Peace talks

JERUSALEM (AP) — U.S. diplomacy is approaching a breakthrough point as Secretary of State James A. Baker III carries a proposal for Mideast peace talks to the Arab world.

"There is a long, long way to go," Baker said after Foreign Minister David Levy on Tuesday gave him Israel's approval of peace talks that would be held under U.S. auspices.

Baker praised the move as constructive, and a senior U.S. official said that, in principle at least, "there is agreement" between the United States and Israel.

Negotiators accept school finance bill

AUSTIN (AP) — A school finance reform bill was approved today by legislative negotiators, but one predicted that a school consolidation provision in the bill would doom its chances in the House.

"The issue of consolidation is a red flag in the House," said Rep. Bruce Gibson, D-Cleburne. "It's not going to pass the House with this language in it."

The provision would allow the state education commissioner to reorganize the school system in a county education region, including consolidation of school districts.

The commissioner could do so if he found that a countywide education plan developed by an advisory committee created under the bill would not adequately address students' needs, lawmakers said.

The House-Senate conference committee voted 9-1 for the school finance reform plan, which was drawn up to meet a Texas Supreme Court order for reform.

Gibson agreed to sign the plan, saying he respected House leaders. But he said he couldn't commit to vote for it on the floor. He predicted that rural Democrats would have problems with the school consolidation measure.

Rep. Troy Fraser, R-Big Spring, was the only vote against the conference committee plan.

The Supreme Court twice has unanimously ordered lawmakers to reform the school finance system, which allows wide disparities in funding among school districts because of its reliance on the local property tax.

The state faces a Monday hearing before State District Judge F. Scott McCown, who is overseeing the case and has ordered an alternative plan to be drawn up by a court-appointed expert.

The lead Senate negotiator, Sen. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, said he would work with lawmakers in other legislation to try to address the fears of small school districts that they would be consolidated.

But he emphasized, "We want to put strong constraints on them to act locally." He has criticized school districts that choose to remain small, saying they waste education resources by requiring large expenditures per pupil.

Shuttle landing postponed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Blustery winds prevented NASA from landing the space shuttle Atlantis in California today, and the astronauts were ordered to remain in space an extra day.

Mission Control first delayed the landing by 1½ hours in hopes the winds would subside. But they didn't, and flight directors decreed a Thursday morning touchdown at Edwards Air Force Base in the Mojave Desert.

"I hope you don't mind if we ask you to stay up another day but we're going to give up on today," Mission Control's Brian Duffy told the crew.

"We understand, and I think that's a good decision Brian. Thanks a lot," replied Steve (see LANDING, page 8)

Bean cook-off added to July Fourth plans

A pinto bean cook-off is expected to be added to the list of activities for the annual July Fourth celebration sponsored by the chamber of commerce.

A planning committee for the event met Tuesday afternoon at chamber offices to map out the city's annual Independence Day celebration.

The introduction of a pinto bean cook-off to the day's activities was discussed. Committee members noted that the bean cook-off would compliment food booths set up in Towle Park.

Committee members agreed to find a chairperson for the event.

Also proposed was renting portable toilets to set in various locations throughout the park. It was brought out that facilities in the park were not enough to handle the large crowd the celebration attracts.

To defray the costs of the some 10 toilets expected to be rented, organizers discussed imposing a $1 admission charge to the arts and crafts show in the National Guard Armory.

The arts and craft show will be open at 5 p.m. on Wednesday, July 3, will be open throughout the day on Thursday, July 4.

The following chairpersons were noted: Prayer Breakfast,

Max von Roeder; food and activity booths, Nelda Huddleston; arts and crafts, Betty House; parade, Bill and Billie Jackson; novelty items, Norma Miller; and horse shoe throwing and washer pitching contests, Marilyn Graves.

Chairperson for the event is Travis Bunch.

Tuesday's blood drive, sponsored by Cogdell Memorial Hospital Auxiliary and Scurry County Advisory Council for United Blood Services, drew 117 pints.

Receiving gallon pins were Manuel Garcia, six gallons; Larry Anderson, three gallons; Mike Holloway and Malcolm Crawford, two gallons; and Marie L. Espinosa, Brenda Ingram, Ann Marie Taylor and Douglas Merritt, one gallon.

Businesses donating items for the drive included Dairy Queen, Sonic Drive In, Whataburger, Taco John's, Wal-Mart, Long John Silver's, Golden Corral, McDonald's, Dr. Pepper Bottling Co., Jaramillo's, Spanish Inn and Gill's Fried Chicken.

'Tempest' opens Thursday at theatre on WTC campus

"The Tempest" by William Shakespeare will be presented by the Western Texas College drama department beginning Thursday in the Fine Arts Theatre on campus.

