Snyder Man Gets Two Year Term

J. B. (Bull) Early, former service station operator in Snyder, Texas, entered a plea of guilty before Judge Ben Charlie Chapman in 39th District Court Friday to a Grand Jury indictment charging him with receiving and concealing stolen property.

The indictment was in connection with the theft of a number of automobile tires in Haskell County earlier this year, which were later recovered in Snyder.

Early was represented by his attorney, Pat Beene, Snyder lawyer. After hearing the plea, Judge Chapman assessed a two-year prison sentence against Early.

In similar proceedings Friday, Early entered pleas in Kent and Stonewall County to the same charges. Sentence of two years was imposed in each case, all to run concurrent.

Early's attorney explained to the court that the defendant had made full restitution to all injured parties, having paid approximately $2,700 to parties from whom automobile tires allegedly had been stolen.

The Snyder man was transferred to State prison at Huntsville Sunday by Sheriff Garth Garrett.

APPLICATION GRANTED FOR MILLER CREEK RESERVOIR

The State Board of Water Engineers at Austin has approved the application of the North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority for construction of a dam and reservoir on Miller Creek east of Munday.

The reservoir will supply water for domestic and industrial use in the four towns of Haskell, Munday, Rule and Gore.

Application had been filed with the board in April, and a hearing was held in Austin last May 30 before the board of engineers.

In approving the application this week, it was amended slightly from that originally sought by the Authority.

The reservoir will still be of 25,000 acre-feet capacity, but the annual appropriation from Miller Creek was cut down from 6,500 acre-feet to 5,000 acre-feet.

The Authority had previously asked for 3,500 acre-feet to be used for municipal purposes, 1,000 acre-feet for industrial and 1,500 for mining.

The application as approved by the board cuts the industrial appropriation to 1,000 acre-feet and the mining portion to 500 acre-feet annually.

Plans for the dam and reservoir have been prepared by Freese, Nichols & Endres, Ft. Worth consulting engineers for the Authority. They call for an earthen dam 69 feet high and 12,650 feet long. The reservoir to be created would have an average width of 3,775 feet, length of 23,200 feet, average depth of 12.8 feet and would hold 25,250 acre-feet of water.

The project will be financed by a $3,800,000 bond issue voted in 1958 by taxpayers of Haskell, Rule, Munday and Gore.

Over 100 Flags Flown by Haskell Business Firms

More than 100 United States flags were displayed in the business section of Haskell on Wednesday in observance of Flag Day, June 14. The date is the anniversary of the adoption of the official flag by the U. S. Congress.

Display of the flag is a project of the Haskell Fire Department, which purchased 100 of the new 50-star flags recently and installed holders for the 6-foot staff on which the flags are strung, at each business building around the square and on side streets. Firemen will place the flags on display and take them down at sunset, on stated holidays during the year.

In addition to the 100 fire department flags, others were displayed by business firms who had their own flags, and federal agencies, including the post office.

A group of citizens appeared before the City Council at the regular meeting Tuesday evening, to protest the expenditure in two recent instances of city funds in the amount of approximately $1,640, with the request that the money be replaced.

They also called attention of the Council to several practices in connection with handling of the city's business transactions which they recommended should be corrected.

Principal spokesmen for the group were Dr. T. W. Williams and John Kimbrough. Accompanying them were Stanley Furrh, E. J. Stewart, Jetty V. Glare, Bob Herren and Mrs. Jim Strain.

Kimrough explained that a citizens group had specifically questioned the right of the City to spend $1,500 out of water fund revenue to pay a lawyer to represent the City of Haskell in opposing granting a permit for a dam and reservoir on Miller Creek to the North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority, of which the city is a member.

Kimrough said that an audit instituted to check on this expenditure, made by an Abilene CPA, had revealed other transactions which the citizen's committee would ask the Council to check into and correct.

A report of the CPA's audit, covering the period from Sept. 1, 1959 to May 17, 1961, was left with the Council at the request of Mayor J. E. Walling.

Dr. Williams, speaking for the citizens' group, said: "We are not here with a chip on our shoulder, but to ask your cooperation and to work with you for the good of our town."

"We are calling your attention to some things we have been told are contrary to law, and we believe they should be corrected, if you find we are right."

