American Education Week to be Observed

Programs During Week December 3 to 9 Inclusive Planned and Rally Set for December 9th

Impressed with the proclamations of the president of the United States and the governor of Texas, teachers in Floydada Public Schools in a meeting Monday afternoon began preparations for the observance of American Education Week, December 3rd to 9th inclusive. Resolutions were adopted at this meeting pledging the teachers to suitably observe "in a spirit of patriotism" the week so designated and calling upon all teachers of the county, the American Legion, Parent-Teachers' Association, pastors of the various churches, and other patriotic men and women "to join in this great observance."

The governor of the state in his proclamation of the observance of the week has asked theco-operation of the state, county, and city officials, of school trustees, officers, and teachers, and of men's and women's organizations interested in the progress of our state and nation, and, above all, of the mothers and fathers of the future citizens of our state.

On the opening day of the educational week, Sunday, December 3rd, at 11 a. m., the pastors of the various churches have been requested to present the subject of American and Christian education. Two or more public programs will be given here during the week. Speakers from other towns have been invited to deliver addresses at the meetings.

Saturday, December 9th, is the closing day, and a big rally of the teachers and trustees of the county is to be held at the court house beginning at 10 a. m. and remaining in session the greater part of the day.

Among the out-of-town speakers that have been asked to take part in the week's program are: Mrs. Phoebe K. Warner, of Claude, and Dr. Anderson, of Plainview. They will deliver addresses to the Parent-Teachers' Association and to the teachers and trustees' rally.

The Parent-Teachers' Association will meet in regular session Friday afternoon, Dec. 8, at 2:30. A special program will be given on "Education." It is hoped that Mrs. Warner will be present for the occasion and deliver an address on "The important relation of the Parent-Teachers' Association to the schools of the state." Mrs. Warner is one of the most ardent workers for the betterment of home and school conditions in the state and her address will interest and be of value to every parent and teacher. Dr. Anderson is widely known in this section. He will very likely deliver an address on "The prevention of cancer."

Program for Sunday, December 8: Sermons will be delivered by the pastors of the respective churches in Floydada on the subject, "A godly nation cannot fail."

Whirlwinds to Meet Plainview Thanksgiving

The Floydada Whirlwind team, champions of district number 2, will meet the Plainview Bulldogs at Plainview Thanksgiving day, Thursday, November 30th. This is the second time the teams have met this season, Floydada defeating them here for the championship of this district by the score of 16 to 0.

Plainview has a strong team and it is reported that they are in better condition than when they played Floydada the first time.

Floydada was eliminated from the state championship race by Amarillo but this does not mean that the boys are downhearted. They are eager to get another chance at Plainview and they will play their usual spirited, fighting game.

Hollis Moore, one of the star halfbacks of the Panhandle, will very likely be in the Floydada lineup against Plainview. Moore will take position of right halfback. This will be the only shift in the regular lineup.

Coach Wester is confident of another victory, but he is getting his men in shape for a hard battle.

Plainview thinks they can beat Floydada on their home grounds and the game is sure to be a spirited one.

Christmas Turkey Market Opens Next Week

With the passage of the time in which turkeys could be sold for the Thanksgiving market the turkey market is dull and this week few of the birds are coming in from the raisers, but next week activities in this line are expected to re-open with the approach of the Christmas market.

Local dealers think a good price will be paid.

A peculiarity of the produce market during the past few weeks has been that the local market has been higher than in a number of the larger centers. For instance, for two or three weeks the Dallas market was so much lower than the market here that a dealer could have bought on that market, shipped here and sold at a little profit, taking regular prices. Today the market is 40 cents here, and 44 cents in Dallas.

Thanksgiving Service At Baptist Church

At ten o'clock this (Thursday) morning the Thanksgiving service of the community will be held at the First Baptist Church, and business houses will be closed all day as a part of the observance plan, while business generally will be suspended.

A large number of Thanksgiving dinners will be among the festivities of the day, to which many will repair following the service at the church.

Elder W. T. Cochran, Rev. O. N. Baucom, Rev. J. Pat Horton, Elder J. J. Day and Rev. J. L. Henson each will have a part in the morning's thanksgiving service. Rev. J. L. Henson will preach the sermon, and will have as his subject, "The Ground of Gratitude," his text being, "It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord." The High School student body will have a part in the program and a large attendance is expected from school.

In the afternoon a large number of local people will go to Plainview where the F. H. S. football team will clash with their rivals of long-standing, the Plainview High School, while others will spend the afternoon quietly at home. Hunters will be disappointed on account of the fact that the quail season will not be open and ducks and geese are few in number in this section as yet.

FLOYDADA SCHOOLS TO HAVE TWO HOLIDAYS THANKSGIVING

Superintendent J. N. Johnston has announced that the schools will have two holidays on Thanksgiving. There will be no school on Thursday or Friday, November 30th and December 1st. The schools will take up again Monday morning and the entire week will be observed as "Educational Week."

Judge W. B. Clark urges all teachers in the county to attend Friday evening and Saturday. Homes will be provided for visiting teachers and trustees. All the trustees of the county are requested to be present.

