Long Ballot Facing Voters

Next week some 2,500,000 Texans will make up their minds whom to cast their ballots for among a huge list of candidates for local, district, state and federal offices.

Prime interest is in the governor's race, where five Democrats and two Republicans are hoping to replace Gov. Price Daniel. The governor is working hard to see that they don't.

Down the list, to the office of precinct chairman, there are more candidates than in many years. This is due primarily to the "open races" for the major state offices namely those of attorney general and lieutenant governor. These openings have allowed those down the line to try to move up while at the same time leaving lesser offices open.

Also on May 5, the two parties will hold precinct conventions. They will name delegates to county conventions. County delegates, in turn, will name delegates to state conventions to be held in September. This is where party platforms will be Big side-bar issues on May 5 will be the referendums on horse race betting and poll tax repeal. These will appear on both the republican and the democratic ballots. Also on the GOP ballot is the question whether Padre Island should be developed friends. They expect to be gone as a state park. Results of the balloting on these referendums are not binding. But they provide a public opinion poll and legislators are likely to follow the mandates set out by the voters.

The Living and the Dead

There are two seas in Palestine. One is fresh water and great deal of life thrives in and around it. Fish abound in it. Splashes of green adorn its banks. Trees spread their branches over it, and stretch out their thirsty roots to dip of its healing waters. Along its shore children play. Men build their houses near it, and birds their nests, and every kind of life is happier be-

This sea is fed by the River Jordan which flows on into the other sea. There is no splash of fish, no fluttering leaf, no song of birds, no children's laughter. Travelers choose another route, less on urgent business. The air hangs above its waters, and friends here. d of life.

The difference in the two bodies of water is not their County, and shows a total of source, because the Jordan empties the same good water into 4,823 children of school age in both. There are no significant differences in the soil nor the country round about. The difference is that the Sea of Galilee receives—but does not keep—the Jordan waters. For every 72, pioneer resident and welldrop that flows into it, another drop flows out. The giving and receiving go on in equal measure. The other sea hoards its income jealously. Every drop it gets, it keeps. The Sea of Galilee gives and lives. The other sea receives, but gives nothing. It is named the Dead Sea.

To the voters of Haskell

I want to take this oppor-tunity to thank you for your past favors, and to solicit your continued support for a second term as your District Clerk. I am grateful for the fact that I have no opponent, but your vote on May 5 will be greatly appreciated.

also, I want to express my appreciated.

Also, I want to express my appreciation to court officials, officers, and jurors for the confidence and help they have given me during my first term in office. I realize that without their help it would have been very difficult for me to handle the affairs of the office in the manner they should be discharged.

I feel that the experience I have gained during the past three years better qualifies me to make you a better public official in the future.

I am asking for the office of Commissioner in the belief that I am qualified by both experience and long residence in the precinct which has ac-quainted me with the needs of the area. I have had more than six years experience in construction work on roads, highways, and farm roads. For a year of this time I was foreman over 50 trucks, three maintenaners, bookkeepers, and paymaster, on Highway 75 near Taylor, Texas. My experience has also included working for the Highway Department in this county.

I have no promises to make concerning what I will or will not do if elected, because I realize one Commissioner alone cannot accomplish anything without the cooperation of the whole Court.

Eighth Graders Entertained Members of Rule Eighth Grade were honored with a banquet April 14, in the Rule school cafeteria.

The scene was "Springtime in Holland." There were white picket fences covered with white roses, and a green and white dutch windmill with tulips surrounding it, and a Dutch boy and girl beside it.

The eighth grade class song is "Halls of Ivy"; their flower is the white rose; and their colors are green and white.

Edith Murray played the "Dutch Reverie" on the plano. Virginia Westbrook read the class prophecy and Beth Simpson read the class will. The

Talent Show Winners
The Rule Senior Class sponsored its yearly Talent Show Monday night, April 16, in the High School Auditorium.

In the grade school and Junior High division, first place went to Hal Ousley for playing the piano. Second place went to Gail Lott and Charles Lott for a specialty number.

In the instrumental division for high school and outsiders the first place decision went to Gary Bruce of Munday. Second place to Paula Pinkard and Jana Kile.