In response to a remark by one Council member that the City "is operating just as it always has," Dr. Williams queried: "Is there any better time to correct a wrong than the moment you learn you are wrong?"

Council member R. L. Stephenson stated, "If we are not running the City according to law it will be corrected. I guarantee that we will check and abide by it."

Before retiring from the meeting, Kimbrough as spokesman, asked that the Council make its decision known relative to the recommendations at an early date. Without setting a definite date, Mayor Walling pointed out that "These are busy times for everybody, but I assure you we will not procrastinate."

Also appearing before the Council were five representatives of General Telephone Company, headed by District Manager F. A. Robinette.

The company has an application pending before the Council for a rate increase in Haskell.

After considerable discussion, in which R. Bryan Sloan, special accountant assisting Haskell in the telephone rate increase matter, asked for additional information, a decision on the application appears imminent. Mr. Sloan indicated he could have his study completed by the time of the next Council meeting, June 27, and that date was agreeable with the telephone company representatives when a decision will be worked out.

In addition to Robinette, other telephone company representatives present were L. W. Howard, R. E. Shirey, John Hancock and A. M. Preston.

Funeral service for W. L. Haskell resident for the past 20 years, was held at 10 a. m. Friday in the First Baptist Church, with the Rev. M. D. Rexrode, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Willow Cemetery under the direction of Holden Funeral Home.

Mr. Crouch was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Crouch, pioneer Haskell County residents. He was born July 23, 1875 in Robertson County.

He married Martha Bryson on July 14, 1907. She died in 1908. In 1921 he married Laura Conner.

Burial was in Willow Cemetery with Holden Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Price, 83, died at 5:45 a. m. Thursday in the Haskell Hospital after a lengthy illness.

Born May 22, 1878, in Navarro County. He was a retired farmer and carpenter. He moved to Haskell in 1941 from Port Lavaca and retired in 1954.

He married the former Bessie Mae Griffith Sept. 8, 1912, in Haskell. He was a member of the Baptist Church.

He is survived by his wife; four sons, W. L. Jr., of Corpus Christi, Doyle D. of Cape Charles, Va., Bobby Jack of Abilene and T. A young Haskell couple experienced a real life drama equal to many TV "thrillers" late Friday night when they were returning home from an out-of-town movie.

As they drove onto the square they noticed friends in a parked car and stopped to talk with them. About that time a man approached their car. He was crying, talking almost incoherently, and they noticed blood on his shirt.

He told the couple he had been in a fight with his son and was afraid he'd killed him. He wanted to find the sheriff, he told the couple.

Although they were acting cool, the young couple also wanted to find the sheriff—bad. The old man's story sounded too realistic, and he might go berserk again.

The couple quickly drove to the jail, only to learn Sheriff Garrett was out on another call, accompanied by Police Chief Barnett.

But the couple kept trying, and soon contacted officers who took the elderly man in custody for questioning. It developed he had been telling the truth, and the injured son was located in a hospital in a neighboring county.

But for the couple—they'll take their thrills on the movie screen or on TV in the future, they declare. No more of that real life stuff, please.

Thos. B. Roberson passes on a quote which has a lot of meaning. He credits it to the Rotary Scandal Sheet of Gra-checked, he would have learned this was only one instance of the many things County Clerk Horace Oneal volunteers to do in emergencies which has earned him the title of "Helpful Horace" among courthouse personnel.

In this particular instance, Arva Lea Clayton, employed in the DPW office, had gone for a coffee break and left her keys on her desk. Robt. E. Speer, in charge of the office, had also stepped out of the office, thinking she had her keys with her.

On her return, Arva Lea found she was "locked out." Courthouse custodians did not have a master key, Mr. Speer could not be found, so that left only one thing to do. Get Horace, he'll know what to do.

Sizing up the situation, Horace quickly shinnied up and through the open transom, released the nightlatch on the locked door and the DPW was back in business.

A part of North 2nd Street extending east from Avenue D might have been re-named Canal Street if an engineer's error had not been discovered and corrected when the street was being paved some eight years ago. As it was, considerable excavation was done all of which had to be re-filled at quite a bit of cost in time and money.

In running the street elevations, the engineer evidently had in mind sloping North 2 to drain east, carrying water from heavy rains east to Avenue A and then south.

