Heads, Hearts, Hands, Here Stand Solid

More than 300 girls and boys of Haskell County, whose heads, hearts, hands, and health, are linked in the effort to strengthen themselves and their communities through service with the 4-H program, will observe 4-H Club Week in Texas with special activities in this area beginning Saturday, March 2, and continuing for a week.

Working under the direct supervision of Haskell County Agent Frank Martin, and Home Demonstration Agent
Barbara McAnelly, Haskell 4-H members, during the special week, which also is being observed nationally, will take advantage of the opportunities to tell the story of their many and varied productive activities to civic and service organizational meetings throughout Haskell County.

Governor John Connally by official memorandum has proclaimed 4-H Club Week in Texas, declaring, "The development of citizens and leaders for America is a high purpose of 4-H Club work," and urged Texas 4-H members to help others understand the ideals of their organization. "The future," he said, "holds bright promise, and as 4-H members, you have a vital part in this future."

Paint Creeker Is Aggieland's Top 'Cotton Chopper'

A senior student from Haskell County majoring in agronomy at Texas A and M College is general chairman of the 29th annual Cotton Pageant and Ball, said to be the outstanding event of its kind in the country, to be held on the A&M campus on April 6.

James R. Griffith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Griffith, owners of the former Hughes holdings near Paint Creek, in Haskell County, is also president of the sponsoring A&M Student Agronomy Society.

The annual Cotton Pageant and Ball, one of the college's social highlights of the year, salutes King Cotton, the state's main cash crop.
King Cotton and eight members of his court will be chosen from Agronomy Society students again this year as in previous events. Young Griffith was a member of the select nine in the court in 1962.

A queen and eight members of her court will be selected from more than 150 young ladies representing colleges, universities, clubs and other organizations. Selections are made by authorities from the fashion and art fields.
The ball will be held in Sbis Hall at A&M following the King and Queen Cotton at pageant and presentation of Quion Hall at 7:30 p. m. on the night of April 6.

Proceeds from the Cotton Pageant and Ball are used to support agronomy seniors and juniors on an agricultural study tour of the state.
Friends here say young Griffith's plans are to settle and farm in Haskell County following his graduation from A&M
this Spring.

Bank Begins Saturday Closing
Starting Saturday, March 2, the Haskell National Bank will be closed on Saturday.

POPPIN' WITH PRIDE—Are the two ladies here flanking their lifelong friend and protégé, Walter Jenkins, Chief Administrative Assistant to the Vice President of the United States. The occasion was Walter's brief return last weekend to his native Wichita Falls with his boss, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson. Dr. Juanity Kinsey (right), prominent Northwest Texas educator, who taught him "eloubion," and Miss Helen Grace Gould (left) for many years registrar and lady-in-charge of the office at Wichita Falls High School, under whom Jenkins worked as student office assistant in high school days, had a lot to do with the molding of the man who now is one of the outstanding public servants of the nation. (See editorial, Page 2).

HASKELL COUNTIANS STAND UP, ARE COUNTED AT W-F FETE

Thirteen Haskell Countians who traveled probably the farthest of any of his constituents were among the 6200
Northwest Texans converging on Wichita Falls last weekend to personally meet with and pay tribute to their Congressman, Graham Purcell, at a testimonial dinner keynoted by the Vice President of the United States, and attended by his Chief Administrative Assistant, Walter Jenkins, as well as many other dignitaries from far and near.

Introduced by Rhea Howard, editor and publisher of the Wichita Falls Times and Record News, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson told 1200 people gathered at the Purcell dinner that "it is the policy of the U. S. government to get rid of Castro and Communism in Cuba."

The Vice President added,
"It is the policy of this government to prevent the spread of Communism throughout the Western Hemisphere."

In the same speech, the most active Vice President in U. S. history, lauded the work being done by Congressman Purcell in representing this district in the Congress.

When the roll call of counties was held, the following stood up as the Haskell delegation: Judge and Mrs. Ben Charlie Chapman, Charles Chapman, Wayne Perrin, Wendell Costen, Mr. and Mrs.
Porter Oakes, all of Haskell, Felix Mullino and R. A. Shaver, of Rochester; Jim Norman, A. R. Eaton, Clyde Grice, and Malcolm Herrtnerberger,
all of Rule.

Earlier, this entire group was among the throng of 4,000 persons who jammed the main corridor of the Wichita County Courthouse last Saturday afternoon to shake hands with the Vice President and Mrs.
(Ladybird) Johnson, Congressman and Mrs. (Betty) Purcell, Jenkins, Cliff Carter, another of the VP's top aides, and other members of the staffs of both the Vice President and the Congressman from this District.

Revel "Revs Up" Power-Full Talk For Rotarians

The United States was ger-erating more power in 1929
than Russia was using in 1963, and our generation of power to produce our electricity needs has doubled in the past seven years, Haskell Rotarians were told Thursday by Don Revel, of Stamford, district meterman for West Texas Utilities.

Speaking in connection with an observance of National Electrical Week at the invitation of Rotarian Henry Withers, WTU district manager here, Revel said that foreseeable needs for electricity now generated entirely by natural gas in this territory could exhaust our natural resources in two months. Therefore, he declared, "it becomes necessary to turn to nuclear power as our only answer, and I'm happy to say that WTU has a part in this experimental program now underway which is being sponsored by the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation."

Revel said he personally advocated the free enterprise system of meeting these "rheom-ic power needs on the open market, and not through any government sponsored or initiated project or program.
Rotary Vice Pres. Ira Hecter presided in the absence of the President, E. J. Stewart, away because of serious illness in the family. Rotary Information Chairman Bob King presented a thought-provoking evaluation of the international aims and objects of Rotary, and Rotarian Desmond Dulaney presented the following visitors to the assembly: Visiting Rotarians Frank Kaess, Rule; and Jim West, Bernard Buey, Bergin Watkins, of Stamford; and Will Poston, Mineral Wells.

