Hobbs woman pleads guilty

A 26-year-old Hobbs, N.M. woman received a 10-year probated sentence Thursday afternoon in 132nd District Court.

Becky Sue Davis, charged with possession of a controlled substance, pled guilty and was given the sentence by District Judge Gene Dulaney. In addition, Davis was fined $1,000.

The offense occurred March 9, 1989, and she was indicted by a December grand jury.

United Way goal $78,000

It's the same goal set last year which the organization met and even surpassed by approximately $6,000. However, United Way president Donny Brown noted that although the campaign goal is identical to last year's, the organization has cut its operating budget by $2,500 in an effort to distribute more funds to local agencies.

Snyder Boys Club, Snyder Child Care and Noah Project will each see an increase of $800 over funds received last year. Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts will both see an increase of $500.

In all, eight agencies will benefit from this year's cam-paign, which kicks off Sept. 24.

Boys Club remains the organization's biggest benefactor, at $28,800, followed by Snyder Child Care at $15,800 and Noah Project at $13,800.

Boy and Girls Scouts will receive $6,000 each, Oil Patch Foster Parents has been allocated $3,600 and Red Cross and Salvation Army will each receive $500.

During the meeting, Brown in-troduced eight new directors to the board of 24. They are Brandy Hickman, Nancy Wilson, Jeff Fowler, Rick Blackwood, Bill Hartsfield, Ted L. Bidwell, Les Woods and Harold Lacik. Each will serve a three year term.

The suit, filed Thursday in 132nd District Court, says the nineyear-old boy was injured on Aug. 24, 1988. The petition says Ditmore was at the county-owned pool with his aunt and her children. He climbed on the diving board on which there was a pool of water. The suit says the water caused the boy to slip, lose his balance, fall approximately 10 feet, and land on his back on the concrete.

Court records also claim the youth lost consciousness and sustained a severe blow to his head and severe bruise to the base of his skull and the back of the neck.

The suit further claims "great physical pain and mental anguish.' The suit was filed on behalf of the plaintiffs by Tom Fother-

In 1974, the report noted, it took 12 forms to certify eligibility for Medicaid in North Carolina. Today it takes 38. The proliferation apparently stems from a federal government effort launched in the mid-1970s to stamp out fraud and error in public assistance programs. The increased complexity, however, has also created a backlog that not only delays benefits, but also requires the employment of additional caseworkers.

Social service workers in 10 North Carolina counties even went so far as to issue a statement on the value of benefits versus increased bureaucracy: 'It is extremely expensive and inefficient to presume dishonesty on the part of all applicants.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My 79-year-old mother uses hot tap water for her instant coffee. I've heard water from the tap is not good for drinks without boiling because of the lead pipes in our house. Is this true? What effects could she suffer?

DEAR READER: You raise several interesting issues, the most important of which is lead poisoning.

Many old houses have pipes that contain lead. If the water entering the house has even the slightest acidity, it will leach lead from the pipes. A small amount of lead in household water is not necessarily hazardous, unless the water is used for drinking or food preparation.

Once ingested, lead leads to a constellation of progressive symptoms, including headache, loss of appetite, vomiting, abdominal pain, constipation and personality changes (such as forgetfulness and dementia) that will disappear if drinking contaminated water is discontinued.

Because your mother has lead pipes in her house, she should - in my opinion - have a water lead concentration test performed (by your town sanitarian or municipal health department) and a blood test to check the level of lead in her body. Lead in drinking water is not affected by boiling; both hot and cold tap water are equally unhealthful.

Also, to my knowledge, there is no danger from drinking hot tap water, providing the water pipes and the water heater do not contain lead.

Therefore, in answer to your question, your mother should not consume tap water in her house until it has been verified lead-free. However, if the water is safe, she can drink it hot or cold from the tap. In the meantime, your mother should find other sources of potable water.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have continued to read, with a great deal of interest, your articles on Pau d'Arco tea for treatment of finger- and toenail fungus. Can this remedy be used for a fungus in the ear? My doctor has prescribed Lotrimin, which helps but never cures my problem.

