

Groups Buckle To Help The Town

HASKELL-RAISED COLONEL IS GROUND-POUNING SKY PILOT

There couldn't have been a more timely stage-setter for Haskell's annual school homecoming on October 4-5, when folks from all over and way back will be returning here to the 53-year-old snapshot that turned up in the files of the Haskell Free Press last Friday morning.

While some researching was in progress in preparation for a pre-homecoming story at the newspaper office, a snapshot caught the eye of the editor, who began checking into its origin and the background of the principals in the picture.

The two ladies in the picture, taken in July, 1910, it was learned, both are in Haskell today. One, Mrs. C. L. Lewis, is a Janie-come-early Haskellite with her roots 58 years deep in this town. The other, Mrs. Buel Baker, wife of a pioneer attorney here, has lived in Dallas many years, but coincidentally enough, is visiting here now at the home of her sister, Mrs. Ching Middleton, of Haskell. She has prolonged her stay here in order to be present at Haskell Homecoming.

Clay Smith, president of the annual event which is expected to lure HHS graduates, former board members, patrons, teachers, and school employees here on October 4-5, has announced that between 800 and 1200 homecomers are expected to be on hand.

At Haskell's Homecoming, it can be expected that such conversations as that enjoyed with Mrs. Lewis in an interview Friday will take place on many reminiscent subjects many times over.

About the picture of her and Mrs. Baker seated in Street Car No. 1, which operated on the trolley line here in the early 1900's, Mrs. Lewis recalls, "that was the last ride before the line was discontinued. She, Frank Craddock, who has passed away, is at the 'thrill' in the picture of the Haskell 'cousin' to the 'Toonerville Trolley'."

Patentistically enough, Mrs. Lewis was a passenger on the first train which left the Wichita Valley (Fort Worth and Denver) depot here going north in 1906. She was going to Graham. The passengers spent the first night in Seymour, a second in Wichita Falls, and after transferring at Bowie, and going through Jacksboro, Mrs. Lewis arrived at her destination, Graham, on the third day. The train crew shot all kinds of game to pass the time during breakdowns along the way.

The Haskell streetcar system, often referred to here as "Hemphill's Folly," wasn't exactly that during its halcyon days. It was a line two and a half miles long running from the depot here, the same one in the process of restoration in Rice Springs Park now, through town to a lake park, recreation area, and dance pavilion north of town where the present Haskell County Country Club golf course now is.

It really was quite a popular promotion which was the brainchild of the late M. Ross Hemphill, Haskell businessman. Perhaps the handle "folly" was the product of the anti-dancing group here.

The late Mr. Lewis, husband of the engaging lady who provided the enlightening information about the trolley, was express agent at the Haskell depot for 35 years. "So that depot really was my life. You are really moving part of me to the park," Mrs. Lewis declared.

Charles Bates Thornton, the Haskell-raised financial "whiz kid" who now heads the far-flung Lator Industries based in Berkeley, Calif., is a nephew of Mrs. Lewis. "He loves Haskell, because this is his home, and home means a lot to him," she said, expressing the belief that Thornton will be here for Haskell's Homecoming "if he possibly can."

Mention of the old Streetcar No. 1 caused Mrs. Lewis to recall she recently had learned what became of the vehicle just as it was about to be dismantled immediately after the memorable picture was taken. "A former county judge bought it and moved it out in the country to his farm to use as a chicken coop," Mrs. Lewis reported.

When that information was obtained, members of the Haskell County Historical Survey Committee Friday went to work to locate the antiquated tram to see if it is restorable.

It's such talk as this that'll be going on when Haskell has its Homecoming less than two weeks from now, and "everybody better come back unless they want to feel their ears burning," Mrs. Lewis quipped at the close of a very newsy conference.

LT. COL. JAMES BARNETT

Combat situations, or the simulation of same, are commonplace to, and have become standard operational procedure for Lt. Colonel James R. Barnett, whose background was peaceable enough at his native Haskell.

In fact, Colonel Barnett's brother, Tom Paul, is dedicated to keeping the peace for the two Barnetts' mother, Mrs. Mary Barnett, here and all the other citizens of Haskell. Tom Paul is chief of police in this West Texas County seat town.

Haskell-raised Colonel Barnett is the senior chaplain of the 5th Infantry Division, headquartered at Fort Carson, Colorado. This lofty new assignment for Colonel Barnett is the chaplain's sixth division

He has included a hospital chaplaincy in Fukuoka, Japan, and three in Germany.

The chaplain has served anti-aircraft artillery and armor units in addition to the infantry. He has been with the 101st Airborne, the 71st and the 4th Infantry Divisions.

