Local

Hermleigh

A pot luck supper will be held Monday, Sept. 10, at 7 p.m. in the Hermleigh Community Center.

All Hermleigh area residents are invited to attend and get acquainted.

Band boosters

Snyder Band Boosters are encouraging band parents to attend the "Meet the Tigers Night," scheduled for Tuesday at 8 p.m. at To-wle Park Pavilion.

Parents should bring a covered dish. Tiger players will be introduced and the Pride of the West marching band will perform.

Girl Scouts

Girl Scout registration forms have been sent to local schools and parents are reminded to have interested students fill them out and return them to the school office.

The organization is also urging parents to consider becoming a Girl Scout leader. For information, contact JoAnn Cearley at 573-3926.

Fluvanna

The Fluvanna Volunteer Fire Department will sponsor a spaghetti supper from 7-8 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 8, at the Fluvanna Community Center.

A bake sale will follow. All donations will be used toward necessary equipment for the fire department. Cindy Nix will provide music.

Snyder man given 40-year sentence in sexual assault case

A 132nd District Court jury deliberated for almost five hours Friday before sentencing a 31-year-old Snyder man to a pair of concurrent terms in the Texas Department of Criminal Justice.

Sentenced about 4 p.m. Friday was Kenneth M. Bailey of 601 34th St. He was given 40 years for the guilty plea to aggravated sexual assault and 10 years for indecency with a child.

Bailey was indicted by a Scurry County grand jury in March, 1990, for the Dec. 15, 1989, offense of indecency with a child and the Jan. 10, 1990, offense of aggravated sexual assault.

Jury selection began Monday, and on Tuesday Bailey pled guilty to the two charges. Testimony was presented by the state Tuesday afternoon. The defense put on testimony Wednesday and Thursday. Final arguments were heard Friday morning with the case going to the jury shortly before noon.

District Judge Gene Dulaney presided. District Attorney Ernie Armstrong prosecuted the case and the court-appointed defense counsel was Pat Barber of Colorado City.

Man fatally hurt in 1-car mishap

An Abilene man was fatally injured and his passenger hospitalized in a one-car rollover early Saturday, 17 miles west of Snyder on U.S. 180.

Robert Bush, 18, sustained severe burns over 80 percent of his body when the Cadillac he was driving ran off the road, overturned and caught on fire.

Bush was taken to the emergency room at Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Snyder EMS. He was then transferred by helicopter to the burn center at University Medical Center in Lubbock, but was dead on arrival.

A passenger in the vehicle, 24-year-old Brian Flowers, suffered multiple lacerations and bruises. He is in stable condition at Cogdell Hospital.

DPS investigators said the accident occurred about 5:30 a.m. about 1.2 miles west of the Borden County line. Units of the Snyder fire department also responded to extinguish the blaze.

Midwest Electric meeting date set

Midwest Electric Cooperative's annual meeting has been set for Thursday at Scurry County Coliseum.

The 52nd annual meeting will begin with registration at 6 p.m. and Cindy Nix will be entertaining prior to a barbecue meal to be served at 7 p.m.

The business meeting of the cooperative, including the election of two directors, will conclude activities.

All members are urged to attend and participate in the business of the member-owned electric cooperative.

Midwest serves a nine county area from east of Anson to Gail, and from Sweetwater to Post.

Director nominees, running unopposed, are Mike Herron of Sylvester, Place 1; and Carl Williams of Hermleigh, Place 2. Other directors include Mickey Sterling of Ira, Bobby Gruben of Rotan, and Jerry Upshaw of Roby. Other board members include James Beaver of Fluvanna, president; Williams, vice president; Herron, treasurer; and Melvin Clements, board secretary. Dan Cotton serves as Midwest Electric's consulting attorney.

Vesta L. Orr of Roby is the cooperative's manager.

Block party set Sunday

The third Back to School/Stay In School Block Party will be held Sunday evening at Lincoln Community Center in the 1000 block of 34th St.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Much of the lying done by men can be blamed on women 'cause women ask too many questions."

The latter half of the 1980s will long be remembered as the tough times in the West Texas oil patch.

Few pocketbooks missed the impact of decline in oil prices. Even a lot of churches have had to strain to meet budget obligations.

During the week, Tim Riggan of Edward D. Jones works in the investment world. Last Sunday, it was his turn to count the offering and bank the contribution for the 37th St. Church of Christ.

Riggan placed the money in the bank's night depository. On Monday, Riggan went to the bank to complete the deposit. Riggan was handed a locked, brown money bag.

His key would not work. Finally, Riggan decided he had the wrong key. He went back to the church building and tried another key. Still, the bank bag would not unlock.

Riggan figured the only way to solve the problem was with his pocket knife. He ripped open the canvas bag and found a surprise.

He had been handed the wrong bag, and inside was the Sunday contribution for the First United Methodist Church.

Riggan reports that the budget was met last week.

Miller Robinson, minister at Colonial Hill Baptist, recently went to a church meeting in Dallas and returned with the story about an elderly man who had fallen asleep during the Sunday sermon.

Midway through the sermon on the wages of sin, the preacher pounded on the rostrum and shouted, "Anyone who wants to go to hell, stand up!"

The snoozing man jumped to his feet and looked around with a puzzled expression. He said, "Preacher, I don't know what we're voting on, but it looks like you and I are the only ones for it."

Bush-Gorbachev talks said slated

Some women and children to be flown out of Iraq

by The Associated Press

In a surprise superpower bid to resolve the Persian Gulf crisis, President Bush and Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev will meet, Bush administration sources said Saturday.

Iraq, meanwhile, prepared Saturday to fly out sick Americans and some Western women and children held for more than a month.

The White House declined to immediately confirm the Bush-Gorbachev meeting. National security adviser Brent Scowcroft said "I just don't have anything more to say at this time" but said an announcement was scheduled for later.

Also Saturday, U.N. chief Javier Perez de Cuellar held a second day of talks with Iraqi Foreign Minister Tariq Aziz in Amman, Jordan. Senior Jordanian officials said the two discussed the possible deployment of Arab troops as a buffer between U.S. and Iraqi forces.

No details were disclosed, but one official, speaking on condition of anonymity, said an announcement was possible Saturday.

Details were also in short supply regarding plans for the Bush-Gorbachev meeting. Sources said arrangements for the session were sketched out last week during White House Chief of Staff John Sununu's visit to Moscow, and the meeting could be as soon as next weekend, probably in Helsinki, Finland.

Despite the diplomatic moves,

Iraq said Friday it was sending more foreign men to strategic installations to deter a U.S. attack. They will replace the women and children moved to Baghdad for their impending release.

"We're relocating the foreign men all over the country at airports, air bases, military bases, industrial plants, communications centers, power centers and oil refineries — wherever Iraq considers it has a vital installation, one exposed to the American threat in Saudi Arabia," said Iraqi government spokesman Naji al-Hadithi.

About 21,000 Westerners — including 3,000 Americans and 4,500 Britons — have been prevented from leaving Iraq and Kuwait.

An Iraqi Airways jetliner was scheduled to ferry scores of Western women and children out of Iraq and occupied Kuwait today, al-Hadithi said. It was not immediately clear how many would be on the first flight.

For Western Co....

City extends deadline

The City of Snyder has extended until Sept. 14 a deadline to terminate sewer services to The Western Company, pending the study of proposals presented during a meeting this past week.

Although The Western Company denies discharging polluted wastewater into the city's sewer system, it has outlined in basic terms a method for the storage and testing of water, and a pretreatment plant to be constructed by Dec. 31, 1990.

"Parkhill, Smith and Cooper, consulting engineers for the City of Snyder, will evaluate the pretreatment facility and sampling procedures proposed by Western Company to see if they compliment the city's wastewater treatment facility," John Gayle, city manager, confirmed Friday.

Some 14 individuals, including representatives of the city and Western Company, as well as engineers and legal consultants, attended the three-hour meeting Thursday. The meeting was called by The Western Company in response to an Aug. 15 letter notifying the company its sewer service would be terminated on Friday, Aug. 31.

City officials had decided to take the action after reviewing lab reports which they believe trace the illegal disposal of petroleum wastes into the sewer system to The Western Company.

The city had a chemical analysis conducted of petroleum-based waste products which were apparently illegally dumped into the sewer system on May 4 and June 7. Following the latter incident, samples were sent to Enreco Laboratories in Amarillo for a detailed analysis. The samples included ones taken from the sewer plant and the Western Company manhole. An analysis report from Enreco read in part, "...this evidence points to a strong conclusion that the material at both sites are identical."

In making its proposal to the city, Ron McKeel, director of real estate and facilities construction for The Western Company, stated in a letter, "Western is interested in providing its full cooperation to the City of Snyder in complying with all ordinances of the city. Western does not and has not knowingly discharged polluted wastewater (as defined by ordinance No. 489) to the City of Snyder P.O.T.W. Western also believes that the information presented in your August 15 letter does not show that Western is the cause of the city's problem with the waste treatment facility.

Hot dog vendor says Wal-Mart trying to oust her

HOUSTON (AP) — A woman whose company is in line for a governor's award for employing senior citizens and handicapped people at hot dog stands is upset. Wal Mart Stores Inc. is ending the agreement that lets her put her stands outside Sam's Wholesale Club stores.

"My life for three years has been given to this program and good will," Scarlett Rabalais said Friday. "I created this business. My people have spent three years of hard work. They (Wal Mart) don't even want to negotiate or talk about it."

Mrs. Rabalais was particularly incensed because the notice informing her earlier this month she has 30 days to clear out came just a few days after she received a letter from Wal Mart chief Sam Walton, congratulating her as recipient of the award as "Small Employer of the Year" from the governor's Committee on the Employment of People with Disabilities.

In his letter, Walton expresses appreciation and admiration for her efforts building the $200,000 a year business.

Mrs. Rabalais and her husband, Al, operate Hot Diggety Dogs hot dog stands in front of 21 Sam's Wholesale Clubs in 11 Texas cities. They employ about 90 people, primarily handicapped people or others in their 50s, 60s and 70s.

Real estate course slated

A 45-hour real estate brokerage course will begin Thursday at Western Texas College.

Classes will meet on Thursday nights, all day Saturdays and on Sunday afternoons from Sept. 6-30. Pat Cornett, local realtor, will be the instructor.

Students will pay tuition of $56.25.

To reserve space in the class call 573-8511, ext. 240.

Their carts are outside Sam's stores in Houston, El Paso, San Antonio, Austin, Beaumont, Dallas, Fort Worth, Plano, Brownsville, Waco and Pharr.

"I don't know how I ought to be accepting a governor's award," she said. "Now we're going to be taken over because of corporate greed."

Brenda Lockhart, a spokeswoman for Sam's Wholesale Clubs in Bentonville, Ark., said officials from Sam's have been trying to negotiate "an amicable solution."

"We did allow rental space to the Hot Diggety Dog organization in Texas," Ms. Lockhart said. "We've simply made a very sound business decision to operate that sort of facility on our own."

"A letter was issued asking them to vacate within a reasonable period of time. We've offered to buy their carts, offered to interview their people."

She said Sam's, which has 132 stores in 25 states, has similar hot dog carts it operates at stores in other states "so it makes sense to do the business ourselves. We need to be consistent throughout our company."

"The fact of the matter is it was a sound business decision to run the operation ourselves."

Mrs. Rabalais said the object of her company was not so much to make money and that several of her operations do not show a profit.

"We're not in business to make money," she said. "It's to create jobs. We do have five or six that do in fact not make any money. But we don't close them."

She figures the hot dog stands average $5,500 a month. The hot dogs are purchased from Sam's and Sam's gets a 10 percent payment on the gross sales before expenses.

Now, she has until Sept. 8 to clear out.

"It was gut-wrenching," Mrs. Rabalais said of the notice. "Do you think if I had any idea this was happening I would have put so much time and money into something that was going to be taken away? There's no way."

LEE ANN COCHRAN

Former resident in Who's Who

Lee Ann Kelly Cochran, a sophomore at May High School and former Snyder resident, will be listed in the 24th edition of "Who's Who Among American High School Students for 1989-90."

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Cochran and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moody Ward, former Snyder residents, and Sam Cochran of Aspermont.

Each year only five percent of the nation's high school students receive Who's Who recognition. Those recognized are eligible for a $1,000 scholarship.

Ron and Paula Kelley will be guest speakers at the First Assembly of God Church, 1809 College Ave. Sun., Sept. 2 thru Friday, Sept. 7; 6:00 p.m. on Sun. and 7:00 Mon.-Fri.

Evangelists Ron and Paula Kelley believe that music and the preaching of God's Word go hand-in-hand. However, the preaching of God's Word is top priority. They are accomplished and knowledgeable in both areas. Having a natural love for music, it is appropriate that Nashville, Tennessee would be their home. Their style ranges from contemporary to country and traditional gospel.

Ron is a graduate of Central Bible College in Springfield, Missouri, with a Bachelor of Arts in Bible. Ron was in three musical groups at college, the last of which he organized himself.

Paula is a graduate of Southwestern Assemblies of God Junior College in Waxahachie, Texas, with a major in Music. She was a member of the Harvester's Choir. Paula is also a songwriter with many songs to her credit.

Their ministry has taken them into many states from the smallest church to some of our largest churches. They have also ministered in Youth Camps, Youth Conventions and television ministries. The Lord has led them into full-time evangelistic ministry, and their ultimate goal is not only to present Christ through the preaching of His Word, but also through recorded albums of songs which have a message of hope and victory.

Nesbit, Sisson say eye exams important

Drs. Jack Nesbit and Gary Sisson announced recently that they are taking part in "The ABC's of Eyecare," a national campaign to stress the importance of annual eye examinations for children.

