open practice here

A 56-year-old El Paso obstetrician-gynecologist has signed a letter of intent to join Cogdell Memorial Hospital's medical staff and plans to open a practice here by March 1, hospital board chairman G.A. Parks Jr. said today.

Dr. Mario Ochoa's office will be in Suite A of the Medical Arts Building just west of the hospital.

Dr. Bid Cooper, chief of the medical staff, said the staff is "delighted that Dr. Ochoa has agreed to relocate to Snyder."

"There is a great need for an OB-GYN specialist in our community," Dr. Cooper said. "He is a well-qualified and very competent physician who will be an asset to our medical staff and to our community."

Ochoa is the first doctor to be recruited through one of the two physicians' recruitment firms hired last year by the hospital board, having been located by Tyler & Co. of Atlanta, Ga., hospital administrator Thomas R. Hochwalt said.

Ochoa practiced medicine in Mexico from 1959 to 1971 and took his American residency from 1972 to 1974 at Beth Israel Hospital at Brown University in Providence, Rhode Island.

He has practiced from 1974 to the present in El Paso on the staffs of Sierra Medical Center, a 304-bed hospital, and the 428-bed Providence Memorial Hospital.

He will come here with his wife Aurora and son Daniel. His favorite hobbies are hiking, fishing, camping and horseback riding.

His agreement with the hospital board is for a 12-month net income of $120,000, with the hospital to subsidize his salary if it falls short of that amount. Also, he will receive moving expenses of $5,500 and a malpractice insurance subsidy of $600 (see PHYSICIAN, page 8)

In Brief

Aides get life

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP) — Four top officials in the government of Nicolae Ceausescu were convicted today of being accomplices to a genocide and sentenced to life in prison by a military tribunal, Radio Bucharest reported.

The four men were convicted of backing the dictator's orders to shoot demonstrators during the December revolution that toppled him after 24 years.

Western diplomats have said that up to 10,000 people died in the fighting between Ceausescu's Securitate forces and citizens who joined with the army.

Chain to pay

DALLAS (AP) — A Dallas County jury has awarded a Red Oak man $17 million after the drugstore manager claimed he was wrongfully fired and his reputation sullied.

Jon Jensen had worked for the Eckerd drug chain for six years and was making $600 a week as manager of a Duncanville store when fired in January 1989 for fraternizing with employees.

Jensen sued the company a month later, saying it had defamed him and caused him emotional distress when Eckerd investigated whether he had been having sex with female employees.

Found guilty

AUSTIN (AP) — Richard Danziger faces possible life imprisonment after being convicted in what law officers have called one of the most heinous crimes in Austin history.

A seven-woman, five-man jury took just over three hours Thursday to convict Danziger of the aggravated sexual assault of Pizza Hut assistant manager Nancy DePriest.

Danziger was convicted of the Oct. 23, 1988, aggravated sexual assault of the 20-year-old DePriest — who was bound, gagged, raped, sodomized, and shot in the back of the head. She died that evening.

Jobless rate

DALLAS (AP) — The government says Texas' jobless rate dipped to 5.2 percent last month, compared with the month-ago figure of 6.6 percent, with economists today calling the change "statistically significant."

The state's unemployment rate bettered the nationwide figure, which held steady for last month at 5.3 percent, according to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Effective Schools concept, uniforms discussed by board

Snyder public schools board of trustees listened to a presentation on the Effective Schools concept and heard a request for high school band uniforms during Thursday's meeting.

There was no action taken in the three and a half hour workshop.

Walter Reneau, band director, presented a request for new band uniforms which would total some $47,700 based on 180 uniforms at $265 each. Reneau was accompanied by student Sherrie Buchanan, who modeled a sample uniform from the Fruhauf company.

Reneau explained that uniforms currently being used by the band are "getting in bad shape" and noted "We're faced with next year either buying replacement parts or new uniforms."

The uniform displayed to the board was made of a wool and polyester blend.

"I know it's a hunk of money but if you prorate it over 10 years it's only $4,000-$5,000 a year," Reneau pointed out.

That would average to about $25 per student, per year, or less than $2 each wearing.

"My question is, is it this or nothing," said Trustee Mike Jordan. "Is there a $150 range?"

Response from Reneau and others at the meeting indicated that a wash-and-wear type polyester uniform, such as is currently used by the band, might cost less, but would not last as long.

Board members decided to put the topic on the agenda for their Feb. 8 regular board meeting, but not before noting that some uniform accessories might have to be eliminated to save money. It was pointed out, for instance, that $7,700 could be saved by foregoing reversible capes.

Most of the meeting was taken up by a presentation on the Effective Schools concept from high school and junior high principals Rueben Gillespie and Gary Patterson; Janice Brown, director of curriculum and testing; and Kellye Starnes, counselor.

The Effective Schools concept, which is expected to be approved by board members at their next meeting, works along particular guidelines, the foundation of which is "all children can learn."

Instead of the age-old formula of "teach, test, grade and go on," the Effective Schools concept uses a formula of "teach, test, reteach students who have not (see BOARD, page 8)

All day Saturday...

Annual flapjack feed set by Kiwanis Club

For about the 40th consecutive year, the Snyder Noon Kiwanis Club will stage its annual "Pancake Feast" here Saturday, having served between 600 and 700 people last year and hoping for a larger turnout this year.

Tickets are $3, and pancakes, sausage and other breakfast fare will be served in the West Elementary School cafeteria, at 3601 El Paso Ave., from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Children under age 6 are served free.

"It's our major fund-raiser of the year," said club president Larry McAden. "Probably 90 percent of the funds for our regular budget comes from the pancake ticket sales, and really, we need to do better this year."

