Hey-Day Was A Humdinger

By every yardstick, Haskell County's first annual Hey-Day was a humdinger. It left no doubt in the minds of all who participated that the event has the ingredients for institutional stature as an annual countywide event to which all eight communities within our boundaries can point with justifiable pride.

What was done here last Saturday on comparatively short notice is nothing short of phenomenal. The climax pageantry depicting our heritage, the theater-in-the-round Saturday night, is a testimonial to dedication, cooperation, and, above all, courage.

For this newspaper to try to name the individuals who should be thanked for the success of Hey-Day would be an interminable task. So we won't start. Right there is the meat of the cocoon in our opinion.

The long hours and hard work given to Hey-Day by so many were not given so cheerfully and enthusiastically with any thought of personal glory or gain. They were done "for the good of the order," our order, the community of friends and neighbors that is Haskell County.

We of the Haskell Free Press believe with all within us we are correct in saying that the experience of Hey-Day could well be the sharp signal of the start of a new era of development in Haskell County. Hey-Day was a proving ground of what concerted countywide cooperation can accomplish. And all else we need besides that cooperation is the courage.

Concerning that, we invite your attention to the editorial hereinafter.

But Never for Lack of Courage

The indomitable late Gene Howe, known as "Old Tack," who wrote a column that was the by-word of Panhandle people for years, "The Tactless Texan," has left an enduring monument inscribed over the main door to the physical plant of the Amarillo Daily News-Globe Times, the hard core of which is the product of his perseverance. It says:

"A NEWSPAPER MAY BE FORGIVEN FOR LACK OF WISDOM BUT NEVER FOR LACK OF COURAGE."

A dear friend of ours, also a newspaperman, a wizard in the mechanical "back shop" side, which is the marrow of the business, works at that sterling newspaper. He told us recently he gets a lift when walking through the portals of the News and Globe-Times because "Not only do I consider that most fitting for the newspaper profession, but it also has its place in individual philosophy and conduct."

We unreservedly endorse that.

In connection with taking courageous stands, it comes to our attention weekly as we endeavor to peruse the brittle pages of the Free Press of 30 years ago, that the courage was here then. In fact, this town got off to a scintillating start.

We have noted with intense interest that some of the same projects that were heralded by the Free Press then in behalf of community development are still being suggested today, 30 years later.

Where did the courage go? Fifty years ago, the Free Press was plugging for a "tabernacle" to house its most successful singing conventions. So far as we know, it was never built. Today, the crying need still is for a place of assembly. A concerted effort on the part of all the service clubs working together could get THAT job done.

The landmark depot project now moving with accelerated strides could be expanded to satisfy this need. Let's strive together toward that end in the achievement of it.

A most discerning man of lofty reputation told Haskell Rotarians only last week that "there is no limit to what you can do" as a community. He pointed out that a town the size of Haskell has "achieved things that have been nothing short of miraculous."

In striving to strike a spark to kindle a fire for development in this town, we note with regret, and history backs us up, that there are far too many stand-patters here. Mention of the immortal Gene Howe reminds us of what he once said about a rival city to the southeast of Amarillo: "What it needs is about 10 good funerals, and it'll be all right." It can be said that history proved him true, but who's to say which funerals helped. Only the principals of the passing know that for themselves.

We are not so crusty as to advocate demises in our midst, but Haskell as a town and Haskell County are going to continue to lead a funeral existence if we don't wake up and move, that it might live.

Let's not allow progress to ebb from our existence here. That's what it is... existence as differentiated from really living as a thriving, throbbing community.

It is a difference that is measured in courage.

Oakescripts A Pencil Pusher's Potpourri

By PORTER

The spectacle which was unfolded before the eyes of the crowds who milled our park in Haskell Saturday afternoon and evening should erase from the minds of the narrow-minded, now and forever more, any doubt about what a community, or a county, no matter how small or sparsely numbered, can do when it has spunk, spizerintum, and is joined-as-one in purpose. As is declared elsewhere on this page, Hey-Day was a humdinger, opening the way for a heyday as a way of life for Haskell County in our time.

We are proud, inexpressibly proud, of each and all who gave so much of themselves to its smashing success. Now that we've got things going "on a downhill pull" cooperation wise, let's work the year 'round on the same plan for the common good.

