Q—How much of the money generated from the lottery is expected to go to administrative costs?

A—The state has said that 10 percent of the revenue will go toward administrative costs and another five percent will go to commissions for merchants selling the tickets. Forty-five percent will be used for prizes, leaving 40 percent, or an estimated $462 million by Aug. 31, 1993, to the state treasury.

Magic-AIDS

NEW YORK (AP) — President Bush has invited Magic Johnson to join the National Commission on AIDS, presidential spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said today.

Fitzwater said that Johnson is mulling over the offer and hasn't made up his mind yet.

Johnson announced last Thursday that he had tested HIV-positive and was retiring immediately from the Los Angeles Lakers, for whom he had played for 12 seasons.

"Magic has a very important message that would be very useful to this commission," Fitzwater said.

"Magic is such a role model, he would be an excellent member of this commission," Fitzwater said.

Student killed

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Police were holding two suspected gang members today in connection with a high school campus shooting that killed one student and critically wounded another. More arrests were expected.

Police said the two students were shot Monday afternoon when two people opened fire on a crowd at Ysleta High School, drove around the block and opened fire again.

Javier Morales Jr., 15, died at Thomason Hospital of a gunshot wound to his lower back. Morales, a student at nearby Del Valle High School, had come to Ysleta to pick up relatives, a school official said.

Amends pay schedule...

County approves TexPool resolution

Scurry County commissioners passed a resolution to transfer county funds to TexPool, waived probationary pay for a county employee, and amended the pay scale for employees of the county sheriff's office this morning during their regular monthly business meeting.

The court recessed at noon and was to reconvene at 1:30 p.m. to complete agenda business.

In approving a resolution to transfer some county funds to the State Treasury's TexPool investment organization, commissioners said a higher interest rate, 1.5-2 percent, is available with TexPool.

County officials said a constant dollar amount would remain the county's current depository, Snyder National Bank, while funds in the TexPool account will fluctuate. Currently all county funds are in the local depository.

The transfer of funds is expected to take place before the first of the year. The probationary 10 percent reduction in salary for Scurry County Librarian Noreen Taylor was waived by commissioners; however, they noted all other probationary criteria will remain in place for the remainder of the six month period. Taylor was hired by the court in August. Amendments to the pay scale for employees of Scurry County Sheriff's Office were approved as Sheriff Keith Collier pointed out that the court had cut certification level pay in addition to setting an entry-level base salary. Base salary for a non-certified employee will remain $19,755 while a certified deputy will receive $21,950, a salary comparable to other law enforcement agencies.

Also approved were the nomination of Bill Voss for election to Scurry County Appraisal Board, a resolution clarifying workers' compensation coverage on elected officials and three budget-related items.

A $2,500 budget transfer within the Board of County Development's budget was approved. The transfer will be used for travel and (see COUNTY, page 9)

2% salary increase, TexPool reviewed by college trustees

Western Texas College board of trustees discussed a possible salary increase from the state, TexPool investments and additional state funding for remediation during its November meeting Monday.

Among action items, the board accepted bids for 10 golf carts and the college catalog and approved a calendar for the 1992-93 year. Also discussed was a favorable arrangement with the Texas Employment Commission.

College President Dr. Harry Krenek advised the board of a two-percent salary increase given to community and junior colleges by the state.

"At this point, it appears we will have funds from the state to allow for a two percent raise for faculty and some staff," said Krenek. "However, there are a lot of questions still to be answered. We hope to know a lot more in a few days."

WTC faculty received a three-percent raise in the current budget and Krenek commented that the combined five percent increase would bring WTC more in line with raises that other community college have given their faculties.

Trustees asked that a resolution be drawn up thanking the state for the pay increase.

Gay Hickman, vice president for business and finance, outlined a plan to invest some of the college's funds with TexPool, the Trust Company's Public Funds Investment Pool.

He suggested investing scholarship foundation funds and monies from the loan fund with TexPool.

The current rate of interest being paid on the scholarship foundation funds is 4.64 percent. Interest from TexPool was 5.78 percent on Monday.

"I wouldn't recommend putting it all in, but just some of the longer term accounts," said Hickman. "We like to keep some money invested with local banks. They do a tremendous service for the community."

Trustees unanimously accepted a bid of $24,805 from Watson Distributing for 10 Club Car four-wheel golf carts. The board discussed trading in some older golf carts but decided to sell them to the public instead.

Also approved was a bid from

McCormick wins SDN grid contest

Snyder is in the playoffs, and the SDN Football Contest will continue as long as the Tigers are winning.

Another contest appears in this issue. Matt McCormick of 3201 Houston took the first place prize of $50, having only two misses out of the 20 games.

