Other coaches present and introduced by Overton included Bill Blakely, David Middleton, A. J. Viertel and Carlos Berry. "We do not have as much depth this year, but the attitude of the boys is good and they are working hard," Overton said.

"There are some good players coming up this year from the B-team who are showing up real good," Overton pointed out.

Fire Safety and Polio Films Are Shown Rotarians

Two timely films, one emphasizing the need for practicing fire prevention in homes, business, and factory, and the other illustrating the simple and effective immunization of everyone against polio with Sabin oral vaccine, were shown members of the Rotary Club and guests Thursday at noon in the Highway Drive In.

The film on fire safety was presented by City Fireman Floyd (Satch) Lusk, who prefaced the showing with an interesting and factual talk. A startling fact brought out was that in the United States a life is lost to fire every 46 minutes. This loss is needless, he pointed out, because three out of four fires are caused by carelessness and could be prevented.

Buddy Lane, who is on a Jaycee committee sponsoring the polio immunization program, planned in Haskell County, told of plans for the three-phase program which will start Sept. 16. The film depicted the ease with which Sabin oral vaccine can be given, and stressed the fact that it was effective against carriers of polio.

Gaston Hattox, program chairman, introduced Lusk and Lane.

Past District Governor Robt. King gave a brief review of proposed changes in the Rotary International by-laws relative to election of RI directors.

Mrs. Ruthie Withers was pianist for the sing-song, led by Novis Ousley of Rule. President E. J. Stewart reported that the vacant lot weed cutting had about been finished, and thanked all who helped.

Out-of-town guests present were Jerry Thornton of Dallas, John Darnell Jr., of Grand Prairie, Tom Phillips of Fort Worth, Ernest Williams, Novis Ousley and R. C. Frizzell of Rule.

$110 in Currency Lost by Haskell Woman Returned

Mrs. Lee Matthews considers herself one of the luckiest persons in Haskell.

And for good reason. Recently she lost an envelope containing $110 in currency, and had little hope of ever seeing the money again.

At first she believed she had lost the money on the lawn at the Norton Apartments, as she went from her apartment to her brother's car for a trip to Granbury to attend the funeral of a relative.

After returning home from Granbury, Mrs. Matthews received a long distance telephone call from relatives there, advising that the envelope and lost money had been picked up in the cemetery there.

Returning home after the funeral, Mrs. Matthews returned here last week after a visit here with her sister, Mrs. Claud Gordon.

Thirty Will Die
 (Wichita Falls Daily Times)

It would be a shocking thing, to say the least, to be told that on a certain date you will die. Yet, this is the warning that has been issued to 30 people in Texas.

The time of their death? Labor Day Weekend.

Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, has estimated that there will be 3,000 traffic accidents in Texas over the three-day period and that as a result of the collisions, some 30 persons will be killed.

No one is predicting just who those 30 will be, but any driver—or passenger—who ventures out during that period is susceptible. Of course, this is true for any day of the year.

Texas traffic fatalities are high. In 1960 some 2,254 persons were slaughtered on this state's highways and roads. Only California had a higher tally.

Still, even in Texas the number of such fatal accidents is decreasing, proportionately, through the years. Among major factors, which have contributed to lowering the number of smashups percentage-wise are the training courses being taught in high schools.

Nationwide there are now more than 14,000 training cars in use as compared to 4,500 in 1950. Over half of the country's high schools offer driver education classes.

Perhaps this is why today the average driver will travel 42,000 miles, or five years, between property-damaging accidents. If education among the young people continues to have sufficient influence and if adult drivers would try a little self-education and self-discipline, it is possible that not only would the number of miles between accidents decrease but so would the deaths.

Possibly it then wouldn't be necessary for the highway patrol in Texas to increase its Labor Day officers-on-duty by 150. And then, perhaps, 30 people would not have to be told they will die.

Holes Will Be Left

Congressman Walter Nonblad of Oregon asked the House Committee of Interior and Insular Affairs to reject the Administration's proposal to federally tax pleasure boats.

