Amateur Radio Operator Speaks At Rotary Club

Amateur radio operators, or "hams" as they like to call themselves, have one of the most fascinating and rapidly growing hobbies to be found, members of the Rotary Club concluded following a talk by Novis Ousley, Rule businessman and ham radio operator at the club's meeting and luncheon last Thursday.

An amateur radio operator for years, Ousley told of the valuable service rendered by ham operators in times of disaster or emergency. When a breakdown in normal channels of communications occur, ham operators can immediately step in and render emergency service, he explained.

He stated that Haskell and Rule had four or five active "ham" operators. He related numerous instances where he had established radio conversation with fellow-operators in many countries, and cited one occasion when he talked from Rule to an operator only a few hundred miles south of the North Pole.

Tom Barfield, program chairman for the day, introduced the speaker.

Marlene Letz, HHS Senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Letz, was introduced as the club's Student Guest for February. H. V. "Woody" Woodard led the club sing-song, with Mrs. Henry Withers as pianist.

In the business session, Past District Governor Robt. R. King talked briefly on Rotary Information. President R. A. Lane was elected as the club's voting delegate at the approaching District Conference in Brownwood. O'Brien Man Is Suicide Victim Early Thursday

A verdict of suicide from taking strychnine was ruled in the death early Thursday of Clarence Alvin Brooking, 56, who died about 5:30 a. m. at living quarters he occupied at a cotton gin in O'Brien. The inquest was conducted by Justice of the Peace Pete Huntsman of Rochester, who joined officers in investigating the death.

Funeral services for Mr. Brooking were held Friday at 2 p. m. in the O'Brien First Baptist Church, with the pastor, the Rev. Larry Young, officiating. Burial was in O'Brien Cemetery under direction of Pinkard-Smith Funeral Home.

Mr. Brooking and another man, Fred T. Catlett, 56, lived in a barracks-type building near the gin. Both are bachelors.

Catlett told officers he was awakened around 5 a. m. by Mr. Brooking's groaning. He said he asked the trouble and Mr. Brooking told him he needed help, that he had taken some poison, Sheriff Garth Garrett of Haskell quoted Catlett.

Catlett said he called to a Negro who lived nearby and asked him to seek help, but Mr. Brooking died within a few minutes and before medical assistance arrived.

Sheriff Garrett, District Attorney Royce Adkins and Rochester Constable Bud LeFevre were called to the scene. Sheriff Garrett said officers found an empty bottle, one which he said once held strychnine.

The sheriff said officers learned Brooking had purchased some strychnine in Knox City Wednesday, telling the druggist he intended to use it in a mixture with grain, to kill birds.

Mr. Brooking, a laborer, had lived in O'Brien for a number of years. He had no known survivors.

Several hours after Brooking's death, Catlett, who shared the living quarters with him, was hospitalized after becoming severely ill. Catlett told officers and hospital attendants he had drunk water from a tin cup which apparently still contained a trace of strychnine.

Sheriff Garrett said the man had also admitted he and his companion had been drinking a brand of hair tonic known as "The Bird."

2,580 Poll Taxes Paid In County This Year

Payment of poll taxes in Haskell County through Jan. 31 totaled 2,580 while 25 exemptions were issued for a grand total of 2,605 poll tax and exemptions issued. Due to the population bracket over-age voters do not require an exemption certificate in Haskell County.

In 1961 there were 2,096 poll tax receipts and exemptions issued in the county, compared with 2,186 for the previous election year of 1960. Peak vote that year was 3,761 ballots cast in the first primary of 1960. A 15 per cent gain over poll tax receipts and exemptions was accounted for by over-age voters.

Using the same yardstick, the county's potential voting strength in 1962 is estimated at 2,995, lowest of any previous election year in more than a decade.

Early-Morning Fire Hits Haskell Co-Op Gin Monday

Loss which will amount to $20,000 or more was caused in an early-morning fire Monday at Haskell Co-Op Gin in East Haskell.

