Mrs. Redwine Is Installed As New B&PW President

Mrs. Charles Redwine has been installed as president of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Haskell, succeeding Mrs. Myron Biard, in ceremonies conducted by Mrs. Lena Porter, of Colorado City, district director of B&PW in Texas District 7.

Using flowers as symbols of the duties of the offices to which she installed new leadership here, Mrs. Porter also administered oaths of office to Mrs. Leon Pearcey, first vice president; Mrs. Roy Johnson, second vice president; Mrs. E. J. Stewart, recording secretary; Mrs. Miller Montgomery, corresponding secretary; Ruth Garrard, treasurer; and Mrs. M. L. Blohm, reporter.

The new B&PW president here has been a member of the local organization for three years, and is former reporter for the group. She has served previous terms of leadership in religious and civic endeavors here. She is former president of the Junior High P-TA in Haskell and also is a past president of the Dorcas Class, First Baptist Church.

The Haskell B&PW members voted to continue contributions to the welfare of children in the State School in Abilene during the months of July and August. The club here also endorsed the work of the Haskell County Hospital Women's Auxiliary in beautification of a tract of land in the heart of this community's widely expanding Medical Center, and voted to contribute funds for this work.

Mrs. Stanley Furth and Mrs. Biard reported to the membership on the recent state convention in Corpus Christi.

The retiring officers were hostesses to the members and three guests, Mrs. Porter, Mrs. Tommy Vernon, of Colorado City, and Mrs. Jeanie Henshaw, of Odessa.

Liquor Store In Rapid 'Comeback' From Big Blaze

Apparently determined not to miss an anticipated Fourth of July holiday windfall, which is sure to be spurred in this area by the annual Texas Cowboy Reunion at Stamford 11 miles down the road, George Jeter of Fort Worth had a new liquor store up, open, and doing business Monday on the northern fringe of Haskell County's one wet precinct.

Folks driving down the Haskell-Stamford highway Monday had to take a second look to believe what they saw at the site of Jeter's Haskell Store No. 1, which was burned down and out, with nothing left but a foot-high concrete foundation and a charred light pole less than five days ago.

A new pre-fabricated building about 18x24, stocked and operational, greeted travelers along Highway 277 Monday. Unlike the ill-fated structure it replaced, the new store is walled without windows on the highway side, and has its plate glass front and entrance on the north side facing Haskell.

Some observers said this arrangement might constitute less of a traffic hazard than the previous brand-new building, because customers can pull a safer distance from the highway when they come calling.

Fire of undetermined origin which enveloped the entire building "all at once" consumed the new liquor store being readied for opening on Highway 277, 4.8 miles south of the Haskell City limits about 11:00 last Wednesday night.

A check was being made as to the possibilities of arson in connection with the blaze. Fifteen to 20 members of the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department arrived on the scene within 10 minutes after the alarm was turned in and reported "everything gone but the light poles."

Haskell Fire Marshall Earl Correll and County Judge Jim Alvis, a member of the Fire Department who made the run, said that Mrs. Hardin Cotfield, owner of a clothing store here, came by the Fire Hall and reported the liquor store in flames shortly after 11 p. m. She had just driven in from the Stamford highway. A simultaneous call from Wooten's Service Station in Haskell was received at the Fire Station after a passing motorist reported the fire in progress.

At the scene, Correll and Judge Alvis said, "the walls and ceiling had fallen in when we got there, and the building seemed to have been afire all over at once."

Haskell Banner Bearers Lasso Stamford Laurels

Haskell, arch rival of neighboring Stamford in every honorable realm of endeavor, has corralled its share of glory at the 33rd annual tradition-steeped Texas Cowboy Reunion.

Thursday is the third and climaxing day of the colorful Stamford spectacle, and Cowboy Reunion President Eugene Swenson has announced the following timetable for the final day of events: 8:30 a. m., Old Time Cowboy Roping Contest; 9 a. m., Open Palomino Horse Show; 9:30 a. m., Old-time Fiddlers Contest; 10 a. m., Cowboy Roping Contest; 12 noon, Chuck Wagon Dinner at Ranch Chuck Wagons; 2 p. m., Grand Entry in Arena, Cowboy Contests, Girl Sponsors, Cutting Horse Contest; 6 p. m., Chuck Wagon Dinner, Ranch Chuck Wagon 8 p. m., Grand Entry in Arena, Finals of Rodeo, Girl Sponsors, Cutting Horse Finals, Awarding of Prizes to Champions; 10 p. m., Dance, Roundup Hall.

