In Brief

Prison slaying

LOVELADY, Texas (AP) — A 20-year-old convict was stabbed to death at the Eastham prison unit in what authorities believe may be a gang-related slaying.

Leopoldo Sanchez of Dallas was stabbed once in the neck in the prison day room about 9:30 p.m. Thursday, David Nunnelee, spokesman for the Texas Department of Criminal Justice, said. Sanchez was pronounced dead at the scene.

Rebels claim

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Advancing rebels tightened their grip on the capital today, claiming to have cut off all but one major highway leading to the city as the military tried to rally its disintegrating forces. After their relentless gains caused President Mengistu Haile Mariam to flee the country Tuesday, the rebels claimed to have moved to within 12 miles of the capital to the west and seized a key town and highway southeast of Addis Ababa.

Enterprise zone discussion prompts additional meetings

Both Snyder City Council and Scurry County Commissioners took no formal action — except to schedule additional meetings — following a presentation from the chamber of commerce's economic development planning committee during separate meetings of the two local governments.

Representatives from the chamber's committee were on hand at a Thursday afternoon meeting of the council and a morning meeting today of commissioners court to outline a plan to designate an enterprise zone for economic development. Committee representatives Marshall Lyons, Joel Hook and Chamber Manager Ricky Fritz said such a designation could qualify businesses within the zone for business incentives such as refund for certain sales and use taxes, priority for state administered programs and funds and treasury deposits to financial institutions doing business in the designated zone.

In addition, tax abatement packages could be offered to businesses within the zone by local taxing entities.

The goal of such a designation would be to encourage business retention, expansion and start-up, said committee members.

Because the proposed zone stays within city limits, the city council must designate the institution of a zone program and then appoint an enterprise zone board to map out and administer the zone and to prepare the zone application to be submitted to the Texas Department of Commerce.

Pending city and state approval, businesses within the zone would be nominated by the city to be considered an enterprise zone project. Then the project could qualify for the state and any local incentives.

A project is designated for five years, and five projects can be designated each year. The zone holds its designation for a seven year period.

"We feel this is a good thing for the entire community," said Lyons, coordinator of the chamber committee. "And not for just businesses in the zone. The benefits will filter to all parts of the community."

An official from the state commerce department has already made a preliminary survey of the proposed zone and has said the proposed area meets two criteria for the program.

The proposed area has a low income and a high percentage of an unemployable population in addition to a number of vacant and Trade authority...

'Fast track' races through the Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush won authority from Congress today to conduct amendment-proof trade agreements with Mexico and other nations.

In a 59-36 vote, the Senate followed the House's lead in extending the so-called "fast-track" authority for two years.

Bush, in Boston today to deliver a speech on trade, had said he needed the fast-track power to proceed with talks to tear down barriers between the United States and Mexico and other trading partners.

Sen. Ernest Hollings, D-S.C., led the opposition, saying a free trade zone with Mexico will destroy the ailing textile industry in his home state.

He said South Carolina could lose 1.4 million jobs in the next decade as companies move to Mexico where labor is cheap. "That is why we are so desperate," Hollings said during debate today.

The fast-track concept effectively bars Congress from changing a trade agreement once it is signed, forcing lawmakers to make a take-it-or-leave-it vote on a negotiated treaty.

The House approved the proposal Thursday, 231-192.

Sen. Don Riegle, D-Mich., who also opposed Bush, said he will not abandon his fight. He intends to push legislation that will allow Congress to change any agreement with Mexico to ensure American jobs and the environment are protected.

Cogdell board adopts goals; approves compensation plan

Cogdell Memorial Hospital board of managers on Thursday adopted one-year and three-year goals, okayed a deferred compensation plan for hospital employees and were informed of a donation to the hospital from a local financial institution.

The board also reviewed the monthly financial report and discussed a recent Joint Commission visit and an upcoming retreat sponsored by an auditing/accounting firm.

After limited discussion, board members adopted one-year and

Memorial Day service slated by VFW, legion

The local Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion and their ladies auxiliaries are preparing for Monday's Memorial Day activities.

Most federal, state and county facilities will be closed in honor of the annual holiday.

Poppy sales will be held by the ladies auxiliaries at local financial institutions today and at Wal-Mart, Kmart, Lawrence IGA, Furr's and other businesses Saturday.

Proceeds from the poppy sales will go to veterans' assistance programs.

Memorial Day services will begin with a flag raising at 9 a.m. Monday at the VFW post. From there, those attending will proceed to the American Legion, Snyder Cemetery and Hillside Memorial Gardens.

At 6:30 p.m., dinner will be served at the VFW for veterans of VFW, American Legion, Disabled American Veterans, National Guard, active duty and reserve duty personnel and their families.

Ladies are asked to bring a dessert.

An awards presentation will follow the meal.

Facilities which plan to close for Memorial Day include all financial institutions, the county courthouse, senior center, appraisal district and health unit. The county library will be closed Saturday and Monday.

ASCS and SCS offices will be closed Monday, as will Western Texas College and the county museum. WTC officials note that the golf course will be open.

City Hall will be closed, although the council will hold a meeting at 8 a.m.

The post office will be closed for the purpose of purchasing stamps and mailing packages and mail will not be delivered Monday. Packages can be mailed from the sub-station at Snyder Drug.

Snyder public schools will conduct classes and business as usual Monday.

Ira ready to honor graduates

Ira graduation ceremonies will be held at 7:30 p.m. today on campus. The Rev. Don Auten, pastor of Ira Baptist Church, will be the guest speaker.

Short speeches will also be delivered by honor graduates for both the high school and junior high school.

Amy Shoults, valedictorian, and Dave Holmes, salutatorian, represent the high school graduating class. Junior high honor graduates include Kristi Sorrells and Amanda Davis.

Parents are Jack and Cynthia Shoults, Mike and Sandy Holmes, Ray and Betty Sorrells and Donald and Cindy Davis.

Graduating seniors include Sarah Elizabeth Brown, Alisha Anne Garmer, Gina Ann Groce, Lary Wane Gunset, David Michael Holmes, Maria Isabel Buzo Juarez, Shelly Renae Klepper, Misty Dawn Locknane, Ascension Luna Jr., Brian Edward Martinez, Bradley Joe Robinson, Amy Lee Shoults, Jerry Jim Smith, John Young Stewart II, James Don Sturdivant, Della Jane Webster and Rodney Dewayne White.

