City Meeting For Friday Night

Executive Program Announced for Next Open Meeting in Several Months

The Floydada Chamber of Commerce will hold a general public meeting Friday night, November 16th in the County Court Room at the Court House at seven-thirty P. M. According to the notices being mailed out the program is full of matters of public interest and at the same time there is enough diversion to it to afford a pleasant and peppy meeting as well as a profitable one.

Attention is called to the fact that the Chamber of Commerce has not held a public meeting for several months. Due to the standing rule of organization not to have public meetings while a protracted meeting session, none of the summer meetings were held. During the past few months, the secretary has been working of the city with the organization's exhibit program.

According to Secretary Hopkins, many members are continually wanting to know when they are going to have another public meeting. We hope that these same members will show their interest in a tangible form by being on hand Friday night to see that the meeting is a success. Not only that but such members should be prepared to see that the organization undertakes those things which justify its existence, he said.

The tentative program for the evening is as follows:

Report of secretary on activities of the organization.

General business session.

"The Red Cross Community Work in Floydada"—Discussed by G. A. Linder.

"How we hope to turn Floyd County's Roads over to the State Highway Department."—Discussed by W. C. Hanna.

Miscellaneous Selections by the famous Bruno Quartette.

The above is only tentative and may be added to.

FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS MEET AT WICHITA FALLS

The annual convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs is in session at Wichita Falls this week, having begun Tuesday and will last throughout Saturday 17th.

There are several speakers of international fame at the convention, among them, Dr. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the Women's International Alliance and organizer of the League of Women, and Dr. Aurelia Henry Rhinehart, president of Mills College, California, and one of the five greatest educators in the United States today. Mrs. Phebe K. Warner, who is well known in Floydada will also give an address.

The 1922 Study Club is taking a great interest in the convention as their district president, Mrs. Carl Goodman of Plainview, who has presided over this district for the past two years, is to be run for State secretary.

Mesdames J. B. Jenkins and L. V. Smith were chosen delegates from the local club.

HAND CUTTING OF FEED SAVING MANY ACRES

Hand cutting is saving many hundreds of acres of feedstuffs in Floyd County this fall.

In many instances the heavy rains left fields so muddy that during the cloudy days the fields did not dry and will not be in condition, in some instances at least, for binders to enter in several days yet.

One of the many farmers who have saved crops by hand cutting is John McDonald, of Muncy, who got into his forty acre Sudan field with a bunch of hands during the foggy weather and saved the entire crop, using hoes for chop knives.

E. C. NELSON, SR., IMPROVING

E. C. Nelson, Sr., has continued to improve since being removed to his home from the Smith & Smith Sanitarium, where he had an operation two weeks ago.

His condition has continued satisfactory and he is expected to be back at his post with the First National Bank within a few days.

C. R. Wilkinson, of Lockney, was in Floydada Tuesday on business.

Sixty Varieties of Flowers Blooming Here

There were sixty-five varieties of flowers blooming in Floydada before the frost and at least sixty of them are still blooming.

It is probable that there are a few varieties blooming that are not on the list as the survey did not cover the town, however it will be a source of wonder to some to read the list obtained as the general idea is that that Floydada is not a "flower town."

The following list was taken from four or five different flower gardens in town: Violets, Begonias, Sweet Pea, Larkspur, Phlox, Squash, Sun Flower, Touch-Me-Not, Marigold, Periwinkle, Snap Dragon, Verbena, Zinnia, Chrysanthemum, Bachelor Button, Alfalfa, White Clover, Primrose, Pinks, Pansy, Dahlia, Morning Bride, Nasturtium, Honey Suckle, Canna, Morning Glory, Roses, Heliotrope, Black-Eyed Susan, Perennial Larkspur, Cosmos, Flour O'clock, Daisy, Coleus, Geranium, Madara, Petunia, Strawberry, Clematis, Golden Glow, Golden Rod, Holly Hock, Jack Bean, Cox Comb, Butterfly Bush, Poppy, Crepe Myrtle, Perennial Phlox, Sweet William, Poinsettia, Aster, Salvia, Carnation, Hibiscus, Portulaca, Balsam, Colchicum, Lantana, Nicotiana, Mignonette, Jimson, Madagascar, and Sultana.

There are between fifteen and twenty of these varieties blooming in the city park.

MARRIAGE RECORD

License to marry was issued November 10th by Miss Clara Lee Johnson, County Clerk, to Mr. Willard Pierce and Miss Linnie Lacy.

B. C. Blackman Hurlled To Death From Ladder

Former Resident of Floydada Victim of Accident at Sixth and Polk in Amarillo

B. C. Blackman, for a number of years a resident of Floydada, was hurled to his death from a 20-foot ladder mounted on a truck at the intersection of Sixth and Polk Streets in Amarillo Saturday night about 10 o'clock, his skull being fractured, when a heavy car ran into the truck on which his ladder rested as he mounted Armistice Day decorations on street lights.

He died at 12:10 at St. Anthony's Sanitarium without regaining consciousness.

He was in the employ of the City Light and Water Company of Amarillo, having been named as gang foreman recently. He had just begun work of hanging flags and bunting when the heavy sedan driven by an Amarillo man struck the truck from the rear. Blackman was thrown clear of the ladder and struck on the pavement twenty feet below. He was taken to the sanitarium in a car.

Mrs. Blackman had retired for the night when the accident occurred, Mr. Blackman having just taken her home. She has been prostrated with grief since the accident, and under the care of physicians. She and a little child survive her husband, three children of the family having already been buried in Floydada Cemetery.

The body of the deceased reached Floydada Tuesday afternoon and lay at the home of Mrs. Blackman's parents, Judge and Mrs. Arthur B. Duncan until Wednesday afternoon at three-thirty when the funeral was held. Elder Alvah Johnson, of Tulia, who baptized the deceased some three years ago, conducted the funeral service.

Mr. Blackman had resided in Floydada for several years until he moved to Amarillo 18 months ago. He had been manager for the Bell Telephone Company's local office and later manager of the office and plant of the Texas Utilities Company here. For two years he was engaged in the electrical supply business here. He married in Floydada, his wife formerly being Miss Mattie Duncan, youngest daughter of Judge Arthur B. Duncan.

Interment was made in Floydada Cemetery following the funeral service.

Besides his wife and child Mr. Blackman is survived by his father, W. L. Blackman, of Plainview, who was here for the funeral, and a brother and sister, neither of whom could come to the funeral.

Earl Cleshshir, of Lockney was in Floydada last week on business.

More Than 100 Enjoy Legion Banquet

McDermett Post Celebrates Fifth Anniversary of Armistice Day in Fitting Way

Declaring that as the ex-service man had proved himself great in time of war, he should also prove himself equally as great in time of peace, and that now when the sword is sheathed is the time for the Legionnaire to give of his time and his effort to see that American institutions are preserved against the peace-time enemies of the republic, Zeb Reed, business man of Lockney, in a twenty-minute address featured at the McDermett Post Banquet Saturday night, presented a message that was declared a gem by everyone present.

More than a hundred persons, including a number of non-members of the American Legion, were at the banquet and enjoyed the very pleasing feast prepared by the ladies of the Y. W. A., and served in equally pleasing style by nine young ladies of the town, equally enjoying the program of talks, music and readings which were given. Inspired by the good music played by the Novelty Four Orchestra and the wonderful feed the flow of wit and humor was uninterrupted from the opening announcement made by Toastmaster E. C. Nelson, Jr., until the close of the evening's program.