Colonel Barnett is a graduate of Howard Payne College, Brownwood, and Army Chaplain schools. His family includes Mrs. Barnett, the former Alma Carlton, who earned a master's degree in religious education at Southwestern; Bobby, Marguerite, and Doye. The Barnetts now live adjacent to Fort Carson, at Security, Colorado, outside Colorado Springs.

HOMECOMING HERE NEXT WEEK WILL BRING BACK A LOT OF MEMORIES LIKE THIS ONE

There couldn't have been a more timely stage-setter for Haskell's annual school homecoming on October 4-5, when folks from all over and way back will be returning here to the 53-year-old snapshot that turned up in the files of the Haskell Free Press last Friday morning.

Haskell will host a workshop for local unit leaders of the 26-county Oilbelt District 7, Texas State Teachers Association, next Saturday, Sept. 28.

She is a senior, plays first clarinet in the Indian Band, is a member of the Owl Club, the Lion Pate Chapter of Quill and Scroll, honorary journalistic society, Haskell Chapter, Future Farmers of America, and is on the staff of the "War Whoop," HHS newspaper. She also is active in the youth work of the First Baptist Church here.

Payne Drug Co. To Depart Scene After 60 Years

For the first time in almost 60 years, there will be no Payne Drug Company in Haskell, beginning next Tuesday, October 1.

The brothers Payne, John P. and C. V., pharmacists and drug store operators in Haskell on the same side of the Court-house Square for 43 years, since 1920, have sold out to Don Muenzler, who came here recently from Abilene. C. V. will stay on as an associate of Muenzler for the time being.

Next Tuesday, the Payne Drug Company, a pivoting place for many people here for many years, will be no more, taking on the name of M & F Drug.

The Payne brothers' father before them went into the drug store business in Haskell in 1904, making the Payne span of drug dispensing here almost three score years.

Not long ago, a customer had occasion to purchase a small bottle of castor oil from C. V. Payne, and the price for this timeless remedy was sixty-nine cents. "I have sold a car load of that size bottle of castor oil for a nickel a bottle," he recalled.

The successor as proprietor, was a pharmacist at Abilene Drug Company for two and a half years before coming here. Muenzler, a native of Austin, is an Austin High School product and a graduate of the University of Texas School of Pharmacy.

Muenzler is married to an Abilene native, the former Cynthia Hunt, and the couple has established residence at 1007 North Avenue G here.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY MARKS DEDICATION OF FLAGPOLE

A flagpole given to the Haskell city schools and to the citizenship of this community by the Haskell Ministerial Alliance was dedicated in an impressive pre-game ceremony before the kickoff of the Haskell-Burkburnett football game in Indian Stadium here Friday night.

Rev. Douglas Finch, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church and president of the ministerial alliance, said in a brief dedicatory address, "We now present this flagpole, it being our belief that our predecessors and forebears have passed on to us a heritage which should not be lost through carelessness, neglect, or oversight. The flag of our nation is the symbol of greatness and this country and of the system of government under which we live and prosper and find happiness and enjoy freedom. And, our great nation is a manifestation of the Providence of the Eternal God who sustains us by his love and mercy."

The president of the ministerial alliance here, in dedicating the flagpole, paid tribute to the Rev. C. R. LeMond, pastor of the First Methodist Church here until recently, now at Dallas, for his diligence in seeking completion of the flagpole project. He also cited Robert R. King, former superintendent of Haskell Schools, now at Vernon and Hooper T. Wilkinson, his successor, for their cooperation in the endeavor.

Carl Anderson, Haskell businessman and civic leader was "especially thanked" for giving most of the material for the flagpole, building it and erecting it at the south end of Indian Stadium here.

Rogers Durham, minister of the Haskell Christian Church, followed Rev. Finch in the ceremony with a prayer of dedication. The posting of the Colors by Haskell Boy Scout Troop 36 and playing of the National Anthem by the Haskell Indian Band concluded the moving ceremony.

Clay Smith Is Foreman of New Grand Jury Here

A new grand jury which will serve during the September term of court here was sworn in by District Judge Ben Charlie Chapman in 39th District Court in Haskell Monday morning. This body will continue in service until January 1.

Foreman of the new grand jury is Clay Smith. Others sworn Monday morning were Joe Harper, C. C. Childers, Alton Sanders, James Simpson, R. L. Edwards, Roy Wiseman, Felton Middlebrook, Glenn Merchand, Claude Bland, John Kimbrough, and Paul Fischer.

The largest number of cases in several years was being presented to the grand jury by District Attorney Royce Adkins and Sheriff Garth Garrett late Monday, and a report is not expected from Foreman Smith before late Tuesday, or early Wednesday, Sheriff Garrett said.