Pancake Feast chairman Art Feinsod announced at the club's regular Wednesday meeting at the Golden Corral restaurant that he had sold 120 tickets.

Feinsod and the club's other stalwarts of the event will arrive at the cafeteria at 5:30 a.m. Saturday to begin preparations, and the remainder of the workers are expected to be there by 7 a.m., although others will come in during different parts of the day to work shifts.

The all-day breakfast is supplied sausage and pancake mix by McDonald's, coffee and 1,000 cups by Wal-Mart, milk by Hub Evans of Gandy's and door prizes by Friendly Flowers, D&D Auto, Buddy's Radio Shack, West Texas Equipment and Wal-Mart.

"We have been doing it for about 40 years," McAden said. "The club is 41 years old, and we've been doing it almost as long as the club has been here."

Sports committee formed to attract cage playoffs here

The Tourism and Retirement Committee of the chamber of commerce Thursday appointed a sports sub-committee to look into the possibility of attracting playoff basketball games in Snyder.

Dennis Chisum, Bill Clayton, Roy Carter and Dalton Moseley make up the committee and plan to meet among themselves to decide strategies for attracting playoff games to the city.

Chamber Manager Bill Moss said that the total cost of having a playoff game in the county coliseum is around $437.50. This year, opposing teams will be asked to absorb the costs for coliseum rental, a trophy, security, and someone to keep the scorebook and the clock. Each team will be asked to pay some $225.

Playoffs may also be held in Snyder High School Gym for a less expensive rental fee. The coliseum rental is $175 while the high school gym can be rented for $50. The concession stand and ticket-taking is taken care of by Gold Coats.

Moss reminded the committee that Snyder High School gets top priority, and first choice for use of the coliseum.

Another performance in the Snyder Pops season will be held Tuesday as the Paragon Brass plays at Worsham Auditorium, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $5 and may be purchased at the door. Season ticket-holders are encouraged to attend the performance.

Paragon Brass members will arrive in Snyder Monday afternoon and have a session with Western Texas College band students. Tuesday morning, they will conduct a workshop with Snyder High School band students from 8:30 to 9:30. From 12:15 p.m. to 1:00 p.m., the group will conduct a workshop with junior high band students.

Committee member Jack Denman said the North Texas Airstream Rally group will be in town March 16-18. Some 40 travel trailers are expected on the coliseum grounds, and Art Feinsod expects some 250-300 people the same weekend at the coliseum for an auto show and swap meet.

Sally Lake, chamber secretary, informed the committee that Herbie Figueredo was in Dallas to take a final look at the colorized version of the Snyder (see COMMITTEE, page 8)

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Misers are not fun to live with, but they make delightful ancestors."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors: Roger Enlow, in the Hood County News, made some comments about some of the names of high school mascots.

Enlow said the Itasca Wampus Cats is one of the most unique high school mascots in Texas. Other zany nicknames that he found in "Scholastic Sports America" include:

- The Belfrey High Bats from Belfrey, Montana.
- The Mt. Tamalpais High Boneheads from Mill Valley, Calif.
- The Carlsbad High Cavemen and Cavegirls from New Mexico.
- The Speedway High Sparkplugs from Speedway, Indiana.
- The Sleepy Hollow High Headless Horsemen from Tarrytown, N.Y.

Our favorite remains the Gorillas from nearby Trent.

We've never seen a survey of the most common school colors, but we suspect the black and gold of Snyder High School ranks at the top of the list.

We've only lived in three towns—and black and gold were school colors at all three.

Larry Crabtree, in the Vernon Daily Record, told about a Vernon preacher who had the practice of including a children's sermon during the service.

After all the children had gathered down front, the preacher announced that he was going to talk about frogs. He asked, "When I say frog, what is the first thing that comes to your mind?"

Promptly, one little guy answered, "God."

Surprised, the minister asked, "Why do you think about God when I say frog?"

"Cause I know you didn't bring us down here to talk about frogs," replied the boy.

Free listing for hunting lease owners

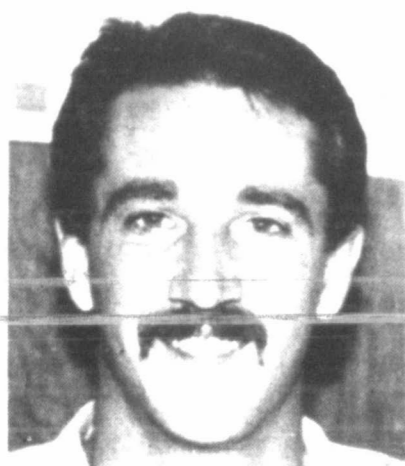

Deputy Commissioner of Agriculture Mike Moeller has announced that the Hunter's Clearinghouse Directory is being updated for the 1990 hunting season.

The free service is provided by the Texas Department of Agriculture to assist producers in obtaining maximum return from their land.

Anyone who would like their land listed in the directory is encouraged to fill out an information listing request. The form is available locally at the chamber of commerce.

Last year, over 7,000 hunters requested copies of the Hunter's Clearinghouse Directory. Hunters using the directory spent over $1 million on leases, according to the Texas Department of Agriculture. Farmers and ranchers who leased through the director received an average of $2,400 per season for their leases, "a valuable source of additional cash income in financially stressed rural areas," said Moeller.

Information on the listing requests asks typical questions such as the types of game to be found on the lease; whether guides, bird dogs or blinds are available; special requirements by landowners; and the availability of shelter, electricity and water.

Darryl Boone named foreman...

Contreras retires after 33 years on the job

Santos Contreras, foreman of the city water and sewer department, has announced his retirement after over 33 years of service to the city. Contreras is being replaced by Darryl Boone, who has worked in the department for three years.

