Snyder, area witness much-needed rainfall

From local and wire reports Snyder and Scurry County received much needed precipitation this past weekend when rain varying from 1.60 inches to as much as 3.50 inches fell in the area.

Snyder recorded 2.17 inches for the two-day period, upping the year's total to 5.80 inches. The moisture around Snyder seemed to be rather evenly divided as residents north and east of the city received 2.50 inches and two inches was reported west of Snyder. One report, from 4.3 miles east of Snyder on the Roby Highway, totalled 2.9 inches for both Saturday and Sunday.

Both TU Electric and Midwest Electric Cooperative reported weather-related power outages but all were considered either minor or isolated except for a 26 minute period Saturday afternoon when electricity was off for a large section of the city.

TU Electric servicemen were called into action Saturday afternoon when lightning struck a line by Cogdell Memorial Hospital and a wire fell on the ground shutting off electricity for the hospital, Western Texas College, the Cedar Creek area, Furr's, Varsity Square and stores located around the square. In addition, traffic lights were also out at the 30th and 37th streets intersections.

Outages for the remainder of the weekend were considered minor.

no poles or wires were down as a result of the two-day rain.

Primary elections Tuesday

Scurry County voters go to the polls Tuesday to cast their ballots in the Democratic and Republican primaries.

According to the county clerk's office, some 863 area residents used the absentee method to vote in the elections, which will determine primary winners in a number of races statewide as well as Scurry County.

Absentee voting ended last week. Of the 863 who voted, 713 cast Democratic ballots and 150 voted Republican.

Tuesday, polls open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. The West Fire Station on El Paso Ave. will be the only voting location for the Republican primary.

Precinct boxes and locations for those voting Democratic are, 5, Fluvanna Community Center; 6, Union Community Center; 7, Knapp Community Center; 8, SISD administration building; 9, Ira Community Center; 10, Dunn Community Center; 11, senior citizens center; 12, south side of county coliseum; 13, Hermleigh Community Center; 14, North St Community Center; 15, north side of county coliseum; 16, county health unit on 26th St.; 17, City Hall; 18, National Guard Armory; and 19, Towle Park Barn.

Two of the most contested races in the county are those of county commissioner. Tommy Pate, incumbent commissioner representing precinct 2, is challenged on the Democratic (see ELECTIONS, page 9)

Midwest Electric Coop reported some isolated outages involving damaged breakers, but

No further rain is indicated in current weather reports, but clouds are expected to build after midnight tonight and winds from 20-30 mph are expected by Tuesday.

Livestock, land judging contests slated Tuesday

Some 200 area high school agriculture students and instructors will come to Snyder on Tuesday for the annual livestock and land judging contests sponsored by Western Texas College.

The Upper Soil and Water Conservation District cooperates in sponsoring the land judging competition.

Registration will be held from 4-5 p.m. at the county coliseum annex. Livestock will be judged at the annex and land judging teams will go to sites within Scurry County.

Most of the teams come from schools within a 100-mile radius of Snyder.

Awards will be presented in a program beginning at 8 p.m. in the college cafeteria, where visitors will have an evening meal.

Bob Doty and Jim Judah, WTC faculty members, will be directing the contests.

Census Bureau needs workers

The United States Census Bureau has issued a call for additional Scurry County residents to apply for temporary jobs still open.

Applicants for the temporary positions must be 18 years or over, a U.S. citizen, have a valid drivers license, a social security card and take a written test.

The work consists of driving or walking in designated areas of the county to follow-up on addresses that do not respond to the census questionnaire. Clerical workers are also needed in the district office.

Census work will last between two and eight weeks for most workers. They will receive $5 an hour plus mileage for any official use of a private vehicle.

County residents interested in applying for the temporary positions should contact the census district office in Abilene at (915) 674-8600.

Student trip topic before WTC board

Western Texas College board of trustees will consider trip expenses for a Golf/Landscape Technology trip to Fort Collins, Colo. during its 5:45 p.m. board meeting today.

The trip is for the Association of Landscape Contractors of American Field Days competition, an annual event. In addition to participating in competitive events, students also have the opportunity to attend training sessions and meet prospective employers. The cost of the trip is expected to be about $3,844, including meals, lodging, registration fees and transportation for 16 students.

The agenda item is the only new business before the board, which will also confirm dates for the upcoming May 5 board election. The board will review the dates of March 21, the final day to file for the board; March 26, the date for drawing for a place on the ballot; and April 16 through May 2, which is the absentee voting period.

A president's report, approval of board minutes and a financial information report are also on the agenda.

Applegate Floral new business here

Applegate Floral is a new full-service florist located at 2518 Ave. R, complete with a wireline which enables arrangements to be sent all over the world.

Lindsay and Jill Mead own the shop, which also offers specialty gifts including Jill's own potpourri baskets. "They're my signature," she said. In addition, they feature homecrafted items from around the country.

Lindsay is employed by Mobil full time; however, he offers photography services out of the shop. He has a studio in the building from which he does all kinds of portraits from family to senior pictures. Lindsay also works outside the studio to do weddings or outdoor photographs.

The business grew from Jill's work out of her home. "The business grew too large for me to work out of the house. We had people waiting on us to open the shop," Jill said.

Store hours are 8 a.m. until 6 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 8 a.m. until 2 p.m. on Saturday.

Open house this evening at six elementary schools

Snyder public schools begin their annual celebration of Texas Public Schools Week this evening with open house at all six local elementary schools.

During open house, from 7-8 p.m. district-wide, parents are invited to their child's elementary campus to view examples of their work and visit with their child's teacher.

Parents are also invited to join their child for lunch throughout the week. Parents of first and fourth graders were invited to each elementary campus today. Tuesday, parents of second and fifth graders are invited. Parents of third and sixth graders are welcome Wednesday and parents of pre-kindergarten and kindergarten students are invited on Thursday.

Parents of junior high students are invited to attend classes Tuesday and eat lunch on Wednesday.