Gaston Hattox gave the invocation.

Churches Here Unite In World Day Of Prayer

Reverent observance of the World Day of Prayer, in which all the churches of Haskell will band together in dedicated meditation, will be held here at 9:45 a. m. Friday in the sanctuary of the First Presbyterian Church.

Co-leaders in the service, which will be basically the same one used by groups in approximately 150 countries, making it world-wide in character, will be Mrs. Wallace
Cox, Jr., and Mrs. W. H. Mc-Broom.

Mrs. Sam P. Herren and Mrs. W. H. Pitman will greet church-goers at the door.

Mrs. Billie Barner and Mrs.
C. J. Robinson will explain the projects being diligently prosecuted in this joint effort.

Mrs. Jack Pippin will lead the songs, accompanied by Mrs. Douglas Finch.

Others taking part on the program will be Mrs. Willie Peiser, Mrs. C. O. Holt, Mrs.
Elton Klose, Mrs. Paul Jossel-et, Mrs. B. C. Chapman, Miss Barbara McAnelly, and Rev.
Douglas Finch, minister of the First Presbyterian Church.

Theme of the service will be "More Than Conquerors" and in worship together, church women here will experience Christian unity at the deeper level of prayer and bring gifts to strengthen the interdenominational work being done for Christ around the world.

The offering throughout the United States will go to such things as: Support of 12 interdenominational Christian colleges, located in six countries;
extend the hand of friendship
to 60,000 international students; provide Christian literature for women and children on three continents; support the ministry of the Church to migrants in this country; and other Christian aims and objects.

Work Underway On Medallion, Survey

Coincident with the announcement Tuesday of well-laid plans to launch the activities of the Haskell County Historical survey under the dedicated leadership of Mrs. Tom Barfield here, Mrs. J. U.
Fields, tireless religious and civic leader in Haskell, and a past president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, said she was offering her home at 401 North Avenue E as the first Medallion Home from this county.

Mrs. Fields, who desires to have her 52-year-old residence named a Texas Medallion Home by the Texas Historical Survey as a tribute to her husband, the late J. U. Fields, and his father, Captain W. W.
Fields, mailed in her application with accompanying documents and supporting information earlier this week to the Austin headquarters of the survey.

Mrs. Barfield announced on Tuesday that, spurred by "numerous voluntary offers of assistance and the great enthusiasm shown throughout the county," the Haskell County Historical Survey Committee will meet Tuesday night, March 12, at 7:30 p. m. at the Highway Drive-In for the purposes of organization and mapping of projects. All interested individuals are urged to be present.

Since the appointment of the nucleus of the County historical survey group last week
by County Judge Jim Alvis, many offers of assistance in compiling the history and preserving the monuments of this county have been received by Mrs. Barfield.

The chairman also said that,

in addition to Mrs. Fields' home, at least four other meddallion home potentials are in immediate prospect for consideration and that the location of several Revolutionary War graves and graves of veterans of the War Between the States have been pin-pointed for marking.

These projects and others, in addition to matters of organization will be on Mrs. Bar-field's agenda at the March 12 meeting here. Also expected to be considered will be a site, possibly the Courthouse, for the location of a museum for items native to Haskell County, this project to be begun in the early future.

Mrs. Fields' lead-taking in the medallion home project is expected to buoy up interest among other home owners whose dwellings might qualify, and it will be the responsibility of the Haskell County Historical Survey Committee to assist the individuals concerned to prepare the necessary background papers for presentation in Austin.

The late J. U. Fields, for whom Mrs. Fields has initiated the medallion project as a tribute, as remembered here as one of Haskell's most respected citizens, and was a businessman on the Courthouse Square for 45 years. He was a director in the Haskell National Bank 27 years prior to his passing in 1951.

It is anticipated that one of more service-minded Texans affiliated with the state historical mission, which is mushrooming under their devoted supervision, will be in Haskell for the March 12 meeting, according to word received here

HASKELLITE 'WEARS TWO HATS' ONE STOVEPIPE TYPE, IN NAVY

A unique distinction has come to a Haskell serviceman, D. C. Wester, who has qualified to wear the wings of an aircrewman in the Navy while holding a previously earned rate.

The Haskell man, son of Mr.
and Mrs. D.C. Wester, Sr., of Route 3, is a hydraulic metal-smith Third Class.

Word has been received here that he has received his wings under the Navy's "minuteman" training program while stationed at Argonia, New Foundland.

A graduate of Haskell High School, young Wester entered a Navy program initiated to fill a critical need for trained aircrewmen to fly with what is known as "the barrier crews."

Under the strict program, volunteers from all Navy rates who meet the physical standards are accepted for training in airborne CIC operations. Men who have never seen a radar scope before, find themselves punching buttons, twisting knobs, talking on the aircraft's intercom system, and peering into the luminous radar scope like old pros after several barrier operations.

After he is proficient in basic scope work, the man toils at the plotting tables and broadens his knowledge of the entire CIC operation. This leads to his designation as aircrew-man and the right to wear the gold aircrewman's wings in the Navy.

Such has been the experience, and achievement, of Hydraulic Metalsmith Wester who, his operations officer says may be one of the few metalsmiths in the entire Navy wearing wings.

Safety Program Presented At Lions Meeting Tuesday; Directors to Meet

"Driving requires a high degree of mental alertness, judgment, moral sense and self control. Alcohol in small quantities affect the brain which controls these functions," Rip
Smith, of Wichita Falls, Safety Officer Highway Patrol, told members of the Haskell Lions Club, Tuesday noon.

The guest speaker showed a film, "None for the Road," prior to his talk. County Clerk Lion Bill Reeves was in charge of the safety program which was one of the club's projects for February.