Performances will begin at 8 p.m. on Thursday, Friday and Monday and at 2 p.m. Sunday. There will be no Saturday performance. Tickets are $5 for adults and $3 for students and senior citizens and can be reserved by calling the box office at 573-8511, ext. 234.

Directing "The Tempest" has been an aspiration of director Jim Rambo since he performed in the play as a student at Abilene Christian University in 1971. The WTC students available to cast the play at this time gave him the opportunity to fulfill the long-held ambition.

"The Tempest" is one of the most popular of Shakespeare's plays. Written in 1610 or 1611, it was Shakespeare's last play and many critics feel that it was his farewell to the stage.

"It combines elements of pageantry, comedy, mystery, romance, a struggle for power, and wonderful love scenes and spirit scenes," Rambo noted. This will be the first traditional Shakespeare production at WTC, he added, and an elaborate set designed by Galen Price will add to the show.

In "The Tempest," Prospero, the Duke of Milan, is deposed by his brother, Antonio. It is Prospero who delivers one of Shakespeare's famous quotes: "We are such stuff as dreams are made of..." Richard Lack of Snyder has been cast as Prospero.

Miranda, Prospero's daughter, is played by Amber Adams of Snyder. Frank Romeo of Roby is Antonio. Wade Freeman of Snyder is Alonso, king of Naples, and Coy Berryman of Snyder is Ferdinand, Alonso's son.

Caliban, a savage and deformed slave, is portrayed by Jeff Hicks of Muleshoe. Tommy Reeves of Snyder is Gonzalo, an honest counselor, and Brad Vincent of Snyder is Trinculo, a jester. Jerry Vizena of Thordale is the airy spirit Ariel. Kenn Kern from Hurst is cast as Stephano, a drunken butler.

Others in the cast are Sherry Cribbs of Hawley as Iris and Jennifer Hatley of Vernon as Ceres. Romeo and Freeman will be other spirits attending on Prospero.

Art work for the program and posters was done by art students Kerri Carter and Kristi Carter of Ira.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "A Hollywood wedding is when you take each other for better or worse, but not for long."

When Sue Richardson attends her high school reunion this year, she'll take with her a memory of high school that she didn't expect to have.

Sue Richardson is manager of Long John Silver's in Snyder, and last Friday she received a telephone call from Betty Musick, secretary to the principal at Snyder High School.

The call was a result of some detective work on the part of Mrs. Musick. Arriving in the mail earlier in the week was a 1971 class ring from Snyder High School.

The woman's ring had been found by Mrs. Maruice Houston in Turkey, Texas. There was only one other clue — the initials GSR engraved inside the ring.

With the assistance of high school counselor Janet Wesson, a check of records revealed one 1971 SHS grad named Gladys Sue Richardson.

Sue Richardson went to the high school last Friday to claim her ring, lost some 20 years ago in a gravel pile when she was visiting her grandmother in the Panhandle community of Turkey.

Speaking of class reunions, we heard about a 50-year reunion in a nearby city. One enterprising gent volunteered to be in charge of the Old Smoothies dance contest.

All went well when the music stopped, the winners were announced with the explanation, "The judges had a tough time, but the winning couple did such a good job executing the dips."

"Dips? What dips?" said the winning couple. "We were just trying to hold each other up."

Psychiatric chief snared in pornography case

MIDLAND, Texas (AP) — The administrator of a Midland psychiatric hospital has been charged with accepting a videotape of child pornography from an undercover federal agent through an adult computer network, records show.

Bryan Allen Hale, 47, who heads Glenwood Hospital, was arrested without incident at his office and was being held today at the Midland Detention Center without bond.

According to a federal search warrant affidavit unsealed by U.S. Magistrate Robert Sykes Tuesday, Hale allegedly paid $20 for a tape titled "Educating Valerie."

The tape, according to U.S. Customs agents involved in the investigation, shows sexually explicit activity between a 10-year-old girl and her father.

According to the warrant affidavit, the hospital chief began corresponding to a customs agent posing as a computer bulletin board user in January.

Michael Valva, U.S. Customs, resident agent in charge in San Angelo said it is not known if Hale had used a hospital computer or one at home.

Hale, who began his career as a family therapist, has been suspended without pay from his job until the investigation into the matter is completed, said Don Fariss, vice president of operations of Healthcare International Inc., which owns Glenwood.

"Although we are shocked and dismayed by the charges recently brought against Mr. Bryan Hale, it should be understood that they are not related to the hospital in any way, and in no way do they affect the quality of care that Glenwood has always maintained," Fariss said in a prepared statement.

Hale, the former administrator and chief executive officer at the Joellen Smith Psychiatric Hospital in New Orleans, is scheduled to appear before Sykes at a detention hearing Thursday.

Book on Nancy Reagan departs from tradition

NEW YORK (AP) — Sex makes for juicy reading, especially when the subject is a president or his wife, as Kitty Kelley well knows in writing Nancy Reagan's unauthorized bio. In the past, however, authors have tended to wait until their subjects were dead.

