Western Junior College Athletic teams swept their Northern Conference rivals in first-day action of the women's Region V Basketball Tournament, which began Tuesday at Scurry County Coliseum.

South Plains knocked off fifth-ranked Grayson County College 62-58 while Frank Phillips whipped Hill College 94-68. Odessa beat Cisco 78-72 and Howard College topped McLennan Community College 87-81.

Tonight, Frank Phillips squares off against Odessa at 7 p.m. and Howard meets South Plains at 9 p.m. The women's championship game is scheduled for Thursday at 7 p.m.

Thursday also marks the opening of the men's Region V Tournament. Odessa plays hill at noon Thursday, followed by Howard and Texas State Technical Institute of Waco at 2 p.m., New Mexico JC and McLennan at 5 p.m. and South Plains and Grayson at 9 p.m.

The men's tournament continues with semifinals Wednesday and the championship game at 7 p.m. Saturday.

Lawmakers angered over Cavazos remarks

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas lawmakers advocating additional funds for education reform were furious, some so angry that they left a hearing, when U.S. Secretary of Education Lauro Cavazos told them more money isn't the answer.

"Money is not the only answer. It is clearly not the answer to the education deficit," Cavazos told a joint House-Senate meeting Tuesday.

"I don't mean to deny that some schools in some districts might need additional resources, but the real answer lies in better utilization of existing resources," he told the lawmakers.

Three Democratic state lawmakers left in the middle of the speech by Cavazos, a native Texan and former president of Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

The Legislature is meeting in special session to work out a new funding scheme for public education in Texas. The Texas Supreme Court struck down the current funding scheme after finding major disparities between public schools in property-rich and property-poor areas.

Sen. Hector Uribe, D-Brownsville, left with Reps. Paul Moreno, D-El Paso, and Gregory Luna, D-San Antonio, before Cavazos finished his speech to the Legislature.

"I'm angry at what Cavazos had to say," said Uribe. "He has wound up being a mouthpiece for the Bush administration and nothing more."

"That wasn't a speech for education, that was an apology for Republican policy," said Sen. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur. (see LAWMAKERS, page 9)

Local girl wins title at Houston

An 18-year-old Snyder girl's heavyweight Hereford steer won the breed championship of the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo last Friday and brought $25,000 in the show sale.

Rana Eicke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Eicke of Rt. 2, had won the breed championship with her 1,245-pound steer, "Cooler," at the Scurry County Junior Livestock in January.

The 4-H Club member had been competing in the Houston show since age 11 "one of her lifelong dreams was to go to the Astrodome," said her mother Tuesday.

Seventeen breed champions and 17 reserves competed Friday night in the Astrodome after the breed winners had been selected Friday morning, and the boy who showed and sold the overall grand champion, Ryan Jeffery of McCaulley, took home the awesome amount of $181,000 for his animal — a Limousin.

"It's the Superbowl of stock shows, the biggest one in Texas," Mrs. Eicke said. "It has the highest prices, and it's the one that everyone wants to do well (see EICKE, page 9)

Three places still without candidate as filing date nears

With less than a week left in the filing period for city council, college and school trustees, three board positions have yet to generate a candidate.

No one has yet filed for District 1 on the Snyder school board, Place 1 on the Ira school board, or District 3 on the Snyder City Council.

The filing deadline is Monday, March 12, for the elections, which will be held May 5.

District 1 on the SISD board of trustees is currently held by Ygnacio Benitez, who recently moved into District 5 and is therefore ineligible to file for reelection. District 5 representative Ann Walton and District 4 representative Billy Bob McMullan have filed for another term and are currently running unopposed.

Bo Robinson is the Place 1 representative on the Ira school board which still has no candidate. Place 2 on the board is held by Kirby Sterling, who has filed for another term. Place 3 incumbent Jim Wilson does not plan to file but Carl Smith has filed as a candidate for the position. Currently, both Sterling and Smith are unopposed.

Joe Coronado represents District 3 on the local city council, the other board position in the county that has no candidate at present. Other incumbents on the council, Ernest Tippens, Ralph Williamson and Jack K. "Jackie" Greene Jr. represent Districts 1, 2 and 4 respectively and have all filed for another term. They are also unopposed at this time.

Jimmy Hudgins and Brian Blair are incumbents on the Hermleigh school board whose terms are expiring. Blair has filed while Hudgins has not. Also filing for one of the two at-large positions is Jimmy Frank Roemisch Jr.

Western Texas College Place 2 trustee Roy Baze has indicated he will not seek another term. Two men have filed for the position — Carl Williams and William R. "Bill" Hibbs. The Place 2 spot is the only contested race among the five boards in the county that will be holding elections May 5.

Place 1 on the college board is also up for re-election and incumbent Bill Wilson Jr. has filed as (see BOARDS, page 9)

Appraisal board okays 2 equipment purchases

Scurry County Appraisal District directors Monday approved two equipment purchases and heard chief appraiser Ray Peveler discuss new state record-keeping requirements that have put additional paperwork burden on the district.

The directors approved Peveler's proposal to buy a used digitizer board for $2,000, about half the price of a new one, to be used in the 2612 College Ave. office's computer mapping department.

They also okayed the purchase of an $850 filing cabinet, the necessity of which Peveler said has been created by the new state record-keeping law.

He said the digitizer will be purchased from Peter Kelemen of Abilene, who has sold the district other used mapping equipment, and the filing cabinet will be purchased from a local office supply company.

Peveler said state officials are "just piling it higher and deeper, but we will do what they say."

Under the requirements of a state law passed last year, the district will have to microfilm and deliver to the State Property Tax Board its complete list of tax rolls, he noted.

Peveler said the district will have to designate an official record keeper by June 1.

The 50-minute meeting was attended by directors Mickey Sterling of Lake J.B. Thomas, Julius Roemisch of Hermleigh and John Reed and Bill Voss, both of Snyder. Doug Flynn was absent.

UIL practice meet set here Saturday

Students from as many as 20 area high schools will compete in the second Brock Memorial Invitational Speech Tournament this Saturday at Western Texas College.

Awards will be presented to the top three finalists in each of the eight events. In addition, a sweepstakes award will be presented to the school scoring the most winning points.

Registration will begin at 7:30 a.m. in the lobby of the Fine Arts Theatre and an opening assembly will be held at 8 a.m.

The competition is a practice meet to prepare students for their upcoming University Interscholastic League (UIL) district, regional and state meets.