"During 1961 all fatal accidents in Texas, 40 percent involved drinking drivers and 20 percent non-fatal accidents were due to drinking drivers,"
Mr. Smith said.
"The drunken driver clearly plays a large role in the nation's traffic accident picture.
You may meet him some day rolling along a highway on which the center mark — for him — is a wavy line. Another night, coming home from a too lively party, you may sit in the killer's seat," Smith said.

"Alcohol and gasoline don't mix, says the safety slogan.
Unfortunately they mix too often — in a one to one ratio when it comes to fatal accidents," the guest speaker said.

"What happens when you take one drink too many? Alcohol strangles your brain by depriving it of oxygen. Drink two highballs, and your blood alcohol level jumps to around 0.05 percent, enough to take the edge off anything — including your driving ability," Smith pointed out.

"With alarming frequency police accident reports across the nation, end with this phrase, 'The driver had been drinking,' Patrolman Smith said.

meeting were Sgt. Frank Jir-

Walter Jenkins, Man Behind the Man

"Administrative Assistant To The Vice President of The United States" is a title that sounds meaningful. It is.

The most active Vice President this nation ever had, Lyndon B. Johnson, termed as recently as last Saturday night, and most justifiably so, "the greatest living Texan," has several able people working directly under him who carry that impressive and responsible title. He has to have these competent cohorts to help cover the ground this tireless, tremendously energetic, tenacious Texan covers, executive, judicially, legislatively, geographically, politically, as holder of the second highest office in the land.

But there is one man among these admirable administrative assistants who still stands head and shoulders in multi-talented stature above the rest.

This man, one of the most reliable, respected, dedicated human beings who ever served the United States of America, is Walter Jenkins, native of Wichita Falls, who, for almost 25 years now, except for time out in the uniform of an Air Force officer, has matched Lyndon Johnson stride for stride in each and all of his countless undertakings and assignments, benefitting our state and our nation.

As Chief Administrative Assistant to the Vice President, Walter, unassuming, unfrilled, unheralded, more often than not, has paced the LBJ stride, riding ahead, setting the stage, paving the way, in what appears to be an effortless manner. While the name of Lyndon Johnson is known in every nook and cranny of the globe, probably only an infinitesimal number of people in the U. S. ever heard of Walter Jenkins. Yet, you can bet your favorite fedora that everywhere LBJ has been, Walter had a hand in the arranging of it some way.

As the Vice President's "right hand," and "top hand," Texas speakin', Walter literally is "vice-president-in-charge of the Vice President," as he was so aptly described last Saturday night in Wichita Falls when it was his home town's coveted privilege to get one of its rare glimpses of him. The Boss thoughtfully "ordered" him away from his unpretentious office in the Executive Office Building across the street from the White House, where Walter takes care of an unbelievable burden of work, to make the flying trip home for the first time in many, many months.

Without a doubt the greatest detail man of this generation in government service, Dependable Walter Jenkins is truly "the man behind the man." And The Man himself, LBJ, declares earnestly, as he did last weekend, "I and my office simply could not function without him."

Few people in this old world know, or realize, the staggering responsibility which rests daily and hourly around the clock upon the shoulders of this serious-purposed, deeply religious, solid "boy" from Northwest Texas.

We salute you, Walter Jenkins, knowing that your fellow Wichitans and Northwest Texans, who are so justifiably proud of you, salute you, too, as one of the front runners, and pace setters, among the most serviceable, selfless citizens in all of America.

Let's Go Back to School—If Only For A Day

This little piece is directed to those males too old for the draft and those on the feminine side old enough to tell their right ages. Within 10 years anyway.

Everyone else is not mellow enough yet.

Do you remember the smell of chalk dust when the blackboards were erased? Or the bone disintegrating noise of the smart scamp who purposely scraped his fingernail across the blackboard? Or the mixture of odors coming out of the chemistry lab? Or the shuffling of feet on the way out to recess? Or the spine tingling flag raising ceremonies on state occasions?

Do you remember slidin' down the fire escape at the fire drills? Or when you took the teacher the first flowers from Mother's garden? Or standin' in the corner for chewing gum in class? Or the sweaty smell in the locker room after a ball game?

Yes, those were the good old days, but to the youngsters of today they are the "same days," different only in individual perspective.

One hundred and nine years ago, in 1854, the School Law in Texas provided for our first Public School System in Texas. As the years passed, our laws were strengthened to make sure that all children of a school age shared in this opportunity for public education.

Today the importance of education is not a debatable subject. Our job is to see that children of this generation get the best possible education we can give them.

By visiting the schools and familiarizing ourselves with the problems of teachers and students, we become more competent to safeguard and advance the institution that is so American—the public school.

Next week, clear across Texas, and particularly here in Haskell, where two particularly significant events have been planned, is Public Schools Week, March 4 to 8. Open house will be held. You will be made welcome.

So let's go back to school next week—if only for a day—and see how the schools of today are meeting the challenge of today. Shall we?

Oakescripts A Pencil Pusher's Potpourri

By PORTER

From a seemingly successful teenage triumph stems his literal love of the challenge to put one word after another and "make something of them," the Pencil Pusher figures.

As a freshman in college, I was returning to school in Kentucky after the Christmas holidays when a peculiar accident caused my tardy return to classes. Going through Arkansas on the T&P's Sunshine Special, the train stopped to take on coal. An electrically operated coal chute had been installed, and a pushbutton device was supposed to let the coal into the train's coalcar, then pull it back up. Only the device jammed, and the coalcar was buried under a few hundred tons of coal.

Of course, I missed a connection in Memphis with the L&N, which was usually late by nature, slow and Southern, even at best. When I got to Lexington, I was practically an emotional wreck, knowing that to safeguard its interests, the college, and justifiably so, assessed a half credit deduction for classes cut before or after holidays. I had to write a letter to the Faculty Council explaining my tardiness.

When the Council met and my letter was read, the Dean of Men, who apparently had never heard of such a new-fangled contraption as an electric coal chute, (it's too far for most folks to cross over into the next county in Kentucky!), remarked, "Not only do I think this young man should be relieved of any scholastic penalty, he also should be given an 'A' in Creative Writing!"

