CAMP TRAVIS NEWS

Camp Travis, Texas, June 1, 1918.—The casual visitor to Camp Travis, who has not lost in this day of motor cars an interest in horse flesh, marvels at the splendid collection of horses to be seen about the camp. They are in excellent condition, well cared for, well trained for the most part, but there is a reason.

One of the largest remount stations in the world is located at Camp Travis. Here every horse and mule used at the camp is received, sorted, inspected, branded and fattened. The wild ones are broken, and in the breaking Camp Travis has gathered a choice collection of premier broncho busters of the world of the kind that is developed in Texas and Oklahoma. They will ride anything any time, and hundreds of people visit the Remount to see the wild animals broken to the saddle.

Sick and injured horses are given far better treatment than the people in many localities. Three large veterinary hospitals are located at the Remount Station, with a corps of seventeen graduated veterinarians and a staff of seventy five men as assistants. They have at their command all the experience, medicine, and instruments the United States Government can afford.

Horses, like men, are trained on a schedule, the keynote of which is regularity. They are fed balanced rations at regular hours and are given every attention. In the army, particularly in those branches of the service where the horse and mule is used continuously as in the cavalry, machine gun, etc., the animal comes before the man. After drilling all day, or fighting, when the recall has sounded then the animal gets first attention, and the man comes next.

After horses or mules have been inspected at the Remount Station and have developed or give indications of being blind, or any symptoms of disease making them unfit for army use, they are caught, branded with "C", which means "Inspected and Cured", and then sold. The brand is placed on the neck. Army buyers will not buy in horses so branded. Such horses may be fit for any and every duty demand of them for other purposes, but Uncle Sam is particular.

Peach marmalade is a delicacy, particularly in an army camp, but the way it is being served recently is not at all popular and steps may be taken to stop any further distribution at Camp Travis. Soldiers have recently been getting a taste of it on their letters or newspapers. Friends and parents of the soldier boys have thought to send them fresh peaches in flimsy containers. The large volume of mail received at the camp makes tender handling of mail sacks an impossibility and peaches have been smashed and their juices and meats distributed among the remainder of the mail in the neighborhood. The Post Office authorities are urgent in their request that peaches be not sent through the mails unless the containers are heavy enough to stand some pretty hard jolts. The peaches never reach the parties intended and the good humor of many is spoiled when oftentimes the most important or most eagerly sought for word in a letter is nothing more than a stain of peach juice.

In order that mosquitoes may not breed in or near Camp Travis, gangs of men are working daily on the banks of the Salado, which runs near to the camp, clearing out drift wood, straightening the course, eliminating holes of standing water and distributing crude oil. Camp authorities take every step to insure the protection of the health and happiness of the soldier boys. The Salado is fed by running wells. Bath houses are being erected for the use of the men, swimming classes organized, special hours designated for respective units, in order that all may benefit by the fresh water. A dam has also been erected to deepen the waterway. Along the banks of the river, are groves of huge pecan trees, offering shade and cool spots to rest.

WHY WE MUST SEND WHEAT

Supplying wheat for the armies and the allies is a military necessity and an act of national defense, the redemption of an obligation to which our national honor is pledged.

The allies ask America for wheat, rye, corn, barley, and oats, and we are sending them in large amounts. They ask us especially, however, for wheat. They ask it as the necessary basis for their necessary loaf. They must have bread, and they must have bread which will keep sweet and palatable for several days.

Wheat is the basis for the durable raised bread loaf.

Troops must have bread carried to the front from bakeries behind the lines; it must be a durable raised loaf.

Workers in the war factories must have bread from commercial bakeries. The women in the factories can not be bakers also. Their bread must be the durable raised loaf.

All France depends on the bakeries for its bread. The people do not know how to bake in the home. They have no ovens for baking, nor could they afford fuel for them if they had.

All the bread of France and England and Italy to-day is war bread. It is made of gray wheat flour, milled at a high extraction rate; that is, a larger proportion of the wheat grain is now put into the flour than formerly was the case. Their flour now contains more of the outer parts of the wheat grain, parts which formerly were separated from the flour and used as feed for animals. This flour is then mixed with as large a percentage—usually 25 per cent—of flour made from other cereals as can be used and still permit the making of the raised loaf.

