Duties of Citizenship Are Stressed

Capt. Nusbaum, C. of C. Lecturer, Talks of Duties of Citizenship in Community

With "The Individual as a unit" for his subject Tuesday evening, and bringing a message of the duties of the individual to his fellowman and his community, Capt. C. S. Nusbaum addressed an audience which practically filled the District Court Room auditorium, opening the Community Service Program for the week here under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce.

Outlining many of the debts the individual owes his community and pointing the way to greater helpfulness one toward another his talk of an hour breathed the spirit of good fellowship, good cheer and wholesome and their value in building citizenship and communities. Frequently applause greeted his words.

Rev. O. N. Baucom said the invocation at the opening of the evening's program, and several musical numbers preceded the talk including a solo by Capt. Nusbaum, a quartet by J. G. and E. G. Wood, R. T. Stribling and E. S. Randerson, and two or three numbers by students of the high school.

On the afternoon of his arrival Capt. Nusbaum spent an hour at the high school where he talked to the student body.

Last evening severe weather cut the crowd somewhat in numbers but the audience was apparently more cordial toward the speaker. Although he had spent a full day Wednesday traveling approximately forty miles and making three addresses, the speaker was as full of pep and go as though he had a full day of rest. Talks were made during the day at Lakeview, Baker and Mayview. He was accompanied on the trip by Maury Hopkins, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. He was delighted with the treatment accorded him in the communities he visited, he declared.

"The Home in the Community" is the subject for tonight, and announcement was made last night that reservations would be made at tonight's meeting for a section for those who come as a family. Tomorrow night is specially designated as "Farmers' Night," Saturday night is High School and Musical night, Sunday's arrangements had not been completed this morning. It is probable two addresses will be made on Sunday, the place and hours to be announced tonight or tomorrow night.

A campaign or drive for membership in the Chamber of Commerce will be held tomorrow, according to present plans with J. G. Wood and R. E. Fry as heads of competing teams.

This morning the captain addressed business men and sales clerks at nine o'clock. A number of business houses closed their doors and the entire forces attended in a body.

The meetings are being held in the District Court Room, and are for citizens of all communities surrounding who desire to attend, as well as for those who reside in this community. The captain was one of the leading lecturers on the chautauqua for a number of years, has command of his subjects and brings a wholesome message in every lecture.

The First National Bank, of Lockney, at present the depository of Floyd County, will continue as the depository for the ensuing two years, their bid for the funds submitted Monday of this week to the Commissioners Court being the highest of only two submitted. The First State Bank of Floydada was the other bidder. The successful bid of the Lockney bank provides that interest on all funds of the county and school will be paid on the basis of 4 per cent. The school bond to be made will be in the sum of $220,000 and the county bond in the sum of $125,000.

The commissioners Tuesday appointed A. J. Crager as justice of the peace of Precinct Two and Three. Justice Crager was absent from the county on January 1st when officials were supposed to qualify. His bond has been submitted to the court.

Upon the suggestion of J. A. Grigsby, sheriff, the court reduced the pay for feeding the prisoners of Floyd County from 85 cents per day to 75 cents per day per prisoner.

The court spent sometime this week in the discussion of an audit of the county's financial records, and orders were passed Tuesday clarifying the records in the Simpson Refunding matter, completed during the January term.

Yesterday the court began work on the annual financial reports of the county treasurer and the county clerk. Several road petitions are before the court for some action this term.

Huge Incubator Starts 1st Hatch Last Week

Floydada is keeping to the front in the advancement of poultry raising which is rapidly becoming one of the most valued industries on the plains. Several large incubators and brooders have been installed here during the past few months.

One of the largest incubators in Floydada and the south plains was completed by L. A. Marshall and put into operation the latter part of last week.

The incubator is home made and has a capacity of 16,120 eggs. The hatcher has several original features. The air and moisture are controlled by special apparatus that makes a certain desired temperature that is said to be very favorable for hatching strong chicks. The moisture is controlled by a thermometer which indicates the exact amount of moisture in the hatcher.

Hot water is used in the heat generation and is controlled by a device that is of home invention.

Another noteworthy feature is the fact that new settings can be placed in the hatcher at any time desired, thus making one continuous hatching. Oil and electricity are used in the heat generating and distributing systems. The plant is located in the basement of his residence.

Mr. Marshall stated that he planned to have a community hatchery that would be of value and service to every poultry raiser in the county.

Teachers Institute Last Friday Night

A thorough discussion of the school problems in Floydada was made Friday evening at the teachers institute and mass meeting held at the First Methodist church. A crowd of near two hundred people were out to hear and take part in the discussions.

The evening program was opened by an explanation of the Music Memory Contest by one of the High School teachers. The Floydada schools plan to take part in this contest which is an added department to the Interscholastic contests. The pupils of the fifth, sixth and seventh grades are eligible to enter. The Parent-Teachers' Association is sponsoring aplar for the carrying out of education along musical lines in the schools here.

The problems that arise in the home that are connected with the school were discussed by several of the parents present and the teachers and superintendent presented the teachers' side of the question.

The social problems and need of home government formed the themes of the talks. Several interesting addresses were made.

Superintendent Johnston urged that the parents should take a deeper interest in the welfare of their children and should make this interest manifest by being present at these mass meetings and get better acquainted with the teachers in the public schools of Floydada. "It is urgent and absolutely essential that we meet together in order that we can all better understand each other," he said.

Another mass meeting and institute is to be held on the 9th of March. Superintendent Johnston has urged that every one that can possibly do so should be present. He stated that the program for this meeting will be announced later.

Technological College Bill Passed Feb. 10

Much Rejoicing in West Texas When Governor Affixes Signature to Enactment

After a fight of seven years for an agricultural and mechanical college to be located somewhere in West Texas, a bill was passed by this legislature giving this section of the state an institution of even greater possibilities than was first asked for and on February 10th the governor signed the measure. It is now a law.

Much rejoicing has been in evidence in West Texas and the Panhandle over the passage of the measure, which means increased educational facilities for this section of the state. The school will give degrees, after it is well established, in the arts, sciences, letters and many technical subjects, the bill creating it being framed much on the plan of the Georgia School of Technology, it is said.

The first appropriation for the school, according to the provisions of the law, is to be made on September 1st of this year. It will be in the sum of $150,000 and is supposed to cover the cost of the site. The total appropriation for the two year period beginning September 1st is $1,002,500.

The locating board personnel is to be made up the State Superintendent of Public Instruction S. M. N. Marrs, the President of the College of Industrial Arts F. M. Bralley, the president of the University of Texas R. E. Vinson, the president of A. & M. College Dr. Bizzell and the chairman of the State Board of Control S. B. Cowell.

As many as a half-hundred site locations will be offered the school, it is indicated by announcements.