Seniors receiving diplomas prior to graduation services include Gunset, Holmes, Luna Jr., Shoults, Stewart II and White.

Eighth graders who will graduate include Margarita Aguinaga, Laura Elizabeth Baze, Jessica Denise Clark, Cody Travis Collom, LaTrisha Joyce Curry, Amanda Yvonne Davis, James Justin Donelson, Brian Allen Garmer, Xandy Dee Hudson, Billy Weldon Mebane, Jay Edward Nettles, Jennifer Lynn Northcott, Todd Wayne Pulis, Judy Rosemary Sanchez, Jennifer Ann Rankin, Susan Anita Shoults, Kristi Elizabeth Sorrells and Ricky Joe Stroud.

First was the bad news: Because of the terrible bombardment, there was no food, no water, no anything.

The good news: Because of Saddam's genius and good heart, his elite guard would be receiving their first change of underwear in three weeks.

Wild cheering broke out among the troops. They praised Saddam's greatness. The commander continued.

Three-year goals approved by the board were, 1) Decrease the dependence on county support by looking for alternative sources of revenue; 2) Increase the support of the Cogdell Foundation by establishing an on-going awareness of the need for private donations; 3) Expand the depth of the medical staff by recruiting additional specialists: a. Sweetwater man receives 55-year term

A 24-year-old Sweetwater man was sentenced to 55 years in the Texas Department of Criminal Justice corrections system Thursday by a 10-woman, two-man jury in 132nd District Court.

Robert Larry Williams was found guilty Wednesday evening of the July 14, 1990, assault of Brian Garrett at the Cozy Spot here.

Testimony presented to the jury showed that Williams hit Garrett in the face with a bumper jack.

Garrett, a former Snyder resident who at the time was visiting from California, was hospitalized for four days after the attack. He later underwent reconstructive surgery in California.

Williams was arrested in August of last year and was incarcerated in Scurry County Jail until the verdict.

During the sentencing phase of the trial, the jury was made aware of two prior felony convictions on Williams' record. The penalty for first degree felony, or three felony convictions, is a minimum sentence of 25 years and a maximum of 99. Thursday, the jury assessed a sentence of 55 years.

James Wilks of Sweetwater defended Williams. He was prosecuted by Dana Cooley, assistant district attorney. Presiding was 132nd District Court Judge Gene Dulaney.

May 25, 1991

Some changes you've been wanting to make in your field of choice could be initiated in the year ahead. From this you should be able to make more rapid strides.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you try to con others into doing your tasks today, resentment is likely. Production should be your primary purpose, not flowery prattle. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. CANCER (June 21-July 22) Financial and commercial trends do not look encouraging today, so be cautious and prudent in these areas. One or both could be costly.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Even though you'll know what's expected of you today, you could lack the initiative to carry through with your intentions. In doing so, you'll disappoint the people who are depending on you.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Try to keep your expectations within reasonable bounds today, especially in a situation where your contribution is less than that of others.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Even though you'll be money-conscious today, there's still the possibility you will spend more than you should, hoping to work something out to take care of the shortfall.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) It will take more than your charm and good looks to get by in competitive developments today. Should you begin to coast, you may notice your competition gliding right past you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You often throw caution to the wind and get yourself involved in things rather impulsively. Be careful; this may be one of those days.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be careful not to labor under the illusion that the hand you're holding can trump all the tricks today. It may not be nearly as strong as you think.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Someone with whom you have a partnership might not sense the same immediacy you do regarding a collective endeavor today. Be prepared, if necessary, to go it alone.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You might be inclined to let responsibilities drift today — if they cannot be handled quickly and easily. You could be asking for problems.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) It's best not to manage something for another today, especially if you feel dubious about it. There could be justification to your uncertainties, and this may lead to serious complications.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Opinions you feel strongly about could be opposed by those with whom you're involved today. You're not likely to alter their views, and an exchange could turn into a heated debate.

The uppercut hand

By Phillip Alder
 At North American Bridge Championships there are events for players at all levels from beginner to world champion. But just because you are competing in, for example, a Flight B event, you won't necessarily face poor players. Today's hand features a beautiful defense by Betsy and Bill Hermesmann of Marlon, N.J., in the Flight B Open Pairs at the Spring NABC in Atlantic City.
 Everyone was bidding so much that at least two of the players cast a surreptitious glance to see that everyone was holding cards with the same colored backs. In particular, North's three diamonds was aggressive. But South wisely refrained from supporting his partner, preferring to compete in his own strong, higher-ranking suit. If South could win 10 tricks in spades for plus 620, a diamond contract would be the right one only if his partner could win all 13 tricks in diamonds for plus 640. And in that case, North-South might as well bid a slam. But here South judged correctly that their values were insufficient for a six-level contract.

 West, Bill Hermesmann, led a low club. Betsy won the king, cashed the king of hearts and played another heart. Seeing no future anywhere else, West found the killing return of a third round of hearts.
 East didn't let her husband down — she ruffed with the 10 of spades. Declarer had to overruff with the queen, but now West's jack of spades was promoted as the fourth winner for the defense. It was a classic uppercut, worth 10.5 out of 12 matchpoints to the Hermesmanns, who went on to win the event.

Football team's logo gets banned

DALLAS (AP) — Students at Newman Smith High School in Carrollton say they wear Los Angeles Raiders jerseys and t-shirts because they like what the National Football League team stands for, not because they are in gangs.
 Since February, the principal of the suburban Dallas school has banned clothing with Raiders insignia.
 "The emphasis on the paraphernalia became intimidation and what the L.A. Raiders are known for in their brand of football is intimidation," Dr. Charles Blanton testified Thursday at a hearing conducted by U.S. Magistrate John B. Tolle.
 The magistrate will make a recommendation to U.S. District Judge Jerry Buchmeyer on a lawsuit filed by parents of students who are Raiders fans.
 "The Raiders have done a lot for the Hispanic community," said Gerardo Quirino, 16.
 "Nobody thinks of Raiders clothes as gang clothes."

