Local incumbents win; runoff slated in Pct. 4

Incumbents in three Scurry County races were winners while the bid for county commissioner of Precinct 4 will go to a runoff, Snyder area voters determined Tuesday in the party primary elections.

Incumbent County Judge Bobby Goodwin polled 1,795 votes to outdistance challenger Marlin Terrell, who managed 1,178 in the Democratic primary.

Today, Goodwin said he would have liked to see more people vote, but noted "One thing we were able to achieve during the campaign was to learn that the people are concerned about county government and I believe that we can build a better budget in future years, based upon that understanding."

Goodwin will face Bob Doolittle in the Nov. 6 general election. Doolittle won the Republican nomination with 334 votes as opposed to opponent Greg Crawford's 195.

Some 40.5 percent of the county's 9,137 registered voters cast ballots in the primary elections. Some 3,123 voted in the Democratic primary and 581 in the Republican primary.

Tommy Pate, incumbent county commissioner from Precinct 2, held off a challenge by Don H. Tucker for the Democratic nomination. Pate, who defeated Tucker 530 votes to 268, will face Roy L. Idom in November. Idom ran unopposed in the Republican primary.

Scurry County's Democratic race for the commissioner of precinct 4 will go to a runoff between Jerry Gannaway and Jack Greene. Gannaway received 358 votes, 46 percent, while Greene polled 239, or 31 percent. A third candidate, Bill Kimmel, received 184 votes.

The runoff will be held April 10. Absentee voting by personal appearance will be held April 2-6.

There was no Republican candidate for Precinct 4 commissioner.

Ted Billingsley, Precinct 4 incumbent commissioner, did not run for another term, but instead ran for Precinct 1 justice of the (see COUNTY, page 8)

Big sports weekend locally

Baseball tournament, golf, tennis, Reef relays here

It shapes up to be a big few days for Snyder High School sports enthusiasts, starting with Thursday's opening round of the Snyder Invitational baseball tournament and continuing through Saturday with tennis and golf tournaments and the annual Canyon Reef Relays track meet.

Coach Albert Lewis' Tiger baseball team will face rival Lamesa at 7 p.m. in first round action of the baseball tourney.

The event is scheduled to run three days at Moffett Field in Towle Park and will culminate with the championship game Saturday at 5:30 p.m.

Other first round games include Brownfield vs. Canyon at 11 a.m., Sweetwater vs. Levelland at 2 p.m. and Brownwood vs. Pecos at 4:30 p.m.

The SHS track teams, boys and girls, will host the Canyon Reef Relays Saturday.

The boys include field event winners Ed Rios and Charlie Guynes while the girls are anchored in field events by Katina Brandon and Vinnie Clay and the relay team of Teena Braziel, Liz Greathouse, Stephanie Fambro and Trina Thompson.

Rios claimed first place with a 6-3 high jump at the West Texas Relays in Odessa last week and polevaulter Guynes set a new meet record at the Comanche Relays in Ft. Stockton with a 15' vault earlier in the season.

Brandon and Clay have placed in the discus and shot put events in all three of the girls' outings this season and the relay team of Braziel, Fambro, Greathouse and Thompson took third at the recent Brownwood Relays with a time of 54.2 in the sprint relay.

Events at the Canyon Reef Relays get under way at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Area man recalls when SNB opened

By BOB CAMPBELL
SDN Staff Writer

It was a spring day in 1905 when Tollie Faver's father decided to ride into Snyder from Fluvanna and put his money into the new bank that was opening.

Faver, 95 years old Saturday and one of Scurry County's three surviving World War I veterans, was at Snyder National Bank on Tuesday to attend a reception honoring the institution's 85th anniversary. Faver recalled that he was almost 10 years old when his mother and father and five brothers and sisters made the three-hour trip from Fluvanna in their mule-drawn "hack."

"We ate at the Maxwell Hotel, which had a restaurant under it, right here where the bank is now," he said, referring to the bank's present location on the northeastern side of the downtown square.

Snyder National had had its origins in a private institution founded by F.J. Grayum and associates in 1890 on the south side of the square. The bank was chartered as Snyder National, moved to the west side of the square and opened there on March 13, 1905, with the Favens in attendance.

Tending 25 cattle and farming 600 to 800 acres south of Fluvanna, the family had saved about $1,000 in $100 bills "in a baking soda jar, and they thought they better go put it in the bank," Faver said.

His father was Bedford Faver.

The whole family loaded into the hack, or large buggy-like conveyance, and rode to Snyder, crossing Deep Creek where the old county jail is off the 2700 Block of College Ave., because there was no bridge over the creek.

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "With each passing year it takes less time to get tired and more time to get rested. But there's a reason--the iron in your blood turns to lead in the seat of your pants."

It's no longer sports--it's big business. Before long, we expect high school sports rosters to include the name of the team's lawyer.

Dallas Carter High School will probably make fashionable the bumper sticker which reads, "My lawyer can beat your lawyer."

With big prizes offered for fishing tournaments, sometimes officials smell something more than fish.

Tournament organizers are still trying to balance the scales of justice when a New Hampshire fisherman entered a 6.28-pound salmon in the fishing derby at Lake Winnepesaukee.

The angler claimed he had reeled the prize out of the lake early that morning. But there were doubters since the fish had a fin clipped with a marking like those put on fish in the state's hatcheries, but the marking wasn't the one usually found on fish in this particular lake.

Contest officials alerted the sheriff about a guy who had just driven off with $12,000 in prizes. One day, after seeing his boat being towed away, he pursued only to find out that the thieves were deputies in unmarked vehicles. Armed with a search warrant, they had seized his boat, trophy and other prizes pending an investigation of possible fraud.

Even his prize catch, which had been taken to a taxidermist for mounting, was also in sheriff's custody. Months have passed, but the case has yet to be determined.

Experts in fish forensics are collecting tissue samples from salmon in the state's hatcheries for comparison with suspect fish. There is some speculation that even a federal grant may be needed to fund the remainder of the investigation. We're impressed with the fisherman's attorney who said high-powered experts aren't needed. "I've examined another frozen salmon from the lake, and it looks like the fish my client caught." Can't argue with logic like that!

Eighth grader wins county spelling bee

James Graham, an eighth grader from Snyder Junior High, won the 15th Annual Scurry County Spelling Bee this morning in the Fine Arts Theater at Western Texas College.