Annual Poultry Show Opens Today With Heavy Entries in Many Breeds

1,000 Birds from Many South Plains Points Represented in Big Competition Show

Approximately one thousand birds are assured for the Annual Floyd County Poultry Show, which opens here this morning, making this show the largest probably ever held in the county, and while the show is named the Floyd County Poultry Show competition is open to the world and competitors for the more than $400 in prizes offered on every standard variety of fowl, are arriving from Crosbyton, Kress, Plainview, Lubbock, and other out-of-county points. Oliver Allen, secretary of the Floyd County Poultry Association and A. D. White, superintendent of the show, yesterday morning began work of preparation for the event. Uniform wire net cooping had been set up yesterday at noon to accommodate all entries, and the large A. D. White Produce Company building, turned over to the association and the room had the appearance of a poultry exposition hall yesterday afternoon.

A large string of Buff Orpingtons and Buff Plymouth Rocks from Plainview and two exhibits of Barred Rocks and Black Langshans have been entered from the same city, as well as White Wyandottes and White Leghorns. A heavy entry of Anconas from Kress has asked reservations, Partridge Wyandottes from Crosbyton and a number of others from out of the county.

The more than $400 in prizes subscribed by business men of Floydada and Lockney will be distributed in prize awards to the owners of the birds on the basis of American Poultry Association rules by comparison, the same manner in which large poultry shows are judged. H. W. Duke of Amarillo, has been employed to do the judging. He will arrive today at noon and begin work at one o'clock. Completion of the judging should be reached by Friday noon or possibly a little later.

Fifteen or more members of the Floyd County Poultry Club are expected to have exhibits in addition to the sixty or more members of the Poultry Association in this county, and the out-of-county exhibitors. Entries made by the Poultry Club, besides having contests for first place among their individual entries, will also be eligible for competition against the regular breeders and fanciers. Turkeys are expected to have more than ordinary consideration at this show, and a good string of these birds are expected to be in competition. Four classes of turkeys are provided for in the prize list, with places for other varieties which may be shown.

Beginning in a modest way a few years ago the annual poultry show in this county has grown greatly in the past four years. Last year the show held at Lockney far surpassed any previous effort of the Poultry Association and this year's show is expected to surpass even that effort of the association.

Business men of Floydada and Lockney each year have realized the great benefits possible from the show and have been consistent donors to the fund for its financial success, and have aided the Poultry Association in every way possible. This year's show has been no exception, the Floydada Chamber of Commerce also adding its efforts through the secretary to put the show over in a large way.

Although awarding of prizes will be completed Friday noon the birds will be on exhibit over Saturday and it is expected that hundreds of persons over this and adjoining counties interested in good poultry will see the aggregation of birds.

LIVE STOCK RAISERS PLAN FARM BUREAU MARKETING

A number of local live stock raisers are interested in the organization of a Farm Bureau Live Stock Association in Floyd County, and have been investigating the advisability of such a move.

Last week W. D. Newell went to Dallas where he conferred with Farm Bureau officials on the project. He returned with information and contracts for the stockmen interested, and a meeting is planned for the early future to go into the matter thoroughly.

The Farm Bureau already has cotton, wool, grain sorghum and possibly other marketing organizations functioning in the county.

THIRTEEN CAR LOADS LIVE STOCK SHIPPED TO MARKET

Thirteen cars of livestock were shipped from here Saturday morning. The shipments included sheep, cattle and mules. Temple, Fort Worth, Kansas City, and Los Angeles were the markets receiving the shipments.

N. A. Armstrong, Stribling and Armstrong, Howard and Jones, S. A. Greer, J. E. Riley, W. F. Workman and Frank Stovall were the consignors.

ATTENDING SHRINE CEREMONIAL AT AMARILLO

W. A. Baker and J. A. Fawver left Monday morning to attend the shrine ceremonial of Khiva Temple which is being held in Amarillo Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

They will likely return home this afternoon.

The Odd Fellows' Home Coming program for this year will be held on Tuesday evening, December 12th, at the Odd Fellows Hall.

Thousands of Acres Being Sown to Wheat

Rains Make Season that Will Last Into 1923 and Wheat Sowing Follows

With rains over Floyd County and the entire plains and panhandle varying from one and a half inches to three inches, activity in wheat sowing has been marked on the farms in Floyd County. Thousands of acres of wheat are being sowed this week, and a heavy acreage of "dusted" wheat is up to a fine stand with prospects for early grazing.

The belief exists generally that the season we have will carry the wheat into late January. The grazing it will furnish will help a great deal in solving the feeding problem faced by some farmers whose feed crops were short.

With the end of last week's rain Thursday night moisture totalling one and a half inches had fallen during the month at Floydada. Some moisture fell during October and a season 8 to 10 inches deep furnished. Quite a bit more rain fell in parts of the county than at this place, apparently heavier southeast and southwest of Floydada.

Chamber of Commerce to Banquet Whirlwinds

The Chamber of Commerce is making plans this week for a banquet to be given Coach Wester and the Floydada High School team Tuesday evening, December 5. The banquet will be given to the football boys and their parents and to members of the school board and of the Chamber of Commerce. Arrangements are being made for about one hundred twenty five guests.

A special program for the occasion is being arranged. Prof. J. A. Hill, president of Canyon Normal College, has been invited to deliver an address on that evening on the subject of high school athletics. Mayor R. E. Fry and others will give talks. Other special numbers appropriate for the occasion have been arranged.

Tickets will be on sale at an early date.

Mickey Couple Celebrate Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. McLain, who were among the first settlers in Floyd County, Tuesday celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary at their home north of Sand Hill, a large crowd of friends from several communities, including Floydada, Sand Hill, Harmony and others being present for the festivities marking the occasion.

Friends who were present for the wedding anniversary declared the occasion a most pleasant one.