Three entrants had three misses, and using the tie-breaker procedure, the second place $25 winner was Tracy Lewis of 2601 28th. Third place and $15 went to Thomas Bullard of Rt. 3, Box 66.

Honorable mention goes to Stan Pavlik who barely missed out on total points.

Winners will be mailed their checks.

Gilliland Printing to print the college catalog for a three-year period. Those would be the 1992-93, 1993-94 and 1994-95 catalogs at a total cost of $21,932.

The 1992-93 fall semester will begin with the first day of classes on Aug. 26, 1992, according to the calendar approved by trustees. Fall exams will be Dec. 7-9, 1992. The spring semester will begin Jan. 13, 1993, and graduation is set for May 7, 1993.

Bettie McQueen, dean of instruction, informed the board of additional state funds the college has received for non-course developmental labs. Subjects covered will be math, reading and writing. Typical students using the labs include those who have failed the TASP test or who need updating — "a refresher" — in one of the three areas. It was pointed out that if WTC can provide documentation that the labs are meeting the needs of the students, the college (see COLLEGE, page 9)

SHS band doesn't advance but gives fine performance

AUSTIN — Snyder High School's "Pride of the West" band did not advance to the finals of the Class 4A State Marching Contest here Monday, but it was due to exceptional competition, and not a below par performance by the Tigers, school administrators said. "They did an outstanding job, as well or better than we've seen

'Day's Journey' takes ensemble award; three students will advance

Western Texas College's production of "Long Day's Journey into Night" received the Ensemble Performance award Saturday at the American College Theater Festival in El Paso.

The award was presented by Harlene Marley, the festival critic judge.

Two Snyder students, Amber Adams and Richard Lack, won Irene Ryan acting awards. They will compete at the regional festival in Lubbock in February.

Wade Freeman, also of Snyder, won the Critic's Workshop competition and will advance to the regional festival which will include entries from Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, New Mexico and Louisiana.

University of Texas at El Paso's production of "Roosters" was the only play nominated to advance.

"Even though we had excellent performance and received good reviews, I can't regret getting beat by UTEP," Jim Rambo, director, said. "They were great."

Of WTC's performance the critic judge wrote, "This performance illuminated new meaning and excitement in a script I know very well."

Roberto D. Pomo, chairman of the Theatre Arts department at UTEP, said, "The directing was superb and enhanced by a tremendous, talented young cast. Please accept my congratulations for a beautiful job."

Three other previous WTC shows, "Elephant Man," "Terra Nova," and last year's production of "Candida" were nominated for regional advancement.

"Long Day's Journey Into Night," a Pulitzer Prize-winning play by Eugene O'Neill, is an autobiographical document which explores the cause and effect of chemical dependency upon his family.

Adams played Mary, the mother plagued with a drug addiction. Lack portrayed James Tyrone, the penny pinching father.

Other cast members were Brandon Neeley of Snyder, Scott Clark of Sterling City, and Sherri Cribbs

Search for missing 3 continues

Police are still investigating the disappearance of a local businessman, his employee and the employee's girlfriend, reported missing over a week ago.

The whereabouts of Fast Oil Change owner Paul Milford, employee Arthur Harding and Harding's girlfriend, Jonell Henderson, remain unknown.

"Friends of all three have called in expressing concern but none have said they've heard from any of them," Snyder police Lt. Steve Warren said today. Warren added, "We are checking all avenues in an effort to locate them."

Police have released missing persons reports to law enforcement agencies throughout the region and interviewed acquaintances and family members. As yet, no one has reported seeing the missing individuals.

Milford, 49, was reported missing at 9:15 a.m. Monday, Nov. 4, by an acquaintance when he failed to open his business on 25th St. Police have since checked the business and Milford's 1810 Scott St. residence and have found nothing out of order. Milford's vehicle, a brown, two-tone 1984 GMC Suburban, license 6412 GD, is also unaccounted for.

Police have been able to place Milford in Snyder on Saturday evening.

Harding, 42, was reported missing at 9 p.m. on Nov. 4 and police investigating the case have talked with acquaintances who place him in Snyder on that date. Also missing is Henderson, 28, who was apparently last seen in Snyder on Nov. 4.

Separate acquaintances have told police that Harding and Henderson said they were going to a doctor, or that they were going to get married.

Harding's brown, two-tone 1982 Chevrolet pickup, license 5535 JK, is also unaccounted for

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Russia may lack some things, but they had the foresight to abolish Congress."

Loretta Voss is a unique kind of lady. She's been around Scurry County for a long time, watching the good economic times and the bad.

She remembers the depression, the oil boom, the bust, the bumper crops and the failed crops. One thing has remained constant, Loretta Voss remains an optimist.

From time to time, she sends in a column item with a note of encouragement. We're told many Snyder folks are recipients of her cheerful words.