The ABC's campaign, for annual back-to-school checkups, is aimed at informing Americans that an annual eye exam performed as part of the back-to-school routine can contribute to a child's health and well-being.

"This may be the most important examination your child receives at this time of year," Nesbit and Sisson said. "Good vision is essential for a child's healthy development."

The back-to-school campaign, coordinated by the Better Vision Institute (BVI), a non-profit organization based in the Washington, D.C. area, also will benefit Reading Is Fundamental (RIF), America's largest literacy organization.

The BVI will make contributions to RIF based on the number of visits that children from kindergarten through second grade make to a local eyecare professional's office during the back-to-school season. Contributions will be made for every child who is examined by an optometrist or who has a prescription filled by an optician.

Founded in 1966, RIF is working for a literate America by encouraging young people to read. The organization has put more than 100 million books in the hands of American children — and boasts more than 96,000 volunteers."

NEW DOCTOR — Dr. James Hanks and his wife, Cynthia, have recently purchased the chiropractic facility formerly owned by Dr. Leslie Butler who has recently moved from Snyder. The Chiropractic Arts Center is located at 4203 College Ave. Hanks is a 1981 graduate of Snyder High School. He graduated from chiropractic school in 1988 and has worked for a chiropractic chain before relocating to Snyder. Cynthia will serve as office manager. (SDN Staff Photo)

Dr. James Hanks buys local chiropractic office

Dr. James Hanks has bought the chiropractic office of Dr. Leslie Butler, located in the Chiropractic Arts Center, 4203 College Ave.

Butler and his wife, Bekky, have recently moved from Snyder. Hanks and his wife, Cynthia, who will serve as office manager, have been seeing patients since Aug. 21.

Hanks is a 1981 graduate of Snyder High School and a 1988 graduate of Parker College of Chiropractic in Dallas. Until now, he was employed at Back Pain Chiropractic, a chain with 18 offices in the metroplex.

It was Butler that first introduced the idea of becoming a chiropractor to Hanks as he treated Hanks for a back injury.

The new doctor considers Butler his mentor and says that their styles of adjusting are quite similar.

Dorothy Hanks, Hanks' mother, will also be employed in the office.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON TAX INCREASE

The Rotan Independent School District will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in 1989 by 15.96% over the effective tax rate. Your individual taxes may increase or decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in the taxable value of all other property.

The public hearing will be held on September 10, 1990 at 7:30 o'clock p.m. in the Rotan ISD board room, Rotan, Texas.

FOR the proposal:	Pete Fowler, Luther Summers, Vick Burk, Leo Long, Larry Landes, Roger Blackwelder
AGAINST the proposal:	None
PRESENT and not voting:	None
ABSENT:	Donna Kennedy

The statement above shows the percentage increase the proposed rate represents over the effective tax rate that the unit published on August 16, 1990. The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

	Last Year	This Year
Average home value	$12,200	$12,238
General exemptions available	$5,000	$5,000
Average taxable value	$7,200	$7,238
Tax rate	1.03	1.03
Tax	$74.16	$74.55

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would increase $0.39 or 0.526 percent compared with last year's taxes.

Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would increase by $0.00 per $100 of taxable value or increase 0.00 percent compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

Jury convicts reputed drug kingpin

SAN ANGELO, Texas (AP) — A state district court jury on Friday convicted a triple murderer of running a drug ring from inside the Lubbock County Jail and sentenced him to life in prison. The life sentence is in addition to Damon Jerome Richardson's previous death sentence. Jurors took about two hours to find Richardson guilty of using inmate phones for thousands of calls to direct the drug ring, said KLST-TV in San Angelo. Jurors took only 30 minutes to render the life sentence, which Judge Brad Underwood ordered be stacked on top of Richardson's death sentence in the killings of three people. The jury also issued Richardson a $10,000 fine. Texas Department of Public Safety narcotics officer Jerry Randall testified Tuesday that officers obtained permission for a wiretap that recorded more than 8,200 phone calls in 20 days.

The trial was held in San Angelo after a change of venue from Lubbock because of extensive pretrial media coverage. Richardson was found guilty of organized criminal activity with intent to deliver a controlled substance.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You might be too intent upon doing things your way today and this could create ill feelings with persons with whom you'll be involved. If you get too pushy, expect to be pushed back.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Usually you're rather optimistic person, but today your initial assessments are likely to be on the negative side. Unfortunately, you might not take measures to correct this.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Think carefully today before committing yourself to something that could tie up your future resources or earnings. It could prove unwise to begin an endeavor with red ink.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Your probabilities for achievement will be severely lessened today if your procedures are illogical. Your plane won't get airborne without a propeller.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Don't pry too deeply into the affairs of an intimate friend today, because you might discover and misinterpret something you'd be better off not knowing.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Boost only known entities today, because it could come back to haunt you if you recommend a person to friends whose business ethics turn out to be questionable.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) There's a possibility you might get involved in a close knit arrangement today with an individual whose aims and motives are very dissimilar to yours. Be careful.

Even though conditions in general are likely to be better for you in the year ahead, don't take matters for granted. Indifference could cost you opportunities.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Guard against inclinations today to cater to the undeserving while ignoring people for whom you should be doing things. Get your priorities in proper perspective. Major changes are ahead for Virgo in the coming year. For your personal horoscope, lovescope, lucky numbers and future forecast, call Astro-Tone by dialing 1-900-454-3535 and entering this newspaper's access code number 000; 95 cents per minute.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Unfortunately, you might not be able to rely upon the lavish promises made to you by a friend today. Keep in mind this is the pal who failed to fulfill his/her previous commitments.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Pretext is not a becoming guise for you today, so don't put on airs by pretending you are more than you are or have things you don't possess.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Usually you strive to be forthright and upon occasion can even be blunt when telling it like it is. Today, however, you might only voice things others want to hear.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If you are presently involved in an endeavor that requires an infusion of outside capital, it's best that you have more than one source. Your first one could be inadequate.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Today you could fare better acting on your own than you will with partners, especially if you have an ally who doesn't have the courage to use bold measures.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your compassionate instincts may alert you today to the fact that there is something you can do to help someone over a difficult hurdle, yet owing to lethargy, you might not act.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Social involvements could be a critical area for you today, so mind your P's and Q's. It's not the time to be either flamboyant nor too assertive.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be kind subordinates today, but be very careful not to overindulge them. This tactic could backfire and elevate unrealistic expectations later.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You might be more susceptible to flattery today than usual. If someone praises you effusively for a routine achievement, it's possible you are being set up for manipulation. CANCER (June 21-July 22) A person with whom you are closely associated could have rather expensive tastes today. This is well and good if she is using her own resources, but your pal might try to use yours also.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Even though you may go out of your way to do nice things for an associate today, there is a possibility they will be taken for granted and your thoughtfulness could go unacknowledged. Dr. Gott Peter Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm 68 years young. I had quadruple heart bypass surgery in 1985. After catheterization in 1989, my doctor said I have a bubble on my right coronary artery and plaque lining the arteries. He also said I have lost about 50 percent of my heart voltage. What causes loss of body voltage and what, if anything, can be done about it?

DEAR READER: I interpret your findings as follows: You had surgery to restore circulation to the heart muscle that was damaged by insufficient oxygen supply; now you have developed further obstruction in another major artery (the right coronary artery), which is causing additional cardiac damage. The end result of this arteriosclerotic blockage is a decrease in the strength of the heart's electrical activity.

The heart beats because of muscle contractions that are initiated by tiny electrical currents, which pass from the cardiac nerves into the muscles themselves. These currents can be measured by amplifying machines and printed on paper strips (electrocardiogram tracing). The greater the muscle mass, the greater the electrical strength (voltage) on the tracing. This is why well-trained athletes with large, muscular hearts have higher voltage than normal.

Conversely, cardiac damage reduces the muscle mass, which slows nerve impulses (common) or actually decreases voltage (less common).

Evidently, in your case, about 50 percent of the voltage was lost, indicating a substantial reduction in muscle function. This deficiency might be helped by medicine, which lowers the work of the heart and salvages the remaining muscle. Such drugs include nitroglycerin and calcium-channel blockers.

As you know, coronary bypass surgery is not a permanent solution to inadequate coronary blood flow; the aging process itself continues, and the grafts may eventually become blocked. Therefore, your problem may not be simply a result of previous cardiac damage — it is an on-going process. Your cardiologist can advise you whether medicine, a low-fat diet and exercise will counteract your coronary insufficiency, or whether further procedures — such as angioplasty (cracking of the arteriosclerotic plaques with a balloon) or another bypass operation — are necessary.

I might add that electrocardiographic voltage does not in any way govern electrical activity elsewhere in the body. Thus, your "body voltage" (electrical impulses in brain and other tissues) will not be affected.

To give you more information, I am sending you free copies of my Health Reports "Eating Right For A Healthy Heart" and "Hypertension." Other readers who would like copies should send $1.25 for each report to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title(s).

Financial Focus

The decade of the '80s was outstanding for those who invested prudently in the stock market. The 500 stocks that make up the Standard & Poor's Index went up an average of 17.5 percent annually during that period. Over the past 50 years, the S&P 500 has shown an average annual increase of nearly 12 percent.

Although there's danger in following averages exclusively, there is no reason to believe that economic conditions have changed so much that historical averages no longer make sense.

If you review as far back as 1926, including wars, recessions, the Depression, inflation, stagflation and almost every other type of economic condition, the average annual increase in the stock market has been about 10 percent.

You might say that history shows that taking reasonable investment risks has paid off. At some point, however, the stock market inevitably slows down and may even retreat before another move forward. When that occurs what's the prudent investor to do? Continue systematically investing in good, quality stocks.

The best stocks are generally those of established companies that are well financed, well managed and make profits. These companies usually have weathered other economic storms and proved they can adapt to change.

As evidence, consider that on a day the stock market takes an unusually large drop, the percentage loss of industry leaders is less than the percentage loss of their lesser competitors. In a weak economy—or worse, a recession—the performance of companies that offer consumer necessities is superior to those offering luxury products. Even when times are bad, we continue to use food, fuel, health products and the like. However, we're more likely to postpone vacations, designer clothes and other luxuries until prosperity returns.

Serious investors understand these trends. They are much less apt to sell proven stocks during a weak market. In fact, serious investors often recognize excellent value at depressed prices and buy more stocks.

The stock market does not offer guarantees, but as history attests, stocks are still one of the best investments available. With average annual growth at 10 percent, stocks have beaten all other securities in nearly every long-term period.

Reservist's wife requests lower rates

AUSTIN (AP) — A pay cut of about $1,000 a month can put a dent in almost anyone's budget.

Ask Candace Penrod, whose husband has lost the income from his Dallas police detective job for at least three months while he serves in the Coast Guard Reserve in Houston. He will help provide port security for shipments to the Persian Gulf.

Penrod, the mother of three, has been on the phone talking to creditors much of the week. Her goal is to reduce interest payments on all the family's loans to 6 percent.

She is taking advantage of the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act of 1940, which allows reservists who are called to active duty to apply to lenders to reset interest rates no higher than 6 percent.

"He has to live down there, and we have to live here, too," said Penrod, who has had to produce her husband's reservist orders to qualify for the interest rate reduction. "They are putting them up in a hotel, but any other expenses he is going to incur down there."

The reduction — which lenders must give if an applicant qualifies — applies to reservists with loans made before they were called up. It covers retail loans, bank loans, house mortgages, car payments and credit cards.

"I had to call everybody and make them aware of the 1940 act," Penrod said Thursday. "Some knew, and some had never heard about it. Some didn't know how they were going to handle it. They are not doing it automatically."

"Our home mortgage company in California has given me the roughest time. They said they had never heard of it. They are giving me fits. Especially when your interest rate is at 13 1/4 percent, where it's going to kill them to go down to 6 percent for at least 90 days that he has been activated."

She said she received almost no resistance in notifying credit card companies with interest rates at about 18 percent, some of whom suggested negotiating debt extensions.

NCNB Texas, Comerica Bank and Sears also knew about the interest rate reduction when she called. NCNB Texas on Wednesday installed a toll free telephone number — (800) 247-3761 — for initiating claims.

The bank had received about a dozen calls by late Thursday, said bank spokesman Chris Spencer.

In the case of enlisted personnel already sent overseas, bank officials say any co-maker, guarantor or spouse may request a reduced interest rate.

Dogs added to war on drugs

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (AP) — Dogs stationed in the pedestrian lanes of Gateway International Bridge in recent days gave passersby the cold nose before they were allowed to pass into the United States.

The dogs are the latest weapons in the U.S. Customs Service's war on drugs.

Drug detector dogs normally don't work the pedestrian lanes of the Valley's international bridges. But the success of Customs' two-year-old passive response dog program in Miami,

Los Angeles and New York has local officials considering the dogs' use here.

Aggressive response dogs, the kind Valley residents normally see on the international bridges, are trained for vehicle searches. They are boisterous breeds like German shepherds and Doberman pinschers and bite and scratch at areas where they detect narcotic odors.

The passive response dogs are more temperamental breeds like Labrador retrievers and cocker spaniels and are trained for searches of humans. When they smell narcotics on a person, they signal by sitting beside the person and looking up at the handler.

"They allow us to work around people, the part (of international traffic) that normally isn't examined by canines, without causing any damage," said Bill Molaski, Customs' Canine unit supervisor in Miami.

