FFA leader dares local students to 'adhere to values'

By BOB CAMPBELL
SDN Staff Writer

National FFA President Donnell Brown of Throckmorton gave a motivational and often amusing talk to Snyder High School students Thursday in which he issued a "double-dog dare" for them to adhere to their personal values.

Brown, a sophomore animal business major at Texas Tech University, gave a rapid-fire speech punctuated with "power claps" from the audience, saying at the end, "I dare you to stand up for the values you have inside, and I double-dog dare you to be happy."

Serving for 1989-90, he is the third national FFA president from Texas, the others having been Bobby Tucker of Mineola in 1975 and Ken Johnson of Nacogdoches in 1977.

Brown, whose first name is pronounced like "Donald" without the "d," had the students stand, raise their arms and shout according to various activities they are involved in, and he noted that there appeared to be fewer in agriculture than in some other endeavors.

"Each and every one of you is involved in agriculture in one way or another," he said, adding that agriculture employs 20 percent of the nation's work force.

Brown said the key to each young person's future "is to find a place" in life, and he said success is easier to achieve in the United States than in any other nation.

"You know, we are all lucky people," he said.

He has spoken to 112,000 people in 30 states and several foreign countries, including Japan and China, in the course of his official duties to date. He met with President Bush in Washington, D.C., two weeks ago.

He was Texas FFA president last year and is taking a year's sabbatical from his studies at Tech for the extensive travel that (see LEADER, page 9)

Census info should be returned now

The Census Bureau is urging city residents who have received a census form with an Abilene District Office-addressed envelope to fill out the form and mail it back.

The office is located at 147 Sayles Blvd., 79605.

"This will save the taxpayer money that will otherwise be spent on sending census takers out to collect the forms," a census spokesman said.

People residing outside of the city who have received a census form to be filled out and held are not affected. They should continue holding on to the form until a census worker picks it up.

Anyone having any questions about the census can call 1-800-999-1990.

Reception planned for national finalist

Troy Dale Williamson, Western Texas College student who was one of 10 finalists in the 1990 American Association of Community/Junior College Phi Theta Kappa Distinguished Student Scholar competition, will be honored at a reception Tuesday in the college Student Center.

The reception is open to the public and scheduled to start at 10:45 a.m.

Williamson and the other nine finalists were recognized at the national Phi Theta Kappa convention in San Francisco on April 8. IBM Corporation-Academic Information Systems has provided a $2,000 stipend to the 1990 National Distinguished Student Scholar, Sonja Keen from Mott Community College in Michigan, and $1,000 to each finalist. If the winners transfer to a baccalaureate degree-granting institution, the amount of the stipends doubles. The awards will be presented at the AACJC annual convention in Seattle on April 24.

Williamson will be receiving his second degree from WTC on May 11 and plans to transfer to pursue both the bachelor's and master's degrees. At 29, he was one of the younger finalists for the Distinguished Student Scholar Award.

Noah Project provides help for abused women, children

By SHIRLEY A. GORMAN
SDN News Editor

For the past six years, women living in Snyder and the surrounding area who wanted to break away from an abusive environment have found a safe haven in the Noah Project.

The Noah Project opened in October of 1984 and has been operated by Linda Scalf, outreach director, ever since. Scalf is presently assisted by Stacey Nowell, administrative assistant.

In addition, an advisory board oversees the shelter and a group of volunteers help to answer the 24-hour hotline — 573-1822.

The local program housed some 72 families and a total of 169 children during the past year.

Also in 1989, 24 families were placed at other locations due to lack of space. At times when the shelter is full, attempts are made to place the woman and her children with a shelter located near a relative or at the shelter in Abilene, Scalf said.

Since December, Scalf said they have housed from one to two families a month, and while hotline calls are up, counseling sessions have decreased.

Most residents in the shelter stay for about four to six weeks, but longer stays are permitted when the situation warrants and space is available.

While a woman and her children are living at the shelter, counseling is available to them. In addition, the Noah Project works with existing social services in Snyder in order to help each woman obtain the maximum amount of assistance available.

This assistance may include anything from finding employment to finding a place for them to live once they leave the shelter.