Competition will be held in informative speaking, persuasive speaking, prose interpretation, poetry interpretation, ready writing, cross-examination debate, LD debate, duet acting and literary criticism.

Director of the tournament will be Jan McCathern, speech instructor at the college.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "People who blow a fuse deserve to be in the dark."

Ivy McLemore, sports editor of the Houston Post, recently published Basketball Scrapbook, which tells the history of Texas high school basketball.

The book contains a history of the game in Texas along with facts concerning the state tournament held each year in Austin.

It's been 10 years since Coach George Byerly took the Snyder Tigers into the state tournament, and the new book has an action shot of the 1980 championship game which Snyder lost to Beaumont Hebert, 88-53. Shown defending a jump shot was Snyder senior Chris Seale. To advance to the finals, Snyder edged Waxahachie, 65-62, on Thursday night.

The first state basketball tournament was held in 1921, and only 30 years earlier had the game been invented by Dr. James Naismith, a PE instructor at a YMCA Training School in Springfield, Mass. Peach baskets were used for goals and the height of 10 feet was chosen because that was the height of the balcony to which the goals were attached. Rules first called for nine players on each team because the YMCA had 18 male students.

Nearby Lamesa and its long-time coach, O.W. Follis, were listed in the Texas High School Basketball Hall of Fame. Lamesa has three state championships and the 1960 team's photo is in the scrapbook and a member of that team was Tommy Doyle, now a coach in Snyder. When Follis retired, he had 857 victories, but the winningest coach is Bill Kruegar of Clear Lake with 921 victories.

The tiny school of Snook had its share of space in the book and the East Texas school holds several records including a 120-point triumph over Normangee in 1966 and 90 consecutive victories that spanned from 1964-66.

Before the depression, few high schools had indoor gyms. A few die-hard fans will remember the tiny Gregory Gym into which almost 8,000 fans could be jammed. Beginning in 1977, the Super Drum, now the Frank Erwin Center, has been the home of the state tournament. This spacious facility holds 17,000.

Thursday at WTC...

Barber to speak here

Pat Barber, candidate for Court of Criminal Appeals judge Place 3, will speak at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Fine Arts Theatre at Western Texas College.

Barber, a Colorado City attorney, will be running against incumbent Bill White in the March 13 Democratic primary election.

Following brief remarks by Barber, Thursday's session will be open for questions from the audience. Barber's appearance was arranged by the WTC political science class. He was the only candidate for state office able to attend the session.

The Court of Criminal Appeals is one of the two highest courts in the state. It hears criminal appeals while the Texas Supreme Court hears civil matters. Barber will discuss briefly the work of the Court of Criminal Appeals and its importance to Texas residents.

In Brief

Saudi funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nancy Reagan's war on drugs got $2 million from Saudi Arabians at a time when the Reagan administration was considering a weapons sale to the Saudis, according to published reports.

The two donations provided more than half of the money raised for Mrs. Reagan's anti-drug fund. The Washington Post reported today.

The New Republic magazine also carries the story in an issue going to press this week.

Atwater news

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Party chairman Lee Atwater will undergo treatment for a benign growth on the right side of his brain and his doctor says he should be back at work next week.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Productivity in the manufacturing sector of the nation's economy grew by 2.8 percent last year, but overall productivity in the non-farm sector improved by just 0.9 percent for the worst showing since 1982, the government said today.

Top U.S. spy plane to retire

CHANTILLY, Va. (AP) — The SR-71 Blackbird spy plane, star of American aerial snooping for 25 years, didn't look like museum material on its record-setting final coast-to-coast flight that took just over an hour.

But it soon will be, to the regret of some admirers.

"This is one of the first victims of the effort to scale back defense," Sen. John Warner, R-Va., said Tuesday after Blackbird No. 17972 marked its retirement by whizzing from Los Angeles to Washington, D.C. in record time of 68 minutes, 17 seconds — not counting time for takeoff and landing. It also set four other speed marks along the 2,404-mile route.

The Air Force is donating the plane to the Smithsonian Institution, which plans to display it here at the Washington Dulles International Airport wing of the National Air and Space Museum.

The full Blackbird fleet was officially retired two months ago.

Warner, the ranking Republican on the Senate Armed Services Committee, said the Blackbird is still unmatched as a technological wonder, but is being assigned to the junk heap because of a growing perception in the United States that military spending must be reduced as East-West tensions ease.

"I cannot honestly say this is a happy day for me," said Ben Rich, the Lockheed Aeronautical System Co. executive who helped design the black, dagger-shaped plane.

Rich said he had only one parting sentiment: "Bye-bye, Blackbird."

Congress, in agreeing last fall with the Air Force's decision to retire the twin-engine Blackbirds, said advances in technology enable satellites to do similar work more cheaply than the spy plane, which first entered service in 1964.

Doubts about the decision remain.

George Carver Jr., an intelligence specialist at the Center for Strategic and International Studies in Washington, said in a telephone interview that he doubted the wisdom of "giving up an asset that has been extremely useful" in providing intelligence data.

The Blackbird's coast-to-coast dash easily eclipsed the previous time record of 3 hours, 38 minutes, set in 1963 by a Boeing 707.

The spy plane took a running start, refueling over the Pacific Ocean at 60,000 feet before heading east from the California coastline and crossing its finish line near Salisbury, Md., said Malvern Gross, president of the National Aeronautic Association, which certifies aviation records.

The Blackbird then refueled before cruising in to Dulles Airport.

Dear Abby

Marriages Don't Mean Money For Minister Who's Undervalued

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1990 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I need someone to explain something to me; perhaps your readers could help. The story goes like this:

The bride was beautiful in her $900 gown. The photographer charged $830, and she didn't bat an eye. The florist insisted on his $360 in advance. The organist was only fair, but worth the $50 she was paid. The dinner was said to be delicious and expensive. The minister who gladly gave 13 hours of his time, helping to plan the ceremony, counsel the couple and conduct the two-hour rehearsal to which everybody was late, came to the church an hour and a half early so pictures could be taken beforehand — all in spite of the fact that neither the bride nor groom, nor any members of their families, belonged to his church. He was paid $20.

Abby, if this were the exception, I would chalk it up to one insensitive, ungrateful couple, but this is not the exception — it is the rule. It has happened to me scores of times during my career in the ministry, so it appears to be the accepted way of doing things. It may not be intended as an insult, but it certainly feels like one. Can you understand this?