In England this war bread can not be sold until it is 12 hours old, so that the people won't be tempted to eat too much fresh bread. In France and Italy the bread is rationed according to the age and occupation of each person. A child has less than an adult; a light worker less than one who does heavy labor.

France has always lived on bread. Of the average Frenchman's normal diet 52 per cent is composed of bread and but 48 per cent of other foods. France has just put her whole people on a rigorous bread ration which limits them to only two-thirds of the amount they have been accustomed to. In all the allied countries they are using as little wheat as will give them bread at all and as little of this bread as is possible to keep them in health and strength.

The people of Belgium are living on a relief ration. Over 1,000,000 of them get their daily bread and soup by standing in line long hours before the relief kitchens. They have stood in these long soup lines every day for three and one-half years. But they do not complain. They only ask that the soup and bread be there every day. They depend upon America.

We are, as we have said, sending corn and other cereals to England, France, Italy, and Belgium. These cereals are shipped as fast as they can be used. But the people can not live on them alone. They do not know how. They are unable to cook them properly. They must have wheat to mix with them and with potatoes to make their bread. We are now sending wheat to the limit of our cargo space, and yet we are only meeting the minimum requirements of these people. In order to continue doing this, our people must share their present wheat supply.

We are dividing our wheat evenly to day between ourselves and the Allies. We must not use before the next harvest more than one-half of the wheat we have. Even with one-half of our wheat the loaf of the allies is small. It can not be made smaller without undermining their strength and morale. Is there any doubt what we shall do in this emergency? We have just one thing to do, and that is to save wheat and send wheat.

Is Wheat Indispensable in our Diet? The question naturally arises, however: To what extent can the wheat to which we are now accustomed in our diet be reduced without injury to the health of the individuals of the Nation? This question was put by the Food Administration to a committee of experts recently assembled in Washington to consider the special physiological problems involved in the general problem of wheat conservation.

The committee was composed of the highest physiological authorities in the country. Their answer to the question was direct and unequivocal.

It is the scientific opinion of the committee that in a mixed diet wheat may be entirely replaced, without harm, by other available cereals, namely, rice, barley, oats, and corn. However, we should not recommend this except as an emergency measure.

The committee's particular reason for not recommending this, apart from the fact wheat is perhaps the most convenient cereal for use because of its special qualities connected with the making of bread in loaves that will stand up and remain sweet and palatable for several days, is that going without wheat would be a psychological though not a physiological deprivation. We are accustomed as a Nation, just as most of the nations of Europe are, to the use of wheat bread, and a sudden break in our custom would have for some people a psychological significance more or less disturbing.

However, if these people could well understand the emergency leading to the change, and then could recognize that they are aiding their country in the great emergency by making the change, this psychological disturbance would be much reduced.

Exactly this condition of a great national emergency, to meet which the loyal and patriotic efforts of all the people are needed, is the condition to day. It is only because of this great national emergency that the Food Administration makes use of this deliberate judgment of the physiological experts called in for advice.

Even under these circumstances, it is recognized that because of economic and commercial reasons not all of the people of America can go without bread based on wheat, but it is certain that a great many people in this country can easily do so. It is the belief of the Food Administration that, for the sake of maintaining the wheat bread supply for the armies and civilians of our fighting associates in the war, as well as our own soldiers in France, every patriotic American who can possibly do so will be glad to dispense entirely with wheat from now until the next harvest.

THE HOUSEHOLD AND THE WAR—QUICK BREADS THAT SAVE WHEAT

Eat Hot Breads as War Measure. Biscuits, Muffins, Waffles, and Griddle Cakes are Better Vehicles than Yeast Bread for Utilizing Substitute Flours—Will Tickle the Palate and Satisfy.

Biscuits, muffins, griddle cakes, waffles—use these in place of yeast bread and save wheat. To make a yeast bread of good texture some wheat flour must be used to furnish the gluten necessary for this form of leavening. Quick breads leavened with baking powders or sour milk, or cream of tartar with baking soda, do not need this gluten, so we can use other cereal flours that do not contain gluten for them. Barley flour, corn flour, corn meal, buckwheat flour, oatmeal, sweet potato flour, kaffir, and feterita meal—all such can be used for quick breads. Their use will do much to relieve the wheat situation, as they require no wheat. They are delicious, too, so when you serve your family with hot breads made from the wheat substitutes you help your country and the allies, and at the same time furnish your family with good things to eat.

