Texas changes drinking age to 21

Base sets open house

Multicolored hot air balloons will fill the West Texas skies over Reese Air Force Base on Sunday morning, September 14, 1986. A balloon launch at 7:30 a.m., signals the opening of this year's annual base open house.

Everyone should be sure to bring their cameras, as the Reese flightline will be lined with all types of military aircraft from all branches of the

The day will be filled with flying demonstrations by Reese aircraft and Air Force fighter aircraft.

The Confederate Air Force will fly in with some of their vintage military aircraft that will also be on display. Between 8:30 and 10 a.m. area civilian pilots will have the opportunity to fly their aircraft into Reese. While here they will participate in a flying safety seminar with emphasis on Mid-Air Collision Avoidance (MACA). Interested pilots should contact captain Wayne Boudreaux at 885-3109.

Everyone in the West Texas and New Mexico area is invited to come out and get an up close look at your United States Air Force. Food and beverages will be available throughout the day.

Admission is free with gates opening at 6:30 a.m.

Zero overpricing update

Fiscal Year 1986 is slowly coming to a close. Price challenges received so far total 18. Replies from sources of supply have been received for nine-six have been completed, and three are still being checked out. Challenges received so far break out like

5-64th Organizational Maintenance Squadron

4-64th Civil Engineering Squadron

4-64th Air Police Squadron 3—Deputy Commander for Resources

1-64th Field Maintenance Squadron

1-64th Air Base Group

Of the items which were completed, most came back "item correctly priced," but there were a few instances where you at least helped correct an erroneous price.

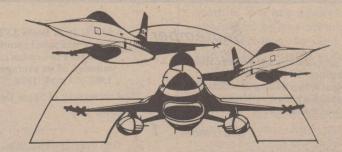

TSgt. Donald Soncrant, 640MS, challenged the price of two Fuselage Flaps, unit cost $7,617.96 and $10,317.71. Research indicated the price had been loaded incorrectly in the supply computer. The correct price was identified as $3,651.32 for both flaps. Due to Sergeant Soncrant's awareness, he saved his organization $10,633.03 in Operating and Maintenance funds. He was awarded $50 by the Zero Overpricing Committee.

Mr. Harvey Kiser, 64 Civil Engineering Squadron, identified an error in the purchase of some Herbicide. Research by Base Contracts Division revealed an error in the unit of issue and that the correct price is $16.75 instead of $71.89. Total Organizational and Maintenance funds returned was $2,205.60. Mr. Kiser was awarded $25 by the Zero Overpricing Committee.

MSgt. Paul Moody, 640MS, identified a Support that was coded local manufacture in the tech order but was currently purchased from Kelly AFB for $184.66. Previous experience shows item could be made locally for $4. As a result of his challenge, the Item Manager at Kelly AFB took corrective action to make item compatible with tech order. Sergeant Moody was awarded $25 by the Zero Overpricing Committee.

As I see it

"This past week, Karen and I have been in San Antonio for the ATC Commanders' Conference and General Shaud's Change of Command. I've been promising Karen some space in this column, and can't hold out any longer. Frankly, I didn't want to admit there was a better writer in our household. Just before we left, she put together some thoughts. Karen, it's all yours..."

Jim is reluctantly lending me a bit of space this week so I can share some of my thoughts. Tuesday of last week was an exciting day for me as Diane Edwards and I hosted the Board of the Women's Division of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce to a VIP Red Carpet tour of Reese. This all-day tour was organized by 1st Lt. Scott Russell of the 64th Student Squadron. Very special thanks to you, Scott, for a job very well done; you were a credit to Reese and a delight to the ladies.

The motivating factor behind this visit was to thank the Women's Division for the grand job they do for all of Lubbock, but especially Reese, with the Host Family Program. We also wanted to help our community friends better understand the "inner workings" of Reese.

Our tour began at the Physiological Training building with an informative briefing by Amn. Tim Kepsel. The ladies were dazzled by his discussion of hypoxia and its dangers. Thanks for some real insight, Amn. Kepsel!

Then we moved on to the hospital where 2nd l.t.

Ted Terrazas, the new head of patient affairs, and Capt. Chuck Sinclair gave a slide presentation on the history of the Reese hospital. We then had a tour of an empty OB ward, a busy lab, and some clinics. It is impressive to see how closely the hospital works with the Lubbock community and the mutual support given.

