Rangers Lead Group of Lawmen in Cracking Burglary Ring Operation

Texas Rangers, sheriffs, city police and other local law enforcement officers have cracked what has been described as one of the most extensive burglary and safe-cracking operations in modern-day Texas history.

The apprehension of James Hugh Leggett of Abilene by Rangers and local officers on Jan. 22, and his subsequent statements climaxed a statewide investigation involving more than 200 burglaries in some 75 counties.

Leggett, 33, is an ex-convict with a long record having been sentenced to five years in prison in 1947 for burglary in Lubbock County, two years for burglary in Lubbock County in 1950, and five years for assault with intent to murder in Lubbock County in 1953.

Burglary charges have been filed on Leggett in Big Spring, Vernon, Austin, Georgetown, Gatesville and Bell County. Charges have been filed in Austin naming four men and a 20-year-old woman in connection with seven safe burglaries in the Austin area alone.

Three members of the alleged ring—Harold Lee Merrifield, 27, Rowell Pershing Leggett, 33, and his 20-year-old wife, Sue Ann Leggett—were all charged in Austin last weekend following the capture of Leggett and Merrifield in a food

Judge Chapman Is Candidate For Re-Election

Judge Ben Charlie Chapman of the 39th Judicial District, has authorized the announcement of his candidacy for re-election, subject to action of the Democratic primary.

In making his announcement, Judge Chapman said he desired first of all to express his sincere gratitude to the citizens of the four counties composing the 39th Judicial District for their friendship, confidence and support in the past. He added that he had no formal statement to make at this time, other than that he was submitting his candidacy to the people throughout the district on the basis of his record during the time he has served as District Judge.

Judge Chapman needs no introduction to a majority of the people in the four counties of the district—Haskell, Throckmorton, Stonefall and Kent. He has lived in Haskell County his entire lifetime and is personally acquainted with most of the residents in the four counties.

Judge Chapman is recognized throughout this section as one of the outstanding jurists of West Texas and a capable and impartial public official.

His knowledge of law, gained during the years he has served on the bench, and previously as District and County Attorney, coupled with a deep sense of fairness and impartiality, qualifies him in every sense for the responsible position he holds.

During the time he has served as District Judge, he has gained the high regard of fellow jurists as well as the esteem and confidence of the citizenship in his district. Review of his record as presiding judge in both civil and criminal cases shows that Judge Chapman has been upheld in the highest appeals courts of the State in all but one or two instances when appeal has been taken from rulings in his court.

Until such time as Judge Chapman has the opportunity to discuss his candidacy personally with the voters of the 39th Judicial District, we have no hesitancy in inviting your favorable consideration and support in re-electing him on the basis of his record as District Judge.

19,147 Bales of Cotton Ginned

Harvesting of the area cotton crop is in its final stages, with only a few bales trickling into Haskell's three gin plants.

A check at noon Wednesday showed that 19,147 bales from the 1961 cotton crop had been processed by the three local gins.

During the past two or three days of sunshine, about 10 bales daily have been received at each of the plants.

"With almost every bale, farmers tell us this is his last," a Haskell ginner said. However, he added that the local plants would be operating sporadically for a week or two longer as remnants of the crop are gathered.

Rotary PDG 'Pic' Lamour of Graham Guest Speaker at Rotary Meeting

Members of the Rotary Club enjoyed a talk by a veteran West Texas Rotarian, a man who has earned numerous distinctions in Rotary which have brought him national and international recognition.

The speaker was M. W. "Pic" Lamour of Graham, Past District Governor in Rotary International, a member at various times of important RI committees, and editor of The Scandal Sheet, bulletin of the Graham Rotary Club which has the largest circulation of any club bulletin in the world.

Preceding his talk, Past District Governor Bob King spoke briefly on Rotary Information. Noting that February was the birthday month of Rotary, he discussed the founding of the Rotary International. He gave numerous interesting facts from copies of the magazine published in 1915, when there were only 176 Rotary Clubs in U. S., Canada, and Great Britain. Today, there are 1,195 in all the free countries of the world.

PDG King, as program chairman, introduced the guest speaker. He pointed out that the Graham man could rightfully be called "Mr. Rotarian" from the fact that he had attended 1,744 consecutive weekly meetings of Rotary.

Mr. Lamour told of serving on the Magazine Committee of Rotary International in 1943-44, and told of the founding of the city magazine in 1912. He told at length of the magnitude of work and research going into the editing and preparation of the magazine, which goes to every member of Rotary and has an added sale of 12,000 copies monthly to non-members. He described the huge printing plant he visited, where the magazine is published and told about some of the complex equipment used in the magazine plant.