Contreras began his career with the city of Snyder in the sanitation department. After some six years in sanitation, he moved to the water and sewer department where he operated a backhoe as well as served as foreman of the four-man crew.

According to Boone, who has already begun his duties as foreman, the city has only one crew to repair leaks and sewer stops. The crew also does all the water and sewer taps for new construction.

Boone said the city has at times employed up to three crews, but due to cutbacks, there is currently only one crew. With only one crew, the department generates up to 40 or 50 hours of overtime per employee. Boone said that during the freezes around Christmas, one man worked 95 hours of overtime.

Leaks and stops do not begin at 8 a.m. and end at 5 p.m. Boone said the crew is often out several hours in the night, only to take a shower and head back to work. The department's employees are on call 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Boone has a level C certification which requires 60 hours in water and wastewater technology. He has completed the hours due to a recent requirement.

As Boone begins his career as foreman, Contreras, 58, said he will look for a part-time position where he can use the skills he acquired on the job.

2 jailed after dog finds hands

NEW CANEY, Texas (AP) — Two men remained jailed today on murder charges after a dog discovered two human hands in a wooded subdivision.

Nicholas F. Borke, 22, of Bay City, Mich., and Steven Joseph Eribarne, 24, of New Caney, have been incarcerated since Thursday in the Montgomery County Jail in lieu of $100,000 bond each, said sheriff's office spokesman Bob Morrison.

Detectives found a portion of a decapitated head Wednesday after a dog prompted a search of the area.

Barbara Tate's dog, Missy, retrieved a man's right hand Jan. 22 and dropped it on the lawn of their east Montgomery County home in the Rayburn Estates subdivision. Missy brought home the left hand Tuesday.

Morrison said the victim, whose torso has yet to be found, has not been identified. Officials only knew the body was that of a white man, he said.

Sheriff's Detective Frank Hidalgo said the hands had been severed with a sharp object.

4-H volunteer wants to start alumni group

A 4-H volunteer leader is gathering names, addresses and phone numbers of former 4-H members with plans to eventually form an alumni organization.

Janie VanZandt of Pampa, herself once a 4-H'er, says no comprehensive record of former members exist—a void she plans to fill.

"It's very important we have a list of these people. We'd like to know who is where so we can gather them together for reunions as well as draw on their expertise from time to time," she said. "We'd also like to be able to recognize them for special contributions they're made to their communities."

"All of this can be done if we have a record of former members and form an alumni organization," she said.

Four H--which stands for head, heart, hands, health--is the largest youth organization in the nation.

VanZandt encourages 4-H alumni to send their names, addresses and phone numbers to her at 2201 Dogwood, Pampa, Texas, 79065.

Violations discovered at the Mexican home for mentally retarded

AUSTIN (AP) — State officials say they will require changes in a Mexican house that is home for more than two dozen mentally retarded Texans during four months of the year.

Hope House, a licensed facility for mentally retarded people in Liberty Hill, runs the house in Guadalajara as a vacation home for its residents.

DHS officials in January sent an inspector for the first time to the home, which has been used for more than 20 years. He found 11 violations of state standards in the Guadalajara home.

The house has less than half the space required for sleeping areas, and about three-fourths of the space required for indoor recreation, said a DHS report issued Wednesday.

Mexican workers were not trained properly in first aid, and do not receive the required annual training in how to care for mentally retarded children, the report said.

But the report said, "the quality of care provided in the Guadalajara home is consistent with that provided in the Liberty Hill facility."

Staff-to-resident ratios meet or exceed standards, meals are well-balanced, and medical care standards are met, the report said.

The inspection report said the house provides "more than adequate space for recreation for the residents," because they spend much of their time outside.

In January, a dozen Hope House residents, who are wards of the state, remained in Liberty Hill after the DHS canceled their trip because a state inspection had not been conducted. However, 27 retarded people whose care is paid through private funds, made the January trip.

Rose McGarrigle, founder and director of Hope House, has agreed to require all Mexican staff to obtain a criminal background clearance as required by Texas law, DHS officials said.

The owner also has agreed to annual training in the care of retarded people and will begin keeping written documentation for abuse reporting and employment orientation and training, the Austin American-Statesman said.

McGarrigle plans, however, to seek a waiver on the space requirements for bedrooms and indoor recreation areas.

Attorney Diane Shisk of Advocacy Inc., which supports the rights of people with disabilities, said she is "concerned with waivers on space requirements. Why is it OK for children to sleep in that square footage for a third of the year? Surely, Texas' minimum standards mean something."

Hope House residents usually spend January, June, July and August in Guadalajara, which is nearly 1,000 miles from Austin.

Huntington's disease is hereditary

DEAR DR. GOTT: Please explain Huntington's disease. Is it hereditary?

DEAR READER: Huntington's disease is an hereditary neurological disease marked by random, uncontrollable muscle movements (chorea) and progressive intellectual deterioration. It usually begins in middle age and affects both sexes equally.

The affliction is associated with apathy, irritability or full-blown psychosis, coupled with flicking twitches of the extremities, a lilted gait and an inability to sustain purposeful movement. There is no treatment. Patients eventually cannot care for themselves, become incontinent and severely demented, and even lose the ability to swallow.

Genetic counseling is vital for anyone with a family history of the disease, because 50 percent of the offspring of an affected parent are at risk for this tragic and crippling disorder. The disease does not become evident until after the child-bearing years, and no tests are available for detection in patients without symptoms. Some specialists believe that all children and siblings of a patient with Huntington's disease should consider not having children.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Huntington's Disease." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Please elaborate on chest wall pain. What causes this, and what is your recommended treatment?

