Sales tax rebates up 21.87 percent

Snyder's sales tax rebates for the first of the fiscal year were up 21.87 percent over last year, the State Comptroller's office said.

Strong retail sales in November resulted in a 10 percent increase statewide over last January's rebates to cities and counties, the office noted.

The rebates reflect taxes collected on November sales and reported in December by businesses filing monthly tax returns.

Snyder received $57,842.22 for the month, as compared to $47,462.14 last year. The difference is an increase of 21.87 percent. Because the rebates reflected the first month of the fiscal year, the year-to-date comparison is also up 21.87 percent.

The county also reported a 21.31 percent increase in its 1/2 cent sales tax collected. Rebates to the county amounted to $33,474.00 compared to $27,593.05 in November of 1988.

The State Comptroller's office said January's payments to cities totaled $70 million, which was almost 10 percent more than last year's figure of $64 million at the same time. Payments to counties totaled $7.2 million, an 18 percent jump as compared to $6.1 million the year before.

In other cities...

—Sweetwater: received $46,030.71, down 13.29 percent from $53,077.91 during the same month last year.

—Colorado City: received $24,098.01, up 2.60 percent from $23,487.04 during the same month last year.

—Lubbock: received $1,090,539.07, up 7.33 percent from $1,016,080.74 during the same month last year.

—Big Spring: received $96,268.43, up 13.89 percent from $84, 529.12 during the same month last year.

—Post: received $11,366.29, up (see SALES, page 10)

UNUSUAL SIGHT — Motorists and shoppers faced the unusual sight, with 1989 having been one of the driest years in local history, of rain and hail this morning as .40 of an inch of moisture had been recorded by 11:30 a.m., with rain still falling. In the inset, Shane Heady of Buena Vista, Colo., left, and Travis Babcock of Snyder ran for cover outside Wal-Mart. (SDN Staff Photos)

Q.—Why didn't the Snyder Daily News run a story on the court order forcing the hospital to hand over the records to the tax rollback group?

A.—Because there was no court order.

Audit session

County Judge Bobby Goodwin and County Auditor Linda Franklin have scheduled a 10 a.m. Friday meeting with county commissioners to present a list of priorities on possible changes in the way Scurry County is governed.

Goodwin said this morning that the meeting, in the commissioners' courtroom, will be "about the institution of some of the recommendations of Coopers & Lybrand," the accounting firm that Monday presented a report on its operational audit of local county government.

"We will set a list of priorities on things Scurry County needs and present it to the commissioners," the county judge said.

In Brief

Lower rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House, breaking with its usual no-comment stance on activities of the Federal Reserve Board, said today that "lower interest rates are justified."

Presidential spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said recent economic reports show that the economy could benefit from an easier monetary policy.

"We had a recent drop in the prime (rate). That hasn't been totally passed through. But we nevertheless remain hopeful that it will be," Fitzwater told reporters.

Major banks lowered the prime interest rate on Jan. 8 to 10 percent, down from 10.5 percent. The independent Federal Reserve, however, has not lowered its bellwether discount rate, the rate it charges to other banks, for nearly a year. It stands at 7 percent.

One arrested

SOFIA, Bulgaria (AP) — Ousted Communist leader Todor Zhivkov has been placed under house arrest on charges of inciting ethnic hostility, misuse of state property and malfeasance in office, the state news agency reported today.

The announcement came more than two months after the hard-line party chief, who had ruled for 35 years, was ousted by a peaceful, pro-democracy revolution and replaced by more moderate Communists who have promised free elections and democratic reforms.

Over 700 players, coaches...

Snyder to host youth cage tourney

Snyder will be the host city for the boys' National Little Dribblers Tournament on the last weekend in April, bringing more than 700 players and coaches from several states into the city, the Board of County Development was told Wednesday.

BCD member Bill Parker said he had learned of Snyder's selection from local organizer David Sisson, and he said the April 26-28 event will bring "a lot of visitors and a lot of traffic" to the city.

Sisson, a Little Dribblers board member and immediate past president, said Wednesday afternoon that he had kept in touch with basketball organization's national headquarters in Levelland, asking that Snyder be considered.

Including the three boys' Little Dribblers teams here, the tournament will feature 48 teams of 14 boys and two coaches each, which would be a total of 738.

A large contingent of parents is also expected.

Sisson said every school gymnasium in the city will be used in the double-elimination tournament, and the county coliseum will be employed for all finals games.

In addition to teams from around Texas, he said, Mercer Island, Wash., Louisiana and other Deep South states will be represented.

Later in the one-hour meeting, Parker said he was highly offended by an advertisement that was run Tuesday by the pro-tax rollback group, Citizens for Fiscal Restraint, comparing Dawson and Scurry County governmental staffing.

The West Texas State Bank president said he had contacted Dawson County Auditor Barbara Stone and had been told that Dawson County, of which the county seat is Lamesa, has a total of 70 employees, not 46, as was stated in the Citizens for Fiscal Restraint ad.

"Less than half of this ad is factual, and it's an insult to the in-

Programming changes placed on hold until new equipment arrives

Federally mandated cable television programming changes here will go into effect a little later than originally projected, probably around March 1, rather than Feb. 1, a Snyder Cablevision spokesman said.

The reason is that switching equipment is currently the hottest item in the industry, because most cable companies are facing the same type of changes, and the arrival of the necessary equipment has been delayed.

Nathan Geick of Conroe, executive vice president for operations for Snyder Cablevision's new owner, TCA Management Co., said here that the company is awaiting the arrival of switching equipment for two channels — Channel 8 from Dallas and Channel 11 from Lubbock.

Geick said a national music video program not previously available here, "Country Music," may be used to substitute on Channel 8 when syndicated programs owned by Channel 12 in Abilene conflict with Channel 8 shows.

A Midland-Big Spring affiliate has also filed for "protection" from Lubbock's Channel 11, although the local company will give the network preference to Abilene's Channel 9.

Common network programming will be shown simultaneously on 8-12 and 9-11, TCA executives have said, but Snyder viewers will see Abilene advertising on all four channels.

Channel 8's non-network shows will not be affected, as long as they do not conflict with the four syndicated shows owned by Channel 12 — "The Phil Donahue Show," "Entertainment

Board says 'no'...

Attempts to return art collection fall through

Hopes of the Diamond M art collection moving back to Snyder after a two-year stay in Lubbock were dashed recently when Mayor Troy Williamson and Western Texas College President Dr. Harry Krenek met with the Diamond M Foundation in Snyder.

In a follow-up letter, foundation president Mark McLaughlin complimented the men for "the splendid presentation you made on behalf of the city of Snyder." But "no," was the final answer of directors who said that the collection will probably remain at the Texas Tech Heritage Center for a total of four years, if not more.

It was announced at a chamber tourism and retirement committee meeting Dec. 8 by Williamson that the collection was definitely moving to Texas Tech. The collection is scheduled to be moved during February.

Williamson, Krenek, and local businessman Dennis Chisum all made presentations to the foundation board. Chisum said they offered a building staffed with people of the foundation's choice, cooperation from Scurry County Museum, custodial staff, security staff, and utilities and building insurance. The group even offered to check into insuring the collection.