For hot biscuits almost any of the substitute flours can be used, using the same amount of shortening and baking powder as for wheat biscuit and enough liquid to make a dough of the right consistency for rolling. Half corn flour and half corn meal makes a good biscuit or half corn meal and half peanut meal.

What You Are Missing
Get acquainted with the delicious quick breads that can be made without wheat flour.

If every family in the United States were acquainted with them, a wheat shortage would never pinch again, war or no war.

By not being acquainted with them, you are missing an opportunity for sorely needed patriotic service.

Besides, you are missing the opportunity of eating delicious bread.

Get acquainted with quick breads made from corn meal and wheat substitutes.

It is a duty you owe your country—and a pleasure you owe yourself.

This barley drop biscuit is delicious:
Barley Drop Biscuits

2 cups barley flour, 1 cup milk, 6 teaspoons baking powder, 4 tablespoons fat, 1 1-2 teaspoons salt.

Baked in a sheet this makes a good shortage, buttered and served with fresh crushed berries or other fruit.

When soy-bean meal or peanut meal are used the fat should be reduced, as both of these contain much fat.

For muffins the standard recipe can again be used, substituting the other flours in place of all or part of the wheat flour. Rolled oats can be put through a food grinder and used as any other flour or meal in quick breads. Here is a delicious muffin made from oatmeal and corn flour:

Oatmeal-Corn Flour Muffins
1 cup oatmeal, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 cup corn flour, 1 cup of milk, 1 tablespoon melted fat, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon salt.

These muffins made from corn flour and boiled rice or boiled hominy grits are also delicious.

Muffins
1 cup cold boiled hominy grits or boiled rice, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 cup sweet milk, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 1-4 cups corn flour, 1 tablespoon melted fat, 1 egg.

Griddle cakes and waffles are always popular. Buckwheat cakes made with baking powder in place of the old-fashioned yeast-raised buckwheat cakes are very good.

Buckwheat Cakes or Waffles

1 3-4 cups of buckwheat, 1 1-2 cups milk, 2 eggs, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 tablespoon melted shortening, 1 teaspoon salt.

Corn flour, barley flour, or one-half corn flour and one-half peanut meal or sweet potato flour can be used in the following recipe to make delicious, crisp, brown waffles.

Waffles
1 1-2 cups milk, 2 cups flour, 2 eggs, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt.

Why Use Corn Meal?
A thirty-five bushel yield of corn, which crop produces more human food than any other commonly grown on American farms, will supply nearly 150 pounds of protein needed for flesh building and more than 3,000,000 units (calories) of energy. Whenever conditions are favorable for extending corn acreage it is evident that considerable addition can be made to the supply of human food.

Let it be said once again, use more corn meal. Millers should give special attention to the preparation of corn meal of good quality and housewives should use increased quantities of this nutritious and palatable product as a substitute for wheat for bread making and other purposes. It is more practicable to increase the use of corn meal in this country than abroad, for our people are familiar with corn as a food, while most European peoples are not, though now they try to do what they can. With us the problem is not to learn to use something new but only to make more use of something which we already know and like and can use.

Savory Meat Savers
Beans, peas, and other legumes are especially important articles of food at this time because of the large amount of protein they contain, which makes them valuable as meat savers. The legume protein, however, is not a complete substitute for that supplied by meat, fish, poultry, eggs, milk, cheese, etc. The legumes will not, therefore, entirely take the place of meat and similar sources of protein in the diet. They should perhaps be looked upon as meat savers rather than meat substitutes. They will perform their function as food better if used in connection with some of the other sources of protein named rather than alone. For this reason such dishes as the following, for example, are preferable to beans or other legumes alone: Pork and beans, Boston roast (cold baked beans and cheese), bean soup with boiled egg, stews of meat and legumes, bean croquettes with boiled egg, and bean chowders and purees with milk.

"New" Spinach is old Favorite—Don't Snub it.

This is just an item about spinach and how you can help prevent a rather important loss in it. All that is asked of you is that you do not discriminate unfairly, when you go to market, in the matter of two kinds of spinach which are practically alike except in looks. Prickly spinach is an old type that is coming on the market this year because seed of the common spinach—Savoy-leaf—is scarce. It resembles the dandelion somewhat in appearance. It has just as much food value and as good a flavor as the smoother leafed Savoy which you are more accustomed to buying, and can be cooked in the same way. Only a few years ago, before the Savoy became almost the only type grown commercially, the prickly seeded spinach was the most popular kind produced for winter use.

