Local, area 'pokes off to good start at youth finals rodeo

By PHIL RIDDLE
SDN Sports Editor
Texas state high school champion Adam Carrillo staked claim to first place in the bull riding competition at the AJRA National Finals Rodeo here Tuesday — a day in which local and area performers also found success. Action in the youth rodeo got under way in earnest as slack events were run in a 9 a.m. session and the first of five 8 p.m. performances was presented. Festivities continue tonight through Saturday at 8 p.m. in Scurry County Coliseum. Tickets are $4 for adults and $2 for children. Box seats sell for $6 each. Tickets are half-price to senior citizens tonight. Snyder was well represented Tuesday with Russell Riggan laying an early claim to first place in the boys 12-and-under breakaway roping and Terra

Bynum grabbing the lead in the girls division of the same event. Riggan got it done in 4.29 seconds; Bynum in 13.80. Carrillo, from El Paso, marked a 73 set the pace in the bull riding. Shorty Montalvo of Christoval was second with a 67 and Wingate's Stacy Jennings' 62 was good for third. Keller bareback rider Randy Baker scored a 67 on the only qualified ride in that event and Jason Beyer of Stephenville flashed a 4.98-second time to take the steer wrestling lead over Del

Rio's Barry Simpton and fellow Stephenville resident Trent Walls. Riders representing area communities included Roby's Carter Edmondson, Fluvanna's Tucker Collier, Hermleigh's Amanda Johnson, Gail's Grant Key, Colorado City's Marcia Cawthron and Lorissa Edmondson of Roby. Carter Edmondson, current president of the AJRA, took third place overall after his 12.55 effort in the boys 16-19 tiedown roping. Scot Meeks of Henrietta posted a (see AJRA, page 8)

Local rainfall near 2 inches

Fluvanna receives 4 1/2

Much of Scurry County received varying amounts of moisture Tuesday as late afternoon thunderstorms rolled through the area. However, Fluvanna apparently benefited most as rains there began earlier in the day. In all, residents of the small community reported some 4.50 inches before the rain ceased. Snyder's official rainfall, as provided by the Water Pump and Filter Plant, was 1.94 inches, which brings the year's total to 19.45 inches. Some 3.20 inches fell north of Snyder and 2.5 inches was reported in Polar while the area to the east only received .30 inches. Dermott reported 1.80 inches. Lake Thomas reported 1.70 inch at the dam and 1.50 inches at the west end of the lake. The area some two miles east of Dunn recorded 1 inch while Ira received 1.10 inches and Hermleigh reported a trace of moisture. Tonight's forecast calls for partly cloudy with a 20 percent chance of thunderstorms. The low is expected to be around 70 degrees and wind from the southeast will be from 5-15 mph. Thursday is expected to be partly cloudy with a high in the lower 90s. The southeast wind will vary from 10-20 mph. Scattered showers and thunderstorms are expected over most of Texas tonight and Thursday with heavy rainfall possible over the Big Bend area of Southwest Texas and in extreme West Texas. A flash flood watch will be in effect tonight in Pecos and Terrell counties. Lows tonight will be mostly in the 70s, ranging from the 60s across West Texas to the lower 80s in South Texas. Highs Thursday will be mostly in the 90s, ranging from the 80s in the Panhandle to near 100 across the Lower Rio Grande plains.

Season ticket holders have Friday deadline

Season ticket holders have until 3:30 p.m. Friday to renew their tickets for the 1990 Snyder High School varsity football season. Season passes for the five home games are $15 each. After Friday, season tickets remaining will be sold to the general public. Unclaimed tickets may be bought Monday through Friday beginning Monday, Aug. 20, from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. by contacting the SISD administration office. No season tickets will be sold after Aug. 31. Snyder's Tigers open the 1990 season at Monahans on Sept. 7 and stage their home opener against Clyde's Bulldogs on Sept. 14. The Tigers trek to Littlefield on Sept. 21 and return to Tiger Stadium on Sept. 28 to entertain Big Spring.

Snyder rounds out its non-district schedule by hosting Seminole on Oct. 5. All Tiger non-district games are scheduled to start at 8 p.m. School officials stress that tickets have been printed with an 8 p.m. starting time for all games, but District 2-4A games will begin at 7:30 p.m. Snyder kicks off its first 2-4A appearance in Lubbock against Estacado on a Thursday, Oct. 11. They then entertain Levelland and Lubbock Dunbar on Oct. 19 and 26, to wind up the home schedule. The final two regular-season games find the Tigers at Wolf- forth on Nov. 2 to play Frenship and at Lamesa on Nov. 9. Single-game tickets will cost $4 each this season. Student tickets bought in advance on any SISD campus or at the administration office will be $2 each.

Thursday... Hermleigh water topic of meeting

A public hearing on a proposed application for a grant to study the Hermleigh water system will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Hermleigh Community Center. County Judge Bobby Goodwin said the public hearing is required prior to filing the application with the Texas Community Development Program. The county had initially planned on making application for a $250,000 grant to upgrade the aging water works in Hermleigh, but meetings on the subject revealed more engineering is needed to determine what needs to be done to improve the system. At an earlier meeting, Hermleigh water customers complained of low water pressure. Others, however, expressed concern about future water rates. If either grant is approved, Scurry County must come up with 10 percent matching funds. Commissioners have looked at adjusting water rates so that the system can accrue necessary funds to meet the 10 percent requirement. The court has also considered appointment of a five-member advisory board for the water system, but action on the appointments has not been taken by the court.

Records management discussed in meeting

Scurry County Appraisal District Board of Directors heard Chief Appraiser Ray Peveler explain the new records management law during Tuesday's monthly meeting. Peveler told the board that the legislation requires the office to make a number of the office's records permanent. He said that a company from Lubbock will copy onto film the office's nine filing cabinets of records for approximately $5,000. The film will then be stored in an El Paso climate-controlled vault. The board approved a record order presented by Peveler outlining the storage of the records and the responsibilities of the records management officer. In routine business, the board approved the bills payable and examined the district's collection reports.

