

ter they are off within of the ground ch moist dirt have been cut. em moist and ll grow out good d toughen up to water has soaked in mound up with loose dirt, covering the tops three-fourths up. This way they will be fresh and moist to plant in February.

Some may want to know the best location for an orchard. My opinion is that "a high level place" is the best. On lands that are very rolling soil is generally too thin with a lime sub-soil that is not best for trees. The rain runs off the sloping soil instead of soaking in to the soil.

I will be pleased to know if this experience of mine will be of any help to anyone contemplating planting trees. When you plant trees you are not only adding to your own premises but you are adding to the welfare and pleasures of the country at large. If you think you can't you can't, if you think you can you can.

Sturdy Plowmen

The plowmen of the United States each year turn over two billion tons of earth.—The Country Home.

You Have Waited Years For

New Konjola

ed in our store for the FIRST TIME. This celebrated remedy is for the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and neuritis troubles. Chicago, Philadelphia, large cities have gasped at the wonderful accomplishment of this remarkable medicine.

This remarkable compound is destined to bring new hope, happiness and glorious health to Floydada people. Thousands of seemingly hopeless cases of health troubles have been conquered in larger cities, by this advanced compound.

Konjola, the medicine made from extracts of 22 plants of Nature, containing over 30 beneficial ingredients, works with the sufferer's own food, bringing more normal healthy action to the important organs of the body—the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

FLOYDADA DRUG STORE

In Memory . . .

In Memory of GEORGE WASHINGTON, Student, Statesman, General, President and Gentleman, whose immortal greatness survives through the onrushing epochs of American History.

Each year the reflection of his inspirations and standards rise to new and greater heights.

Patriotically, economically, industrially, and educationally, George Washington's memory contributes much to the Nation.

It is fitting that, upon his birthday

Saturday, February 22

The Undersigned Banks Will Be

Closed All Day

The First National

AND THE

Floyd County Na Bank

OF FLOYDADA

All these added improvements —yet prices greatly reduced!

The new Chevrolet Six is enjoying the greatest public reception ever given a Chevrolet car. For it offers scores of new improvements and refinements that make it a finer car in every way. Yet it sells at greatly reduced prices!

Consider a few of the extra-value features that Chevrolet has incorporated in this greatest of all Chevrolets —a smoother, flashier six-cylinder valve-in-head motor, with its capacity increased to 50 horsepower!

—a stronger, more durable rear axle, with increased gear ratio!

—four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers—assuring a smooth, even, comfortable ride over any road!

—weather-proof, internal-expanding four-wheel brakes, with front and rear drums tightly enclosed!

—larger full-balloon tires, a new clutch and a stronger transmission!

—quieter, stronger, more beautiful Fisherbodies—with richer upholstery, more distinctive colors, and wider, deeper seats!

Every factor has been considered that would add to the safety, comfort and convenience of the Chevrolet owner.

Come in today. See this greatest of all Chevrolets! Check over its new features. Drive it. You'll find quality you never thought possible—at such greatly reduced prices!

The Roadster	$495	The Coupe	$565	The Sedan Delivery	$595
The Phaeton	$495	The Sport Coupe	$655	Light Delivery Chassis	$365
The Sport Roadster	$555	The Club Sedan	$625	1½ Ton Chassis	$520
The Coach	$565	The Sedan	$675	1½ Ton Chassis with Cab	$625

All prices f. o. b. factory, Flint, Michigan.

SNODGRASS CHEVROLET CO.

Floydada, Texas

SIX OF THE FOUR

Dollar Mystery

BY MAC GRATH

Scenes in the Photo Drama of the Thanouser Film Company

Copyright, 1914, by Harold MacGrath

Dark. Jones was concerned, he was with the turn of the screw no time for love-making for silly, innocuous lickerings, in which love or die. Florence no

Saw That Ring Before?

horseback, and Norton accustomed haunts, made the slightest at- tention. In his present mood he would have welcomed the matter with Jim? Norton, night city editor, raising his voice, answered the copy boy, "I don't see any sense in pulling it off did. I don't want to be a man by the name of Jones."