Club President, R. A. Lane, presided for the business session. Members as a group expressed regret and tendered their sympathy to Rotarian H. V. Woodard in the recent loss of his father in Tennessee. The club sing-song was led by Rotarian Novis Ousley of Rule, with Mrs. Ruthie Withers as pianist.

Guests present included Cleatus Drinnon, a guest of Thos. B. Roberson; Danny Josselo, HHS student guest for January.

Out-of-town Rotarians present, in addition to the guest speaker, were Walter Randolph, A. M. Richards and Novis Ousley of Rule; Herman Gammill of Rochester; and Eldon Gresham of Graham.

Late Rush Sends Poll Tax Total Near 2,500 Mark

A brisk rush in payment of the current poll tax which started during the weekend is likely to send total payments above the 2,500 mark, clerks in the tax collector's office believed Wednesday.

At noon Wednesday, total payment of poll tax had reached the 2,400 mark. It was estimated that 100 or more last-minute payments would come in during the afternoon and by mail.

Deadline for paying the current poll tax was midnight, Jan. 31. However, tax payments mailed and postmarked before the deadline meet the requirements of the law and are accepted. As a rule, a good many poll tax payments are mailed on the final day.

Last year, a total of 2,096 poll tax receipts were issued in the county.

Point of View

With most people, you can argue about any subject under the sun—and the most you'll develop is a heated discussion. But try talking to a man about his religion and probably you will have a real debate on your hands in very short order.

Strangely enough, even people who say they aren't religious take the subject of religion more seriously than anything else. That's because religious faith—or even the protested absence of it—is often the most important single influence in our lives. It governs so much of what we do consciously or unconsciously. And yet, when it comes to understanding, studying or following our religion, it is often the most casual thing we undertake. There is a great deal of strength and help to be found in faith—but you won't find it casually. You'll find it through regular worship—this week and every week at your church.

Program Must Be Aimed at Someone Else!

(From The Stamford American)

"Small towns are their own worst enemies. They just won't recognize that their future depends upon their own actions. All across the country the small towns are faced with the problem of dwindling business, more and more vacant buildings, shrinking tax valuations, less work opportunities and fewer and fewer children for the schools."

This, substantially, was what a number of Stamford business men heard the other day when they attended a meeting which was addressed by a man who has done a lot of research on the problem.

These merchants were told that the only salvation for a small town was to create an understanding in the minds of the people that in a small town we all live off one another, that it is important to keep money at home.

These merchants were convinced that the man was right. So convinced were they that 30 or more of them put up $45 each to pay for free movies once a week for their customers. This means that some $1000 is being spent to encourage people to trade at home, in Stamford.

Almost before the ink was dry on the contract all that apparently was forgotten, at least was forgotten by some people in Stamford. They have contracted to send upwards of $500 out of town on a community project.

Each year, when the city football banquet is held, bids are received from local caterers on serving the meal. A committee gathered this information this year and got a price of $1.15 per plate from a Stamford caterer. Everything appeared settled as far as at least one member of the committee was concerned.

Then it was learned that an Abilene firm was given the contract at the same price. Some said this would mean a little less trouble for some Stamford people.

Great jumping Jupiter! What kind of reasoning is that? You can ask anyone who shops in Abilene why he or she does and you will get a much better answer than that.

Let's not throw away our $1000 telling all the rest of the people to spend their money in Stamford when we have no intention of doing so ourselves.

As far as I am concerned, trading in Stamford is for everybody—Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club, Exchange Club, Lions, Jaycees, merchants—or it is for nobody.

It is a pretty sorry rule that does not work both ways. I never believed in telling a man to do something that I wouldn't do myself.

People, Places & Things

By A. PATE

A small group had gathered in the office of County Clerk Bill Reeves Saturday night to await reports from the special election.

The talk got around to weather, and about grain not looking too good at this time. Consensus of opinion was that milder weather, a slow run, and a few days of sunshine would send small grain to town.

But the weather is not all that is hurting grain, declared Courtney Hunt.

"A farmer from Paint Creek told me," Hunt said, "that wild geese, ducks and blackbirds were keeping his oats nipped off to the ground."

"I had no idea geese and ducks were so plentiful. Looks like someone should have been filling their lockers while the season was open," Hunt commented.

Since Lake Stamford was built, ducks and geese have Herbert Bosse, election judge at the McConnell voting box in the special election Saturday, tells of an amusing incident which occurred at his voting box.

Election officials noticed a car approaching, occupied by a couple, and assumed they were about to poll two more votes.

However, the car had no sooner drove up and stopped until the driver slipped into reverse gear, turned around and took off before Bosse or anyone else could recognize them.

