'Shrew' advances to regional meet

SHS students are named Best Actor, Best Actress

Snyder walked away with Best Actor and Best Actress honors during Class 4A area University Interscholastic League one-act play competition here Friday and moved within a step of the state meet in the process.

Coy Berryman was selected Best Actor and Amber Adams was chosen Best Actress from Snyder's performance of "Taming of the Shrew." Big Spring, which presented "The Riemers of Eldritch," will also advance to regional competition on April 20.

Winners at the regional meet, to be held at Angelo State University in San Angelo, will advance to state.

Friday's competition was held at Worsham Auditorium on the high school campus.

In addition to the top acting awards, Snyder student Casey Franks was selected for the All-Star Cast and Kristie Mize and Grant Jordan were chosen honorable mention.

Also named to the All-Star Cast were Bree McDaniel, Russ Roten and Angela Reed of Big Spring; Renee Kroeker and Richard McElmurry of Levelland; and Jennifer Mays and Jennifer Hodges of Canyon Randall.

Levelland performed "Brighton Beach Memoirs" and (see SHREW, page 15A)

'Indians' is college dinnertheatre play

Agatha Christie's famous mystery comedy "Ten Little Indians" will be presented April 17, 19, 20 and 21 by the Western Texas College theatre department in the Fine Arts Theatre on campus.

The event will be the department's dinner theatre production, with dinner served before the performances on April 20 and 21. Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. and the show will follow at 8 p.m. Tickets for the dinner and show will be $13 each. Dinner theatre tickets must be picked up by noon on Friday, April 20.

Tickets for the performances April 17 and 19 will be $5. Curtain time will be 8 o'clock each evening.

According to Jim Rambo, director, it is especially fitting to perform "Indians" this season since England is paying special homage to Christie on the 100th anniversary of her birth. Rambo noted that it was 45 years ago that the show opened on Broadway. It has also been the basis for several movies.

Appearing in the cast will be Jerry Vizena from Thorndale and Lisa Sorrells from Maryneal as Mr. and Mrs. Rogers; Joy McSpadden of Snyder as Vera Claythorne; Kenn Kern of Hurst as Captain Lombard; Brandon Neeley of Snyder as Marston; Richard Lack of Snyder as Blore; Rodney Gestes from Lorenzo as General Mackenzie; Trisha Phillips of Snyder as Emily; Jeff Hicks from Muleshoe as Wargrave; and Scott Weaver from Levelland as Dr. Armstrong.

Gestes is also serving as student director and Donna Browning is assistant to the director. Scenery and light designs are by Galen Price of Snyder. Brian Hamrick of Colorado City is serving as the technical assistant.

Tickets for "Ten Little Indians" can be reserved by calling the box office at 573-8511, extension 234.

Three to speak at annual ranch breakfast Tuesday

Three speakers will highlight the Upper Colorado Soil and Water Conservation District's Scurry County Ranch Breakfast, scheduled for 7 a.m. Tuesday at the Leroy Key Ranch west of Snyder.

Ezell-Key Grain Co. will provide the breakfast. Anyone interested is invited to attend. Activities should be over by 9:30 a.m.

On the program will be Dr. John J. McGlone with the Department of Animal Science at Texas Tech University; Gary Walker, manager of the Sandyland Underground Water Conservation District; and Kent Mills, sales representative for Ezell-Key Grain Co.

Dr. McGlone is involved in research on issues of animal care and has been involved in legislative actions concerning animal welfare. He will also discuss some of the different animal welfare groups, their motivations and desires, and what ranchers can do to get their views represented.

Following Dr. McGlone on the program will be Walker, who will discuss the reasons for establishing an underground water district, and provide some guidelines for those interested in protecting and conserving their underground water quality and quantity.

Mills will discuss some of the impacts to the livestock industry of the drought of 1989. Mills has taken forage samples in over 20 counties of West Texas and eastern New Mexico over the past five years, and works with cattle, sheep and goat producers to develop custom feeding programs to maintain or improve production levels in the years of ample forage and those years like 1989 when forage was extremely low.

Signs will be posted to help attendees find their way. Anyone wishing further information can contact Mike Squires at the Soil Conservation Office, 573-1268.

307 vote by absentee method in April 10 runoff elections

Absentee voting in the April 10 statewide runoff ended Friday with 307 voters in the county choosing that method of casting their ballots.

The turnout was considered good, considering the fact that Scurry County has only one runoff, that between Democratic county commissioner candidates Jack Greene Sr. and Jerry Gannaway.

Gannaway and Greene will determine the Pct. 4 commissioner's race, with no Republican seeking the office.

According to the county clerk's office, 296 voters cast Democratic ballots and 11 cast Republican ballots in the absentee voting period.

For the election on Tuesday, Republicans will vote at the West

Fire Station on El Paso Ave.

For the Democrats, Precinct 11 has been consolidated with 12 and both will be held at the south side of the county coliseum. Likewise, 15 and 16 have been consolidated and will take place on the north (see ABSENTEE, page 15A)

Stone announces officer promotions

Police Chief William E. "Bill" Stone Saturday announced the promotion of officers Trevlyn Pitner to sergeant and Kenneth Woolf to officer in charge.

Pitner, a Snyder native who has been with the department since 1987, replaces Sgt. Dale Burns, who recently joined the Midland County Sheriff's Office.

Woolf was a policeman in Beaumont before joining the department a year ago, and he replaces Pitner as an officer in charge, which is the equivalent of corporal.

The department last week hired David Landin, who had been a jailer with the Lubbock County Sheriff's Office, as a new city policeman. (see HIRING, page 15A)

Workers encouraged to attend SNS meeting

A second and final organizational meeting for Snyder Neighbors Sharing (SNS) volunteers is planned Tuesday and officials stress that a large crowd is needed.

The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. at Martha Ann Woman's Club. This coming April 28, SNS will attempt its largest house repair effort ever, with up to 24 homes due work requiring as many as 250 volunteers.

Tommy Aishman, SNS president, asked that all individuals planning to work as well as at least one representative from any group be present.

"We've got to have the people there for this meeting because we plan to make job assignments. To do this, we have to know how many workers we can expect," Aishman said.

Of the projects identified, Aishman said 17 or 18 will be "group" efforts. The remaining homes will be handled by three-man crews.

Last year's work saw some 150 volunteers complete repairs to nine homes. Because of this year's expanded number of projects, Aishman predicted at least 250 workers will be needed.

This will mark the third year for Snyder Neighbors Sharing in Snyder. The effort is aimed at senior citizens and handicapped individuals who own their own home but are unable to afford repairs.

Any individual or group seeking additional information about

SNS should contact Aishman at 573-2668 or any board member.

Graham said competing in Regional Bee

James Graham, son of Clifton Yocom and an eighth grader at Snyder Junior High School, was to compete in the Regional Spelling Bee which began at 12:30 p.m. Saturday at Monterey High School in Lubbock.

Graham earned the right to advance in spelling competition by winning the Scurry County Spelling Bee last month. In the 15th round he correctly spelled "lecturn" and "licit" to win the 15th annual County Bee.

Graham was one of 22 students from all elementary and junior high schools in the county who competed at the county level.

Tiffany Jones, also an eighth grader at Snyder Junior High, was the first runner-up in the County Bee. She is the daughter of Joe Dan and Linda Jones.

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "A tightwad is someone who is willing to let the rest of the world go buy."

Here's more honorable mention entries in the SDN's Tightwad Story contest:

Charles Anderson said he remembers his family being invited to his rich uncle's house for Sunday dinner. Wearing a clean pair of "Unionalls," Charlie looked forward to the dinner.

It was during the Depression when even the wealthy would cook the chicken's feet or "scratchers."

The uncle had a pet dog that got better care and food than most children in those days. When it was time to pass the chicken, Charlie recalls he had his eye on the biggest piece of fried chicken he had ever seen.

"Just as Uncle Jim was ready to pass the chicken, the pampered dog romped into the room. Uncle Jim took three of the biggest and juiciest pieces of chicken and gave them to Sweetie Pie. By the time the plate made its way around the table, there was one scratcher left for me."

Soon afterwards, the dog became ill and was given one of the finest funerals ever held in the county. "My brother said Sweetie Pie may have been the only dog in the community to die of Gout during the Depression."

Olvie Smith told about a story that occurred in her North Central Texas home in 1926. She walked to town one hot afternoon to mail a letter, but had forgotten a stamp and didn't have any money.

Rather than walking home, she went to a friend who owned a downtown cafe and borrowed 2 cents for a stamp.

The debt slipped her mind. In the cafe about two years later, the owner dunned her for his two cents. Embarrassed, Mrs. Smith said she gave him a nickel for interest.

"He put his 5 cents in the cash register and didn't even say 'thanks.'"

Q—Do you have to be a farmer or rancher to attend the ranch breakfast Tuesday morning?

A—No, the breakfast is open to the public, and anyone may attend.

In Brief

Fire on ferry

OSLO, Norway (AP) — A suspicious fire swept through a ferry carrying about 450 people in the North Sea before dawn Saturday, killing at least 75 and leaving about 50 missing. Hundreds of people were rescued.

The manager of the company that operated the ferry said he believed the tragedy was caused by arsonists who set two fires on separate decks.

The dead were found in cabins and on the car deck, where many people were apparently sleeping in their vehicles on the overnight trip from Norway to Denmark aboard the 10,000-ton Scandinavian Star, officials said.

"There was a lot of smoke and flames. It looked rather horrible," helicopter pilot Nils Martinsson, who helped in the rescue effort, told Swedish radio.

30th year for pigs

SAN MARCOS, Texas (AP) — For 30 years, swine dives have been driving tourists hog wild at Aquarena Springs Resort.

When resort officials in 1959 found seals were having a tough time adapting to the south Texas climate, someone said they should try pigs. Since then, more than 600 hogs, who've all used the stage name Ralph, have been part of an elite troupe of diving — well, belly-flopping — pigs.

The resort Saturday hosted a birthday party to celebrate the unusual act.

Demos target Texas

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas is one of 16 key states being targeted by the national Democratic Party this year as it seeks to control state legislatures that will redraw congressional district lines after the 1990 Census.

Called Project 500 and headed by Democratic Chairman Ron Brown, the multimillion-dollar plan will lead the electoral battle for legislative control, party officials say.

"Our most critical challenge as a party in 1990 is to ensure that Democrats win state legislative and gubernatorial victories," said Tim Dickson, executive director of Project 500.

Texas is viewed as a crucial state in the effort, since its increasing population is projected to increase the number of U.S. House seats from the current 27 to 30 or 31 after the Census.