In the 54th Flying Training Squadron, Lt. Col. Dave Taylor showed us a typical flight room, spoke about the students' day, and 1st Lt. Tammy Rank demonstrated the use of the flying gear. Then on to the Simulator Building with a tour by Maj. Westenrieder...and sim rides! You have never seen a more excited group than the Lubbock ladies were. The certificates presented to all were truly appreciated—thank you Maj. Westenrieder, Lt. Rank and 1st Lt. Larry Mittleman for sharing your time.

After a relaxing lunch, served superbly by our own Wanda Gregson at the O' Club, we went for a "short" stop at the Security Police Squadron for a weapons demonstration by Capt. Danny Thomas and SSgt. Gordon Couffer. Also, I'd like to thank Ricky, a golden retriever, for an excellent drug detection demonstration—you are an impressive dog. We had such a good time there that we stayed extra long. The visitors remarked that they had never seen such enthusiasm and professionalism as demonstrated by the Security Police.

Our new Services Squadron Commander, Capt. Chuck Hatcher, met us at the Wing Dining Facility for a tour—even through the kitchens. Not only were we impressed with the decor of this facility, but by the spotlessness of the kitchens! The ladies were also appreciative of the variety of food and the hamburgers served—thank you

Mr. Reyes Granado of Cantu Food Service for the information you provided.

Next on our agenda we were given a tour of the Award-Winning OMS Dormitory by SMSgt.

Mike Custy and SSgt. Roy Hemminger. Capt.

Dianna Ackerley met us next at the FMS shop for a first-hand look at what makes Reese go—the repairing and maintenance of our planes.

Next we moved down the line to the new Cobra line shack where 2nd Lt. Sue Shankland and MSgt. A.J. Thomas showed us their super self-help storage area. This was a side of Reese little seen by our civilian friends and they were impressed with the dedication and personal motivation of all the folks on the line.

Our last stop was to the 64th Student Squadron with welcoming remarks by Lt. Col. Steve Maddox. And then a special treat. As the song, "Proud to Be An American" floated thru the air, a slide presentation of the Lubbock Ladies and the day's activities was presented. Roger Wilkins and 1st Lt. Keith Clifton—you really hustled to pull that off, and it was a smashing success. A glorious end to a great day.

As we drove back to our departure point and John Grove gallantly helped each lady off the bus, I heard nothing but sincere compliments of all that the Lubbock Ladies had seen and done. And, I once again, felt a fierce sense of pride in all that is Reese—the teamwork, the cooperation, the positive attitude, and the loyalty. As I see it, that's what makes Reese great.

(As I see it, that's why I love Reese. Thank you for letting me be proud!)

Care line

The CARE Line is prepared by Col. James McIntyre, 64th Flying Training Wing commander, on a weekly basis. All information provided to the CARE Line will be held in strict confidence. Callers are urged to give their name and duty telephone number so that a personal reply may be made; however, neither are mandatory. Callers should use the CARE Line only after all possible means to air their views or complaints through the chain of command have been exhausted. The CARE Line number is 885-(Ext.) 3273.

Cool days ahead

I've called housing maintenance seven times within the last two weeks concerning the air conditioner being out in my quarters. They came out, but it still isn't working. Each time I called, I got the same reply "we have 24-hours to fix it." Why can't they fix it?

It sounds like you really had a lemon—every call was apparently for a new problem each time. I think we have solved all the problems and sincerely hope the inconveniences have been eliminated. May you have cool days ahead. Thank you for your call.

Thanks to dentist

I'd like to thank Lt. Col. Fred

Blosser and Capt. Bob Ferek, of the Dental Clinic for being very helpful to me while I was there with a severe problem.

No doubt about it, we've got a superb team of dentists at Reese. Thank you for taking the time to express your appreciation. Calls like this help keep us going strong.

Kudos to...

2nd Lt. Jim LeFavor for the outstanding orientation program he provided to the Goodfellow Technical Training Center. As the Orientation Flight Officer, his efforts provided very enjoyable T-37 flights—from Col. Paul L. Robertson, commander, Goodfellow Technical Training Center.

Capt. Paul W. Nelson for outstanding achievement as honor graduate from Squadron Officer School—from Lt. Gen. Thomas C. Richards, commander, Air University, Maxwell AFB, Ala.

Commander's Column

Commitment to excellence

Col. Chuck Edwards 64FTW Base Commander

While watching the Dallas Cowboys and Los Angeles Raiders preseason football game a couple of weeks ago, I couldn't help but be impressed with the slogan on the banners surrounding the playing field of the Raiders—everywhere you looked the logo "Commitment to Excellence" was displayed. While I'm not a Raiders fan I must admit that their continued winning record is most impressive. Al Davis, their general manager, believes in commitment—not just being involved.