Richards seeks to calm hunters

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Ann Richards, who says she enjoys hunting and fishing, appeared before the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission to try and quiet a furor raised by one of her appointees to the panel.
 Before a packed crowd Thursday, Richards recalled when she hunted with her father. "I remember those hunts fondly. With the smells of kerosene oil, wet wool jackets and gun oil mixed with tall tales and men's laughter," she said.
 Richards added, "Of course, much of my courtship was spent cleaning birds taken on hunts organized by my future husband."

She was on hand because of a remark made last month by Commissioner Terese Hershey of Houston, who criticized a Parks and Wildlife hunting promotion program by saying, "I think I've done well by not throwing up."
 Ms. Hershey, a parks advocate, has said she opposes hunting — a new viewpoint on a board that has traditionally been dominated by hunting enthusiasts.
 After Richards' appearance, Ms. Hershey twice refused to talk with news reporters and said only, "I'm glad she came. It was nice."
 Richards, talking to reporters, defended Ms. Hershey.

Matadors face FW squad in playoffs

District 2-4A continues to be well-represented in the high school baseball playoffs as Frenship, loop runner-up, and league champion Estacado each resume post-season play.

Estacado, 18-12 on the campaign, will meet Ft. Worth Arlington Heights at Hunter Field at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene at 5 p.m. today in the first of a best-of-three regional semifinal series.

The series will resume Saturday in Abilene for Game 2 and, if necessary, Game 3.

Arlington Heights is the reigning District 8 champ with a 15-10 mark for the year.

Frenship, 24-8, will tangle with runner-up from District 6, Crowley, at Cougar Field in Abilene.

Game 1 will begin at 4:30 p.m. today followed by a 1 p.m. Saturday start for Game 2.

Should a third game become necessary, it would be played 30 minutes after the conclusion of Game 2.

Crowley enters the Frenship series with a 24-7 slate.

Phillies' Greene tosses no-hitter

MONTREAL (AP) — If there was one guy who knew what Tommy Greene was going through as he neared a no-hitter, it was teammate Terry Mulholland.

And that's why Mulholland was the first one to start spraying the beer in the clubhouse after Greene completed a no-hitter in the Philadelphia Phillies' 2-0 victory over the Montreal Expos Thursday.

"I was just so happy for him and I know this is going to make a big, big difference in his career," said Mulholland, who threw the National League's last no-hitter last Aug. 15 against the San Francisco Giants. "It's just to give him so much confidence in his own abilities. It's going to be great."

"I knew from the sixth inning what was happening, but you still have to concentrate on doing your job," Greene said.

Greene, who pitched the first no-hitter in Olympic Stadium since Montreal's Charlie Lea did it against the Giants on May 10, 1981, overpowered the Expos, throwing 130 pitches, 76 for strikes. He struck out a career-high 10, and walked seven, allowing only three fly balls.

Jury finds Lewis not guilty of DWI

HOUSTON (AP) — Olympic gold medalist Carl Lewis, who was found innocent of a drunken driving charge, says he always had faith in the judicial system that cleared him.

"I just wanted to make sure that we got the truth out," Lewis said Thursday, minutes after the verdict was announced.

Lewis was arrested in January after two police officers saw him slam his car into a curb, blowing out two tires. Tests conducted at the police station showed Lewis had a blood-alcohol level of 0.12. The legal intoxication limit in Texas is 0.10.

But Lewis and several friends testified he was not intoxicated when he left a nightclub shortly before he was arrested.

Jurors deliberated 3½ hours before issuing the innocent verdict late Thursday afternoon to end a trial that began Monday.

Rangers' streak stretches to 10 games

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Texas third baseman Steve Buechele can recall the bad old days, when Rangers streaks usually headed in the wrong direction, because they weren't so long ago.

The Rangers presently are on a positive roll — 10 straight victories, a club record, and the longest winning streak in the major leagues since Boston won 10 straight last Aug. 24 to Sept. 2 — which is just the opposite of how the season began.

"We came out of spring training playing some bad baseball," Buechele said, "and we lost four straight. In a couple of those games, we looked pretty poor. But that set the tone. We were better than that."

"Since then, we've been playing some good baseball. It's been a complete team effort."

The hitting has been superb. The Rangers lead the major leagues in batting average, .285, and are hitting .342 (132 hits in 386 at bats) during the last 10 games. They've scored 82 runs during that stretch, gathering at least nine hits and five runs in every game.

The Rangers' fielding has also greatly improved, as evidenced by the four double plays turned against the Minnesota Twins in the first five innings Wednesday night and their league-leading total for fewest errors (22). The starting pitching suffered a blow when Nolan Ryan's sore right shoulder landed him on the disabled list Tuesday, but he should be available within a week.

"I like our starters," Buechele said. "I'll take our guys throwing out there and take our chances. We've finally got what it takes to really compete."

Said manager Bobby Valentine: "Every team in our division is capable of putting together a streak. They're all quality teams. Some may think we've done it without pitching, but I think we're coming around."

Texas surpassed fellow American League West resident Seattle, with a previous season best of eight straight wins (April 15-23), and exceeded the club mark the team reached on four previous occasions before the current streak.

Wednesday night's victory over the Twins was a combination of excellent relief pitching and the long-awaited resurgence of Jack Daugherty at the plate. Daugherty entered the game with a .161 batting average, 135 points below his career average, but drove in the tying run in the ninth inning with a sacrifice fly and scored the eventual winning run in the twelfth.

"When a team gets winning and you're trying hard to contribute, sometimes it all just goes into the toilet," Daugherty said. "The way I've been swinging the bat, I'm just hoping I don't hit into a double play and have to go into psychotherapy."

The final four Rangers relief pitchers — Goose Gossage, John Barfield, Gerald Alexander and Jeff Russell — combined for six innings of hitless ball.

Ruben Sierra was the star in Thursday's 12-inning, 10-6 victory over the Twins. He had a three-run double in the 11th and Juan Gonzalez added a two-run double later in the inning.

Giants 15, Yankees 12

The Giants moved to 6-1 on the season Thursday, scoring five runs in the first inning for a lead they wouldn't give up, in spite of a determined Yankee squad that pushed across seven runs in the top of the third.

J.J. Vasquez blasted a homer and a single for the Giants. Glen Burk added a triple and a double, Jason Dennis tripled, Ricky Halford and Marcus Diaz each slapped three hits, one for an extra base apiece and Brady Hackfield, James Payne, Clay Graves and Jeremy Border each punched a two-sacker and a single.