PUZZLED IN WICHITA

DEAR PUZZLED: I can understand this happening 40 years ago, but today, a minister cannot have his suit cleaned and pressed, get a haircut and pay to gas up his car to get him to the church and back for $20. Today, a $100 bill for his services would seem meager.

asked my teacher how to spell "humungous" and she told me to look it up in the dictionary. I tried, but I couldn't find it anywhere. Abby, if you don't know how to spell a word, how are you supposed to find it in the dictionary? Please help me.

RHIANNON

DEAR RHIANNON: That is a very good question. Begin by doing some hit-and-miss detective work. Try to find it by looking in the "h's" and guessing how you think it is spelled. If you can't find it, you've guessed wrong, so try spelling it another way. You may have to make four, five or six guesses.

(By this time, you have probably discovered that the word you are looking for is spelled h-u-m-o-n-g-o-u-s.)

DEAR ABBY: "A Student in New Jersey" should lighten up. "Student" states that dogs are trained, and nurses are educated. (You had referred to trained nurses.)

My dictionary defines the word "train" as: subject to discipline and instruction; to make proficient.

That seems to be an appropriate word to use in connection with any profession. I consider myself trained, as are some of my canine patients — only in different skills.

Former directors are convicted

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Two former directors of Prisoner's Defense Committee of the Civil Rights Center have been convicted of making phony driver's licenses and using them to cash stolen Social Security checks.

John Valdez Martinez, 52, and Paula Fowler Bushon, 45, both of San Antonio were found guilty Tuesday on seven counts, including conspiracy to receive and conceal stolen U.S. Treasury checks, possession of stolen mail, production of counterfeit driver's licenses and aiding and abetting.

Testimony revealed that Martinez and Bushon had stolen Social Security checks in their possession in May 1988, and that Bushon made fake driver's licenses in the name of the people named on the checks.

Playing in a fog

By James Jacoby

It was Willy Nilly's last deal of the evening, and he was a little tired. He had been declarer a dozen times during the game and had misplayed eight hands, going set five times in contracts he should have made. Undaunted, he opened one no-trump, and equally undaunted, his partner raised him to game. On the opening heart lead, Willy went right up with dummy's queen. When East put up the king, Willy pursed his lips and shrewdly played low. Just possibly the lead might be from a six-card suit, and the club ace might be in the hand with only two hearts. That was wishful thinking. East played a second heart. Declarer won and played a club. East took the ace, and now another heart let West take enough tricks to set the contract. That made Willy declarer 13 times that evening, going set six times in contracts that should have been made.

In fairness to Willy, even he would have got it right before exhaustion set in. For the best shot at making three no-trump, he should play low from dummy at the first trick. East would play the 10, won by Willy's ace. But now, when East won the club ace, the queen of hearts would loom large in dummy as a stopper. Declarer would have nine tricks before West had the opportunity of leading through dummy's heart queen again.

Tot placed in grandmother's custody

EVERMAN, Texas (AP) — A woman charged in the alcohol poisoning death of her 5-year-old son was freed from jail Tuesday but forbidden to see her surviving child without state supervision.

Patricia Griffin, 31, posted a $10,000 bond Tuesday night, hours after a state juvenile court judge ruled that her 2-year-old son, Rashad, should live with his grandmother. The state continues legal guardianship of the boy.

Ms. Griffin will be allowed supervised visits with her son, probably at a state Department of Human Services office, officials said.

Rashad was taken from his mother's home last Wednesday after his 5-year-old brother Raymond died.

Police said Raymond suffered irreversible brain damage after being encouraged by an adult to drink 10 ounces of bourbon at a neighborhood gathering Feb. 25. He lapsed into a coma and died after life support systems were shut off.

Ms. Griffin was arrested Monday on a charge of injury to a child by gross negligence, a third degree felony that carries a maximum 10-year prison term. Everman police have said she failed to seek prompt medical attention for Raymond, who was not taken to a hospital until almost 12 hours after he began having convulsions.

Doctors said Raymond had a blood alcohol content of .55 percent, five times the legal definition for intoxication in Texas.

Two women arrested in kidnapping of infant

DEL RIO, Texas (AP) — Two Houston area women were being held by federal authorities today in connection with the kidnapping of a Mexican infant allegedly snatched from her grandmother in a Piedras Negras grocery store, federal authorities say.

The women, 27 and 23, are from Pasadena and are unemployed and lived in the same apartment complex, officials said.

A U.S. Border Patrol spokesman in Eagle Pass said the 23-year-old allegedly was in a grocery store in Piedras Negras

Tuesday afternoon when she was holding her granddaughter Claudia Topacio Ortega, 6 months.

Tigers pound 'Cats 14-3 in baseball tilt

SAN ANGELO — Snyder's baseball Tigers moved their season record to 4-1 Tuesday with a convincing 14-3 win over the Central Bobcats.

Soccer season starts for SSA

Snyder Soccer Association kicked-off the spring season with games Saturday and Monday.

In the under six division winners included the Raiders, the Flames, the Buffaloes, the Little Tigers, the Little Cubs and the Spurs on Saturday.

On Monday the under 8 girls' team, the Red Hots, were winners.

It has been established by the association that scores will not be reported from the under six and under eight games to keep the competitiveness out of the game for the younger players according to secretary Janet Polk.

The soccer association boasts 33 teams for the new season including 12 under six teams, 6 under eight boys' teams, three under eight girls' teams, seven under 10 boys' teams, one under 10 girls' team, two under 12 teams, and one team each in the under 14 and under 16 boys' divisions.

had a good day at the plate.

Central started out with a 2-0 lead but that was quickly changed as the Tigers romped for five runs in the second and two more in the third before the 'Cats scored again in the fourth.

Snyder added a pair of scores in the fifth and five more in the top of the seventh inning before the game was called because of lightning.

Tommy Larfe started the game on the hill for the Tigers and gave way to reliever Jamey Morton in the fifth inning.

Morton fanned four of the six hitters he faced and the two pitchers combined to allow just four hits.

Morton aided his cause with a bases-loaded triple in the seventh.

Mark King, who had a double against CHS, and Bert Merritt were both three for four at the plate while Jason West went two of four and Toby Goodwin got a pair of hits on five at-bats.

Snyder will face the Lamesa Golden Tornados in a 1 p.m. contest at Moffett Field Saturday.

Owners, Union still firm on arbitration

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball players and owners spent 6½ hours talking, and there was some movement on issues by the time they adjourned early today. Both sides, however, held their positions on salary arbitration and there's still no agreement in sight.