In 1927, for example, readers rushed out to buy "The President's Daughter" by Nan Britton, who claimed to have borne Warren Harding's illegitimate child. The 29th president had been dead four years, but within a month the book sold 100,000 copies.

In 1973, four years after President Eisenhower died, President Truman's book, "Plain Speaking," told how Ike wanted to divorce his wife, Mamie, when the war ended and marry Kay Summersby. Ike's superior officer threatened to ruin him if he went through with it, and Eisenhower ended the relationship, Truman wrote.

Then in 1976, Ike's paramour had her say. In "Past Forgetting: My Love Affair with Dwight D. Eisenhower," Kay Summersby Morgan described their relationship. A jeep driver in the British Army during World War II, Morgan became Eisenhower's personal assistant and they fell in love.

Judith Exner made waves in 1977 with "My Story," her account of her affair with President Kennedy. Exner also claimed she carried letters between JFK and Chicago mob boss Sam Giancana.

Of Robert Caro's two volumes on President Johnson, the latest, "Means of Ascent: The Years of Lyndon Johnson," describe LBJ's affair with Alice Glass. It also details how Johnson stole a U.S. Senate election in Texas in 1948.

Just last week, author Michael John Sullivan came out with his "Presidential Passions: The Love Affairs of America's Presidents — From Washington and Jefferson to Kennedy and Johnson."

Chapters include "The Baby Bird That Wasn't Lady Bird's," about Madeleine Brown's claim that she bore Johnson's illegitimate son, Marilyn Monroe figures in a chapter on JFK titled "Jack and the Sex Goddess."

Denton County residents warned of threat of rabies

DENTON, Texas (AP) — There's a skunk alert in Denton County, which has had more than half of the reports of rabid animals in the 50-county North Texas region. Health officials are warning residents about skunks and other animals prone to carry rabies. So far this year, 21 cases of rabid animals have been reported in Denton County.

"It is substantially more than we ever see," said Thomas Murnane, public health veterinarian for the Texas Department of Health region.

All of the cases in Denton County this year have involved rabid skunks, and most have been in northern areas of the county such as Krum, Sanger and Lake Ray Roberts, officials said.

There has been only one reported case of possible human exposure. It involved a Denton man who was removing a dead skunk from his property last week.

"In handling it, he reportedly dragged his hand across it and may have been scratched," Murnane said. The man has received a rabies immune globulin shot which will be followed by five anti-rabies serum shots during the next month.

At Ponder Veterinary Hospital, Dr. Phillip Henderson said the number of cases this year is about normal for the county.

"It's with us every spring," he said. "Rabid skunks are so common that we quit sending their heads in years ago" to be tested by Department of Health officials to check for rabies.

"We assume all skunks have it," Henderson said.

Henderson said that on several occasions he has tried to actively discourage people from adopting baby skunks as pets.

"They do it all the time and call the veterinary clinic wanting to have it deodorized," he said. "It's crazy — they're dangerous. I don't deodorize them for that reason."

The skunks in northern Denton County have always posed a problem of rabies, said Dr. Quin Skains of the Pilot Point Veterinary Hospital.

Dear Abby

Kidney Transplant for Chimp Is a Lot of Monkey Business

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: In a recent issue of Parade magazine, I saw a brief article (enclosed) that disturbed me greatly. It details a parent granting permission for his 6-year-old child to donate a kidney to a chimpanzee suffering from simian nephritis!

The item read, "The father of little Brandy Oxenrider visited the ailing primate in his cage at the Perkins Animal Clinic in Atlanta, bearing a large bunch of bananas."

"As a family, we are 100 percent committed to animal welfare," said the father, a 40-year-old health food store owner, "but sometimes it can be kind of frustrating. I heard about a laboratory rat out in California who needs a heart transplant. I'd really like to donate mine, but how will it fit into that tiny little chest cavity?"

Abby, removing a kidney from a 6-year-old child for donation to a chimpanzee is outrageous! It's one thing for an adult to make an informed decision based on facts and potential risks to donate an organ, but this 6-year-old obviously does not understand the risks of surgery and going through life with only one kidney.

Unless this child were terminally ill with no hope for recovery, this is outright child abuse and should be stopped! If this were the case, there would be lots of parents or children on transplant waiting lists who would be disappointed and angry to hear of this situation.

Although I am not an expert on inter-species transplants, as a physician who has some knowledge of human-to-human transplants, I believe the chances for success are far greater in twins or siblings. Even the chimp would be better served if it were to receive a donor kidney from another chimp — and preferably a blood relative. Quite frankly, I am at a loss to understand why there are any transplants from human to animals at all!

JOE WEINSTEIN, M.D., SOMERVILLE, N.J.