DEAR READER: Chest wall pain is discomfort arising from structures surrounding the heart and lungs: the ribs, muscles, cartilage, tendons and other tissues of the chest wall. The cause of chest wall pain is poorly understood. Sometimes it results from injury or strain, often from low-grade inflammation (such as chondritis or cartilage inflammation); frequently no obvious cause is present.

Treatment consists of heat, pain medicine, rest and anti-inflammatory drugs (such as aspirin and ibuprofen). The symptoms of pain and pressure usually subside in a few days but may recur in a cyclic pattern.

The main consideration is to differentiate chest wall pain from the pain associated with heart and lung disease. For example, angina and pneumonia can occasionally present as chest wall pain. Therefore, the diagnosis is usually made by excluding other, more serious causes of chest pain.

Bridge James Jacoby

Working at being set

By James Jacoby

Here is a deal that is a striking example of careless play. It is reported by Martin Hoffman in the magazine Bridge Today. Declarer was in four hearts and received the lead of a club. He ruffed in dummy, came to his hand with a heart and ruffed the king of clubs. He next led a diamond back to his king. West took the ace and played back the nine of spades. The king was played from dummy, and East ducked with the ace. Declarer played another high spade. East took the ace and played back a diamond. Each defender now managed to get a ruff and the contract was set one trick.

Ten tricks can be made in a variety of ways. If he wishes, declarer may discard from dummy on the opening lead. East will win the club ace, but declarer can then draw trumps and make game without difficulty. Or, after ruffing the first club, declarer can simply draw trumps before going about his business. That way the defense can still take their three aces. Finally, if South wants to go for an overtrick, all he needs to do is ruff the first club and play a diamond to his king. What can West do? If he ducks the ace, declarer ruffs his remaining club and draws trumps. If West takes the diamond ace, there is no course of action available to let the defenders take more than their remaining ace of spades.

James Jacoby's books "Jacoby on Bridge" and "Jacoby on Card Games" (written with his father, the late Oswald Jacoby) are now available at bookstores. Both are published by Pharos Books.

Cocaine moms...

Questions are raised by crackdown

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Prosecutors are bringing charges against more and more pregnant women who take drugs, but a lawyer for one woman accused of delivering cocaine through the womb says the war on drugs is "going from hysteria to... absurdity."

Authorities in areas where expectant mothers have been arrested say they're turning to criminal law as a last resort because nothing else worked in stopping the growing number of cocaine-addicted babies.

"When you have seen these children shake, it gets to you," said Lt. Stephan Banakas, narcotics chief for the Pensacola Police Department. "If it's through arrest or the threat of arrests... whatever it's taken to get people to take care of their children, it's working."

The controversy has emerged from the growing use of crack cocaine around the nation, but mothers addicted to other drugs also have been charged. In Wyoming on Thursday, a judge dismissed a child abuse charge against a pregnant woman who drank excessively. The judge said the prosecutor did not establish that the woman's drinking habits injured her unborn baby.

More than 30 women have been arrested nationwide since the first mother was convicted of delivering cocaine to her newborn in central Florida last August, said Alison Marshall, a Washington, D.C., lawyer.

Some police and prosecutors said the arrests are a way of forcing mothers of cocaine babies to get drug treatment. They contend that some pregnant addicts are going straight because they fear prosecution.

But crackdown critics — they include the American Public Health Association, National Women's Health Network and National Organization for Women — say the arrests are doing more harm than good.

The threat of jail is scaring pregnant addicts away from prenatal care and hospitals, increasing the risks to their babies, said Robyn Blumner, Florida director of the American Civil Liberties Union in Miami.

Some even say the arrests could encourage women to have abortions or result in "trash can babies."

"This is the war on drugs going from hysteria to illogical absurdity," said attorney Alan Rapoport of the American Civil Liberties Union. He is representing Kimberly Hardy, the first woman in Michigan charged with delivering cocaine to her newborn through the umbilical cord.

A District Court judge on Thursday ordered Ms. Hardy to stand trial after a pediatrician testified that the baby's exposure to cocaine likely was responsible for his low birthweight, inability to hold food down and gastrointestinal dysfunction.

Two days after birth, a drug test showed signs of cocaine in

Black history month events planned here

The Scurry County branch of NAACP will sponsor several events in February to celebrate Black History Month, including a march from the old Lincoln school to Mt. Olive Baptist Church to be held Saturday.

Those interested will begin the march at the old school, located at 34th Street and Ave. K, at 6:30. The march will progress to the church, located on Ave. M, where the group will participate in singing.

An outline of the month's activities will also be distributed to those interested at the church.

Other upcoming events for the NAACP include a program on black history March 14 at New Hope Baptist Church on Ave. L and 34th Street. The program will include a guest speaker and singing.

On March 17, the NAACP will sit in on the youth program at Mt. Olive Baptist Church and witness the crowning of Miss Mt. Olive.

The annual NAACP banquet will be held March 24. The guest speaker and place of the banquet are yet to be announced.

WTC loses to Chaps

Westerners fall behind early, can't catch up

By PHIL RIDDLE
SDN Sports Editor
"They came out ready to play and we didn't," said Western Texas College men's basketball coach Tony Mauldin after Thursday's 88-79 WJAC loss to Midland College in the county coliseum.

"I could see it in our preparation that we weren't serious about preparing for the game," he continued.

"It showed at the first of the game, too, when they got off to a quick start and we were just standing around."

The quick start was an 11-2 beginning for the Chapparals in the first five minutes of the contest.

Jeff Shelley broke the drought for the Westerners with a bucket at the 16:48 mark in the contest.

By the 6:00 mark in the opening half Midland had taken control of the game by forcing WTC outside.

