HARRY WEATHERLY, FORMERLY OF FLOYDADA, IS DEAD

Former Resident of Floydada, Who Died August 10th at Clarendon, Came to JA's in '96

Harry Weatherly, of Clarendon, for five years until 1916 a resident of Floyd County, the last two years of which he lived at Floydada, died at a sanitarium in Clarendon Sunday night, August 10th and was buried Monday afternoon at the Clarendon Cemetery.

Many former associates of Mr. Weatherly here knew of his serious illness, but a message received by J. B. Jenkins seemed to indicate shortly before Mr. Weatherly's death that his condition had improved. He had been to several specialists, however, who held out no hope for his recovery.

Mr. Weatherly is survived by his wife, one son, and three daughters. He also has three living brothers. He came to the panhandle in 1896 and began work for the J. A. Ranch. For a year or two before he quit work for the ranch he was boss of one of the range wagons and was widely known among cowboys of that day who are the cattlemen of West Texas now. He first came to Floyd County in 1912 when he leased the Van Leonard pastures in the southeast part of this county. He lived at Floydada in 1915 and 1916. He was 45 years old at the time of his death.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram carried the following concerning his death under Clarendon date line:

"Harry Weatherly, an old time cattleman, whose death occurred here Sunday night, was buried in the Citizens' Cemetery Monday afternoon with services from the family residence at 4 o'clock.

The services were conducted, at the request of the deceased, by A. M. Beville, a friend of Weatherly, who paid tribute to the life and character of the deceased.

Cowboy friends attended the funeral and took charge of the obsequies, it having been requested by the deceased that this be done by them instead of by a regular undertaker.

Weatherly was in the cattle business for about twenty-five or thirty years in the Panhandle country, and was well known among cowmen."

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Johnson, of Lockney, were here over Sunday visiting J. E. Eubanks and other relatives. Mr. Johnson was appointed manager of the Lockney gin of the West Texas Gin Company several weeks ago and has been superintending the construction of the plant there.

PALO DURO GAS WELL CAUSING EXCITEMENT

Great interest was displayed locally on Wednesday of this week when reports reached here that the Palo Duro Company's Arnold No. 1, in the Palo Duro Canyon near Amarillo, had hit another pocket of gas, unofficially estimated at eight million cubic feet per day. Late Wednesday night this same well tapped another gas structure that blew all the tools through the derrick and considerably damaged the rig from the force of pressure, according to telephone advices from B. S. Arnold to friends in Hereford. It was estimated that this last strike amounts to one hundred million cubic feet daily—which is an awful lot of gas. The report of this big strike was confirmed Thursday by H. B. Stephens, who came down on the early morning train. This is undoubtedly the best thing yet hit on the plains, and opens up fields of untold speculation as to what the future will bring.—The Hereford Brand.

FAIR PREMIUM LIST MOST LIBERAL EVER OFFERED

Committee Expects to Make Twelfth Floyd County Fair Biggest in Association's History

The Executive Committee of the Twelfth Floyd County Fair is publishing this week a list of the premiums offered in the show to be held October 2, 3 and 4, and will later issue a catalogue which will contain all rules and regulations governing the various departments. Several new features appear in this year's offerings, among them being the Boys' and Girls' Club Divisions. Approximately $800 is offered in premiums to boys and girls alone. Perhaps the greatest increase over last fair is shown in the Live Stock Department, though the Poultry Department has a considerable addition in prizes also. Regular poultry show rules have been adopted for the conduct of this department.

Among the definitely determined features of the fair, aside from the premium offerings, are two days of auto racing in which $1,500 in prizes are offered, and two days of stock company plays by The Little Play House Company, a feature the past season on Chautauqua circuits of the mid-west. Other things which are practically determined but of which the committee will not make definite announcements yet are poultry culling demonstrations, Old Settlers' Association meeting, boxing bouts, tractor show, and collegiate football games.

The financial support being given the fair this year is giving the committee opportunity to make their plans much more elastic than heretofore and other interesting features, educational and amusing, may be expected.

A girl of unusual promise, she had just completed studies at West Texas State Normal at Canyon, when she was compelled to return home Thursday last because of illness, before taking her degree. Her condition did not give alarm, however, until the first of this week. Tuesday she became very ill and early Wednesday became unconscious. Nephritis was the cause of her death.