Mrs. Voss' most recent contribution came from a church bulletin which she estimated is at least 30 years old. With Thanksgiving approaching, the message is appropriate:

"I bought gasoline; I went to the show; I bought some new tubes for my radio;

I bought candy and peanuts, nut bars and ice cream; While my salary lasted, life sure was a scream.

"It takes planning to make money go 'round; One method of finance must always be sound. With habits quite costly, it's real hard to save; My wife spent 'ten bucks' on a permanent wave.

"The church came 'round begging. It made me sore. If they'd left me alone, I'd give a lot more. They have plenty of nerve; They forgot all the past. I gave them a quarter the year before last!"

A fifth grade Sunday school teacher reported that one of her students insisted that Noah had a sister named Joan.

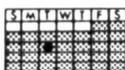

The teacher conceded she had never heard of that and asked where he had gotten that idea.

"Easy," said the student; "Haven't you ever heard of Joan of Arc?"

Jurors reach decision in trial of 21-year-old double murder

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Former Norman policeman Frank Gilley listened impassively as a Cleveland County jury formally cleared him of 21 years of suspicion in a 1970 double slaying on a lover's lane.

God had helped Gilley's family through the long ordeal, his mother said as officers whisked relatives and jurors out of the Cleveland County courtroom after the jury delivered its verdicts.

After one of the longest trials in county history, jurors deliberated just four hours Monday before acquitting Gilley of first-degree murder and perjury charges. Court officials had to wait for Gilley to change back into his suit at the jail Monday night before their decision could be delivered.

Gilley, 56, of DeSoto, Texas, said nothing and never changed his watchful stare as the verdicts were read.

He had been charged with fatally shooting David Sloan, 21, a University of Oklahoma student from Amarillo, Texas and Sheryl Benham, 19, of Oklahoma City.

Their bodies were found in the trunk of Sloan's car on May 10, 1970. The murder scene was a rural road in Gilley's patrol district.

Attorneys' closing arguments had lasted about two hours longer than the jurors' deliberations.

Defense attorney Robert Perrine's closing arguments compared the case to a two-decade witch hunt. The investigation was so botched at the start, Perrine told jurors, that the truth probably will never come out.

"Nothing puts Frank there so you've got to guess he was there," Perrine said. "You've got to speculate that he was there so Frank has to come in and defend his life against this."

Inmate executed today for '76 burglary-slaying

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — Convicted killer G.W. Green, a self-described "strange old dude," was put to death early today for the 1976 shooting death of a probation officer during a burglary.

Green, 54, strapped to the death chamber gurney, greeted his brother, a sister and a friend who arrived to witness the execution, expressed his love, then told Warden Jack Pursley: "Lock and load. Let's do it man."

As the drugs flowed into his arms, he used a vulgarity to describe life, gasped once and made no further movement. He was pronounced dead at 12:17 a.m., seven minutes after the drugs began flowing.

Green's brother, Bobby, growled at state officials as he left the death chamber, "Hope you all are happy," then briskly walked away.

The U.S. Supreme Court, voting 7-2, cleared the way for the execution seven hours earlier by refusing to grant Green a stay.

After his death, prison officials released a note in which Green thanked his family and friends for love and friendship.

"To the rest of society, you never warranted my respect," he wrote. "You earned my contempt."

Green, 13th in seniority among the 349 inmates on death row in Texas, was sentenced to die for the shooting death of John Denson during a robbery at Denson's home.

Green, whose full beard, dark glasses, long hair and raspy voice made him appear like a hippie from the 1960s, had refused recent requests for interviews. In earlier conversations, however, he had expressed no remorse.

Ira's FFA Greenhand skills team wins first

The Greenhand Future Farmers of America (FFA) skills demonstration team from Ira won first place at the state leadership contest held Saturday at Sam Houston State University in Huntsville.

The Ira team consisting of three first year FFA members had previously been chosen area champion and competed against nine other teams throughout Texas for the championship.

Team members included Justin Donelson, Travis Collom and Brian Garmer.

Skills demonstration teams perform a demonstration of an actual agricultural skill. They are scored on the explanation of the skill and participation of all team members.

Ira FFA'ers demonstrated effective predator control by the use of a steel trap.

FFA is a vocational organization made up of students enrolled in agriculture science and technology classes. Texas FFA has over 54,000 members in nearly 950 local chapters.

Soviet Union reports hike in AIDS cases

MOSCOW (AP) — When AIDS first appeared in the Soviet Union in 1986, Soviet health officials blamed the West, claiming that all those infected were either prostitutes or homosexual men who had sex with foreigners.

Only when more than 200 children in southern Russia contracted the AIDS virus from dirty hospital needles several years ago did Soviet officials finally acknowledge that AIDS could become a serious threat.