So here I am. The Pencil Pusher loves effective, descriptive, picturesque speech. Don't we all? Figures of speech, metaphors, similes, alliterative allusions, which, as you know, is our weakness, have turned many a head, made some heads roll, won many a heart, broken many more, solved and caused many a problem, and all, in all, have made for a disconsolately discordant, or happily harmonic, human being.

The written and spoken word has made some things and people destructible, more things and people, we like to feel, indestructible. The thing for which it has gained the most fame, and the most notoriety, is the building of reputations, and the destroying of them, with the accent on the "last syllable." Reason for the accent as anyone who ever lobbied in Austin or Washington will tell you, is that it's a whole lot easier to kill a piece of legislation, good or bad, than to pass one!

The seen and heard word is the most potent instrument on earth, lethal or peace-making. It can be candid or sordid, syrupy or sarcastic, scintillating or sickening, exhilarating or exhausting, awesome or agonizing. And public opinion for which words are the vehicle, is the strongest force in the world, stronger even than atmospheric pressure, nine and a half pounds to the square inch.

Like food, and love, you can't survive without words, and whether they make or break people, or an issue, is all in the way you say 'em.

The Pencil Pusher likes expressive, local color type, sayings as much as he likes chow-chow. And no greater love had any man, for Jewel, Janie and Betty, even, than I have for chow-chow. Several of the type meant come to mind. We would be flattered to hear from Free Press readers about more.

Here are some of the less hackneyed kind that are appealing to us. They all have double meanings, which get the point across more effectively.

"My biscuits squatted to rise, then baked on the squat" (this from my sweet Tennessee Aunt Laina).

"A Skaggs smile looks just like a wave on a sloop bucket" (better than "like a cat eatin' prickly pear.")

"If you don't like my peaches, don't shake my tree!" (Most apt arm's-length license!)

"Love is an itchin' of the heart you can't scratch." (Well, isn't it?) Now, how about some from y'all?

All of which brings up another play on words that hit home. A visitin' Rotarian from Stamford the other day, out of the blue, to me, queried, "We don't say 'dam' around here, do we?"

Well, Sir, I knew I hadn't been cussin', but I thought at first I was about to be asked to the Baptist Revival meeting starting here Sunday. As it turned out, he was talking, not about profanity, but reservoirs, Miller Creek variety, that could be built to obtain pec-ious water with money he thought was being foolishly spent on other things. The word dam, spelled either way you want to spell it, COULD get you in trouble around here, the Pencil Pusher said to himself.

On the subject of revivals, I've got it figured. Danny Boone is a "plant" in Rotary by the Baptists. They figure if he can "revive" the vocal chords of Rotarians, then he surely can make the first team on the church revival circuit.

We are told there is a certain church in Haskell that's having trouble getting people to sit in the front eight or ten pews and is going to get to the seat of the trouble and the bottom of things by placing cushions up front, where religion counts. Guess you'd call that cushioning the congregation for the shock of what the preacher's going to say about 'em.

Mention of profanity reminds me of what my sweet Auntie says, which is so true, and that is "Profanity is just a sure sign of a limited vocabulary." Amen. My Mother, instead of being profane, says "Scott's Emulsion," between clenched teeth, if she finds it necessary for an expression of feeling. Sure helps. Try it. I don't know about the emulsion, just the saying.

This falderal must be finished. I've got to round up and head out to the big doin's in WF honoring our Congressman. Going with Bob Herren, Shady Lane, and Royce Adkins. Also Felix Mullino, Jim Norman, B. C. Chapman, et al. It's said that no more resourceful roustabouts ever poured powder in a safe together.

One more expression: "10 years older than St. Louis" always impressed me when comparative age is mentioned. My precious Auntie, if you'll excuse the personal note, isn't that old by a plenty, but she did go to the St. Louis World's Fair in 1904, I believe it was, on one of the first of many honeymoons with the same man who was with her 58 years in one of the most beautiful marriages God ever directed.

There's a fellow here at the Free Press who is Clarevoyant (you know, Jetty V., for Voyant) on matters of horses and numbers. Palomino horses and all kinds of numbers, just so they have $$$ signs in front of 'em.

The famous Green Steer was killed at Burnet last week for beef. This steer was owned by F. P. Green, president of the Burnet National Bank. The steer was 24 years of age, and the most curious feature about him was that his horns measured seven and a half feet from tip to tip. Mr. Green has been offered fancy prices for these horns many times, but refused all of them.

Class members are: Jay Berry, Lois Davis, Joe Hackney, Jackie Hammer, Sherry Hix, Jerry Hutchinson, Wanda Miller, Ronnie Vaughn and Scotty Moody.

The Senior Class began practice on their play this week. They chose a comedy entitled, "Lucinda Peck from Cabbage Neck," and it will be presented in the Weinert auditorium.

Junior Play Comments Are 'Raves' All Ways

Superlative remarks were the post-production order of the evening when the curtain came down for the final time on the Haskell High School Junior Class play, "The Night of January 16th," before a capacity house last Friday evening.

Some of the verbal "rages" presented without solicitation were: "Best high school play I've ever seen," "It seemed like a professional group instead of high school juniors," and "the characterizations were outstanding."

It would be hard to choose an outstanding performer of the play. Each character did his or her part so well that the play blended into a smooth, well acted whole.

The play, though recommended for college or theatrical groups, did not prove too much for these high school actors. One spectator was heard to say that she could hardly believe that students of that age could carry off such a production. None of these students had had any previous stage or speech training with the exception of one or two.