DEAR READER: I cannot endorse Pau d'Arco tea for the purpose you describe because, to my knowledge, it has never been used as therapy for fungous infection of the ear canals. Ordinarily, fungous growth in the ear canals is quite easy to treat with ear drops, such as Cortisporin or Otobiotic.

Finger- and toenail fungus is usually much more resistant to therapy, hence the herbal tea treatment.

OSHA plans massive safety inspection of petrochemical plants

PASADENA. Texas (AP) — Houston-area industrial plants. Last year's deadly explosion at a Phillips Petroleum Co. plastics plant has spawned federal safety inspections of 26 petrochemical plants.

Occupational Safety and Health Administration investigators will conduct reviews at some of the nation's largest oil refineries, plastics plants and chemical operations in 10 states, including Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana.

"It's not my job to tell you how to run your plants," OSHA head Gerald Scannell told about 75 petroleum industry representatives meeting in Houston this week. "My one concern is the safety of the workers."

Investigators will visit the largest or second-largest plants operated by each of the 26 targeted corporations, said Alan McMillan, OSHA's deputy director. The investigators are undergoing training this week.

The targeted companies are the largest corporations in three industrial classifications: oil refining, plastics and synthetic resin production, and industrial and organic chemical production. But OSHA officials declined to cite the specific companies.

In all, the targeted companies employ 333,000 workers - 71 percent of their industries' totals.

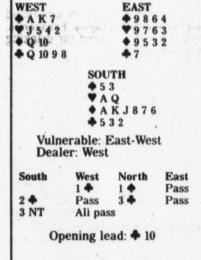

The inspection program is being launched in response to the Oct. 23, explosion and fire at the Phillips plant in Pasadena. Twenty-three workers were killed and 130 were injured. It was the first of several problems at

Opening bid is revealing

By James Jacoby

Bridge expert John Sutherlin was a winner in the Vanderbilt team-of-four and the Men's Swiss Teams in the North American championships held in Fort Worth in March. Today's deal, from a regional championship in June, shows Sutherlin as North getting into the bidding early to guide his side to a good score.

West opened a marginal hand, influenced by his two defensive tricks (A-K of spades). Sutherlin simply overcalled with a four-card spade suit. That bid gave South a problem. Two diamonds would not be a forcing bid after an overcall, and three diamonds would be lacking in direction. So South cue-bid two clubs. When North showed either a club suit or club stoppers by bidding three clubs, it was easy for South to bid the no-trump game.

West led the club 10. Declarer put in dummy's jack, played a heart back to his ace and played a spade. West took the king and played a second club, won by dummy's king. Declarer came to his hand with the heart queen and played a second spade. West won and played a third club, won by dummy's ace. The king of hearts and two spade tricks were cashed in dummy, declarer throwing away three small diamonds. Declarer then played his A-K of diamonds, dropping West's queen and taking the rest of the tricks.

There was really no problem with dropping West's diamond queen, since West needed that card for his opening bid. That's part of the down side of weak opening bids — they let declarer play as though he can see through the back of the cards.

A July 5 explosion at Arco Chemical Co.'s plant in suburban Channelview killed 17 workers.

Last April, OSHA issued 575 citations and $5.67 million in fines against Phillips. The agency also cited a subcontractor, Fish Engineering & Construction, with 194 safety violations and $729,600 in fines in the explosion. Appeals filed by both companies are pen-

In recent years, OSHA has concentrated its efforts on more hazardous industries. But in its report on the Phillips blast to President Bush on April 27, OSHA promised to review its priorities and consider the "risk of catastrophic events in the petrochemical industry.

The petrochemical inspection program will be the agency's first such industry-specific safety sweep since 1986, when OSHA inspected 40 chemical plants in the wake of the December 1984 disaster at a Union Carbide plant in Bhopal, India.

As part of the petrochemical project, inspectors will — without warning — visit the 26 plants for safety inspections. They will look for specific violations and examine at least one potentially hazardous production process at each facility.

Inspectors also will examine all subcontractor groups at the plant. Organized labor has pointed to subcontractors as a primary cause for the Phillips explosion as well as safety problems at other petrochemical plants.