Beth Vaughter Is Editor-In-Chief Of '64 Chieftain

Elizabeth Vaughter, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Vaughter, of Haskell, has been named editor-in-chief of the Chieftain, Haskell High School yearbook, by the publications committee here, it was announced Thursday.

Beth was business manager of the Chieftain in 1963, as well as assistant editor. She has been on the publications staff of the War Whoop, high school newspaper, for three years.

Each year, members of the Junior Class at Haskell High School, who are interested in becoming editor of the book, must submit a yearbook "dummy" to the publications committee. The theme of the dummy is not necessarily the one adopted, but it gives the committee an idea of the student's qualifications for this important post.

The new yearbook editor is secretary of the Lion Pate Chapter, Quill and Scroll; president of the Owl Club, vice president of the National Honor Society, and treasurer of the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

During the summer, she represented the American Legion Auxiliary as its delegate to Bluebonnet Girls' State in Austin. She attended the University of Texas High School Workshop in June. In competition with students from all classes of schools in Texas, Beth won first place for poetry reading, second place in prose reading.

Last year, she was on the District 6AA all-star cast for her outstanding performance as Annie Sullivan in "The Miracle Worker."

W. E. Brady, Artist, Musician, Is Dead At 68

W. E. (Doc) Brady, 68, long-time resident here and colorful member of Haskell's community, died in Haskell County Hospital at 4:45 a. m. Wednesday, about two hours after being stricken at his home. He had been in ill health for some time.

Funeral services were incomplete at Holden's Funeral Home late Wednesday.

Mr. Brady, a member of a medicine show troupe in his younger days, had been a commercial artist by trade and also a talented musician.

He was born May 7, 1895, in Middletown, Connecticut and attended the Boston Conservatory of Music. He also studied at the Creative Arts School in Abilene. Herbert Ray New State V-P Of Veterans' Service

Herbert Ray, of Haskell, veterans' service officer for Haskell County, was elected vice president of the Veterans County Service Officers Association of Texas at the annual meeting of this group in San Antonio last week, according to word received here Thursday.

The Haskell man will serve during the coming year with the following other officers elected at the meeting: Hugh Ramsey, president, Cameron County; Los Fugler, secretary, Travis County; H. D. Siniard, treasurer, Llano County; and William F. Doggett, Fort Bend County.

The veterans service officers of the state held their election in connection with the 16th annual statewide rehabilitation conference for veterans officials held at the Granada Hotel in San Antonio.

At the service officers conference in San Antonio, which ended Thursday, there were panel discussions on each of the various veterans' benefits programs — compensation and pension, GI loans, medical and dental treatment, hospitalization, government insurance and others.

Homecoming . . . Such A Satisfying Experience

Love, Motherhood, Home. All these words for a long time have been recognized as among the most embracing of all the goodness of our existence.

Alongside them, the word homecoming deservedly should be added. The act of coming home or going home, especially after an absence, usually a much longer one than is anticipated upon departure from it, can be, and usually is, one of the most soothing experiences an individual is privileged to enjoy.

Next Friday and Saturday, October 4 and 5, is Homecoming in Haskell, and the activities of those two days are gauged to fulfill for those who have been away a while, long or short, their fondest expectations of reunion and rejoicing.

Each Wednesday, when we "tie out" this 77-year-old newspaper, we get an extra "lift" that helps boost us on through what is for a weekly newspaperman a rather long day. . . Press Day. This lift is provided by full realization of the scope of coverage this reading habit of 77 years has over this nation of ours, and on at least three other continents.

We send a special message today to the subscribers of the Haskell Free Press, wherever you are. If you did not love Haskell and this area, you would not be a reader of this, your hometown newspaper. So the message is a blanket one. . . to remind you that next week, next Friday and Saturday, is Homecoming in Haskell. That means it is time for YOU to touch home base, no matter how near, or far, away you are from Haskell.

A lot of open arms and hearts in tune with yours await you here.

Won't you come . . . home to Haskell . . . and put your feet under our table? The latchstring is on the outside, you know, always.

Buckle Down for the Town

Last week, but that was eight days ago, we had the privilege, and it always is one, to hear some enthusiastic expression about some projects in the mill around here. It was at a Chamber of Commerce board meeting, where all indications were something was being done to buckle down for the town.

The very next morning, a meeting on the heralding of our Yuletide season was sparsely attended, with little or no interest shown. We know it's hard to kindle a spirit for Christmas planning with Fall just barely here, but we're draggin' our community feet on this and several other matters of vital interest to the general welfare of us all.