"We sure gave it a good shot," Chisum said, adding that they said yes to every contingency the foundation brought up, but, in the end, they were told no.

The late C.T. McLaughlin and his wife, Claire, opened the museum in April of 1964. The collection includes some 300 paintings and numerous bronze sculptures, including 49 paintings by N.C. Wyeth and five by Dalhart Windberg.

tions Commission has mandated for cable TV companies. A spectrum analyzer is on the counter. (SDN Staff Photo)

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Some people stop to think, but they never start again."

Ellie Dryden, drama teacher at Snyder Junior High, recently had a severe case of laryngitis for five days.

She missed only one day of school, and returned to her duties on Tuesday and Wednesday. As she was writing instructions to students on the chalk board, she added the following:

"I may be mute, but I'm not deaf or dumb!"

Did you hear about the new weight-loss program? It's called the Wall Street diet—and you lose it all in one day.

In the past few weeks, it has been noted that most every Texas community is being strained by controversy of some form or another.

It seems that residents are easy-going during good economic times, and become more testy as fiscal woes play havoc with established lifestyles.

Former SDN editor Wacil McNair said recently that Texas politics run as wild as college basketball, and easily takes up as much television time. It will continue to do so, of course, as long as Texas voters are predominantly influenced by personalities.

McNair noted that John Henry Faulk, the internationally-known humorist from Madisonville, sized the situation up in a recent article published in the Dallas Morning News:

"I think about the only way one can tolerate Texas is with a sense of humor. What if you took Texas politicians seriously? My God, you'd put a gun to your temple in 24 hours."

If you can't find a little humor in dealing with a problem—at least try and keep it in proper perspective. Remember—this problem, too, shall pass.

NASA picks 23 astronaut candidates

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Three women from the military and the first female Hispanic selection are among 23 people chosen as astronaut candidates, NASA announced.

It marked the first time that female military officers have been tapped as astronaut candidates, although some have applied for the position in the past.

the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Wednesday.

The three military women are Air Force Maj. Eileen M. Collins, the first woman to be named a shuttle pilot candidate, Air Force Capt. Susan J. Helms of Charlotte, N.C., and Army Capt. Nancy J. Sherlock of Wilmington, Del. Helms and Sherlock were chosen as mission specialist candidates.

The list also includes Los Angeles native Ellen Ochoa, the first female Hispanic selection.

Ms. Collins, an Elmira, N.Y., native who is a student test pilot at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., also may become the first female to command a shuttle mission. Shuttle pilots usually fly once as the pilot before being named commander of a flight.

In all, seven pilot candidates and 16 mission specialists were selected from a list of 1,945 qualified applications. Last fall, 106 applicants were interviewed by NASA.

The 23 astronaut candidates will train for a year beginning in July before they are given technical jobs that lead to assignments on shuttle missions.

The astronaut candidates include Ronald M. Sega, the husband of astronaut Bonnie Dunbar — a mission specialist aboard the current Columbia flight. Sega, a Cleveland native who is now a professor at the University of Houston, was named a mission specialist.

Man's 20-year prison term affirmed by appeals court

AUSTIN (AP) — The 3rd Court of Appeals on Wednesday affirmed a 20-year sentence for a defendant who claimed he missed a court date because his grandmother had been taken sick to a hospital and he had to be with her.

Herman Kindred was convicted in Bell County for the felony offense of "failing to appear." The trial court, after finding allegations of prior convictions true, sentenced Kindred to 20 years in prison.

Kindred's excuse for failing to show up in court Nov. 18, 1988, was that the previous evening his grandmother, with whom he lived, became ill and he needed to accompany her to the hospital. He said he had to stay with her until she was released the next afternoon.

Kindred said he called his lawyer, who told him to stay with his grandmother, that the case could be rescheduled. The lawyer said he did not recall receiving a call.

The 3rd Court of Appeals court said there was evidence that Kindred had failed to appear in seven misdemeanor cases set for Nov. 10, 1988. "About two weeks after the trial setting at issue here, appellant failed to appear in two other misdemeanor cases in county court," the appeals court said.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I've read your column for many years (I'm 55) and in many different newspapers as I have moved around a lot, but this is my first time to write.

On March 16, 1978, my son, Johnny Ray, who was 17 at the time, was working as a deckhand off the Louisiana shore. The boat sank in stormy weather and no trace of Johnny was ever found. The captain and engineer were rescued. The Coast Guard searched for days, but my son was never found.

I can accept the fact that my son must have drowned, but his brothers and sisters cannot accept it. They want to believe that Johnny is somewhere with amnesia, or that a boat rescued him while running drugs and took him to Mexico. What I am trying to say, Abby, is that when you don't put someone to rest, it's hard to accept that he or she is gone.

I admit that even now when I see a lanky, blond, curly-haired young man walking — and from behind he looks like Johnny — my heart skips a beat, but I know in my heart my son is gone. How does one deal with the grief? I suppose this letter is too long for your column, but I feel better for having written it.

Thanks for all the good you do. God bless.

E.R., WINTER HAVEN, FLA.

DEARER: Please get in touch with the Compassionate Friends support group nearest you. Meeting with others who share your problem — and there are many — can ease your pain. Write to: Compassionate Friends, P.O. Box 3696, Oak Brook, Ill. 60522-3696.

You are so right: It is easier to accept the loss of a loved one if you have put him to rest. Not knowing causes one's imagination to run wild.

It will be almost 12 years since Johnny disappeared, so I think you can assume that he is safe in the care of his heavenly Father.

DEAR ABBY: In the aftermath of the San Francisco earthquake, our local newspaper carried articles telling us how to prepare for the possibility of an earthquake.

One suggestion was to keep bottled water, but the article also stated that bottled water should be replaced every six months. It gave no explanation why.

What could possibly go wrong with bottled water if it is purified and the bottle is unopened? I have had several gallons of bottled water stored in my basement for about five years. Are they a health hazard if I drink them? If so, this information and explanation could help many people. A SEATTLE READER

DEAR SEATTLE READER: According to the Sparkletts bottled water company, bottled water that is kept out of the sunlight is good indefinitely.

DEAR ABBY: "A Granny From Georgia" was right on the ball with her suggestion that batteries be included with children's toys — even at an increase in price. She handed the ball to you, Abby, and you fumbled.

You said a spokesman at Mattel Toys Inc. told you that the shelf life of the toy might outlive the shelf life of the batteries. Hogwash!

A coupon inside (visible from the outside) would entitle the toy purchaser to batteries (a) at the check-out counter or (b) on a rack near checkout. Lay that one on the Mattel spokesperson.

JAMES PLOSS, SILVER SPRINGS, FLA.

DEAR JAMES: Great idea. Now if the Mattel Toy people pick up on this idea, I'll remind them that the idea originated with you, James.

People are eating them up! To order your copy of Abby's favorite recipes, send a long, business-size, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $3.95 ($4.50 in Canada) to: Dear Abby, Cookbooklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054. (Postage is included.)