Graham correctly spelled "lectern" and then "licit" to capture the win.

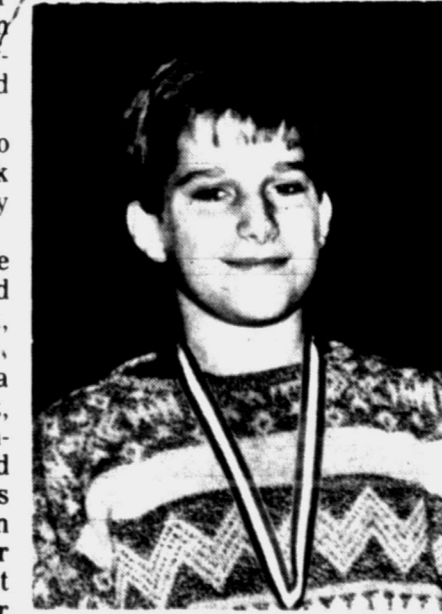

His opportunity came in round 17 of the competition after first runner-up Tiffany Jones, seventh grader also from Snyder Junior High, misspelled "lectern." In order to win, Graham had to correctly spell the missed word and also a new word.

He will now advance to regional competition in Lubbock on April 7 to be held at Monterey High School at 12:30 p.m.

After 11 rounds the top five spellers were left. Each received a medal. They included Graham, son of Clifton Yocom, and Jones, daughter of Joe Dan and Linda Jones. Third was Crystal Suarez, fifth grader from West Elementary and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Suarez. Fourth was Veana Clay, sixth grader from West Elementary and daughter of Velma Clay. Fifth place went to Katye Galloway, fifth grader from Stanfield Elementary and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Galloway. Rounds 12, 14 and 16 saw 20 spellers eliminated as the field was narrowed to the two finalists.

Judges for the bee were Dr. Ed Barkowsky, Dr. Mary Hood, Mrs. Debra Brunson and Mrs. Marilyn Lancaster. Janie Carroll served as pronouncer and Dr. Tom Scannicchio was the spelling bee director.

Local robbery suspect detained by citizens

A 21-year-old Snyder man was apprehended by citizens and held for police at 40th St. and Dalton Ave. after he allegedly broke the front glass window of McLeod's Jewelers in Snyder Shopping Center and tried to escape on foot with some jewelry Tuesday evening.

Charged with burglary of a building, Michael Shane Ward of Rt. 1 was being held in the county jail today on a $5,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Dan Callaway.

Police said employees at Munden's, next door, heard the incident while it was in progress and witnesses outside also reported seeing a man inside the store at 7:53 p.m.

Three local men chased the suspect and physically held him at Dalton and 40th, about a half-dozen blocks to the west, until four policemen arrived and took Ward into custody.

Officers said the front plate glass window of McLeod's was broken and a display case inside the store had also been broken into.

An undetermined amount of jewelry was taken, and an investigator indicated that jewelry was recovered with the man's arrest.

Bayoud says 2 million Texans voted in primary election

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — About 25 percent of the state's voters participated in the primary election, the most of any Texas ballot not involving a U.S. presidential race in 20 years, Secretary of State George Bayoud said. The number of voters would be clearer today, but Bayoud said late Tuesday that partial returns indicated about 1.2 million Democrats and 750,000 Republicans voted.

"I think it's going to be right around the 2 million number, and that's what we predicted before the election," Bayoud said.

Shuttle comes home

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Space shuttle Atlantis received a warm welcome home after arriving atop a modified Boeing 747 at Kennedy Space Center, the final stop on a coast-to-coast trip that was interrupted by bad weather.

"After several delays, it's good to have the bird back in the nest again," said NASA spokesman Bruce Buckingham.

The jet touched down Tuesday near where Atlantis lifted off 13 days earlier on a secret mission to put a $500 million spy in orbit.

Before landing, the jet flew about 5,000 feet over the beaches south of Kennedy so spectators could see the shuttle riding piggyback on the plane.

Atlantis blasted off Feb. 28 after five delays, all but one attributed to bad weather. Its trip back from Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., to Kennedy also was plagued by uncooperative weather. Rain can damage the shuttle's thermal tiles.

The shuttle and jet completed the last leg of the trip home by way of Columbus Air Force Base, Miss., where the craft arrived Tuesday. The plane had been grounded since Sunday at Biggs Army Airfield in Texas by bad weather.

Buckingham said the delays would not affect Atlantis' next flight, in July, another secret Pentagon mission.

Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I've been on birth control pills for 14 years. A recent TV show indicated that after seven years on the pill, a woman has a 70 to 75 percent chance of getting breast cancer. Is there truth to this claim?

DEAR READER: I do not believe this claim is valid. Oral contraceptives have not been shown to increase the risk of breast cancer; however, there is some evidence that women who take birth control pills before their first pregnancies may be at slightly higher risk for uterine cancer.

Statistically, there are five characteristics that seem to make women more prone to breast cancer: close family members with breast cancer, prior breast cancer, never having been pregnant, older than 30 at first pregnancy, and early first menstruation (or late menopause). The reasons for this association are not completely understood.

Since you seem uncomfortable with the consequences of long-term oral contraceptive use, I suggest you share your concerns with your gynecologist.

To give you additional information, I am sending you free copies of my Health Reports "Contraception: An Update" and "Breast Cancer and Disorders." Other readers who would like copies should send $1.25 for each report to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Having read about the problem of constipation in one of your columns, I would like to share my remedy — raw broccoli before our main meal. Previously, I had problems to the point of impaction, yet this simple cure has eliminated my symptoms altogether.

DEAR READER: Congratulations. I do not know the reason for your success, except that any raw vegetable contains fiber, which is an effective bowel stimulant. If you can stand eating broccoli every day, fine; it won't hurt you.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Please describe the symptoms of arsenic poisoning accumulated in the system by drinking contaminated water. Does one grow immune to it, or does it build toward a lethal dose?

DEAR READER: Arsenic is a common ingredient in herbicides and pesticides. Therefore, if it appears in your drinking water, you have a major problem — not only from the arsenic but from other pollutants as well.

The symptoms of arsenic poisoning are: throat constriction, vomiting, diarrhea and abdominal pain, which can progress to dehydration, fluid in the lungs, renal failure and liver malfunction.