Mr. Reed was in a happy frame of mind when he arose to address his audience. Introduced as a Floyd County business man, a home product, Mr. Reed acknowledged the introduction by admitting he is "a homely looking product." He paid a tribute to the dead and declared that honor is due the living members of that great body of men who fought in the World War.

Opening the evening's program with the Legion Hymn, "America," the audience stood as G. C. Tubbs pronounced the invocation.

Judge L. G. Mathews discussing the subject "Get with the Gang," pointed to the many world problems still unsolved although the war is now five years in the past. "Now, as never, we need a system," he said. "And to obtain a system we must organize—must help each other," speaking to ex-service men in an appeal for a greater membership in the American Legion. The Bolsheviks, the Reds, the clicks and clans and other un-American uprisings in America during the past five years are the backwash of the World War, such as have followed all serious disturbances of the economic balance of the world for all the ages past, he said. The men who carried the United States flag through the war are the men on whose shoulders the peacetime problems will also fall in a large measure, he said, and through organization they can be met successfully. The work the Legion is doing to aid its less fortunate fellow ex-service men was also pointed to briefly with the suggestion that "we must help each other."

Mr. Mathews also had some interesting information as to the affairs of Maury Hopkins and J. H. Reagan, which he gave some attention to the delight of his audience.

Mrs. E. C. Nelson, Jr., sang a very pleasing solo, "Love Sends a Gift of Roses," and responded to call for an encore with "To my First Love," with Mrs. J. V. Daniel at the piano.

Maury Hopkins responded in a happy manner to the toast, "To Floydada." He also paid his compliments to the toastmaster and to L. G. Mathews, both of whom had shed light on Mr. Hopkins' affairs of the heart.

Miss Mattie Lee Richardson, teacher of expression in the Floydada Public Schools, rendered Robt. G. Ingersoll's "A Vision of War" excellently, and her encore number, Kipling's "Tommy," was perhaps even more well-received.

Ford Butler, for McDermett Post, toasted "The Ladies" and Miss Ruth Collins, for the Legion Auxiliary, toasted "The Boys."

Judge F. P. Henry, T. S. Stevenson, G. C. Tubbs, N. A. Armstrong, Dr. C. M. Thacker, Mrs. L. V. Smith and Miss Clara Lee Johnson, among others, acknowledged introduction by the toastmaster.

J. C. Wester, member of the Legion Committee having the arrangements in charge, expressed appreciation for the aid the committeemen had from various sources and expressed the sentiments of the entire assemblage when he thanked the Y. W. A. and the young ladies who assisted them,

Howard Bros. 200 Sections To Be Cut Up

Announcement of Sale in Farms and Small Ranches Made By W. M. Massie & Bro.

Following the visit of Edgar B. and Alvin P. Howard, brothers, of Philadelphia and New Orleans, owners of the "Howard Lands" northeast of Floydada, in Floyd, Briscoe, Motley and Hall Counties, W. M. Massie & Bro., their agents, announced Monday of this week that the huge tract of land, comprising more than two hundred sections will be cut up into small farms and ranches and sold out for settlement by small farmers and ranchmen.

An inspection and surveying trip is being made this week by J. M. Massie, Civil Engineer Geo. A. Linder, and a party of men to establish corners in portions of the large tract so that the lands may be shown to prospectors with greater ease.

The land to be sold comprises a number of plains sections, several sections of strictly grazing lands suitable for ranches, and a large number of sections "under the hill" comprising some of the best cotton farming land in all of Texas, outside the boll weevil and boll worm belt.

The land is to be sold on terms or cash to suit the individual purchaser, it is announced.

The cutting up of these thousands of acres into farms will add greatly to the development of the section northeast of Floydada, which is partially tributary to Floydada and other Santa Fe points and partially tributary to the Fort Worth & Denver at Estelline, Memphis and other points. The potential value of the land to be cut up, as an agricultural section, is very great.

FIRST DEATH IN BAPTIST CONGREGATION IN MORE THAN TWO YEARS

The death of Mrs. J. J. Foster on Sunday morning last at 11:30 was the first in the congregation of the First Baptist Church in Floydada since the pastorate of the present pastor, Rev. J. Pat Horton, began two years and five months ago.

In the funeral service and eulogy of the life of Mrs. Foster, Rev. Horton mentioned that fact Monday afternoon.

Until the time her illness became such that she could not attend, Mr. and Mrs. Foster were among the most regular attendants on the services of the church.

PATRICK GREENLEAF RELEASED FROM LUNACY CHARGE

The young man who had been held in the Floyd County jail until Monday of this week for some ten days on a charge of lunacy, while he was under observation, was tripped before a jury in county court Monday and released from custody.

Queer actions, indicating possible violence, marked the young man's actions when he was taken into custody. At that time he refused to give his name. The latter part of last week he told officials his name is Patrick Greenleaf and that his home is at Joplin, Mo.

A fund of a few dollars was made up for the unfortunate Monday following his release, but he refused to wait long enough to receive it, declaring the fastest way out of town was slower than his feet could take him. Judge E. C. Nelson, Jr., now has the fund in charge, and is ready to distribute it back among the donors, he said, if he knew to whom to give it.

for the preparation and serving of the excellent food.

The national colors were used in the decoration scheme, and the tables were strewn with large red and white chrysanthemums. The legion colors and standard were given prominent places on each side of the speakers' table. The Barrow Building was used for the banquet.

The menu served in six courses was as follows:

- Fruit Cocktail
- Mixed Pickle
- Celery en Branch
- Sliced Tomatoes
- Mock Turkey
- Chestnut Dressing
- Cranberry Sauce
- Candied Sweet Potatoes
- English Peas
- Davis Apricot Salad
- Nelson Ice Cream
- Reagan Angel Cake
- American Cheese
- Cafe Noir
- Nuts
- Mints

$1 Apportionment From State School Funds Made

A one dollar apportionment of state school funds, in addition to the $2 county apportionment was made last week by County Superintendent E. C. Nelson, Jr., to the schools of the county, making a total of $3 per capita available for school purposes in this county.

The total rural scholastic population on the basis of which the apportionment was made was 1793. Of this number, however, 33 are transferred from this county, 54 are transferred to Floydada Independent School District and 33 to Lockney Independent School District, leaving 1670 rural scholastics for whom apportionments were made to the various district funds.

ROAD BAD TO AMARILLO

Judge Arthur B. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Brown and Mrs. Jno. A. Hollums went to Amarillo Sunday, leaving Floydada at 3 A. M., following receipt of the news of B. C. Blackman's death.

They were nearly 18 hours on the going trip by auto, on account of heavy roads reaching Amarillo Sunday night.

They returned home Tuesday afternoon following the shipment of the body of Mr. Blackman here for burial.

ELDER COPELAND PREACHED

Elder Frank Copeland, of Lockney, preached Sunday morning last at the Church of Christ, filling an appointment with the church made last week.

Shop Now And Mail Early, Postoffice Advice

Suggestions are Made by Postal Bulletin for Expediting Christmas Package Mail

Have you done your Christmas shopping yet? If you haven't you are reminded that it is time to begin. Uncle Sam's Post Office Department knows its time to begin for he is already lining up his forces in preparation for the annual rush, and instructing his men in ways and means of expediting the travel of the millions of packages which will be turned over to his parcel post department for delivery to friends or relatives in other cities.