OSHA officials hope to complete their inspection program by September 30, 1991.

Other states involved in the investigation are: Delaware, Illinois, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

$1 billion set aside for new mortgages

DALLAS (AP) — Greenwich Capital Financing Inc. of Irving and Washington D.C.-based Fannie Mae have signed an agreement to provide $1 billion for new home mortgages.

Most of the mortgages will be exchanged for mortgage-backed securities issued by Fannie Mae. The rest will be sold to Fannie Mae for cash.

The agreement provides for mandatory delivery of the mortgages, nearly all of which will be fixed-rate mortgages with terms of 15- and 30-years.

The companies made the announcement Thursday.

"We are delighted that Greenwich Capital will be working with Fannie Mae to increase the money available to American home buyers," said Judy Dedmon, senior vice president of Fannie Mae's Southwestern Regional Office.

Greenwich Capital is a national wholesale buyer of mortgages. Fannie Mae, the Federal National Mortgage Association, is a shareholder-owned company and the nation's largest investor in home mortgages.

The Best of Dear Abby by Abigail Van Buren

EDITOR'S NOTE: Abby is on a two-week vacation. Following is a selection of some of her favorite past letters.

DEAR ABBY: I am a newly married person and I don't know what to call my mother-in-law. I can't address her as "Mrs. Smith" as I did before I was married, and addressing her as "Molly" would seem presumptuous and lacking in respect.

She has asked me to call her "Mother," but my own mother is still living, and I would have great difficulty calling anyone except my own mother "Mother."

> Can you help me? STUMPED

DEAR STUMPED: I think I can rovide a solution to your problem, and to all others who share it, by publishing a letter from a reader who wrote to me some

DEAR ABBY: I would like to help all young marrieds who find it difficult to address their mothers-in-law as "Mother.

When I made my first visit to the doctor's office after the birth of my first child, the nurse motioned to me and said, "Mother, you are next."

I knew she wasn't addressing me as her mother. Suddenly I realized that she addressed all of us with children as "Mother."

Immediately my vision was broadened, and I came to understand that 'Mother" applied to all women with children. That was the moment I was lifted out of the narrow rut of thinking that the title belonged only to my own mother.

I soon put this knowledge to practice. When I wanted to attract the attention of friends, neighbors or even strangers, I would say, "Mother, watch your little one!"

You'd be surprised how quickly they reacted, having been reminded that they were mothers. The title is rightly theirs, and it never interfered with the special meaning it held for my own dear mother.

If we would all use the term freely, the next generation would learn from our example and thus alleviate a sticky problem.

BIRMINGHAM

DEAR ABBY: What is the significance of wearing a single carnation on Mother's Day?

DEAR MIMI: A red carnation is worn to signify that one's mother is living. And a white carnation signifies that one's mother is deceased.

There should also be an identifying flower worn by those whose mothers chose motherhood by raising a foster child, adopting a child or raising a stepchild.

And a special place in heaven awaits those mothers who chose an "imperfect" child, knowing that physically or mentally handicapped children require not only special needs, but also a superabundance of love, understanding and patience.

Some reserves may perform vital tasks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most U.S. reserves sent to help defend Saudi Arabia won't be driving tanks or digging foxholes. But they will tackle two of the most important tasks in desert warfare: getting water and protecting against chemical attacks.

In announcing that about 46,700 reserves will be called to active duty over the next five weeks for Operation Desert Shield, the Pentagon said Thursday that most of the part-time soldiers will be posted in or near Saudi Arabia.

The first telephone calls to reserve members could come as early as today, officials said.

Tigers shine in battle Rios, Anderson draw praise for grid efforts

By PHIL RIDDLE

SDN Sports Editor STANTON - Senior quarterback Ed Rios picked the Ft Stockton defense apart in the Tigers' second offensive drive during Thursday's controlled scrimmage here.

Rios put together an 80 yard drive completing five of six passes for 70 of those yards, including a 29 yarder to junior tight-end Hayward Clay for the practice game's initial score.