Fred Campbell and Charlie Craine, both 6-8, effectively owned the paint for the Chaps blocking shots and snatching innumerable rebounds, both offensively and defensively.

Besides the Midland dominance of the lane and the boards, Western Texas was the victim of their own poor shooting, in the first half especially.

The Westerners connected on just 13 of 38 shots in the first 20 minutes for a tepid 34 percent shooting average.

By halftime the WTC squad was trailing, 47-32.

Sophomore Cedric Mason from Lamesa tossed in a trey at the 12:42 mark followed by a pretty jump shot from Allen Smith to narrow the Midland advantage to 10 points.

Shelly pulled the Westerners within nine with 11:00 left with one of his three buckets from three-point land. Midland 63, WTC 54.

It was Shelley again as the Westerners edged to a seven-point deficit with another three, this one with just over two minutes remaining.

Midland broke the comeback attempt however with six consecutive free-throws in the last couple of minutes.

On the evening, the Chaps hit 14 of 18 from the line while WTC was an anemic 8 of 20.

Mason hit a pair of two-pointers in the closing seconds but the Chaps and dwindling time in the game were able to stave off the rallying Westerners.

Point guard Allen Smith led the WTC men with 15 points on the evening.

Mason and Shelley each contributed 14.

The Westerners will be on the road again as they travel to Clarendon for a Western Junior College Athletic Conference contest against the Bulldogs Monday night.

GOING FOR TWO — Midland post Eugene Witherspoon goes over the top to try to keep WTC's Kenneth Critton, front in white, out of the basket. Dominick Byrd, 30 in background, watches for a rebound opportunity. The Westerners lost to the Chaparrals, 88-79 in a crucial WJAC contest for both teams. (SDN Staff Photo)

Rockets blast Bulls

by The Associated Press
The Houston Rockets were soaring even higher than Michael Jordan at his high-flying best.

Jordan had 25 points at halftime and finished with 35, and had his usual crowd-pleasing dunks and passes. But the Rockets had their best offensive game of the season and beat the Chicago Bulls 139-112 Thursday night.

Akeem Olajuwon had 23 points and seven blocked shots and Otis Thorpe scored 30 points for the Bulls.

Cowboys get bonus players

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Dallas Cowboys coach Jimmy Johnson says his team got a bonus from the deal that sent Herschel Walker to the Minnesota Vikings.

"I really felt like we were going to be able to get a bonus out of it," Johnson said. "The original deal was for the draft picks, because we feel like that's the way to really build a solid foundation in this rebuilding stage."

"As it turned out, we retained three players that we really like."

Officials for both teams said Thursday that the deal gives the Vikings three draft picks and allows the Cowboys to keep three veterans who played for them last season.

Cornerback Issiac Holt, and linebackers Jesse Solomon and David Howard will remain Cowboys, and the Vikings will get third-round picks in 1990 and 1991 and a 10th-round pick in 1990.

The Cowboys originally received eight draft picks when they traded Walker to the Vikings in mid-season. Under the terms of the deal, the draft picks were forfeited if the Cowboys kept the players.

Any players who were released by Dallas would have been off limits to both the Cowboys and Vikings. Johnson told the Vikings the Cowboys wanted Holt, Solomon and Howard, but wanted the high draft picks more. If Dallas left the three players on the plan B unprotected list, as Johnson insisted he would, Minnesota would have gotten nothing.

Snyder cagers face district opponents

The Snyder Tigers travel to Ft. Stockton tonight as their quest for the District 4-4A championship continues against the Panthers.

The Lady Tigers find themselves in the playoff chase, also, after beating contenders Pecos and Big Spring in succession.

They host the Ft. Stockton Probers in a 7:30 p.m. contest at the SHS gym tonight.

Snyder's boys are coming off a 63-60 win over Big Spring in the Steers' home arena.

Snyder held an eight-point lead with just minutes left in the contest when a pair of desperation three-pointers fell for Big Spring closing the gap to just two.

In the excitement of the moment a Big Spring player stopped the game clock, not realizing that the Steers were out of time-outs.

The inadvertent call resulted in a technical foul that netted Snyder two points off Lee Hamilton free-throws that iced the win.

Snyder is now tied for the district lead with Pecos. Each squad holds an 8-1 loop record.

Ft. Stockton's last outing was a 72-60 loss at the hands of third place Andrews.

The Panthers lost to Snyder Jan. 5, 40-31, in a game SHS coach Larry Scott called "ugly".

Ft. Stockton is at the other end of the district standings tied with Big Spring for last place with a 1-8 slate in district play and 7-16 overall.

Their biggest weapon is 6-3 junior Gabe Espino, a returning starter from last season.

Espino accounted for 21 points in the first encounter between Snyder and Ft. Stockton.

The Lady Tigers' last contest was a come-from-behind effort against second place Big Spring.

Snyder's Anne Osborn scored a phenomenal 31 points versus the Lady Steers including 12 of the Snyder team's 16 points in the third quarter of Tuesday's battle.

They will host a Ft. Stockton squad that lost to Andrews, 55-53 in its Tuesday contest.

The Prowlers, 3-8 in district and 6-13 overall, lost to the Lady Tigers in Ft. Stockton early in the season, 62-31, with Teena Brazier knocking down 21 points for Snyder.

Both games begin at 7:30 p.m., immediately following 6 p.m. junior varsity games.

