County stock show set for 3-day run in annex building

Last year's four-day Scurry County Junior Livestock Show was considered a major success, with 157 youngsters exhibiting more than 400 hogs, lambs and steers, but this year's production in the county coliseum annex promises to be even bigger.

County extension agent Marvin Ensor said today that this 46th annual show will have 182 young exhibitors showing 299 hogs, 165 lambs and 48 steers — an increase over the 215 hogs and 33 steers of last year.

Borden show slated for Thursday start

GAIL — The annual Borden County Junior Livestock Show starts at 6 p.m. Thursday with its lamb show, and 65 to 70 youngsters will be competing to qualify for Saturday's premium sale.

A total of 168 hogs, 113 lambs and 32 steers will be exhibited during the show, with hogs to be shown beginning at 8:30 a.m. Friday and steers at 8:30 a.m. Saturday in the county show barn north of Borden School.

Judges will be county extension agents Greg Jones of Stanton, lambs; Stanley Young of Lubbock, hogs; and Darrell Dromgoole of Crosbyton, steers.

The show is being organized by Borden County extension agent Dennis Poole and local high school vocational agriculture teacher Buddy Wallace.

Saturday morning's exhibition of steers will be followed by a goat show featuring pee-wee 4-H Club members, a barbecue lunch and the premium sale.

big part of West Texas and Scurry County, and that makes for a pretty big livestock show," Ensor said.

Admission is free to the exhibition, which begins with the hog show at 5 p.m. today. The lamb show is at 6 p.m. Thursday and the steer show at 7 p.m. Friday.

Junior Livestock Board member Kirby Sterling said the show is worth attending because Scurry County has some of the best livestock of any county in West Central Texas and the show is one of the most competitive — a fact often commented on by the judges in past years.

"It's not just for the kids," Sterling said. "Whole families get involved. It's a family thing."

Sterling said the show's premium sale is also one of the best of any comparable show, with bonuses last year totaling $60,000 for the top 50 hogs, 42 lambs and 26 steers.

He said 4-H and FFA-affiliated youngsters learn business skills such as record-keeping and managing profit and loss, in addition to gaining a financial windfall.

They also learn, of course, how to conduct themselves in a highly competitive situation, he said.

The exhibition will end with the premium sale at 1 p.m. Saturday, where banks, businesses and other supporters bid to give premiums, or cash bonuses, to the top-finishing youngsters. The animals are not sold, and many are taken to the major statewide shows in Fort Worth, San Antonio and Houston.

Show judges here are Sweetwater vocational agriculture teacher Kenneth Dudenseng for the hogs and extension agents Preston Faris of Sonora for the lambs and Billy Reagor of Ozona (see SHOW, page 12)

Q—Why does Scurry County Appraisal District close its office from 12 to 1 p.m. when there are lots of people who need to do business during their lunch hour?

A—According to Chief Appraiser Ray Peveler, the office hours of 8:30 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. were set up for efficiency reasons. He said the office runs more smoothly with all employees working at the same time, and that he has never had any requests to change or extend office hours.

In Brief

Probation set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Iran-Contra figure Richard Secord today was sentenced to two years' probation for concealing from congressional investigators the fact that he paid for a $13,800 security system at Oliver North's home.

Secord, enlisted by North to arm the Nicaraguan rebels and assist the Reagan administration's secret arms shipments to Iran, has already suffered enough in the scandal, said U.S. District Court Judge Aubrey Robinson.

"It is my judgment that there has been punishment in this case," Robinson told the retired Air Force major general.

Stocks down

NEW YORK (AP) — A new wave of selling swept through the stock market today, extending Wall Street's early-1990 slide as worries mounted about rising interest rates and pressure on the Japanese market.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, down 194.83 points over the past three weeks, fell another 61.49 to 2,553.83 in the first half hour of trading.

Key witness

CLEVELAND, Texas (AP) — A former janitor who became a key witness in the prosecution of former death row inmate Clarence Lee Brandley remained jailed today on charges of sexually assaulting two young girls.

Henry "Ickie" Peace, who had been Brandley's co-worker at Conroe High School, has been jailed without bail since Friday on five counts of sexual assault, Liberty County Sheriff O.J. Stewart said Tuesday.

Stewart said the parents of the girls, both under 14 years old, notified authorities in late November that the two had been assaulted several times between May and November.

Budget revision timetable has deadline of mid-March

County Judge Bobby Goodwin is diving into the task of reworking the county budget, and plans to have a solution in March with help from the county auditor and input from department heads.

The county has until March 21 to refund county taxpayers and send out new statements reflecting the change in the county tax rate from 39.80 cents to 34.75 cents, and Goodwin said he plans to have a new budget ready at that time.