Clay caught two passes for 36 yards on the drive while teammate Terry Snyder gathered in one Rios aerial for 16, Joe Martinez nabbed one for 11 and fullback Brian Brunson came down with a three-yard recep-

"Paul Anderson ran well from the tailback position and Brian Brunson did a great job blocking at fullback."

Unofficially, Anderson gained 44 yards on seven carries.

On defense the Tigers were equally impressive, stalling the Ft. Stockton offense after its 15 plays at the 1-yard line.

The Panthers tried to cross the SHS goal line five times from inside the 5-yard line but were denied each time.

Ft. Stockton did hit some big plays in the drive.

A pass to junior tailback Robert Arias from senior QB Shannon Beeles scooted the Pan- doff over the right side for the thers to Snyder's 14. That came other. just two plays after a 30-yard gallop by Arias on a sweep to the left side of the Tiger defense.

"I'm not too concerened about the running play they broke," explained Baugh, "We were caught in a defense that we use for a dif-defense played pretty well." Damien Haywood registered a sack of Beeles that resulted in a loss of three yards and Rios nailed starting fullback Philip Houston for a loss of a yard on a sweep to the left during the Ft. Stockton possession.

The rules of the scrimmage, besides allowing each offensive squad 15 plays, gave each team five plays from the five-yard line to end the game.

MONAHANS — Snyder's Lady Tigers began competition in the Monahans Volleyball Tournament today with an 11 a.m. contest against El Paso Bowie.

Snyder started its spike season last Tuesday with a 6-15, 9-15 home loss to Brownfield.

Coach Patty Grimmett's squad continues pool play here with a 1 p.m. match with host Monahans followed by Odessa High at 7 p.m.

Snyder's junior varsity volleyball crew, 1-0 on the juststarted season after Tuesday's 15-6, 16-14 win over Brownfield, is in Abilene Saturday for the Key City Tournament.

The first JV battle is scheduled for 11 a.m. against San Angelo Central at Abilene Cooper High School Gym.

Snyder's next action will be a Tuesday game featuring the JV and varsity at Big Spring.

Houston Oilers general manager Mike Holovak thought he had a deal Thursday that would have put McMichael in an Oilers uniform.

But the Bears decided they still wanted to negotiate with their unhappy veteran, who has two years remaining on his contract but wants to renegotiate.

"It would have been done, no question," Holovak said. "The asking price was not a problem. Nothing was a problem.

"It's just that I think the Bears are hoping they can talk him into staying and playing there this year," Holovak said.

McMichael, 32, has been a Bears holdout since training camp started July 26 and is losing $1,500 in fines each day for missing camp. The total reached $45,000 today.

McMichael was a third round draft pick of the New England Patriots in 1980, following the recommendation of Holovak, who was then the Patriots personnel director.

"I'm always interested in good football players and McMichael has played in the same defensive system we're using for the last 10 years," Holovak said.

The Oilers have shifted from a 3-4 defense to a 4-3 in coach Jack Pardee's first year as coach. "I haven't done an in-depth

Postal service, workers ready for contract talks

Unions asked to keep wage demands down

WASHINGTON (AP) - The financially suffering Postal Serkeep down wage demands when contract talks open today, but union leaders say their members shouldn't pay for management mistakes.

"We don't want the public to be take the blame for poor management either," said Moe Biller, president of the American Postal Workers Union.

Biller's accusations center on the service's push towards automation, which he said has wasted money without improving efficiency. He says automation also costs thousands of jobs.

Postal Service spokesman Lou Eberhardt called charges of mismanagement 'prebargaining rhetoric.'

Automation joins wages as a key issue in efforts to agree on new three-year contracts before the current pacts expire at midnight Nov. 20. The four unions represent 660,000 workers.

The Postal Service faces a deficit of between $1.4 billion and $1.6 billion this fiscal year, which ends Sept. 30. In an effort to break even eventually, the board of governors proposed in March to raise the cost of mailing a letter from 25 cents to 30 cents.