He pulled it off did. I don't want to be a man by the name of Jones. Norton returned to his chair, gloomier than ever. With his feet upon the window sill he stared and stared and dreamed and dreamed till a hand fell upon his shoulder. It belonged to one of the office boys. "Note for you, sir," Norton read it and tore it into little pieces. Then he rose and distributed the pieces in the several yawning waste baskets which strewed the aisle leading to the city desk.

"I'm not wanted for anything?" he asked. "No. Clear out!" laughed the night city editor. "The sight of you is putting everybody in the gloom ward." Norton went down to the street. At the left of the entrance he was quietly joined by a man whose arm was carried in a sling. He motioned Norton to get into the taxicab. They were dropped in a deserted spot in Riverdale. On foot they went forward to their destination, which proved to be the deserted hangar of the aviator, William Orts.

"I want you to tell Jones that a tug and several divers are at work on the spot where he threw the chest. That's all. Now, doctor, rewind this arm of mine." The amateur surgeon made a very good job of it; not for nothing had he followed fighting armies to the front.

It happens to be in your name, son." "I forgot," said Norton. "But what a chance for me! Nearly five thousand, all mine for a ticket to Algiers!" A grunt was the only reply. "I want you to tell me about the Perigoff woman."

"I know only one thing—that Braine is there every night." "No!" "The orders are for you to play the game just as you are playing it. When we strike, it must be the last blow. All this hide-and-seek business may look foolish to you. It's like that Japanese game called 'jo.' It looks simple, but chess is a tyro's game beside it. Can you find your way back all right?" "I can." "Well, you'd better be going. That's all the light I have, in this torch here. Got a lot to do tomorrow and need sleep."

Norton stole away with great caution. His first intention was to proceed straight to the city, but despite his resolution he found himself within a quarter of an hour gazing up at the windows of the Hargreave house. "Not at home!" Quite unconscious of the fact, he was as close to death as any mortal man might care to be. The policeman suddenly looming up under the arc lamp proved to be his savior.

The lull made Jones doubly alert. He was positive that they were preparing to strike again. But from what direction and in what manner? He had not met the gift of clairvoyance, so he had to wait; and waiting is a terrible game when perhaps death is balancing the scales. It is always easier to make an assault than to await it; and it is a good general who always finds himself prepared.

But it made his heart ache to watch the child. She went about cheerfully—when any one was in the room with her. Many a time, however, he had stolen to the door of her bedroom and heard the heart-rending sobs, a vain attempt being made to stifle them among the pillows. She was only eighteen; it was first love; and first loves are pale, effervescent attachments. It hurt now; but she would get over it presently. Youth forgets. Time, like water, smooths away the ragged places.

The countess called regularly. She was, of course, dreadfully sorry over what had happened. She had heard something about his character; newspaper men weren't always the best. This one was a mere fortune hunter; a two faced one, at that. She was never more surprised in her life when he threw his arms around her. And so on, and so forth, half lies and half truths, till the patient Jones felt like wringing her neck.

From his vantage point the butler smiled ironically. He could read the heart of this Perigoff woman as he could read the page of a book. The effrontery! And all the while he must gravely admit her and pretend when the blood roiled in his veins at the sight of her. But he dared not swerve a single inch from the plans laid down. It was a cup of bitter gall, and there was no way of avoiding the putting of it to his lips. She emanated poison as nightshade emanates it, the upas tree. And he must bow when she entered and bow when she left! Still, she had done him an indirect favor in breaking up this love business.

One afternoon Braine summoned his runabout and called up two physicians. When he was ushered into the deserted office of the first he sent his card in. The doctor replied in person. His face was pale and his hands shook. "Good afternoon," said Braine, smiling affably.

The doctor eyed him like a man hypnotized. "You . . . you wished to see me on some particular business?" "Very particular," dryly. "My car is outside. Will you be so good as to accompany me?" "For young thing!" he said to the

The doctor slowly went into the hall for his hat and coat. He left the house and got into the car with never a word of protest. "Thinking?" said Braine. "I am always thinking whenever I see your evil face. What devilment do you require of me this time?" "A mere stroke of the pen." "Where are we going?" "To call on another physician of your standing," significantly. "It is a great thing to have friends like you two. Always ready to serve us, for the mere love of it."

"There's no need of using that kind of talk to me. You have me in the hollow of your hand. Why should I bother to deny it? I have broken the law. I broke it because I was starving."

