Chamber of commerce...

Board supports 1/2-cent economic tax

Snyder Chamber of Commerce board members approved a resolution supporting an additional 1/2-cent sales tax for economic development and previewed upcoming community events during their Monday afternoon meeting.

Chamber Manager Bill Moss encouraged the board's support for the resolution, saying "We have to move forward. We can't just sit here and wither on the vine."

Moss said the tax is necessary for Snyder to be able to compete for business and industry. A 1/2-cent sales tax would generate an estimated $380,000 annually.

"This is the most fair and equitable way to do this," Moss said. "We can't go out and compete (with other communities) at the present time."

The resolution, along with similar ones expected to be considered by other city and county governing bodies, will be presented to the Snyder City Council on April 2. If approved, the issue will go before city residents in a called election Aug. 11. If a majority of voters support the 1/2-cent tax at that time, it would be implemented in 1991.

Senate Bill 971, which became effective June 14, 1989, allows any city in a county of less than 500,000 population to levy a sales tax of up to 1/2-cent to fund an industrial development corporation. The corporation may use the tax revenue for a number of purposes, including acquiring buildings, land and equipment and paying the principal interest on debt. It may not be used to provide transportation facilities, sewage or solid waste disposal (see CHAMBER, page 8)

County-wide 'bee' slated Wednesday on college campus

Some 22 junior high and elementary students, representing 11 schools in Scurry County, will have their spelling ability tested again beginning at 9 a.m. Wednesday when the 15th annual county spelling bee gets underway at the Fine Arts Theatre on the Western Texas College campus.

Last month, schools in Snyder and Scurry County each held a spelling bee at which time students competed for the honor of representing their school at the county bee. Some schools named other winners besides the top two spellers, but only the bee winner and alternate are able to advance to the county bee.

One of the 22 contestants will be Andrea Corkran, Stanfield sixth grader and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Corkran, who has won the Stanfield bee for the past two years and was last year's county winner as well.

Spelling competition will continue until a final winner is declared. The five finalists in the county bee will each receive a medal. Once all but two spellers are eliminated from competition, a short "breather" will follow before the spelldown continues.

The top speller in the county will receive a gold medal and the runner-up will get a silver medal.

The county winner will advance to regional competition April 7 at Lubbock Monterey High School. The regional bee will begin at 12:30 p.m.

Janie Carroll will serve as the announcer for Wednesday's bee. The four judges will include Dr. Ed Barkowsky, chairperson of WTC's Communications and Letters division; Debbie Brunson, Marilyn Lancaster, assistant professor of developmental studies at WTC, and Mary Hood, WTC psychology professor.

The following students will compete in this year's county bee. Students are listed in the order they placed.)

WTC trustees approve trip; plan to employ an assistant

Western Texas College board of trustees approved monies to send 16 students on an out-of-state trip, discussed the upcoming board election and heard informational reports during its monthly meeting Monday evening.

The board okayed a sum of $3,844 to send 16 students involved in the Golf/Landscape Technology program to the Association of Landscape Contractors of America (ALCA) Field Days competition scheduled April 4-11 in Ft. Collins, Colo. "We feel like this has been part of the program's success," said President Dr. Harry Krenek. "It's good advertisement for our program. These students compete, they interview for jobs and they visit golf courses all the way up and back."

The board unanimously approved the funds after voicing their support of the Golf/Landscape Technology program. "I'd like to see us develop some type of marketing plan to push (see TRIP, page 8)

Public hearing dates slated on subject of redistricting

The Texas Legislature's committees on redistricting will conduct public hearings in Lubbock and Amarillo this Friday and Saturday in preparation for the drawing of new district lines for seats in the U.S. Congress, the Texas Legislature and State Board of Education.

The legislature is required to redistrict in 1991 after the 1990 United States census population data is published. The primary purpose of redistricting is to equalize population in districts in order to protect the principle of "one person, one vote." In the process, the legislature must protect the voting rights of members of minority groups.

Districts drawn in 1991 are to be in effect for the next 10 years.

Redistricting in the past two decades has resulted in significant increases in legislative and congressional seats held by blacks, Hispanics and Republicans. The 1990 census is expected to reveal the continuation of population trends that have shown increases in the percentages of the state population that is black or Hispanic, as well as a shift in population away from rural East and West Texas and the metropolitan central city areas toward suburban communities.

The public hearings will be conducted jointly by the House Redistricting Committee, chaired by Rep. D.R. "Tom" Uher (D-Bay City) and the Senate Select Committee on Legislative Redistricting, chaired by Sen. Bob Glasgow (D-Stephenville). Rep. Delwin Jones (R-Lubbock) is vice-chair of the house committee and Sen. Gonzalo Barrientos (D-Austin) is vice-chair of the senate committee.

The hearing in Lubbock will be at the Lubbock Civic Center Theatre and will begin at 2 p.m. Friday. The committees will recess at the completion of afternoon testimony and reconvene at 7:30 p.m. for additional (see HEARING, page 8)

The feller on Deep Creek says, "The only person with time to write a book on how to rear children is a bachelor."

A few weeks ago, in this space, we noted some findings about the eating habits of the average male. The male who lives to the age of 70 will have eaten 880 chickens, 35 turkeys, 770 pounds of fish, 23 hogs, two calves, 12 sheep and 14 cattle.

Snyder's W.T. Whitehead called to say his 10-year-old screwtail bulldog has already eaten 520 chickens. Said Whitehead, "Miss Piggy eats one chicken a week."

Like most pets, Mr. Whitehead gives Miss Piggy her favorites—including a pound of stew meat or ground beef each week.

Whitehead says the name was given his dog because she was the runt of the litter and was being pushed away by "brothers and sisters" at feeding time. Whitehead admits that over the past 10 years, the pudgy Miss Piggy has made up for her slow start.