SANTA FE EXPECTS GOOD RESULTS FROM TRAIN

Will be Disappointed if Many Farmers do Not Attend and Ask Questions

The agricultural department of the Santa Fe railway expects good results from the livestock demonstration train which will be in Floydada, Wednesday, March 28 at 3:05 P. M. for a meeting with farmers and town folks who are interested in dairying, hog raising, poultry raising, according to The Earth, the company's agricultural and industrial paper.

"In the enterprise described," says The Earth, "the Santa Fe is co-operating with the Texas A. & M. College which has several important messages for everybody who gives thought to the development of the important farming business of this great commonwealth. The college is sending its best men to present three big subjects—Professor Evans, dairying; Professor Ward, hog raising; Professor Edson, poultry raising; and others of the extension service, who will discuss the three subjects generally. These men will be disappointed if farmers fail to ask questions. They urge farmers to bring their problems to the meeting. Women are specially invited.

"In addition to the lectures mentioned, there will be a meeting for boys and girls, conducted by T. B. Wood and J. R. Edmonds, district agents of the college extension service. A number of Santa Fe officials will accompany the party.

"The train will stand at the Santa Fe station, and the meeting will start immediately on arrival.

"The Santa Fe has run a number of trains similar to the one now organizing for Texas, and satisfactory results have followed in every instance. Everything points to success for the program for this meeting will be announced later.

Do your premises need more trees and are you planning to put it off another year? Better set the trees now and get advantage of twelve months time the tree can never regain.

It's just about the time to plant some shade trees on your premises, but be sure to plant a resolution at the same time to keep the trees watered and cared for. A tree rightly cared for will give a great deal of pleasure as it grows. It will likewise add to the attractiveness of your premises and your community.

Adversities go in cycles in all sections,
good crops and poor crops, fair weather and foul, visiting one section with about the same regularity as another. Not many years ago when the section of Texas now most blessed with good financial conditions was the hardest hit in the land and a great hubbub was raised about it. By which we mean that although things may not be going to suit you in Floyd County just now, the "ups" and "downs" will be about evened in the long run and the naturally great advantages of the fertile soils and enterprising citizenship will reassert themselves and Floyd County will have the "good times."
After all, Floyd County you'll find has about the most of the best and the least of the worst in all of the southwest. If it doesn't rain just to suit you and you move you'll probably get where you're going just in time to have a season of overflow and lose the rest of what you had.

Newspapers and country editors are very often cussed out and misunderstood because they refuse to give their columns to the publication of great quantities of so-called publicity for various organizations, associations and enterprises of a more or less public nature. Every editor is fairly snowed under at times with matter of this kind that the good people who want it published cannot understand why the editor will not use all of it. And in refusing its publication, the editor and the newspaper goes down as opposed to the propositions being promoted by such so-called publicity.
When as a matter of fact the editor is just using good common business sense.
The best publicity is real news. In fact that is the only kind of publicity worth while. The way for any organization or enterprise to get newspaper space is to get to work and accomplish something.
Publicity will follow because such activity makes news and the newspapers want news. If the proponents of many organizations and associations would devote as much time in working for a practical attainment of the purpose of such organizations and associations as they do in telling the editor what he should publish for them and in what quantities it would not be long before they would be producing real news that would claim the attention of the newspapers and make the newspapers a debtor to them instead of the other way around. Some real publicity would be given them then without effort on their part.

Our greatest kick against state taxes
the past several years has been the one in which we make the claim that the panhandle and western portion of the state have served as a tax-paying appendage to Texas. That Floyd County, whose citizens are enterprising, up-and-doing folks, has raised its valuations in an effort to get local public improvements, is being penalized for its enterprise by our eastern friends has been our claim, by which the Floyd County citizen pays out of proportion to the land values his estate may hold to the citizen further east. We haven't been sensitive to local taxation at all, except to keep this tax low enough not to run industry away.
For ourselves, we believe the values stay here and represent a greater wealth when put into public improvements than when kept in the hands of the individual—such taxes as for street improvements, waterworks, sewer systems, public schools,
parks, etc.

Now that the West Texas College of Technology bill has passed the Legislature and has been signed by the governor, we feel sure that it will not be long before the boys in every hometown in West Texas will start the grand scramble for location. A great deal has been said in this section of West Texas about us putting up a united front in our efforts to get the college.
In fact one organization called a meeting at Amarillo for the purpose of getting all Panhandle towns to agree on one location for which we would all fight. The people who instigated this scheme did not at the time appreciate the disposition of every public spirited citizen in West Texas.
The scheme very naturally wouldn't work. We all know that we have the very best location for this school right in our own hometowns. We cannot conceive of John Boswell of Plainview boosting Lubbock as the best location.
Neither can we twist our imaginations around to where we could think Ben Smith of Lockney trying to locate the school in Jess Adam's hometown of Plainview, and it would take a little imaginative genius to think of Ralls boosting Crosbyton for the location.
So we are inclined to think that in the next few days we will see everybody with his coat off working for his own hometown in an effort to get this big institution located in his particular town.
We like this. It is the proper spirit, and is a thoroughly West Texas trait. It will do every town good to get in the scramble and find out just how it stacks up with its neighbors in its particular advantages and disadvantages.

STATE TAXES

Increased revenue for the state with which the University and the other state institutions may be improved and made more perfect instruments for serving the people of the state, has had much attention from the legislature of Texas this session; particularly those forms of taxation which are not classified as ad valorem taxes. It is true that ad valorem taxes have gone about as high as the property owners can stand in Texas. At least it appears that way. On the other hand it is true that all sources of wealth are not being taxed in the same proportion as is the land. It is these latter sources of taxable wealth the legislature is said to be giving most attention.

A great clamor for reduced taxes, equalled only by the clamor for more and better support of state learning and eleemosynary institutions, has been made the past few years. Thus between the devil and the deep blue sea we find the legislature giving more study this year to taxation and state revenue than for a number of years past. We can't agree with the most hearty cussers of the legislature. We think they are giving some intelligent, painstaking efforts to their work. Let's hope an improvement in the tax collections, tax laws and the taxation system in general will result.

IS ABRAHAM LINCOLN DEAD?

Last Tuesday, one hundred and fourteen years ago in a little frontier cabin on Nolin Creek, Hardin (now Larue) County, Kentucky, there was born a child who was destined to become one of the greatest leaders and statesmen that this great country of ours has ever known, and is revered and loved as such. This child that grew to be a man among men was Abraham Lincoln—the greatest man that America has ever produced.

He was born and lived amid the rude surroundings of the Kentucky frontier and had very little opportunity to acquire an education. Every one knows of his struggle through life and can recall the story of his trials and failures before he was finally recognized as a great man with a greater heart who had come of the people and was ready to serve them.

This great stalwart statesman had truly a heart of the purest gold. He came forward for service at a time when his country needed a strong man most, and he held in his heart and labored for his one great ideal, his greatest love—the union and the people.
All of his energy was given in service to his beloved people, and his every thought was to unite them in one great undivided union of good fellowship.