They started a campaign advocating safer medical practices and an increase in supplies of single-use syringes and disposable surgical gloves. By the end of last year, they claimed not one new case of AIDS could be traced to poor hospital hygiene.

Yet the disease is spreading. The reported number of HIV-infections transmitted through heterosexual and homosexual contact is rising.

But Soviet AIDS activists say authorities are underreporting the number of HIV-infection cases in the country of more than 280 million people. Some say up to 10,000 people have the virus.

Nadezhda Sirotnina, chief AIDS specialist of Russia's Sanitary and Epidemiological Inspection Committee, was quoted by Pravda last month as saying 502 HIV cases were registered in the Russian republic alone.

"Nobody knows how many infected people we actually have, but we do know the number is growing larger every day." The Russian Federation's Ministry of Health half-heartedly tried to pursue an AIDS awareness campaign this year.

But it was hindered by a lack of sex education in schools; a scarcity of condoms, syringes, surgical gloves and AIDS testing kits, and a government under which homosexuality is a crime punishable by imprisonment.

The Soviet Union is so short of the hard currency it needs to import basic medical supplies that hospitals and clinics often have to boil syringes and use them again, including disposable ones that should never be reused.

Then there is the problem of openness about sexuality. When AIDS activist Igor Yevsyukov presented a brochure outlining safe sex practices to the Russian Ministry of Health, it was labeled "pornographic" and returned.

Dr. Gott Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: When is the right medicine wrong? I've been taking Dyazide for 20 years, and I recently have developed fasting hyperglycemia and break out in rashes from the sun — both adverse reactions to the medication. Also, my blood pressure has been slightly elevated, yet my physician doesn't seem inclined to change the drug.

DEAR READER: The right medicine is wrong when you start having reactions to it, as you may be having to Dyazide, a diuretic.

This drug has three common side effects that are NOT due to allergic reactions: hyperglycemia, photosensitivity and gout.

Hyperglycemia is a fancy term for elevated blood sugar, in a word, diabetes. Dyazide and similar medicines may worsen diabetes in some patients and actually bring it on in others (who usually have a family history of the disease).

Photosensitivity means a skin rash from exposure to sunlight. The reaction can be serious and longlasting. Many drugs, including tetracycline antibiotics, can cause it.

Gout is a form of acute arthritis that can be triggered by Dyazide and similar diuretics.

I don't know why your doctor is not eager to change your prescription. In my opinion, this is nuts. Not only is this bad medicine, it also leaves the doctor open to a lawsuit if you develop a really serious complication of therapy. Further, the Dyazide seems to be ineffective in keeping your blood pressure normal.

Meet with your doctor to explore options. I'm sure your blood pressure could be controlled (without diabetes and photosensitivity) with another medicine, such as captopril or a beta blocker.

To give you further information, I am sending you free copies of my Health Reports "Diabetes Mellitus" and "Hypertension." Other readers who would like copies should send $1.25 for each report plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title(s).

tective, doubled to show his diamond length in case Max wished to sacrifice in five diamonds. But Leadsie's four-heart rebid ended the auction.

Max led the diamond king, and Hoo stopped to consider the defensive prospects. His four low clubs suggested that that suit would run for declarer. If the defenders had a trump trick coming, it wasn't going to run away. But if they had no trump winner, they had to take three spade tricks immediately to defeat the contract.

It was clear that he should overtake the diamond king with the ace and switch to a spade — but which one? The normal lead from J-7-3 would be the three, but Hoo saw that this wouldn't be good enough unless Max had three automatic spade winners. South would play low and eventually get discards on dummy's clubs.

Hoo did better: At trick two, he switched to the spade jack. Now Leadsie had to lose the first four tricks. "That was a strange switch you made there, Hoo," said Smart. "I was always told to lead low from an unsupported honor." "Amazin'."

Harry Hoo ignores the book

By Phillip Alder

The match between Control, the spy organization representing goodness and niceness, and Kaos, the spy cartel for evil, was into the third rubber, with Kaos vulnerable. On the second deal, Leadsie was in four hearts.

North, Siegfried, opened one club; South, Leadsie, responded one heart; and Maxwell Smart, Agent 86, sitting West, overcalled two diamonds. At this point, Siegfried made a splinter bid of four diamonds, describing heart support with a singleton or void in diamonds. Harry Hoo, the Hawaiian de-

Little glasses for little heads

NEW YORK (AP) — When it comes to children's eyewear, fashion is important, but so is fit.