The Pencil Pusher has been asked by many if he is going to do anything about George Doan of the Fort Worth Star Telegram calling him a "blabbermouth" on Page One. Yes, siree, we surely are, and already have. We thanked him, because it was a compliment. Besides, as any good libel lawyer will advise, the truth is a defense in such a statement.

Folks who had other fish to fry at the time of the Haskell-Knox Baptist Brotherhood's panning and sizzling session at Lake Stamford last Thursday night missed something fellowship wise. And the inspiration provided by Dr. Bill Tanner, of Houston, as he talked from the heart about true Christian living to several hundred men sitting on the ground on the lake shore produced a stirring in the soul of this observer who couldn't help but feel that another scene on another day beside a sea called Galilee must have been in a similar setting. We are grateful to those who asked us to go, and to Charlie Swinson for undertaking the "responsibility." And the fellowship of our carload which included men of several denominations, all striving for the same destination, we pray, was also an inspiration in itself. In our car, in addition to "Vas you dere, Sharhe?" (the usually is) were J. M. Crawford, Dr. J. G. Vaugter, and Jack Medford, a fearsome foursome, and it was a pleasure to do conversational business with them.

Saturday, while we were orbiting and sending copy and pictures off on buses trying to tell the world about Haskell County's Hey-Day, we were patten' a foot in Blohm's Studio briefly while Mr. and Mrs. Blohm, that ingratiating and cooperative couple, performed near-miracles for us on photo service. As we stood behind a couple cooking like they were married yesterday, they were trying to select the best-liked of several photo proofs. Said the man, finally, "Mama, I like this one of you best, because it's the one that looks like you do most of the time... all pucker'd up."

The picture, which did show the lady either about to kiss or whistle, was the Golden Anniversary picture of a couple from Monday. Just proves the golden years are the best ones. Long may they pucker and whistle.

We had occasion to buy a small bottle of castor oil the other day. It wasn't for yours truly, even if we did eat all the Hey-Day barbecue in sight. This delicacy cost 60 cents, and one of the Brothers Payne said he could remember when he sold many a bottle of it for a dime. Just have to pay more for your misery these days.

Seeing an Apalachicola, Florida, dateline on the story about the two Laredo men who ran into trouble on a boating trip across the Gulf of Mexico reminded us of one of our college buddies in Kentucky, a football playin' juggernaut. He was half-Irish and half-Italian and red-headed, in more ways than one.

His name was Genaro Zingarelli from Apalachicola, Florida. And when he got through writing his name and address, he was most too tired to do anything else. Except play football.

A recent comment was made in the Free Press that our publisher is so enamored of horse-flesh that were it possible, he probably would like to replace the personnel with them. They'd have to be plow horses.

Fellow told us that when Vicki McClure married into the Josselot family, she surely would have to curb her tongue. That only leaves five families in Haskell County about whom she can talk now.

Did you hear what the large bosomed woman said when she was trying on a too-small undergarment, one of the necessities of life? "My cup runneth over."

On a recent Sunday afternoon

Haskell County History

30 YEARS AGO

(August 3, 1905)
Good rains have fallen over most of the county the past week, ranging from one to three inches. A hailstorm accompanying the rain did considerable damage Sunday night in the Weinert section.

A. M. Turner, of Jayton, has accepted the position of active vice president of the Farmers and Merchants State Bank and assumed his new duties the first of this week.

Otho Cass is here this week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Cass. He came by plane from Bird City, Kansas, where he is employed.

Mrs. Irene Ballard, and children, Labry and Helen, returned from a two weeks visit with relatives and friends in Wichita Falls, Medicine Park, Okla., and Archer City.

Mr. and Mrs. V. S. Payne, of Abernathy, spent the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Wheatley, in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wilson, of Breckenridge, are here to spend a few days with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Robertson and Mrs. H. S. Wilson. They were on their way to Scott Crossing and kept going, the fence-line route, which was interesting, especially for a newcomer to this territory, and wound up at Leuders, two hours and forty miles later. Don't ask us how. But it was an interesting trip as one can take, in the southeastern part of the county. Only got snarled up completely once. We think it was on one of the Cobbs' property, where we had to back-track. Our destination was Leuders, not by paved road, and we made it, navigatin' by the seat of our pants, Air Force style. Didn't see one varmint. Didn't get shot at either.

After that trip, which was not so wild, but in wooly country, with lots of scenic shinnery, we figured if a Haskell County lass had occasion to tell her boy friend to "get lost" in that country, he could. No wonder the varmint, or varmints, are still at large. Now we know how Brooks Middleton got the way he is, too. It's uncontrollable country.