Haskell County's Sheriff's posse made Head Wrangler Gene Hunter's wishful come true Tuesday afternoon, being declared winner and still champions in the Cowboy Reunion riding club competition for the second straight year. So another trophy will be added to Haskell's check-full showcase, and the year's year-end eight gleaming goblets for nine riders.

Joining the Sheriff's Posse in the recognition realm is Glenda Gale Chapman, of Route 1, Haskell, who was first in the junior cowgirl-cowboy competition; Dr. Joe Thigpen, of Haskell; Felix Mullino, of Rochester; Delbert LeFevre and Johnny Spitzer, both of Sagerton, are four among the 13 qualifiers tapped for the honor of working their cutting horses in the rodeo shows. Top four scorers of the 13 will compete in the rodeo finals Thursday night.

Funeral services for A. J. Mansker, 56, who died in the Haskell County Hospital Sunday at 1:20 a. m., were held Monday from the Church of Christ here. Officiating was Jim Pennington, minister of the Haskell Church of Christ, and Payne Hattox, minister of the Church of Christ in DeLeon, Texas.

Burial was in the Weibert Cemetery under direction of Holden Funeral Home of Haskell.

Haskell To Have County Caper - Heyday July 27

Delaying Action In Courts Still Muddies Water

A countywide day of fun for everyone has been named "Haskell Heyday" here, and date for the first one, which Chamber of Commerce stem-winders hope to make an annual affair, will be Saturday, July 27, Abe Turner, the chamber president, announced on Monday.

The date was set, and plans crystallized at a meeting of Dr. Frank Cadenhead's New Projects committee, with Chamber Manager Bob Lowrance named to coordinate the project.

Mrs. Bailey Toliver, Mrs. Tom Barfield, E. J. Stewart, and Bud Lane form the nucleus of a now expanding committee which will plan and produce Haskell's first Heyday. Principal purpose of the initial one is to get together folks from all sections of Haskell County for a reunion and fun festival. Funds obtained from a sumptuous barbecue meal "spread on the grounds" in and adjacent to City Park here will be used to underwrite the restoration of Haskell's antiquated landmark depot here as a museum and tourist attraction.

Ellis L. Simmons, vice president of the Ft. Worth and Denver Railroad, which "sold" the old train station to Haskell for the sum of $1, and offered his company's cooperation in preserving the heritage of the railroad here, has promised possession about August 1.

Mayor J. E. Walling Jr., and the City Council of Haskell have gone on record endorsing the project and will provide space for the relocation of the depot in Haskell City Park, and help with furnishing the utilities for its maintenance.

Haskell Jaycees, under the leadership of President Bud Lane, have a double-barreled responsibility in connection with Heyday here. They as an organization will play a major role in producing the first annual event, and will shoulder the task of directing the moving of the old depot for restoration.

'GRANDMOTHER' BETTS, HEAD OF 6-GENERATION FAMILY, IS 100

and she makes the sixth, was still "mighty pernickety" about the way she looked on her 100th birthday here last Wednesday.

Ninety-nine, by careful count, relatives of the six-generation family and guests called earlier in the week to express hearty birthday wishes to Mrs. J. M. Betts at the home of her eldest daughter, Mrs. W. E. Johnson, 205 North Avenue F, in Haskell.

Asked how she felt as she reached the century mark, the sharp-minded 100-year-old said, "It's been a picnic all the way."

The six generations of the Betts family include the very alert centenarian herself, three daughters, one son, 24 grandchildren, 64 great-grandchildren, 37 great-great-grandchildren, and four great-great-great-grandchildren. Each generation was represented here this week in the reunion which marked this monumental milestone. (See "Grandmother", Page 10)

Boss Lion Cox Takes Reins; Projects Named

Wallace Cox Jr., newly elected and installed "Boss Lion" officially took over the reins of the Haskell Lions Club Tuesday noon, and has announced the following projects for the new club year:

July, Attendance Campaign; August, Family Picnic; September, Sight Conservation; October, Pancake Supper; November, Do-Nut Sale; December, Goodfellows Fund Drive; January, Safety; February, Tree Planting; March, Special Teacher Recognition; April, Soil Conservation; May, Broom Sale; June, Ladies' Night.

Monthly meeting of officers and directors was held Tuesday morning, July 2, 7:00, at the Highway Drive-in.