We've BEEN draggin' our feet on the important matter of securing easements from property owners to enable the State Highway Department to widen State Highway 24 from east to west city limit. Anyone can take a look at what was done on Highway 277 and know it will be a tremendous improvement for Haskell.

Does the citizenship of this town know that the street widening inside the city limits of Haskell is the only thing holding up the State Highway Department from improving the road all the way from county line to county line? We have it pretty straight that this is the situation, or has been. Perhaps the Highway Department has given up on us by now, it has had to wait so long.

Chamber of Commerce President Abe Turner appointed a go-gettin' group of citizens this week to see if they can get this Highway 24 project off high center. If anyone can do it this group can. It's comprised of Dr. T. W. Williams, Harold Spain, J. E. Walling, Alvin Sherman, and Bill Holden.

This is only one thing we "need do," as the feller says. We know this is a busy time for everybody, but from the looks of things civicwise around here, one would think we had gone straight from the summer slump smack into the fall recession!

We've got to complete the airstrip paving project, get the town-wide beautification program underway on a permanent basis, finish the depot restoration before winter time, get a "hoit" of some property so we'll have something to offer industry here if we ever want to get any industry. And then, there's the United Fund.

We know this is a pretty big bill of particulars, but the successful completion of one and all will come back to each and all of us many times over.

For the good of the town, big people find time. Little ones are too busy.

See where someone is always advertising for an amanuensis. Now, those things are nice to have around the office. But if you're fortunate enough to have one there, you run the risk of catching heck around the house.

The Seniors of HHS have received their rings, and they're justifiably proud of this solid symbol of their superior station in life.

The ring acquisitions remind of the story about the young lady who got an engagement ring, and her luck wasn't running too well. She did everything she could think of to invite a question about it, but nothing worked. Finally, in desperation, with a group of the girls around, she declared, "It's awfully hot in here. Think I'll take off my ring."

One of the most astute sayings in behalf of the free enterprise system that prods our nation into progress came from the lips of a businessman right here on our Square the other day when he said, "My competitors do more for me than my friends do. I need the discipline of my competitors."

Conversation in a convertible on the premises of Elsie's H-Lander: He: "I love you to pieces, and it isn't platonic either." She: "To pieces? Must be atomic then!"

Mike Campbell, sage of the Square, says the folks who missed the political palaver of the Jim Ferguson era of Texas politics have not led a full life. Seeing and hearing C. C. McDonald put Socrates in the shade with a speech under an East Texas grape arbor was "a lot better show than spending money to see the cinema," Mike opines.

Judging from the population explosion at Haskell County jail over the weekend, it's no wonder our hard-working Sheriff has lost 11 pounds in recent days. Sounds like there's been a lot of "cottoning" to the joy juice in this vicinity.

Having heard that the Good Book says the Pure and Humble shall inherit the earth, which is all right with J. E. Walling, Bob Mapes, Emmett Russell and Brooks Middleton, too, want to know if there's anything in it for Texaco, Petrofina and Gulf.

When one sky-scraper man meets another, the look on the faces of the principals defies description. Usually each looks the other up and down, then takes a step or two backward to obtain a better perspective, and in both instances, the look one gives the other is a glowing glance of admiring appraisal.

All of this was most apparent to anyone who witnessed the meeting of our Congressman Graham Purcell and Jaycee President Bud Lane. These two six-foot-four fellers had a hearty handclasp for each other, and traded one of those "Isn't the weather up here fine?" facial expressions.

Guess this eye-balling of Purcell by Lane and vice versa, is really what could be termed a meeting at the summit.

When the Pencil Pusher "lays to" the writin' of his column or an editorial, it comes to mind that what he writes is trivial compared to the thinking he hopes he has the privilege of starting in the minds of those who may read the words.

And speaking of starting, success is always started by the battery of ambition and the sparkplug of purpose. It is powered by the fuel of persistence, lubricated by the elbow grease of effort, guided by the steering wheel of common sense, and smoothed by the shock absorbers of faith and forgiveness.

One can make a lot of miles in life in a vehicle equipped with these "extras," seems to the Pencil Pusher.

Still on the subject of writing for the purpose of serving some real purpose, it has been said that a match is just a match until you rub it against something. Then it lights and becomes important. It is a small flame, but with thousands of other lighted matches, it becomes a ball of fire. So it is with writing. If we can just strike the spark...

One of the puzzling things about this mundane existence is why so many people labor, or make out like it, under the false impression they are working for someone else.

Actually, nearly every person works for himself. He may use the tools, the plant, or the business establishment provided by others, because, in that manner he can earn and receive more than he could by using his own. Those who truly work for someone else neither expect nor receive remuneration.

