SPC wins ladies' title; men's event warms up

South Plains College wrapped up one basketball crown here and made progress towards a possible sweep as Region V tournament action continued Thursday at Scurry County Coliseum.

Coach Lyndon Hardin's Lady Texans nipped Odessa College 58-57 in a thriller to win the women's Region V title and a berth to nationals. Immediately afterward, South Plains men opened their bid in first-round action of the men's tournament with a 76-65 victory over Grayson County College.

In other first-round men's games, Odessa drubbed Hill County 81-62, Howard College spanked TSTI Waco 115-86 and McLennan Community College of Waco outlasted New Mexico JC, 95-87.

Second-round men's action continues today with Odessa and South Plains facing off at 7 p.m., followed by Howard and McLennan at 9 p.m. The men's championship game is set for 7 p.m. Saturday. Tickets are $5 for tonight's two-game session and also $5 for the championship game.

SISD board approves 199 teacher contracts

Snyder public schools board of trustees approved contracts for almost 200 instructors, okayed coaching supplement guidelines, and accepted a bid for $14,800 to resurface eight tennis courts at the junior high school during its regular meeting Thursday.

The board also heard a report on the district's special education program from Barbara Granato, ordered the May 5 board election and handled several other agenda items.

Trustees, who met in executive session prior to the 7 p.m. meeting, approved 146 one-year renewals for term contracts in the district. They also okayed 54 one-year extensions on continuing contracts, awarded 13 contracts to instructors completing two-year probationary contracts and approved contracts for three teachers whose one-year probationary periods were ending.

Teachers who have been employed for at least five of the eight years prior to initial employment in the district are required to be on probation for only one year.

The board also approved the continuation of 24 two-year probationary contracts for those who have served one year.

Some 199 contracts were before the board and all were approved unanimously.

The board also accepted resignations from six elementary school instructors. They are Vestal Maner, first grade teacher retiring from Stanfield; Donald Gressett, sixth grade teacher retiring from West; Johnnie Harber, fifth grade teacher retiring from West; Elizabeth Wilson, librarian retiring from North; Donna Bailey, kindergarten teacher at Stanfield who is moving to Midland; and Kathy Landes, speech therapist at North, who is going to work for her husband.

Coaching assignments were to be approved by the board Thursday but Superintendent

Dalton Moseley indicated they would come before the board at a later date. Coaching salary supplements were discussed however, and it was decided to approve $500 supplements to Levon Webb and Laurie Welch, who both coach three sports.

In the same motion, trustees approved by a 6-1 vote to supplement athletic trainer Steve Krueger's salary by $1,500 to bring him in line with other varsity coaches. The supplement, which goes into effect next school year, would total $5,000. Billy Bob McMullan gave the lone dissenting vote. Voting for the supplements were Mike Jordan, Luann Burleson, Terry Martin, Ygnacio Benitez, Sam Robertson and Ann Walton.

McMullan, in Monday's workshop, had said that he did not feel the athletic trainer deserves a larger supplement because he does not have the same responsibilities as other (see SCHOOL, page 9)

New uniforms okayed for high school band

An impassioned plea from a parent, numerous telephone calls and a 12-year guarantee helped persuade Snyder school board trustees to unanimously accept a $47,700 bid for new high school band uniforms Thursday.

The decision was greeted by applause from about 30 concerned parents and teachers, including Paul Zeck, the parent who addressed the board, and band director Walter Reneau.

Zeck, who said he represented "band parents, boosters and my own special interests as a father" requested that the board "consider very highly purchasing the uniforms." He said that the marching band is judged not just on its performance, but also on appearance, and that the uniforms — with capes — would keep Snyder in step with the competition.

Superintendent Dalton Moseley, in recommending the board approve the bid from Fruhauf, noted that the uniforms will be guaranteed for 12 years.

SHS student Sherrie Buchanan modeled the uniform for the board. The bid calls for 180 uniforms at $265 each.

Trustee Ann Walton made a motion to accept the bid and Sam Robertson seconded it. The motion passed unanimously to a cheering audience.

"I'd like to say that not only I, but I believe all the board members, received a lot of calls about these uniforms and they were all very friendly, supportive calls," said Trustee Billy Bob McMullan, board president.

Board members had been somewhat divided when the subject of purchasing uniforms for $40,000-plus was addressed in previous meetings. They had discussed the possibility of eliminating the capes, which would trim $7,700 from the total price. Thursday, however, there was no discussion by the board.

Clarady files for SISD post

Glenn Clarady, co-owner of G&G Glass, has filed for District 1 on the Snyder school board.

Clarady, who has lived in the district eight years, is currently running unopposed. Incumbent Yngacio Benitez has moved from the district and is ineligible for another term.

Amy Munoz had filed as a candidate from District 1 earlier in the week but it has been determined she actually resides just inside District 4. She was expected to withdraw her attempt to file today, although she could still file for the District 4 seat.

District 5 representative Ann Walton and District 4 representative Billy Bob McMullan have filed for another term and are also currently running unopposed.

The filing deadline is March 21, for the election, which will be held May 5.

Anyone seeking election to the SISD board of trustees should do so at the school administration building on 37th St.

Neighbors Sharing will meet March 15

An organizational meeting for volunteers is planned Thursday, March 15, by Snyder Neighbors Sharing (SNS — an organization which expects to see its annual "day of labor" expand to a potential of 35 house projects this year on the last Saturday in April.

Thursday's gathering will begin at 7 p.m. at Martha Ann Woman's Club.