Unusual in many respects, perhaps the most unusual was the use of members of the audience as jurors who heard the testimony and arguments of the stage trial and rendered their own verdict. The cast had practiced two endings to be prepared for either decision. This jury found the defendant not guilty. Serving on the jury were: Mrs. Jack Pippin, Mr. Buck Bland, Mr. Woodrow Frazier, Mr. Frank Porter, Mrs. Robert Dumas, Mr. Tommy Matthews, Mrs. Tommy Matthews, Mrs. Howard Perry, Mr. John Watson, III, Mr. C. O. Holt, Jr., Mr. Phillip Bledsoe, and Mr. Carl Anderson.

The play was directed by Mrs. Frank Porter and Mrs. Brooks Middleton, class sponsors. Mr. Bill Blakely, also class sponsor, was in charge of the ads and ticket sale. The entire class cooperated to make this truly a class project with almost every one of them assisting in some way.

Following the play, some of the junior mothers treated the cast, prompters, the make-up crew, stage managers and sponsors to a dinner. After the dinner, a party was held in the Ben Charlie Chapman home.

Catholic Guild Hears PR Talk, Plans Projects

The St. George Catholic Women's Guild held its regular monthly meeting on Friday, Feb. 8. The program was presented by Mrs. Frank Porter, Chairman of Press and Public Relations, on "Catholic Press Month." The program consisted of a talk on the theme of this year's Catholic Press Month, "In this Ecumenical Year, Inform Catholics Read their Catholic Press," and an explanation of Catholic Book Week, Feb. 17-23. In addition, displays of books and Catholic publications were in the Sacristy for the members to inspect.

The president of the Guild, Mrs. Joe W. Cloud, discussed the spiritual lesson based on the 3rd chapter of John. In his discussion, Father Nuytten pointed out that Sin is not compatible with God. Jesus Christ came to destroy the works of the devil and we are known by whom we serve. He also pointed out that we must love each other because, "nor is he just who doesn't love his brother and who hates his brother is a murderer."

Mrs. Victor Sanchez, Jr., will be in charge of the Altar ligens for March. She and Mrs. Rita Rodriguez laundered the altar boy surplices for February. Father Nuytten announced that a class for Catechism teachers will begin in the near future.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Sanchez and Mrs. Raymond Bales following the meeting. The next regular meeting will be March 15.

The Guild voted to make contribution at each meeting to the Madonna Plan. This plan is sponsored by the National Council of Catholic Women and provides money to help feed the needy mothers of the world. The group also voted to adopt the "Feed-A-Family" project for March. This project is also sponsored by the NCCW and the funds collected by the affiliations are used throughout the world to feed needy families.

Magazine Club Meeting Highlighted By Talks By Mmes. Thigpen, Payne

"This is my own, my native land," was the theme of The Magazine Club program when it met on February 15 in the Community Room of the Haskell National Bank.

Following a brief business meeting led by Mrs. C. J. Robinson, club president, 23 members heard director, Mrs. Joe Thigpen, as she told the memorable story of the legendary Philip Nolan. Nolan, the central figure in Edward Everett Hale's "The Man Without a Country," was destined to sail the seas without ever touching port as punishment for his treasonable actions in assistance of Aaron Burr. As further punishment, he was fated never to hear his homeland mentioned, and his story has long been a study of patriotism, pointing up how home and country take on unexcelled importance when, through rash actions, they are taken away.

Club members joined in the Pledge of Allegiance to the United States Flag led by a color guard from Troop and Post 36 of the Haskell Boy Scouts of America. Participants in the color guard, Bill Perry, Michael Felker, Steven Harper, Jimmy Bynum and their Scoutmaster Ed Smart, were introduced by Mrs. Jack Pippin.

A tribute to Abraham Lincoln — "Master of The Backwoods" — was presented by Mrs. C. V. Payne as she brought to light a host of the virtues possessed by the man who led his country during years of civil strife and whose name has become almost synonymous with Americanism.

Mrs. C. L. Lewis closed the program with a Prayer for Freedom.

Hostesses Mmes. E. M. Frierson, Opal Adkins, and W. A. Lyles, served refreshments to the following members who attended the club's Americanism Day Program: Mrs. L. R. Burkett, Miss Beryle Boone, Mrs. R. C. Couch, Sr., Mrs. Scott W. Greene, Sr., Mrs. Jack Pippin, Mrs. C. J. Robinson, Mrs. Joe Thigpen, Mrs. J. M. Collins, Mrs. Wallace Cox, Sr., Mrs. J. U. Fields, Mrs. C. L. Lewis, Miss Nettie McCollum, Mrs. C. V. Payne, Mrs. K. H. Thornton, Mrs. Thos. L. Ballard, Mrs. S. Hasen, Mrs. Raymond Liles, Mrs. Fred Monke, Mrs. J. P. Payne, Mrs. A. C. Pierson, and the hostesses.

Mrs. Durham Presents Program At Christian LMS

Mrs. Rogers Durham, wife of the minister of the Christian Church in Haskell, discussed Bible Colleges at the February meeting of the Ladies' Missionary Society of the church held at the home of Mrs. Luther Burkett.

Work and curricula of the following denominational colleges were outlined by Mrs. Durham in her enlightening presentation: Ozark Bible College, Joplin, Missouri; Midwest City Christian College, Oklahoma City; Pacific Christian College, Long Beach, California; and Cincinnati Bible Seminary, Cincinnati, Ohio, where the Reverend Durham obtained his education.

Mrs. C. O. Holt, president, opened the meeting by reading "God's Plan for You," and leading the group in prayer. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and a financial report given by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Lynn Pace, Jr.

Miss May Fields gave the devotional on the subject, "Love of Christ," and "Love for Christ." She read Romans 8:35-39 and the 13th Chapter of I Corinthians.

The Ladies' Missionary Society all sang "Help Somebody Today," accompanied by Mrs. Pace on an antique pump organ in Mrs. Burkett's well-appointed home.

Mrs. Burkett served refreshments to the following: Miss Fields, Miss Beryle Boone, and Mmes. Courtney Hunt, Tommye Hawkins, R. F. Pittman, Travis Clopton, W. A. Duncan, V. W. Meadors, Dennis Ratliff, Jessie B. Smith, Durham, Holt and Pace.

