Ask Us

Q—What are "junk bonds?"

A—Junk bonds basically refer to high yielding bonds that are rated below an agency's investment bond grades. Junk bonds have low ratings because of their risky and speculative nature.

In Brief

Lewis is mad

AUSTIN (AP) — Speaker Gib Lewis, upset at news stories citing lobbyists' involvement in his Speaker's Day celebration, refused to have his regular news conference after the House adjourned Thursday.

"After reading the (newspaper) clippings this morning, he didn't feel like talking to the press today," said Lewis' press secretary, John Bender.

The Speaker's Day activities Wednesday cost an estimated $120,000 and were financed by business and private contributions. Newspaper stories Thursday generally emphasized lobbyists' participation in the traditional event.

Didn't jump

HOUSTON (AP) — A murder suspect ended his almost 12-hour standoff with police on a 10th-story window ledge of the federal courthouse, threatening to jump until he acquiesced early today to negotiators' pleas to come inside.

John Alexander Riccardi, 55, climbed back into the Federal Building at 3:20 a.m. CDT as it began to rain. Federal marshals led Riccardi wrapped in a straitjacket and looking shaken and exhausted — into an unmarked car and drove away.

Details were not immediately available because all officials, except for a few city policemen and security guards, had left the scene.

Volunteers needed...

SNS workday Saturday

For the fourth consecutive year, several hundred Scurry County citizens will forego the television, lawn and lake this Saturday to pick up their hammers and saws and participate in Snyder Neighbors Sharing.

Fourteen homes have been targeted in the effort, which is designed to help out those who are financially or physically unable to make the repairs themselves.

"This is a very helpful project. It is designed to keep people in this community dry and warm. We all have this basic need and this organization tries to fulfill that need," said Sam Robertson, SNS president.

Saturday will mark the fourth annual workday of the organization. In its first year, seven homes were repaired. A total of 43 homes have been improved through SNS efforts.

Of the 14 homes targeted this year, five are described as major projects. The homes will see such improvements as plumbing, roofing, painting and electrical work.

Some 400 citizens volunteered last year, but the response is down somewhat this year and the organization is repeating its call (see SNS, page 8)

County oks trailer bids

Scurry County Commissioners met to accept the low bid on two used bottom dump trailers in a morning meeting today at the county courthouse.

The low bid of $7,400 each was accepted from Worldwide Machinery Consultants of Houston. In the motion to accept the bid, commissioners stipulated certain repairs and improvements be made to both trailers.

Commissioners were in Houston earlier this week for an on-site inspection of the equipment. The county is expected to pick up the trailers in Houston during first part of May.

Commissioners explained that the two additional trailers would be used along with a trailer from Precinct 3 in a combined effort with Precincts 2 and 4 to resurface county roads with caliche.

"All three trailers will be working in one precinct one-third of the time," explained Precinct 3 Commissioner C.D. Gray Jr.

Presiding at the meeting was County Judge Bob Doolittle. Commissioners present were C.D. Gray Jr., Roy Idom and Jerry Gannaway.

Absent was Commissioner Duaine Davis.

Healthcare statements, hospital certification are reviewed by board

Cogdell Memorial Hospital board members on Thursday approved a hospital mission statement and a nursing plan, and heard from CEO Tim Lancaster on several topics of interest.

The board also approved the March financial report and minutes of past meetings.

Lana Chambers, R.N., Cogdell nurse executive, presented a hospital nursing plan to the board. The updated plan is necessary for Joint Commission accreditation. The plan defines and confirms the hospital's commitment to nursing care.

The board also approved a hospital mission statement, which states in part, that the facility will "strive for excellence" and "maintain the physical integrity of the institution."

Lancaster reminded the board that the Joint Commission Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations (JCAHO) is scheduled to visit the hospital May 13-14. The accreditation, said Lancaster, is "something we

19 counties under bee quarantine

HARLINGEN, Texas (AP) — Africanized bees continue their spring invasion of South Texas, with the latest confirmed swarm adding 11 counties to a quarantine zone after its discovery in a tree in Laredo.

Laredo's was the fifth swarm of the ill-tempered insects trapped in South Texas since last week. It was the sixth known to have crossed into the United States from Mexico since discovery of the first U.S. swarm in October.

Laredo also is the farthest north and west that officials have trapped the bees in Texas. All of the other U.S. swarms were discovered in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

The Laredo swarm, destroyed Monday and confirmed Thursday as Africanized, prompted the quarantine of 11 more counties from which no bees may be moved, said John G. Thomas, extension entomologist at Texas A&M University.

It brings to 19 the total of South Texas counties under quarantine because of the so-called "killer" bees.

The Valley and the state's eight southernmost counties have been under quarantine since the October trapping near the border city of Hidalgo. The first quarantine covered any county touched by an approximately 100-mile radius extending from Hidalgo.

No honey bees may be moved out of the quarantine area established under the Texas Africanized Honey Bee Management Plan developed by state, federal and local agencies and farming and ranching organizations.

Because Laredo is north of the first quarantine zone, officials Thursday added to the quarantine all counties within a 100-mile radius of Laredo. That is what drew 11 more counties into the quarantine zone.