It was the city's heaviest fire loss in more than a year, and for a time threatened to develop into a major conflagration involving several residences located south of the gin.

The alarm was reported about 5:15 a. m. The flames, whipped by a brisk north wind, had spread through the gin's cotton seed storage house and burning trash and weeds were apdly carrying the fire toward a residence south of the gin yard.

Firemen were able to halt spread of the flames, and despite high winds kept the blaze from spreading to the main gin plant. Because of the headway gained by the fire before it was discovered, firemen fought a losing battle in trying to save the seed house, which was destroyed along with approximately 100 tons of cottonseed.

The building, of wood and sheet iron construction, was 30x60 feet in size, and was located just west of the main plant.

Also destroyed were 10 or 12 bales of cotton on the back platform of the gin plant. One of the gin's cotton trucks also burned, as did three trailers loaded with between five and six bales of boll cotton waiting to be ginned.

Other buildings and warehouses were threatened for a time, as were several trailers and trucks on the gin yards.

Firemen, joined by volunteers, were able to move the vehicles to safety.

Also damaged by flames was one section of a warehouse in which were stored blankets and mattresses used by crews of Braceros. A quantity of bedding will be a total loss.

The fire was believed to have started in an accumulation of cotton burs at the back of the plant and could have been smoldering for hours until whipped into flames by sharp winds which struck between 3 and 4 a. m.

R. W. (Weldon) Turnbow is manager of the gin plant, one of the largest and most modern in the section. Despite the heavy property loss, the fire did not affect the operating facilities of the plant, which is now winding up the ginning season.

Valentine's Day has become a pleasant occasion for cashing in on cards or candy. But for the maids of an earlier day, it was a time for serious husband hunting.

According to World Book Encyclopedia, a girl might start out at midnight by circling the church 12 times and repeating the rhyme, "I sow hen-pecked, hempseed I sow, he that loves me best, come after me now." If no one did, she could still hope to see her true valentine in her dreams. Of course, she first took the precaution of pinning five bay leaves to her pillow, one to each corner and one in the center.

Still, perhaps she could identify her husband-to-be. She wrote the names of her boy-friends on bits of paper and rolled each one in a piece of clay. Then she dropped the clay into water. The first scrap of paper that floated to the top was believed to hold the name of her valentine.

The discovery about a year ago of valuable ore deposits along the Brazos breaks north of Old Glory and northwest of Rule created considerable excitement at the time, then died down.

But interest in the possibilities of mining in that section is being investigated by some of the nation's large mining corporations.

Three weeks ago, Harry E. Nelson, a geological engineer of Las Vegas, Nevada, accompanied by an assistant, spent a couple of days here.

Mr. Nelson stated he did quite a bit of checking on exposed deposits at several points along the river. However, due to the excessively cold weather he spent a great part of his time checking old newspaper files in tracing down information concerning one of the early-day mining corporations here.

Nelson said he believed his report on field findings during the brief time he worked outside would result in him being sent back to make more detailed exploration within a few weeks.

Speaking of weather, Nelson commented that "Texas weather is all that I have been told. We have colder weather in Nevada, and more snow, but I don't believe our weather is as raw and rough."

The only difference was the lost article was a 1961 hub cap and was being used on a 1960 model.

We need help from some of our senior readers whose memory goes back to horse and buggy days.

What did they call those 10- or 12-pound round flat iron weights, carried in a buggy or hack and used as a temporary hitching weight by dropping it on the ground and snapping the attached check rein on the horse's bridle?

Virgil Bailey, Jack Medford and one or two others are trying to find someone who can tell them what the units were called.

We thought we had a cinch in getting the answer from Virgil Hudson the other day, but like all the rest, the name had slipped his memory.

The question did remind Virgil of the time Capt. B. H. Dodson, who ran a store on the southwest corner of the square, started to drive home in his buggy before putting the bridle bits in his horse's mouth and had a runaway.