Although the kings of medieval Europe used to consume small quantities of arsenic to develop a tolerance (in case they were poisoned with a lethal dose), such a tolerance probably does not develop. Arsenic can be toxic if it is ingested in small quantities on a regular basis.

Acute arsenic poisoning is treated with intravenous fluid replacement and chelation (medicine to absorb arsenic and remove it from the body).

If you are concerned your water may contain arsenic, I urge you to stop drinking it and have it tested by your local health department.

Pizza chain opens its first store on state military post

FORT BLISS, Texas (AP) — Domino's Pizza, taking advantage of the youthful military market, has opened a pizza store on Fort Bliss Army post.

Domino's Pizza, based in Ann Arbor, Mich., gave away free pizza at the Fort Bliss store's grand opening Tuesday morning.

The opening comes after yearlong negotiations and bidding for the lucrative contract and is the pizza-maker's first venture onto a military installation.

Fort Bliss spokeswoman Jean Offutt said competition by private companies for on-post contracts is heated, as U.S. military services allow more private businesses on their property.

Fort Bliss already has contracts for dry cleaning, watch repair, a hotel, a florist and other fast food restaurants.

"Business (on post) is great. And companies can provide services more efficiently, less costly. That's the way more things will be done," Ms. Offutt said.

A percentage of profits from the private businesses on the post go to the Fort Bliss Morale and Welfare Fund to be used for gyms, pools and other recreation centers on the post.

The youthful military market has been profitable for Domino's. In the past decade the pizza-maker has targeted military bases and college campuses with the payoff being 1,600 percent growth, said Moira McDermott, a spokeswoman at Domino's headquarters.

"People in the military run on hectic schedules. They will look to convenient service," she said.

Domino's already delivers pizza on post. But the fast-food chain says more soldiers will think about eating their pizza if they drive by the Fort Bliss store each day.

Declarer won the ace of clubs and casually played the ace of spades out of his hand. He of course intended next to ruff a club, then pick up trumps and later pitch his losing heart on the long diamond in dummy. But all these plans went kaput when West showed out on the spade ace.

Declarer had no excuse for going set. After West had bid four clubs, it was likely that he would be void in spades. The contract easily makes if declarer first plays the queen of spades in dummy. He can now take a finesse against East's jack and still handle ruffing the second club in dummy. And his play will then be consistent with his bidding.

Pete Rose to face 1st season out of game of baseball

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Pete Rose is facing his first season out of baseball since 1963 with a sense of humor.

"I'm ready for it. The only difference is I think I'll have to pay to go to the games now. So I'll pay for my tickets, sit behind home plate and the first guy that strikes out I'm going to boo," the former Cincinnati Reds manager said Tuesday.

But prior to a speech to some 1,200 supporters of Crossroads Rehabilitation Center, Rose conceded he just can't laugh about some things.

Blowing it all away

By James Jacoby

Over the artificial two-club opening, West pre-empted with four clubs. Back around to South, who now bid four spades, his long suit. North now bid five clubs, showing a control and implying decent spade support. South bid five diamonds, showing the ace, and then, even though North subsided with five spades, South continued with a six-club cue-bid, suggesting the possibility of a grand slam. So North showed the diamond king. South bid the heart ace, and North trusted that South's bidding denoted a hand that would provide an excellent play for all the tricks. South did have just such a hand, with one proviso — he needed to play the hand as well as he bid it.

No one votes in GOP primary in Shep, Tex.

SHEP, Texas (AP) — Suppose they held an election and no one voted.

That's what happened Tuesday when not one person showed up to vote in the Republican primary election in this West Texas town.

But election officials at Precinct 34 in southwest Taylor County weren't really surprised. Only one person voted in the previous primaries, and this year that man was sick.

Taylor County Republican Party chairman Brent Case said Shep's only Republican voter developed cancer and was sent to a hospital in Houston. He had been the only voter in primaries in 1986 and 1988.

Before 1986, they didn't even have a voting place for Republicans in Shep. They had to vote in another precinct. But even with the man's absence, officials decided to open the Republican polling place in an attempt to attract other voters.

"We had really hoped that Clayton Williams might draw some people out there because it is a farming community," said Betty Casey, election judge of the precinct. "But it is difficult for people who have been Democratic for years and years to have Republican stamped on their voter registration."

Some people in this Democratic stronghold opposed the idea of opening a GOP polling place. But the Caseys explained that voters need the opportunity to vote Republican if they want to.

Idaho became the 43rd state of the union in 1890.

Astrologer finished with the Reagans

NEW YORK (AP) — Joan Quigley, the astrologer whose advice to first lady Nancy Reagan reportedly set the president's schedule, says she's finished with the Reagans.

"When you're that friendly with someone and they just cut you off ... it borders on the incredible," Quigley said in an interview in Fame magazine's April issue.

The title of Quigley's new book, "What Does Joan Say?" is what Ronald Reagan is said to have asked his wife after her telephone consultations with the astrologer during the Reagans' White House years.

The disclosure that Mrs. Reagan consulted an astrologer made the Reagan White House the butt of jokes.

Why did Quigley write the autobiography and blast her former clients?

"I felt I had played an important role in the administration," she said. "I had to stand up for reputable astrologers."

Comedian to return to Soviet Union

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Soviet emigre comedian Yakoff Smirnoff is out to prove you can go home again and get some laughs while doing so.

Following performances at Trump Plaza this weekend, he intends to return to the Soviet Union for what he calls a "a funny look at glasnost."

"I talk to the audience during my daily shows," Smirnoff said.

"and they often ask, 'What is Russia all about?'" He hopes his journey to Moscow and his hometown, Odessa, will provide some humorous answers.

His timing, comedic or otherwise, could not be better. The Soviet version of April Fool's Day is National Humor Day. Smirnoff will be in Odessa for this April 1 event that features "parades without missiles."

All-Region juco team named

WJCAC places six women and five men on elite squad

The Region V junior college all-region basketball team was released Tuesday with the teams in both the men's and women's finals in last week's regional tournament held in Snyder being well-represented.

In the men's division, champion Odessa College placed two players on the squad.

Lynn Collins, a 6-1 sophomore from Peoria, Ill., was named the region's most valuable player.

Collins stuck in 28 points in Saturday's final contest against McLennan College, including three three-point goals.

Patric Nash of Odessa was the Wranglers' other representative on the elite crew.