The SDN Column By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "When you're in too much of a rush, you're liable to pass more than you can catch." It's a simple case of human nature. When you're caught, you need somebody to blame. We wanted to blame it on TU Electric manager Jack Smartt, and as a passenger in our car Tuesday, he at least is indirectly at fault. We were returning from attending a Texas Department of Criminal Justice board meeting in Austin Tuesday when we came face-to-face with a black and white auto with flashing red lights. It was the usual question. "Sir, you were clocked at 70. Do you have an emergency?" Caught red-handed, we decided to make the best of it. "Have you ever had to travel with Jack Smartt?" Without an answer, the patrolman started to write the ticket. We also suggested it might be a case of entrapment — if the Trooper West had been back home in Eden, then we wouldn't have gotten caught. He grinned, but he continued to write the ticket. We thought of one more possibility to avoid the fine, but we decided to save it for Peace Justice Tomlinson in Eden who we called Wednesday morning. "Judge, Jack Smartt's three-year-old granddaughter lives in Austin and she was riding home with us. Whatever Nancy had for lunch didn't set well with her system, and I was speeding up to air out the car." "That's one I hadn't heard. That's so good," said the judge, "that I'll even take a personal check. That'll be $47.50."

JERRY HODGE

Clements supports TDCJ's Jerry Hodge

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer
AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — When the story began months ago, with an anonymous letter, it sounded a bit like a plot lifted from an old movie called "Open Season." Starring Peter Fonda and William Holden, the movie was based on a book about a hunting party that stalked human quarry. The author of the anonymous letter maintained that several rich and politically influential hunting buddies had used hounds and horses to track down volunteer convicts during dog-training exercises at a Texas prison. They called the escapade the "Ultimate Hunt," the letter said, and that catchy little phrase was emblazoned across the backs of their jackets. It wasn't "Open Season," but it was intriguing. According to the scarlet letter, the man behind the "Ultimate Hunt" was Jerry R. Hodge, 47, vice chairman of the state prison board. A pharmacist by profession but a cowboy at heart, Hodge is a straightforward, fun-loving, hard working, political activist on behalf of Republican candidates. Most notably, Gov. Bill Clements. Until the "Ultimate Hunt" story broke this week, Hodge was targeted as the next chairman of the prison board, which oversees the newly restructured Texas Department of Criminal Justice. Hodge, a two-term Amarillo mayor, was in attendance for the opening of Snyder's Price Daniel Unit in 1989 and addressed future correctional officers during a

May 8 certification ceremony at Western Texas College. Austin sources said Clements planned Tuesday to announce the appointment of Hodge as the successor to Charles Terrell, who is stepping down Sept. 1 as board chairman. That appointment was put on hold after Hodge confirmed that he had taken two of his bear hunting companions to the state prison at Huntsville and participated in the dog-training exercise. He did call the escapade the (see HODGE, page 9)

Q—When will the AJRA telecast be shown in the Snyder viewing area and what are the dates?
A—According to information we have received, the telecast can be seen locally Sept. 2 from 12-2 p.m. on KJTV of Lubbock, Sept. 15 from 10:30 a.m. to 12:20 p.m. on KTAB of Abilene, and Home Sports Entertainment (HSE) at a date to be announced.

In Brief Stay granted

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Mark Henry Lankford has won a stay of his execution for the 1983 double murder his brother now claims primary responsibility for. U.S. District Judge Edward Lodge issued the stay of the early Thursday morning execution pending review of more than a dozen legal questions raised by defense attorney Jim Siebe, including a challenge to the validity of Idaho's death penalty law.

Rejects claim

MONROVIA, Liberia (AP) — Rebel leader Prince Johnson laughed off a claim by rival rebels that they killed him in factional fighting that has caused the 8-month-old war against President Samuel Doe to bog down.

Local Hermleigh

School registration for all Hermleigh High School students will be held Thursday and Friday. On Thursday, seniors are to register from 9-11 a.m. and juniors are to register from 1-3 p.m. Friday, sophomores will register from 8-10 a.m. and freshmen will register from 10 a.m. until noon.

Consumers warned of investment scams

WASHINGTON (AP) — A state regulators' group is warning consumers about con artists seeking to exploit the crisis in the Persian Gulf to peddle bogus oil, gas and precious metals investments.

The North American Securities Administrators Association has issued an investor bulletin to warn small investors about the latest scams tied to recent developments in the Mideast.

The group is an association of state government regulators that periodically alerts the public to the latest twists in consumer related securities fraud.

"People shouldn't expect to make money overnight," warned Susan E. Bryant, president of NASAA. "If a legitimate oil company is going to profit from the Mideast oil crisis, it's going to take a while," she said in a telephone interview Tuesday.

"Today, the swindlers' best friend is a headline or television news flash out of the Mideast that threatens a disruption of oil supplies to the United States," said Bryant, who is also administrator of the Oklahoma Securities Department.

Con artists previously have seized on the scam potential of Mideast turmoil, including the 1973-74 Arab oil embargo, the 1979 Iranian revolution and the tanker war during the Iran-Iraq war in the 1980s, said Bryant.

"Nothing works as well for a swindler as being able to point to front-page headlines and the lead item on the network news shows as proof of the need for small investors to 'act now!'" Bryant said.

"Investors should realize there are hundreds of high pressure telephone sales operations in the United States that will be burning up the phone lines with these kind of pitches for non-existent or blatantly abusive investments."

Investors should not give money to strangers who contact them by phone, NASAA said. It also advised checking out whether an investment is registered with state authorities and if the promoter is licensed.

The NASAA bulletin warned that crooks, through high pressure telephone sales from temporary "boiler room" operations, encourage investors to buy into oil partnerships for $5,000, $10,000 or more.

To sweeten the deal they claim the gulf conflict will drive up oil or commodity prices and the investor will be getting in early enough to ride the price rise.

But, NASAA advised, the wells in question often do not exist, belong to someone else or are dry. Even a legitimate oil field can take as long as two years to reach full production, the bulletin stated.