A boy working in the store had made a delivery and returning, had hitched the horse to the rack in front of the store.

Since it was about noon, the lad took the bits out of the horse's mouth and slipped an oat bag over its neck to feed the animal.

A few minutes later, Capt. Dodson, going to dinner, took off the feed bag and climbed in the buggy after unhitching the horse. Yanking back on the lines, Capt. Dodson flicked the horse's flank with a buggy whip. Without bits in its mouth, the horse was bewildered and excited. Another yank on the lines and the horse broke and ran, with Capt. Dodson seeing-sawing on the useless reins and yelling "Whoa" along with a few other choice words.

Virgil and one or two others happened to be riding by on horseback when the runaway started.

Taking after the horse and buggy they managed to overtake the runaway about where the old South Ward school building is, and Virgil roped the buggy horse and finally brought him to a stop.

We hope Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Carter are as successful in the new Dairy Cream establishment in Hamlin as they have been in the one operated here.

Catering principally to teenagers and young people, the local Dairy Cream is a popular gathering place for the younger set. Sentiment of one Haskell parent probably echoed that of many others when he said, "I always know where to find my youngster in the evening, I simply call Carter's and there he is."

City Nightwatchman Joe Scrivner and Police Chief Bull Barnett have ambitions of supplementing the night police manpower with a K9 force of one member.

Chief Barnett brought down a young German Police dog he owns, called Rin Tin Tin, and for several weeks now Rin has accompanied Nightwatchman Joe Scrivner on his late clock-punching rounds.

The dog, alert and highly intelligent, is taking to training like a duck to water. "I believe Rin is going to make a dandy if he lives long enough to learn to watch traffic," Joe said.

Also, there have been several interruptions when Rin took after other night-prowling animals.

There are several dens of opossums and skunks under buildings in the business section, and Rin sometimes has a field day or "night" when he jumps an opossum.

To date, Rin has been credited with two notches for as many opossums, Joe says. And, he's really dreading the time that is bound to come when Rin tangles with a skunk.

Although the total poll taxes paid this year is disappointingly low—2,580 polls and 26 exemptions—we're glad the number exceeded last year, when only 2,066 persons paid their poll tax.

This year's figure is still below the last election year, 1960, when 3,186 poll tax receipts were issued, a drop of almost 20 per cent.

One consolation for the candidates is that they will have approximately 600 fewer potential voters to contact in making their campaigns!

Generally conceded to be the busiest person in the world is a one-armed paper hanger with the hives, but for a short time last Saturday afternoon City Fireman Satch Lusk and members of the volunteer fire department could have qualified as being about as busy as the handicapped paper-hanger.

About 3 p. m. Saturday, the alarms started coming in 1-2-3-4 order, spaced not much further apart than that.

One called for help in controlling a grass fire at Veda's Camp on Lake Stamford, while No. 2 was a trash and grass fire at the Veterans Vocational School building on North Avenue E. No. 3 asked aid of firemen in fighting a threatening blaze north of the fourth fire in South Haskell. Luckily, property of the fire engine and volunteers to order control without age.

The rash of alarm City Fireman Lusk was beginning to pull his hair out. "We probably would the end of the have had something the Co-Op Gin way tracks in a and rolling and started to see a glow in the sky appear the whole be on fire.

"It certainly looks for a while," Satch commented.

Gene Overton and Roy Wiseman were in Abilene Tuesday on Scout business. Mr. and Mrs. Lennis Jones of Rule were supper guests of the Gene Overton's Monday night. Agriculture teacher Willie Lee Medford and his Ag boys attended the Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth last week and took the guided tour through Swift Packing Company. Boys making the trip were Eddie Dawson, McKeever, Mike Overton, Jerry Hughes, Butch Kohout, Edwin Livengood.