Nash scored four three-pointers on the way to a 20-point performance in the championship game against the Highlanders.

McLennan's Maurice Gandy and Billy Carlock were named from the regional runners-up.

Gandy, a 6-7 Hackensack, N.J. sophomore, poured in 26 in Saturday's loss to Odessa while Carlock, the Highlanders' 6-4 Belton talent hit for 20.

Other Western Conference picks include Reggie Collins of New Mexico Junior College, John Goodwin of South Plains College and Howard College's Terence Hill.

Northern conference choices are Grayson Junior College's Greg Fields, Texas State Technical Institute's Cedric Carson and Kevin Madden of Hill Junior College.

The South Plains College Lady Texans put two on the all-region squad as MVP Sheryl Swoopes and Carol Bailey were honored by the selection committee.

Swoopes, who was the tournament most valuable player, as well, scored 26 points in the Lady Texans regional championship effort against Odessa College.

The 6-0 freshman forward hails from Brownfield.

Bailey, a 5-11 freshman from Levelland, scored 14 in SPC's 58-57 win at regionals.

Odessa, the runners-up, placed a pair of cagers on the squad, too.

Cynthia Hernandez, the Lady Wranglers' three-point threat, and Patricia Rivers, Odessa's scoring machine were tabbed.

Hernandez, a 5-6 sophomore guard from Brazoria, connected on just one bucket, a three-pointer, in the championship game, but ran the team on the court well and played masterful defense.

Putting in 16 points against South Plains, Rivers paced the Odessa squad offensively in Saturday's showdown.

Rivers is a 5-11 sophomore and comes from Giddings.

Other WJCAC picks for the women's team include Linda Waters from Howard and Frank Phillips College sophomore Patricia McDonald.

Cisco Junior College cager Nicole Davenport led the NJCAC delegation which also included Monica Norman from Grayson, Tabitha Truesdale of McLennan and Hill's Amy Hyde.

Eight runs in sixth leads Lions to win

BROWNWOOD — The Snyder Tigers lost to Brownwood in a 16-9 non-district baseball game here Tuesday on an eight run explosion by the Lion's in the sixth stanza.

Brownwood, a state quarter-finalist last season, scored their 16 runs off 12 hits against Snyder pitching.

Snyder's Jamey Morton started for the Tigers and went three innings striking out six and allowing four runs on three hits and three walks.

Brownwood's Kurt Jones accepted the win for the Lions.

The Lions' William Dillard got on board on an error to start the contest after a three up-three down inning in the first for Snyder.

Dillard was moved around on a base on balls to Ernesto Rivera and a fielder's choice to No. 3 hitter Mike Smith before scoring on a catcher's interference call.

Snyder scored in the second on a homer by third baseman Randy Morris that knotted the score.

Snyder's half of the third inning brought in three runs for the Black and Gold.

Willie Garcia, who had a four-RBI night, garnered three on a double that brought in Jason West, Toby Goodwin and Gilbert Hernandez, all who had reached the base paths on walks.

Brownwood answered with three runs of their own in the third and four more in the fourth and the devastating eight-run streak in the game's sixth inning.

Back to back singles from Snyder's David Patrick and Mark King in the top of the seventh that led to scores were not enough to offset Brownwood's half of the sixth and Snyder fell to 4-2 on the season.

The Tigers will have today off before playing Lamesa at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Snyder tournament's first round.

The tourney will run through Saturday with winners to be crowned in both consolation and championship brackets.

Other first round contests include Brownfield vs. Canyon at 11 a.m. followed by Sweetwater vs. Levelland at 2 p.m. and Brownwood vs. Pecos at 4:30 p.m.

The championship game is set for 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

Arkansas to battle Princeton

By The Associated Press

This is exactly the kind of game that makes the first round of the NCAA tournament so intriguing — No. 7 Arkansas vs. Princeton.

The Razorbacks are bigger, stronger, faster and favored by 14 points. But Coach Nolan Richardson is too smart to take the Ivy League opponents lightly.

Last year, Princeton nearly pulled one of the greatest upsets in college basketball history. The Tigers, given no chance against No. 2 Georgetown, led much of the game only to lose 50-49 in the opening round when a last-second shot failed.

Arkansas, the Southwest Conference champion, is well aware how patient Princeton can be, using almost all of the 45-second shot clock on almost every possession.

"It will be their patience against our greed," Richardson said. "We know they'll pass it 12 times before they shoot."

Arkansas (26-4) and Princeton (20-6) play Thursday in the Midwest regional in Austin, Texas. Also playing there are No. 1 Oklahoma (26-4) and Towson State (18-12).

"Tulsa, yeah, we played them. They're a physical team," Oklahoma forward Jackie Jones said before he was corrected that the Sooners were playing Towson, not Tulsa.

"Oh, no, I've never heard of them," he said.

That's one of the joys of the NCAA tournament, especially early. Even though No. 1 or No. 2 seed has ever lost in the first round, every matchup seems interesting.

"Does Towson State hold the damn ball?" Oklahoma coach

Billy Tubbs asked. "What conference are they in?"

Towson State is from the East Coast Conference. The Tigers, from the Baltimore area, like to play at a fast pace, too.

"Our success will be predicated on the style of the team we face," Coach Terry Truax said. "We've had difficulty this year against teams that are very patient on offense, and we'd prefer to face a team that pushes the pace of a game."

He'll get all the pace-pushing he likely can handle from an Oklahoma team that averages 103 points a game.

"I think our kids are going into the tournament with a very positive outlook," Truax said. "And I don't think they'd be intimidated by any team, with the possible exception of Georgetown."

In the Midwest at Indianapolis, Texas Southern (19-11) will play Georgetown (23-6).

"We won't be intimidated," Texas Southern coach Robert Moreland said. "We might get our brains beaten out, but we won't be intimidated."

Texas Southern's tallest player is 6-foot-9 Fred West. He'll have to go against 7-2 Dikembe

Matumbo and 6-10 Alonzo Mourning.

"There are about 62 other teams I would have preferred because there are limits to what we can do in terms of size," Moreland said.

While most teams usually talk in flattering tones about opponents, one player wasn't so complimentary.

Minnesota forward Willie Burton predicted the Gophers (20-8) might fare well against Texas-El Paso (21-10) on Friday in the Southeast regional at Richmond, Va.