"Although the proposed annual $5.00 tax is limited now to boats 12 feet long, then 10 feet, etc., would be Federally taxed, from past experience that it would only be a short time until boats 12 feet long, then 10 feet, etc., would be Federally taxed. Many states... already tax pleasure boats and I think it would be wrong if the federal government imposed double taxation."

If the current mania to tax practically anything and everything isn't curbed, about all we'll have left in our pockets will be holes.

Coaches and players in high school and college football have been offered a word of caution by the American Medical Association concerning the dangers of vigorous physical exercise in hot weather. With the start of practice, it warns, it is essential to provide for gradual adjustment to hot weather activity. Equally important is the need to adjust salt and water intakes to weather conditions. It adds that the old idea that water should be withheld from athletes during workouts has absolutely no scientific foundation.

People, Places & Things
 By A. PATE

Things are in a hustle and bustle in preparation for the opening of the new school term.

Mrs. D. V. Hiebert, kindergarten teacher met one of her former pupils downtown the other day and the little girl was thrilled over prospects of enrolling in the First Grade.

"Yes, and I'm going to miss having you in my classes, too," Mrs. Hiebert said.

"Well, I wish you were my teacher again, too," the little girl said, adding, "but I learned all you knew last year."

Haskell firemen and their rural fire truck happened to be in the right place at the right time last Thursday, and were able to help extinguish two grass fires in a row.

Police Chief Tom Paul Barnett and several firemen had taken the rural truck to a small grass fire near Weinert. After bringing it under control, they received a call from a Munday truck and firemen who were battling a fire on the Luther Williams farm northeast of Weinert. The departments were soon joined and the blaze brought under control.

A cowboy who came here from Colorado in the 20's and worked on the Ballard Ranch east of town, pulled one of the greatest hoax we've ever seen in regard to rattlesnake rattles.

The cowboy was called "Big Boy" and he was the opposite of the shy, retiring type. It was not long until his prowess as a cowboy mouth at least.

One day "Big Boy" came in to town and displayed a huge set of rattlesnake rattles. By actual count there were 34 rattles and a button. He claimed to have killed the huge snake after a terrific battle, and described it as having been 14 or 15 feet long.

He had the rattles in a small wooden box with a glass top, and this prevented real close examination.

Several suggestions were made that he send the rattles for exhibit at the State Fair in Dallas, but he declined.

Later, one of his buddies at the ranch in "Big Boy's" absence, removed the glass cover and found that he had used fine silk thread in fastening four matched sets of rattles together.

Although hunting and fishing was prohibited on the ranch, "Big Boy" had no scruples about tipping off his friends when the coast was clear.

One day during the fall of the year the cowboy told Frank Dodson that he had found one of the biggest turkey roosts he had ever seen.

It was an old abandoned wildcat oil rig, the old-fashioned wooden kind, partially boarded up at the top.

Setting a night for the hunt, Frank and a group of friends drove to within a few miles of the rig, then walked the rest of the way, being careful not to disturb the turkeys.

Crawling to within shooting distance, the hunters skylighted the rig and not a turkey could be seen.

Dodson, disgusted, took his flashlight and made a thorough investigation of the surroundings.

It was a roost, all right, but owls instead of turkeys!

Dodson, or "Dobber" as he was known to friends, was not above a practical joke himself.

One Sunday Dobber and the late Ray Stanton and Byron Wright, invited Alvah Crandall, now of Abilene, and Guy Mays, who lives in Wichita Falls, to go pecan hunting on Paint Creek.

Unknown to Crandall and Mays, the entire crop on Paint Creek wouldn't have filled a half-bushel basket.

Three former Haskell men who served in the Army together during the first World War, but who are now widely scattered, seldom get together but when they do the memories they recall would make a fair-sized book.

The trio includes Gordon Odell of Amarillo, Spot Lemmon of San Diego, Calif., and Cole Menefee, whose address we do not know.

Last time we were talking to Odell, he told of the trio of Haskell GIs making a bicycle tour of a little town near the border of France and Italy.

"We rented these bikes and started out, pedaling and puffing until we got to the top of a small mountain.