Snyder outscores Cranes, 3-2

Anderson rushes for 98 yards in Tigers' last scrimmage

By PHIL RIDDLE
SDN Sports Editor

Tailback Paul Anderson rolled for 98 yards on 12 carries and a TD as Snyder registered a 3-2 win over Crane in Friday night's last warm-up game before the regular season begins.

Snyder coach David Baugh singled out Anderson as an offensive standout.

"Paul ran the ball well tonight," he said just after the game.

"Our offensive line also did a good job blocking. It was just a good job of execution."

"One thing that I didn't like to see," he continued, "was all the penalties and unsportsmanlike conduct calls."

Combined, the two squads were flagged 11 times for violations including an unsportsmanlike conduct call against each team and a taunting call by Snyder following a tackle.

One thing the Tigers definitely did right was get people involved in the offensive scheme.

Besides Anderson, fullback Brian Brunson rumbled for 28 yards on six carries, and Mark King and Shelby Bufkin each hauled the mail once.

King picked up 12 yards on his carry and Bufkin hammered out a 16 yard gain.

Each of them also caught a touchdown pass in the scrimmage.

Bufkin snagged a six yard toss for a score from starting signal-caller Ed Rios and King claimed an 11 yard strike from backup QB Jason Rios.

Ed Rios and wingback Bufkin also connected on a towering 40-yard pass to set up Anderson's touchdown run early in Snyder's first possession.

Defensively the Tigers were not without stars as Bufkin dragged down an interception from Crane's Chad Ellison and Will Clay and Damien Haywood combined to sack the visiting quarterback causing a fumble that Haywood corralled.

"Our one problem on defense," Baugh related, "was that we missed too many tackles. We lacked concentration for some reason."

The JV scrimmage, played just before the varsity game, ended in a scoreless tie.

Snyder begins regular season play this week as the freshmen are entertained by Monahans at 6 p.m. Thursday. The JV hosts the Loboes at the same time and the varsity travels to play the No. 18 Monahans varsity at 8 p.m. Friday.

Snyder's home opener is set for Sept. 14 against Clyde.

LB Taylor free to negotiate

HOUSTON (AP) — The agent for unsigned New York Giants linebacker Lawrence Taylor says he has opened negotiations with the Houston Oilers and Philadelphia Eagles on trade possibilities.

Joe Courge of Dallas, Taylor's agent, told KRIV-TV that Giants general manager George Young had given him permission to talk to other clubs about Taylor.

"I have had a conversation with Mike Holovak (Oilers' general manager), and he seemed open to the idea," Courge said.

Courge said he also had opened talks with the Eagles.

Courge said Taylor was interested in being traded to the Oilers, Eagles, San Diego, the Raiders or Minnesota.

The Giants have offered Taylor a $4.5 million contract over three years. Taylor is believed to be seeking a deal of slightly less than $6 million over three years.

Taylor has missed all of the Giants' training camp.

KLONDIKE — Ira went to the air for three scores in its Thursday night scrimmage against Klondike.

Ira scored four times to three for the home team.

"I'm pretty pleased," said Ira coach Don Jones. "Klondike beat Buena Vista last week 3-0 so I feel like we did OK."

Senior James Sturdivant moved his 6-7 frame across the goal line three times Thursday including a pair of long passes from senior quarterback Brian Martinez and a short strike from junior Chris Haynes.

"Our passing game went real well," Jones reported, "and our running game will get there after we've worked on our blocking assignments a little more."

Marinovich leads USC to win

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) — Todd Marinovich, passing with pinpoint precision, threw for a career-high 337 yards and three touchdowns Friday night as ninth-ranked Southern Cal beat Syracuse 34-16 in the Kickoff Classic.

Marinovich, who set a school record last season with a 62 percent completion rate, did even better against the Orangemen. He started his sophomore season by completing 25 of 35 passes (71 percent) and topping his previous yardage mark of 333 yards against Notre Dame last season.

The 6-foot-4 quarterback threw touchdown passes of 12 yards to Scott Lockwood, 22 yards to Ricky Ervins and 46 yards to Gary Wellman.

The pass to Wellman gave the Trojans a 24-13 lead with 2:44 left in the third quarter. Syracuse cut it to 24-16 on a 21-yard field goal by John Biskup early in the fourth quarter, but Southern Cal padded its lead on a 25-yard field goal by Quin Rodriguez and a 2-yard touchdown run by Ervins with 36 seconds left.

Ervins, who led the Pacific-10 in rushing last season, ran for 96 yards in 25 carries.

Syracuse quarterback Marvin Graves, a redshirt freshman who didn't find out he was starting until two days before the game, completed 15 of 30 passes for 191 yards and one touchdown. He

Raiders must decide on site

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — City and county officials have given the Los Angeles Raiders another 30 days to decide whether to move back to Oakland in a deal that could cost as much as $168 million.

Al Davis, the general managing partner of the Los Angeles team, was supposed to decide by Sept. 7 whether he would accept the offer to move the Raiders back to Oakland.

also rushed for 59 yards on 17 carries.

It was only the second meeting between Southern Cal and Syracuse. The Trojans beat the Orangemen 16-0 in 1924.

Southern Cal, which has won three straight Pac-10 titles, was 9-2-1 last season. Syracuse was 8-4 last season.

Archery club plans event

The September shoot for the Snyder Bowhunters Association will be held Sunday, Sept. 16, at 2:30 at the club range.

Shoots are usually slated for the first Sunday in the month but, Sept. 2 coincides with the opening of dove season as well as the Labor Day holiday.

The Sept. 16 shoot will cost $3 for club members and $6 for non-members.

Judge allows Booth to play

AUSTIN (AP) — A state district judge in Austin granted a restraining order Friday against the University Interscholastic League, allowing a 19-year-old El Paso high school student to play this season.

Judge Jeanne Meurer granted the order for Steven Rodney Booth, who has challenged the UIL's ruling that he is ineligible because of his age.

Booth, an Irvin High School senior, is one of the country's top prep quarterbacks. Because of a childhood case of meningitis and anemia, Booth started school a year later than normal and did not progress at a normal rate until several years after his illness, according to a news release by his lawyers Friday.

UIL rules say players must be under 19 on Sept. 1 to be eligible to play that school year. Booth, who turned 19 on Friday, missed the deadline by two days.

Booth has fully recovered from effects of the illness. His attorney Diane Henson said that in June, Irvin High School and Booth applied for a waiver to the UIL rule excluding him from play. The UIL rejected the request.

As a rookie in 1968, Johnny Bench caught in 154 games for Cincinnati, a record for a first-year man.

McEnroe bounces Chesnokov

NEW YORK (AP) — John McEnroe orchestrated the cheers of the crowd with his racket and his artistry, not his histrionics.

And when he finished one of his finest performances in recent years, he received a standing ovation.

"I think the people realize that this could be the last couple of opportunities to see me play," McEnroe said after he defeated 10th-seeded Andrei Chesnokov 6-3, 7-5, 6-4 Friday night to advance to the fourth round of the U.S. Open. "And also I think people realize I'm an underdog."

"The crowd had a lot of energy." Monica Seles, one of the favorites to win the women's title, will have to wait another year. She was bounced out of the tournament by little-known Linda Ferrando of Italy 1-6, 6-1, 7-6 (7-3).

Another favorite, four-time winner Martina Navratilova, the No. 2 seed, struggled to a 6-2, 6-2 victory over Halle Cioffi.

A four-time champion of the Grand Slam tournament staged on the hard courts of the National Tennis Center, McEnroe has had an ongoing love-hate relationship with the New York crowd. They loved his talented shotmaking, skills that carried him to No. 1 in the world, and hated his temper tantrums.

While McEnroe has reached the pinnacle of perfection at Flushing Meadow, he also has suffered some of his worst defeats in front of his hometown fans. Last year, McEnroe was ousted in the second round by Paul Haarhuis of the Netherlands. In 1988, he also was bounced in the second round.

But this year, his serve, for the most part, was sharp, his volleys crisp and his groundstrokes deep. And, on occasion, McEnroe ripped back service returns, setting up easy winners.

On one point, he had the audacity to use a backhand drop shot for a service return. Chesnokov got the ball, but lifted a soft fly that McEnroe put away with a strong volley.

"I really felt I was ready to play... Today was the best I have volleyed. I didn't let the ball play me."

"There's no substitute for being on the court," McEnroe said.

Yet, the left-hander admitted he's not the Mac of old, the player who dominated the game in the early 1980s, winning Wimbledon three times.

"There were some opportunities where on better days I could have closed out some games before I did," he said.

Seles, the No. 3 seed and reigning French Open champion, was surprised by Ferrando's tactics.

"I knew she was a backcourt player, and then she was coming to the net all the time," Seles said of Ferrando's victory.

"I was supposed to play like this," said Ferrando, a 24-year-old from Italy. "I knew it was the only chance I was going to have to win, so I served-and-volleyed all the time."

Trading deadline...

Astros deal Andersen, Doran

by The Associated Press
Pennant contenders went on their annual shopping spree Friday, making last-minute deals to beat the deadline for eligibility for postseason play, while non-contenders swapped veterans for prospects.

The Houston Astros were a major dealer, sending reliever Larry Andersen to Boston for minor-league third baseman Jeff Bagwell, 22, who is leading the Class AA Eastern League in hitting. The Astros also sent veteran second baseman Bill Doran to their NL West rivals, the division-leading Cincinnati Reds, for three players to be named later.

The deadline for eligibility for postseason play is midnight.

The Doran deal came after he turned down a trade to the New York Mets, who then went out and acquired another veteran second baseman, Tommy Herr, from the Philadelphia Phillies for two minor-league prospects.

Andersen, 37, appeared in 50 games with Houston this season, compiling a 5-2 record with six saves.

Doran, 32, rejected the deal to the Mets, saying he didn't have enough time to consider the implications. The deal was conditioned on the Mets being able to sign Doran, who can become a free agent after this season.

"You don't do things at the last minute like he's done and then ask somebody to make a decision within a few hours what your life is going to be like the next three or four years," Doran said. "That's no way to do business."

Doran has played all 1,165 games of his major league career with the Astros since he came up to the majors in 1982. He was hitting .288 with six homers and 32 RBIs for the Astros.

The Mets, who acquired veteran first baseman Pat Tabler from Kansas City late Thursday night, also got catcher Charlie O'Brien and a player to be named later from Milwaukee for two players to be named later.

Herr, 34, is a lifetime .275 hitter over 12 seasons with St. Louis, Minnesota and the Phillies. He is hitting .264 this season with four homers and 50 RBIs and can become a free agent.

Herr, a native of Lancaster, Pa., seemed somewhat disappointed rather than surprised by the deal.

"Playing for a pennant contender makes it more exciting, and it makes coming to the ballpark more fun," he said. "But in a way I'm disappointed. I wanted to experience that here."

Registration and a practice round are scheduled for Friday, also.

A barbecue dinner and cocktails will be featured at 6:30 p.m. Saturday followed by a dance at Snyder Country Club.

Mike Jordan won the closest to the hole competition on No. 5.

SCC Swingers name winners

Snyder Country Club Swingers announced winners recently for their Aug. 24 Low Gross-Low Net for a Foursome event.

Bill and Finnie Seale and Bob and Bobbie Hargrove teamed up for the First Flight low-gross title while Larry and Beth Hildreth combined with Billy Wayne and Xan Harris for low-net honors.

Doh and Gwen Sealey and Dude and Teresa Jones captured first in the low-gross category in Second Flight.

Second Flight winners in the low-net division were Bill and Norma Crowder and Johnny and Stacy Reed.

Registration and a practice round are scheduled for Friday, also.

Tyson sustains cut that halts next bout

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Mike Tyson sustained a 48-stitch cut above his right eye from a head butt while sparring on Friday and promoters were forced to postpone his Sept. 22 fight with Alex Stewart.

Tyson was sparring with Greg Page when the butt occurred. He was taken to Dr. Ira Trocki's office in Margate, N.J. for treatment.

"Tyson suffered a laceration over his right eye which extended down to his upper eyelid and went through to the bone," Trocki said. "He received his 48 stitches like a champ. In a few weeks, he'll be back to his championship style."

Tyson will take one week off and then resume training, but Trocki said sparring will be restricted for at least three weeks.

"It is very unfortunate that the fight has to be postponed," Tyson said. "I'm in the best shape of my life and have been training very hard for this fight. I have been waiting for the chance to fight Alex Stewart but this is a temporary setback. I'm not going anywhere, neither is Alex. I'm sure when the time comes, we'll be ready to get it on."

The 10-round fight had been scheduled for the Trump Plaza Hotel on the same night Julio Cesar Chavez and Ahn Kyung-Duk were to meet with the World Boxing Council and International Boxing Federation junior welterweight titles at stake.

This was to be Tyson's second fight since losing his title to Buster Douglas at Tokyo on Feb. 11. Tyson improved his record to 38-1 with a first-round knockout of Henry Tillman on June 16.

"I am confident the doctor performed his task extremely well and Mike will be back and ready to go in a few weeks," promoter Don King said. "We will work expeditiously to reschedule this event and we are looking forward with great anticipation to this spectacular bout between Tyson and Stewart."

Stewart was disappointed when told of the postponement at his camp at Monticello, N.Y., but he managed to get something positive out of it. He headed for a Chinese restaurant as he broke training.

"I'm terribly disappointed. I was working hard. I was ready to fight," he said. "This is frustrating but it's out of my hands. I'm going to win the fight sooner or later anyway."

Stewart, who is 26-1 with his only loss last November to Evander Holyfield, will return to his native Brooklyn, N.Y., until he resumes training.