Michael Diaz contributed three hits for the winners and Colby Stoker and Fernando Candinosa lifted a single.

The Yankees were led by R.J. Hernandez' two doubles, three singles from Dustin Wood and a pair of base raps each by Arthur Garza and Joshua Woods.

Philip Avalos and Joey Martinez doubled for the Yanks while teammates John Rasmus, Martin Villareal, Shade Everton, David Beard, Paddy Vantine, Seth Rosson and Jarod Womack managed a single each.

Athletics 9, Indians 8

The Athletics scored seven times in the last of the third inning to bust open a 1-0 game and move to 5-2 on the season with a Thursday night win.

Kevin Taylor ripped three hits on the night, including two doubles, Tyson Dever drilled a pair of two-baggers, Josh Heaton, Andy Perez, Toby Trammell and Davison Burnett managed two singles apiece and Jeremy Goodlett, Lane Umsted, Zach Allred and Ryan Gibson each were good for a base hit.

Paul Camp smacked a triple and a single for the 3-4 Indians Thursday. Rocky Gill singled three times, Levi Mandrell, David Riley and Jared Boyd each accounted for two hits, and Casey Chaney, Bryson Jenkins, Matt Tucker, Scott Reston and Joe Dan Davenport got a hit apiece.

Farm League

Giants 13, Yankees 12

Josh Blackwood pounded a triple and a single to lead the Giants to a 13-12 Farm League win Thursday.

Jared Hester added a double and scored three runs, Brett Gibson nailed three singles and Jason Blackwood knocked a single for the winners.

Garrett Griswold's double and single led the Yankees' attack. Matt Davis added two base hits and Mark Cave, Clay Preston, Jonathan Tovar, Cory Trujillo, Andy Smith and Wes Neely each singled.

Little League

Giants 9, Yankees 4

The Giants, led by two singles each from Jason Bates and Scott Coward, drove in five runs in the last of the seventh inning Thursday, to break a 4-4 tie.

John Bordon got the Yanks' lone hit, a single.

The Yankees got a run in the top of the first and held the Giants off the board until the third when the eventual winners came up with a run of their own.

The Yanks answered with two more in the fourth and one in the sixth while the Giants pushed across three in the fifth before winning the game in the seventh frame.

Matt Rodgers was the winning pitcher and Brad Roemisch was the loser.

L.A. seeks physical play in Game 3

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers, manhandled in Game 2 of the Western Conference finals, believe they'll be ready to hand out some licks of their own tonight in Game 3.

"If they foul you quickly in a bad way and knock you down, we're going to have to do the same thing," Lakers forward Sam Perkins said after practice Thursday. "A slap for a slap. The refs aren't calling anything."

"We've got to come out and establish ourselves quickly."

The Lakers took the homecourt advantage away from the Portland Trail Blazers in the opener of the best-of-7 series by winning 111-106, but they were outbounded 51-28 in losing Game 2 109-98 Tuesday night.

The Blazers can get the homecourt advantage back by beating the Lakers tonight or in Game 4 Sunday before the series moves back to Portland for the fifth game Tuesday night.

Asked what the Lakers can do to improve their performance on the backboards, Perkins said: "We'll try to box out, lay a body on somebody, get a foul to send a message. You've got to lay a body on somebody."

Perkins was about the only Laker to do a decent job on the boards in Game 2, collecting 10 rebounds to go with his 19 points.

Lakers center Vlade Divac, who was pushed all over the court by the Blazers, has pulled down only two rebounds in each game of the series.

"We've talked with all the guys, not just Vlade," Lakers coach Mike Dunleavy said. "The guys who aren't rebounding know who they are."

Said Divac: "I know what's going on. I have to tell myself, 'It's the playoffs, I have to play every game hard.'"

Divac, who has gotten hammered several times in this series, smiled when asked how he felt about banging on the Blazers.

"I don't like it, but if somebody hits me first, I have to return it," he said. "We're not going to play dirty in the game, just physical and very hard."

Fed judge blocks logging on 66,000 acres in the Northwest

SEATTLE (AP) — A federal judge has blocked logging on more than 66,000 acres in the Northwest, saying survival of the northern spotted owl is at stake.

U.S. District Judge William Dwyer on Thursday gave the U.S. Forest Service until March 1992 to come up with a plan to save the threatened bird.

Dwyer's order was praised by environmentalists and bitterly attacked by union and industry officials, who said it would throw thousands out of work.

The decision affects plans by the Forest Service to sell logging rights on 66,000 acres in 17 national forests in Washington, Oregon and Northern California.

The judge found March 1 that the Forest Service had acted illegally by failing to protect owl habitat. He issued Thursday's injunction against the timber sales after holding hearings earlier this month at the request of environmentalists.

The Forest Service had argued that the land represents only 1 percent of critical owl habitat. But Dwyer said 400,000 acres of owl habitat already had been lost to logging in the last seven years.

"There is a substantial risk that logging another 66,000 acres, before a plan is adopted, would push the species past a population threshold from which it could not recover," the judge wrote.

Mark Rey, executive director of the American Forest Resources Alliance, an industry group, says the ruling jeopardizes the livelihoods of 25,000 families in the three states.

"Judge Dwyer's decision today is a one-way ticket to the unemployment line for thousands of workers," Michael Draper, executive secretary of the Western Council of Industrial Workers, said in a statement from Portland, Ore.

Among environmentalists, Andy Kerr of the Oregon Natural Resources Council said it was "a good day for the spotted owl and 200 other vertebrate species that need ancient forests."

Kerr said there is enough federal timber already under contract to carry the region through the summer of 1992 and that there is a glut on the market now.

There are about 3,000 remaining pairs of spotted owls, which are listed as a threatened species under the federal Endangered Species Act. The bird nests primarily in some of the oldest and tallest forests of the Northwest. Most of the Northwest's old-growth trees are on land administered by the Forest Service.

In testimony before Dwyer earlier this month, timber industry representatives said halting the sales could throw thousands out of work. Small companies and small communities would be especially hard-hit, they said.

Twin, parents reunited

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — A Las Cruces couple were reunited today with their two-week-old son who was abducted from a hospital nursery one day after his premature birth.

Kevin Chavez, one of a set of twins, was found safe late Thursday with a registered nurse arrested by FBI agents on Interstate 40 in Albuquerque.