Carpenters discuss expo

White Buffalo Stamp Club met recently at TU Reddi Room. Sylvia and Mildred Carpenter presented a program about their 5-day stay at the International Stamp Show in Washington, D.C. The Carpenters sent each member an official cover bearing the new self-adhesive stamp being tested, which is a special collector's item. The stamp was available in only 17 cities in the U.S. They also brought gifts when they returned, including a special embossed postcard with the expo logo, that particular day's logo, and the first day's logo. They had several exhibits to show as well as much information to relate. Members were urged to attend all stamp shows within a reasonable distance. Club members also voted to re-elect officers for another term, including Dorothy Martin, president; Robert Patterson, vice president; and Sylvia Carpenter, secretary-treasurer.

Bridge by James Jacoby

I can't recommend South's opening bid, but it certainly worked in today's deal. If South opens one club, East will get in a spade bid, and it will no longer be possible for South to steal a five-club contract.

Although contract bridge is 60 years old, we haven't yet seen enough eight-card suits to know the best way to bid them: One thing is certain: When your first bid is five clubs, you will give the opponents fits. What you hope is that you won't be giving your partner a headache too. South, as dealer, tried that opening bid in a recent tournament. Neither opponent could take action, and North knew that the opening bid would have been different if South held a very strong hand. It's easy to see the advantage to declarer. Since neither of the opponents had the opportunity to get into the bidding, West really had no inking as to the best lead. So he tried the ace of hearts. South unblocked the heart king as East followed with the eight. If West now switched to a spade, declarer would have to win the ace and take a finesse against the queen of clubs in the East hand to make the contract. In fact that play would score an over-trick. But West did not know what declarer held in diamonds. If South held any two diamonds, the hand would be set by playing ace and another diamond. So West tried that play. South ruffed and quickly played A-K and another club. The spade losers now went away on the good hearts.

TO THE CITIZENS OF SCURRY COUNTY:

Citizens for Fiscal Restraint published an advertisement in the Snyder Daily News on Jan. 16, 1990 comparing Scurry County with Dawson County. The ad advised that Dawson Sheriff and Jail total personnel is 7. Mr. Falls was contacted and advised that this is not true. He told me that Billy McCormick had gotten the figures from Dawson County and that if I wanted to correct it I could.

The following is to answer the ad paid for by: Marlin Terrell, Pat Falls, H.G. Bishop, Bobby McCormick, Billy A. McCormick, Arthur Beauchamp, C.E. McCormick Jr., E.D. Flynn, Mrs. J.E. Sorrells, Weldon Perry, Mr. and Mrs. J.E. McCright, Bill Houston, F.R. Williams, Charles C. Cain and Ysidro Estrada, which made it look like the Scurry County Sheriff's Office has too many personnel.

Dawson County Sheriff Terry Brown advised that he has 5 deputies, 4 jailers and 1 office deputy which would total 11 counting the sheriff. Dawson County has a 21-bed jail. Scurry County has 5 deputies, 6 jailers and a jail cook which totals 13 including myself. Scurry County has one deputy that teaches the DARE Drug Program 4 days a week in our schools.

Scurry County has a 57-bed jail. In 1989 the Sheriff's Department made the county $126,676 boarding out-of-county prisoners. We spent less than $8,000 of this amount, leaving a $118,000 profit for taxpayers.

Presently, we are boarding 21 out-of-county prisoners. If we have room to continue this for all of 1990, the department will net the taxpayers $250,000 to $300,000. The total Scurry County Jail budget estimated for 1990 is $280,412.

Scurry County Jailers work 168 hours in 4 weeks. Scurry County deputies work 171 hours in 4 weeks.

Mr. Falls was also asked why his committee used Dawson County instead of Nolan or Andrews County. He replied, "We have to make it look as good as we can."

Andrews County	9 deputies	6 jailers	5 dispatchers
Nolan County	8 deputies	7 jailers	1 dispatcher

The Scurry County Sheriff's Office has been run in a conservative manner and I pledge to continue this effort in the future.

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: What are the aftereffects of Rocky Mountain Fever? Could it cause memory and/or hearing loss, and could it take up to 12 1/2 years to show up?

DEAR READER: Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever is a tick-borne infection causing headache, fever, chills, muscular pains, a hemorrhagic rash, low blood pressure, insomnia, delirium and coma. Untreated patients may develop pneumonia, heart damage and encephalitis (brain infection). Antibiotics are used to cure these infections.

Because Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever can cause brain inflammation, memory and/or hearing loss could be a late complication of the disease. However, 12 1/2 years is such a long interval between the illness and the complications that the tick infection is an improbable cause of the symptoms.

Such a patient should be examined by a doctor to determine if other ailments causing memory loss, such as Alzheimer's disease, could be present. If the patient lives in an area where Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever is prevalent, such as the southeast United States, the doctor should order a blood test for this condition, as part of a general diagnostic approach.

To give you more information on symptoms similar to the ones you describe, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Alzheimer's Disease." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a 59-year-old male. About a month ago, I began wetting the bed. I don't drink coffee, but do consume two to three bottles of diet soda a day. What would be the cause?

DEAR READER: The sudden development of enuresis (bed-wetting) in a 59-year-old man should be investigated by a urologist. This symptom can result from urinary-tract infection, including prostate infection, and abnormalities of the bladder sphincter, a muscular ring controlling the act of urination.

Some men experience incontinence as they age. This is due to a poorly understood breakdown of the normal bladder-to-brain nerve impulses, which signal the urge to urinate. In addition, prostatic enlargement, a common condition in older men, will prevent complete emptying of the bladder; this, in turn, leads to more frequent nighttime urination and, in sound sleepers, occasional enuresis.

You may be able to help the situation, before seeing a urologist, by reducing your intake of fluids, particularly in the evening. Drink only when you're thirsty and confine your fluids to daylight hours.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a 17-year-old male and stand 5 feet 4 inches tall. All my life, I've put up with jokes about my size. Do you know of any exercises or prescriptions that can add a couple of inches to my height?

DEAR READER: I'm afraid you'll have to resign yourself to being short. At age 17, your centers for bone growth have probably calcified, making further growth impossible. Therefore, exercises and prescription drugs (such as growth hormone) would not help you.

Remember, you are not alone; many happy and successful men are short. Try to do the best with what you've got. A positive attitude about your abilities is much more important than how tall you are.

U. S. official called attorney general in Mexico about movie

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The U.S. government was so concerned about reaction to NBC's "Drug Wars" miniseries that a top Justice Department official called Mexico's attorney general the day after the first episode aired, the attorney general says.

"He asked me how I was taking it," Attorney General Enrique Alvarez del Castillo told reporters Wednesday. Laughing, he said he had replied with a Mexican profanity and added that he had appreciated the gesture.

The NBC miniseries based on the death of Drug Enforcement Administration agent Enrique Camarena in 1985 was broadcast Jan. 7-9; it caused a controversy in Mexico because of its frank portrayal of corruption in the Mexican legal system.

Mexican officials feared it would deal a blow to President Carlos Salinas de Gortari's efforts to change Mexico's image, while U.S. officials feared Mexican anger and hurt pride would inhibit relations, especially in the fight against drug trafficking.