Bill Hibbs addresses Rotarians

Rotary Club District 573 Governor Bill Hibbs spoke to the local Rotary chapter during its regular weekly luncheon meeting Thursday at Martha Ann Woman's Club.

Hibbs, a Pecos native, in addressing the group stressed the club's two international themes for the year: honor rotary with faith and enthusiasm and preserve planet Earth.

He offered words of praise for the local chapter and its officers as he outlined his goals for the district.

Hibbs is a graduate of Sul Ross University and served in the U.S. Navy for four years during the Korean War. He has served as the mayor of Pecos from 1982-1984 and 1986-1990. His commercial interests include radio broadcasting, ranching farming, real estate, oil and gas production and water sales.

Dolphin tours may be ended in Corpus Christi Bay

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — Feed-the-dolphin tours in Corpus Christi Bay may become a thing of the past if a proposed ruling by the National Marine Fisheries Service is adopted.

The new rule, basically a clarification of the Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1972, would prohibit feeding or attempting to feed marine mammals without a permit.

"Of course, I think it stinks," said Erv Strong, who with his wife, Sonja, has operated the tours since 1987. "But that's how

I felt two years ago when they first started talking about it."

Centennial anniversary activities set

SAN ANTONIO — On Sunday, Oct. 7, the Sons of Hermann in Texas will celebrate the founding of the Grand Lodge in San Antonio 100 years ago. The statewide party will be held from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the Joe and Harry Freeman Coliseum, culminating a year-long centennial observance by the 79,500-member fraternal benefit society.

Tickets at $5 each are now available from local Hermann Sons lodges or they can be ordered from the Grand Lodge by writing P.O. Box 1941, San Antonio, Tex. 78297, or by calling 226-9261 (local area) or 1-800-234-4224. The public is invited to attend.

Tickets purchased prior to Sept. 15 will include a noon meal in addition to all the entertainment. Tickets purchased at the gate, also for $5, will not include the meal.

Swimmers invited to join club

Swimmers from 6-18 are invited to join the Tiger Shark Swim Club which meets at Western Texas College.

Mike Harrison, physical education instructor, works with the club at 4 p.m. Mondays through Fridays. The first workout of the new fall season will be held Tuesday and anyone interested is invited to attend that session to learn more about its activities.

Dues are $25 per month and $15 per month for each additional swimmer in the family.

"It is not mandatory that club members attend every workout since we know that they have other activities," Harrison said. "We welcome visitors at any meeting and anyone who would like more information about the Tiger Sharks can call me at 573-8511, ext. 283.

Bail set for $1 million for man held in Florida

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Dozens of men were under scrutiny today in the slayings of five college students, but attention focused on an 18-year-old University of Florida freshman charged with assaulting his grandmother.

Edward Louis Humphrey, 18, was jailed with bail set at $1 million bond and authorities acknowledged Friday he was being investigated over the slayings at off-campus apartments in this northern Florida town.

Police sealed his apartment and searched for clues in the garage.

"There's a lot of good information that we have received that seems to bear some credence that he may be a possible suspect," police Lt. Sadie Darnell said.

Humphrey was among as many as 100 people being checked out by homicide detectives, Darnell said. About 600 law enforcement officials are involved in the hunt.

Also mentioned was Warren Virgil Tinch, a fugitive wanted in an Ohio mutilation murder who was allegedly spotted in Gainesville and nearby Ocala about a week before the slayings.

The victims — students at either the University of Florida or Santa Fe Community College in Gainesville — were found stabbed to death on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Investigators said three of the four women were mutilated, and that the killer appeared to have a grudge against petite brunettes with shoulder-length hair.

A woman who lived at the Gatorwood apartments where the bodies of the last two victims — roommates Tracy Inez Paules and Manuel R. Taboada — were found told the Sun-Sentinel in Fort Lauderdale that Humphrey had a "major crush on Tracy."

Humphrey lived at the apartment complex for a time this summer until he was evicted.

"He'd fall over himself to be near her or to help her," said Rachel Olivier, 22. "He'd go and sit by the pool and watch when she'd come out."

Investigators, who earlier took semen and blood samples from the crime scenes, took a blood sample from Humphrey, said his public defender, Randy Moore.

In Sharpes, Brevard County Judge Kerry Evander ruled there was reason to hold Humphrey on $1 million bond pending trial in October on the assault charge.

"Innocent 'til proven guilty," Humphrey said in a clear voice at the hearing.

Humphrey was arrested Thursday at his grandmother's home in Indialantic, some 180 miles southeast of Gainesville. He was charged with aggravated battery on a person over 65.

Assistant State Attorney Michael Hunt said prosecutors sought the high bond because "he would appear to be a threat to members of his family and the community."

But Hunt confirmed state investigators had talked to prosecutors about a possible link to the slayings.

Friday starts busy period for local police officers

Snyder police made four arrests in the 24-hour period starting at 7 a.m. Friday — including the arrest of a subject indicted for aggravated assault.

At 10:46 a.m. Friday, a female called from Park Village Apartments to report that she had been assaulted by a male subject. No charges were filed, but the subject was arrested at 11:21 a.m. for aggravated assault stemming from a grand jury indictment earlier this month.

Taken into custody was Robert Larry Williams of California, who was indicted for aggravated assault Aug. 6 by a Scurry County grand jury for a July 14 incident in the 3500 block of Ave. M.

At 10:17 a.m., police were called to Municipal Court at City Hall where a 46-year-old male was taken to the county jail to lay out traffic fines.

Police were called to a possible fight at 12:34 a.m. at 1100 26th. Taken into custody was an 18-year-old-female for public intoxication.

Police made their final arrest at 2:08 a.m. at 37th and Muriel Drive. A 25-year-old male was arrested for driving while intoxicated.

At 10:20 a.m., George Marble called and requested a close patrol of the Pal-O-Mar Motel in reference to vandalism done over the summer.

A reckless driver was reported at 29th and Ave. E at 3:42 p.m.

Police were unable to locate the subject.

At 4:31 p.m., a report of criminal mischief was taken at Williamson Auto in reference to vandalism to a wall behind the building.

At 11:25 p.m. and again at 12:16 a.m., a woman called to report a prowler in the 2900 block of Ave. V. Police were unable to locate a prowler either time.

Police were called to a disturbance at Allsup's at 11:38 p.m. The subjects had already left the area when police arrived.

Another disturbance call was answered at Taylor Food Mart at 11:42 p.m. When police arrived, all was in order.

At 2:40 a.m. Saturday, police discovered a broken window at Central Elementary. No entry was made into the building.

A noise disturbance was handled at 3:13 a.m. at Milburn Ave. and 20th St.

Units extinguish attic blaze

Units of Snyder's fire department were dispatched at 8:25 p.m. Friday to 600 29th.

Firefighters worked for approximately an hour-and-a-half to extinguish an attic fire at a residence owned by Larry V. Anderson.

At 8:16 p.m., units were dispatched to a grass fire nine miles north of town along Highway 84, however, a fire was not located.

DPS arrests driver

A Department of Public Safety trooper arrested a 31-year-old male at 2:20 a.m. Saturday for driving while intoxicated.

False report filed

Upon investigation, deputies from Scurry County sheriff's office determined the sexual assault report filed Friday by a 24-year-old-female to be a hoax.

Police work hit-and-run

Snyder police investigated a hit-and-run accident at 4:51 p.m. Friday at Allsup's parking lot.

A parked 1982 GMC pickup, owned by Jason Rios of 422 28th, was struck by a vehicle that left the scene. Damage was minor.

Snyder man is found unconscious

A 17-year-old Snyder man was transferred to University Medical Center early Saturday after being found injured in the 1000 Block of 26th St.

Snyder police received a call at 2:30 a.m. of a subject laying under a car and he appeared to be unconscious. The man was transported by Snyder EMS to Cogdell Memorial Hospital where he was treated for a laceration to his upper right arm and the loss of blood.

Rudy Perez was then transported by Snyder EMS to University Medical Center in Lubbock where he was in stable condition Saturday morning.

Snyder police said Saturday morning they are still investigating the cause of the injury.

Mrs. G.B. Battles

1898-1990

PORTALES, N.M. — Services for Mrs. G.B. (Era X.) Battles, 92, are set for 2:30 p.m. Sunday, at Calvary Baptist Church in Portales, with Rev. Alfred Richard and Rev. Galen Issacs officiating. Burial will follow in Portales Cemetery.

Mrs. Battles died Wednesday in Roosevelt General Hospital in Portales after a brief illness.

She was born July 7, 1898, near Abilene. She married George Bert Battles in Abilene on Jan. 1, 1915. They made their home in the Fluvanna community until 1938. They moved to Roosevelt County, N.M., where they were farmers and ranchers. After her husband's death in 1959, Mrs. Battles moved to Portales. She was a member of Calvary Baptist Church in Portales.

Besides her husband, she was preceded in death by a son, Glen Battles in 1931, and a daughter, Retta Parks in 1962.

Survivors include two grandsons, Dee Parks of Portales and Jim Parks of Davis, Calif.; one granddaughter, and numerous nieces and nephews.

Thank You

We take this means to express our sincere thanks to our many friends who were so kind to us in our darkest hour of sorrow (when our loved one was called away). We deeply appreciate the kind words and beautiful flowers that were sent; also the food that was prepared. May you have just such friends if such sorrow ever visits your home. May God bless all of you.

Hundreds say farewell to Stevie Ray Vaughan

DALLAS (AP) — They wore T-shirts from his concerts, they dressed in black, they wore replicas of his trademark black felt hat, and they stood in sweltering Texas heat for up to three hours on Friday to bid a tearful goodbye to blues guitarist Stevie Ray Vaughan.

Vaughan, 35, died Monday in a helicopter crash in Wisconsin after headlining a concert Sunday night with Eric Clapton near East Troy, Wis.

More than 1,000 people showed up Friday for a public graveside service.

Stevie Wonder, Jackson Browne and Bonnie Raitt led the mourners in "Amazing Grace."

Vaughan's mother, Martha Vaughan, was flanked during the graveside service by her older son, Jimmie Vaughan, the founder of The Fabulous Thunderbirds, and by Stevie Ray Vaughan's fiancée, Janna Lapidus.

Two cooling fans about 4 feet in diameter were situated behind and to one side of the graveside, cooling off the immediate family and friends in the 99-degree temperatures.

Across a road, some mourners used fans to ward off the heat.

Many had handkerchiefs to dab away tears and perspiration.

Mourners began arriving before 10 a.m. for the noon graveside service, and their numbers swelled steadily. By the start of the service, fans were lined up 9-and-10 deep outside restraining barriers across a roadway from the burial site. The proceedings were beamed over a public address system.

Ringo Starr was there, as were members of ZZ Top.

Stevie and Jimmie Vaughan had just completed an album, "Family Style," that was set for release in September. Producer Al Rogers played a cut, "Tick Tock," from the album at the service.

Many in the crowd got teary-eyed during the song, and applause and whistles broke out when it ended.

"I'm glad you applauded," presiding minister Barry Bailey said. "That was appropriate."

More applause followed the blues-style version of "Amazing Grace" near the end of the half-hour service.

"We grew up with him in Oak Cliff," said Pat Beam of Grand Prairie, who came with two friends, dressed in shorts and t-shirts from a Stevie Ray Vaughan concert.

"He taught her brother to play the guitar, and we loved him dearly," said Neoma Mayo, also of Grand Prairie. "I appreciate the family sharing this with us. He's given all of us so much."

Brenda Thomison of Grand Prairie added, "He'll live on in us with his music."

Tim Record and his wife, Sue, were among a large contingent of people who drove from Austin to attend the graveside service. He wore a black armband and she wore a black band around her hat.

"He may have been born in Dallas, but he had lived in Austin the last 10 years or so. We came just to have a last tribute, to kind of put this whole thing behind us," Record said.

"When he was playing the guitar, you sometimes found yourself caught up more in what he was doing than in your own thing. He was always fun to play with," said Damien Womack, 36, a drummer who performed with Vaughan.

Terri Roberson of Fort Worth said she took off from work Friday to attend the service.

"He was a hometown boy who never let the fame get to him. He was a native Texan, and we are going to miss him. I saw him the last time he was in Dallas, my one and only time, but I've got all his tapes," she said.

Chase to return as correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Former ABC News correspondent Sylvia Chase says she will return to the network in New York as a correspondent for "Prime Time Live," the magazine show anchored by Sam Donaldson and Diane Sawyer.

She said her interest in returning to reporting was sparked by last year's events in Tiananmen Square and later, the reunification of Germany.

By Shirley A. Gorman

One of the highlights of O.D. Brewer's long and successful role as a coach in the Texas Teenage League occurred in 1973 when the Dodgers overcame a rocky start to win the state title.

It also cost him some steak dinners.

The Dodgers lost their first three games of the season, but won all others to qualify for the playoffs in Brownwood. Brewer remembers it as if it happened yesterday. The Dodgers, the team Brewer then coached, won the Colorado City district title and advanced to the double-elimination state tournament.

The Dodgers tangled with West Waco in their first tourney game and Brewer admits to being scared when their opponents got a grand slam home run off Gary Greenley and Snyder was down 4-0 in the top of the first inning.

He said he told his team he "would buy them the biggest steak in town if they won their first game." Snyder bounced back quickly to tie the score at four runs each early in the game and then went on to defeat West Waco, 16-4. Brewer said Pat Dryden held him to his promise and he treated the team to a steak dinner.

The Dodgers ending up playing Cleburne twice before the state title could be theirs. They narrowly lost the first game to Cleburne, 8-7. Brewer said the turning point occurred when Barry Blaylock "stepped out of the batter's box and was counted out on second base." That set up Snyder's single tournament loss, but, since Cleburne had also been defeated once, the two teams faced off again after a 30 minute rest period. Both pitchers were tired by then, but Brewer said they won the game and subsequently the state title, 26-8.