"This February 1, I will call all the department heads in and ask them to review their budget with me and justify their line items and see if we can't reduce those line items," said Goodwin. "We're talking increasing revenues and decreasing expenses. In some cases, we may be taking a look at increasing fees to increase revenue."

In an election last Saturday, a majority of voters, 1,860 to 1,608, indicated they wanted county taxes rolled back. It has been estimated that the difference in the tax rate will mean cuts of $433,000 to the county budget.

Goodwin said that 63 percent of county residents have already paid their taxes on the old, 39.80-cent rate. The other 37 percent will have until approximately Aug. 14 to pay.

Those who have already paid their taxes will be mailed a refund, which will average $15.

Goodwin said that every department will be looked at in the search for making the county more fiscally responsible, but also noted that some areas would likely be left intact.

"The commissioners have told me that they consider the hospital the No. 1 priority and I think they are committed to that. I hope to take them a budget that is reduced by $433,000 and they'll approve it. I think there is a good chance that if it involves cuts in the hospital or law enforcement they wouldn't approve it. And I (see BUDGET, page 12)

Brandley freed after a decade on Death Row

HOUSTON (AP) — After nearly a decade on Death Row, Clarence Lee Brandley used his first day of freedom to go to the church where his family and friends had held regular vigils for his release.

Amid applause and shouts of "Thank you, Jesus" from supporters, a soft-spoken Brandley emerged from the Creston Baptist Church in northeast Houston late Tuesday after praying with his family and church leaders.

"I just recall the words of Martin Luther King: 'Free at last. Free at last. Thank God Almighty ... free at last,'" said the Rev. Ozell Brandley, who cheered his brother's release along with neighbors of the small church.

Brandley, 38, who once came within five days of execution, was released on a $75,000 bond Tuesday, a month after the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals threw out his capital murder conviction for the 1980 rape-slaying of a 16-year-old Bellville girl. The court issued its final mandate in the case Monday, confirming its decision that Brandley did not receive a fair trial.

"We prayed for him continually," said Margaret Clark, Brandley's sister. "This is my church and this is where we prayed for him every Sunday and Wednesday and sometimes Tuesdays."

Women with their hair in curlers and babies slung on their hips waited patiently outside the church for Brandley, who maneuvered around television cameras and journalists. A few men chanted "We Shall Over-

The feller on Deep Creek says, "People with humility don't think less of themselves—they just think about themselves less."

We know very little about electricity. We know if you turn on the light switch, the bulb is supposed to burn. We also know that if you plug in something to the wall, the appliance usually begin to work.

We know that a 100-watt bulb gives you more light than a 60-watt bulb, but we depend on TU Electric or Midwest Electric people to worry about all those technical matters.

However, the Farmer's and Planter's Almanac for 1990 did shed some light on the subject of electricity.

The Almanac says if you held a tug-of-war between one horse and 745.6 watts of electrical energy, you'd have a tie since one horsepower is equal to 745.6 watts.

We learned that the watt is a measurement of electrical power. It takes 100 watts to light a 100-watt bulb for one hour, and if you burn the bulb for 10 hours, you have used 1000 watt-hours, or one kilowatt hour—the measurement used by the electrical company to figure your bill.

In thinking about the electrical power versus the horse power—the choice is easy. You don't have to feed or clean up after a lightbulb.

A fellow in the office last week suggested that all citizens of Snyder should try a little harder to get along.

The man offered this advice: "The only gracious way to accept an insult or criticism is to ignore it. But if you can't ignore it, top it. If you can't top it, laugh it off. And if you can't laugh at it, you might as well figure it is simply deserved."

Merger supporters optimistic

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — Proponents of a plan to consolidate West Texas State University into the Texas A&M system said the smaller school would benefit from the union, but some opponents have another project in mind.

The two sides are headed for a showdown Thursday in Austin, where a Coordinating Board committee will decide whether to recommend that the full board approve the merger in its meeting Friday.

Despite opposition from the staff of the Higher Education Coordinating Board, the proposal's backers said Tuesday they are optimistic they will succeed.

The Amarillo Chamber of Commerce has chartered a 150-passenger jet to fly supporters to the hearing, and 80 people had bought $200 tickets by Tuesday.

"I think just that demonstration of support would show the Coordinating Board that the people in this region support the proposition," said Steve Ahlenius, government affairs director for the chamber.

Supporters contend that making West Texas State part of the A&M system would improve the 6,000-student school and bring more research dollars to the campus in Canyon, 16 miles south of Amarillo.

But Coordinating Board's staff advisers contend that a merger would be premature, and say it would make more sense to merge West Texas State with Lubbock-based Texas Tech.