You ask, what is the difference between involved and commitment? Well, it's something like ham and eggs. The chicken is involved but the pig is committed. I'm not suggesting we go as far as the pig—but there is a real difference between being involved and being committed. For example, many people are involved and do a good job but come quitting time they drop everything and away they go. A committed individual wants the job done and done well with his "special touch" applied to the project even if it means staying an extra hour to "make it just so." People of Reese are committed, everywhere you look from the mission to the self-help projects, people are committed to doing their best. Exceptional work continues to be the "trade mark" of Reese.

Just one more example of committed people is Alexander Hall. If you haven't been past Dorm 420, please go. MSgt. Charles Baldwin, MSgt. Raymond Jarvis and other personnel from CES, STUS and Supply have done a remarkable job...and are not done yet...look out Custy! Committed to excellence also means you have a special caring for your fellow workers and your work area.

Our MWR Chief, Hugh Beam, visited numerous bases this past week and told me he was ashamed of some of them and in all cases, none could compare with Reese. He's got the Reese fever!

You know, it is a pleasure to see colonels and airmen alike reaching down to pick up a carelessly discarded drinking can or other litter just to ensure Reese looks "just right."

This is being committed to excellence. When you think of it, Reese has had quite a few years of "excellence." I would not want to be the one to "screw it up"—would you?

次次次次 To the Men and Women of Air Training Command As I depart the Air Force after more than 35 years of service, I take a lifetime of great memories. The high point of my career has been these past three years when I had the good fortune of commanding the First Command, Air Training Command. I was privileged to be associated with a world class of Air Force officers, non-commissioned officers, airmen and civilians, all working together to help train men and women to be part of the best Air Force anywhere. I saw dedication, enthusiasm, pride and patriotism in every one of you. I am proud to have been your commander, sharing in your accomplishments. I salute all of you and charge you to continue the superior effort you executed during my tenure. You are getting a fine commander in Lt. Gen. John Shaud. Support him the way you supported me and ATC will always be the first and best command in the Air Force. Clara and I want to take this opportunity to say thank you and to wish you all the best for the future. Sincerely ANDREW P. IOSUE General, USAF Commander

What do others think about the Air Force?

by Col. Dennis C. Sammer 366th Tactical Fighter Wing commander

Mountain Home AFB, Idaho

Have you ever made judgments about the other services based on how their people looked? Have you wondered what others think of the Air Force? I have many times.

For example, what do you think of Marines in uniform? (I've never seen a fat Marine.) Does it make you wonder what their lives are like or does it make you want to be a Marine? It has me. But, I also wonder what Marines think of us.

Are their thoughts the same as ours? Do they make judgments about our ability to do our jobs based on what they see? Do they ever wish they were in the Air Force instead of the Marine Corps?

I was in the Boise airport terminal some weeks ago and saw a member of another service. He was overweight, badly in need of a haircut, and his uniform was dirty and wrinkled. Did I make a judgment? Would you? I think we both have to answer yes, and the reason is because he was so easily identified.

But my thoughts went further than that. That service was not enforcing its standards by letting him represent it in public. How could the service be expected to enforce standards and do a professional job under really difficult conditions? What do you think?

How do these thoughts apply here at home? What criteria do you think our people use to evaluate each other? Is it the way they look and act, how their uniforms fit, their grooming standards?

Do they look at how well they do their jobs, participate in base activities, compete in intramurals? You bet they do!

Do they notice who processes through the mobilty line with all the required items instead of an empty gym bag? Who hustles to get the job done? Who is a team player and who takes charge? They do, without question!