Testifying in March on Capitol Hill, Postmaster General Anthony M. Frank called on the unions to show "constructive restraint" in wage demands. He said 83 percent of the Postal Service's costs go for pay and

As of this month, letter carriers receive a starting salary of $24,381, which includes a cost-ofliving adjustment, the Postal Service says. Most clerks and carriers earn a maximum of $31,516, which also includes a cost-ofliving increase. The Postal Service says employees receive an additional $8,560 in benefits and premium pay

Joseph Mahon, assistant postmaster general for labor relations, said that the average $20 an hour makes postal workers better paid than their counterparts in private business.

Saving oil so far is more 'talk than action'

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Mideast crisis has people talking about conservation again. But few are actually doing anything about it.

Phone lines started ringing at energy conservation advice lines right after Iraq invaded Kuwait on Aug. 2, as consumers fearing higher prices sought tips to cut their consumption.

Last week, Energy Secretary James D. Watkins proposed steps to boost U.S. oil production while asking drivers to trim their gasoline use by joining car pools, obeying speed limits and keeping their tires properly inflated.

Geoff Sundstrom, a spokesman at American Automobile Association headquarters in Orlando, Fla., said regular nationwide checks show no signs that drivers are cutting back to save on gasoline.

Auto sales have dropped this month, but analysts say that's

To get free or reduced-price meals for your children, carefully complete an application blank and return it to the school. If you now get food stamps or AFDC for any of your children, the application must include the names of the children, your food stamp or AFDC number and the signature of an adult household member.

If you do not list a food stamp or AFDC case number for all of your children, the application must have the names of everyone in the household, the amount of income each household member now gets, where it comes from and how often it is received, the social security number of either the primary wage earner or the household member who signs the application or the word "none" if the member does not have a social security number and the signature of an adult household member. An application that is not completed cannot be Verification: Eligibility may be checked by school officials at any time during the school year. You may be asked to send information to prove that your children should get free or reduced price meals.

Fair hearing: If you do not agree with the school's decision on your application or the results of the verification, you may wish to discuss it with them. You also have the right to a fair hearing. You can do this by calling or writing the following: Jimmy Hudgins, Route 2, Hermleigh, Tx. 79526 or call 766-3517.

Reporting changes: If your children get meals based on income information, you must tell the school if your household size decreases or your income increases by more than $50 per month or $600 per year. If your children get meals based on AFDC/food stamp information you must advise the school if you no longer get either for your Confidentiality: All information will be kept confidential.

Reapplication: You may apply for free and reduced-price meals at any time during the school year. If you are not eligible now but have a change, such as a decrease in household income, an increase in household size, become unemployed or get food stamps or AFDC for your children, fill out an application then.

In the operation of the child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color, national origin, age, or handicap. If you believe you have been discriminated against, write to Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

You will be notified when the application is approved or denied.

national TV to defend 'Ultimate Hunt'

HOUSTON (AP) - Prison Board Vice Chairman Jerry lodge has taken to the national talk show circuit to defend his participation in an exercise where he and two friends accompanied prison dogs to pursue inmates in what became known as the "Ultimate Hunt." Hodge is a former Amarillo mayor whose ascension to the top job on the prison board may have been torpedoed by last week's disclosure of the hunt.

He again apologized Thursday for what he said was poor judgment in making jackets for his friends to commemorate the hunt that took place last year at the Ellis I Unit northeast of Hunt-

But in an appearance on the nationally syndicated Oprah Winfrey program, he defended the dog training practice as one that benefits the prison system and one that is enjoyable to the inmates who participate. "It is not a chase," Hodge said. 'These inmates volunteer for this. This is a good job and these gentlemen volunteer for it.

Asked whether he had any regrets, Hodge replied, "I've said from the very beginning that the term 'Ultimate Hunt' was in poor taste and bad judgment and 've apologized.'

As for the jackets, Hodge said, "It was in error and in poor taste and I apologize for that.'

State Rep. Ron Wilson, D-Houston, also appeared on the consideration as chairman. Winfrey panel with Hodge, and said he wanted a special legislative session to consider his request that Hodge be impeached from his job on the prison board.

"I'm opposed to using the in-mates to train the dogs," Wilson slavery.

But I'm troubled with the mountable that you can't get the prison walls. Their routine is dehumanizing aspect of it. I don't anybody to argue this program is different. The ones I talked to all think inmates ought to be used at not a good program.'