"The Post offices will make every effort to handle the Christmas mails without congestion and delay, but owing to the enormous volume this can be done only with the co-operation of the public," the first assistant postmaster general declares in an open letter through the Postal Bulletin. This means that if you expect reasonable service this Christmas from the post office department you'll have to give a reasonable amount of co-operation.

Among the things you can do to expedite the Christmas mails: Shop now and mail early; Wrap or pack parcels securely in order that they may reach their destination in good order;

Fragile or perishable matter must be specially packed to expedite safe handling; Postage should be affixed in the upper right hand corner of the package;

Christmas gifts addressed to points within one day's travel should be mailed not later than December 21st; within two day's travel not later than December 18th; within three day's travel not later than December 16th; for more distant points not later than December 14th.

To insure best service in your shopping begin now a systematic preparation of your plans for the Christmas shopping season, drop into the stores in the forenoon, and do not delay too long. At this time of the season you can be reasonably certain of more attention to your desires than later in the season when your delay may discommode a house full of other customers.

Then when you have done your shopping be sure to get your Christmas parcels in not later than the dates suggested above by the first assistant postmaster general.

Floyd County Students at W. T. S. T. C. Show Leadership in Phases of College Life

Special to the Floyd Co. Hesperian: Canyon, Texas, November 13, 1923. There are forty two students in the West Texas State Teachers College who come from Floyd County. Of these twenty seven come of Floydada; thirteen hail from Lockney and two give Mickey as their home address.

From this group of young people there are at least six who hold prominent places in the student life of the College as shown by the offices they hold; Miss Kate Bullard was chosen as one of the delegates to the Baptist Student Union meeting which took place at Abilene a short time ago; Miss Annie Gertrude Conner is an officer in the Home Economics Club; Tate Fry is in demand because of his ability to sing and to play the piano; Jessie Green is working in her capacity as a student now, but during the past summer she acted as Student Worker for the Methodist Church; Miss Myrtle Miller of Lockney is a member of the Student Council, one of the most important organizations of the College; James Odus Mitchell is a member of the Buffalo Squad, and one of the finest basket ball players the school has. He was recently injured in the game with Clarendon and will be out for the remainder of the football season. Many other Floydada students are coming into prominence in student circles.

SINGING AT SAND HILL ON THE FOURTH SUNDAY

BAPTIST ASS'N BOARD TO MEET HERE NOVEMBER 23rd

Rev. G. W. Tubbs, moderator of the Floyd County Baptist Association, Wednesday issued a call for a meeting of the associational board to be held in Floydada on Friday, November 23rd, at 11 A. M.

The meeting will be held at the First Baptist Church. Important church business is scheduled to have attention at the meeting.

WET SNAPS AND BOLLIES PULL DOWN MARKET

Cotton Movement Has Been Brisk Considering Bad Weather and Labor Shortage

Although the effort of farmers to get their cotton on the market in some shape and realize from it in this manner rather than to lose it, has caused the raisers heavy loss in prices paid for their cotton in the past ten days on account of wet "snaps" and "bollies," the movement has been brisk and every two or three day period of sunshine brings with it an overflowing yard full of cotton wagons loaded with cotton for the gins to turn out. And while this is true, there has been no appreciable reduction in the amount of cotton to be gathered.

Bad weather in the past seven days has again delayed the gathering of the staple. For that matter, most all the cotton raisers began gathering their cotton two wet after the first sunny days last week and as a result samples have been bad. Wet cotton of whatever grade will not give a good sample or turn out, giners declare, who are advising their customers to pick their cotton rather than snap it and to give it a chance to dry before they bring it to the gin. Although an occasional bale shows up on the yards that brings a fancy price the big bulk of this week's ginnings has been going at less than 30 cents. A few bales have gone as low as 26 cents.

The total ginnings for Floydada yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock was 1927 bales. Gins lost practically two days this week, Monday and Tuesday, but the crews spent the time well in overhauling the machinery which the heavy, wet cotton had damaged.

TAXATION, BUGABOO

How they do about taxes downstate is indicated we conclude by an enlightening story in the daily press of Monday. In the story it is told that the banks of Falls county, 15 in number, have joined in a suit by which they hope to go into court and prevent the collector of Falls county from collecting taxes off of them on a basis exceeding 25 per cent valuation of their property.

But the Commissioners' Court, having sat as a board of equalization, declares the banks must pay on a basis of 60 per cent valuation.

The contention of the banks is based on a question of equity as between the value of their property and the values of other properties to which they are neighbors. In other words, the banks think that inasmuch as the remainder of the property in Falls county is taxed on a basis of 25 per cent of its value the property of the banks should be taxed in the same manner.

Which forms a pretty good argument for a West Texan to base an argument on reform of taxes for the support of the state. In Falls county the banks contend that the property is valued at about 25 per cent of its value for taxes, and everybody knows the banks know in a mighty few cents of the actual value of lands in Falls county.

Meanwhile Floyd and many other forward-looking counties in this portion of the state are paying on the basis of 50 to 80 per cent, the banks paying on a basis of 66 2-3 per cent. So that Floyd County helps to put up that portion of the support which Falls fails to give the state's treasury.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

The annual roll call of the American Red Cross is in progress over the country, and the wonderful work of this organization entitles it to have your earnest consideration as an organization for the dissemination of mercy and in the name of the American people.

Its work during the World War and its work since, notably in the Japanese disaster and disasters closer home—even in Texas—are evidences of its worth to the world. It doesn't cost a great deal to get your name enrolled and you can, without fear, disregard the slanders which jealous tongues are throwing.

The American Red Cross is an agency established by Congressional enactment. The president of the United States is its president. It is a responsible agency.

If the Red Cross does not do everything just like you would do it, also recall that your church, your lodge and your other civic, business and religious organizations do not always do just to suit you. And you can afford to go ahead with your support of the Red Cross in the same manner that you continue supporting your other organizations.

Enroll in the Red Cross this year without fail. You'll feel better for it.

HERE'S COMMON SENSE

"An adjustment must take place in the price of cotton mill machinery before it will be possible for new mills to go in business," Porter A. Whaley, general manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, advises the press of West Texas in a circular letter this week.

"It will cost $80 a spindle to put in a mill at this time," says Mr. Whaley, reporting on the investigation of a committee of West Texas business men into the matter of opening up new mills in Texas, particularly West Texas, "Whereas most of the mills now operating in the United States have been put in at a cost of $40 per spindle."

People who accuse Chamber of Commerce organizations, and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in particular, with being a "bunch of hurrah boosters who do well as long as somebody else foots the bill" might well ponder this statement from Mr. Whaley about the cotton mill situation. Mr. Whaley has long given evidence of being a good business man to those who have watched him. To those others who see only the superficial demonstrations in an annual convention and think that's about all there is to Chamber of Commerce work we recommend a study of those two brief sentences out of a two-paragraph letter that may save west Texas citizens hundreds of thousands of dollars and much wasted time and effort.

SCHOOL PARADE FEATURES "LUBBOCK SPECIAL"

Lubbock's "special train of 200 students" was featured in the High School Parade Friday afternoon of last week preceding the annual fray between Floydada High School and Lubbock High football squads.