"Whatever the family needs we try to help them get it," Scalf explained. "We don't do everything for them, but rather try to help them apply for assistance themselves."

Scalf explained that living in (see PROJECT, page 9)

Bush, Thatcher will ponder upheaval in Eastern Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush and British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher are meeting today against the backdrop of Bermuda's coral beaches to "stay in touch" on the changing landscape in Eastern Europe and state of superpower relations.

Bush scheduled an early-morning departure for the session, one of a series he plans with NATO allies in advance of his five-day summit with Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev beginning May 30.

"He wants to go into the session with Gorbachev with a firm view of the attitudes of other members of the alliance," White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said Thursday.

Next month's superpower summit, arms control negotiations, the unrest in Lithuania and German reunification headed the agenda for the day-long session between Bush and Mrs. Thatcher.

Bush planned to brief Mrs. Thatcher on his talks last week with Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard A. Shevardnadze.

Building permits reflect values of $43,500 in March

Total fees, including $242 in plumbing permits, $87 in electrical permits, $60 in zoning permits and $77 in electrical license fees amounted to $552.88 in March.

Among the building permits issued were two for roof work at 509 33rd St. and 2611 37th St. Two were for carports at 1005 24th St. and 3905 Muriel Ave. Another was for a mobile home at 704 Ave. R.

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "The higher you achieve, the more dependent you become on others."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors: Larry Crabtree, in the Vernon Daily Record, has added a Murphy's Law regarding plumbing: "Anything going wrong with the plumbing will occur at 5:05 p.m. Friday, providing Monday is a holiday."

Another wag said Monday is a poor day to get a plumber. He's busy cleaning up behind the weekend do-it-yourself types.

John Dawson, of the Amarillo Globe-News, came up with some additional "Sons of Murphy" Laws.

-O'Reilly's Law: No matter what goes wrong, there's always someone who knew it would.

-Kilpatrick's Law: Interchangeable parts aren't.

-Shanahan's Law: The length of the meeting is the square of the number of people present.

-Brennan's Law: Paper is always strongest at the perforations.

-Dooley's Law: If something happens to you, it has previously happened to all your friends.

The following is reported on the hot air dryer decal in the men's restroom at the Dairy Queen in Jacksboro:

1. Push button to activate dryer.
2. Hold hands in front of dryer.
3. Dryer will turn off automatically.
4. WIPE HANDS ON SHIRT!

WINNING EFFORT — Snyder High School student Vinnie Clay won the discus at the District 4-4A Track and Field Meet Thursday in San Angelo and will be one of five SHS athletes to advance to the Region I meet, set later this month. For results of the district meet, see page 4. (SDN Staff Photo)

Q—When is the area Special Olympics meet in Abilene and will the "Go-Getters" be entered?
A—The Area 14 meet is set for April 20, and yes, the local center plans on sending about 26 athletes and eight certified coaches.

In Brief

Taxes listed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush and his wife Barbara paid $101,382 in taxes last year and reported charitable contributions of $37,272 that included gifts to hurricane and earthquake relief efforts.

A copy of the first couple's joint 1989 return, released Thursday by the White House, showed that the Bushes reported total income of $456,780.

Both taxes and income were up sharply from the couple's 1988 return on which they reported total income of $287,171 and taxes of $62,106.

The higher income came from Bush's better pay as president — $200,000 a year against his $115,000 vice presidential salary — and from a growth in business investments.

The Bushes' tax return showed that the Bushes earned $208,274 last year from business holdings held in a blind trust, up from the $155,662 the trust earned the previous year.

Arms treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The main obstacles to concluding a U.S.-Soviet strategic arms treaty are likely to be overcome before President Bush meets Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev on May 30, a senior American negotiator says.

"I think it is highly likely we will get all the major issues resolved by the summit," Ronald Lehman, director of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, said Thursday.

Gorbachev also expressed optimism about the arms talks in a meeting in Moscow on Thursday with Senate Majority Leader George Mitchell, D-Maine, and six other U.S. senators, Mitchell reported.

Soviet crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — CIA Director William H. Webster foresees a "deep and prolonged" crisis in the Soviet Union, with a deteriorating economy and ethnic unrest accompanying President Mikhail Gorbachev's reforms.