Officials of both nations have insisted that is not happening and U.S. officials have praised the Salinas' administration's efforts to fight drug trafficking and corruption. Mexican officials are quick to point out that 36 tons of cocaine has been seized in the 13 months since Salinas took office, more than was seized in the preceding 10 years put together.

Drug kingpins Rafael Caro Quintero and Ernesto Fonseca Carrillo were sentenced in December to 40 years in prison without parole for the Camarena killing.

Alvarez, who was governor of Jalisco when Camarena was kidnapped in the state capital of Guadalajara, said he found the miniseries' portrayal of Mexican justice "irritating" but emphasized that it had not affected relations and that the governments were keeping things on an even keel.

As an example of the close U.S.-Mexico relationship under Salinas and President Bush, Alvarez said he had received a sympathetic telephone call from a top U.S. drug enforcement official on behalf of U.S. Attorney General Richard Thornburgh.

The call came after the first episode of "Drug Wars" was broadcast in the United States and on Mexico City's cable system, Alvarez said.

At a press conference, Alvarez said the government is "interested" in press reports that allege Camarena was involved in drug trafficking himself, but that it is not reopening the Camarena investigation.

U.S. officials have indignantly denied the reports, which originated with a dispatch by the government news service Notimex.

ROLLBACK COUNTY TAXES

VOTE  FOR

Snyder Daily News publisher Roy McQueen has stated that the differences between the "For" and "Against" tax groups are few.

Fact: Only one point separates these groups, namely: How the commissioners would handle a rollback and where would they make the cuts in the budget.

Those against the rollback admit that the commissioners failed in their first attempt to come to a workable solution. How can we expect them to succeed a second time?

Our position is that the state of Texas has set out a clear format to follow in case of a tax increase in excess of 8%. We have followed this format to the letter.

The people of Scurry County should vote to rollback taxes and hand the matter back to the commissioners with clear instructions to return to their court and come back with a workable plan that does not ruin the hospital or cut human services.

THE FINANCIAL CONDITION OF SCURRY COUNTY

From 1985-1989 tax base values fell 62%*.
From 1985-1989 the county tax rate increased 210%*
*Source: "Operational Audit of Scurry County", Coopers & Lybrand

The hospital is a major budget item (56% expenditure). If its aggressive plans, including the regional medical center concept falter for any reason, the county is very much at financial risk.

The lack of leadership by the commissioner's court in financial responsibility is most evident. They have idly watched the county's tax base fall away and have taken no action to keep Scurry County financially healthy.

If the next five years are a copy of the last five years, Scurry County will have reached complete bankrupt status.

The commissioners gave a 5% pay raise to all county employees including themselves, when they knew the county couldn't afford it.

The commissioners have been spending money with absolutely no thought of what it is doing to the finances of our county.

Those opposing the rollback have gone to the Senior Center with scare tactics suggesting that a rollback would close the Center. We say that if the commissioners continue to spend as they have been doing, not only will the Senior Center be closed, but those on a fixed income will be unable to pay taxes on their homes, and will be in danger of losing them.

Scurry County has too much machinery and personnel. Unneeded and unused machinery is expensive and excess personnel is not financially sound. The commissioners must set a course of fiscal responsibility that the people of the county can support.

Thirty-six members of 4-H clubs across the South Plains were honored recently at the 32nd annual district Gold Star Banquet.

In addition to receiving the Gold Star Award, highest honor presented at the county level by the youth organizations, the youths were challenged by Dr. Elizabeth Hailey, dean of home economics at Texas Tech University, to make optimum use of the tools and rules they already have and build a sound future.

Honored from Scurry County was Rana Eicke, daughter of Eddie and Lois Eicke, and from Borden County were A'Lise and M'Lys Lloyd, daughters of Weldon and Sue Lloyd.

Joining the members at the event at the Koko Palace were parents, government officials, leaders of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, fellow 4-

Ex-Snyder resident authors Bantam book

PAGOSA SPRINGS, Colo.-- Kristopher Franklin, former Snyder resident, is the author of "Silvercat," a new mystery novel soon to be published by Bantam Books.

The setting for "Silvercat" is a fictional ski town in the San Juan Mountains of southwestern Colorado.

Franklin was an English teacher for 16 years before becoming a full-time writer. His contract with Bantam is for two novels, with an option for a third, and his second novel, "The High San Juan," an outdoor adventure involving technical climbing and whitewater rafting, has already been accepted for publication.

As a young man, Franklin (known by the nickname "Skip") attended Snyder Schools from grades 4-12. He graduated from Snyder High School in 1960. His mother, Pat Fletcher, who died in 1968, lived in Snyder for over 30 years and was married to O. K. Fletcher.

Franklin lives with his wife, Kathy, a fifth grade teacher at Pagosa Springs Elementary. He is presently in the final stages of his third novel, a mystery set in and around Arizona's Grand Canyon.

'Texas' auditions Feb. 4 in Lubbock

Auditions for the 25th Silver Anniversary Season of the Paul Green musical drama "Texas" are underway this month in six major cities in Texas, Oklahoma, and Arizona. Auditions will continue through February.

Actors, singers, dancers, and technicians may compete for the 100 positions. The nationally acclaimed musical drama plays nightly except Sundays from June 13 through August 25 beneath the cliffs in Palo Duro Canyon State Park near Amarillo and Canyon. Rehearsals begin May 20.

The summer production offers the opportunity for a cast to perform before record full houses every night while drawing a salary.

In celebration of "Texas" 25th birthday, this cast and crew will have the opportunity to again entertain 100,000 visitors from every state and nearly 100 foreign countries with a series of special festivities.

Anyone, 18 years or older, may tryout for "Texas." Additional hospitality crew positions are also available.

On Sunday, Feb. 4, the director will be in Lubbock at Texas Tech University for auditions to be held in the Music Building, M.B.

No. 1 from 1-4 p.m. and with dancers at 3 p.m.

To audition for "Texas," men and women must bring a picture and reference.

All voice ranges are required and singers should bring one prepared number of their choice. An accompanist will be furnished or a singer may bring his own.

Since singers also fill minor speaking roles, each should also prepare a one to two minute memorized scene or monologue.

Actors and actresses are required to memorize any scene, not to exceed three minutes, that will accentuate outdoor voice and presence and are also required to perform a short vocal number.

Men and women with ballet or modern dance training are auditioned in a group. Dancers should wear appropriate workout clothing.

Musicians need experience in string bass, acoustic guitar, banjo, accordion or violin.

Arkansas, UT win; tied for SWC lead

by The Associated Press
The Arkansas Razorbacks, third highest scoring team in the nation, posted their fewest points of the season yet coach Nolan Richardson couldn't have been happier.

The 12th ranked Razorbacks smothered Southern Methodist with a fullcourt defense and forced 19 turnovers in an 80-61 victory over the Mustangs.

The victory kept the Hogs tied with Texas atop the SWC ladder with 5-0 records. The two teams meet on Thursday, Jan. 26 in Fayetteville in a nationally televised (ESPN) showdown.

Texas beat Texas A&M 96-94 and the Rice Owls won their third consecutive game with a 66-64 overtime victory against Texas Christian. Austin Peay edged Texas Tech, 69-68, in a non-conference game.