Taking possession of the downtown business section the kids paraded and "pep-squadded" about very much. The "special" was laughable to the nth degree, especially to those who had been listening to talk of the special which was to have been run over here to impress the local lads. Fitting a delivery truck up with smoke stack of worn out stove pipe, attached to the exhaust; a wheezy whistle that squeaked and grunted alternately representing the chug chug of the "panting monster," the pilots had a merry time depicting their opponents in burlesque. Among the passengers was the personnell of the "Lubbock Band" that was to have accompanied the train. Four coaches (little express wagons drawn with twine strings) completed the "train."

A part of the parade was formed by four 24 Buicks, each having as passengers representatives of each of the four high school classes—freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors.

BUILD YOUR CITY

While praising and admiring the work other cities and towns are doing toward building empire centers it is well to bear in mind that you also have a job cut out for you, that job being the building of a center all your own—an empire center such as you will be glad to look back upon as worthy to be called your handiwork.

For instance, we mean, for one thing, that if Floydada is not making the progress in any line of endeavor which you think it should make that failure is your fault—not your neighbor's fault. At least it's as much your fault as it is his fault. Get that idea in your head and, if you've been knocking, quit talking about what "they" ought to do, and go do it yourself. If you see the point, it's your job, anyhow. Perhaps "they" are not blessed with the keenness of perception you have been vouchsafed.

So far as our information goes, the scriptural command, "Let your lights so shine" doesn't mention your neighbor's smutty wicks.

FLOWERS AND FLOWERS

A little story in this week's Hesperian tells of the many varieties of flowers found blooming in a few yards in Floydada when Frost fell a week ago. The list reads like a botanist's dream.

The people of this city and the surrounding communities as well are beginning to disabuse their minds of the idea long held that this country is "just naturally not adapted to flowers." Flowers grow beautifully and bountifully in this soil. Floydada people may as well have beautiful flowers and flower gardens as are grown in other portions of the country.

Count the varieties of flowers you have in your flower garden, then check this list for others you do not have. Then see how many of them you can grow next year to add to the beauty of your home. (This in turn to add to the general attractiveness of your community.)

Of such things are made "a community in which you will like to live."

The announcement is made that Col. Ernest O. Thompson is to be a candidate for congress from this district against Marvin Jones, present incumbent. Whether the announcement is made by Col. Thompson, or is allowed to be broadcast, as it were, as a feeling, is not made known. In view of the fact that Jones has made an excellent record in Congress and is now in position to give the district some weight on committees not heretofore enjoyed in recent years, a change at this time might be of doubtful value. However, it must be admitted, on the other hand, that Col. Thompson is a man of more than ordinary ability himself and won distinction through bravery and ability in France. Our most serious objection to both is that they reside in Amarillo. If The Hesperian felt the need of changing horses at this time we'd pick on a man who probably has more ability than either as a statesman, who is none other than Judge L. S. Kinder of Plainview.

MRS. J. J. FOSTER DIED SUNDAY MORNING AT 11:30

Mrs. J. J. Foster, a resident of Floyd County since 1901, died Sunday morning at 11:30 at the Foster residence on South Fourth Street, following an illness of a few days' duration, and was buried in Floydada Cemetery Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, with the rites of the Order of the Eastern Star at the interment service.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Baptist Church conducted by Rev. J. Pat Horton, pastor, assisted by Rev. G. W. Tubbs, many friends of the family attending.

The deceased had been in ill health for five years and a recent trip to the Pacific Coast had been made in an effort to restore her health. Last week she became seriously ill and on Friday she began sinking, dying Sunday morning.

Amburn, of Campbell; Mrs. J. W. Southard, of Lamesa, Texas; and Mrs. E. T. Green, of Pomona, Cal. Mrs. Green the last of the children to reach Floydada, arrived Saturday. These with Mr. Foster, her husband, survive her.

A native of Mississippi Mrs. Foster was born on February 6th, 1851, and had been a member of the Methodist and Baptist Churches since early childhood, having been a member of the Baptist Church since 1883.

She and Mr. Foster had been married fifty-three years on September 15th last.

Moving to Texas in an early day the Foster's were residents of Jack County for a number of years until they moved to Floyd County in 1901. For more than ten years they have been residents of the city of Floydada. The deceased was 72 years, 8 months and 5 days of age at the time of her death.

H. B. Callahan, who is now making his home at Amarillo, was in Floydada Saturday to Tuesday on business.

MRS. WM. N. ANDERSON DIED LATE SUNDAY NIGHT

Mrs. Wm. N. Anderson (nee Miss Eunice Farmer) died about 4 o'clock A. M., Monday, November 12th, at the Anderson home eight miles southeast of Floydada, her death coming unexpectedly to members of the family and relatives.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the cemetery by Rev. J. L. Henson, pastor of the Methodist Church at Floydada, and interment was made in Floydada Cemetery at 6 o'clock.

Mrs. Anderson was reared as a girl in Floyd County. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Farmer, who survive her. She is also survived by a brother, Frank Farmer, and her husband and two children.

She was a member of the Methodist Church at Campbell. She was 23 years of age.

PETITION FOR ADDITION BOND VOTE IN LOCKNEY DISTRICT

Citizens of Lockney and Lockney Independent School District this week are petitioning for an election to be held by the district for the construction of an addition to the Lockney Public School Building.

Citizens who are asking for the election believe that a ten or twelve room addition should be made to the present building to adequately care for the scholastics in the district.

The petition will be presented to the board this week probably.

LOSES GRIDIRON CLASH TO LUBBOCK

and Black Revenge Loss of Last Year to the Whirlwind Team

Orange and black of Lubbock's football squad triumphed over the green and white of Floydada Friday afternoon last at the Baseball Park, more than a thousand people witnessing one of the high school football contests of this section in years.

In the first five minutes of the game, the Whirlwinds won their first touchdown. Receiving the ball from the left, they punted to the 20 yard line. The ball returned to the 50 yard line. Failing to make headway, the offense plunges and passes Burke to the 22 yard line and Lub-gain returned to the 42 yard line. Lubbock penalized 5 yards. Made 25 yards on off tackle and after 2 line bucks and a pass attempted field kick from the 30 yard line, which failed and the offense over. Lubbock punted to the 20 yard line. On a crisscross Daily ran for the downs, failed to kick. Lubbock's first score came in the second quarter. The first quarter ended with the ball in Floydada's possession on Lubbock's 36-yard line, down and 14 to go. The ball went and in a punting duel Lubbock had possession of the ball on the 20 yard line. Two line bucks were wed by a completed pass and a run by Ater for a 45-yard gain and touchdown. Failed to kick.

Lubbock kicked off to Floydada and of scrimmage formed on Floydada's 26-yard line. Floydada threw defensive and fighting desperately, following a penalty of five yards and failure to make downs. The sterners bucked the line four times. F. H. S. was penalized 5 yards for offside. With six yards to the Lubbock boys put everything on a final effort to buck across. Led by another five-yard penalty on offside the Lubbock boys tried eight times to buck the last yard between Green and White line, however, holding like a brick wall, and the ball going over. In the next two minutes Lubbock scored when F. H. S. punted to the 10 yard line and on first down Ater or Lubbock made a long run to the 17 yard line. An off-tackle play carried the ball the full distance for a touchdown.