Sen. Teel Bivins, R-Amarillo, said he hopes the show of support "will move some of those (Coordinating Board) members who appear to be uncommitted."

Investigators hope arrest will clear up child attack cases

DALLAS (AP) — Police investigating a series of attacks on children in two neighborhoods here say they expect to clear up a number of cases with the arrest of a 34-year-old Hutchins man who remains in custody today.

Donald Ray Gray is held at Lew Sterrett Justice Center in lieu of $25,000 bond on a magistrate's warrant in connection with aggravated sexual assault, said Dallas County sheriff's Sgt. R.L. Fitzpatrick.

Additional warrants were filed against Gray on two other alleged attacks. Police Tuesday announced his arrest in the three attacks on children in one southside neighborhood.

But officers say it is not immediately known whether a $25,000 reward offer in the cases would apply. Police said Gray's arrest was not related to another group of attacks on children in a North Dallas neighborhood.

On Monday, an anonymous donor offered two $25,000 rewards for information leading to the arrest and indictment of suspects in the series of attacks in the two neighborhoods.

Gray is a former South Oak Cliff resident who now lives in Hutchins, Deputy Police Chief Lowell Cannaday told a news conference. Cannaday said the 10:50 a.m. arrest was in connection with attacks on Oct. 11, 1988; Jan. 5, 1989; and a third last Friday.

Cannaday said the apprehension resulted from identification through motor vehicle records.

"I would like to think that the reward helped in the case," said Cannaday, adding that investigators will sort out the possible application of the reward money during the next few days.

"Through the arrest, we will probably be able to clear several other cases," Sgt. Mark Langford in the police department's youth division said.

Two children were abducted last week as they walked to an Oak Cliff school and then driven elsewhere, where they were raped, investigators said. In each case, the assailant drove them back and let them off in the same area where they had been abducted.

The arrest "was just in connection with South Oak Cliff cases," said police Lt. Jim Chandler.

Investigators said earlier they believed that the north Dallas and Oak Cliff attacks were unrelated.

The Oak Cliff assailant apparently has been driving a white pickup, said Cannaday. He said the girls have given investigators a partial license plate of "776."

Investigators said the earlier attacks were similar to last week's, when two children were abducted as they walked to school. The girls were driven elsewhere, where they were raped, investigators said.

Policeman, others wounded in shootout

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A shootout erupted between police and suspects in a car, leaving one officer and two other people wounded by gunfire and two others suffering minor injuries.

"We do not believe the injuries are life-threatening or will keep him from returning to duty, hopefully, very shortly," Police Chief Bill Gibson said of injured officer Raul Alonzo, 27.

Alonzo was shot Tuesday when gunfire broke out about 12:30 p.m. as he and officer Danny Robles stopped a car after turning up police warrants through a computer check, Gibson said.

A single shot from a 9 mm semi-automatic weapon entered Alonzo's arm, traveled into his lower abdomen and exited through his buttocks, police spokesman Sgt. Paul Buske said.

Alonzo was taken to Medical Center Hospital, where he was in stable condition, a hospital spokeswoman said.

As police rushed to the scene, so did Mayor Lila Cockrell, who later held a news conference with Gibson.

"Our prayers are with officer Raul Alonzo and with his young wife, who I understand is expecting a child," Mrs. Cockrell said, adding that she also planned to visit the officer at the hospital.

The mayor denied her actions were because of the city's battle against a tax rollback effort.

San Antonio voters will go to the polls Feb. 3 to decide whether to roll back a tax increase of more than 12 percent. City leaders have said the planned addition of more police officers is one reason higher taxes are necessary.

Buske said the shooting occurred as the two officers approached the stopped car.

"As they walked up to the vehicle the person in the right front real quickly swerved around and fired," Buske said.

When that happened, both officers began shooting, he said. It was believed one officer emptied his service revolver and another fired four shots, he said.

Police Lt. Albert Ortiz said there were five people in the car. Three of them were released by police following questioning and the others were jailed following medical treatment.

New congressman faces term in jail

WASHINGTON (AP) — The newest member of Congress, Texas Democrat Craig Washington, says he didn't know about a court date he missed back in Houston — an absence that prompted a judge to sentence him to 30 days in jail.

Washington, a Houston lawyer, was found in contempt of court on Monday by State District Judge Jim Barr in Houston, one day before he took the oath of office to become a member of the U.S. House.

It was the second time in two weeks a jail sentence has been ordered for Washington for not heeding notices to appear in court on behalf of clients. The judge said Washington had left clients "in the lurch."

"I'm going to go about my work in Congress," Washington said shortly after being sworn in by House Speaker Thomas S. Foley. "I think people in my district understand."

"To use an old East Texas expression, it doesn't touch me top, side or bottom," he said.