Perhaps the most notable feature of the long married life of this couple is the fact that in the fifty years there has not been a death in the family. They have five children, one boy and four girls, seventeen grandchildren and four great grandchildren. Three of the children with their families were at the wedding anniversary. They were Tom McLain who lives near Sand Hill, Mrs. Della Fullingim, of Plainview and Mrs. Clayton Williams, of Castro county.

Mr. and Mrs. McLain were united in marriage in Randolph county, Ark., near the Missouri line, on November 28th, 1872. In 1887, 35 years ago, they arrived in Floyd County and settled November 1st six miles north of Floydada near the site of Della Plains. 30 years ago they moved to their present home near Sand Hill.

Gets First Blood But is Overpowered in Second Half by Amarillo High

The Floydada Whirlwind team met defeat for the first time this season when they lost to Amarillo High 13-6 at Amarillo last Saturday. The Floydada team was out weighed from 10 to 15 pounds to the man, but they out-fought and out-generated their heavier opponents the entire first half of the game. The little Floydada team put up a fight that any school or town could be proud of.

The Floydada boys entered the game fighting and fought to the finish. They were defeated, but not until they had put up a battle that Floydada is proud of and will long remember.

The whirlwinds drew first blood when they put over a touchdown in the second quarter after holding Amarillo scoreless in the first. Amarillo had larger and stronger substitutes to replace their injured (of which there was a long list) and for this reason they were able to pound through the Floydada line for two touchdowns and a victory in the second half.

The game was one of many sensations and the stark fighting gameness for which F. H. S. has become famous came very near spelling disaster to the Sandies. Starting in early in the game, the Floydada eleven easily out-classed the Sandies in the first half. Remarkable line plunging by Nelson, Shipley and Macyl Burke and long punts by Maurice Burke put the ball each time deep in Amarillo territory and enabled the Whirlwinds to threaten their opponents' goal time and again. Floydada scored their touchdown on a triple pass, Maurice Burke to Henry to Daily. Daily made a sensational run on this play for 40 yards and a touchdown. Floydada again threatened to and in truth did score again in the second quarter when Maurice punted 45 yards and the ball rolled over the goal line, but not before it had been touched by an Amarillo back. The Amarillo back was tackled behind the line. This entitled Floydada to a safety which is two points, but the umpire claimed he did not see the player touch the ball before it crossed the line, so the score was not counted.

The entire Floydada team played a stellar game. Eubank at center, McDonald and Luttrall, guards, King and Britton, tackles, and Henry and Daily, ends, played the brand of football that only the fighting Whirlwinds can play. Nothing need be said of the backfield, the game by play speaks for them louder than words.

A crowd of near 2,500 fans saw the game. The Floydada delegation was small but noisy. The Amarillo and Floydada pep squads vied with each other between halves by staging an immense snake dance. Many people from Canyon, Pampa, and other surrounding towns saw the battle.

Floydada fans showed that they were behind their team from start to finish. Numerous telegrams were received by Coach Wester before and during the game assuring him of their faith in his team. The fans met their returning heroes at Plainview with a special train and gave the Whirlwinds a rousing welcome that more than expressed, that though they had been defeated, they were emphatically proud of their team.

Floydada people attending the game in Amarillo were: Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Rutledge, Mr. and Mrs. Glad Snodgrass, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Neil, Mrs. Lillie Britton, Mrs. W. J. Burke and Mrs. J. A. Awtry; Misses Ora Slaughter, Elna Eubank, Florence Nelson, Joyce Hopkins, Doris Armstrong, Mabel Wilkerson, Vera Fry, Evelyn Neil and Velma Nelson; Messrs. Tate Fry, J. N. Johnston, Calton Moore, L. B. Maxey, Roy Baker, E. E. Boothe, E. C. Nelson, Jr., John Luttrall, Irvin Bishop, Roy Snodgrass, Clem Ross, Bill Beedy, Jeff Welborn, Roy Haynes, Clyde Farris, Homer Steen, Ira Marshall, Clement McDonald, Roy Holmes, T. Scott Wilson, Otto Faulkner, Bevie Barton, Floyd Cash, Chester Day, Jodie Day and Joe Crain.

Amarillo was frank in stating that the Floydada team was the scrappiest bunch they have ever seen. They praised Coach Wester and complimented him on his wonderful fighting delegation and their fine spirit of sportsmanship. Floydada and their fighting Whirlwinds have a high place in the estimation of the Amarillo team.

KEEP THE SCHOOL GOING

There are many taxpayers in Floydada Independent School District who could pay their taxes now if they would, and the fact that the district actually is in need of the money prompts us to urge these taxpayers who can to go pay their taxes this week.

The simple situation is that the school must have money to go on, and the only source from which this money comes in any considerable amount is from the taxpayer. The Department of Education cannot be looked to to furnish any relief from land interest money or otherwise for possibly sixty days and then in not a large amount.
Meanwhile, the school must be kept going, not just going either, but going in an aggressive fashion.

And there are some men in the district who can now come to the aid of their public schools. If you are one of these men, you owe it to the boys and girls, and teachers—it's your move.

MORE ABOUT TAXES

Then, there is another thing, while we are on the subject of taxes and schools. That is the matter of delinquent taxes. While there are many delinquents in the county who have not paid the state and county tax and a number who have not paid the city tax in Floydada, the people who are doing the most damage, we think,
to the community are those, who, for one reason or another, refuse to pay delinquent school taxes. They hurt the community most because they hurt the school children. We had as well look the situation squarely in the face and admit that the "morale" of the community, so far as school matters go, is getting at a low ebb.
And we think delinquent taxes furnishes about half the trouble.