The remainder of the quarter was spent in a punting duel, mixed with end runs and line bucks. The Green and White apparently weakened and although they took the offensive from the 30-yard line on the kick off were still 17 yards from Lubbock's goal when the half ended, with F. H. S. 6, Lubbock 12.

Neither side scored in the third quarter. Off-tackle plays, end runs, line bucks, punting and every kind of football was mixed in this hectic 15 minutes, but the Lubbock team was beginning to solve the plays of the Green and White and were breaking through to mess them up, while their own offensive game improved and the quarter ended with the ball on Floydada's 20 yard line in the possession of the Westerners.

Opening the last quarter the Lubbock colors made two downs on an end run and line buck each and had the ball on F. H. S. 5-yard line. In the confusion the head lineman gave L. H. S. five downs, the visiting boys gaining a total of only 2 yards, and the ball went over. F. H. S. punted. Lubbock's first effort after returning the ball to the 12-yard line was a pass, which was completed for a touchdown. Kick from placement failed.

Lubbock kicked to Floydada. With the score 18 to 6 against them the Green and White threw caution to the wind and with a slashing passing game started marching down the field from their 42-yard line, completing five out of seven passes, which with two line bucks put them in 1 yard of the Lubbock goal line. Four line bucks failed to gain an inch and the ball went over. L. H. S. punted and the ball was returned to the Lubbock 28-yard line. Two long passes and Daily went over for a touchdown. An attempted pass for extra point failed to complete.

Continuing their passing tactics the Green and White marched from their 11-yard line following the kick off for forty yards, the whistle blowing for time up with the ball in the air and the line of scrimmage on Lubbock's 32-yard line. Score, Floydada 12; Lubbock 18.

Outstanding among Lubbock's players on offense were Ater, quarterback; and Hawes, fullback; Castleberry, right tackle, is the hardest hitter a Green and White line ever bucked. Castleberry was Lubbock's outstanding defensive man, with Kittrell second.

For F. H. S. Loran showed the best on line bucks and Rodgers mixed in more plays than any other individual on the team. Luttrall, McDonald and Maxey are entitled to special mention for their defensive work.

Officials: Allen, Daniel Baker, referee; Edwards, University of Texas, umpire; Hale, W. T. S. T. C., head lineman.

SHENANDOAH, GIANT DIRGIBLE, MAY GO TO NORTH POLE

2,150,000 Feet of Helium Used to Fill Bag—Housed in Two Million Dollar Building

Without doubt, the advent of the Shenandoah (ZR-1) heralds the creation of a new field for those of the younger generation who find the ordinary pursuits of life a trifle too tame for their roving temperaments.

If the position of radio operator on an ocean liner seems fascinating to the imaginative youth of to-day, what will the post of radio operator on the huge dirigibles of the future be to the boys of tomorrow.

Take for instance the Shenandoah—that giant dirigible, a fitting acquisition of the United States Navy.

Many of the residents of our eastern cities have seen this tremendous vehicle of the air. Most of us have only read about it. But a few facts relative to its construction and size may prove interesting.

It was built at Lakehurst, N. J. by the U. S. Navy, many of the parts being made at the Naval Aircraft Factory, at Philadelphia.

It is 680 feet long, 78 feet in diameter and from the bottom of its cars to the top of the bag, it is 96 feet.

It is powered by six 300-horsepower specially built Packard motors (1800 h. p. in all) which, it is estimated will give the huge craft a speed of 70 miles an hour. Its 5,000 gallons of fuel is carried in tanks placed along a center keel compartment. The cruising range is over 4,000 miles.

Instead of hydrogen which has been used as the supporting gas for dirigibles and all other lighter-than-air craft for many years past, a new and very valuable gas known as helium has been used to inflate the Shenandoah.

Helium gas is found as 1 per cent to 3 per cent of certain natural gases found in the Texas and Kansas oil fields. As explained by officials of the flying field at Lakehurst, the United States has practically a world's monopoly on this valuable gas, 2,150,000 cubic feet of which are needed to fill the bag of the Shenandoah. Though nearly as buoyant, it has not the explosive qualities of the hydrogen.

Contrary to the general belief that the gas is contained solely under the outer covering, it is enclosed in twenty gas cells within. The sole purpose of the outer covering is to give the ship stream-lines, to reduce the effect of the sun's rays on interior gas cells and to keep out rain and snow.

The metal framework is made of duralumin, a metal compound of aluminum, copper and manganese. It is as strong as mild steel, weighs only one third as much, but its cost is about fifty times greater.

In the outside cars are contained the six engines. The forward car is called the control car and, in addition to containing its engine, it is to the airship, what the bridge is to the battle-ship. It contains the life controls, steering controls, telegraphs, radio, gyroscopic and magnetic compasses, etc. and is the point from which the ship will be steered, piloted and navigated in the air.

Special 12-volt Exide batteries are used to furnish current for engine ignition and running lights. These batteries in order to combine high capacity with light weight, have very thin plates, assembled in hard rubber containers. One battery is located in each of the six engine cars.

For radio, where the demand for current may require 200 amperes or more for a few minutes, four Exide batteries of the same type as used for ignition and running lights are used in series-parallel on a 24 circuit. The series-parallel arrangement was adopted instead of using larger batteries, in order to insure absolute interchangeability of all batteries on the ship. The radio batteries are located, together with all the radio equipments, in the control car. All the batteries receive their charges from a generator system in much the same manner as an automobile starting and lighting battery receives its charge.

The huge building in which the Shenandoah is housed, cost approximately $2,000,000. It is 962 feet long, 348 feet wide and 200 feet high. The clear door opening is 258 feet wide.

It is understood that the ship will probably make a flight to the North Pole, sometime this fall or next spring. Such a trip would require about five days.

The ZR-3, being built in Germany for the United States Navy will probably be completed this fall or winter, and on arrival in the United States will be placed in the same hangar with the Shenandoah.

Chester Day of Canyon spent last week end in Floydada with his parents, Elder and Mrs. J. J. Day.

Mrs. D. C. Durham of Sterling City is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Davis, having arrived last Friday.

NEIGHBORS HONOR GRANDMA CARR ON HER 80th BIRTHDAY

Sunday, November 11th, was a day long to be remembered by the Carr's Chapel folks, it being the 80th birthday of Grandma Carr.

Plans had been made to give her a surprise birthday dinner. Sunday morning it was misting rain, but a goodly number, as usual, went to Sunday school, and carried well filled baskets hid in their vehicles. Grandma was present for she seldom ever misses a service from church. After she had gone home the crowd followed. And such a surprise when she saw all that bunch had come.

My! Such a dinner as was spread on those tables, for one table would not hold all the good things that were brought. And such a joyous crowd, too. Though the rain was pattering on the roof there was good cheer and happiness within.

It is always a pleasure to visit at Grandma's. Though 80 summers have passed over her she is still young and takes the keenest interest in everything and especially in the young life of the community.

70 persons were present and, if the weather had been good, more would have come. After singing a number of good songs the crowd dispersed, feeling that it was good to be there, and wishing Grandma many more happy birthdays.

Everyone was very proud of the pretty days last week and work was rushed to full capacity.