DEAR DR. WEINSTEIN: As much as I love animals, I, too, was at a loss to understand why, when humans are on waiting lists for organ transplants, a chimpanzee would take preference over a child for a kidney transplant.

I telephoned Information in Atlanta and asked for the telephone number of the Perkins Animal Clinic. I was told that there was no animal clinic listed under that name.

I then called the editorial department of Parade magazine and asked for the source of the item concerning the kidney transplant from child to chimp. I was told that that item was meant to be a joke!

Perhaps I've lost my sense of humor, but in my opinion no kind of organ transplant is a joke.

CONFIDENTIAL TO JEANNE P.: Happy birthday, my beloved firstborn!

Experts say...

Laboratory tests may be key in rape probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sophisticated chemical tests on hair, blood and body fluids may take much of the guesswork out of the investigation of an alleged rape at the Kennedy family compound in Palm Beach, Fla., a forensics expert says.

Although Palm Beach police refuse to give details of the investigation, Walter F. Rowe, a professor at George Washington University, said Tuesday the process appears to be following a classic pattern that can either eliminate suspects completely or identify them to almost absolute certainty.

A 29-year-old woman alleges she was sexually attacked at the Kennedy beach house last weekend after she went there with William Kennedy Smith, a nephew of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass. Smith denies any involvement.

Police said she reported the rape 10 hours after it occurred. She was examined at a hospital and treated for minor injuries. And, said Rowe, if the police followed the best forensic science, special rape investigation specimens also were taken.

These specimens would include hair, blood and vaginal swabbings from the victim.

Smith, 30, a student at Georgetown University Medical School, has provided police with samples of his own hair and blood.

Now, said Rowe, the story of what happened may be told in a series of increasingly sophisticated laboratory tests.

Typically, hospitals will first examine the vaginal swabbings to determine if the material includes sperm, he said.

If sperm is found, it is dried and taken to a laboratory for the start of tests that could take up to a month.

"The ABO blood typing would be the first test," Rowe said. This test looks at specific proteins in the sperm that are also present in the blood and will tell if the attacker had blood type A, B or O. The results could then be compared with samples from suspects.

Twenty to 25 percent of men, however, have sperm that will not give a clear result with this test because they do not secrete blood chemicals into their body fluids, Rowe said.

Next, forensic labs would test the sperm samples for enzymes that are common to both blood and sperm.

Should results from both the blood test and the enzyme test show no match to the blood taken from the suspect, then police know he's not the culprit, the professor said.

Most of the value of these tests are in eliminating suspects, he said, because often the findings are inconclusive.

"Sometimes you get a positive result, but then learn that 80 percent of the population would give you the same result," said Rowe.

With uncertain results, forensic scientists then would turn to DNA profiling, a technique that compares the genetic pattern found in the sperm cells with the pattern in the blood from the suspect.

If the patterns match, Rowe said, scientists know that the odds they came from the same person are so high as to be almost unquestionable.

But even this test is not always free of doubt.

Marjorie Shultz, a professor of law at the University of California, Berkeley, said DNA patterns can overlap in some of the markers used in the tests.

A recent blind test of a California firm that does DNA matching showed that there was error in one of 44 samples, she said.

Prize winning stories focus on social ills

NEW YORK (AP) — Reporting that drew back the curtains on subjects ranging from the ordeal of a rape victim to the sad human costs of one of the big Wall Street takeovers of the '80s won Pulitzer Prizes in journalism.

The Des Moines Register on Tuesday was awarded the prize for public service for chronicling the story of rape victim Nancy Ziegenmeyer, who allowed her name to be used in an effort to counter the shame often associated with rape.

The Los Angeles Times, the St. Petersburg (Fla.) Times and Gannett News Service each won for stories that focused on child abuse and neglect.

Winners of Pulitzers in the arts included Neil Simon, who won his first in drama for "Lost in Yonkers" after 30 years of playwrighting, and John Updike, who collected his second in fiction for "Rabbit at Rest," the last of his four-novel "Rabbit" series. His first Pulitzer was in 1982 for "Rabbit is Rich."

Wall Street Journal reporter Susan Faludi examined the leveraged buyout in 1986 of Safeway Stores Inc. and won the Pulitzer for explanatory journalism. She detailed the human cost of the supermarket chain takeover in layoffs, suicide and wage cuts. The deal involved $5.7 billion in buyout debt.

"I was really interested in looking at it from the bottom up," Faludi said. "I think any story that sort of forces business executives to look at the moral consequences of their decisions is important."

The prize-winning five-part Des Moines Register series was set in motion when Mrs. Ziegenmeyer read a Register op-ed piece saying newspapers' policy of not identifying rape victims somehow suggested they were at fault.

The series, reported by Jane Schorer, graphically described the rape and how it devastated Mrs. Ziegenmeyer. The articles prompted widespread reconsideration of news organizations' practice of concealing the identity of rape victims.