Frank Cadenhead, M. D., chairman of the steering committee for new projects in Haskell, announced that the county wide day of fun and barbecue, to be staged in support of moving the old depot and restoring it as a museum, will be held Saturday, July 27.

Brother-In-Law Of Mrs. Pierson Dies Suddenly

Funeral services for J. E. McPherson, 59, husband of a member of a pioneer Haskell family, the former Lois Killingsworth, were held at the Baptist Church of Halfway, a farming community west of Plainview, Tuesday afternoon.

The Rev. Robert Schneidkopf officiated, and interment was in Plainview Memorial Park under direction of the Lemmons Funeral Home of Plainview.

Mr. McPherson, a farmer, who died of a heart attack at 4:00 p. m. Monday, married Lois Killingsworth in Haskell June 13, 1926. He was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Alfred Pierson here.

Postmaster General Day And Mr. ZIP ... big drive slated for his use

ZIP CODE HERE, IN USE NOW AS MAILING AID, IS 7-9-5-2-1

Haskell's five-digit ZIP Code is 79521. Postmaster Harold Spain announced Wednesday, "Everyone in Haskell will use this ZIP Code on all their correspondence to speed mail deliveries and reduce the chance of mis-send mail," Postmaster Spain said.

A. J. Mansker, 56, Area Resident 42 Years, Is Dead

Funeral services for A. J. Mansker, 56, who died in the Haskell County Hospital Sunday at 1:20 a. m., were held Monday from the Church of Christ here. Officiating was Jim Pennington, minister of the Haskell Church of Christ, and Payne Hattox, minister of the Church of Christ in DeLeon, Texas.

Burial was in the Weibert Cemetery under direction of Holden Funeral Home of Haskell.

Born July 4, 1906, in McGregor, Texas, he had been a resident of Haskell County for 42 years, coming to Haskell from Parker County. He was married Nov. 13, 1930, at Weibert to Miss Velma Coker.

Rotary Gears Mesh In High; Middleton Talks

With the passing of a gavel to Ira Hester by E. J. Stewart, leadership of the Rotary Club of Haskell changed hands on Thursday for the 1963-64 Rotary year. There will be no Rotary meeting next Thursday, July 4, the first meeting date of the new Rotary regime.

Also taking office Thursday were Roy Johnson, vice president, who relinquishes the secretaryship after five years of (See "Rotary Gears," Page 10)

Republicans To Organize An organizational meeting of the Haskell County Republican Party will be held in the Community Room of the Haskell National Bank here July 11 at 7:30 p. m., R. L. Foote has announced.

Party machinery will be set up at that time, and Foote urges the attendance of all interested citizens.

Love Finds Way As Couple 83 and 77 Are Married Here

The wedding at the Haskell County Courthouse Tuesday had all the earmarks of rash, imprudent elopement.

Julia Bates, of Haskell, and Daniel Rhoden, of Stamford, came to the Courthouse together hurriedly, in a taxi, and departed the same way.

American Crusade Sunday

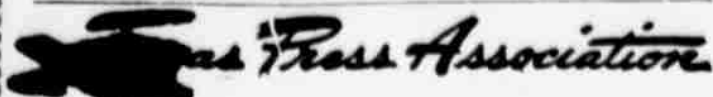

Outstanding Baptist will direct Haskell's part in the two-week American Evangelistic Crusade which begins Sunday.

At their last meeting, President Bud Lane reported, the Junior Chamber of Commerce here voted a substantial sum of money toward the improvement of a tract of land adjacent to the Haskell County Hospital. The Haskell County Hospital Women's Auxiliary started the tract development program to bolster the appearance and recreational facilities for patrons of Haskell's rapidly expanding medical center. At least five of this town's twelve service organizations now have joined in the effort.

Last Thursday night, and again Tuesday evening, the Jaycees rolled up their sleeves for a full membership "work detail" to "manicure" the City Park here. At last week's session, they whitewashed most of the trees and trimmed away the growth at the base of them.

"Our Lives, Our Fortunes, And Our Sacred Honor" ... (Lest We Forget)

We hope every red-blooded American will look beyond the fire crackers, the picnics, the swimming sessions, and the afternoon naps of a pace-weary nation taking a one-day break to the underlying reasons for the observance of this Independence Day.