McKanna Honored — The late Edith Whatley McKanna was inducted into the Petroleum Hall of Fame, along with President George H.W. Bush, Halbert P. Bybee and Frank Phillips, during ceremonies attended by 300 people Thursday in the Midland Hilton Ballroom. "Footprints in Time," a videographic account of the honorees, revealed their dedication, work and service which helped develop the Permian Basin. Mrs. McKanna (1899-1986), of Fluvanna, was chosen for her substantial contribution to the development of the oil and gas industry. Seated is her sister, Tizzie Silberg of Dalhart; and her brother, Dan Whatley of Midland. Standing, from left, are Ann Johnson of Houston, Mrs. McKanna's great-granddaughter; Joe McSpadden of Midland, Mr. Whatley's son-in-law; Betty Jim Massey of Florida, Mrs. McKanna's granddaughter; and Patrick Toombs and his mother, Marge Toombs, both of Fluvanna, who are friends of the family. ### Keeping tabs on our neighbors

Russel Skiles, in the Lamesa Press-Reporter, says it's amazing what a single sandstorm can do for the ol' memory.

"A good sandstorm blows through and suddenly everyone remembers every good duster of years past.

"Oldtimers recall the pioneer days when blowing dust forced them to stay indoors for days, causing sand to pile up so deep that pigs were able to walk over the fences. They tell about wet towels or sheets hung over doors and windows to help filter incoming air.

"According to the memory of both oldtimers and newer sandstorm veterans, each new duster is never nearly as bad as the one which happened last year, those we had during the dry spell or the really severe ones of decades ago.

"A sandstorm makes you clearly remember why you had been intending to replace that back door facing the west. It helps you remember the need for more caulking here and there and more weather-stripping around another door, and a bigger broom to sweep out the garage.

"You remember shoveling piles of sand, and the mass of tiny tumbleweeds that later sprang up where the sand used to be.

"Yep, it's really surprising what a good sandstorm will do for the memory."

O.G. Nieman, in the Hereford Brand, says life gets more complicated.

"An oldtimer, baffled by operating instructions for various electronic appliances, insists that if the paper clip was invented today, it would have at least four moving parts, two transistors, an on-off switch and require servicing every six months."

Senate approves coastal bill

AUSTIN (AP) — A coastal bill that survived two filibusters was approved by the Senate on a 19-11 vote, after a senator who opposed it cast a crucial vote to bring up the measure.

that could sell tax-exempt bonds and levy taxes for public improvements, was sent to the House where influential state Rep. Hugo Berlanga is the sponsor.

ty, and she said Thursday she had "serious concerns" about the bill.

"It's interesting ... that I had a bunch of people who said they were committed, and had to vote for the bill, but sure did hope that I'd veto it," Richards said.

The bill by Sen. Eddie Lucio had been the target of filibusters by Sen. Carlos Truan and criticism by environmental groups.

Lucio was asked if he was worried about Richards vetoing the bill.

"I'm just happy I got it out of the Senate," he said.

Truan said, "What we have here is a bill that has been dressed up to appear to be a statewide bill that affects the entire coast when, in fact, it is nothing more than a special-interest bill originated by a major conglomerate who happens to own 22,000 acres of land in my district."

The measure has been called the "American General bill," following published reports that American General Insurance of Houston envisioned a 3,000-acre project on South Padre Island that would include a $2.5 billion resort complex of condominiums, lagoons, boat harbors, golf courses and other recreational facilities.

Truan, D-Corpus Christi, warned of environmental damage that could harm the Laguna Madre, which he described as "one of the three wonders of (the) world that we have."

He said American General had used lawyers to spread a "pack of lies" that 8,000 permanent jobs would be created, when the company really wants to use public debt in the form of bonds "to enhance a non-producing asset at the expense of the general public."

"This is a farce, this is a fraud on the taxpayers of Texas," he said.

A co-sponsor, Sen. Chet Brooks, D-Pasadena, said, "I think it strikes a good balance between the very critical need for economic development and educational opportunity and, on the other hand, environmental concerns."

Brady touts bank reform

DALLAS (AP) — A bill providing more money for the Bank Insurance Fund won't solve the problems facing the banking industry, Treasury Secretary Nicholas Brady says.

"We need to have deposit insurance reform, supervisory reform, and a recapitalized Bank Insurance Fund," Brady told a Thursday night meeting of regulators. "We also need interstate banking and broader financial activities so that our banks can grow."

Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, the San Antonio Democrat who chairs the House Banking Committee, offered his own bill Thursday to reform the banking industry. It calls for $25 billion to beef up the Bank Insurance Fund.

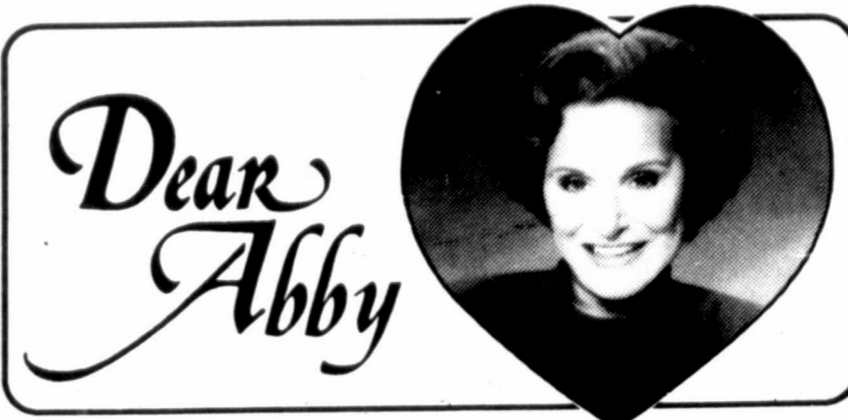

"This is the height of folly. We should reform the industry and fix the problem, not just fund it," Brady said.