Oakescript: Friend of ours says the countdown for women astronauts will go like this: 9.88... 8.98... 7.98.

30 YEARS AGO
(August 3, 1905)
J. W. Meadors, of Amarillo, is here visiting the family of his son, V. W. Meadors. The Amarillo man was an early-day settler here, and lived in this section many years before moving to Amarillo.

At the recent Texas Cowboy Reunion in Stamford, Walter Cousins, historian of the reunion, was presented one of this section's famous cow horses, "El Diablo." The horse was given Mr. Cousins by Swenson Land and Cattle Company.

Two Rule men were injured in an automobile accident near Albany yesterday, when their car went out of control and overturned several times, throwing both men out of the vehicle. J. H. Chapin, 48, and his son-in-law, G. W. Hawks, were taken to Stamford Sanitarium with serious injuries.

50 YEARS AGO
(August 2, 1913)

Tax Assessor J. W. Tarbet has made quite a reputation for his skill with a rock. While passing Jake Simmons' home in this city a few days ago, he observed a chicken hawk sitting on the flue of Mr. Simmons' dugout. Picking up a rock, Mr. Tarbet threw and killed the hawk.

Thinking his youthful days were on the return, he has been trying to perform all sorts of ridiculous feats ever since he killed the hawk. He has gotten several bad falls jumping ditches and fences.

He will attempt to pitch a ball game as soon as he can organize a nine.

F. G. Alexander Page One Ad. We offer as long as it lasts, one lot of Linen torchon lace at five cents per yard.

J. O. Stark of the south side left Monday for a visit to his father in Bell County.

Judge S. W. Scott has purchased a Mitchell auto from Mr. Whately. The car is 50 horsepower and has the latest attachments.

W. E. Penick is operating the Haskell-Rule auto line. He leaves Haskell at 10 a. m. for Rule. All orders for passengers should phone Marvin's Garage.

J. M. Radford Grocery Co., of Stamford, lost their whole sale building and stock Wednesday evening by fire.

Mrs. Alice Nolen visited Mrs. Da Costa Nolen in Weinert on Saturday.

Eugene Williams, Paul Zahn and Mr. W. P. McCarty left Saturday for College Station to attend the Farmers' Congress.

George Foster of this place and R. L. Vick of Rule went to the carriers' convention at Bryan.

J. S. Boone has returned from Fort Worth where he has been shipping some cattle to Hockley County for his son, Dudley Boone.

60 YEARS AGO
(August 1, 1903)

M. H. Gossett and family left Thursday for Seymour, where he has leased and will run the McLean Hotel, which is one of the best hotels in West Texas.

Miss Maud Hunt left Wednesday for Comanche, I. T., where she will visit her brother.

Byron Wright was up from Stamford Sunday visiting home folks.

Our old townsman and once prominent cattleman of this section, A. H. Tandy, now of Woodward, I. T., was here this week.

Claud Maloney came in on Wednesday night from King County, where he has been employed for some time on the 8 Ranch.

J. M. Wood of the Marcy neighborhood brought to town Thursday two young cats, one of which he captured a week ago after killing the old cat. They were something of a curiosity to some of our newest citizens, but most oldtimers had seen the varmints in their natural habitat.

George Williamson, one of the oldest citizens of the county, and well thought of because of his quiet and peaceable life, left Wednesday for the San Angelo country where he will engage in his old business of sheep raising. The farms were getting too thick in Haskell County to suit his ideas.

Roy Cummings now has control of the ice business in Haskell, which he will operate in connection with his cold drink and ice cream stand.

Henry Cooner and family of the Cliff neighborhood were here Wednesday trading with Haskell merchants.

With a force of 26 cowboys, J. A. Bailey has been out the past week branding cattle. They put the irons to 1,248 head.

Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Hunt left Tuesday on a visit to relatives at Alvord. They may extend their visit to points in Kentucky before returning home.

Johnny Thomason, who has been up in Indian Territory at Chickasha running a cold drink stand, has returned home and will come here to attend school. He says Chickasha is

Haskell Among Fortunate Few In Moisture Content

Haskell completed the first half of 1903 with almost an inch more moisture than is normal for the period January through June, a record that is shared by only a fortunate few points in Northwest and North Central Texas.