History tells us that Lincoln is in the hall of martyrs, that he fell with a mortal wound inflicted by a crazed patriot. History tells us that this great lover and friend of the common people is dead, but is he?

Abraham Lincoln, the red blooded,
God fearing man that he was, is living today! In every heart of every true American there is today that same spark of patriotism, that same firm belief in square dealing and that same reverence of God and deep love of man that so characterized that great statesman. The years as they pass, mark the growth of this great spirit in the lives of the people of this great nation of united peoples.

Lincoln is living with us today in a thousand hidden yet visible presences.
In the mind of the small boy there is ever that ideal, "to be a good president like Abraham Lincoln was, and help the people." In our laws, in our school books, in our national capital at Washington, in our state capital at Austin, in our homes and our hearts will Lincoln be found today—his very presence uttering to us the immortal words, "I am ever present—that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom—and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

CARE AND MANAGEMENT OF BREEDING STOCKS

By F. W. Kazmeier
(All Rights Reserved)

It is not more than right to expect that if the breeding stock is not properly managed and mated, the results for the entire year are going to be more or less unsatisfactory. This is certainly true. The care and management of the breeding stock is one of the most important things in the poultry yard. It is important from every stand point.

In the first place, the only way to make improvements in the offspring is to first make improvement in the breeding stock. It still is true that to a certain extent like produces like. The poultry breeder is going to be successful, just as successful as he or she are in the making up or the mating of the breeding pen. If improperly mated, no progress will be made. For this reason go out to your breeding pen and take a good look at it. Do you feel that it is an improvement over last years mating. If not then now is the time to make the change. Surely you do not want to go backward. Study the individuals closely and see that they are first of all true representatives of the breed that you are breeding. If they are not they should be eliminated from the breeding pen at once.

The breeding pen should be given the best of care and feed. Of the two care is even more important than feed. In these days and time of artificial feeding and lighting it is well to remember that the same will affect the health and vitality of the breeding stock, and then of course will show in the chicks. For this reason we have found it very unwise to use artificial light on the breeding stock. We have found it poor business to force our breeding stock for a very heavy egg-production. What we gain in number of eggs we lose in increased number of infertile eggs, and in addition the entire lot of chicks are lowered in vitality. If people can ever appreciate the importance of producing strong chicks, that are easy to raise, they will give the care and feeding of the breeding stock more care and attention. It is easy and a pleasure to raise strong and vigorous chicks. How much easier and more pleasant to take care of a healthy and vigorous lot of chicks than a lot, that every morning you get up, you hesitate to go out to the brooder house because you feel sure it will be necessary to remove a lot of dead ones. Few people appreciate the fact that it is a pleasure to raise strong and vigorous chicks. Few people appreciate the fact that most anyone can raise vigorous chicks. It takes an expert to raise more or less weak chicks. After these weak chicks are raised, they are unprofitable at the best. At the present time we have over 5000 baby chicks on our yards, and they are all doing fine. The chief reason for this is that we made a special effort to give them good care, and on top of this nature's been kind enough to allow weather that will and did allow the chicks to enjoy free range and plenty of green food. Our fertility this year has run remarkably high chiefly due to the fact that the weather has provided an abundance of green food and allowed the birds to enjoy themselves in the open. These two factors mean more to producing strong and vigorous chicks than any others.

Free Range is Important
The breeding stock should be given a large yard or better they should be allowed free range. If for any reason you cannot do this, then be sure to allow for poor fertility, hatchability and weakened chicks, that are going to be more or less hard to raise without losing a large mortality. Of all the things that the breeding stock should have we consider free range the most important. We have for many years observed that stock on restricted range or worse in small yards, seldom if ever produces as many or as strong chicks. It means all the difference in the world when you come to raising the chicks. Chicks from closely yarded stock will not do as well, will not grow as well, will not develop or mature as early and will not be as profitable after they are raised. Give your breeding stock free range. If necessary place them in a movable house, away from the rest of the farm buildings and flock, out in the orchard, woodlot or pasture. Here let them enjoy free range.

OFFICE IN MITCHELL BUILDING

Green Food Is Very Important
Last year in Petaluma, one of the greatest poultry growing sections in the country, the large, mammoth hatcheries were reporting a great infertility of the eggs. The trouble appeared to be universal. Everybody was complaining of the same trouble. Experts were called and finally they stumbled onto the cause; "a lack of green food." As soon as nature provided an abundance of green food the fertility increased a great deal, and the chicks were much healthier. A lack of green food not only causes a poor fertility of the eggs but is an even greater factor in lowering the vitality of the chicks. Provide your breeding stock with an abundance of green food of some kind. Breeding stock that is short of green food will most surely produce weak chicks. The essential elements, like vitamins are lacking and causing the lowered vitality of the chicks and as a result they are more subject to disease and all kinds of ailments and troubles.

Milk is a Wonderful Feed for Breeding Stock
For several years we have noticed that the breeding stock that is fed plenty of milk, produces eggs that are higher in fertility and hatchability but what is much more important the chicks when hatched appear larger and are of course much stronger. It is a pleasure to raise these chicks. They appear fluffier and stronger in every way.

We are inclined to believe that people can afford to make a special effort to provide the breeding pen with some kind of milk to drink. We have found it wise to feed a good egg mash to our breeding stock that contains a great deal of dried butter milk rather than a large amount of meat scraps. We have found that egg mashes that derive a large part of their protein from dried butter milk are much superior to the common egg mashes that derive their protein contents from meat scraps or some similar product. Such mashes will cause a large number of infertile eggs, but what is worse actually will affect the vitality of the breeding stock. The very heavy feeding of cotton seed meal is sure to cause trouble when it comes to hatching the eggs and raising the chicks. We found one man that had been feeding cotton seed meal in the egg mash, to the extent of 25 per cent. The eggs from his flock were extremely low in fertility and hatchability and the few chicks that were hatched were weak and hard to raise. We do not think it wise to feed more than 5 per cent of the egg mash cotton seed meal. A very heavy feeding will cause a great mortality in the mature stock, so that it stands to reason that it must even more so affect the offspring and it surely does.

Exercise is Very Important
One reason chickens on free range produce strong chicks is because they always get plenty of exercise. It is quite a problem to get hens to exercise enough where they are closely confined. In fact we are inclined to believe that it is impossible to get them to exercise sufficiently to produce strong chicks. The next best thing is to provide a deep and loose and dry litter at least 18 inches deep. Feed all cracked grain in this litter, about twice a day. In the case of market egg-producing stock, we recommend but one feeding of grains a day, because we are anxious to get them to eat great quantities of egg mash.

In the case of breeding stock, however, it is different. We want them not to eat too much of the egg mash, and for this reason we recommend the feeding of a little grain in the litter in the morning and another feeding about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The breeders should consume about one pound of egg mash to every two pounds of grain. This will lower the egg-production, but it will increase the fertility and vitality of the chicks hatched. This is more important than number of eggs. In the case of feeding for heavy egg-production we have found that the hens should consume two pounds of egg mash to every one pound of grain.