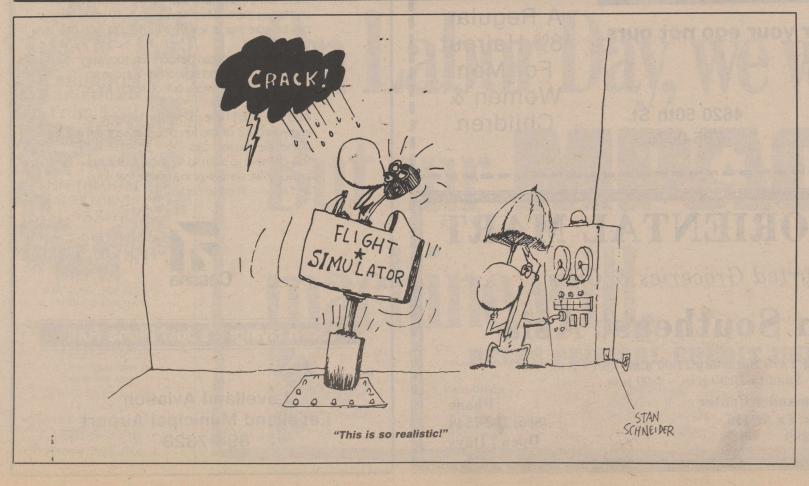

But there is a bigger difference. Here they are not only judging a person, they are judging that squadron. They are assessing the capabilities of that unit by the actions those people take. I guess we can never escape the fact that we constantly represent our country, our service and our unit—for better or worse.

The civilian community also evaluates everything we do. Civilians take serious note when our public conduct is not becoming as a member of the military and they know who we are.

They constantly measure us by what they see, what we say and what we do—for better or worse.

I think it's important to remember that we are very visible. We are always being evaluated by the members of other services, by each other and by the general public.

What is noticed is everything we do—our professionalism in and out of uniform our conduct and our contributions. And we must remember that we earn every evaluation we get—for better or for worse.

Chamber of Commerce visits Reese

On Aug. 19, 14 members of the Women's Division of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce took a Red Carpet tour of Reese AFB. The ladies spent over six hours touring various units across the base including the hospital, the 54th Flying Squadron and various maintenance facilities to name a few. The Lubbock Women's Division sponsors the Host Family Program which provides the student pilots an opportunity to mix with the local families and provide them a friendly home to relax from the rigors of training. Because of the chamber's support and hard work, this program is one of the most successful of its kind.

When You Learn to Fly, Getting There is 2/3 of the Fun.

There are 3 parts to a trip. Going, coming and being there. When you learn to fly you can be sure that at least 2/3 of the trip will be fun.

And that other 1/3 can be more fun, too. You can arrive sooner and stay longer. You can go places that once were out of reach for a weekend excursion.

And you don't have to own an airplane to enjoy that 2/3 of the fun. You can rent airplanes like you rent cars.

You do have to learn to fly, though. But not to worry. We specialize in a course that is fun and easy — in equal parts.

Where The CFC Dollars Go

Do you sometimes wonder just why you should give to the Combined Federal Campaign? I mean, you never really know where your money will go, right?

Wrong. CFC is probably one of the only sure things in this world. In fact, if you could follow the dollars you donated to CFC, you might be in for a few surprises.

Only about two cents of every dollar go to administrative purposes for the CFC. The rest, well, the list is long.

Your money might stay here in Lubbock. Or it could go to many places around the country. The possibilities are endless. Why? Because there are a great many agencies that desperately need your

And the only way they can get it is through the CFC. These are agencies that help people. They help people of all walks of life. But mostly they help people who are less fortunate than the rest of us, people who are in desperate need of help.

Your CFC dollars will go to agencies such as homes for abandoned children, day care centers for handicapped children, and day care centers for the elderly who live at home and cannot take care of them-

And these are just a few. The list could go on and on... aid for families who were victims of natural disasters...

shelters for the homeless... food for the hungry...

The point is, CFC is the only hope for a lot of these people. And for you, CFC may be your only hope to reach out to them and show that you care.

Knowing that your donation will make it to these people might dissolve your hesitations about giving to the CFC. Your dollars will make it to the people who need them. You can be sure of that. That's what the CFC is all

Reese to join in Hispanic cultural observance

"President Reagan has designated the week, Sept. 14-20 as National Hispanic Heritage Week. Hispanic Heritage Week has been celebrated annually since 1968, as a result of Public Law 90-498 and a presidential proclamation. The central theme for this year's observance is 'Hispanics: An Economic and Electoral Influence'," according to Phil Thierry.

"Hispanics helped colonize this land and participated in the American Revolution. They fought on both sides in the Civil War and rode with

Roosevelt's Rough Riders. They were in uniform during World War I and in World War II more than 250,000 joined the services. Hispanics served and died during Korea, and in Vietnam, the first pilot downed, and the longest confirmed POW in the nation's history was Hispanic. Throughout our military history, Hispanics joined and fought and sacrificed for this country's national goals.