Like adults, children don't like eyeglasses that slip down their face, pinch their nose or squeeze the sides of their head. And because a child's facial structure is constantly maturing, fit is important. Claudio Del Vecchio, executive vice president of the Luxottica Group, offers these tips:

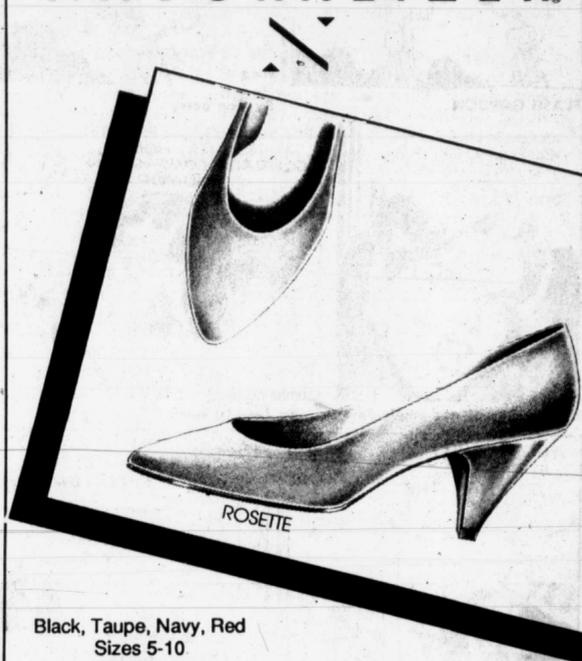

— The temples of children's eyewear should fit snugly, but never be too tight or too loose. Cable temples that wrap around the ears offer a strong, comfortable hold.

— The bridge of eyeglasses should sit securely and comfortably on the nose without producing pressure. Soft-strap bridges and silicone nose pads offer maximum comfort at the bridge area.

— Eyeglass frames should be made of sturdy metal or plastic. Spring hinges, which are tiny, unobtrusive springs built into the temple piece, provide flexibility and often prevent temples from snapping or breaking off.

LAFF-A-DAY

"Satisfied?! Now give me back Grandma's teeth!"

"THAT SMELLS LIKE SOMETHING YOU'LL HAVE TO MAKE ME EAT."

Monday Night Football...

Chicago dominates Vikings

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Chicago Bears went back to the basics on third down — and there was almost no stopping them.

Using short passes and up-the-middle runs — along with some Minnesota miscues — the Bears converted seven of 13 third downs and one fourth down en route to their best offensive performance of the year and a 34-17 victory over the Vikings Monday night.

The victory, their first at the Metrodome in four years, gives the Bears (8-2) a two-game lead over Detroit in their quest for their seventh NFC Central title in the last eight seasons.

"If there's one thing that Coach Ditka stresses, it's winning the division games, and our goal is to win them all," said Chicago quarterback Jim Harbaugh.

With five games left for the Vikings (5-6), coach Jerry Burns all but conceded the division title to the Bears.

To a player and a coach, credit for Chicago's clutch, third-down success was given to Mike Ditka's decision to use tried-and-true plays instead of the new plays usually added to attack the weakness of that week's opponent.

"They were all plays that we've run the last two years," Harbaugh said. "They gave me a chance to have a little more input on the third-down plays, and the ones that they were calling tonight were the ones that I was really the most comfortable with. And I felt so confident every time that one of them came in that I knew I was going to hit it."

With the Vikings' help, the Bears converted six third- or fourth-down situations on their first two drives to take a 14-7 lead.

The Bears kept their first drive alive with two third-down conversions — one when Reggie Rutland was called for pass interference and the other on Harbaugh's 12-yard pass to Wendell Davis. Five plays after Davis' catch, Neal Anderson scored on a 6-yard run to tie the game.

Chicago's next drive was the key, as the Bears converted three third downs and a fourth. Minnesota's Joey Browner got credit for the first third-down conversion, as he was penalized 15 yards for a late hit on Anthony Morgan long after Harbaugh's pass fell incomplete.

Harbaugh later sneaked for 1 yard on fourth down and then threw an 8-yard pass to Tom Waddle on third down. Brad Muster had a third-down run of 2 yards, which was immediately followed by Harbaugh's 7-yard TD pass to Morgan.

The Bear's fifth drive — which came right after the Vikings made it 20-17 — included third-down passes of 17 yards to Dennis Gentry and 9 yards to Waddle, and culminated with Anderson's improvised 24-yard TD.

They also had the ball for 38 minutes, 20 seconds to 21:40 for the Vikings.

Baugh considers NFL records

DALLAS (AP) — Slingin' Sammy Baugh watched TV highlights of Mark Rypien's six-touchdown, 442-yard performance in the Washington Redskins' 56-17 rout of Atlanta and tried to remember a game 43 years ago in which he set an NFL record.

Rypien completed 16 of 31 passes, an average of 27.6 yards per completion against the league's fifth-ranked defense.