So don't snub this old favorite. Specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture are eager to have this explanation spread broadcast because they fear a loss may result from the belief of many consumers and dealers that the prickly type is a new one differing in food value. Just say "spinach" to the market man, take the kind he has, and you will help prevent a wastage of the prickly seeded crop already grown and now ready for consumption.

By the way, you should include liberal quantities of spinach and greens in your spring diet. It is mighty good for the body at this time of the year, food specialists of the Department of Agriculture say—it gives us iron, which the body needs.

ROARING SPRINGS HAS BIG LOSS FROM FIRE

Fire last Thursday night destroyed the principal part of the business section of Roaring Springs, the total loss according to the estimate of John Chalk, one of the main losers who was in Floydada Sunday, being around $60,000, about half of which was covered by insurance.

Ten buildings in all were destroyed. They were the First State Bank, the post office, Bingham's Picture Show, Gardenhire Garage, Bingham's Mill, Boot shop, Tin shop, Roaring Springs Echo office, Home Merchantile Company. Two or three of the buildings belonged to Mr. Chalk.

Plans are under way for re-construction of the principal part of the destroyed property.

The fire started late at night and is of unknown origin.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Lewis left Monday for Missouri, upon receipt by Mrs. Lewis of a telegram stating that an aunt living there was critically ill.

THREE FLOYDADA GIRLS IN
C. I. A. GRADUATING CLASS

From the College of Industrial Arts at Denton, Texas, comes an announcement concerning the graduating class of the state college for women which will be of interest to the friends of Misses Mabel Yearwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Yearwood, Bernice Henry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Henry, and Ruby D. White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. White of Floydada, all of whom graduate from some course at that institution this year.

Fifty-one young women will receive either the B S or A B degree from the College of Industrial Arts this year, it is stated, and one hundred and sixteen, among whom are Misses Yearwood and Henry, will graduate from the three year college course. Fourteen will receive certificates from the Commercial Arts department, one year course, including Miss White, seventeen from the Homemakers' course, and three from the Vocational course. Commencement exercises begin with the alumnae banquet to the graduates on Saturday, June 1, and conclude with the commencement address on Wednesday morning, June 5, by Joe J. Taylor, "State Press" of the Dallas-Galveston News.

Miss Yearwood has made a splendid record at the college, it is stated, and holds the most honored office within the gift of the student body—that of president of the Students' Association. She is also a member of the Press Club, the honorary literary club of the college, and of the M. Eleanor Brackenridge Literary society, the Panhandle Club and the Young Women's Christian Association.

Miss Henry is also a popular student at the college and is secretary of the Athletic Association, secretary of the Panhandle Club, and member of the M. Eleanor Brackenridge Literary Society.

Tobe Lincoln, who enlisted last year in the cavalry, and has since been stationed at Fort Bliss, returned home Thursday for a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Lincoln.

J. W. Howard left Saturday for Amarillo where he is sitting as a petit juror in Federal Court this week.

BAILEY GREEN SAYS LAST
DRAFT A JOLLY BUNCH

May 30, 1918.—On the morning of May 25th it seemed hard for the boys to leave the little town of Floydada, but after we were on the road a few minutes they all began to be jolly again.

On arriving at Plainview we saw and shook hands with our old friends.

We left Plainview and sure did have a fine time until we got to Slaton. There we took dinner. We received word there that the train was four hours late. There were four more carloads of soldiers put in our train. All of the boys seemed cheerful until we would pass through a town where some of the boys sweetheart failed to be at the depot.

Boys continued to get on the train all the way to Sweetwater—where we stopped for supper. As soon as the train stopped John Lewis and our captain, Sam Goslee, sent a telegram to Abilene for their girls to be at the depot that night to tell them goodbye. Imagine their surprise and disappointment when we received orders that we would have a special train from there to the camps and not make a stop.

We arrived at the camps Sunday morning and were assigned to our tents. That evening we were called out and examined and vaccinated.

We thought that was hard when our arms began to get sore, but that was fine beside the next that happened.