War and the rumor of war also can drive up the price of precious metals such as gold, silver and platinum — historically used as investment hedges during times of uncertainty — and attract scam artists.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Grandparents' rights! Legally, as far as I know, we don't have a leg to stand on, but how I'd love to have had a grandson to carry on the family name.

I have two sons and a daughter. I can trace my male line back 11 generations, but it will end with my two sons.

My eldest son's wife had a daughter, after which she talked my son into having a vasectomy. Soon after, she divorced him. My son is now 40 and has had enough of marriage. Who can blame him?

My other son had two daughters. He is also divorced, with no desire to marry again.

My family name will be carried on by my brother's sons — but my line is ended.

My mother always said that her father died content that he had had enough grandsons to carry his casket — 10! All I would ask for was one — to carry my name.

Starting with my sons, my line goes back 11 generations to a fur trader on the Hudson River — and from there, I presume, back to Adam. I wonder how other grandfathers react to this type of situation.

SEVENTY-THREE AND RESIGNED

DEAR ABBY: May I respond to "Appalled in Chicago" concerning the present-day secretary's lack of skills?

Like me, there are many efficient secretaries who can type, take dictation, spell, add, make coffee, water plants and run errands. The problem is that the present-day office manager wants a 19-year-old with good buns. Well, most of us who have first-rate secretarial skills saw "19" many years ago, and our buns are sagging.

My scores on employment tests have amazed personnel department heads, but as soon as the person for whom I would be working takes one look at this old broad, I don't stand a chance.

When those in charge choose efficiency over cute, gum-popping airheads, the secretarial field will once again become a respected line of work.

JO IN DENVER

DEAR JO: The secretarial field has always been a "respected line of work," and while youth and good looks never hurt anybody's chances (male or female), they never have — nor will they ever — be valued above competence.

DEAR SEVENTY-THREE: A man inherits his father's name, but by his deeds he makes his own reputation. Sons, and daughters too, add luster — or tarnish — to their family's name. So, when all is said and done, what's in a name? A rose by another name would smell as sweet. (And a skunk by any other name would smell no better.) One finds the fruit of a tree on the branches — not in the roots.

DEAR ABBY: No doubt, your readers were probably surprised to learn that the inspirational quotation which a reader had erroneously attributed to Ray Kroc, the founder of McDonald's, was authored by the 30th president of the United States — Calvin Coolidge!

Because Coolidge was a very quiet, conservative man who rarely spoke unless spoken to, he was aptly nicknamed, "Silent Cal."

The following oft-told anecdote confirms that Coolidge was indeed a man of few words: A prominent Washington socialite, who had been invited to the White House for dinner, found herself seated next to President Coolidge. In an effort to engage him in conversation, she good-humoredly said, "Mr. President, my husband bet me $5 that you wouldn't say three words to me all evening."

Coolidge coolly replied, "You lose." YMELDA DIXON, WASHINGTON, D.C.

Don't put off writing thank-you notes, letters of sympathy, etc., because you don't know what to say. Get Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Send a long, business-size, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $3.95 ($4.50 in Canada) to: Dear Abby, Letter Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054. (Postage is included.)

Performer hospitalized

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sheila E, a singer, dancer and drummer in singer Prince's band, has been hospitalized for a collapsed lung.

The 32-year-old performer, whose full name is Sheila Escovedo, entered Cedars-Sinai Medical Center on Monday, hospital spokeswoman Peggy Frank Shaff said.

She is expected to make a full recovery and get out of the hospital by week's end, Ms. Shaff said.

Asked what caused the singer's left lung to collapse, Ms. Shaff said, "It just happens." The condition "occurs spontaneously with no known cause. Tall, slender people are predisposed to such a condition."

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON TAX INCREASE

The (Ira I.S.D.) will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in (1989) by (18.67%) percent. Your individual taxes may increase at a greater or lesser rate, or even decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in taxable value of all other property.

The public hearing will be held on (8/17/90 7:00) at (Ira I.S.D.) p.m. Board Room

FOR the proposal: Bob Barbee, Sid Wall, Keith Clements, Kirby Sterling, Wylie Oliver, Bo Robinson, Ray Sorrells
AGAINST the proposal: None

PRESENT and not voting: None

ABSENT: None

The statement above shows the percentage increase the proposed rate represents over the (.7675) tax rate that the unit published on (7/24/90). The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

| | Last Year | This Year |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|----------------------|
| Average home value | 26,906 | 26,864 |
| General exemptions available (amount available on the average home, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions) | 5,000 | 5,000 |
| Average taxable value | 21,906 | 21,864 |
| Tax rate | .9955 | .9108 (proposed) |
| Tax | 218.07 | 199.10 (proposed) |

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would (increase/decrease) by $ (18.97) or (8.7%) percent compared with last year's taxes.

Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would (decrease) by $ (.0847) per $100 of taxable value or (decrease) 8.508% percent compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

Taking out insurance

By James Jacoby

When South saw the dummy, he chided himself for being timid. There were 13 tricks in no-trump for the taking if either the jack of hearts came down or the diamond suit split 3-2 — overall, an excellent chance.
Declarer played dummy's jack of clubs, covered with the king and ace. He cashed his king of hearts, went to dummy with the ace of diamonds and played A-Q of hearts, throwing his small spade and small club. He then played K-Q of diamonds. But East had the diamond suit stopped. And East now had a good heart — the jack. When declarer gave up a diamond trick, East cashed the heart for down one.

Although declarer was a favorite to take all the tricks, he missed a way to almost guarantee 12 tricks in no-trump. Declarer was not playing in tournament competition, where his result would be compared with the results of others playing the same hand. Instead, the game was rubber bridge. South should therefore have done what he could to ensure making the small slam. After cashing his heart king, he should simply play a low diamond from the North and South hands. Either defender can win that diamond trick, but now declarer cannot be prevented from getting to dummy with the ace of diamonds to cash the A-Q of hearts, and the rest of his diamonds will be good, barring an extremely unlikely 5-0 diamond split.