Jerry and Sandra Chavez arrived at Presbyterian Hospital in Albuquerque at about 4 a.m. accompanied by FBI agents. The hospital had chartered a plane to fly the couple to the reunion with their son.

"I never had a chance to hold him after he was born," Chavez said, cradling his son as his wife looked on in the hospital's pediatric unit.

The couple planned to take Kevin home this morning to join his twin brother, Kristopher.

"I can't wait to hear them cry together," said Chavez, 23.

Mrs. Chavez, 21, said Kristopher had seemed to sense something was amiss.

"You could see it in his eyes that there was pain," she said.

The couple's plans for the twins were simple.

"They're going to be loved very much," Chavez said.

His wife added: "Spoiled — definitely. They're going to have the best."

The couple had planned to return to Las Cruces immediately after the reunion, but doctors wanted to monitor a slight murmur found in Kevin's heart before the baby was put on an airplane, said FBI Special Agent in Charge James W. Nelson.

The Chavezes said they were thankful to everyone who helped during the two-week investigation. And they said they did a lot of praying.

"We never gave up hope," Chavez said.

They were greeted with hugs at the hospital by an aunt and an uncle of Chavez who live in Albuquerque.

Kevin was located late Thursday and had been taken to the Albuquerque hospital for observation and to await the reunion with his parents.

"The baby looks good. He had a slight right eye infection but otherwise he seems to be well," said Dr. Sydney Swetnam, a neonatologist at Presbyterian.

The FBI arrested Bridget M. Denny-Shaffer, a 36-year-old nurse from Gallup and a temporary employee at Rehoboth McKinley Christian Hospital.

Officials at the Gallup hospital said the woman had worked at the facility on a 13-week contract that ended May 8. She was scheduled to resume work May 20, but telephoned her supervisor that day to say she was in Minnesota at her daughter's house. The woman told her supervisor she would be back in New Mexico on May 24.

FBI spokesman Doug Beldon said agents and state police officers arrested Denny-Shaffer as she drove into Albuquerque's eastside on Interstate 40 at about 10 p.m. Thursday. The child was found inside the vehicle.

Beldon said Denny-Shaffer's 18-year-old daughter also was in the vehicle. The daughter was not arrested and was staying with relatives in Albuquerque, Beldon said.

The woman, who did not resist arrest, was being held on probable cause and an initial hearing was scheduled today before a federal magistrate, he said.

The infant was abducted from the nursery at Memorial Medical Center in Las Cruces on May 10, a day after he and his brother were born 4½ weeks early. Police at the time said the infant, who weighed 5 pounds at birth, was taken by a woman posing as a medical student.

Beldon said Denny-Shaffer, a nurse with experience in neonatal care, became the focus of the FBI investigation after the woman's supervisor at the Gallup hospital called authorities Monday and provided information "consistent with the (FBI's) personality profile" of the child's abductor.

"It gave us sufficient detail to initiate an investigation and we were able to track her whereabouts and activities as far back as May 8," Beldon said.

Beldon said the FBI discovered the woman had traveled through Las Cruces on her way from Gallup to Bryan, Texas, where she formerly had lived.

Preachers can work for IRS part-time

DALLAS (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service has reversed itself and told some employees that they can be men of God and still work for the tax collection agency.

The Dallas office of the IRS, criticized by a federal official for a ruling earlier this month that a tax collector's work as a pastor violated a new ethics law, reversed that ruling, a union leader said Thursday. He said they will no longer aggressively enforce the legislation.

The reversal was routine and part-time jobs still will be subject to approval, IRS officials say.

Thomas Fishell, vice president of the National Treasury Employees Union, said IRS officials told him they would enforce the law only if specific complaints were received.

The Rev. Max Butler, pastor of Foursquare Church in suburban DeSoto, was told this month he could not accept a $300 monthly housing allowance from church members because of the Ethics Reform Act of 1989.

The act, which took effect in January, prohibits federal employees from accepting honoraria.

Butler filed a union grievance and was notified by mail Thursday that the ruling had been overturned.

"What's right is right," said Butler, 42. "I knew I would win."

Butler was one of eight Dallas-district Internal Revenue Service employees who faced losing jobs as ministers or evangelists. The Dallas IRS has decided to let any employee preach and write religious tracts, Fishell said.

But Fishell said the IRS will warn employees in the letters of consent to comply with the ethics law, but will not explain how the law applies to them.

Fishell, an ordained Southern Baptist minister, said IRS officials changed their stance because of published comments by Stephen Potts, director of the Office of Government Ethics in Washington.

Activities planned for Memorial Day

By The Associated Press
 Parades, parties and picnics will mark the traditional start of summer this Memorial Day Weekend, which promises poignant remembrances of the 26 Texans killed in our nation's latest war.
 One of the biggest observances will take place Saturday at Fort Hood, where officials at the world's largest military installation are expecting a crowd of 100,000 for its "Heroes' Homecoming" celebration.
 The event will salute U.S. military personnel who served during Operation Desert Storm "whether they were over there or over here," said Sam Baker, festival spokesman.
 "The United States has the finest war technology and the most finely tuned military in the world, and we need to celebrate that," Baker said.
 Other large celebrations are scheduled in Austin, Dallas, Houston and San Antonio with smaller events planned in cities, towns and military installations across the state.
 Secretary of the Army Michael P.W. Stone will address the Fort Hood gathering just inside the fort's main gate, and Lee Greenwood will perform an hourlong concert sure to include "God Bless the U.S.A."
 Chaplain Col. Don Breland will lead the crowd in a moment of remembrance for those killed in the Persian Gulf War.
 "This Memorial Day celebration is particularly important because of the Persian Gulf War and the superior performance of our military forces and their leadership," Baker said. "That leadership and performance kept our casualties much lower than anyone could have imagined. It's something Americans can be proud of."
 Texas A&M University is planning to salute the troops this fall.

Because the school is between spring and summer sessions, it has designated September "Desert Storm Month," a celebration culminating in the Sept. 28 football game in College Station against Southwestern Louisiana, where 600 students, faculty and staff served in Operation Desert Storm.

Goals adopted by hospital board

to update the aesthetic look of the hospital.
 Lancaster said the next step will be to formulate specifics by which each goal can be reached. These will then be brought before the board for approval.