The Secret of Wealth

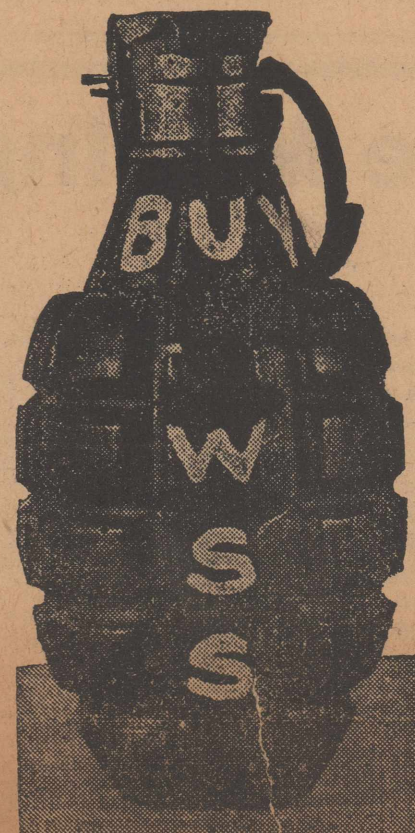

Immense wealth is, of course, something that is beyond the reach of most people, and indeed it is an open question whether vast riches are really worth having. But everyone needs and should accumulate a comfortable competence to provide for old age or in case of sickness, accident, etc.

One certain way to do this is to open a savings account in this state banking institution and deposit a definite amount with uniform regularity. The interest we pay helps your savings grow.

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN WILL BE HELD NOVEMBER 3-11th

Third Red Cross Call Wants All-American Enrollment and Funds to Complete War Projects

Washington, August 10.—Plans for a nation-wide Red Cross campaign opening Monday, November 3, and closing Armistic Day, November 11, were formally announced tonight by Dr. Livingston Farrand, chairman of the executive committee of the American Red Cross. The primary object of the campaign, which will be known as the Third Red Cross Roll Call, will be to enroll members for 1920 but there will be in addition a general appeal for $15,000,000 to enable the organization to complete its war obligations at home and abroad. There will also be local appeals, where necessary, conducted by the Chapters, to secure funds needed for local programs.

During the war there were two annual Red Cross campaigns, the War Fund Drive in the late spring and a Christmas Roll Call for membership. The only campaign this year will be the one in November and in succeeding years there will be only an annual Roll Call in which the Red Cross will seek the re-affirmed allegiance of the American people expressed in dollar memberships. The money so derived will be used for American purposes and the approval thus received is to be regarded as a mandate to carry on future programs.

"The first task of the American Red Cross is, of course, to complete its obligations to American soldiers and sailors," said Dr. Farrand in announcing the program. "The organization plans, as its future policy, to concentrate its efforts upon peace problems at home, unless America should again be involved in war or confronted by great disasters creating special emergencies."

"The Red Cross programs are primarily within the field of public health and will aim particularly at co-operation with official activities, federal state, and local. The Red Cross will seek not to duplicate the work of established organizations, but will endeavor to supplement other agencies where they already exist or to stimulate and organize work where none exists."

The tremendous task of the American Red Cross in the war has, however, left a continuing obligation which cannot be fulfilled for some months to come, Dr. Farrand stated. In an amendment to the Army Bill, Congress has prolonged the responsibility of the Red Cross abroad by authorizing Secretary of War Baker to transfer to the Red Cross such medical and surgical supplies and supplementary and dietary foodstuffs now in Europe as is not needed by the Army abroad or at home "to be used by the American Red Cross to relieve and supply the pressing needs of the countries involved in the late war."

Inventories of these supplies are now being made. To them will be added such material as the American Red Cross itself has in Europe and these will be distributed in the countries where the organization is concluding its war relief program and where, because of the ravages of war, famine and epidemic, the distress is most pronounced, as in the Balkans, Poland and other Eastern European countries. To meet these obligations and administer this foreign relief the Red Cross must raise at this time a fund of $15,000,000, Dr. Farrand stated.

"The Red Cross authorities realize that the astonishing generosity of the American people during the war and the present high cost of living at home might legitimately lead many to expect a release from further demands for assistance to other peoples," continued Dr. Farrand, "but we must remember that our Allies were much harder hit by the war than were we and that we have incurred obligations to them which honor demands shall be discharged. In naming the sum of $15,000,000, the Red Cross has tried to determine the smallest amount which will enable it to round out its work and make effective the appropriation of Army goods rather than to estimate the generosity of the American people."

"It is believed that the end of our foreign obligations is in sight and, accordingly, the Red Cross is turning its chief attention and energy to the Government of a clearly defined home program, which already includes systematic preparedness for Disaster Relief, and widespread Nursing Plan, continuing Home Service operations, First Aid instruction, and a Junior Red Cross program, all of which depend for their success upon large and vigorous Chapters. For these reasons, the enrollment of members is the chief purpose of the November campaign. It is the primary ambition of the American Red Cross to be of service to Americans."

V. F. Hodge and family are here on a visit from Friona with L. G. Pool and wife and G. M. Hatchell and family.

SAYS OX TRAIN WOULD BEAT SANTA FE SERVICE

Lockney and Floydada have the bumpiest railroad service of any town perhaps in Texas. Its out of all proportions to the importance of the two cities from a commercial viewpoint. The trains runs continuously from two to four hours late, which works a great inconvenience to the people. The trains going into Plainview are said to be frequently late, which causes bad connection for trains going north and south. Frequently people starting to Amarillo or points on the Santa Fe south are compelled to lay over in the little town of Plainview several hours.