An official 1.25 inches of welcomed rain was dumped on Haskell, and apparently a broad area around here, late Saturday, July 13, and early Sunday, July 14, according to Weatherman Herren. Up to 1.52 inches was recorded elsewhere in town. Rule measured 2 inches.

Coupled with the 1.22 inches received the afternoon of July 3, and 1.11 inches Monday afternoon Haskell had a moisture total of 3.58 inches for the month—not bad for July.

Weatherman S. M. Herren here said the June total of 1.85 inches of moisture was short of the 3.20 normal for last month, but Haskell remained ahead on the year because of the extraordinarily damp May, when almost nine inches of precipitation was recorded.

Haskell's total rainfall through June 30 has been 15.40 inches, while the normal is 14.42. This is the official rain gauge report. More rain usually has fallen this year in mid-town Haskell than at the weather station monitored by Herren on the north edge of town.

If Haskellites think they got hot a couple of times during June, their "personal thermometers" were operational, Herren said. The thermometer hit 100 degrees twice, on June 10th

Letters to the Editor

4005 Santa Ana Drive, El Paso 2, Texas July 18, 1963

Dear Mr. Oakes, In the July 11th edition of the Free Press, I read of the interest in the "Vanishing Varmint" by the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram.

I thought it just as interesting that another "Vanishing Varmint" story hit our morning paper (enclosed was two-column story at top of page about "Haskell Man"). I refer, of course, to Stanley Furrh and Bill Tanner.

Please let Stanley know how famous he is. Thank you for your time. Sincerely, Mrs. Charles L. Orndorff, (better known at home as Rose Ann Johnson)

(Editor's Note: Mrs. Orndorff, "Vanishing Varmint" Furrh is finding out daily from every section of the country how famous he is. And the tongues are still waggin' about his wagon tongue. He's seriously considering capitalizing on this publicity by running for office or somethin'. You know Stanley. We have duly delivered the clipping you sent, and thank you kindly.)

Luther League At Sagerton Staging Hilarious Show

A three-act comedy sponsored by the Luther League of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Sagerton will be staged in the Sagerton School auditorium on Thursday and Friday, August 1 and 2, at 8 p. m.

The play is an exaggerated comedy based on broadly humorous situations by Edith Loring, a noted playwright. It has a cast of ten players and is packed with laughs.

The public is invited. There is no admission, but a free-will offering will be taken. The proceeds of the play will be used to support Bible Camp registrations for Luther Leaguers.

Mrs. Claude Ashley Talks On "Women Of Bible" at WMU

A devotional, "Women of the Bible," was the highlight of the July meeting of the Eleanor Howell WMU Circle of the First Baptist Church, which was held in the Fielding Rest Home. Mrs. Claude Ashley presented the devotional conveying graphic views on many women of the Bible, and also led a singsong with Mrs. Troy Ash at the piano.

Leadership Subject Of Panel Talks At Pinkston Circle

Mrs. Elmer Turner was hostess for a recent meeting of the Florence Pinkston Circle of the WMU. Mrs. Flossie Rogers presided as circle chairman for the business session. Mrs. Turner gave the devotional, and Mrs. Edna Brown gave the prayer for the work of missionaries.

County HD Clubs To Hold Auction On August 23

At a meeting of the Center Point Home Demonstration Club recently it was announced that the four clubs of the county will jointly hold an auction on August 23 with each member bringing merchandise for the sale. Seven 4-H girls from Mattson modeled dresses they had made, and a report was given concerning the Center Point Club's representation at Rally Day at Gilleland.

Rainbow Sewing Club Has Spirited Singing Session

Mrs. W. E. Johnson was the hostess for a recent meeting of the Rainbow Sewing Club. Opening thought for the day was given by Mrs. Virgie Dunwoody. President Stella Josselot, Annie Thomas, and Zada Smith handled the business of the meeting, and a round of applause went to Mrs. Smith for having accomplished the most sewing.