MRS. JERRY LARNED

Miss Elizabeth Key Becomes Bride of Jerry Larned of Haskell

Throckmorton (Special) — Elizabeth Key, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Key, became the bride Saturday evening of Jerry Larned, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Larned of Haskell.

The Rev. Wayland Dowden read the double ring ceremony at half after seven o'clock in the First Methodist Church. Mrs. Tom Craft, organist, and Sue Merriman of Dallas, vocalist, presented wedding music.

Nuptial vows were read at the altar before a half dozen candleabra holding tall white tapers, with tree arrangements of emerald fern. The lower level of the altar was graced with spiral candleabra with white tapets entwined with greenery, flanked by floor baskets of white gladioli and pom-pom chrysanthemums.

Mr. Key gave his daughter in marriage. She chose a formal length gown fashioned of candlelight self faced peau de soie in a long stem silhouette. Appliques of re-embroidered Alencon lace outlined the scoop neckline and extended over the high rise bodice. The long sleeves tapered to petal points over her hands.

The voluminous skirt was enhanced by garlands of lace which extended to trace an outline of the Cathedral train. Her veil of imported candlelight silk illusion fell from a pearl tiara.

Her bouquet was of white roses centered with American Beauty red roses.

Sandy Taylor of Eastland was maid of honor. She wore a dress of American Beauty peau de soie fashioned with fitted bodice, three-quarter length sleeves, and bell skirt.

Mrs. Bob Herren, District TFWC Prexy, Points To Graham Meeting

With 37 clubs in 23 towns already visited during her year of leadership, Mrs. R. W. (Bob) Herren, of Haskell, president of the Mesquite District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, has accelerated her visits in an all-out effort to secure top attendance at the district convention in Graham, April 19-20, she said here on Thursday.

Mrs. Herren has revisited several area towns, attending different club meetings, in her work in the Mesquite District, TFWC this year.

The district president's last two visits in an official capacity were with the Athenaeum Club at Lorraine last Tuesday, and with the Woman's Forum of Abilene meeting at the YWCA there on Wednesday.

A luncheon and tea with Mrs. Herren as honored guest were held Friday at Colorado City under the auspices of the Hesperian Club of that city in the Civic House there. This was an occasion in which all federated clubs joined. Mrs. Raymond Liles, federated clubs leader from Weimar, planned to attend the Colorado City events with Mrs. Herren.

Mrs. Herren reported that one of the highlights of her recent activities as president was a visit to Baird, where all five federated clubs, the Garden Club, and the B&P club had a joint meeting.

She urged full participation of the Mesquite District members in the district convention in Graham and to watch the March bulletin for details on it.

Jewel Oakes' Distinctive Dress, Accessory Appeal, Getting Around

Mrs. Porter Oakes, wife of the editor of the Haskell Free Press, fresh from a two-day modeling stand at a large Ft. Worth department store Leonard's, Friday took her "dress distinctively with appealing accessories by Jewel Skaggs Oakes" campaign to Wichita Falls.

She was asked to demonstrate her QuickKit creations for enabling a woman to cover a pair of shoes and handbag with fabric, creating accessories with a custom look at a minimum price, to the Cunningham School P-TA in Wichita Falls last Friday morning.

Mrs. Oakes' adhesive backed patterns, one side adhering to the shoe or purse to be covered, and the other side, to the fabric used to cover the item, has had wide acceptance in Ft. Worth, at two stores here, Nadine's and Hassen's, and other places shown since they went on the general market less than three weeks ago.

The fashion designer, who has made it possible for a simple do-it-yourself process to create a matching or blending ensemble most economically, has been invited to demonstrate her creations at Sanger-Harris stores, both downtown and suburban, in Dallas, the entire week of March 4.

Mrs. Oakes developed the ideas for covering handbag "bodies" three years ago. Last year she began working on the shoe covering pattern. She says with three quarters of a yard of fabric one can cover a pair of shoes and a handbag in one hour and a half. Home seamstresses can utilize scraps of material and can match or coordinate accessories to costumes made at home by using the adhesive pattern technique with accompanying simple instructions.

On this project, receiving, collecting, and assembling trading stamps of all kinds to send them to the home Her telephone number in Haskell is 854-2210.

A total of 3,200 books of stamps, any kind, is needed to purchase the 60-passenger bus, and Supt. John B. White of the Children's Home at last report had received about 500 books, according to Minister Pennington. Hopes are high for enough stamps to be furnished to authorize order of the bus by March 1, Supt. White said.

A certain kind of trading stamp is needed, Frontier, it was explained, but a group of Lubbock women have volunteered to take other kinds and trade them for the needed stamp brand.

The badly needed bus would be basic transportation for the 90 children in the Lubbock home. The present vehicle is a 1961 model that was bought three years ago after several years of service in the Plainview school system and was sold by the school system because of its unavailability, according to Minister Pennington.

Anyone who has a book or a part of a book of trading stamps of any kind is asked to donate toward the bus purchase by contacting Mrs. Culberth.

Election Called In Weinert to Choose Mayor, Aldermen

The City of Weinert has called an election for Tuesday, April 2, to elect a Mayor and two Aldermen, according to Mayor W. B. Guess, incumbent, and R. A. Mathison, City Secretary.

The Mayor and Secretary have posted a notice that the election will be held in the Community Center in Weinert on the first Tuesday in April.

In addition to Mayor Guess, whose term expires, the aldermanic terms of M. R. Boykin and T. R. Boykin are over, making it necessary for voters to choose a Mayor and two members of the City Council for two year terms.

To date, no one has announced for these positions, but City Secretary Mathison advised announcements are forthcoming for all three spots prior to the March 1 deadline.

Holdover councilmen in Weinert, who still have a year to serve on their present terms, include E. S. McGuire, R. W. Herricks, and Sam Adams.

