Trustees approve contracts

Make budget amendments; purchase special ed bus

Snyder public schools board of trustees approved contracts or contract extensions for 11 employees, agreed to purchase a bus for special education students with federal funds, hired a local accounting firm to provide the annual audit and made budget amendments amounting to $12,000 Thursday evening.

The board also voted to solicit bids for band uniforms, hired two instructors and approved Texas Association of School Boards policy updates. In other business, trustees also recognized Sheriff Keith Collier and Deputy Charlie Reynolds for their efforts in the Drug Awareness Resistance Education (DARE) program and heard a report on West Elementary from principal Geraldine Parker.

The board approved one-year administrative contract extensions for elementary principals Parker, Wayne Kennedy, Jim Erwin and Bob Travis, and for vice-principal Lee Presswood and assistant principal Ned Underwood. Their contracts will now run through June 30, 1992. Two-year administrative contracts — also effective through June of 1992 — were approved for David Baugh, athletic director and head football coach; Barbara Granato, director of special programs; and Janice Brown, director of testing and curriculum.

One-year administrative contracts effective through June 30, 1991, were approved for Keith Gentry, transportation director,

Gorbachev to promote more reform

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev vowed today to promote more political reform "once we have solidified this phase."

At the start of a meeting with Secretary of State James A. Baker III, he hedged on whether he would run for president as a Communist if a contested election for the post were held.

"Let's wait and see," Gorbachev told reporters at a picture-taking session in the Kremlin.

He also praised President Bush's latest proposal for reducing U.S. and Soviet troops in Europe. "It merits very, very serious consideration," Gorbachev said.

The Soviet leader has called in the past for even broader disarmament measures. Asked if Bush should have gone further than to propose leaving 225,000 American and Soviet troops in Europe, Gorbachev said:

"I don't know. It's up to the U.S. government to make its own proposal. It would be good if we cooperate, just as we are cooperating now."

The Soviet leader appeared relaxed as he shook hands with Baker and a half dozen U.S. officials.

"It certainly would be wrong for the West and everyone to believe we began these changes only in the last few days," Gorbachev said of the political reform that was capped this week with a decision to revoke the Communist Party's monopoly on power and to open the 72-year-old system to political pluralism.

"They have been under way since 1985," he said, referring to the year he took over.

Permits show over $92,000 in construction

Building permits issued by the city represented $92,709 in construction for the month of January.

Permits included alterations to the former Shakey's Pizza building at 312 East Hwy. for Snyder Savings & Loan and a public restroom facility at 3406 Houston Ave. for Snyder Independent School District.

January's figures brought the total for the fiscal year to $413,528 as compared to $283,049 over the same period a year ago.

Total permit fees for the month were $1,745.72, bringing the year's current total to $3,986.11 compared to $2,530.04 the previous year. The building inspector's office issued 80 permit fees during January, including 31 for plumbing and 23 electrical.

Other construction permits were issued for a storage area at 1604 College Ave. to Lindy Clark; a garage at 3105 Beaumont owned by Jimmy McIntire; a carport storage area at 4500 Denison and owned by Dan Hicks; and an addition at 208 Ash owned by Charles Stewart.

Building permit fees for the month amounted to $69.72.

Workshop slated here...

Effective Schools concept okayed by school trustees

School administrators gained approval to implement the Effective Schools concept throughout the Snyder school system Thursday and received encouraging news that a workshop will be held locally in September.

Snyder board of trustees voted unanimously to approve the Effective Schools concept, which is tied closely with the Texas Education Association's accreditation requirements. The concept is based on the idea that all students are capable of learning and is based on five primary correlates.

Administrators at one time had hoped to send instructors to Effective Schools workshops out of state, at what was expected to be a substantial cost to the school district. None of the workshops are scheduled in Texas this year.

Junior High Principal Gary Patterson informed the board Thursday evening however, that the concept's originator, Dr. Larry Lezotte, had agreed to hold a workshop in Snyder on Sept. 11-13. The workshop will be conducted with a minimal fee, or none at all.

"I'm very excited about the possibility of this coming to Snyder," said Patterson. "I feel like this is an excellent chance to give Snyder some recognition it really deserves and get all of our people trained at once."

More details of the workshop will be announced as they are worked out. It is expected that a number of instructors from outside the SISD will also be interested in attending.

The Effective Schools concept is based on five key correlates, which are:

—1, Instructional Leadership — principal takes an active role in the instructional program of the school.

—2, School Climate — school exhibits a physical orderliness and safety as well as a businesslike atmosphere which is designed to promote and reward student achievement.

—3, High Expectations — teachers expect all students to learn; teacher behavior conveys that expectation and their classroom practices encourage and demand that all children be actively involved in the learning process.

—4, Measurement — school chooses tests which will provide the appropriate information and then analyzes that information to identify strengths and weaknesses to improve its program.

—5, Instructional Focus — a well-defined, uniform curriculum; school possesses a written document which states the instructional objectives to be taught to and mastered by all

Commission oks low-power license for Comanche Peak

DALLAS (AP) — TU Electric today began loading nuclear fuel at Comanche Peak, the final tedious step in the construction of the twin-reactor plant that took 15 years and $9 billion to complete.