"If we only tinker with the problem then we'll probably be back again, sooner rather than later recapitalizing the BIF again; perhaps the next time with taxpayer money. That's a prospect no one could relish."

The secretary made the remarks in a speech to the senior staffs of five U.S. agencies — the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, the Office of Thrift Supervision, the Federal Reserve Board and the Resolution Trust Corp.

The agency's national and regional leaders meet annually to discuss common problems. The focus of the meeting in Dallas has been the nation's credit crunch.

The agencies on March 1 all issued guidelines and clarifications of rules aimed at facilitating credit.

Open Caskets for the Dead Are the Filipino Way of Life

By Abigail Van Buren

1991 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: With regard to Jessica Mitford's statement: "The open-casket funeral is unique to the U.S. and Canada; in no other country is the bizarre ritual of 'viewing' the deceased a part of any funeral service."

Sorry, Jessica, you are "dead" wrong on this one! Here in the Philippines, the open-casket viewing is traditional. President Corazon Aquino is frequently pictured in local newspapers and on television consoling the relatives of slain government officials, labor leaders, soldiers or victims of violence — all before an open casket displaying a sometimes gruesome corpse. In fact, the body of her own husband, Benigno Aquino Jr., was displayed in the clothing he was wearing when he was gunned down so that "the people can see what they (Marcos' thugs) did to him."

The Philippines is a Catholic nation, the only one in Asia, and perhaps the customs spring from the Hispanic influence. However, one must remember the dramatic pictures of funeral pyres of such Hindu leaders as Gandhi or Nehru. Their bodies were on view as part of the funeral services. Remember, too, in the Soviet Union, where there is officially no religion, the dead bodies of communist bosses from Stalin through Chernenko were always on display before they were laid to rest in the Kremlin Wall.

I am sure you will get a mountain of mail on this, Abby.

You guessed it. She quit borrowing coffee.

The impossible duck?

By Phillip Alder

There are some plays that seem impossible to make, but with imagination you can come up with the brilliant stroke.

North bid three clubs to try to uncover a 5-3 spade fit, not to get to a club contract. South's three-no-trump bid suggested only a doubleton spade.

South has seven top tricks, and he has a guaranteed eighth in spades. For the ninth, he needs either a 3-3 diamond split or some luck in spades. After winning trick one with dummy's ace of hearts, declarer crosses to hand with a diamond and runs the nine of spades. West playing the two to confirm holding three.

Most Easts, looking at the queen and two low spades, will win with her majesty, worried that they will never get another chance. But if East wins the trick, South scores four spade tricks and makes his contract easily.

To have any chance to defeat the game, East must duck this trick. And he must do it without a telltale hesitation.

At this point, South will probably duck a diamond. East wins and returns a heart. South wins and cashes his second top diamond. When the suit doesn't split 3-3, South has to return to spades — and wouldn't you take another "winning" finesse?

When South does repeat the finesse, East pounces with the queen, cashes his diamond trick and returns his last heart. The contract goes three down, and South should congratulate East on his excellent defense.

Ducking the queen of spades is a tough play to make. But East must think of the possibility and have courage. Bridge isn't a game for the weak-willed.

U.S. House members want brakes on collider spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — Forty-four House members are asking the House Appropriations Committee to put the brakes on spending for the $8.25 billion super collider, "given the ever-lengthening string of broken promises from the Department of Energy."

In a letter to the chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee on energy and water development, the group suggests Congress withhold further spending on the collider until DOE lines up foreign contributors and "delivers on its promises to limit the project's total federal costs."

But Rep. Joe Barton, R-Ennis, said the letter writers are complaining about "the same old stuff. They have yet to come up with anything new."

President Bush is seeking $534 million for the collider in the fiscal year that begins Oct. 1 and administration officials have warned that a failure to set aside those funds could cause costly delays and threaten foreign contributions to the project, being built in Ellis County.

In their letter to Rep. Tom Bevill, D-Ala., the congressmen complain that while the DOE continues to assert that foreign contributions will cover a significant portion of the costs of the SSC, "virtually no foreign contributions have been forthcoming."

The congressmen also complain that while the House voted to cap federal spending on the collider at $5 billion, the Energy Department has re-estimated the cost to the federal government at $5.649 billion. Because the Senate never approved the legislation setting the $5 billion cap, it did not become law.

In urging Bevill to weigh the collider's budget request, the congressmen also point to budget constraints, "the ever-more vocal complaints of scientists about the unavailability of funds for individual researchers, the escalating costs of the SSC and the unreliability of DOE statements about this project."

One of those signing the letter, Rep. Sherwood L. Boehlert, R-N.Y., complained the price for the SSC has been escalating in "geometric proportions" and that "this supposedly international project is no more international than Sioux City, Iowa."

Approximately 8,600 magnets would be used to guide beams of protons around a 54-mile underground ring at almost the speed of light until they smash together with an energy of 40 trillion electron volts. Physicists will then use particle detectors to search for the presence of new subatomic particles and measure their properties, in the hopes of explaining the origin of the universe.

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Can you please explain brainstem dysfunction? I was diagnosed after having had an MRI, have been completely bedridden for 10 years and am quite discouraged.