The more that transpires during these torrid times, the more assured we are in our own minds we should try to recapture the fortitude, integrity, the stick-to-it-tive-ness, the love of liberty of our forebears, whose enduring work we observe this day.

What happened on July 4, 1776, is an indelible monument to something that goes beyond the tangible. There are values in this existence that go beyond the predictable. It is as Dr. James H. Landes, learned, discerning president of Hardin-Simmons University, told her own home folks here last Tuesday night: It is to the spiritual values that we should look for the solution to the problems of a civilization which is afflicted with a worsening sickness.

There is no better time than on July 4 to reflect on the need, the dire necessity, if we are to survive, to enlist more and more adult leadership in support of the fundamental things for which our nation was established—freedom in all things. This can be done by capturing the minds of our youth in our schools, churches and service organizations, training them to recognize the enduring things which gave us our heritage. For when you capture a mind, you've caught your man.

We all are brain-washers, trying to make others feel what we think is true. What a man thinks, that he is. We all know that. We also should try to "make a hand" at projecting to others what we KNOW to be true in prosecuting the principles of liberty in our daily lives.

What Dr. Landes was driving home the other night here about intangibles and their cure for a sick world is, "what shall it profit a man if he gained the whole world and loses his soul?" Let's not, while we are in this world be chiseling for ourselves an epitaph which could read, "He Died Of Looking In The Wrong Direction."

So, on this most important anniversary in the history of the greatest nation on earth, at the foundations of which insidious indifference is breeding a germ that could make us dust, let us renew our resolve that we shall never lose sight of the glorious heritage which is our most cherished possession.

Thank God for the United States of America. And in so doing, "for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence," let us again as Americans in the interest of our heritage, "mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our sacred Honor."

That pledge should beat just as vigorously in the breast of every American today as it did in the hearts of the patriots in Philadelphia 187 years ago today.

So long as it does, there is nothing, absolutely nothing, to fear.

Oakescripts A Pencil Pusher's Potpourri

By PORTER

Today is the day the Pencil Pusher hums the tune to America. The Beautiful in his own inimitable manner. As the words of this stirring song are telegraphed to the mind and heart, it does something to, and for, you. Try it.

Many times this Fourth of July, our stump speakers and picnic parliamentarians will remind their audiences that WE Americans control our destiny through OUR voice in government, that the government is of US and is OURS. We HOPE it is MANY times, because this continues to be as true today as when the drafters of the Constitution chose to begin its moving expression with the granite-solid words: "WE, THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES . . ."

A dear friend of the Pencil Pusher chose a most propitious time to declare in a message to us that unfortunately "many citizens have fallen into the THEY habit in thinking in government."

He is Walter Rogers, most able Congressman of the 18th District, the Panhandle of Texas, whose territory borders upon our own Graham Purcell's on the north.

On this Fourth of July, those who have rowed out to this island of insidious indifference (see editorial), the THEY people, should re-read the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, or Mr. Beard's, or any other thorough history of the United States, that they may become WE again!

Last week, the Congress of the United States enacted a resolution saying that the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence should be observed each year with the ringing of bells at precisely 2 p. m., eastern daylight time, on July 4. This was the same time the Liberty Bell was tolled in Independence Hall in Philadelphia 187 years ago today.

That's high noon in Haskell. So "ring them bells." And with apologies to Edgar Allan, this P. O. sez, everyone within reach of a bell should ring it proudly, make it peal with appeal, and make a tinambulation, all over the place. This kind of non-hazardous, non-explosive din is like the U. S. Post Office. It's the best kind.

Speaking of the U. S. Post Office, we saw a precious person very close to us, Mrs. A. Baker in Amarillo the other day. This lady is a luscious looker. She sauntered stylishly into the Post Office of a southern community not long ago to look up the Postmaster, a relative who hadn't seen her since she was a freckle-faced girl at the awkward stage. Without preliminary ado, this heavenly hunk of humanity, draped her arms about the man, and purred, "How would you like to play Post Office with me?"

That middle-aged, non-plus-ed Postmaster pigeonholed parcels promiscuously and mis-sent missives for a week. We shudder to think of what Lobo (that's a kind of Wolf, in case you didn't know) Spain, that Poor Man's General Day here, would do under similar circumstances.