Dieting seems to be America's favorite pastime—part of the time. We've noticed that most of those magazines aimed at the women are filled with two types of stories.

Half of the articles are about dieting and the other 50 percent are recipes. There's one sure thing about a diet—the first thing you're sure to lose is your temper.

Did you hear about the West Texas radio announcer who said he needed to clear up a previous announcement? Somebody had called the senior center and wanted to volunteer for the Males and Whales project.

"Please be advised it was the Meals on Wheels organization I appealed for, but I have a Texas accent."

Q—How much does it cost when a state penitentiary inmate files a lawsuit in district court, and who pays for it?

A—The normal filing fees of $110 are usually waived with the inmate's signing of a pauper's oath, so there are no costs, "other than paper," a spokesman for the district clerk's office said. The state attorney general's office has a traveling staff attorney who defends the state and other governmental entities against such suits.

Teenager gets life sentence

Youngster killed over sneakers

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston jury has sentenced a 17-year-old man to life in prison for killing a youngster who refused to surrender his sneakers.

Demetrick James Walker was sentenced Monday after jurors in State District Judge Norman Langford's court deliberated about three and a half hours. The jury convicted Walker of murder Thursday.

Walker was accused of shooting 16-year-old Johnny Bates as Bates waited at a bus stop April 1.

Evidence in the trial showed Walker wanted Bates' Nike Air basketball shoes and marched up to him, demanding, "Give me those shoes."

When Bates refused, Walker used a .22-caliber pistol to shoot him in the head.

Walker then ran away without the shoes, testimony showed. He later told some girls he would sleep well that night because he had shot someone who had refused to give up shoes and someone who lived in a rival neighborhood.

Astrograph

by Bernice Bede Osol

March 14, 1990

There are strong indications that in the year ahead you might do things on a larger scale than you have in the past. This could pertain to both your social life and your commercial affairs.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You're a strong opener today and the early stages of your efforts should bear this out. However, when it comes to closing you might not display the same admirable talents. Pisces, treat yourself to a birthday gift. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead by mailing $1.25 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) A promising arrangement involving you and someone else might not come off exactly as anticipated. Be prepared to make corrective adjustments if necessary.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) A decision based upon information you have not thoroughly verified could be erroneous today. Try to take ample time in weighing alternatives before rendering a judgment.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Conditions pertaining to your earning power are very favorable at this time, but they are not foolproof. Do not take big risks in hopes of reaping small gains.

CANCER (June 21-July 21) You possess the knack for doing things in a bigger way than usual today. Your efforts are likely to be successful, but you could have complications on which you didn't figure.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) People who are pertinent to your special needs today can be led but not pushed or manipulated. Try to keep this in mind, because it will minimize resistance.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Associates in general, and old friends in particular, can be counted on to be helpful towards you today. Someone with whom you've previously had trouble, however, won't fit into this category.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You are presently in a favorable cycle where your career and finances are concerned, so make the most of your opportunities. There is a warning, however, that requires you to be prudent.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) If you are philosophical about obstructions that impede your progress today you'll deal with them wisely. However, if you let your temper make decisions for you, it'll be another story.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) The less demanding you are of companions today, the more willing they are likely to be to help you. Let the idea originate with them instead of coming as a command from you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Don't let it be said of you today that you are a good taker, but a reluctant giver. Reciprocity is important at this time, so be sure to pay back favors.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You won't be out of line if you envision goals a bit grander than usual today. The problems could come if you think they automatically are going to be handed to you on a silver platter.

Dallas workers prepare for census

DALLAS (AP) — The city of Dallas is offering free movies, meals and T-shirts as a way of encouraging the homeless to come out and let themselves be counted during the upcoming national census.

March 20-21, census-takers in Dallas and other cities nationwide will be trying to find street dwellers, in hopes of getting a count of the homeless in America, officials said Monday.

takers, who will include some homeless people, will scour shelters, streets, park benches and under bridges in hopes of getting an accurate assessment of the extent of the homeless problem.

said Karen Boudreaux, homeless program manager for the city of Dallas.

This is the first time the Census Bureau has undertaken such a systematic tally. In 1980, the bureau performed a "casual count" of transients and found about 13,000 people at bus stations, welfare offices and street corners. Estimates of the homeless population vary widely today: from as few as 200,000 to as many as 6 million.

The Dallas homeless population is estimated at 4,000.

"Regardless of what you may think, a lot of federal program money will depend on it. You can get in this program and play or sit on the sidelines and forfeit,"

DEAR DR. GOTT: Is there anything one can do to prevent varicose veins? Is exercise good or harmful, and what kind of surgery, if any, would help?

DEAR READER: Varicose veins are normal veins that have stretched and become swollen with blood. Unlike arteries, which are lined by muscular tissue, veins are relatively weak; they do not constrict. Therefore, venous constriction is largely provided by the tissues surrounding the veins.

If this support is inadequate, or if the venous blood is under excessive pressure — for example, during pregnancy — the veins will balloon and enlarge, resulting in varicose veins. The tendency to this condition appears to be inherited.

Non-surgical treatment of varicose veins consists primarily of elastic leg support. When worn regularly, these stockings provide venous support that is lacking in the tissues around the veins.

Surgery — consisting of venous stripping, sclerosis (obliterating the veins with strong chemicals) or laser therapy — is reserved for severe cases in which the varicosities are especially unsightly or cause discomfort.

Exercise does not affect varicose veins but is healthful in general. People with a tendency to varicose veins are often helped if they avoid prolonged standing and the use of constricting clothing, such as garters and knee-high stockings with elastic tops.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My two brothers, ages 48 and 55, have been diagnosed with myotonic dystrophy. Is this hereditary? What might this mean for our children and grandchildren? So far, of the six of us, only my older brother's son shows signs, yet he hasn't been officially diagnosed.