In the instrumental division for high school and outsiders the first place had a tie and was awarded to the Wheels from Haskell and an instrumental trio consisting of Bob Clark, Carroll Bogard and Dickie Patterson.

A featured attraction was the comedy numbers between second parts of the Tulips" and the class song "Halls of Ivy." Mr. Lavon Beakley, elementary principal, gave the benediction.

Eighth Grade mothers prepared the meal and seventh grade girls served the banquet.

DID CARL WHEATLEY VOT FOR PASSAGE OF HOUSE BILL 113?

THIS BILL WOULD

HURT THE FARMER AND SMALL

BUSINESSMAN.

WOULD FOR ALL PRACTICAL

PURPOSES ELIMINATE THE MOVEMENT OF FARM WORKERS WITHIN THE STATE.

House Bill 113 sets out at great length several pages of detailed, complicated, ridiculous requirements that must be met by any person or carrier who transports migrant labor within the state. So ridiculous are the requirements that the newest school bus in your school district would not qualify.

This bill was clever, in fact, too clever an effort to lay out a catalog of requirements that on their face may at first appear plausible. Taken as a whole, however, the bill presents a great multitude of requirements, many of them of hazy or ambiguous meaning — all designed with one purpose in mind—TO ELIMINATE THE FLOW OF FARM LABOR.

The farmers' friends in the Legislature defeated this bill. If it had passed and been enacted into law, it certainly would have hurt the farmer and small businessman. Candidate J. C. (Carl) Wheatley consistently voted and worked against the small businessman. His record shows that he voted for business only 6 times and opposed it 29 times. From the point of view of the AFL-CIO, however, Wheatley voted "Good" 15 times and "Bad" but 6 times. The migrant labor bill was endorsed and supported by AFL-CIO.

ELECT ROY ARLEDGE

Your State Representative

Roy Arledge is a conservative farmer and business man, a life-long Democrat who certainly would not vote against the interest of the people he was elected to represent. Roy Arledge would work for the welfare of the people of this district. Roy Arledge believes in the best possible education for today's children. He recognizes the responsibility to our senior citizens. He believes in efficient government, in getting a dollar's worth for every dollar spent.

> Imported Birds Being Studied

In Lamar County Some 400 French redlegged partridges have been released in the prairie grass and mead+ ows of Lamar County in recent weeks, according to W. J. Cut-birth, Jr., Austin, assistant ex-ecutive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission,

This is a European import native to France, and the birds have been successfully transplanted to England. Brood stock was obtained from England about four years ago through the cooperation and recommendation of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

is to make a study of the exotic game bird, to determine it it is adaptable to the Texas environmen, and if it will be suitable game bird. The re-lease site in Lamar County was selected because conditions appear to be similar to the native habitat in France and England. To date, approximately 700 have been released in the study area.

The redlegged partridge is from three to four times the weight of the bobwhite quail. They are reported to eat a considerable amount of green foods, and because of their preference for more open range with a minimum of escape cover, they are not likely to compete directly with bob-whites for available food.

A check of the banded birds shows that to date they have remained within the study area. A limited number of redlegs are being raised at the Tyler game bird farm for this tudy, and none of them will be available for general re-lease until such time as the study has accomplished

The award was presented enerates a ranch comprising

Oklahoma State University. They started out with 100 head In winning the award, Hughes of commercial beef brood will compete in the national a- cows. Today the father-son partnership has built up a herd of 300 young cows and 100 yearlings.

The outstanding farmer and rancher is the youngest of the four children of Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, longtime residents of Bartlesville. He is a graduate of Oklahoma State University, where he was a member of the Sigma Nu social fraternity. H's wife, the former Nora Mcate of O.S.U., where she was affiliated with the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. The Hughes reside on the ranch and are the parents of three small children.

John's mother and father are both former residents of Haskell and were married in the First Methodist Church here June 6, 1921. His grandparents and great-grandparents arly-day residents of Haskell county. John's mother will be emembered as Elsie Tyson who was born and reared here After finishing college she taught a few years in Haskell High School. She and Arthur Hughes have lived in Oklahoma many years, but have kept their love and appreciation for Texas and Haskell County. They are always the first to urrive for the School Homocoming.