We're not trying to usurp the domain of Santa Fe Crop Report, or the Bureau of Labor Statistics on conditions across the countryside, but we have a statement to make, with pardonable pride, we pray. Last weekend, we took to the open road from Haskell through Heckville (yep, that's a place between Ida Lou and Plainview) through Happy (like-wise) to Canyon, Glamarrillo, touched base several places on the High Plains, hit Pampatown, and back through the hinterland on the Panhandle's east side to Haskell. The agricultural picture here is prettier painted with "defter" and greener strokes by the Master Painter than anywhere else we saw. Just call us "Oasis, Texas," and give thanks. The good earth is mighty parched elsewhere.

Tourism in all its gory glory apparently has hit its zenith on Highway 66, judging from our 45-mile observation of it the other day. We saw everybody but Todd Stiles and his Corvette. Counted license plates from 18 different states, practically none from Texas, and passed, were passed by, or met something like 1400 automobiles in 45 minutes on the 66 run from near Groom to Shamrock.

Every garage and repair shop we saw had three or four cars waiting to be checked, and on Sunday afternoon, too. No wonder tourism is now receiving its justified recognition as one of the nation's biggest and most remunerative "industries." This is a resource that will NEVER run out, even as oil and gas some day will. PEOPLE.

As is often said in high gassity, we have "arrived." In lieu of grandchildren, an eagerly anticipated future pleasure, we are dog-sitting with Duchess, a chihuahua, the domain of which out-distances the limits of anything so small as a Duchy. She snoops in a broader realm, Duchess, considered by our Betty and Harold their most cherished possession, seems to be afraid somethin' might happen that she won't get in on. She ought to feel right at home in present company in Haskell.

Our varmint has captured the interest and the imagination of folks from "way out, and all over. We had a phone call last Friday from a feminine voice, which said pleadingly, "Mr. Editor, don't let them kill the varmint. What would we have to talk and read about then?"

If you want to live dangerously, take a page out of Elizabeth Stewart's book. On her recent trip to California, she let Robin Hood of TV fame shoot a balloon out of her mouth. "There wasn't anything else to do after he got me up there in front of all those people," said the unshaken Mrs. Stewart. That's a West Texan for you.

Up in Glamarrillo, capitol of the Golden Spread, there used to be, and probably still is, one of the most contrasting sights imaginable. At the corner of Fourth and Polk, the Amarillo National Bank corner, hard by the glistening plaque that bears the name of that solid institution, there also is a tiny hand-made sign which warns: "Pan-handlers and Winos, Move On!"

Oakescript: Now that July and dog days are upon us, guess we'll be seeing the steamy side of life.

Haskell County History

30 YEARS AGO
(July 6, 1903)

Haskell County farmers have offered to retire more than 80,000 acres of cotton from production this year, according to the estimate made by County Agent R. H. Maxwell today. This estimate is based on 2,000 contracts turned in to his office which average 30 acres to be retired on each contract, he said.

A small two-room house in the extreme north part of town burned Monday morning about 10 o'clock. The house was occupied by Don Anderson, colorado, and family. They were chopped cotton in a nearby field when the fire broke out. The family lost all its possessions.

W. T. Hudson, pioneer resident of Haskell, and a leading cattleman in the early days of West Texas, died this morning at the home of a daughter, Mrs. L. T. Cunningham, in Houston. He had been in failing health several months.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Watson, of Wichita Falls, spent the weekend with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Kennedy.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Burleson, and little son are visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Couch.

The seventh annual session of the Lueders Baptist Encampment will open at the encampment grounds on the Clear Fork River near Lueders July 11 and will close July 23. A number of Haskell families plan to attend.

Miss Reba Anderson and nephews, Ronald and Stanley Anderson, of Los Angeles, Calif., are visiting their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Date Anderson.

Mrs. Richard Sherrill and son, Donald, are here from Ithaca, N. Y., to spend the summer with Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Sherrill.

Mrs. R. A. Black and daughter, Nina, left Sunday for Bonham, and a visit with their daughter and sister, Mrs. Pratt.

50 YEARS AGO
(July 5, 1913)

The Central West Texas Log Rolling Association will meet in Haskell on August 21, 22, 23. There will be delegates from every county in the district, and the Haskell Fire Department has arranged with a big carnival company to be here a whole week August 18-23, inclusive.

On the BYPU program this week are Annie Eastland, Cora Killingsworth, Mary Hughes, A. J. Smith, Abbie Norman, Hollie Ramey, Rice Pierson. Eight bents of the bridge on the Wichita Valley that spans the Salt Fork of the Brazos have washed out and a construction train has been sent there to repair same. The Orient bridge on the Brazos is also gone and the Orient train is detouring on the Denver from Chillicothe via Wichita Falls, Haskell, and Stamford to Sagerston. The heavy rains of the past few days have put both the Brazos river forks at flood stage.