Washington was elected to fill the seat left by the death of Rep. Mickey Leland, a Democrat who chaired the House Select Committee on Hunger and who died last year in a plane crash during a trip to Ethiopia.

"I can never replace Mickey Leland," Washington said. "I'm merely his successor."

Hearings have been scheduled in Houston for Washington to show cause why he should not be sent to jail.

Washington introduced three of his five children to the House and received a hug in front of his new colleagues from fellow Texas Democratic Rep. Marvin Leath.

played four rounds of trumps, discarding two clubs from dummy. East discarded two hearts and West threw the nine of clubs. Declarer now played A-K of hearts throwing a club, and West discarded the jack of clubs on the heart king. What was declarer to think?

It seemed unlikely that West had started with A-K or K-Q of clubs. (If he had, the opening lead would have been a club.) So the discard of the nine and jack of clubs might well mean West was left with A-Q. If so, West was carefully guarding an important diamond holding. Further information could be gained. Declarer played a low club and ruffed it, East following low and West now playing the queen. At this point, rather than take the normal diamond play of leading up to the ace and back to the K-J, declarer played the king of diamonds. When the eight appeared from East, declarer played a low diamond toward North's A-7-5. When West followed with the six, declarer had a safety play for 12 tricks by putting in the seven-spot.

The lesson of the deal: Watch for play clues that will warn you of a bad side-suit split. Then look for ways to counteract it.

Sifting the evidence

By James Jacoby

This deal's theme is South's careful play to gain two overtricks. If that seems uninteresting to you, assume that declarer has aggressively bid to six spades (not a bad contract, at that). On the opening lead of the eight of hearts, South won the queen and then

Woman Is Right to Stop Sister From Driving the Wrong Way

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1990 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: How do you tell an older member of the family that it's time for her to quit driving? My 78-year-old sister has no business driving. Her hearing and eyesight are not what they used to be, and neither are her reflexes. She should not drive in heavy traffic or on busy expressways.

She terrifies her passengers as she runs red lights, drives over curbs and makes left-hand turns from right-hand lanes. If anyone criticizes her driving, she says, "I've never had an accident in my life!" (She's lucky. Also, when the other drivers see the way she's driving, they get out of her way.)

Would it be better if I told her flat-out to quit driving and let her be mad at me? She may not speak to me again, but wouldn't that be better than letting her kill somebody — or herself?

HER KID SISTER (AGE 64)

DEAR KID SISTER: Contact your Department of Motor Vehicles and tell someone there what you have told me.

Include your sister's full name and her license number, and suggest that she be retested. I am assured by the Los Angeles Police Department that the DMV will do the rest.

If your sister flunks her next driving test, some lives may be saved — including her own. This may not be the law in all states, but if it isn't, it should be.

DEAR ABBY: I was shopping in the city (I live in a suburb), and just as I was coming out of a large department store, a nice-looking, middle-aged man approached me and said politely, "You are such an attractive young woman — would you mind if I took your picture?" (I then noticed a small camera in his hand.)

I was alone and rather startled by this question, but I must admit I was rather pleased by the compliment, so I smiled and said, "All right — go ahead."

He took my picture, then whipped out a pencil and piece of paper and asked, "Where shall I send it?"

Harrelson's brother slain in Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — A security guard who was the brother of a convicted judge killer Charles Harrelson was shot to death with his own gun in a confrontation at the hospital where he worked.

Claude Harrelson, 63, was shot

Without thinking, I gave him my name and address, then hurriedly went about my business. This happened three weeks ago, and I haven't heard from him. When I tell this to friends, some say the man was using the "May I take your picture" trick as a way to meet me.

Now I am wondering if I was foolish to have given him my name and address.

FOOLISH OR NOT

DEAR FOOLISH: He may have been harmless and sincere, but on the chance that he wasn't, you'd have been wise to have said, "Thank you very much" and kept walking.

DEAR ABBY: I have a co-worker who drinks on the job. She thinks no one knows, yet the smell is overwhelming at times. Other co-workers have made comments to me. My response has been a rather non-committal shrug of the shoulders.

Now, upper-management has confronted me, asking if I have witnessed her drinking or seen any actual bottles, which I have not. They are watching her. Meanwhile, she thinks she's getting away with something.

I would like to see her get help — not fired.

KEEPING MUM

DEAR KEEPING MUM: If ever a person needed a friend, your drinking co-worker does. Be that friend and tip her off. Also suggest that she attend just one meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous. You may be saving not only her job, but her life. Tell her today. Alcoholics Anonymous is listed in every phone directory.

Consultant says...