"Who in the world could that have been?" the election official asked each other as they watched the car drive down the road.

Then, when the car turned into a private road leading to the old Bosse "homestead," Herbert decided he'd find out.

Getting in his car, he drove quickly to the homestead, arriving as the couple were getting in their car after their knock at the front door was not answered.

As Herbert drove up, the man and his wife started grinning as the three recognized each other. It turned out the couple was Mr. and Mrs. Zorner Summers of Sagerton. A lumber dealer there, he is a candidate for County Commissioner in Prec. 4.

"We didn't realize we were at a polling place until we stopped," Summers explained, and he saw the "No Electioneering" signs. "I told my wife we'd better get away from here quick," he added, as the three had a big laugh over the incident.

Out at the Mattson election box, we're told, they are sticklers for the election laws being rigidly enforced.

In those rural boxes, sometimes 30 minutes or an hour will elapse between votes, leaving election officials with a lot of time on their hands.

When that occurs, they say that Henry Smith, presiding judge at the voting box, will dump a box of dominoes on a table, start shuffling and say: "All right, everybody get a hand, we can't have any loitering around a polling place."

When A. J. Mansker, presiding judge in Prec. 3 voting box has time on his hands, he has a perfect hobby, whistling. And he's a past master at the art.

He recently showed us an intricate creation he had whittled out of a piece of soft pine. It was a wooden chain, consisting of several links, all interlocking, with a round ring on one end. Most complicated feature was the fact that two of the links were connected with a swivel joint. It consisted of a ball and swivel socket, all of which turned freely in the same manner as a metal chain. Yet the entire deal was painstakingly whittled out of a block of wood.

In the last week or ten days, bird watchers have been privileged to see greater variety in species than at any time in years, probably because of the excessively cold weather.

On one of the coldest days recently, with ice and a light fall of snow covering the ground, we saw the largest flock of true bluebirds we have ever seen in Haskell.

They were congregated in trees and bushes in the alley behind the home of Mrs. John Ellis, around noon. Flitting from bush to ground to tree, they evidently were feeding on seeds or berries they had found there.

Driving back by the spot an hour later, many of the bluebirds were still feeding where we first saw them, but a few had spread further down the block and across the street.

In the current issue of Outdoor Life, a letter to the editor says that more rattlesnakes have been seen and killed on the prairies of Nebraska than at any time in history.

That section of the country is probably afflicted with an epidemic of "rattlers" similar to the "invasion" in this area of Texas a few years ago.

As far as we know, there has never been a logical and understandable explanation of the occurrence.

Guy Collins recalls that when he was a youth in Wise County that one year the deadly poisonous cotton-mouth was particularly numerous in ponds and streams there.

He particularly remembers when he and a companion went duck hunting in the little community of Audubon. It was a crapy cold day, but the sun was shining brightly.

Heading for the dam at a favorite tank where they could "spot shoot" several ducks, Guy's companion raced ahead of him, started down a trail on a slight incline, then froze in his tracks. As he stood motionless, Guy rushed up and asked: "What's the matter? Did you see something?"

His companion, still speechless, pointed. There, scarcely two feet away, was a huge water moccasin, stretched across the trail, sunning. Further down the trail, and on each side of it, were at least a dozen more big cotton-mouths.

"I'd always heard about snakes 'charming' people, and that boy was as near 'charmed' as anyone I've ever seen," Guy declared.

That didn't end the duck hunt, but it did slow it down, Guy recalls. After killing three or four ducks, the boys called it a day. "We were too badly scared to enjoy hunting," he said.

Cracking of one of the biggest burglary rings in Texas last week by Rangers and local officers in a number of counties, may result in solving some robberies committed here.

Men charged in the more than 300 burglaries admitted, have included Haskell as one of the towns in which they pulled jobs. But nothing definite has been pinned on the suspects as yet, officers say.

A Haskell woman, Carolyn Pippin, would be extremely happy if only one item taken in a burglary of the Haskell Pharmacy, operated by Mr. and Mrs. Pippin, could be recovered and returned to her.

The specific article is a $3 gold piece, won by Carolyn in a speech contest when she was seven years old. In addition to the intrinsic value as a keep-sake, the gold coin has additional value as a collector's item, since none have been minted since 1933.

A Marble Falls man is generally credited with "inventing" back around 1904 one of the most popular game calls ever devised. It mimics the squeal of an injured rabbit and is infallible in calling up fox, coyotes, bobcats, and other predators.

However, files of The Free Press dating around 1900 tell of an old bachelor who worked on the Rose Ranch southeast of town, having developed a similar call. The paper told how the old man, concealing himself in a clump of bushes, would imitate the cry of a crippled rabbit in attracting coyotes within range of his 22 rifle. He would sometimes kill as many as 20 coyotes in a day, it was reported.