Miss Mildred Liles, of Aurora, Mo., who has been visiting the family of her uncle, O. P. Lisle, of this city, left Saturday for Wichita Falls, for a short visit, and from there she arillo, was here several days this week on business. Monday with heavy doses of rain. T. B. Busbee, of Cross City, was here several days this week looking over the country with a view of buying land. County Treasurer Stephens and family spent a few days out on the river this week and brought back a fine lot of plums for making jelly. District Judge H. R. Jones will convene court at Atton.

Wayne Herrington Is Officer Trainee At Fort Sill Camp

Cadet Wayne D. Herrington, a student at Tarleton State College, and son of Mr and Mrs. Leamon D. Herrington, 1,800 Reserve Officer Training Corps cadets attending the General Military Science ROTC Camp at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, to become future Army officers.

The cadets began their intensive training Monday, June 17, and for the next six weeks will learn how to become an expert firer with the M1 Army rifle on the Trainfire Range at Fort Sill.

The cadets will learn how to set up, load, and fire 81 mm mortars, 3.5 rocket launchers, operate radios, function as radio operators in communication nets, as used under combat conditions. They will become efficient in the technique of mine warfare.

Although training is intensive, the cadets are able to take advantage of the many athletic and recreational facilities in the Lawton and Fort Sill area.

Maj. General L. S. Griffing, post commander, began the first week cycle of training by welcoming the cadets to Fort Sill. He told the cadets, "A great deal has already been done for you, to provide for your welfare. But the biggest part is in your hands, that of learning about being an Army officer."

The training which Cadet Herrington is taking is the first entire general military science camp held at Fort Sill.

The ROTC program in college is designed to permit progressive evaluation of college students and to insure selection of those best qualified for commissions. It produces 15,000 officers annually. The camp is scheduled to close July 26, and 123 of the cadets who have completed their military science in college will be commissioned second lieutenants.

First Baptist To Have Old-Time 4th Of July Picnic

Continuing an annual event initiated last year, the First Baptist Church of Haskell will have a church-wide Fourth-of-July Picnic in City Park here Thursday in traditional Independence Day style.

The festive schedule will begin at 4 p. m. with barrel-rolling, sack-racing, volleyball and other appetite-building recreation.

A picnic supper will be spread at 6 p. m., followed by an old-time song service in the park, starting at 7 o'clock.

The event is being sponsored by the Training Union of First Baptist Church. J. C. Yeary is director.

Under the direction of Dr. Lowell C. Perry, the Workshop activity schedule was concluded on June 21.

Members of the teaching staff included Dr. Perry; Wenwell Mayes, vice president of KCRS, Midland; Dan Rather, head of CBS Southwest Bureau, Dallas; Louise Green, copy chief for Fidelity Advertising, Abilene; Parker Morrell, program director for KCRS, Midland; Coyt Butler, KONO, San Antonio; Dick Cowser, KONO; Dillard Carrera, KVIL, Dallas; and Dave Morris, KNUZ, Houston.

Subject matter covered during the workshop included, announcing, control room technique, news-casting, programming, sports-casting, public service, continuity writing, music selection, salesmanship, and bookkeeping.

Farm Sale Gain Is Taxable, IRS Reminds Farmers

The sale of a farm is taxable, says Omas T. Roberts, Administrative Officer at the Wichita Falls office of Internal Revenue. Mr. Roberts points out that farmers must pay tax on any gain on the sale of their farm or other capital items, even though they may turn around and use the money to buy another farm or similar item.

In a letter to County Agricultural Agents, the District Director of Internal Revenue in Dallas asked the County Agents to help IRS correct the erroneous thinking. The tax man advised farmers to check the tax consequences before they sell, trade, or swap.

F. W. Martin, the local County Agent, has pointed out that farmers can get a good general idea of taxes owed by reading the farmers tax guide furnished free by the Internal Revenue Service.

Car Caravan From Here In Dallas For Evangelistic Meet

Approximately 50 members of the First Baptist Church of Haskell were expected to make the pilgrimage by car caravan to Dallas, leaving here at 3 p. m. Tuesday to attend the first Southern Baptist Convention-Evangelistic Conference. Rev. Ray Nobles, pastor, announced.