We do not mean to say it would be wise or even expedient to attempt to force tax payments from people in what is termed the "new" district.
In the course of six months or a year the courts will either declare these people in or out of the district.
But no such inhibition rests on the residents of the "old" district, and we think that, with malice to nobody and charity toward all, the school board should determine just as soon as the courts will determine such a thing whether or not everybody in the "old"
district can be made to pay their taxes. If they can be compelled to pay their taxes it should be done; if they can't be compelled to pay their taxes,
then all of us should have advantage of the information thus obtained, quit paying the tax and "turn the country back to the Indians."

THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving Day—the last Thursday in November—the day on which three hundred one years ago a handful of pioneers gathered together and thanked God for the great privileges accorded in allowing them a precarious existence.

We venture the assertion that no man now living in Floyd County, under forty years of age, possibly fifty, has ever seen such "hard times" as the Pilgrims were having the day they assembled for the first Thanksgiving service.

Relativity rules our reactions toward life in a large way. Times are "hard" or "good," we are rich or poor, relatively as we were rich or poor a year ago. Our ability to see things in which to find reasons for expression of Thanksgiving is relative. Thanksgiving was first established as a day on which to thank God for His bounty. And we have an idea, gained from reading some of the stories of the life of those fathers, about half of the bounty for which they had to be thankful was that their lives had been spared another twelve months while they were given opportunity to strive for a livelihood.

In the present day we might be in better mood for Thanksgiving had we more of the original viewpoint.

THE POULTRY SHOW

We're for it, of course. Furthermore, we are for all of those who are for it. It gives a great deal of pleasure to lend support to a movement that will prove of such incalculable value to Floyd County that no estimate can now be made of the dollars and cents it will have been worth to us in ten years.

Poultry raising has definitely established itself in Floyd County as a part of the scheme of livelihood. Poultry shows fostered by poultry raisers severally at first, later as an organization have had a great part in giving poultry raising its outstanding position in the county's welfare.

Such a good job as the poultry fanciers have done of it to date, and such possibilities as the idea has for the county in the future, would turn a wooden man into an enthusiast. We are truly glad that Floydada has the pleasure of having the Annual Floyd County Poultry Show this year.

FORDSON CLINICS AND SHOW SEEN BY MANY

To owners of Fordson tractors in this territory the Fordson "clinic" Friday morning and afternoon of last week and the motion picture show Friday night afforded a full day of activity, between 75 and 100 Fordson owners and prospectors attending the "clinics," while a crowd that filled the City Park Auditorium comfortably saw and heard the night program.
Barker Bros., local dealers for the Ford and Fordson gave the "clinic" and show, which were in charge of W. J. Atwood and Hugh Bassett, from the Ford Motor Company.

The clinics given in the morning and afternoon dealt with the workings of the different parts of the Fordson Tractor, and their purpose was to help
not only Fordson owners but owners of other tractors to better understand the purpose of each part and its value to the tractor. Mr. Atwood went into detail and explained thoroughly where the power came from, and how to care for the mechanism. After his instructions and explanations, moving pictures showing the entire workings of the Fordson motor were shown.
Educational pictures showing the advantages of good roads were also shown.

Sandwiches and hot coffee were served at the noon hour.

At the City Park Auditorium Friday night, educational pictures were shown in which the many uses of the Fordson were featured. The making of the tractor was also shown in detail, from the taking of the ore from the mines to the completion of the finished product. The pictures were most interesting and instructive.

County Agent, T. Scott Wilson gave a beneficial address on the subject of "The waste of farm machinery." He brought out some valuable points and stressed that the farmers of Floyd County should conserve the facilities which they have at hand. He spoke of the abuse of farm machinery and the importance of proper housing facilities on the farm. He closed with remarks of the great educational work being undertaken by the Ford and other motor companies. He stated that the time has come when the farmer is beginning to realize the need for better machinery and home comforts and is now striving to that end.

$35,000 LAND DEAL IN BRISCOE COUNTY

One of the biggest land deals noted for some time was the $35,000 deal consummated last week between P. A. Jones who is the owner of the Eaman ranch north of town and Fred Bell.
 Mr. Jones purchased the Bell tract of 450 acres one mile west of town, together with all stock. It is understood that Mr. Bell reserved only his favorite saddle horse and the family coon dog.—Silverton Star.

C. E. Neil and family went to Amarillo Friday, returning home Saturday night.

Fred Wimberly left last Saturday on a business trip to Kansas City.

COURT HOUSE AT SILVERTON SPURS OTHER PROJECTS

Silverton Star:
 Silverton is showing symptoms of coming out of the kinks. The completion of the splendid court house seems to have been the needed spur and inspiration. Practically the entire west side of Main Street, in the business section is already covered by concrete sidewalks laid to an established grade and it is no longer necessary to use a step ladder and a parachute to navigate the ups and downs caused by the difference of opinion as to the proper elevation in front of the various properties. The good work is now being carried along the south side of the square and in a short time the entire business section will be provided with permanent concrete walks. Crosswalks have also been built across Main Street and Commerce. The intersection Main and Lone Star is crosswalked and concrete underpasses for the storm waters are also under construction.