"It was one of the best games we've played," Richardson said. "We played hard and well for 40 minutes. We stuck it on 'em and played hard from the outset."

The previous low for Arkansas was 82 points in a four point victory at Houston.

"We've been doing well on the road," Richardson said. "Sometimes I think we are more relaxed on the road than we are at Barnhill (Arena)."

He added "We broke them down pretty good. SMU was sucking air trying to keep up with our press."

Arkansas forward Lenzie Howell said the Mustangs got jittery against the fullcourt pressure which forced 19 turnovers.

"They (the Mustangs) were intimidated by our pressure," Howell said. "You could see it in their eyes. I lot of teams don't like pressure. By the time they learned how to handle it the game was over."

Arkansas, 13-3 overall, slapped a fullcourt press on the Mustangs, who didn't score until almost five minutes were gone.

When SMU, 6-7 and 1-3, did get back into the game behind the shooting of Tony Patterson and John Colborne, Arkansas countered with Ron Huery off the bench.

Huery scored nine straight points, including a three-point shot, to boost the Arkansas lead to 28-10 and the Mustangs were down and out.

"That's my job to spark the team off the bench," Huery said. Todd Day led the Razorbacks with 17 points, Lenzie Howell added 15 and Huery contributed 12.

"The key to the win was our defense in the first 10 minutes," Day said. "You could see a little panic out there."

Arkansas, the third highest scoring team in the nation, was held 20 points below its average as the Mustangs milked the 45-second clock before shooting. Patterson scored a career-high 16 points for the Mustangs. Colborne also had 16 and Gerald Lewis scored a career-high 15 points as SMU lost before a crowd of 5,356 fans, about half of them cheering for the Razorbacks.

SMU coach John Shumate said Arkansas showed why "it's the elite team of our conference. There's no question the pressure hurt us. Arkansas has so many great players."

Travis Mays scored 30 points as the Texas Longhorns fought back from a five-point deficit in the final minutes to upend Texas A&M 96-94.

The Longhorns, 11-3 overall, remain unbeaten in SWC play at 5-0, while the Aggies drop to 9-9 and 2-2.

With his 30-point performance, Mays only needs 24 more to become the all-time leading scorer in Longhorn history. The 6-2 senior also needs 310 points to become the all-time leading scorer in conference history.

Mays is averaging 25.9 points a game.

Joey Wright complimented Mays with 22 points and Locksley Collie chipped in 20. Collie also had a game-high 11 rebounds.

Lynn Suber sparked A&M with 24 points including a three-pointer at the final buzzer. Freddie Ricks had 23 and Tony Milton 20.

"Fortunately we had some answers tonight," said Texas Coach Tom Penders. "They know how to play us better than anyone. We knew coming in that they would have everything in their bag ready for us."

"This is a really tough loss," said A&M Coach Shelby Metcalf. "Some strange things happened at the end that we couldn't overcome."

"The game was won tonight on the backboards," said Penders, whose team outboarded their opponents 50-36.

Forward Craig Upchurch scored 24 points and pulled down seven rebounds to lead the Houston Cougars past the Baylor Bears, 78-74.

NBA roundup...

Malone scores 40 in Jazz win

by The Associated Press
When Karl Malone has 15 points at halftime and thinks the news is bad, the opposition should be ready to read another headline.

That's exactly what happened to the Atlanta Hawks, who managed to hold the Utah Jazz to 43 points in the second half Wednesday night. But Malone, getting over the feeling that his teammates were carrying him, poured in 25 of them.

"In the second half, my shot came on," Malone said after leading Utah to a 95-88 victory.

It was the third time in four games that Malone, second in scoring in the NBA to Chicago's Michael Jordan with an average of 30.6, has scored at least 40 points.

John Stockton had 20 points and 13 assists as the Jazz handed the Hawks their fifth straight loss. It also was the seventh straight defeat on the road for Atlanta, which got 27 points from Dominique Wilkins.

Elsewhere, it was the Los Angeles Lakers 100, Seattle 90; Philadelphia 112, Detroit 108; San Antonio 101, New York 97; New Jersey 115, Washington 106; Miami 121, Indiana 111; Boston 133, Orlando 111; Houston 107, Cleveland 98 and Phoenix 108, Dallas 88.

Utah took the lead for good at 75-74 at 10:49 of the final period on a layup by Blue Edwards.

Malone followed with a layup, but the Hawks stayed close and were within 91-88 before Malone hit a jumper with 30 seconds remaining. He also grabbed the last two of his team-leading nine rebounds in the final half-minute to help preserve the lead.

Moses Malone had 16 points and led the Hawks with 11 re-

Cage squads forfeit wins on UIL ruling

HOLLIDAY, Texas (AP) - A teacher's error in averaging grades has caused the Holliday High School boys basketball game to forfeit 13 victories and cost the girls team two victories.

The boys' team had been off to a 17-3 start and captured championship trophies in three tournaments. Now their record is 4-16 and they will have to return the trophies.

School officials said Wednesday the investigation started as a complaint concerning the eligibility of a female student athlete.

The problem turned out to be a teacher's error in averaging grades. The complaint was filed with the University Interscholastic League in Austin.

Investigators found a slight, unintentional flaw in the averaging of grades, Texas Education Agency officials said.

The TEA investigation revealed that only an error had been on the grade of the female athlete in question, but a review of grade books revealed that a player on the boy's team had also failed a class.

That made him ineligible under the state's "No Pass, No Play" rule and Holliday High School had to forfeit all the games in which the ineligible players participated, the minimum penalty under the law.

"We didn't have to report the boy, if you want to be technical about it, but what's right is right," said school principal Bill Lee.

B.J. Stamps, assistant to the director of the UIL, said the caller, a man who said he was from Archer City, told the UIL that a teacher had curved an entire class's grades on a test by 20 points to enable the girl to pass the test and play basketball.

"I was looking into allegations about a grade being curved, but found they have a system in that district that allows for a curving of grades, so they weren't in violation there," TEA education specialist Susan Sellars said.

School officials say all teachers have been briefed on the error. "It's our job to encourage and help students," Lee said. "I don't like to think of the lesson they're learning from this."

"In reality, the boys feel they won the ball games regardless of the official record," Lee said. "If there's a good point about this, it all happened before we went to district (play) or in the playoffs."

The boy's team is now 2-0 in district play, a small consolation, according to basketball coach Steve McIlhane.

"I've been a coach for 19 years and I've seen a lot of things, but this is one of the most unfortunate instances," McIlhane said. He said the incident had left the players "hurt and somewhat disillusioned."

Tami Wilson, currently fourth in the Western Junior College Athletic Conference in scoring averaging over 18 points per game, scorched the net for a game-high 28 against CJC.

UNC pounds Duke, 79-60

by The Associated Press
Even in what has been a down year, at least by North Carolina standards, it's always easy for the Tar Heels to get up for Duke.

Rooted on by a record crowd in the Dean Smith Center, the Tar Heels routed their eighth-ranked archrivals 79-60 Wednesday night.

North Carolina did it with defense, forcing 24 turnovers and holding Duke to 39 percent shooting. The Tar Heels shut out their neighbors for nine minutes during a run of 16 straight points that made it 25-7, and led 45-21 at halftime.