We've decided at this age and shape in life that it sure is hard for a feller to be "fit as a fiddle."

The State Highway Department has advised the Commissioners' Court that contract for building Highway 120 from Haskell to Rule will likely be let during the coming month. LETTERS . . . To The Editor

Trinity Lutheran Church
Haskell, Texas

Sept. 19, 1963

Dear Mr. Editor:
Believing in the freedom of expression, I should like to express myself on a matter of interest to this community. The subject is the United Fund Budget for this year.

It has always been my impression that United Fund has stood for a concentrated effort to bring funds available to organizations of mercy. This fund, to my way of thinking, is for the purpose of helping the sick and underprivileged. This is a noble cause and well worth our support.

Upon reading the budget for this year's United Fund Drive I once again feel, as I have felt for the past two years, that we are either missing or mislabeling this drive. Of the nine agencies included in this year's drive only four can be called organizations of mercy and only one other can be considered truly beneficial to the underprivileged. Of the money allotted these five organizations will receive $4,000. This is less than 50 per cent of all the money to be collected. Should we remove the Scholarship fund from this we find that the organizations which need support the most will receive only $2,500.

Let's stop kidding ourselves, we are not promoting a United Fund Campaign here but a youth recreation campaign. This in itself is not bad, but why should we call it something it is not? If we want this sort of a program for our youth, let's get it without making the organizations that depend upon support for missions of mercy suffer for it.

I suggest that in the future there be two drives set up. One for the recreation program of our wonderful city which would include the Scouting groups, the summer recreation program, and the Little League. Then let's let the second drive include all the organizations of Charity which depend upon our Christian hearts for their survival.

I cannot after searching my heart, support this year's United Fund knowing that we as a community are promoting a fancy recreation program for our youth at the expense of those who need our gifts for life itself.

Sincerely,

/s/ James F. Schaefer,
Pastor

County Helps On Park Project As Progress Is Noted

A project which was initiated by the Haskell County Hospital Women's Auxiliary to clear off land immediately east of the hospital here and develop a park and picnic area for patrons and visitors to Haskell's rapidly expanding medical center, has mushroomed into a countywide effort.

Latest contributor to the beautification program has been the Haskell County Commissioners' Court, according to Carl Anderson, Haskell business and civic leader, who made a progress report to the Rotary Club of Haskell Thursday.

Anderson, who has taken an active personal interest in the project as the Rotary Club's representative, was given a standing ovation for the outstanding work he has done during the past two years as president of the Haskell First Baptist Brotherhood.

designated representative, said the Commissioners Court has erected two roofed picnic "shades" and is preparing to put in a fish pond which will have a fountain to help beautify these premises. The Rotarian announced that several service clubs, including Rotary, will join in a "tree planting day" at the park soon. Anderson received an official commendation from Rotary all of Fort Worth.

Members and guests of the Progressive Study Club of Haskell dubbed the Community Room of the Haskell National Bank the "launch pad" as they "blasted off" a year's work, the theme of which is to be "A Year's Orbit in Federation."

At the initial meeting of the year for the federated club, Mrs. Glen Sammons, president, was in charge, and Mrs. Buck Everett, the program director, welcomed members who introduced their guests.

A yearbook committee composed of Mmes. Abe Turner, Everett, Gerald McCoy and W. E. Woodson, became in the "astronauts" who took those present on a flight in orbit to preview the work of the coming year.

Here's what the Progressive Study "spaceettes" found in orbiting through the next nine months of program planning: An opening social gathering for husbands on October 17; a November 7 tuning in on "Echoes From Around the World" by a Sheppard Air Force Base Group; the coming into view of Progressive Study's education satellite for a Thanksgiving program by Girl Scouts.

After 70 days "in orbit," the astronauts passed the satellite Fine Arts and found a display of Christmas creativity. Then on December 19, "Transmitting Our Data," the Home Life Department leads in giving cheer to senior citizens.

On January 2, the spacecraft "Progressive Study" stops for an "instrument checkup and finds everything "A-Okay" (business meeting).

On January 16, by "Keeping In Contact," the orbiters find what the status of woman is; February 6 finds a "Highpoint in Orbit" when the Americanism Department is at its peak work; February 20 sends out some signals that an "Orbital Climax" is near when federated clubs of the Mesquite District will have a convention in Haskell, so a pre-convention workshop is called immediately.

PURCELL GETS GLOWING GRASS ROOTS APPRAISAL OF WORK

Congressman Graham Purcell, of Wichita Falls, got a grassroots appraisal here last Wednesday night for his representation in Washington of the people of Texas' Thirteenth District.