DEAR READER: Myotonic muscular dystrophy is an unusual inherited disorder characterized by weakness and myotonia (slow relaxation after muscle contraction). Hand muscles are commonly affected, and patients usually exhibit ptosis (drooping eyelids). Particularly advanced cases are associated with mental retardation, dementia, cataracts, premature balding, various glandular abnormalities and heart-muscle defects.

The disease is incurable, however, physical therapy and muscle relaxant drugs sometimes help improve symptoms, but do not alter the course of the disease. Thus, people with family histories of myotonic dystrophy should seek genetic counseling before considering parenthood.

Although the disease is genetically transmitted, not all children will exhibit symptoms; therefore, you may wish to have your children and grandchildren checked by a neurologist.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Help I — Physical Illness." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

Acquaintance renewed

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — U.S. Sen. Bob Kerrey has renewed his acquaintance with actress Debra Winger, lately divorced from Timothy Hutton, said a Kerrey aide.

Miss Winger and her son, Noah, were spending several days in Omaha this week during the Senate recess, said Steve Jarding, Kerrey's press aide.

Then-Gov. Kerrey met Miss Winger in 1983 when she was filming "Terms of Endearment" in Lincoln. Their love affair ended in the fall of 1985, but Kerrey and Miss Winger remained friends, Jarding said.

Miss Winger is a business partner with Kerrey in the Prairie Life Center, a fitness center in Omaha.

The committee was created as a result of the recently-approved workers' compensation reforms. It will monitor the implementation of the new act and provide continual oversight of the workers' compensation system.

"Rep. Counts will assist this committee in continuing the legislature's reform efforts by ensuring the new law is implemented in a timely and responsible manner," Lewis, D-Fort Worth, noted. "The panel's efforts are critical to repairing the economic decay the current process has caused our state."

Also appointed to the committee by the Speaker are Representatives Richard Smith, R-College Station, and Robert Earley, D-Portland.

Billy Barty being sued

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Willow" and "Rumpelstiltskin" star Billy Barty is being sued by a TV writer who says the dwarf actor owes him $2,000 for his help on the brief-run show "Short Ribbs."

Bill Winckler, 25, of suburban Woodland Hills, said Barty has ignored a contract guaranteeing him pay for each script plus a percentage of syndication profits. The show ran from September to December.

Author presents program

The University Women met March 6 at the Martha Ann Women's Club. Hostess was Janice Mitchell.

A program was presented by local author Deanie Mills entitled "Snobbery within the Book Publishing Industry."

Mills said that people should read for enjoyment and learning as she did. Later she got into writing books herself. It took her two years to write "Dark Room." It took her eight months to find an agent and then 14 months for publishing. Basically, it will be three years after a book is sold before a writer receives any money.

She told the group that before she decided to channel her efforts into writing, she enjoyed getting lost in her reading. Now she tells how easy it is to get lost in the world of publication.

Mills has a contract for three suspense novels.

President Penny Perry presided over the meeting. They discussed donations to Snyder Neighbor's Sharing project and garage sale items for the Noah Project.

Kay Hopper reported to the club about applications for the Brenda Cox Memorial Scholarship. A recipient will be named soon.

Special guest was Charolette Etgen. Hopper won the hostess gift.

The next meeting will be April 3. Hopper will be the hostess. Snyder High School UIL Prose and Poetry readers will present the program.

Scout leader optimistic about future

Although their numbers have declined in recent years, from 17 to 12 troops, executive director for the West Texas Girl Scout Council, Nancy Henderson, remains optimistic about the future.

"We are looking for good things to happen," Henderson said.

Henderson, of Abilene, is pleased with the recent election of Snyder resident Dr. Ed Barkowsky as president of the area council. "It is always exciting to see a man helping out a woman," Henderson said. "We are always in the need for some good leaders and some of our best leaders come from Scurry County."

Henderson believes that boys get more attention in school and this is why scouting is so important. It gives the girls an informal education, one where they are not in competition with boys. "Girl Scouts is designed for girls and their needs...it's a sisterhood."

"We like to see our girls do more than just sell cookies. They clean highways, give food to the poor and visit nursing homes." This is the more traditional image of scouting.

However Henderson sees them also adopting more contemporary roles.

For example, they have a new program for teenage mothers. Henderson and her group took 11 young mothers to a one week camp last summer. Daycare was provided for the children while their mothers attended classes on nutrition, health care and child development.

Although the camp lasted only a few days, this is an ongoing program. The girls that participated meet together regularly.

The Scouts were instrumental in getting child care funded for Abilene Independent Schools. Since that time, three girls have returned to finish high school. In addition, one girl is attending TSTI and yet another is enrolled in college.

Plans are being made to expand the program to reach girls locally. Snyder high school junior Kellie Schlegel is working on this program to earn her Gold Star Award. She participated in last year's camp as a "care-giver."

This is one way the Girl Scouts hope to build self-esteem. Family values are also important to the Girl Scouts. Group leaders play a key role in this process. "Girl Scout leaders can be a reinforcement of parental values. They act as an extended family. Family unity is very important," Henderson said.

She feels that the Girl Scouts will play a role in helping to ready the girls for the future. "The bottom line is the girls. That's really what it is all about."

Often the secret to successful declarer play is to be in the right place at the right time. And one more thing — you may need to get there the right number of times. South ducked the opening lead when East played the king, but had to win the next heart. Chances were not good. Apparently declarer needed the king of spades on-side and a 3-3 spade split as well. So he played king of clubs and a low club to the jack. A spade to the queen won, and declarer played a club back to the jack in dummy. A second spade finesse worked, as West contributed the spade 10. That left South with the A-9 of spades over the K-8 in the East hand. Unfortunately South was on lead. He had a club left, but it was the queen, and dummy was left with the five-spot.