> Hodge said only three people could get him to quit the board: Gov. Bill Clements, who appointed him, his wife or himself. "Ron isn't one of them," Hodge said, referring to Wilson.

Clements, who supports the state's method of training dogs to hunt prison escapees, said the jackets were inappropriate. He said, however, the incident wouldn't disqualify Hodge from Charles Terrell is resigning as chairman of the Texas Board of Criminal Justice on Sept. 1.

Asked if he would don protective clothing like an inmate and be the bait in another hunt, Hodge said, "I have said that I would. The error that I've made was having the jackets made."

Another Texas lawmaker, State Rep. Allen Hightower, D-Huntsville, telephoned the program to defend Hodge as the only person on the Winfrey show who knew what was going on in the Texas corrections department in

"This is not a hunt," Hightower said. "It is not a sport. It is a training exercise for the dogs to track a human. If you want to train a dog to track a man, you have to use a man."

Ms. Winfrey said Hodge earlier indicated he would bring one of the "Ultimate Hunt" jackets to the program but Hodge said later determined it would not be wise.

"I decided not to," Hodge said. "I thought it would be like wav-

American barely escapes from Liberia

NEWARK; N.J. (AP) -American Andrew Voros walked out of a jail in war-ravaged Liberia with only a pair of jeans and many horror stories.

Voros, who spent the last four ears documenting the destruction of the last virgin rain forest n West Africa, had his work looted. He also saw a friend tortured by soldiers who later told him his friend had been killed. And he has memories of bodies littering streets in Liberia's capital, Monrovia.

The 33-year-old New Jersey man was jailed for eight days in Monrovia by soldiers loyal to President Samuel Doe. Soldiers would accuse him of being a CIA agent at one point and then ask for his help in getting a visa to the United States. "You don't know how many soldiers took my U.S. address down," he said.

Voros and his close friend, Col. Christopher Doe, a former finance director for the army who is not related to the president, were arrested at Voros' house by soldiers who accused them of supporting the rebels.

On the fourth day of their imprisonment, "Christie was brought in, stripped and beaten with a cartridge belt in front of me," Voros said. The next day a soldier told Voros his friend had

Families did not get to see loved ones on broadcast from Iraq

by The Associated Press

Relatives of Texans being held in the Persian Gulf are still hoping to capture a reassuring glimpse of their loved ones.

That glimpse, however, failed to come Thursday during a Cable News Network broadcast from Iraq. The CNN tape showed Iraqi president Saddam Hussein talking informally with some of the foreign hostages.

None of the Texans trapped in Iraq were shown, their families

Marjorie Walterscheid of Jacksboro, whose husband Rainard, 52, is among those being detained, watched the CNN program closely.

'He wasn't among them," she said, sighing. "They were all Britons, I think."

Patricia Hale said when she heard about the CNN broadcast "I hoped I might see Ed, but I watched most of it and he wasn't there. I didn't recognize anyone.

"The last word I heard was that they were taken to some nondisclosed location. They don't know where he is at this point," she said.

The broadcast was also monitored closely in the West Texas town of Aspermont, about halfway between Abilene and Lubbock.

Aspermont Mayor P.C. Carr said he hoped to spot his son, Gary Carr, 46, of Richland Hills, Texas. Gary Carr, a drilling supervisor for OGE Drilling in Kuwait, has been held against his will in Iraq since shortly after Iraq invaded Kuwait Aug. 2.

"We're always looking real close, anytime they show a picture of any of the hostages, hoping to get a glimpse of him," the elder Carr said.

His son wasn't among the group with Hussein, he said.

"They were all Britons, I think, the way they talked. It looked to me they were frightened, which I'm sure they were," Carr said.

There's been no late word from the U.S. State Department, or anyone else, about his son, Carr Dave Schulz.

"The last we heard was Wednesday a week ago. At the time, I thought the State Department had called us, but Edith (his wife) said she contacted them and asked them to send him a message. But by that time, the Texans no longer were accessi-

Texans taken from another rig were Charles Amos, 59, of Harmony, a community near Gilmer in East Texas; Ed Hale, 52, of Spring, in the Houston area; and Bobby Gene Parker, 49, of Vidor, near Beaumont.