Tommy Aishman, president for SNS, said the meeting is planned to "get an idea of how many volunteers we're going to have."

An expanded effort to obtain potential sites for house repairs has resulted in some 40 applicants. The SNS board has surveyed these, and Aishman said 35 of these have the potential to qualify. Of the 35, he said, four or five are major repair projects.

Last year's work day saw some 150 volunteers complete repairs to nine homes. Because of the expanded number of potential projects this year, Aishman predicts several hundred volunteers will be needed.

"A final decision has not been made regarding which projects we'll try to do," he said, noting that information will come from the full SNS board. The decision is expected prior to Thursday's meeting. (see SNS, page 9)

Five education sessions possible, Clements says

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements says the May 1 Supreme Court deadline for changing the school finance system isn't meaningful as long as lawmakers are working on the problem, but a spokesman for poor school districts says he's wrong.

"We think the Supreme Court was very serious in setting that deadline, and the deadline is to enact an equitable system, not to just be in Austin working on it," said Craig Foster, executive director of the Equity Center, which includes school districts that successfully challenged the state's current public education funding system.

"Assuming they were serious, the state would stop distributing state funds" if a new plan is not in place by the deadline, Foster said Thursday.

But Clements said he will keep lawmakers in special session until they pass a school finance reform measure that doesn't require new taxes, even if that takes five 30-day special sessions. He has promised to veto any tax increase.

"I don't think the deadline has any significance," he said, adding with a chuckle, "They may lock me up in jail. They may come get me, but I don't think that has any significance."

"As long as the court really feels that we're trying to do something, and we're meeting in session and so forth, why I don't (see EDUCATION, page 9)

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Frequent naps prevent old age...especially if taken while driving."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors: David Werst, in the Big Lake Wildcat, picked up some information about what Americans do on a daily basis.

Based on information compiled by the Census Bureau and from private industry, on the average day Americans spend $434.2 million on toys and $1.3 on laxatives.

On a so-called average day, 10,501 Americans are born and 5,937 die. Another 133.9 million Americans eat out and some of us twice.

Of those eating out, 16.3 million go to the Golden Arches. On average days, 100 million M&Ms are sold and 532 million Cokes are purchased.

$1.6 million is spent on hair spray, 56 men get nose jobs and 47 women receive breast lifts. There is an average of 3,014 hockey sticks purchased each day along with 8,493 basketballs and 486,575 golf balls.

On the average day, the President of the U.S. earns $547 while creator of the Charlie Brown comic strip makes $87,671 and actor Bill Cosby makes $95,890. On a regular day at the office, singer Michael Jackson makes $164,383.

On the average day, 7,400 homes are wired to receive cable TV, and 6.3 million videos are rented. A startling contrast: on the average day there are 41,096 calls made to dial-a-porn while only 875 calls to dial-a-prayer.

Based on some of these statistics, we hope those 875 calls have a clear connection upstairs. It sounds like the USA may need all the help it can get.

This may be far from average, but the Wall Street Journal reports that New Yorkers can have their pooches transported to groomers, vets or even the airport in limousines by Princess Car Service.

Cost is $30 per hour plus 20 percent tip, and the pet business now represents a fourth of the company's total business.

Bush hoax

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush was the victim of an elaborate hoax last month when he tried to speak by phone to Iranian President Hashemi Rafsanjani to discuss the release of U.S. hostages in Lebanon, the White House says.

An impostor, and not Rafsanjani or a representative of his government, was on the other end of the line, officials said.

Tax protest

LONDON (AP). — Crowds angered by a new tax battled police, looted stores, paraded effigies of Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher and hurled bottles and eggs in protests across Britain. Dozens of people were injured or arrested.

Mrs. Thatcher today blamed a leftist group known as Militant Tendency for the violence Thursday night that left the main street in the London borough of Hackney strewn with glass.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 72 and I am 71. We have yearly check-ups and are both in very good health. We live comfortably in our own home, with no mortgage and no debts. Our neighbors are very friendly, and we also have relatives living in this city, where we have lived happily for more than 50 years.

Our daughter and her husband, who are both physicians, live in Oregon. They are worried about our advancing age and want us near them. They say the little house next to them is now for sale and they want to buy it for us, in case at some point we have an emergency and need their help.

We are very appreciative of their kindness and have told them time and again that we are happy here, but they insist that we would be better off living next door to them.

We want our daughter and her husband to fulfill their lives as we did and quit worrying about our future. It would be difficult for us to move at our ages, but they are very insistent! We respect your opinion, Abby. What should I do?
HAPPY IN FRESNO

DEAR HAPPY: Your children's concern for your welfare is admirable, but I think you'd be making a big mistake to give up your home and relocate because "at some point" you may need their help.

Older people fare best in familiar surroundings. So assure your children that you appreciate their generosity and caring, but you prefer to stay in Fresno, where you are happily and securely rooted.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I travel in a van with our two standard poodles. In mild weather they can stay in the van overnight, but when it's very hot or very cold, we cannot leave them in a closed-up van, so we put them in a kennel. This is quite expensive, and not satisfactory when we take long trips.

Can you tell us where to find a directory of overnight accommodations that allow dogs to stay in the rooms with their owners? We realize there are probably not many, because dogs can be destructive, dirty or noisy. Our vet knows of no such directory.

Thank you for any help you can give us.

WOODBURY, CONN.

DEAR WOODBURY: The American Automobile Association (AAA) has a list of hotels and motels that allow pets. Contact your local office for more information.