Keep plenty of fresh water and grit before the hens all the time. Keep them free from vermin and the house free from mites and blue bugs.

What is a County?

By Phebe K. Warner

A county is a miniature world, composed of more land than water in our part of the country. And most of our counties differ from the real world by being square instead of round. But that is about all the difference there is between the big round world and all our smaller square worlds called counties. The problems of every county are the same as those of the State, the nation and the world. Because the county, the State, the nation and the world are all made up of folks. The land and water, the sunshine and rain, the trees and the flowers and the grass and even the sky would mean nothing if it were not for the folks. And where ever folks live the same problems present themselves to be solved.

So every county, like the world, has its home problems, its educational problems, its social and moral and industrial problems. Its food and marketing problems, its religious and political problems, its civic, and commercial problems and its good roads problems. And every county, too, like every nation has a few special problems all its own that differ from everybody's else. That is what makes a county interesting. That is what gives it individuality. Every person as well as every county has many problems of life in common with every other human being. But everyone of us has also our own individual problems. And these we must solve for ourselves.

But it is this little world that the geography calls a county that is one of the greatest problems in the whole big world. This little world that averages about 900 square miles and is only 30 miles across and 120 around. How many of us are putting into this little world of ours all that it will hold and in return getting out of it all there is in it for us and our home? How many of us are doing our best to make of our county all that it is possible to be?

How many of us realize that it is ours? And if it is ever developed to its highest degree of production and worth-whileness we must make it so. And how many of us stop to think when we find fault with our State and nation and sometimes think we would like to make the whole world over, just what part of this old world has been assigned to us to develop. And are we doing our full part with what has been allotted to us to do. How many of us ever stop in our selfish rush through life to ask ourselves what a good world this would be if everyone of us were doing all we could to perfect our own county?

But there is still another simile between the world and the county and that is until this day they are both headless. For four years the nations of the earth have been trying to get together and organize a league of nations and elect or select some man to act as the head or manager of this world; to father the world as George Washington fathered the thirteen colonies nearly 150 years ago. But so far the world has no father. And no one seems to know when or whether a father for the whole world will ever be born or not. That is a human father to direct the human interests of all the people.

Every nation has its ruler, its head officer. Someone to direct the affairs of that nation. Someone for the people to appeal to when they want something done or undone. Every State has its governor. Every city has its mayor. Every organization has its president. But who is the head of your county? Who is its governor or president? Does the county judge fill this position? Or is he only one of the county's officers of equal rank with the other county officers? Does the county judge rule over all the towns and cities in your county or are the cities independent bodies? Suppose your county judge is also your county superintendent of schools. What has he to do with the city schools or the independent districts? When we elect our county judges in any counties do we think of them as being the leaders of our entire county? The men who are to direct and perfect every interest and systematize all the workings of our county? As citizens have we been taught to look upon our county judge as the president of our county, the one officer who stands at the head of our entire county or have not most of us been taught to think of our county judge as one of the county officers instead of the head of the county. Which is right? Which is he? Has the county a head or is it like the world, headless?

Every county, like every nation, has its one largest city or big town, and its many little towns with little or no relation between the smaller and larger towns. But every little town is a part of some county and ought to be under the care of a County Dad if it is not organized. Most of our people live in small towns and in the country. Do you realize that most of the people who do the work to feed and clothe the world are unorganized, have no leader of any kind? No one to think and plan for their individual and neighborhood interests. The community is to the county just what the State is to the nation or the nations are to the world. Government organization, co-operation and team work should begin in the community and end with the world. The welfare and prosperity of our nation depends almost entirely on the work and success of that half of our nation which is still unorganized, undirected by anybody in particular, the community and the county. Is it any wonder that the cities of our country have outgrown country in their race for progress and development? Is it any wonder that the city schools have outgrown the country schools? The only reason the cities of our country have outgrown the country is because they have had somebody to work for them and think and plan for them and pull for them. But who has made it his business to think and plan and work and pull for the development of the county?

But day by day in every way things are getting a little better. The Farm Demonstrator, and the home demonstrator, and the county superintendent of schools, the rural club, the county commercial club, are all doing their part to build up the whole county but still the county has no head. No one whose business it is to harmonize all the forces in the county and bind them together for mutual welfare of all the people. Every county needs a father to direct the affairs of that whole county and to think in terms of the best interest for every citizen, every home and every child in it.

What would a community be worth without the church?—Mrs. Anderson. Business. Benediction.

KANSAS CITY MARKET
Kansas City Stock Yards, Feb. 12—Chicago today with 23,000 cattle, 77,000 hogs, and 22,000 sheep was the factor that made for lower live stock prices at all markets. Here prices for cattle were steady to 15 cents lower. Most of the good quality cattle were steady and the medium to common classes showed the decline. Hogs were 10 to 15 cents lower, top $8.10, and lambs weak to 25 cents lower. In Chicago hogs declined 25 cents, the result of the heavy run there.

Receipts today were 15,000 cattle, 15,000 hogs, and 9,000 sheep, compared with 12,000 cattle, 22,000 hogs, and 6,000 sheep a week ago, and 13,450 cattle, 17,900 hogs, and 7,050 sheep a year ago.

PUBLIC FORUM

Judge Clark Makes Statement on Refunding Matter

Mr. Editor:
In view of the fact that there has been quite a lot of street talk in regard to the recent refunding scheme entered into by the commissioners court of Floyd County, I have decided to submit to you for publication for the information of my friends, as well as others, the following statement of facts as fully shown by the proper records of Floyd County:

The refunding contract, or agreement, between the four (4) commissioners and Geo. L. Simpson & Co., dated October 13th, 1922, provides for refunding, second class fund, or road and bridge scrip $60,000.00 and refunding third class fund, or general fund scrip.....$40,000.00

Total.....$100,000.00
The minutes of the commissioners' court shows that said Simpson & Co. paid off road and bridge scrip, only $59,700.00 and of general fund scrip, only $40,001.00

The total scrip paid off by Simpson in the two funds$99,701.00. But little, if any of this $99,701.00, was drawing interest. Now, keep in mind this $99,701.00 of scrip paid by Simpson, while you carefully study these figures with me a few minutes. In order to get this $99,701.00 paid off in cash, the commissioners court has issued and the county treasurer's record shows the following scrip and warrants registered:

General fund interest bearing warrants, to Simpson..... $46,000.00
Road and bridge interest bearing warrants, to Simpson..... $60,000.00

Total interest bearing warrants$106,000.00
General fund interest coupons, to Simpson.....$25,950.00
Road and bridge fund, interest coupons, to Simpson.....$39,000.00

Total increase of the debt by interest $64,950.00

But that is not all. They gave Simpson as the record shows, for his services in this transaction one general fund scrip, for..... $4,440.00
One road and bridge fund scrip for$6,852.00

They also gave Simpson, according to the record, a general fund warrant, the difference between $46,000.00, the amount of the interest bearing general fund warrants issued to him, and the amount he actually paid off against this fund, namely: $40,001.00. Said difference being the sum of $5,999.00, for which the county got nothing. They also gave him the difference between $60,000.00, the amount of the interest bearing road and bridge fund warrants issued to him, and the amount he actually paid off against this fund, namely: $59,700.00, said difference being the sum of $300.00. Copying these items from above, and adding them, here is what Simpson got

Item first above$4,440.00
Item second above$6,812.00
Item third above$5,999.00
Item fourth above$ 300.00

Simpson's part of net money $17,591.00
Besides the six per cent interest on the warrants, $64,950.00, as above shown.