We have had poor railroad service ever since the days of the war, and since peace it has not improved, if anything it has been worse. We used to have an engine on this line but now the engine that pulls the train to Lockney comes all the way from Amarillo.

Something ought to be done at once to relieve the situation. There should be a concert of action on the part of Lockney and Floydada, in order to put the matter up to the proper authorities, and see if some change for the betterment can't be brought about. The service we are receiving is a disgrace to any railroad system.

The old fashion ox train would be an improvement on the Santa Fe's service into Floyd county.—Lockney Beacon.

FOUR DEEPEST WELLS IN THE WORLD

Named in order of depth, the four deepest wells in the world are the Lake, 7,576 feet; the Goff, 7,386; a well at Czuchow, Germany 7,384; and the Geary, 7,248. The two deepest wells in the world are therefore the Lake and the Goff, the Lake surpassing the German well by the large margin of 231 feet.

In comparison with these great depths, other depths reached by wells or mines sunk in the crust of the earth are rather insignificant. The deepest mine in the world is shaft No. 3 of the Tamarack mine, in Houghton County, Mich., which has reached a depth of 5,200 feet. Other shafts of the Tamarack Co. and of the Calument & Hecla mine, in the Lake Superior region, reach depths between 4,000 and 5,000 feet. Three shafts in the Prizbram silver mines, in Austria, have reached depths of about 3,300 feet. The Victoria quartz mine, at Bendigo, Australia, is 4,300 feet deep. A number of shafts in the Transvaal gold region of South Africa have been sunk to depths of about 4,000 feet.

BAPTIST ASSOCIATIONAL QUOTA SET AT $75,000

In the Baptist $16,000,000 campaign in Texas, the county quota of Briscoe, Floyd, Crosby and part of Motley Counties has been announced as $75,000.

The $16,000,000 to be raised by the Baptists of Texas for the five year program of the Southern Baptist $75,000,000 drive has been appropriated by the campaign directors through the 18 state districts, 120 Texas Baptist associations and counties. Individual church apportionment will be made from the county quotas.

August is being devoted to Information. September to Intercession, October to enlistment, November to Stewardship and actual campaigning "Victory Week" November 30th to December 3th.

According to Dr. F. S. Groner, State Campaign Director, the organization is rapidly being completed, and it is thought the full organization will be perfected within the next few weeks. The major portion of the campaign will be conducted through the Baptist Standard, the churches' official organ, and much stress is being placed on greatly enlarging the circulation of this paper. Efforts are being made to place the Baptist Standard in every Baptist home in the state.

The county quotas above announced cover amount to be raised in pledges and subscriptions for the next five years.

FLETCHER WILL STUDY AT UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS

Lieutenant Robert Fletcher of Plainview, who is now in a hospital in Washington being equipped with two artificial legs and being taught their use, will enter the Law Department of the University of Texas in September. He will receive his full pay as officer, his insurance, and his tuition in the school. Lieut. Fletcher was not expected to recover by any of the army physicians, and it is said that he survived the loss of both his legs and other wounds only thru force of will. Several men wounded in France are now studying in the University of Texas.

"MINOR TROUBLES" OF A COUNTY AGENT

A county agent in one of the Eastern states believes in diversified activities. He reports as follows for one month's work: "Burnt up 90 gallons of gasoline, 5 quarts of oil, had 6 punctures and one blow-out. Trailer broke away and upset load; pig fell out of the car and was caught with difficulty, afterwards jumped from sty and was run over by an auto. Buried three pigs with all the profits and lost $28 besides. Tore best trousers getting over pasture fence; broke watch crystal loading corn planter; but outside of a few minor troubles had a very satisfactory month's work."

AUTOMATICS TO SUCCEED MANUAL TELEPHONES IN DALLAS

Dallas, August 16.—"Hello, Central," was on the way to the morgue for historical phases Saturday night. No less authority than E. D. Nims, vice president of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, made the statement. "Automatic telephones soon will be installed in every large city," Nims, here looking over plans for installation of the automatic system in Dallas, declared.

"Telephone companies find it impossible to secure and train sufficient operators for the manual telephones," he said, "and turned to the automatic as a solution."

Telephone business in Texas and Oklahoma has increased faster than in any other section, Nims said. The oil boom and tremendous growth and prosperity of the States are responsible.

Dallas will be one of the first large cities in the country to have a complete automatic system.

CONGESTED RAILROADS HURTS MARKETING PROSPECTS

Development of the railroad congestion, feared by the grainmen, has been rapid the past week, and has slowed down the movement of the grain crop to such an extent that dealers are pessimistic of the future. The surplus of cars has been taken up on practically all roads of the southwest, and the movement of "empties" back from ports to the interior is very slow. This division of the Santa Fe, from Slaton to Amarillo, has been promised 40 cars per day by the G. C. & S. F., which operates into Galveston. This means from one to four cars per day for each station in the division, and even with the occasional car picked up at random suitable for wheat, will give wheat shippers less than a fourth of their needs. Galveston sidings are said to be full of loaded cars waiting to be unloaded before they can be started back to the interior.