Mrs. Robertson, Pioneer Citizen, Was Here 45 Years Association Votes Improvements At Rule Cemetery

Mrs. Frankie Plants Robertson, 80, who died in Denton on July 21 and was buried in Willow Cemetery here Tuesday, July 23, was a 45-year resident of Haskell and the widow of a pioneer business operator here. Mrs. Robertson moved to Denton in December, 1914, following her husband's death on Feb. 4, 1913. The longtime Haskell citizen, who was a church leader and also taught school, died in Flow Memorial Hospital in Denton at 12:30 p. m. Sunday, July 21, after an illness of two days. Funeral services were held on Tuesday morning, July 23, at the First Presbyterian Church in Denton with the Reverend Martin H. Thomas and the Reverend James B. Storey officiating. The body was brought overland to Haskell, where graveside rites were conducted by the Reverend David Duncan, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Throckmorton, at Willow Cemetery, with Holden's Funeral Home in charge. Pallbearers were Reynolds Wilson, Belton Duncan, Marvin Hancock, Charlie Conner, Jason Smith, and Rajah Hassen. Honorary pallbearers were Travis J. Arbuckle, Earnie Bernard, Judge Ben Charlie Chapman, Austin Coburn, Carlton Couch, Wallace Cox, Sr., Dennis P. Ratliff, W. P. Ratliff, Robert J. Reynolds, Charles Swinson, and Dr. T. W. Williams. Mrs. Robertson was baptized and confirmed in the Episcopal Church at an early age. During her long residence in Haskell, she was active in the Presbyterian Church, serving in many capacities including that of Sunday School teacher. Born in Concho County on February 28, 1883, she was the daughter of Galen S. Plants and Fannie Agnes Cooke Plants. Mrs. Robertson was one of six children, two of whom are still living. With her parents, she moved to Seymour in March, 1900, and attended Seymour public schools, St. Mary's College in Dallas, and North Texas State University, Denton. She taught school in Guthrie, Texas and piano in Seymour. Later, Mrs. Robertson was a substitute teacher in Haskell Public Schools for many years. She and Robert V. Robertson were married on June 27, 1906, and lived in Seymour until 1909 when they moved to Haskell, at which time Mr. Robertson established the dry goods and grocery business in which both were active for many years. Survivors include Mrs. Henry S. Wilson, Amarillo; Mrs. Herbert H. Decker, Conroe; two brothers, George S. Plants and Raymond C. Plants, Seymour; two granddaughters, Mrs. Walter J. Pratt, and Miss Gerildine Wilson, both of Amarillo; and one great-granddaughter, Diane Pratt, of Amarillo.

Co-Op Compress, Warehouse Plans Are Under Study

Dreams of a cooperative warehouse and compress for cotton ginneries in this area seemed closer to fruition following a meeting in Knox City Monday night, cotton men who attended, reported Tuesday. Talk of such an enterprise long has been heard in this area, but out of the Knox City meeting came the feeling that crystallization of some definite plans may be imminent, according to H. K. Henry, of Haskell.

Representatives of area cooperative gins assembled in Knox City Monday night to explore the possibilities of a cooperative warehouse and compress. The organization setting up such facilities also would be connected with one of the cooperative marketing organizations on selling cotton, it was explained. At Monday night's meeting A. D. May, of Rule, was named president of an organization formed after the talks, and E. A. Shafer, of Rochester, was elected vice president.

WESTS OF RULE PASS EPIPOST OF MARRIAGE

not long ago. And Mrs. Ardie West, one half the marital team, said she thinks chances are good she and her husband may break the marriage marathon record compiled by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ray, also longtime Haskell County residents, who lived past their 67th wedding anniversary on November 22, 1950.

The biggest thrill the 79-year-old Mrs. West has received in her busy life was that of having her own father and mother help her and Mr. West "celebrate our 50th anniversary" on July 7, 1951, "and not many times has that happened with parents and children."

Her interviewer hastily concurred.

Mr. and Mrs. West, the former now 84, are the parents of Sam West, who was quite a star for the Washington Senators not so many years ago. Sam now owns and operates a sporting goods store in Lubbock.

When the Wests passed Number 62 earlier this month, all the children were home for the occasion. They were married at Eagle Springs, in Coryell County in 1901 by the Reverend Johnny McClain, a Baptist minister.

Mr. West was born at Cornersville near Holly Springs, Miss., in 1879. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. John T. West. They moved to McGregor in 1897.

Mrs. West was born at Ashland, Clay County, Alabama, in 1884. She came to Moody in Bell County with her parents in 1892, and grew up there, finishing high school at Whitson.

Dora Ray West and her husband moved to Haskell County in 1905, became the parents of four boys and two girls. They lived on a farm at Jud for 29 years. They bought a farm two miles north of Rule in 1925, and lived there until Mr. West retired at the age of 80 and moved to Rule in 1950.

When the Wests came to Haskell County, they rode a train from Moody to Stamford, and rode to what was then Old Marcy near present-day Rochester in a covered wagon.