Yesterday morning we lined up for breakfast and our meal was a cup full of salts.

All of the boys here from Floyd county sure are a jolly bunch and they all like the army fine.

The boys all said hurrah for the Red Cross. The kits they gave us were the handiest things we have.

Yours truly,
BAILEY GREEN.

PLANS RETIREMENT OF SOME TIRE SIZES

Asked regarding Government restrictions on the importation of rubber and the endeavor of tire manufacturers in co-operation with the Government to restrict the manufacture of unnecessary tire sizes, Mr. J. C. Weston, vice president and director of sales of the United States Tire Company said:

"The intention of the Government in the control and restriction of the importation of rubber is to conserve shipping space, and the program that has been laid before the manufacturers of rubber goods has won their unanimous support for the War Trade Board and the Shipping Board.

"In addition, the manufacturers of tires are heartily co-operating with the Government program for the eventual elimination of unnecessary tire sizes. This elimination will simplify the problem for each user of the motor car of reducing his cost and making it possible for him to secure the tire size he needs, in good tires, more readily than the market and manufacturing conditions now permit.

"Plans for the withdrawal of certain tire sizes from use by manufacturers of motor cars will not in any way interfere with the manufacture and distribution of the tires to users who need those particular sizes at any time."

FOCH

General F. Foch, Generalissimo of the Allied Armies on the west front, was born at Tarbes, in 1851. Like Marshal Joffre, his career began in the Franco-Prussian War, when he enlisted as a volunteer in the Fourth Regiment of Infantry.

He is, however, an artilleryman, receiving his education at the Ecole Polytechnique and the Ecole D'Artillerie de Fontainebleau. In 1875 he was commissioned a lieutenant of artillery, and served in various artillery regiments until he was made a colonel, in 1903. Later he was a member of the General staff and taught at the War College.

At the outbreak of the present war he was in command of the Twentieth Division of Artillery. It was he who defeated the Imperial Prussian Guard at the battle of the Marne and directed the French forces at Ypres.

TAODAY

Sure this world is full of trouble;
 I ain't said it ain't.
 Lord, I've had enough and double
 Reason for complaint.
 Rain an' storm have come to fret me—
 Skies were often gray;
 Thorns and brambles have beset me
 On the road—but, say—
 Ain't it fine today!

What's the use of always weepin',
 Makin' trouble last?
 What's the use of always keepin'
 Thinkin' of the past?
 Each must have his tribulation—
 Water with his wine.
 Life—it ain't no celebration.
 Trouble—I've had mine;
 But today, ain't it fine!

It's today that I'm a-livin',
 Not a month ago.
 Havin', losin', takin', givin',
 As time wills it so.
 Yesterday a cloud of sorrow
 Fell across my way—
 It may rain again tomorrow;
 It may rain—but, say,
 Ain't it fine to live today!

MANUFACTURE OF UNNECESSARY FARM MACHINERY MAY BE DROPPED

Nearly 2,000 types and sizes of farm implements which have been gradually developed by manufacturers during peace-time competition have been recommended for elimination during the war by committees of the National Implement and Vehicle Association. The object, according to a statement by the Council of National Defense, is to conserve materials, labor, capital, and manufacturing facilities for war use.

In the report of the committee meeting to the commercial economy board of the Council of National Defense it was stated that no machinery recommended for discard was believed to be necessary to modern economical agriculture. The lines considered by the committees consisted of steel and chill plows, grain drills, seeders, and other tillage implements and farm elevators. Such of the recommendations as the board deems suitable, with others from different sources, are being brought to the attention of all implement manufacturers and jobbers, and as many retail dealers as may be reached through questionnaires.

"NO WHEAT" CAMPAIGN

Food Crisis is Being Approached in America Says Message of Hoover To the People

Mr. Hoover has just issued the following ringing message to the Country: The text was released for publication until Sunday, May 26.

"The confidence of the United States Food Administration that the people of the country would respond enthusiastically and whole heartedly upon presentation of the facts to any necessary requests for reduction in consumption of food has been fully justified. We have demonstrated our ability not only to think together but to act together. This response of the people is the reason for the present appeal.

Our work is not yet complete. In spite of the encouraging results of our efforts, in spite of the fact that our exports of foodstuffs are constantly increasing and are approaching the minimum requirements abroad, the need for renewed devotion and efforts is present. While all of the requirements of the Food Administration should be constantly observed, there are certain matters which I desire to stress at this time.