Forecast: bright economic future awaits Texas

ADDISON, Texas (AP) — A bright economic future awaits Texas, if business will just get on with it, says a business consultant who complains that too many executives have a hankering for the past. "It distresses me over and over to hear bankers, S&L executives say something like, 'man when are we going to get back to the days like it used to be?'" consultant William R. Carden said Tuesday.

"My answer to every one of them is, 'Never!'" Carden said during an economic outlook conference. "The thing that's holding many Texas businesses back is the old slogans, the old cliches, the old beliefs and the old ideas that held sway before."

Until the oil price-induced collapse of the mid- and late 1980s, the Texas economy grew rapidly based on easy money and confidence, Carden and other analysts said; business was done with a handshake and a pat on the back.

It's a new day, Carden said, as what has long been common practice elsewhere arrives in Texas.

"The age of banks in Texas acting as venture capitalists for the state is over," Carden said.

"Those days, like Tara, are gone with the wind."

"It's going to be painful for Texas banking and for commercial interests in Texas banking to go through this transition, but historically banks in other states, other than a few frontier states like Texas, have not played that role," Carden said.

"A lot of small business people in Texas are screaming and crying — we've got a lot of bankruptcies, a lot of disruption — because we're in this era of transition until a true venture capital network does emerge."

Economist Ray Perryman said old banking laws, which prohibited branches, resulted in thousands of small banks where loans were granted as much on good will as on good credit.

Money was loaned based on nothing more than a financial statement and sometimes less, Perryman said. "Just give the boy the money," was a common theme, he said.

"These days," Carden said, "they not only want a financial statement, they want cash flow statement, they want sources and uses statements and they talk to you about primary and secondary sources of repayment.

"Businessman after businessman I've heard scream bloody murder saying, 'What is this all about? I used to come in and give you my financial statement, sign a note and that was it.' "Those days are over," Carden said.

Despite the shortage of capital, Carden said Texas's economy can regain robustness.

Man said accused in vagrant's death

NEW YORK (AP) — Three days ago, Rodney Sumter stood on a subway platform, waiting for a train with his 3-year-old son. Today, he stands accused of fatally beating a homeless man who had taunted him, spit at him and punched him in the face at the station.

Friends and family of Sumter, who was fired last week from a job teaching construction skills to homeless men, said he acted in self-defense.

"He was protecting himself and his son from an unprovoked attack that he tried to escape," Sumter's lawyer, Lewis Tyson, said Tuesday as they left the Manhattan Criminal Court building.

But an activist said the death was typical of the life-threatening horrors New York City's homeless face every day.

"This has been portrayed to me as, 'New Yorkers now have reason to be afraid of the homeless.' I think the homeless have reason to be afraid of New Yorkers. This man is dead," said Keith Summa, advocacy director of the Coalition for the Homeless.

Sumter pleaded innocent Tuesday to first-degree manslaughter and was released without bail.

Although there are no statistics on violence involving the homeless in the subway system, "there are more incidents now than compared to 10 years ago," said Transit Authority police spokesman Sgt. Robert Valentino.

Two other men were in court Tuesday on charges they shoved a homeless man to his death beneath a subway train. Summa recited a litany of incidents where homeless victims were beaten, battered and set aflame.

Little is known about the dead man in the Sunday night case involving Sumter.

Identified only as John Doe, he was believed to be in his 60s. He was a denizen of the midtown Manhattan station where he died; he now seems destined for a Potter's Field burial.

Sumter, 39, had no criminal record. He is married and lives in Harlem. He worked as a plumber at various construction sites since coming to New York in 1980.

Advocates say housing offer token gesture

DALLAS (AP) — The city's offer of 58 vacant, rundown apartment units for homeless people is a token gesture, say advocates of the homeless who are vowing to renew their fight for adequate housing.

The Dallas Housing Authority offered Monday to turn over The Pebbles Apartments in northeast Dallas to a group of homeless people and housing advocates.

The DHA offer follows demonstrations that led to the arrests of 16 people earlier this month as they squatted in an abandoned West Dallas apartment complex.

City officials also would help housing activists find sources of funding to renovate the units, said DHA executive director Alphonso Jackson, although city funds would not be used for the renovations.

West Dallas ministers, local leaders of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and Concerned Citizens to Save West Dallas are among the protest group members.

Leaders said they were appalled at the condition of The Pebbles apartments, which have been boarded up and vacant for more than a year.

"I wouldn't let my dog in there," said Rev. Arris Wheaton, who ministers to homeless families.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: For years, I've had spells of a weak and irregular pulse, and overall weakness. My blood pressure rises, I have frequent urination and an extra bowel movement or two. The spells last several hours, then I return to normal. I take one Lanoxin each morning, 80 milligrams of propranolol twice daily and Micronase for my diabetes. My doctor is puzzled. Can you help?