But instead of a gradual slope, he had that street starting out like a dip in a roller coaster—almost vertical! Operators of the heavy equipment on the paving job were somewhat amazed when they read the grade stakes, but all they could do was follow them. So they started excavating and hauling out dirt.

By nightfall, North 2nd had better than a two-foot fall in the single block between Avenue D and C. It could easily be seen that steps would be needed from the street level to the lawn of Holden Funeral Home in the middle of the block, and at sidewalk intersections at the east end of the block.

Ordinarily, equipment operators do not question an engineer's work, but luckily, the operators on this particular job did, before tackling excavation on the next block.

As a result, the engineer discovered his error and the street was re-filled to its proper level—but not before several thousand yards of dirt had been moved out and then back in.

When the stretch of highway between Anson and Abilene was paved back in the 20's, Frank South of this city had one of the contracts for dirt-moving and building fills on the highway.

The road was then known as Highway 30 and it was not until years later that it became US 277.

All the dirt work then was done with teams, and Frank had several teams of mules and a number of fresnos used in roadbuilding.

It probably was a lot slower than today's operations, but we could move a lot of dirt and build a lot of roadway with mules and scrapers, or fresnos," Frank declares.

To this day, Frank is still in that city.

The Grand Jury at this term of court returned seven bills of indictment. Six of them were for misdemeanors, and the other was a felony, disposing of mortgaged property.

John Blakemore and family arrived this week from Mitchell County. They are stopping temporarily at the home of his son, Merritt Blakemore. They probably will locate in this county.

The saddle suit is set for trial Monday in District Court.

30 Years Ago—June 18, 1911 Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Oates left the first of the week for Fayetteville, Ark., where they will visit Mrs. Oates' mother and family.

The first wheat from the 1931 crop was received in Rule last Saturday, when Ike Bristow, farmer, living west of town, brought in a load of new wheat which brought 40 cents per bushel. The yield is running from 18 to 25 bushels per acre in the Rule section.

Between 200 and 300 gallons of whiskey mash, a 100-gallon still and other liquor manufacturing equipment was seized and destroyed by federal officers accompanied by Sheriff W. T. Sarrels and Deputy Olen Do'son last Thursday when they raided a secluded location in northeast Stonewall County. No arrests were made.

Crops in the vicinity of Sargentton suffered considerable damage from hail which fell in that section Friday. Quite a bit of cotton will have to be planted over and this will be the third planting for some farmers.

Mrs. Leon Gilliam and daughter, Annie Bess, left on Sunday for Lubbock where they will visit their son and brother, Hughes Gilliam, who is attending Texas Tech.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Killingsworth and daughter, Florence, and Mrs. Lyona Killingsworth of Ranger spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lanham Williams of Vernon spent the past weekend with Mrs. Williams' mother, Mrs. Edith English in this city. They were accompanied home by Mrs. English who will visit them several days.

50 Years Ago—June 17, 1911 Just before we go to press the alarm of fire was given and the fire boys rushed to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Oates. They were too late to save the house, but prevented the fire from spreading to the neighboring houses.

Frank Baldwin and Buford Long, who have been attending the University of Texas at Austin, have returned home to spend the summer.

Miss Willie McDaniel left Monday for Los Angeles, Calif. where she will make her home with her brother and family.

Judge A. C. Foster was called from Haskell to Rule Monday to meet his daughter, Miss Una, who was on the Orient train on her way from Boston to spend the summer with her parents in Rule. Judge Foster made the run in his car in 30 minutes, met Miss Una and came back to Haskell in time to be at court here in Haskell before noon. Miss Foster also came over to Haskell and paid a visit to Mrs. R. C. Montgomery.

Mrs. A. W. McGregor and daughter Almeda returned on Wednesday from Arkansas, where they spent several weeks with Mrs. McGregor's parents.

J. F. Collier and Spence Beavers were passengers on the southbound train Sunday.

A. J. Coombs Sr., manager of the Haskell Telephone Company, came in Sunday from Seymour, where he had been for several days in connection with the company's exchange there.

Mrs. J. S. Boone packed her phaeton full of good things the other morning, and accompanied by the children, left for their ranch in the northeast part of the county. Jim Boone has been living on his own cooking out there and is said to be getting gaunt as a horse.