Years ago, when Ching Middleton worked as a Government trapper for the U. S. Fish and Wild Life Service, he used a call of this type with success.

In fact, Mrs. Middleton had one of the most effective rabbit calls she had ever used. She had made a rabbit's squeal by using a tin can with a hole in it, and blowing into it.

Then, she started shouting when the coyotes appeared. She had a bank above her and almost screamed when she saw the man, marking the spot where the animal appeared in the brush.

In and Out The Tee-Pees
By JOANIE FRAZIER

The excitement is over and only memories remain for the Seniors who attended the football banquet last Saturday night. Excitement ran high until the closing minutes and then all became calm and rather sad as the cheerleaders led the entire attendance in the school song. Then all went their merry way, gathering football place favors and programs for their scrap books and bulletin boards. The last hours of January 27, 1962, will be relived many times this year and in the years to come of many present and especially those honored at the banquet Saturday.

Monday morning came with a bang for those taking the Quill & Scroll tests. Many students taking these tests were rather disturbed until after they were over, and then one Junior was heard to remark,
"You just have to use common sense and those tests are a snap." This may be so for a Junior but Barry O'Neal told a different story.

There is no rest in sight for the "Nineteens" as they found their mothers waiting for them Monday afternoon with ideas and patterns to "let" for their new costumes and planning for their spring concert. They seem to be having a very difficult time deciding between the colors, blue or pink, for their spring costumes and concert decorations. But amid all the "discussing and musing" they are trying to at long last learn their theme song "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" and a few other songs for the Chamber of Commerce banquet the second of March.

The Juniors are excited about the Junior plays and the Spanish Class is busy planning their trip to Mexico. It's a diff. cult decision deciding which group is the more excited.

From the above you can see the month of February, as short and small as it may be, seems to be the busiest time of all for the students of Haskell High School. But if you will only notice the busier we are the happier we are.

See you in seven suns.

New Major Draft
Classification Announced

A new major amendment to the draft regulations which will affect thousands of draft-age men was explained today by Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director at Austin.

The new amendment, authorized by Presidential executive order, creates a new draft classification immediately.

The new classification is 1-Y.
Men found not qualified by the armed forces for military service under current physical, mental, and moral standards, but who are considered to be qualified to serve in time of war or national emergency declared by Congress will be placed in the new class.

Previously these men were placed in 4-F. Only men not qualified for any military service will be placed in Class 4-F hereafter.

A large number of the state's 240,000 4-F's will qualify for the new Class 1-Y, Col. Schwartz predicted.

The new classification permits ready identification, day by day, of men who are considered to be qualified and available in an emergency, and thus facilitates more rapid mobilization of manpower in case of need, the state Selective Service director said.

Annually, about 200,000 U. S.
Army personnel come back from overseas, with as many going over to replace them.

Loessin - Whorton Marriage Rites Read in Eagle Lake On Saturday

The First Baptist Church of Eagle Lake was the scene of the marriage of Evangeline Ann Loessin of Eagle Lake and Elbert Benjamin (Sonny) Whorton of Rule, at 7:30 on Saturday night, Jan. 27. The Rev. Henry Admon III read the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Henry Loessin and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Benjamin Whorton Sr. of Rule.

Mr. Loessin gave his daughter in marriage. The bride chose a gown of candlelight silk taffeta. The empire bodice was fashioned with wide oval neckline framed by scallops of the lace. The three quarter length sleeves were complemented by short white kid gloves.

Garland appliques of alencon lace and pearl embroidery enhanced the front of the bell-shaped skirt. The back fullness swept into a wide court length train.

The bride's veil of illusion fell in tiers from a coronet of seed pearls and crystals. She carried a bouquet of white roses, rosebuds and Brazilian straw flowers.

Patricia Fay Loessin was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a gown of scarlet satin-faced peau de soie with a full-flared skirt. The sculptured bodice was fashioned with a decollete neckline. She carried a bouquet of red Delight roses and rosebuds. Her headpiece was a scarlet bugle-beaded coronet with a brief veil.

Robert Allen Whorton of Rule, brother of the bridegroom, was Best Man. Jack Alston Whorton of Rule, brother of the groom, Albert Milner Tate Jr. of Marlin, Ronald Ray Rogers of Garland, Bobby Martin Sutton of Ozona, Ronald David Bull of Waco, and David Edward Young of Beaumont, served as ushers and candlelighters. Except for Whorton and Young all were the bridegroom's teammates on the Baylor football team.