The utility received a low-power testing license Thursday from the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, which said it was satisfied with the plant's safety.

The license authorizes TU Electric to test Unit 1 of the plant at up to 5 percent of full power.

"During that phase they will check things out, they will do a lot of testing, checking things out. They cannot go to full power without the commission's approval," said a spokesman.

By state...

$3 million spent on county welfare

The state spent a total of $3,010,937 last year for major welfare programs in Scurry County, according to Ray L. Dunavant, regional administrator for the Texas Department of Human Services.

"Medical assistance had the biggest impact, with $1,192,788 spent for the aged and disabled residents of the county and $518,248 for families and children in the county," Dunavant said.

In comparison, total amounts spent for welfare programs in other counties included Nolan, $5,192,847; Mitchell, $2,534,152; and Taylor, $19,351,331.

Food stamps worth $1,014,297 were issued for the fiscal year which ended Aug. 31, while Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) totaled $285,604. Food stamps are funded entirely by the federal government, while the department determines eligibility of applicants and issues the food coupons.

State and federal governments share in the cost of AFDC to families where needy children are deprived of support because of the absence or disability of one or both parents.

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "A man who talks a lot may occasionally have something to say, but chances are no one is listening."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors: Gene Dow, in the Seminole Sentinel, told about an incident that happened to a clerk in one of his local stores.

A customer came into the store and bought a $6 item. The clerk rang it up on the cash register and the customer said he needed another item.

He left and returned with a $1 item, so the clerk rang up $7.49 to include the required tax. The customer handed the clerk a $50 bill and the customer was returned $42.51—that's two twenties, two ones and 51 cents in coins.

The customer then asked to have the $50 bill back, offering instead two twenties and ten ones. As the customer put the money back on the counter, the clerk went back into the register and took out the fifty dollar bill.

The customer further confused the situation by asking for a $100 bill for two fifties. The customer added another $50. Because the clerk didn't have a hundred dollar bill, the customer asked for five twenties.

The clerk didn't have five twenties, but instead gave him three twenties and four tens. The customer picked up the assortment of bills and departed.

Thoroughly confused, the clerk checked the register. She's now without a $50 bill and she has grown suspicious. She called the customer back into the store, explaining that the exchange did not turn out right.

It was now the clerk's turn. She figured she was short the $42.51 in change she had given him for the $50, so she said the customer owed $57.49 out of the $100 bill. The customer apologetically returned the $57.49 and left... for good.

Everybody is confused by this time with the exception of the customer—a slick quick-change artist. At the end of the day, the cash register turned up $42.51 short.

Somebody willing to work that hard should try a real job.

Q—Will the commissioners still get their raise after the rollback election?

A—No. The five percent pay raise has been rescinded for all county employees, including the commissioners.

In Brief

Prices soaring

WASHINGTON (AP) — A double wallop delivered to energy and food prices by the holiday cold snap sent wholesale inflation soaring 1.8 percent in January, the steepest one-month rise in more than 15 years, the government said today.

The spurt in the Labor Department's Producer Price Index was nearly triple the already brisk 0.6 percent gain in December. If wholesale inflation persisted at the January pace, it would produce an annual price rise of 24.1 percent.

The last monthly increase of greater magnitude was recorded in November 1974 during the OPEC oil embargo, when prices shot up 2 percent in one month.

Last month's gain was even steeper than the 1.2 percent jump predicted by most analysts.

Truck found

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — The truck of a Texas minister missing since last week has been found in a downtown parking lot, and police say the driver's door was open and the keys were in the ignition.

The Rev. J. David Scheyer, 61, of the Unitarian Church in Austin, Texas, has been missing since Friday evening. Church members have been searching Austin and posting fliers with his picture in hopes of finding the minister.

"There was no blood in the truck, no apparent signs of violence," Ott Cefkin, a spokesman for the Fort Lauderdale police, said Thursday after Scheyer's truck was found.

Local

Valentine dance

Beta Sigma Phi will host its annual Valentine dance Saturday from 8 p.m. to midnight at Snyder Country Club.

West Texas Express of Lubbock will provide the music, and a new Valentine Queen will be crowned during intermission. Admission to the dance is $15 per couple and tickets may be purchased from any club member or at the door.

John Deere Day

John Deere Day '90, sponsored locally by Key Brothers Implement Co., Inc., will be held in Scurry County Coliseum beginning at 6:30 p.m. Saturday.

Key Brothers, located at E. 507 E. Highway, will hold open house all day Saturday and a field demonstration will be given from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. at E. 600 37th St.

Weather

Snyder Temperatures: High Thursday, 78 degrees; low, 43 degrees; reading at 7 a.m. Friday, 55 degrees; no precipitation; total precipitation for 1990 to date, 1.20 inches.

Stovall convicted of murder

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — A Fort Worth man says "things went nuts" at the time he set his estranged wife on fire two times in their garage last September.