It is understood that negotiations are under way for the construction of a two story, fifty foot front, brick building on the south side of the square, but whether construction will be commenced before spring cannot be ascertained. It is also rumored that a handsome reinforced concrete garage and filling station will soon take the place of the present temporary structures.

AN ERROR

The Hesperian erred last week in the advertisement of the Berry Kash Store.

An item listed in his advertisement, "best outing, the yard, 15c" was made to read "best cotton checks the yard 15c."

Cotton checks were listed at 10c per yard in the advertisement, which was correct.

STUDY CLUB CHANGES DATE OK THANKSGIVING SOCIAL

It was decided at the meeting to move the date up from Thursday, November 30 to Tuesday, November 28. The club will meet at the home of Mrs. C. H. Davis in their next regular meeting, December 7th.

NEW YORK UNDER WATER

Though many people have a general idea that large parts of the United States have at times in the past been covered by the ocean, it is perhaps not so generally known that the continent is even now rising in some places and sinking in others. Not so very long ago, in a geologic sense, the Hudson plowed through a deep canyon or gorge at N. Y. City. Soundings show that this ancient gorge extends through New York Harbor and far out to sea. The land surface in this region has evidently been lowered, allowing the ocean to creep in on the land, fill the old river channel, and in places wholly submerge it. The ocean at one time submerged more of the land about New York than it does now, for in excavations made for some of the skyscrapers the remains of oysters and other salt-water animals have been found. By the nature of fossils thus found the paleontologists of the United States Geological Survey have been able to tell approximately when and how far the ocean invaded the land. They have found evidence of a submergence that was wider and older than that which now floods the ancient Hudson river gorge. New Yorkers need not, however, feel alarmed about the ups and downs of their island, for though this submergence is not so very old geologically, the geologist thinks and speaks in terms of thousands and even millions of years.

POSTMASTER SAYS NEW GOVT. SECURITIES GOOD BUY

"It is to be hoped that every person who can do so will exchange War Savings Stamps soon to fall due, for Treasury savings certificates," said Postmaster F. P. Henry this week. "The large amount of money invested and the great number of persons who purchased war savings stamps showed that the people of this country could save money when the necessity arose. Now, if they will take the money they saved when they bought stamps to aid the government in the prosecution of the war and buy Treasury savings certificates, they will demonstrate that the thrift lessons of the war have not been without effect. The holders of war savings stamps have seen investments of about $20.50 grow to $25 in five years, and larger amounts in the same proportion. They can see the same thing repeated if they reinvest in Treasury savings certificates. Interest accumulates at the rate of 4 per cent each year, compounded semi-annually. These savings certificates are exempt from the normal Federal income tax, and from all state and local taxation (except estate and inheritance taxes,) and may be held to the amount of $5,000, maturity value, for each issue, by every member of a family. They are backed by the credit of the United States Government, and afford an easy and sure method of saving."

PARENT-TEACHERS' ASS'N

The Parent-Teachers' Association will meet in regular session at the North Side School Friday afternoon, December 8th at 2:30. After the regular business session the association will adjourn to the court house and will render a program in connection with the "Educational Week" program to be given there at 3 p. m.

All members are especially urged to be present at this meeting.

NINETEEN TWENTY TWO STUDY CLUB HOLDS OPEN HOUSE

The Nineteen Twenty Two Study Club in their first entertainment for this year kept open house for their husbands in the beautiful and palatial home of Mrs. W. J. Burke from 7:30 to 10:30, Tuesday evening.

The decorations for the occasion were typical of the season. Ropes of autumn leaves with centers of mistletoe and holly draped the room. The Thanksgiving pumpkin was arranged as a table center while beautiful shaded lights cast a twilight glow over the entire scene.

Merriment throughout the evening was participated in by all present and each guest was thoroughly imbued with the spirit of the occasion. Among the many pleasing features of the evening was a vocal solo by Mrs. T. R. Webb and a reading by Mrs. C. H. Davis. The program was followed by a social hour when a salad course was served to about forty four guests.

The entire party voiced a vote of thanks to the committee of ladies who were especially responsible for the evening's entertainment, and to Mrs. Burke for her hospitality in so graciously lending her home for the occasion.

THE HOME OF GOOD MERCHANDISE

STATE OF WEST TEXAS WILL BE REALTY SOME DAY

Capt. J. D. Dickson, of Amarillo, "Capital of West Texas," Still Boosting State

Capt. J. D. Dickson, a well known west Texas booster, is registered at the Lindsay hotel as from Amarillo, capital state of west Texas. The captain is the author of a red lettered poetical postal card he sent out to his friends a year ago in which he formed the new state of West Texas, with Amarillo as capital, and Plainview home of West Texas A. & M. College, and naming all the state officers for his new imaginary state. This little card attracted wide attention all over the United States.

Capt. Dickson takes a keen interest in the public issues of the day, and his name is often seen signed to articles in Dallas and Fort Worth dailies. He is an Alabamian by birth and raising, and was for 18 years an officer in the U. S. government. He made a high mark in service for the country in 1918 as chief officer of U. S. government relief station for drought stricken farmers, with headquarters at Brownwood, and in 1919 as chief officer in charge of rehabilitating returning soldiers and sailors into normal employment with headquarters in Amarillo. "The propaganda for a new state of west Texas" said Capt. Dickson, may be premature right now, but the time is coming when it will be a reality."—Gainesville Hesperian.

LIVESTOCK JUDGING TROPHY CUPS AT W. T. S. N.