"Project 500 has targeted Texas as a pivotal state that will receive national support — including strategic advice, campaign manager training and direct (financial) donations — to help secure Democratic control taught. The goal of the class is to help students master one fiddle tune. It is not necessary for students to read music, Barham says, since

Your Birthday

April 8, 1990

Substantial accomplishments are likely in the year ahead, provided you are well organized and keep your priorities in order. Never put the cart before this horse.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Guard against inclinations today to jump to conclusions and base your judgments upon sketchy information. Take time to be certain you have all the facts. Aries, treat yourself to a birthday gift. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead by mailing $1.25 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) A venture in which you're presently involved may not prove to be as easy as it looks on the drawing board. However, don't use this as an excuse to scrap an endeavor.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) There's a possibility you may lack self-discipline today in the management of your resources. If this is true, there's a chance you might do something extravagant you'll regret later.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If everyone is moving in one direction today and you are going in another, ask yourself who is out of step? You might get an answer you won't like.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) There is a definite line today between healthy optimism and wishful thinking. If you cross over the mark, it could turn success into failure.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Don't let it be said of you today that you are nice to certain people because you hope they can do something for you. Playing this game is a waste of time, because chances are they won't.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your staying power might be limited today where the achieving of objectives are concerned. Instead of pushing yourself harder, you may toss in the towel when the going gets tough.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) In your conversations with others today, don't pretend to be knowledgeable about something of which you know little. The only person who'll be taken in by this pretense will be you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Give a wide berth to involvements at this time where you could be put in a position of having to pay for someone else's mistakes. If you can't call the shots, call a cab.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Keep your guard up if you have to negotiate something today with a person about whom you know little, because everyone does not abide by the high standards you set for yourself.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You're not apt to have any problems today in grasping the big picture, but you may lack an eye for detail. Tread carefully and don't trip over the little things.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Today if you get involved in some type of competitive activity, be it physical or mental, play the game for the game sake and don't bring betting into the picture.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Keep everything on a businesslike basis today if you're involved in something with a friend that has commercial overtones. The deal could fall apart if it's handled too loosely.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Today you may become involved with a person who has a generous nature, but a demanding attitude. This individual may put your patience and tolerance to a test.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Move cautiously today where investments and joint ventures are concerned, or else you might get involved in something that is all sizzle and no steak.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) This is one of those unusual days when it's best to go along with procedures that offer you the lines of least resistance. Be mentally aware and avoid all forms of opposition.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) A failure to keep pace with your duties and responsibilities today could lead to avoidable complications. Each thing you neglect to do will add to the pressure.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) It's to your best interest at this time to try to avoid petty, political involvements with friends. In the beginning what transpires might be interesting, but it could suddenly turn more serious.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) An objective which is of importance to you today might not be equally as meaningful to your associates. Don't be surprised if they decide to withhold their support.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Authority will be of considerable importance to persons with whom you have dealings today. If you use someone else's idea, be sure to credit the source.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Financial involvements will have to be managed with extreme skill today or else you could come out on the short end. If you think you're getting a bum deal, speak up and have it corrected.

Grand Jury will review shooting of burglary suspect

AUSTIN (AP) — Grand jurors will review the shooting death of a man by a Barton Hills resident who believed his car was being burglarized.

Jeffrey Keith Shugart, 26, whose police record includes burglary and theft convictions, died of a shotgun wound to the back and arm after the Friday shooting, authorities said. The suspect may have been working with another man burglarizing cars in the area, said police.

Shugart had a Phillips screwdriver and a pocketknife in his back pocket, and another screwdriver was found beside his right hand when police arrived, according to Jim Hall, an investigator for the Travis County medical examiner's office.

Police said 32-year-old Mark Szeneri, who fatally shot Shugart as the man ran away, was not arrested.

A Travis County grand jury will determine if charges should be filed in the case. Texas law permits residents to use deadly force to protect their property in some instances.

Police said Szeneri told them his wife saw someone in their car, parked in the driveway, when she awoke Friday morning. He told police that he "tried to shoot above the guy's head ... to scare him off."

In the same neighborhood south of Zilker Park and north of Loop 360, police received several reports of auto burglaries Friday. Tracks from shoes found near the burglarized vehicles were similar to those from shoes worn by Shugart, officers said.

Police were also checking a report that a neighbor heard a car speed away from the residence immediately after the shooting, indicating that another person might have been with Shugart, said homicide Sgt. Hector Polanco.

The neighbor "heard it right in the area, didn't see it, just heard the car leaving," he said. Someone apparently had used screwdrivers to break into Szeneri's Toyota Land Cruiser.

Western Texas College will enforce TASP rule

Students who have been enrolled in other colleges or universities and plan to attend summer school at Western Texas College will be required to show proof of their TASP status by showing their college transcript, TASP score report or both.

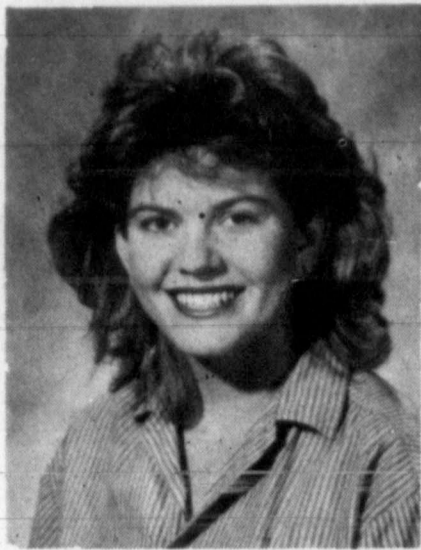

"There is now a state regulation concerning TASP proof and we will be required to adhere to the policy," Dr. Duane Hood, Dean of Student Services, said.

All students with no prior college credit must show ACT or SAT scores or take the WTC placement test. Students with college credit earned before the 1989 fall semester who have completed a course in English/math do not need to take the WTC placement tests in English and math. Students with college credit earned before the 1989 fall semester who have not completed a course in English/math must take the WTC placement test.

WTC's placement test will be given at 6:30 p.m. on May 22, at 9 a.m. on May 30 and at 1:30 p.m. on May 31. There is a $10 fee for the test. Details about testing can be obtained by calling the Counseling Center at 573-8511, ext. 313.

Registration for WTC's summer classes will be held on May 31 and classes will begin on June 4. Copies of the summer schedule are available in the WTC Administration Building.

Intervenor lose battle in lawsuit

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — Intervenor in this city's legal battle against Mesa Limited Partnership and Energas Co. have no third-party rights to natural gas under a pact that regulates sales between the two companies, a judge ruled.

But the ruling by the Austin judge Friday may not put the suit to rest because of other considerations, including the intervenors' request that he strike the city's March 1989 settlement with Mesa and Energas.

Library accepting donations again

The Scurry County Library is again accepting donations for various magazine subscriptions to broaden the library's collection and help in expanding its operating budget.

Librarian Janice Mitchell has a list of magazines which will keep a balanced selection of reading material. Donations may be made at the library where the chosen subscriptions will be purchased through a jobber.

Now in its fourth year of accepting gift subscriptions, the library received 21 donations last year and hopes to expand the selection even further this year. Mitchell notes that this is a good project for tax rollback refund checks.

Subscriptions need to be chosen by May 1.

One man follows his dream

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — He followed his dream — and they came.

Just as in Hollywood's baseball fantasy "Field of Dreams," 68-year-old Tex Clyde Eddleman says he heard a voice somewhere inside his head, and he did something about it.

But instead of suggesting he build a baseball diamond in a cornfield, Eddleman said his voice told him he must somehow rescue a beautiful wooden parquet floor left after a book store moved out from a downtown shopping center.

And no one was to be shoeless. In fact, shoes are recommended — with taps.

Eddleman successfully convinced the officials at the Tandy Center, which owned the vacant store, to let him use its excellent tapping surface. In exchange, he developed a tap-at-lunch program for employees who want to reduce stress and have healthier hearts.

The program began March 5, and behind a curtain that screens participants from passersby in a mall, Eddleman teaches others the joys of tap dancing.

"They're doing just great," he said of his class. "This is taking off like wildfire."

He shook his head as he described how some class members had showed up for their first sessions in high heels.

"But they've gone from stiletto heels to getting properly shod, and I'm beginning to hear tap sounds."

It is a sound that Eddleman has savored for 51 years, he said.

He first saw tap dancers clicking furiously away at a recreation center during the Depression. He later joined a community circus, because he would be taught dancing as well as the difficulties of clowning and walking a tightrope.

He later studied tap and flamenco under the famed Eduardo and Angelo Cansino, father and uncle of the late actress Rita Hayworth.

Eddleman said he doesn't want to make a lot of money from his classes. Participants pay only $2 a session.

"I love to share this, because I love my town," he said. "Tap is jazz, it's ragtime, it's America's art form — and it's taken me a lifetime to realize how very, very difficult tap is. ... It's being a drummer with your feet."

Thanks to Eddleman, some others are living out their own dreams, too. Like Joyce Caulkins, a 55-year-old parking lot supervisor, who shows up at noon to be one of Eddleman's T-Time Tappers.

"I took it when I was little and I love it," she said. "My parents made me quit because I was dancing two or three nights a week, and I had to go to school."

"But old tap-dancers never die. They just sit around and do this."

She started tapping her foot.

On May 20, 1927, Charles Lindbergh took off for Paris from Roosevelt Field on Long Island, N.Y., aboard the "Spirit of St. Louis."

Concert focuses on environment

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Scores of musicians joined activists and politicians in Indianapolis Saturday for Farm Aid's first concert in 2½ years, and officials added an environmental twist to their longstanding message that the financial plight of family farmers must be eased.

Organizers Willie Nelson, John Mellencamp and Neil Young headed a wide-ranging list of performers that also featured three winners from the recent Grammy Awards: Bonnie Raitt, Don Henley and Lyle Lovett.

The lineup of more than 60 acts, playing before a sellout crowd of more than 45,000, also included Dwight Yoakum, K.T. Oslin, Lou Reed, Guns 'n' Roses, Richard Marx, Jackson Browne, John Denver, and a Soviet band, Gorky Park. The Nashville Network, a cable channel, scheduled 12 hours of live coverage beginning at 11 a.m. (noon EDT).

The all-star show comes two weeks before Earth Day, the 20th anniversary of the day of cleanup, workshops and education credited with launching the modern environmental movement. Chris Desser, executive director of Earth Day 1990, a national planning group for the event, was scheduled to appear at a Farm Aid news conference this morning.

Carolyn Mugar, executive director of Farm Aid, said the concert would serve as an early start for Earth Day observances since it brings together the interests of farmers, environmentalists and consumers.

"Farm policy is environmental policy since it affects the standards of protection for America's land and water. Farm policy is also consumer policy since it affects the quality and safety of the food we eat," Mugar said.

Another Farm Aid objective is to influence federal crop payment policies at a time Congress is considering a new farm bill.

'Surrender' becomes ambush

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan (AP) — A ceremony for the surrender of 10,000 Afghan guerrillas turned into a surprise attack in which rebels shot to death at least two Afghan generals, according to news reports and sources.