"I've watched UTEP play on TV and they don't like playing defense," Burton said.

WTC dinner

Bush wants secret poll of ball players

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — A secret ballot by major league baseball players on whether to accept the latest offer by the owners would be one way to resolve the nearly month-long lockout, Texas Rangers managing partner George W. Bush says.

Bush told reporters Tuesday he believes most major league players are ready to accept the offer and get started with spring training.

"We're hearing rumors that the players are restless," Bush said. "The owners are solid as to being pushed too far."

Bush suggested that the owners' current offer be put to a vote of the players.

"I would propose that there be a secret ballot among the players...I would like the players' opinion on the subject," Bush said. "It probably won't happen...but if there is any democracy at all in the union, the union leaders will be getting the message that the players want to be out there on the field."

Bush later clarified his suggestion for a secret vote among the players.

"I'm not trying to bash Donald Fehr (executive director of the players union)," Bush said. "He has a job to do and I understand that. No way are we threatening the leadership of the union.

"But I was asked how it could be resolved. One way, if the players are in fact as disenfranchised as some of the rumors say they are...is by private ballot. If that's union busting, I don't mean it to be."

A settlement in the next few days would enable the season to start as scheduled on April 2, Bush said.

"We think we could," Bush said. "But those decisions will be made by the union and the Player Relations Committee."

But Rangers president Mike Stone said time is running short.

"After another week we'd be real hard-pressed to make opening day, mainly because of the pitchers needing innings in spring training," Stone said.

The lockout particularly hurts players like Rangers pitcher Nolan Ryan, 11 victories short of 300 for his career, Bush said.

"The inability to get a deal done really affects Nolan Ryan's career," Bush said. "I just hope we get this done, not just for the good of the game but for the good of some of the unbelievably great players like Nolan Ryan who deserves a full season...to set the records he's after."

Salary arbitration remains the main factor contributing to the current stalemate remains salary arbitration. Bush said the owners are solid in their resolve to reserve arbitration for players with at least three years' major league service.

"I think frankly we've conceded as much as we can concede," Bush said. "Eventually you've got to draw the line, and we've drawn it on arbitration. I hope our fans understand that principal."

Houston QB chooses draft

HOUSTON (AP) — University of Houston quarterback and Heisman trophy winner Andre Ware will forego his final year of college eligibility to enter the 1990 National Football League draft, the Houston Post reported today.

In a copyright story, the Post quoted unidentified sources as saying Ware is ready to announce his decision this week even though the NFL draft commitment deadline is March 22.

According to the sources, Ware has made his decision to turn pro, and only an 11th-hour change of heart would keep him in the college ranks, the Post reported.

A major factor behind the 1989 Heisman Trophy winner's decision to enter the draft this year is the impending entry-level wage scale, which would reduce significantly the size of rookie contracts.

NFL owners are meeting this week in Orlando, Fla. They planned to meet in a previously unscheduled session today to discuss the labor issue, and the entry-level wage scale was expected to be on the agenda, the newspaper said.

Ever since he won the Heisman trophy, Ware has repeatedly said he has not made up his mind about whether to stay in college one more year or turn pro. The 6-foot-2, 210-pound quarterback threw for 4,699 yards and 46 touchdown passes with only 15 interceptions last season.

Help needed at track meet

Snyder track coach Joe Granato is still seeking volunteers to help in Saturday's upcoming Canyon Reef Relays track meet to be held in Tiger Stadium.

A total of 29 teams will enter the competition set to begin at 9 a.m. Saturday morning.

Workers at the meet will gather at Spanish Inn at 7 a.m. the day of the event for breakfast, according to Granato.

Anyone interested in helping at the meet should contact Granato at 573-8528 or 573-3129.

Hodges throw nets second

Discus specialist Bill Hodges was omitted from Snyder's list of winners in the recent West Texas Relays in Tuesday's SDN.

Hodges grabbed second place in the Odessa meet on his throw of 144'11".

Hodges joins high-jumper Ed Rios and pole-vaulter Charlie Guynes as SHS thin-clads who placed in the meet.

The trio will compete for the Tigers in Saturday's Canyon Reef Relays in Tiger Stadium.

Parliament okays direct election of Soviet president

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Parliament today narrowly agreed to conduct its own emergency election for the new, powerful presidency, after a respected scholar warned that a nationwide popular campaign would lead to civil war.

Mikhail S. Gorbachev is expected to easily win election in balloting that appeared likely to take place in the Kremlin's Palace of Congresses tonight.

The vote to hold the emergency election was the closest Gorbachev has faced from the more than 2,000 members of the Congress of People's Deputies. He needed 1,497 votes, or two-thirds of all of the Congress' 2,246 deputies.

The final vote was 1,542-368 with 76 deputies abstaining.

It came shortly after an appeal from Leningrad historian Dmitri Likhachev, considered by many the dean of Soviet culture, who warned that the country was facing civil war if it had to go through its first nationwide presidential election now.

"I remember the revolution of February (1917) very well, and I know where emotions can lead," Likhachev, 84, told the deputies.

"Understand our conditions," he added. "Direct election of the president will lead to civil war."

Likhachev also warned that a proposal to force Gorbachev to resign his chairmanship of the Communist Party if elected president would pit the party against the state. He said that also could lead to civil war.

Sympathetic deputies broke in to applause at the end of his statement.

The Congress gave Gorbachev a 1,817-133 victory to establish the strengthened presidential post and voted 1,771 to 164 for a bill striking the Communist Party's leading role from the constitution, legalizing some forms of private property and enumerating the powers of the new presidency.

Gorbachev picked up votes for his proposals by offering a compromise on some of the most controversial presidential powers.

He gave up the right to appeal a veto override and promised that any bid to impose a state of emergency would be preceded by an official warning and prior approval of local authorities.

The consensus in the Congress of People's Deputies was that there was no alternative but to eventually choose Gorbachev for the new presidency.

But the man who has overseen the dismantling of the authoritarian Soviet state faced considerable resistance from deputies who complained that he ran roughshod over the Congress rule book Tuesday to establish the presidency and to create a multiparty system.

Some deputies had said they preferred that the Soviet Union's first chief executive be elected in a nationwide popular vote, which under Gorbachev's plan would occur for subsequent five-year terms.

If he had failed to get an immediate vote at the Congress, Gorbachev would have been forced to go before Soviet voters to keep his job.