Parents of high school students have been encouraged to visit the SHS campus and to eat in the cafeteria today, Tuesday or Wednesday.

Pact clears way to turn over mental health office to state

County commissioners today approved a contract with Big Spring State Hospital that will have the effect of turning over to the state the operation of the mental health office of the Snyder-Scurry Health Unit.

County Judge Bobby Goodwin said mental health office manager Karen Goebel has accepted a job with the Big Spring State Hospital's community health department to work in Scurry, Garza, Nolan and Mitchell counties, effective immediately.

Office staffer Marie Ball will become a state employee, and the hospital will hire another person to replace Goebel in the office, Goodwin said.

Under terms of the contract, the county will fulfill its obligation by paying the hospital $18,000 annually while saving $3,147 yearly on what would have been Goebel's salary and the $19,034 it would have paid Ball.

In another cost-saving move, Goodwin said, the secretary in the office that is shared by County Attorney Pete Greene and 132nd Judicial District juvenile probation officer Larry Thompson has resigned and will not be replaced.

Other business in the 30-minute meeting included Pct. 3 Commissioner C.D. Gray Jr.'s report on a meeting he had last week at Towle Park Pool with prospective lessees of the pool, which the court has decided will not be operated by the county this summer.

Gray said the meeting was essentially unproductive, although he had some promising contacts with prospective operators afterwards, and he proposed and was given approval to advertise for bids for the pool to be leased.

Bids will be opened on April 2, as will bids that the court approved advertising for for this summer and fall's supply of seal-coating gravel to be used in all four commissioner's precincts.

"Last year, we started a little later and had a hard time getting all the rock hauled," Gray said in proposing the gravel bids.

A January appointee to the county's Child Welfare Board turned out to be unable to serve, Goodwin said, and the court approved board chairman Barbara Burney's proposal of former board member Wayne Eubanks to serve a two-year term on the eight-member panel.

Other court members who took part were Pct. 1 Commissioner Duaine Davis, Pct. 2 Commissioner Tommy Pate and Pct. 4 Commissioner Ted Billingsley.

Q—In reference to the figure of $150,631 spent on indigent care by the hospital 1989, was that the total for the entire county? If not, what was it?
A—No, the $150,631 was for the hospital. County welfare office figures total $168,780 spent on indigent care. The total for the county would be both figures, or $319,411.

In Brief

Mom arrested

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — The mother of twin toddlers found playing in a Shreveport ditch has been arrested for investigation of child neglect, says the sheriff of Nevada County, Ark.

Linda Brodgon, 20, who recently had moved from Shreveport to Prescott, Ark., was arrested after deputies found a note about the incident in a trash can in her home, Sheriff Abb Norman said in a telephone interview.

He said Brodgon reported her daughters missing Sunday morning. Shreveport police had called earlier to ask if twin toddlers were missing, he said.

Parker provides discipline

HOUSTON (AP) — DeLoyd Parker fights drugs and thugs. He says he's no vigilante, just a street counselor.

During the past year, Parker has led a band of volunteers in taking on a neighborhood filled with gang fights and drug brawls — and he's winning.

"We're not vigilantes," said Parker, founder and executive director of the SHAPE Community Center in the city's impoverished Third Ward. "We're trying to keep our children drug-free and safe. We're concerned about drug-free schools. We're concerned about safe school zones."

Wearing white sweat shirts with their logo, the Harambee Community Watch volunteers have become daily fixtures around Ryan Middle School and Blackshear Elementary School.

They stand in the streets helping children cross as they chat with parents and teachers and watch for skirmishes. They've been known to pull up in a van at gatherings of 40 or 50 teen-agers spoiling for a fight and break it up, sending the headliners off to settle their differences by talking.

The program, named for the Swahili word that means community pulling together, has attracted the attention of the White House. Parker is among 26 "local heroes" honored for fighting the War on Drugs who were invited to meet with federal drug czar William Bennett in Washington last week.

Parker refers to his work as "street counseling." Students are as likely to give him a hug now as they are to shove him for a fight.

A 1979 airliner crash at Chicago's O'Hare Airport claimed 275 lives.

WHEN YOU VOTE TUESDAY TAKE IN CONSIDERATION THESE FACTS BEFORE YOU VOTE FOR COUNTY TREASURER

Polly Echols states she plans to reduce the 1990 budget by $10,000.00, then $20,000.00 and computerize the office. As it has one of the smallest budgets now, she would not only eliminate an employee but have to take a drastic cut in her own salary (which she will not want to do) in order to operate the office and computerize!

Polly states she will tie into the existing system 38—that is impossible—the county does not own a system 38 computer!

Polly has quoted 2 prior deputies saying the office can be run by 1 person. Neither are in the position to confirm that as one has not worked there in 12 years and is not fully aware of the present functions and the other woman worked as deputy only 5 months and could assume little of the responsibilities.

I am aware of all functions and needs of the office, having been employed there the last 12 years with a great deal of responsibility, and ask that you please vote to give me my first 4 year term that I may continue to serve you efficiently, professionally, honestly and conservatively!

Dr. Gott Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have spinal osteoarthritis. The use of ibuprofen has triggered chronic gastritis. Are there any anti-arthritis medications that won't damage the stomach?

Is it true that both enteric-coated and injectable aspirin also adversely affect the stomach?

DEAR READER: Unfortunately, aspirin, ibuprofen and prescription anti-inflammatory medicines often cause stomach upset, irritation (gastritis) and — sometimes — peptic ulcer. Although enteric-coated aspirin, which dissolves in the intestine instead of the stomach, is less likely to cause gastric irritation, it still may cause some distress. I don't know of any doctor who recommends injectable aspirin. Therefore, I think you have three choices.

First, try acetaminophen (Tylenol). It is safe and will not upset your stomach, although it is not as strong as prescription drugs.

If this is ineffective, ask your doctor to try one of several non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drugs — such as Voltaren, Indocin or Motrin — until you find one that agrees with you. In addition, you might take antacids (Maalox, Gelusil and Mylanta) with the medicine because these substances often alleviate the irritation caused by NSAIDs.