Nine Paint Creek students entered the "Save the Soil" essay contest sponsored by the California Creek Soil Conservation Association. Papers were judged by the Stamford Garden Club, and winners will be announced this week. Gene is a director of the S. C. A. and he was quite proud of our Paint Creek papers. The directors praised Mrs. Sikes our English teacher and Mr. Willie Lee Medford for having the essays arranged in such an easy-to-grade form. The prizes are $25, $15, $10 and $5 and the winning essays are then sent to the state competition to be entered against other Soil Conservation Districts. These prizes are banked in the student's name to be used after graduation, so there will be no trouble in their interscholastic league eligibility during high school.

The census is complete, but tabulations have not been made as to how many students will actually be on our rolls next year. We have so many transfers in, and some transfers out, and I will have the actual count by this weekend. I just hope we registered all the 6 year olds, but I only found 11 and I know there will be more.

The 14th is being tested on its ability to fire its weapons accurately and effectively and its ability to live in the field under simulated combat conditions. The training will culminate in a three-day live-fire exercise in which the 14th will be supported by tanks and artillery. This tactical maneuver will test the ability of 25th Division units to work together to accomplish their common mission.

Williams, a radio telephone operator in the 14th's Company D which is regularly located at Schofield Barracks in Hawaii, entered the Army in April 1961, completed basic training at Fort Hood, Texas, and arrived in Hawaii last September. He attended Haskell High School.

Governor Signs Banking Bill Into Law

Gov. Price Daniel signed his abandoned property bill into law Monday and said it "marks the successful completion of one of the longest and hardest legislative fights of this administration."

"I take great pleasure in signing this bill," the governor said. Daniel said the act "will protect the deposits of lost owners and missing heirs from being dissipated by charges and transfer, require advertising to locate them, and protect the state's age-old right to the money if there are no owners in existence."

These are the bill's main provisions: 1. Banks are forbidden to make service charges on any account which has had neither deposits or withdrawals in a year. 2. Banks must advertise once each year the names of depositors of accounts dormant for seven years. 3. A year after advertising, all unclaimed accounts of $25 or less become the property of the state and go into a conservator fund, which must have at least $250,000 in it at all times. Banks also could turn over unclaimed accounts of $25 or more if they wanted to. 4. Owners of property taken by the state could later get it back, through their bank if under $100, or by applying to the state treasurer if over $100.

"Arts of Early America" Topic Of Magazine Club Program

Arts of Early America was the topic of the interesting program brought to the Magazine Club on Friday, Feb. 2. The three speakers discussed furniture, household articles and paintings of the period.

Mrs. L. R. Burkett, program leader, spoke on early American furniture. That which was created in this country before 1800 is properly considered early American, she said. Describing the chairs, functional chests of pine and maple, dressers, four-poster beds, settees, hooked and braided rugs, etc., Mrs. Burkett presented a colorful picture of the early American home. Many sources give Benjamin Franklin credit for first putting rockers on chairs. Whether or not it was he, the rocking chair is most certainly an American invention, the speaker declared.

Culinary utensils, principally woodenware, was discussed by Miss Beryl Boone. From the first eating utensils made in America, wooden trenchers, on through wooden buckets, churns and paddles, rolling pins, spice boxes, butter molds, etc., she indicated that our American table manners probably improved as our tableware did. Miss Boone also mentioned the wooden cigar-store Indian. In the 19th century there were some 75,000 of them over this country. Itinerant artists made their livelihood by going about repainting these wooden Indians.

Using colored reproductions, Mrs. John Rike reviewed paintings of early America. She showed examples of work done by six artists. Among them were John Copley, a portrait painter who was America's first to achieve eminence; Benjamin West, called the Dean of American Painters; and Gilbert Stuart, best known of our early artists.

Mrs. Burkett and Miss Boone who collect antiques, showed several beautiful early American pieces owned by themselves. A bustle bench, Windsor chair, candle stand, dough bowls, butter molds, among other things were displayed. Also, several issues of Antiques magazine were used to give pictorial examples of the arts of early America.