On Tuesday, Gorbachev pushed a bill through the Congress of People's Deputies that gives the president the power to propose legislation, negotiate treaties, veto legislation and decisions of the Council of Ministers, appoint a Cabinet, declare war if the country is attacked and, under certain conditions, impose presidential rule.

Gorbachev has said a strong presidency is needed to hold together a system threatened by economic disarray, ethnic troubles and secessionist movements. The presidency had been a largely ceremonial post, with real power being wielded by the Communist Party.

Gorbachev's campaign to strengthen the presidency was another step toward shifting power away from the Communist Party toward the government. Some have speculated that Gorbachev eventually will step down from his post as party leader to concentrate on the presidency.

Twisters kill two persons
By The Associated Press

Tornadoes gobbled up farmhouses as they veered through the Plains on the second day of a winter heat wave that brought strollers to parks and sidewalk cafes in the East and Midwest.

The funnel clouds plowed through Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Oklahoma and Texas on Tuesday, killing two people, injuring at least 22 and wrecking scores of houses.

One tornado ripped a 100-mile path in a 2 1/2-hour tear through southeastern Kansas. It lingered in Hesston, Kan., a town of 3,000 people, long enough to damage 75 to 100 houses. A 6-year-old boy died and a mother and her teenage son were missing today.

Thunderstorms brought flood warnings early today to Oklahoma, Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois. Walnut-sized hail fell at Groom, Texas.

The funnel-spinning warm front brought balmy weather to much of the country east of the Rockies.

"I always feel confused when I feel good in the unusually warm weather we're having nowadays, because I know it's related to the greenhouse effect," said Ellen Spiro, a New York video maker.

The National Weather Service said the heat came from a high-pressure system pumping Gulf of Mexico air northward.

Gramm, Parmer clash early in campaign

DALLAS (AP) — The general election is eight months away, but U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm and his November opponent, state Sen. Hugh Parmer, were already trading jabs a few hours after the polls had closed in Tuesday's primary.

Parmer, 50, a Fort Worth attorney, with 98 percent of the vote counted, took 76 percent of the vote to glide by his Democratic primary opponent, Lyndon LaRouche sympathizer Harley Schlanger of Houston.

During a joint and impromptu televised appearance, Parmer accused Gramm of softpedaling the war on drugs and downplaying his abortion stance.

"Trying to tell someone I am soft on the war on drugs is going to be very, very hard to say," Gramm told Parmer, accusing him of making a "complete misstatement about my record."

Gramm, 47, refused Parmer's challenge to debate in Texas' seven largest cities, saying the public was already familiar with his stance.

Texas GOP Chairman Fred Meyer said the party expects the well-financed College Station senator to get between 62 percent and 65 percent of the vote in November.

In the state's tightest congressional primary, a state lawmaker is headed to a runoff with one of two former Waco mayors in the GOP contest to represent District 11.

In final, unofficial totals, Temple state Rep. Hugh Shine had edged McLennan County prosecutor and former Mayor David Sibley. Shine had 42 percent, or 11,646 votes, to advance to a runoff with either former Waco mayor Jim Mathis, who had 29 percent of the vote at 8,163 votes. Sibley trailed Mathis by just 196 votes, garnering 7,969 votes, also 29 percent.

The winner of the April 10 runoff will face the Democrats' sole candidate, state Sen. Chet Edwards, for the seat left open by the retirement of Rep. Marvin Leath, D-Waco.

In other balloting Tuesday, two incumbent congressmen easily held off primary challenges. There were no primary contests in 10 other races to be decided in November, when a dozen incumbent congressmen will run unopposed.

Republicans want to recoup two congressional seats lost in 1988, pick up Leath's seat and knock off veteran Reps. Jack Brooks, Jim Chapman and John Bryant.

Nineteen of the state's 27 congressional seats are currently held by Democrats.

The Democrats said their strategy is to protect the most vulnerable incumbents and retain the open seat in their column.

In the 9th District, Brooks, a Beaumont Democrat, captured an almost three-to-one victory over state appeals court Judge Jack Brookshire, also of Beaumont. In final, unofficial totals, Brooks had 72 percent of the vote to Brookshire's 28 percent.

The GOP nomination for the seat will be decided in April when Beaumont Mayor Maury Meyers meets Steve Stockman of Houston in a runoff. In final, unofficial totals, Meyers polled 44 percent to Stockman's 41 percent. Steve Clifford of Friendswood finished third with 15 percent of the vote.

State Rep. Dick Waterfield of anadian will challenge District 13 first-term Rep. Bill Sarpalus, D-Amarillo, in November. Waterfield, who was urged to run by Gramm and President Bush, easily defeated Bob Price of Pampa, winning 70 percent of the vote cast to Price's 30 percent, with 99 percent of the vote counted.

And, Democrat John Caton will challenge District 26 Rep. Dick Arney, R-Copper Canyon in November. Caton, of Euleus, outpolled Craig Holtzclaw of Arlington 65 percent to 35 percent with only one precinct left to report.

He took Box 3, West Central Snyder, by a 180-94 margin; Box 18, West Snyder, by a 189-104 margin; and Box 20, the absentee vote, by a 425-253 margin. Terrell edged Goodwin in the outlying areas, winning 33-31 at Fluvanna, 15-13 at Knapp, 47-37 at Dunn and 109-101 in Hermleigh.

Gannaway and Greene ran away with two of the five boxes in the race for Precinct 4 commissioner. Gannaway, of Hermleigh, defeated Greene 154 to 36 at Hermleigh with Kimmel getting 30 votes. Gannaway also won Box 11, Central Snyder, 41 votes to 26 for Greene and 12 for Kimmel; and the absentee box, 64 votes to 41 for Greene and 40 for Kimmel. Greene dominated in South East Snyder, gaining 118 votes to 71 for Gannaway and 60 for Kimmel.

Kimmel won Box 10, Dunn, with 42 votes while Gannaway had 28 and Greene 18.

In winning the Democratic nomination for Precinct 1 justice of the peace, Rushing won 14 of 15 boxes (Box 13 is Hermleigh, Precinct 2), including West Central Snyder by a 185-84 margin over Ted Billingsley. She took the absentee box with 416 votes to Billingsley's 222.

Pate, in winning the Democratic nomination over Tucker for Precinct 3 county commissioner, controlled all five boxes. He won North West Snyder 104 to 50, West Snyder 182 to 108 and the absentee box 128 to 57.