DEAR READER: From the information you supply, I believe your weak and irregular pulse is the cause of your symptoms.

As a diabetic, you are at higher risk for arteriosclerotic heart disease, in which the arteries to the heart muscle become increasingly blocked, depriving the muscle of oxygen. This ischemia (low oxygen) often produces random bursts of rapid heart rate, leading to circulatory disturbances, such as weakness, increased blood pressure (to compensate for poor circulation), frequent urination and bowel evacuation.

Although you are receiving medicine (Lanoxin and propranolol) to strengthen and regulate your heart, I suspect you are, at times, suffering from attacks of weak heart action that are not being controlled.

Ask your doctor to consider ordering two tests: Holter monitoring and a stress test. During the Holter monitoring, your pulse is recorded on a continuous cardiogram for 24 hours. If you experience an irregular pulse, the type of irregularity can be identified and your medicine can be changed or altered to treat it.

During a stress test, the physician obtains a cardiogram while you exercise on a treadmill. Strenuous activity often triggers heart irregularities in patients with arteriosclerotic heart disease. Again, the test may enable your doctor to identify the type of irregularity and adjust your therapy accordingly.

Inasmuch as your doctor seems puzzled by your symptoms, I recommend a second opinion, preferably from a cardiologist. Such a specialist should be able to diagnose the cause of your symptoms. To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Medical Specialists." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Does the brain get the same shock or damage when a 74-year-old man has sex with a woman as when he masturbates?

DEAR READER: Sexual release does not cause brain shock or damage, regardless of a person's age. Orgasm does increase the blood pressure, but under normal circumstances, this is temporary and doesn't lead to health problems. Masturbation is ordinarily less physically demanding than intercourse. However, as far as the brain is concerned, orgasm is orgasm.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) It behooves you to be observant today, because you can gain from studying the example set by another. What this person has done, you can later emulate to your advantage.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Joint ventures should work out rather well for you today, especially those that have been initiated by associates and not from foundations you have laid yourself.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If you show a cooperative spirit in your dealings with others today, this will encourage persons to go out of their way to do a bit more for you. Good begets good.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Today you could derive considerable enjoyment from involvements that have elements of friendly competition as well as chance. The game itself will be more important to you than winning.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Let events run their natural courses today, because things have a way of working out to your ultimate benefit, even a situation about which you're worrying more than you should.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Using terms of endearment in your meaningful relationships will have more impact than usual today. This is because sincerity will motivate your comments.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Conditions that affect your material well-being continue to trend favorably for you. You'll have to be careful, however, not to spend more than you take in.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Your assertiveness will be tuned to a high pitch today, but it will be masked with charm and consideration. Companions will find you pleasant, not pushy.

Mattox gambles on primary victory

AUSTIN (AP) — State Attorney General Jim Mattox said his Democratic gubernatorial opponents have united to stop his political momentum at the Texas AFL-CIO meeting today.

Mattox, Texas Treasurer Ann Richards and former Gov. Mark White spoke Tuesday to the union's Committee on Political Education convention.

Texas AFL-CIO president Joe Gunn predicted the organization's convention would end with a lot of twisted arms and no endorsement for the primary.

"I did not see two-thirds in the governor's race," Gunn said after the candidates addressed the approximately 500 delegates.

A two-thirds majority is needed to win the political backing of the nearly 213,000-member union.

Gunn urged candidates and union members to refrain from a bitter floor fight over the endorsement "As you twist arms for candidates the next couple of days, twist gently," Gunn said. Delegates are scheduled to vote today.

Mattox urged delegates to back a candidate, while Ms. Richards called for neutrality and White told the convention to concentrate on remaining unified for the November general election.

Mattox warned that if the union failed to endorse a candidate for the primary, "You will have union against union, local against local, brother against brother and sister against sister."

White touted education gains made during his administration from 1982-1986 and poked fun at Republican candidate Clayton Williams' proposal to establish work camps for young drug offenders to break rocks.

"What we need to do is start building lives ... and see that those who are crushed by the impact of narcotics addiction are going to be given some opportunity for help and hope," he said.

Later, Mattox said, "The Ann Richards campaign and the Mark White campaign have just degenerated into the stop the Mattox momentum."

Officer wounded in Mesquite shooting

MESQUITE, Texas (AP) — A Mesquite police officer was shot twice in the leg with a 9 mm machine pistol early Tuesday as he tried to question a man near the downtown of this Dallas suburb, police said.

A fair condition at Baylor Medical Center, the hospital said. He was wounded at about 2:30 a.m. in a shootout with a man he had stopped to question.

Smith first saw the man, Kenneth Dwayne Humphries, walking near the Lakeside Community Center and considered him suspicious, said Sgt. Gary Westphal.