"When we started down we learned the bikes had no coaster brakes, you had to keep control with the pedals all the time.

"At one fairly steep incline in the road, Spot slipped off a pedal and he lost control.

THROUGHOUT THE CENTER OF THE SOUTHWEST IN CONTROL ROOMS LIKE THIS, THERE'S AN...

INCREASING FLOW OF ELECTRICITY

The demand for electricity in our service area is growing rapidly. The reason is simple — there are more people, more businesses, more industries coming here into the Center of the Southwest.

That is why we are investing millions in new electric generating capacity and in new distribution facilities to keep pace with this area's exciting growth.

But of more significance, this fact explains why we are planning vast additional expenditures in anticipation of even greater growth to come.

Because the Southwest is growing 25% faster than the Nation, we are convinced that our service area — the Center of the Southwest — faces GROWTH UNLIMITED.

Newspapers are just like women. For instance they both have forms. Back numbers are not in demand... they always have the last word... they are well worth looking over... they have a good deal of influence... you can't believe all they say... there's small demand for the bold-faced type... and every man should have one of his own, and not borrow his neighbors.

Little Story of Success: Some owe success in life to luck; some owe it to their mothers, but most acclaim the good advice they didn't take from others!

Food for Thought: Education should include training in the art of living with one's fellow-man. Some of us could take a tip from an acrobat. He turns a flop into a success.

Daffinitions: After dinner speaker... an occupation monopolized by men... women can't wait that long.

Commuter: A traveling man who pays occasional short visits to his home and office.

Money grabber: Anyone who can grab more money than you can.

Friend: One who has the same enemies as you have.

Economy: Denying ourselves a necessity in order to buy a luxury tomorrow.

Philosopher: One who instead of crying over spilt milk consoles himself with the thought that it was over four-fifths water, anyway.

A "fed-up" school teacher resigned with this comment: "In public schools today the teachers are afraid of the Principals; the Principals are afraid of the Superintendents; the Superintendents are afraid of the School Boards; the Boards are afraid of the children; and the children are afraid of nobody."

We all wonder what contributes to the "speed mania" of the person behind the wheel on the open road. Yet it's not so surprising. The vacation and holiday traveler wants to get to his destination in time for a last minute swim in the lake, or the baseball game, or just a few casts of the old fishing rod before dark.

The same traveler got a late afternoon start, he stopped en route to visit friends or relatives and he must "make-up" that time by crowding it a little. Just a little you understand, he's not going to take any chances.

What our "hurry driving" motorist friend fails to realize is that hundreds of thousands of other vacation and holiday travelers have added their vehicles to the normal highway traffic load. We wonder if this friend of ours who is "making-up-time" on the highway knows that... Safety is everybody's job. Traffic Safety is team work. Each individual driver must ask himself: "Can I stop in time?" He can if he will take time to "slow down and live."

You can criticize a man about almost anything except his driving, is a statement we all must admit is true. Calmly you can reason with most men that they have picked the wrong profession, they have selected the wrong section of the city in which to buy or build a home, they should save more of their wages, or they should wear Bermuda shorts in summer. But tell a man he operates an automobile carelessly—and he is ready, not only to argue, but to fight if necessary.

Without exception every motorist believes that an accident is something that might happen to some other fellow, but "not to me." When you ask the average motorist, "Can you stop in time?" and, according to the Texas Safety Association, he will reply "Certainly, and under any conditions." If you ask him to "slow down and live," he'll reply: "That's for the other fellow." Our job is to show every motorist that highway safety is EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS—Slow Down and Live.

Strong elastic girdles have revealed just what kind of shape this country has been in.

The reason some girls never get married, they are too biased; it's a bias this, and bias that, until the boy friend is busted.

One thing for sure, our daughter, Beverly, learned something about high finance while attending college... for I remember receiving this little note from her which read: "Dear Daddy since I have spent all of last week's allowance, when you send this week's allowance, would you also include week-after-next."

The laziest fellow I know is the one who sings, "Moonbeams Kiss Her for Me," to his girl friend.