In other business, the board responded favorably to a voluntary deferred compensation plan for employees, offered through the National Association of Counties. The plan allows employees to have 33 1/2 percent, or up to $7,500 of their annual salary deferred to savings.

"It's a nice additional benefit to offer our employees without any cost to the hospital," Lancaster said.

The CEO also informed the board that West Texas State Bank has donated $12,500 to the hospital to renovate the third floor waiting room.

In other business, Lancaster reported a loss in net income of $24,092 for April. He pointed out that 69 percent of the patients were medicare patients, 18 percent utilized medicare and 9 percent were indigent.

"That doesn't leave much left," noted Lancaster, who also pointed to only 37 surgeries performed in the month, in contrast to 53 during April of 1990. Medicare utilization in April of 1990 was 43.1 percent and the hospital showed a net income gain of $70,271.

The CEO also briefly reviewed last week's visit by the Joint Commission of Healthcare Organizations (JCAHO), noting that he was "extremely pleased with the survey."

The board noted that Mason, Warner & Co., which performed the hospital's outside audit last year and performs audits for a number of hospitals, is sponsoring a retreat on July 19-20. Board members are invited to attend.

In one other item, Lancaster received permission from the board to take a managerial accounting class this fall at Texas Tech University. The course will take Lancaster out of the hospital two afternoons a week, but is the only remaining course needed for his master's degree.
 Information from the operating/financial report indicated Cogdell had an average daily census of 14.5 in April with 90 admissions, 37 surgeries, 21 newborns and 603 emergency room visits.

 Board member Jim Palmer was absent. Present were G.A. Parks Jr., Roland Longoria, Brenda Hedges, Bill Wilson III and Doug Foster.

P&W fees take a hike...

Fishing, hunting licenses to go up

AUSTIN (AP) — The cost to hunt, fish, camp or just visit a state park will increase under fees approved by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission.

The new fees, expected to produce from between $20 million to $30 million in additional revenue per year, take effect Sept. 1.

Parks and Wildlife officials have said more money is needed to improve the state parks, offset slumping or flat revenues from hunting licenses and the cigarette tax, and wean the agency from general tax funds.
 State parks received about 21 million visits last year, officials said.

Under the new fees, entering a state park will increase from $2 per vehicle to a range of $2 to $6.
 Resident hunting and fishing licenses will increase to $13 each; a $3 increase in the hunting license and a $5 increase for the fishing permit.

A combination hunting and fishing license will increase from $15 to $25.
 Registration fees will rise from $12 to $18 for a motorboat under 16-feet long and $18 to $27 for boats 16-feet to 26-feet.
 Campsite fees will range from $6 to $16 depending on utilities offered.

Senate approves spousal rape bill

AUSTIN (AP) — House and Senate sponsors have reservations about their bill to make it easier to prosecute someone who sexually assaults his or her spouse.

But with only four days remaining in the legislative session, it appeared they would take what they have.
 Senate sponsor Rodney Ellis, D-Houston, said the measure "makes it a bit easier for someone who has been raped to file a suit and be successful against their spouse."

The measure cleared the Senate on voice vote Thursday, after Sen. J.E. "Buster" Brown added an amendment which said prosecution against a spouse would require "a showing of bodily injury or the threat of serious bodily injury."

Brown, R-Lake Jackson, said the amendment would enable prosecutors "to make a clear determination" whether to pursue a complaint.
 Sen. Ellis said, "Obviously, it's not the best of all worlds. I would have preferred the language that came over in the original House bill. I would prefer there be no conditions."
 He said accepting Brown's amendment was the key to Senate passage.
 "I think today, for the bill to make it through the Senate by unanimous vote, is a major policy shift," Ellis said.

SO arrests 2 local men

Scurry County sheriff's deputies arrested two men for misdemeanor revocation of probation Thursday.

Arrested were a 42-year-old male in the 2700 block of 38th St. at 7 p.m. and a 23-year-old male at Royal Trailer Park at 8 p.m.

Deputies also took a 10 a.m. complaint from a Hermleigh resident calling to say a neighbor's dog was killing his chickens.

Two taken into custody

Snyder police made two arrests and investigated a reported assault Thursday during an otherwise quiet 24-hour period.

Arrested at 2:13 p.m. at Deep Creek Apartments was a 17-year-old male on a warrant for criminal mischief. At 10:26 p.m., police arrested an 18-year-old male for driving while license suspended in the 3900 block of College Ave.

Both were transported to the county jail.
 At 9:08 p.m., a woman came to the police department in reference to an assault involving a child. Police submitted an report of an injury to a child and are investigating the complaint.

Enterprise

 abandoned buildings. Since the initial survey, the Walls Industries, Inc. manufacturing plant has announced its closing, making the proposed zone qualified in a third area, the loss of a major industry.

City officials face a somewhat urgent deadline because, pending new legislation, the enterprise zone program dies at the end of August. Lyons noted the application deadline is July 31.

A Thursday evening meeting has been slated by city officials with the administrator for the enterprise zone program in Abilene and the council is expected to consider the zone designation during its June meeting.

The council is planning a Monday morning meeting to discuss the possibility of an incentive package to send with city representatives on Wednesday when they meet with Walls officials in Cleburne. The county will consider a similar package at their weekly meeting on Tuesday in addition to the consideration of a resolution supporting the enterprise zone program. Snyder ISD trustees will meet with committee representatives in a 12:30 p.m. meeting Tuesday.

Obituaries

John Torres III

 Services are set for 3:30 p.m. today at Snyder Cemetery for John Torres III, the stillborn son of John and Mary Jane Torres of Snyder. Officiating will be Fr. William Costigan, pastor of St. John's Catholic Church in Hermleigh and St. Elizabeth Catholic Church in Snyder.
 Other survivors include a sister, Ashley Tamez of Slaton; paternal grandparents, Ramona Garza of Snyder and Gene Rios of Snyder; and maternal grandparents, Joe and Martha Launeles of Slaton.