U.S. specialists on the Soviet Union generally agreed with the assessment offered by Webster in a speech in Boston on Thursday, although some said better times may be ahead for the Soviet economy.

"I would say it's just one side of the story," said Stephen F. Cohen, professor of politics and director of Russian studies at Princeton University.

Factions hail decision by top canners

WASHINGTON (AP) — Environmentalists and lawmakers are hailing a decision by three U.S. tuna canners — including the world's largest — not to buy or sell tuna captured along with dolphins.

Environmental groups predicted the move by companies selling the StarKist, Bumble Bee and Chicken of the Sea brands will save some of the estimated 100,000 dolphins that die annually in huge nets used to catch schools of tuna.

StarKist Seafood Co. said Thursday it "will not purchase any tuna caught in association with dolphins" and "will sell only dolphin-free tuna."

The action was taken in "recognition of increased consumer concern for the environment" and because "the greatest concern in the tuna industry is dolphin mortality," said Anthony A.F. O'Reilly, president of the H.J. Heinz Co., which owns StarKist.

StarKist has a 35 percent share of the U.S. tuna market and is the world's largest tuna canner. The change could cost consumers "a couple or more cents" per can,

O'Reilly said. Bumble Bee Seafoods Inc., a chief competitor, followed suit a few hours later saying it "would now implement its plan to end the purchase of tuna caught in association with dolphin."

"Our tuna cans will begin to reflect the dolphin-safe label in U.S. stores within the next three months," the statement said.

Van Kamp Seafood of St. Louis, seller of Chicken of the Sea brand, said it would "discontinue buying tuna caught in association with dolphins," according to a statement from Jose E. Munoz Jr., company president.

"To do this, we are asking our few existing contract vessels to relocate their operations to the western Pacific, where the dolphin mortality problem does not exist," Munoz said.

Leslie Scheele of the environmental group Greenpeace, which backs a worldwide boycott of tuna caught with nets, said the action could "finally end the killing of dolphins by tuna nets forever. Others are going to have to follow suit."

Sen. Joseph Biden, D-Del., who is sponsoring legislation to require canners to label tuna that is caught by nets that ensnare dolphins, said the announcement made StarKist "not only the largest but the most enlightened" tuna canner in the world.

Astrograph by Bernice Bede Osol

April 14, 1990

In the year ahead you may go through a sifting out process regarding the objectives you establish for yourself. Your success will come from the ones you choose to keep.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Guard against inclinations today to do things the hard way, especially where your career is concerned. If you get involved with a procedure that isn't working, try something new. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astrograph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your hunches and perceptions might not be too reliable today, because they're likely to be more negative than positive. Don't let your imagination play tricks on you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you're presently involved in a situation that was supposed to be profitable, but isn't, it might be wise to phase it out before it cost you more.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) In order to achieve an objective of importance to you today, be careful you do not do anything that could be detrimental to others. This is a delicate area.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Aggressive thinking is not the same as being a visionary. Before you start imposing your ideas on co-workers today, first be certain they are feasible.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Watch yourself in an important commercial arrangement today. Be especially alert for some little changes that may have been added since your last meeting.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You won't be too proud of your efforts today if you are more concerned about getting things done than you are about getting them done right. Do less, but do them properly.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You're likely to be a very keen observer today, but unfortunately, your focus may be on the failings of others rather than on their attributes.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) It's best not to spend funds today you've already earmarked for something essential. Strive to be disciplined in the management of your resources.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) There's a wise old adage that says, "If it isn't broke, don't try to fix it." If you keep this in mind today it will make your life less complicated.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) You won't look too good in the eyes of associates today if you try to blame them for mistakes that are traceable to you. Instead of making accusations, spend your energy on making corrections.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) This may be one of those days when you won't be up to par as a money manager. Don't lend or spend that which you can't afford to lose.

Churches Of Snyder And Area Support Them Every Week

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Your advice to "Too Young," the boy who found himself to be a prospective father at the tender age of 15, missed the mark. You suggested that he and his parents seek legal advice, personally visit the girl and her parents, and try to work out the best possible solution for all concerned — and above all to finish high school.