"Tonight is Carolina's. Hats off to them," Duke coach Mike Krzyzewski said.

North Carolina is 12-6 overall and 2-1 in the Atlantic Coast Conference. The loss was the worst for Duke (12-3, 3-1) since a 20-point defeat against the Tar Heels last season.

In other games, No. 2 Georgetown beat Boston College 68-45. No. 12 Arkansas stopped Southern Methodist 80-61. No. 23 Arizona topped Arizona State 70-61. No. 24 Purdue held off Wisconsin 56-54 and Kentucky downed No. 25 Alabama 82-65.

The Tar Heels applied full-court pressure from the start, and it worked, to the delight of 21,572 fans. Duke committed 15 turnovers in the first half and, during one stretch of seven possessions, threw the ball away six times and missed one shot.

"I thought our defense was the key to the victory," Coach Dean Smith said.

Duke began the second half with a 9-2 run that cut its deficit to 47-30. The Blue Devils later got within 15 points, but no closer.

Rick Fox led North Carolina with 19 points and King Rice had 13. Christian Laettner scored 18 for Duke.

No. 2 Georgetown 68,

Boston College 45

Dikembe Mutombo had 12 points and 13 rebounds as undefeated Georgetown won its 27th straight home game.

The Hoyas (14-0, 4-0 in the Big East) led 33-18 at halftime and were ahead by at least nine points the rest of the way. Mark Tillmon added 17 points for Georgetown.

game in double figures including

Dominick Byrd with 24 points. Byrd is listed as the top rebounder in the league pulling down 10.9 a game. Teammate Kenneth Critton is second in the conference with 10.1.

South Plains' men are 3-0 in WJCAC action, tied with Howard College for the lead, and 15-3 in all games.

The WTC defense will have its hands full with South Plains sophomore Jeff Stern who is scoring over 21 points per game and making almost 60 percent of his shots from the field as well as pulling down 8.7 rebounds.

Other men's teams on the court tonight in the WJCAC include N.M.M.I. at Howard, Clarendon at N.M.J.C. and Midland at Odessa.

The Phillipsmen of Frank Phillips College are at Otero College tonight.

In women's competition, Clarendon is at N.M.J.C. and Odessa and Frank Phillips is at Otero.

The Lady Dusters begin at 6 p.m. followed with the tip-off of the Westerners' battle at 8 p.m. in Scurry County Coliseum.

Anyone wearing a D.A.R.E., Drug Abuse Resistance Education, cap or T-shirt will be admitted free to the games tonight.

Children under the age of 12 must be accompanied by an adult.

Catholic school sets new random drug test policy

CHICAGO (AP) — The American Civil Liberties Union calls the policy outrageous, but many youngsters at St. Sabina Academy and their parents are proud the elementary school may be the nation's first to test pupils for drugs. "I care about the lives of these children," says the Rev. Michael Pfleger, pastor of St. Sabina's Church. "When you talk about rights, if a child dies on drugs, he has no rights."

Commander regains control of Columbia

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Columbia's astronauts today tested their flight systems for Friday's homecoming after taking control of their ship when a bad navigation signal from the ground sent it into a slow spin.

Commander Dan Brandenstein, roused from sleep, manually overrode the shuttle's navigation system and stabilized the craft until Mission Control transmitted correct guidance signals.

There was no danger to the five astronauts, but "we had a little excitement tonight," said flight director Bob Castle.

The incident happened Wednesday night, about 2½ hours before their scheduled wakeup. A false fire alarm also got them out of their beds Wednesday.

A third wakeup, at the planned time, was music to their ears: a rendition of Washington and Lee University's fight song. One of the astronauts, David Low, is a graduate of the school.

"Good morning, Columbia, after what must have been a restless, or restless, night," the control center radioed.

President Bush planned to radio them later in the day.

Brandenstein and pilot Jim Wetherbee successfully tested Columbia's flight control systems to make sure they were in good shape for returning home. During the 10-day mission the astronauts have deployed a Navy communications satellite and retrieved an 11-ton science laboratory that had orbited for six years.

The weather at Edwards was bad early today, with rain and snow flurries. But NASA said the storm would leave the region later in the day, and conditions were expected to be good Friday.

The landing is scheduled at 2:55 a.m. PST at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

Twenty-five students in the sixth through eighth grades at the all-black Roman Catholic elementary school on Chicago's South Side are scheduled to take a drug test this week under the school's new random drug-testing program.

St. Sabina's school board approved the drug test program in November after a survey showed that 210 parents favored it and only five opposed it, Pfleger said.

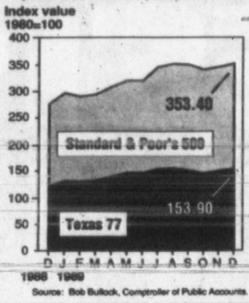

"The overwhelming majority of parents are behind the program, although we've encountered opposition from some parents who feel strongly about the psychological effects and invasion of privacy," said parent Sheila Grace.

Jay Miller, executive director of the American Civil Liberties Union of Illinois, called the drug testing "outrageous," but said it couldn't be challenged on constitutional grounds in court because it had been adopted by a private school.

"It's the first case I've heard of in this country of any testing being done on children in this age group (10 to 13 years old)," Miller said. "I think it's a terrible overreaction."

Texas 77 Stock Index

The Texas 77 Stock Index is a composite of stock prices of 77 Texas-based companies. The index, compiled by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, uses the monthly performance for each company's stock. Shown here is the Texas 77 performance for the past year.

Texas 77 stock index shows modest increase

The December 1989 Texas 77 Stock Index showed a modest increase, despite problems in the Index's financial sector and a downturn in high technology stocks.

The Texas 77 Stock Index is a composite of the average monthly stock prices of a selected group of 77 Texas-based companies representing all industries in the state.

The companies are divided into four groups—finance, energy, technology and a general category. Because the Texas 77 and the Standard and Poor's 500 are compiled similarly, they are placed on the same graph for an easy comparison of Texas industry with the national trend.

In December, the Texas 77 rose to 353.40 points, an increase of .85 points, or .56 percent, from the previous month. During the same period, Standard and Poor's climbed 7.41 points, or 2.14 percent, to 353.40. At this time last year, the Texas 77 was 126.48 points and Standard and Poor's was 277.72. December Texas 77 increase is the second monthly increase in a row.

Soviet troops caught up in fighting; refugees flee area

MOSCOW (AP) — Defense Minister Dmitri T. Yazov has ordered military units in several regions beefed up to wartime strength and reservists recalled to deal with the raging ethnic strife in the southern Caucasus, Soviet radio reported today.

Yazov called the Armenian-Azerbaijani warfare that has left 66 dead and more than 200 wounded "a great disaster." Most of the victims have been Armenians attacked by mobs in the Azerbaijani capital of Baku.

Terrorized Armenians were said to be still fleeing by the thousands.

Soviet troops initially sent in to try to end the bloodletting have become caught up in the fighting, their efforts to enforce a state of emergency hampered by defiant nationalists who were setting up blockades.