Friday and Saturday last Floydada dealers were given no cars, Monday two were loaded out. With three or four hundred more cars of grain to go from this point this rate of shipment means it will be January or February before the wheat is marketed. It also means that other grain will be delayed in reaching the market indefinitely.

Grain dealers, while hopeful that the situation will improve, do not now have any assurance from the carriers that such will be the case.

WAR DEPARTMENT TO SELL BLANKETS

Washington, August 15.—The War Department offered for sale to the public today its surplus of wool cotton and mixed fabric blankets, of which approximately two millions are now available for the market. It was announced that an individual may buy one or more blankets up to the limit of one bale.

The prices run from $6 for new all-wool blankets to $1.25 for reclaimed cotton blankets. The prices in bale lots are cheaper.

E. P. Nelson spent Monday in Lubbock on business.

Now All You Good Fellows, Come Fill Up Your Pipes

15c

The Velvet tin is twice as big as shown here

If ever men are "Tom" and "Bill" to each other, it's when good pipes are a-going. If ever good pipes go their best, 'tis when Velvet's in the bowl.

For Velvet is a mighty friendly smoke. Kentucky Burley is the leaf that Nature made for pipes. Wholesome and hearty, honest as the day. And Velvet is that same good Burley leaf, brought to mellow middle age.

For eight long seasons Velvet "meditates" in wooden hogsheads, throwing off the rawness of "young" tobacco—truly "ageing in the wood." Out Velvet comes—cool, calm and generous—the tobacco Nature made good, kept good and made better.

Velvet's sweetness is the sweetness of good tobacco, not "put on" like "frosting" on a cake. Its mildness comes from natural ageing, not from having the life baked out. Its fragrance is true tobacco fragrance, not a perfume. And Velvet makes an A Number One cigarette. Roll one.

As good old Velvet Joe says:

"Fill yo' heart with friendly thoughts,
Yo' mouth with friendly smoke—
An' let the old world wag."

Twelfth Floyd County Fair Premium List

FLOYDADA, TEXAS, OCTOBER 2, 3 and 4, 1919

No entrance fee will be charged for any exhibit entered for premiums offered in this list, but all entries made, except Community, Live Stock, Poultry, Culinary, Boys' and Girls' Clubs, Fancy Work and Art Exhibits are to become the property of the Floyd County Fair, to be used as advertising to such extent as the management may see fit. Premiums will be paid in cash, except that the committee reserves the right to pay in War Savings Stamps and Certificates. Where there is no competition single entry will be awarded second prize.

It is the intention of the management to have sufficiently large exhibition spaces to accommodate every exhibitor in the county who might want space in any department. In order to do this it will be necessary for those intending to exhibit to assist the management to the extent of advising the Secretary of the Fair not later than one week before the opening day of the space they will desire. This is more especially necessary in case of Community, Live Stock and Poultry Exhibits, and those failing to do so cannot be guaranteed space.

Entries will be closed in all departments at 4:00 p. m., on the opening day of the Fair. In the Live Stock Department in case notice is given in advance of intention to exhibit, stalls will be provided for the proper care of all entries.

THE TWELFTH FLOYD COUNTY FAIR PREMIUM LIST

Has been increased over that of any previous list, the total for this fair being more than three times as great as for 1917. This increase in prizes has been made in order to encourage a wide representation of products from all portions of the county and to make keen competition in every department. Provisions are being made to accommodate all comers, and rest rooms for women and children and plenty of ice water will be provided each day.

Weekly Club Letter to Boys

W. H. Darrow, County Agent.

During the past month we have all heard numerous complaints about melon lice, cotton lice, calico bugs and other insects that prey upon the crops of garden and field. You boys ought to start early to learn something about these pests, especially as regards the best methods of controlling them.

True insects are small creatures which, when grown, or in the adult stage, have rather hard bodies divided into three portions, head, thorax or chest, and abdomen (belly). They have a single pair of antennae, or feelers, usually three pairs of legs, and one or two pairs of wings. Other small creatures in a general way are often called insects, such as sowbugs, red spiders, mites and thousand legged worms or millipedes. Among injurious forms of true insects are beetles, butterflies, moths, sawflies, ants, flies, grasshoppers, plant bugs, thrips, and plant lice. There are others, but this list will give you a fair idea of what a true insect is.

You boys should learn to know the insects which are useful in destroying injurious insects. Not all insects destroy crops, but devour other insects which are harmful to us. One of the chief of such insects is the convergent ladybird, which is not a bird, at all, but a small insect resembling a beetle, having a red color, a number of regular black spots on the back, and three pairs of legs. It destroys not only all forms of garden plant lice but the eggs of various insects, such as the Colorado potato beetle. One of the reasons that plant lice on melons and cotton have been so bad this year is due to the fact that the convergent ladybird is not present this year to any great extent.