The Los Angeles Times' David Shaw won the Pulitzer for criticism for his examination of the way the media reported the McMartin Pre-School child molestation case.

Sheryl James of the St.

Petersburg Times won for feature writing for her stories about a mother who left her newborn in a box near a trash bin.

The winners of the national reporting award, Marjie Lundstrom and Rochelle Sharpe of Gannett News Service, revealed that hundreds of child abuse-related deaths are undetected each year because of errors by medical examiners.

The feature photography prize went to William Snyder of The Dallas Morning News for his pictures of sick and orphaned children in Romania.

The Associated Press' Greg Marinovich won the Pulitzer for spot news photography for pictures from South Africa showing supporters of the African National Congress killing a man they believed was a Zulu spy.

The Kiwi crusader

By Phillip Alder

The second person to receive the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire (M.B.E.) for services to bridge was Bruce Bell in 1979. A resident of Auckland, New Zealand, Bell has been the leading promoter of bridge in his homeland for 50 years. He began playing duplicate in 1937, a year after the formation of the New Zealand Contract Bridge Association. Today that beautiful country, with a population of some three-and-a-quarter million, has almost 20,000 registered players, a percentage that makes all other bridge federations green with envy.

To list all of Bell's victories would take several columns, and he is still accumulating trophies. Here is a hand he played some years ago that features the unusual dummy reversal.

North did well to raise to five hearts, and Bell raced on to six with his good controls, confident he would see strong hearts in the dummy.

With his powerful spade holding, West should have led a trump. But if he had, as the saying goes, there would have been no story. After West's actual diamond lead, Bell spotted the best line of play.

He ruffed the diamond lead, played a trump to dummy's queen, ruffed a second diamond, played another heart to the dummy, trumped a third diamond, and crossed to dummy by overtaking the club jack with the queen. The last trump was drawn and the diamond ace taken, Bell discarding the A-K of clubs from his hand. Dummy's winning clubs were cashed, a spade was led back to the ace, and the last trick was conceded.

Oat bran helps reduce cholesterol

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two ounces of oat bran or oatmeal every morning for breakfast will reduce high cholesterol, scientists say.

But don't sprinkle it on bacon and eggs and expect it to work, they cautioned.

Everyone wants a magic bullet to cure their ills, but it doesn't work that way with cholesterol, said Dr. William Castelli, director of the Framingham Heart Study. "We are going to have to be more careful about our diet."

Castelli was among five scientists who've taken a second look at the effect of oats on cholesterol after a report last year criticized earlier findings as scientifically inadequate. Their new research, which was financed in part by the Quaker Oats Co., corrects the problems cited by the report and backs up original studies hailing the cholesterol-lowering qualities of oats.

Castelli and the others, interviewed Tuesday, said the public was confused not only by scientific criticism, but also abuse by the food industry.

"All you had to do was stroll down the aisle of any supermarket," said Castelli. "They were sprinkling oats on everything."

According to a study published Tuesday in the Journal of the American Medical Association, people with high cholesterol should eat a diet of no more than 30 percent fat and consume 2 ounces of oat bran or oatmeal — about two bowls — every day.

Such a diet helped reduce cholesterol levels up to 15 percent, said Dr. Michael Davidson, medical director for the Chicago Center for Clinical Research, and head researcher on the project.

Cholesterol levels went back up if people stopped eating oat bran, even while maintaining the low-fat diet, he said the study found.

"Same old story..."

Matadors pound Snyder, 15-3

LUBBOCK — Estacado used 4-run innings in the third and fourth and a 5-run burst in the sixth to claim a 15-3 District 2-4A baseball win over Snyder here Tuesday night.

According to Tiger coach Albert Lewis, the key was pitching.

"It was the same old story. Our pitchers gave up way to many walks. We walked nine and only struck out two. That doesn't balance very well.

"They are a good hitting team. Estacado won district last year and they have the same position players back this season.

He continued, "Their pitcher threw us a lot of breaking pitches that kept us off stride. We weren't selective enough at the plate.

The Matadors' Chris Bryant was the winning pitcher. He guided EHS to a 9-11 overall mark and a 3-1 record in district.

Snyder starter Terry Stephens went 3 2-3 innings for the Tigers, giving up 10 runs on six hits and five walks while striking out just one.

The Tigers took the early lead, 1-0, on a John Wright RBI single that drove in Richard Morris who had reached on an error to the shortstop to open the game.

Estacado answered with two runs in the bottom of the first stanza before the floodgates opened in the third.

With a 12-3 lead, Estacado's right fielder, Tashani Bibbs hammered a grand slam homer, his second round-tripper of the evening, to put the wraps on the game in the sixth inning by virtue of the 10-run rule.

Bibbs passed Malcolm Davis on the base paths and was called out, setting up the final score of

The Tigers' offensive output was led by Raymond House, who drilled a 2-RBI double in the fifth inning that scored designated hitter Chad Fox and Stephens.