In the case of meat and meat products the necessities for shipment abroad are very great. Whereas the allied consumption has been reduced to the average of about 1 1-4 pounds per person per week, we are today enjoying about 3 1-3 pounds per person per week. This division is inequitable and the understanding of these facts will justify our request that the consumption of all meats, including poultry, as nearly as possible, be reduced to two pounds per week per person over four years of age.

In the case of sugar we are embarrassed by the necessity of using ships for carrying our soldiers and feeding the allies and in consequence we must use sugar with great economy. We must emphasize the importance of canning and preserving on a large scale among our people this summer and our available sugar must be conserved for this purpose.

But the situation with regard to wheat is the most serious in the food supply of the allied world. If we are to satisfy the minimum wheat requirements of our armies and the allies the suffering millions in the allied countries, our consumption of wheat in the United States, until the next harvest, must be reduced to approximately one-third of normal. It is inconceivable that we should fail in this crisis. For each of us who can personally contribute to the relief of human suffering, it is a privilege—not a sacrifice. All elements of the American population cannot bear this burden equally. Because of the constant daily employment of women and the lack of home baking facilities, many households in large urban centers require a food ration already prepared, such as the bakers' standard "Victory Bread" loaf. Furthermore, we must constantly safeguard the special requirements of children and invalids.

To meet the situation abroad and to prevent serious suffering at home, it is imperative that all those whose circumstances permit shall abstain from wheat and wheat products in any form until the next harvest. It is realized and deeply appreciated that many organizations and some communities have already agreed to follow this plan.

It is hoped that you will communicate this to your organization and your community, urging those whose circumstances will permit to join with us and take this stand.

HERBERT HOOVER."

Haden Harris returned last Saturday from a short business strip to Stamford.

HORSESHOES AND GIRLSHOES

Brownwood Bulletin:

A British road improvement society has offered a prize for a horseshoe that will minimize the damage done to highways by steel shoes and at the same time give horses safe footing on smooth pavements.

State Press in Dallas News:

An improved horseshoe undoubtedly is needed, as that article remains today about what it was in the times of the Medes and Persians. This is doubtless true because the foot of the horse is about the same now as it was when Xerxes attempted to strafe Greece with a Hindenburgian horde. In some parts of Europe horseshoes are said to be successfully made out of straw, and contentedly worn by the horses. It hardly seems reasonable, but veracious chroniclers have chronicled it. But really improved horseshoes are not so much needed as improved girls' shoes. The shoes in which so many perfectly lovely girls attempt to move and have their being are opposed to all the dictates of grace, comfort and utility. With a heel that projects the wearer forward onto the front of her feet, and gives her a precarious standing in the world, the modern girls' shoe becomes an instrument of torture and a reproach to the judgment of the wearer. Indeed, these French heels look to a conservative person as something akin to German propaganda. To ruin the feet of half the women in a nation would be the sort of enterprise the kultur propagandist would delight to engage in. Of course the excuse for such shoes is that they are pretty. It is the same excuse the Chinese women offers in behalf of her deformed feet—and a Chinese foot that has been compressed into a pitiful little bunch of bent bones and crooked toes is as much of a reproach to Chinese taste as a pair of French heels run over at the sides are to an American woman's taste. Of course the American woman's excuse for wearing foolish shoes is that other women wear them. That is also the Chinese woman's excuse—that other women break their feet to stay in fashion, so must she. However, the professional foot-compressors in China have a deal to do with that custom. And the shoe manufacturers in this country are largely to blame for the outlandish heels they prescribe. They can charge more for a nonsensical shoe than for a sensible one. They can make a shoe to retail at fifteen dollars, guaranteed to ruin any woman's foot, whereas they couldn't induce any woman to pay more than nine dollars for the same shoe built on practical lines. Artificiality in the product conduces to artificiality in the price. It does.

Mrs. G. V. Smith and little daughter, left last Thursday for Waco, Texas, where they will visit her cousin, Mrs. T. M. Bartley. They will return by way of Denton, attending the Commencement Exercises of the College of Industrial Arts, where Miss Bernice Henry, Mrs. Smith's sister, will graduate.