Other beneficial insects are wasps, chalcid flies (minute, wasp-like flies), ground beetles, soldier bugs, and lace wing. Were it not for the natural insect enemies of the potato beetle and of cabbage worms, army worms, and similar pests, all vegetable crops would probably be failures. In this regard it must not be forgotten that toads, frogs and snakes do great good in devouring insects.

All insects may be classified into two groups, according to their eating habits. (1) chewing or biting forms which devour leaves and other portions of plants, and (2) sucking forms which injure and destroy plants by sucking out their life juices. Among the first class we can place our own "black bugs" which did so much damage last year, army worms, cabbage worms, potato beetles, and a few other beetles that are working this year on various crops. In the second class are melon and cotton lice, or aphids, the calico bug, which is causing severe losses in cabbage here this year and a few others, that are common here, such as lice and mites in poultry.

In speaking of the control of insects it must be clearly borne in mind that there is no magical wand or chemical, which, applied to the crop affected with insects, will destroy them instantly. Controlling insect ravages is much like controlling weeds,—it means one fifth science and four fifths hard work. It is impossible to lay down fast and hard rules for the control of insects, as their habits differ greatly, and what will destroy one kind will not affect another. Prevention in insect control is worth a pound of cure as in other lines. Very often a knowledge of the wintering of an insect will give a clue as to how they may be controlled very largely by plowing and other cultural methods. For instance, the Hessian fly and wheat straw worm which prey on wheat crops, may be held fairly well in check by thorough summer and fall plowing, disking and harrowing, because the eggs are deposited in the soil at that time and thorough cultivation destroys them. Sometimes screens or obstructions around a field of a vine or plant is the most effective way of stopping the damage. Sometimes the growing of a different crop on the same land the year following an outbreak will avert disaster the next year. This is true where the insect in question is on one particular crop only, such as the wheat joint worm and failure to plant the desirable crop, the insect or its eggs in the attempt to find see that we must know something about the insect that is causing the trouble before we can hope to control it and even then we must be effectively fight it. We only think of spraying a crop with an insect, hoping to destroy it and while this is the most effective single method, spraying must be done carefully. There is no such thing as a free lunch, and a biting insect, as we have seen, can be killed if we use a poison such as Paris Green. The use of Paris Green is lead arsenate which you can buy at the drug store in powder form. Take 10 level teaspoonfuls to 1 gallon of water and apply on the crop in a fine, strong spray, so that it will stick. I do not say this is to be recommended for every biting insect, because in some instances like the "black bugs" the insects are present in a big field in such numbers that spraying is too big a job. In the garden, however, spraying biting insects with the preparation given above will kill if it is applied right, and if repeated once or twice according to the severity of the attack.

For sucking insects you must use what is termed a "contact spray." Since they do not have biting mouth parts they will not eat poison like lead arsenate. You must kill them by actually hitting them with a spray that will close up the pores and breathing spaces in their bodies. The best spray to use is prepared as follows: Dissolve a 1 inch cube of soap in water, add one teaspoonful of nicotine sulfate, and 1 gallon of water, and spray as directed above. You will undoubtedly have to spray more than once for you will seldom hit all the insects the first time. The sooner you start fighting an outbreak of insects the better. "A stitch in time saves nine."

Remember the encampment August 28 and 29.

HOW TO KNOW A BAD EGG

The absolutely fresh egg held against the light shows a distinctive pinkish glow of goodness. Let that egg, however, remain out for a little time, and within a day or two it begins to show "blood," a tiny series of little blood vessels forming around the embryo of the chick; or the heat may cause the yolk to go toward the top and shift easily, which characterizes it as a "light floater."

Again, the yolk may mix with the white and make a "white rot," a condition also revealed by the candle. The final stage is the "black rot," where no light at all can be seen through the egg. The egg has now reached the explosive stage, which makes it such a favorite missile of the average boy. There is, however, another type of bad egg which most people would think good for food. The yolk is a firm golden ball and the white a clear liquid. But the white has a greenish color—and the green indicates that the egg is full of bacteria—it is a "green white egg."

Mrs. Myrtle Standefur accompanied by her little son, of Texico, New Mexico, is here on a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Nelson.

ATTRACTIVE COOPS HELP FINE BIRDS TO WIN PRIZES

How to Make a Coop That Has Good Looks As Well As Comfort And Safety

In the same degree that "fine feathers make fine birds" and "clothes make the man," proper exhibition coops assist markedly in improving the condition and appearance of showing fowl when they stand "at attention" before the critical judges. Here are the plans for a practical coop adapted as a traveling van for fowl which are carried to the show in a wagon, automobile, or other vehicle and not shipped by railroad.

It can be made from a dry goods box or almost any other available material; the floor to be solid and the frame work of wooden strips 2 inches wide and 1 1/2 inches thick. The top, back, and sides may be covered with lath, wire netting, or any kind of thin, strong cloth. The front should be of 2-inch wire netting. If impossible to obtain netting, however, lath may be used, but should be placed about 2 1/2 inches apart so as to afford as much opportunity as possible to see the birds. The coop is made 2 feet wide, 2 feet deep and 2 feet high and will accommodate one mature bird or a pair of chickens. If more than this are to be exhibited together, the coop should be made larger in proportion to the number of fowls it is to accommodate.