Third, ask your doctor about Cytolec, a new drug marketed specifically to relieve the stomach problems caused by aspirin and NSAIDs. With Cytolec, you'll be able to take any anti-inflammatory drug without the risk of gastritis or ulcer; however, you may find that taking an additional medicine is not only inconvenient but expensive.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Consumer Tips on Medicines." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Would you comment on TMJ (temporomandibular joint) syndrome? I'm specifically interested in the symptoms and diagnosis.

DEAR READER: The temporomandibular joints, where the mandible (jaw bone) meets the temporal (skull) bones, are on either side of the face, just in front of each ear. The temporomandibular joints act like a hinge when the mouth opens. Ordinarily, this movement is smooth, silent and pain-free. In some circumstances, when the mouth is opened widely, normal people can feel or hear a click.

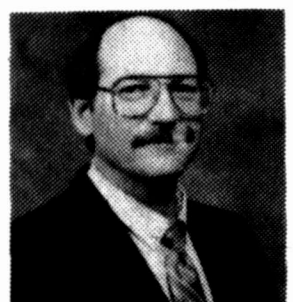

However, in other people, the joints are somewhat unstable; the mandible tends to slip slightly out of joint when the mouth moves, even when the mouth is only partially opened. This causes a click or a thump, headache, sore jaw and ear pain — symptoms that confirm that diagnosis. TMJ syndrome is often associated with malocclusion (improper bite).

Although the condition is not serious, it can cause chronic pain. Some dentists recommend orthodontic appliances to splint the jaw, aid healing and correct malocclusion. However, in most cases, surgery is necessary to repair the joint.

Police officer fatally shoots driver

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — As officer Dennis May directed pedestrians and vehicles from the Denver Nuggets-San Antonio Spurs basketball game Saturday night, he heard reports on his police radio about a man who was fleeing other officers elsewhere in the downtown San Antonio area.

Then May saw a car heading directly at him. As the car moved closer, May said he fired three shots, one of which struck 34-year-old Adrian Salinas of San Antonio.

Salinas died Saturday night at Brooke Army Medical Center of a gunshot wound to the side, and May was placed on administrative duty while the shooting was investigated, authorities said.

The vehicle came to a stop, and neither May nor any other pedestrians were injured, police spokeswoman Leticia Martinez said.

What a difference between needing one trick and needing three tricks! South played low from dummy on the heart lead. East won the king and returned a heart. Declarer won in dummy and immediately attacked the longest suit in the combined hands by leading a spade to the queen. West won the king and played a heart, setting up his suit. Now declarer tried the ace of spades, hoping the jack would fall. No such luck. The defenders now had two spade tricks, two club tricks and three heart tricks.

South botched the hand nicely. Since he had six tricks in the bag after East had won the heart king, he should look for the best chance of getting the additional needed trick. That would be in the club suit. By leading up to the Q-J of clubs twice, declarer will make his contract whenever at least one of the two high club honors is held by East. That's a 75 percent play, and a much better shot than hoping the spade king will be with East or the jack of spades will drop doubleton. But mind you, the correct play is dictated by the level of the contract. Suppose South was as high as three no-trump. Because he now would need three more tricks, he would have to go after spades and hope that he would be able to set up the spades and also a club trick before West could run his hearts. Everything else being the same, playing a spade to the queen at the third trick would succeed in making three no-trump whenever East held the king of spades and two other spades.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Usually you're rather tolerant when dealing with others, but today this attribute may be sluggish and you could have problems with people over things that are somewhat insignificant.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If you are unable to achieve your objectives today, it's probably due to your reluctance to give up methods that have proven to be unproductive. You need a fresh approach.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Guard against inclinations today to envision the outcome of events negatively. What you picture in your mind could play out in real life if you're not careful.

WTC cowboys win first place in rodeo

ODESSA — Western Texas College's men's rodeo team walked away with first place in the Odessa National Intercollegiate Rodeo last weekend with 410 total points.

Tarleton State university came in a distant second with 185 points followed by Vernon Regional Junior College with 165.

Howard College took the women's title with 210 points.

Denny McLanahan of WTC captured first place with a short-go score of 68 to go with his Thursday 81 for a 149 in bareback riding.

Troy Cattoor, another Western

Texas bareback rider, notched a 65 on Sunday and a 64 to get into the final round for a second place total of 129.

The other two WTC wranglers to place in the finals were Keith Webster and Darrin Cook.

Webster's 11.2 second time on two head in steer wrestling gave him a first place finish and Cook scored a 78 in Sunday's bull riding to give him a total of 150 and first position.

The WTC rodeo club will be in Big Spring April 5-8 for their next outing.

First round games set

Oklahoma, MSU among NCAA top seeds

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Michigan State, one of a record seven Big Ten teams in the NCAA basketball tournament, was made a top seed Sunday along with No. 1 Oklahoma, UNLV and Connecticut.

Joining the Spartans in the 64-team field were Big Ten rivals Michigan, the defending national champions, Illinois, Purdue, Indiana, Minnesota and Ohio State. It's the first time a conference has ever had seven teams in the tournament.

The Big East was next with six teams, followed by the Atlantic Coast Conference with five and the Big Eight and Pac-10 with four apiece. Conferences with three teams are the Southeastern, Western Athletic, Big West and Southwest.

Loyola-Marymount (23-5), still mourning the death of star Hank Gathers, is seeded 11th in the West and will meet New Mexico State (26-4) on Friday night in a nationally-televised game. If Loyola wins, it will play defending champion Michigan in the second round if the Wolverines beat Illinois State.

Jim Delany, Big Ten commissioner and chairman of the tournament selection committee, said there were more teams than usual from west of the Mississippi.

"The West is gathering strength," he said. "The West has made great progress."

Along with Connecticut — seeded first in the East — the Big East will be represented by Georgetown, Providence, St. John's, Syracuse and Villanova. The ACC has Georgia Tech, Clemson, Duke, Virginia and North Carolina.