Present for the recent anniversary get-together were Mr. and Mrs. Sam West, of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. A. Y. West and two grandsons, of Carlsbad, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Todd and family, of Dick Swinney and family, of Wichita Falls; C. W. West and two daughters, of Rule; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reddell, of Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. Jim White, of Hobbs, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Anderson, Brownfield; Mr. and Mrs. W. T. West, Sam, Barbara, and Tam, of Lubbock; Mrs. Ola West, of Ed Couch; Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Ray, of Rochester; Mr. and Mrs. D. Y. Ray, of Olton; Mr. and Mrs. Lester C. Burk, of Seymour; Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Michaels, of Rochester; and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Lee and grandson, of Abilene.

"We might as well keep swinging," Mrs. West said, employing an expression obviously picked up from her baseball star son, "and stick around for the golden wedding anniversaries of some of our very own, like my parents did ours."

With the strength this "battery" has in the late innings, it'll be a long time yet before their game of life is over.

Bird Hunters Are Invited To Try Novel Trapshoot

A Sportsman's "Continental Trapshoot" novel to this territory, and staged to interest bird hunters in the art of trapshooting, is slated to be held at the Haskell Gun Club's traps August 17-18, Wallace Wooten, president, announced Saturday.

In the "continental" shoot, participants are required to keep the butt of the shotgun below the belt line, in typical hunter fashion, until the signal to "pull" is given by the line-toe to the traps operator, Wooten explained. "It really makes for some exciting shooting," the gun club president here said.

A Calcutta purse will be set up for the two-day event in Haskell, and heavy participation is anticipated, Wooten said. Trapshooters and hunters desiring to enter should contact Wooten at the Wooten Oil Company in Haskell.

New Projects Under Study By Rule C of C

A number of community betterment projects were outlined at the July meeting of the Rule Chamber of Commerce held in the private dining room of the Bluebonnet Cafe there.

A. R. Eaton, president, was in charge of a business meeting at which the prospective purchase of the American Legion Hall in Rule by the City for renovation as a Community Center was taken under advisement.

The Rule chamber also plans a membership drive, and a dollar or trades day to stimulate traffic at the mercantile houses was discussed.

Progress of these projects will be reported at the August meeting the third Tuesday night in the month.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Residents Of Haskell and Haskell County Will Be Contacted To Explain

American Republic Tailored* Protection

LEARN THE FACTS ABOUT

The Secret of Buying Hospital Insurance that PAYS

DOCTOR BILLS often are a big part of the expense connected with a sickness or accident. An American Republic Plan can help pay these bills for you in time of need.

SURGEONS' BILLS, TOO, can wreck a family budget. An American Republic Plan can help pay the costs of operations. Look for the man who can explain these plans to you.

HOSPITAL EXPENSES have been going up at the rate of nearly 1% a month since 1950. An American Republic Plan can help pay these bills when you need money most.

On its record of paying claims—the most important way to judge any insurance company—American Republic ranks Number One among the "Top 40" firms in its field. The few minutes it takes you to learn about American Republic "Tailored" Protection may be worth hundreds of dollars to you—at a time when you may need every cent you can lay your hands on!

Today, eight out of ten families have some kind of hospital, surgical or medical insurance. But the need for this type of protection is greater than ever. Hospital and medical care costs have been going up nearly 1% each month since 1950. If your present policy is two years old or older, and was adequate when you bought it, the chances are good that you need more coverage right now.

With over 900 companies writing individual accident and health insurance, how can you choose the company that's best for you? Experts say the best way is to ask: What is the company's record for paying claims?

According to the latest available issue of the Statistical Edition and Argus Chart of the National Underwriter Company, publishers of official insurance statistics since 1897:

Of the top 40 companies writing individual accident and health insurance, American Republic Insurance Company of Des Moines, Iowa, ranks FIRST in percent of premium dollars paid to policyholders in claim benefits.

American Republic policyholders also enjoy the important benefits of TAILORED Protection. This feature makes it possible for qualified people OF ALL AGES to have up-to-date health insurance protection—and, at the same time, avoid buying coverage they may not want or need.

Even if you already have hospitalization insurance, American Republic TAILORED Protection can start where your present coverage leaves off. And it pays fully stated benefits in addition to any amounts you may collect from any other health insurance policy you may now have.

American Republic Representatives are now contacting residents of this community to explain American Republic TAILORED Protection. One of these representatives will call on you soon. Watch for him.