W. E. Dooley recently sold a bunch of calves to N. A. Armstrong.

Honor roll for Sand Hill School, second month, is very brief, owing to such bad weather which greatly interfered with attendance. The following, however, have met the requirements:

Armistice Day, holiday for which had been declared and was observed generally over the country on Monday, was not observed at Floydada on that day by the retail stores. Only the banks and post office were closed all day.

An effort by a few of the retailers to make it a holiday was started by remaining closed until shortly before noon, when it became apparent that the demand for their remaining open was such that their doors reopened.

DEATH OF RAYMOND DAMRON

When the news reached our Sunday school last Sunday morning that little Raymond Damron, one of our pupils in the primary department, had died so suddenly, we were indeed sad, and regretted very much that he would be in his class no more.

Raymond was nine years old. He had attended our Sunday school since he moved to Floydada last spring. He loved his teacher and delighted to be in his place. His chair is vacant now and he will be missed.

We extend our deepest sympathy to his father, brothers and sisters and other relatives. May they find comfort in Him who alone can give real comfort to the bereaved heart.

"THE HOME OF GOOD MERCHANDISE"

ST PONY EXPRESS IN 1838

Baltimore Sun Used That Means of Getting President's Message Before Its Competitors.

The first pony express service, says the Detroit News, was started by the Sun of Baltimore, Md., in 1838. To quote Prof. James Melvin Lee, in "History of American Journalism": "While other papers shared the honor of its development, the pony express was really started by the Sun of Baltimore, Md. * * * On December, 1838, the Sun hired a representative to bring, with the help of a Canadian pony as nimble as a goat and as swift as the wind, a copy of the President's message to the Sun office on Light street. The Sun's pony express rendered a great service to the nation during the Mexican war. It inevitably carried the first news to the capital. Oct. 4, 1847, the Sun published the following note as a tribute to the pony express: "Our pony team, as if in anticipation of the great excitement prevailing in the city on Saturday evening, came flying to the stopping post with the most thrilling and important intelligence yet received from the seat of war, full twenty-four hours ahead of steamboats, railroads and even telegraphs."

BIG CITY'S CHIMING BELLS

Manhattanite Tells of the Daily Jingling That Marks the Passing of the Hour.

"I never heard the chimes of Normandy," said the near Gramercy Park resident to the Brooklynite, "but I'll put the early morning chimes of Manhattan against any little old French jingles. "The Manhattan chimes start about 2 a. m. usually and in our block they continue until 8 a. m.," says a writer in the New York Sun and Globe. "The chime owned by the 2 a. m. man is a Big Ben and it has a large audience. Probably the owner has a milk route in Brooklyn. Then at 3 a. m. musical notes vibrate from the room of a copy reader on an evening paper. At 4 comes the real performance. A genius on the top floor of an apartment building has fastened to the head of his bed a complete set of alarm clocks, ranging from Big Bens on down to the wrist watch size. They are set to go off one after another in the hope that one may touch a responsive chord in the heart of the sleeper. When the entire set fails to register because of that familiarity that breeds contempt for alarm clocks the genius has planned a cold shower attachment for Big Ben."

SHIRTKMAKER TO APOLLO

An enterprising haberdasher in Germany has put his knowledge of the classics to excellent use in his advertising. Here are a few specimen ads: "Even Macbeth could sleep in our nightshirts." "Don Juan would have doubled his conquests by wearing our neckties." "When Niobe began to weep she ordered six dozen of our handkerchiefs." "We could have arrayed Solomon in twice his glory." "Had Lot's wife passed our windows she would have stopped to look, no matter what the consequences." "We made Apollo's shirts." "Desdemona would never have been careless about her handkerchief had it been one of ours; they are too beautiful."—Boston Transcript.

BRAVE HUSBAND

As Tompkins was on his way home after nightfall he collided with Jenkins, who was running as fast as his bulk would allow him. "Why this hurry, Jenkins?" he inquired. "I'm going for—the police," said Jenkins, between pants. "We've got a burglar in our house." "But, surely, you haven't left your wife alone?" "Oh, no! She's holding the burglar!"

WHY LOOK?

"Where will you find the most miserable of men?" exclaimed the exhorter vigorously. "You don't have to find him," responded a man in the back row, "he hunts you up and tells you all about it."—Boston Transcript.

AMERICA EASILY IN LEAD

Although there seems to be a good demand for German-made pianos in Mexico (doubtless because of the lower price), no country can compete with the United States in the sale of player pianos, since the United States is the only country in which this instrument has been developed to a state of perfection. So reports Vice Consul Shaw at Tampico.

WHIRLWINDS BEST PLAINVIEW WITH STRAIGHT FOOTBALL

The F. H. S. Whirlwinds gave an indication of their versatility as football players Monday afternoon of this week in their Armistice Day game with Plainview High, when, with a greatly changed line-up, and most of them sore from their Friday's mix-up with Lubbock, they bested their ancient enemies 34 to 7.

Straight football was used throughout by the local boys. The Plainview lads won their lone touchdown with one of the longest passes ever thrown in a game in which the Whirlwinds were playing. F. H. S. scored first in the first quarter and failed to kick for the extra point. They scored again in the second quarter and kicked from placement, the half ending 13 to 0.

A series of passes were used by the lighter Plainview team in the third quarter to win their touchdown. On three successive kick-offs that followed the Green and White marched down the field for as many touchdowns, using endruns and line plunges principally.

Me. Burke was out of the game with sore shoulders, Abbott played right half for Loran two quarters, and Daily, Rogers and Henry took a third of the game each at fullback for Burke, King and Moore taking tackle for McDonald and Rogers to rest or take other positions and Slaughter relieving F. Luttrall at center for two periods. Maxey and Holmes also had substitutes in the persons of Parker and C. Luttrall at the guard positions for half the game.

The Plainview team ought to be one of the strongest contenders in the district for honors within two years and possibly within one year. In developing their runner-up-to-the-champion Whirlwinds two years ago the subs were neglected with the result that the Plainview colors have trailed far behind this season.

With the Whirlwinds definitely out of the running for district honors Coach J. C. Wester said he had not made any Turkey day game schedule yet, but hopes to match his boys against a good team to play in Floydada.

Miss Margaret Grigsby, who is attending Wayland College at Plainview, spent last week end in Floydada with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Grigsby.

Special Officer W. B. Jones, of Slaton, was a business visitor in Floydada Monday and Tuesday.

LUBBOCK PLAYERS DECLARED ELIGIBLE BY AUSTIN

Roy B. Henderson, secretary of the Texas Interscholastic League, authority on the rules governing the inter-scholastic competition among high schools of Texas in athletics, declared in substance in a telegram Wednesday to Athletic Director J. C. Wester of the Floydada High School, that his protest of last Friday's game over the question of eligibility of players, was based on a misconception of the rules governing transfers. Players transferred to Lubbock High School from other schools, some three in number, are eligible players according to the construction put on the rules by Mr. Henderson.

Notice that the game Friday would be contested if Floydada High suffered defeat; was served by Coach Wester before the game started. His protest was to be based, he told the Lubbock coach, on the ineligibility of Castleberry, a transfer from Brownfield to Lubbock. This boy attended school at Brownfield last year. As it turned out Castleberry was probably responsible for the defeat of F. H. S. in Friday's game. He is the hardest man a Green and White line ever hit, the players are agreed.