"In order to ensure order, we are compelled to bring up to wartime strength a certain proportion of the subunits and units which are located in that area,"

Yazov told the radio, without specifying how many reserve soldiers had been called up or where.

Moscow radio said some young men who had recently completed compulsory military service were being called back to the barracks.

The Kremlin on Tuesday poured more than 11,000 additional troops into the troubled mountain region in a bid to quell the deadliest round of violence in the most protracted ethnic conflict facing President Mikhail S. Gorbachev.

The soldiers were authorized Wednesday to fire on gunmen who attack them or people trying to steal weapons. But Yazov said their numbers were still insufficient to bring the situation under control.

He said he understood reservists would be unhappy about being called up to maintain order in another Soviet republic, but emphasized that "no one is setting them the task of killing, shooting, going onto some offensive. It is principally to protect public order."

The reservist call-up was needed in part because recent cuts under Gorbachev's plan to slash the nation's armed forces by 500,000 men have depleted the pool of units that can be moved to the Caucasus, Yazov said.

Also today, Gorbachev made his first public comments on the civil strife, noting that a centuries-old conflict was involved.

"The problems which have been accumulating for tens, no, for hundreds of years have erupted..." he told a meeting in Moscow.

Radio Moscow, detailing the difficulties facing units sent to the Caucasus, said one transport plane arriving with troops had been immediately seized by Armenians fleeing the fighting who demanded to be flown to safety.

The radio said anti-Armenian attacks continue in Baku, though no new killings were reported since Wednesday and 30 hostages held in one neighborhood were set free.

The six-day round of violence exploded Saturday with bloody anti-Armenian riots in the Caspian Sea port, sparking battles by bands of heavily armed Armenians and Azerbaijanis in and near the disputed Nagorno-Karabakh district.

The fighting is the worst between mainly Moslem Azerbaijanis and mostly Christian Armenians since their decades-old feud over Nagorno-Karabakh erupted in violence two years ago. The enclave, with a population of 160,000, has been ruled by Azerbaijan since 1923.

ACLU says Gramm bill only 'ploy'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Phil Gramm is promising to get tough on drug thugs with a series of stiff anti-crime proposals that would require most inmates to work and could deprive them of such prison amenities as air-conditioning.

But an official of the American Civil Liberties Union says the plan is an election-year ploy that fails to address the causes of drug abuse and drug dealing and ignores such issues as education, treatment and prevention.

"Every election year we see these new, get-tough approaches to the drug problem, and they're offered as though we haven't gotten tough on the drug problem," said Gene Guerrero, a legislative representative for the ACLU.

Gramm, R-Texas, and House Minority Whip Newt Gingrich, R-Ga., are proposing legislation that would declare a five-year national drug and crime emergency act to "deal with the problems of our bleeding nation."

"What I think we need to do is string some of these people (criminals) up," Gramm told a Capitol news conference Wednesday.

While Gramm acknowledges his plan would look "pretty revolutionary" in Washington, "in Mexico, Texas, it will have strong support."

Joe Gunn, president of the Texas AFL-CIO, is already objecting to Gramm's proposal to allow prisoners to work in private industry, saying it would take away jobs in a state with too high an unemployment rate.

"There are things (inmates) can do for the federal or state government... but we (in Texas) have a policy of opposing them going into private industry," Gunn said.

Gramm's bill would require mandatory sentences, without parole, for federal drug and violent crime convictions. It also imposes stiff penalties for drug users; allows states, local governments and businesses to conduct random drug testing; and restricts the courts' right to limit prison overcrowding.

Gramm also announced that one of several sites in Texas seeking a 6,000-bed federal prison has a good chance of landing the facility from a national field of about 100 competitors.

Sites in the running include Big Spring, Beaumont and Lufkin, Gramm said. Other areas that have also expressed interest are Fort Stockton, Childress, Breckenridge, Mineral Wells, Woodville, Huntsville, Dalhart, and Upshur County.

Under Gramm's proposed state of emergency, prisoners could be housed in temporary space, including military bases or in tents, while costs for building new prisons could be cut by eliminating such non-essentials as air-conditioning.

Prisoners would be required to work, with the only exceptions for medical, disciplinary or security reasons. The bill seeks to use prison labor for public purposes, and would encourage the development of public and private prison industries.

U. S. diplomats are worried about impact of Panama incidents

WASHINGTON (AP) — Angry State Department officials say U.S. diplomats overseas could be the target of reprisals following a series of incidents between U.S. forces in Panama and foreign envoys there.

"We cannot conduct diplomacy on the basis of 25-watt thinking," said one administration official, accusing the U.S. military of failing to take into account the potential diplomatic consequences of its actions.

The incidents "put in jeopardy American diplomatic missions all over the world," said Perry Shankle, a former president of the American Foreign Service Association, the union of career diplomats. He was the only one of several officials interviewed who was willing to be quoted by name.

Fearful of the diplomatic fallout as a result of incidents at the embassies in Panama of the Vatican, Cuba, Peru and Nicaragua, the association has expressed its concern in a private letter to Defense Secretary Dick Cheney.

The United States is considered particularly vulnerable to reprisals against its diplomats because it often pursues unpopular policies internationally and also has more envoys stationed overseas than any other country.

The State Department insists the United States subscribes fully to rules governing treatment of diplomats spelled out in the Vienna Convention. On the other hand, it acknowledges that an "unusual situation" has prevailed in Panama.

A U.S. official, worried about the precedent set in Panama, said, "We diplomats have to rely on good faith of foreign governments to live up to their commitments to protect us."

telligence of everyone in Scurry County," Parker said.

Other business in the noon BCD meeting at Snyder Country Club included chamber of commerce executive director Bill Moss' discussion of two other upcoming events: the "Scurry County: Good Government for the '90s and Beyond" seminar Feb. 17 at Western Texas College and Ag Day Feb. 19 at the county coliseum.

Moss said U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm of Stamford will be the featured speaker for Ag Day, which will coincide with a Scurry County Producers Association meeting.

BCD member Max von Roeder remarked that "it would be a good thing if the whole board could attend" the WTC seminar on county governance for the next decade.

Board vice president Jack Smartt announced at the outset of the meeting that the board finished 1989 with a budget surplus of $1,958, which it returned to the county, having expended $55,442 of its $57,400 budget.

Board members voted to make a 1990 contribution of $1,000 to the Upper Colorado River Soil and Water Conservation District — the same amount it has given for the past two years.

The UCRSWCD had asked the board for help to support 11 different activities including schoolchildren's poster and essay contests and a land judging and grasses identification contest it co-sponsors with Western Texas College.

In BCD's annual election of officers, president Jack Denman and Smartt were re-elected to their posts. Also attending the meeting was Eddie Johnson. Denman was absent.

Super Bowl VIII was held in Houston, the only Texas city to host a Super Bowl.

Four accidents are investigated

Police investigated four minor traffic accidents Wednesday, the first involving a tractor-trailer rig from Seminole and a car driven by a Snyder woman at 9:22 a.m. in the 400 Block of the East Hwy.

A 1978 Freightliner rig driven by Abraham Fehr for Wilson Grain of Seminole was in collision with a 1988 Mercury driven by Silvia H. Torres of 3307 Ave. A, officers said.