The Sooners, the top seed in the Midwest, are joined in the tournament by Big Eight rivals Kansas, Missouri and Kansas State.

The first round begins Thursday and Friday in eight regional cities. A bid is worth a minimum of $250,000 to each school.

The winners of the regionals will play in Denver on March 31 at the Final Four. Those four teams will be guaranteed an estimated $1.3 million each after expenses.

Sixteen teams with 20 or more victories were left out, including Southern Illinois (26-7), Holy Cross (24-5) and Hawaii (23-9).

Making their tournament debut are Coppin State, South Florida, Northern Iowa, Towson State and Southern Mississippi.

All four top seeds play their opening-round games on Thursday.

Oklahoma (26-4), which won the Big Eight tournament, meets 16th-seeded Towson State (18-12) in the Midwest Regional in Austin, Texas. Big Ten champ Michigan State (26-5) plays Murray State (21-8) in the Southeast in Knoxville, Tenn.

UNLV (29-5), the Big West champion, plays Arkansas-Little Rock (20-9) in the West in Salt Lake City. The other top seed, Connecticut (28-5), meets Boston University (18-11) in the East in Hartford, Conn.

One of the more interesting first-round matchups has Michigan coach Steve Fisher going against his alma mater, Illinois State.

"I know where it is," he said. "I know their nickname and I know they no longer play in the arena from when I was there. I knew Illinois State would be in but I didn't know we would play them."

Five teams will stay close to home for their opening-round games.

Connecticut plays in Hartford, East Tennessee in Knoxville, Virginia in Richmond, Loyola-Marymount in Long Beach and Purdue in Indianapolis. The NCAA prohibits teams from playing on a court where they've played more than half their home games, but does allow teams to play near their campus.

Michigan State coach Jud Heathcote was pleased with his No. 1 seeding.

"I hope the tournament committee is right," he said. "When you're the number one seed, it means you're supposed to be in the Final Four. We're on a roll."

The Midwest appears to be the strongest region based on national ranking, followed by the Southeast, East and West.

Four Top 10 teams were placed in the Midwest — No. 1 Oklahoma, No. 5 Georgetown, No. 9 Arkansas and No. 10 Purdue. The Southeast has No. 4 Syracuse, No. 6 Missouri and No. 7 Michigan State, while the East has No. 2 Kansas and No. 8 Connecticut. The West has only one team ranked in the Top 12 — No. 3 UNLV.

In addition to the Michigan State-Murray State meeting, first-round games in Knoxville on Thursday include Houston (24-7) against either Long Beach State or UC-Santa Barbara, depending on the outcome of the Big West title game; LSU (22-8) vs. Villanova (18-14) and Georgia Tech (24-6) vs. East Tennessee State (27-6).

In the Southeast in Richmond on Friday, it will be Minnesota (20-8) vs. Texas-El Paso (21-10), Missouri (26-5) vs. Northern Iowa (22-8), Virginia (19-11) vs. Notre Dame (16-12), and Syracuse (24-6) vs. Coppin State (26-6).

First-round West games at Salt Lake City on Thursday include Ohio State (16-12) vs. Providence (17-11); Oregon State (22-6) vs. Ball State (24-6) and Louisville (26-7) vs. Idaho (25-5). On Friday at Long Beach, it will be New Mexico State (26-4) vs. Loyola-Marymount (23-5); Michigan (22-7) vs. Illinois State (18-12); Alabama (24-8) vs. Colorado State (21-8); and Arizona (24-6) vs. South Florida (20-10).

In the East in Hartford on Thursday, it's Indiana (18-10) vs. California (21-9); Clemson (24-8) vs. Brigham Young (21-8) and La Salle, with the tournament's best record at 29-1, vs. Southern Mississippi (20-11). In Atlanta on Friday, it's St. John's (23-9) vs. Temple (20-10); Duke (24-8) vs. Richmond (22-9); UCLA (20-10) vs. Alabama-Birmingham (22-8) and Kansas (29-4) vs. Robert Morris (22-7).

Eighth graders get win in SJHS event

Tennessee women may play at home

by The Associated Press

Tennessee has a chance to end the season at home — a good chance.

Should the Vols, the No. 1 seed in the East region for the NCAA women's basketball tournament, reach the Final Four, they'll play in Knoxville at their own Thompson-Boling Assembly Center and Arena.

The defending champions also drew an easier bracket on Sunday. Only two other teams in the region are ranked among the Top 25: No. 13 Virginia, the Atlantic Coast Conference champ, and No. 23 St. Joseph's, co-champion of the Atlantic 10.

"We don't plan it that way, but that's just the way it has worked out," said UCLA's Judith Holland, who heads the NCAA selection committee.

The other top seeds were Louisiana Tech in Midwest, Washington in the Mideast and Stanford in the West.

The Techsters, at 29-0 the only undefeated team in the field, won the American South title. The Huskies and the Cardinal, who host the West region finals, were co-champions in the Pac-10. The top four seeds in each region receive byes to the second round.

Providence and Connecticut were the third and fourth seeds in the East region. The Friars won the Big East title, but shared the regular season crown with Connecticut.

"I don't know either of those teams very well, but I think it would be interesting to see what the outcome would be if our top three teams played each of them several times on a neutral court," said Rutgers Coach Theresa Grentz, whose team competes in the Atlantic 10.

Her Lady Knights were seeded 11th in the Mideast, while Penn State, which won the A-10 tournament, was placed seventh in the East. However, the Lions must travel to Florida State for a first-round game on Wednesday, because Rec Hall was committed to the school's men's team, hosting Marquette in the National Invitation Tournament.

"Neither side — the NCAA nor the NIT — was flexible about moving a date, so we got caught," Penn State coach Rene Portland said.

In the Mideast, the second seed was Auburn, who defeated Tennessee in the finals of the Southeast Conference tournament. Iowa was third and Northwestern, who shared the Big 10 title with the Hawkeyes, was fourth.

The first-seed ranking in the Mideast region is a first for Washington.