One of the early problems was getting through to anyone who could help, the elder Carr said. Telephone calls to the State Department were frustrating, he

"When the phone answers, you're talking to a computer, and you have to punch 1, 2 or 3. Then you get another computer that gives you another question and tells you to punch 1 or 2. It goes on like that for four or five times, and finally you reach a human being, and they tell you they don't know anything," Carr said.

Carr said he finally called his congressman, U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm, D-Texas, of Stamford, asking for his help.

"After that, they started calling us and we didn't have as much problem," Carr said. "But we still don't know much."

Former pro football player leads rally

MILWAUKEE (AP) - Lionel Aldridge, a former pro football player who suffered mental health problems and became a drifter, led a rally to raise funds for the mentally ill.

Aldridge, 49, a defensive end for the Green Bay Packers from 1963 to 1971, marched Thursday with about two dozen other selfdescribed "mental health consumers" to the office of Milwaukee County Executive

Cracks appear in Soviet Union with current moves towards independence

MOSCOW (AP) - More cracks sent to The Associated Press. have appeared in the Soviet Union, with Armenia declaring independence, Turkmenia announcing its sovereignty and Estonia beginning talks toward separation.

However, struggling to keep the nation whole and the economy afloat, President Mikhail S. Gorbachev on Thursday managed to neutralize the Russian republic's attempt to take control of its own vast natural resources.

Also Thursday, heavily armed KGB border troops rolled tanks up to the Polish-Lithuanian border to prevent unauthorized crossings on the 51st anniversary of the pact that allowed Stalin to seize the Baltic republics.

Armenia, a republic of 3.3 million people on the border with Turkey and Iran, is the fifth of the Soviet Union's 15 republics to move toward complete independence from the Soviet

Shakhmuradyan said he expects the republic to remain part of the Soviet Union only during an undefined transition period to

Baptist revival

Nationally known evangelist Henry Roe of Palestine will lead a revival meeting Sept. 2-7 at Hobbs Baptist Church according to church pastor C.J. Smith.

Services will be conducted at 7 p.m. throughout the week with Sunday services scheduled for 11 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Roe has conducted meetings nationwide and will be accompanied by music evangelist Charles Altimore.

Hobbs Baptist Church is located between Snyder and Rotan on Farm Road 611. dependence, however, might be Armenian legislator Samvel complicated by the bloody twovear conflict with neighboring Azerbaijan over the disputed territory of Nagorno-Karabakh.

The declaration calls for creation of Armenia's own armed forces to safeguard the border, and for Nagorno-Karabakh, a largely Armenian area of Azerbaijan, to become part of the Armenian republic.

The move threatened Gorbachev's struggles to develop a new union treaty attractive enough to keep his nation whole. Gorbachev, however, seems to be bowing to Baltic demands for complete independence.

Kremlin officials began formal negotiations with Estonia on Thursday. The two other Baltics, Latvia and Lithuania, were expected to begin independence negotiations soon. Georgia has also requested talks with the Kremlin on independence.

The Estonian and Soviet delegations plan to meet weekly for two months and present a final document to Gorbachev's Presidential Council by the end of October, reported the official Soviet news agency Tass.

Seven republics have declared sovereignty, or the right to over-turn Soviet laws on their territory. The republic of Turkmenia passed such a declaration Thursday, joining Russia - the largest Soviet republic - the Ukraine, Azerbaijan, Byelorussia, Moldavia and Uzbekistan.

The Armenian resolution was approved by a vote of 183-2, Armenian legislator Samvel Shakhmuradyan said in a telephone interview from Yerevan, the capital of the small republic.

It invalidates the Soviet Constitution on Armenian territory and says that only the republic's Constitution is in effect, and demands a share of the Soviet national wealth, Shakhmuradyan said.

The resolution calls for the creation of Armenia's own currency, banking system and customs duties and claims Armenia's right to conduct its own foreign policy. It also bars other nations' troops and bases from its territory, a clear reference to the Soviet armed