Brian Crawford was three-of-three on the night and Wright wound up with two hits in three tries.

The loss drops the Tigers to a 6-14 season record. They are level at 2-2 within the district.

In other loop battles Friday, No. 7 Frenship popped Lamesa, 10-1, and Dunbar won its first district game of the year by beating Levelland, 9-3.

Snyder begins a 3-game homestand Friday when they host Lamesa in a 5 p.m. contest.

Westerner golfers finish 13th

ODESSA — Second ranked Midland College carded a 54-hole 885 to easily outdistance the rest of the 20-team field at the Texas State Junior Championships at Mission Country Club here Monday and Tuesday.

"It was windy and cold both days," said WTC golf coach Dave Foster.

"The wind turned into a big factor, especially playing 36 holes Monday.

"It was brutal," Midland College's Andrew Coltar, a native of Scotland, turned in the tournament's top individual score with his 71-73-68-212.

The remainder of the all-tournament team included McLennan Community college golfer Gary Clark, who fired a 223, J.C. Hernandez of Midland with a 224 and Clayton Friend from Odessa College and Darren Eckhart of Midland, both of whom wound up at 225.

Western Texas took 13th, overall, with a team total 961 tally.

New Mexico Military Institute's 916 was good for second at the event trailed by Florida Community College at 918, a 920 from host Odessa College and Grayson County Community College with a 927.

Tony Lara led the WTC squad with his 76-83-79-238 followed by Brad Stewart's 82-79-78-239, a 243 tally from Jon Roseberry off rounds of 80, 80 and 83, Darren Waters' 84-77-84-245 and an 85-81-82-248 from John Gatlin.

Individual players from Western Texas included Mark Wood, who recorded a 76-79-83-238, a 78-77-86-241 from Brandon Benedict and Ryan Teague's 82-84-80-246.

The Westerners' next outing will be the April 19 Western Junior College Athletic Conference tournament hosted by New Mexico Junior College in Hobbs.

Tech hires Dickey

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — James Dickey, an assistant basketball coach at Texas Tech, was named the school's 11th head coach today, replacing Gerald Myers, who agreed to step down after 20 1/2 years and four consecutive losing seasons.

Texas Tech Athletic Director T. Jones announced Dickey's hiring at a news conference on campus.

"I'm excited at this time to introduce coach James Dickey," Jones said. "This is an appointment that has the support of the president and board of regents.

"This is another happy day for Texas Tech."

Dickey attended the news conference with his wife, Bettye, and daughter, Lauren.

"I am optimistic, enthusiastic and anxious to get started," Dickey said.

"For those of you who have tickets, keep them. And for those of you who don't, buy them because the Lubbock Coliseum is going to be a special place to be next year."

Dickey, 37, came to Tech as an assistant under Myers last year after spending eight years as an assistant under Eddie Sutton at Arkansas and Kentucky. He served under Sutton at Arkansas from 1981-85 and then moved to Kentucky as Sutton's top assistant from 1985-89.

Before joining Sutton at Arkansas, Dickey was an assistant for two years at Central Arkansas, where he lettered four years in basketball before graduating in 1976.

He will be faced with rebuilding a once prominent basketball program that has recently fallen on hard times.

Myers left the school as the third winningest coach in SWC history and coached the Raiders to two regular season SWC titles and three SWC tournament crowns during his 20-year tenure.

But the Red Raiders, who have 10 scholarship players returning next year, are coming off their worst season ever, which included a school record 23 losses against only 8 wins.

Tech went 5-22 in 1989 and finished with a school-record 0-16 Southwest Conference tally.

Erwin, Loyd take MGA tourney win

Jim Erwin and Wortham Loyd combined for a first-place 64 in A-B Flight of the Western Texas College Mens' Golf Association April Tournament played Saturday at the college course.

Domingo Quintela, J. D. Henderson and Ruben Trevino notched a 74 to win the C-D Flight of the 2-man scramble followed by Charlie Morrow and Roland Bowden at 76.

Arkansas' Day draws suspension

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — A Little Rock newspaper says the stepfather of basketball star Todd Day has acknowledged that his son has been suspended from the University of Arkansas team for one year, apparently for participating in a sexual incident in an athletic dorm.

The Arkansas Democrat reported in Wednesday's editions that Day's stepfather Ted Anderson said, "Todd won't even be able to be eligible for a year."

In a telephone interview with the newspaper, Anderson, a basketball coach at Hamilton High School in Memphis, Tenn., said the punishment of the four players involved in the Feb. 27 incident was "unfairly consistent."

Barone accepts Aggie coaching post

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Chicago native Tony Barone doesn't think he'll have a problem overcoming the language barrier as the new head basketball coach at Texas A&M.