Martin Stovall, 39, Thursday tearfully told jurors about the events leading to the death of his wife. The testimony came in the punishment phase of the trial after jurors took just 12 minutes to convict him on a murder charge.

Tarrant County prosecutors say a four-minute tape by 39-year-old Janice Stovall, recorded as she lay severely burned, clinched their case.

Refusing breathing tubes that would have kept her from talking, the 39-year-old mother of four was recorded telling a Parkland Memorial Hospital security guard how her husband backed her into a drill bit in the couple's garage and then doused her with gasoline and set her on fire.

Neighbors saw the flames from the garage and put out the fire.

Police said Mrs. Stovall, a nurse, knew she was dying and refused medical treatment until she could tell the story. She died shortly after the attack.

Paramedic Alicia Macaluso testified that Mrs. Stovall, suffering third-degree burns over 100 percent of her body, refused to allow emergency workers to insert a tube that would have allowed her to breathe easier but would have prevented her from talking. When she heard how serious her injuries were, she said "Just let me die," Ms. Macaluso said.

Jurors heard Mrs. Stovall gasping for air and apologizing for memory lapses. Her dying declaration ended with a plea for hospital officials to "protect my children, please."

Stovall had told Fort Worth homicide Detective Larry Steffler that his wife's injuries were accidental.

But he later admitted he doused his wife with gasoline, set her on fire and then repeated the process as she begged him to help her, according to a statement from Stovall that was read to jurors.

Openings available in cosmetology

A cosmetology class set to begin March 1 at Western Texas College still has openings for students, Judy Border, instructor, said.

Persons interested in enrolling for the class are to go first to the Admissions Office in the Resource Center to pick up a cosmetology packet. When these forms are completed, the applicant will have a personal interview with Mrs. Border.

It is important that students begin the application process as quickly as possible because of the time required, Mrs. Border said. Call her at 573-8511, Monday through Thursday for more information.

Cosmetology students receive 1,500 hours of training in a calendar year and are then eligible to take state Board of Cosmetology exams for licensing.

WTC's judging results reported

Mark Faulkenberry and Derrick Bruton led the Western Texas College meats judging team to fifth place in overall competition at the Southwestern Livestock Show in Fort Worth.

Faulkenberry, Snyder sophomore, was high individual in lamb judging and 10th high individual in the contest which had 81 contestants. He was also 6th in placings and 7th in questions.

Bruton, Frankston sophomore, was 7th in the overall contest, 2nd high individual in beef grading, 5th high individual in total beef judging and 10th high in placings.

Another team member, Benny Cornett from Sweetwater, was 10th high individual in pork judging. Quenna Shurbet from Seymour was the other team member. Other WTC students making the trip but not competing were freshmen Brent Atkinson from Patton Springs and Robyn Fox from Brady. They will judge at the next contest in Houston in March, Jim Judah, team coach, said.

Out of the 14 teams in the competition, WTC was 7th in beef grading, 5th in lambs, 5th in pork, 5th in beef and 3rd in placings to give them 5th place in the overall contest. Second place went to Illinois Central.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Today there might be some fringe benefits available to you through a partnership situation with an associate with whom you seldom have dealings.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Discard old procedures if you've been stymied by delays recently. Keep experimenting with fresh techniques and methods until you are able to circumvent the roadblocks.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You could finally be privy to some information today that you have been trying very hard to obtain. This new knowledge is just what is needed to make your plans click.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) An unexpected surprise could come through a friend of the family today. It looks like there will be something of material value associated with the development.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You're better equipped today to handle mental situations than you are to cope with physical ones. If possible, relegate your dealings to the realm of ideas.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Owing to a chance development, it looks like you might get involved in something rather profitable today. Make the most of it, because this situation could suddenly change.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) The persons who are likely to be the luckiest for you today will be those with whom you'll be involved socially. Be a good listener, because something opportune might be discussed.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your best ideas are apt to come to you today when you get off by yourself in quiet surroundings. Before looking elsewhere, however, don't forget about the sanctuary your own home may offer.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) There is a possibility you might be contacted by a friend today regarding an idea in which she or he wants you involved. Even though it may sound a little far fetched, hear this person through.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Lady Luck is in your corner today where your financial and career objectives are concerned. Act fast to take advantage of her efforts, because she has other clients to help as well.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If left to your own devices today, you're capable of producing the types of end results you desire. Be your own person, and don't delegate authority unless you have no other choice.

Remembering the basics

By James Jacoby

Poor South had been reading books about card combinations. He knew that J-10-3 opposite A-7-4 was a tough holding to play for two tricks. But he also knew that if either opponent held a doubleton honor, it could be done. So he won the opening heart lead in his hand, drew trumps ending in the dummy, and came off with a low club away from the ace. He hoped that East would hold only two clubs, one of them being an honor. Of course East won the queen of clubs and got off lead with a heart. Later declarer had to lose another club and two diamond tricks. Too bad. This time declarer couldn't see the forest because of the trees.