Every poultry owner who intends to exhibit his birds should have one or more exhibition coops of this nature, depending upon the number of specimens he intends to exhibit. Birds can be trained and conditioned in these coops previous to the exhibition, and in becoming accustomed to them they will appear to better advantage when being judged and are more likely to win a prize. Furthermore, when your birds are shown in coops of this kind that are uniform in size and style, they not only improve the appearance of the show room, but add considerably to the attractiveness of your exhibit.

Exhibitors who wish to ship their fowls and have them arrive by express in the best possible manner will want a special shipping coop like that shown above. They are solid, substantial and will last for a long time. Such a coop may be made from boards taken from dry goods boxes or almost any other half-inch material. Boards more than one-half inch thick should not be used, as it makes the coop too heavy. The coop may be put together with nails, with the exception of the slats on the top, which should be put on with screws so they may be easily removed.

The following dimensions should be used in constructing same:

For one hen or cock, 12 inches wide, 18 inches long, and 24 inches high.

For two hens or hen and cock, 12 inches wide, 24 inches long, and 24 inches high.

For a trio of two hens and one cock, 18 inches wide, 24 inches long, and 24 inches high.

For an exhibition pen or four hens and cock, 24 inches wide, 24 inches long, and 24 inches high.

In preparing for shipment a small quantity of hay, straw, or dry shavings should be placed in the bottom of the coop to absorb the moisture, and a cup or can provided for both feed and water. The cans should be nailed securely about half way to the top of the coop. A tag or card plainly marked showing destination of the shipment as well as your return address, must be tacked or pasted on the outside where it can be plainly seen.

USE GRASSHOPPERS

FOUR CHICKEN FEED

Grasshoppers make good poultry food, and wherever the insects abound they may be utilized, if desired, for egg and meat production by either capturing them and feeding them to the flock or by liberating the flock on the range so that the hens may catch the grasshoppers.

A grasshopper catcher, 16 feet long, with an upright piece of curved tin at the front so arranged that the insects will hit against it as they hop about, thus causing them to fall to the bottom of the trap and backward through a narrow opening into a box at the rear of the machine, may be useful on fields where the grasshoppers are abundant.

The tin front does not extend quite to the bottom of the trap, where, just in front of the shield, is another strip of tin placed so that there is an opening about 1 1/2 inches or 2 inches wide. This front strip or lip may be made by using a 16 foot length of gutter, one side of which is flattened outward. The back and top of the box in the rear is covered with wire screen, while the top should be hinged in such a manner that it can be easily opened and the accumulated grasshoppers removed as desired.

A horse is hitched to the extended beam at each end so that the catcher may be dragged over the infested field beginning at the sides and working toward the center of the area. Ordinarily a boy riding on each horse can easily operate the machine. A heavy rope attached to the hams so that it drags a few feet in front of the shield is advantageous in that it stirs up the insects just before the catcher passes.

The grasshoppers can be dumped into sacks and hung up to dry, subsequently being fed as dry grasshoppers, or, if the poultryman desires, he may feed the grasshoppers alive, the grasshopper trap being hauled into the poultry yard and placed so that the front end faces the light. The insects will make their way out of the cage just about as fast as the ordinary flock of chickens can eat them. By such management the grasshopper catcher is transformed into a poultry self-feeder.

WEALTHY EX-STUDENT GIVES CLARENDON SCHOOL BUILDINGS

An annex to the girl's dormitory and a new science building will be erected on the campus of Clarendon College at an early date, according to Professor Stuart H. Cordon, of that school, who was here today. These buildings are the gift of John Van Cleve, formerly a student at the college, who has made an immense fortune in the Wichita Falls oil fields.

LOCATING A POULTRY HOUSE

Select a location for a poultry house that has natural drainage away from the building. A dry, porous soil, such as sand or gravelly loam, is preferable to a clay soil.

In most localities the building should face south, which insures the most sun light throughout the year. Allow about 3 square feet of floor to a bird. Proper ventilation and sunlight mean a dry house and healthy birds.

MARKETING A GRAIN CROP

Floyd County's forage grain crop, —maize, kaffir corn, feterita,—is going to be worth a good-sized fortune. Without awaiting the outcome as regards extremely late feeds, it may be said that the county will have hundreds and hundreds of carloads of surplus feed of the best known kind to feed and fatten live stock.

Present outlook for a good cash market is promising, and there are many farmers who will hurry their grain to market as rapidly as it may be harvested. This will bring in lots of ready cash. It will make a tremendous showing in bank deposits, on top of the wheat crop balance which is already assuming big proportions.

It will, also, pay debts and build new homes and make improvements. It will pile on top of a huge cotton crop, too, and money will have a "to let" sign on every hand.