"I can say you all with the best of them, I don't think that's an issue," Barone said Tuesday after signing a 5-year contract. "The issue is 'are you comfortable with the program?' If you're comfortable with the program, everything else fits in."

"We've lived in a lot of different cities in a lot of different states. We have a family that likes to do things together and I'm sure there'll be all sorts of things in this country to do."

He plans to start by rebuilding the Aggie basketball program which ended the season with an 8-21 record and nine scholarship players. It was A&M's third 20-loss season in the school's 79-year history.

"The Shoe" faces possible paralysis

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Willie Shoemaker, who enjoyed a relatively injury-free career as the winningest jockey in horse racing history, now faces partial paralysis after an auto accident.

Shoemaker "suffered severe injuries, the most critical of which is paralysis of his extremities associated with a fracture and dislocation of his neck," Shoemaker's wife, Cindy, said in a statement Tuesday.

It was not immediately known whether the former rider is in jeopardy of permanent paralysis.

The 59-year old jockey-turned-trainer was alone Monday when the four-wheel drive vehicle he was driving overturned and tumbled down a 50-foot embankment near suburban San Dimas, about 30 miles from downtown Los Angeles.

Shoemaker was arrested on suspicion of drunken driving. Results of a blood-alcohol test won't be available for about two weeks, the Highway Patrol said.

Shoemaker was listed in serious condition at Centinela Hospital Medical Center, known for its expertise in sports medicine and orthopedic surgery.

Lewis trial date is set for May 20

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston judge has set a May 20 court date for Olympic gold medalist Carl Lewis on drunken driving charges.

Lewis appeared before Criminal Court-at-Law Judge Mark Atkinson Wednesday to set the date. Lewis had failed to attend court as originally scheduled on Tuesday because of a miscommunication with his attorney, Robert Ross.

Lewis, who won six Olympic gold medals, was arrested Jan. 11 for driving while intoxicated. Police spotted Lewis' Audi at an intersection when it made a turn, struck a curb and blew out both right-side tires.

Lewis failed a field sobriety test and was arrested. Another test at the police station showed Lewis' blood-alcohol content at 0.12. In Texas, the legal intoxication limit is 0.10.

Decision affirmed

complained of the trial court's refusal to charge the jury on a lesser offense of reckless conduct.

The docket shows that the jury began deliberations at 10:27 a.m. on Oct. 19, 1989, and returned its verdict at 12:03 a.m. on Oct. 20, a total time of 13 hours and 36 minutes.

The appellate court found that the trial judge did not abuse Medrano's discretion in overruling motions for a mistrial and in permitting the jury to continue deliberations.

The appellate court also found that the trial court's decision to permit the prosecutor to exclude the prospective juror was fair, and found that the trial judge did not err when he refused to charge on reckless conduct. The appellate court noted that because Medrano's acts caused serious bodily injury, there was no way that he could have been guilty only of reckless conduct.

Medrano was charged with firing several rounds from a .22 caliber rifle during a dispute on Aug. 4, 1989. One of the rounds struck Oscar Garza Jr. in the back. Garza received serious, left-threatening injuries, but recovered.

The jury's sentence of life imprisonment included a finding that Medrano had been found guilty of two previous felonies.

Mishap noted

An 18-year-old Snyder man remains in Cogdell Memorial Hospital today for 23-hour observation following an early morning one-vehicle rollover south of Snyder.

Jason L. Martini of 3305 Ave. A and two others were taken to the local hospital just before 2 a.m. by a private vehicle from the accident's location, three miles south of town on Hwy. 350.

Treated and released immediately following the accident were Shannon Denise Blum, 19, of 403 31st St. and Terrance Bilbrey, 19, of 2306 41st St. Brought in for treatment later was Mark Allen Camire, 23, of Fort Hood.

No other details of the accident were immediately available.

McDonald's to give away seedlings

McDonald's will launch its "Let's Get Growing America" program with the assistance of the American Forestry Association's Global ReLeaf this weekend.

The local McDonald's will be giving away 1,500 afghan pine seedlings. They will include a temporary planting container and a brochure with step-by-step outdoor planting instructions.

Some 7,500 McDonald's stores nationwide will be giving away more than nine million tree seedlings.

In response to increased demand from schools for environmental teaching materials, the program also includes a comprehensive education program that teaches kids how to take care of the environment.

"Learning about the environment is the first step towards action," said Deborah Gangloff, Global ReLeaf coordinator. "I think it's commendable that McDonald's is also providing an opportunity for families to work together to plant trees that will help protect the ozone layer, reduce air pollution and just plan make the planet a more beautiful place to live."

Changing of guard for Army, Marine Corps

WASHINGTON (AP) — With all the deliberation and secrecy that attends the selection of a pope, the Pentagon's top brass is working on selecting new uniformed chiefs for the Army and Marine Corps.

The subject is a delicate one, given the fact that the chosen commander must work and deal with those colleagues who may have been passed over for the position, Pentagon sources say.