Negotiations took on added urgency Tuesday as the six-owner Player Relations Committee and about half of the union's 17-player negotiating group came to New York. The sides agree that camps must open by Monday if the season is to start as scheduled on April 2. Owners canceled their quarterly meeting, scheduled for Thursday in Dallas, so that negotiations wouldn't be interrupted.

Talks continue today, the 21st day of the lockout, following another meeting of the PRC.

The sides met for the first time since Feb. 24 and narrowed some issues, but made no headway on arbitration eligibility. The union had been demanding that eligibility be given to players with two years of major-league service, but on Tuesday said it would accept a compromise that would allow only some two-plus players to be eligible.

"If anybody thinks there is an agreement in sight, that is not right," union chief Donald Fehr said during a post-midnight news conference.

Owners offered to restore rosters to 25 players beginning in 1991, increased their offer on minimum salary by $5,000 to $90,000 and increased their benefit contribution from an average of $44.86 million to $50 million a year.

But they angered the union by proposing elimination of the 20 percent maximum salary cut rule for players in arbitration, by withdrawing a plan that would have minor leaguers go through reverse waivers before they could return to the majors, and by proposing that the minor-league salary minimum be lowered from its traditional value of one-third of the big-league low.

Gathers' memorial service in coliseum

LOS ANGELES (AP) — About 5,000 people — family members, friends and schoolmates — accorded Hank Gathers one last, resounding ovation in Albert Gersten Pavilion, the gymnasium where he played his last game.

The noise broke the solemnity of a memorial mass for the 23-year-old Loyola Marymount star, who died Sunday after collapsing during a West Coast Conference tournament game.

Bo Kimble, Gathers' teammate and best friend from their days together in a Philadelphia housing project, said his buddy would have smiled.

"I know Hank would want to hear one more cheer here in his house," Kimble said as Gathers' mother, Lucille, ran from her seat to hug him.

Gathers' silver casket, draped with red roses and white carnations, was at one end of the basketball court where he became one of the nation's finest players. Sitting nearby were Gathers' mother, two brothers, a sister and an aunt.

Kimble, who played high school basketball with Gathers, recalled his friend's love for the game, and said he would draw from his teammate's enthusiasm.

"Every time I pick up a basketball for the rest of my life, Hank will be there with me," he said. "Every jump shot, every 3-pointer, Hank is now a part of me."

"It's so difficult right now to be here speaking of my beloved friend and brother. Hank, I love you so much, you mean the world to me."

The Rev. Thomas Higgins, a member of the university staff, remembered Gathers as a stirring player who battled to overcome an impoverished background. Since December, Gathers had also battled cardiac arrhythmia, which caused him to miss three weeks of the season while being tested and given medication.

After reciting a passage from Shakespeare's "Hamlet," Hig-

Fishing club meets at SNB

The March meeting for the Snyder Bass Club is set for Thursday at Snyder National Bank.

The month-long tournament winners will be determined at the meeting and prize checks will be awarded.

The club has announced that the March tournament will be held at Lake Colorado City March 10 and 11.

Entry fee for the event is $15. The Colorado City tournament will be a "boating only" tournament and contestants will be paired by random drawings.

Fishermen need to be at the State Park ramp by 6:45 Saturday morning for the pairings.

Fishing hours are slated to begin at 7 a.m. and run through 5 p.m. Saturday and will run 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sunday.

gins tailored the words to fit Gathers.

"What a piece of work was Hank," Higgins said. "Hank was a very bright, intelligent man. He didn't have many educational advantages. It took courage to go to class, but Hank was a hero every day."

Again citing Shakespeare, Higgins said, "In action, how like an angel, except for free throws."

Higgins led the crowd in a chant which grew louder and louder: "We love you Hank. We miss you Hank. We commend you to God."

Lucille Gathers was comforted through most of the service by the Rev. David Hagan, a family confidante who had been her son's grade school mentor in Philadelphia.

Hagan said he hoped a memorial would be set up for Gathers' family and that Gersten Pavilion would someday be called Hank's House.

Albert Gersten Jr., the real estate developer who built the gym and named it after his father, suggested "Hank Gathers Basketball Court" or "Hank's Place" as possibilities for signs beneath the name Gersten Pavilion.

Loyola coach Paul Westhead told the mourners: "For all of us to go on, that is the task. For Hank, the decision would be simple: Clear the floor. He would play today."

The Rev. James Loughran was the celebrant of the 90-minute memorial Mass.

During the service, Gathers' scarlet and white jersey, No. 44, and a photograph of him making a slam dunk were presented to the family by the Loyola players.

A services for Gathers is scheduled Monday at Emmanuel Institutional Baptist Church in Philadelphia. Prior to the service, a viewing will be held from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Junior high meet is slated

Snyder Junior High track team members will host their own track meet this week as the seventh and eighth grade boys and girls compete Friday, beginning at 4 p.m. in Tiger Stadium.

Teams SJHS will face in the meet include Andrews, Sweetwater and Big Spring.

Snyder's seventh and eighth grade girls notched a third place finish in Big Spring last weekend while the junior high boys competed there, also.

Taffy Greenwood's 15½" leap in the long jump and Vicki Green's 29.99 second time in the 200 meter dash earned Snyder a pair of first place finishes in the girls' meet.

Sulovan Daniels set a new school record in the 100 meter dash with an 11.3 second run and Bryan Gant went up 10 feet to grab first place for the eighth grade boys in the pole vault.

SPC upends No. 5 Lady Vikes, 62-58

South Plains College upset Northern Junior College Athletic Conference champion and No. 5 ranked Grayson College, 62-58, in a first round game Tuesday in Scurry County Coliseum.

Did Lady Texans' coach Lyndon Hardin consider the outcome an upset?

"Yes, you'd have to." "They came in with a 30-1 record and a national ranking and we're the fourth place team from our conference."

Carol Bailey took over for the Lady Texans in the second half scoring 21 points and playing tenacious defense.

Bailey's total led South Plains on the evening.

All-WJCAC player and conference co-MVP, Brownfield's Sheryl Swoopes, nailed 18 points followed by Charlotte Benford and Deborah Williams with eight points each.

The Lady Vikings were led offensively by Monica Norman who registered 21 points in the tilt.