But this is not all yet. Let us sum up the cost of this transaction. In order to put this scheme over commissioners paid to: Simpson & Co. "pure velvet" $17,591.00
Lawyer's fees 865.00
Clerk's fees 62.10

Total of Simpson's take-off, lawyer's and clerk fees$18,518.10
Total of interest debt added by the deal$64,950.00

Total increase in the county debt added$83,468.10

I have faithfully stood for the tax payers' rights ever since the bond election in June, 1921; and twice defeated similar attempts to put this deal over since said election; and because I opposed squandering the people's money this way, the commissioners had me suspended from the county judge's office December 15th, 1922, while I was absent from the county by their permission, by order entered of record on their minutes, as per Article 1733, Civil Statutes; and then completed this deal.

I would rather be right, and out of office, than to be county judge and a willing party to this refunding scheme, which I think is violative of the people's rights.

Respectfully,
W. B. CLARK.

TREES THAT DRAW LIGHTNING

Facts That Have Been Pretty Well Established by Observations Taken in Various Countries.

There is a popular idea that of all forest trees the oak is the most liable to be struck by lightning. Like many other old beliefs, however, it is not borne out by the facts. During the period 1885 and 1902 the staff of the Dutch meteorological office devoted much attention to this matter, and the following results were published of the number of times the trees mentioned were struck by the electric discharge: Poplar, 232 times; oak, 130; willow, 70; yew, 50; fir, 27; pear, 25; lime, 14; walnut, 8; beech, 6; chestnut, 5; apple, 5; cherry, 4; alder, 4; birch, 2.

According to a series of observations made in England the following list was compiled: Oak, 36; poplar, 12; ash, 9; elm, 7; beech, 4; willow, 5; larch, 3; Scotch pine, 3; fir, 1; hawthorn, 1; mountain ash, 2; alder, 1; pear, 1.

To make a true deduction from those figures the preponderance abundance of the different trees mentioned must be taken into account, and when this has been done it would appear the most dangerous tree is the ash, then the willow, then the poplar, the oak coming in a good fourth. A tree conspicuous by its absence from the foregoing lists is the sycamore.

JAZZING UP THE TRADE

The Big Boss—I see you've fired young Swift. I always thought him a very snappy ad writer.

The Office Manager—Too snappy. He ran the phrase, "Eventually—Why not now?" in an undertaker's ad.

NO HARM DONE

The new post commandant was of a highly moral character and was amazed and shocked at what he considered lax ways about the camp. What particularly astounded him was when he dropped down to the athletic field on a Sunday and found B and C companies engaged in what had all the earmarks of a ball game.

"See here," he exclaimed, getting the players on the carpet before him, "don't you know you shouldn't play ball on Sunday?"

There was a brief silence until the intelligent shortstop conceived a bright idea.

"We ain't playin' ball, colonel," he explained. "We're just practicin' through nine innings for the next game."—American Legion Weekly.

NEW EUROPEAN SPORT

A new thrill for wealthy sportsmen will be afforded by a new sport which combines the use of airplanes and horses in the hunting of bustards, the largest birds in Europe. The new sport was invented by a Spanish military aviator, who, hoping to attract rich men with sporting proclivities, has spread an account of the new sensation. The bustard is a very coy bird and it has previously been almost impossible to get near it when hunting on foot or on horseback.

NATURAL REACTION

"That man was in a rather indignant frame of mind when he attacked you in a newspaper communication."

"What did he sign the communication?" inquired Senator Sorghum. "Taxpayer."

"His mood will pass. Everybody is in an indignant frame of mind when he happens to be thinking about his taxes."

BACK TO YPRES ONCE MORE

In Belgium, 13,000 people, more than two-thirds of the pre-war population, have returned to Ypres. Many are living in cellars and temporary huts, while the rebuilding proceeds as fast as possible.

GOLD IN WORLD'S HISTORY

According to Ancient Chronicles the Metal Has Always Been in More or Less Abundance.

The quest for gold has from time immemorial led men to journey afar and undergo severe hardships, privations and dangerous adventure in varying climes. Ancient history, although deficient in records, manifestly was replete with epochs of gold discovery. For gold figures as an article of exchange and merchandise as far back as the time of Abraham, and when Solomon came to the throne he fairly plastered the temple with gold. At Babylon, in the time of Belshazzar, gods of gold were in conspicuous evidence and vessels of gold were provided for the king's guests. There were vast quantities of gold in Judea and in Egypt and India. There were beds of gold and goblets of gold in Persia, and in Hindustan the king sat on a throne of gold. Then Nadir Shah took a hundred million in gold from the single city of Delhi. Gold coins came into general circulation in Rome during the days of Julius Caesar. In the Jewish chronicle Ophir is frequently mentioned as a source of gold supply.

FLOCK TO NATIONAL FORESTS

American People Have Learned to Appreciate the Value of Their Vast Public Domains.

Motors and good roads have combined to effect a radical change in the outdoor recreation habits of the American people. Vacation time is now a period of free government, nomadic enjoyment of widely separated scenes, and of simple living in the open. Rich in scenic beauty and natural charm and offering the primitive attractions of the wilderness, the national forests afford an incomparable field for the indulgence of this wholesome tendency toward rational play and physical improvement. Within their limits travelers by motors, by wagon, on horseback, or on foot, campers, hunters and fishermen, amateur photographers, mountaineers, berry pickers, naturalists, and everybody else who wishes to come have equal opportunity. Care with fire and in camp cleanliness are the only requirements imposed upon their sojourn.

SOCIAL STATUS AND HEAT

Giving up their warm but expensive apartment in Hyde Park, the Smith family moved to a new two-family house a few blocks away. It was slightly less expensive and considerably colder, as the first frost revealed. Eventually Mrs. Smith mustered up enough courage to protest to the landlady, who lived on the first floor. That worthy was shocked to learn that virtually no heat had penetrated to the upper regions and could hardly believe it.

"You must have had heat," she insisted. "Why, we have the same janitor that fires the furnace in the millionaire's house across the street and I know they'd have heat this weather."—Chicago Journal.