Brewer also vividly remembers the local play-off game which preceded the state victory. Pat Dryden hit triples off Ricky Beard and after that "he (Ricky) couldn't be stopped," he explained. Beard was picked up at the end of the season along with two other players.

After each regular season ends, the winning team picks three players from the rest of the league to represent Snyder in the playoffs as an all-star squad.

Brewer has taken his team to state several times throughout his long coaching career. He said they would probably have won another state title a few years ago, if a key player had not gotten injured.

This past season, Brewer said his team missed out on a trip to state when it lost to Sweetwater. He said they had lost to other teams before, but this was the first time Sweetwater beat them out of a trip to state.

Other highlights of Brewer's coaching career include seeing boys who don't play well at the beginning of the season improve tremendously before the season ends. He also enjoys visiting with former players like Blaylock who drops by when he is in Snyder.

Brewer, who has been coaching since 1962, only missed one year and that was due to his father's illness. When he returned, he started coaching the Buffs, and he's been their coach since. Brewer recently said he won't retire from coaching in the Texas Teenage League, unless he's kicked out.

He isn't being entirely facetious when he says that, either. He loves the league and working with young boys, but when it comes to coaching he knows only one way to do it and that is "to scream my head off."

TAKING IT EASY — O.D. Brewer, who has been a Texas Teenage League coach for almost 30 years, relaxes for a brief moment at his Exxon service station, located on College Avenue. He enjoys being a coach because he likes working with young boys. He praises TTL because it gives players an incentive to avoid drugs and alcohol. He also said the league could not survive without local support. (SDN Staff Photo)

And, he readily admits, a lot of parents don't understand or like that method.

In recent years, Brewer has taken on some assistants. Two of his assistant coaches, Larry Braziel and Ricky Hunter, were both members of teams he had coached in past years. "Ruben Felan is a good assistant coach. He knows what I want and he can get it across to the boys better than I can," Brewer said.

While Brewer may be ociferous during practice or a game, he is proud to be associated with the Texas Teenage League which teaches young boys skills and responsibilities and gives them a chance to live a good clean life, free of drugs and alcohol problems which plague many of today's youth.

He said he likes "to mess with kids" but also realizes that each boy has to be coached differently, starting with the fundamentals of the game.

Brewer said he works harder "with the weaker kids," adding that the league is important to young boys for many reasons, including the fact that Coach Albert Lewis at Snyder High School scouts the games, looking for prospective players.

He stays with coaching because he enjoys helping the kids. "At least I think I do help them."

Coaching is time consuming, but Brewer isn't ready to give a minute of it up.

Throughout the near 30 years he has been a coach, he has collected team pictures, which are special to him.

As far as he is concerned, any "boy who has the speed and the desire and wants to play can succeed."

At the beginning of each season, he said team managers draw numbers and that is the order in which coaches get to pick their team. His last "first draw," some eight years ago, was Tommy Gressett, who has since graduated from college.

Brewer first started coaching in 1962 when it was known as the "Pony and Colt" league. Around 1970, it became the Texas Teenage League.

Brewer was raised on a farm in Hamilton and moved to Highland when he was around 12 years old. As a boy he said he played sand lot ball. He played ball in the U.S. Navy and later turned semi-pro. But he said baseball is better organized today than it was then. He said semi-pro ball then was a lot like sand lot ball.

When Brewer retired from the Navy, he said he had "no desire to be a farmer." He came to Snyder in 1961 to visit his sister and met Bill Atwood, an ex-Major Leaguer who had caught for the Yankees.

He went into the service station business because that's what his father had done after farming for many years. Brewer has owned several stations in Snyder including his present one on College Avenue. He first owned an El Paso (Red Flame) service station which was then located at College and 42nd St., where a Jiffy Conoco is now located. He later owned a Phillips 66 station in Snyder and then two Exxons, his current location and one at 1401 25th Street.

Now he just has his College Ave. Exxon. Brewer had retired a few years ago but in January of this year he decided he needed "something to do" so he once again acquired the Exxon station on College Ave. Even though he had retired for a while, he said he continued coaching. Brewer likes all sports and has never regretted that decision.

Praises local participation...

Brewer says financial support crucial to TTL

O.D. Brewer, profiled in this Sunday's "Folks" column, has been a Texas Teenage League coach for almost 30 years. During the interview, he was outspoken not only in praising Snyder for supporting TTL, but also in saying what he thinks the league needs in order to survive.

Brewer said that raising money for the league is very important and he praised Snyder people, businesses and institutions who have always been generous. A hat is passed at all games and West Texas State Bank has always supported the program, he said.

Brewer also acknowledged concession stand helpers Rev. and Mrs. Larry McAden, Anita Clinkinbeard, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry House. Others who have helped the league include Peggy Highland and Gaylon Vaughan.

Since the teams cannot play without financial support, he said TTL team managers need to be involved with fund raising projects also. "We can't exist without money," he said.

Boys who sign up for Snyder's TTL teams pay a registration fee which covers the cost of insurance, balls and caps, but fundraisers and donations are needed for equipment and travel expenses for playoff games.

Players are age 13-15, and games are played at Moffett Field on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays each season.

Hicks and Meek wed in garden ceremony

Shannon Marie Hicks and Marcos Charles Meek were united in marriage in a garden ceremony, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don West, at 2:00 p.m. on May 5, with Rev. Lynn Pryor officiating.

Shannon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan R. Hicks, of Snyder and Mrs. Gwen Pappas of Bullhead City, Ariz. Marcos is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Meek of Snyder.

The garden was in full bloom with all different colors of roses. The couple exchanged their vows before an arch decorated with live English ivy and silk apricot roses, accented with light green ribbon.

The bride was escorted by her father. She chose a tea length ivory wedding dress. The bodice was covered with lace and ended in a drop waist, lined with pearls and a bow on the side. She wore matching shoes. Her hair was decorated with baby's breath, and she carried a bouquet made of apricot and white silk roses, accented with greenery.

Maid of honor was Cecelia Meek, sister of the groom, of San Angelo. She wore an apricot dress and carried a single light green silk rose.

Dan Hicks, brother of the bride, of Denver, Colo. served as best man.

The groom was attired in a dark blue blazer with gray slacks. The best man wore his military dress uniform.

All of the flowers and decorations were done by Donna Huddleston and Sandy Edwards of Midland.

A reception followed the ceremony in the garden. The bridal table was adorned with apricot and light green silk flowers, with the bridal bouquet as the centerpiece. The traditional three-tiered wedding cake, created by Dianne Price, was decorated with apricot roses and a light green border. A light green punch was served to the guests.

Serving at the table were Charity McCoy and Melanie Thompson, both of Snyder; Brandi Hicks, cousin of the bride, of Brownfield and Jackie Galvez, cousin of the bride, of Lubbock. Charity and Melanie also registered the guests.

Rice bags were handed out by Ryan and Wesley Huddleston, cousins of the bride, and Amanda and Melissa Hicks, sisters of the bride.

After a short wedding trip to Abilene, the couple is at home in Snyder.

The groom is a 1990 graduate of Snyder High School and is employed by Tri State Construction.

The bride is a junior student at Hobbs School.

Out of town guests were from Denver City, Bullhead City, Ariz., Brownfield, Lubbock, Midland and Andrews.

Mystery novel stirs memories

THE CHARTREUSE CLUE. By William F. Love. Donald I. Fine. 284 Pages. $18.95. Older devotees of the mystery novel will have their memories stirred, and most happily, too, by this first such work by William F. Love.

That's because the principal characters in "The Chartreuse Clue" are latter-day reincarnations of the celebrated characters created generations ago by Rex Stout: Nero Wolfe and Archie Goodwin.

In this story, Catholic Bishop Francis X. Regan has the Wolfe role as the crafty solver of provocative puzzles. The bishop is wheelchair-bound, so Dave Goldman plays the Goodwin part as his legman, eyes and ears.

Goldman, a Jewish former New York policeman, has become assistant, chauffeur and secretary to the churchman, and sometimes also works as a private eye. The bishop regards his aide highly, despite Goldman's penchant for wisecracks.

The two suddenly have plenty of trouble on their hands, as well as a very sticky situation. A priest in the archdiocese wakes up one morning, after a powerful binge, in the apartment of his secret girlfriend and finds her stabbed to death. The tale thereafter abounds in action and surprises.

Author Love once was a Benedictine monk and Catholic priest himself, and at another time was a Chicago banker. The book benefits from his experiences.

Sandi Stone and Phillip Stokes wed in evening ceremony

Sandi Grace Stone became the bride of Phillip Cockerham Stokes at 7:00 p.m., on Friday, June 22, in the Chapel of the First Baptist Church of Snyder, in a double-ring ceremony officiated by Rev. Miller Robinson.

The bride is the daughter of V.A. and Billie Stone of Snyder. The groom is the son of Carol Simpson of Richardson.

Vows were recited before a double heart shaped candelabra holding thirty-four tapers and adorned with fresh greenery garlands and large peach bows. Large green plants and two large floral arrangements of fresh sonia and white gladiola, sonia roses, casablanca lilies, Queen Anne's lace and native cactus in white wicker garden stands completed the chapel front. Satin bows of teal and sonia ribbon decorated the family pews.

Mitch Stone, brother of the bride, of DeKalb, and Chris Hall of Stephenville, were candle lighters.

Organist, Lynn Bethel, played the traditional wedding march. Pianist, Jane Womack, accompanied Rhonda Stone, sister-in-law of the bride, of DeKalb, while she sang "After All" and "Household of Faith."

The bride entered the chapel through two seven tiered candelabras adorned with fresh garden garlands and large peach satin bows. Given in marriage by her parents, she was escorted to the altar by her father.

She wore an elegant gown of white silk shantung and Schiffler lace designed by Demetrios of I-Issa. The bodice, heavily beaded with sequins and pearls, featured a V-neckline, Renaissance sleeves, and a basque waistline. The full skirt, trimmed with a beaded Schiffler lace hemline, flowed into a cathedral train.

To complete her attire, the bride wore a picture frame hat accented with Schiffler lace and highlighted with a silk illusion pouf and fingertip veil. She wore a strand of pearls given to her by her parents.

She carried a bouquet of fresh gardenias, sonia roses, white roses, stephanotis, with pearls and streaming lace, gathered in a garden style cascade. Tucked into the bouquet, she carried the traditional family Bible.

For something old, the bride carried the Bible which her mother carried at her parent's wedding. Something new was her wedding gown and something borrowed was a diamond solitaire ring, handed down from her great-grandfather to her aunt, Mary Davis of Coleman. She also wore pearl earrings borrowed from Jean Ann Gassiot of San Angelo. Something blue was a garter given to the bride by Peggy English of Snyder.

As the bride approached the altar, she paused to present her mother with a rose, and bestowed the same token upon the mother of the bridegroom at the conclusion of the ceremony.

Cheryl Staton, of Lubbock, served as the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Jean Ann Gassiot of San Angelo and Rhonda Stone, sister-in-law of the bride, of DeKalb.

MR. AND MRS. PHILLIP STOKES

They wore peach and teal floral gowns with a sweetheart neckline and a low back accented with a big bow and three tiers going down the back to the floor-length hem. All wore pearl necklaces and carried contemporary hand tied bouquets of fresh sonia roses, Queen Anne's lace and teal gypsophila and garden greenery. Chris Hall, of Stephenville, served as best man. Billy Gassiot, of San Angelo, and Mitch Stone, brother of the bride, of DeKalb, were groomsmen. Male members of the wedding party were attired in black western tux coats, white pleated shirts and black wranglers with black roper boots. All but the groom wore teal colored ties and cummerbunds.

The groom was attired in a black western tux coat and white pleated shirt with black wranglers and black roper boots.

He wore a black tie and black cummerbund. Ushers were Mitch Stone and Chris Hall.

Becky McCravey registered guests at a round table decorated with the engagement picture of the bride and groom in a brass frame, the bride's throw-away bouquet, and the bride's wedding book along with a white plume pen.

A reception was held in the Garden Room of the church. The bride's table featured the bridal bouquet arranged with the family Bible accented by streaming lace and pearls. The traditional three-tiered bridal cake, baked by Becky Hicks of Snyder, was oval in shape, with pineapple filling between the layers. The white butter cream icing was applied in a basket weave design on all three tiers. Each tier was adorned with peach colored petunias, lilies, yellow peonies and tiny purple blossoms, accented with teal greenery, all made from gumpaste. Punch was served from an antique punch bowl. The table was covered in a peach colored cloth with a white lace overlay accented by peach colored bows and baby's breath attached at each end of the table. Crystal and silver appointments were used to serve the guests cake, nuts and mints. Serving at the bridal table were Carolyn McCravey and Becky McCravey, of Snyder.

A table filled with a variety of hors d'oeuvres with a fruit cascade, a vegetable bowl and an assortment of cheese and crackers was served to the guests.

The groom's table featured a large floral arrangement of fresh gladiolas, roses and native cactus arranged in a brass boot with teal ribbons and rope. The table was covered with a teal cloth. The groom's cake, baked by Carla Thompson of Snyder, was a double layered German chocolate cake with a horse shoe design on top. An antique brass coffee service and brass table service completed the table. Nuts and mints shaped as cowboy hats were served. Kim Taggart and Debbie Early, both of Snyder, served.

The bride will be a senior at Tarleton University in the fall, majoring in computer management systems. She is presently working in the computer lab at the college.