The right approach is to draw trumps, play out the remaining high hearts, and then play ace and a diamond. As the cards lie, eventually the defenders will have to play clubs themselves, and that will result in an endplay against East. Figure it out. If West wins the queen of diamonds and leads a club, declarer ducks and East wins the queen. East can cash the diamond king, but then is left to lead away from the K-9 of clubs. And if West plays low on the low diamond played by South, East can win and play a third diamond to West. Now clubs must be played with the same ultimate result.

It's good to know card combinations. But don't forget the first rule — let the opponents play your suits for you whenever possible.

James Jacoby's books "Jacoby on Bridge" and "Jacoby on Card Games" (written with his father, the late Oswald Jacoby) are now available at bookstores. Both are published by Pharos Books. © 1990, NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

Local Jehovah's Witnesses will attend meeting

Jehovah's Witnesses from Snyder, along with members of six other congregations in West Texas, will be convening for a two-day session of Bible related instruction and fellowship at Sweetwater High School toward the end of February.

Haynes C. Hoskins will address the assembly. His subject will be "Light Bearers in a Dark World." He began full-time ministry work in 1952, then started the traveling work in 1956, serving in 26 states as well as serving as a missionary in Zambia, Africa for 10 years.

The theme of the two-day meeting, "Keep Watching How You Walk," will be taken from Ephesians 5:15-16.

Singer says fast track not for him

DALLAS (AP) — Folk-country singer Robert Earl Keen Jr., who weaves tales of Texas in his songs, said Nashville's fast track wasn't for him.

"There was no place to play," said Keen, who moved to Music City in 1985 and stayed two years before returning to Texas.

"If you need to practice, there's a 100 percent chance that a lot of people are going to see you and they're going to form an opinion. When you see them in a business situation, they've already got this notion, no matter what you say."

Keen, 34, said it also was tough because while he struggled in Nashville, his buddies Steve Earle and Lyle Lovett made it big.

Founder just wants bands to sing, not talk

DALLAS (AP) — William Reid, founder of the band The Jesus and Mary Chain, said mum's the word onstage — unless he's singing. "When you make a record, you don't introduce the songs. ... It would break the spell," he said. "Playing onstage is kind of magical, and when people stand up there and start saying things, it breaks the spell."

"If I go see a group, I want to see them playing as hard and as good as they can. I want the music to be one intense, long flow. I don't want people to talk to me."

Questions raised about Navy's probe

SEATTLE (AP) — Three slayings and a suspected suicide at the top-secret Trident submarine base have raised questions of espionage and complaints that the Navy has not conducted a complete investigation.

The intrigue is focused on a 23-year-old submarine technician named Shyam David Drizpaul, whose body was found last month in a Vancouver-area motel, about 180 miles south of the Bangor Trident submarine base.

Navy investigators say they believe Drizpaul killed two fellow submariners in the Bangor base's barracks, then killed a woman and wounded a man during a pawn-shop robbery in nearby Bremerton.

They claim Drizpaul then drove to the motel and killed himself.

But a lawyer for Drizpaul's family, family members and even a shipmate said the Navy's story doesn't make sense.

Attorney Larry Scruggs Jr. of Milwaukee, who traveled to the base to investigate the shootings, noted that Drizpaul had a sensitive position, working on the weapons systems, aboard the USS Michigan; that Drizpaul was a computer whiz and his personal computer is missing; and that he was killed by a single bullet through his forehead, which he said was unusual for a suicide.

Scruggs also said he has evidence of another person being involved in the plot, but he would give no details — not even the person's gender.

"I think he was either murdered or compelled to do those things," Scruggs said of the slayings. "... Drizpaul had high clearance, and my indication was that clearance was extremely high, extremely critical."

"Maybe the thing fell apart and people began to panic and couldn't accept the results. ... There is one person who can answer those questions," he said, referring to the other individual.

SHS cagers vying for playoff berths

Both Snyder High basketball squads will face Monahans Friday night in must-win games as the battle for playoff position continues for the boys and the girls.

The Lady Tigers are currently in a three-way dead-lock with Andrews and Big Spring for the second post-season spot from District 4-4A.

Sweetwater, with a 12-0 loop record, has already locked up the district championship.

Andrews and Big Spring will play each other as the circuit season ends Friday night.

Assuming a win on the part of the Lady Tigers, Snyder would then be tied with the winner of that game and a one-game playoff would be necessary to get to the post-season tournament.

Snyder, 16-9 overall and 8-5 within the district, beat Monahans, 64-35, in the first meeting of the season between the two squads with Mande Henry leading the Lady Tigers with 12 points in the game.

The Lady Lobos have yet to win a district game in 13 tries and are 6-22 on the 1989-90 campaign.

They were trounced by Andrews in their Tuesday outing, 64-36.

The Lady Tigers, in the midst of a four-game winning streak, will host the Monahans girls.

The Tigers, 10-1 in District 4-4A competition and 17-10 overall, will battle Monahans on the Lobos' home floor Friday night.

Snyder is tied atop the loop standings with Pecos and pre-season pick for loop champ Andrews is only a game back with a 9-2 slate.