WIC participants cut from program urged to reapply

The Texas Department of Health officials are urging the women, infants and children who were cut from the Texas WIC program earlier this year to contact their public health clinics. Several thousand of those who were cut are once again eligible for free food, medical screenings and nutrition counseling.

Legislation passed by Congress and signed by President Bush this week allows the Texas WIC program to restore services to 15,000 of the 27,000 participants who were cut. WIC currently serves 330,000 people every month, down from 357,000 in January.

"This is a godsend for the women, infants and children who will get back on the program," said Mary Ward, R.N. "This legislation means that the pregnant women and many children who were dropped from the program and who need help are now eligible to get help again."

"We urge all those, especially pregnant women, who were cut from WIC during the past few months to return to their WIC clinic," Ward said. "It is imperative that pregnant women eat healthy foods and have their health monitored. Otherwise, their babies' health could be in jeopardy."

The newly passed legislation allows for the participants' return by enabling the Texas WIC program to borrow up to three percent of the funds earmarked for next year's costs.

The rising cost of WIC authorized-foods — milk, cheese, juice, eggs, beans, cereal, peanut butter and formula — forced the participants to be cut.

The Supplemental Food Program for Women and Children (WIC) is administered with federal funds totaling $150,004,058 which accounts for 96.4 percent of the program's annual budget.

For more information contact Mary Ward or Amelia Rosas, WIC clerk, at 5303 Trinity Blvd. Suite B or call 573-9705 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Mondays through Fridays.

Amino acid linked to serious disease

DEAR DR. GOTT: What is eosinophilia-myalgia syndrome, and how is it related to L-tryptophan?

DEAR READER: Eosinophilia-myalgia syndrome was first reported in 1989 in some people who used L-tryptophan, an amino acid nutritional supplement marketed to treat disorders

Scientists set turtle release in Gulf today

GALVESTON, Texas (AP) — After being given a "head start" by spending a year in a laboratory, 1,845 endangered Kemp's ridley sea turtles will be released into the Gulf of Mexico today.

The turtles, hatched in Mexico last July and housed the past year at the Galveston National Marine Fisheries Service laboratory, will bring to more than 16,000 the number of "head start" ridley sea turtles returned to the wild in the past 12 years.

Scientists hope the year in the laboratories give the turtles a "head start" on surviving in the wild.

The release has triggered some controversy.

For the first time, the fisheries service plans to release the turtles 50 to 75 miles southeast of Galveston in waters from 100 to 180 feet deep.

Turtle preservationists are protesting the change in routine. They maintain the turtles cannot survive in the deep waters.

The annual head start turtle classes have been released in near-shore waters off Port Aransas for the past decade, where they were expected to graze on crab, grow, and eventually migrate to bay waters all along the Gulf and Atlantic coasts.

Famous baseball manager Earl Weaver never played in a major league game.

such as depression, insomnia and premenstrual syndrome.

The syndrome, which is painful and occasionally life-threatening, is marked by severe myalgias (muscular pains) and a striking increase in eosinophils, blood cells that are usually associated with allergic reactions. Additional symptoms are hair loss, joint pains, weakness, nerve malfunction, rash, swollen ankles, fever, pneumonia and scleroderma (a disease of connective tissue). Although reported only a year ago, the disease has probably been present for many years. Onset varies widely: from two weeks to 15 years, with a median of about five months from the time the L-tryptophan was taken.

Because the syndrome appears to represent a new disease, specific criteria for diagnosis are lacking. With supportive care — such as rest and pain medication — most patients recover. More than 1,300 cases, including several deaths, have been reported. However, the extent of the epidemic is unknown.

Although the basis for the eosinophilia-myalgia syndrome/L-tryptophan relation is still unclear, the supplement was withdrawn from the market, pending further study.

At present, while experts investigate this new affliction, public health authorities urge people to discontinue taking L-tryptophan supplements and to destroy supplies remaining in their possession.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I am 9 years old and in the fourth grade. I've been getting headaches three or four times a week for the past six months. Our doctor says they could be from school and Mom pushing me to do my homework. Is this normal, or should I worry about it?

DEAR READER: If your mother is pushing you to do well in school and to finish your homework, you could (as your doctor suggests) experience tension headaches because of stress. I wouldn't call this normal, but it is a common occurrence in children and adults under pressure.

Of course, simply worrying about it is bound to increase your anxiety level and make matters worse. Therefore, I suggest you raise this issue with your mother. Perhaps your doctor might even initiate a discussion with her.

I predict that your mother would be eager to reduce the pressure on you by agreeing to "back off" on her demands, if you — in turn — agree to study for a set period (no TV, no distractions) every day and to obtain additional help from your teachers, if needed. I think this is a situation that could be helped by some open dialogue.

Incidentally, make sure your doctor checks your vision. Every so often, children your age require glasses, and the first clue may be headache caused by eyestrain.

I showed your question to my 11-year-old son, and he pondered an answer until he finally exclaimed: "Tell him to relax!" That may, in fact, be the answer to your problem — but it's often easier said than done.

Two-year deal...

English signs with Mavericks

DALLAS (AP) — He's no Sam Perkins, but the red-faced Dallas Mavericks will take what they can get.

The Mavericks were forced to go shopping on the sparse free agent market last week after Perkins turned down an $18 million offer to stay and bolted to the Los Angeles Lakers.

If they couldn't find Perkins' equal on defense, they at least wanted a scorer who could match Perkins' consistent output of about 16 points a game.

What they got was Alex English, the eighth-leading scorer in NBA history.

"It's a good match," said Mavericks coach Richie Adubato. "We're excited to get him. He'll take up some of the scoring punch with Perkins gone."

Dallas is still hoping others, especially second-year man Randy White, can pick up the slack on defense.

English, who agreed to terms with the club last week, will sign a two-year contract today, said Mavericks general manager Norm Sonju.

The deal is believed to be worth more than $1.4 million this year, with the second year exercised at the club's option. The Mavericks will hold an afternoon press conference after he signs.