In addition to the Michigan State-Murray State meeting, first-round games in Knoxville on Thursday include Houston (24-7) against either Long Beach State or UC-Santa Barbara, depending on the outcome of the Big West title game; LSU (22-8) vs. Villanova (18-14) and Georgia Tech (24-6) vs. East Tennessee State (27-6).

In the Southeast in Richmond on Friday, it will be Minnesota (20-8) vs. Texas-El Paso (21-10), Missouri (26-5) vs. Northern Iowa (22-8), Virginia (19-11) vs. Notre Dame (16-12), and Syracuse (24-6) vs. Coppin State (26-6).

First-round West games at Salt Lake City on Thursday include Ohio State (16-12) vs. Providence (17-11); Oregon State (22-6) vs. Ball State (24-6) and Louisville (26-7) vs. Idaho (25-5). On Friday at Long Beach, it will be New Mexico State (26-4) vs. Loyola-Marymount (23-5); Michigan (22-7) vs. Illinois State (18-12); Alabama (24-8) vs. Colorado State (21-8); and Arizona (24-6) vs. South Florida (20-10).

In the East in Hartford on Thursday, it's Indiana (18-10) vs. California (21-9); Clemson (24-8) vs. Brigham Young (21-8) and La Salle, with the tournament's best record at 29-1, vs. Southern Mississippi (20-11). Pol. Adv. Pd. for by Wayne Eubank, Snyder, Texas 79549

Being Scurry County Treasurer Requires:

Being held accountable each year for millions of dollars of public funds...I assumed that responsibility upon being appointed County Treasurer April 1989.

Investing all available Public funds wisely and promptly to earn maximum return available to us... I assumed that responsibility along with the Commissioners Court in April 1989.

Good working relationship with all County and District offices, and County entities... I assumed that responsibility when I became employed by the County Treasurer's office, not just from April 1989.

Operating the office on a conservative budget, and continuing to give maximum service to the Public. Desire to update and streamline the operations of the office. I have already made some changes since being appointed and want to implement more. Approval at budget time will determine if the office will be computerized in 1991.

I want to serve you... please give me the chance to, by voting for experience and dedication on March 13th.

OC bombs McLennan

Wranglers nab Region V crown with win

All-tourney selections Lynn Collins and Patric Nash led Odessa College in a long-range attack here Saturday as the Wranglers bombarded McLennan Community College 90-71 to win the men's Region V basketball crown.

Collins, voted tournament MVP, uncorked 28 points while Nash added 20 — including 12 from 3-point range.

Waco-based McLennan used its inside strength to lead most of the first half, but Collins and Nash brought Odessa back with a late rally. A bevy of unanswered points, including three straight long-range goals, gave Odessa a 41-29 lead from which McLennan could not recover.

McLennan's Highlanders, who ended the season with a 25-8 record, attempted a second-half comeback behind its two all-tourney choices, Maurice Gandy a 6-7 sophomore from Hackensack, N.J. and 6-4 Belton sophomore Billy Carlock, but never really threatened to regain the lead. Gandy stuck in 26 points and Carlock added 20. Teammate Javier Ayala added 9.

The Highlanders came within a handful of points late and began fouling in a desperate attempt to get back in the game. Odessa at first sputtered from the line, but then began to find the range. For the game, the Wranglers were 17 of 26. Rodney Dent, Odessa's 6-10 post from Edison, Ga., led the way by hitting four of five free shots en route to a 12-point effort.

Orlando Berry notched 16 for Odessa, now 27-6 on the season. The victory lifted Odessa into first-round action of the NJCAA National Tournament in Hutchinson, Kan.

Earlier in the week, South Plains College won the women's Region V Tournament by defeating Odessa 48-45 in the championship game. South Plains will advance to the women's national tournament in Tyler.

Hogs beat Houston to claim SWC title

DALLAS (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks get the opposite of run-and-gun Loyola Marymount in the NCAA tournament this year.

The slowdown offense of the Ivy League Princeton Tigers will test the patience of the pressing Hogs on Thursday in Austin in the Midwest Regionals.

"We went from the team (Loyola) of the 2,000th century to Princeton who likes to walk the ball up the court, and make 10 or 12 passes and play the clock before they shoot," said Arkansas coach Nolan Richardson.

Arkansas outlasted Loyola 120-101 in the NCAA's first round last year before losing 93-84 to Louisville in the second round at Indianapolis.

Arkansas panicked Houston into 17 turnovers — leading to 22 points — to capture the Southwest Conference tournament championship 96-84 Sunday.

Todd Day, the tournament's Most Valuable Player, provided the offensive firepower with a game-high 22 points for the ninth-ranked Razorbacks.

"We wanted to do something special for our fans," said Richardson. "We just turned up the defensive pressure. That was the difference."

The Hogs will be the No. 4 seed in the Midwest and play No. 13 seed Princeton on March 15 in Austin.

Houston, which had a 14-game winning streak until Sunday, will be the No. 8 seed in the Southeast Regional and will play Cal-Santa Barbara on March 15 in Knoxville.

"I thought we would be seeded higher," Richardson said. "I'm disappointed because I thought we played a tough schedule. Still, it will be nice going to Austin although I really didn't care to go there again until next year. I hope the state of Texas fans pull for us."

Arkansas, the regular season SWC champion, increased its record to 26-4 while the Cougars dropped to 25-7. It was the second consecutive tournament victory for Arkansas and fifth in the 15-year history of the conference tournament.

The Hogs turned a close game into a runaway with 13 straight points to start the second half.

"We just got the jump on them in both the first and second halves," Richardson said.

Kimball earns 5A cage title

AUSTIN (AP) — With big-name schools such as Fort Worth Dunbar and Clear Lake and hometown favorite Austin LBJ in the 5A bracket of the state tournament, Dallas Kimball wasn't given much of a chance.

But the dark-horse Knights had an 11-2 run in the third quarter to take command in a 65-59 win over Clear Lake, ruining their opponents' hopes for a second championship.