The groom has just recently completed six years in the army and will enter Tarleton in the fall majoring in law enforcement. The couple are at home in Stephenville.

Sherrod, guest speaker at ABWA

by BARBARA SCHRIVENER

The Scurry Charter Chapter of ABWA met Aug. 23 at the Martha Ann Woman's Club, with Genetha Payne as "Back-to-school hostess." There were 21 members and two guests, Bessy Sherrod, of Snyder and Fio Buchanan, of Ruidoso, N.M., in attendance.

Carol Young, president, presided over the meeting with Kathy Landes leading the group in the invocation.

Vera Pruitt, program chairman, introduced Bessy Sherrod who is employed with the H&R Block Tax Office. She has been with the company seven years. There are four other employees in the office in addition to the manager, Mrs. Juanette Smith, who has been with the company 23 years.

Sherrod spoke to the group about taxes, giving them some handy tips; check into IRA's, CD's, Child Care Credit and Mileage. When you use Child Care Credit, you will need the name, address and social security number of the baby sitter. She said there will only be three things that can be deducted from next year's taxes, interest on your house, property taxes and contributions. H&R Block has rental book and business books available, the public is welcome to drop by and pick one up.

Grace Bryant, vocation chairman, introduced Kathy Landes, who with her husband, owns Landes Home Furnishings.

Landes said that she had a variety of duties in the store; computer inventory work, quarterly reports, assisting customers and going to market on buying trips for the store. She said that there has been a lot of color changes in furniture, carpet and appliances.

Landes is also employed as a part-time speech teacher for the Snyder Independent School District.

Carol Young, president, discussed important dates, for the club, with the group; April is Business Associates month. March is scholarship month, Oct. 13 is White Buffalo Days, Sept. 6 is the birthday of ABWA and the fall tea will be held in October.

Irene Brooks, a Martha Ann Woman's Club member, told the group about the garage sale they will be holding on Sept. 8 at Towle Park Barn.

Birthday people were Louise Rice and Vern Beasley. Barbara Williamson received the door prize.

Ruby Deavers dismissed the group with the benediction.

Carla Fink and Jeffrey Scannichio exchange nuptials

HURST—Carla Rene' Fink, of Fort Worth and Jeffrey Thomas Scannichio of Houston were united in marriage in a double-ring ceremony held at 7 p.m., June 9, at the First United Methodist Church in Hurst, with Rev. Wilson Cananfax officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Sybal Fink and the late Mr. Clyde H. Fink, of Wichita Falls. The groom's parents are Dr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Scannichio of Snyder.

Arlene Small, organist, played Trumpet Fanfare and Trumpet Volent. A solo, "Love Will Be Our Home", was sung by Laurel New.

The bride was given in marriage by Edward B. Edwards, her sister's father-in-law.

She chose an exquisite gown of white satin with a beaded lace sweetheart neckline and leg-of-mutton sleeves, enhanced with sequins and beaded lace appliques. The sequins and beaded lace also edged the hem of the cathedral train and beautifully accented an extended peplum. The double elbow-length veil was attached to a lace tiara and encrusted with pearls. It was accented by petite ribbon side trim and petite satin roses. She wore a royal blue and white crocheted garter, that was made by the groom's mother.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of jewel toned purple, red, yellow and blue silk and dried flowers, arranged with fern greenery and accented with satin ribbon. The bouquet flower colors echoed the vibrant colors of the two-story stained glass windows at the front of the sanctuary.

The matron of honor was Melinda Sylvester of Fort Worth. Bridesmaids were Laura Moriarty of Arlington; Tena Fink, sister of the bride, of Fort Worth; and Jo Ann Fink Edwards, sister of the bride, of Haltom City.

The bridal attendants were attired in royal blue taffeta gowns with Sabrina necklines. Their gowns featured a drop waist with a bow on the left hip and a high-low hem line. Their accessories were 16 inch strands of pearls with matching earrings and royal blue satin pumps. They carried round bouquets that matched the bridal bouquet. The matron of honor also wore a hair ornament of flowers that matched the bouquets.

Renee' Hogue, of Wichita Falls was flower girl. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Hogue, longtime friends of the bride. She wore a royal blue taffeta dress with a peplum and carried a white basket with yellow silk flower petals, dropping them as she walked down the aisle.

Ronnie Myers of Plano was best man. Groomsmen were Mark Moriarty, of Arlington; Larry Rosenberg, of Fort Worth; and Dan Scannichio, brother of the groom, of Snyder. Ushers were Eddy Edwards, the bride's brother-in-law, of Haltom City and Chris Edwards, his brother, from Hurst.

The groom wore a black Christian Dior tuxedo with tails. His attendants wore black Christian Dior tuxedos with white shirts, black bow ties and cummerbunds.

Penny Arnold, a close friend of the bride, of Hurst, registered the guests.

The reception was held at the Embassy Suites Hotel in Irving.

The tables were all draped with white linen. The cake tables were decorated with greenery and purple, blue, yellow and red flowers. They were accented with white net bows with sashes connecting them. The guest tables were decorated by royal blue linen napkins and centerpieces of globed silver liquid candles and silk flowers.

The traditional three-tiered wedding cake, made by The Cakery, of Dallas, was an Italian cream cake, made with pecans, coconut and butter. It was decorated with butter cream icing. The tiers were separated with 3½ inch crystal pillars. Silk flowers, that matched the bridal bouquet, decorated the space between the tiers and the satin wedding bells that accented the top.

The groom's table was decorated in the same style as the wedding cake table and held a silver coffee urn and a chocolate devil's food pudding cake, also made by The Cakery. The cake was frosted with light and dark chocolate icing and accented by whole almonds and white chocolate shavings.

A buffet table offered seasonal fresh fruits, an international cheese display, imported crackers and breadsticks, hors d'oeuvres of chicken fingers and vegetable tempura. The guests were also served breast of turkey, sirloin of beef, fresh baked rolls, various condiments, punch and other liquid refreshments.

After a honeymoon trip to Waikiki Beach and Maui, Hawaii, the bride and groom are at home in Houston.

The bride is a 1979 graduate of S.H. Rider High School, in Wichita Falls and attended Midwestern State University, in Wichita Falls and Tarrant County Junior College in North Richland Hills. She is an underwriting assistant at Metropolitan Property and Liability Company.

The groom is a 1978 graduate of Snyder High School and a 1983 graduate of Texas Tech University with a bachelor of business administration degree. He is the vice-president of the Commercial Division of Kaplan Management Company, Inc.

LEAD POISONING

In the U.S., 9% of pre-school children (1,500,000) have dangerous levels of lead in their blood. Lead damages the kidneys, the immune system, bones, and can lower the child's IQ by 5 points. Lead from car exhaust and old paint can contaminate soil and dust. Antique toys, cribs, utensils, lead-glazed pottery may contribute lead. PEDIATRICS warns that reductions of lead in our water, food, gasoline, and paint are still inadequate.

Turn-row meetings set at area gins

by DEANNA HOLLADAY
Some cotton is cutting out and some bolls are opening; some fields are stressing and shedding small bolls. Checking for worms and weevils should be continued, especially in lush cotton. Aphid numbers went down in some untreated fields; but re-infestation continues to occur in some treated fields. Some beet armyworm and some fall armyworm activity has been seen.

Turn-row meetings will be held: Tuesday, Sept. 4 at 7:30 a.m. at the Co-op Gin; Tuesday, Sept. 4 at 11:00 a.m. at the Fluvanna Gin; Thursday, Sept. 4 at 7:30 a.m. at the Inadale Community Center; and Thursday, Sept. 4 at 10:30 a.m. at the Dunn Community Center.

Cotton should have been checked as a result of the egg-hatching warning in last weeks newsletters. Eggs hatched well last week, so if it was not checked, there may be large infestations of worms by now. Small worms continue to be found in some fields. The highest infestation seen as a result of spot checking was 92 percent. All fields did not get a full two-weeks residual control from previous applicators. The whole plant should be checked, as infestations are being seen down lower on the plants.

Hopefully, moths will not lay more eggs in cotton which is cutting out and has few squares. Cotton which is still lush in the top and actively fruiting, should be watched closely.

Basically, from here on out, treatment should be for protection of bolls as very little younger fruit has a chance to make with average temperatures.

A check should be made behind spraying to make sure control was adequate. Approximately four days after treatment would be a good time. If worms are still being found, it may be due to an application error. Perhaps coverage of the plant was not good. If worms were in unexposed positions on the plant at treatment time, they may have been too large for residual control to work, when they ate treated plant tissue. Budworms populations have generally been low so far, but identifications have shown some are being left in the fields. Fields should be checked to make sure that the worm that was left was a bollworm. Both beet and fall armyworms have been seen feeding on fruit in some fields. Pyrethroids will not give adequate control of armyworms.

Retreatment with a non-pyrethroid insecticide such as Bolstar, Larvin or Curacron could be required in some fields.

If armyworm infestations are spread across the field along with bollworms, one of the above insecticides should be used. Larvin is supposed to provide good armyworm control.

Squares should be pulled and checked for boll weevil punctures to determine if weevil treatments are needed. As fields cut-out, weevils will be expected to move out of these fields and look for more lush actively growing cotton to lay eggs in. If there are more small bolls than squares, the small bolls should be pulled and examined for punctures.

Fall armyworms have been observed feeding on cotton fruit.

The pest is more damaging than a beet armyworm but not as damaging as a bollworm. Three to four day old worms are difficult to distinguish from bollworms.

Janie Fleming becomes bride of Clinton Siedel in chapel ceremony

ABILENE—Janie Lyn Fleming, of Midland became the bride of Clinton Arnold Seidel, of Longview at 3 p.m. on Aug. 18, in Logsdon Chapel, Hardin-Simmons University of Abilene, in a double-ring ceremony, officiated by Brad Waggoner, pastor of Elmcrest Baptist Church, of Abilene.

The bride is the daughter of Harrline Fleming of Midland. The groom is the son of Elaine Seidel and the late Bob Seidel of Rosanky.

The couple exchanged vows before an altar decorated with an arch and two spiral candelabras, accented with English ivy and ivory bows. One side of the stage held an antique chest, with the bride's grandfather's Bible and a nickel lamp.

Zach Findley, cousin of the bride, lit the candles.

Ann Sanders, of Abilene played the "Lord's Supper" and other traditional wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her two brothers, Jimmie and Joe Fleming.

For her wedding attire, the bride chose a blouse and skirt made of white lawn, circa 1900. The blouse featured hand work embroidery trim, hand lace insertions with tiny pearl buttons, tucks and tapered sleeves. The skirt had panels in front and back with hand made lace insertions and rows of tucks and lace at the middle and bottom of the skirt. Serving as maid of honor was Suzu Sanders of Abilene. Bridesmaids were Pam Perkins, of Duncan, Okla.; Carol Fernandez, of Abilene; and Rhonda Gurnea, of Lubbock, all friends of the bride.

Bethany Burleson, cousin of the bride, of Oak Harbor, Wash. and the groom's niece, Ashley Gann, of Rosanky were flower girls.

Alan Seidel, cousin of the groom, of Rosanky was best man. Groomsmen were Zach Findley, cousin of the bride, of Colorado City; David Gann, the groom's brother-in-law, of Rosanky; and Cary Coffee, friend of the groom, of Snyder.

The groom and his attendants wore black tuxedos accented with ivory shirts, black bow ties and cummerbunds.

The registration table was an antique end table, belonging to a great aunt, decorated with an oil lamp and dried roses. Tina Clement of Houston registered the guests.

The reception was held in the chapel following the wedding ceremony.

The bridal table was covered in an ivory cloth, with a hand crocheted overlay, made by the bride's great-grandmother. It held a glass punch bowl, crystal candle sticks, the bride's bouquet and a traditional three tier wedding cake.

The cake was decorated with English ivy and dried flowers and held a Precious Moments cake top, a gift from the bride's aunt, Barbara Bills.

MRS. CLINTON ARNOLD SEIDEL

Serving at the bridal table was Anne Seidel, the groom's sister-in-law and Nita O'Bar, of Abilene.

The groom's table was covered with a green and peach quilt and was decorated with an antique lamp. Guests were served German chocolate cake and coffee from a brass coffee service.

Sharon Gann and Sharlotte Seidel, the groom's sisters, both of Rosanky served at the groom's table.

After a cruise to the Bahamas for their honeymoon trip, the couple are at home in Longview.

The bride is a graduate of Abilene High School and is a nursing student at Hardin-Simmons University. She is employed by Dr. Stephen Wieserfeld.

The groom is a graduate of Smithville High School and Texas A&M with an engineering degree. He is employed at Halliburton Services.

ARE VERY LOW CALORIE DIETS (VLCD) A SOLUTION?

Obese Americans are trapped in a constant battle of the bulge. It often seems like there are equally as many diets or diet products as there are overweight people. The latest diet trend to catch the public's fancy is a return to the very low calorie diet, generally 400 to 800 calories per day.

Weight loss is actually a simple formula of taking in fewer calories than you expend by either decreasing your caloric intake, increasing your physical output or both. A low-fat, high complex-carbohydrate diet and regular physical activity should enable most Americans to bring weight under control. However, lifelong weight maintenance success evades most dieters. The changes necessary are easy to recite, but much harder to follow. This has led many chronic dieters to turn to the very low-calorie diet as a final resort.

Very low-calorie diets are based on a powdered supplement that contains high quality complete proteins, carbohydrates and fats as well as vitamins and minerals. The new or revived VLCD are a great improvement over the dangerous formulas of the 1970s which were linked with several deaths. The powder is dissolved in water or diet soda and is consumed three to five times a day.