Declarer South did not really expect West to hold the doubleton 10 of spades, but it cost nothing for him to provide for the possibility. After cashing the club king, he should carefully play the seven to dummy's jack. He then takes the spade finesse. Since both defenders followed to the previous two rounds of clubs, declarer is now safe to overtake the queen of clubs with the ace to take another spade finesse. The five of clubs is left in dummy, and declarer has the lowly three — one more entry to the North hand to lead a third spade through East's king.

Window improvements

By READER'S DIGEST For AP Newsfeatures

Proper window treatments can downplay your home's shortcomings and make the most of its advantages.

Here are suggestions for making the best use of curtains, draperies, blinds, shades and shutters.

— Consider how your home looks from the outside. For a harmonious appearance, all windows seen from the same angle should appear similar in style and color.

— The best decorated window is seldom the most decorated one. Remember, the primary function of a window is to admit light and air.

— When a window provides a beautiful view, don't hide it with heavy draperies or undercurtains. Hang simple draperies in quiet colors and think of the window as framing the view like a picture.

— In planning a window treatment, consider the kind of light the room gets. If the window faces north, aim to admit as much light as possible. If it faces south or west, you may want to cut the amount of sun the room receives.

Draperies or Curtains?

How do draperies differ from curtains? Generally, draperies are made of heavier fabric, are lined, and are hung from hooks. Curtains are usually made of a lightweight fabric, are unlined, and have a casing or pocket for a rod.

An expanse of draperies and undercurtains can compensate for skimpy moldings and awkwardly located or oddly shaped windows by tying a whole wall area together. Well-placed windows, on the other hand, often need little more than simple curtains.

For adequate fullness, all curtains and draperies (except straight flat panels) should measure at least double the width of the area to be covered. Sheer curtains should be triple the width.

Doubtful about spending the extra money to line draperies? Consider this: Linings give more privacy, protect the drapery fabric against sun damage and insulate against heat and cold. An added advantage is a more pleasing appearance from the outside.

Solutions for Problem Windows

— When you need the light but the view outside is dreary, suspend plants from the ceiling in front of the window. Or stretch glass shelves across the window and show off a collection of glasses or old bottles through which the light can shine.

— When French doors or casement windows open into a room, use extra-wide drapery rods so you can draw the draperies clear at each side before opening the doors or windows. Or place shades well above the frames so the doors or windows can open freely when the shade is rolled up.

— If two small windows on one wall are relatively close together, treat them as a single unit by spanning them with one set of Venetian blinds or a single window shade.

Vincent, league leaders meet

Commissioner and presidents try to postpone opening day

NEW YORK (AP) — When Commissioner Fay Vincent meets with the league presidents today, it will not concern how to save opening day but how to postpone it.

Monday was the unofficial deadline both sides had set for having players in spring training camps in order to start the baseball season as scheduled on April 2.

But there were no negotiations on the contract stalemate Monday, and no new ideas on how to get the talks going.

Vincent was scheduled to meet with American League president Bobby Brown and National League president Bill White to map out a plan for postponing opening day.

"We're working on that," Vincent said Monday night. "I'm trying to figure out what the process is."

Vincent said it was "highly unlikely" that opening games would be played on time, and owners negotiator Chuck O'Connor said of a postponement: "It's not a foregone conclusion, but it's darn close to it."

Today is the 27th day of the lockout and no negotiations are scheduled as the sides remain deadlocked on salary arbitration eligibility.

O'Connor said he had a telephone conversation with union head Donald Fehr on Monday, but had no idea when formal negotiations would resume.

"When one side or the other comes up with an idea that is worth discussing," O'Connor said of plans for a meeting. "I can't sit here and negotiate with myself. The proposal has to start at Third Avenue," headquarters of the players association.

With the likely postponement of opening day, O'Connor said there are issues that will complicate matters even further.

"The question of how long spring training will be, how long the season will be," O'Connor said. "We will have to go back to work an agreement that will prorate contracts."

On postponing regular-season games, O'Connor said he thought it would be either by week or by series rather than by day.

Several players also have "lockout language" in their contracts calling for an arbitrator to decide if they are to be paid.

Owners will also have to start dealing with the sticky matter of returning television money and refunding tickets.

To complicate matters, the union has filed a request with arbitrator George Nicolau that owners pay $51.6 million in what the union says are the minimum damages from the first two collusion cases.

The money covered in the union's motion before Nicolau is for 1987 and 1988 damages from the 1985 and 1986 collusion cases. Arbitrator Thomas Roberts previously awarded the union $10.5 million for 1986 damages.

"We think it's entirely inappropriate and improper for them to hold money they admit belongs to the players," Fehr said. "They have acknowledged it is a minimum $51.6 million and it may be three times that amount."

O'Connor said the clubs had not yet decided how to respond to the motion, which is scheduled to be heard on Wednesday.

SJHS track squads place high in meet

Snyder's seventh grade girls took third place and the boys, fourth, in Friday's Snyder Junior High track meet.

The girls finished with 118 points. Big Spring won with 244 and Sweetwater's 151 was enough for second place in the meet.

Bianca Rocha and Brooke Lowrance each claimed a first place finish.

Rocha's 27'11 1/4" distance in the shot put gave her first and Lowrance's 27' 1" effort in the triple jump led the field.

Other top finishers for the girls included Veronica Gomez' second place with a discus throw of 57' 2" and a runner-up spot for Paige Gayle who leaped 12' 7 3/4" in the long jump.

Gayle also nabbed a second in the 200 meter dash with a 30.78 second time.

Louis Speedon, Jeremy Wells, R. Munoz and Greg McAden won the 1600 meter relay.

The Snyder quartet ran the course in 4:11.25.

Orlando Martinez won another first for the SJHS boys with his 5:37.22 time in the 1600 meter run.

Orlando blows lead to Sonics

By The Associated Press
Now you see them, now you don't. It's magic.