Rebel sources said Friday's attack near the western Afghan city of Herat was planned five months ago. It apparently was in revenge for a similar deadly trick by government forces 11 years ago.

The exact number of casualties was not known.

Western diplomats in Pakistan said on condition of anonymity they had reports that up to five Afghan generals were killed or wounded in the 15-minute gun battle and in hand-to-hand combat with knives and pistols. They also said civilians, including children, died in the fighting on the plains outside Herat, about 400 miles west of the Afghan capital of Kabul.

Government-run Radio Kabul said "numerous" people were killed, including Lt. Gen. Jalal Razaminda, a second unidentified general, civilians and nine guerrillas.

The guerrillas had said they would give up their weapons and support the national reconciliation policy of Soviet-backed President Najib.

The government uses the term "national reconciliation" to signify agreement by local guerrilla groups to switch sides and either stop fighting or help the Marxist government in the war it has fought with rebels since seizing power in a 1978 coup.

The government says tens of thousands of rebels have laid down their weapons in the past year.

But this time, said the Jamiat-i-Islami guerrilla organization, it was all a trick to trap government forces.

Jamiat-i-Islami is considered the most militarily efficient of the seven Afghan guerrilla groups and the dominant one in the Herat area.

The rebels are supported by the United States and Saudi Arabia and operate from bases in Pakistan. They call themselves mujahedeen, or Islamic holy warriors.

Rebel sources in the southeastern Pakistani town of Quetta, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said rebels slowly began infiltrating the Herat area in November and recently notified the government that they wanted to give up the fight.

Jones' dealings in Canada probed

DALLAS (AP) — Energy operations of Dallas Cowboys owner Jerry Jones are targets of reviews by authorities in two states but the businessman denies any impropriety involving gas contracts.

In one, California utility regulators are looking into Jones' Canadian natural gas activities as an extension of an investigation of his gas dealings in that state, an executive familiar with the transactions said.

Jones' gas company is also the subject of an unrelated investigation by Arkansas officials, in addition to the California review.

Jones allegedly attempted last year to use relationships with key utility personnel to obtain illegal gas contracts in Calgary, where his Arkoma Production Co. has recently begun operating, said George Walsh, former Alberta & Southern Co. vice president for gas supply and operations said.

"They were trying to work out a deal that would not have been allowed under the laws of the land here in Alberta," Walsh told The Dallas Morning News.

But Jones has denied using any improper personal and financial relationships to induce any utility officials to enter into gas contracts with his companies. He did not immediately return a telephone call Saturday from the Associated Press.

Walsh was fired in September, in part because he said he objected to pressure for special treatment of Jones sought by a Pacific Gas & Electric Co. executive currently under investigation in California, as well as Walsh's superiors at Alberta &

Southern.

Walsh, until this week, had declined to comment on Jones' dealings with Alberta & Southern while he attempted to settle a wrongful termination lawsuit he filed in Calgary. That suit now appears headed for trial, Walsh said.

He said the pressure came during a meeting in early 1989 attended by his superiors, Jones, Jones' partner Mike McCoy, and former PG&E gas supply manager Eugene Satrap.

WHY MUNICIPAL BONDS DESERVE YOUR IMMEDIATE ATTENTION NOW.

Only three other times in the last twenty years have municipal bonds offered rates so close to those of most taxable bonds. That makes the taxable equivalent yield of many municipal bonds over 10%.*

Municipal bonds have stability, for they tend to be less sensitive to volatility in the market. And most municipal bonds offer a high degree of safety.

Parents at West are planning first Junior Olympics

West Elementary Parent Council Association is busy planning the first annual Junior Olympics Festival slated for 11 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Saturday, May 5, at Snyder Soccer Field.

All Junior Olympics events will be limited to West students with the exception of Qualifying Relay Races which will also feature competing teams from the first through sixth grade physical education classes at Snyder's five other elementary schools.

All money transactions will be handled through ticket sales (25 cents per ticket) including refreshments, booths and track and field events.

All elementary P.E. coaches have been invited to register a boys and girls relay teams representing each grade level. Coach Kenneth Parker at West will coordinate this event and ribbons will be awarded to the winners in each category.

While all of the track and field events will be limited to West students except the relay races, the general public is invited to participate in "crazy races" such as gunny sack races, three-legged races and balloon races etc. Admission is free.

Activities are also planned for various booths and concession stands will be available.

All West Elementary students may participate in any three of the following track and field events (which will be divided according to sex and grade level): 50 yard sprint, 100 yard sprint, very low hurdles, running broad jump, 220 yard run, mile run, and soft ball throw.

Ribbons will be awarded to all first, second and third place winners and all participants.

In conjunction with the first Junior Olympics, a poster contest will be held at West at 8:30 a.m. on Wednesday, April 11. All West Elementary students are encouraged to enter their original artwork. Ribbons will be awarded to the first through third grade winners from each grade level.

Junior Olympics sponsors said they have two important reasons for organizing this end-of-school-year event.

-To provide an outdoor activity which encourages West students to participate in track and field events.

-To raise funds to be used specifically to improve the school's playground through the addition of new equipment and the planting of trees.

Co-chairmen include Candy Payne and Helen Lovett.

Committee chairmen include: tickets, Helen Lovett and Vicki Best; refreshments, Joan Bunch, Lori Chandler and Melissa Alexander; track and field events, Ruby Smith, Theresa Trammel and Judy Hobbs; non-food booths, Missie Rogers and Chris Bond; crazy races, Arlene Marshall and Terri Kubena; publicity, Candy Payne.

Kingwood man sentenced

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal judge sentenced a Kingwood man Friday to 90 days in jail, 1,000 hours of community service, a $5,000 fine and five years supervised release for doing business in Cuba.

Dan Snow, 51, was convicted Jan. 27 on eight counts of organizing bass fishing expeditions to Cuba — one of six foreign countries where American citizens are prohibited by U.S. law from moneymaking ventures.

The conviction followed an eight-year legal battle by Snow to challenge a 1982 U.S. State Department directive severely restricting visits to Cuba and the World War I-vintage law under which he was prosecuted.

U.S. District Judge Simeon Lake III sentenced Snow to 90 days in jail for each of eight counts against him. The sentences, however, will run concurrently and be served on weekends. Following completion of the jail time, Snow is subject to five years of supervised release.

In addition, Snow was sentenced to 1,000 hours of community service and must perform at least 20 of those hours each month. He also was fined $5,000, with at least $100 a month payments beginning a month after he completes his jail time.

Lake also fined Snow $300 in special assessments.

Snow faced up to life in prison on a criminal contempt conviction and up to 10 years in prison and a $50,000 fine for each of the other counts.

The case stemmed from a 1987 trip which Snow organized in direct violation of a court order from U.S. District Judge Carl Bue prohibiting the excursion.

In its original form, the act restricted visits to nations at war with the United States or where the executive branch deemed a national emergency existed. Congress altered that act in the late 1970s to empower the executive branch to invoke limits for matters of commerce.

State Department travel restrictions are now in place for five other nations besides Cuba with decidedly anti-American policies: Cambodia, Lebanon, Libya, North Korea and Vietnam.

Much of Snow's defense rested on his claims to be conducting research. He said he required his clients to keep data on the fish they caught that was used in an ongoing project.

Goodall speaks

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — British ethnologist Jane Goodall says her work to save chimpanzees from extinction makes it easier for her to put up with the state of the world's environment.

"If I look at the whole world picture, overpopulation, pollution, the destruction of forests and so on, it's hard to be happy," Goodall said in a recent interview with The Oregonian.

Widow: IRS 'destroying people's lives'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The widow of a businessman who killed himself so his insurance money could finance a battle with the Internal Revenue Service pleaded with Congress Friday to "control the IRS, to keep it from destroying people's lives."

"This kind of thing should never have happened to me and Alex," Kay M. Council of High Point, N.C., told the Senate Finance oversight subcommittee. "We didn't do anything wrong. We just got caught up in the middle of a big IRS screw-up and we couldn't get out of it."

IRS Commissioner Fred T. Goldberg Jr., who preceded Mrs. Council on the witness stand, was not asked about her case but said his agency in general is making a great deal of progress implementing the 1988 law known as the "Taxpayer Bill of Rights."

"Citizens of this country have more rights today in proceeding against the IRS" than against any other agency "and I think that is good," Goldberg said. He said employees have been put on notice that "we need to be attentive to attitudes."

Nine years after the Councils got into trouble with the IRS by writing off a $70,000 tax-shelter loss, Mrs. Council returned home one night in June 1988 to find a note from her husband:

"My dearest Kay — I have taken my life in order to provide capital for you. The IRS and its liens which have been taken against our property illegally by a runaway agency of our government have dried up all sources of credit for us. So I have made the only decision I can. It's purely a business decision .... You will find my body on the lot on the north side of the house."

Mrs. Council, 48, eventually won a federal court ruling that she and her husband owed the taxes, interest and penalties the IRS nothing, not the $300,000 in IRS claimed.

Tigers fall to Loboes

Snyder strands winning runs in 7-6 defeat

The Snyder Tigers' hold on first place slipped a notch Friday night as they were upset by the visiting Monahans Loboes, 7-6.

"We had runners on second and third base in the last of the seventh and just couldn't get the hit to drive them in," said Snyder coach Albert Lewis.

"We had two men on in the sixth, too. We just had trouble getting the timely base hit."

With the score tied 2-2 in the Monahans half of the third inning, the Loboes moved three runs across the plate.

Pitcher Louis Saldana banged out a double to open the stanza and was moved across the plate on a three-run homer by third baseman Chavez that also scored right fielder Marty Belvins.

Snyder answered with a pair of runs in the bottom of the inning.

Jason West walked to lead off for the Tigers followed by left fielder Toby Goodwin being hit by a pitch from Saldana.

Willie Garcia, moved to shortstop in the top of the inning after starting on the mound, punched a double that advanced West home.

Clean-up hitter Randy Morris, playing third, reached on an error by the Monahans shortstop that drove in Goodwin and narrowed the Loboes' advantage to 5-4.

Both teams came up empty in the fourth but Monahans' two-run fifth gave them the lead they wouldn't relinquish.

Snyder added two in the sixth on a Goodwin triple that scored Chad Fox and West but Goodwin was stranded at third.

Reliever Jamey Morton knocked down the MHS batters in order in the seventh to give the SHS hitters their last chance to pull out the game.

Morris went to first with a free pass, to second on a fielder's choice and hit third on a rap from center fielder Mark King.

King moved to second on a ground out by Morton giving SHS two runners in scoring position.

Fox's hot grounder to third was relayed back to first base to end the Snyder rally and the game.

Daniel Espinosa was saddled with the loss in 2-3 inning of relief for the Tigers.

He stands at 3-1 on the season now.

Monahans hurler Saldana went the distance and picked up the win.

Snyder's John Wright paced the hitting attack for the Tigers with a two for four effort Friday.