The two exchanged fire, Westphal said, but Humphries, 23, was not injured. Humphries was found hiding in a camper after a police search.

 don't think I would, either.
 "There are other things we can't touch, such as welfare, our indigent health care," he added.
 Among the items in the 1990 budget was a five percent cost-of-living raise for all county employees.

"We will make every effort to keep it intact but if the monies can't otherwise be cut and revenue can't be increased effectively, then we will look at the five percent increase," he said.

In contrast to the past, when Goodwin, county commissioners and other department heads have worked on the budget, primary responsibility will go to Goodwin and County Auditor Linda Franklin to restructure the 1990 budget.

"Certainly the commissioners will be involved. They are department heads over their precincts. I might add too, that we are going to look at equipment line items in every department as a means to reduce the budget."

The rollback election came just five days after the results of an outside county operational audit in which representatives of Coopers and Lybrand of Lubbock indicated areas in which the county might cut costs. Goodwin read a statement following the audit report that he and the commissioners would respond positively. He also said in another statement following the election that "the voters have spoken" and vowed "as chief executive officer of the county, I will strive to provide the budgetary leadership and the atmosphere in the commissioners court for both responsive and responsible county government."

"It's a great feeling just walking outside the gate, knowing I'm standing on some grass — not concrete — and no nonstop handcuffs," Brandley said earlier Tuesday as he left the Ellis 1 Unit at Huntsville where he was incarcerated for more than nine years.

At the church, Brandley bowed his head and exclaimed "Amen!" as the Rev. Leroy Ross of the thanked God, saying, "You have indeed freed an innocent man from execution and after nine and a half years of being on Death Row."

Meanwhile, Montgomery County District Attorney Peter Speers said Tuesday he will pursue an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court, but wouldn't seek another trial for the former Conroe High School janitor if the high court refused to hear the case.

"I believe that serious errors in constitutional interpretation were made by the (Texas) Court of Criminal Appeals in its decision and that therefore this appeal will not be frivolous," Speers said. "I realize, however, that the chances of success at that level are purely speculative."

In a morning news conference, Bush passed judgment on the use of force by Soviet authorities attempting to put down civil disorder in the distant region of Azerbaijan but indicated his trust in Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev.

"It is serious," he said of the Soviet unrest. Of Gorbachev's future, he added, "I hope that he not only survives but stays strong."

Tigers grab 58-44 win

Snyder stays one game back in loop chase

By PHIL RIDDLE
SDN Sports Editor

Snyder's Tigers got back in the win column as they defeated Sweetwater, 58-44, here Tuesday night.

"We wanted to hold (Tim) Taylor to under 20 points," said Snyder coach Larry Scott.

Taylor, the 6-4 senior post, scored 15 on the night but it was more from his own mistakes than anything else that he didn't score more.

He missed nine shots from inside the paint Tuesday night. That coupled with the Tigers' stingy defense was more than the Mustangs could overcome.

"We knew they'd be tough," said Scott, "but our defense was good for most of the game and Ed Rios and Hayward Clay did a good job against Taylor underneath."

The Tigers, now 13-10 on the season and 6-1 in District 4-4A competition, looked ready to rout the visiting Mustangs in the early going as they dashed out to an 8-0 lead that grew to 15-4 as the first quarter ended.

Sweetwater didn't hit a basket until the two minute mark in the period when Taylor hit a lay-up.

Sweetwater rallied in the second quarter beginning with a pair of Willie Norman free-throws to close the gap to nine points followed by a three-pointer by Norman to make it 15-9.

Snyder senior wing Tracy Braziel hit a looping jumper to set Snyder back in front by eight, 17-9.

Billy Rather hit a bucket for Sweetwater at the 3:40 mark and Jeffery Wortham answered for the Tigers with a basket over Taylor in the lane and the score was 19-11.

Toby Goodwin popped an eight footer sandwiched between two Taylor hoops as the Snyder advantage slimmed to six points with 2:34 left in the half.

Corey Edwards and Robbie Smith each hit a pair of free-throws for Sweetwater in the waning moments of the half followed by another hoop by Taylor to make it a three-point game at 23-20.

Jason West banked in a short jump shot with :29 seconds left to end the half's scoring and give the hometowners a 25-20 lead at intermission.

Snyder moved out by 10 in the third quarter on a bucket by Hayward Clay. Clay was fouled on the shot but missed the freebie.

Braziel scooped up the rebound and dished to Lee Hamilton who slipped in a three to set the score at 34-24 with 4:27 left in the third.

Sweetwater closed the gap again with a three and a two, consecutively, from Norman.

Rios snapped a short dry spell for the Tigers with the final basket in the quarter.