English, who will be 37 in January, played in 80 games for the Denver Nuggets and averaged 17.9 points and 3.6 rebounds despite diminished playing time last season. English has 24,850 points in 14 seasons.

He feuded with Denver coach Doug Moe throughout the season.

English struggled with his shot early on and when his playing time diminished and his defensive efforts were criticized, he and Moe had heated exchanges on several occasions.

Last weekend, Moe said, "I think it's best if Alex signs with someone else. It's only because we're going in a different direction (with youth), and in our situation last year he wanted to play. I made it very difficult.

"We know that he wants to play, and we can't promise him any time. Last year I think his skills went downhill. That was pretty obvious."

English's minutes dropped from 36 per game in 1989 to 27.6 last year.

His 17.9 average marked the first time in 10 years he had averaged under 22 points.

The Mavericks had to look for some scoring help when Perkins turned down a six-year, $18 million offer from Dallas to sign with the Lakers. His six-year contract with Los Angeles is believed to be worth roughly $18.5 million.

Little Leaguers get sportmanship cup

Snyder's Little League All-Stars were presented the Sportsmanship Trophy as a result of their play and "exemplary attitude" according to Little League officials in Waco where the recent state baseball tournament was held.

The trophy is voted on by umpires, opposing coaches and state Little League officials.

Snyder finished fourth at the tournament beating Laredo Rio Grande 2-0 in the first round and dumping Pasadena National 11-5 before losing to Spring NW 45 in the semifinals.

The Snyder Little League All-Stars, coached by Mike Jordan, Alton Patterson and Israel Hinojos, are Wayne Braziel, Ramsey Castillo, Patrick Cumbie, Brock Gard, Kevin Hildebrand, Jeffrey Hobbs, Jeremy House, Lee Idom, Patrick Jordan, Matt Parker, Page Patterson, Brandon Rollins, Tommy Torres and Ben Wells.

In a related matter, reports on Snyder's final game, a 12-1 consolation loss to Pflugerville, Patrick Cumbie was not credited with time on the mound.

Cumbie came in in the second inning in relief of starter Jeremy House and worked until the fourth frame.

A&M pondering move

Aggie president confirms support for jump

by The Associated Press

The president of Texas A&M says his school's major focus is an ongoing study of the Southwest Conference, but he confirmed there is growing support for a move to the Pacific-10 or another conference.

"I do believe the Southwest Conference will have to change itself, probably adding schools if it is to be a viable conference, given the fact that other conferences are changing," A&M president William Mobley said Tuesday after addressing a group of Amarillo, Texas, business leaders.

"But Texas A&M has made no decision. There's an awful lot of speculation, some of it partially well-founded, some of it totally missing the mark. We have not asked to be invited to join another conference."

Bill Clayton, an A&M regent and former speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, told the Houston Chronicle Monday that he favors a move and that other regents also are receptive to the idea of bolting the SWC for a stronger conference.

"I think the sentiment of the board is A&M, Arkansas and the University of Texas have been basically underwriting the athletic programs of the Southwest Conference," Clayton said.

"With Arkansas leaving (to join the SEC), the burden is squarely placed on A&M and the University of Texas. I think we've got to make a move," Clayton added.

Clayton said Mobley briefed the board on the prospect of A&M's possible departure at a regents meeting on July 28. Specific alternatives to the SWC were not discussed at that meeting, Clayton said.

Clayton said Mobley asked him at the meeting to assess the political ramifications of A&M and Texas deserting the conference.

"I told them certain members of the legislature would say whatever they could on the matter, but the decision must be based on whatever is best for Texas A&M University," Clayton told the Chronicle.

Money is just one of many aspects that A&M will consider in a possible conference change, Mobley said, but not the only one. He said finances will not dictate A&M's decision.

"I don't think we'll be forced to do anything," Mobley said. "I think we are seeking to evaluate our options in informal discussions with a variety of people. There is a major study of the Southwest Conference under way by a very competent consulting group. They will report to the regents, in early September. I think that will be revealing."

The Port Worth Star-Telegram reported Tuesday that the University of Texas plans informal talks this week with Pacific-10 officials about the possibility of Texas and Texas A&M joining the league.

The report said Pac-10 commissioner Thomas Hanson will meet with a UT representative for what one unnamed source described as an "informal talk."

University of Texas athletic director DeLoss Dodds presumably will discuss the issue this week at a meeting in Kansas City with Pac-10 commissioner Tom Hansen.

Hansen is a member of the NCAA's Post-Season Football Subcommittee, which will meet the next three days in Kansas City.

Dodds is a former subcommittee member who attends as a consultant.

SWC commissioner Fred Jacoby said he was surprised at the prospect of a Texas-Pac-10 meeting.

"Who from Texas is the Pac-10 meeting with?" asked Jacoby, who said it is customary for an SWC school to inform him of any such discussion.

Men and women may sign up for the four person scrambles. Registration fees are $100 per team but single players are also welcome. Registration fees for them will be $25 per person.

Today's entry deadline has been extended. To enter call 573-4031, 573-3325, 573-0149, or 573-3383.

Team prizes will consist of $400 for first place; $200 for second place and $100 for third place.

Individual prizes will also be given for closest to pin #1; closest to #6; and longest drive to #7.

Individual prizes will include four Goodyear radial tires donated by Lang Tire; a sand wedge; and metal woods handmade by Rob Hall.

Also, a set of irons #3 through a pitching iron, handmade by Rob Hall, will be given away. A donation of $1 is required to be eligible for the drawing.

Pokes move Walen to OG

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys have moved defensive tackle Mark Walen to offense to try to shore up a depleted group at guard.

A knee injury to starting left guard Crawford Ker and the NFL suspension of Louis Cheek Monday for steroid use forced Jeff Zimmerman's move from center to starting guard and led to Walen's shift to guard.

Coach Jimmy Johnson informed Walen of the move before the Tuesday afternoon practice at Cal-San Diego.