Pete Eaton Outstanding SCD Farmer

A. R. (Pete) Eaton, of Rule, has been named the outstanding conservation farmer of 1963 by the Wichita-Brazos Soil Conservation District board of supervisors which met Friday, J. C. Yeary, work unit conservationist in Haskell, reported.

The Wichita - Brazos group has entered Eaton's name as its nominee for honors as the top conservation farmer in Texas in the annual judging conducted by the Fort Worth Press under the leadership of its editor, Walter Humphrey.

All of Knox and part of Haskell County from the north county line almost to the north city limits of the city of Haskell comprise the Wichita-Brazos district with which Yeary works and the area in which Eaton's conservation practices have been evaluated as the best this year.

Eaton, an irrigation farmer principally in cotton, has worked closely with the SCD office. Yeary said, and has been practicing "strict conservation farming" since 1947. His outstanding conservation practices include cropping systems, use of cotton burrs, mulching, and various fertilizer methods.

The honored farmer recently received a "distinguished service award" at a joint meeting of three cotton cooperatives. He long has been active in this work and in ginners' association activities.

He is a past president of the Haskell County Farm Bureau, a director of the Haskell County Hospital Board and has served as director of the Rule Cooperative Gin for several years. He has lived in Rule 44 years and is a steward in the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Frank Porter Invited to Join Poetry Society

The Corresponding Secretary of the Poetry Society of Texas, Faye Carr Adams, has contacted Mrs. Frank Porter of Haskell and extended an invitation to her to become a member of the State Society. This invitation comes following the publication of one of Mrs. Porter's poems in the National Poetry Anthology for 1963.

Writers of distinction and members with recently published collections of poetry will appear on the program from time to time.

Monthly and Annual prizes are awarded in varied categories. The thirty-one Annual Awards for 1962 totaled $1-175.00.

Sagerton News

BY MRS. DELBERT LEFEVRE

Miss Lillian Neinast was honored at a special program at the Zion Lutheran Church Sunday evening, Feb. 10. The program was in the form of a "This is Your Life" program, and she was presented with a U. S. Savings Bond by the president of the congregation, Carl Druesedow.

She was born in Marlin, Texas, and came to Sagerton in early childhood. She attended school in Sagerton and took music lessons in Stamford from Mrs. Burroughs. She began playing the organ, a manual reed-type, for the church in 1926, when the first church was located in a cluster of mesquites south of the present church. She and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Neinast, and two sisters and a brother came to church in a Model-T Ford and when the ice and snow was too bad for the car, they went in a wagon.

There have been several assistant organists in the church's history, but Lillian has always been the regular organist. She has also taught Sunday School many years, served as choir director, and served in every official capacity of the local Lutheran Women's Missionary League and was active in the Walthier League in her youth. She also served as Zone secretary for the LWML.

G. W. LeFevre was a patient at the Stamford Hospital from Wednesday of last week. He came home Sunday.

Linda LeFevre attended a luncheon Saturday in honor of Tommy Jo Simpson of Rule on her 18th birthday. It was given by her mother, Mrs. T. E. Simpson and her grandmother, Mrs. Oswald Cole. The girls of the Senior Class of Rule High School were guests. They were: Sallie and Susie Dowdy, Barbara McDonald, Judy Jones, Gayle Bailey, Richland Barnard, Lynn Beard, Renia Hines, Margarete McGuinn, Linda LeFevre, and the honoree.

B. L. Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Ross, left Thursday, last week for Ft. Polk, La., where he will begin his basic training in the U. S. Armed Forces. B. L. enlisted for three years.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Ross and Yvonne went to Dublin last Saturday to take Mrs. M. D. Ross back to her home. She had spent several weeks here with the Barney Rosses.

Mrs. Will Stegemoeller entertained the Stitch and Chatter Club in her home Wednesday afternoon of last week.

Those present were Mrs. John Clark, Mrs. M. Y. Benton, Mrs. Pete Kitley, Mrs. Ewell Kitley, Mrs. R. O. Gibson, Sr., Mrs. Cliff LeFevre, and the hostess Mrs. Benton will have the next meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Y. Benton visited with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mairand family in Haskell on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. G. A. Leach is visiting in O'Brien this week with her daughter, Mrs. Wilson Gibson and family. She recently visited with relatives at Eddie, Texas and Waco.

The Sagerton P. T. A. will meet Tuesday, March 5, in the school auditorium. Mrs. Joe Clark, president, has announced. The meeting will be held in observance of Public School

Week. A program on fire prevention and safety is being planned.

The Sixth and Seventh graders of Sagerton School and their teacher, Miss Irene Stewart, visited the radio station in Stamford Friday of last week. They were privileged to make two announcements on the radio pertaining to the P.T.A. meeting next week and the meeting held last Friday night concerning the water situation in Sagerton. They also sang the School Song, leaving out the word "Sagerton" and the listeners were asked to call and identify the song. Mrs. George Olson of Stamford was the first to identify it and received the prize.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Threet of Rule visited the M. Y. Benton's last Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Lambert are visiting with their son, R. T. Lambert and his family in Idalou.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hendrichs of Abilene were visitors in the Herbert Stremmel home last weekend.

Melvin Laughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Laughlin of Fort Worth, visited with Larry LeFevre in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert LeFevre over the weekend. Gne Ovrash of Grayford was also a guest in the LeFevre home Saturday.

Jimmy New, a student at Texas Tech, in Lubbock, was home last weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin New.

Mr. and Mrs. Reece Clark and Mrs. Ted Terrell and Clark Don and Kay were dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clark and family Sunday. Mrs. Terrell and the children went to Jacksboro to visit with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Bruce Miller. Sunday afternoon Mrs. John L. Brooks and daughter, Judy Guinn, of Texas Tech, went to Fort Worth Saturday for the funeral of Mrs. Brooks' granddaughter, Jacqueline Carole Tabor, whose funeral was held Monday morning in Fort Worth. She was 21 months of age. She was born May 17, 1961, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack C. Tabor, and passed away at the Children's Hospital in Fort Worth, Friday, at 11:00 a. m. She had been ill with pneumonia and leukemia.