Donna Raye Remmert of Sealey, cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

The reception followed in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

Members of the houseparty were: Mrs. Ronald Bull of Waco, Mary Katherine Whorton of Rule, sister of the groom; Betty Ellen Vickers of Dallas, Karen Elizabeth Wroten of Houston, Mrs. Louis Muzny, Mrs. Roy Van Nort, Mrs. Clement Richter and Linda Kay Rogers of Duncanville.

The bridegroom, who will be a June graduate from Baylor, is a three-year varsity football letterman, member of the Tryon Coterie fraternity, "B" Assn., Physics Club, Math Club and Mascot Lodge.

The couple will reside at 1514 S. 5th St., Waco.

LIEUT. PENNINGTON

Dale finished high school in Haskell in 1957 and entered A&M College the same year. Mr. and Mrs. Bland attended the commencement program on the morning of Jan. 20 and in the afternoon attended the commissioning exercises when Dale was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the U. S. Army.

Leut. and Mrs. Pennington will make their home at Llano, Texas, until March, when he is scheduled to go to Fort Lee, Va., for two months schooling in the Quartermaster School. After completing the course there, Lieut. Pennington will begin active Army duty.

A Tribute From Mother My Son

You came to our home to add love and cheer, To all your needs and wants we tried to lend an ear. We started you to school with one aim, With an ache in our hearts, We knew it was a part of the game. When you were small, son, An Aggie you wanted to be And we tried so hard to make it possible, you see. You wanted to join the Aggie team, We were hoping all along it would make you a man. In your "Fish" year it was "Hard we chew Your classmates that stayed were Oh, so few. The letters you wrote, phone calls you made That it was tough but you were still making the grade. Through all the hollering, yelling and hoots We knew somehow you would wear those Senior boots.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By VERN SANFORD

Morton Burnham is a slight, gray-headed, quiet-spoken gentleman who operates a small machine shop in Marble Falls in the heart of the Highland Lakes area of central Texas. His hobby is inventing.

One day, some 60 years ago, his inquisitive mind came up with an idea that today has opened an entirely new plateau of hunting.

As much as anyone knows to the contrary, Burnham was the father of game calling. He was the first person to imitate the sound of a rabbit in distress—to call predators.

It started quite innocently back in 1904. Morton Burnham was nine years old at the time. He was going on his first night hunt.

Clamped on his hat was a hunting light which the youth had invented. It was made from a tin can into which he had poured kerosene and inserted a wick. The crude headlamp gave off a faint, flickering glow.

Burnham walked into the night, following the half-moon swath of light. He skirted a field, climbed through a barbed wire fence and walked until the light reflected the glow of eyes. Then Morton Burnham raised his rifle and fired. A fine buck fell.

Night hunting for deer was legal then.

The shot set off a chain reaction which young Morton did not immediately comprehend. A jackrabbit feeding in the field was spooked by the noise. It tried to squirm under the barbed wire fence but was caught. It began squealing. Almost instantly a pair of wolves pounced out of the dark and devoured the helpless rabbit.

Morton Burnham didn't stick around to find out what happened. He ran for home!

Later, back in the safety of the house, he got to thinking about the incident. Why couldn't a person imitate the sound of a crying rabbit to call wolves? The idea fascinated him.

For three months he practiced and practiced—trying to imitate the sound with his lips. Finally, he had it down pat. He could duplicate the cry of the injured rabbit. He did it by sucking wind through compressed lips and regulating the tone with the palm of his hand.

But would it actually work? He enlisted the help of a boyhood friend. One afternoon they headed for that same spot where the wolves had killed the rabbit.

Morton remembered the way the killers had suddenly appeared out of the night. And he remembered what had happened to the helpless rabbit. He didn't want anything like that to happen to him. That's why this was an afternoon experiment.

The two boys stopped at the same field where Burnham had shot the deer.

In a quirk of luck, they chanced to see a pack of wolves pursuing a doe. The lean and muscular killers caught the deer and began tearing her to pieces.

Morton Burnham grabbed the arm of his friend and pulled him down behind a log. As they lay there, Burnham imitated the cry of an injured rabbit.

A big she wolf raised her head and looked around. Without hesitation, she quit the downed deer and headed for the source of the cry. On her heels came the other wolves, rushing toward the two boys as if hypnotized.

Morton Burnham waited until the big wolf was almost on him before he shot. She fell heavily. The other wolves wheeled and scrambled for safety.

Before the day's hunt was ended the boys shot two more wolves.

That was the beginning . . . the actual birth of game calling.

It opened an entirely new sport for Morton Burnham . . . a sport that reached its climax for him a few years later when he called and killed 105 foxes in only three days of hunting on a ranch near Richland Springs.