"It is better to starve in freedom than to eat fat joints up the river. Today it is a question of sanity." "And you want me to assist in signing away the liberty of some person who is perfectly sane?" "The nail on the head," urbanely. "You're a fine scoundrel!" "Not so loud!" warningly.

"As loud as I please. I am not forgetting that you need me. I'm no coward. I recognize that you hold the whip hand. But you can send me to the chair before I'll crawl to you. Now, leave me alone for a while."

The other physician had no such qualms of conscience. He was ready at all times for the generous emoluments which accrued from his dealings with the man Braine. The Countess Perigoff was indisposed; so it was quite in the order of things that she should summon physicians.

There is a law in the state of New York—just or unjust, whichever you please—that reads that any person may be adjudged insane if the signa-

It Had All the Hallmarks of an Affectionate Embrace.

He understood that no one is infallible. He found the blundering policeman, who now realized that he stood in for a whiff of the commissioner's carpet. All he could do was to give a good description of the man and woman. Word was sent broadcast through the city. The police had to be informed this time.

Late in the day an officer whose beat included the ferry landing at Hoboken said he had seen the three. Everything had looked all right to him. It was the motherly face of the one and the benign countenance of the other that had blinded him.

At midnight Jones, haggard and with the air of one beaten, returned home. "No wireless yet?" asked Norton. "The George Washington of the North German Lloyd does not answer. Something has happened to her wires; tampered with, possibly."

"So long as we know they are at sea, we can remedy the evil. They will not be able to land at a single port. I have sent ten cables. They can't get away from the wire. If I could only get hold of the names of those damnable doctors who signed that document! Twenty years."

Jones bent his head in his hands, and Norton tramped the floor till the sound of his footsteps threatened to drive the moaning Susan into hysterics. "It is only a matter of a few days." "But can the child stand the terrors?" questioned Jones. "Who knows that they may not really drive her insane?"

On board the George Washington every one felt extremely sorry for this beautiful girl. It was a frightful misfortune to be so stricken at her age. "She is certainly insane," said one of the passengers, who had known Hargreave slightly through some banking business. "Hargreave wasn't married. He lived alone."

After the second day out Florence was permitted to wander about the ship as she pleased. A good many of the passengers were mightily worried when they learned that the wireless had in some mysterious way been tampered with after the boat had made the open sea. It was impossible to put about. The apparatus must be fixed at sea.

And when finally Norton's wireless caught the wires of the George Washington he was gravely informed that the young lady referred to had leaped the rail off the Banks at night and had been drowned. She had not been missed till the following morning. "It is not true!" cried Florence desperately.

"She has the hallucination that she is the daughter of the millionaire Stanley Hargreave." And Thomas exhibited his document, which was perfectly legal, so far as appearances went. "Hurry up and get her off the walk. I can't have the crowd growing any larger," said the policeman, convinced. So, despite her cries and protestations, Florence was hustled into the automobile, even the policeman lending a hand.

"For young thing!" he said to the crowd. "Come, now, move on. I can't have the walk blocked up. Get a gait on you."

He was congratulating himself upon the orderliness of the affair when a keen-eyed young man in the garb of a chauffeur touched his shoulder. "What's this I hear about an insane woman?" he demanded. "She was insane, all right. They had papers to prove it. She kept crying that she was Stanley Hargreave's daughter."

"My God!" The young man struck his forehead in despair. "You ass, she was Stanley Hargreave's daughter, and they've kidnaped her right under your nose! What was the number of that car?" "Cut out that line of talk, young fellow; I know my business. They had the proper documents."

"But you hadn't brains enough to inquire whether they were genuine or not! You wait!" shrilled the chauffeur. "I'll have you broken for this work." He wheeled and ran back to his car, to find Susan and the countess in a great state of agitation. "They got her, they got her! And I swore on the book that they never should, so long as I drove the car."

Susan wept, and the countess tried in vain to console her. And when Jones was informed he frightened even the countess with the snarl of rage which burned across his lips. He tore into the hall, seized his hat, and was gone. Not a word of reproach did he offer to the chauffeur.

He understood that no one is infallible. He found the blundering policeman, who now realized that he stood in for a whiff of the commissioner's carpet. All he could do was to give a good description of the man and woman. Word was sent broadcast through the city. The police had to be informed this time.