The two cups offered by C. O. Keiser for the best vocational agricultural stock judging team and for the best county agricultural stock judging team in the panhandle of Texas have arrived. These cups are fifteen inches high and are said by those who have seen them to be two of the handsomest prizes of this type ever to have been offered in west Texas.

According to Professor F. R. Phillips of the department of agriculture, the first cup will be retained by the Lubbock High School until the third week in February, when it will be returned to the Normal College and given to the school whose team wins first place in the Panhandle District Contest which will be held at that time. The Lubbock team which was coached by R. C. Mowery won first place in the 1922 contest. The second cup will be retained by the Canyon Club boys until the district contest next June. This team was coached by County Agent C. F. Walker. The first team which wins one of the cups three times will be permitted to keep the cup permanently.

W. O. W. STARTS TUBERCULOSIS SANITARIUM IN TEXAS

Omaha, Neb.—The Woodmen of the World, a national fraternal organization numbering 800,000 members and with a large membership throughout Texas, has begun the erection of a tuberculosis sanitarium at San Angelo near San Antonio, Texas. This will be the first of four such institutions for the treatment of members to be built in different parts of the United States, according to W. A. Fraser, sovereign commander.

The selection of the site was a tribute to the wonderful climate of Texas. Sites were offered in New Mexico, Arizona, North and South Carolina, the two Virginias and New York. The board of directors of the Woodmen investigated these sites and decided on the Texas location because of the mild, equable temperatures and beauty of the country in the San Antonio district. The climate of this region with its dry-pure air and perennial sunshine, is famous as one of the most healthful and delightful in the United States.

IMPORTANCE OF ANIMAL FOOD FOR LAYING HENS

By F. W. Kazmeier (All rights reserved.) In the fall and winter when the question of producing eggs is quite a problem, it will pay everyone to investigate the importance of animal food for laying hens. As has been stated in previous articles the white of the egg is made largely out of protein, and animal protein appears to be better for this purpose than vegetable protein. To give additional information along this line we shall discuss the various animal proteins available for feeding to laying hens.

Beef Scrap Beef scrap is a by-product of the large packing houses and contains both meat and bone, which have been boiled and dried. On account of having been dried it contains but very little moisture and carries a protein content between 45 per cent and 65 per cent. Good beef scrap is light colored with a sweet smell and no offensive odor, like inferior meat scraps. A way of testing beef scrap or meat scrap is by pouring boiling water over a small quantity and noting the odor. An offensive odor denotes a decomposed product or very poor quality beef scrap that should not be fed. It is only fit for fertilizer. Beef scraps and meat scraps are practically the same. Beef scrap contains a large per cent of protein and is very low in fat and carbohydrates, only about 13 per cent and very low in ash, or about the amount found in good wheat bran.

In feeding meat scraps, or beef scraps always investigate the quality. Inferior meat scraps causes all kinds of digestive troubles and diarrhea. Of all the available kinds of animal food beef scraps is perhaps the most convenient to store, feed and handle. The value of meat scraps is in the protein content it contains. It is of course animal protein which is more valuable for all kinds of poultry than vegetable protein that has passed thru an animal once.

Dried Blood Dried blood or blood meal is generally not as good for feeding to poultry as meat scraps, even tho it is much richer in protein. It is so very rich that it must be fed carefully. It is too concentrated and not sufficiently bulky. It also lacks in palatability. In drying the blood part of the protein is so coagulated as to make it indigestible. Blood meal is a refuse from slaughter houses, being nothing but the blood saved, boiled under very high pressure and temperature, and then dried. It is black in color and will partly dissolve in water. It sometimes contains much undesirable foreign matter.

Milk Products The best form of animal food for all ages of poultry is milk in any form or by-product. Skim milk has been substituted for meat scraps and the results have been very satisfactory. The feeding of sour milk is very satisfactory for two reasons. One for the animal protein it contains, and the other for the lactic acid. The lactic acid has the power of destroying certain microscopic disease germs found in the digestive system of all ages of fowls. It is a wonderful feed for chickens. Any kind of milk or milk by-product is worth as much or more fed to poultry than any other kind of livestock. The various forms of milk can be fed as drink or mixed in the mash.

Skim Milk Growing chicks require large quantities of protein and ash as bone and muscle forming material and in the case of the laying hen the same material is used to make the white of the egg. Skim milk is composed largely of water and animal protein. One hundred pounds of skim milk contains about 9 3/4 pounds of solid matter, which is rich in egg making material especially the white of the egg.

At the Indiana Experiment Station, two experiments were conducted to establish the feeding value of milk for poultry, especially laying hens. One lot was given milk and their regular ration. The other lot was fed the regular ration, but no milk. The pen fed skim milk laid more than three times as many eggs at less than one third the cost per dozen. It clearly showed that the feeding of milk to laying hens pays and pays well.

Green Cut Bone Green cut bone varies in protein content from 12 per cent to 25 per cent. It contains a large amount of water, which of course reduces its food value in proportion. It carries much beneficial mineral matter. It supplies the same mineral matter as oyster shell. It is a good feed for laying hens, but must be fed carefully, because on account of the moisture content it heats and spoils very rapidly. When green cut bone can be had for less than two cents per pound it may be fed at a profit. The feeding of about one-half ounce daily per fowl is sufficient. Overfeeding of this feed may cause serious digestive disorders. Green cut bone should be ground and fed the same day. If kept in a warm place it will spoil over night. It should be fed regularly or not at all. Feeding it spasmodically is not desirable. To keep it, spread out in a thin layer in a cool place. It is not wise to plan on cutting green cut bone by hand. It is too much of a job and most people soon will discontinue the practice.