Staton won the Democratic nomination over Echols by winning 15 of 16 boxes, including the absentee box by a 458 to 232 margin.

Storm damage reported

By The Associated Press

Winds in excess of 50 mph blew over trailers and highway signs and downed power lines across North Texas today as heavy rainstorms moved through the region after triggering twisters in western sections.

No injuries were reported.

The National Severe Storms Forecast Center issued a tornado watch for parts of North Central and Central Texas, effective until 1 p.m.

More twisters, large hail, dangerous lightning and damaging winds were possible from the storms, meteorologists said. The watch area covered 74 counties, and stretched for 70 miles on either side of a line from near Hondo to north of Paris.

An overnight tornado watch for 59 counties in North and South Central Texas, including the Dallas-Fort Worth area, and 10 counties in the state's northeastern section expired at 7 a.m.

Students spend spring break renovating Hispanic church

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — Several college students who put aside the sun tan oil and beach volleyball over spring break to renovate a church say their work has taught them a lot about the Hispanic culture.

Instead of basking in the sun along Padre Island and other resort areas during the week-long college break, 62 young men and women chose to work with a local church community.

The students' projects include painting the interior of the 1-year-old building that houses Our Savior Lutheran Church, a mostly Hispanic congregation.

Dewey Litwiller, 24, majoring in industrial engineering and minoring in Spanish at Iowa State University in Ames, Iowa, said staying with a Hispanic family has been especially rewarding.

"It's a real cultural experience," Litwiller said. "I've also seen a different way of worship — it's a little more charismatic, prayer is a little more important to them ... I probably have a better understanding (now) of the people in this area of the country."

Chris Michael, 21, a law enforcement major from Southern Illinois University in Carbondale, Ill., agreed.

"This is a lot more fun — I get a lot more out of this," he said. "At least here, when I spend my money, I'm helping to build a church."

Litwiller added that service work has given him an opportunity to consider joining the Peace Corps.

peace. Billingsley took 963 votes but was beaten in the Democratic primary by long-time JP deputy clerk Wanda Rushing, who received 1,752 votes. There was no Republican candidate.

In the only other contested county race, Democratic incumbent County Treasurer Rita Staton defeated Polly Wadeigh Echols 1,904 votes to 1,088. No Republican ran for the office.

Elois Pruitt will face Patsy Williams in the November general election for district clerk. Pruitt ran unopposed in the Democratic primary while Williams was unopposed in the Republican primary.

All other Scurry County races were won by unopposed Democratic candidates. They include incumbent County Clerk Frances Billingsley, incumbent County Attorney Lealand "Pete" Greene; and Precinct 2 Peace Justice H.M. Lomax.

Elected as county party chairmen, unopposed, were Earl "Hassie" Sneed, Democrat, and John H. Thomas, Republican.

In the race for county judge, Goodwin won 12 of the 16 boxes. He took Box 3, West Central Snyder, by a 180-94 margin; Box 18, West Snyder, by a 189-104 margin; and Box 20, the absentee vote, by a 425-253 margin. Terrell edged Goodwin in the outlying areas, winning 33-31 at Fluvanna, 15-13 at Knapp, 47-37 at Dunn and 109-101 in Hermleigh.

Gannaway and Greene ran away with two of the five boxes in the race for Precinct 4 commissioner. Gannaway, of Hermleigh, defeated Greene 154 to 36 at Hermleigh with Kimmel getting 30 votes. Gannaway also won Box 11, Central Snyder, 41 votes to 26 for Greene and 12 for Kimmel; and the absentee box, 64 votes to 41 for Greene and 40 for Kimmel. Greene dominated in South East Snyder, gaining 118 votes to 71 for Gannaway and 60 for Kimmel.

Kimmel won Box 10, Dunn, with 42 votes while Gannaway had 28 and Greene 18.

In winning the Democratic nomination for Precinct 1 justice of the peace, Rushing won 14 of 15 boxes (Box 13 is Hermleigh, Precinct 2), including West Central Snyder by a 185-84 margin over Ted Billingsley. She took the absentee box with 416 votes to Billingsley's 222.

Pate, in winning the Democratic nomination over Tucker for Precinct 3 county commissioner, controlled all five boxes. He won North West Snyder 104 to 50, West Snyder 182 to 108 and the absentee box 128 to 57.

Staton won the Democratic nomination over Echols by winning 15 of 16 boxes, including the absentee box by a 458 to 232 margin.

Rosson trounces Senator Tati Santiesteban

AUSTIN (AP) — Veteran state Sen. Tati Santiesteban was trounced in the Democratic Party primary by former Public Utility Commissioner Peggy Rosson, becoming the only incumbent senator seeking re-election to lose.

Brownsville is not yet out of the woods, making a runoff although finishing second to state Rep. Eddie Lucio in Tuesday's balloting. In another hotly contested Senate race, Chet Brooks of Pasadena held off challenger state Rep. Lloyd Criss.

Jerry Beauchamp, D-San Antonio, was defeated by Robert Puente. And state Rep. Dudley Harrison, D-Sanderson, was trailing Pete Gallego, 5,524 votes to 5,017 votes, or 52 percent to 48 percent with 74 percent of the vote tallied.

Santiesteban — facing opposition for the first time since being elected to the Senate in 1972 — fell to Ms. Rosson, 28,853 votes to 18,539 votes, or 61 percent to 39 percent. The 55-year-old Santiesteban was hounded throughout the campaign by troubles with the Internal Revenue Service and questionable campaign finances.

"I did everything I could to convince the community that I was the best person, but obviously they did not think so," Santiesteban said.

"I will support the endeavors of Peggy in any way she desires," he said. "She beat me soundly, she beat me well."

"I congratulate Tati on a hard fought race and now it's on to the November election and I would ask all Tati's supporters to remember we are all Democrats and I want their help and I want their active participation in my campaign," Ms. Rosson said.

She faces Republican Frank Lozito in the general election.

In final, unofficial totals, Brooks collected 20,991 votes, or 53 percent, to Criss' 18,762, or 47 percent.

In Brownsville, with 98 percent of the vote counted, Lucio led Uribe in the Democratic state senate primary, 14,747 to 14,244, or 38 percent to 36 percent. State Rep. Alex Moreno was third with 26 percent, or 10,220 votes.