DEAR READER: The brainstem carries all the nerve signals between the brain and the spinal cord. Also, it is vital for certain unconscious acts such as breathing. Therefore, injuries to the brainstem carry a grave prognosis, usually indicating a vegetative state. The brainstem can be affected by tumors, strokes and other neurological disorders, leading to paralysis, tremors, inability to walk and severe visual disturbances.

Brainstem dysfunction is confirmed by CT (X-ray) or MRI (electromagnetic) scanning; these tests show shriveling or damage to the brainstem, which is situated at the base of the skull.

Because the brainstem is a nerve conduit between the brain and the whole body, even minor disturbances can have profound and debilitating consequences. For example, a small stroke in the motor cortex of the brain may cause some speech difficulty and slight weakness of an arm or leg; a stroke of identical size in the brainstem may lead to paralysis of one side of the body, coma or death.

Thus, brainstem dysfunction is serious because this part of the brain is pivotal to normal, independent living.

I can understand why you are discouraged, given the bleak prognosis of your condition. Nevertheless, modern rehabilitation medicine offers much hope. With mechanical devices (such as an electric bed), close attention to physical therapy (to prevent permanent weakness in unaffected muscles), and help with the chores of everyday living, you can continue to enjoy a reasonably full life, despite the obvious adjustments. Remember your blessings, many patients with brainstem dysfunction either die or require machine life-support.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have a book that says a vitamin E pill and zinc supplement tablets will reduce the swelling of the prostate gland. Am I being led astray, or is there truth to this theory?

DEAR READER: You're being led astray. Vitamin E supplements do not shrink the prostate gland.

Years ago, researchers discovered that infertility in animals could be helped by zinc, a mineral that is plentiful in a balanced, human diet. The zinc/fertility relation has not been shown to be important in humans — unless a zinc deficiency exists, an unlikely condition in the vast majority of adults.

I suggest you have your prostate gland checked by your family physician. An enlarged prostate is common in older men and does not need treatment unless it leads to urinary blockage or is caused by prostatic cancer.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "The Prostate Gland." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their names and addresses to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

Doctor sentenced

PORTALES, N.M. (AP) — A Roswell physician has been sentenced to 18 years in prison on multiple counts of sexually abusing a 13-year-old boy.

Dr. David Sylvester LaMure, 56, also was given five years probation and ordered to make unspecified monetary restitution to the victim.

State District Judge Steve Quinn remanded LaMure to the Roosevelt County Corrections Facility to await transfer to the Department of Corrections.

LaMure of Dexter was convicted Jan. 25 by a jury in Roosevelt County on eight of 18 counts of sexually abusing the boy.

The victim's family has filed a $30 million civil lawsuit against the doctor.

Bulls, Jazz win in blowouts

by The Associated Press
The New York Knicks appeared to corner the market on embarrassing losses. Until the Phoenix Suns took the court a few minutes later.

The Chicago Bulls, top-seeded in the Eastern Conference, outscored the eighth-seeded Knicks 61-26 after falling behind 10-4 in the first half, then handed New York a 126-85 defeat in their playoff opener Thursday night.

The Utah Jazz-Suns game, matching the fifth and fourth seeds in the West, was supposed to be closer, and it was — barely. But considering that the game was in Phoenix and the Suns were 55-27 in the regular season, Utah's 129-90 rout was a far bigger surprise.

In both games, it was the winner's most-lopsided playoff victory ever and the loser's worst postseason loss. The Bulls and Jazz both had enough points after three quarters to win the game. "It's a sad commentary," Phoenix coach Cotton Fitzsimmons said. "But let me make it very clear — it's just one game. Someone still needs to win three to win the series. I'm very confident our club will bounce back. I have no explanation on why we looked so poor."

"We didn't expect this," Utah coach Jerry Sloan said. "We just caught the Suns on a night when things weren't going well for them. But this is just one game. So many times you have a game like this and it's the kiss of death for the team that wins because the other team comes back pumped sky high."

In other playoff openers, it was Philadelphia 99, Milwaukee 90; San Antonio 130, Golden State 121; and the Los Angeles Lakers 94, Houston 92.

The three other playoff series open tonight. Indiana is at Boston, Atlanta at Detroit and Seattle at Portland.

The most previous playoff loss in the Suns' 23-year NBA history was a 129-94 defeat to the Los Angeles Lakers on April 9, 1970. Utah's previous most-lopsided victory in the postseason was 108-80 over the Lakers on May 19, 1988.

Karl Malone scored 12 of his 27 points in Utah's 44-point third period, sealing the Jazz' fifth victory in 48 games at Phoenix.

Jeff Malone scored 21 points and John Stockton had 18 points and 15 assists for Utah, which built a 33-point third-quarter lead by outscoring the Suns 44-26 in the period.

Rookie Negele Knight paced Phoenix with 18 points. Kevin Johnson had 14, but only three in the second half.

Bulls 126, Knicks 85

Chicago got 28 points from Michael Jordan and 25 from Scottie Pippen while Patrick Ewing scored six points, his first game in 228 outings with less than double figures.

Kiki Vandeweghe led the Knicks with 19 points, 11 in the third quarter.

Chicago led 65-36 at halftime after putting together spurts of 8-0, 9-0, 10-4, 9-0 and 14-2.

Lakers 94, Rockets 92

At Inglewood, Calif., Byron Scott hit a disputed jumper with 3½ seconds remaining for Los Angeles against Houston.