Mrs. C. J. Robinson, club president, presided for the business session which preceded the program. The club voted to contribute to each of the federation projects listed on the score card. Invitations to programs at the Pierian Club in Stamford and the Philadelphian Club in Rule on February 8th were read.

Hostesses, Mrs. Elmer Turner and Mrs. Wallace Cox, decorated the clubroom with chrysanthemums.

A guest at the meeting was Mrs. Gaines Post, former Haskellite now living in Madison Wisconsin.

There are about 314,000 tobacco seeds in an ounce. Tobacco News reports. One tablespoonful is enough to plant three or four acres of land.

Social Security checks to widows with entitled children averaged $59 in September, 1961, not including the additional amount for the children.

Music of France Program Topic of Harmony Club

The Harmony Club met in the Homemaking Cottage for its regular business program and "Music From France."

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. A. C. Foster Jr. "Texas, Our Texas" by Dr. Marsh was sung by the club, with Mrs. J. F. Cadenhead Sr., directing, and Mrs. Henry Withers accompanying.

Reports from officers followed. Mrs. Cadenhead Sr. gave a report on the convention of District Three of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs, held in Haskell Oct. 21-22. Many of the District Three officers and State officers were present.

Working for an enlargement of membership was discussed. "We need people who are interested in music, especially those who are interested in keeping music at a higher level than we find it now. Good music can be passed on to our children," one spokesman said.

Mrs. Meadows read a letter from the Throckmorton Club inviting the Harmony Club to meet with them in a Reciprocity Program. The secretary read other letters on hand. Two new members were accepted from Munday, Mrs. P. V. Williams and Mrs. Lee Williams.

Announcement was made of the District Meeting to be held in Quanah.

Miss Beryl Boone was narrator for the musical program featuring "Music From France." The Frenchman has a natural love for music and has expressed it so brilliantly. They have added an abundance of religious ballet, classical, overtures, and operas to their daily lives, thus enriching it.

The program included a Narrative on French Music by Miss Boone and the French national anthem, "La Marseillaise" sung by the club, directed by Mrs. Cadenhead Sr., and Mrs. Withers accompanying. Other numbers on the program included Reverie (Debussy) by Mrs. Al Williams; The Flatterer (Charmade) by Miss Martha Meadows; Ave Maria (Bach-Gounod) by Mrs. Cadenhead Sr.

Mrs. Cadenhead was hostess for the business meeting, and Mrs. Withers hostess for the French music.

The next program will be today (Feb. 8) on the subject: Parade of American Music, with Mrs. V. W. Meadows as narrator. All members are urged to be present.

MR. AND MRS. HENRY DRUESADOW SR.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Y. Druessedow To Observe 50th Wedding Date

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Druessedow Sr. of this city will observe their Golden Wedding anniversary Feb. 15, 1962.

For the occasion, children of Mr. and Mrs. Druessedow will host a reception at the American Legion Hall from 3 until 5 p. m.

Mrs. Druessedow is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Christian Schroeder of Haskell, and Mr. Druessedow is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Druessedow of Williamson County.

The couple married Feb. 15, 1912, in the Lutheran Church at Sagerton, with the Rev. F. A. Bracher officiating for the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Druessedow have lived their entire married life here with the exception of six years spent in Bell County.

Weinert Home Economics Students Will Enter Nationwide Sewing Contest

This year, fashion-conscious home economics students at Weinert High School are planning to participate in the Student Division competition of the 1962 Fashion-Sewing Contest sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs and Vogue Pattern Service. The Weinert Study Club, working in cooperation with the school's home economics department, will act as local sponsor for the student competition.

Each girl entering the contest will make what she considers the "Ideal Dress-Up Costume for the High School Student"—bringing to bear all her sewing skill and fashion knowledge in the hope of creating the winning entry. The local student winner will receive $5.00 in cash, and will be eligible to represent the Weinert Study Club, and Weinert High School at the District judging. The District winner can go on to compete for State and National honors—the grand prize being a $1,000 scholarship. Additional scholarships of $500 and $250 will be awarded to the National second and third prize winners.