The Orlando Magic, that is, who set club records of 35 points in the first period and 69 in the first half. Then — poof! — a season-low 36 points in the second half as a seven-point halftime lead turned into a 130-105 loss to the Seattle SuperSonics on Monday night.

"Their trap took us out of what we were doing in the first half. We stopped rebounding and the wheels came off," Orlando coach Matt Guokas said. In the first half, he said, "We were moving and screening and taking care of the basketball, which is the key for us."

In other NBA games, it was Los Angeles Lakers 107, Charlotte 102; San Antonio 92, Minnesota 88; Milwaukee 109, New Jersey 104 and Golden State 112, Los Angeles Clippers 109.

Dale Ellis scored 24 points for Seattle and Steve Johnson had six points during a 10-0 fourth-quarter run when the Sonics broke the game open. The Sonics led 92-88 after three quarters and scored on their first five possessions of the fourth period.

Ellis, playing in his third game since being sidelined Jan. 11 because of a collapsed lung sustained in an automobile accident, made 10 of 15 shots and led seven Sonics in double figures. Seattle overcame a 73-66 third-quarter deficit with a 16-2 run keyed by Nate McMillan's seven points. Ellis' 22-foot jumper put Seattle ahead to stay at 76-75 with 7:11 left in the third quarter.

Seattle coach Bernie Bickerstaff said the Sonics were fortunate that one good half was enough to win.

"We didn't do anything resembling a Sonic basketball team in the first half," he said. "In the second half we got busy, and it showed."

Reggie Theus led Orlando with 26 and Jerry Reynolds had 20.

Lakers 107, Hornets 102

James Worthy scored 26 points and the Lakers took advantage of a fourth-quarter lapse by Charlotte.

After taking an 87-79 lead at the end of the third quarter on 57 percent shooting, Charlotte went cold, hitting just one field goal in 10 minutes. Meanwhile, the Lakers went on a 20-6 run, capped by Byron Scott's layup off a

Raiders set to play football in Oakland

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The Silver and Black are welcome back. The Oakland City Council and Alameda County supervisors made that official Monday night by approving the financial deal accepted earlier in the day by the Los Angeles Raiders.

Council members voted 5-3 and supervisors 3-1 with one abstention, at the end of a five-hour session, in favor of the $602 million offer to the NFL team which Al Davis moved out of Oakland eight years ago following a stadium dispute. The Raiders plan to return no later than the 1992 season.

Davis, managing general partner of the Raiders, has agreed to sign a 15-year lease to play at the Oakland Coliseum. He broke a long silence on his plans for the team by accepting Oakland's offer, which was contingent upon approval by council members and supervisors, just minutes before the expiration of a noon Monday deadline for a decision.

"The greatness of the Raiders started in Oakland. That's where we made history," said Davis, looking back at the two Super Bowl titles and nine division championships the silver-and-black clad team won when representing the Bay Area city.

President Bush lifts trade embargo against Nicaragua

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush today lifted a five-year trade embargo against Nicaragua and asked Congress to provide $300 million to help speed the transition to democracy. He directed his defense secretary to provide funds from Pentagon budget reductions.

Bush also renewed his call for $500 million in assistance to Panama and said both Central American nations "need our help to heal deep wounds."

Bush called for creation of a "Fund for Democracy" to assist the two nations. He urged Congress to speed the aid on its way and to join the administration in identifying Pentagon programs that would absorb the needed reductions.

Bush also responded with a blunt "no" when asked whether he would freeze Social Security benefits or raise taxes to eliminate the federal deficit. A senior House Democrat made such proposals last weekend as part of a comprehensive deficit-cutting plan.

Bush said his administration had an encouraging response to the plan by Rep. Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill., because it showed "evident goodwill."

"There's a lot of things that I'm not for that are in his proposal. A lot including taxes," the president said.

Asked if the administration would recognize a drive for independence by the Soviet Republic of Lithuania, Bush said, "We want to see the evolution of the control of the territory there."

The president opened his news conference with the announcement that he had signed an order lifting the five-year trade embargo that former President Reagan had imposed against the Sandinista government of Daniel Ortega.

this (program)," said Trustee John Fagin. "I believe this is the type thing that can draw people in here. There is a great demand for graduates of our program and there aren't many institutions offering it."

Krenek said the college is also interested in expanding the program but that instructors are hard to find and the state mandated TASP testing is having a negative effect on enrollment. If a student fails a portion of the TASP test, the student must enroll in developmental classes and may not be allowed to take certain other college courses. Some students, upon learning they must take developmental classes, are not enrolling.

Krenek later informed the board that the college will begin advertising for an assistant to help Charles Meek, controller, with computer and accounting duties. Krenek said the new position is based on the recommendation by Vestal & Co. CPAs in an annual audit which stated that there is a duplication of responsibilities that would best be separated. The recommendation also said that increased demands in computer science, programing and hardware throughout the campus have increased Meek's workload.

The hiring of an assistant is expected to allow Meek to concentrate more on his computer-related responsibilities and allow someone else to concentrate on accounting duties. The board was told that the salary for the new position would be in the mid-$20,000s.

The board was also updated on the May 5 college board election. Board members were told that March 21 is the final day to file for a place on the board, March 26 will be the date for drawing for a place on the ballot and April 16-May 2 would be dates for absentee voting.

They were also informed that Spring Break is scheduled March 19-23 and that the business office will not be open March 18 and 20. Signs will be posted giving Mavis Brumbelow's telephone number should anyone wish to file on those two dates.

Krenek told the board that the Northwest Region Education Council has given approval for extension courses to be offered in Anson. It was noted that Anson is within miles of a new 2,000-bed prison unit soon to be under construction and that WTC will plan to offer correctional training and criminal justice classes in the community.

Also discussed was dropping the automotive and welding classes available to high school students and an honors class project, "Psychology of Adjustment." The honors class is interviewing students who have to make major adjustments into college life, such as handicapped students or older citizens who are going back to the campus to further their education. The class will present its findings to college officials at 1:15 p.m. Thursday.