But we are constrained to believe that if the bulk of Floyd County's feed crop were stored in the stack or granary it would make us thousands of dollars more than it will put on an immediate market in truth if a depressed and glutted market would have the effect of keeping forage feeds off the cash market rather than causing a still more feverish rush, it would be a great thing for the country. For Floyd County is the ideal home of the porker. Hog raisers readily double the value of a maize crop by marketing it on the hoof. Cotton and wheat and oats will pile up millions for ready spending money. Maize and other forage crops could easily be kept to turn into golden dollars next spring and summer.

It looks like there is going to be no doubt that the farmers can obtain within the next sixty days as many sows and gilts as they may desire. Pork offers a good chance to make more money off of feedstuffs—even at a price much less than now obtains for hogs. Having made a million-dollar forage crop the opportunity presents itself for us to turn the million into two millions by the investment of a little time and money.

REVOLUTION BY ULTIMATUM

The plan of the railroad brotherhood for taking over the railroad properties of the country is a straightout adventure into Soviet economics. It contemplates collective ownership, but class operation and control, which is at the foundation of the Soviet system.

The American people, through their Government, are to buy the railroads from the private owners and turn these properties over to the railroad employees to manage and operate. In consideration of an investment of approximately $20,000,000,000 the Government is to appoint one-third of the directors, and the public is to share in such savings in the cost of operation as may remain after the employees have paid themselves what they think their services ought to be worth. The spirit in which the programme is put forth may be inferred from a statement made by B. M. Jewell, Acting President of the Railroad Employees' Department of the American Federation of Labor, in which he said that if President Wilson's suggestion to Congress was carried out "we will tie up the railroads so tight that they will never run again if that legislation is passed." It might have been Trotsky himself speaking to a bourgeoisie that had offered mild and academic objections to being despoiled.

Before any railroad plan can be worked out, one highly essential fact must be established—namely, whether the sovereign power of the United States is vested in Government and in the American people or whether it is vested in the railroad brotherhood.

For three years now the brotherhoods have assumed that the sovereign power was vested in them, and Congress has provided them with excellent reasons for that assumption. When the railroad employees in the critical period of the summer of 1916 demanded an eight hour day and threatened a general strike, President Wilson sent a message to Congress in which he urged that the eight-hour day be made the basis of work and wages, but he made four other proposals, one of which called for—

An amendment to the existing Federal statute which provides for the mediation, conciliation and arbitration of such controversies as the present by adding to it a provision that in case the method of accommodation now provided should fail, a full public investigation of the merits of every such dispute should be instituted and completed before a strike or lockout may be lawfully attempted.

Congress refused to enact this legislation because the labor leaders objected to it, and now we have a situation in which a labor leader can threaten to "tie up the railroads so tight that they will never run again" if Congress presumes to pass an act to which the brotherhood autocracy objects as unequal to its imperative demands.

The railroad brotherhoods have embarked upon a policy that even the most conservative of them must admit is economically revolutionary. If their scheme of nationalization under class control is to be carried out in respect to railroads, nobody can draw the line where it shall stop until all industry is under Soviet direction. Yet they are not putting their programme out as a matter to be discussed and deliberately considered by the American people. They are trying to force the issue and bring about a revolution by ultimatum.

In the last three years the railroad employees have received hundreds of millions of dollars in wage increases for which the general public is paying. As a reward for its generosity the country is to be taken by the throat and choked into submission if the most complicated economic issues that have ever confronted it are not settled forthwith. *If there is any difference between that kind of arrogance and the arrogance of the German General Staff of July, 1914, we should like to know what it is.

If the American people can be kept forever choked into a state of submission by private organizations taking over the functions of Government, the United States might as well apply for the appointment of a receiver first as last.—New York World.

"King Solomon and King David,
In youth led wayward lives,
Each had a few affinities,
Besides their numerous wives.
But when old age came rolling on
With all its aches and qualms,
King Solomon wrote the Proverbs,
And David wrote the Psalms."

Bele'e me, folk,
When we passed laws
In the United States
Thot kilt hoarse-racin'
We lacked a muckle
'killin' the racin' game.
We've turned the whole country
Intae a race-track noo
And we're stagin' a contest
Wi mair gamblin'
And mair excitement
And mair surprises
Mixed oop itae it
Then onny race meet
Thot we ever held.
There were five entries,
But Ho'helupall,
A brown maiden,
Sired by Desperation
And dammed by Faint Hope,
Got jammed at the gate
And was ruled out,
Sae noo there's four;
The first o' them
Is auld sellin' plater
Unner the name o' Politics,
F'red by Ambition,
He by Secrecy,
And dammed by Fear.
The second entry is Extravagance,
A rangy gray gelding,
Sired by Gude Times
And dammed by Whit's The Use.
The third is High Wages,
A black hoarse,
Sired by Necessity
And dammed by Anger,
And the fourth one
Is Cost-o'-Livin',
A circus entry
Sired by Profiteer,
He by Thief,
He by Club-o'-Cain,
And dammed by Ilkbody.
The gate gaed oop
Vi Politics a jump ahead,
But thot lead was cut doon
At the first quarter
When the entry was pocketed
By Extravagance,
And Cost-o'-Livin'
Tuke a lang lead
Thot it still hauds.
High Wages trailed the field
Tae the quarter,
But picked oop there
And is runnin' noo
Neck and neck wi Extravagance
Three lengths in front
O' Politics,
Wha's lost his front shoon
And is interferin' badly,
And wi'in catchin' distance
O' Cost-o'-Livin'.
Extravagance
Seems tae be losin' hert
And gude judges
Dinna gie him a chance
Tae make the distance
And thot wull leave