The main purpose of this community centered contest, according to Mrs. Clovis Winchester, Contest Chairman, is to encourage young students to develop a deeper appreciation for homemaking skills. The satisfaction gained for creating her own wardrobe, from selecting an appropriate and becoming pattern, choosing practical yet fashionable fabrics, and using sewing skills to create her costume—will provide an important experience in a teen-ager's learning and

Lutheran Church Women Have Many Guests at Meet

The February meeting of the Trinity Lutheran A. L. C. W. opened with the singing of the hymn "Aspiration." Following this, Mrs. Willie Peiser led the devotions and Bible Study.

The Bible Study was on the book of John, chapter 3:1-21. Following the Bible Study, the singing of the hymn "Beat it! Saviour," and Mrs. Elton Klose gave the cause of the month which was on "American Missions" and was concerning the use of Home Mission Trust Certificates. The memory verse for the month of February is John 3:21.

Business meeting with roll call and reading of minutes and treasurer's report followed. Each member was to bring a guest, someone who is a member of the church but who at the present is not taking an active part in the work of the women of the church. As a result of the good following of these members, we had a good number of visitors with us for this meeting. We surely hope they will find interest in this organization and attend regularly.

The offering meditation was given by Mrs. Annie Kretschmer and the meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer followed by Table Prayer sung in unison.

Mrs. Henry Druessedow Jr., and Mrs. Ernest Peiser are serving on the Altar Guild and Visitation Committee for February.

Refreshments were served to 18 members and their visitors by Mrs. Felix Klose. The meeting was held in the annex of the Trinity Lutheran Church.

M., February 20, 1962, and then publicly opened and read.

Car Safety Check Deadline Will Be April 15th

Less than thirty per cent of the registered vehicles in this area have been safety inspected for 1962, according to Patrolman J. R. Whitmire of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Service of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

With the April 15 deadline, for having vehicles checked, rapidly approaching, this means there are approximately 3900 vehicles in Haskell County remaining to be inspected by the seven approved inspection stations available.

Many motorists are going to find long lines awaiting them as the deadline draws nearer, due to the inspection stations not being able to cope with this large number.

The patrolman urged drivers to have their vehicles inspected as soon as possible to avoid this last minute rush. In addition, he reminded drivers that this time of the year is noted for adverse weather conditions which prevents the inspection stations from checking the vehicles.

"Passenger cars are inspected for brakes, lights, reflectors, horn and windshield wipers; while commercial vehicles are inspected for the above plus additional items required by law," Patrolman Whitmire said. "All motorists not displaying a valid 1962 inspection sticker by April 15 will be in violation of state law."

Rep. Purcell and Meissner Again Opponents

Graham B. Purcell of Wichita Falls, sworn in only last week as Congressman from the 13th District, already has opposition for the November elections, for the upcoming full term in Congress.

Joe Bailey Meissner Jr., defeated by Judge Purcell in the recent special election, announced in Wichita Falls Feb. 1 that he had filed for the May 5 Republican primary in all 19 counties in the 13th Congressional District, as a candidate for the six-year term.

As a result, Purcell and Meissner are conceded to win the nomination of their respective parties, to become opponents in the general election in November.

In the Jan. 27 election, the winner was elected for the unexpired term of Frank Beard, resigned.

Victim of Burns Transferred to Wichita Falls

An Electra oil field worker, critically burned Friday in a fire at an oil lease north of Aspermont, was transferred to a Wichita Falls hospital after being given emergency treatment here.

Delbert Talley, employe of Rayan Consolidated Petroleum Corporation of Dallas, was brought to Haskell from Aspermont in a Young Funeral Home ambulance.