At a testimonial dinner in his honor, attended by nearly 100 citizens who converged on Haskell from seven area communities, Purcell heard four speakers eloquently laud his efforts and achievements since going to Congress in 1961.

District Judge Ben Charlie Chapman, who introduced the Congressman, declared, "Graham Purcell's record in Washington has been punctuated with honor and integrity, and as long as he is up there, he will be a representative of whom we all will be proud."

To Judge Chapman's voice were added those of Charles M. Conner, Haskell County Democratic Chairman; George Hall, industrial relations representative of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Abilene; and others among the delegations present from the various communities, all attesting to the "phenomenal stature to which this man has grown as a statesman in so brief a time in Congress."

In addition to those from Haskell, people from Rule, Rochester, Munday, Weinert, and Seymour, were present in strength to pay tribute to the Congressman who was chosen in 1961 in a special election to fill the vacated seat of Frank Ikard when the latter became executive vice president of the American Petroleum Institute.

New Supervisor For Calif. Creek SCD To Be Elected

Annual election to choose a supervisor in the California Creek Soil Conservation District, which has mostly in Haskell and Jones Counties, will be held next Tuesday, October 1, in the hall at Sagerton at 8:00 p. m.

The supervisor to be named is for Subdivision 5 of the California Creek Soil Conservation District, and all landowners residing within this subdivision are eligible to vote. Subdivision 5 is that area in Haskell County which lies west of the dirt road extending northward from Stamford to Midway school house in Haskell County, north of the Jones-Haskell county line, east of the Stonewall-Haskell County line and south of the north boundary of the district.

Present supervisor of Subdivision 5 is E. H. Boedeker, of Sagerton.

The California Creek Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors has appealed for a heavy vote, stating that "only through districts such as these can soil conservation continue."

The district was voted in by interested farmers and ranchers in 1941.

Shortage of 4700 Cotton Pullers Is Forecast

A Haskell County Farm Labor Committee, organized and assembled by the Texas Employment Commission in this district, Friday reviewed the total seasonal employment needs developed by TEC, and the group anticipates a shortage of 4700 cotton pullers in Haskell County during the peak period of the cotton harvest in this area.

This shortage will be met by the importation of Mexican National bracero workers, according to A. H. Keever, of Vernon, one of the district supervisors of TEC in a several county territory in Northwest-Central Texas.

Haskell County's committee, meeting with Keever here to determine the employment picture and determine the needs, was comprised of County Judge Jim Alvis, Roy Johnson, Jetty V. Clare, and Daniel Hernandez.

This committee will function under Public Law 78, obtaining facts relevant to the supply of domestic farm workers existing in Haskell County and the shortage of workers, if any, which must be met by importing Mexican Nationals to harvest the cotton crop.

Under Public Law 78, the TEC must supply this information to the Secretary of Labor who must limit the number of Mexican Nationals to be used in Haskell County or any county by granting a "ceiling." The Committee consults with James Perkins, local office manager of the employment commission, to assist him in estimating the number of workers who will be needed, based on current local conditions affecting the cotton crop.

Ceilings granted by the Secretary of Labor, according to Keever and Perkins, limiting the importation of Mexican Nationals in this area, will be posted in the Post Offices in Haskell, Sagerton, Rule, Rochester and O'Brien, in the County Agent's office, and in the County Courthouse here.

Acting on a tip furnished by Haskell County Sheriff Garth Garrett, Artesia, N. M., officers early Friday arrested a 30-year-old Negro identified as George Appling in connection with a two-month-old case in the south end of the county.

The Artesia officers picked up Appling less than an hour after Sheriff Garrett asked them to search for and pick up the suspect about midnight last Thursday. The arrested man waived extradition on a charge of forgery and was being returned to Haskell by Garrett.

The Sheriff said the case against Appling is in connection with the passing of a check at the Hill Top Service Station on the outskirts of Stamford, but in Haskell County. It was presented to the Haskell County Grand Jury which convened Monday.

"John Henrys" Too Plentiful In This Case, Sheriff Says

A 23-year-old Negro named John Henry (Mayes) was in Haskell County jail Monday charged, according to Sheriff Garth Garrett "with putting somebody else's 'John Henry' on a check."

John Henry Mayes, the Haskell County Sheriff said, was charged with forgery in connection with the passing of a check at the Hill Top Service Station on the outskirts of Stamford, but in Haskell County, on June 25.

The case was expected to be presented to the new Haskell County Grand Jury this week.

Expect great things from Chevrolet again-for '64

Today...Jet-smooth Luxury '64 CHEVROLET

'64 Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan—one of 15 Jet-smooth luxury Chevrolets.