However, his 14.3 yards per attempt fell way short of the NFL record set by Baugh Oct. 31, 1948. On that day, Baugh completed 17 of 24 passes against Boston for 446 yards, an average of 18.58 yards per attempt.

"I don't even remember that game, I really don't," the 77-year-old Baugh said Monday by telephone from his ranch home outside Rotan, Texas, 210 miles west of Dallas.

Baugh remembers other records, such as on Nov. 14, 1943, when he threw four touchdown passes in a 42-20 Washington victory over the Detroit Lions and also intercepted four Detroit passes. His interception record still stands, though tied by 15 others.

Baugh led the NFL that 1943 season in passing, punting and interceptions. He led the league in passing six times and in punting four times, both records. His 51.4-yard punting average in 1940 still stands as a record, as does his 45.1-yard career average from 1937-52.

In a Nov. 5, 1939, game against the Philadelphia Eagles — "It was a game we played in the mud, I remember that" — Baugh punted 14 times, which stood as a record until four years ago.

No one else is likely to make the record book in such diverse categories.

"Back then, we had to play both ways. We had to do a lot of things, and you couldn't substitute in and out. You didn't have someone who just punted or kicked field goals," Baugh said.

WTC cage squads travel to Cisco JC

The Western Texas College Westerners, fresh from a 93-90 win over Ranger Junior College in the Thunderbird Classic in Hobbs, N.M., and the Lady Dusters of WTC, trying to recover from a 79-43 loss to Howard College in the Lady Texan Classic, will both be in action tonight at Cisco Junior College.

Tip off for the women's basketball game is 6 p.m. followed at 8 p.m. by the men's battle.

Coach Kelly Green's Westerners moved to 3-1 Saturday behind a pair of prolific freshmen.

Ricardo Hamilton of Dayton, Ohio, slammed home 20 points from his post spot and wing Brent Murphy of Smithfield, N.C., was good for 16.

"Ricardo had a big night (against Ranger). He really played hard," said Green of his center.

Murphy has also caught the coach's eye. "He's a real scrapper," the WTC men's chief said. "He hangs around the basket a lot and gets a lot of trash baskets."

Murphy is averaging 16 points a game for a total of 64, so far.

The WTC men beat McMurry in the season opener a week ago, then beat Carl Albert, lost to NMJC and defeated Ranger in the Hobbs tournament.

The Lady Dusters, laden with freshmen talent, lost their final two games in the Lady Texan Classic after whipping Scottsdale, Ariz. JC in the tournament opener, 68-36.

Coach Kelly Chadwick's WTC women lost to host South Plains College in Friday's round of the Levelland tourney.

Angela Littlejohn, a freshman from Canyon Randall High School was the only member of the Duster squad to score in double figures against Howard Saturday.

She made only two hoops from the floor but managed six successful free throws in eight attempts.

Today's games begin at 6 p.m. with the women's tilt followed at 8 p.m. by the WTC-CJC men's contest.

The Dusters will play in the Howard College Classic Thursday, Friday and Saturday before playing their home opener Monday, Nov. 18 at Scurry County Coliseum against Cisco JC.

The Westerners will host the annual WTC-McDonals' Classic Friday and Saturday at Scurry County Coliseum.

Games begin at 6 p.m. both nights with Panola, Temple and Howard rounding out the field.

W-H football player ruled eligible

CEDAR HILL, Texas (AP) — Lancaster school officials say they've given up efforts to prove that Wilmer-Hutchins used an ineligible football player this season.

The District 13-4A executive committee on Monday voted unanimously that junior linebacker Glenn Rice is eligible, allowing the 1990 state champion Eagles a chance to defend their title.

If Rice had been ruled ineligible, Wilmer-Hutchins (8-2) would have been forced to forfeit all its games and Lancaster would have assumed the second playoff berth in District 13.

Lancaster alleged that Rice's parents live in Lancaster while the boy resides with his grandmother in Wilmer. Rice played at Lancaster as a sophomore.

Wilmer-Hutchins officials told the committee Rice's parents are separated and the father has established residency with the grandmother.

The committee voted 6-0 in favor of Wilmer-Hutchins, said Cedar Hill superintendent Albert Thomas, the committee chairman.

"There was some evidence that his father, who is an over-the-road trucker, does have a place of residence in Wilmer," Thomas said.

Lancaster Supt. Larry Groppe said the district won't press its case with a lawsuit.

"We don't have any plans along that line," Groppe said. "We'll just say that we respect the committee's decision."

76er's Barkley to switch to No. 32

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Charles Barkley plans to wear Magic Johnson's magic number on his Philadelphia 76ers jersey this season as a tribute to his friend.

Barkley said he wants to switch his number from 34 to 32 to honor Johnson, the superstar Los Angeles Lakers guard who retired Thursday after 12 seasons because he is infected with the AIDS virus.

