TRACTOR HELPS FARMER'S INCOME IF SYSTEM IS WELL ADJUSTED

(U. S. Department of Agriculture)

A tractor may be either a profitable or an unprofitable investment. Each farm has its own peculiarities; and a farmer must weigh the advantages and disadvantages carefully before buying a tractor. He should study the experiences of those who have used tractors in farm work, paying particular attention to those whose farms conform most nearly to his own in size and system of cropping. This is advice from specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture.

On an average, one farm in 30 in the United States now uses a tractor. It has been estimated by manufacturers that over 300,000 tractors will be made this year. It behooves every farmer contemplating buying one to study his farm problems from every angle.

Advantages in Using Tractor
The advantage of a tractor lies not so much in the reduction in the cost of doing a piece of work as in being able to do it in less time. Thus the number of acres farmed can be increased and the work done quickly. Often the savings of time is the important factor in making a profit on the crop grown.

A tractor can be kept on the job in hot weather when horses are at a disadvantage. It can do heavy work and do it rapidly, thus covering the desired acreage in the proper season. It saves man labor, thus enabling the farm to be worked with less hired help. It sometimes decreases the number of horses needed, thus saving both investment in horses and the expense of their feed.

The tractor owner can increase his income somewhat by doing custom work of his neighbors; but this is often a doubtful practice. Outside work must be done at a time when it will not interfere with the necessary work on his own place or he will lose more by neglect than he makes by the custom work.

Disadvantages Mentioned by Owners
The packing of damp soil and the difficulty of efficient operation are the chief disadvantages mentioned by tractor users. Where early spring work is necessary, the packing of the soil, especially a heavy soil, is a serious objection.

The fact that a tractor demands a certain amount of knowledge on the part of the operator can scarcely be considered a disadvantage. The training can be easily obtained at small expense. But too many men attempt to run tractors without learning anything about them except the starting, stopping, and shifting gears. The important thing is the ability to detect trouble the minute it begins to develop, and know how to remedy it promptly instead of allowing it to run along until an expensive delay results.

It pays to spend a few days gaining experience under a competent instructor. It is unwise to attempt to run a tractor without such preparation. With the increasing use of tractors, as well as automobiles and stationary engines, farmers are rapidly becoming familiar with the care and operation of gas engines. At the same time, tractors are being improved and simplified so that difficulties in operation are growing less each year.

The comparatively large investment, rapid depreciation, and fuel and repair bills have also been mentioned by farmers as points against owning a tractor. They point out, too, that a tractor is not adaptable to all farm work where horses are ordinarily used. However, the tractor can do much work that horses cannot do—work where belt power is needed.

Fit the Tractor to the Farm
One of the most important points to consider when buying a tractor is the size of the farm. Experienced tractor owners rarely recommend the purchase of a tractor for use on a farm with less than 120 or 130 acres under cultivation, and for such farms the two-plow outfit is usually preferred. However, most of the farms on which tractors are being used successfully are somewhat larger than this, and a majority of the tractors pull three plows. Four-plow machines are being used satisfactorily on some farms where there is a large amount of work to be done, and where the conditions are such that one man can operate an outfit of this size.

Size, however, is not the only factor to be considered, and the question whether or not a tractor will prove profitable is a problem in farm management which must be worked out for the individual farm.

DON'T FORGET THURSDAY, MAY TWENTY-NINETH

Remember that one of your surest sources of income on the farm is from your flock of hens. Remember that the sale of eggs from this flock constitutes by far the greater party of this income. Knowing this improve the quality of those eggs, thereby further increasing your returns.

How? By killing off, selling off or penning up your roosters, thus insuring the production of infertile eggs. Fertile eggs will not keep well at any time much less in the hot summer months. Let's go into this summer right, minus our roosters. Look for Rucker's ad on another page. Eliminate those roosters next Thursday, May 29. Everybody in Texas is doing it.

Horse Sense About Tobacco

Good tobacco ought to be like a well-bred hoss—all th' kick taken out but all th' sperit left in.

You see, half the secret of makin' a good hoss is in the breedin' an' half in the breakin'. Selectin' tobacco that's grown right is only half of makin' Velvet. The agein' is the other half.

Thar's only one kind of agein' that gets th' right results—Nature's own. Nature's no clock watcher. She does a job right whether it takes two years or two thousand.

So when she gets through with the fine Kentucky Burley that we put away in wooden hogsheads for two years, it's just right.

It ain't been hurried none, or short-cutted. It's a Nature-done job.

All kinds of things are packed in tobacco tins, but your good neighbor will tell you "Velvet is the real pipe tobacco." Prove it for yourself.

CENTER NEWS

Mr. Rogers has had two families from Kent county visiting them recently.

Schools all around closed Friday. We had a nice program here and a large crowd in attendance.

Miss Ruth Foster, our primary teacher, left yesterday morning for her home in Wichita Falls.