Morton Burnham has had his share of thrills in game calling.

He recalls most vividly the time when he was calling while crouched in a ravine. On this occasion a fox suddenly leaped over the edge, into the ditch, and clamped his teeth into Burnham's arm.

Another time, while on a hunt he was calling while seated in the fork of a tree. Little did he

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

War has been declared.

The 25 year old cold war that has been waged against the people of the United States through various administrations and different partisan affiliations by the U. S. State Dept., the international socialists, the international cartellists, and left wing professors, has now become the battle for survival.

C. W. Harder

Active hostilities were announced with the information that pressure will be put on Congress to enable the government to ally with the European Common Market, probably through an extension that would be called the North Atlantic Common Market.

A big argument that will be advanced is that the growth rate of the gross national product in Western Europe is now at an annual rate of 4.5% compared to 2.6% in the U.S.

No mention will perhaps be made of the fact that the Western Europe growth rate has been greatly helped by a large share of the $100 billion received in U.S. foreign give aways, and also to the fact that American corporations who had less than $2 billion invested in European plants in 1950, now have over $7 billion invested.

Cheap labor was one lure to American corporations. While the average U.S. manufacturing labor cost is now $2.68 per hour, in Holland it's only 57 cents. In fact, the wage scale in no European Common Market nation equals that of Sweden, which is not in the combine as yet, but even Sweden's rate is only $1.08 per hour.

Neither will it be mentioned by proponents that European countries generally have lower taxes on business, better depreciation allowances, and other concessions to encourage business to grow. American corporations abroad escape U.S. taxes on earnings, pay usually only small taxes to the nation they operate in. If a company will locate a plant in Sicily, home of the Mafia, and some other parts of underdeveloped Southern Italy, the Italian government forgives all taxes for a ten year period.

It is not hard to imagine what would happen in New England, had hit by the flood of cheap textile imports, if the government forgave taxes there for a ten year period.

But there is only one fly in the ointment. Cheap labor in Europe can produce a lot of goods for American firms located there. But cheap labor cannot buy much.

In the European Common Market nations, auto ownership is only 76 per 1000. In the U.S. it's 339 per 1000. The same holds true in TV and radio sets, telephones and appliances.

Thus, under guise of cementing bonds for peace, U.S. will be asked to scrap protective tariffs to bail out U.S. corporations operating in Europe.

The peril to America looms great. Probably never before has it been so important for those who believe in the American way to keep in close contact with their Congressmen.

Cheap labor was one lure to American corporations. While the average U.S. manufacturing labor cost is now $2.68 per hour, in Holland it's only 57 cents. In fact, the wage scale known that he, too, was being hunted. Two bobcats were stalking whatever was making the noise.

When two wildcats are after something in a tree . . . such as a wild turkey . . . one cat will climb the tree and knock the game out. The other cat, waiting impatiently on the ground, will immediately pounce upon it.

This is what happened to Morton Burnham. Suddenly he felt something on his back, a clawing bundle of fury. He tumbled earthward, only to be attacked by another hungry bobcat.

That incident sort of soured him on calling at night. And well it might!

Today, Morton Burnham doesn't go "calling" any more. He leaves that to his sons, Murry and Winston.

But he will always be remembered as the first man to fool nature's sly and wily killers simply by imitating the sound of an injured rabbit.

Lake Sweetwater Re-Opening for Fishing Feb. 15

Lake Sweetwater will be re-opened to anglers Feb. 15, after having been closed down since the complete kill by biologists in August, 1960. Bass planted in the lake after this kill now have reached sufficient size and weight to justify re-opening of the lake, according to Marion Toole, inland fisheries coordinator of the Game and Fish Commission.

Lake Sweetwater was given a rotenone treatment to kill all the fish in the lake after netting samples had shown that 99 per cent of the fish population of the lake was undesirable.

Lake Sweetwater covers 550 acres, and is operated by the City of Sweetwater as a municipal water supply and recreational area. A fish kill by the Game and Fish Commission was in cooperation with the Sweetwater City Council.

After the kill, the lake was stocked with black bass fingerlings, and netting samples show that these fish now have attained a weight of two or three pounds each. Several channel catfish caught in nets average 2 to 3 pounds.

Recent netting samples showed no carp, suckers or shad.

A few sharks inhabit tropical freshwater lakes and rivers.

ernment worked hand in hand in a coordinated effort to protect the people of Texas against organized lawlessness. "This massive burglary and safe-cracking operation could not have been broken up without the splendid cooperation of all officers at all levels."