I am reminded of this charming message one reader saw framed and hanging near the registration desk in a small hotel:

"Dogs are welcome in this hotel. We never had a dog that smoked in bed and set fire to the blankets. We never had a dog who stole our towels, played the TV too loud or had a noisy fight with his traveling companion. We never had a dog that got drunk and broke up the furniture. So if your dog can vouch for you, you're welcome, too."

USDA to go own way on food labeling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Clayton Yeutter says his department will use its own recipe when drawing up food labels to give consumers more information on what they eat. In effect, Yeutter has told Health and Human Services Secretary Louis Sullivan that a plan for requiring improved nutrition labeling for most foods may fly in the Food and Drug Administration but not necessarily in the Agriculture Department.

"We will certainly study and evaluate what HHS has suggested," Yeutter said Thursday. "There's some merit in having these rules as consistent as possible, but we make our own decisions at USDA."

Sullivan told a food policy conference on Wednesday that the grocery store has become "a Tower of Babel" because of so many labels confronting consumers. He said some labels omit vital information and make unfounded health claims.

The FDA has label jurisdiction over foods except those containing meat and poultry products, which are the domain of the Agriculture Department.

Under the FDA's proposal, which would be implemented in three steps, processors would have to disclose the fat, fiber and cholesterol content of packaged foods.

Current requirements, put in place 17 years ago, call for nutrition labeling only when a manufacturer adds vitamins, minerals or proteins or makes a nutritional claim about the product. About 60 percent of packaged foods now list nutrients.

Yeutter, speaking to the same group as Sullivan, was asked if his department would follow up on Sullivan's proposal.

"We're going to proceed at what we believe is a systematic and rational way to deal with these issues," he said.

"We'll certainly try to reach the same fundamental objectives as all of us have in mind... but we intend to do it our way, and we may well take part of what Secretary Sullivan suggested and apply it. But there may well be some parts that we would not apply."

Echoing complaints by food-industry representatives, Yeutter objected to Sullivan's apparent willingness to accept "differentiated" labeling requirements on a state-by-state basis.

"I don't happen to think that's a good idea," he said. "It seems to me that consumers will pay a significant cost if we end up with different labeling systems in 50 states. That doesn't set a good example for the world, doesn't set a good example here, in my judgment."

Yeutter for years, including his service as U.S. trade representative in the Reagan administration, has pushed hard for liberalized trade under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

One of the aspects of the current Uruguay-Round of GATT negotiations, he said, is the harmonization of international health regulations for agricultural products.

DPS figures show Texas crime rate decreased in 1989

AUSTIN (AP) — The head of the Department of Public Safety says the latest crime figures for Texas are encouraging: The crime rate dropped slightly, although the number of major crimes is slightly up.

DPS said Thursday the crime rate dropped 1.2 percent in 1989 when compared with 1988.

"Considering some of the past increases in crime Texas has experienced, we are very pleased to see the crime rate has actually dropped and the number of crimes reported has grown only slightly," Col. Joe Milner said Thursday.

The 1989 crime rate, which is measured as the number of major crimes reported per 100,000 people, dropped from 8,019.6 in 1988 to 7,926.8 in 1989, according to DPS crime statistics.

The total number of major crimes reported in Texas — including murder, rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, theft and motor vehicle theft — edged up from 1,345,688 to 1,346,846. That is an increase of 1,158 offenses, or 0.1 percent.

There were increases reported in murder, aggravated assault, theft and motor vehicle theft in 1989, compared to the previous year.

The number of reported murders was up 0.4 percent, to 2,029 cases; aggravated assault, by 6.5 percent, to 63,978; theft, by 0.3 percent, to 741,642; and motor vehicle theft, 12.4 percent, to 150,974 cases.

In contrast, decreases were reported in burglary, down by 5.5 percent to 342,360 cases; robbery, by 3.6 percent, to 37,910; and rape, by 2.1 percent, to 7,953.

Sons accused of 2 murders

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — A Hollywood executive and his wife were gunned down by two sons who stood to inherit more than $10 million, police alleged in announcing one son's arrest and an international hunt for the other.

In an eerie twist, the one still at large had co-written a screenplay — which his mother helped type — about a son who kills his rich parents. Lyle Menendez, 22, was arrested Thursday and charged with his 19-year-old brother Erik with the shotgun slaying of his father, Jose Menendez, and mother, Mary Louis "Kitty" Menendez.

The couple were slain in August while watching television in their Beverly Hills mansion. "I've been in this business 33 years and I've heard of few killings as savage as this one," said Police Chief Marvin D. Iannone said.

Police were seeking help from the State Department and Interpol to detain Erik Menendez, believed to be in Israel playing in a tennis tournament.

Jose Menendez, a 45-year-old Cuban immigrant, was chairman of Live Entertainment Inc., a video and music distribution business affiliated with Carolco Pictures Inc., producers of the "Rambo" movies.

Investigators dismissed earlier speculation that organized crime was behind the slayings because of alleged business links to Menendez' company.

Iannone said the investigation uncovered physical evidence that linked the sons to the killings. The probe also focused on a vanished computer record concerning Menendez' will.

Menendez and his wife were killed by shotgun blasts at close range as they watched television in their library one evening. Their sons reported the killings, saying they found the bodies after a night out.

Nothing appeared to be stolen from the Spanish-style, $5 million home. And nothing indicated that the killers forced their way in.