"MSgt. Matt Alvarez Ext. 3167, project officer, urges you to commence planning early to ensure that this year's commemorative events recognize he contributions and cultural heritage of our Hispanic employees. A weekly schedule of events for the Hispanic Heritage Week will be in the next issue of the luncheon, Sept. 17, 11 a.m. in the officer's club, may be purchased through Charlotte Broussard, Ext. 3885. Cost of Roundup. Tickets for the the tickets are $5," he said.

By MSgt. Donald B. Bushey NCOIC, Wing Safety Office

The real meaning of Labor Day is a day set aside to recognize the worker. It is also considered the last three days of the "101 Critical Days of Summer." As with most long weekends, people tend to drive longer distances "to get away from it all" for a few days. The highways will be more crowded than usual and the chances of being involved in a mishap will be on the increase. During this long weekend, there are a few points to keep in mind, whether you are planning to leave town for the weekend or just driving around town.

First, the two leading causes of traffic fatalities are driving under the influence of alcohol and falling asleep at the wheel. Do we have to drive if we are under the influence or if we are super tired? Obviously, you have no control over the other driver but, by staying alert and driving defensively, you can reduce the odds of being involved in a mishap. The use of seat belts will not prevent a mishap but will reduce the severity of injuries if involved in a mishap. Besides, the use of seat belts is the law in this

Additionally, on Tuesday, there will be a new problem to contend with on the way to work. It's the start of school. You must stop for school buses when their red lights are flashing. Be sure to check the school zones for those 20 MPH signs flashing because you never know when a child will suddenly dart out into the street.

Let's have a mishap-free weekend and close out the "101 Critical Days' period with no injuries or fatalities. We need you.

Hispanic mark on history reaches 'deep into past'

RANDOLPH AFB, Texas (ATCNS) - With President Reagan designating September 14 through 20 as Hispanic Heritage Week, each of uswhether Hispanic or not - has a chance to celebrate the rich heritage that this ethnic group has brought to our country.

The Hispanic mark on our history, especially in the military, reaches deep into the nation's past. Hispanic soldiers and sailors were among the first Europeans to set foot in the "New World."

Names like Juan Ponce De Leon, Cabeza de Vaca and Hernando de Sota dot the pages of our history books and trace the Hispanic colonization of this country during the 1500s. From that point to the present, 37 Hispanics have won the Medal of Honor-this country's most coveted decoration for bravery. Hispanic contributions to the military have been marked by strength

Reese begins AIDS Testing

by Capt. Charles Sinclair USAF Hospital-Reese

This week, Reese AFB will join all other bases in beginning the testing of military personnel for HTLV-III virus (now called HIV or human immunodeficiency virus). This is the virus that causes the acquired immune deficiency syndrome or AIDS. This servicewide testing program begins this month. Those who entered the Air Force after October 1985 are tested during basic training or OTS. Academy and ROTC cadets are also tested upon entry.

Here are some answers to some of your questions about the HIV testing program. If you have more questions, please contact Capt. Charles Sinclair at Ext. 3536 or Dr. Michael White at Ext. 3545.

Why are the services testing everyone for HIV?

A We are testing for two main reasons: First, the HIV virus is transmitted by blood and bodily secretions. This has a direct impact on our readiness. Each of us is a potential battlefield blood donor. We are each obliged to render first aid in combat. This can result in blood contact. Persons with HIV pose a risk to their fellow servicemen in time of war.

Second, the armed forces are a cross section of the American people. The military testing program is the largest systematic HIV testing program in the country. The data that will be generated will help public health scientists better understand the risk factors and the epidemiology (method of spread) of HIV and AIDS. The relationship between the HIV virus and AIDS can also be studied.

Why are some people getting tested this month and others must wait?

A The timing of your test depends solely on your birth month and whether the last digit of your Social Security Number is even or odd. We are starting with September birth dates and odd-numbered last digits. Next September we will call the September births with even last digits. So, it will take two years for the Air Force to test everyone. This is a slow but systematic method for the service to ensure that all cord to protect the doctors. military members are tested. These persons have a legiti-

What does the HIV test involve?

A It is a blood test. Your blood is drawn in the Hospital laboratory. Samples are shipped to the contract lab. Results are returned to the Hospital and handled confidentially.

Q Do I have to participate when called?

Yes. This is a mandatory testing program. It is ordered by the Secretary of Defense and the Chief of Staff of the Air Force. Failure to respond can result in disciplinary action. If you miss the call up period due to leave or TDY, you will be asked to come the following month.

Who will know the results of the test?