The boys are in the catbird seat also as Andrews and Pecos will face each other again before the loop pecking order is established for the playoffs.

Monahans is 4-7 in loop play and 13-13 on the season.

They feature 6-2 sophomore Craig Abercrombie and 5-7 senior Cris Hallum offensively.

The Lobos fell to Snyder, 55-42, earlier in the cage season.

Senior wing Tracy Brazier scored 18 to lead Snyder in the initial meeting of the two teams.

The varsity contests begin at 7:30 p.m. at their respective sites and the JV squads begin at 6 p.m.

FPC women claim win over Dusters

BORGER — A pair of 16-point performances, one by Lady Dusters' forward Bobbie Brown and the other by post Tracey Rome, were not enough to offset the strength of Western Junior College Conference leaders Frank Phillips last night as the Lady Plainsmen romped over WTC 72-46.

The game was still in sight for the Western Texas women at the half as they were down by 16 points, 38-22.

Frank Phillips pulled away in the second stanza on the strength of their size on defense and the shooting of Lynette Barber, a 5-10 freshman guard from Wellington, who scored 22 points on the night, and Amarillo talent Peggy Shepherd who was good for 19 points including four three-point buckets against the Dusters.

Patricia McDonald, the 6-4 Jamaican center for the Lady Plainsmen scored 10 in the contest.

The FPC women move to 7-1 in WJCAC play after Thursday's game. The victory over WTC puts the squad at 20-2 overall.

Western Texas is now 15-8 on the campaign and 2-5 in conference competition.

Westerners beat FPC

Byrd, Critton and Mason combine for 60

BORGER — The Westerners of WTC beat Frank Phillips College Thursday for the second time this season, 100-91, here Thursday night.

Dominick Byrd paced the Western Texas offensive attack with 26 points on the night.

Sophomore post Kenneth Critton tossed in 19 and long-range artist Cedric Mason hit three from three point land to up his game total to 15 points.

Free-throw shooting has been a weakness of the Westerners this season as they have been successful just 63 percent of the time. That figure compares to conference leaders in the category, NMJC, shooting over 70 percent from the line.

Against Frank Phillips last night, the Westerners hit 16 of 19 from the charity stripe for an average of over 84 percent.

In the Westerners barrage from the free throw line freshman guard Ray Johnson was perfect hitting seven of seven.

WTC, 17-7 on the year and 6-4 in Western Junior College Conference competition, moved out in front by 15 points with a 56-41 lead at the half.

The Westerners will be home next week as they host Odessa College on Monday and New Mexico Military Institute Thursday.

In other WJCAC action Thursday South Plains College defeated Midland College, 66-61, and No. 1 Howard College was upset by Odessa College, 94-90.

SHS girls hold 6th in golf tournament

SAN ANGELO — Snyder's Lady Tiger golfers are in sixth position after Thursday's first round of the San Angelo Invitational Tournament with a composite score of 392.

Of the 24 teams in competition for the title at the event, Andrews is currently in the lead with a 350.

San Angelo Central is in second place with a score of 371 followed by Abilene Cooper's 380, Midland High at 390 and a 391 from Odessa Permian.

"I think everyone played very well," said coach Penny Perry. "The course at San Angelo Country Club is the toughest most of these girls has ever played and it was very windy yesterday."

Wendy Ward of San Antonio Roosevelt is the first round medalist with a 78.

April King of Andrews and Lisa Balch of San Angelo Central finished tied for second place, individually with identical 83's.

For Snyder Kim Duncan was the top finisher with an 88.

Jacy Laroux carded a 94 for the Lady Tigers followed by Amy Armstrong with a 101, Wendy Miller with a 109 and Jenny Fenton with a 130.

Play resumed today as the teams moved from San Angelo Country Club to Bentwood Country Club.

Defense is key as top teams fall in Thursday NCAA tilts

by The Associated Press
Defense was the key.

The Kansas State defense made Missouri coach Norm Stewart almost cry as the Wildcats handed the No. 1-ranked Tigers a 65-58 defeat.

And defense carried Virginia over No. 4 Duke 72-69, ending a nearly seven-year streak of frustration for the Cavaliers against the Blue Devils.

Coach added to SHS staff

Snyder's school board announced Thursday the addition of Fred Jackson to the SHS coaching staff.

Jackson is a graduate of Texas Christian University with his master's degree from Lamar University.

According to Snyder Athletic Director David Baugh, Jackson will be a varsity football assistant in charge of the defensive secondary and tight ends, wingbacks and split ends, offensively.

In addition to his coaching duties, Jackson will teach biology at SHS.

In other action Thursday school board trustees gave Baugh a two-year contract.

The new pact will expire June 30, 1992.

Stewart said. "We didn't play well, but, good golly, Kansas State played their hearts out.

Club to host putting event

Snyder Country Club will host their annual putting tournament Saturday.

Three formats, including individual, partnership and a horse race will make up the tournament.

The event begins at 10 a.m. and the $15 entry fee includes free food and drinks.

Ladies are welcome in the tourney.