Former AG Shepperd dies

AUSTIN (AP) — A memorial service will be held Saturday for former Texas Attorney General John Ben Shepperd, a popular politician of the 1950s who died Thursday of cancer at the age of 74.

Shepperd died at his home in Gladewater.

Gov. Bill Clements said Shepperd "was one of the most committed public servants Texas has ever known. Even after leaving statewide office more than three decades ago, he continued to offer his considerable talents and energies to his fellow Texans."

"His passing leaves a void that will not be easily overcome, either by our state or by the people who knew him. I am deeply saddened at the loss of John Ben Shepperd, my friend and colleague, in public service," Clements said.

The memorial service will be held at the University of Texas of the Permian Basin, at Odessa, where Shepperd had lived since 1957.

Shepperd was instrumental in establishing the school and, according to some, coined its name. The state Senate and House adjourned in his memory Thursday. "He was a real driving force back in the '50s. He was a very powerful individual," said House Speaker Gib Lewis.

Shepperd was appointed secretary of state by Gov. Allan Shivers in 1950 at the age of 34, and was elected attorney general in 1952 and 1954, receiving more than 80 percent of the vote each time.

He decided to leave public office in 1957, saying, "I believe people can stay in public office too long."

"Had I run again (for attorney general), it might have appeared that I was making the race just to perpetuate myself in office."

five clubs. West had a fair hand, but not enough in his view to stick his neck out at the five-level. So he tamely passed. That ended the auction.

The opening king of diamonds was ruffed. Declarer cashed the ace of clubs and led the 10 of hearts from his hand. West did not want to waste his ace, so he played low. East took the king, and the defense was helpless. West could get the lead only with the ace of hearts. By that time the heart jack in dummy would be established for declarer to jettison his possible spade loser. Was there any way for West to know?

Yes, certainly. Obviously South, with his string of good clubs, cannot have the king of spades, or he would be playing that suit. Furthermore, it's impossible that he would be leading the heart 10 from a K-10 combination. (That play would make no sense.) But the actual layout, Q-10 doubleton of hearts, is very plausible. And when that is the case, West must rise with the ace of hearts as soon as the suit is led, so that he can play a spade through the dummy's A-Q-J-10. That sets the contract — a decent result for East-West, since they cannot make anything by bidding at the five-level.

Following an investigation by the U.S. Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, Triplett was charged with arson and with being an accessory to arson in the Dallas suburb.

Snyder track teams competing at meets

Snyder's track teams will hit the road again this week as the Tigers compete in the West Texas Relays today and Saturday and the Lady Tigers go to Brownwood Saturday for the Brownwood Relays.

The boys' team, coached by Joe Granato, was off last week. In their last outing, in the Com-

Snyder squad hosts Lamesa

The Snyder Tigers will put their 4-1 season baseball record on the line Saturday in a 1 p.m. meeting with Lamesa at Moffett Field.

Snyder's last outing was a 14-3 spanking of San Angelo Central Tuesday on the Bobcats home diamond.

Pitchers Tommy Lane and Jamey Morton combined for a four-hit effort.

Morton struck out four of six batters and added a bases-loaded triple in the seventh inning.

Bert Merritt and Mark King were both three of four for Snyder, King getting a double in the win. Jason West hit twice in four trips to the plate and Toby Goodwin had a two hit night on five at bats.

The Tigers play Brownwood Tuesday on the Lions' turf and return home Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week to host their annual tournament.

anche Relays in Ft. Stockton, Snyder was paced by senior pole-vaulter Charlie Guynes who set a new meet record with a vault of 15 feet, a half-foot better than his mark to qualify for last season's regional meet.

Junior runner Shelby Bufkin snatched a pair of second place finishes for the Tiger effort.

His 23.4 second finish in the 200 meter dash and 51.8 in the 400 meter run earned runner-up points in each event.

Long distance runner Billy DeLao took second with a 10:24.9 time in the two-mile run.

The Lady Tigers are fresh from their second consecutive first place finish with last week's 128 point showing in Andrews.

Anne Osborn and Dana Fenton had firsts in running events and Vinnie Clay and Katina Brandon paced the Snyder girls in field events.

Osborn's 2:39.77 time in the 800 meter run and Fenton's 64.55 second run in the 400 meters were both top times at the Andrews meet.

Brandon put the shot a personal best 37' 7 1/4" for second place followed by Clay's 32' 10 1/4" for third.

The order was reversed in the discus throw as Clay tossed the discus 107' 1" for first place while Brandon came in fourth with a heave of 101' 2".

Both track teams will be home next week to host the Canyon Reef Relays at Tiger Stadium.

SPORTS

SHS golfers on area links

Both Snyder's golf teams will see Friday and Saturday action this week as the Lady Tigers travel to the Abilene Invitational Tournament and the boys are in Sweetwater.

The SHS boys are coming off a thirteenth place finish in last weekend's Andrews Tournament.

Snyder, as a team, shot a 344. Odessa Permian won the tourney with a 310 followed by Midland Lee's 310 and a 314 from the Andrews "A" team.

The Tigers' Jay Parker, a senior, paced the squad with a round of 75, which, besides leading the Snyder effort, also placed Parker in the fifth medalist's spot at the tournament.

Chad Jacobi shot a 78 for Snyder.

The Lady Tigers were winners in their own Snyder Invitational Tournament last Friday with a score of 360.

Amarillo High's 396 and Big Spring's 409 were good enough for second and third places in the event played at Snyder Country Club.