Late in the day an officer whose beat included the ferry landing at Hoboken said he had seen the three. Everything had looked all right to him. It was the motherly face of the one and the benign countenance of the other that had blinded him.

At midnight Jones, haggard and with the air of one beaten, returned home. "No wireless yet?" asked Norton. "The George Washington of the North German Lloyd does not answer. Something has happened to her wires; tampered with, possibly."

"So long as we know they are at sea, we can remedy the evil. They will not be able to land at a single port. I have sent ten cables. They can't get away from the wire. If I could only get hold of the names of those damnable doctors who signed that document! Twenty years."

Jones bent his head in his hands, and Norton tramped the floor till the sound of his footsteps threatened to drive the moaning Susan into hysterics. "It is only a matter of a few days." "But can the child stand the terrors?" questioned Jones. "Who knows that they may not really drive her insane?"

On board the George Washington every one felt extremely sorry for this beautiful girl. It was a frightful misfortune to be so stricken at her age. "She is certainly insane," said one of the passengers, who had known Hargreave slightly through some banking business. "Hargreave wasn't married. He lived alone."

to purchase some flour and some spuds, hoping to pay for the ready made duds, hoping to purchase a bone for the cat, some one comes cheerfully passing the bat. Passing the hat that the bums may be warm, passing the hat for some noble reform, passing the hat for the fellow who fails, passing the hat to remodel the jail, passing the hat for this or for that, some one forever is passing the hat! Dig up your bundle and hand out your roll—if you don't give you are lacking in soul! What if the feet of your children [are bare. What if your wife has no corset to wear? What if your granny is weeping for shoes? What if the grocer's demanding his dues? Some one will laugh at such logic as that some one who's merrily passing the hat! Passing the hat for pink lemonade, passing the hat for a moral crusade, passing the hat to extinguish the rat—some one forever is passing the hat! —Walt Mason.

Save Cost of Buildings.

It would be worth while for those who need buildings on their farms to consider building now rather than later because of the fact that nearly all kinds of building materials are cheap. Since war began in Europe last August investments have been interrupted and building temporarily interfered with. As a result, many mechanics have been out of work and building materials are cheaper than in normal times.

As an example of the saving by building now, the men engaged in building trades at Augusta, Georgia, are showing by their advertisements that a residence that costs $4700 ordinarily may be built now for $3900, which shows [a handsome saving in favor of building before materials advance.

This is [worth considering. Those who need larger homes, barns, outbuildings, etc., of whatever materials, could probably save considerable expense in labor and in building materials by building now. As a general principle in business, it is not a very difficult matter to obtain money for buildings where one owns the land but does not have the ready cash.

By building now, in addition to saving in the cost, employment will be given to labor and the money released for improvements will benefit every line of legitimate business.

Business is rapidly readjusting itself since confidence has been restored. Those who expect to get the benefit of cheaper materials should not delay, as it now seems evident that all kinds of business activity will be seen in a very short while.—Farm and Ranch.

Bundled Feed for Sale.

Kaffir at 3 1/2c; millet at 3c; sorghum at 2 1/2c; per bundle. See F. W. Cooksey, 15 mi. S. E. Floydada. 3tp.

Arthur B. Duncan

General Land Agent and Abstractor Floydada, Texas Buys, Sells and Leases Real estate on Commission; Renders and Pays Taxes for Non-Resident Land Owners; Investigates and Perfects Titles; Furnishes Abstracts of Title from Records; Owner of Complete Abstract of all Floyd County Lands and Town Lots; Have had 25 Years Experience with Floyd County Lands, and Land Titles; List your Lands and Town Lots with me for Sale or Lease; And give me your Abstract Title Work. Office S. E. Corner Public Address

ARTHUR B. DUNCAN Floydada

Continued Next Week.

Passing the Hat.

Passing the hat, passing the hat! Some one forever gets busy at that! Oh, it seems useless to struggle and strain, all our endeavor is hopeless and vain; when we have gathered a small, slender roll, hoping to lay in some cordwood or coal, hoping

IVERS AND HARBORS

River One of the Most Important Commercial Streams in Texas.

of the Panama Canal has given a tremendous gulf port commerce and greatly stimulated water navigation and waterway improvements in the coastal canal now in course of construction connects forming one of the most gigantic systems of commercial waterways in the world as well as drains a vast area of the most fertile land on the American continent.