As indicating that his protest was not a case of "sour grapes," Coach Wester refers to Section 14, Transfer

Rule, on which he confidently relied as backing his contention. It says: "A student is eligible to represent only the school district in which his parents or guardian reside; provided (1) a student from a school of less than fifteen affiliation credits is not barred under this rule who transfers to the higher class school having at least fifteen affiliation credits located nearest his home or the nearest one in his county; (2) one year's regular attendance after transfer renders a student eligible to represent the school so attended in contests of the league provided he is otherwise eligible."

Mr. Wester declared Tuesday that the Lubbock team is adandy, "And if they're eligible players, under the rules of the league, as Mr. Henderson indicates they are, then we haven't any kick coming on the defeat of our boys at their hands. In view of the fact that I had been working under a misapprehension of the application of this rule, and under my misapprehension had turned down two dandy backfield men who had wanted to come to Floydada High School this term, I am disappointed, of course," he said. "All I have to say now is that my boys have their ears backed and the school team that cleans them next year is going to remember it for sometime to come."

It has been estimated that the cotton raiser loses from $10 to $50 per bale on the sample of WET, SNAPPED COTTON, picked before the bur dries out; and for this reason we strongly advise our customers either to PICK THEIR COTTON OR BE SURE IT IS DRY BEFORE SNAPPING. WET SNAPS LOSE MONEY FOR EVERYBODY CONCERNED---GINNER AND COTTON RAISER ALIKE. Also your attention is called to the fact that it is a violation of the law, with heavy fine, for the cotton raiser to bring wet cotton to the gin and a violation of the law for the ginner to gin it. THEY WERE JUST PUBLICANS

Commonplace Persons Answer to Historic Names in an English License Court.

A new justice sat at her first licensing committee and rubbed bewildered eyes as she heard great names of history and literature, of kings and queens long dead, belabored out in court, to be answered by commonplace citizens in modern dress, says the London Mail. Had she come by mistake to the undress rehearsal of a pageant or fancy dress ball?

"Shakespeare," thundered the court sergeant, "Shakespeare," echoed the policeman to the outside corridors. "Sir Richard Steele"—"Sir Richard Steele."

Other names followed: "Lord Nelson," "The Duke of Wellington," "The Marquis of Granby," "Prince Blucher," "King Charles I," King William IV," "Queen Victoria," "The King of Bohemia." Later the bewildered justice learned what had already dawned on her experienced mind—that all publicans were called by the signs of their house and not by their names, so that all proceedings should be at once "understood of the people," and in the case of transfers of licenses any third person wishing to apply should know at once of the transaction.

BIG TELEPHONE CABLE

What is thought to be the largest telephone cable in the world of the submarine sort is that opened not long ago for messages, when direct telephone communication was established between Pomerania and East Prussia over wires 100 miles long that are laid in the Baltic. To comply with the provisions of the Versailles treaty, the line had to avoid the Polish corridor to the sea. The cable has six pairs of telephone conductors and three single lines for telegraph messages. The lines are insulated with paper and covered with lead, reinforced by a double helix of steel wires. The outside covering is a jute compound and is protected by an armor of twenty-nine galvanized strands of steel.

SHE WAS PLACED

Although she was past thirty, the stenographer often tried to be coy with the young salesmen. Occasionally, to get some extra work done they took her out of evenings, and she flirted with them in return. But the new youngsters did not court her as the others did. The climax came when she announced that she was going on a vacation.
"How long will you be gone?" one of them asked her.
Thinking that he had succumbed her charms, she dimpled back at him. "Two weeks," she answered.
"Oh," he turned to the fellow next to him and said in a mournful tone, "What is home without a stenographer?"

CANADIAN WEALTH GROWS

Canadians are among the richest people in the world. Public deposits in banks and loan companies amount to upwards of two billion dollars, or $250 per capita. Since 1914 the assets of Canadian banks increased 90 per cent; total deposits increased 99 per cent; bank notes in circulation increased 66 per cent; the value of field crops increased 68 per cent; the value of industrial production increased 185 per cent, and population increased about 20 per cent.

STRICTLY PROFESSIONAL

RALLS BEAT LOCKNEY IN LAST FRIDAY'S BATTLE

The Ralls High School beat the Lockney High School Football Squad last Friday afternoon 18 to 7, and became the runners-up in the drive for district championship honors.

The Lockney line was weakened by injuries, three men being out, and the Ralls boys made their best gains through the line.

Lockney High scored their only touchdown in the second quarter and kicked from placement for the extra point.

Ralls scored once in the third and twice in the fourth quarter.
A large crowd saw the game.

MISSIONARY LADIES OF FAIRVIEW EXTEND THANKS

The missionary ladies of Fairview wish to express their appreciation and many thanks to the ladies who so generously donated pies and cakes to make the dinner a success that we gave in behalf of the orphans' home. Although the proceeds were not as much as we had planned, worked and hoped for, we did fairly well taking into consideration the rough roads and unusually busy times.

We want to thank those, especially, who so liberally bought of the good things to eat that we had prepared for them. All who were present responded in the same christian spirit that is recorded in the Epistle James. Pure religion, and undefiled before God and the Father, is this, to visit the fatherless and the widows in their afflictions. Then it is written in the Book of Hebrews: To do good, to communicate, forget not, for with such sacrifice God is well pleased.
"Now, as we close we wish to include a thank you to each and everyone that contributed their help in any way. We believe that all we did was in Jesus' dear name. May He bless and prosper you in our prayer."

HARMONY NEWS

Harmony, Nov. 12.—The farmers have been taking advantage of the beautiful weather by gathering their cotton and feed. Quite a few have been cutting their feed by hand.

The Bible Study met with Mrs. J. A. Bagwell Thursday of last week.

The people of this community surprised Grandma Carr Sunday by taking dinner and spending the afternoon in singing with her. This was her eightieth birthday. She received some few presents from her friends who wished her many more happy birthdays. She is still an active worker in church and social affairs.

Rev. Preston Florence has been assigned the charge vacated by Rev. Blevins, but missed his first appointment Sunday on account of rain.

Miss Meryle Ramsey, formerly of this community, who is teaching at Campbell, visited friends here. Miss Faye Ruddick was also a visitor.

L. E. Williams has been on the sick list this week.

The singing at the Snodgrass home was enjoyed by all, Sunday, November 4th.

Miss Johnston entertained her little pupils last Saturday with a Halloween party.

Floyd Trowbridge was sick the first of last week but is much better now.

PROVIDENCE NEWS

Providence, Nov. 6.—The community was shocked Monday by the news of the death of Miss Golden, who was found hanging at her father's home. She had been in ill health for some few weeks. The family are well known in this locality.

After a dreary and dismal two weeks of mist and rain the sun is again shining.

Most everybody is busy picking cotton again.

The roads have been had in these parts, almost beyond travelling. We sure do need some road work done in and around Providence. Some of the children that live west and northwest have such bad roads to travel that they are obliged to go through the fields, which is bad for them on bad days and muddy.

A TALE O WOE

The Canadian Record tells of an auctioneer who visited in that city recently from McCurtain County, Okla., who stated that in that county there are three hundred farms to be sold in a few days on mortgage foreclosures.

This auctioneer declares that on not a one of these farms is there a hog, a cow or a chicken, the farms all being of the one-crop variety. Instead of raising chickens, hogs and cows the farmers are providing automobiles for their sons and daughters to ride in, this story continues, and are thus using up money that ought to go into pigs or dairy cows, to increase the productivity and value of the farm.