SPEAKS FROM THE PAST

At Thebes, the ancient capital of Upper Egypt, archeologists from Pennsylvania university have found demotic, or common-language, papyri that fill a gap in history from B. C. 309 to 246. This period includes the reign of Ptolemy Philadelphus, who was so successful in levying heavy taxes with a minimum of injury and dissatisfaction. As the manuscripts deal mainly with financial affairs, our own Ptolemies may perhaps learn from them how to create in us a nation of cheerful givers.—Scientific American.

PLENTY OF TIME

Billy's father was talking to him about school. He was telling him that he would go to school twelve years and then be off to college for four years if everything went well.

Then he said: "Did you learn a lot in school today?"

Billy thought a while, and then said: "Oh, I guess I learned enough, if I have that many years to learn the rest of it in."

Heavy Trading Feb. Dollar Day Feature

Large Crowds Here From Many Points and Take Advantage of Advertised Bargains

With only one or two exceptions large stocks of merchandise in the featured lines stood up under the heavy inroads of buyers from Floydada retailers on the February Dollar Day held Tuesday of this week, and the sales were tremendous for this period of the year, merchants declared following the close of the day.

While the home folks took advantage of the bargains, as was expected and desired, the heavy patronage from more distant points was the most satisfactory feature of the trades day. Some debate whether the first Dollar Day sales, held in mid-December, drew a larger number of out-of-town shoppers than were in evidence Tuesday of this week, although at that time the holiday spirit prevailed and the sales were probably heavier than on Tuesday.

Merchants declare the idea behind the Dollar Day is one of trade extension primarily. That large numbers of people were brought to Floydada from long distances is certain. The prices made were evidently attractions which could not be overlooked.

More than fifty retailers and other business houses sponsored the Dollar Day this month, and approximately four counties were covered with advertising.

PLAINVIEW BRIEFS

Plainview Herald:

Twenty-one hundred eighty-two people will be entitled to cast a vote in Hale county this year. Of these only fourteen were exemptions, according to figures given out by B. H. Towery, tax collector. Mr. Towery said this is about 900 less than the number of voters last year.

Hundreds of Plainview citizens turned out Saturday morning to witness the entrance into the city of a big cow buffalo from the Goodnight ranch. She rode in on the 9:35 south-bound train. It was the first time the majority had ever seen one of the now almost extinct animals, which formerly ranged the plains in great numbers, molested by nothing except Indians and coyotes. Buffalo generations ago, perhaps the ancestors of this particular bison, grazed peacefully over the present site of Plainview, the modern city.

W. R. Moore, a prosperous farmer and stockman, has just moved to Hale county from Hill county. He recently bought 1,760 acres of land from Charles Benson, ten miles southwest of Hale Center. He is building three houses, and will soon have a thousand-acre farm. He is an experienced cotton and livestock farmer, and will also raise cattle. His family will move here as soon as the houses on his new property are completed.

The body of Clifton C. Estes, son-in-law of Mrs. E. V. Brown of Plainview, was taken from the Phelps-Dodge Corporation Mine No. 1, at Dawson, N. M., Friday afternoon, following a terrific explosion which entombed 120 miners. A telegram to this effect was received by Mrs. Brown Friday afternoon, and the message stated that the body would not be held but the funeral services would be conducted immediately.

Hale county is to have a county agent. The commissioners' court today passed an appropriation for that purpose. The county will pay the agent $88.33 a month, or $1,000 a year; the A. & M. College of Texas and the Federal Government will pay the rest of the agent's salary.

Plainview is experiencing a residence building boom. Four homes are now going up in the city.

FAIRVIEW

Fairview, February 13—Quite a number in this community have been sick, mostly with bad colds and la-grippe.

A large crowd attended the ball game that was played here Friday between the Fairview and Center teams. Although our boys were victorious, the Center team played well, and every one admired their spirit with which they took defeat.

Mr. and Mrs. Cotton are the proud parents of a son born February 3.

Miss Sophia Austin spent the weekend with home folks.

The young people enjoyed a party at the McAfee home Saturday night. Messrs. O. R. Golithly, Lee Golithly and C. Foster attended Sunday school here Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rushing visited Friday afternoon at the Nix home.

G. M. Bullard and wife visited at Mr. Wilsons Sunday evening.

Anna Austin, Edna Neely, and Louis Bullard visited with Claude and Eula Snodgrass Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cooper gave the young people a singing Sunday night.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS,

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Floyd County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded, that you summon, by making publication of this citation in some newspaper published in the County of Floyd if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published once each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, unknown heirs of W. T. Montgomery deceased whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before the Honorable County Court, at the next regular term thereof, to be holden in the County of Floyd, at the Courthouse thereof, in Floydada, Texas, on the 16th day of April, A. D. 1923, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court, on the 25th day of January, A. D. 1923, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 373, wherein Mrs. Nannie Adeline Cristler and her husband, J. H. Cristler, are Plaintiffs, and the Unknown heirs of W. T. Montgomery deceased are Defendants. The nature of the Plaintiffs demand being as follows, to-wit:

Mrs. Nannie Adeline Cristler and husband J. H. Cristler, Vs. Unknown heirs of W. T. Montgomery, deceased.

In the County Court of Floyd County, Texas, April Term, 1923.

To the Hon. E. C. Nelson, Jr., Judge of the County Court of Floyd County, Texas.

Mrs. Nannie Adeline Cristler, joined by her husband, J. H. Cristler, who resides in the County of Dallas and City of Dallas, Texas, complaining of the unknown heirs of W. T. Montgomery deceased, if any, whose names and residence is to plaintiffs unknown and for a cause of action, make the following averments.

1. Plaintiffs aver that William Taliaferro Montgomery, known as W. T. Montgomery, died in Floydada, Texas, on December 18th, 1918, that he left an estate, consisting of real and personal property. That said estate has been duly administered in the County Court of Floyd Co., Texas, as shown by cause No. 245, the papers on file in said cause and the Minutes of the Probate Court in said cause. That J. C. Gaither is the Administrator of said estate and that he has filed in said Court in said cause his account for final settlement, but that the estate remaining on hand, no final disposition of the same has been made.

2. Plaintiff Mrs. Nannie Adeline Cristler avers that she is the only surviving heir at law of the said W. T. Montgomery deceased. She shows that Dr. J. H. Cristler is her husband. That her Fathers name was William Carroll Montgomery, that he is dead, that he died at Childress, Texas, in the year 1907. That her Mothers name was Elizabeth Harris Montgomery, she is dead. She died at Childress, Texas, in the year 1894. That there were born as the children of my father and mother five children to-wit: The first born was a son who died at birth; the second was a daughter who died at birth; the third was a son, being William Taliaferro Montgomery who died on December 18th, 1918, at Floydada, Floyd County, Texas; and he was never married. The fourth was a son, Robert Smith Montgomery, who died in the year 1901 at Lawton, in Comanche County, Oklahoma, never having been married. The fifth was myself, petitioner herein, Nannie Adeline Montgomery, now Mrs. J. H. Cristler, of Dallas, Dallas County, Texas. That my father and Mother with the three children, my two brothers and myself, moved from Williamson County, Texas, to Childress, Childress County, Texas, in the year 1886, and lived at Childress until their death. Wherefore petitioner says that she is the only surviving heir at law of the said W. T. Montgomery deceased, and is entitled to the whole of the estate of the said W. T. Montgomery left after final administration of his said estate.