There are eight large rivers on which steamboats have plied on regular schedules, many of them going as far as two or three hundred miles inland and the restoration and extension of navigable channels can be secured at a minimum cost. We have ten harbors which have received government recognition and five ports that are regularly made by ocean-going vessels.

The Brazos river is 950 miles in length and waters a valley unexcelled in fertility and in agricultural possibilities and as a commercial stream can be easily improved and cheaply maintained. The government engineers have designated Waco, which is approximately 300 miles from its source, as the head of navigation on the Brazos and the work of improving the river for light draft boats is now under way.

At the mouth of the river is Freeport with a harbor unexcelled in natural advantages by any port on the Atlantic coast and a port where no wharfage or dock charges exist. The sulphur deposits now being actively mined afford an enormous local tonnage. The deposits contain seventeen millions tons of sulphur and machinery is now being installed to develop the field to an output of 300,000 tons per annum.

The vast tonnage of the Brazos valley will empty into this port and the Interoceanic Canal will be a splendid feeder, giving the port an immense outgoing water tonnage. Three of the leading system railroads enter the port and large and extensive terminals are being built where the commerce of the Trans-Mississippi valley can be handled without congestion.

When the Brazos river is made navigable to Waco it will afford a saving of millions of dollars in freight per annum on inbound shipments as well as on originating tonnage and its advantages will be extended far into the interior, benefiting at least a million people.

Church Notes

Attending Trustees' Meeting.

Rev. G. W. Shearer attended the meeting of the trustees of Seth Ward College Tuesday and yesterday, the meeting having been called to select a successor for W. M. Pearce, whose resignation as president of the school has been accepted, effective at the close of the term.

Union Services.

Fine crowds attended the union services held in the large district court room at the court house Sunday night, and heard an able sermon from Rev. L. H. Davis. Four congregations and their pastors were present at the service.

Rev. Jewell Howard, preached

Sunday morning last at the Christian Church, filling his regular appointment for the first Sunday in the month.

Rev. G. W. Shearer preached Sunday morning at the Methodist church. He announces services again for Sunday morning and evening, and will likewise preach in the afternoon at Baker school house.

W. M. S. Program.

For Monday, March 9th.

Study subject: Conquest of the Cross over Self-Indulgence. (In temperance and the Individual.)

- 1st. Christ's missionary invitation.
 2. Song and Prayer.
 3. The properties of alcohol. (See Voice.)
 4. Alcohol and the individual.
 5. The moderate drinker.
- Mrs. H. E. Smith.
Song. Benediction.

Rev. G. I. Britain preached his farewell sermon to his congregation at Floydada last Monday evening at the Baptist Church, and a large crowd was out to hear him. Rev. Britain preached one of the strongest sermons of his twelve year's work in Floydada on that evening.

He has been one of the hardest workers among the ministers, that has ever made Floydada his home; his long years of labor here have cemented many bonds of friendship and his farewell service was the occasion of much sadness among his co-workers here.

Leave for Ochiltree.

Rev. G. I. Britain and family left for Ochiltree County, Tuesday morning, where Rev. Britain was called by the Baptist Church and will be engaged in pastoral work.

The family has resided in Floydada for about 12 years and the people of the town and community regret very much their leaving.

Says the Old Grouch.
It's the people who have no children who like to write poems about 'em.

bed—London Athenaeum.
well again and we to supper and the error to be mine, when all became silent, till I did acknowledge my fault, and so we both continued laughing, and I did fall on my back—Soon after Contagious Disease in Check.

The disease of scarlet fever which has appeared in Plainview and in a few instances in the north part of the county, is reported at present to be under check, and to date no fatalities have been reported.

County Health Officer Andrews spent Tuesday and Wednesday in the north part of the county looking over the situation and declaring quarantine wherever thought necessary.

No serious cases are reported as yet.

Improved Shiny Cloth.

To improve shiny serge or cloth lay it flat on the table and pass a piece of fine sandpaper very gently over the shiny part. The sandpaper will roughen up the nap again, but be careful not to rub too hard, as it may wear a hole in your material.

A. E. Barkemeyer, of Floydada, has bought the Slover section six miles northwest of Tulia. It is one of the oldest improved sections in the county and the new owner is delighted with the splendid prospects now showing up for Swisher county development.—Tulia Enterprise.