We're baith gaen' strong

Be the ither oine
And the dust they're raisin'
Is sae thick and gritty
Thot folk luikin' on

Till they dinna notice
Hoo hungry they are.
It's a great race meet
And millions are at it
And bands are playin'
Jazzy dance tunes entitled
"Unversed Peace"
And "League o' Nations"
And "Reservations,"
And lads are sellin' whistles
Thot make a noise
When ye blow in them
Thot sounds like

And ilkbody's excited
And payin' sma' attention

TEXAS CLUB BOYS
TO GO TO CHICAGO

Mr. H. H. Williamson, assistant state agent, Extension Service, has announced that six members of the Texas Boys' Agriculture Clubs are to be sent to the International Livestock Exposition this fall with all their expenses paid. The plan to send these boys has been under consideration for some time, but no announcement of it was made until it was definitely settled that the boys would be sent.

The six members are to be selected this fall at the Dallas Fair Boys' Agricultural Club Encampment. The basis for making the selections has not yet been announced, but Mr. Williamson states that the boys' records in the club work for this year will be taken into consideration and in addition they will be required to enter into a livestock judging contest at the Dallas Fair this fall to be held during the encampment at that place. There will be several hundred boys in attendance at this encampment and it is expected there will be strong competition in the stock judging contest.

The results of the stock judging contest will largely determine the successful boys as the boys are to go to the International Livestock Exposition as a stock-judging team to represent the Texas Club membership in the national contest to be held at Chicago this fall. Heretofore the awards for similar trips have been based entirely on the results of the club project for the year. Very often worthy club members met with adverse conditions that they were unable to entirely overcome, such as drouths, floods, insect ravages, etc., thus permitting less worthy members to win over them on account of more favorable conditions. The method to be used in making the awards in the present contest will eliminate to a large extent this objection. The boy who has made an honest effort to carry out his project but was unfortunate to the extent that he was unable to make the highest record, is not to be penalized to the extent that he will not have a chance to win a place on this team. It demands hard study and constant and continued practice to make a good stock judge and the boy who has been working to make a better animal husbandman of himself is now to find an opportunity for reward for his hard work and study.

WHAT WILL BE THE PRICE OF THE 1919 COTTON CROP?

This is a question that is being asked frequently. While it is too early to answer, the opinion of those interested in spinning it, dealers in it, brokers, farmers and experts who have kept 'tab on the cost of producing the crop may shed some light on it.

Some spinners state they can pay 35 cents per pound and clear 35 cents per pound, or 100 per cent profit. Brokers and cotton experts predict 50 cent cotton and some say a cotton famine is possible and that 75 cents or $1.00 is likely in 1920. All base their opinion on the belief that the producers are not going to break their necks to sell as fast as they gather. These calculations on the cost of producing the crop range from 40 to 50 cents per pound.

The government will give out its estimate of yield per acre about Sept. 1st. The State Department of Agriculture of Texas will have its figures of cost per acre from several hundred farmers, compiled by that time and the price for which to hold will be given out at once.

From all indications now present, the first cotton sold of this crop, will sell for much less money than the last part that is sold. Certainly there can be no reason to be in a hurry to sell this crop.—Yeary.

"REPUBLICAN CENSUS" SHOWS
BIG GAIN IN TEXAS

Fort Worth, Aug. 12.—A statement issued from the headquarters of the Texas Republican Council here today says that a "republican census" taken by the Council recently discloses the fact that thirty thousand republicans have moved to Texas within the past two years. A large per cent of the new comers are oil men and it is the claim of local Republicans that this new blood, together with the wide spread change in sentiment throughout the state will materially increase their chance for success in the 1920 election.

The Council announces that Texas republicans are preparing for the most vigorous campaign ever conducted in the history of the state and organization is being perfected in practically every county in Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Blackwell, of Oklahoma City, left Saturday morning returning home after a visit of several days with Mr. Blackwell's father, A. J. Blackwell.

ORGY OF BUYING IS AID
TO THE H. C. OF L.

Washington, Aug. 15.—The people in many parts of the United States are virtually in league with the profiteers, according to William Mather Lewis, of Chicago, director of the savings divisions of the Treasury Department, who has just returned to Washington after visiting the various Federal Reserve districts.

"A veritable orgy of extravagant buying is going on," he said. "The reaction from the careful use of money during wartime is widespread and disturbing."

"The people must return to the policy of careful buying and regular saving if they wish to help the situation."