FREE FILM SHOWING IN YOUR OWN HOME

Fully-qualified, specially-trained American Republic Representatives are pledged to show an educational and informative color film to all residents of this county. The American Republic TAILORED Protection Plans will be fully explained and will be available to all who qualify.

"Do you know the difference between unlawful and illegal?" Hugh Mathis down at Preston's Super Market asked me the other day. To which I replied, "I do Hugh, but go ahead and give me your version." To which he quipped: "Unlawful is against the law. Illegal (ill legal) is a sick bird. The joke is kinda' sick, too, Hugh."

Another very successful "Little League" season has rolled by. Some of the Umpires and Managers drew some criticism—most of which was unjust. After all, they are only human and are going to make mistakes, and by the way, who doesn't?

We should always keep in mind that the men who serve as managers or officials, do so simply because of the love of the game, and for the boys... and because they have been asked to serve.

Parents, fans, managers, and umpires should realize that Little League was originated and organized for the boys (not for parents and fans), to teach the youngsters how to play the game, and to furnish the boys with good, clean, wholesome recreation during the summer months.

It has been called to this scribe's attention that some hard feelings existed because of some of the decisions of the officials during the recently-ended season. The only reward the managers and officials hope to get is perhaps just a little appreciation for their untiring efforts.

As I said in my column several weeks ago, Little League should not be taken too seriously by the players, or the fans for it is not so much whether we win or lose, but how we play the game.

Congratulations to all who had a part in making the Little League season a successful one. Let us remember that "Little League" was originated and organized for the boys... let's always keep it that way.

An elderly gentleman, while shopping recently at Wheatley's, pulled out an old, snap coin purse and wanted to know if they had anything like it. To which the clerk replied: "No, we have billfolds, but not a purse like that one you have, because it is an antique." To which the customer said: "No, this purse is not an antique, it's just got a hole in it."

A small newspaper advertisement of less than 150 words launched the city of Richmond, Virginia. It ran in the Virginia Gazette at Williamsburg 217 years ago and was signed by William Byrd, who offered lots on the James River to those who would build houses on them. The newspaper of today, whether helping to establish a town or sell a sack of potatoes, its columns are dedicated to the proposition that trade and a free press keeps prosperity going in our democracy.

Fall of the year is just around the corner and my memory floats back to many by-gone days. I remember the times I crawled out of bed long before daylight, climbed into a soft, fluffy, hand-picked bale of cotton and headed to the gin with my Dad.

In those days we knew nothing of boll pulling... all the cotton was picked and my Dad was a stickler for a clean, white bale of cotton. In fact, many is the time I have seen him get into the wagon and pick out all the trash that had gotten by the weighing-in and emptying process.

Despite the fact we arrived early at the gin we would at times have to wait long hours before our cotton was ginned. In between times, Dad would take me up-town (Santa Anna, Texas), and treat me to all the ice cream, red soda pop, and cracker-jacks I could hold, and then buy me some all-day suckers and jaw-breakers to take home... this would have to last me until another trip to the gin.

If everything went according to Hoyle we would arrive back home around supper time. Mother would have a big plate of those delicious fried fruit pies for us and after all these years when I get to thinking about it, I can still get "whufs" of those golden, brown pies, with fresh apples and juice "oozing" through.

Other never-to-be-forgotten "smells" down on the farm were... wheat straw after a summer rain... the crisp, biting air on the heels of a fresh fallen snow... slow, burning wood in the old pot-bellied stove... the open camp fire on

Haskell Man With Valorous Combat Record Dies at 47

Nathan D. (Pete) Harrell, 47, a native of Haskell and a decorated veteran of World War II, who received one of the nation's highest awards for valor, died Saturday, July 29, in Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco. Harrell, who had been wounded in combat and received the Distinguished Service Cross as well as the Purple Heart, retired after 20 years in the service in September, 1961.

Born March 7, 1916, in Haskell County, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan H. Harrell, he was the second of seven children, four of whom are still living.

Harrell entered the Army in September, 1941, and was a prisoner of the Japanese 42 months during World War II. He transferred from the Army to the Air Force after World War II.

Military funeral with honors was held for the Haskell native at San Bruno National Cemetery on Wednesday, July 24. An honor guard from Hamilton Air Force Base, California, served at the funeral.