In the only other item discussed, the board noted that a membership drive for the golf course is ongoing and will increase following Spring Break. Initial fees to the "WTC Golf Club" are $20. Monthly golf course membership fees are $30 for an individual or $45 for a family. A combination membership, allowing the use of the golf course, racquetball courts, swimming pool and weight room is $47.50 for an individual or $60 for a family each month.

Board members present were Fagin, Bill Wilson Jr., John Gayle, R.C. Patton, Bob Hargrove and Howard Sterling. Absent was Roy Baze.

facilities or water supply to the general public unless those facilities benefit property acquired for development purposes.

The resolution was approved unanimously by board members present.

Informational items were the focus of the rest of the meeting. Board members said preparations for the March 31 chamber banquet were proceeding. The banquet will feature a "Southwest" theme, and board president Fran Farmer noted, "Denim is very appropriate dress for this banquet. If you wear denim, you'll be right in style."

Moss mentioned other upcoming events, including the annual Snyder High School baseball tournament which begins Thursday, a tennis tournament which opens Friday and the Canyon Reef Relays track meet Saturday. Also mentioned was the annual Snyder Wheels Swap Meet, slated Friday through Sunday at the county coliseum annex.

Snyder will host about 50 trailers for the Air Stream Trailer Rally here Thursday through Saturday. Another upcoming event is the Golden "K" Kiwanis Fish Fry March 25.

Moss also told the board of an agreement between the chamber and Snyder Daily News to publish the chamber's monthly newsletter in a Sunday edition just before the first of each month. He said the plan would help the chamber "expense-wise" and would be "perhaps more widely read."

Board member Joe Sentell also informed the board that he will submit a proposal stating that the president of the Gold Coaters organization be an automatic member of the board. Board members had no opposition to the proposal, but said the Gold Coaters organization should be contacted to learn the feelings of that group first.

Board members present at the meeting were Farmer, Sentell, Herbie Figueredo, Larry Schwarz, Eddie Williams, Susan Neves, Gary Landes, Terry Bowden. Not present were Harry Krenek, Billy Huddleston, Bill Davies, Cindy Banta and Paula Gilbert.

Haiti inaugurates first woman president

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Supreme Court Judge Ertha Pascal-Trouillot today became the first woman president of Haiti in the Caribbean nation's tumultuous 186-year history.

Mrs. Pascal-Trouillot was inaugurated a day after military leader Lt. Gen. Prosper Avril, pressured by widespread protests, resigned and left the country.

Mrs. Pascal-Trouillot is to serve as interim president with a 19-member advisory council until after the country's first free elections, which could take place in three to six months.

"She has the capacity to lead the country to the democracy we have all been waiting for," said Chantal Hudicourt Ewald, a lawyer who helped write the 1987 constitution. "It is a great victory for women."

Soviet Congress creates powerful presidency

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Congress today reversed 70 years of Soviet tradition and approved Mikhail S. Gorbachev's plan for a strong presidency and a multiparty political system.

The Congress also legalized private ownership of factories.

It scrapped the clauses of the Soviet Constitution that guaranteed the Communist Party's leading role in society.

The lawmakers approved the measure on the presidency by a vote of 1,817 to 133, with 61 abstentions, the official Tass news agency said. A two-thirds majority of the Congress of People's Deputies was required for the motion to pass.

"We are standing before the greatest, most meaningful step in the history of our government," said Gorbachev.

The measures on the presidency, private property and scrapping of the party's role had been passed earlier this month by the smaller parliament that handles day-to-day business, the Supreme Soviet.

Gorbachev had argued that the more powerful presidency was needed to keep the crumbling union intact as he presses ahead with reforms. Opponents said it would give the president dangerous dictatorial powers.

Lithuanians were so dismayed by the presidency proposal that they rushed to declare independence before it passed.

Gorbachev said a legislative commission was studying the Lithuanian problem and that he would consider the status quo not to have changed "until the entire situation is cleared up."

"We welcome the fact that deputies from all the republics, including Lithuania, are in attendance," he said.

On Monday, another member of the Communist Party's ruling Politburo, Yegor K. Ligachev, said Moscow would not use force in Lithuania.

If the constitutional amendment on the presidency is approved, "Gorbachev will get dictatorial powers with the right to overrun any republican parliament," Algimontas Chekuolis, a Lithuanian, said Monday.

Chekuolis was elected to the Congress last year but says he now considers himself an observer.

A constitutional amendment requires a two-thirds majority, or the approval of 1,500 of the 2,250 members of the Congress. Thus, a close vote on the expanded presidency could force Gorbachev into a difficult choice: recognize that the Lithuanians are no longer members of Congress, thus lowering the needed margin to 1,462 votes out of 2,192, or risk losing the vote.

If the presidency proposal is approved, deputies are expected to then nominate and elect Gorbachev to the job. After Gorbachev's initial term, the five-year presidency would then be filled by popular election.

Gorbachev has said the new powers are needed so the Soviet Union will not fall into a destabilizing rash of ethnic and nationalist violence.

Soviet Vice President Anatoly Lukyanov introduced the latest draft of the presidency proposal Monday by promising, "There is no reason to believe that the institution of the presidency would lead to alleged authoritarian power."

Lkyanov said the bill creates checks and balances between the executive and legislative branches of power. He said it allows Congress to recall the president for breaking the law and restricts the passage of legislation to the Congress and the Supreme Soviet, the standing legislature.

The current constitution allows the leadership of the Supreme Soviet—which Gorbachev heads—to issue decrees.

Bus line tries to reassure passengers

By The Associated Press

The chairman of strike-crippled Greyhound visited hospitalized passengers, offered a $25,000 reward for information on a sniper and rode a bus to prove it safe.