Scott's jumper, which gave the Lakers a 93-90 lead, first was waved off by referee Jack Madden, who thought Scott didn't get the shot off until after the 24-second clock ran out. But, after conferring with the other officials, Madden changed his call and the basket counted.

Hakeem Olajuwon scored 22 points for the Rockets. Scott led the Lakers with 20.

Spurs 130, Warriors 121

San Antonio's backcourt of Willie Anderson and Rod Strickland had career highs while David Robinson had 30 points, 13 rebounds and eight blocked shots at home against Golden State.

The Spurs, with Anderson scoring 38 points and Strickland 30, led by as many as 19 points in the fourth quarter before the Warriors closed within six twice in the last four minutes.

76ers 99, Bucks 90

Hersey Hawkins scored 25 points and Philadelphia used an 11-0 third-quarter run to win at Milwaukee.

WTC golfers wind up season in Waco

WACO — The Western Texas College golf team wound up its 1991 season with a sixth-place finish at the Region V Junior College Championships at Lake Waco Country Club.

WTC team members combined for an 884 total of 18-hole rounds of 296, 297 and 291 to finish behind McLennan's 867, an 870 from Midland, Odessa with an 879, New Mexico Military Institute's 880 and an 883 by New Mexico JC.

"We played well, here," said golf coach Dave Foster.

"We knew we'd have to shoot under 288 in the last round to have a chance."

"That's one of the toughest things about this region," he continued.

"McLennan and Midland will go to nationals and five ranked teams, including us, will not get to go."

Among the Top 20 squads not earning berths to the national event, to be hosted by Midland College, were Odessa, NMJI, NMJC and Grayson County JC.

One at-large invitation will be extended but it is expected to go to Odessa.

The Westerners' effort was led by freshman Jon Roseberry, of Austin, who fired a 216 on rounds of 74, 69 and 73.

Roseberry wound up in eighth place in the medalist standings and earned a spot on the 10-man All-Region V team.

Other WTC scores included 12th place Mark Wood, a Pampa freshman, who carded a 69-77-221, Sapulpa, Ok. sophomore Brad Stewart, who turned in a 77-75-70-222, 14th best in the tournament, Sweetwater sophomore Tony Lara's 76-76-76-228 and freshman Clint Winn of Austin, who managed a 77-81-73-231.

Joining Roseberry on the all-region roster were medalist Gary Clark and No. 2 finisher Mikko Rhanian of McLennan, Midland standouts Grant Thompson and Darren Eckhart, Odessa's John Tall and Jerry Hunschell, Patrick Johansen of NMJC, NMJI's Pedro Jaramillo and Andy Bell from Grayson.

Rodeo squad in HS-U show

ABILENE — Only three members of the Western Texas College rodeo team competed in Thursday's opening performance of the Hardin-Simmons University Rodeo here.

Brad Loesch, a Ft. Worth cowboy riding for WTC, took fourth place in calf-roping with his 13.8 time.

Loesch also is currently in the top 10 in steer wrestling after Thursday's 11.5 clocking.

Lisa Meloy led the Western Texas women's crew with a third-place 4.7 in breakaway roping. Meloy, from Animas, N.M., received a "no-time" Thursday in goat tying.

The other WTC competitor, Iraan's Jim Phillips, missed his steer in the bulldogging for no time.

The rodeo continues with long-go performances today at 8 p.m. and Saturday at 2 p.m., followed by the finals Saturday at 8 p.m.

Saturday's matinee features free admission. The rodeo is being held at the Carl Myers Arena here.

Riders in tonight's rodeo for WTC include saddle bronc riders Troy Cattoor and Benji Fontenot, Cattoor and Eric Mouton in bareback riding and Dwayne Evans in bull riding.

Calf ropers Billy Brown, Cullen Johnson, Brice Key and Russell Merchant will compete tonight, as will team ropers Carl Gholson, Phillips, Merchant, Creed Johnson and Jody Hart.

The only WTC steer wrestler in today's rodeo will be Scott Berger.

Angel Miller will participate in the barrel race and Miller and Rene Dollar will both be among the entrants in breakaway roping and goat tying at Hardin-Simmons.

Roughstock riders Shawn Tibbs, Shane Gulbrandsen, Fontenot, Chris Sanford, Stacy Jennings and Darrin Cook will lead WTC into Saturday's matinee performance.

Ropers will include Cattoor, Brown and Gholson, while Merchant and Brown will wrestle steers.

Jennifer Lee is entered in all three women's events for WTC Saturday afternoon.

Tigers to entertain district's top team

The District 2-4A leading Estacado Matadors will pay a visit to Snyder tonight as the baseball season begins winding down.

Estacado, holding a 2-game lead with only two left to play, has clinched at least a tie for first place in the district.

The Mats are 13-11 in all games and 7-1 within the league.

Snyder, coming off an upset loss to Dunbar on Tuesday, remains tied for the second playoff berth with Frenship which has lost its last three straight. Both teams maintain 5-3 district records with Lamesa trailing closely at 4-4.

Estacado dropped Lamesa Tuesday, 5-2, behind Chris Bryand's six strong innings from the mound and a Tashani Bibbs homer in the fourth.

Snyder is expected to face Matador ace Albert McBride, who relieved Bryand for a save Tuesday, at Moffett Field.

Snyder is expected to counter with a new weapon.

That is, at least new from a pitching standpoint.

Senior Shelby Bufkin, normally an outfielder, faced the last batter against Dunbar Tuesday in his first outing this season, and is scheduled to take on Estacado.