Survivors include his wife, Jean, and an adopted daughter, Bonnie, of the home in San Jose, Calif.; a step-daughter, Vicki, of Okinawa; a step-son, Johnny; his mother, Mrs. Lucille Harrell, of Vernon, Texas; two brothers, Joe R. Harrell, Monterey, Calif.; and Nathan H. Harrell, Jr., Burkburnett; two sisters, Mrs. T. W. Corzine, Bloomington, Calif., and Mrs. Martha Russ, of Fort Worth; several nieces and nephews and two step-grandchildren.

Haskell Native And Husband To Teach In Area

A Haskell native and her husband, both school teachers, Mr. and Mrs. Ruppel B. Jones, will establish residence in Haskell soon to prepare to take up teaching assignments in area schools in September.

Douglas Myers, superintendent of schools at Weinert, announced Tuesday the employment of Mrs. Jones, the former Sara Sue Roberson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom B. Roberson, to teach business and the language arts in the junior high school at Weiner during the 1963-64 school year.

The husband of the Haskell native will teach Spanish in the Stamford school system during the coming year. Both Mr. and Mrs. Jones are taking graduate work at the University of Oklahoma this summer.

Mrs. Jones, a 1958 graduate of Haskell High School, and a recipient of a BS degree from Hardin-Simmons University in 1961 taught for a time in the Elementary School here during the past year. Mr. Jones, a graduate of OU, was a teacher in the El Paso school system in 1962-63.

Need More Help--

Bill Carter, bricklayer, has been "most generous" in donating half his time to lay bricks," Black reported, and Arthur McDonald, carpenter, has offered to assist when the temporarily halted job is resumed.

Bud Lane, president of the Haskell Jaycees, and Black, whose organizations have contributed heavily to the project, renewed their pleas Tuesday for help in order to meet an urgent need for the Cub Scout facility by the time school starts in September.

Order of Arrow---

Former Pastor Here Conducting Meeting At Jud

A series of revival services which started last Friday at the Jud Baptist Church in the extreme western section of Haskell County will continue through Sunday, August 4.

Rev. Roy Turner, state missionary from Brownfield, and former pastor of the Central Baptist Church of Haskell, is the evangelist for the meeting.

The visiting evangelist served as pastor of several churches of the North Colorado Association in addition to his pastorate in Texas. He is a graduate of Jacksonville Baptist College and the North American Theological Seminary in Jacksonville, Texas.

Members of the Jud Baptist Church have announced that Rev. Turner's many friends in the North Central and Northwest Texas area have a cordial invitation to hear him.

Services begin each evening at 8 o'clock.

LVN Candidates Hear Challenges At Capping Rites

Meeting competently the responsibilities of the profession, leadership attitudes under all circumstances, and the importance of a nurse-patient relationship were the challenges presented Thursday night by the Rev. Rodney Dowdy to 10 vocational student nurses in formal capping ceremonies in the First Methodist Church here.

Rev. Dowdy, pastor of First Baptist Church of Rule, was the principal speaker when Ann Kimbrough, RN, presented caps to the members of the class she has instructed in clinical techniques for the past four months and who have completed the first phase of their rigid training toward becoming licensed vocational nurses.

Receiving caps at the ceremonies were Mmes. Ivonne Black, Hortense Campbell, Jessie Couch, Ruth Ezell, Lorene Haynes, Lois Howard, Bonnie Lowe, Evelyn Mercer, Verla Townsend, and Miss Caroline Cox.

The speaker compared the nurse-patient relationship to a pastor-congregational member one, and urged an effort for full understanding by the nurse of the patient's problems in order to arrive at a solution or cure.

Mrs. Kimbrough announced that the LVN candidates who have been in classroom training at Haskell County Hospital are now ready for floor duty here and will be handling these assignments for increasing periods of time for the next eight months. They will continue to have two weekly class periods under Mrs. Kimbrough.

Rev. Ellis Todd, pastor of the First Methodist Church, gave the invocation and benediction.

A. J. Foster, administrator of the Haskell County Hospital introduced the speaker and lauded the dedication of the candidates. Mrs. Kenneth Lane played professional and recessional, and Paula Haynes presented special music. Ushers were Janice Hill, Claire Wright and Arch Mayfield.

Mrs. Kimbrough led the nurse candidates in the Florence Nightingale pledge.

A reception for the capped nurse candidates sponsored by the LVN Association here, with Mrs. Faye Fowler, president, in charge, was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church immediately following the formal program.