The agreement also stipulates that if he were to leave Snyder prior to 36 months, he would have to repay any salary subsidy that had been paid to him.

magazine, featuring photos of attractions the city has to offer. The magazine will be available in Snyder around mid-February.
Lake also told the committee that a new billboard on Highway 84 advertising Western Texas College should be up no later than Tuesday.
Committee members discussed the recent election in which voters chose to rollback ad valorem taxes, and made a joint decision to have a positive attitude about Snyder and Scurry County.
"We need to rally around the good things we have here," Moss said, citing the Scurry County Museum, Western Texas College and other attractions.
In a discussion of voter apathy, brought on by the fact that only 40 percent of the registered voters in the county exercised their right to vote in the rollback election, Moss announced that a "Meet the Candidates Night" will be held Feb. 13 at the WTC Fine Arts Theatre. Every local candidate for office has been invited to participate, as well as the two area state representatives and the appeals court judge.
Moss said each candidate will have time to give a speech, and questions will be taken from the audience. The event will begin at 7:30 p.m.
The next meeting of the committee will be March 1 at 10 a.m.

"This is what we must do," said Superintendent Dalton Moseley, referring to the Effective School Concept in relation to school accreditation. "My goal is to have the highest evaluation they (the accreditation board) can give...and to see Snyder in the top 25. I think we can get there."
Board members learned that while Snyder ISD is making progress, it will have to change to meet future needs of students. It was pointed out, for instance, that 38 percent of the students in the junior high are minority students. In five to 10 years, that number is expected to be 50 percent.
Statistics provided by Gillespie and Patterson indicate that in 1955, 60 percent of school students came from households with a working father, a housewife and two children. By 1985, this was down to 7 percent.
Also noted was the fact that 85 percent of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice's 30,000 inmates were school dropouts.

de Klerk legalizes ANC in S. Africa

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — President F.W. de Klerk today legalized the African National Congress after three decades of guerrilla war against white rule and said imprisoned activist Nelson Mandela will soon be freed.

Thousands of blacks surged into the streets to celebrate the legalization of the ANC, a milestone in their epic struggle for change. Black activists greeted de Klerk's bold stroke with jubilation, but pressed him to go further and completely scrap the system of racial apartheid.
"The season of violence is over. The time for reconstruction and reconciliation has arrived," de Klerk said.

Harold W. Rice

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Services for Harold W. Rice, the father of Diane Pruitt of Snyder, will be held Monday in Washington, D.C.
Other survivors include his mother, Billie Dungan of Largo, Md.; his wife, Evelyn Rice of Rockville, Md.; three other daughters, Dinna Volland of Arlington, and Virginia and Patty Matthews of Ft. Worth; a cousin, Joyce Huddleston of Snyder; a brother, James Owen Rice of Truth or Consequences, N.M.; and four grandchildren.

De Klerk announced the ANC's legalization in a watershed speech opening a new session of Parliament. He said he would lift bans or restrictions on more than 60 other opposition groups, free most prisoners jailed for belonging to these groups, declare a moratorium on executions, and scrap most of the restrictions imposed during more than three years of a state of emergency.

These were the principal steps demanded by Mandela and the ANC as conditions for negotiations on a new constitution that would end the black majority's exclusion from national politics. De Klerk's announcements, reversing decades of National Party policy, set the stage for such talks to begin, probably with the government accepting Mandela's offer to serve as mediator.

Parolee arrested

A 31-year-old state parolee was arrested on a "blue" or parole violation warrant Thursday night at his 2210 44th St. home.
Ted E. Morris was taken into custody by a city policeman and incarcerated in the county jail pending his return to the Texas Department of Criminal Justice.

Morris was convicted of burglary of a habitation and given a 45-year sentence here on March 17, 1982, and was recently released on parole, according to county records.

The State Board of Pardons and Paroles, which has had an office here since the opening of the Price Daniel Unit last fall, issued the warrant, and it was not known on what basis Morris' parole was revoked.

Local arrested

A 22-year-old Snyder man was arrested at 1:28 a.m. today in the 500 Block of 37th St. on an outstanding Department of Public Safety warrant from Taylor County for speeding.

Southwestern Bell's rate case settlement plan ires consumers

AUSTIN (AP) — The state-paid advocate for utility consumers says any settlement of Southwestern Bell's rate case should lower basic local service rates because those charges are the highest on average in Texas.

"The only way to put the money back in the hands of the people of Texas directly and fairly is to reduce the basic local service charges," said Public Utility Counsel C. Kingsbery Ottmers, who represents residential and small commercial customers at the Public Utility Commission.

"I believe every single consumer should receive a rate reduction from Southwestern Bell," Ms. Ottmers said Thursday.

But Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. spokesman Bob Digneo disputed Ms. Ottmers' figures, saying she didn't take into account additional charges paid by residential customers of local telephone companies other than Southwestern Bell.

"We believe that those (local) rates are already well below the national average," he said. "Basic local service is a bargain. It doesn't come close to paying for itself."

Ms. Ottmers was backed by consumer groups — including the American Association of Retired Persons, Consumers Union, Gray Panthers and a coalition of about 80 cities — in opposing a proposed settlement being negotiated by the PUC staff, Southwestern Bell and other parties, including a number of cities and long-distance telephone companies.

The proposal would reduce customer rates overall by $1.2 billion over four years, freezing local rates but reducing such items as the rates long-distance companies pay for access to Southwestern Bell's network.

Ms. Ottmers said that in cases involving GTE Southwest Inc., Centel, Centel and United, residential rates for local service have been lowered after a public hearing or through negotiations.

But Digneo said Ms. Ottmers made an "apples to watermelons comparison" between Southwestern Bell's rates and those of other companies.

For example, Southwestern Bell's average residential charge for local service of $9.70 was compared to GTE's $7.37 charge. Digneo said the GTE rate cited by Ms. Ottmers doesn't include a mandatory extended area service charge paid by GTE customers living in suburbs outside metropolitan areas.