Snyder took the top three medalist spots as Jacy LaRoux shot a tournament-best 89 and teammates Wendy Miller and Amy Armstrong each carded 90's.

Malone leads Jazz past Bulls

By The Associated Press
The Utah Jazz have a secret for success.

The Jazz, however, did nothing to hide it Thursday night in beating Chicago 98-94 to snap the Bulls' nine-game winning streak.

Utah's formula for beating the Bulls was to get the ball to their big men.

Karl Malone led the Jazz with 27 points and Thurl Bailey had 22.

"Our secret is to kick the ball inside," said Utah coach Jerry Sloan, who played 10 seasons for the Bulls. "We've got the big guys to work inside."

The loss was only the Bulls' third at home in 26 games. It was Utah's ninth victory in 10 games and improved their record to 15-14. Utah (43-17) leads second-place San Antonio by four games in the Midwest Division.

Utah's starting front line of Malone, Bailey and Mark Eaton combined for 55 points, while the Bulls' front line of Scottie Pippen, Horace Grant and Will Perdue had 32.

"We wanted to get the ball inside," Malone said. "That's what we're best at. If we just keep doing what we do best, we'll keep winning."

The Jazz let Michael Jordan have his way, and he scored 43 points.

Elsewhere it was Minnesota 111, Los Angeles Clippers 94; Houston 111, Seattle 97; Golden State 145, Cleveland 105 and Sacramento 111, Charlotte 102.

The Bulls battled back from a 73-54 third-quarter deficit to 96-94 with three seconds left on two free throws by Jordan. But Malone, who hit 13 foul shots without a miss, converted two with two seconds left.

"We were concerned about blowing it down the stretch," Sloan said.

"They took up the middle and forced us to shoot outside," Bulls coach Phil Jackson said. "The referees pretty much said they weren't going to call any light contact fouls inside. And that is Utah's game."

Rockets 111, Sonics 97
Akeem Olatunji scored 16 of his 30 points in the third quarter.

Houston pulled away in the fourth quarter, using a 10-2 surge to take a 105-92 lead with 4:49 left.

Michael Cage led the Sonics with 20 points. Buck Johnson scored 20 points for the Rockets.

Kings 111, Hornets 102
Wayman Tisdale scored 33 points, including 20 in the third quarter.

Netters play in team event

The Snyder High School tennis team will be in Midland Friday and Saturday to compete in the Midland Team Tournament.

Snyder is coming off a fourth place finish in last week's Sweetwater tourney.

Snyder's 83 point total a week ago in the team tennis format was fourth behind Big Spring's 101, San Angelo Lake View's 94 and an 87 from host Sweetwater.

Brandon Martin gathered a second place in boys' singles while the boys' doubles team of Marcus Best and Bill Vestal finished fourth.

The duo of Racheal Wilson and Gayle Henderson finished in third place edging Snyder teammates Jennifer Harden and Cindy Srna who wound up in fourth.

Kathy Ogburn claimed third place in girls' singles for Snyder.

The Midland tourney will be played Friday and Saturday.

The Tigers return to Snyder next week to host the Snyder Team Tournament.

WTC riders take honors

ODESSA — Western Texas cowboys claimed the top three spots in bull riding, first place in bareback riding and seconds in steer wrestling and saddle bronc riding to complete a successful first performance at the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association event here Thursday night.

Darrin Cook, a Queensland, Australia native, scored a 72 for WTC in bull riding for first place followed by teammates Kyle Ham and Buddy Reed in second and third with scores of 70 and 67, respectively.

Denny McLanahan took a ride in the bareback event and earned 81 points and a second place finish for the Westerners in the process.

McLanahan is a Canadian, Tex. native.

Shawn Tibbs' 60 gave the WTC saddle bronc rider second place after Thursday's opening performance.

No Western Texas cowgirls placed in Thursday's events.

Competition continues in the Odessa NIRA event through Sunday with the top ten finishers in each event vying for points in Sunday's short go.

Gary Payton leads college award race

NEW YORK (AP) — Oregon State's Gary Payton and Kansas' Roy Williams lead the list of finalists for The Associated Press' college basketball awards.

Payton, who led the Beavers to the regular-season Pac-10 title averaging 26.1 points and 8.4 assists per game, was the top vote-getter among the 12 players on the ballot for nominees for Player of the Year. There was a three-way tie for 10th place.

Among the others nominated were Loyola Marymount teammates Bo Kimble, the nation's leading scorer at 35.3, and Hank Gathers, who died earlier this week after collapsing on the court for the second time this season. Gathers led the nation in scoring and rebounding as a junior last season and he was averaging 29.0 points and 10.8 rebounds this season. Lionel Simmons of La Salle, a close friend of Gathers', moved to third place on the all-time Division I scoring list this season and led the Explorers to a season-best 28-1 record with the only loss at the hands of Loyola.

Others on the list included: Derrick Coleman of Syracuse, Dennis Scott of Georgia Tech, Chris Jackson of Louisiana State, Larry Johnson of UNLV, Doug Smith of Missouri, Alec Kessler of Georgia, Steve Scheffler of Purdue, and Rumeal Robinson of Michigan.

Williams, in his second season with the Jayhawks, received the most votes from the college basketball poll board and selected writers to top the list of 10 coaches now in the running for Coach of the Year, which will be voted on by the entire AP membership.

Kansas was 38th in the preseason poll but quickly caught the country's eye with a title run in the preseason NIT that included wins over No. 1 UNLV and No. 2 Louisiana State. The Jayhawks were fourth in the first regular-season poll, have not been lower than second since and held the top spot for three weeks. The only losses for the senior-laden team have been in conference play, two to Missouri and one at Oklahoma.