Miss Fannie Baldwin has returned home from Fort Worth where she has been attending TCU.

Miss Ruth Jones returned Thursday from the Ursalene Academy at Dallas. Miss Ruth made a splendid record while at the academy, and won the gold medal for making the highest grades.

60 Years Ago—June 15, 1901 Matt Walker has bought H. E. Keister's interest in their meat market and has secured the services of Will Dickenson as cutter, in which line he is an expert.

Our former citizens, W. E. Anthony and family arrived last Sunday from Austin, and needless to say, were welcomed by a host of friends. Mr. Anthony will have to return Monday to his duties in the land office, but Mrs. Anthony and children will remain here for some time.

We hear that H. S. Post has had the misfortune to lose several head of his fine graded Hereford yearlings. It seems curious about a particular stretch of the road in the "shinnery" country between Anson and Abilene.

When he first looked the stretch of proposed road over left by engineers, he made a mental note that not much dirt moving would be required.

Later, after moving his teams and equipment to the site, it seemed he never would get the stretch finished because so much dirt had to be moved. Whether the engineer had re-checked and changed the grade stakes after he first checked them, Frank never did know.

However, it wasn't his worry since he was being paid by the day, anyway. But he couldn't help being curious.

Ferrell Coston calls our attention to the following article which appeared in the Rotarian magazine, entitled "Born Too Soon." It reads:

Sagerton News

BY MRS. DELBERT LEFEVRE

The farmers are beginning to "battle the weeds" again this week after last week's heavy rains. Much of the cotton will have to be replanted for the third time. Everyone is hoping the rain will hold off until they can get a stand of cotton up and get what they have cleaned of weeds.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Stegemoeller of Tulsa came last Friday for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stegemoeller. They left their three daughters here for a week's visit with their grandparents while they vacation in New Mexico and Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stegemoeller and Diane of Lubbock spent last weekend here with Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Stegemoeller.

Friends were glad to see Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jennings and daughters, Linda and Anne, of Whiteface here this weekend. They are former residents of Sagerton and stopped by Saturday for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hess and other friends. They were on their way home from a vacation in South Texas.

Dr. and Mrs. Charlie Quade and family of Houston are visiting here with Mrs. Lena Quade and Mr. and Mrs. Glyn Quade and sons.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hertel and Mrs. Leslie Baitz visited in Ralls last weekend with relatives.

Clyde Stegemoeller, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Stegemoeller, was a patient in the Stamford Hospital last week receiving treatment for an infection in his arm which was caused when he got his arm in a washing machine wringer recently.

James Lehmann, from Mathis, Texas, is visiting here with relatives.

Rev. E. F. Schoenborn, farm pastor of the Zion Lutheran Church here and the Trinity Lutheran at Albany, conducted services at the Zion Lutheran Church here Sunday. He will go to Reno, Nevada soon, where he will be a chaplain in the Armed Forces.

Mrs. Bertha Freeman and children of Stamford visited with Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kainer Sunday.

Linda LeFevre accompanied Tommy Jo Simpson of Rule to Dallas Thursday where they visited with Mrs. Oia Simpson. They returned home Sunday.

Mrs. August Angerman was honored with a birthday party in her home Tuesday evening, June 4. Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Ramm, Mr. and Mrs. August Stremmel, Mrs. Albert Stremmel, Hilda and Emil, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Stremmel and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stremmel and Linda, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Helm, Mr. and Mrs. Werner Trechelman, and Mrs. Minnie Koch and son of Lueders.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Spitzer of Waco and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Spitzer of Brenham visited with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spitzer last week. Otto and Herman are brothers of Fred Spitzer. Other guests last Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. Martin Rueffer of Haskell, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Spitzer and Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Spitzer of Old Glory and Johnny Spitzer of Sagerton.

Haskell Women Visit Points in East Texas

Last week Mrs. J. U. Fields and Mrs. Ree Gardner of this city visited in unique Glen Rose, Somerwell County, with Mrs. Bart Baldwin and daughter. They live in a modernized log house located on a bluff with a magnificent view of the picturesque surrounding country. The development of this place offered a wide scope for Mrs. Baldwin's imagination.