Experiments

The University of Missouri conducted a series of experiments in which they found that a pen of 25 S. C. White Leghorn hens that were fed sour milk in addition to the regular ration laid a total of 3275 eggs. The pen fed meat scraps in place of the sour milk laid 2668 eggs in the same length of time, and the pen fed no milk and no meat scrap and no animal food of any kind laid only 1373 eggs in the same length of time. In other words the milk fed flock laid almost three times as many eggs. The beef scrap fed pen laid almost twice as many eggs in a year as the no animal food fed pen. This series of experiments should clearly show to everyone the importance of feeding laying hens plenty of animal food. It also brings out the importance of milk in a laying hens ration. Milk is simply a wonderful feed. As time goes on no doubt poultry raisers will learn to appreciate the feeding of milk to laying hens. In dollars and cents the above experiment showed a profit of $28.26 for the milk fed pen, a profit of $19.78 for the beef scrap fed pen and a total loss of $1.00 for the no animal feed fed pen. It pays to feed laying hens animal food. These figures were based on 1916 prices for market eggs.

Prepared Egg Mash In the manufacture of poultry feeds, the feed manufacturers have recognized the value of some kind of animal food. For this reason one of the best ready made egg mashes on the market today is made out of ground oat meal for a foundation and has dried butter milk and meat scraps for animal protein. It is needless to say that such an egg mash does make hens lay almost every possible egg they are capable of producing.

Jack Rabbits In some sections of west Texas especially people kill jack rabbits and feed them to their laying hens. This constitutes a very desirable form of animal food. The only difficult thing in connection with feeding it, is the fact that it is more or less uncertain how much they are fed. Some hens may not get enough and others too much. For this reason we recommend using a little judgment when feeding this kind of animal food. Fresh animal food like jack rabbits, may be fed raw in the winter but in the summer we advise feeding it cooked. The hens must be fed sufficient to do any good. A good plan is to feed all they will eat in about two hours every afternoon every other day. As long as the voidings show a good consistency you are not feeding too much animal food. As soon as hens are over fed on animal food, they will develop a looseness of the bowels. In specifying amount to feed in two hours, above, we were going on the assumption that the rabbits were fed, cut and hung up, but not ground up fine. If fed ground, feed the same amount as indicated in the feeding of green cut bone.

CHIROPRACTICALLY SPEAKING, PEOPLE DO NOT DIE FROM DISEASE, BUT OCCLUSION (DISTURBED TRANSMISSION) OF NERVE STIMULUS.

The question that arises is, if occlusion of nerve stimulus causes sickness, pain and suffering, what shall we do to be released from the same. The matter, however, is simple. A bone, vital organ or other tissue is displaced, and because of the displacement it is pinching, stretching or distending nerves, occluding stimulus and causing pain, sickness and abnormal function. The thing that must be done is to put the bone, or organ, or other tissue back into proper relation. If this is done, thus removing occlusion, nerve stimulus will radiate normally, will it not? And if it radiates normally all of the trouble will soon be corrected, and the patient well.

MAKES SUCCESS WITH JERSEY COWS ON FARM

Mr. J. B. Rutledge, who lives four miles north of Floydada, and some six miles of Lockney, and in discussing the possibilities of this country from a dairy standpoint, he stated that for one month this year, July he sold 102 pounds of butter from six Jersey cows, besides what his family consumed.

Mr. Rutledge has only been out of east Texas two years, and is thoroughly satisfied with the plains country. While he has been hit hard in way of short crops, yet he says the country is alright and promises greater opportunities than any section he has ever lived in.

Mr. Rutledge's experience with Jersey cows could be the experience of every farmer in Floyd County. Jersey cows can be made very profitable on the farm, and made to pay big dividends.—The Lockney Beacon.

Paul Flake, with the Texas Utilities Company at the Plainview plant, was in Floydada two or three days the first of this week.

N. A. Fewell, of Hico, Texas, was here this week looking after business interests. He owns land in Lakeview community.

BAYBERRY candles for the Yuletide season were the pride of colonial dames. Then they went out completely and no one ever heard of home-made bayberry candles until a few years ago saw a revival of the art. When one found them again in arts and crafts shops, writes Helen Harrison in the New York Post, Amateurs began to experiment, and they learned that candle making is not a difficult art.

One amateur experimenter found that brass or copper kettles used for melting wax made the gray-green of bayberry wax much greener.

The old-fashioned candle dip method is simple, or one can construct molds of heavy paper if regular forms are not available.

One quart measure of berries will make a medium-sized candle. The old-fashioned candle molds are large and require about two quarts of berries for one candle.

The berries should be covered with water and set over the fire to melt off the wax coating. As twigs and leaves get in with the berries, it is necessary to strain the wax through a sieve at first. After the first straining the wax should be reheated and then strained again through coarse cheesecloth.

When ready to mold, fasten lengths of candlewick through each mold, knotting the wick at the mold's point and tying the other end around a stick that will rest across the top of the mold.

Heating the wax again, fill in each mold, making sure that the wick is taut. To remove from mold without cracking, warm it slightly in hot water before slipping the candle from each form.

Heavy paper can be sewed or pasted into mold forms and a bottom glued to each, leaving a small hole in the center of the bottom, through which the wick can be slipped and knotted. It is a slower process, but satisfactory as a makeshift.