Snyder, now 11-5 overall and 3-2 in loop play, will be at home again Tuesday against San Angelo Lake View and in Ft. Stockton Thursday.

Tech football is rebuilding

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Texas Tech was the surprise football team of the Southwest Conference in 1989, using big plays and a slashing running back to compile a 9-3 record and finish the season with a bowl victory.

But a treacherous schedule in 1990 and heavy losses to graduation on offense have the Red Raiders' "backs to the wall" heading into the fall, says Tech head coach Spike Dykes.

"We've got some work to do," said Dykes, who was named Southwest Conference Coach of the Year in 1989. "I look at our schedule and think we have got to get good in a hurry."

After five of the first six games on the road against teams including Ohio State, Arkansas and Texas A&M, the Red Raiders return home for a date with the reigning national champion Miami Hurricanes.

"Boy, that's a tall order," Dykes said. "We could be worse than 2-and-5 at one point and be playing pretty good football."

Texas Tech was the only SWC team to win a bowl game last year, beating Duke 49-21 in the All-American Bowl.

But the sweetest victories came at mid-season when the Raiders, who finished the season ranked No. 19, used late-game pass plays to beat Texas and Texas A&M.

Tech, which completed spring practice Wednesday, lost nine of 11 starters on offense, including All-Southwest Conference running back James Gray and the entire offensive line.

"The offensive line is tender," Dykes said, adding that some of the players vying for starting spots have never played in a college game.

"Any time you lose a James Gray you don't replace him. You just hope to go on to the next stage and develop from there," he said. "But we have got some tools. We are not barefooted."

Defensively, the Raiders return eight starters, including the entire defensive backfield.

Nolan Ryan inks new pact

PORT CHARLOTTE, Fla. (AP) — The Texas Rangers announced Friday that pitcher Nolan Ryan has agreed to a 1-year contract option for the 1991 season.

The deal is a club option for 1991 with a buyout if the Rangers do not exercise the option. No further details of the agreement were disclosed.

Ryan, 43, is baseball's all-time strikeout leader, with 5,076. He also has had 5 no-hitters, was 16-10 and had a 3.20 ERA and a major league record 301 strikeouts in 1989.

He signed a 1-year contract with an option year for 1989 with Texas in December 1988 and the Rangers exercised that option last October.

"Nolan has meant a lot to the Texas Rangers' franchise in just one year, and we are excited about the possibility of extending that relationship," manager Tom Grieve said.

Nadia returns with triumphant performance in Reno, Nevada

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Nadia Comaneci scored another perfect 10 in her first public performance in six years, with fans and peers cheering her return.

"As far as her personality is concerned and how the crowd reacted, I'd say she was a 10," Bart Conner, two-time Olympic gold medalist, said Friday. Conner hopes Comaneci will join his touring group of present and former gymnasts.

"I think with this tour we can make gymnastics more into an entertainment form and with show business-like attitudes people like me and Nadia who have done this for a long time could work with young hot-shots to generate more interest in the sport."

Comaneci, 28, did cartwheels and back flips for a near-capacity crowd Thursday night in the 1,800-seat Ziegfeld Theater inside Bally's Reno hotel-casino.

Comaneci, who defected from Romania four months ago, also was back in the arms of former coach Bela Karolyi, who came to Reno for a reunion with his star pupil after nearly six years apart.

Their emotional hug on stage was reminiscent of the embrace they shared at the 1976 Montreal Olympics after the lithe 14-year-old ran into Karolyi's arms following her first perfect score. Comaneci owns eight gold medals from two Olympics.

Fighting off tears, Comaneci told the crowd, "I'm glad to be in my new homeland. This is very emotional for me. ... I love America. I love you all."

Karolyi defended Comaneci's public relations troubles prompted by tales of spending sprees and a relationship with a married man, saying she must have been emotionally lost upon her arrival in the United States.

"Ten years ago, I was standing in the streets of Los Angeles a desperate man," he said. "Ten years later, I believe Nadia was just as desperate as me. I am so happy she is here to regain her glory, her status that she deserves."

Sixteen young gymnasts, including top-ranked Americans Kim Zmeskal and Lance Ringnald, also were in the performance, taped for showing April 21 by ABC Sports. But Comaneci was the star and crowd favorite.

"Americans very much want to love Nadia," said Conner, who hosted the show. "In time, I think they will again."

Cosmetology applications are now due

The Western Texas College cosmetology department is now accepting applications for a new class starting June 1.

Interviews for incoming students will be held on May 1, Judy Border, instructor, said.

Cosmetology students complete 1,500 of training in a 12-month period and are then eligible to take state Board of Cosmetology tests for licensing. Classes meet Monday through Thursday.

Persons interested in enrolling are to go first to the Admissions Office in the Resource Center to pick up the cosmetology packet. Interviews can be scheduled after those forms are completed. For more information call Mrs. Border at 573-8511, ext. 267.

APRIL: CHILD ABUSE AWARENESS MONTH—Scurry County Judge Bobby Goodwin signed a proclamation on Wednesday declaring that April is National Child Abuse Awareness Month in Snyder. Present for the signing were Barbara Burney, left, chairman of the Child Welfare Board; and Frances Denman, treasurer. The Child Welfare Board will have its annual meeting at 7 p.m. Monday at the Senior Citizens Center. A film entitled "Devil Worship: The Rise of Satanism" will be shown and refreshments will be served. Everyone is invited. (SDN Staff Photo)

Air Force kept Cheney in dark about the F-117A error

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force kept Defense Secretary Dick Cheney in the dark for months after one of two F-117A Stealth jet fighter-bombers used in the Panama invasion dropped a bomb "way off target," his spokesman said on Friday.

The omission left Cheney repeatedly touting the "pinpoint accuracy" of the futuristic F-117A planes despite the incident during the Dec. 20 attack.

As well, Cheney's spokesman Pete Williams was kept ignorant of the error until after he disclosed new information about the long-classified aircraft at a Pentagon press briefing on Tuesday.

In the days following the U.S.

invasion, Pentagon officials said the high-tech planes were used for the first time in combat — dropping 2,000-pound bombs near a Panamanian Defense Forces barracks in order to stun and confuse the troops as U.S. paratroopers dropped onto a nearby airfield.

Williams confirmed on Friday that one of the planes actually dropped its bomb some distance away, due to an apparent pilot error.

"The pilots were told to drop their bombs no closer than 50 meters" from two separate PDF barracks buildings, Williams said. But due to a last-minute misunderstanding between the pilots, the second F-117A dropped its bomb on a hillside some distance away, Williams said.

"The first bomb hit 55 meters from one of the barracks, but the second bomb was way off target," Williams said. Williams also acknowledged that despite weeks of preparation for his F-117A briefing on Tuesday — in which he disclosed long-classified details about the radar-evading fighter-bomber — "I didn't know" about the bombing mistake.

"It was news to us," Williams said on Friday about the disclosure in The New York Times and the trade publication Aerospace Daily, that one of the F-117As had missed its intended target by over 300 yards.

Williams said neither he, nor Cheney, knew about the pilot's error until after they were questioned about an off-target bomb crater by New York Times correspondent Michael Gordon, who had a photograph of it.

Asked when the Air Force informed him and Cheney, Williams said they were not told about the mistake until Tuesday afternoon, after the F-117A briefing took place.

Air Force spokeswoman Capt. Susan Strednansky explained the lapse by saying that there was "apparently some confusion regarding the exact impact of the bomb coming up the chain of command."

Six SHS seniors, plus one sponsor will get to attend 'Laboratory'

Roy Burk, Snyder High School chemistry teacher, and six seniors will attend a one-day National Science Laboratory in Los Alamos, N. M. on Thursday, April 19.

The six seniors are Sam Shifflett, Felicia Perry, Ginger Smith, Ron Baker, Sid Brooks and Annette Ramos.

Students qualify for this trip according to their participation in science classes, UIL competition and academic grades.

Two local sponsors have joined together to sponsor this trip, Burk said, explaining that in recent years Snyder students had been unable to participate in the day-long event because of budget cuts.

Local sponsors for the 1990 trip will include Y-Z Industries and Magic Sky Inc., which includes Bell-Cypert-Seale Inc. Each organization is providing an airplane which will fly half of the party to their destination.

Financial Focus

Many investors dream of finding a way to protect their principal while still participating in growth of their capital. In reality, this isn't as difficult as it sounds.

A little knowledge and reliance on the management of a reputable mutual fund could be the answer.

First, select a mutual-fund family that has a conservative income fund and a growth fund. Next, make sure cross-investment of all income dividends is allowed.

The idea is to invest first in the income fund, and then reinvest all dividend payments in the growth fund. This way, your original principal remains in a fund with the objective of protecting your assets. The earnings, by being reinvested more aggressively, have the potential for faster growth. In addition, the dividends that are reinvested on a regular, systematic basis, offer the advantage of dollar cost averaging.

I played the "what if" game using a family of funds with more than 50 years of consistent results. For conservative income I selected a fund that the Mutual Fund Values rating service put in its list of 5 percent least-risky equity funds. The fund has posted 15 consecutive years of positive results. In the past 10 years Lipper Analytical Services shows the fund had a total return of 332 percent. These numbers are not only impressive, but also met my criteria for safety of principal.

For the growth fund, in which the dividends from my income fund would be invested, I selected one of this group's star performers, with a 10 year gain of 498 percent.

Someone who did this with $100,000 about 10 years ago would now have almost half a million dollars. Here's how it works.

By taking only the income from my conservative fund, over the past ten and a half years, I periodically would have reinvested a total of $114,734 into my growth fund. That would have grown to $294,097. At the same time, my principal in the conservative income fund would have grown to $204,289. The total value of the funds—$498,386.

The key, of course, is doing serious homework to select your income and your growth funds. Granted, I enjoyed the benefits of statistical hindsight, but this process of historical performance selection is the only valid way I know.

Obviously, no system can guarantee a profit. The past 10 years was a period of generally rising stock prices. No one can predict the results of future performance, but a careful study of a fund's management and its long-term performance under various economic conditions should give you a big advantage over the dart throwers.

Here's a way you might have your cake and eat it, too.

Four indicted in barratry investigation

EDINBURG, Texas (AP) — Three attorneys and a law firm "runner" accused of illegally promoting lawsuits after Texas' worst school bus accident were indicted Friday by an Hidalgo County grand jury.

The four are accused of barratry, a misdemeanor on the first offense, for allegedly soliciting clients to file lawsuits after the wreck last September.

Officials began investigating after hearing complaints that lawyers and representatives known as "runners" were frequenting funeral homes, hospitals and wakes and sending letters of condolence to the victims' families with business cards attached.

The state's barratry statute makes it illegal to solicit lawsuits or hire someone to promote litigation.

District Attorney Rene Guerra said he could not release the names of the attorneys indicted until they are summoned before a judge. He said two of the indicted were from the Lower Rio Grande Valley and that the third is from "out of the Valley." He said the runner worked for one of the indicted Valley attorneys.