These diets are not for everyone. They should always be based on a doctor's recommendation and must be medically monitored. They should only be prescribed for individuals who are at least 20-30 percent above their ideal body weight. VLCDs are not recommended for people with insulin-dependent diabetes, certain heart or kidney problems or other serious illnesses.

When a VLCD is appropriate, there are some advantages over a more traditional weight loss approach. Rapid weight loss provides the dieter with greater motivation to stick to the program.

A VLCD also removes all the choices that are constantly being required of the dieter. After the first few days, appetite tends to be suppressed and people do not experience the hunger often associated with a conventional diet.

The VLCD is not free of limitations, however. They are expensive, costing at least $100 per week. As people approach their goal weight there is a tendency to lose lean muscle tissue rather than fat. Other adverse side effects are cold intolerance, dry skin, constipation, potassium deficiency, excess uric acid in the blood, gallbladder inflammation and depression.

Numerous research studies by renowned bariatricians have indicated that the major problem with VLCD is that even those who lose successfully and reach their ideal weight tend to regain the weight rapidly once they begin to consume food. Many not only gain all of their weight back, but even go on to gain additional pounds as well.

To determine if a VLCD program is for you, even an over-the-counter product, consult a physician. Examine any program carefully and make sure that it contains the following components along with the initial diet:

- Aerobic exercise
- Nutrition counseling
- Behavior modification including weight maintenance and relapse prevention and
- Aftercare support groups

trick in the trump suit. But West led a heart. Theoretically there were still four losers, but declarer managed things so that one loser went by the wayside.

South won the ace of hearts and played a spade. When West showed out, East was left with a sure trump trick. Declarer also had three diamond losers, so what could be done? A successful club finesse would win the day, but declarer expected the club king to be with West for his vulnerable overcall. But there was another way.

Declarer, how in dummy, ruffed a heart and played ace and ruffed a club. He ruffed another heart and ruffed his last club. He then ruffed another heart and played a second spade to dummy. That left declarer with the jack of spades and three little diamonds. East was left with the A-Q-9 of diamonds and the spade queen. But the lead was in dummy.

When the heart queen was played, declarer could not be prevented from scoring his spade jack for the game-going trick.

Lead lets South off the hook

By James Jacoby

Many years ago a Midwestern bridge expert commented to me, "If I always made the right opening lead, I'd win every tournament I played in." Of course that remark is a lot like saying you'd do well if you could see all the cards, and that ability just isn't given to us, but today's deal certainly demonstrates how success or failure depends on a defender's choice at trick one.

With a diamond lead, the defenders would quickly score three tricks and then patiently wait for the setting

ITEM: AUSTIN (AP) — The State Board of Insurance today received a staff recommendation that homeowners statewide pay an average 15.8 percent more for property insurance.

We'll pay, you know. But someday, it will come to this: ITEM: Homeowners statewide, upon hearing a staff recommendation that the State Board of Insurance strangle property holders by another 15.8 percent, told the staff and the SBI to "go to Hades."

The time is coming — has already come for some — when insurance just simply is not, or will not, be affordable. Gotta' drive, gotta' have the home, gotta' feed and clothe and house the family. But we'll have to cross our fingers and take our chances when it comes to protection.

Property insurance rates are, to a certain degree, determined by the weather — damage from hail, winds and such. But increases in other insurance can be largely influenced by judgements, and they are rising higher, and getting more trivial, than ever.

Frankly, we started this mess, and only we can end it. Started it?

Sure, when people quit taking responsibility for their own actions and began suing their friends and neighbors. Sure, some lawsuits are practical and legitimate. But others aren't. And the judgements — millions and millions of dollars in some cases — are ridiculous.

Things get twisted out of proportion.

Portions of a column by Vincent Carroll point out how bad the situation is getting:

"What do unhappiness, drugs, booze and a 12-gauge shotgun have to do with the suicide of a young man and the attempted suicide of his friend? If you answered 'everything,' you obviously do not practice law.

"What ruined these kids, their families' lawyers insist, was a faulty product, namely rock music recorded by the group Judas Priest. If the two friends hadn't listened to Judas Priest on a fateful day in 1985, they'd probably be alive today (the second died in 1988, reportedly after another descent into drugs).

"This is hardly a novel argument, of course. Rock music, TV shows, even horror stories have all been accused at one time or another of provoking suicide or mayhem in the unstable or depressed. So far, fortunately, writers, artists and musicians have shielded themselves from these shift-the-blame lawsuits by invoking the First Amendment. But whether than can continue to dodge the legal bullet remains to be seen.

"That's because liability law has been taking some weird turns of late. As The Wall Street Journal reported recently, more and more people are suing for events that haven't even happened — events they only fear will occur later in their lives. Some lawsuits even complain about events that almost certainly will never occur. To be blunt, they're imaginary incidents.

"Yet sometimes such lawsuits succeed.

"In one potentially landmark case before the U.S. Supreme Court, 25 passengers and their spouses sued Eastern Airlines after a pilot warned them that their plane might crash — a reasonable prediction, one might think, considering that all engines had failed at the time. Through Herculean effort, the crew managed to restart one engine and safely land the plane. Rather than applaud this effort, spiteful passengers sued for mental distress.

"What the Supreme Court should do, but probably won't, is issue a clear-cut ruling to the effect that courts may compensate people for emotional distress only when they've also been actually injured. Close calls and imaginary events shouldn't be good enough, because if judges can award damages for anxiety alone, the sky's the limit for liability. There is simply no way to disprove someone's avowal of distress.

"For that matter, there is no way to weed out plainly irrational fears from sensible worries.

"Consider another case, this one from Tacoma, Wash. Several residents of an Air Force base sued the federal government for damages from the alleged contamination of water wells. In his ruling, the federal judge admitted that residents had been exposed to no risk 'greater than one in 1 million. The actual risk was probably much less, and may have been zero.' So much for the facts. Throwing science to the winds, the judge then awarded the plaintiffs $80,000 anyway because he considered their anxiety reasonable.

"In effect, these people were rewarded for harboring a modern superstition — an exaggerated fear of cancer-causing substances."

And so it goes. Law firms blatantly advertise that if you've been in an accident you may have grounds for a lawsuit. They'll tell you that you may be injured, even if you don't know it — another way of saying "We'll find somebody to sue for something."

The price of insurance goes up and up and up. Automobile insurance, property insurance, health insurance, life insurance and on, and on.

It's mentally draining. In fact, it's causing some of us a lot of mental anxiety.

So what do you think? Do we have the makings of a lawsuit?

Country Life

By Deanie Francis Mills

Recently, I was privileged to be interviewed by a talented young writer from Snyder (Angela McCall — Hi, Angela), who is trying to break into the freelance profession. She was so well prepared and asked such excellent questions that I thought back over some of my own interviews — especially when I was first starting out — and came up short!

At the end of the interview, she asked what she called her "Barbara Walters questions"; they were interesting, thought-provoking questions that were fun to answer. Some of them were quite difficult to answer without time to mull them over. (Imagine the pressure some celebrities have when the TV cameras are rolling!)

One question I particularly liked — and struggled over — was, "If you were stranded on a proverbial desert island, all alone, and you were allowed to have only three books with you, what books would they be?"

A real toughie for a bookaholic.

Three. Only three.

The first thing that popped into my head was Henry David Thoreau's "Walden." This book catalogues the famous experience Thoreau had when he lived off the land in solitude by Walden Pond, near Concord, Massachusetts, in 1846. He built his own cabin, and spent the time in thoughtful contemplation of nature and the habits and eccentricities of man. If I were stranded in the wilderness, I could learn a lot from Thoreau on solitude and survival.

There are many famous quotes from that book; the most of which may be, "The mass of men lead lives of quite desperation," and my favorite, "If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer. Let him step to the music which he hears, however measured or far away."

The second book which occurred to me, if I could only have three, would be, of course, the Bible. But I would insist that it be the bedraggled New American Standard that my mother gave to me for my 21st birthday, eighteen years ago. Scrambled all through that Bible are marginal notes, scriptures underlined, and dates which I place beside scriptures that "speak" to me during a particularly stressful time. I can find those scriptures, see the date beside, and know that I was given comfort or guidance right there when my Daddy died, or when my mother and sister were nearly killed in a car wreck, or when I moved out of state for my first after-college job, or when I decided to get married — even when "Darkroom" didn't sell for months and months and I was so very depressed. That Bible could get me through anything, I know.

The third choice was a toughie, and in fact, I cheated. The book I named is actually a two-volume set, a first edition collection of the essays of Ralph Waldo Emerson, which my husband gave me last Christmas.

When I first discovered Emerson in college, I was too young to fully appreciate him, but even then, you can see passages from his essays in my old textbook underlined IN RED, so that I could be sure and find them again through the years. Twenty years later, those quotes still speak to me: "Trust thyself: every heart vibrates to that iron string." "Insist on yourself; never imitate." "Man is a stream whose source is hidden." "God will not make Himself manifest to cowards." There's even one on writing: "Look in the heart and write."

In his lifetime, Emerson wrote dozens of essays on every conceivable subject, and each essay pries open the soul of the reader to reveal a light within. Yes, I would definitely take Emerson to my desert island, and I would emerge stronger.

I'm glad Angela asked me that question, because the great thing about it is, I don't have to wait until I'm stranded to find such treasures.

SDN Week In Review

MONDAY August 27

Sales tax rebates received by the City of Snyder were up 4.62 percent for the month and 2.13 percent for the year, according to the state comptroller's office.

THURSDAY August 30

An appeals court has overturned the April 25, 1989 conviction of Jorge Seratto Solis and has ordered a new trial.

Snyder City Council adopted a 5 percent increase in utility rates following a public hearing Monday night.

A 36-year-old Snyder man was arrested Monday night and charged with the aggravated kidnapping of his ex-wife.

TUESDAY August 28

Authorities in North Carolina have "dropped for now" 13 charges filed against Johnnas J. Eickie, a 36-year-old former Snyder man, but have scheduled a Sept. 5 trial date on federal charges.

Scurry County's population increased only slightly over the past 10 years, but that's in contrast to most area counties which witnessed a reduction, according to preliminary figures released by the U.S. Census Bureau.

While the U.S. Census Bureau indicated a slight gain in population for Scurry County, preliminary figures show a drop of 5.36 percent in Snyder.

FRIDAY August

As expected, Cogdell Memorial Hospital has contracted with Texas Texas University Health Science Center to provide healthcare for the Price Daniel Unit.

Look Back

By Joyce Jones

FIVE YEARS AGO

Vernon Rannefeld was honored with a plaque and dinner by Lenox Industries for 35 years of service with the firm.

Furr's new supermarket opened its doors at College Ave. and 30th St. with a 10:00 a.m. ribbon cutting on Wednesday, Aug. 27.

On Sept. 1, the "blue law" was repealed in Texas and four Snyder businesses started opening on Sunday afternoons. Anthon's, Kmart, TG&Y and Perry's joined Munden's and Eckerd's, which had been opening with limited sales.

Chris and Cole Hayden were presented a BMX type bicycle for their efforts in raising $601 for the Muscular Dystrophy Association. Sears donated the bicycle.

TEN YEARS AGO

*Snyder Tiger's volleyball team won a weekend tournament and claimed the championship title, beating out Seminole in the championship match 15-5, 13-15 and 15-11.

Snyder had an overnight season's low temperature of 60 degrees on Sept. 2, accompanied by rain showers.

George Byerly, Snyder High School basketball coach, was named coach of the year in basketball by Howard Payne University Exes Coaches Association.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Bryan Hargrove and Ethel Patterson won the first annual Snyder Country Club Labor Day Partnership Golf Tournament on Sept. 2.

Carol Word, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.M. Word, was the recipient of the Annual Scholarship Award presented by the American Business Women's Association.

Enrollment in Snyder schools was knocking at the 3,500 mark with additional students expected to enroll following the Labor Day holiday.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Snyder farmer-businessman, W.A. McGlaun, ginned Scurry County's first bale of cotton for 1970 at the Paymaster Gin on Aug. 26. He had the 605-pound bale hand-picked from 3 1/2 dryland acres north of town.

Five sets of twins enrolled for school in the first grade at Central Elementary, including three sets of identical twin girls. They were Audrey and Adrian Heartfield, Judie and Julie Hall, Consuela and Esperanza Gutierrez, Janis and Frankie Vansickle and Bobbie Lou and Becky Sue Edwards.

SDN letters to the editor

To the "Folks" of Snyder: CONGRATULATIONS! Following a hectic 1990 Little League baseball season, we, as representatives of the Abilene Umpire Association, would like to take a moment to express some of our thoughts concerning the Snyder Little League program.

During all-star tournament play, we have the privilege of umpiring many teams representing District 5 Little League. That not only includes our hometown teams in Abilene, but many teams in surrounding areas as well. Snyder Little League is one of those teams.

As most of the people of Snyder probably know, the Snyder Little League represented District 5 in the state playoffs at Waco this year. Just to be a part of the largest tournament in the world is a great privilege; however, the Snyder Little League team came home with an added reward. After having placed fourth in the state, the team was then awarded by other teams, coaches, managers, umpires and tournament directors from around the state of Texas, the Marvin Norcross Sportsmanship Award. As there was a total of 16 Little League teams represented in this tournament, it is not hard to see what a privilege it is to receive this award. We might also add that from what we saw during local tournament play, this award could also be shared with the coaching staff, the parents, and the fans of this fine team.

Again, congratulations to a fine group of youngsters and their coaching staff! What a great way to end the baseball season.