South Plains upsets No. 5 Grayson in Tuesday cage action

By PHIL RIDDLE
SDN Sports Editor
While most of Tuesday's opening games in the women's Region V National Junior College Athletic Association tournament at Scurry County Coliseum were close, the dominance of the Western Conference over the Northern Conference was plain as WJCAC teams swept all four of the first round contests. The only game that was really a blowout was the tourney opener pitting Frank Phillips against Hill College. Hill was no match for the Lady Plainsmen, who, led by conference co-MVP 6-4 Patricia McDonald at center, demolished the Lady Rebels 94-68.

In other games Odessa edged Cisco 78-72 after being down by 12 points at the half and South Plains upset Northern Conference top seed Grayson, 62-58. The Lady Vikings were ranked No. 5 nationally heading into the regional tourney.

Howard overcame a four-point halftime deficit to knock off McLennan Community College, 87-81 to complete the sweep in Tuesday's nightcap.

The four Western Conference wins set up an all WJCAC semi-final round today as Frank Phillips battles Odessa at 7 p.m. and Howard faces South Plains at 9 p.m.

The two winning squads will meet Thursday at 7 p.m. for the tournament championship.

The regional winners get an automatic bid to the 16-team national tournament held in Tyler March 19-24.

FPC rips past Hill in tourney opener

Frank Phillips College had an easy time in Tuesday's opening round of the NJCAA women's Region V basketball tournament here with a 94-68 trouncing of Northern Junior College Conference fourth seed, Hill Junior College.

The Lady Plainsmen, the Western Conference first place team with a 25-2 record coming into the tourney, were paced by All-Conference and WJCAC MVP Pat McDonald with 18 points.

Freshman guard Muriel Pierau also scored 18 for the FPC women followed by the other guard, Lynette Barber, and post Paulette King with 17 points each.

Hill's Lady Rebels kept the contest closed for the first few minutes of the game but a 10-0 run by Frank Phillips boosted the Lady Plainsmen to a 20-9 advantage with 13:02 to go in the first half.

Hill pulled back to within seven, 26-19, on a bucket by Mabank sophomore Amy Hyde with nine and a half minutes in the half and narrowed the gap to 27-21 on a driving lay-up by Jennifer Donovan of Haltom City.

Frank Phillips knuckled down and went on an 18-8 tear that cleared any doubt about the game's outcome by halftime.

The Lady Plainsmen went up by 20 points early in the second half as Pierau drove the paint for a bucket and a 59-39 lead.

Frank Phillips moves to a record of 26-2 on the season while the Lady Rebels end their season at 11-17.

Howard loses star in NJCAA regional Howard's Lady Hawks got some good news and some bad news in Tuesday's first round game against McLennan Community College.

The good news for HC was they won the first round regional tournament game, 87-81 in a comeback effort that saw them make up a four-point halftime deficit to take the win.

The bad news was the loss of star freshman Kim Robinson to a knee injury during the first half.