The club will host the Groundhog Tournament February 24 and 25.

The format for the event is a two-man scramble both days with a shotgun start at 1 p.m.

Entry fee is $60 per team. For more information on either of the Country Club functions contact the pro shop at 573-7101.

Give them credit."

Kansas State held Missouri 32 points below its season average and snapped the Tigers' 12-game winning streak, the longest in the nation. It was Missouri's lowest point total since January 1986.

Duke saw its six-game winning streak end.

"Virginia played a terrific basketball game. Their defense was outstanding," said Duke coach Mike Krzyzewski, whose Blue Devils shot 34.8 percent from the floor.

Hearn's values & priorities changed

While working as a wool buyer for J.P. Stevens in South Carolina, Dr. Wylie "Buff" Hearn's life underwent a value and priority change. He is currently pastor of First United Methodist Church.

Hearn, who attained a bachelor's degree in animal science from Texas A&M in 1966, promptly moved back to Texas and worked with his father in a wool warehouse. He lived on a ranch and became heavily involved with the church as a layman.

When he felt his call to the ministry in 1972, he liquidated his assets and moved to Wilmore, Ky., where he attended Asbury Theological Seminary. He received his master's of divinity degree in 1975. That same year, he undertook his first full-time pastorate in Amarillo.

As a pastor in the United Methodist Church, Hearn has moved from Amarillo to Follett, Lubbock, Memphis, Dalhart and Snyder, where he has been pastor for two years.

He earned his doctorate degree in 1987, also from Asbury Theological Seminary.

Hearn said that there are not many men his age in the ministry since many men moved into the pastorate following WWII, and he expects a large turnover. He said the church is moving towards longer pastorates, from the average two-to-three year stay at one church.

Hearn attributes his age to a need for roots. "The older I get the more I realize I want to have roots," he said. He said he had a hard time leaving Memphis, where he pastored for four years, because he lived there longer than any other place since graduating from high school.

Being a church growth consultant for the Board of Discipleship, a national board within the church, Hearn does quite a bit of speaking throughout the nation. He will speak at a workshop in Oklahoma this spring. As a church growth consultant, Hearn identifies factors that are keeping churches from growing. He recently took a trip to Tucson, Ariz., to work with a church there.

Maturity as a preacher, according to Hearn, allows him to feel comfortable preaching to any size congregation. First United Methodist has a membership of 665 with an average attendance of 175 on Sunday.

The church has been stabilizing recently, following the economic conditions and population shifts, according to Hearn, but, he said 1989 was a much better year financially for the church. He said the congregation has a positive attitude and feels good about itself.

Hearn said the church has a strong youth program which includes students from age 12 to seniors in high school, as well as a puppet ministry and children's choirs. The Bethel Series of adult Bible courses are taught in the Wednesday night format, as well as parenting and marriage enrichment courses.

Hearn has major responsibilities outside the local church. He is chairman of the Annual Conference Council of Ministries which oversees programming of 250 churches in local districts. The Big Spring district, which includes Snyder, stretches through Midland, Colorado City, Andrews, Seminole, Lamesa and Stanton, and includes some 29 churches.

DR. WYLIE "BUFF" HEARN

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1990 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am a cat lover, presently sharing my home with six cats. I live on a small farm, so most of the time the cats are outside. Unfortunately, I married a man who dislikes cats, but he tolerates them for my sake—and he even started to show a little affection to one cat in particular.

Well, that one cat sprayed him, and my husband was furious! I tried to explain that cats spray to mark their territory or to claim ownership, and it was the cat's way of showing affection. My husband didn't buy it. He insists it was a hostile gesture on the part of the cat, and now he will not let the cat in the house.

The cat is heartbroken, and so am I. Besides that, we went to the zoo in Deland, Fla., and when my husband walked up to the ocelot cage, one of the cats sprayed him! And the same thing happened when he came near the black panther's cage!

Please ask your animal experts if a cat sprays someone to show affection, or is spraying a hostile gesture? IN THE CAT HOUSE IN FLORIDA

DEAR IN: I consulted Dr. Erwin David, Los Angeles cat owner, cat lover and veterinarian, who assured me that the cat was showing neither affection nor hostility when he sprayed your husband. (And the repeat performances at the zoo were a sad coincidence.)

Dr. David then referred me to a higher authority, Dr. Richard Polsky, animal behavior specialist. Dr. Polsky does for animals what psychiatrists do for people.

Dr. Polsky confirmed Dr. David's conclusions, then took me to task for doing what most people do — applying human behavior to animals. I made the mistake of asking Dr. Polsky how a person could read a cat's mind. His answer: "Years of study, research and testing." Then he added, "If the cat is a male and has not been neutered, neutering will minimize his spraying. Also, there is a hormone pill that will discourage the problem. Finally, if a cat sprays a person, it means the cat is having problems with other cats, not the person."

So, friends, if a cat sprays you — don't take it personally. It means the cat is having either territorial or sexual aggression problems with other cats. And now you have heard it from two top-notch animal experts.