You overlooked one very important aspect, Abby. These children had met on a skiing weekend eight months ago and had not seen each other since. They had talked on the telephone a few times, the boy wrote once, but the girl didn't answer his letter. No mention was made of a "pregnancy" until the girl was in her eighth month — then she called him up saying she was due to deliver in two weeks. Something is terribly amiss here.

I am all for accepting responsibility for one's actions — which this 15-year-old boy was willing to do — but you should have advised him to make absolutely certain that he is the father of this soon-to-be-born baby. It is entirely possible that the girl was pregnant when she met the boy and deliberately took him to bed in order to name him as the father. That trick is old as the hills, Abby.

BEEN AROUND IN COLORADO

DEAR BEEN AROUND: I advised the young man to seek legal counsel. A lawyer is aware of all the tricks and will surely be able to protect the young man if he has been wrongly accused.

DEAR ABBY: When my husband and I were married, I chose to retain my own last name.

When our son was born, we decided to give him a hyphenated last name — using both our names. This seemed logical at the time.

Came time for our son to get a Social Security number, we learned that there was no hyphen in his last name. I called the Social Security office and was told, "Our computers cannot put hyphens in names."

This was very frustrating. If two names are separated by a space instead of a hyphen, the name is alphabetized incorrectly; if two names are joined together, everyone mispronounces the resulting name.

Abby, wouldn't you think that in this day of technological miracles, someone could make it possible for hyphenated names to be recorded correctly on our official documents?

BARBARA IN OAKHURST, CALIF.

DEAR BARBARA: Someone has. The symbol for the hyphen was programmed into the Social Security computer in August 1988. Contact your local Social Security office and request your son's hyphen.

DEAR ABBY: The letter in your column concerning the wedding in which the bride wore a $900 bridal gown and the minister was paid $20 reminded me of the "fee" my uncle received for officiating at a wedding back in 1934.

The parents of the bride presented my uncle (a minister) with a pair of leather gloves.

My uncle said, "Thank you," and his wife said, "Leather gloves? That's a strange gift to give in June — but by October they will come in handy."

Came October, when my uncle was putting on the gloves for the first time, he found each "finger" of the glove stuffed with a $10 bill, wrapped in tissue paper! In 1934, $100 was a small fortune.

My uncle told that story often, adding, "That's when I learned never to judge a book by its cover."

Tuition increases may moderate during 1990s

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new decade may bring a reprieve for parents and students worried by spiraling college tuition and fees, two higher education groups reported today.

Arthur M. Hauptman, an independent research consultant, said his study shows that college costs are beginning to catch up with the value of a college degree. That may result in more moderate prices in the 1990s after a decade of huge increases, he said.

"I don't think there is as big a gap, simply put, between price and value as there was 10 years ago," Hauptman said in an interview. "I think the same market forces that led to tuition escalation in the 1980s may well lead to moderation in the 1990s."

Hauptman used available data to conduct the study for the American Council on Education and The College Board.

He said college tuition and fees increased by slightly less than 10 percent a year — about twice the rate of inflation — from 1980 to 1987, serving as "a lightning rod for criticism of the American system of higher education."

During the same period, the median family income rose only 5.6 percent a year and the costs of all goods and services increased 4.7 percent, including 3.8 percent for new cars and 3.9 percent for food. However, stock returns rose 13.8 percent a year and bond returns by 15.3 percent a year.

The trend of the 1980s was in sharp contrast to the late 1970s, when tuitions and other charges grew more slowly than inflation.

Hauptman said both public and private institutions were affected by a decline in the number of traditionally college-age students. With the leveling of enrollments, institutions could no longer spread fixed costs over a growing number of students, he said.

Patterns of state funding had a strong influence on the size of tuition increases at public colleges in the 1980s, Hauptman said.

Police chief goes back on the job

HILLSBORO, Texas (AP) — Ed Wheat was all smiles when he returned to his job as police chief for the first time after he was terminated two months ago and reinstated following a hearing by a city review board.

The first face he saw when he returned to work Thursday, however, was not a friendly one.

The Rev. Harry Payne, a local pastor who became a supporter and spokesman for many of the department's disgruntled officers, shook Wheat's hand and told him he still wanted to get him fired.

"Nothing personal, but don't get too comfortable," Payne told him, citing "state and federal levels" of recourse.