The auctioneer winds up his story with this advice: "Instead of giving the boy a dollar to buy five gallons of gas, tell him to go and invest it in pigs while the price is low and there is plenty of feed."

COUNTY UNIT OF W. T. S. T. C. EX-STUDENTS WANTED

Robert W. Castleberry, of the faculty of Floydada High School, has issued the following statement to ex-students of West Texas Teachers' College of Canyon:

"Ex-Students of the West Texas State Teachers College:

"In a recent communication from Miss Mattie Swayee, president of The Ex-Students Association, it is requested that all loyal students from the W. T. S. T. C. organize clubs as county units of the Ex-Students Association. Such clubs are being formed all over the panhandle. Floyd county has sent as many students to Canyon as any other county, with the possible exception of Randall county, and it is therefore desired that we shall be foremost in the matter of organizing and perfecting such work in this county.

"The primary aims which we wish to stress are: social activities, to the extent that college ties may be strengthened and perpetuated; second, community life, in which it should be our purpose to make ourselves felt as an energetic force for the betterment of local conditions; and, third, interesting students in our college.

"All that we are and all that we can hope to be is manifestly entwined with the fortunes of our Alma Mater; and its greatness cannot but broaden the field of service for us.

"Those who may be interested in furthering the above mentioned ideals are cordially invited either to write or to communicate in person if it be possible, and to make any suggestions pertaining to a call meeting in the very near future.

"Please watch the papers for further announcements."

Mr. Castleberry should be addressed at Box 764, Floydada, Texas.

BROWN-TAIL MOTHS INCREASE

Pest Imported From Europe Has Spread to Canada and is Causing Damage.

Brown-tail moths, the hair from the caterpillars of which cause the extremely irritating human skin eruption known as "brown-tail rash," have suddenly shown an increase in New England after an almost complete disappearance, reports Dr. A. L. Quaintance, entomologist of the United States Department of Agriculture. Similar measures to those used against the damaging gypsy moth will be used in an attempt to check the spread of this nuisance.

The brown-tail pest was brought to this country from Europe and first discovered at Somerville, Mass., in 1897. In a few years it had spread throughout the New England states and become unbearable to the residents of many sections on account of its poisonous wind-borne hairs. Many thousands of acres of forest also were attacked by the insect and the trees defoliated.

The prevailing winds have tended to cause the spread in a north-easterly direction into Canada, though disease among the insects in recent years apparently almost wiped them out. Now, however, they are again on the increase and causing trouble.

PIGEON FINDS WAY BY SIGHT

Bird Is Not Guided in Its Flight by Instinct as Commonly Supposed.

A British royal air force pigeon, released from a balloon a mile and half above ground, was unable to see the earth below on account of a thick blanket of clouds. After flying around for a little time the bird gave up all hope of finding its way back to its home, some one hundred and fifty miles away, and settled down comfortably on the balloon, much as Noah's dove settled on the ark when it could find no place to rest on account of the waters.

The pigeon, however, had better luck than Noah's dove, observes the Kansas City Star. After a time a rift appeared in the clouds, and the bird swooped from the balloon through the gap in the vapor, and two hours later had delivered the message tied to its leg.

This incident proves that a pigeon finds its way home by sight, not by instinct, as many have thought.

Robs Calomel of Nausea and Danger

Medical Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected Tablet Called "Calotabs."

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity,—purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water,—that's all. No taste, no gripping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large family package; Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs. (Adv.) 29-8tc

A Fine Sedan Anyone Can Own

How capably Buick provides the maximum of closed car comfort, power and utility is well expressed in this new 1924 four-cylinder, five-passenger Sedan. Everything that could be asked for is here. There is the well-proportioned, attractive body, Fisher-built. There is the famous Buick valve-in-head engine. There are the proved Buick four-wheel brakes.

Yet with all of its splendid qualities and mechanical superiorities, the price of this sedan is modest—within the means of the majority of motor car buyers.

Ford
Four-Door Sedan

Fully equipped, $685, f. o. b. Detroit

Inside and out, the new Ford Four-door Sedan shows improvements of far more than usual importance. It is lower and sturdier in appearance. New cowl, hood, radiator and apron add size and finish to the front. Sun visor, and wide, well-finished aluminum doors with bar handles perfect the design of the body.

Silk window curtains, deep broad-cloth upholstery; dome light, door lock, window regulators and handles, all finished in nickel, complete a refinement you would expect only at a far higher price.

TED REID, FORMER TEACHER AT FAIRVIEW, ATTACKED

Last Wednesday about one o'clock, Prof. Reid, Superintendent of the Farwell schools, was attacked on the streets of Farwell, in front of the Texas State Bank Building and badly cut up and bruised about the head and face.

After the attack he was rushed to Dr. Clark's office in Texico, and there it was found that he had thirteen or fifteen cuts and had to have between thirty-five and forty stitches taken to sew up the wounds.

It is alleged that J. A. Aldridge and his son Sam made the assault. The trouble is said to have come up over punishment that Sam had received at school that morning. It is alleged that the weapons used were a rock by Sam and a pistol by his father.

Mr. Aldridge and son waived the examining trial and were put under a $2,000 bond each, to await the next grand jury.

Prof. Reid is confined to his home and it is said it will be several days before he will be able to get out.—Farwell Tribune.

News from Farwell indicates that Mr. Reid is recovering from his wounds.

He is well-known over this county, having taught school three years in this county, one of which was at Fairview.

The school board at Farwell adopted a set of resolutions strongly backing Mr. Reid, declaring that the punishment administered to the boy was not too severe, and declaring their confidence in him.

COOPERATIVE MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Cooperative Missionary Society met October 29th, 1923 at the Methodist Church with Mrs. N. A. Wimberly as leader. Rev. Marler of the Christian Church led the devotional by reading Psalm 133. Mrs. T. R. Webb read that very entertaining selection "St. Peter at the Golden Gate".

A very interesting and helpful round table discussion was conducted by Mrs. C. J. Menefee after which Miss Matilee Richardson gave a beautiful selection, "The Camel's Burden." The president, Mrs. W. I. Cannaday, was then given charge of the meeting.

The officers for the coming year are: four presidents, each one to fill the office when the society meets at her church; Mrs. Geo. Lider of the Baptist Church, Mrs. Wilson Kimble of the Methodist church, Mrs. W. S. Kinnon of the Presbyterian church, and Mrs. W. H. Marler of the Christian church. Miss Lela Windsor was elected secretary and treasurer and Mrs. H. S. Sanders reporter.

It was decided not to meet December 28th as so many members will be absent for the holidays.

R. T. Stribling returned Thursday from Shallowwater where he had been on business.

W. D. Sanders returned Friday from Paris where he has been the past two weeks on business.

Curtis Carter of Wayland, spent last week end in Floydada with his mother, Mrs. S. Y. Carter.

Mrs. P. T. Rucker, of Lubbock, visited last week in Floydada with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Smith.

Very wise indeed!

Wisdom is but a collection of experience. The wisest benefit by the experience of others as well as by their own.

Any man insured after an accident, a fire, a sudden destruction of his property.

A wise man insures before an eventuality.

A very wise man would discuss insurance today. We can advise you—gladly.