Other survivors are: Karen Yvonne, Vanessa, and William Clark Tabor, all of the home, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest O'Neal of O'Brien.

Joe Ray Baitz went down to Fort Worth on Monday for the funeral. He was one of the pallbearers. Mr. and Mrs. Zenor Summers and Mike went down on Sunday, but were unable to stay for the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kupatt who live between Sagerton and Rule are the parents of a new daughter, Carla, born last week (Thursday) at the Haskell Hospital. Mrs. Emil Kainier is one of the grandparents, and Mr. and Mrs. B. Kupatt, who formerly lived here, but now live at Fredricksburg, are the other grandparents.

Mr. B. Kupatt of Fredricksburg, who formerly lived here for years, was a patient at the Kerrville Veteran's Hospital for examination last week. He has many friends here. Mr. and Mrs. William Stanhope and daughter, Phyllis, have moved to Stamford. Phyllis is still going to school at Sagerton.

By AL HINDS

Bulletin article, the first group of sleepers is exemplified by the man who arises with the chickens, and retires at an early hour. I don't belong to this group, because in the first place I don't have any chickens to arise. The health article pointed out that the maximum efficiency of the early to bed and early to rise sleeper is greatest during the early part of the waking day, and then gradually diminishes as the evening hours approach.

The second group of sleepers include those who hate to get out of bed in the morning, and like to stay up late at night. After worrying through a couple of sleepless nights wondering if I came under this group... I eliminated myself from that bunch. In the first place a small town newspaperman usually has to stay up late at night, writing advertising copy or cover some sort of meeting. On the other hand, whether I like it or not I have to get up early in the morning—to try to keep the wolf from the door. I have come to the conclusion that the wolf must never sleep, because despite the fact I arise early, the rascal is already at the door.

After giving the matter considerable thought and losing more sleep, I have decided that I might fit into the category of the third type of sleeper, who by the way, the article pointed out, is erratically geared and at times may be able to assume the characteristics of the "early birds," and also "night owls," but usually have no set pattern. These are the ones, so says the article, who sometimes never go to bed at all.

I believe the writer of the health article should have included a fourth type of sleeper—for instance, the "I wonder if I locked the door, turned down the furnace, put the cat out, wound the clock", etc.

The wife doesn't ask for much in this old world. In fact, she doesn't ask for anything. She just takes it without asking.

Same Song, Another Verse
Now, at last, Haskell is getting into the act.

Bobby Black, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Black, and a buddy, Sammy Baker, 15, are striking out, the heel-and-toe route, for Abilene, 50 miles away, of course, Saturday morning at 4 a. m., weather permitting, they report.

The boys said they'd be delighted to have company on the trip and have reason to believe they'll reach their goal before dark Saturday.

ATTENTION DOG OWNERS
The City Council has been advised that packs of dogs have been killing and maiming calves and sheep in this vicinity and it is thought that some of these dogs are stray dogs from the City. We have been asked to take steps to help in the matter and to destroy some of the stray or unwanted dogs that roam the streets and alleys.

A City Ordinance provides that all dogs that run at large in the City must have a dog tag and rabies vaccination tag. In the March 7th issue of the Free Press we will advise the date that a veterinarian will be at the Fire Station to vaccinate all dogs for rabies. After a reasonable time after the date of vaccination the City will instruct its officers to begin destroying stray dogs running at large in the City.

Please watch for this date and give your dog proper protection by supplying the proper tags.

Haskell National Bank Is Pioneer As National Centennial Observed

Haskell National Bank, no Johnny-come-lately itself on the banking horizon with an enviable 72 plus years of reliable record to which to point with pride, this week joined other banks across the nation in celebrating the centennial of the appearance of national banks on the scene, President A. C. Pierson declared.

It was in 1863 that enactment of a piece of legislation called the National Currency Act, according to the American Bankers' Association, provided for the issuance of a national currency, helped to finance the Civil War, and laid the foundation for our present-day dual system of state and nationally chartered commercial banks.

Haskell National Bank came into existence only 27 years after passage of this important legislation, and therefore today stands on its brilliant compilation of continuous growth and assistance to the development of this area as one of the pioneer banking institutions of the entire nation.

At the meeting, held in the Community Room of the Haskell National Bank, Naman discussed the importance of the farm program.

At the instance of the Haskell County Farmers' Union president, Don Nanny, the assembly donated to the screw-worm eradication program and went on record to solicit additional funds for this project.

Our Personal Regards TO ALL OUR FRIENDS and CUSTOMERS

WE'VE ENJOYED 73 YEARS OF PROGRESSIVE BANKING AND ARE LOOKING FORWARD TO MANY MORE...

We Want To Serve You

A CENTURY OF COMMERCIAL BANKING

The Country was at war... raising money to pay the cost was difficult and insisted to become increasingly so... faith in our paper money was slipping... was our Nation's plight in 1863!

Then, on February 25, 1863, President Abraham Lincoln signed the National Currency Act. This Act established the much-needed national currency and rekindled confidence. It also made possible the development of the dual banking system of national and state commercial banks.

Sparked by this competitive system, American banking has contributed immeasurably to the progress of the Nation, its people, and the world.

Did you ever stop to think that your banks provide our Nation with the dollars without which our vaunted standard of living could not have been achieved? A world without banks would be more than a reasonable facsimile of the Dark Ages.

Did you ever stop to think that a sizable proportion of our homes, schools, hospitals... everything that is manufactured, distributed and sold... our roads and communications systems... are financed by bank credit?

Next time you write a check or deposit in your bank savings account or borrow to help finance your business, a car, a home, or something you want to buy—try to imagine what your life would be like without banks.