Among notable clergymen who will be at the new municipal coliseum to preach stirring messages to an expected throng of 10,000 persons, are Billy Graham, Dr. R. G. Lee, and C. E. Aulrey.

Jimmy Karam also will give testimony at the conference. A former race riot instigator in Little Rock, Arkansas, Karam was won to Christ by Dr. W. O. Vaught, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church of that city, and has become one of the best workers of that church, it has been reported.

The first convention-wide Baptist evangelistic conference ends today.

Rev. Nobles said members of the church here were to take part in the evangelistic conference on Tuesday night and Wednesday, returning here in time to attend a First Baptist Church of Haskell picnic in City Park here Thursday.

Chimes Here Will Play Two Hours On Daily Schedule

Stirring music to soothe the mind and heart will be the order of the day in Haskell for two hours daily now that an automatic timing device has been installed with an electric chime system already in the First Baptist Church here. Danny Boone, director of music at the church located in the heart of Haskell, said the peals from the edifice here will reach the ears of hundreds of people from 12 noon to 1 p. m. and from 5 to 6 p. m. daily.

Mrs. Wilton Davis Guest Speaker At Naomi Class Meet

Wearing a native costume of the Japanese, Mrs. Wilton Davis of Abilene, was guest speaker last week for the Naomi Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church, describing vividly and graphically the recent Baptist crusade in Japan.

The Abilene visitor conveyed with slides the customs, everyday life, and religious life of the Japanese, citing with awareness the need for Christianity in Japan.

The Kimono-clad Mrs. Davis was introduced by Miss Betty Jo Clanton, teacher of the class.

Mrs. Brucille Nellums, class president, was in charge. Mrs. Elyse Eastland closed the meeting with prayer after which Mrs. Nellums presented Mrs. Davis with a gift from the class.

Refreshments were served the following: Mmes. Vivian Robison, Iola Everett, Opal Smith, Clara Biard, Opal Adams, Nellums, Opal Nanny, Eastland, Ethel Lou Shelton, Ruby Mae Robertson, Pauline Derr, Freddie Ballard, and Miss Clanton. Special guests, in addition to Mrs. Davis, were Mmes. Della Medford, Ed Fouts, Louise Green, Gladys O'Neal, and Tom Rhoades.

Mrs. Hugh Mathis Honored With Tea At Herren Home

Mrs. Hugh Mathis, the former Joanie Frazier, was honored with a gift tea by the Women of the First Presbyterian Church in the home of Mrs. Sam P. Herren on June 27.

The guests were greeted by Miss Louisa Herren and presented to the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Woodrow Frazier, and the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. T. A. Rhoades.

Miss Dorinda Kretschmer registered guests while Miss Diane Hester and Miss Margie Robinson of Dothan, Alabama, presided at the punch bowl. They were assisted by Miss Barbara Foster and Miss Linda Steele.

The table was covered with a yellow and white organdy cloth centered with a large bride doll nestled in a cluster of yellow and white daisies. Decorated cake squares and nuts were served with the lime punch.

Many useful and attractive gifts were displayed on white covered tables bedecked with rose streamers. Lovely summer flower arrangements were placed throughout the home. Friends of the bride called from 4 to 6.

MRS. BASIL TRUMAN MURPHY

Sharon Marr Exchanges Vows With Basil Truman Murphy In Church Rites

Sharon Marie Marr and Basil Truman Murphy exchanged wedding vows Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the East Side Baptist Church in Haskell.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Richard Marr, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Dunlap, all of Haskell.

The ceremony was read by the Reverend L. D. Regeon. Soloist was Betty Hill. Wedding music was presented by Jerry Don Oliphant, cousin of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace and bridal satin, featuring a lace bodice, with scalloped neckline decorated with seed pearls. The full skirt of satin extended to a chapel train. She wore a fingertip veil of silk illusion, and carried white feathered carnations atop a white Bible. Mrs. Kenneth Campbell was matron of honor. Serving as bridesmaids were Sandra Howard, Frances Foll, and Diane Ammons, cousin of the bride. The bridesmaids wore identical dresses of lilac satin and matching pill box hats, and carried feathered carnations.

Serving as best man was Curtis Murphy, brother of the groom. Groomsmen were Ben McGee, Kenneth Marr, both cousins of the bride, and Gary Hodgins.