"I understand that," Wheat responded. "I don't have anything against you for it. You're doing what you think is best for the community."

Wheat won reinstatement to the job following a five-day appeal hearing during which 12 of his 15 officers testified against him, claiming he was incompetent and did not have enough knowledge of law and police procedures.

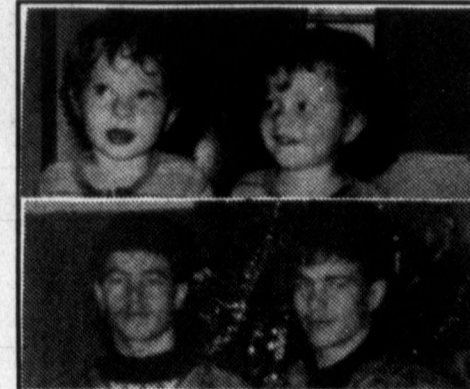

One former dispatcher testified Wheat sexually harassed her.

Wheat and lawyer Charles McGregor of Waco told the review panel the officers were involved in a conspiracy and had exaggerated and fabricated incidents simply to oust him.

The three-citizen board voted 2-1 that the city "had not met the burden of proof necessary to support these allegations," and ordered back pay.

lead. But West found a trump lead, and East won the ace of spades and returned a spade. That left only two trumps in dummy for ruffing purposes, and South had three losing minor-suit cards. Not to worry — there were possibilities in the heart suit.

So declarer played ace and ruffed a heart, East's K-10 coming down. Then he played A-K and ruffed a diamond. If the Q-10-9 had all fallen, his last diamond would be a winner, but no such luck. When South led another heart from dummy, East showed out, so the hearts could not be set up. More or less resigned to defeat, declarer played his last diamond. Suddenly West was in a trance. If West threw a heart, one more heart ruff would set up the jack in dummy. But there was a little pain in throwing a club from the Q-J-5. There was nothing for West to do but hope that East held the club nine. He discarded the club five. Declarer ruffed the diamond in dummy, ruffed another heart, and then played A-K of clubs. With the Q-J falling, the lowly club nine took the final trick and declarer made his slam.

Secret police murdered 1,500 Polish officers

Soviet Union admits World War II atrocity for the first time

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today admitted for the first time that its secret police murdered 15,000 Polish officers in the Katyn Forest during World War II in what it called "one of the most horrifying Stalinist crimes."

The Tass news agency issued an official statement as Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev met with Polish President Wociech Jaruzelski. Western historians concluded years ago that the Soviets were responsible for killing the captive officers, most of whom were shot in the back of the head, but Moscow's refusal to admit it was a barrier to better Soviet-Polish relations. Jaruzelski is scheduled to visit Katyn on Saturday. Until today, the Soviet Union blamed Nazi Germany for the massacre. The Katyn Forest, located near Smolensk southwest of Moscow, was captured by Germany during World War II, and later recaptured by Soviet soldiers.

While the Nazis invaded Poland from the west in 1939 to start World War II, the Soviets invaded from the east. Germany and the Soviet Union had signed a non-aggression pact that assigned them spheres of influence in Eastern Europe.

The Soviets interned the officers, some of Poland's most talented, at the beginning of the war. The massacre was first disclosed in 1943 by the Nazis, who attributed it to Stalin's secret police. More than 4,000 bodies have been found in a mass grave in the forest.

The Soviet statement said archive material discovered recently allowed officials now to blame the persons responsible.

Peter Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: What would be the effect on a person who unknowingly had celiac disease — an inability to digest fats — and who also consumed a fair amount of marijuana (a fat-soluble substance) during his late teens and early 20s?

DEAR READER: First of all, celiac disease has nothing to do with the digestion of fats. Rather, it is an hereditary disorder of fat absorption, caused by intolerance to gluten (wheat protein). Symptoms may be minimal: bloating and occasional diarrhea. Or patients may show anemia, weight loss, skin rashes and chronic diarrhea.

Patients usually respond to a gluten-free diet. Because gluten is ubiquitously used in commercially prepared foods — such as soups, sauces, ice creams and processed meats — patients usually need counseling from a dietician who is familiar with celiac disease.