To make candle dips fasten two or three pieces of wick to a stick and far enough apart to prevent touching but not too far to extend beyond the sides of the kettle holding the wax. Dip into hot wax repeatedly, as each coat chills, until desired size has been attained.

RAINBOW AROUND MOON

THE moon came up like a big gold plate. As it slowly mounted higher, the man in the moon looked down to see what people were going to get for Christmas. A lovely rainbow grew so interested, too, that it gathered in a beautiful circle around the moon and sailed up the sky with it, thinking of all the happy time below. Then a moonbeam fell upon the face of Tim Purdy, as he lay sleeping near his window, and was changed into a smile as it got into his dream. He thought he saw the very thing that he had wanted so much and so long, coming down to him through the air. As the moonbeam stayed until it awoke him, and as he looked up and saw the colored halo that crowned the moon's head, he exclaimed: "What a purty rainbow! Faith I think it means good luck for me!" He was right. It did. In the morning he found that some good fairy had found out and brought the very thing that he wanted.—C. G. Hazard.

The Boar's Head.

The old Christmas dishes were, of course, largely determined by the food material available for the Christmas board. The existence of thousands of wild boars in the woods made boar hunting one of the national sports, and the boar's head with its concomitant brawn, one of the most popular among Christmas dishes. The old custom of serving up this ancient dish at Queen's College, Oxford, is associated with a legend to the effect that in olden days one of the students, when attacked by one of these wild denizens of the woods, saved himself from its jaws by thrusting his Greek lexicon down its throat, with the ejaculation, "Graecum est" (It is Greek). Of course the beast was choked, the "choking" possibilities of such a dry-as-dust volume being generally understood.

HER LESSER HALF.

Come into the next room, reader. Y'see we was right. That wasn't his fiancée, at all, although it was a sort of ex-fiancée, 'cause he's her lesser half. Merry Christmas.

Raisin Toffee.

One and one-half cupfuls brown sugar, ¼ cupful vinegar, 2 tablespoonfuls butter, ¼ cupful broken walnut meats, ½ cupful chopped raisins. Cook sugar and vinegar together until it forms a hard ball when tested in cold water. Add butter and pour on nuts and raisins arranged in a greased pan. As it hardens mark into squares.

PLAINVIEW MAY GET REDUCED FIRE KEY RATE

From The Herald:

Plainview has been granted a reduction in the fire insurance key rate from 42 to 40 cents, according to T. G. Harkey, member of Hemphill & Harkey, local insurance agents. Mr. Harkey said today that official notice had been sent from Austin to that effect.

The saving that will be effected to the owners of buildings here by that reduction will be something tremendous in the course of a year's time, he said. The two cent difference, he explained, will not effect such a saving, as will the fact that Plainview is now allowed a new "Exposure Schedule," which is automatically allowed when the key rate is reduced below the 41 cent mark. Thus, fire insurance rates can be figured on a different basis from that which has been used, and the property owners will directly receive the benefit.

Battery A, 131st F. A., of Plainview, has received three carloads of equipment to be used in the training of the men of this command. Four French 75-millimeter guns, famous during the war, twelve caissons, three rolling kitchens and four limbers comprise this last shipment.

Invoices have been received for another carload of equipment, this to include several of the latest type of machine guns, together with ammunition for these and the field pieces mentioned above.

This equipment is practically new. The field pieces have been fired only eleven times, this for testing purposes.

COLLECTOR'S OFFICE READY FOR AUTO REGISTRATIONS SAT.

Tax Collector J. A. Grigsby's office will be ready for the collection of 1923 automobile license taxes Saturday of this week, and new numbers will be issued so that the parties may have their numbers ready when January 1st rolls around, now only twenty-three days away.

Automobile license payers who call at the collector's office to pay the highway license should bring with them their last year's receipt or the information required for registering a car. This information should be looked up ahead of time and if the taxpayer has lost his receipt he should notify the collector's office in advance so they may have the information ready when he calls. Last year the attitude of the public in depending on the collector's office for all the information and search through files for numbers required two additional clerks during the peak of the taxpaying season. Deputy J. R. Maddox said Saturday that this plan could not be followed this year.

Mr. Wilson has asked that all those whose names are in the above list will preserve the copy of the paper sent them in order that they may see with whom they are to work in their respective school district, thereby making it unnecessary for the letters to be sent them from the Advisory Board, having to carry that information.

largest religious organizations in the country. He left Wednesday morning returning to Abilene.

The printed menus were cleverly arranged by the arrangements committee to feature a photograph of the football squad in uniform on an inside page of a folder, which gave, besides the program and the menu for the banquet, the names and positions played by individuals on the team, and their season's record, to form a very appropriate memento of the occasion.

Rev. J. L. Henson, pastor of the Methodist Church, said the invocation preceding the banquet. The orchestra which furnished greatly enjoyed music for the evening was composed of Mrs. Jno. W. Smith, Roy Baker, Clement McDonald, Mark Duncan and Tom Goslee. They played popular airs while the crowd assembled and at intervals during the evening. High School girls, attired in the high school colors, green and white, served the tables. The high school colors were effectively carried out, in the decorations of the hall.

What's Good For You is Good For Us

That's why we are so intensely interested in the development of Floyd county.

If we can get Floydada and the adjacent trade territory filled with home owners, we'll ALL do a prosperous business.

Maybe that will never be, but the nearer we come to it the better and, realizing that "every little bit helps," the First State Bank is going to do their part to reach that end.