Mrs. Gardner spent the night in Cleburne with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Irman Whitaker.

The Haskell women were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. White at Friendly Oaks in Bosque County near Meridian, a clean, attractive town with hundreds of Mimosa trees then in full bloom. Friendly Oaks, the country estate, is a dream come true through love, work and money—it is a veritable fairyland. Mr. and Mrs. White are former citizens of Haskell who have successfully reared three sterling sons now with families of their own. Through 52 years of married life, Mr. and Mrs. White have made a decided success.

The point of focal interest was Rock Church Cemetery several miles in the country from Bluffdale. This was the purpose for which the trip was made, so Mrs. Gardner could visit the grave of her mother. It is inspiring to view the final resting place of the Texas pioneers who made possible our Great Heritage.

On this trip, Mrs. Fields and Mrs. Gardner were impressed with the beauty of the scenery and the friendliness of the people along the many well-kept Farm-to-Market roads. "Breathes there a man whose soul is so dead who never to himself hath said—This is my own, my native land."

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

BY C. WILSON HARDER

There is no question that recently concluded antitrust case on price conspiracy on heavy electrical equipment will be before public for some time.

For one thing, the United States and the Tennessee Valley Authority are in the joint process of suing for $12,000,000 on heavy duty circuit breakers on which there was a price collusion.

In addition, C. W. Harder the special committee headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver is bringing to public attention the depths of conspiracy that is involved when there is an attempt to violate the antitrust laws.

For some time, the nation's independent businessmen, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, have asked stricter enforcement of the antitrust laws.

The viewpoint of the independent businessmen is perhaps best summarized in a speech made recently before the American Bar Association by Lee Loevinger, assistant attorney general in charge of Justice Dept. antitrust division.

Loevinger said in commenting on some mistaken impressions about antitrust laws that must be laid to rest "The first is the notion that violation of the antitrust laws, whether intentional or not, is merely a normal business risk and really quite respectable."

Then lashing out in no uncertain terms, he said "It should be clear that a deliberate or conscious violation for the antitrust laws is not a mere personal peccadillo or economic eccentricity, but a serious offense against society which is as immoral as any other act that injures many in order to profit a few. Conspiracy to violate the antitrust laws is economic racketeering which gains no respectability by virtue of fact that loot is secured by stealth rather than force."

He then went on to say "That the necessity for complying with high standards of business conduct required by the moral principles inherent in our legal codes may sometimes cause concern to businessmen and lawyers is inevitable. This is not a difficulty unique to antitrust laws. The temptation to get rich quickly by dishonest means abounds in private life. Some succumb, but we do not listen sympathetically to the plea that theft or embezzlement should be legalized because it is so difficult to acquire wealth by other means."

Coming at a time when Washington is besieged by agents of those who would like to see the antitrust laws weakened, these are heartening words.

The battle is not won yet. There are powerful, heavily financed forces at work constantly to tear down the nation's antitrust laws, with not a small part of it coming from British and other foreign interests where monopoly is legalized. But continued support of Congress, especially the Senate and House Small Business Committees, and through them, support for the antitrust division of the Justice Department should result in eventual victory for restoration, and continuation of U. S. free enterprise system.

Four Hurt in 7 Traffic Mishaps During May

The highway patrol investigated 7 accidents on rural highways in Haskell county during the month of May, according to Sgt. Frank Jircik, highway patrol supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for four persons injured, and a property damage of $2,975.00. This brings the total for the first five months of 1961 in this county to 16 rural traffic crashes resulting in one person being killed, 22 injured, and a combined property damage amounting to $8,945.00.

After noting the accident picture for this county for the first five months of this year, the Sergeant pointed out another significant fact. As summer approaches with longer days and additional good driving weather, the driver should be especially aware of the danger period at dusk. Many accidents happen during this period. One cause of this is the driver who fails to turn his lights on soon enough. Although the law sets out when lights must be turned on, the driver should also use his own good judgment. Any time a driver cannot see an unlighted object approximately one-half mile away, he should turn his lights on. He may be able to see the other driver, but can the other driver see you?

HERE FROM HOUSTON TO VISIT DAUGHTER

Mrs. Cora Hayes of Houston, Texas, is here visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Adams, who was injured recently in an automobile accident. Also visiting Mr. and Mrs. Adams during the weekend were their children, Miss Ina Mae Adams of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Adams Jr. and children of Naples, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lee and family of Abilene.