Johnson said Walen will play left guard against the Los Angeles Raiders in an exhibition game Saturday at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

"It looks like he may have found a home, based on the first practice," Johnson said. "He did some excellent things. We do believe he'll be able to pick things up fast enough to help us. He's tough enough and smart enough to do it."

Walen was listed as a backup left defensive tackle on the latest depth chart, but with the recent signing of rookie Jimmie Jones, Walen's chances of making the roster as a defensive player were reduced.

Bush says American 'way of life' at stake

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush said today that America's freedom and "way of life" are at stake in the Persian Gulf confrontation with Iraq's Saddam Hussein.

The Pentagon, meanwhile, considered calling up thousands of reserves to bolster active duty units depleted by the crisis.

Defending his decision to send thousands of combat troops to secure control over vital oil fields, Bush denounced Saddam's "ruinous policies of war," and added, "we are striking a blow for the principle that might does not make right."

ments in remarks prepared for delivery at the Pentagon, while Secretary of State James A. Baker III was meeting with Jordan's King Hussein at the State Department. Hussein arrived in the United States on Tuesday in his self-appointed role as mediator in the crisis that began when Saddam overran Kuwait last week and positioned troops as if to invade Saudi Arabia.

Baker and Bush are expected to press Hussein to stop permitting commerce in and out of Iraq in defiance of a United Nations trade embargo.

visory Council for United Blood Services.

Pins were presented to the following donors: Lora Hopson, a one-gallon pin; Kay Murle, Edna Bilberry and Christine Smauley, two-gallon pins; Juanita Buchanan and Bill Wood, three-gallon pins; Bob Clifton and Jessie Perkins, four-gallon pins; Clyde Verdine, a five-gallon pin; Jim Pollard, a six-gallon pin; and Tommy Doyle, a seven-gallon pin.

Bob Clifton won a drawing for a buffet-for-two at Willow Park Inn.

Winners of the seven dinners at Jaramillo's Restaurant were Jeff Teil, Kelly Williams, Trudi Wood, Chad Lee Holladay, Wanda Rinehart, Darrell Calahan and Billie Hilbath. Spanish Inn dinner recipients were Rex Glass, Kim Hines, Bob Sealy, Monette O'Day, Ronnie Anderson, Jimmy Layne and Billie Jackson.

Drive officials issued their appreciation to Pack 177 cub masters Janet Halbert and Chris Halbert for their help in cleaning up and to senior citizens for calling donors.

Among the businesses which donated incentives for the drive were Gill's Fried Chicken, Dr. Pepper Bottling Co., Jaramillo's Restaurant, Spanish Inn, Willow Park Inn, Dairy Queen, Sonic Drive In, Whataburger, Taco John's, Wal-Mart, Long John Silver's and Golden Corral Steak House.

Cookies were provided by Lawrence IGA and orange juice was furnished by Cogdell Hospital Auxiliary.

fiance of a United Nations trade embargo. The king said he was carrying a message from Iraq's leader.

The president went to the Pentagon for a briefing on the crisis, which has led him to deploy tens of thousands of troops, hundreds of aircraft and dozens of naval vessels to the region. Pentagon spokesman Pete Williams said the subject of a possible call-up of reserve units would be discussed.

Williams said Tuesday night that if such a call-up were made, he expected "a great deal" of the reservists would remain in the United States and mainly would handle support functions rather than combat-related duties.

Crown Prince Hussan, King Hussein's brother and political adviser, was asked today about the message Hussein was carry-Collier rolled up a 58 score on a reride to move into second place in the steer riding behind Coleman's Cory Crye, who carved out a 62 point effort.

Johnson blazed to a 14.98 clocking in the girls 12-and-under barrel race to hold third place while Key ran the course in 14.65 for the top spot overall after a day's racing.

Cawthron registered a quick 3.06 second run to take over the lead in the girls 16-19 breakaway roping. Lorissa Edmondson took over third place with a 13.12.

ing from Saddam to Bush. In an interview from Jordan on ABC's "Good Morning America," Hussan declined to discuss details, but said, "I don't think that his majesty would be traveling at this crucial moment if the Iraqi leadership did not have a rational approach to the future."

Hussan also said reports today that Iraq was seeking peace with neighboring Iran "shows a major achievement."

In a letter to Iranian President

Hashemi Rafsanjani reported today by the Iraqi government, Saddam said he will begin withdrawing troops from Iranian territory and release Iranian prisoners of war.

The Iranian government reported that an Iraqi diplomatic delegation was en route to Tehran to deliver Saddam's message, which it said it would review "with optimism."

Fun Fest in Kent County set Saturday

JAYTON — The 1990 Kent County Fun Fest on the Town Square in Jayton will begin at 10 a.m. Saturday with an ice cream freeze off.

Among the many activities available that day will be the "Vic Macy" detectives who will solve the crime of who stole the Fun Fest account by picking up clues throughout the week at businesses in town.

The winner will be awarded $50, not $50,000 as erroneously reported in Tuesday's edition. The villain will be arrested by the sheriff.

Also on tap, will be the fifth annual Rolling Plains Arts and Crafts Show and Sale slated for 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. There will also be a truckload fabric sale in the hallway of the courthouse.

A Dolly Parton Look-a-Like contest will be at 10:30 a.m. with frog races to follow at 11 a.m. and the Appliance Box Roll Game and the Dizzy Bat Run are set for 11:30 a.m.

Food booths will also be set up around the square.

A dance, featuring Jody Nix and the Texas Cowboys, will begin at 9 p.m. on the old tennis courts at Jayton School.

Two thefts are reported

Two thefts, two minor wrecks and three alcohol-related arrests dominated police activity in Snyder on Tuesday.

Sidney Brunson of 1400 23rd St. reported to police on Tuesday the theft of a shotgun valued at $200. Brunson, who is in the process of moving, said the gun was last seen about July 1 and was stolen from his house, his mother's house or from his vehicle.