For Kimball, it helped soothe the pain of a championship loss in 1986 to Amarillo.

"That makes up for the loss four years ago," said Kimball Coach [Name]. "That was tough to take. To make it to the final game and come up short."

Ingram proved conclusively it wasn't a one-man show.

While schoolboy scoring leader Troy House was relatively silent in the second half with only 11 points, his Ingram teammates took up the slack and thumped No. 1-ranked Troup 73-72 for the Class 2A title.

House finished the game and his career with 31 points, 20 of those coming in the first half. Uncharacteristically, House attempted only 10 shots in the second half and tallied only four points in the fourth quarter.

"Troy is a great player," said Ingram Coach Jim Reid. "But he has a great foundation around him. The team proved that today."

The 6-1 guard ended his high school career with 4,259 points, and a state title. His final basket was as important as any he has ever made. His 20-foot bomb midway through the fourth quarter — his only field goal of the quarter — gave Ingram breathing room on a 70-66 lead.

Ingram Coach Jim Reid became the only coach in Texas history to win titles at three different schools.

Reid played on a state championship team at Amarillo Palo Duro in 1956, then more than a decade later coached two championship teams at Kerrville and one in Dumas.

"Considering the pressure this team has been under all year long, this state championship may be the most satisfying," said the 6-foot-6 Reid. "I'm an old man with a lot of great kids. I'm a lucky old coach."

Dallas Lincoln used 10 three-point bombs to stave off upstart Boerne 87-77 and win the Class 4A championship after bringing in the worst record of any team in the tournament at 25-10.

Lincoln's 26th win in its first trip to state halted Port Arthur Lincoln's dominance of the class in the '80s. The Bumblebees were headed for three straight until they were sidetracked by Boerne, which finished second in its district, in the semifinals.

"When I came here the last time, I told everybody I'd be back," said Lincoln Coach Richard Bacon, who brought Seagoville here in 1986 before moving to Lincoln two years ago.

"I didn't know how long or when, but I'd be back."

After blowing a 19-point lead to Hearne in last year's regional final and spoiling a 30-0 record, top-ranked Navasota had all the motivation it needed to dispose of Lamesa 71-54 for the Class 3A crown and cap a 35-0 year.

"We talked about blowing that lead last year," said all-tournament selection Marlon Jefferson, who had 15 points. "We remembered and didn't want to have it happen again.

Lance Hendrick's 20 fourth-quarter explosion sparked Santo to a 67-64 come-from-behind win in Class A over Moulton, which was a runner-up last season as well.

Conservative Politburo member says...

Moscow will not use force

MOSCOW (AP) — President Mikhail S. Gorbachev today called Lithuania's declaration of independence "alarming" but gave no indication he plans any action to prevent the Baltic republic from breaking away.

He did not, however, acknowledge the legality of the move, continuing to refer to Lithuania as a Soviet republic and not by the new name adopted by Lithuania's legislature.

Another member of the ruling Communist Party Politburo told reporters that the Kremlin will deal peacefully with Lithuania.

"We will not use force," Yegor K. Ligachev told reporters at the Congress of People's Deputies in Moscow. "We must resolve this by political means." Ligachev is believed to be one of the more conservative members of the party's ruling body.

Gorbachev, opening a new session of the congress, noted that the chairman of the Lithuanian delegation was absent from his chair on the stage with other members of the Presidium.

"The information coming from Lithuania is alarming, and momentous decisions are being made there that will affect both Lithuania and the Soviet Union," Gorbachev told more than 2,000 deputies.

The lawmakers had assembled to consider constitutional amendments that would create a new, extraordinarily powerful Soviet president and revoke the Communist Party's monopoly on power.

Just two weeks after independence candidates won a two-third majority in Lithuania's legislature, the body voted on Sunday to restore the Baltic republic's sovereignty after 50 years of Soviet rule.

Lithuanian lawmakers acknowledge, though, that true independence can only be won after long, difficult negotiations with the Kremlin.

The hasty vote to secede was prompted by the convening of the Congress to consider giving a new president extraordinary powers, including authority to dissolve republic parliaments and nullify their actions.

The newly elected legislature of the Baltic republic of 3.7 million people voted 124-0 with six abstentions to secede. It also chose Vytautas Landsbergis, chairman of the nationalist Sajudis movement, as president.

"Expressing the will of the people, the Supreme Council of the Republic of Lithuania decrees and solemnly declares the restoration of the exercise of the sovereign powers of the Lithuanian state, which were annulled by foreign force in 1940," the legislature decreed.

"And from this moment, Lithuania again becomes a sovereign state."

The Lithuanian decree proclaims that the local KGB and police, for most of five decades instruments of Soviet terror and repression, must now obey Lithuania rather than Moscow.