Magic's number, however, has been retired in Philadelphia. No. 32 was retired to honor 76ers great Billy Cunningham, a player for 12 seasons and a coach for two. Barkley said he already had Cunningham's permission and the team's approval to make the switch.

Morris, Nixon file as free agents

NEW YORK (AP) — World Series MVP Jack Morris of Minnesota and suspended outfielder Otis Nixon of Atlanta were among the seven players who filed for free agency Monday to raise the total to a record 99.

Meanwhile, the Pittsburgh Pirates made a late $18.5 million, four-year offer to outfielder Bobby Bonilla, who filed for free agency on the first possible day. The offer was rejected Friday by Bonilla's agent, Dennis Gilbert, and other teams can start making offers today.

The total of free agents broke the previous record of 96, set last year. Others filing were third baseman Mike Pagliarulo, second baseman Al Newman and catcher Junior Ortiz of Minnesota, pitcher Steve Ontiveros of Philadelphia and outfielder Max Venable of California.

Milwaukee right-hander Bill Wegman agreed to a $9.5 million four-year contract Monday night rather than file.

Four players were eligible to file by the midnight deadline and didn't: Los Angeles catcher Gary Carter, Houston pitcher Mike Scott and pitcher Todd Worrell and catcher Rich Gedman of St. Louis.

FSU Seminoles look to Cotton Bowl

DALLAS (AP) — Florida State could be Cotton Bowl bound if it loses to Miami on Saturday, a source close to the Dallas New Year's Day game says.

The Seminoles popped up in the Cotton Bowl picture on Monday because Notre Dame has decided to go to the Sugar Bowl on Jan. 1, the source said Monday.

Should Florida State defeat Miami, then the Cotton Bowl could turn to Alabama of the Southeast Conference. Alabama has one loss, Miami, reportedly bound for the Blockbuster Bowl, was in the Cotton Bowl last year but left a bad impression with its department.

Top-ranked Florida State (10-0) called the Cotton Bowl Monday morning to set up a fall-back position should it lose to No. 2 Miami (8-0) Saturday.

Jim Brock, executive vice-president of the Cotton Bowl, wouldn't comment only to say that lack of sanctions on the colleges and universities has caused deadline jumping again this year.

"The institutions have no sanctions and are calling the bowls for commitments and the bowl guys are jumping the gun just like they did last year," Brock said.

SHS PRIDE OF THE WEST BAND MAKING CAPITOL NOTES!

Photos By Pam Zeck

Blood donations from Persian Gulf vets halted

BALTIMORE (AP) — The nation's largest association of blood banks today called for a ban on donations from Persian Gulf War veterans and other visitors to the region because some were infected by a parasite that causes a potentially fatal disease.

The Pentagon planned to announce a similar ban later today, The (Baltimore) Sun reported. Dr. Joel Solomon, chief executive officer of the American Association of Blood Banks, said there have been no documented case of transfusions transmitting the parasite, known as Leishmania tropica. But "we are instructing our blood centers to take a set of prescribed measures based on the information that we have at this time," he said.

"These are precautionary measures due to a theoretical risk to blood safety and the absence of a commercially available screening test," Solomon said. "We believe that the actual risk of contamination in the civilian blood supply, however, is extremely low."

Members meeting in Baltimore for the association's 44th annual meeting decided on the ban Monday night.

The ban applies to Persian Gulf War veterans and any civilian who has visited any of the eight Persian Gulf countries — Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, Iraq, Bahrain, Qatar, United Arab Emirates, Oman or Yemen — since Aug. 1, 1990, the association said. Iraq invaded Kuwait in August 1990.

Blood bank association officials said they would reassess their ban in January 1993.

The Department of Defense was to announce at a press conference today that seven Persian Gulf War veterans were found to have contracted visceral leishmaniasis due to the parasite Leishmania tropica, the association said. The parasite is often spread by the bite of sand flies.

The Pentagon told the blood bank association about the infection Friday, Lt. Col. Jean Freitas, a Department of Defense spokeswoman, told The Sun.

Leishmaniasis usually causes skin lesions, but one particularly virulent strain causes diarrhea, fever, chills, weight loss, anemia and can lead to death, Freitas said.

Of 19 Gulf War veterans who picked up the parasite, seven carry the more severe strain, she said.

Freitas said the Pentagon's ban would stay in effect until a screening procedure is developed to detect the parasite. Blood bank association officials said they would reassess their ban in January 1993.

Donald Doddridge, the association's president, predicted the ban would result in a shortage of blood available to military bases. He said that could in turn affect the public's blood supply if it is used to compensate for the military shortage.

Meanwhile, this week's association meeting was to include discussions on how to protect the nation's blood supply from AIDS virus contamination and how to reassure the public it is safe, Doddridge said.