Odessa whips Hill in tourney opener

The Odessa Wranglers started Thursday's opening round of the National Junior College Athletic Association Region V basketball tournament with a bang taking an 81-62 win over Northern Conference No. 2 seed Hill Junior College.

Odessa took a 20-point lead early in the second half on a bucket by sophomore Lynn Collins that set the score at 53-33.

"We started out playing excellent," said Wrangler coach Dennis Helms after the game.

"Once we got about a 15-point lead we started acting satisfied."

"But it was a good win," he added.

"We're glad to be playing tomorrow night."

The Rebels came as close as 16 points, 68-52, in the second half of the contest on a basket by freshman Rich Reed from Syracuse, N.Y., before Odessa began a pressing defense and locked up the game.

The Wranglers were led on offense by 6-10 Edison, Ga. talent Rodney Dent who scored 20 points, 12 in the first half.

South Plains nudges Odessa

Lady Texans take 58-57 win in Region V championship

By PHIL RIDDLE
SDN Sports Editor

South Plains College's Lady Texans outlasted the Odessa Lady Wranglers, 58-57, in the women's Region V basketball tournament championship here Thursday night.

The hard-fought battle between coach Ken Hefner, making his seventh straight appearance in the tournament finals, and first time coach in the championship tilt, Lyndon Hardin of SPC, came down to the last minute.

Sheryl Swoopes, tournament MVP from Brownfield, hit a pair of free-throws and a three-pointer in the closing seconds to stave off a furious Odessa rally from an eight-point deficit.

"It was a great team effort," said Hardin after the game.

"They pressured us late in the game and we missed reading some things we had talked about, but we held on in a high-pressure situation."

The difference in the score between the two contenders was never more than five points in the first half and by intermission the Lady Texans held a flimsy two-point advantage.

The lead grew to an eight-point margin with just over 10 minutes left in the game on a lay-up in the paint from Carol Bailey, another South Plains all-tourney selection.

Patricia Rivers pulled OC to within six with a short jumper followed by another two-pointer from Bailey.

Rivers once again hit for Odessa, this time an eight foot jump shot with 7:11 left to set the score at 47-41.

The shot, at 3:55, put Odessa within striking distance, 53-48.

Cynthia Hernandez pulled the Lady Wranglers even with five unanswered points, a bank shot for two and a three with just 2:35 left to create a new game for OC.

Swoopes dropped in a lay-up and Odessa's Twanda Wilson scored a put-back on a Rivers misfire to keep the teams in a dead-heat.

Rivers put the Lady Wranglers on top, 57-55, on a pair of free throws after being fouled by SPC's Rosie Llanas.

Swoope's game-winning three came with 37 ticks on the clock to end scoring and give South Plains the winners' trophy.

She finished the game with 26 points followed by teammate Bailey with 14.

Rivers paced the Odessa squad with 16 points while Woodard put in 13.

The Lady Texans, 26-6, advance to the NJCAA national tournament in Tyler later this month.

TSTI 115-86 losers to Howard College

The Howard College Hawks had very little mercy on Texas State Technical Institute as the Western Conference second seed dumped TSTI 115-86 in the Tornado's last game.

The Waco school is dropping intercollegiate sports after the current season.

The 115 points tied for the second highest score in a game in the Region V tournament.

Western Texas holds the record by pouring in 121 points in 1980.

Howard bolted to a 9-0 early lead before allowing the Tornado anything on the scoreboard.

The game was already a runaway when Howard's Terrence Lewis, the WJCAC Valuable Player took over to begin the stretch drive.

Lewis hit for 11 points in the final six minutes of the contest including point number 90 that gave the Hawks a 22 point pad and number 100 that put HC up by 28.

The second half of the tournament contest featured a real air show as the two squads combined for 14 three-point goals.

TSTI scored eight while the domineering Howard Hawks tossed in six.

Lewis hit two three-pointers for the Hawks on his way to a 27-point game.

Highlanders claim first WJCAC victim

The New Mexico Junior College Thunderbirds became the first Western Conference basketball team to lose in the Region V NJCAA tournament's first three days.

McLennan Community College outbounded and beat the T-Birds back on defense to take a 95-87 win at Scurry County Coliseum.

"The two big things we knew we'd have to do to beat them," said Highlander coach Ken DeWeese, "was to rebound and stop their penetration...and we did."

The contest was a tight one throughout the first half as McLennan held a narrow 43-41 lead at the half.

MCC bullied its way to a 90-79 lead with less than a minute to play but consecutive three-pointers by New Mexico, one by sophomore Reggie Collins and one by Isaac Wright of New Orleans, gave the Thunderbirds renewed hope.

SPC outlasts Vikes in Region V game

It was supposed to be a blowout.

South Plains College came into the Region V tournament rated number one in the Western Conference and Grayson College advanced to the tournament in fourth place in the Northern Conference.

The Vikings came to play, however, and gave the Texans a real game before finally running out of steam late in the contest and losing, 76-65.

"They played about like we thought they would," said SPC coach Ron Mayberry.

"They are a good ball club." "It's not that we played a bad game," he continued, "but they really did outwork us."

By halftime the heavily favored SPC squad had built a five-point lead, 40-35.

5 education sessions possible think that the deadline in itself has any particular significance," said Clements.