Construction of the 41,000-mile Interstate Highway System will be the largest construction project ever undertaken.

Mrs. Roger Rister of this city will leave Tuesday for Germany, where she will join her husband who is stationed at Hanau, Germany, with U. S. Armed Forces. Mrs. Rister will go by plane from Dallas and from that city the journey to her overseas destination will require 29 hours. Mrs. Rister plans to remain in Germany with her husband during the remainder of his two-year tour of duty. He went overseas four months ago, and she has been staying here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Turner.

The Texas Highway Department is divided into 25 Highway Districts, each being responsible for about ten counties and about 2,000 miles of highways.

WINDSTORMS, HAIL AND TORNADOES

You've noticed in the papers lately, whether plays no favorites, and there's no warning before windstorm, hail and hits.

When the clouds start boiling up and the thunder sounds an alert, you don't have to check your policies and I don't have to write them. We both lose.

When a storm strikes is a good time to check your insurance, and if you are not properly protected see us immediately. We both gain.

GPCP Contracts Are Developed on Three Farms In Area Around Rule

Great Plains Conservation Program Contracts have recently been developed on farms owned by Joe B. Cloud and J. D. Wilcox of Rule, and Tom Hill of Aspermont. The Tom Hill lands are co-owned by Mrs. Lena Quade of Rule, according to J. C. Yearly Jr., Soil Conservation Service, Haskell.

Joe Cloud developed his contract to include cross fencing a large native pasture in order to obtain better grazing distribution. In so doing, watering facilities were necessarily planned. A well with casing has already been installed and Joe constructed a concrete water storage tank between the newly constructed fence to furnish livestock water to both pastures. He has also seeded several bare areas in his pastures.

J. D. Wilcox is converting a 100-acre sandland farm, located three miles northwest of Rule to a grass farm. His plan of operations include the shaping and seeding of four gullies, root-plowing and re-seeding native grass on all remaining areas. He also plans to install livestock watering facilities under his contract.

Tom Hill plans to convert approximately 40 acres of deep sandland from cropland to grass, shape and seed two waterways, construct the necessary diversions to protect fertile cropland from outside runoff water, and terrace the cropland. His plan of operations also includes developing two livestock watering facilities.

J. E. Jetton and W. L. Holt have recently seeded waterways that were established or shaped last year under their GPCP Contracts.

To date a total of 27 contracts have been developed on Haskell County farms and ranches. A total of $72,000 of Federal Funds have been obligated to carry these contracts to completion.

Contracts are now in force on the farms or ranches of Arche E. Pardue and Vernon Lovvorn of Stamford; Brooke Early of Abilene; W. B. Griffith, S. L. Griffith, and L. B. Jones of Paint Creek, W. L. Holt with two contracts and H. W. Smith of Mattson; Calvin Frierson, W. E. Lawson, and J. C. Alvis of Haskell; J. E. Jetton of Weibert; Joe B. Cloud, J. D. Wilcox, L. W. Norman, and Allen Davis of Rule; Tom Hill of Aspermont; Gentry Day and Mrs. S. P. Keller of Guthrie; Felton Jackson of Goree; and A. A. Smith and Dwight Key with two contracts of Munday.

Funds are still available for developing contracts in Haskell County according to Yearly. The benefits of a sound conservation program established under the Great Plains Conservation Program far outweigh any disadvantages, Yearly stated. Anyone of the 25 participants in this program will be glad to discuss the program with interested parties, Yearly added. Those of us connected with the Soil Conservation Service will assist you in the development of your contract. Just ask us. Yearly concluded by saying that Conservation doesn't cost, it pays.

Did you ever stop to realize that sound plays an important role in fishing?

Experts will tell you that noise will spook fish. That's generally true.

But there are sounds that will attract fish. In fact, these fish-attracting sounds are the basis of many of the artificial lures in use today.

Take the popping bug as an example. When you twitch the rod tip, the bug makes a distinct "pop." And that "pop" is a pretty good imitation of a black bass sucking in a choice tidbit off the surface.