Greyhound executive Fred G. Currey carried on a whirlwind of activity in Florida on Monday, seeking to calm fears about the safety of bus travel after a strike that started March 2 and has erupted into violence several times.

On Sunday, a sniper's bullet hit a Greyhound bus operated by a replacement driver in Jacksonville, Fla., injuring eight passengers.

"We will not bend or move because of intimidation and violence," Currey insisted before boarding a Greyhound bus from Jacksonville to Orlando, Fla.

He then took a plane to Miami, where he said he was pessimistic about the chances of a settlement any time soon. The union, representing 6,300 drivers and more than 3,000 office and maintenance workers, went on strike over pay and job security.

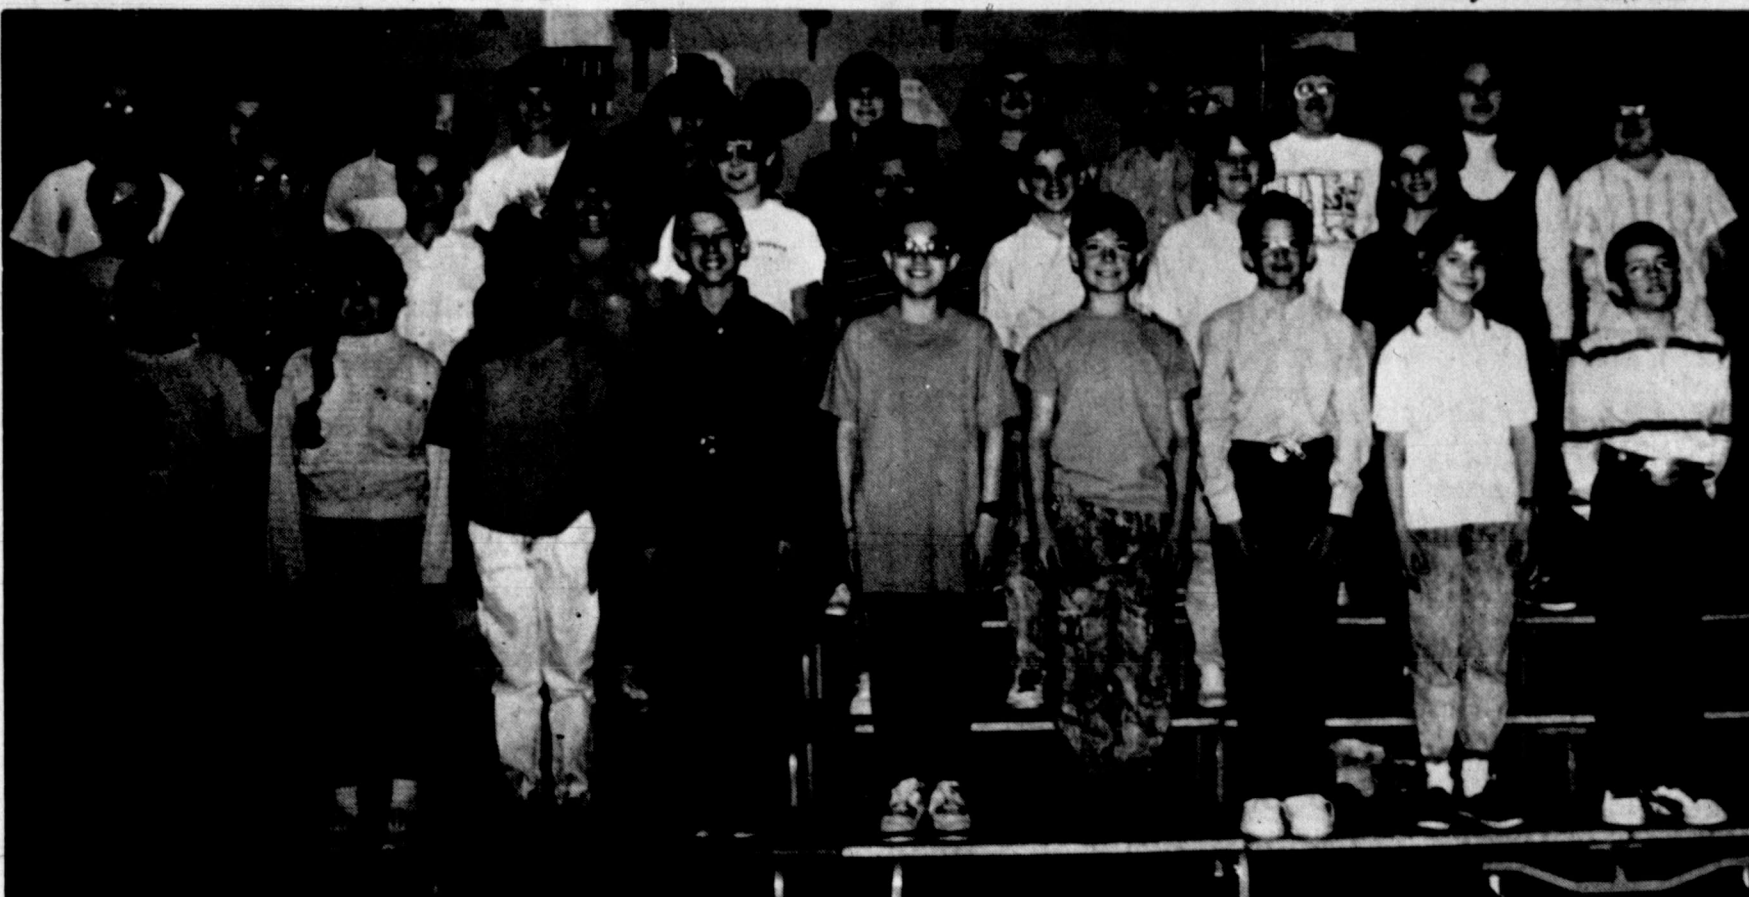

"We will not raise fares to meet the exorbitant demands of the drivers," said the chairman of America's only nationwide bus service.