R. H. Buckingham and wife left Saturday for Winfield, Mo., where they will make their home for the present. Mr. Buckingham has disposed of all his holdings here.

Judge E. P. Thompson, who is now devoting all his time to his hardware business at Lockney, was a business visitor in Floydada Friday last.

G. R. Tibbetts was in Floydada Friday. He reports good rains over two of his pastures.

EVELYN MAE'S CAKE LANDED IN THE GARBAGE CAN, MAYBE

Camp Travis, May 25, 1918.—When the soldier boy's Evelyn Mae sends him a cake and a shoe box of fudge, why, of course he has to write her and tell her how "dee-licious" it was. What he doesn't tell her is that the cake got mashed in transit and he had to bury it in the garbage can. Nor does he mention the fact that the candy went astray because the address was faulty, and the sweets poor little Evelyn Mae labored over were dusty dry before they reached her correspondent.

The fact is that the postal service of Camp Travis is cluttered up with ill-packed, ill-addressed, ill-chosen and generally unnecessary parcels of food intended for a body of men who, even if the parcels never arrived at all, would be one of the best fed bodies of men in the country. The ration is a balanced one, every component that is required to make the meals nourishing and appetizing being provided. Fruits and vegetables find their place on the menu in season. The men do not need food from home. When it comes, if it is still in edible condition, the entire essemblage in the barracks of the recipient assist him in stowing it away and a box that took long hours of thought and preparation disappears in five or ten minutes.

For those who have a sweet tooth and desire dainties between meals, the regimental exchanges are within a hundred yards or so of the farthest barracks, and for a few cents the soldier can fill up on ice cream or candy or other gimcrackers. Quarter-pound cakes in sanitary oiled paper may be obtained there also, as well as fruit of all kinds. The ice cream is produced at a factory that has complied with sanitary regulations of the army. The same is true of the candy, and the cakes even bear a "release date" after which they are no longer to be considered fresh and may not thereafter be sold. Although these cakes contain no wheat flour, the substitutes are so cleverly blended that the substitution cannot be detected. All things considered, therefore, if Evelyn Mae wants Private Oswald to have more goodies, she would do far better to send him the money to get them here in camp where they are fresh, than to ship them to him in a fragile hat box or similar container. But even then, Private Oswald is better off as he is, for he gets all he can hold at meal times, and more than that is not good for him anyhow.

FOOD ADMINISTRATION URGES MORE MILK AND LESS MEATS

"In the case of meat and meat products, the necessities for shipment abroad are very great. Whereas the allied consumption has been reduced to the average of about 1 1-4 pounds per person per week, we are today enjoying about 3 1-4 pounds per person per week. This division is unequitable and the understanding of these facts will justify our request that the consumption of meats, including poultry, as nearly as possible, be reduced to 2 pounds per week per person over four years of age.

The Food Administration desires to secure economy in the consumption of all kinds of meats without the reinstating of the Meatless Day. There is now an abundance of milk products which can well be substituted in various forms for meat. At this time, when milk production is encouraged care should be taken not to circulate literature which boycotts the use of milk or any of its products. Will you convey to your county representatives this message?

If less milk is used, less milk will be produced. Farmers will be obliged to sell their dairy cattle because of the high cost of feeding them, and the failure to find a market for the product, and this country will face the same conditions from which the people of Europe are now suffering. Milk is a cheap animal food. There is at the present time a surplus of both cheese and butter. If these are not used an important outlet for surplus milk has been removed and milk production will diminish.

Where possible, provision should be made to supply each child in the family with a quart of clean, wholesome milk each day. For each adult a pint is desirable when the meat consumption is low. Therefore, urge strongly that both children and adults should use milk. Children should have whole milk, adults may use milk and cheese in place of meat. The present price of butter have made many families refrain from using it. Those who are able to purchase it should do so. Unless all members of the family are using whole milk, they need some butter in the diet. If the family must economize, the amount of butter may be reduced but the amount of milk should be correspondingly increased to secure the right total of the fat of soluble growth promoting substances. The use of butter and cheese should be encouraged since the storage of milk in these forms is an important method of conserving an unmarketable surplus of this food.