At the end of three Snyder's lead was 37-29.

The Mustangs edged closer and closer to the Tigers in the fourth quarter until just two points separated the teams, 37-35.

Braziel padded the lead with a pair of successful free tosses.

Clay hit one free-throw and Rios scored two to signal the beginning of the end for Sweetwater.

It was Rios again as Snyder moved out to an 11-point lead at 50-39 as the junior, wide open underneath, set the ball on the glass and let it fall through the iron.

Braziel was the pace man for the Snyder crew with 16 points on the evening.

Rios tossed in 14 and Hamilton hit nine, including a pair of threes.

The Snyder junior varsity took a 39-27 win over the JV Mustangs in Tuesday's early game.

Eric West scored 12 points for the Tigers followed by Jerry Don Tippins with 10.

The Tigers' next action will be against Pecos Friday night as the Eagles bring their long distance attack to Scurry County Coliseum for a district showdown.

Snyder girls fall to S'water in Tuesday district contest

Snyder's Lady Tigers became the latest victims of the undefeated Lady Mustangs of Sweetwater High School Tuesday night, 70-56.

The Snyder girls, now 11-9 and 4-5 in District 4-4A competition, played a tough first half falling behind just 20-16 after a quarter and 37-33 at halftime before Sweetwater blew the game open with an 18-7 run in the third period.

Sweetwater, now 9-0 within the district, hit 18-25 free-throws in the contest for 72 percent.

Snyder was led, offensively, by Liz Greathouse with 18 points and Evette Housden with 16.

Greathouse tossed in seven buckets from the field, including a three-pointer, and was three of four from the free-throw line.

Housden hit five buckets, also including a three, and turned in a five of six performance from the charity stripe.

As a team the Lady Tigers hit 10-13 from the line for 77 percent shooting.

Snyder will see action against Pecos Friday as the Lady Tigers travel west before beginning a season-ending home stand.

Fouled out: Snyder: T. Braziel, Osborn.

California task force says 'self-esteem is very keen'

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A state task force that's been lampooned as an emporium of New Age buzzwords completed its three-year mission with a report enshrining self-esteem as a "social vaccine" that "empowers us to live responsibly."

Much of the rest of the country may be snickering, but 42 of California's 58 counties, including conservative rural ones, already have formed local self-esteem teams.

In its 144-page final report issued Tuesday, the California Task Force to Promote Self-Esteem and Personal and Social Responsibility recommended more parenting courses, smaller school classes and pro-family worksite policies.

When the task force was created with the blessing of Republican Gov. George Deukmejian, it was met with scorn. Cartoonist Garry Trudeau poked fun in "Donesbury," having his bubble-headed character Boopsie named to the task force, which she called "the first of icial study of New Age thinking."

The 24 task force members "have brought the matter of self-esteem from a matter of ridicule to a subject of respect," said Assemblyman John Vasconcellos, the Democrat who sponsored the bill creating the group.

Twenty-three of the members signed the report. The 24th, David Shannahoff-Khalsa, called it "incredibly superficial and naive."

"Self-esteem cannot be administered, injected, nor given to any one," he said in a telephone interview from his Del Mar home. "This elusive term ... is being promoted as a universal remedy for a society that is becoming increasingly complex and dysfunctional."

The report compared self-esteem to a "social vaccine, something that empowers us to live responsibly and that inoculates us against the lures of crime, violence, substance abuse, teen pregnancy, child abuse, chronic welfare dependency and educational failure."

But Shannahoff-Khalsa, a consultant to the National Research Council, said the commission did not address the subconscious mind adequately.

"Without probing the depths, one will never reach the heights," he said.

At a March 1988 hearing, the first of nine, the $750,000 task force heard San Jose high school principal Ruben Trinidad testify: "I love you, I really do."

Another principal, Arvil Clark, said: "I'm not sure I love all of you, but I'm sure I could like most of you."

The hearings drew testimony by small-business owners in the timber-fishing town of Eureka near the Oregon line, AIDS patients in San Francisco, and masked members of rival street gangs in Los Angeles.

State fish naming effort said planned

HONOLULU (AP) — Politicians have been known to spend big bucks to get elected to public office. Now, a Hawaii legislator wants to fund a campaign to choose the next state fish.

Democratic Rep. Virginia Isbell has introduced a bill that calls for spending up to $101,000 on a "high-profile" campaign to name a new state fish.

The bill noted that the last campaign to name a state fish stimulated public awareness of the ocean. A panel of experts recommended a similar drive for selecting the next state fish.

The Legislature in 1985 went along with an overwhelming vote from Hawaii school children and selected the humuhumunukunua'ua as the state fish. Its five-year term ends June 8.