3. Petition avers that subject to the payment of attorneys fees, Commissions due the Administrator, Court costs and Commissions due the County Judge as is shown by the account for final settlement filed by J. C. Gaither Administrator of the said estate of W. T. Montgomery, deceased, the following is a true and correct description of the real estate belonging to said estate, there being no personal property, all of said real property being duly vested in said estate, as follows, to-wit:

The following is list of property of said Estate remaining after sale of certain property as mentioned in financial "Exhibit" to which this is attached as shown by original, supplemental inventories and deed from J. F. Lucius:

Abst. No. 32, Certificate No. 1231, Sec. 61, A. B. & M., out of S. E. 1-4 of S. 1-4 undivided interest, 13 1-3 acres; Tract No. 14, Sec. 2, Twp. 43, Range 8, Sageache Co., Colorado 10 acres; Part lots 6 and 10 Block 4,

All of the aforesaid lots in said Blocks are situated in the County of Floyd, State of Texas, and in Floyd City (Floydada), Texas, as shown upon the plat of said town, duly recorded in records for deeds of Floyd County, Texas, in Volume 2-F, page 294.

Wherefore, petitioner brings this suit for the purpose of establishing her right to take over the said property of said estate of W. T. Montgomery deceased, and to establish the fact that she is the sole surviving heir at law of the said W. T. Montgomery deceased.

4. Wherefore premises considered, plaintiffs pray that citation by publication issue as the law directs, that upon a hearing hereof a decree be entered that she Mrs. Nannie Adeline Cristler is the sole surviving heir-at-law of the said W. T. Montgomery deceased, and as such is entitled to the real estate herein described as her own separate property, subject to the payment of the said debts aforesaid.

Baby Chicks

Our 16,000 egg incubator is now in operation at our residence four blocks south of square. Our plan is to operate a community hatchery. We do custom hatching or sell baby chicks. At present we will hatch your eggs at 5c per chick or will sell baby chicks at from 12c up. We can furnish nearly any breed of chicks desired.

To illustrate quick profits in baby chicks: 500 baby chicks at 12c each in 70 days should be worth 60c each or a profit of over $200.00.

We have contracted for White Leghorn eggs from one of the best breeders of the South. We can furnish chicks from these eggs at 15c.

If you have thoroughbred chickens come and see us; we would like to buy your hatching eggs. Come see the big hen and let's talk it over.

OWED TO BRINDLE
The man who builds a highway, or the man who writes a song, is praised along the by-way and is praised amidst the throng; the man who fights a battle or the man who makes a toy, the man who raises cattle and the man who trains a boy receives the praise of millions if he does his labor well, and perhaps the praise of billions if he has the art to sell.
But I have often wondered if the plain old brindle cow shouldn't have her praises thundered—so I think I'll do it now.

There is not a living lawyer, or a merchant, if you please, or a scientific sawyer, or a sailor on the seas, who is not a bounded debtor since the day that he was born, to the cow, though we forget her, with her drooping, crumpled horn.
There is not a human fighter in the bivouac of life, not a builder or a writer with his cousin and his wife, who does not owe his living to the milk and curds and whey that the brindle cow is giving in abundance every day.

She is not an advertiser nor a self-illuminated star, she is not a "plute" or kaiser in a mammoth touring car; she's a simple, quiet body, unassuming in her ways, without sham, or show, or shoddy, without thought of pay or praise.
Back of builder, back of tiller, she will always have her place; she's a mighty prop and pillar to the teeming human race.—J. Edw. Tufft in Farm Life.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
THE STATE OF TEXAS,
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Floyd County—Greeting:
You are hereby commanded, that you summon, by making Publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Floyd if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published once each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, Moses Mordecai, Isabel R. FIRST.
That heretofore, to-wit, on the 28th day of September, A. D. 1922, the plaintiffs were lawfully seized and possessed of the following described property and premises, holding and claiming the same in fee simple.

The plaintiff would further show to the court that they and those under whom they hold, have had and held peaceful, continuous and adverse possession, under title and convey of title from the state of Texas, to said land and premises for more than three years, and have had continuous, peaceful and adverse possession of such land and premises, cultivating, using and enjoying the same, and paying all taxes thereon, for a period of more than five years. Wherefore these plaintiffs hold said land and premises by the statute of limitation.

FIFTH.
Wherefore these plaintiffs pray that the defendants and each of them be cited to appear and answer herein, as the law directs, and that on a final hearing hereof they have judgment against each and all of said defendants, jointly and severally, for the said land and premises, and for all title thereto, and that they have judgment divesting said defendants of all title in and to said land, and vesting the same in these plaintiffs, for herein expended, and for and further relief in law and in equity, both general and special, to which under all the facts herein they may be justly entitled and will ever so pray.

SPEAKING OF FAILURES

Have you failed? If you have, remember the story of the life of Abraham Lincoln, and brace up with a new resolve made to fight the battle again.

Abraham Lincoln, a great American statesman, and the sixteenth president of the United States underwent some of the most trying hardships and failures that a man could undergo, and yet, he came out victor.

An insight into history will bring out the story of his life and his many disappointments. Lincoln never gave up, though defeated and beaten to the dust with a broken heart, he would rise up with new courage and determination and would struggle onward and finally reached the final goal that ever awards the true and faithful—complete victory over all obstacles.

His troubles began in early life. His education was very limited and what he did have, was acquired by diligent study at odd moments when he was not otherwise engaged in the execution of his humble employments.

When he was yet a young man, he ran for the Legislature in Illinois and was badly defeated.

He next entered business, failed, and spent seventeen years of his life paying up the debts of a worthless partner.

He fell in love with a beautiful young woman. They became engaged but she died just before the marriage was to take place. Lincoln almost went insane and was sick in mind, heart and body for some time.

Later he married a woman who was a constant burden to him.

He then began an active career in politics. He ran for Congress and was again badly beaten.

He tried to get an appointment to the United States Land Office, but failed.

He became a candidate for the United States Senate and for a third time was defeated.

Finally, in 1846, he was honored with election to the House of Representatives. He served but one term did not win particular distinction.

He was made anti-Nebraska candidate for senator but was defeated by Lyman Trumbull.

In 1856 his name was pressed for vice-president on the Republican ticket with Fremont, but he was defeated.