The purpose of the bug's "pop" is to create the impression that fish are feeding. It's to stir those sleepy mossbacks into action. And when properly used the popping bug will do just that.

The popping cork or top water chuggers serve the same purpose—that of attracting fish.

Since water is many times denser than air, it is a good conductor of sound. A sound very faint to a human's ear will carry a long way in water. Actually, fish don't hear the sounds. They feel the sound by the vibrations set up in the water.

Lures with little spinners fore or aft are designed with sound in mind. When retrieved through the water, the rapidly rotating spinners send out vibrations that attract fish.

Some of the old-time market fishermen have a unique way of "calling fish," if it can be termed that. Occasionally they will slap the surface of the water with a long cane pole. They tell me that the noise made by the slap is very similar to that made by a fish swatting the water with its tail.

It has been proved that certain fish will "home in" on the sound of a boat propeller. This is supposed to be true in the case of many salt water surface feeders and migratory fish. Obviously prop noises don't spook these fish because trolling is the most popular way of catching them.

Several years ago one of the nation's leading outboard motor makers conducted some sound tests with fish in Florida. Outboard motors of various sizes were run in huge aquarium tanks.

What happened? Some fish such as speckled trout and redfish appeared disturbed by the noise and sought cover at the bottom of the tank. Other fish actually came up to investigate the sound. It was recorded on several occasions that barracuda and kingfish even took cautious nips at the whirling propeller blades.

The more action a lure has, the more sound vibrations it sends out in the water.

Several lure companies today are making lures that wiggle so vigorously when retrieved that the angler can feel the vibrations on the rod tip. And I might point out that these lures catch a lot of fish.

If you're curious about sound and fish, try these experiments: Ease up to a pool of water with a handful of small pebbles. Start flipping the pebbles into the water one at a time. If there are panfish around, the "plop" sound made by the pebbles striking the water will soon attract them. Every time a pebble hits the water, they will dart toward it—a few might even try a nibble at the pebble.

If you have a home aquarium, you might try some sound experiments with your own guppies, mollies, tetras, or whatever you have in the tank.

Generally speaking you will find the following to be true. Sudden and hard noises or a sharp tap against the tank will cause the fish to spook. Usually they will school up and head for cover at the bottom of the tank.

A gentle but constant vibration sent through the tank will at first cause the fish to become apprehensive. But in a short time you'll notice they will start moving toward the source of the vibration or sound.

Sound has become so important in fishing that several companies now make "fish callers." These callers are operated by batteries and emit a faint ticking sound.

If you have doubts about the faint ticking carrying any distance in the water, try this: Turn on the fish caller and submerge it at one end of a swimming pool. Then go to the other end and stick your head under water. The "tick-tick-tick" will be quite audible. There are, of course, sounds that will spook fish. A clap of thunder or the loud banging on the bottom of a boat will quickly put down a school of fish.

An outboard motor seems to have little effect on fish except when used in very shallow water. If you must run your motor in shallow water, run it as slowly as possible.

Now you're probably wondering what the dividing line is between shallow and deep water. Like everything else, it's relative. But for all practical purposes consider water to be shallow if it is less than six feet in depth.

Yes sir, there's more to fishing than just the baiting of a hook and dropping it into the water. The art of luring piscatorial beauties is becoming more scientific every day.

Ford Says May Sales Highest Since 1925

J. B. Gipson, vice president and general manager of Bill Wilson Motor Co., Haskell, today received a personal congratulatory letter from Lee A. Iacocca, vice president of Ford Motor Company and Ford Division general manager, commending Mr. Gipson and his employes for their part in setting a 36-year Ford sales record.

Ford car and truck sales during May were higher than any other May since 1925—the heyday of the Model "T."

In his letter to Mr. Gipson, Mr. Iacocca said, "I would like to take this opportunity to extend my personal congratulations to you and your employes for helping to make last month the best May Ford sales month in 36 years."

"Not since the record May of 1925 have Ford dealers sold as many new cars and trucks during any May sales period as in the month just past. We think this is a major accomplishment, one that reflects the strength of the country's economy and of the automobile business in particular."

In closing, Mr. Iacocca stated, "We think the consistent Ford sales gains since the first of the year, which you and your fellow dealers made possible, have helped to encourage this consumer confidence, which has led the country out of a business recession."