A The only person on base who will learn the results of the test will be a designated physician, the Environmental Health Officer, the Hospital Commander, and the Wing Commander. An appropriate notation will be made in the medical and dental record to protect the doctors. These persons have a legitimate "need to know." The direct supervisor will not be informed by the hospital. Experience has shown that most leaks of information are caused by the patients themselves.

Will everyone find out who tests positive?

Again, no. Only the specific "trusted agents" given above will know the result. Human nature is such that patients tend to confide this type of information to "buddies." This often results in unwanted spread of this sensitive personal information.

Are people who test positive for HIV contageous? Shouldn't they be removed from the Air Force?

No. Repeated studies have shown the "AIDS virus" is not transmitted by casual contact with a carrier. Using the same toilet, sharing the same coffee cup, or using the same telephone does not pose a problem. I'm sure you know that sexual contact (homosexual or heterosexual) with an infected person and blood contact do pose a significant risk. There is no reason to remove positive personnel from the Air Force. In most cases, they can continue to perform their jobs with no risk to others.

What does the HIV test measure?

The HIV test is a blood A test for the antibody to the HIV virus. When a virus enters your body, your white blood cells produce chemicals called antibodies to destroy the virus. Each antibody is tailor-made to fight a specific type of infection. You have thousands of different kinds of antibodies circulating in your blood stream. The lab does a test to see if you have the antibody against the HIV. In order for you to develop the antibody, it is necessary for the virus to have entered your body. So a positive test means that at one time, the HIV was in the body. It may still be. The test does not detect the virus itself. It is not an "AIDS test" although we may call it that for short. Most people who have positive tests will not get AIDS. But they are certainly at risk for AIDS.

What does a positive test mean?

A positive HIV test means that antibodies to HIV were found in the blood. It means that the person deserves special medical attention to determine why. Positive blood samples are retested by two different meand significance of the results. A positive test reflects increased risk of eventually developing AIDS.

A few things a positive test does NOT mean:

• It does not mean the person has AIDS.

• It does not mean the person is going to get AIDS.

• It does not mean the person is gay. Cases of hererosexually-transmitted AIDS are increasingly common. On rare occasion, the virus is transmitted by blood transfusion.

• It does not mean that the person is sick or weak. Positive individuals are removed from availability for world the Human Immunodeficiency wide duty and mobility. But positive persons generally perform their normal duties.

Virus (HIV). The virus causes

What happens to the people who test positive

Persons testing positive A at Reese are referred to a designated physician for thods to confirm the accuracy counseling and then to Wilford Hall Medical Center, at Lackland AFB. At Wilford Hall the person receives a more detailed medical evaluation and counseling. Positive individuals are treated with a compassionate and caring attitude. Confidentiality of information is safeguarded as required by regulations. A positive HIV test is not in itself grounds for disciplinary action or punitive discharge.

What is AIDS?

AIDS, the Acquired Immune deficiency Syndrome, is a uisease caused by AIDS but milder.

Is there any chance for error in the test?

The chance of error is remote. The rare "false positive" would probably be detected at Wilford Hall. The chances of a person having HIV in their body and not being detected (a "false negative") is also remote. When this occurs, the blood sample was probably drawn within a couple of months of acquiring the infection-before the antibodies had time to develop.

Is it safe to give blood now that HIV and AIDS are a risk?

Yes. It is perfectly safe to donate blood. The equipment is sterile and changes for each donor. The risk, although small, is in receiving blood. It is better to A related disease, ARC, the give than to receive in this case. Of course, persons found to be positive will be prohibit-symptoms are similiar to ed from donating blood since the person could infect the person who receives the blood.

> Are civilian employees tested under this program?

> No, only active duty and reserve military personnel are tested under the program. Civilians who wish to be tested for HIV should see their physician.

Have any people at Reese been tested yet?

Yes, those officers and enlisted persons who come in after October 1985 have been tested. Most members of the Hospital Squadron have also been tested. Were there any positives? You'll never know.

Stop it!

Terrorists who kill with alcohol

by Brig. Gen. Malcomb Armstrong 831st Air Division Commander George AFB, Calif.

We are all aware of terrorists who strike at innocent victims all over the world. The number of lives lost to terrorism has risen each year and is now in the hundreds. Each terrorist attack brings feelings of anger, and a desire to do something about it. When someone does strike back, the feelings are, "It's about time we did something about it!"