Dick Clemmer

1943-1991
 MIDLAND — Memorial services have been set for 2 p.m. Saturday at St. Luke's United Methodist Church for the Rev. Dick Clemmer, 48, of Hollywood, Calif. The Rev. Jarrell Sharp will officiate.
 Mr. Clemmer, the son of Dale and Helen Clemmer of Midland, died Sunday in California.
 He was born April 23, 1943, in Munday and grew up in Snyder, where he graduated from high school in 1961. He received his bachelor of arts degree from McMurry College in Abilene in 1966 and his master of theology degree from Chandler School of Theology at Emory University, Atlanta. In 1984 he received an honorary doctorate from McMurry College.
 He began his career as the associate pastor of Polk Street United Methodist in Amarillo in 1969. In 1970 he became the associate pastor at Central United Methodist in Albuquerque, N.M., and in 1972 he became the pastor of St. Mark's in El Paso.
 He was the pastor of First First United Methodist Church of Hobbs, N.M., from 1978 to 1987. He then returned to Albuquerque to Central United Methodist, where he pastored until 1989. He was on the staff of the First United Methodist Church of Hollywood at the time of his death.
 Clemmer was a member of the Hobbs and Albuquerque Rotary clubs, conference youth coordinator during 1970-72, chairman of the New Mexico Conference board of pensions during 1972-88, chairman of the council on professional ministry from 1980 to 1988 and a member of the conference leadership team from 1981 to 1982. In 1983 he was named citizen of the year of Hobbs.
 He married Cheri Woldrop in Odessa in 1965.
 Survivors include his son, Grant Clemmer and his daughter, Shanna Clemmer, both of Albuquerque; his parents; his brothers, Ronnie Clemmer of Sherman Oaks, Calif., Terry Clemmer of Midland and Greg Clemmer of Victoria; a niece and four nephews.
 Memorials may be sent to Hospice of Midland or the memorial fund at St. Luke's United Methodist Church.

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Please discuss gouty arthritis.

DEAR READER: Uric acid is a normal by-product of the body's metabolism. However, in certain people (with a genetic predisposition to gout), the level of uric acid is abnormally high and spills into body fluids, especially the urine and the fluid that lubricates joints. When aggravated by trauma (injury, overuse or exposure to cold), the uric acid may crystallize in joint fluid (or in the kidneys), leading to acute arthritis (or kidney stones).

Gouty arthritis is extremely painful and may affect any joint, although the big toe is particularly susceptible. Treatment of the acute arthritis involves the use of anti-inflammatory drugs or colchicine, a specific anti-gout remedy. Once the arthritis has been brought under control, doctors usually recommend continuous preventive therapy — such as allopurinol or probenecid — to lower the uric acid level.

This treatment is necessary to prevent the progressive joint and renal damage that can occur in untreated gout. Therefore, the approach to gout is two-pronged: treatment for the acute attack of arthritis, followed by long-term therapy to prevent recurrence.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "About Gout." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I found out recently I have cirrhosis of the liver. I've been trying to read more about my condition from library books, but they are so complicated I have problems understanding them. Are certain foods to be avoided? What can I expect down the line? I've never been a drinker in my life, and suspect I got it from taking so many prescription drugs for a nerve problem.

DEAR READER: Cirrhosis means that your liver has become scarred as a result of an illness or injury that occurred in the past. For example, hepatitis (from virus infection or as a complication of liver inflammation from a drug allergy) may lead to cirrhosis. Also, many toxic chemicals — such as alcohol, hydrocarbons and methotrexate — are associated with cirrhosis. Metabolic diseases — such as Wilson's disease, an abnormality of copper metabolism — may cause liver scarring. Finally, circulatory disturbances — such as cardiac valve disease or sluggish liver circulation — can predispose patients to cirrhosis.

In the United States, chronic alcohol abuse is the most common cause of cirrhosis.

I cannot advise you because I don't know the cause of your liver disease and there is no standard treatment for cirrhosis, except liver transplantation. As a general rule, cirrhosis is not affected by food, provided you maintain a well-balanced diet. Many medicines, including tranquilizers, can affect the liver but I am sure your doctor has already discontinued any drugs that could aggravate your problem.

I believe you should obtain a second opinion (and specific advice) from a gastroenterologist. Such a specialist will review your medical tests and, possibly, perform a liver biopsy, if you haven't already had one. Then the doctor can discuss what can be done to help you and what to expect in the future.

Man competent to stand trial

ABILENE, Texas (AP) — A man who claims incompetency in a robbery case urinated in a cup and drank it Thursday in front of astonished jurors, who later found him competent to stand trial.

Kelvin Barnum of Abilene was accused of robbing a pizza parlor last Sept. 15. Barnum, 23, was arrested three days later.

Barnum was in court Thursday before Visiting Judge Ray McKim of Midland.

Prosecutors had said Barnum was faking claims of incompetency.

Bailiff Lee Hancock said midway through a hearing, Barnum stood up, urinated in a plastic cup and drank it.

The defendant was removed from the courtroom, and the competency hearing continued. The jury later decided Barnum was competent to stand trial.

Property tax exemption proposal ok'd

AUSTIN (AP) — The House approved a proposed constitutional amendment to allow voters to save their partial homestead exemptions from school district property taxes.

"Your homeowners' property taxes will go up unless we pass this constitutional amendment," said Rep. Paul Colbert, D-Houston.

The measure, which earlier passed the Senate, won approval with a vote of 124-17. It was returned to senators for consideration of House changes.

If it wins final legislative approval, the proposal will go on an Aug. 10 statewide ballot.

The bill is needed because the state's new school finance law created countywide education taxing regions for school districts. A minimum local property tax is imposed, and revenue is shifted among school districts within the regions.

However, the governing boards for the new taxing regions don't have the same authority as school boards currently do to grant homestead exemptions.

The constitutional amendment would allow voters in a county education district to exempt from property taxes a percentage of the market value of the residence homestead, or at least $5,000.

Voters also could exempt at least $3,000 of the market value of the residence homestead of a person who is disabled or at least age 65.

Of the state's 1,050 school districts, 259 currently grant homestead exemptions.

Rep. John Culberson, R-Houston, tried to amend Colbert's measure to allow voters to nullify the state's new school finance law, and to virtually eliminate the possibility of successful court challenges to the public school funding system.

Culberson's proposal would have said that as long as a school finance law is rational, it is constitutional.

However, his proposal was ruled out of order and not considered.

The school finance law was passed after poor school districts sued the state, and the Texas Supreme Court ordered lawmakers to even out education funding available to school districts.

The House also tentatively approved a bill that would give teachers and other public school employees access to a statewide group health insurance plan. The state would put no money into the program.

"There are a lot of school districts in this state that simply cannot get a good insurance plan," said Rep. Elton Bomer, D-Palestine.