Bufkin, besides getting Sammy Flores to hit into an inning-ending double play in the sixth in Lubbock, hammered out three hits in four at-bats and stole three bases against the Panthers.

In other district contests today, Levelland is at Dunbar in a battle at the bottom of the standings, and Lamesa is at Frenship with both teams, once considered favorites for playoff spots, now fighting to stay in the race.

The Snyder-Estacado game will begin at 7 p.m.

Coaches want harsher sanctions

OVERLAND PARK, Kan. (AP) — A group of Division I coaches told NCAA officials that harsher penalties should be imposed on schools and athletes who cheat.

Another idea coming out of a two-day meeting between the coaches' group and NCAA officials was a recommendation to force athletes to meet minimum eligibility requirements before they can even make recruiting visits.

Representatives of football and basketball coaches both said they want the NCAA to begin targeting athletes as well as schools and coaches who are involved in recruiting or academic irregularities.

Snyder pops Amarillo in Dalhart cage event

DALHART — Sonny Cumbie scored 11 points Thursday night to lead the Snyder Little Dribbler All-Stars to a 44-20 second-round win over Amarillo Southwest in the Little Dribblers National Tournament here.

The Snyder group had fallen in a tight, 59-56, battle against Silsbee in the tourney opener Thursday morning, in spite of Sam Bedell's 25-point performance.

Snyder was to play regional champion Berger at 11:45 a.m. today in the third round of the double elimination event.

A win would place them in today's 4:45 contest against an opponent still to be decided.

Other team members include Justin McNair, Tyler Warren, Bandy Rollins, Josh Ward, Cory Mandrell, Clell Knight, Aaron Stansell, Jacob Smith, Eric Gard and Jacob Hodges.

Coaches are Evans Heaton, Leon Ward and Lee McNair.

Basketball camp planned at SHS

Snyder High School basketball coaches Bud Birks and Brian Huseman have planned a series of summer camps for young area cagers beginning the first week in June.

Cost to register is $42 per child. Insurance, T-shirts, refreshments, trophies and medals are provided.

Girls entering second through fourth grade will attend the June 3-7 camp from 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. while fifth through eighth graders will be eligible for the 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. camp on the same days.

Boys will go through the camp on the same schedule June 10-14.

For more information contact Birks at 573-1297 or Huseman at 573-5523.

Olson files suit against Patriots

BOSTON (AP) — Sportswriter Lisa Olson filed suit against the New England Patriots, charging sexual harassment and civil rights violations.

Olson, who has worked for the Boston Herald for four years, will leave her job for a short time, her attorneys said. She's currently covering the Boston Bruins for the newspaper.

Olson's suit was filed in Suffolk Superior Court against the NFL team; owner Victor Kiam; former general manager Patrick Sullivan; former media services director James Oldham; and three players, Zeke Mowatt, Michael Timpson and Robert Perryman.

The suit also alleges intentional infliction of emotional distress and intentional damage to her professional reputation. It asks for unspecified monetary damages.

The suit stems from incidents beginning last Sept. 17 when Olson said she was sexually harassed while conducting an interview in the Patriots locker room. Olson said she intended to let the issue drop after the NFL fined the team and the players in November, but she decided to sue after Kiam joked about the incident while speaking at a banquet Feb. 4 and because Mowatt and Perryman did not pay the NFL fines.

Southern Cal gridders suspended

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Southern Cal football coach Larry Smith suspended two players from the team who were arrested along with another man for investigation of a series of robberies and a kidnap charge, authorities said.

The three are being held on $100,000 bail each, said Lt. Ron Hall of the Los Angeles Police Department. Freshman safety Howard Earl McCowan, 19, freshman cornerback Marcel Lamont Brown, 20, and Garlyn Cornelius Coleman, 19, were booked for investigation of robbery Wednesday in nearby Redondo Beach, police Lt. John Nelson said.

Lt. Hall said when the three men were arrested, property was found allegedly linking them to the Redondo Beach robbery as well as three robberies in West Los Angeles which took place late Tuesday night. One of those robberies involved a kidnapping of the robbery victim, Hall said.

Rocket plans to honor 4-year pact

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Denying reports he might do otherwise, Raghbir "Rocket" Ismail says he'll spend the next four years playing for the Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian Football League.

Ismail issued a statement Thursday in response to a story in the Los Angeles Times which quoted Argonauts owner Bruce McNall as saying he would allow Ismail to play for the Argos and Raiders if approval was granted.

McNall also issued a statement saying that while he wouldn't stand in Ismail's way if the player wanted to play for the Raiders during the next four years, he wasn't contemplating such a move.

Zakho, Iraq...

British and U.S. forces patrol streets

ZAKHO, Iraq (AP) — British and U.S. Marines patrolled the streets of this northeastern city today, to the joy of its inhabitants, after Iraq bowed to allied demands and pulled out its police.

Eight-man columns of British troops in combat gear walked slowly along the main street, happy children trailing behind them. They stopped occasionally to mingle with the mainly Kurdish population that crowded the streets after emerging for the first time from their homes once the police left.

"I am very happy because the Americans and the British help me and Iraq," said Jobar Samad.

for anyone willing to help.

"We are still looking for folks who want to work," stressed Robertson.

Those wishing to volunteer may call Robertson at 573-4053 or go to the Senior Citizen Center as early as possible Saturday for a project assignment. Crews are planning to be on-site at 7 a.m., but late comers will still be welcomed. Volunteers are asked to bring their own hand tools and water jugs.