For a Plano GTE customer with the ability to call Dallas, that would mean a total monthly charge of $14.75, compared to a $10.40 charge for a Southwestern Bell customer in Dallas, Digneo said. The charge is necessary for other companies to gain access to Southwestern Bell's network in the cities.

Ms. Ottmers acknowledged the discrepancy, but said that there are different charges for mandatory extended area service and that the average holds true in areas without such service, such as San Angelo. She asserted that when comparing Texas rates to those of other states, Southwestern Bell and the PUC staff "compare apples to watermelons also."

"No two telephone companies have the same demographics, in terms of customer service, consumers," said Bob Orozco, PUC executive director.

Orozco said special interest groups are charged with lobbying for the groups they represent, while the PUC must consider the best interests of all consumers as well as the utility.

"It is their job to advocate their position for their constituents and I think they do so quite well," Orozco said.

Parties in Southwestern Bell's rate case have until 4 p.m. Friday to reach a settlement, or a hearing will begin Monday in the case.

Cities advertise measles vaccine clinic

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Measles, which had a strong showing in Houston last year, are being reported in counties across Texas this year, particularly in Dallas and El Paso.

Health officials in Dallas and El Paso have set up makeshift immunization clinics to combat the disease that has spread to 16 counties. In El Paso on Thursday, more than 500 children were immunized against the disease. More will be vaccinated today.

"We're not seeing the numbers like we were in Harris County last year," Ms. Banister said. "We're still seeing disease occur. I certainly would not say Dallas is a repeat of Houston."

Last year, Houston reported nearly 2,000 cases with nine deaths.

Dallas and El Paso counties lead the state in the numbers of measles cases, with Dallas reporting 183 confirmed cases since Dec. 1 and El Paso 51 cases since the beginning of January, said Cindy Banister, assistant director of the immunization division of the state health department.

Grayson County north of Dallas is third with 35.

Houston has reported only five confirmed cases since Jan. 1 this year, said Houston immunization program administrator Fred Wilt.

National health officials had hoped to stop measles in the United States by fall 1982, but outbreaks in Texas in 1981 disrupted that goal.

Measles is a contagious disease that can lead to serious cases of pneumonia or encephalitis, a swelling of the brain which can be fatal.

Children usually are immunized against the disease at 15 months and again before sixth grade, but health officials are allowing infants as young as 6 months to receive the measles-only vaccine.

Dallas and El Paso health agencies have held several mass immunizations.

Does this mean an early spring?...

Groundhog doesn't spot shadow

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa. (AP) — Punxsutawney Phil, America's premier groundhog, emerged from his burrow today and indicated in "unmistakable groundhogese" that he had failed to spot his shadow, a sure sign spring is just around the corner, according to Phil's followers.

"He stood proud, tall and confident, surveyed the throng of loyal followers, peered skyward toward the east and then fixed his eyes groundward," said county judge Edwin Snyder. He is a member of the Punxsutawney Groundhog Club's exclusive Inner Circle, which each year decides in advance whether Phil will "see" his shadow.

Snyder said Phil "turned to Groundhog President Jim Means and signaled to him in unmistakable groundhogese, 'There is no shadow today.'"

The squirming, 10-pound woodchuck was pulled from his man-made burrow atop Gobbler's Knob at sunrise, 7:27 a.m. Means held the groundhog up to his ear to hear the once-a-year prediction, then lifted him toward Snyder.

The approximately 1,500 people who had gathered under cloudy skies and in light rain cheered as Phil's forecast was announced.

Before today, Phil had predicted an early spring only nine times since 1887, when German-born farmers initiated the yearly event in this small western Pennsylvania town.

"I've always wanted to come to this event ever since I was a kid," said Peter Teicher, 49, of Los Angeles. "I'm really excited. I couldn't sleep last night. It's a real thrill."

Legend has it that if the famous groundhog sees his shadow when he emerges from his bungalow at sunrise on Feb. 2, there will be six more weeks of winter. If he doesn't, spring is supposedly just around the corner.

"You know and I know that Feb. 2 is too darn early to expect spring to come," said Tim Clark, executive editor of The Old Farmer's Almanac.

But the two-legged variety of weather forecasters are still curious about what Phil has to say on Groundhog Day.

"I definitely do watch to see what he does. I didn't say I believe it. I say I watch it," said Albert Peterlin, a hydrologist for the National Weather Service in Harrisburg.

"This has a little bit of history and fact," he said. "Animals respond to temperature and environment as it occurs."

McAden calls Calvary, Snyder home

As a college sophomore in 1969, Rev. Larry McAden, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, changed the direction his life was taking and began to study for the ministry.

That year, he also met his wife, Janelle. They were married in 1973. In 1971, Rev. McAden began working for his home church, North Side Baptist Church in Abilene, as associate pastor.

Many Abilene residents were moving to Clyde at the time when Rev. McAden founded Bible Baptist Church in 1975. He said the church began as a mission work of North Side. While pastoring Bible Baptist Church in Clyde, Rev. McAden said the congregation went on mission trips with Calvary Baptist in Snyder.

"I knew the church and I knew the people. I thought I never wanted to leave Clyde, but if I did, Snyder would be a place I would want to live," he said. The opportunity to pastor the Snyder church came in 1979. He was called to preach before the congregation, then for an interview.

Sunday will mark the 40th anniversary of the church, and Rev. McAden is anxiously planning a homecoming celebration. A special interest of the church has been missionaries. They support some 48 missionaries in the United States and abroad. Rev. McAden has planned a special display showing the missionaries, two of which, one in Japan and one in Mexico, have received a check from Calvary Baptist Church each month for the past 40 years.

Rev. McAden graduated from Abilene Cooper High School, and attended Cisco Junior College and Hardin Simmons University before graduating from Liberty University in Virginia. He holds a bachelor's degree in church ministries.