The association's 2,400 member agencies collect almost two-thirds of the nation's blood supply and are responsible for 80 percent of transfusions.

Bond denied for murder suspect

GALVESTON, Texas (AP) — A murder suspect arrested after his case was aired on the television crime show "America's Most Wanted," remains jailed without bond.

Jeremy Abshire, 29, was arraigned Monday on a charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution, said Galveston County Sheriff's Sgt. Tommy Hansen. U.S. Magistrate John Froeschner denied bond for Abshire.

Hansen said a hearing is scheduled for later this week.

McQueen also updated trustees on the college's arrangement with the Texas Employment Commission — particularly in reference to providing training for former Walls Industries, Inc. employees. Sixty-five former Walls employees took part in an orientation held three weeks ago at the college. Through the Trade Readjustment Act, the workers will be eligible for retraining at no cost.

"It's a great opportunity for Walls, their former employees and hopefully we'll have 60 to 75 students as a result of that," McQueen said.

Trustees also approved the financial report and past minutes. Present were John Fagin, Carl Williams, Howard Sterling, John Gayle, Bill Wilson Jr. and Bob Hargrove. R.C. Patton was absent.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is an article from the Texas Parks and Wildlife publication about how some landowners in Texas will benefit from House Bill 1298.

Wildlife Management has now been classified as an agriculture use for purposes of ad valorem taxation. House Bill 1298, sponsored by Representative Hugo Berlanga of Corpus Christi, provides landowners an option to manage for indigenous species of wildlife on their lands rather than engage in marginal agriculture to qualify for the ag exemption. Thus, a landowner instead of raising a few head of cattle or farming a small area to retain the agricultural exemption from property taxes can now implement approved wildlife practices and still qualify for this exemption.

David Langford, executive vice president of the Texas Wildlife Association, stated "the conversion of these parcels of land to wildlife management instead of ranching or agriculture should be reflected in better living conditions for wildlife, the disappearance of some marginal producers from the agriculture and livestock industries and better market prices for the serious operators."

Langford added, "there are no losers in this bill; Texas wildlife gets a boost, farmers and ranchers have better market prices, absentee landowners can run more efficient operations, and there is no effect on the overall tax picture. Everybody wins — and wildlife is the biggest winner of all."

Section 23.51, Tax Code (7) Wildlife Management means using land that on Jan. 1, 1992, was appraised as qualified open-space land under this subchapter, in at least two of the following ways to propagate a sustaining breeding population of indigenous wild animals to produce a harvestable surplus of those animals for human use, including food, medicine, or recreation:

- habitat control,
- erosion control,
- predator control,
- providing supplemental supplies of food,
- providing shelters, and
- making of census counts to determine population.

Note that land affected must be appraised as qualified open-space land, or be eligible to be so appraised as of Jan. 1, 1992. Guidelines and details for implementation of the bill are still being compiled by the State Property Tax Division of the Comptroller's Office and should be out soon.

Parents play a very important role in laying the foundation for their children's literacy. They can informally teach preschool children about reading by reading aloud to them, telling them stories, discussing events, encouraging them to learn letters and words, and teaching them about the world around them. These activities will help them prepare for successful reading. In addition to laying a foundation, parents need to foster their children's reading development as they grow. This can be accomplished by taking them to the library, encouraging reading as a free time activity, and supporting homework.

It is important that parents check to see if their children are comprehending what they read. Before reading, ask your child questions to set the stage, such as: "From reading the title, table of contents, or chapter headings, who do you think will be the main character?" "What do you think he or she will do?" and "What do you think will happen to the main character?" After reading, discuss what happened and have the child draw a picture of it or create a mind map. A mind map has a circle in the middle of the page with the main character or main event written in the circle. From the circle, lines are drawn outward with related characters, places and events written on the lines. Thus, at a glance, one can be reminded what the chapter or book was about.

The beginning of the school term is a great time to begin traditions that support reading in the home. Here are some ideas:

•Assign a day of the week as "library day." Try to keep a weekly schedule and encourage completion of reading projects within the week. To do so, help your children select books that they can finish reading within the week. Then make it a point to visit the library on a regular basis.

•Set up a "reading corner" where books, newspapers and magazines to be read are kept.

•Establish a "reading hour" during the day when the television and radio are turned off and everyone in the home reads.

•Initiate a "story time" when each member of the family shares what he or she has read for the day. Design a "reading chart" with every family member's name listed down the left column. As the members finish reading a book or magazine, place a sticker along the row of their name.

•Offer a "reading reward" for those family members that read a predetermined number of books or magazines.

Above all, emphasize the joy of reading. Make these traditions fun so that your children will relate reading as a pleasant experience.