Approximately $13,000 has been donated to fund the repairs and at least 25 church, civic and school organizations will be represented.

Local restaurants and grocers are furnishing a noon meal and mid-morning and afternoon snacks.

a student.

"Every Kurd in northern Iraq is very happy," he said.

Two American armored personnel carriers also rolled through the city, prompting smiles and waves from the sidewalks.

"The people here are glad to have us. I know the government isn't too happy. I feel we're doing something worthwhile," said U.S. Marine Lance Cpl. Maurice Farewell, of Myrtle Beach, S.C.

According to residents in this town near the Turkish border, the police left in buses late Thursday and early today. Most people estimated that 700 to 800 were withdrawn, a figure higher than the U.S. Army's estimate.

There were no Iraqi police in evidence, although a U.S. civilian official said they were allowed to keep 50 officers, who are to be local residents, "but they are closely monitored."

Hospital discussed

The hospital notes a cash balance of $1,383,214. Acute admissions for the month were 102. The hospital had six long-term admissions, 59 surgeries, 14 newborns and 655 emergency room visits. Cogdell has had 1,900 ER visits during the fiscal year, as compared to 1,519 over the same period a year ago.

In other information, Lancaster told the board that Dr. Gary Nussey, M.D., is in Snyder and is expected to open his family practice May 20.

In other discussion, G.A. Parks Jr. asked Lancaster to look into the possibility of providing RV hookups in the hospital parking lot for families who have relatives in the long-term care wing of the hospital. Board members present were Parks, Jim Palmer, Bill Wilson III and Doug Foster. Roland Longoria and Brenda Hedges were absent.

Reports of assault, criminal mischief taken by police

Snyder police took reports of criminal mischief and assault and arrested a subject for theft Thursday.

At 9:23 a.m., David Morin came to police headquarters to report that a subject had thrown a rock at his vehicle. A report for Class B criminal mischief was filed.

At 1:57 p.m., Ricky Johnson advised police that a subject had damaged some statues in the yard of his residence at 2200 Towle Park Road. A report for Class B criminal mischief was filed.

At 4:51 p.m., an employee of Furr's Supermarket told police a shoplifter was in custody at the store. An officer was dispatched and arrested a 41-year-old male for Class C theft. The subject was transported to Scurry County Jail.

An 18-year-old male was taken into custody for public intoxication at 7:44 p.m. at 27th St. and Ave. U. The subject was transported to Big Spring State Hospital.

Merry Brown came to police headquarters at 9:11 p.m. to report that she had been threatened with a knife by a female subject. A report for Class C assault was filed.

Texans warned of investments scams

AUSTIN (AP) — State securities regulators say Texans should beware of phony telephone investment schemes, particularly those offering shares in oil and gas ventures.

"These individuals are opportunists. Today's oil and gas promoter may have been yesterday's penny stock broker, yester day's gold mine operator or pyramid scheme promoter," said a statement issued by the State Securities Board.

Thursday's warning came at the same time authorities in Los Angeles announced raids on 32 businesses that sold bogus oil and gas investments with a promise of big profits from the Persian Gulf War.

More than 3,500 people may have invested $50 million in programs sold through the "boiler room" sales firms in Los Angeles, Dallas and Salt Lake City, said the North American Securities Administrators Association, a watchdog group of state regulators.

Officials reported 10 arrests in 16 states, including Texas, over the last 10 days. They said they expect another 20 arrests as the investigation continues.

The State Securities Board issued a bulletin warning Texas consumers of illicit phone promotions of horizontal oil and gas drilling programs, pyramid sales schemes, loan brokers, the wireless cable television lottery and international investments.

"The rise of new technology and the recent recession have spurred the activities of phone swindlers to new heights," the board said.

The board said it has identified 42 Texas-based "boiler room" operations that are marketing interests in horizontal drilling ventures to consumers in Texas and across the country.

"Many are controlled by repeat securities law violators who know little or nothing about oil and gas in general or horizontal drilling in particular," the bulletin said.

Horizontal drilling is a recent innovation in which wells first are drilled down, then horizontally in search of vertical fractures of oil. The securities board said legitimate companies' success in that field mean "con men and unscrupulous promoters have sought to cash in on the publicity."

John Morgan, the Texas securities board's enforcement director, said it is difficult to know how many unregistered firms are making telephone sales pitches.

But consumers should be wary, he said.

"What we're talking about are companies that are unregistered, using unlicensed sales people, using high-pressure sales tactics to pressure people into making investments," Morgan said.

He said the companies purchase lists of phone numbers to find potential customers. The lists include doctors, dentists, subscribers to certain magazines, and the elderly, he said.

"Believe it or not, they target elderly people because they're more likely to be home during the day," he said.

Such scams have been tried before, Morgan said, but the problem is increasing because of the amount of the offerings, with some horizontal drilling programs ranging from $500,000 to $1.5 million.

"It's been around for a long, long time. But from our perspective, it's a growing problem because of the size of the offers," Morgan said.

Almost all investments must be registered with the State Securities Board. Officials said consumers with questions should contact the agency. Such inquiries often help warn authorities of fraudulent operators, they said.

Space sweepstakes officials indicted in Texas have set up shop in Omaha, Neb.

HOUSTON (AP) — Contest promoters who promised an out-of-this-world experience have moved out of state.

Because of legal problems in Texas, operators of "The Ultimate Adventure" have opened an office in Omaha, Neb.