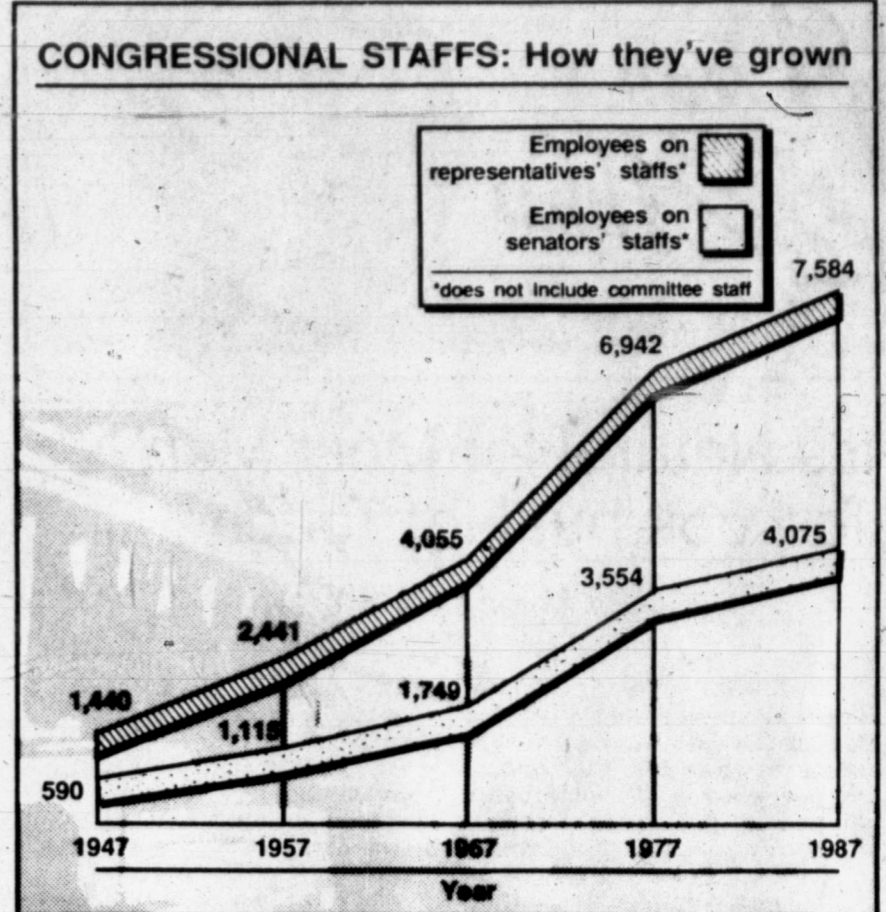

After it was approved, legislators stood and joined hands, chanting "Lietuva, Lietuva" (Lithuania). Outside, a small crowd broke into wild cheers. Earlier, people tore down a metal Soviet hammer-and-sickle seal over the building's door and some stamped on it.

By itself, the decree effects little change in the relationship between the Baltic republic and the Kremlin. But it was the first crack in the union of 15 Soviet republics and more than 100 nationalities as a result of the burgeoning demands for autonomy fostered by Gorbachev's reforms.

In Washington, White House press secretary Marlin Fitzwater said the United States would urge the Kremlin to "respect the will of the citizens of Lithuania." The United States has never recognized the forcible 1940 annexation of the three Soviet republics — Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania.

Lithuania's declaration of independence represents perhaps the biggest crisis yet for Gorbachev, who marked his fifth anniversary as Soviet leader on Sunday.

Rain sweeps Scurry County

Thomas ranged from 1.75 to 3 inches, with the western end receiving some 1.50 inches.

According to reports, the farmland around Dunn received from 2½ to 3½ inches of rain while Hermleigh reported 2.20 inches and Ira received from 2.75 to 3 inches.

Some 1.60 inches was recorded at Fluvanna.

Weekend storms were also reported throughout much of north-central Texas.

A 13-year-old boy drowned in Denton County and rescuers saved a fisherman swept into the raging Llano River after severe thunderstorms pelted North Texas.

The boy, identified as Paul Cooley, drowned Sunday night after falling into a rain-swollen creek in the southwest Denton County suburb of Trophy Club.

Authorities said the teen apparently was playing with two other 13-year-olds along the banks of the creek behind his home when he slipped and fell into the water about 8 p.m.

As the friends ran for help, the rushing water carried the teenager about a half-block. Rescuers found the body about 45 minutes later along an embankment, officials said.

In Llano, police and rescue workers dragged 45-year-old Billy Carrol Ratliff to safety after he was swept into the river. Officials said Ratliff was saved because he managed to grab and cling onto a tree until help arrived.

In southwestern Fort Worth, which received about 2 inches of rain, several dozen residents were evacuated because a drainage creek overflowed its banks. Cars were fender-deep in water and mattresses were floating in flooded bedrooms at some residences.

"It happened so fast, you didn't have time to do anything," said Manuel Martinez, whose home was flooded.

Candidates scramble as primary nears

DALLAS (AP) — It's campaign crunch time with three Democratic gubernatorial candidates fighting to keep their runoff hopes alive while the Republican field is hoping just to keep Clayton Williams from a landslide.

Severe thunderstorms over much of north-central Texas hampered campaign plans as the candidates to replace retiring Gov. Bill Clements stumped for the votes in Tuesday's primary elections.

Poll results printed in Sunday's editions of The Dallas Morning News and the Houston Chronicle showed that on the Democratic side, State Treasurer Ann Richards had the support of 28 percent of voters polled, Attorney General Jim Mattox had 25 percent and former Gov. Mark White had 24 percent.

In the Republican primary, 55 percent of those polled favored Williams, who has spent about $6 million of his own money in his first bid for public office. State Railroad Commissioner Kent Hance, initially perceived as the front-runner in the race, trailed far behind with 13 percent, followed by Houston businessman Jack Rains and Dallas lawyer Tom Luce with 8 percent each.

The Democratic race has become increasingly bitter in recent weeks.

Mattox and White have criticized Ms. Richards, a recovering alcoholic, for refusing to say if she had ever used illegal drugs. Both men say they never have.

Ms. Richards, known outside the state for a her hard-hitting keynote speech at the Democratic National Convention in 1988, has aired television advertisements accusing Mattox and White of profiteering from public service.

White criticized Ms. Richards' campaign for distributing a flier at black churches in Houston and Dallas on Sunday that slammed White's claim of supporting minorities as lies. In response, White suggested that Ms. Richards may be under the influence of "mind-altering drugs."

Turner, teens meet

EGG HARBOR CITY, N.J. (AP) — Miss America Debbye Turner met with a group of troubled girls and discovered that "our dreams and expectations are not all that different."

"What I found out was we had more in common than we thought we did," said Ms. Turner, 24, crowned Miss America 1990 in September.

Ms. Turner had one-on-one interviews Sunday with seven girls ages 14 to 18 at the Females in Transition Center. The program, run by the state Department of Corrections, helps girls from broken homes or with criminal records get back into the mainstream.