Use Sea Water in Baking.

The local papers are complaining about the size of the bread sold by the Iroquois bakers, who, besides charging two and one-half cents for a loaf of bread of 22 grams weight, it is said are using sea water in their bakeries.—From the West Coast Leader, Lima, Peru.

CATTLEMEN SWING FOR AMENDMENT

BIGGEST AGRICULTURAL LEADERS IN TEXAS ANNOUNCE FOR BETTER EDUCATION.

ALL MEASURES ARE GOOD

Amendment to Sections 49 and 52 of Article 3 Will Help Put Texas on Map of Progress.

Fort Worth, Texas.—In a communication to the state at large the executive committee of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas swings its influence for the educational and good roads bond amendment to the constitution. The statement of the committee is signed by every officer and practically every executive committeeman and follows:

"To the Cattle Raisers of Texas and to all Other Citizens:

"The officers and members of the executive committee of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas, whose names are undersigned, urge every voter to support at the polls the amendment to the state constitution, sections 49 and 52 of article 3.

"This amendment will allow the legislature to enact a law permitting the University of Texas and the Agricultural and Mechanical College to erect buildings much needed at this time. Without this amendment, it will be impossible legally to meet this urgent necessity. These bonds will be refunded from the income of the University's endowment and will not cost the people a cent.

"The amendment further authorizes the legislature to issue bonds for the other state educational, charitable, and penal institutions. These institutions, like the university and the college, have not sufficient buildings to house inmates safely.

"This amendment also gives to any 'political subdivision' the state to issue bonds, upon a vote of the tax payers of the subdivision, for the improvement of navigation, prevention of overflow, the construction of irrigation enterprises, the building of good roads, and the improvement and maintenance of public buildings.

"In our opinion, all of these measures are good ones and will benefit the people of the state.

"This amendment will be voted at the polls in a special election for July 19. We urge every voter to vote in its favor."

These men signed: M. McFadden, president, D. Jackson, first vice president, John Landrum, president, Amarillo; J. T. Pryor, honorary vice president, Fort Worth; Ed C. ... president, Fort Worth; ... honorary vice president, ... Davidson, Fort Worth; ... Fort Worth; ... Fort Worth; Jno. M. ... nolds, ... Angelo; ... Pyle, ... Amarillo; ... Cook, ... Hal D. ... Cotulla; ... R. Schramm, ... ecutive ... social ...

O. E. P. Monday

Tourists An
Save 24 Hours. East
South Plai
Floydada--R
Auto
The Rou
and the Q. A. & P. to Fort points. Also quickest Ro northeast. Good cars, sur vice; and a saving in tim route
W. R. COPE, Mgr.

We Weld

Broken cylinders, crank-ca
Let us remedy your electric sta troubles. We charge storage ba netize magnetoes. We carry in st glasses, windshields complete, n magnetos and coils, magneto spar platinum points, and more than 20 and Timken bearings. These are st and will fit a large number of cars.
complete stock of parts for Overland

Egge-Corlett Aut
PLAINVIEW TEXAS
OVERLAND DISTRIBUTORS

You Need a Tonic

There are times in every woman's life when needs a tonic to help her over the hard pl
When that time comes to you, you know what to take—Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is c posed of purely vegetable ingredients, which gently, yet surely, on the weakened womanly orga and helps build them back to strength and heal
It has benefited thousands and thousands of we ailing women in its past half century of wonder success, and it will do the same for you.

GARDUI

The Woman
Miss Amelia Wilson
says: "I think Cardui
for women. Before so weak and spells and a
as strong Begin

s This?
dred Dollars cannot be Toledo, O.
F. J.
st 15 years,
in all business
to carry out any
BANK OF COMME
Toledo, O.
Cure is taken is serf free. Price 75
ills for constipation.

A BEAUTIFUL
COMPLEXION
AND SMOOTH,
Pretty Hands
ARE INVALUABLE

Triplett's Face And Hand Lotion olutely Pure and Harmless. Will prove a boon to rried by sunburns, tan, chapped skin, etc. Ap required by the directions, it leaves the skin white and firm. Non-greasy, does not leave a pearance, will not tend to cause growth of hair.
llent skin food. Call for a three ounce bottle the e you call. Only 25 cents. Prepared by T. B. Triplett, Expressly for

FLOYDADA Drug Co.
51 Floydada, Texas

CHOICE SEEDS
catalog now ready, and free for king.
will bring it.