The students were killed after a truck knocked their school bus into a water-filled pit in the south Texas city of Alton last Sept. 21.

Valley Coca-Cola Bottling Co. Inc., owner of the truck involved in the tragedy, faces a potential fortune in injury lawsuits filed by victims' families, surviving bus passengers, bystanders and rescue workers.

Grand jury foreman Charles Cardenas said the panel will continue its investigation next week. "We are awaiting testimony from out-of-county witnesses," he said.

Those subpoenaed by the grand jury include four San Antonio residents: Jose Garcia de Lara, national president of the League of United Latin American Citizens; Cruz Chavira, LULAC's national staff director, and LULAC national staffers Jose Cortez and Betty Salvatierra.

LULAC representatives visited the Valley after the accident saying they were investigating claims that attorneys might have been overcharging survivors.

Norway's constitution, providing for a limited monarchy, was signed in 1814.

Jury finds college student not guilty

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A college student accused of stuffing her newborn son in a dormitory toilet was found innocent of murder by reason of insanity Saturday by jurors who at one point had declared themselves deadlocked.

Claire Hilary Moritt fell into the arms of her defense attorney and exclaimed, "I knew in my gut I wasn't guilty," after the acquittal was read. Family and friends burst into applause and tears.

"I thank God and everybody who helped me get through this," the tall, slim 18-year-old defendant said. "I love you all."

Hillsborough Circuit Judge Richard Lazzara said he did not believe hospitalization was necessary in light of the insanity finding but said Ms. Moritt should remain under psychiatric care.

The Hillsborough Community

College student from Hollywood was charged with first-degree murder in the Oct. 23 drowning of her newborn, 6-pound, 9-ounce boy. If convicted of that charge, she would automatically have been sent to prison for life with the possibility of parole only after 25 years.

Dormitory roommates heard a baby's cries before finding Ms. Moritt in the bathroom covered in blood and rushed her to the hospital. When they returned to dorm to clean up, they found the baby stuffed headfirst in the toilet and covered with bloody towels and sheets.

Defense attorneys argued that Ms. Moritt was temporarily insane, suffering from a dissociative disorder that left her with no memory of being pregnant or even giving birth.

Nine psychiatrists and psychologists backed up that defense during the trial, but prosecutors blasted it all as

Head injury

A 30-year-old Snyder man was being held for 23-hour observation Saturday at Cogdell Memorial Hospital after being treated in the hospital emergency room for a head injury Friday night.

Suffering a laceration to his left eyebrow and left cheekbone, Johnny Andrade of 2904 Ave. N was brought to the hospital in a private vehicle at 10:16 p.m., a hospital spokesman said.

Policemen said Andrade declined to make a report,

Among the statewide runoff is the fight for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination sought by Jim Mattox and Ann Richards. In addition, the Democrats have a statewide runoff between Harris County Treasurer Nikki Van Hightower of Houston and San Saba County Judge Tom Bowden for state treasurer.

Also, Ross Sears of Houston and Bob Gammage of Austin are vying for the Place 2 Supreme Court nomination and Frank Maloney of Austin and Morris Overstreet of Amarillo for the Place 1 Court of Criminal Appeals nomination.

The only statewide Republican runoff are between State Rep. Rick Perry of Haskell and Richard McIver of Stafford for agriculture commissioner and Wes Gilbreath of Houston and Grady Yarbrough of Flint for land commissioner.

Jason Cooper, Snyder High School senior and son of Charles and Deana Cooper, has achieved something that less than two percent of Boy Scouts do. On Feb. 23, 1990, he became an Eagle Scout.

Cooper, as he is known at school, joined Cub Scouts in the early 1980s when he and his family still lived in Lubbock. He liked scouting then because it introduced him to camping, fishing and other outdoor activities, something the then 11-year-old had never done before.

So when the Cooper family moved to Snyder a few years ago, it was only natural that Cooper continue his scouting career. And in a way all scouting activities and projects he participated in throughout the years paved the way for him to become an Eagle Scout.

But the going was never easy and in addition to having numerous requirements to meet, Cooper also faced a time deadline as a Boy Scout cannot make Eagle Scout unless he is under 18.

Cooper turned 18 on November 11, 1989, but since he had completed all requirements for the Eagle Scout honor and was just awaiting final approval he was able to receive the new rank at his Court of Honor held in February.

To become an Eagle Scout, Cooper had to complete the requirements for 21 merit badges and plan and execute a project that would benefit the community. Of the 21 badges, 11 were required such as first aid, hiking, camping and life saving and 10 could be electives.

Throughout his years as a Boy Scout, Cooper was able to begin collecting enough merit badges to meet the required amount. Among others, Cooper earned merit badges in electronics, metal working, first aid, radio, fingerprinting, communications and horsemanship. He said there were over 100 merit badges for him to choose from.

Each merit badge had about 13 requirements which had to be fulfilled before the patch could be issued. Cooper said he usually took from one to two months to earn a badge.

The process went something like this. After Cooper chose a subject he began to learn as much about it as he could. A counselor served as a guide for each badge and officially verified that Cooper had completed all requirements before the badge could be issued.

Cooper said he always looked for career opportunities in each subject he was interested in. After he earned his 21 badges Cooper, who was then a Life Scout, had to organize, develop, plan and carry out a service project which would benefit the community, city or a nursing home.

Cooper chose the renovation of the Snyder graveyard located at East Highway and Avenue E as his project.

The entire project took some six to seven hours to plan and about 20 hours to fulfill. Part of Cooper's test was his ability to enlist volunteer help. He succeeded in lining up fellow scouts and a scoutmaster to help with all the work which was begun in August and finished in September.

But once Cooper had decided on his service project and since the county was in charge of the cemetery he then had to get approval for the then proposed project from County Judge Bobby Goodwin. It was noted at that people who benefited from the renovation of the cemetery.

All this documentation was then sent to Midland where the Buffalo Trail Council (of which Snyder Boy Scouts belong) first approved it and then forwarded it to the head Boy Scout office in Dallas.

After approval was given at the highest level, then the documentation was sent back to Midland who then forwarded it to Snyder. That's when the special Court of Honor was arranged in Snyder.

When Cooper joined the Boy Scouts at first he came in as a Tenderfoot and later progressed through the ranks to include Second Class Scout, First Class Scout, Star Scout, Life Scout and finally, Eagle Scout.

Cooper explained advancements through the ranks are not required, but he felt he had "more fun" in scouting by doing it. He credits Scoutmaster Jack McDonald with being his mentor and helping him to stay motivated and keep driving toward accomplishing more and more as a scout.

After Cooper had been a Boy Scout for about three months, he said he was elected Patrol Leader and assumed responsibility for seven other scouts.

Cooper served four years as a Patrol Leader which is considered a "tough job" because the leader has to serve as the liaison between the scouts and scoutmaster.

He said the other Boy Scouts usually wanted to be in his patrol because they would go hiking, camping or learn some other skill.

He later served two terms as Senior Patrol Leader who is in fact in charge of the troop. Basically, Cooper explained, that the scoutmaster serves as an "advisor."

Cooper was elected Senior Patrol Leader. See FOLKS page 2B

time that the Scurry County Historical Society would benefit from the project. Cooper's metalwork badge enabled him to know how to refurbish the historical marker. Throughout the work, Cooper said he documented everything they did with pictures. Plus he had to write an essay detailing what they had done and listing all helpers as well as naming the Men at high risk for heart disease who engage in moderate exercise can reduce their risk of dying from a heart attack by 1/3 over a 7-year period, say researchers at U of Minn. School of Health. "Moderate exercise" was defined as rapid walking, gardening, yard work, home repairs, dancing, and exercise - about an hour daily. The wife will love that "home repairs" idea - let's make it two hours daily.

Patrol Leader of the troop that attended the 1989 National Boy Scout Jamboree last summer. As such, he was in charge of 36 scouts while they visited in Washington D. C. and attended the jamboree which is held every four years.

During last summer's trip, which was the subject of the Sept. 10, 1989, Scurry County Folks column, Cooper was one of two scouts chosen to lay a wreath on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington Cemetery. As Senior Patrol Leader, Cooper said that prior to their embarking on their trip he received a stack of paper from the FBI and the Department of Defense which explained all the rules and regulations which the troop would have to observe.

Cooper said he "was impressed" with all the security he observed on his first trip to Washington D. C.

Some 32,000 scouts attended the Jamboree in all. They met U.S. Rep. Larry Combest at Arlington Cemetery during the laying of the wreath and President George Bush addressed all the Scouts who attended the jamboree. They also got to tour the White House.

In 1985 and again this year, Cooper has been selected as one of five scouts from the Buffalo Trail Council who will help coordinate a special report on scouting to be presented to Governor Bill Clements.

Cooper has nothing but praise for the Boy Scout program and he credits it with introducing him to a new and different way of life. One in which he learned how to camp out, orient a map, go cross country, but the best thing scouting has done for Cooper according to the youth is to develop his leadership skills.

"I like to take charge and I like to delegate responsibility," Cooper said. "I believe that if you are a good follower you can become a good leader as well."

He added that he likes to "learn new things" and to "share that knowledge" with others.

In fact, Cooper just wants to learn as much as he can about everything and do as much as he can. He has so many interests in so many areas that it will be somewhat difficult for him to narrow down which field or fields he may want to concentrate on as he furthers his education.

He is interested in medicine and has considered becoming a cardiologist someday. He is also interested in radio, becoming a paramedic, and obtaining his license to fly. Someday he plans to earn his pilot's, FFC and EMT's licenses.

Cooper's interests also lean toward law enforcement and a career as a game warden has not been ruled out. He has also considered becoming an air traffic controller.

Cooper readily admits that he wants to "learn all he can" and to "be as much as he can be." Joining the Air Force and attending the academy in Colorado Springs has also entered his thoughts. Becoming an aerospace engineer also interests him. As does being the president of the United States or an astronaut.

Whatever the future holds for Cooper, he said he wants to "be prepared" and that he wants "to be happy" with whatever he chooses.

In all likelihood, Cooper may pursue different careers at different stages in his life. Or as he put it recently, "No matter what I choose, I'll probably also want to do something else."

Cooper has also discovered that he likes politics and that he likes to be on the "in" of things. He also feels that he has been lucky and has been able to meet the "right" people.

Cooper said he associates with everyone at school regardless of which group they belong to. He serves as president of the Snyder High FFA (Future Farmers of America) chapter and narrowly lost the presidency of the Industrial Arts Club by two votes.

Cooper joined the FFA in his junior year and he said he especially likes FFA because it "gives him the opportunity to learn more about being a leader."

This school year he serves as the meats team coach. Last school year he was a member of the meats team that won third place in state. That win disqualified him from being a member of the team this year, so he chose coaching instead. But he said he cherishes the memory of last school year's judging trips.