D. I. Bolding and family and G. C. Tubbs and family took Sunday dinner at W. B. Jordans and part of the crowd went to Lakeview to signing in the afternoon.

Mr. Caruthers and family of Lakeview spent Sunday at Mr. Jeff Fosters Mrs. Broyles was right puny last week but has gotten about all right now.

All the boys at the Jordan home are having a continued puny spell.

We wish people would let us know about more of the neighborhood happenings, there are lots of things we don't hear of until they are too old to tell about.

McCOY ITEMS

Quite a number of the McCoy young folks attended the entertainment which marked the close of the Farmer school Thursday night.

The question of the value of the Farm Loan Bank System to the farmers and ranchmen of the United States is no longer debatable in Floyd County. The Floydada National Farm Loan Association has already helped scores of farmers pay indebtedness, make improvements and "carry on," at a cost to the farmer which he is able to pay.

If there is still a question in your mind let us explain your objections away. You will be a booster for the plan when you see how it works out in practice, saving you money, time, and worry.

THE CORPORAL OF THE GUARD (Old Dominion)

A new Mexico doughboy, wounded three times while in France, after returning home spent a day or two as the guest of Old Dominion, who did the following lines in his honor: What did you do, I say, My Friend? We busted bronch and roped the steers, And helped run Pershing's running gears; We oiled her up with gasoline and Fed the Kaiser on leaden beans.

We passed through England, then through France, And helped those French girls swing the dance; We danced one here and then one there And waltzed around the peanut stand; She winked her eye, gave me her hand, And said my friend we cannot land.

We ran our bakery up a hill and And kept it warm for Kaiser Bill, We stayed in the ditches day and night Until the Kaiser and Crown Prince took their flight. I lost one eye, got shot in the arm, Then came back to see the little school-marm.

Our President toured the foreign land The vice held down the capitol stand; Mr. Hoover skipped the price on corn; Now you old granger, blow your horn,— 'Tis said his name he did affix and Put wheat down at two twenty-six.

They built us a house, they built us a barn And teach us boys all how to farm. Now farming is plum out o' sight, But for Land's Sake give us awater right.

We saw the air ships skim the air Dropping their bombs here and there, And if by luck or any chance Our boat should touch the banks I'll tip my hat and give my hand To the girl that kept that peanut stand.

Famous Health Resort Treatment at Home

Nervous and Run-Down People Can Now Obtain Relief Without Going to Health Resort.

People used to travel to a popular health resort when they were nervous, thin, weak, run-down and felt tired all the time. There they found a physician whose fame had spread far and wide for the remarkable success that he had in treating just that kind of people.

And the secret of his success was a tonic that he prepared for his patients according to his own formula, which taken according to his directions gained for him his popularity.

This same tonic is now obtainable by the public generally under the name of RICH-TONE with full directions on each bottle. If you suffer from bad health and need a building tonic, you need not travel to the health resort for you can take this treatment at home.

One well known lady who was under the care of three eminent physicians, and who had been in a sanitarium on several occasions and had been operated on without benefiting her general health, found it necessary to take only one bottle of Rich-Tone to find full relief.

There is POWER and PUNCH in GOOD HEALTH—it means a bright eye, alert look—snappy gait—that resilient step—that general make-good appearance so different from the men of one on the ragged edge of a declining constitution.

Men and women who wish to gain vigor and strength should commence this famous health resort treatment at once. It's only a dollar at

STOMACH TROUBLE

Mr. Marion Holcomb, of Nancy, Ky., says: "For quite a long while I suffered with stomach trouble. I would have pains and a heavy feeling after my meals, a most disagreeable taste in my mouth. If I ate anything with butter, oil or grease, I would spit it up. I began to have regular sick headache. I had used pills and tablets, but after a course of these, I would be constipated. It just seemed to tear my stomach all up. I found they were no good at all for my trouble. I heard

FLOYDADA, TEXAS

The Ford truck is really a greater necessity to the farmer than is a team of horses. Certainly it is a greater utility and economy for him. It saves time, it gives prompt and almost unlimited service along the entire line of farm work from carrying the milk to marketing the products of the farm. It is not expensive to maintain and has all the Ford simplicity in mechanism that makes it easy to operate. The price, too, is attractive, about the price of a team of horses; $550, without body, f. o. b. Detroit.

"That's just what I've always wished a cigarette would do — satisfy"

The feature of Chesterfields is that they begin where other cigarettes leave off.

In other words, besides pleasing the taste, Chesterfields go 'em all one better—they satisfy! Just like a long drink of cold water satisfies when you're downright thirsty.

No other cigarette can give you this new thing in cigarette enjoyment because none can copy Chesterfield's blend.

It's a blend of the finest TURKISH tobaccos from Xanthi, Cavalla, Smyrna and Samsoun and several varieties of the choicest DOMESTIC. And the blend itself—the skill with which these tobaccos have been proportioned — is a real discovery in cigarette making.