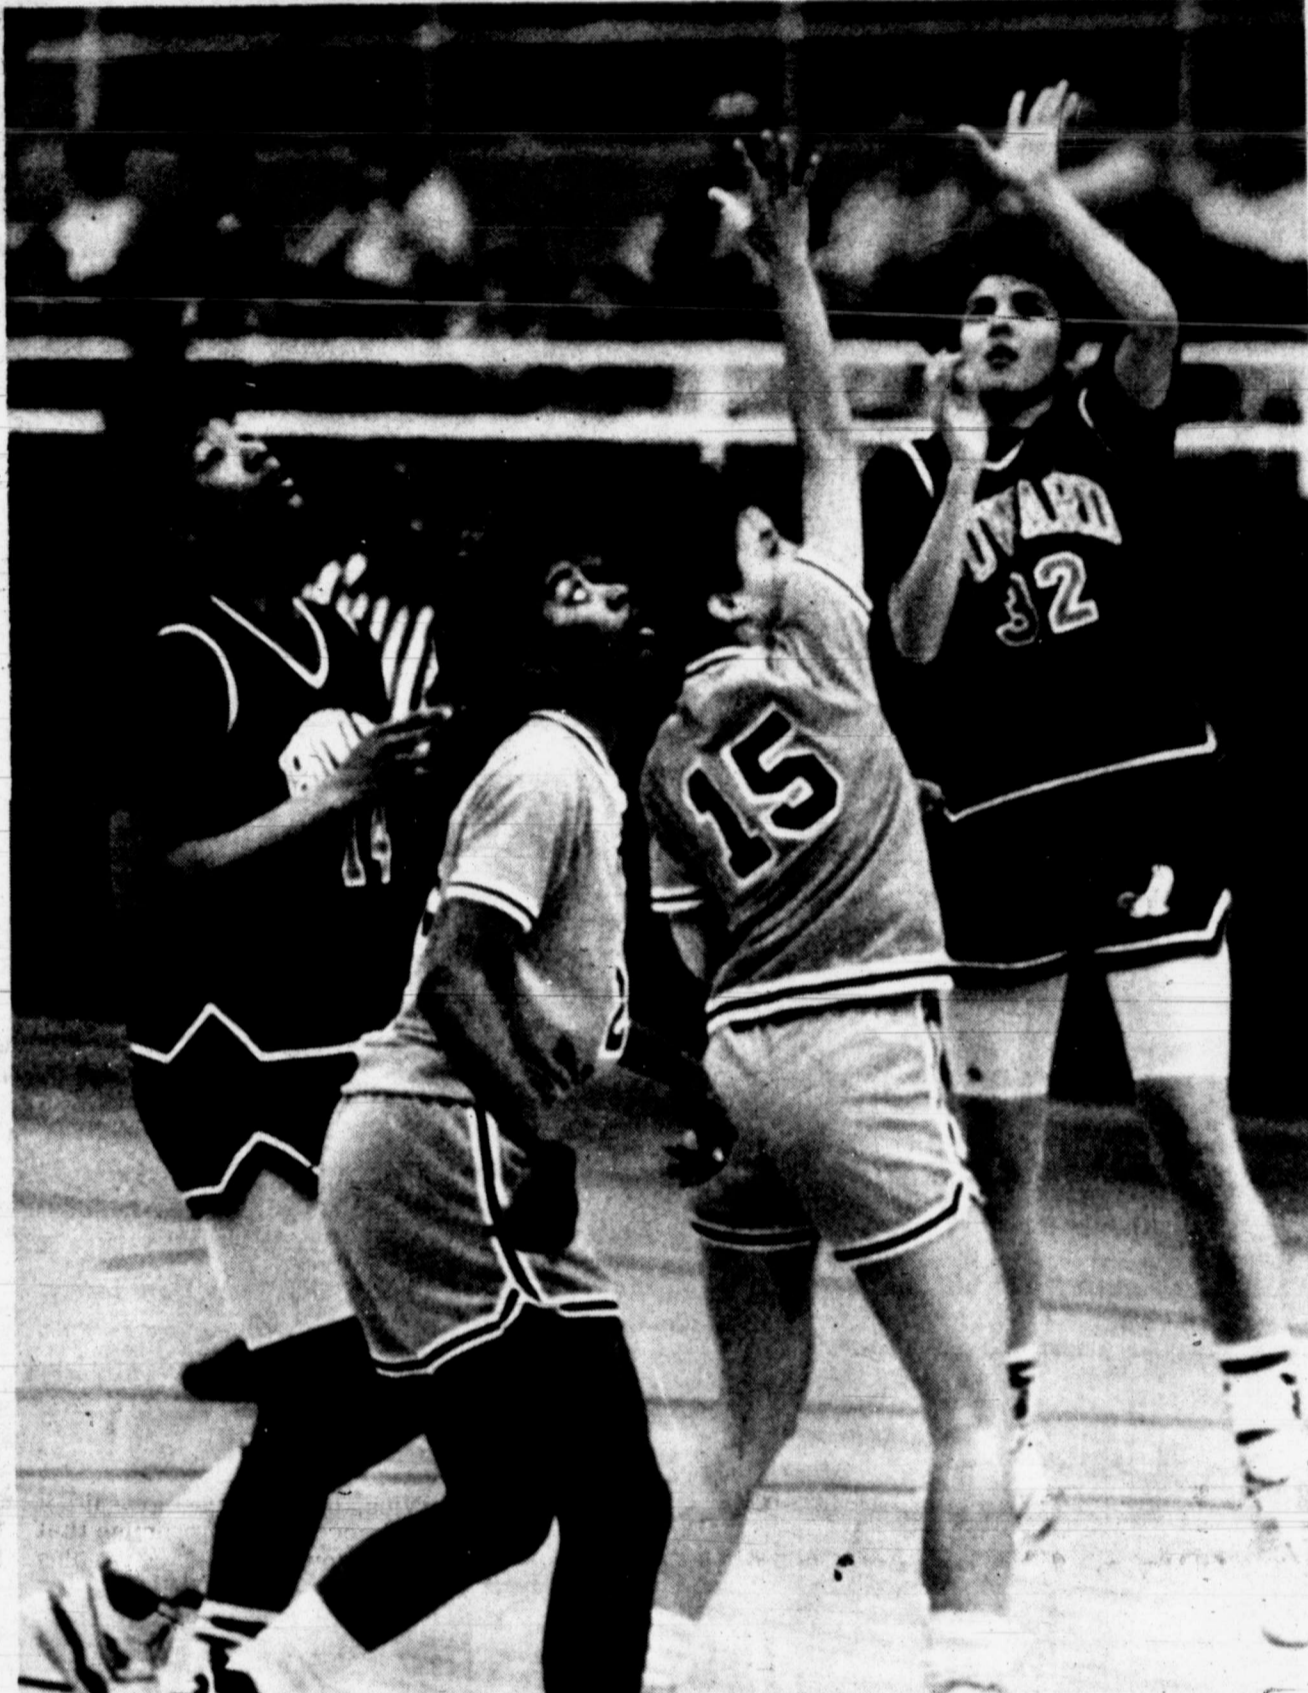

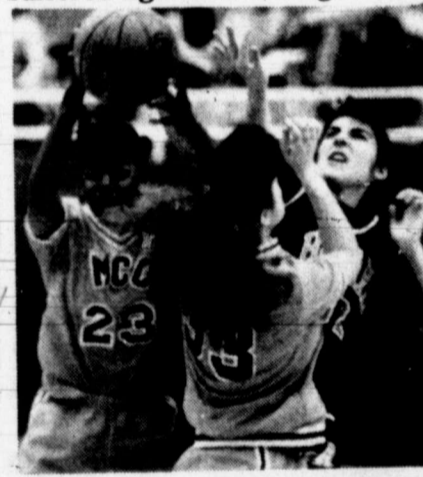

Robinson was reported to have suffered ligament damage to her right knee.

"She is one of our best players," said Lady Hawks' coach Royce Chadwick.

"I don't think we ever regained our concentration after she went out."

They kept enough composure to fight off a scrappy squad from MCC and take a 13-point, 81-68 lead in the game's final minutes on a pair of free-throws from Linda Waters.

Waters outscored all other players in the game with a 22-point performance.

Semi-final games scheduled

FPC plays Odessa and Howard meets South Plains

Tonight at 7 p.m. the semi-final round of the women's NJCAA Region V tournament tips off in Scurry County Coliseum with Frank Phillips College meeting Odessa College.

The 9 p.m. contest matches Howard College against South Plains College.

Frank Phillips moves into the second round with a 94-68 pounding of Northern Conference fourth seed Hill Junior College Tuesday while Odessa had to come from a 12-point hole at the half to beat NJCAC second place Cisco Junior College.

Howard will probably be without the services of Slaton freshman Kim Robinson who suffered a knee injury in Tuesday's 87-81 defeat of McLennan.

The Lady Hawks will battle South Plains who made the WJCAC sweep complete with a 62-58 upset of No. 5 Grayson College in the tournament's first round.

Steve Garvey, the winner of the 1974 MVP Award in the National League, made 200 hits or more in a season six times.

The Howard-SPC contest begins at 9 p.m. tonight. The men's division of the tournament begins at noon tomorrow with first round games scheduled all day.

League clears up statistics problem

HOUSTON (AP) — Circumstances surrounding Akeem Olajuwon's disallowed quadruple-double have been resolved to the satisfaction of the NBA, league vice president Rod Thorn says.

Thorn also said Tuesday that the Rockets would not be fined for changing Olajuwon's statistics in Saturday's 129-109 victory over Golden State to show he had a quadruple double. Olajuwon led the Rockets with 29 points, 18 rebounds and 11 blocked shots against the Warriors.

He was awarded nine assists in the original box score but a revised box later gave him 10 assists and a quadruple-double, a feat accomplished only two other times in NBA history.