Cooper likes to "get involved" with all of his classes. Being "on time" is one of his "pet peeves," and he said he has been inspired by Benjamin Franklin who always tried to plan everything down to the last detail. Of course, he said he realizes that that cannot always be done and sometimes it is best to "play things by ear."

He said he loves debate and science.

Cooper likes participating in science experiments such as measuring the speed of sound. During the summer of his junior year in high school he said he started taking flying lessons and pursued that for about 6-7 months. He learned to fly but did not quite get his license because he got "too involved in high school."

Cooper was introduced to flying rather unexpectedly one day when a friend gave him a ride in a plane. He was very excited but when he told his friends at school he said they didn't believe him. He said he and his brother had a bet going at that time as to who would get their license first but he said neither of them did.

Cooper said he is lucky to have parents who encourage him to do things and that he can usually find a way to earn the money he needs for things like flying lessons.

Cooper has also become a ham radio operator and he and Shane Terry, one of his closest friends, are members of Sky Warn which gives them the opportunity to be tornado spotters for Scurry County. Sometimes they even get to chase tornados. Cooper's radio call letters are N5NCA and Terry's are N5AOH.

Cooper learned a lot about the weather when he earned his weather merit badge and he also took a weather class at the fire station.

He wants to be able to take an advanced weather class in Midland some day.

Cooper said he learned a lot about ham radio and Sky Warn from Paul Gilbert, a local ham operator. He said the hobby can be as expensive or inexpensive as anyone wants it to be.

He recently bought a ham radio for his truck. Another acquisition which fascinates Cooper is a computer. He had written his life story and stored it in the computer, but part of the story disappeared. He isn't sure what happened, but someday he plans to rewrite it.

As Cooper stands on the threshold of his life with graduation just a few weeks away he is ready to take on the challenge of the world. He likes Snyder very much because it is "small enough for people to know how everything works."

Whatever career Cooper decides to pursue someday, whether it be the presidency of the United States or a U. S. astronaut, he said he wants to "make a significant contribution to the world."

BEST RETURN ON MONEY IS PAYING OFF CREDIT CARD DEBT

The Tax Reform Act of 1986 changed the rules on consumer deductibility, but it is unclear whether consumers have altered their credit habits accordingly. Only 20% of the finance charge paid on consumer loans will be deductible for 1989.

In 1990, just 10% of the total will be deductible and in 1991, none of the finance charges will be deductible. That means that the national average interest rate of 18.66% on credit cards, every $100 of debt costs $18.66 a year in interest.

Investors would have spectacular returns on their investments in order to match the return on repaying debt. A person in the 28% tax bracket would have to earn $25.92 before taxes from a $100 dollar investment in order to match it. Those in the 33% tax bracket would have to earn $27.85 per $100 before taxes to pay the interest on a $100 of credit card debt.

The reality is that few people earn high yields without high risk. The average yield on a one year bank certificate of deposit is currently eight percent. Paying off credit card debt and other consumer loans makes mathematical sense, so much so that some financial advisers are urging people to pay cash or forego items.

Avoiding interest on consumer debt is not as simple as it sounds. To get the maximum benefit, consumers would have to invest the money they would otherwise be spending on monthly payments. In the words of one adviser, "99% of the world doesn't have the discipline."

TOMATOES ARE BIG ITEMS IN LOCAL GARDENS

Growing toatoes in the backyard can be a facinating and rewarding venture, but it can be frustrating, too. A sickly tomato plant that produces few if any fruit doesn't help anyone's gardening spirit. Whether you are growing tomatoes for the first time or as an old pro, you may profit from some advice on avoiding some common pitfalls.

First, don't grow tomatoes unless they can receive at least six hours of sunlight a day. Tomato plants placed between tall shrubs, under trees or between buildings simply will not produce a good tomato crop.

Second, good soil is essential for good growth and high yields. Often, poor soil can be improved with liberal amounts of organic matter and by proper fertilization. A dark, heavy clay or even a fine sand can be improved by working three to four inches of organic matter into the soil where the tomatoes are to be planted.

To raise a few tomato plants, prepare a space at least two square feet for each plant. The soil should be worked to a depth of at least 12 inches. Liberal amounts of organic matter and a small amount of fertilizer such as 10-20-10 or 12-24-12 should be mixed in the soil.

The key to growing tomatoes successfully is choosing the right variety of tomatoes. Select varieties that resist many of the common diseases. A few varieties most suited for Texas include: President, Whirlaway, Celebrity, Big Set, Sunny, Spring Giant Carnival, or the small fruited Small Fry or Cherry Grande.

Transplants should be planted somewhat deeper than they were originally growing. Plants growing in peat pots or peat blocks should not be removed, but rather the entire container should be planted. Sometimes it is helpful to break the bottom of the pots, but avoid damaging the roots.

When setting tomato plants in the garden, use starter solution to assure adequate fertility during the early stages of growth. Starter solutions can be purchased at local garden centers, or can be made by mixing one or two level tablespoons of a complete garden fertilizer in a gallon of water. About one cup of the starter solution should be applied in the plant hole prior to planting.

For best results, transplants should be set in the garden on a cloudy day or late afternoon. The plants should be protected from adverse conditions such as high winds or excessive heat for a week or so after transplanting.

Almost all tomato varieties should be staked, trellised or caged for best results. Any method is good if it keeps the fruit off the ground. Tomatoes that are allowed to contact the soil often develop fruit rot.

This is the story of what happened at Hell Ranch, a chilling account of the melange of Afro-Caribbean voodoo cults, Mexican witchcraft, and Satanism that cost at least 15 people their lives. the club queen, South could then switch his attack to diamonds and take enough winners to make three no-trump. Of course it was unlucky and much against distributional odds that East held all four clubs, but it would cost declarer nothing to make the right play of the club queen first. To avoid this kind of mistake it is helpful to get into the habit of asking yourself what might happen if a key suit splits particularly badly. If you know what will happen, you are more likely to make the play that will counteract the bad suit division.

An extra ounce of prevention

By James Jacoby

Do you remember that it was only yesterday that a 4-0 split caused declarer trouble in a slam? Today we see just such a split setting a careless defender in game. Playing in three no-trump, South received the jack of spades lead. He won, and noticing that the longest suit in the combined hands was clubs, set about attacking that suit. So he played low up to dummy. When West showed out, declarer played dummy's jack. East won and returned a spade. Now declarer went after diamonds, playing to the nine in dummy. East won the ace and played a third spade. When West came on lead with the diamond king, two more good spade tricks set the contract.

Declarer was right to go after clubs, but it was a mistake to play a low club from his hand. Instead he should have played the queen. East could not afford to take that card. (Declarer would next duck a club, then later play K-J and run the suit.) When East ducked

Easter brings candy

By NANCY BYAL
Better Homes and Gardens
Food Editor
The Easter Bunny and his helpers make this season a candy-making time second only to Christmas. For molded chocolate candies or dipped chocolates, use the slow, low-temperature melting method.

The candies can be stored at room temperature without developing streaks or smearing when touched.

MELTING CHOCOLATE
— In a 4-cup glass measure or 1½-quart glass mixing bowl combine the amount of semisweet chocolate pieces and shortening called for in your recipe.

— In a large glass mixing bowl pour very warm tap water (100 to 110 degrees F) to a depth of 1 inch. Place measure or mixing bowl containing chocolate inside larger bowl. Water should cover the bottom half of the measure containing chocolate.

— Stir chocolate constantly with a rubber spatula until the chocolate is completely melted and smooth. This takes about 15 to 20 minutes.

— When water begins to cool, remove measure containing chocolate. Discard cool water; add warm water. Return measure containing chocolate to bowl of water.

— If chocolate becomes too thick while dipping candies, remove measure containing chocolate and replace water with warm water. Return measure containing chocolate to bowl of water and stir chocolate until it again reaches dipping consistency.

CHOCOLATE TIPS

— Avoid humidity, steam and wet utensils. Even a minuscule amount of moisture can cause melting chocolate to thicken or crumble. Be sure candy-making utensils are dry, and watch carefully to make certain that not even one drop of water enters the melting chocolate. Don't try to melt chocolate on a hot or humid day.

— For even melting, constantly scrape and stir chocolate. Don't hurry the process; it's important that chocolate be melted slowly and evenly.

— Use solid vegetable shortening when melting chocolate, not butter or margarine. These fats contain moisture that could cause the chocolate to thicken and become grainy.

— Add no more than 1 tablespoon shortening for each 6 ounces of chocolate. Extending chocolate with extra shortening or water will ruin it.

— Store chocolate in a cool, dry place between 65 and 70 degrees F, with less than 50 percent humidity. Higher temperatures or humidity may cause a gray appearance called "bloom" to appear in the chocolate before or after melting. Bloom won't affect the chocolate's flavor or quality.

CONFECTIONERS' COATING
— It can't match chocolate for flavor or texture, but it doesn't require a special melting process. Just chop and melt it on the range-top or in the microwave. Don't add shortening.

— Made in several flavors, confectioners' coating is usually stocked with the baking supplies in your supermarket. It's sometimes called "summer coating," "candy coating," or "almond bark."

Asparagus tips cook more quickly than the stalks. To cook both parts perfectly in your microwave, place in a rectangular baking dish with the tips toward the center where they'll cook more slowly. When you spoon on the topping, rearrange the spears with the tips toward the outside so the dish will look best for serving.

CHEESY ASPARAGUS SPEARS
¾ pound fresh asparagus or one 10-ounce package frozen asparagus spears
2 tablespoons water
½ cup cream-style cottage cheese, drained
¼ cup shredded Cheddar cheese (1 ounce)
1 tablespoon sliced green onion
½ teaspoon pepper
Several dashes bottled hot pepper sauce
1 teaspoon margarine or butter
2 tablespoons fine dry bread crumbs
Wash fresh asparagus and break off tough ends. In a microwave-safe 10- by 6- by 2-inch baking dish arrange asparagus spears with tips toward center. Add water. Cover with vented microwave-safe clear plastic wrap. Cook on 100 percent power (high) for 7 to 9 minutes or until tender, rearranging asparagus once by switching center spears with those on the edges.

Meanwhile, in a small mixing bowl combine cottage cheese, Cheddar cheese, green onion, pepper and hot pepper sauce. Set aside. In a custard cup cook margarine, uncovered, on high for 20 to 30 seconds or until melted. Stir in bread crumbs; set aside.

Drain asparagus. In same baking dish arrange asparagus with tips toward edges. Spoon cheese mixture on top. Sprinkle with crumb mixture. Cook, uncovered, on high for 1 to 2 minutes or until Cheddar cheese is melted, giving the dish a half-turn once. Serve immediately. Makes 4 servings.

Potatoes cook so quickly in the microwave that they've become a top choice for family meals. A whopping big 8-ounce potato cooks in the microwave in 15 minutes; that gives you time to prepare a saucy topper and have your whole-meal potatoes on the table in less than 30 minutes.