In most of the more than 200 burglaries, the thieves entered the establishments or homes either by back doors or through windows. Their "MO" (Modus Operandi) in cracking safes was mainly by "peeling" the safe doors, rather than by another popular method of "knocking knobs."

Most frequent victims of the ring were automobile dealers, feed stores, packing plants, milk companies, lumber yards, grocery stores, office buildings, lending establishments, and beauty colleges. Even schools were "hit."

The cities and towns in which the gang was believed to have operated include the following: Seguin, New Braunfels, San Marcos, Cisco, Schulenburg, Ciddings, Brenham, DeLeon, Mexia, Lamasa, Bastrop, LaGrange, McGregor, Hillsboro, Corsicana, Ennis, Bryan, Stephenville, Hamilton, Weatherford, Uvalde, Del Rio, Sonora, Menard, Junction, Fredericksburg, Brady, Lampasas, Burnet, Lometa, Marble Falls, Brownwood, Goldthwaite, Stamford, Aspermont, Hamlin, Anson, Haskell, Throckmorton, Seymour, Graham, Breckenridge, Albany, Jacksonville, Henderson, Carthage, Lufkin, Crockett, Rusk, Nacogdoches, Athens, Marshall, Gilmer, Pittsburg, Sulphur Springs, Greenville, Clarksville, Bonham, Sherman, Demson, Gainesville, Muenster, Decatur, Bowie, Paducah, Snyder, Taylor, Georgetown, Coleman, San Angelo, Big Spring, Killeen, Temple and Vernon.

Almost simultaneously with the cracking of the Leggett ring, Rangers and local officers in the Waco area apprehended another gang of burglars and cleared 16 burglaries in Bell County, one in Coryell County, two in Lampasas County, three in Falls County, and 14 in McLennan County.

Both gangs were operating out of Bell County at one time or another.

PAINT CREEK... COMMUNITY NEWS

Isn't this weather just wonderful? It makes one want to get out the seed catalogues and work in the yard, and wash windows, and spring house clean. But tomorrow we probably will have ice and snow, or a sand storm. So let's just be lazy and enjoy this beautiful warm sunshine. I think every tractor in Paint Creek is running today. Some are cutting cotton stalks, some sowing grain, some bedding cotton land, and some are still stripping cotton, although there are not many of those. Most all the cotton is out now.

Does weather like this make you glad you live on a farm? It does me. In fact any weather makes me glad I live on a farm.

Scouts from Troop 48 who attended the Junior Leader's Training course at McMurry College Saturday were Bob Tate, Thornton Gilmore, Wayne Cadenhead, Steve Smethie, Ripley Couch and Walter Felker. Mike Overton and Mrs. Gene Overton took them and the boys spent the day learning to be better patrol leaders and Quartermasters and Assistant Patrol Leaders.

The rest of the troop stayed home and had scout meeting. Joe Green, James Wall and Dean Maltzberger took their 2nd Class five-mile hike, and after scout meeting the rest of the troop joined them at the school gym for some basketball practice.

In the junior tournament at Avoca our junior girls beat Rule, then beat Avoca and were beaten by Hawley in the finals. They won a beautiful second place trophy though. The boys lost to Rule, beat Lueder and lost to Hawley. They play in a tournament at Rochester this weekend.

Receiving awards from Haskell Pack 36 meeting Monday night at Haskell from Mrs. Jenny Brazzell's Den 9 of Paint Creek were Ricky Brazzell, Bobcat; Mike Brazzell, gold arrow point and 1 year pin; Bob Earles, Den Chief shoulder braid. Others in the den are Donald Livengood, Clarence Dutnik, Alex and Allen McLennan. Mrs. Brazzell would love to build up her den, and any boy from 8 to 11 is invited to join.

Mr. J. M. Mickler celebrated his 87th birthday Sunday. Several of his children and grandchildren visited him during the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo McKeever and Eddie Dawson were Abilene visitors Saturday. Mary Lou McLennan is at home for mid-term holidays visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex McLennan. Ann and the twins, Alex and Allan.

The Haskell - Knox County Associational Brotherhood met at O'Brien last Thursday night and these men from Paint Creek attended: Rev. Bud Moore, Glen Walton, Bill Griffith, Dale Middlebrook, Morris

Haynes, Sammy Griffith, Jim Adams, Louie Kuenstler, Ned Green, J. P. McMillion, Floyd McMillion, Bill Cockrell and Rev. Bill Goff from the Bethel Church.

Mike Shaw of Cisco Junior College at Cisco spent the mid-term holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shaw. Mr. and Mrs. Tony Hamm and children also were here.