CJC drops 12-point lead in loss to OC

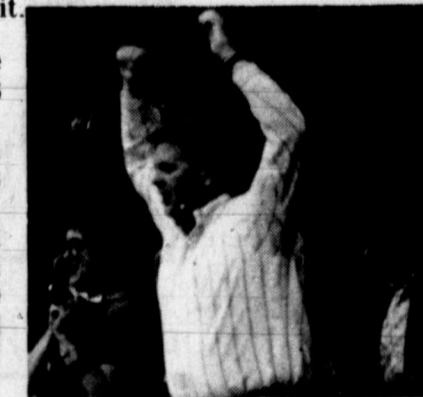

The Lady Wranglers from Cisco Junior College put a scare into Odessa College's Lady Wranglers in first round action of the women's NJCAA regional tournament in Snyder Tuesday.

Odessa finally notched a 78-72 win over CJC but they had to come from a 40-28 halftime deficit to do it.

A 17-4 streak by OC early in the second half gave them a 51-46 lead.

The run was capped by a bucket in the paint from Giddings sophomore Patricia Rivers.

"We didn't really overlook them," said Odessa coach Ken Hefner of Cisco, "we just made some mental errors and defensive mistakes that put us in a hole in the first half."

Cisco came to within three, 75-72, with just over a minute to go in the game on two shots from the line by Duncanville sophomore Leeann Moore but Odessa scored the games last three points to stave off the CJC rally.

Eicke wins breed crown

There was a total of 115 to 120 Herefords in the Herefords' part of the exhibition.

Show judge Harlan Ritchie, an animal science professor at Michigan State University, said Rana's steer was "ideally finished, heavily muscled and has all the features indicating a quality steer."

Rana plans to use the money to help finance her college education. She is currently considering Stephenville and Texas A&M University.

She carried a good luck charm in the show, a rhinestone pin with her name on it, commenting to a show official prior to the grand championship judging, "It has worked so far. Every time I've carried it, I've won."

Then she said afterwards, "It felt really good to win my senior year. My family has been raising steers all my life, and this is a great way to finish my career."

From Gail in nearby Borden County, James Smith's medium-Tarleton State University at weight Hereford placed third in its class in the Houston show.

Rafsanjani says...

Hostage issue to be solved

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — President Hashemi Rafsanjani of Iran today said the problem of the Western hostages held in Lebanon is nearing a solution, the country's official Islamic Republic News Agency reported.

Rafsanjani said Iran was not directly linked to the hostage issue but had pledged to use Iran's influence to seek their freedom.

"My feeling is that the issue of the hostages is moving toward a solution," Rafsanjani was quoted as saying.

He repeated Iran's demands that Western nations help trace Iranian hostages missing in Lebanon and "also reduce their mischievous acts," IRNA said.

Eighteen Westerners, including eight Americans, are missing in Lebanon, most believed held by Shiite Moslem groups loyal to Tehran. The longest held is Terry Anderson, chief Middle East correspondent for The Associated Press, who was abducted March 16, 1985.

Rafsanjani's statements at a news conference followed a series of editorials in English-language newspapers in Tehran saying the hostages should be freed because they were being used as anti-Islamic propaganda. Syrian and other officials also have expressed optimism that the hostages may be freed.

Several newspapers also have said the United States and Iran were negotiating over the fate of the hostages, which Washington has denied.

Rafsanjani denied that any such talks had occurred, according to IRNA, monitored in Nicosia. "There have been no negotiations with the U.S."

The president said the only official talks between the two nations are those carried out under the U.S.-Iran claims tribunal in the Netherlands, under the auspices of the International Court of Justice.

The tribunal is sorting out billions of dollars in claims from contracts broken following the 1979 Islamic revolution.

But he said the U.S. officials "themselves have established contacts with regional governments." That was an apparent reference to U.S. contacts with Syria, which as the main power broker in Lebanon has facilitated past hostage releases. Diplomatic sources in the Syrian capital, Damascus, have said the United States used Syria as an intermediary with Tehran.

Rafsanjani's brother Mahmoud Hashemi, a high-ranking foreign ministry official, was in Damascus this week for meetings with the Syrian foreign minister, Farouk Al-Sharaa.

A Syrian source said the talks were to coordinate policy on getting the hostages released and that Hashemi had arrived from Beirut, where he also discussed the hostage issue with senior Shiite Moslem clergy.

Rafsanjani has indicated the desire to separate Iran from the hostage issue as he seeks Western technology and financing to rebuild Iran's troubled economy. But the factions holding the hostages are said more loyal to radicals in the Tehran government who oppose Rafsanjani, viewing confrontation with the West as the wellspring of the Islamic revolution.

While the Bush administration is not suggesting release is imminent, officials are confirming reports of a flurry of behind-the-scenes talks by officials outside the government.

"We've been talking for a long time to anyone who could have influence, Algerians, Syrians," a U.S. official told The Associated Press in Washington. "We talk to the Iranians through a lot of people. We have talked to enough people that the message has gotten through to the Iranians."

The message, said the official who demanded anonymity, is: "We know you want access to the West. You've said you are against terrorism. We want to see action."

Colombia...

Oil worker kidnapped

HOUSTON (AP) — A Colombian terrorist group is demanding $15 million in ransom for the release of a Colombian national working for a Houston-based company in Bogota.

William Cuero, a native Colombian, is believed to have been abducted by the National Liberation Army, officials with Western Geophysical Co. told the Houston Chronicle.

The company said guerrillas told them the group intended to kidnap an American, but could find none and took Cuero.

Western Geophysical suspended work Monday on an oil exploration project in Bogota and laid off 200 Colombian employees after Cuero was abducted. The employees had been hired as part of a seismic project commissioned by Ecopetrol, the Colombian national oil firm, officials said.

Western Geophysical has refused to pay the ransom and is providing little information on the kidnapping in fear for Cuero's safety, the newspaper reported.

"The more they (terrorists) are in the dark, the better," company spokesman Jaen Lawrence said.

The abduction took place in Magdalena Medio, a tropical central region of the country. No other details were given.

The guerrilla group is headed by former Spaniard priest Manuel Perez, who declared a "total war against American interests" in Colombia two weeks ago.

Western Geophysical is a joint venture of Beverly Hills, Calif.-based Litton and Dallas-based Dresser Industries Inc.

Gordon Barrows, owner of the Barrows Co., a New York-based firm that tracks laws and other data affecting oil companies in foreign countries, estimated more than 100 petroleum company employees have been kidnapped in the past decade in Colombia.

"It's been like this for at least 10 years, and it's getting worse," he said.