The issue of marijuana and its storage in the body is unrelated to celiac disease. THC, the active ingredient in marijuana, is stored in fat cells, particularly those in the brain and reproductive tract. However, to my knowledge, no expert has defined how long significant quantities are stored, what constitutes a significant quantity and what effects stored THC has on a person's health. Marijuana is a dangerous substance because it is habit-forming and affects thinking, coordination and the emotions.

To answer your question specifically, a person with celiac disease would experience the same effects from marijuana as would any person without gluten sensitivity.

To give you additional information about the addictive characteristics of marijuana (and other drugs), I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Help I — Mental/Substance Abuse." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Will you please explain fibromyalgia? Is there treatment and a cure?

DEAR READER: Fibromyalgia is characterized by pain, tenderness and stiffness of certain muscles, especially of the neck, shoulders, back and thighs. The cause is unknown, but the condition is often associated with stress and tension in otherwise healthy young adults, particularly women.

Car said stolen now

Police are investigating the theft of a Snyder woman's car in a dispute that was reported last week and upgraded to an unauthorized use of a motor vehicle charge Thursday.

Delores Davis of 4400 Ave. U, No. 3C-8, reported last Saturday that a woman had taken her 1972 Oldsmobile Cutlass and failed to return it.

Davis told officers at 3:56 p.m. Thursday that the woman had still not returned her car and that she wished to file the felony UUMV complaint.

In another Thursday report, Vonseth Adams of 4009 Houston Ave. reported at 4:22 p.m. that some meat had been stolen from her freezer during the past week.

Three arrested

Police arrested three men on drinking-related charges at 11:42 p.m. Thursday in the 2500 Block of Ave. M.

Two men, 25 and 28 years old, were taken into custody for public intoxication while the third, a 26-year-old, was arrested for PI and on Department of Public Safety warrants from Abilene for speeding and failure to appear in court.

Project here aids abuse victims

the shelter can provide abused women with enough time to decide what they want to do. In addition, she said it is good for them to be around other women who are also reconstructing their lives.

Scalf is available to present programs to organizations, clubs and other groups. She said she is amazed to find that even though the Noah Project has been in Snyder for some six years that some people have no idea what it is. Also, new families moving into Snyder may not have had a chance to get acquainted with the shelter and what it offers.

In the beginning, Scalf only counseled abused women. Since 1989, however, the program has been expanded to include abused children as well because in homes where a woman is abused it is often common for at least one child to also be abused.

State monies in the form of a grant financed the expanded program and Scalf said she works with the Department of Human Services, which refers cases of child abuse to her.

In child abuse cases, if caught early enough, Scalf said they try to work to keep families together. But if the abuse is allowed to continue untreated often parents will have their children taken from them. Sometimes only one parent is the abuser but the other parent often can't or won't do anything to assist the child.

Presently, Scalf is working with five couples where child abuse is the problem. Beginning Monday, she will teach a parenting class for couples referred to her through the Department of Human Services.

Outreach counseling is also available for victims of family violence and she often counsels from 6-10 individuals in a given month.

Abused women can receive counseling without living at the shelter. Cases can also be handled anonymously and women do not have to leave their husband or divorce him or file charges against him if they choose not to. "Each woman is allowed to make her own decision. We offer them support regardless of what they decide," Scalf said.

Scalf said the project is supported by state funds, United Way and private and club donations. In addition, a yearly fund raiser is held, which for the past three years had been in April. Because this month is so busy, Scalf said they are planning a melodrama in June to be staged at Scurry County Coliseum.

In addition, Scalf said they have applied for a grant from the Chicago Resource Center, a private foundation, to build a new office building. They will be notified by July 1 whether the application has been approved.

She explained that with the addition of counseling families where child abuse is involved, there is not enough room in the present office to counsel people without interruptions.

Scalf said that CRC, which specializes in funding programs for women and minorities in rural areas, has given them contributions in the past.

During regular office hours (Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.) the hotline number is answered by someone in the office. After hours on weekdays calls are routed to a volunteer's home. Weekend calls are answered by Snyder Police Department personnel who immediately notify a Noah volunteer who then calls the woman back. Noah Project volunteers will deal with all women who call the hotline number.