Chevrolet was luxurious before, but you should see it now. With smart new styling, the '64 Chevrolet looks even longer (but isn't). There's even a whole new series this year—the Impala Super Sports—with front bucket seats as standard equipment. (The new Impalas and Bel Airs are more luxurious, too. Even the lowest priced Biscaynes have new foam-cushioned seats front and rear and are fully carpeted.) Of course, you expect more than just luxury from Chevrolet. A choice of 16 power teams, for instance—a 6 and six V8's up to 425 hp (optional at extra cost). And quieter transmissions. Jet-smooth ride with Full Coil suspension. Flush-and-dry rocker panels, Delco-

Take your first look at the first CHEVELLE!

CHEVELLE! by Chevrolet

New Chevelle Malibu Super Sport Coupe—one of 11 models in three great series.

You've never seen anything like this totally new line of cars before. Chevelle is new in everything but Chevrolet quality. Chevelle is a good foot shorter than the big cars, so it parks easily. Yet the interior of its Body by Fisher gives you a generous supply of passenger and luggage room. The ride is surprisingly smooth with a rugged coil spring at all four wheels. And not so surprisingly for Chevrolet, the new Chevelle offers a choice of engines ranging from an economical 120-hp 6 to a 220-hp V8 (optional at extra cost). Choose the Chevelle you like best from the three series—the Malibu Super Sport, the Malibu and the 300 Series, eleven models in all—at your Chevrolet dealer's. (This good-looking Malibu Super Sport maybe?)

Prattle

By AL HINDS

One does not have to feel the nip in the air... or to feel, or see the frost on the Pumpkin to realize that Fall of the year is here. All one has to do is to scan the sports pages of their favorite daily newspaper... for instance a football team... just doesn't get plain of beat any more... they get Bombed, Ripped, Nipped, Throttled, Romped over, Smashed, Battered, Gored, Thumped, Stomped, Edged, Clobbered, Chilled, Out-raced, Drubbed, Crushed, Jarred, etc.

Prattler's Prophecy: In football games involving the Haskell Indians and teams in the Southwest Conference for this weekend I pick 'em like this: Haskell 35, Munday 13 — the Indians will be on the warpath and smarting from last week's thumping by the Burk Burnett Bulldogs.

SMU to squeeze past Michigan. The Ponies may be light but will be bucking and hard to lasso.

A&M over Ohio State. The Aggies are 'way over due.

TCU over Florida State. TCU was none too impressive over Kansas, but should be stronger.

Texas over Texas Tech. This could be an upset as the Red Raiders clobbered highly favored Washington State last Saturday night and nothing would please them better than to dehorn the steers.

Arkansas over Missouri. Too much hog.

Rice over LSU—Just a hunch, but Jess Neely's Owls are due, Baylor over Houston.

During the past "long hot summer," newspapers carried quite a number of articles about "rainmakers." I heard a fellow worrying about the fact that the rain increasers (if there are any?) might decrease the moisture instead of increasing it. There is no scientific proof on this, one way or another. I do not think much of these so-called "rainmakers," and I have little faith in them. But on the other hand, man has never made a gain of any kind without trying; and this means those who are attempting to add to our diminishing water supply through "seeding the clouds," etc., are at least attempting to prove their point... and nothing will ever be proven until we try.

A good hometown is the kind of place where the local merchants and their customers know one another and share a common pride in making their community a wholesome, prosperous place in which to bring up their families.

Most of the men and women who share this common pride in their hometown are members of one or more local organizations, such as the Chamber of Commerce, the civic clubs, women's clubs, Parent-Teacher Associations, religious and fraternal groups.

We know that in every hometown the most popular local groups are those that have done the most for the community. That's why we believe in them.

We believe in them so much that we wish all of these local groups of men and women would meet together more often to discuss their common problems as citizens of the community. Such meetings would provide a wonderful opportunity for the local businessmen and the women of the community to get better acquainted with one another.

Better understanding between the public and business is greatly needed today. It is the best antidote to the anti-business propaganda that attempts to destroy free enterprise by creating public distrust of business.

Like the women of the community, every businessman wants good schools, good city government, and all the other attributes of a wholesome hometown community. They want good hometowns because they are not only businessmen, but husbands and fathers. Furthermore, as good businessmen, they know that they can do more and better business in a thriving community than in one that is not so prosperous.

Therefore the good businessmen of any community can be relied upon to join with the women in any worthwhile project that can make the town a better place to live in. It is to their advantage to co-operate and work with the women of the community. Likewise, it is to the advantage of the members of women's clubs and Parent-Teacher Associations to recognize the civic importance of the local businessmen and to get their advice and support on every important community problem.

By working together for the good of their own hometown, the businessmen and their customers learn to know and understand each other as people.