In other Thursday action, the House:

— Gave its final approval, 115-23, to bill to honor slain civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr. with a full state holiday. The measure, which earlier passed the Senate, returns to senators for consideration of amendments.

— Tentatively approved a bill meant to prevent professional athletes from simultaneously drawing a salary and receiving worker's compensation payments when injured.

— Tentatively approved authorization for universities to collect a general service fee of up to $12 per semester hour, up from the current $6.

— Tentatively approved a bill that would create a defense to prosecution for unintentionally doing something that injured a child, elderly person or invalid.

Come See Peter Preach. Again.

Peter Church. And his lovely wife Ada. A very anointed couple. Much like their earlier brother in Christ, the Churches' have a vision. And it is awesome. A prophetic word that is timely and moving. A goal for all of west Texas. A plan for Snyder. So, come see. And witness firsthand that the Churches' are rock solid.

Calvary's conference scheduled

Victory Baptist Church will hold a Bible Prophecy Conference May 27-31, with services beginning at 7 p.m. each evening. Pat Githens, pastor, will be the speaker.

Githens, a former network news reporter, observes world events with the eye of a reporter and is able to relate these events to Bible prophecy through his many years of experience as a Bible preacher and teacher. He will be teaching on such subjects as Israel, the key to the prophetic puzzle; the coming Middle East peace agreement; the coming Russian invasion of Israel; the world government and world ruler (the new world order); and the Five Horsemen of Revelations.

A nursery will be available for children three years and younger. Transportation to the services can be obtained by calling 573-8846 or 573-0860 by 6 p.m. each evening.

Victory Baptist Church is located at 3303 Apple Street (just up the street from East Elementary.)

Pitchford will preach in Dunn

Doin Pitchford, former minister at Dunn Church of Christ who preached there from 1950-51, will return to the church this Sunday to preach at the 10:30 a.m. Service.

A pot luck dinner at Dunn Community Center will follow at noon.

Doin and his wife, Lozell, are looking forward to seeing old friends.

Everyone is invited.

IRS sells golf course and county club

AUSTIN (AP) — An Austin businessman who buys foreclosed properties has purchased entertainer Willie Nelson's golf course and country club at an Internal Revenue Service auction for $230,000.

The property once was the playground of country music and sports stars and housed Nelson's recording studio, used by him and other prominent musicians. But that equipment was sold during a January auction of Nelson's personal belongings to help pay off the disputed $16.7 million in back taxes, penalties and interest Nelson owes the IRS.

James Noryian of Investors International submitted the successful sealed bid Thursday on the 76-acre Pedernales Country Club and Golf Course.

Noryian said he doesn't yet have any plans for the 9-hole golf course. Asked whether he'll return it to Nelson, he said: "Absolutely not."

"This is a good value property, fairly decent for the amount of money," he said. "I will leave it as a golf course."

The next highest of the 11 bids opened Thursday was for $150,000. The IRS sought $575,478 for the property in January, when it first was put on the block.

Former University of Texas football coach Darrell Royal, a friend of Nelson's, bought the golf course 30 miles west of Austin for $117,350 at a bank foreclosure sale in March.

But the IRS last month bought back the property from Royal and scheduled Thursday's sealed-bid auction after officials received offers for more than Royal's purchase price, IRS spokeswoman Valerie Thornton said.

Senate resolution fails to get votes

AUSTIN (AP) — A state senator failed to get the necessary votes to consider a resolution telling the Department of Energy that the Legislature is interested in expanding the Pantex nuclear weapons assembly plant near Amarillo.

Sen. Teel Bivins, R-Amarillo, asked the Senate to consider a resolution Thursday that would tell the federal government the Legislature had "serious interest" in expanding the plant through a reconfiguration of the nuclear weapons system.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

Retiree Is Glum in New Career As the Only Friend of a Bore

DEAR ABBY: I am at the end of my rope. Actually, I am mad at myself because I just came home from another boring evening. I am a 74-year-old retired widower with time on my hands. I belong to a golf club where I hang out to kibitz with the card players.

A retired professional man about my age, also a widower, also kills time at the club. I felt sorry for him because he was always alone, so I started having lunch with him — then he suggested we have dinner together (Dutch), so I said OK. Now I can't get rid of him.

He is the most boring person I've ever met. He talks about himself, his investments, his assets, his this, his that, and no matter how hard I try to get off his favorite subject (himself), he manages to get back on it.

I can't get rid of this obnoxious guy. He sticks like glue, and doesn't have one other friend at the club. Everybody avoids him because he is so egotistical and boring. If you can solve this problem, Abby, you are a genius. For obvious reasons, I can't sign my name or location. Sign me ...

TRAPPED

DEAR TRAPPED: You could do yourself and your boring friend an enormous favor if you sat him down and told him very frankly that he would not be so lonely if he made a few major changes in his personality.

Tell him that nobody wants to listen to a person who talks about nothing but himself and his assets. If he's all that well-heeled financially, he could benefit enormously from a few sessions with a psychologist. The truth may hurt, but it could also solve your problem.

DEAR ABBY: When my husband and I go to a restaurant, we are served such large portions that we either have to ask for a doggie bag to take home what we can't eat, or we leave it on our plates to be thrown out.

At times we have ordered only one meal and an extra plate so we can split the dinner. This isn't always convenient because we both don't always want to eat the same thing.

The few restaurants that offer "lighter fare" serve diet foods. Why can't these restaurant owners realize that all people don't eat like harvest hands? I sometimes wonder if they realize how much food is wasted.

How can we get the restaurant owners to offer only half-portioned? I can't be the only person who hates to see food wasted. How about it, Abby? Any suggestions on how to get this problem corrected?

NOT THAT HUNGRY IN ORLANDO

DEAR NOT THAT HUNGRY: If you are suggesting that res-taurateurs offer half the food at half the price, please read on: Restaurant owners could not survive on half the profit. Better leave things the way they are and give their customers doggie bags to tote home their leftovers.

CONFIDENTIAL TO NO GAMBLER IN LAS VEGAS: When it comes to birth control, the only method that's 100 percent effective is self-control.

To get Abby's booklet "How to Write Letters for All Occasions," send a long, business-size, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $3.95 ($4.50 in Canada) to: Dear Abby, Letter Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054. (Postage is included.)