After the spaceflight sweepstakes was announced to much hoopla last December in Houston, the operators, David Mayer and James Davidson, were arrested for alleged violations of Texas gambling laws.

"That made it where there wasn't much of a choice but to move," Mayer said in a telephone interview from his new Omaha office. "We moved to Nebraska where things are easier."

The winner will blast off for a trip aboard the Soviet space station Mir, the contest offered.

Would-be cosmonauts may enter free by mail, using a post office box in Redondo Beach, Calif.

Or contestants may pay $2.99 to enter by calling a 900-number based in Omaha.

Texas law forbids companies from requiring people to pay to enter a contest.

Mayer said he picked Omaha because "you can't throw a rock without hitting someone who runs a 900-number up here."

Basinger had a dream come true

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Kim Basinger had one of her dreams come true, and all it cost her was an interview with Vogue magazine.

Basinger, who says she has wanted to be on the cover of Vogue for years, broke through when she granted an interview for the May issue.

Basinger also dismisses the rumor that she can be hard to deal with on a movie set.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you associate with individuals who are extravagant or reckless in the management of their resources today, there is a very strong chance you'll emulate their behavior.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If you and your mate have a disagreement today, try to resolve it at home rather than in front of others. If you fail to do so, it could tarnish both your images.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) If you happen to work with unfamiliar tools or materials today, be extra careful. In addition, keep a close eye on your helper — if this individual is inexperienced, too.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You might have to endure someone who is rather brash and rude today. Unfortunately, if you respond in similar fashion, it could make you, rather than this individual, look badly.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Be sure an objective that you establish for yourself today is truly worthy of the trouble it will take to achieve it. Don't go after something you won't appreciate once you get it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) The manner in which you express yourself today could make a stronger impression on others than you ever intended. Just be sure that what you say enhances your image, not detracts from it.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You could be a bit of a risk-taker today, jumping into something that is financially over your head. If a carrot is dangled in front of your nose, be wary.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Don't pull the rug out from under someone whom you're closely associated with today, without first thinking through the consequences of your actions.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If you realize you made a mistake today, correct it immediately. Don't get caught up rationalizing how you'll get around to it later.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You might become stuck in a situation today where your position opposes the will of the majority. This is not a good day for you to fight city hall.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) A domestic confrontation is possible today regarding an infraction of rules or authority. The issue might be trivial and absurd, but it could generate a disproportionate degree of hostility.

STEVE ROGERS

Trinity will host Bible conference

Trinity United Methodist Church will host a Bible conference Sunday through Tuesday at Cogdell Center. Steve Rogers will be the guest speaker.

He will teach the all adult Sunday School class at 9:30 a.m. and preach at the 10:45 a.m. worship service, also on Sunday. A snack supper is planned at 5 p.m. Sunday to be followed by a conference session beginning at 6 p.m.

Sack lunch Bible study sessions will be held at noon on both Monday and Tuesday. Evening sessions on both days will begin at 7 p.m.

Singing and Bible study will be emphasized throughout the three day conference.

A graduate of Texas Christian University and Asbury Theological Seminary, Rogers is also an ordained elder in the United Methodist Church. He served eight years as a local church pastor and three years as an Associate Conference Council Director. He is experienced in leading both seminars and conferences.

Everyone is invited to attend. A nursery will be provided.

Union Baptist plans revival

Union Baptist Church will host a revival Sunday through Wednesday with Rev. Harold Harrison, of the First Baptist Church in Whiteface, as the preacher and Joe Doan of Snyder as the singer.

Services Sunday will be 10 a.m. for Sunday School and 11 a.m. for the worship service and the evening service at 7:30 p.m.

Monday through Wednesday, evening services will begin at 7 p.m. for choir practice to be followed by preaching at 7:30 p.m.

A pot luck lunch will be served Sunday at the Union Community Center following the worship service.

Pastor Jim Moseley invites everyone to attend.

Sony chief says...

Free trade agreement is long overdue

HOUSTON (AP) — The chairman of Sony Corp. of America says it's about time that the United States discusses free trade agreements with Mexico and Canada.

"I think the U.S. government should have pursued this issue in the 1970s," said Masaaki Morita, who has led Sony's U.S. development since 1987.

"At that time, the value of the dollar was very high. Then, the majority of U.S. companies shifted their plants from the United States to Japan and other East Asian countries," he said Thursday.

"If they had shifted their business to Mexico, they would be in a different situation today," Morita told The Forum Club of Houston.

Morita also said American labor, community and business leaders need to work together to develop new products, more efficient factories and better workers. He said robotics offer a cutting edge to technological advancement and development of precision components, but some U.S. companies misuse them.

"Factories are exciting arenas of high technology as robots alter manufacturing," Morita said. "Robots improve workplace safety and reduce health hazards. They also minimize heavy lifting and other strenuous tasks."

In addition, he said, "in precision assembly, it is not easy for even the most skillful workers to assemble numerous tiny components at high speed for a long period of time without making mistakes. But robots can do it."

Still, labor and some management believe robots will replace workers. But Morita said management and the community should focus on producing a more skilled workforce for their own benefit.

"Machine operators, technicians and engineers can improve newly installed machines and robots by proper preventive maintenance or even modify them for their specific needs and increase output," Morita said.

Okaloosa, Fla., has the highest concentration of military retirees of any U.S. area with 500 or more of them. Four of the 10 areas with the highest concentration of military retirees are located in Florida.