As the old saying goes, "In Unity There Is Strength." The hometown needs the businessmen and the business certainly needs the customers; thus a better understanding between them would help greatly in making our community a better place to live.

Haskell has its many members of various organizations and clubs which meet every week... but wouldn't it be fine if all these local groups of men and women would meet together more often to discuss the common problems which would help to make our community better and stronger.

It's great to live in a country where you can vote for the Kennedy of your choice.

Vice President Lyndon Johnson has a great routine. He gets into his plane and tells the pilot, "Go anywhere... we got troubles all over."

Court of Honor For Eagles Will Be October 13

An Eagle Scout Court of Honor, originally scheduled to be held here on Sunday, Sept. 29, has been moved to October 13, Scoutmaster Eddie Smart of Haskell Troop 36 announced Monday.

The ceremonies will take place in the First Methodist Church here at 6 p. m. Sunday, October 13, and the public has a cordial invitation to attend, Scoutmaster Smart said.

Nine Haskell Boy Scouts, largest group ever to attain the cherished rank in this area advanced to Eagle at a recent board of review in Abilene, and their rank will be conferred upon them at the Court of Honor on October 13.

The new Eagles in Troop 36 are: Glen Smart, Paul Hiebert, Patrick Pace, Mike Felker, Gene Hester, Ray Herren, Tommy Perry, Bobby Black and Steve Harper.

Reason for the amended date for the court of honor was a conflict of meetings, Smart explained.

Indians After...

the next play, Davis found Josselyn on an eight-yard pass in the end zone for the game's first score. A bad snap from center on the attempted extra point conversion nullified any chance for Thigpen to kick the ball. The score came with 9:40 left in the first quarter.

Haskell appeared set to run Burk out of the stadium late in the opening stanza when it stopped one Bulldog march and struck goalward on a drive of its own. The Indians drove from their 37 to the Bulldog 24, but a pass interception killed that threat.

Burk broke quarterback John Nyby loose on a good run moments later but he fumbled and Jimmy Larned recovered to give Haskell the ball on its own 41. Two passes and a running play gained nothing and on 4th down Thigpen kicked to the Bulldog 20.

From there the visiting Class AAAA Bulldogs drove 80 yards in 13 plays, aided by a 15-yard penalty against Haskell that moved the ball to the Indian 28. Bauch hit Johnny Koller for 17 yards on a pass and Nyby connected with Cornelius on the next play for a 22-yard aerial to the Haskell 1. Bauch plowed over from there Burk was penalized for illegal procedure on the extra point attempt but Koller kicked the extra point from his 15 and the Bulldogs forged ahead, 7-6 with 5:10 left in the half.

Neither team threatened to score in the third quarter, but the fireworks kept the action alive in the final stanza. Haskell drove to the Burk 35 in its most serious threat and later blocked a Bulldog punt to take over on its own 45. However a 15-yard penalty set the Indians back to their 30 and in the process set up Burk's final score.

Taking to the air, Davis had a pass snatched by Burk's Larry Rariden and in five plays the Bulldogs moved 55 yards to score, overcoming two penalties for 20 yards in the process. Nyby hit Koller on successive passes of 18 and 11 yards to put the ball on the Haskell 19. Bauch cut over left tackle from that point, broke to the sidelines and outran the nearest defenders for the tally.

He hit left tackle for two extra points and with one minute remaining, time ran out on a desperate Haskell effort to get back in the ball game.

Haskell is now 2-1 on the season.

Von Marr, Safety Lions Emphasize Project Prodder, "Conservation Jaycee Of Month Of Sight"

Von Marr, for his diligent prosecution of the Jaycee-sponsored "Operation Rest Stop" project here over Labor Day Weekend, was named "Jaycee of the Month" in Haskell at the monthly Ladies' Night program Tuesday night at the Highway Drive-In here.

Marr, chairman of the Haskell Jaycees' safety project in which coffee, soft drinks and hospitality were freely dispensed around the clock from Friday night through Labor Day to travel weary transients, supervised the manning of a rest stop station here on the northwest corner of the Haskell Square. More than 300 cars filled with holiday travelers stopped at the Jaycees' rest haven here.

In addition, Marr and his cohorts assisted a number of motorists who experienced car trouble in or near Haskell, aiding them in getting operational and on their way again.

Bud Lane, Jaycee president, and Jesse Priest, vice president, presented the citation and words of tribute to Jaycee of the Month Marr Tuesday night.

Jaycees and their wives were thoroughly entertained with a program presented by Miss Nettie McCollum, well known Haskell civic leader, who gave a unique travelogue and showed slides on a recent intriguing trip to Hawaii.