At 9:58 a.m. in the 2700 Block of 32nd St., a 1987 Chevrolet driven by Thelma A. Garza of 608 34th St. was in collision with a 1984 Ford pickup driven by Charles Cribbs of Rt. 2.

An unknown driver and vehicle struck a parked 1987 Ford pickup owned by Jackie Parker of Weatherford in an incident discovered at 5:30 p.m. in the Western Texas College Apartments parking lot.

An unattended 1968 Chevrolet El Camino owned by A.L. Whittenburg of Rt. 2 rolled into a parked 1979 Ford Ranger XLT pickup owned by Betty White of 3606 Kola at 10:13 p.m. in the Lawrence IGA supermarket parking lot.

Four arrested

City officers arrested four people Wednesday and early today, the first a 20-year-old woman who was taken into custody for issuing a bad check at 5:29 p.m. at a residence in the 1300 Block of 24th St.

Regulators selling bonds for $5 billion bailout for thrifts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Regulators are raising another $5 billion for President Bush's S&L bailout and putting another 43 institutions up for sale.

The Resolution Funding Corp. (Refcorp) said Wednesday it will raise the $5 billion next Tuesday by selling 40-year bonds, a maturity 10 years longer than any current government issue.

Meanwhile, the Resolution Trust Corp. (RTC) said the S&Ls for sale are located in 16 states and have assets totaling $5.2 billion.

Some securities analysts have been skeptical about whether Refcorp bonds will appeal to investors. The Treasury last sold 40-year bonds in 1955.

But the Treasury Department official in charge of debt sales said the government believes it can save money on the interest rate paid on the bonds, compared with 30-year debt. That's because of the lack of competition from comparable bond issues.

"Experts in the market are telling us we can sell 40-year paper cheaper than we can sell 30-year," said Michael Basham, deputy assistant secretary for federal finance. "Obviously we'll find out pretty soon."

The longer maturity also benefits the industry-owned Federal Home Loan Bank system, which through a complex mechanism is providing the money to pay off the principal of the bonds.

The bank system must put up roughly $230 million to collateralize $5 billion borrowed for 40 years, versus $500 million to back that amount for 30 years.

However, the bank system could end up paying a greater share of interest costs because the money is being borrowed for 10 years longer. Early on, the interest on the Refcorp bonds is being paid primarily by the Treasury, but later the industry will assume a greater share.

All told, after the latest bond sale, the government will have borrowed $29.5 billion for S&L rescues, with $20.5 billion left to borrow through Sept. 30, 1991, bringing the total to $50 billion.

Regulators, in a letter to the House Ways and Means Committee, also said they need to borrow another $40 billion to $100 billion in short term "working capital," which will be repaid by selling assets from failed S&Ls.

The letter, released Wednesday, said regulators hoped to come up with a plan for the additional borrowing by mid-February. The administration and Democrats in Congress have been struggling over whether the additional borrowing should be counted toward the budget deficit.

The letter outlined three ways of raising the money, one on-budget and two outside the budget. Rep. Charles Schumer, D-N.Y., a member of the Banking and Budget committees, said the two off-budget plans were "unrealistic." He warned the on-budget plan could be structured to actually make it easier to meet Gramm-Rudman deficit reduction targets.

"It is designed to manipulate the crisis in the thrift industry to

Myerson's friend named in lawsuit

NEW YORK (AP) — Carl "Andy" Capasso, boyfriend of former Miss America Bess Myerson, was named in a $70 million civil racketeering lawsuit filed by his former wife.

Nancy Capasso claims he hid assets from her during their divorce in 1985 and has prevented her from receiving a $6.4 million divorce settlement.

The lawsuit was filed in U.S. District Court in Manhattan, the same courthouse where Capasso and Myerson were acquitted in December 1988 of criminal charges that they conspired with Judge Hortense Gabel to fix the Capassos' divorce.

Andy Capasso, who recently completed a prison term for federal tax evasion, was one of several defendants in the lawsuit. Also named were Capasso's bank and insurance companies, which Mrs. Capasso claims interfered on behalf of Capasso in the sale of property she received in the divorce settlement.

The recent audit proves there is much waste, duplication and mismanagement in our county government. VOTE YES for the Tax Rollback and send a message to our county officials that we will no longer tolerate unnecessary spending and mismanagement in Scurry County.

Maybe oat bran does not lower cholesterol after all

BOSTON (AP) — The ballyhooed powers of oat bran are challenged by a study today concluding this faddish food fails to lower cholesterol after all.

The idea that oat bran lowers the level of dangerous cholesterol in the blood has been widely accepted in recent years. Some health experts have recommended starting the day with a bowl of oatmeal, and oat bran has become a common ingredient in muffins, cookies, bagels, even doughnuts and potato chips.

The new study found that people's cholesterol levels indeed go down when they eat lots of oat bran, but it's only because they also eat less saturated fat and cholesterol than usual.

"There really isn't any cholesterol-lowering property in oat bran," said Dr. Frank M. Sacks, a co-author of the study.

Some researchers were skeptical of the findings.

"There is a clear cholesterol-lowering effect when you use oatmeal or oat bran," said Fred Shinnick, a research scientist at Quaker Oats Co., which stresses oat bran's benefits in its cereal ads. "We don't think one small study disproves the weight of the evidence that has been published over the past 25 years."

Oat bran is promoted as a health food largely because it is rich in soluble fiber. Several studies have suggested that this kind of fiber somehow removes cholesterol from the body.

High amounts of saturated fat and cholesterol in the diet can raise blood cholesterol levels, leading to heart disease. But when people eat lots of grain products, they're too full to eat their usual amounts of fatty food, according to the new study.

In the latest study, volunteers' cholesterol levels fell significantly both while eating lots of oat bran and while eating equivalent amounts of low-fiber white flour and Cream of Wheat. But they also cut their intake of saturated fat and cholesterol.

"They were meeting their caloric requirements, and they didn't feel hungry," said Sacks. "If they were eating Cream of Wheat in the morning, they didn't have any room for bacon and eggs. If they had high-fiber dinners, they weren't out eating pepperoni pizzas."

"That's probably what happens in real life."

The study, conducted on 20 volunteers, most of them hospital dietitians, was directed by dietitian Janis F. Swain at Brigham and Women's Hospital in Boston. It was published in today's New England Journal of Medicine.

The volunteers ate seemingly identical muffins, meatloaf and casseroles for two six-week periods. During one period, the foods contained 100 grams, or 3½ ounces, of oat bran, while during the other it contained that much white flour or Cream of Wheat.

The volunteers could eat whatever else they wanted.

On both the oat and non-oat regimens, their cholesterol levels were about 7 percent lower than before they went on the diets.

Among the reports most widely cited in favor of oat bran was a study conducted by dietitian Linda Van Horn at Northwestern University. It found that substituting oat bran for other carbohydrates in the diet lowered blood cholesterol levels by 3 percent.

Her study attempted to keep fat consumption constant, and she said the latest work does not shake her conviction that oat bran and other forms of soluble fiber can lower cholesterol.