Clements called a 30-day special session beginning Feb. 27 after the Supreme Court ruled that the current school finance system is unconstitutional because of funding disparities between property-rich and poor school districts.

"I'll go for a fourth and fifth" special session, if that's what it takes to get a school finance reform bill that doesn't require new taxes, Clements said.

The court said lawmakers should devise a system that is fairer than the current $13.5 billion one, which relies on a combination of state aid and local property taxes, with some federal funding.

The leading Senate plan to deal with the ruling — backed by Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby — would cost $817 million in new funds next school year. A measure being drafted in the House would require an estimated $450 million over current spending the first year.

Foster said there is no way to reform the finance system without injecting new money, over and above the $200 million that Clements said could be raised by shifting funds from other parts of the state budget.

"If the governor wants to keep the Legislature in session until they come up with a plan that doesn't require new taxes, they will be in Austin forever," Foster said. "There isn't any such thing."

Some lawmakers have said that school districts could be forced to raise local property taxes if enough state money is not put into education reforms.

School board meeting

head coaches.

Later, board members also okayed a $500 supplement for Gloria Ball, who is helping instruct tennis at the junior high. Ball was asked to help because over 70 students are in the junior high tennis program this year.

The board voted to accept a bid of $14,800 from Texas Courts and Windscreens of Abilene to resurface eight tennis courts at the junior high. The bid calls for $1,850 for each court.

In another agenda item, trustees voted to end the vocational program between Snyder High School and Western Texas College, which provides training in welding and auto mechanics for the high school. McMullan said he had received a letter from the college stating the courses would not be offered next year, but advised the board "we better go ahead and act on this anyway." The vote to discontinue the program was unanimous.

The board also approved minutes of previous meetings and okayed payment of bills. Also ratified was the textbook committee report for the 1990-91 school year and information concerning the May 5 school board election. Three board positions — District 1 held by Benitez, District 4 held by McMullan and District 5 held by Walton — are up for re-election. Absentee voting by personal appearance will be conducted weekdays at the school administration between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. from April 16 through May 1. Applications for ballots by mail must be received by 4 p.m. April 27. Applications should be requested from Kathy Scott, Absentee Voting Clerk, 2901 37th St.

Deputy absentee clerks will be

Patsy Taylor and Beverly Glasscock. Voting will take place in city hall on May 5 and Frank Miller will serve as election judge. Election clerks will be June McGlaun, Phyllis McGinnis, Anita Felan, Georgene Galloway, Marge Mathis and Francene Allen.

The board also accepted James C. Rominger of Breckenridge and Herman E. Schaffer of Abilene as candidates for the Region 14 ESC board of directors.

Over 40 teachers, parents and others attended the meeting, which included the approval of high school band uniforms (see related story) and a special education presentation.

Granato, director of special programs, introduced two special education students to the board — Josh Rains, who is dyslexic, and Patrick Maloney, who is deaf, has a learning disability and is confined to a wheelchair. Also addressing the group were resource teacher Susan Stowe, Maloney's mother Vicki and sign interpreter Ellen Rumpff.

Following the presentation, in which Maloney read a poem with sign assistance from Rumpff, the board and audience responded with a standing ovation.

"To say it (the special ed program) is great would be insultingly ridiculous," said Vicki Maloney. "It's wonderful. I could go on for hours but it all boils down to one point — simply because Patrick is in a chair, can't hear and has other problems doesn't mean he can't learn. This program gives him that opportunity. I think we should be very proud of the teachers and staff workers for what they have done."

In a final act of business, the board agreed to hold its April meeting on Monday the 16th instead of Thursday, the 12th. April 12 is the date of the District 4-4A Track and Field Meet in San Angelo.

4 injured in accident

Four young Scurry County residents were hurt, although none seriously, in a 4:29 p.m. Thursday rear-end collision in the 3100 Block of College Ave.

Police said a 1984 Chevrolet Chevette driven by Katrina L. Reynolds, 17, of Rt. 1, Hermleigh, and a 1964 Ford pickup driven by 19-year-old David L. Carroll of Rt. 2 were both northbound on College when Carroll stopped for traffic and the car hit the pickup from behind.

The two drivers and a passenger from each vehicle were taken in private vehicles to Cogdell Memorial Hospital, where they were all treated and released.

Chris Jones, 16, of Rt. 2, Hermleigh, a passenger in the Reynolds car, was treated for a neck and shoulder strain, and the passenger from the pickup, 20-year-old John Magnus of Rt. 3, was treated for back pain.

Reynolds was treated for abrasions to her neck, chest and thigh and Carroll for a head contusion and back pain, a hospital spokesman said.

The car had to be towed. At 2:25 p.m. Thursday at 37th St. and Ave. C, a 1983 Buick Riviera driven by Cheri M. Cato of 2208 Ave. M was in collision with a 1982 Ford F-150 pickup driven by Timothy D. Stahl of 219 36th St.

Happy Birthday Cap Hernandez

Rosson has 'three branch ministry'

Roy Rosson is leading a double life. No, he is leading a triple life. Not only is Rosson the minister of the Dunn Church of Christ, he is also the director of the Christian Student Center at Western Texas College and, under the direction of 37th Street Church of Christ, he is active in the jail and prison ministries. "You could say I have a three branch ministry," Rosson said.

Although they are demanding on his time, he enjoys all three angles of his career. "I get a little taste of it all," Rosson admits.