DEAR ABBY: I've had it with all these "cute" toddlers in restaurants. My family and I like to enjoy dinner out at least once or twice a week. We like to treat ourselves to something a little more relaxing than a fast-food restaurant, but we can't afford the deluxe, high-priced eateries either.

We patronize restaurants that offer wholesome food at a reasonable price, and invariably, just after our order has been taken, another family with two or three children under 5 is seated next to us.

Abby, these children yell, scream, whine and make so much noise that it's difficult for us to carry on a conversation in a normal tone of voice.

If some churches have "crying rooms" or "nurseries," I suggest that restaurants now offer their customers the option of a "with children" or "without children" section.

Perhaps your readers have some opinions on this issue of noisy children in restaurants and how to handle it.

INDIGESTION IN ANAHEIM

DEAR INDIGESTION: Plan One: Ask the waitress, hostess or manager to move you to another table if one is available. Plan Two: At the risk of starting World War III, politely ask one of the parents to please silence the child or children. If that doesn't work, enlist the help of the management. Plan Three: "Make friends" with the noisy offenders, tell them you have a headache, and ask them to please keep the noise down. Plan Four (the one most frequently used): Grin and bear it.

What teen-agers need to know about sex, drugs, AIDS, and getting along with their peers and parents is now in Abby's updated, expanded booklet, "What Every Teen Should Know." To order, send a long, business-size, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $3.95 ($4.50 in Canada) to: Dear Abby, Teen Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054. (Postage is included.)

Calvary Baptist to host artist Sunday

Calvary Baptist Church will host an artist with a new art form Sunday. The art form uses several new technologies of multimedia to superimpose hundreds of images over live paintings. Sight and sound are controlled by two computers to animate lightning bolts, lighthouses, eagles' flight, and many other themes.

Dan Ondra, the artist, developed this program as a missionary in Canada. His illustrated messages are reaching thousands across the country. Some 18 years of ministerial experience, combined with a background in audio engineering and computer technology have produced a remarkable year-round touring ministry.

Services featuring the program will be held at 10:50 a.m. and 6 p.m. at the church located at 2405 35th Street. For information, call 573-2191.

Crude begins washing ashore

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Floating black globs of crude oil and brown foam splashed ashore today as winds drove strips of a 295,000-gallon spill onto golden beaches beloved by surfers and sun worshippers. About 2,000 residents volunteered to help 300 professionals start cleaning up the mess, Mayor Thomas J. Mays said. The 811-foot tanker American Trader carried 21 million gallons when its hull was punctured, apparently by an anchor, as it approached an oil pipeline mooring about 1½ miles offshore Wednesday night.

By Thursday night, the vessel apparently had stopped leaking oil, Coast Guard Rear Adm. William Kime said.

Offshore winds had kept the slick, measuring 3 miles by 6 miles, away from beaches until afternoon, then reversed direction and began nudging the mess onto shore. Pockets of crude oil began washing ashore Thursday night.

A 4-mile stretch was fouled in Newport Beach, an affluent community that boasts some of Southern California's most expensive beachfront property.

The oily goop washed ashore along a mile-long expanse north of Huntington Pier on Bolsa Chica State Beach, which borders a sensitive estuary habitat, officials said.

License granted to utility proval," NRC spokesman Bob Newlin said.

"Assuming these early operations are successfully conducted, in about three months we will be able to gradually increase output and be in full commercial operation this summer," TU Electric spokesman David Fiorelli said.

Newlin, however, said he could not predict when the utility would win a full-power license.

The license action upset members of Citizens for Fair Utility Regulation, or CiFUR, a Fort Worth-based activist group that asked the NRC Wednesday to indefinitely postpone licensing the plant.

The group claimed TU Electric managers have not learned how to recognize and resolve serious safety problems at Comanche Peak.

The NRC, in a news release, said commission staff had "concluded that issues that could have an impact on plant safety have been acceptably resolved, and TU Electric has demonstrated that it is satisfactorily prepared to operate the plant safely."

CiFUR member Betty Brink said she does not think the plant will ever operate at full power.

"If it does operate at full power for very long, I fear the very worst," Ms. Brink said.

Construction on Comanche Peak began in 1975, and original estimates put the total cost at $779 million. The facility's price is now $9.1 billion.

TU Electric has asked the Public Utility Commission for a $442 million, 10.5 percent rate increase to pay for the cost of constructing Unit 1.

A sixth correlate or goal involves the understanding, support and involvement from parents and the community as to the basic mission of the school.

A widely-used definition of an effective school is "a school that for three consecutive years has 95 percent or greater of all students at each grade level demonstrate minimum academic mastery with no significant difference in the percentage mastery of the various socioeconomic or ethnic groups."

"I'm excited about it for our school and staff and what it means to our girls and boys," said Supt. Dalton Moseley.

In addition to services and assistance to low income residents of the county, the department extended protective services to 89 abused and neglected children and their parents or caretakers. These services, furnished without regard to family income, were designed to reduce or eliminate danger to children.

