, so long Stratford, good bye, thanks for the ride and yes I will miss this place. May God Bless each and every one of you! SHERMAN HAMMONS aka: Sherman from Sherman County!

Auto Care

(NU) - Early fall is the best time for car care, according to the experts at the nonprofit National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence, who offer some tips. Replace all dirty filters, get an oil change, and flush and refill the cooling system if necessary. Have drive belts, hoses and clamps tightened and the battery checked. Examine tires for remaining tread life, check tire pressure once a month and have tires rotated if necessary. You should also assemble an emergency kit. ## The Churches of Stratford Welcome You

HE SAVES US

Ask someone why God should let them into heaven. You will probably get one of two answers. "I've lived a pretty good life." Then there is the negative. "I'm not so bad; God should have no problem letting me into heaven."

The common perception is that we enter heaven on the basis of our works, our own good deeds. We see God as a great grandfather in the sky who will always welcome us with open arms because, well, we deserve it. Listen to the Bible. "He saved us, not on the basis of deeds which we have done in righteousness, but according to His mercy, by the washing of regeneration and renewing by the Holy Spirit" (Titus 3:5). God does not save us on the basis of works we have done or will do. We are actually sinners worthy of condemnation.

Our refusal, to openly acknowledge God, regularly worship God, continually serve God and propagate a proper understanding of God, all stand as witnesses against us. Our nation stands on the principle of freedom. Most people want freedom from religion, particularly what they see as the constraints of Christianity. As a result, if we expect entrance into heaven, we need God's mercy.

We need cleansing from sin and evil. We need inner renewal by the power of the Holy Spirit altering our dispositions so we will actually enjoy God. If we don't enjoy God here on earth, what makes us think we will enjoy Him in Heaven?

1st Full Truckload of Recycled Paper Shipped

PAPER FACTS

* To produce each week's Sunday newspapers, 500,000 trees must be cut down.

* Recycling a single run of the Sunday New York Times would save 75,000 trees.

* If all our newspaper was recycled, we could save about 250,000,000 trees each year!

* If every American recycled just one-tenth of their newspapers, we would save about 25,000,000 trees a year.

* During World War II when raw materials were scarce, 33% of all paper was recycled. After the war, this number decreased sharply.

* If you had a 15-year-old tree and made it into paper grocery bags, you'd get about 700 of them. A supermarket could use all of them in under an hour! This means in one year, one supermarket goes through 60,500,000 paper bags! Imagine how many supermarkets there are in the U.S.!!!

* The average American uses seven trees a year in paper, wood, and other products made from trees. This amounts to about 2,000,000,000 trees per year!

* The amount of wood and paper we throw away each year is enough to heat 50,000,000 homes for 20 years.

* When you smell a dump, what you actually smell is the paper hi the dump! (which is why you don't smell the Stratford Dump since paper isn't put in the dump thanks to the recycling department)

* Approximately 1 billion trees worth of paper are thrown away every year hi the U.S.

* Americans use 85,000,000 tons of paper a year; about 680 pounds per person.

* The average household throws away 13,000 separate pieces of paper each year. Most is packaging and junk mail.

* In 1993, U.S. paper recovery saved more than 90,000,000 cubic yards of landfill space.

* In 1993, nearly 36,000,000 tons of paper was recovered in the U.S.-twice as much in 1980.

* 27% of the newspapers produced in America are recycled.

* Each ton (2000 pounds) of recycled paper can save 17 trees, 380 gallons of oil, three cubic yards of landfill space, 4000 kilowatts of energy, and 7000 gallons of water. This represents a 64% energy savings, a 58% water savings, and 60 pounds less of air pollution!

The City Of Stratford would like to inform the residents that we have shipped our first full truckload of recycled paper. That is 20 Tons of paper! This paper will be made into new paper like paper towels, and toilet paper. Usually we ship this on a mixed load truck where we have to pay the freight but on this load the company that bought the paper will have to pay the freight, which will be a first on office paper. We have done this several times with cardboard but never have with office paper. Right now the city is recycling cardboard, office paper, newspapers, magazines, tin cans and aluminum cans. If you like more information on recycling feel free to call Jesse at 366-3263.

* The 17 trees saved (above) can absorb a total of 250 pounds of carbon dioxide from the air each year. Burning that same ton of paper would create 1500 pounds of carbon dioxide.

Osteoporosis Can Be Slowed or Prevented

By Kay Ledbetter

AMARILLO * An easily broken bone or noticeable decline in height could be signs of osteoporosis, said a Texas Cooperative Extension specialist.

The risk of osteoporosis, a disease that weakens bones, increases as both men and women get older, said Andrew B. Crocker, Extension program specialist for gerontology health.