Barbara Grand was home from Texas Tech to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Grand. They went for her and after her holidays she took the family car back with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mickler spent last weekend in Snyder with their son, Durward and his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Montgomery have spent the past two weeks in Snyder with their son's family, Mr. and Mrs. John Carlos Montgomery. Mrs. Montgomery (Pat), Johnny Paul and April have all had the mumps, and they were expecting Scotty to take a m. Mr. Montgomery returns home every few days to see about the farming.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Overton and children and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Overton spent Sunday afternoon in Highland with Mr. and Mrs. James Raughton and children.

Margaret Fischer was at home Tuesday night to see our girls play Weinert. She rode with Mr. Reece and the other referee from Abilene when they came to referee our basketball game.

Joan Griffith from Hardin-Simmons is spending this week at home with Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Griffith during mid-term vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Griffith were in College Station last week when they took their daughter-in-law there to live the second semester of school. Mrs. Dan Griffith graduated from Hardin-Simmons University at mid-term, and Dan will finish A&M this spring.

Dub Sims, a senior at A&M spent last weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sims. Dub went to Coleman on Sunday where he will observe the Agriculture teacher at Coleman High School. Dub will do his practice teaching there this second semester.

Mike Overton attended a special Order of the Arrow meeting at the Boy Scout office in Abilene Saturday afternoon. They had the election of the Vigil officers.

Wm. E. Lawson, Going to State FHA Office, Honored at Dinner

William E. Lawson, former FHA County Supervisor of Haskell County who has been transferred with a promotion to the State FHA office in Temple, received tribute at a surprise party Friday night at the American Legion Hall.

Cody West and G. C. Conwell Jr., of the Goree community made the arrangements. Each family brought a covered dish and the ladies took charge of serving the supper.

Mr. West also acted as master of ceremonies. Invocation was given by H. W. Smith of Weinert.

County Committeemen Shelby Royall, R. V. Earles, Columbus White and E. E. Underwood made short speeches expressing appreciation to Mr. Lawson for his work in Haskell County. Oris R. Bruner of Seymour, FHA area supervisor, complimented Lawson for his work here and also introduced Donald R. Perry, the incoming supervisor. The new supervisor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Perry of Paint Creek and is well known to many in this county. He has been with FHA some five or six years and Bruner says he is well qualified to fill the job formerly held by Lawson.

Lawson acknowledged the tribute paid him by saying Haskell FHA borrowers had done more for him than he had for them. He attributed the success of FHA in this county to its borrowers being interested in agriculture, aggressive in furthering their progress by taking full advantage of the supervision and facilities offered them through FHA services.

Perry, the incoming supervisor, told the group he was glad to follow a supervisor like Bill Lawson, and his job and interest would be to continue the FHA program in Haskell County as a help to farmers and agriculture.

Lary Waskom, FHA county office clerk, had words of appreciation for both Lawson and Perry. George Sparkman, assistant county supervisor in the Seymour office, was present and said he considered himself fortunate to have taken his initial training under such an able supervisor as Lawson.

West, as master of ceremonies, then presented Lawson with a leather brief case on which his name had been stamped in gold, as a gift from all FHA borrowers in Haskell County. The retiring supervisor also received other personal gifts from families present.

Those registering during the evening were: From Weinert: Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hutchinson, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hager Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fought, H. W. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Patton, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Grogan and family.

Goree: Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Conwell, Mr. and Mrs. Cody West, Mr. and Mrs. Vester Bowman.

Lueders: Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Raughton. Haskell: S. M. Royall, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Mapes, Thurman Howeth, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Marr and Elaine, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Earles, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Jones and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Chapman and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Urban, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Matthews.

Annual Fashion-Sewing Contest Attracts Haskell Clubwomen Fashion sense and skill with a needle could make a Haskell clubwoman the winner this year, of a three-week fashion tour of Europe—top prize in the 5th annual Fashion-Sewing Contest sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs in cooperation with Vogue Pattern Service and the Woman's Club Service Bureau. Plans for entering the nationwide competition to select the "Ideal All-Occasion Costume for the Clubwoman," have been announced by Mrs. Joe Warren, contest chairman, and Mrs. Virgil Cobb, president of the Progressive Study Club. In making the announcement, Mrs. Cobb pointed out that each entry must be made and modelled by the individual club member who submits it; the winning entry being selected on the basis of appropriateness for club occasions, becomingness to wearer, over-all fashion effect, and workmanship. Judging of entries from the Progressive Study Club is scheduled for Feb. 15. The winner of this local judging will be eligible to compete in the Federation's District judging to be held later in the year, where she will vie with the winners of other club contests in the District. The District winner becomes eligible to compete in the State Federation judging. Prizes at the State level consist of cash awards of $100 and $25 to the first and second place winners.