At 10:56 a.m. Tuesday, Cindy Gill of 3011 40th St. reported the theft of her son's purple 20-inch BMX Western Flyer bicycle.

At 1:57 a.m. Wednesday, a felony DWI arrest was made in the 800 Block of 30th St. Charged and jailed was 24-year-old John Timothy Timora.

At 1:08 a.m. Wednesday, a 19-year-old male was arrested in the 2600 Block of Ave. K and charged with public intoxication and minor in possession.

At 11:13 p.m. Tuesday, officers were called to the Scurry County Coliseum where a man was reportedly intoxicated in the stands. Arrested was a 21-year-old male who was charged with public intoxication.

At 9:33 a.m. Tuesday, a hit and run was reported on the Lawrence IGA parking lot. Struck by an unknown vehicle was a parked 1978 Dodge van owned by Gregorio Juarez of Ira.

At 10:05 p.m. in the Wal-Mart parking lot, a 1989 Mazda driven by William Robert Foree of Snyder was in collision with a 1987 Mercury Sable driven by Mary Jane Orona of Ira.

'Forum Shopping' hearing set August 24

TYLER, Texas (AP) — A hearing will be held Aug. 24 to allow a federal judge to consider sanctions for "forum shopping" against a Houston law firm which filed a lawsuit in four federal courts and one lawsuit in state court over the 1987 bombing of the USS Stark by Iraq.

Hurst woman flees after thirteen days in Kuwait

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — A Texas woman trapped in Kuwait for 13 days made a dash across the desert to escape the "nightmare" of war in the country she had come to love.

"One day it was perfect, the next day it was hell," said Shirley Coffman of Hurst, a manager for the Burgan Bank in Kuwait. She left Texas for Kuwait 13 years ago.

In the past two weeks, Ms. Coffman said, she saw Iraqi troops shoot and kill at least 200 Kuwaiti women and heard stories of flight attendants being raped by as many as 100 Iraqi soldiers.

She said there was no warning before Iraqi troops invaded Kuwait Aug. 2.

"I got to the building where I worked and heard this popping sound," Ms. Coffman told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram in a telephone interview from Bahrain. "I didn't know what was going on. I thought the Emir was on parade or something."

"One of my cashiers came running out and told me the country was being invaded. About that time, the glass in the building above our heads was shot out. We ran for our lives."

"The army was shooting at the cars and people were dying right before my eyes," Ms. Coffman said.

Ms. Coffman said phone lines were monitored and cut if English was spoken. On the third day of the siege, Ms. Coffman went out dressed as a Bedouin to buy food. After that, she said, she didn't dare risk leaving her apartment.

She said she watched in horror as Iraqi troops gunned down a group of about 200 Kuwaiti women protesting the invasion near her home.

Ms. Coffman said a friend told her that airline attendants from every airline were rounded up and taken to the Plaza hotel, where women were raped by Iraqi soldiers.

Hodge 'hunt' under focus

"Ultimate Hunt," he said, conceding that was "probably a poor choice of words."

And he did have jackets made for his friends, which he called a "mistake."

But, he insisted, he was merely an observer, not a hunter, and that he did nothing wrong. Texas prisons have used inmates in their dog-training programs for years, and he and his friends simply wanted to see the dogs work.

One of those friends, Glenn McMennamy of Amarillo, is also a Clements appointee, a member of the State Department of Human Services board. He insisted the Huntsville affair was not a "big deal."

The other man was Bob Wilds of Indianapolis, Ind., an avid bear hunter who attends a huge three-day party Hodge throws each year at his ranch here in the Texas Panhandle.

While describing Hodge's actions as "inappropriate," Clements rebuffed demands for Hodge's ouster. Contrary to knowledgeable sources, however, the governor contended that he had not chosen Hodge as Terrell's successor.

"Certainly I will have this in consideration when I make my ultimate decision," Clements said of Tuesday's revelations. "But as far as disqualifying him, I do not think that it does."

"I think he made a mistake. I think he's apologized for his mistake. I'm sure he will not do it again."

Meanwhile, assorted Democrats and the American Civil Liberties Union demanded Hodge's resignation, if not his head, and some suggested that McMennamy also resign.

Hodge, calling the furor politically motivated, said he had no intention of resigning. Asked if he might step down, McMennamy declared:

"Hell, no. That's absurd. I think the whole thing's been blown out of proportion."

Many agreed, including James Lynaugh, executive director of the criminal justice department, and Rep. Allen Hightower, D-Huntsville, chairman of the House Corrections Committee.

"I don't think it was a hunt. It was more a training exercise," said Lynaugh, who was present at the Huntsville site when the episode occurred in April 1989.

"And I don't think it was inappropriate at all. I think it is very appropriate that board members be involved."

Hightower defended the training procedures and the presence there of Hodge and his friends. He said law enforcement officers had witnessed other dog-training exercises.

"It's not a brutal situation," he said. "It's a way of training animals."

One of Hodge's Amarillo associates, who spoke only on grounds of anonymity, said Hodge once told him over drinks in a Houston airport about the thrill of tracking human quarry.

"It's fun," he quoted Hodge as saying. "It's something nobody else gets to do. It's the ultimate

The hearing will be conducted by U.S. District Judge William M. Steger in Tyler's federal courthouse, where the first lawsuit was filed. The same suit has since been filed in federal courts at Beaumont, Galveston, and Houston and in state court in Harris County.

Steger had set an earlier hearing on the matter for May 14 to consider sanctions against the Fisher, Gallagher, Perrin & Lewis firm for impermissible "forum shopping." But that hearing was canceled after lawyer Michael J. Maloney filed an affidavit assuring Steger the lawsuit had been dismissed only once by the law firm, in accordance with law.

Documents filed in federal court here show that the lawsuit was then filed in both state and federal courts at Houston.

Twenty-four plaintiffs, including two survivors and relatives of others killed in the incident, are seeking unspecified damages in connection with the deaths of 37 U.S. Navy sailors aboard the USS Stark when it was bombed by two Exocet missiles fired from an Iraqi aircraft May 17, 1987, in the Persian Gulf.