His responsibilities as a pulpit minister differ greatly from those he faces as CSC director dealing with college students. According to Rosson, he has to change gears when going from one ministry to another. "It makes life interesting. Things are never dull. I'm not sure from one day to the next what I'll be doing. When the phone rings, I never know what to expect."

Every Monday night Rosson can be found at the county jail conducting a Bible study. On Sunday afternoons he accompanies other men out to the prison where they conduct a full worship service. This is the area that he finds most rewarding.

"We average about 30 inmates. It's not like having a 'captive' audience," Rosson said. "It's like they are saying, 'Hey, I want to be here.' They are earnest to learn and they appreciate you coming out there."

"It's not always easy to go out to the prison and spend all Sunday afternoon, but it is worth it," adds Rosson.

Rosson hasn't always had a ministering career. It was a change he made only after 11 years of teaching public school.

"I saw a need. I saw people crying out for help and they didn't know where to go. I want to point people in the direction they should go," Rosson said.

He tells the story about the jail ministry that illustrates the need of which he speaks. "A group of men went to the jail one night to share with the inmates. Someone asked one of the inmates to read a passage from the Bible. The inmate asked where to find the passage. It was the first time he had opened a Bible.

That's really an eye-opener when you realize that there are people right here in Scurry county who have never opened a Bible. It sets you back and shows you how important your responsibility is." Rosson feels that it is both a responsibility and a privilege to share the "good news."

It is no coincidence that he chose Snyder to share the news with. He grew up locally and graduated from Snyder High School in 1970. He married his wife Susan that same year.

He then started the road to his teaching career. He graduated from Angelo State University in 1974 with a bachelor's in elementary education. He taught in Roosevelt for one year before moving back to Snyder where he taught in Snyder Public Schools for 10 years. He received his masters in education from Sul Ross University in 1979.

Then in 1985 he enrolled in Sunset School of Preaching in Lubbock. He attended classes full time, five days a week for two years. It was during his studies that he started preaching at Dunn. When he graduated, he had completed 125 hours of Bible study.

When he can find the time, Rosson enjoys spending time with his family. He and Susan celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary on Wednesday. Susan teaches homemaking and 5th grade at Hermligh. They have two children; Monica, 13, is in the seventh grade at Snyder Junior High and Justin, 8, is in the second grade at West Elementary.

Church youth have fundraiser

Recently the youth group at the Church of the Living God gave away a hog. The hog was donated by Wes McDaniel, a member of the church. The drawing was held on March 1 at Bar H Bar Western Wear. The winners were Marvin and Vera Foree of Hermligh. April Cook sold the most tickets and won a gift certificate donated by Bar H Bar. The youth wish to thank all who bought tickets and helped them raise money for their upcoming events.

"The Wind Blows Where It Wills"

Dr. Tim Griffin, Preaching
 We Approach Faith with Reason and then in Faith go Beyond Reason

Dr. Gott Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: What's your opinion on the fast weight-loss programs being sponsored by local hospitals? This is a fasting diet with no solid foods for 12 weeks, at which time solids are progressively reintroduced for 13 weeks. My husband entered this program, weighing in at 340 pounds. He lost 18 pounds in two weeks and is now off all insulin for his diabetes. I'm concerned.

DEAR READER: At the risk of antagonizing the many disciples of fast weight-loss programs, I am going on record as opposing this method.

Unquestionably, most of these programs are effective in getting people to lose weight. However, the regimens are so restrictive that dieters cannot stick with them. Therefore, after several weeks during which patients shed unwanted pounds, push comes to shove: They have to get back to eating normal food.

Since their weight losses depended on the strict diet, they seldom learned proper techniques of maintaining their slimmed-down figures. Studies have documented that more than 90 percent of fast weight-losers eventually gain back most, or all, of the weight they lost.

Also, studies have shown that repeated cycles of weight loss and gain are unhealthy, leading to elevated blood cholesterol and heart disease. Statistically, it's healthier to remain somewhat overweight (no more than 10 percent above ideal weight), rather than engaging in hopelessly repetitive efforts to lose weight.

I'm glad your husband enjoyed initial success; I hope he can continue to keep his weight under control without a formal and expensive program. As you've discovered, obese diabetics can often eliminate or reduce medicine once they begin to lose weight — and keep it off. This is because the amount of insulin or anti-diabetic medicine is directly related to the quantity and quality of food that is eaten; with less intake, there is less requirement for insulin and other medicine.

The long-term risks of weight-gain/weight-loss cycles for diabetics are more serious, because this pattern makes it harder for the doctor to make proper adjustments in medicine.

However, I'd feel more comfortable if your husband — and others like him — were to choose a reasonable diet, under the guidance of a registered dietician, that would be appropriate for long-term management. Although people don't lose weight as dramatically on such diets, long-term, gradual weight loss is usually possible. To give you additional information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Reports "Calorie-wise Cooking," "Eating Right For A Healthy Heart," and "Weight Control Through Calorie Control." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I've been diagnosed with Peyronie's disease. Does it get progressively worse? Can it be treated or cured?

DEAR READER: Peyronie's disease is scarring and thickening of the deep covering of the penis. The scar tissue prevents normal erections, so the erect penis deviates to one side.

This may make intercourse painful and difficult — if not impossible. The disease is usually progressive; its cause is unknown.

Treatment consists of cortisone injections into the scar tissue or ultrasonic therapy to loosen the scar. If the condition is severe, surgery may be necessary to release the constricting tissue.

I recommend you be examined by a urologist. Such a specialist will be able to advise you which treatment would be appropriate and what are the chances of a cure.