Meanwhile, one of the dirtiest primary campaigns in Texas history turned in favor of Sen. Frank Tejeda of San Antonio, who routed challenger Steve Price 28,751 to 5,496, or 77 percent to 15 percent in final unofficial totals. Two other candidates split the remaining votes.

Price had accused Tejeda of selling out to insurance companies, stealing money from children and beating his wife. Tejeda had described Price as a

In the 5th District Senate primary, former state Rep. Jim Turner of Crockett had 34,285 votes, or 68 percent, with 89 percent of the precincts counted. Ron DeLord, president of the Combined Law Enforcement Associations of Texas, had 16,372 or 32 percent. The winner will face Rep. Richard Smith, R-Bryan, in the general election to replace retiring Kent Caperton, D-Bryan.

In November Texans face choice of GOP or Hispanic

AUSTIN (AP) — Texans in November will elect their first 20th century Republican attorney general or the first Hispanic to the post.

Republican state Sen. J.E. "Buster" Brown of Lake Jackson was nearing his party's nomination outright early today, with state Rep. Pat Hill of Dallas running a distant second in the four-way race.

Democrats nominated state Rep. Dan Morales of San Antonio.

Morales got 54 percent in Tuesday's Democratic primary election, or 643,851 votes, with 98 percent of the precincts reporting. Houston lawyer John Odum had 558,195 votes, or 46 percent.

"I have never and will not ask a single Texan to support me based upon ethnicity or based upon my last name," said Morales, 33, adding that he ran strictly on his qualifications for the job.

"I think this vote is the result of an objective evaluation and analysis of our respective records. That is the way I have run this campaign. That is the way I will run the campaign in November," said Morales, a former San Antonio prosecutor and Harvard Law School graduate.

Brown had 354,826 votes, or 50 percent of the vote with 98 percent of the ballots counted. He was followed by Rep. Pat Hill of Dallas, trying to become the first woman attorney general, with 194,856 votes, or 28 percent; Dallas lawyer Tex Lezar, 107,412 votes, or 15 percent; and Houston lawyer Bobby Steelhammer, 49,560, or 7 percent.

Texans are ready for new leadership in the attorney general's office, said Brown, 49, who won a court fight to get a spot on the GOP primary ballot.

"The office has become too political," Brown said. "They need to have confidence that the attorney general is going to be running that office as a law office and not as a political office."

"The people are wanting a change," he said. "I think that is going to be an advantage to the Republican candidate in November."

Since Reconstruction, all attorneys general have been Democrats, and state records indicate no Hispanic has ever held the post.

Brown won a place on the primary ballot after a court battle involving a constitutional prohibition against mid-term legislators seeking offices for which they have raised the compensation.

DEAR ABBY: Another St. Valentine's Day has come and gone without flowers, candy or any kind of a valentine from my husband.

I'm 25 and he is 26, and we've been married for three years. I'd have been thrilled if he had brought me a flower — or even handed me a valentine — but he ignored the day completely.

Abby, the newspapers were filled with ads for gifts, and the store windows were decorated with hearts and flowers to remind people of that special day for lovers.

He's a super guy, hardworking and decent, so maybe I shouldn't complain. But it sure would have felt great to have been remembered on St. Valentine's Day. Any ideas?

NOBODY'S VALENTINE

DEARNOBODY'S: So, another St. Valentine's Day has come and gone. You were forgotten, and now you're hurt.

Well, don't let it happen again. A week before St. Valentine's Day, leave a note on his pillow, "Only six more days before St. Valentine's Day — start shopping for a card." The following day, tape a note on the bathroom mirror, "Only five more days... a single rose would be nice." The next day, stick an artificial flower in his shoe with another reminder. I think you get the idea.

Some men need more reminding than others, so don't sit silently with your fingers crossed, hoping he'll remember. Some good-humored "reminding" can save you the pain of being forgotten. And he may even appreciate it.

DEAR ABBY: You recently reminded your readers about International Forgiveness Week, which is a wonderful idea. However, it is nothing new. In the Jewish religion, there has been a "forgiveness fortnight" for at least 2,000 years.

During the 10 days between Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, those of the Jewish faith are commanded to ask forgiveness from those whom they may have offended or wronged during the year. In Judaism, God cannot forgive the sins a person has committed against another unless the sinner has asked that person for forgiveness. If the injured party rejects the apology three times, the wrongdoer is then released from his or her obligation to ask forgiveness.

Isn't this a beautiful tradition, as well as a good way to begin a new year?

ESTHER KRISMAN,
LOS ANGELES

DEAR ESTHER: It is indeed. This year, the 10 days to ask forgiveness are between Sept. 20 and Sept. 29.

***

DEAR ABBY: Just a note regarding Forgiveness Week. A long time ago I heard the following on, of all shows, "Saturday Night Live":

"Don't hold a grudge,
"It's heavy,
"And it doesn't have a handle."
Worked for me! It can work for everybody.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HATES WAR" IN ANCHORAGE, ALASKA: No one said it better than another military man: "Every gun that is made, every warship launched, every rocket fired, signifies a theft from those who hunger and are not fed, those who are cold and are not clothed. The world in arms is not spending money alone. It is spending the sweat of its laborers, the genius of its scientists, the hopes of its children. This is not a way of life at all in any true sense. Under the cloud of war, it is humanity hanging on a cross of iron."

Man goes for 13th record

NEW YORK (AP) — The master of underwater pogo sticking, marathon yodeling and long-distance juggling has muscled his way into the Guinness record book with another peculiar pastime, cranking out 1,551 squats in an hour.

Ashrita Furman, already a Guinness world record-holder a dozen times over, performed his latest feat Tuesday before awestruck observers in a Manhattan gym.

"I don't think he's human," said the gym's owner, Robert Fuchs.

Maybe not: After shedding two pounds and nearly passing out during his hourlong stunt, the 35-year-old health food store manager went for a run "to loosen up." His hands still bore bloody blisters from slapping the mat.

"I feel fantastic," he said. "The guy is amazing," said

Fuchs, owner of the Natural Physique Centre, who kept count and monitored Furman's style.

"He's phenomenal," said David Boehm, editor of the U.S. edition of the Guinness Book of World Records. "He's only one of a number of what you might call nuts setting these records. But he wanted to have more records than anybody else, and he does."