Two missiles fired from an Iraqi F-1 struck the USS Stark while it was on the high seas about 85 miles northeast of Bahrain, killing 37 sailors and injured several others.

The plaintiffs allege that numerous defense contractors were guilty of negligence in the design, testing and construction of the protection systems on the ship. The lawsuit lists 27 defendants.

A six-page motion filed by lawyers representing General Dynamics Corporation, Hughes Aircraft Co. and Unisys Corp. asked for sanctions and a hearing in Tyler prompted Steger to set the Aug. 24 hearing.

Lawyers defending the defense contractors are asking that the pending Galveston action be moved to federal court in Tyler.

The defense lawyers seek sanctions that "are meant to deter attorneys from violating the rule and should be tailored to particular wrong." They also ask for reasonable costs and attorneys' fees for preparing, filing and pursuing this motion and reasonable costs and fees associated with defending the multiple actions.

Now AmWest can give you something few banks can...

A good night's sleep.

Now AmWest has "DreamSaver"—a savings program designed to bring peace of mind to all those who worry about saving money.

Here's how it works: You tell AmWest how much you want to save every month, (as little as $25 if you like) and they'll deduct it automatically from a free checking account (that's right, free checking) and put it into a CD account. Keep your money there for a full 12 months and it will earn a high-interest CD rate. Take it out early, and you'll get a penalty — three months interest or $50.

So "DreamSaver" not only helps you save money on a regular monthly basis — it helps you keep your hands off it too. And with a little money in savings — a good night's sleep will come a whole lot easier.

Put Your Money on Texas.

Churches devise plan to prevent abortion

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — Women with unwanted pregnancies are being offered money for medical and living expenses by a group of churches hoping to prevent the women from having abortions.

Roman Catholic Bishop Rene Gracida of the Corpus Christi Diocese said the project is similar to one already in progress in New York.

Individual churches, as well as the Corpus Christi diocese will help pay expenses for the women and for the children after they are born, if necessary, Gracida said.

"We believe that no mother in Corpus Christi should even consider abortion because of a financial situation," said the Rev. Dennis Schiefelbein, pastor of Our Savior Lutheran Church in Corpus Christi.

Schiefelbein on Tuesday appeared with Gracida to announce the interdenominational "Gabriel Project."

So far, 16 Catholic and 16 other Christian churches have signed on to take part in the project, Schiefelbein said.

The project also will help find adoption services, offer counseling and help the women obtain any public assistance for which they may be eligible.

They had no estimate of the project's expected cost, but Schiefelbein said, "We believe the Lord will provide all the resources necessary to provide for that life which he has created in the womb of every mother."

He said he expected more churches to join in the effort, which will be limited to the city of Corpus Christi.

The bishop said he thinks the project will help ease the division in his diocese over the abortion issue.

"Some Catholics over the past few years have expressed some concern about the church's strong stand opposing abortion, have asked the question, 'Why aren't we doing more for a woman who is in a situation where she feels it necessary to terminate the life of her child?"

"This will give those Catholics who have been concerned about what they thought was a lopsided or one-sided approach of the church condemning abortion, but not doing enough for the unborn child and the child's mother," he said.

About 3,000 abortions were performed in Corpus Christi last year, most of them at two large clinics. Anti-abortion activists regularly picket the clinics, and sometimes stage "rescues," in which they attempt to block access to the clinics.

Schiefelbein has taken part in some of the clinic blockades organized by a group known as Body of Christ Rescue.

Gracida this year has sent decrees formally excommunicating at least two abortion clinic employees from the Catholic church, in what were believed to be the nation's first formal excommunications over the abortion issue.

Rachel Vargas, one of the abortion clinic employees Gracida excommunicated, said Tuesday she thought the Gabriel Project was a good idea, and would consider making its literature available at her Reproductive Services clinic. Ms. Vargas said, "I don't think it will prevent abortions, but I think that if they are going to help those women who opt to parent, then it is a good thing."

Each church taking part will display a sign identifying it as a participant in the Gabriel Project.

The project is named for the account in the biblical book of Luke, in which the angel Gabriel appears to the Virgin Mary and tells her she will bear a child, Jesus, by immaculate conception.

Billy Martin had a batting average of .500 in the six game World Series in 1953, in which the New York Yankees beat the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Your Birthday

August 16, 1990

There is a possibility you may conceive something rather revolutionary in the year ahead that could be a boon in your field of endeavor. Use your inventive gifts.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) There is someone with whom you are presently involved who always attempts to pry into your confidential affairs. Today his/her curiosity is at a higher point than usual, so monitor your comments carefully. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Astro-Graph Matchmaker can help you to understand what to do to make the relationship work. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You might be inclined to take risks today, not necessarily on yourself, but on others. There's a possibility you may back the wrong horse.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) People you'll be involved with in business today could lose confidence in you if you fail to take a firm position on key matters. Don't fear of making an error cloud your judgment.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) A poor sense of timing could cost you the sale today. Don't be so anxious to make your points that it causes your presentation to appear out of sync. Think in an orderly manner.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) A joint venture in which you are presently involved must be monitored very carefully today or else you might fall heir to the greater portion of the expenses.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Someone whose advice you sought could get a little miffed with you today if this person sees you do just the opposite of what was recommended.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You might not be as industrious as you should be today and you may look for shortcuts for assignments that require continuity and patience. Bungled results are likely.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) If you want your friends to treat you with generosity and warmth today, you must treat them in the same manner yourself. Don't expect what you don't deliver.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) There's a possibility you might pack it in today just when your objective is within reach. If you hope to be a winner, you must put the emphasis on your staying power.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Today you may be asked to relay some critical information to a second party. It would be wise to put the message on paper, because your memory might not be as reliable as usual.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be extremely careful today if you are handling funds for someone other than yourself. Something unexpected might develop that could have a negative affect on your attention span.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Indecisive people could introduce complications into your affairs today. It's best not to get seriously involved with anyone who cannot make up his/her own mind.