SUPER SPUDS
4 large baking potatoes (8 ounces each)
Taco Topper or Denver Tater Topper (recipes below)
Scrub potatoes; prick several times with a fork. Arrange on microwave-safe paper towels, leaving 1 inch between potatoes. Cook on 100 percent power (high) 14 to 17 minutes or until done. Halfway through cooking time, turn potatoes over and rearrange.
Prepare Topper. To serve, use two hot pads to roll potatoes gently between hands. Cut a crisscross in the top. Press ends and push up potato. Spoon topper over potato. Makes 4 main-dish servings.

TACO TOPPER: In a 1-quart microwave-safe casserole crumble ½ pound ground beef. Cook, covered, on 100 percent power (high) 2½ to 3½ minutes or until no pink remains, stirring once. Drain off fat. Stir in 1 cup taco sauce. Cook 3 to 4 minutes or until heated through, stirring once.

Prosecutors are very pleased with Lemons' stiff sentence

DALLAS (AP) — A record 30-year sentence given to a former savings and loan executive convicted of fraud won applause from regulators, who said it showed authorities were dead serious about cracking down on thrift fraud.
 The sentence for Woody F. Lemons, former chairman of Vernon Savings & Loan, was the stiffest ever given to a thrift executive in a fraud case, regulators said. U.S. District Judge Robert B. Maloney said it was well deserved.
 Lemons was "a thief in every sense of the word," the judge said.
 The sentence was praised by L. William Seidman, chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. and the Resolution Trust Corp., which is overseeing the thrift industry bailout.
 "I think it says these kinds of crimes are very serious," Seidman said. "They are very harmful to the people of the United States and they are going to be punished severely."
 Lemons was convicted in December on 13 charges — including misapplication of funds, conspiracy and bank fraud — for soliciting a $9,000 kickback from a loan broker in January 1986 and receiving $212,000 from the broker in April 1986.
 Seidman had written Maloney urging him to "send a message to the banking and thrift community and to other who would commit such egregious acts as did

Mr. Lemons."
 U.S. Attorney General Dick Thornburg called the sentence "fair and just punishment for one whose criminal misconduct resulted in a multimillion dollar fraud in the Texas savings and loan industry."
 Vernon S&L was shut down in 1987 as part of a then-record $1.3 billion federal bailout, and has been cited as an example of some of the worst abuses in the savings and loan industry. Six other Vernon officials, a consultant and two borrowers have been convicted or pleaded guilty to various crimes.
 When regulators seized Vernon, they found it owned 17th century castle doors and expensive art objects, including a Baccarat eagle and a silver-studded saddle. The thrift also owned a yacht in Washington, D.C.
 Prosecutors said Lemons spent some of his money on a West Coast home and on travel.

 Maloney levied no fine against Lemons, but he still faces an April 19 hearing on restitution. The government is seeking as much as $18 million in repayment.
 The judge said he had received more than 100 letters on Lemons' behalf praising his church and community activities, but he wasn't persuaded.
 "Your friends are wrong," Maloney said. "You are not a religious man. ... Even though you are present (in church), you are not listening."
 "You have no real moral values," the judge said.

Actors canvass passers-by
 CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Actors Judd Nelson, Howard Hesseman and Elizabeth Pena canvassed passers-by at a subway stop as part of a nationwide campaign by Hollywood stars to register voters who favor abortion rights.
 "I walked right by Judd Nelson," said Joyce Cunha, associate director of MassChoice, an affiliate of the National Abortion Rights Action League.
 She described him as "a typical brat packer ... wearing dark glasses and a suit jacket. I just sort of stopped and said 'Hey, that's great.'"
 Nelson, who has starred in several of the films for Hollywood's younger set, including "The Breakfast Club" and "St. Elmo's Fire," passed out pamphlets that read "Join The Breakfast Club. Register to vote pro-choice."
 Hesseman stars in the TV sitcom "Head Of The Class." His leaflet urged: "Go to the head of the class. Register to vote."
 Ms. Pena appeared in the TV miniseries "Drug Wars: The Camarena Story" and the short-lived series "I Married Dora."
 Between 40 and 50 people registered during the Thursday morning effort, Cunha said.
 The actors were emissaries from the Hollywood Policy Foundation Center, the non-profit arm of the Hollywood Women's Political Action Committee.

Company says it's getting out of hazardous waste business

HOUSTON (AP) — Browning-Ferris Industries Inc., a waste disposal giant, announced it is getting out of the hazardous waste business and taking a $295 million charge against earnings in the second quarter.
 Hazardous waste business added 2 percent to the Houston-based company's business, reduced earnings by 10 percent and accounted for "75 percent of our headaches," John Stanton, Browning-Ferris' chief financial officer said Thursday.
 The hazardous waste collection, treatment and disposal businesses, which the company operated under its BFI Environmental Systems Inc. and CECOS International Inc. subsidiaries, have lost money for a year and a half.

 BFI Environmental and CECOS lost $26.6 million last year and $5.2 million in the first quarter of the fiscal year ended Dec. 31. Revenues last year were $60 million.
 "It's a significant event," said Jerald Cobbs, analyst for Rauscher Pierce Refsnes Inc. of Houston. "It says how difficult a business it is to operate in."
 Stanton said regulatory problems at two of its four waste facilities figured heavily into BFI's decision.
 CECOS has agreed to plead guilty to one violation of Ohio environmental law in connection with activities at its Williamsburg facility and to pay a $25,000 fine.

 Separately, under a consent decree, CECOS has agreed to pay the state of Ohio a civil penalty of $1.5 million, establish a $1 million environmental trust fund for the state and pay $1 million to Clermont County. CECOS also will be required to close the facility.
 The company also was turned down for a permit to continue adding waste to its Niagara Falls, N.Y., facility, although it is being used as a non-hazardous industrial waste. Other CECOS land disposal sites are in Louisiana and Colorado.

By Bill McClellan

I think it might be worthwhile to review the paper's Ask Us feature, and its purpose.

First of all, there is some confusion as to the submission of Ask Us questions. Letters to the editor must be signed. Ask Us questions do not have to be signed. You can call 'em in over the phone if you wish, although we would prefer them to be written so there is no chance of our misunderstanding the question.

With that settled, perhaps it should be pointed out what Ask Us is NOT meant for. It is not meant to publically embarrass individuals.

A lot of folks have hoped to do just that. We don't answer questions that we feel are meant to put an individual on the hot seat. We've found that most of the allegations mentioned in such Ask Us questions simply aren't true, or are of a personal nature that is nobody's business, or usually present a conflict of morals rather than an actual legal conflict.

Examples? "Why is X campaigning for office during the day when X ought to be in X's office, working?" or "I understand that Y filed for bankruptcy (or isn't paying child support, or has been married five times). Shouldn't the people know this?"

If you are genuinely concerned that X is campaigning when X ought to be working, contact his or her boss. Perhaps X had the afternoon off. In reference to Y, there is nothing illegal about filing for bankruptcy. The government will supply you with literature on how to do it.

Some appear to be legitimate, but still can't be answered. One, for instance, asked, "Who does one file a complaint with concerning personnel in the X department?"

The problem with the question is there is only ONE employee in that particular office, and to answer the question would obviously single out the employee. In this case, it was a state employee and, obviously, the person with the complaint should contact the state office.

Some we don't answer for other reasons:

"What gives seven men the right to decide for the whole community whether the college keeps athletics or not?" was one question following a college board meeting which centered around athletics.

The answer is obvious — the seven men, who make up the college board of trustees, are elected by the residents of the county to set policy for the college. But we didn't answer, because the person that asked the question needs some more education, not a quick Ask Us response.

Others should be saved for Dear Abby:

"What can be done about a young lady who hasn't sent any thank you notes, despite having a wonderful shower planned for her?"

I guess you write the young lady off as a selfish person, or forgive her and go on. At any rate, this is clearly a personal matter, and not something the community is particularly concerned about.

Others are too broad to be included in Ask Us, because they would take too much space. We like to keep Ask Us brief, if at all possible:

"Why don't businesses such as 'X' or 'Y' donate their damaged clothing or other goods to ministries?"

It's a good idea, and perhaps some of them do. Part of the problem in answering the question is that there are a number of businesses in the community that sell clothing, and it would be difficult at best to contact all of them — and even more difficult to list their policies in one Ask Us column.

Some questions are important to a single reader but not to anyone else:

"Who do I get in touch with to reserve a cabin at Lake Travis (near Austin) for the week of May 8-16?" was a recent question.

We don't want to get into the situation of making vacation reservations. When the party called again in a few days, he was told to try the Austin Chamber of Commerce or the state tourism department.

Lastly, if your Ask Us question doesn't get answered, feel free to call and inquire about it. We'll do our best to give a satisfactory response.

Don't be fooled by 'invisible' fats

By the Editors of Consumer Reports

For years national health agencies have pounded home the message that Americans eat too much fat. Paring fat intake, say health officials, could reduce the risk of coronary disease, certain types of cancer and disorders frequently associated with obesity, such as hypertension and diabetes.

Americans have responded — or tried to. Over the past two decades, the percentage of total calories that Americans derive from fat decreased only modestly — from 41 percent to 37 percent.

While curbing their appetite for traditional sources of fat, such as whole milk and red meat, Americans have sharply increased their intake of "invisible fats."

Invisible fats are primarily vegetable fats found in baked goods, fast foods, salad dressings and other processed foods. Some of those fats, such as palm kernel and coconut oil, are more saturated than the fats in meats and dairy products. (It's the saturated fat that's more closely associated with raising the cholesterol level of the blood.)

Part of the problem stems from scanty consumer information about fats in foods. Standard calorie-counting books ignore fats. And nutrition labels shed little light on the types of fats in processed foods. Most labels merely state the total fat per serving; only rarely do they break fat content down into saturated and unsaturated.

For example, which has more fat — three strips of cooked bacon or three Pepperidge Farm Milano cookies? Don't bet on the heavy favorite. Weighing in at 9.9 grams of fat, the cookies score a surprise knockout over bacon (9.0 grams).

Sometimes minor substitutions can have a major impact on fat and calories. Here are some examples:

Three ounces of Chicken of the Sea chunk light tuna packed in vegetable oil, plus one tablespoon of Hellmann's Real mayonnaise, make a salad with 28.9 grams of fat and 354 calories. But using Chicken of the Sea chunk light tuna packed in water and Hellmann's Light reduced calorie mayonnaise cuts fat to mere 6.4 grams and calories to 139.

Just trimming the skin from light-meat chicken will reduce total fat by more than half. On the other hand, battering and frying light-meat chicken rather than roasting or broiling it boosts the fat contents by roughly 40 percent.

If you're craving a salty snack, choose pretzels over potato chips. One ounce of Wise potato chips contains 13 times the total fat and 21 times the saturated fat of an ounce of Bachman twist pretzels.