Since Rev. McAden has been at Calvary, the church has undergone several physical changes. They have done a lot of remodeling in the auditorium and Sunday school classrooms, as well as the parsonage.

The McAden family recently purchased a house, and the parsonage will be remodeled for Sunday school classes. Currently, the Wayne Kennedy family, whose house was destroyed in a Dec. 22 fire, is residing in the parsonage.

With an average of 150 people at Sunday morning worship, McAden said, "I think it's the perfect size." His home church in Abilene had a membership of around 400, and he said the difference in size does not make his job any different.

He describes the church as unique, with a "proportionally large number of really faithful people." He cited that there are some 30 elected offices that are easily filled, and 40 Sunday school teachers. "We have a lot of workers for this size congregation."

McAden is particularly impressed with the degree of community involvement in Snyder. "I really like Snyder, we've got a lot of good things going," he said. He has been a member of Kiwanis Club for a number of years, serving as secretary-treasurer and vice president. This year, he is president-elect.

With two sons, Jason, a high school freshman, and Greg, a seventh grader, he has coached soccer, little league, football and basketball. He is proud that his sons began school in Snyder.

Man sentenced to time in jail

LONDON (AP) — A man who attacked Pakistan-born actor Art Malik and insulted his wife has been sentenced to three months in jail.

Malik, known to American audiences for his role as Hari Kumar in the British TV series, "The Jewel in the Crown," was leaving a restaurant with his English-born wife, Gina, and an actress friend March 4 when Grant Maloney shouted insulting remarks at the two women, the prosecutor said.

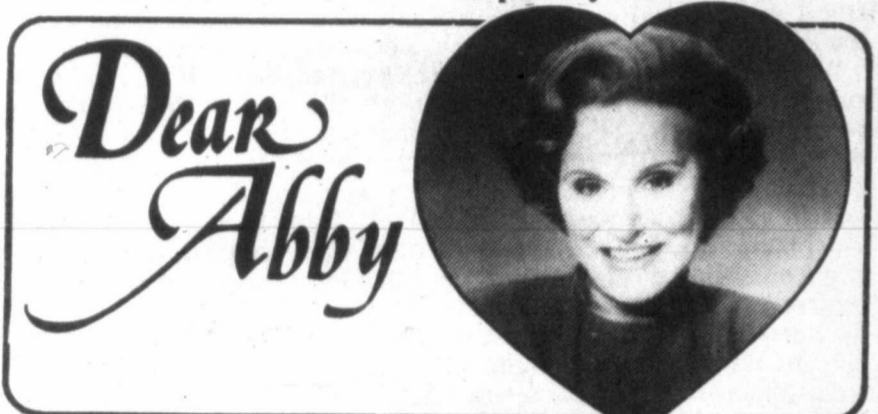

He said Malik, 37, called out that one of the women was his wife, and Maloney replied with an offensive remark about women who would go out with a Pakistani.

Sulking Could Mean Sickness To Those Who Are Depressed

By Abigail Van Buren
 © 1990 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for your answer to the wife of the man who "sulking" on and off for 25 years. As you pointed out, the man could be suffering from a major depression of biochemical origin. Perhaps my own experience could shed some light on this disorder:

For years, I went through times of terrible, seemingly unexplainable depressions. I, too, was additionally burdened by the cheap-shot accusations that I was "sulking" or "feeling sorry for myself" for no apparent reason. Such accusations succeeded only in antagonizing me and alienating me from those who thought they were helping — including some mental health counselors and non-physicians who couldn't prescribe medications.

What was so mysterious and unbearable about those episodes was that they seemed to happen for no reason. The truth is that 1 to 5 percent of the population suffers from inherited conditions in which major depressions — sometimes even resulting in suicide — occur, and these depressions may have no apparent cause. Certain chemicals in the brain go out of whack, and the person falls into moods of despair and gloom.

Some people have these depressive mood swings exclusively. Others (like myself) have them as part of manic-depressive illness in which our depressions switch over to periods of great energy, high spirits and enormous creativity. We are frequently called "geniuses" during these high times, but we are also accused of being "on something" (drugs) because no "normal" person switches moods so quickly, right?

Well, we're not entirely normal. We can function normally by taking medications such as non-addictive lithium (not to be confused with the potentially addictive Librium, please) and anti-depressants.

And most of all, we can be helped by loved ones who realize — as you pointed out — that "sulking can be caused by a chemical imbalance."

Abby, I hope this isn't too long for your column.

TOM IN CALIFORNIA

DEAR TOM: No letter as important as this is "too long" for my column. I thank you for sending it.

DEAR ABBY: I know exactly what "Sulker's Wife" went through, because I was married to a woman who sulking off and on for 22 years. When I would ask her what was wrong, she always had the same answer: "If you don't know, I'm not going to tell you."

The night our youngest son graduated from high school, we drove home in silence. My wife had been sulking for a week. I asked her: "What's the matter? Did I say or do something to upset you? Please tell me what's the matter." Her reply was, "If you don't know, I'm not going to tell you."

When we got in the house, I got my suitcases out and started packing my clothes. She looked at me in disbelief. I finished packing, then loaded my bags into my car and said goodbye.

She asked, "What is this all about? What are you doing?" My response: "If you don't know, I'm not going to tell you."

That was 20 years ago. Since then, I have been happily married to a wonderful woman for 18 years.

SULKER'S EX-HUSBAND,
 JEROME, IDAHO

DEAR EX: Well-timed silence can send an eloquent message — but not if it's used as a battering ram. What a pity that you and your ex-wife never learned the value of honest communication. It might have saved you both years of frustration.