21st

MILLINERY OPE

Returning to Floydada, our thoughts returned to hats. We soon for away to market, to select a new stock of millinery. In no season we rec great or the hats so picturesque. There are tiny hats, flat hats, high l made up of the handsomest materials and the richest trimmings. To th supplemented the new shades of nigger brown, sapphire and tango hues, whic attractive. In buying our line of millinery we have selected a beautiful line of sas City, Dallas, and Chicago, all built along Fashion's latest lines. Yet some r pattern hat in the shape and color that is best fitted to their faces. Our experi ing in the millinery business will prove to you that we can plan and make a ha suited to you at a reasonable price. In short our hats are right, prices right and ou when we say right, we mean right for you—right for our customers.

To prove to you that we will be glad to see all our old friends, and customers, as well as all our new ones, we entering our store on opening days, March 20th and 21st, with a useful gift. "Welcome" is the hinge that h

At Their Old Stand on East Side of Square.

Johnston Millinery

FLOYD COUNTY
IAN
Thursday by
Pub. Co.
Ed—Mgr.
smaller April 20
Floydada, Texas
ss of March 3
tion.
in advance $1.00
in advance .50
g Rates.
inch, per month. 4
inch, single issue.
per line for first inser
line for each subse
on.
e price.
ot specified all advertis
e run until ordered ou
accordingly.
TIME TABLE,
nd East Bound
02 Train No. 801
Arrives
5: p. m.

comfortable. A fly never has a come-back after the swat has been applied. On with the battle. Swat the fly.

New Evening Paper For Dallas.
APRIL first, A. H. Belo & Co., publishers of the Dallas Morning News, will begin the publication of an evening Daily in Dallas,—The Evening Journal which will be issued every week-day but not Sunday.

The publishers declare that the Journal will neither be a duplicate nor an echo of the Dallas News, having its own independent staff, though having advantage of the News' equipment and organization.

The Journal should be an instant success.

THE BLANKET Signal tells of a young lady stenographer of Chicago, aged 19, who has been offered $500,000 by an uncle if she gets married within a year.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The editorial fraternity is noted for its gallantry and attention to the lightest wish of the fair sex, but the above case presents complications, most of our western editors having already entered bonds of wedlock. We earnestly commend this young lady Steep of Floyd County Post City Post.

what are you wouldn't on our hand-goes off after the corporation harlot, he is forever branded. Back up, gentlemen.—Hereford Brand.

Tom Ball is as good a Democrat or as bad a one, as there is in the state of Texas, owing to the point of view.

Present indications are that he will be the next governor of the state, notwithstanding, however.

Doctors tell of a day not far off when everybody will vaccinate against the typhoid fever the same as against small pox and measles. Meanwhile it might be well to fight the typhoid fly.

The Encouraging Business.

It is extremely hard for an editor not to encourage a man when he wants to run for office. The editor is humane and hates to hurt a man's feelings by telling him not to run, and then there is ten dollars good hard cash in it for the paper that always looks good. If there are any prospective candidates that can't get the needed encouragement elsewhere we cordially invite them to call at The News office. We are in the encouraging business.—Matador Messenger.

Same here, pard. We have encouraged some ten or fifteen to date, and still have some encouragement left.

Darseys Retire Drug Business

Triplet is Now Proprietor of the Leading Businesses of Town.

D. P. and C. C. Darsey have for the past two years been engaged in the Drug Business in Floydada under the name of the Floydada Drug Co. They have sold their business to Triplet, the latter to take effect on March 1st.

They have been engaged in the business for the past two years, being the Floydada Drug Co. Triplet is a well known drug merchant in the city. The business is a little expensive. The business is one of the leading stores in the city. Mr. Darsey is the same as will all like interests continue to though d their

FLOYD County "Mortgage" L

Sheep raising is an industry that is proving a paying one to some 15 farmers in Floyd

75 Carloads of threshed maize besides the headed feed were shipped from this county this year, selling at an average of $1.30 per hundred.

Mule Buyers from all portions of the southwest visit Floyd County annually; many carloads of finest mules are raised every year.