"It's a mysterious mix. Not only does a chief have to have lots of time in command and high qualities of leadership, he's got to have political acumen in order to deal with Congress and the (Pentagon's) appointed leadership," said one officer, speaking on condition of anonymity.

"It's something like the College of Cardinals, when they get together and choose a pope," another said. "No smoke comes out of the chimney, but the politics that precedes the decision is pretty heavy-duty."

Although some of the generals prominent in the Persian Gulf War may be considered for the posts, the early word is that Gen. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, commander of Operation Desert Storm, turned down the chance to become Army chief of staff.

The current Army chief, Gen.

Carl E. Vuono, and the commander of the Marine Corps, Gen. Alfred M. Gray Jr., are retiring on June 30 at the end of four-year terms. President Bush will select replacements, subject to Senate confirmation. Schwarzkopf, and the commander of Marine forces in the gulf, Lt. Gen. Walter Boomer, have been mentioned as being among the top candidates for the leading jobs in their respective services.

Pentagon sources, however, said Schwarzkopf has told Army Secretary Michael Stone he will hold to his plan to retire this summer and enter private life.

The post "was his, if he wanted it," a senior Pentagon officer said. "But he said he wasn't interested."

Lawmakers rap Pentagon handling of plane project

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lawmakers are criticizing the Pentagon's handling of the canceled A-12 stealth plane, a futuristic program that has produced only designs and other data in return for the Navy's $1.3 billion investment.

"The taxpayers' money was not spent wisely on the A-12," Rep. Andy Ireland, R-Fla., a member of the House Armed Services investigations subcommittee, said Tuesday.

The General Accounting Office, the investigative arm of Congress, told the panel that the Navy has received six designs and management reviews, which it priced at about $1.3 billion.

However, the GAO said the contractors — McDonnell Douglas Corp. and General Dynamics Corp. — have provided "no completed items" from the radar-evading aircraft as the companies challenge the canceled contract.

Lawmakers also complained about the Pentagon's decision allowing the manufacturers — two of the nation's largest defense contractors — to defer repaying about $1.4 billion pending the outcome of legal appeals.

"This is effectively a loan," Rep. Nicholas Mavroules, D-Mass., chairman of the investigations subcommittee, said of the deferral agreement, which also allows the companies to delay interest payments at a rate of 8 1/2 percent.

In January, Defense Secretary Dick Cheney said the manufacturers of the A-12 were in default on a fixed-price contract to build eight prototypes of the ground-attack plane. He canceled the program, citing its billions of dollars in cost overruns and schedule delays.

It was the largest weapons contract the Pentagon had ever terminated.

DEAR DR. GOTT: What is your opinion on the exhaust products coming from the smokestack of an asphalt quarry being carcinogenic?

DEAR READER: I cannot conceive of any substance expelled from a smokestack as being healthful. Many products of incineration are carcinogenic and others cause unacceptable air pollution, either with acids or particulate matter.

The federal government is very concerned about smokestack air pollution and has promulgated a complex series of regulations to ensure minimal contamination and "safe standards. Nonetheless, industrial waste continues to poison our environment. Some people believe this is a necessary price to pay, a trade-off, for the conveniences of our modern, technological society.

I won't comment on the specific instance you mention because I am not familiar with the details of the "asphalt quarry" or the methods, such as scrubbers, the company uses to remove dangerous by-products of the manufacturing process. However, this information should be available through the Occupational Safety and Health Administration. You can make an inquiry to your local Department of Health or to the nearest OSHA office.

DEAR DR. GOTT: What causes compulsive eating, and what can I do about it?

DEAR READER: Compulsive overeating is, at best, a habit and, at worst, an addiction. Although some forms of gluttony are due to brain damage or severe emotional disorders, the majority of over-eaters are driven by a compulsion to engage in this behavior. Thus, overeating can often be controlled by behavioral modification, including education, counseling, support groups, hypnosis and cognitive restructuring (during which patients are taught how to overcome self-defeating, maladaptive attitudes about themselves).

I suggest a staged approach. First, see your doctor for an examination to make sure you are in good health and do not have a metabolic imbalance, such as diabetes or a thyroid disorder, that contributes to your problem. Also, the doctor can suggest a diet or methods to relieve your compulsion. Second, if you are obese, consider a weight-reduction support group such as Overeaters Anonymous or Weight Watchers. In these groups, you'll quickly discover you're not alone; by sharing their strengths and experiences, members are often capable of making astounding changes in their orientation to and attitudes about food. Third, you may need psychological counseling — or even therapy in a metabolic laboratory, many of which are operated by medical teaching centers.

Since compulsive eating is an addiction that resembles drug abuse or alcoholism, it is frequently difficult to treat. However, help is available from the many resources I mentioned.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Winning The Battle of the Bulge." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their names and addresses to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.