Treated, released

An 18-year-old Trent woman was treated and released early today at Cogdell Memorial Hospital with injuries suffered in a reported motor vehicle accident.

Stacy Mayfield came to the emergency room at 2:10 a.m. and was treated for pain in her lower back and lower right face.

The accident had not been reported by any local or area law enforcement agencies.

Garza Theatre in Post is renovated

POST—The newly remodeled Garza Theatre now offers plays twice a month.

The current offering, designed and directed by Will McCrary, is a comedy called "The Cradle Song." Performances are set for 7:45 p.m. tonight and Saturday and a 2 p.m. matinee on Sunday.

For ticket reservations call 806/495-4005. The theatre is located at 226 East Main.

Contracts are approved by school system trustees and Lawton Taylor, maintenance director.

The approvals, all unanimous, came after a 5 p.m. executive meeting that lasted until the regular meeting, which began about 7:15 p.m.

Upon the recommendation of Supt. Dalton Moseley, the board also hired Floyd Collins to instruct industrial arts at the high school and Fred Jackson as a biology instructor and varsity assistant coach for the remainder of the current school year.

In later board action, trustees agreed to purchase a 36-passenger bus for special education students with federal funds. The bus would include a wheelchair lift and space to hold three wheelchairs.

Cost of the bus is approximately $39,000 under a lease-purchase agreement and the district will pay it out over three years from the federal funds.

After discussion and two votes, the board unanimously agreed to hire Vestal & Co., CPAs, to conduct the district's annual audit.

Board member Ann Walton had first made a motion that the board continue using Joe Morren of Colorado City, which was seconded. Walton, Sam Robertson and Billy Bob McMullan voted to retain Morren but Mike Jordan, Luann Burleson, Terry Martin and Ygnacio Benitez voted against the motion. A second motion was made and seconded to hire the local firm of Vestal & Co., and all board members approved.

Afterward, Jordan told those in attendance "We have no problem with the job that Mr. Morren has done for us. My position is that we had a local person that was interested and who is capable. Our decision does not reflect on the services that Mr. Morren has provided."

Trustees also approved $2,000 in budget amendments for the Advanced Placement Program which will be implemented next fall. Broken down, the amendments include $800 for supplies and $400 each for science, mathematics and English.

The board also okayed $10,000 to pay salaries during the summer for 16 instructors who will development curriculum in the core subjects of math, English, science and social studies for the high school and junior high. The development process is necessary in order to bring the schools in line with accreditation.

After much discussion, board members decided to accept bids for new band uniforms. Band Director Walter Reneau, who was out of town Thursday, had earlier presented a proposal to purchase some 180 uniforms at $265 each. The board discussed purchasing the uniforms without capes, which would save an estimated $7,700. They approved by a 4-3 margin to uniforms without capes, then rescinded the vote when it was realized they would have to ask for bids. The bids will be for uniforms with capes.

Early in the meeting, the board recognized Sheriff Collier and Deputy Reynolds for their ongoing work in the DARE program. Moseley said, "What I found most different about this drug program was how well the kids felt about themselves, how positive they were."

Reynolds, who instructed the program at three elementary schools and in Hermleigh during the fall and is currently working at Snyder's other three elementaries and Ira, thanked the teachers involved, Moseley, Brown, the schools and the school board.

The men received a warm round of applause from the near-capacity audience.

Other board action included approval of bills and past minutes.

Laurie Hernandez is the mother of a baby boy weighing 7 pounds, 13¼ ounces, born at 6:54 p.m. Thursday at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Two arrested on theft charges

Two young men were arrested on misdemeanor theft charges Thursday after they allegedly drove away from a western Snyder convenience store without paying for a tankful of gasoline.

Jenna Bennett of the C&W store off the Lamesa Hwy. told police at 12:35 p.m. that the youths had driven away from the store in a two-tone blue Chevrolet El Camino without paying for $23.62 in fuel, and a city policeman caught them "two miles out" on the Lamesa Hwy., he said, and had them incarcerated in the county jail.

They are a 17-year-old from Amherst, in Lamb County, and an 18-year-old from Lubbock, the officer said.

Other Thursday arrests included a 21-year-old city man who was taken into custody on several outstanding Department of Public Safety warrants at 9:09 p.m. in the 400 Block of the East Hwy.

He was arrested on warrants for speeding, displaying a fictitious inspection sticker, failure to appear in court, not having liability insurance and not having a valid inspection sticker or motor vehicle registration.

A 20-year-old man was arrested on two warrants for disorderly conduct at 1:38 a.m. today at 30th St. and Ave. E, and a 23-year-old man was taken into custody for public intoxication at 11:54 p.m. Thursday at 29th St. and Ave. X.

A 29-year-old man was arrested for PI at 12:48 a.m. today in the 1100 Block of 24th St.

One accident

Police investigated one minor traffic accident Thursday, a two-vehicle collision at 8:29 a.m. in the 2600 Block of Ave. Y.

A 1985 Chevrolet driven by Todd Buchanan of Box 27 was in collision with a 1973 Ford van driven by Robert Hicks of Rt. 1, an officer said.