Using skim milk instead of whole milk markedly reduces the fat. A cup of whole milk has 8.1 grams of fat, one cup of low-fat milk has 2.6 grams, and one cup of skim milk has only 0.4 grams.

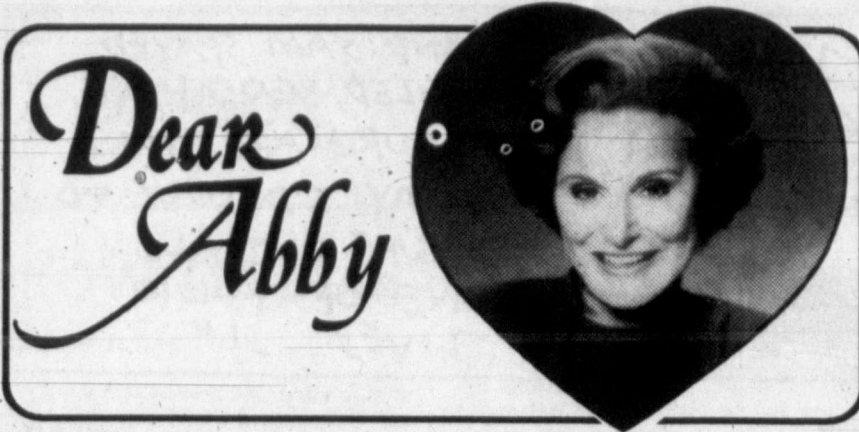

Popcorn usually loses its low-fat, low-calorie status when sold in microwaveable form. Three cups of Orville Redenbacher's Original, popped in hot air, provide a modest 88 calories and only 6.7 grams of fat. The same amount of Redenbacher's butter-flavored microwave popcorn is almost twice as caloric and nearly 10 times as fatty.

Similar information on an extensive variety of foods is available in the U.S. Department of Agriculture publication "Nutritive Value of Foods." For a copy, send $2.75 to Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, DC 20402-9325. Ask for Home and Garden Bulletin Number 72.

Coupon cutter sentenced to 27 months

DALLAS (AP) — A self-described trash scavenger convicted in an alleged $2 million counterfeit coupon scheme was sentenced to 27 months in a federal prison Friday.

Known as "Coupon Connie" and the "Dumpster Lady," Connie Arvidson, 34, of Boca Raton, Fla., was convicted Jan. 30 on two counts of mail fraud and one count of conspiracy. U.S. District Judge Sidney Fitzwater sentenced Mrs. Arvidson to the maximum 27-month sentence for each of three counts. The sentences are to run concurrently.

She was one of 10 people indicted in June 1989 in the alleged counterfeit scam. The indictment alleged that more than 600,000 copies of coupons issued by 47 companies were printed and distributed nationwide from Texas.

Fitzwater did not impose any fines, saying Mrs. Arvidson didn't have the money to pay them anyway.

"I can say a lot of nasty things, but I won't," a tearful Mrs. Arvidson said after the sentencing.

She was ordered to report to prison May 1.

Before the sentencing, Mrs. Arvidson told Fitzwater she moved to the United States when she was 13 from Portugal, where she was so poor she could not afford to buy shoes.

"I would never do anything to break the law in any way. I would never hurt anyone," she said. She called couponing "my American dream. I didn't feel I was breaking any laws by trading coupons. I realize now I must have gotten greedy to a certain point."

Fitzwater, in imposing the sentence, agreed Mrs. Arvidson got guilty. "I think the defendant started out as a hard worker. She was smart. She was successful and she became obsessed by couponing," Fitzwater said. "She got greedy."

He also said she was unrepentant and tried to cover up when she realized postal inspectors were investigating her, and said she lied on the stand.

Prosecutors said Mrs. Arvidson purchased the bogus coupons from San Antonio counterfeiter David Rackmill, who pleaded guilty to mail fraud and conspiracy then acted as an informant in the case.

Federal prosecutors contended Mrs. Arvidson's claims that she dug through the trash to find coupons to sell were false.

"You know what trash looks like," prosecutor Paulina Jacobo told jurors. "It doesn't come in nice bundles and get shipped by UPS. Mrs. Arvidson knew what she was doing."

The manufacturers' coupons for everything from soap to soup were stacked in boxes between the judge's bench and lawyers' tables in Fitzwater's court since the trial began Jan. 8.

Mrs. Arvidson, who estimated she pulled in $200 a week at her rebating peak, said the expense of the trial combined with a recent bank foreclosure on her property have forced her to file for bankruptcy.

David Reese of Center Point was convicted Jan. 30 of the only charge in the nine-count indictment against him — a conspiracy count.

Some favor task force

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some in Congress want to create the job of compost czar and think Agriculture Secretary Clayton Yeutter should wear the title.

A House Agriculture subcommittee headed by Rep. George E. Brown Jr., D-Calif., approved by voice vote Thursday an amendment to the 1990 farm bill that would require Yeutter to designate a 15-member Compost Task Force, which he would head.

Couple Asks That Drop-In Guests First Drop a Line

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1990 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: It happened again! Yesterday, acquaintances from where we lived in North Carolina nine years ago appeared at our door. (We are now living 850 miles from there, but they found us.)

They rang our doorbell at 6 p.m., saying they wanted to surprise us. They had arrived in town at noon, found our house, and spent six hours imposing on our next-door neighbors waiting for us to come home from work!

Abby, these are not close friends. He was my husband's barber. They said they were vacationing and had made several stops since leaving North Carolina — looking up some old Army buddies from 30 years ago.

Of course we weren't prepared for dinner guests, so we took them out to eat and invited them to spend the night in our guest room. The next morning we took them out for breakfast and told them we were working folks. They thanked us for the "wonderful" time. It would have been more "wonderful" if we had had a little notice.

Abby, why do some people insist on "surprising" acquaintances with a visit?

UNPLEASANTLY SURPRISED

DEAR SURPRISED: Because if they called, they might be told, "Sorry, we were just leaving town," or, "The kids have the measles," or some other reason they could not be made welcome. This way, they surprised you — and you were stuck.

***

DEAR ABBY: I am a 21-year-old man with my own business, car, girlfriend — basically very happy and doing well. My problem: I sound like a girl — especially on the telephone. I'm often called "ma'am," and it's very embarrassing.

Do you have any suggestions for lowering my voice?

"MA'AM" IN KANSAS

DEAR "MA'AM": If your high-pitched voice is not due to some physical abnormality, a voice coach might be able to help. Or contact the National Association for Hearing and Speech Action, 10801 Rockville Pike, Rockville, Md. 20852. Its toll-free number is: (800) 638-8255. (In Maryland, call (301) 897-8682.) The people there will recommend a certified professional in your area who deals with the causes of abnormal speech and how to correct them if possible.

DEAR ABBY: A while back you published some letters about people who spoke with Scandinavian accents. It set me to thinking about some other people who talk "funny."

New Englanders end any word that finishes with an "ah" sound as though it ends in "er." (Example: "Idea" is pronounced "ideer.") Then, they end any word ending in "er" so that it sounds as if it ends in an "ah." (Example: "Better" is pronounced "bettah.")

One of the most delightful experiences I ever had with regional accents was on a layover flight from Memphis, Tenn., to Arkansas. I was talking with a pretty Southern gal who was "tawkin'" with a heavy Southern "ayaksayent," and I commented on how becoming her dialect sounded to my mid-Atlantic ears.

She came back with an unforgettable retort: "Ah don't hayave an ayaksayent! Y'all do!"

CONFIDENTIAL TO GRATEFUL BEYOND WORDS: Most small-town clergymen are overworked and underpaid, so since you say you can "well afford it," offer him a gift of cash. If he wishes to donate it to the church, let it be his option. Your letter indicates that your clergyman went far beyond the call of duty on your behalf, so be as generous with him as he was with you. (And if he's "insulted," you can blame me.)

DEAR ABBY: Recently a friend I've known for years came to spend a weekend with me. She brought me —of all things—a homemade chocolate cake! She's a very creative cook, so I assumed it was low-cal because she knows I am on a weight-management program and I'm struggling to lose weight. (She's no slim chicken herself.) I asked her about the ingredients and she said, "Oh, it's very fattening."

I was shocked. I'm not knocking her manners, just her choice of a gift. Besides, I live alone, and she knows what a struggle I have resisting temptation. She insisted that I cut the cake right away, and we each had a piece. (It was delicious.) Then I cut the remaining cake into small pieces to freeze, with the idea that when I wanted a "treat," it would be there. Well, the minute she left, I was into the cake, and I ended up throwing most of it away, as I found myself slipping back into my old habits and eating one piece after the other.

I probably should have thanked her as soon as I saw the cake and insisted that she take it home with her, but I didn't.

So, why am I writing you this? Because I want you to tell your readers that if they really love somebody, they will not put temptation in his or her way.

KICKING MYSELF IN RICHMOND, VA.

DEAR KICKING: Right on. Add to the truism, "Friends don't let friends drive drunk"—neither do friends bring chocolate cake to friends who are fighting the battle of the bulge.

DEAR ABBY: How does a grown woman educate her own mother who is now a grandmother?

My mother is a dear and thoughtful person. She comes to see "the grandchildren" about once a week. My kids are 2 years old and 4 1/2.

Mom always brings them each a gift. Of course, they are already trained to expect something every time she walks through my door.

The other grandmother (my husband's mother) brings something for the kids occasionally — but sometimes she doesn't, which is fine. I prefer that neither one brings gifts, as the kids are now conditioned to expect something. If it's a birthday, Christmas or Easter, OK — but not just to come and visit.

My objections and pleas fall on deaf ears. Now what?

TALKING TO THE WALL

DEAR TALKING: It's not easy for a grown daughter to make demands of her mother, but try this: "Mother, I know you mean well, but when you bring a gift every time you come here, you give the children the impression that with every visitor comes a gift. That is not the proper message to give children. I want them to be glad to see you, and everyone else who visits here — gift or no gift. So please, Mother, do not bring a gift unless it's a special occasion — birthday, holiday, etc."

CONFIDENTIAL TO YOU: Easter is nearly here, so if you plan to surprise a child with a live rabbit or a baby chick, please consider this: Living creatures need proper care, so unless you are certain that the rabbit or chicken will receive the care it needs to survive, give a stuffed bird or animal instead. Living creatures are not "toys" to be mauled, abused or neglected.

Six are massacred

DETROIT (AP) — The assailants who massacred six men and boys in a reputed crack house may have been stoned on drugs or seeking revenge for a deal gone bad, officials said.

City Councilman Gilbert Hill, former head of the police department's homicide division, said he saw little difference.

"Most of the time it's not a turf battle, just thugs robbing each other," Hill said. "Some of these guys walking around with Uzis and .44 Magnums, they have the brain of an ant. I don't think it's part of any organized conspiracy."