DR. I. E. GATES ACCEPTS AMARILLO PASTORATE

Rev. I. E. Gates, pastor of the Plainview Baptist church and founder and former president of Wayland Baptist college, at the evening service at the First Baptist church Sunday, announced his acceptance of the call to become pastor of that church. A large congregation was present to hear a very interesting and spiritual sermon which he delivered. There was great gratification manifested when he announced that he had decided to accept the call to become their pastor. He will remove his family here shortly and occupy the Baptist parsonage.

Rev. Mr. Gates resigned as pastor of the Plainview Baptist church Sunday morning. He will assume charge of the First Baptist church here at once, filling the pulpit here both morning and afternoon next Sunday.—Amarillo News.

CENTER

Center, June 3.—We had a nice rain this afternoon. It only rained over a strip about 2 miles wide, that is the heaviest rainfall, which amounted to about one inch. It is still cloudy so we are hoping it may be more general before it clears up.

Most everyone went to Lakeview Sunday. There was a singing at Mr. Rogers' last night. Clyde Irwin was on his way to that place when he overturned his motorcycle. We didn't hear whether he was hurt or not.

Misses Myrtle and Eura Horn visited at the Maxey home this afternoon. Mrs. Love and children visited Mrs. Stovall today.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Parrish are staying a few days at the Bolding home helping care for Mrs. Bolding.

Mr. Landrum is building an addition to a house south of town across the canyon. Messrs. Tubbs, Carpenter and Jordan have been working with him.

Mrs. D. I. Bolding happened to a very painful accident Saturday afternoon while getting out of a car. She had stepped out on the running board but didn't notice that her skirt had caught on a foot rest, peddle or something of the kind inside the car so when she stepped to the ground was tripped and fell, her weight going mostly on her right arm which was dislocated at the elbow joint. It had to be put in splints to hold it in place. She has suffered much pain from it ever since. We certainly hope she will soon be where she can rest easy. As it will be a long time before she can expect to use the arm.

Our next Auxiliary meeting will be with Mrs. C. O. Bradley. We will begin making operating gowns. We almost finished the undershirts last Friday when we met with Mrs. Bolding.

Mr. Scott and family visited with Mr. Smithermon Sunday.

Quite a large crowd were out to service last Thursday, most of them remaining from eleven until past three.

Tommie Noland is up and about the place. We are glad he is doing so well. Miss Marion Belden visited Miss Ola Huckabee one afternoon last week.

Little Willie Austin is sick today. Also Mrs. Finley. We hope they will soon be well again.

Louie F. Moore, deputy county clerk of Lubbock county, was a visitor here for a short time this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Moore.

J. B. Downs, of Lockney, was here on draft board business the earlier part of the week.

C. W. Mitchell, who has been spending the past several days on the farm with his brother in Hale County, has returned to town and is again on the job at Mitchell Bros.

The announcement is made that a sacred song service will be held at the Baptist church in Floydada Sunday afternoon from 2:30 to 5 o'clock, to which all singers and lovers of music are invited.

BAILEY COUNTY ORGANIZES

Muleshoe, Texas, May 12.—Saturday, May 11th will long be remembered as the day of days for Bailey County, Texas, and especially so for Muleshoe, this thriving valley city having been selected for the county seat, by the voters of the county, over her rival, Hurley, another thriving town only about three miles distant.

Things move fast in this Shallow water valley, only about thirty days having passed since the first call for mass meeting to discuss organization.

The organization of Bailey County has long been contemplated by her citizens, but has been postponed from time to time for various reasons, until she has reached the point where it was absolutely necessary for her to step out and take her place as one of the leading counties of Western Texas, a place she has really occupied for several years, but which she has rather kept hidden by being attached for judicial purposes to her sister county, Castro.

Bailey County has at all times gotten a square deal and proper recognition from the officials of Castro County and leaves her with the kindest of feelings and stands ready to reciprocate at any time Castro county desires to become attached to Bailey County for judicial or other purposes.

The following officers were elected to take charge of the affairs of the newly organized county and will probably qualify Monday, May 13th:

W. M. Wiltz, Judge.
C. C. Madris, Clerk.
G. P. Kuykendall, Treasurer.
H. A. Cantrell, Sheriff.
J. E. Greenfield, Tax Assessor.
J. B. Diggs, O. C. Snyder, C. E. Dotson, D. P. Earnest, Commissioners.
The big fight was between Muleshoe and Hurley, contestants for the County Seat. Muleshoe winning by a substantial majority.