When Lincoln was elected president he failed to receive a majority of all the votes. His election was a signal for secession of the Southern states that plunged his people into an inevitable civil war. Lincoln underwent all these defeats and yet—he won.

SAINT VALENTINE'S DAY AND THE LUPERCALIA

Saint Valentine was a saint of the Roman calendar, said to have been martyred in 306 A. D. The custom of selecting valentines on his day (February 14) has been accidentally associated with his name. In the days gone by, it was the custom of the young people of both sexes to meet on the eve of Saint Valentine's day, and each of the men drew from a number of names of the opposite sex. Each gentleman thus got a lady for his valentine, and he became the valentine of a lady, to whom he was to be faithful for a year.

Something about the drawing of the maidens must have proven unsatisfactory to all parties concerned. Anyway one thing is certain, the young men have quit being faithful for a year and instead of tying themselves up with a promise of one year's felicity they merely send a sentimental or ludicrous (as the case might be) missive to the fair damsel to remind her that he is still kicking and still in the race.

The custom of choosing valentines for a whole year prevailed in the Roman Lupercalia, to which the modern custom has, with probability, been traced. Now the Lupercalia was a Roman festival, so history tells us, celebrated annually in honor of Lupercus, an ancient pastoral god, afterward identified with Pan. This festival was celebrated on February 15, at Lupercal, a grotto in the Palatine Hill at Rome. Goats were sacrificed, and two youths, arrayed in goat skins, ran through the streets of the city striking with leather thongs all the persons they met.

We would like to have a valentine for a year but we are glad that we live in an age when we don't get flayed with a leather thong once a year but can be contented by expressing our strong emotions by the little five cent valentine sent to the beloved on Saint Valentine's day.

THOMAS A. EDISON

Thomas Alva Edison, the greatest genius and electrical wizard of America, was born at Milan, Ohio, February 11, 1847. He received a common school education, the major part of the instruction coming from his mother. At twelve years of age he became a newsboy on the Grand Trunk Railway. While working at this job he conceived the idea of editing a paper on the train, so he learned printing and edited and printed the Grand Trunk Herald in the baggage car of the train on which he was employed. He learned telegraphy and became a very rapid and skillful operator. He was employed by the Western Union Telegraph Company, and there he began the series of inventions that brought him fame and fortune. After brief sojourns in several western cities he settled in Boston. It was here that he worked out a method making it possible to send two messages in opposite directions over the same wire.

His laboratories were first located at Menlo Park, New Jersey, and later he established headquarters at Orange, N. J., where they are located today. He is truly one of the greatest benefactors of all mankind. His inventions are great and small but every one represents the workings of a great mind that is ever searching for that which will aid his fellow men in their struggles of life. He has devoted himself mainly to electricity, but he has made marked progress and success in other fields. Some of his most valuable inventions, patented in other countries as well as America, are the phonograph, the microphone, which detects the faintest sound; the megaphone, by aid of which ordinary sounds can be heard at a great distance; the microtasmeter, which records minute variations in temperature; the incandescent lamp; the carbon telegraph transmitter; the aeroplane; the kinetoscope; also scores of others that are invaluable to the advancement of science and the uplift of humanity.

Edison was made chevalier, officer, and afterward commander of the Legion of Honor, of the French Government. He was appointed in 1903, honorary chief consulting engineer of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition at St. Louis. He invented the kinetophone in 1912 and the telescribe in 1915. The same year he was made chairman of the naval advisory board.

He, with the Edison pioneers, men who have worked with him before 1885, celebrated his 76th birthday with a luncheon at his home last Monday. His birthday came on Sunday and he did not work, but had the anniversary on any other day he would have worked his usual 10 or 15 hours.

Edison stated that he was going to work until he was 100 years old.

Washington

1732 — 1799

GEORGE WASHINGTON, whose birthday we celebrate February 22nd, knew about money. He had it. His words of wisdom were always inspirational. Amongst great truths that he spoke, he said:

"Economy makes happy homes and sound nations.—Instill it deep."

Economy is thrift. Guarding well that which we have saved is important to thrift. Banks here have a supreme task to perform—to encourage thrift and to gather money from all source and safe-guard it for the owners.

"Instill deep these habits of economy"—as the father of our country recommended.

SAVING IS WELL WORTH THE EFFORT IT MAY COST YOU.

NEWS OF LOCKNEY

From The Beacon:

Last Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the study of the Methodist church, Rev. Huckabee, pastor officiating, Mr. C. F. Ramsey and Mrs. Nannie Hammonds were united in marriage.

Mr. Ramsey is one of our pioneer citizens, who has been active in the development of this section for years. He is a man that counts his friends only by his acquaintances. He resides on his farm southeast of Lockney a few miles.

Mrs. Hammonds is a refined and cultured lady, who has lived in Floyd County a number of years, and has a host of friends and admirers.

There is a great deal of lagrippe and pneumonia prevalent in Lockney. Some call it "Flu," but the doctors say it is the grippe. In some homes practically all the family are down with grippe, some having pneumonia. This country has more or less grippe in the winter, but it is thought the dry warm winter has made it worse. The plains country is not as hard hit as other sections of the state. In Collin and Grayson counties and all north Texas fully fifty per cent of the people are sick with grippe, flu and pneumonia.

There has been no fatalities in this community so far, from flu, grippe or pneumonia. The medical men are handling the situation nicely, and while some have been right sick, yet they are doing nicely.

Mr. T. L. Paterson, until recently farming south of town, has moved to Lockney and accepted a position with the Stuart Hardware Company, as salesman. Mr. Patterson has had a number of years' experience in business, and especially in the hardware and furniture business. He was in business at DeLeon for a number of years before coming to the Lockney section. He is a brother-in-law of Dr. N. E. Greer.

Mrs. Hugh Earthman will open a stock of new seasonable millinery in the up-stairs of the Stuart Hardware Company. Mrs. Earthman will have associated with her Mrs. Nelson of Floydada.

BAKER NOTES

Baker, Feb. 13—Sunday afternoon at two o'clock the good people of Baker began to meet at the school house. By 2:30 a large crowd had assembled. In the crowd were Floyd County's most popular singers: D. I. Bolding, J. C. Bolding, G. C. Tubbs, Earl Rainer, W. B. Clark, W. B. Jordan, W. T. Harlan and last but not least Bob Spence. Music was furnished by Mrs. C. M. Lyles. Singing immediately began, led first by one and then another. Everybody had a good time. The old timers said it reminded them of Baker in the good old days gone by. We thank the visitors for their help and invite them back.

Miss Lois Richards left Saturday afternoon to visit Miss Ethel Jackson at Matador.

Mr. Anderson is some better.

Everybody cordially invited to meet with the Parent-Teachers' Association Friday night.

A heavy rain storm flew over Baker

the first of this week. George Fawcett says he failed to see where it struck.

Cord Hart's baby is very ill with flu.