"Because there are no real outward symptoms of osteoporosis, you may not notice any changes until a bone breaks," Crocker said.

"But, your bones have been losing strength for many years," he said, adding millions of Americans, mostly Caucasian and Asian women, have osteoporosis.

Bone is living tissue, Crocker said. To keep bones strong, the body constantly replaces older bone tissue with new. As people age, more bone is broken down than is replaced.

To diagnose osteoporosis, a health provider may recommend a bone mineral density test, he said. The test will help determine the risk for fractures and measure response to treatment.

The inside of bone looks something like a honeycomb, Crocker said. With osteoporosis, the spaces in this honeycomb grow larger; the bone forming the honeycomb gets smaller; and the outer shell of the bone gets thinner.

"All this loss makes your bones weaker," he said.

The most widely recognized bone mineral density test is called a dual-energy X-ray absorptiometry scan or DEXA-scan, he said. This painless procedure is like having an X-ray.

Bone mass measurement tests are covered once every 24 months under Medicare Part "B," Crocker said.

"If your health provider determines you are at high risk or that it is medically necessary, Medicare may pay for screenings more often," he said.

Treating osteoporosis means stopping the bone loss and rebuilding bone to prevent breaks, Crocker said.

"Diet and exercise can help make your bones stronger, but they may not be enough if you have lost a lot of bone density," he said. "There are several medications which you may take to help lessen your risk of developing osteoporosis or lessen its effects. Some will slow your bone loss, and others can help rebuild bone."

Individuals with osteoporosis should be aware of any physical changes that affect their balance or gait and these should be discussed with their health provider, he said.

Preventing falls is a special concern, Crocker said. Falls can increase the likelihood of fracturing a bone anywhere in the skeleton, but especially in the hip, wrist or spine.

Falls can be caused by impaired vision and/or balance, chronic diseases that affect mental or physical functioning and certain medications, such as sedatives and antidepressants.

For more information on preventing falls, visit Extension's Fall Prevention Web site:

While osteoporosis may not start until later in life, prevention shouldn't wait, Crocker said.

Here are some things to do throughout life to prevent weakened bones:

— Get enough dietary calcium to help build and keep strong bones. Foods high in calcium include low-fat dairy foods and dark green leafy vegetables, and calcium-fortified foods such as orange juice, breads and cereals. Under some circumstances, a health provider may recommend a calcium supplement.

Under some circumstances, a health provider may recommend a calcium supplement.

— Vitamin D is used to absorb calcium in the body. Most people can absorb enough vitamin D from sunlight if they are outdoors for a total of 20 minutes every day. Vitamin D also comes from eggs, fatty fish and cereal and vitamin D-fortified milk. As with calcium, be careful, because too much Vitamin D may cause harmful side-effects.

— Exercise makes bones and muscles stronger. Weight-bearing exercises, done three to four times a week, are best for preventing osteoporosis. Walking, jogging, playing tennis and dancing are good weight-bearing exercises. Strengthening and balance exercises may also help prevent falls.

— Some common medicines can make bones weaker, including some steroid drugs, anti-seizure drugs, sleeping pills and cancer drugs. An overactive thyroid gland or using too much thyroid hormone for an underactive thyroid can also be a problem. Talk to a health provider about what to do to help protect bones when taking these medicines.

— Some lifestyle choices also make a person more susceptible. Smoking increases loss of bone mass, and alcohol can put a person at risk for falling-and breaking a bone.

We all seem to be well into the swing of things here in school. In another day or two, the staff will be able to start Purchase Orders for this new budget year. I know the librarian will be starting to make out orders for new library books.

First State Bank of Stratford sponsored a lovely picnic supper for the SISD staff Monday evening, August 21, at the country home of B.A. and LeRayne Donelson. They served grilled hamburgers and hot dogs, all the trimmings, cookies, brownies, smores, and soft drinks. They entertained the crowd with volleyball and rides in the club car. We all managed to get kinda wet with the beautiful rain, and then we were blessed with a brilliant rainbow. It was a wonderful evening. Thanks to the First State Bank for their efforts.

The ESL (English as a Second Language) classes are studying the history of the National Anthem. They are also learning the meaning of the words used in the anthem which was written in 1814.

The second graders are once again working on a "Hall of Fame"! They are making individual posters to tell about themselves. Visit MAE and discover some interesting information about our famous second graders for 2006-2007!!! "We have a great bunch of second graders this year!" said Mrs. Butler and Mrs. Drake.

The senior class elected Mrs. Carla Griffin and Mr. Mark Keener as class sponsors.

Do you know where the name "District of Columbia" came from? The ESL classes know now. "Columbia" comes from Christopher Columbus. Our nation's capital had quite a struggle getting its present name, everything from Federal Town up to Washington, D.C. It's a very interesting story.