Candles were lighted by Billy Marr, brother of the bride, and Gary Gavlik, cousin of the bride.

Flower girl and ring bearer were Shonna White and Bruce Andrews. The bride is a 1963 graduate of Haskell High School. The

MRS. FREDERIC WILLIAM HALL, JR.

Miss Mabel Jane Mears Marries Lieut. Frederic Hall, Jr., in Rites At Menard

Lt. and Mrs. Frederic William Hall Jr., after their wedding ceremony at Menard First Baptist Church, on June 7, left on a wedding trip to New York City.

Mrs. Hall is the former Miss Mabel Jane Mears, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lamar Mears Jr., of Menard, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Darnell of Haskell. Lt. Hall's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frederic W. Hall of Eden.

The Rev. Lee Adams, pastor of Church of the Heavenly Rest in Abilene assisted the Rev. Perry Wallace, pastor of Menard First Baptist Church, in officiating during the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white silk chiffon with a molded bodice fashioned with a high scooped neckline. Appliques of imported Alencon lace, re-embroidered with chiffon and tiny seed pearls, accented the gown's waistline. The controlled skirt was enhanced with appliques of lace, extending into a wide chapel train, complemented with two streamers of chiffon.

Her veil of white imported silk illusion extended to the length of her gown from a crown of white re-embroidered Alencon lace, traced with tiny seed pearls and a circle face veil. She carried a white orchid with stephanotis and pearl leaves from which extended white satin streamers.

Mrs. Carlton Rothmann of Menard, organist, accompanied Mrs. Dayton Walston of Menard, soloist.

Miss Melinda Mears was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. James Davis of Houston, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Diane Hall of Eden, another sister of the

CITY ORDINANCE

An Ordinance authorizing the operation of pool halls, defining same, providing regulation thereof, location thereof requiring a tax to be paid for the operation thereof and providing a penalty for violation of these requirements.

BE IT ORDAINED by the City Council of the City of Haskell, Texas:

ARTICLE I: That on and after the effective date hereof it shall be lawful to operate Pool Halls within the City Limits of the City of Haskell, Haskell County, Texas, under the rules and regulations prescribed herein.

ARTICLE II: The term "Pool Hall," as used herein, shall mean and include the following: Any room, hall or building in which is exhibited any pool or billiard table or tables for the purpose of permitting games placed thereon for hire, revenue, prize, fees or gain of any kind.

ARTICLE III: All pool halls shall open not earlier than 8 o'clock a. m. on weekdays and shall close by 12 o'clock midnight, and shall remain closed on Sundays.

ARTICLE IV: The operator of such pool hall shall not permit any drinking of intoxicants, gambling or betting upon any game played in said hall, nor upon any event, game, election or other things which shall be undetermined at the time such attempted wager is made.

The fact that there is an agreement that the loser of a game agrees to pay the cost thereof is not considered gambling, but any agreement to pay a greater sum than the cost of the use of the table and equipment for the game shall be considered gambling.

ARTICLE V: No such pool hall shall be permitted to operate in the City of Haskell at a location which is greater than a distance of two blocks from the streets forming the city square.

ARTICLE VI: The operator of such a pool hall violating any of the provisions of Articles III, IV and V of this ordinance shall, upon conviction, be fined any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars and the City Council may, upon proof of violations of said three articles, or any of them, or any other provision of this ordinance, revoke the license or permit of the operator of such pool hall.

ARTICLE VII: The City Secretary shall collect a tax of $5.00 per table annually from the operator of each pool hall. Application for a permit shall be accompanied by the first year's tax and said application shall be in writing and upon such form as the City Council may require.

ARTICLE VIII: This ordinance shall take effect upon its passage and publication.

City Council of the City of Haskell, Texas, on this the 25th day of June, 1963.

YOUR INDEPENDENT INSURANCE AGENCY ...

He's just a home-town merchant, and a guy not hard to meet,
 An independent business man, with an office on Main Street;
 Like the butcher and the grocer, he earns his daily bread,
 From the commissions on his product—his "retail selling spread."
 His mark-up, less than others, is an average 20 cents,
 From which he meets his payroll, office rental and expense.
 He spends his income locally, he thinks his town is tops,
 He trades with Main Street merchants and supports the local shops.
 You'll find he's in a civic club and very much alive,
 He's first to lend a helping hand in every civic drive.
 He stands against bad "ism;" he supports free enterprise;
 He's your Insurance Agent—the guy you patronize.