The strike has been marked by scattered violence, including a striker crushed to death by a bus operated by a replacement driver in Redding, Calif., and shots fired at buses in Chicago and Phoenix. A Greyhound bus heading into Hartford, Conn., with 19 passengers hit by sniper fire Monday. No one was hurt.

Punishment for Guilty Child Shouldn't Break a Promise

DEAR ABBY: Re the 11-year-old boy who had been promised a weekend outing with his grandma, but because he swore at his mom, he was not permitted to go on the outing. You said the punishment was unfair because the grandma was also being punished. True, but you overlooked a far more important point: Once something is promised, it should be delivered—regardless. If the child does something for which he deserved to be punished, then find an alternative punishment.

Many years ago, my daughter and her friend "Mary" (both in high school) broke a rule that called for some kind of punishment. Mary's parents punished her by refusing to let her go to the homecoming dance—after they had previously granted her permission.

Our daughter was also punished, but we kept our word about the homecoming dance and found an alternative punishment. We never regretted our decision.

A MATTER OF PRINCIPLE

DEAR MATTER: The principle is sound. We teach children that one's word is a sacred trust by honoring the promises that we make to them. Once something is given, it is never to be taken back.

Conversely, if a child bounces a basketball in the house and his mother says, "If you bounce that ball in the house one more time, I am going to take it away from you"—and the child continues to bounce the ball, the mother should make good her promise and take the ball away from the child.

DEAR ABBY: I've learned a great deal from reading your column. It also stirs up a lot of memories. Recently when you said, "You never forget the hurts you suffered in school," it struck a chord with me.

I went to a small high school. There were 32 kids in my class—13 girls and 19 boys. All the girls took home economics. Ten girls were selected to serve the seniors at the banquet before the prom. It was considered an honor. I never could understand why they didn't ask all 13 girls to serve. Why only 10?

I was a good student, active in chorus and band, but I was rather shy. I weighed 90 pounds and was a 5-foot-2 string bean. I was heartbroken when I wasn't chosen to serve. The other two girls who weren't asked had boyfriends and weren't interested in serving, so it didn't bother them.

The home economics teacher had us three who were excluded sit at a table in the corner while the other 10 "practiced"—learning the correct way to serve.

I will never forget sitting there, staring down at my plate, trying to hold back the tears. After class, I ran to the bathroom and cried.

You're right, Abby. We never forget the hurts we suffered in school.

Houston prepares for next summit

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston aims to put its best foot forward this summer when it plays host to a seven-nation economic summit that is expected to bring a $20 million financial windfall to the city.

"The whole town is turned on by the thing," George Strake, former Texas secretary of state and co-chairman of the Houston Economic Summit Host Committee, said. "We've had the most incredible outpouring of volunteer support I've seen in Houston since World War II."

More than 6,000 international visitors are expected for the summit, municipal officials said.

Barbecue, beans and broncos await delegates as organizers promise to put a "Texas spin" on the summit, scheduled for July 9-11 at Rice University.

Leaders of the world's richest nations will probably get to sample some of the ribs and beans that President George Bush has enjoyed since his days as a young Houston congressman.

The first such summit in a major American city, this year's event is also significant because of historical political changes in the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe. It will come just days after Bush's summit with Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev in Washington.

Talks could include such momentous issues as reunification of East and West Germany and aid to Eastern Europe. For fun, delegates could attend a rodeo and barbecue at the Astrodome and country music concert by Texas entertainers.

Tons of Tex-Mex cuisine will be available. And the owner of Otto's Barbecue, a Bush favorite, said a summit inspection team visited the west Houston restaurant to sample its food and told workers to be ready.

"We're supposed to do something," said Otto's owner June Sofka, adding summit officials indicated the restaurant would either provide catering or play dinner host to dignitaries after one of their working sessions.

Dignitaries will include Toshiki Kaifu of Japan and Giulio Andreotti of Italy.

Leaders of Britain, Canada, France, Italy, Japan and West Germany may also visit world-class museums, the Wortham Theatre Center opera house and the Lyndon B. Johnson Space Center in Clear Lake, about 20 miles south of downtown Houston.

The summit schedule will follow a standardized format much like that of the 15 previous annual meetings, Gary Foster, communications director for the Washington summit office, told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. Leaders and their entourages will arrive July 8 at Houston's Ellington Air Force Base, where they will be taken by helicopter to the Rice campus.

Kim Basinger receives award

ATLANTA (AP) — Kim Basinger received an award in one of the shortest skirts ever worn in the office of Secretary of State Max Cleland.

State employees put the phones on hold and hung on the actress' every word during the ceremony Monday honoring her as an Outstanding Georgian.

Miss Basinger, star of "Batman" and "9½ Weeks" and owner since last month of the town of Braselton, declared herself "just a proud Georgian."

Miss Basinger said her plans for Braselton are still being developed and she can't talk too much about them. In the past she has discussed building recording and film studios.

She met with the Georgia Department of Banking and Finance concerning her purchase of the Bank of Braselton, spoke to young cancer patients at a hospital and appeared Monday night at a fund-raiser for Cleland's re-election campaign.

Maples will not appear after all
NEW YORK (AP) — It looks like the opening of Atlantic City's newest casino will have to do without an appearance by America's newest tabloid sensation. Marla Maples has pulled out.
Maples, whose relationship with billionaire Donald Trump has been the subject of extraordinary speculation since his separation from wife Ivana, had been announced as a guest at the opening of Trump's Taj Mahal on April 5.
But on Monday, a spokesman for Trump said: "After assessing the media perception of Marla Maples' attendance ... and the concerns of others involved about such speculation, she will not be attending."
"It was just a joint decision ... in view of the media speculation about the nature of her appearance there," said Chuck Jones, Maples' spokesman.