Last month, the Liberation Army kidnapped and freed three American hostages.

Lawmakers mad over remarks chairman of the Senate Education Committee.

"I am sorely disappointed that the Secretary of Education doesn't have a better grasp of the problems facing education in this state," said Parker, who is sponsoring legislation that would pump $783 million in additional money into schools in 1990-91.

Others expressed anger and disappointment that Cavazos seemed to side against those pushing for additional state money to address the court ruling.

The legislators said money is not the only answer, but more dollars are needed for the $13.5 billion-a-year Texas public school system, which relies on a combination of state aid, local property taxes and some federal funds.

Rep. Eddie Cavazos, chairman of the House Mexican American Legislative Caucus, said, "Today, unfortunately, was a sad and shameful day for all Hispanics in the state of Texas."

"It seems to me before we educate our children, we need to educate the secretary of education on what the problems are in this state where he was born and educated," said Cavazos, D-Corpus Christi, who is not related to the education secretary.

Lauro Cavazos, who spoke at the Legislature's invitation, said afterwards that he was not trying to make decisions for state lawmakers. But he stood by his statement that for education reform to work, the system must be restructured.

Cavazos suggested that students not be restricted to attending a school in a district in which they reside, and that education management be shifted to the local school level.

Sen. Carlos Truan, D-Corpus Christi, chairman of the Senate Hispanic Caucus, confronted Cavazos after the speech, saying, "You cannot say it's a lack of better usage of the dollars when there are no dollars to speak of to attract the teachers and keep them" in many poor school districts.

Cavazos replied that state lawmakers must make decisions about spending, but added, "What I'm saying is that if you don't put together a package that also restructures education in Texas, there aren't enough dollars in the state of Texas to address this issue."

Gov. Bill Clements, a Republican who has repeatedly vowed to veto any new taxes for school finance reform, applauded Cavazos' comments.

"He's a great educator, he's a great Texan, he's a fine guy," Clements said. "I liked everything he had to say."

"The way we're going about public education in Texas is wrong. We're the victim of bureaucracy. Until we really change our approach to public education in Texas, we're really not going to make any progress," he said.

Garage fire extinguished

Firemen worked for an hour this morning to extinguish a garage fire in the 1700 Block of 28th St. that a department spokesman said was started by children playing with matches.

The call came in at 8 a.m. to the 1710 28th St. garage owned by Bonnie Carroll, and the spokesman said the blaze was confined with only minor damages to the structure.

There were two fires on Santa Fe Railway right of way Tuesday, the first at 2:28 p.m. off the 300 Block of the East Hwy., where firefighters were occupied for 15 minutes.

Then at 2:55 p.m., they were called to five miles east of the city off U.S. 84, where an hour's work was required.

A 9:24 p.m. Tuesday call to the First Baptist Church at 1701 27th St. was to check for the source of some smoke in the building, but the spokesman said a thorough search failed to reveal the source.

Corrected wreck report

It was incorrectly reported Monday that a Snyder man's car had rolled into another car in a supermarket parking lot, when in fact the other car had rolled into his.

A city policeman said today that a parked 1969 Ford owned by Isaac McKnight of 507 35th St. was taken out of gear by some children and rolled into a parked 1978 Chevrolet owned by Steve Hernandez Jr. of 321 30th St. at 4:16 p.m. Saturday in the Furr's supermarket parking lot.

Assault, dog attack are noted

Police Tuesday investigated two assault reports, one in which a Snyder man reported that he had been assaulted by another man and the other in which a man had reportedly been attacked by a dog.

Kenneth Breedlove told officers at 9:13 p.m. that he had been assaulted by a city man in the 100 Block of North College Ave., and Eric Fitzhugh reported at 2:10 p.m. that he had been attacked by a dog in the 4500 Block of Fredonia Ave.

Officers said Breedlove's report would be investigated as a misdemeanor assault and that a vicious dog report would be made concerning the incident involving Fitzhugh.

Neither man required hospital treatment.

Two arrested

Tuesday arrests by city police included a 36-year-old man who was taken into custody for public intoxication and possession of narcotics paraphernalia at 5:30 p.m. in the 2500 Block of 25th St.

A 14-year-old girl was arrested for shoplifting at 6:59 p.m. at Kmart.

The National Broadcasting Co. (NBC) was created by Radio Corp. of America in 1926.

Sickle cell anemia distorts corpuscles

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Please address sickle cell anemia in your column, or let me know where I can get information on treatment, symptoms and prognosis.

DEAR READER: Sickle cell anemia, an inherited disease occurring almost exclusively in blacks, is caused by an abnormal pigment (called hemoglobin S) in red blood cells. This hemoglobin behaves peculiarly in the presence of low blood-oxygen, leading to distortion of red blood corpuscles.

Instead of maintaining their circular, automobile-tire configuration, the blood cells assume the shape of tiny sickles. Such sickled cells are unable to withstand the normal mechanical trauma of circulation, so they plug small arteries and disintegrate. This produces anemia and tissue damage.

The amount of sickling depends on the severity of the inherited disorder; that is, the amount of hemoglobin S in the red blood cells. In mild forms, little or no damage results from the anemia. However, severe forms are life-threatening, because the anemia and tissue damage are extreme.

The range of symptoms includes jaundice, weakness, lassitude, attacks of severe abdominal pain, sore joints, susceptibility to infection, liver disorders, and progressive decline in kidney and lung function. In rare cases, patients exhibit a stroke-like syndrome, consisting of paralysis, headache and other neurological disturbances.

The diagnosis is established by analysis of a patient's hemoglobin, using a test called hemoglobin electrophoresis. This permits doctors to determine which types of hemoglobin are present in red blood cells and the amount of each type.

Because hemoglobin S causes problems in the presence of low oxygen, sickle cell patients often must avoid flying, scuba diving, living at high altitudes and other situations that can precipitate an acute disintegration of red blood cells ("sickle crisis").

Although sickle cell anemia itself is untreatable by present methods, therapy is available for painful and dangerous sickle crises. This includes increased fluid intake, oral pain medication, transfusions (only if the anemia is severe), oxygen, rest and watchful waiting. Several medicines, such as hydroxyurea, have been reported to stimulate the production of (non-sickling) hemoglobin, but these drugs have hazardous side effects, such as tumors.

Most experts urge patients with sickle cell anemia to have genetic counseling, so the risk of transferring the genetic trait to future generations will be minimized.