At the same time, here in hometown, U.S.A., there is another kind of terrorist killing far more people, with far less public attention and outcry. I'm talking about the drunk driver. Of the 50,000 or so Americans killed each year in car accidents, half are alcohol related. If overseas terrorists - killed 25,000 Americans in a year, we would be in a fighting frenzy.

When people drink alcohol and then drive, they are loading a gun as surely as a terrorist does. The results are the same. The victims will be random. They will not know their killers. Their killers will not know them.

Who is to blame for this intoxicated terrorism? Is it the person who carries it out? Certainly. But what about those who sponsored and encouraged them? Just as we hold extremist leaders and groups responsible for terrorist attacks, we as friends and supervisors bear the responsibility when we fail to stop those who load the guns of drinking and driving.

It's all right to feel sorry for the poor slob who got drunk, but not at the expense of the victims. How often do we overlook the drunk driver who "didn't hurt anybody this time" only to see that we've turned them loose to try again. Here we find ourselves in the trap of feeling sorry for the wrong person because the victim has not yet been created. When we do this, we have confused our leniency with leadership.

We should remind our people frequently of the dangers of drinking and driving—with emphasis on the risks of injury or death to innocent victims. We should apply the penalties that are in place swiftly and surely. If there is no incentive to quit drinking and driving, people won't quit. This is a long-standing social habit. Their innocent victims deserve better.

When one group takes firm action, others join in. Let us combine to help our people overcome this problem. Drinking and driving is unacceptable. Let's put a stop to it now.

Drinking & driving... a lethal combination!

Like the Phoenix rising from the ashes, the Civil Engineering Squadron rose once more to defeat the Security Police Squadron, Information Systems Squadron and the Organizational Maintenance Squadron "A-Team" in the consolation softball tournament held last week. A combination of blazing speed, unerring accuracy and pulverizing power proved too much for the rest as CE win their games 14-5, 9-0 and 11-1 respectively.

Former Chief Scout Chuck Suds went on to say, "We've done what few other teams could have done in so short a time." When asked to clarify, he couldn't be reached for comment.

CE will advance to Air Force wide CE Tournament to be held at Peterson AFB, Colo. this weekend. The CE players in the Air Force CE Tournament will be: Mike Fisher; Tery Carpenter; Mike Illink; Pete Pattis; Mike Wilson; Craig Gallup; Bill Herrod; Brian Collinson; Kevin Earl; Daniel Eaker; Vince Stives; Brad Thompson; Fred La-Fame; and Ron Goodman.

Easy way out---not easy

EDITOR'S NOTE: This letter was written by an airman who was discharged from the Air

His first sergeant described him as a sharp troop and a good worker.

He turned himself in as a drug user and entered the Air Force rehabilitation program. He lost his clearance, was put in casual status and did menial jobs. Finally, he was stopped on Kelly AFB, Texas-DWI and in possession of marijuana. He received an Article 15 for the DWI and an administrative discharge when his urinalysis came back positive.

Now he's looking for work and trying to put his life together.

I was an airman, an electronics technician. I enjoyed my job while I was doing it. The pay wasn't that bad compared to the construction jobs I held previously-jobs in which I was always being laid off. I had a steady income, a place to stay and something to eat. Most importantly, I was always dependent of my ment. I have a good resume

All I had to do was show up at work and act professional. I performed well and acquired a number of honors; however, difficulties arose in my personal life, a life which was not compatible with the Air Force. I liked the Air Force and was proud of my achievements. Unfortunately, the people surrounding me in my off-duty time were inconsistent with my service career.

The first such person was my wife. She did not believe that her conduct was critical. In her opinion, I was the one in the Air Force and she was a civilian. After our separation, although I knew my behavior was destructive, I failed to change myself.

The loss of my family and security clearance was a heavy blow. My attitude toward the Air Force was beginning to sour. Pastures began to look greener "out there." I wanted out. My wishes became a reality in a rather disastrous way-involvement with drugs.

Now I search for employ-views go well until we begin to discuss my discharge, at which point the interviewer's interest suddenly wanes, and I get the proverbial "call back" referral. Things are even colder the next day on the telephone.

I cannot explain why I have done so much damage to myself. I guess at the time I just didn't care. Now jobs are escapting my grasp. Until recently I was sure that finding a job would be easy.

"Who needs the Air Force," I would say. "I am so tired of this dead-end job." Now I deliver pizzas for a local pizza parlor. If I work hard I can make $350 a month.

Before my discharge, I had an appointment to get my témporary identification card. A number of administration specialist there commented on the circumstances surrounding my discharge.