Because the Haskell hospital was overflowing with patients, the burns victim was transferred to Wichita Falls.

A Holden Funeral Home ambulance made the trip in record time, and Talley was given several transfusions en route by a nurse from the Haskell hospital who accompanied the patient.

The ambulance, driven by Dixie Maltzberger, was given a police escort by Highway Patrolmen and other local officers along the route from Haskell to Wichita Falls.

Demo Committee Meets Monday to Set Ballot Fees

The County Democratic Executive Committee will meet Monday, Feb. 12, to estimate costs of holding the two Democratic primaries this year, and to determine the ballot assessment to be made against candidates for the various offices. This money will be used in paying costs of holding the two primaries.

After the amounts to be levied against individual candidates is determined, the candidates will be notified and will have until Feb. 17 to pay the assessment.

Precipitation In January Amounts To Only .10 Inch

January, 1962, turned out to be one of the driest on record, with only .10 inch of moisture measured here during the entire month, according to records kept by Sam F. Herren, local observer for the weather bureau.

Normal precipitation for January is .81 inch. Compared to .10 inch received this year, rainfall in January, 1961, amounted to 1.43 inch.

Temperature range of 72 degrees was recorded during the month, from a low of 4 degrees on Jan. 11 to a high of 78 degrees Jan. 31.

Faulty Address Will Delay Mail Deliveries

One of the best known adages in the English language is this one from Alexander Pope: "A little learning is a dangerous thing."

So far as the Postal Service is concerned, this might well be paraphrased to read: "A little learning is a frustrating thing." It is frustrating to patrons in terms of delayed or returned mail, and it is frustrating to post offices in terms of inadequate service.

Postmaster Harold R. Spain points out that some of the basic regulations of the Post Office Department are essentially the same as they were in Benjamin Franklin's day; others have changed from time to time as the present has become the past. A most important alteration in mail-handling policy was made in 1859 when directory service on ordinary mail was abolished. Unfortunately, this fact is neither as widely nor as well known as it should be.

"Directory services are now given only special categories of mail," says Postmaster Spain. "These special categories include registered, certified, C. O. D., special delivery, perishable items; mail from foreign countries, except circulars; and mail from members of the armed services overseas. The point we would like especially to make," says Postmaster Spain, "is that regular mail, including air mail, must be fully and correctly addressed if it is to be delivered. Otherwise, it will be returned to sender. This is not because the Post Office Department is anxious to return anyone's mail, but because the privilege of having post offices revise addresses which were incomplete or inaccurate became so widely abused that the cost of making corrections became prohibitive."

Postmaster Spain hopes that those who read this article will protect their own best interests by being complete and accurate in addressing their mail and in using a return address on everything. He hopes also that users of the mail service will help both themselves and the post office by showing postal zone numbers and post office box numbers wherever applicable.

Call 864-2811 for further information about directory service or about any other postal matters.

Lutheran College Choir Will Sing In Stamford

Appearing under the auspices of Christ Lutheran Church of Stamford, the concert will be given in the High School Gymnasium at 8 p. m. There will be no admission charge. A free-will offering will be received.

The choir from Seguin has in the past few years toured 20 states and Mexico and has received much acclaim from music critics everywhere. This year's tour takes them through a large part of Texas and a portion of Louisiana. They will present concerts in such cities as Corpus Christi, Beaumont, Houston, Fort Worth, Dallas and Waco. Their appearance in Stamford will be the first in this area for a number of years.

The director of the choir, Prof. Paul Engelstad has earned his degrees in music from St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minn., and DePaul University in Chicago, Ill. He is presently studying for his doctorate in sacred music at Union Theological Seminary in New York City. During the summer months of 1958 and 1959 he studied with Roger Wagner, director of the famous Roger Wagner Choral. Besides directing the choir he directs the choirs of Alamo Heights Presbyterian Church in San Antonio and teaches courses in music at the college.

Everyone is invited to this concert of sacred music in Stamford.