It's Natural for Most Men To Look but Not Touch

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1990 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: The business of women feeling threatened because their men look at other women keeps coming up. Now it's "Confused in Oregon," whose boyfriend, a police officer, goes to topless bars for coffee while on duty. Let me explain:

Men like to look. Some enjoy looking at horses, paintings, football and cars. But they are all genetically programmed to enjoy looking at women. It's in our hormones; it hits us when they heat up at about age 14 and stays with us for the rest of our lives.

You ladies spend countless hours — and dollars — to make yourselves look good, so we men will keep looking. So what's the problem?

You feel threatened because your man isn't content to confine his looking only at you. Lighten up. All this looking doesn't mean a thing — except that he's human.

Your man doesn't compare you to the topless bar girls, because he loves you. He loves you for a thousand reasons, one of which is because you don't get up on a stage and prance around bare-bosomed, where anyone with the price of a cup of coffee can look at you.

WARREN JAMISON,
MARINA DEL REY, CALIF.

DEAR WARREN: Hold everything. I just happen to have a letter from one of those topless bar girls who prances around bare-bosomed, where anyone with the price of a cup of coffee can look at her. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: Why do women dance topless at bars? I can speak only for myself. As an eighth-grade dropout and single parent whose husband was an abuser, boozier and user, that job kept me off welfare, off the street selling illegal substances and out of jail. I never had to live in substandard housing. I was able to buy good clothes for my children, feed them nutritious food, give them good health care and make sure they were educated. Eleven years in the nightclub business sent me to college to obtain a Ph.D. — a little late but better late than never.

Abby, girls don't end up stripping for money because they had a storybook childhood. Most girls I worked with had bills to pay, a man, a family or a habit to support. They were not tramps. Men are attracted to us because they want to "rescue" us or take care of us. Some men come in for comfort. Some are severely handicapped men whom most women wouldn't look at. Servicemen, far from home, come in because they're lonesome.

Some policemen come in to watch the cash register, looking for skimming that would give the tax people a good reason to shut the place down.

Topless bars do not attract the cream of society, but it's a good place to pick up leads to drug arrests and other helpful information. I think you get the idea. Enough said. Sign me ...

Battle continues over RJR cigarette

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Test marketing by R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. of its new Dakota cigarette gives anti-smoking advocates another opportunity to fight the tobacco industry, observers say.

When the Dakota story broke several weeks ago, the controversy centered on reports that the new cigarette's chief goal was to capture the lucrative market among 18- to 24-year-old women with a high school education or less, the only group of Americans whose rate of smoking continues to increase.

That quickly caught the attention of smoking opponents who had waged a successful campaign against the introduction of Uptown, an RJR cigarette aimed at urban blacks.

"For people who are very much in favor of banning cigarette advertising, this is a different tack they can take," said Julie Edell, associate professor of marketing in Duke University's Fuqua School of Business. "They believe they were successful in removing Uptown, and it gave them a boost."

The Dakota advertising blitz began more than a week ago in and around Houston and Nashville. The initial ads back up RJR's claims that the company is simply targeting current smokers of Marlboro, made by Philip Morris.

"Houston is known for big deals, big domes and individuals who make up their own minds. You Decide," said one ad.

"Nashville is known for golden hospitality, steel guitars and individuals who make up their own minds. You Decide," said another.

The ads also read, "Dakota. Designed with the Marlboro smoker in mind."

The National Broadcasting Co. (NBC) was created by Radio Corp. of America in 1926. In 1956, Elvis Presley made the first of three appearances on "The Ed Sullivan Show."

Governor says waste site will be operational in 1993

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements has told the Nuclear Regulatory Commission that Texas could be storing its radioactive wastes in a desert dump 12 miles from the Rio Grande by June 1993.

But not if Rep. Ron Coleman, D-El Paso, can convince Secretary of State James A. Baker III that the proposed low-level radioactive waste site in Fort Hancock could jeopardize the United States' relations with Mexico if an accident were to spill radioactive material down the Rio Grande.

Coleman, who is fighting the site on several fronts in Washington, took his case to Baker last week, saying in a letter that although Congress left disposal of low-level radioactive wastes to the states in 1982, "I do not believe the federal government can avoid responsibility when the issue is in a border state and concerns another country."

Coleman said it appears Mexico is considering renewing its concerns over the site in view of recent studies "suggesting a threat would be posed to ground and irrigation water flowing in the Rio Grande if a mishap were to occur this close to an international border."

"I am concerned about the potential liability of the United States under principles of international environmental law and our responsibility to the Republic of Mexico as a result of treaties that could result in the event of a failure of a site," Coleman told Baker.

Thousands of people on both sides of the Rio Grande use its water for irrigation, drinking, domestic uses and for livestock, said Coleman, who is also seeking a review of the proposed location by the International Boundary and Water Commission.

Legislation introduced by Coleman and Rep. John Bryant, D-

Dallas, is pending, meanwhile, in the House to restrict efforts to build a radioactive dump near an international boundary.

Coleman said he believes the site is also in violation of a 1983 agreement with Mexico that declared 60 miles on each side of the border should be an environmentally protected zone.

"The federal bureaucracy, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, and Congress believe they had extricated themselves from the siting issues when they gave it over to the states ... but they would have to pay the piper in the event of an accident," Coleman said Friday.

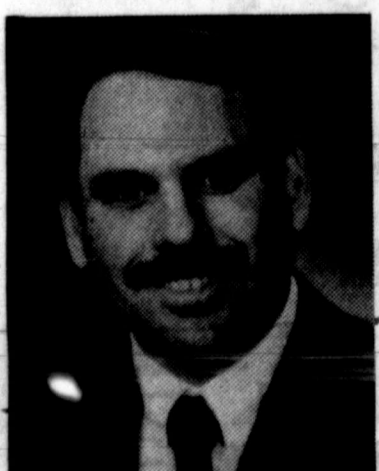

Clements, however, has certified to the NRC that Texas will be capable of providing for the storage or disposal of low-level radioactive waste generated in the state after Dec. 31, 1992.

Although Texas has made "excellent progress toward filing a license application" for the Fort Hancock site, Clements told the NRC that it now appears "such a license application will not be filed until mid-1990."