Naturally the day-to-day grind in the Air Force is tough. But don't fail to realize the day-to-day grind outside the Air Force is tough also. It's a cold place of unemployment. I should have treasured my opportunities. I should have listened to what people were telling me-to quit and don't do it. But my zodiac sign is Taurus, the bull. After beating my head against the wall a number of times, I have finally begun to listen and maybe learn something.

Maybe it isn't as bas as punitive dischage, but it does hurt. I have seen a number of individuals who were happy to be getting out of the Air Force on an administrativ discharge. I don't believe they have looked for employment

A sobering reality waits for these people at home.

Reese personnel and the morale, welfare, and recreation (MWR) division staff paid tribute to Earl Hutchings Aug. 21 in a casual Farewell get-together at the Enlisted Club Patio.

Hutchings, known to many as "Mr. MWR" retired Aug. 15 after 39½ years of federal service. Since 1973, he worked at Reese in a variety of MWR service positions ranging from golf course manager to youth services director.

During a 23-year Air Force active duty tour Hutchings served at bases in Europe, Asia and a variety of locations in the United States. He tabbed participation in worldwide Armed Services baseball, basketball, softball and volleyball competitions in the 1950s as highlights of his active duty career. He played one year, 1950, of class D baseball in the Rio Grande Valley League during a break in active duty service.

Hutchings was recognized for his involvement in the success of many Reese AFB special events including Camp Blue Yonder and the Easter Seals Day Camp, numerous golf tournaments hosted at Reese, the annual Christmas 'Classic High School Basketball Tournament, the Army-Air Force-Golden Gloves boxing tournaments, annual open houses and various base and command sports tournaments. In return he praised the support he received from base organizations over the

Anglers hook the big one

No second chance for first impression

by SMSgt. Michael A. Black Recruiting Training Team Randolph AFB, Texas

The problem with first impressions is you never know when you're going to make

Young prospective applicants expect to see the most "military" person in the. world when they visit a recruiter. But, even if you're not a recruiter, first impressions are still very important.

Since it's almost impossible to overcome a poor first impression-don't make one. Small things you do and say have a lot to do with creating an impression. Here are a few things to think about:

If your uniform is sloppy, it suggests that you don't care about yourself.

If your office has a less than professional appearance, someone is bound to have second thoughts about the quality of your unit.

If your desk gives the impression that you're the head accountant for the IRS and the project manager for everything from the flight picnic to the squadron savings bond drive, you're saying something about your work DITS.

Another way to create a poor impression is to pick someone up in a messy vehicle. Having your Happy Hot Dog wrappers from yesterday's lunch all over the floor and seats that look like they haven't been cleaned in months will not only give the impression that you lack pride in yourself but, more importantly, lack consideration for your passenger.

If anything here sounds like you, then you know you should class up your act. Everything about you and your environment adds to the impression you make on everyone you come in contact with . . . You're a well-trained professional representing the greatest organization in the world. Take pains to look and act the part. (Courtesy of The Recruiter)

Over 56 pounds of fish were caught during the Rod and Gun Club's Game Fish Tournament last weekend at White River Lake.

Fourteen anglers entered the all-night event catching a combined total of 53 fish, weighing 56 pounds, four ounces.

Jose Velez caught 15 fish to take first place in the total weight category. The 15 fish weighed in at 16 pounds, 4 ounces. Velez caught his fish by "flipping" a black and chartreuse jig and pork rind in the

George Dalton earned second place with his catch of nine fish, weighing 10 pounds and 12 ounces. Dalton also had the biggest fish of the tournament with a three and one-half pound bass.

Garry Dixon took third place honors with a total catch of six fish, weighing five pounds, five ounces.

Rick Covalt, president of the Rod and Gun Club, said the fishing was slow during the hot part of the day, with the majority of the fish caught in the evening and early morning hours.

Rod and Gun Club activities blanket a wide range of outdoor sports, including fishing, hunting, and skeet shooting. Most activities aren't limited to only members.

To ready hunters for Dove season, which begins Monday, the club is opening the skeet range this Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Shooting skeet helps the hunter's reaction time in the field, said Covalt. Its a bad time to refamiliarize with a shotgun when the Dove start flying.

The next Rod and Gun Club meeting is Sept. 9, 7 p.m. at the NCO club.

Persons interested in the Rod and Gun Club activities should contact Rick Covalt at Ext. 3500 or Dan Wagner at