YOUR SCURRY COUNTY MUSEUM

The Scurry County Museum is open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Thursday - 8:00 to 4:00 p.m. on Friday. You are welcome to come out to the Museum any time during these hours. The 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. hours posted on the door are suggested gallery hours for large, guided tours. Take your family out for a day of educational fun. The Museum recently received good news about a grant approved from the Texas Historical Commission in the amount of $900.00. This money will be used for the preservation and implementation of a County Archives. The Objective is to remove archival records from their current destructive environment and place them in a protective, but accessible habit where they can be used as a valuable tool for research by the museum and public. With this money, they will purchase acid-free folders and cartons, metal shelving, catalog cards, lateral and catalog files. This grant must be matched by the Museum. If you would like to contribute to the preservation of this important source of County history, please send your donation to the Scurry County Museum - P.O. Box 606 - Snyder, Texas 79549. Any amount will be greatly appreciated and your donation can be made in the form of a memorial or membership; just designate on the check that you would like the money to be used for.

CENTURY II Leadership Scurry County Leadership in Action

A class is now forming for the 1990-91 Century II Leadership Scurry County. This class is aimed at developing and maintaining a pool of well informed and well motivated men and women qualified to assume present and future leadership roles in Scurry County. The program seeks to develop community knowledge on local economy, local government, quality of life in Snyder, and local health care and education. Program resources will come from citizen leaders and specialists in various fields. Applications may be obtained through the Chamber of Commerce office - 2302 Avenue R. 573-3558. Tuition fee for each participant is $225 and includes all materials and program expenses. There are a few scholarships available.

SCURRY COUNTY FAIR TIME!

It is time once again for the SCURRY COUNTY FAIR! September 20, 21, and 22 the Fair will be in full swing at the Scurry County Coliseum and Ag Annex. There will be a carnival, critter parade, school art displays, kiddie barnyard, junior steer and lamb show, horse show, educational booths, food booths, arts and craft booths, display booths, agriculture exhibits, and of course a wide variety of competitive entries such as canning, textiles, woodcrafts and more. There is fun and excitement for the entire family and special entertainment has been planned for the three days. There are still a limited amount of booths available for flea market and inside display or sales. If you are interested in obtaining a booth you can contact the Chamber of Commerce office at 2503 Avenue R. or phone 573-3558

WHITE BUFFALO DAYS CELEBRATION

The White Buffalo Days Committee of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce is planning the Annual White Buffalo Days Celebration. Booths are being reserved now! If you are a non-profit organization and would like to have a food booth you can contact Laura Jones at the Coliseum Office or at 573-9811. If you are interested in an arts and crafts booth you can contact Leonna Wiggins at the Ira Post Office or at 573-7803. White Buffalo Days is Saturday, October 13 so don't miss your chance to have a booth at the Celebration! For further information about the Celebration you can contact the Chamber of Commerce office at 573-3558.

YOUR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

WHAT IT IS Your Chamber of Commerce is a voluntary organization of citizens who are investing their time and money in a community development program - working together to improve the economic, civic and cultural well-being of the area.

Any citizen who is interested in helping to develop the area (which means more money - more business - more jobs and better living for everyone) is eligible to be a member of the Chamber of Commerce. The dues structure is designed to permit even the smallest business to be a member.

The work of the Chamber is financed by the investment of the members who support it on the basis of their ability to pay and their interest in the progress of the area. The Chamber of Commerce is composed of Committee workers, Directors, and Officers who serve without pay. The manager and his staff who devote their full time to the Chamber of Commerce are the only paid employees.

WHAT IT DOES The Chamber of Commerce is a service institution and an action organization. It provides a medium through which people can take effective action for the progress of the community.

It helps to create job opportunities through stimulation of industrial and commercial growth.

It seeks the improvement of community facilities - streets, highways, parks, schools, marketing facilities and human resources.

It brings conventions, sales meetings, and other gatherings to the city.

It works toward developing the agriculture and agricultural industry of the area.

In all these functions the Chamber of Commerce is serving as a department - a partner - of every business and every professional person in the area.

HOW IT FUNCTIONS The Chamber of Commerce functions through working committees of the organization. Money, planning, inspiration and guidance are useless unless the members work vigorously on the committees of their choice.

Careful study is made of the community needs and an action blueprint, the program of work, is designed.

The goal of the program is always to create more dollars for more people and to improve the economic welfare of all.

Every member has a voice in determining the policies and projects and every member is needed to work on active committees to get the job done.

Kellogg files suit

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Kellogg Co. has filed a federal lawsuit against the Texas attorney general's office and health department after the agencies threatened to seize its controversial psyllium-based cereal, Heartwise.

The move comes one week after the Battle Creek-based cereal maker sued the Iowa attorney general's office, contending it has harassed the company for two years over health claims on Special K, 40% Bran Flakes Report...

Texas offers little care for children

AUSTIN (AP) — The Children's Defense Fund-Texas said the state and nation must improve the way they provide for children.

"We are asking candidates and public officials to take the initiative in meeting the basic needs of children — for their sake and for the sake of our future," said Leslie Lanham, associate director of the group's Texas office.

Texas ranks below average in caring for its children, according to a report released Thursday by the group. The report also criticized efforts by the nation as a whole.

"The lack of attention to children's needs will have grave consequences for the future of our state and our nation," said Ms. Lanham.

"More and more of our children are poor, more and more are homeless, and more and more have not gotten their immunizations or the early childhood education they need to succeed," she said.

More than 3,000 copies of the report—Children 1990: A Report Card, Briefing Book and Action Primer—were distributed to candidates, officials, newspapers and children's advocates, according to the defense fund.

(now called Bran Flakes) and Frosted Flakes.

In the Texas case, the state health department has threatened to order Heartwise pulled from store shelves if the company does not alter the product's labeling and include potential risks of the grain psyllium, which the company maintains can help lower cholesterol.

Texas Assistant Attorney General Stephen Gardner said the product may be "detained" as early as Tuesday unless the company agrees to the changes.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration asked Kellogg last year to provide data showing that psyllium, a soluble fiber that is used in laxatives, is safe in foods and to back up its health claims. The agency has not ruled yet.

"The only people who view psyllium as safe in food is Kellogg," Gardner said.

Man's Trip to Massage Parlor Rubs His Wife the Wrong Way

EDITOR'S NOTE: Abby is on a two-week vacation. Following is a selection of some of her favorite past letters.

DEAR ABBY: My husband recently confessed to me that he and some of his friends went to a massage parlor after bowling one night.

He swore he had never done anything like that before and he doesn't plan to do it again. I forgave him, but I can't help feeling betrayed.

Abby, he is the last man on earth I would ever suspect of doing such a thing. We have a satisfying sex life, and my husband has always been a very religious, churchgoing man. What makes a happily married, religious man go to a place like that?

HURT WIFE

DEAR HURT: Curiosity. Lust. An itch for variety. The fear of missing something. Wanting to be "one of the boys." Being too chicken to refuse when one of his pals suggested it. Temporary insanity. I don't know which of the above applies to your husband, but I'll wager one of them does.

DEAR ABBY: I am 30 years old and in love with a man 29. We are talking about getting married, but we disagree on one important point. He wants children and I don't.

Since the death of my first husband, five years ago, I am more convinced than ever that I do not want children because they will infringe on my freedom. I don't want to share my husband's time with anyone else. The world's problems — crime, violence, famine, disease, pollution and the threat of overpopulation — are more than just a theory. Besides, I'm afraid that I am so set in my ways now that I will not have the patience to raise a child properly.

I would appreciate your opinion.
NO CHILDREN

DEAR NO: I agree, you shouldn't have children, but for probably the most important reason of all. You really don't want any.

DEAR ABBY: The continuing discussion in your column regarding "recycled dentures" brought to mind an old limerick, which you may have heard:

"There was an old man of Tarentum
Who gnashed his false teeth till he bent 'em.
When they asked him the cost
Of what he had lost,
He replied, 'I can't say, for I rent 'em.'"

My research reveals that 70 years ago, British weekly newspapers carried this advertisement: "Old artificial teeth bought. If forwarded by post, utmost value per return or offer made..."

So you see, Abby, what happens to old dentures has intrigued people for a long, long time.

M.E. RING, D.D.S.

DEAR M.E.: Thanks to the editor of the Bulletin of the History of Dentistry.

"How to Write Letters for All Occasions" provides sample letters of congratulations, thank-yous, condolences, resumes and business letters — even how to write a love letter. It also includes how to properly address the clergy, government officials, dignitaries, widows and others. To order, send a long, business-size, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $3.95 ($4.50 in Canada) to: Dear Abby, Letter Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054. (Postage is included.)

EDITOR'S NOTE: Abby is on a two-week vacation. Following is a selection of some of her favorite past letters.

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and I want to join a convent. The problem is, I am not Catholic. I'm not really anything, but I want to become a nun because I've never had a date and I'll probably never have one, and if I were a nun in a convent I wouldn't have to make any excuses. After all, who ridicules a nun for not having a boyfriend?

How does a girl go about signing up to be a nun? Please answer in the paper because I don't have any privacy here. If anyone in my family found out I asked you such a question, I'd never hear the end of it.

FUTURE NUN

DEAR FUTURE NUN: Sorry, dear, a convent is not a place for a girl to hide because she thinks she needs an excuse for not having a boyfriend. Women become nuns because of their deep religious convictions and desire to dedicate their lives to the service of their church. You need a mature friend with whom you can talk frankly about your feelings. Counseling from a Catholic priest could be extremely helpful.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 34-year-old woman earning a top salary as an executive, but when it comes to managing my personal life, I'm a dummy.

For the last two years, I've had this 28-year-old fellow living with me. I'm hooked on him. He can't hold a job because he hates to get up in the morning, so I've been supporting him. My friends tell me to kick him out, but I can't bring myself to because he's wonderful company and I really enjoy living with him.

He admits to seeing other girls while I'm at work and insists that there's nothing wrong with it as long as we're not married.

Abby, he wants to marry me, and says that once we're married he'll shape up, get a job and work steady, but I'm leery.

Half of me says, "Marry him" and the other half says, "Don't." What do you say?

TORN APART

DEAR TORN: Listen to the half with the brains in it and don't marry him.

DEAR ABBY: A friend called me and asked for a recipe she'd heard I had. A mutual friend had told her it was the most delicious casserole she'd ever tasted. Well, it was just a can of this and a package of that. A child could throw it together in five minutes. I was ashamed to tell her it was so simple, so I said it had been in my family for years and I promised my grandmother I wouldn't give it out.

This has been on my mind for days, Abby, and I feel terrible about it. I don't usually lie. I'd really like to square things with her, but I'm in so deep now I don't know how to, without making a liar out of myself.

TROUBLED CONSCIENCE

DEAR TROUBLED: Don't worry about "making a liar out of yourself." You already have. Now you must "fess up." (She'll understand.) Give her the recipe, and if it's as easy as you say it is, and as delicious as she heard it was, it will leave only a good taste in her mouth.

What teen-agers need to know about sex, drugs, AIDS, and getting along with their peers and parents is now in Abby's updated, expanded booklet, "What Every Teen Should Know." To order, send a long, business-size, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $3.95 ($4.50 in Canada) to: Dear Abby, Teen Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054. Summer of auto theft fury seems to be cooling off

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — For two years, El Paso residents were frustrated and angry over the city's auto theft problem.

And then this summer they exploded. When Police Chief John Scagno told reporters that the department suspected Mexican officials of running auto theft rings in the city, the statement became a conduit for citizens' rage.

Now, as fall approaches, the city is preparing to host a conference of mayors from both sides of the U.S.-Mexico border and El Paso Mayor Suzie Azar is confident the atmosphere of outrage from the summer won't interfere.

Ms. Azar said she has mixed emotions about the feud that began with Scagno's statement.

"I feel it brought some national media attention on both sides of the border. Washington, D.C. and Mexico City were aroused when the situation was becoming hot," said Ms. Azar. "Of course I had been writing (U.S. Rep. Ron) Coleman for months... But having it come out on front pages, brought out a higher-profile focus."

But Ms. Azar also said she knows the city's relationship with Mexico may have suffered.

"We live here on the border with real fine responsible Mexican citizens. They're good people and to just denounce Mexico in general had to splash over on some people who are just good decent people, and that's regrettable," she said.

Scagno made his accusing remarks June 8, and the following fury only started to settle in the early weeks of August. But it left behind a trail of turmoil.

In response Mexican officials have stopped cooperating with El Paso police in the return of stolen cars. Immediately after Scagno's statement Mexican police declared that any El Paso officer found trying to recover stolen vehicles in Ciudad Juarez would be arrested.

A grand jury subpoenaed Scagno, the City Council and several police officers to back up the claims that Mexican authorities were running the auto theft rings.

The animosity even spilled over into the ranks of journalists.

An El Paso Herald-Post photographer who was looking for stolen vehicles scuffled with Mexican journalists. The photographer, Rick Kelley, said he was beaten by the journalists whose cars were among the vehicles Kelley was checking. Two members of a California television crew also were detained with him.

Mexican television station Channel 44 captured Kelley on video trying to open the doors of a van and a car. It also showed him opening a truck door and removing a dash board cover in search of a vehicle identification number.

Soon after, Kelley was grabbed by a man who had tried to stop him from photographing his car. Kelley has since left the newspaper over a separate incident, editor Tom King has said.

The auto theft crisis even pitted Juarez newspapers against their own colleagues. The Diario de Juarez reported it was an old practice for Mexican journalists to drive stolen cars and ran a list of reporters the paper said were driving stolen vehicles.

THE TAX PAYER'S PRIDE, SOMEWHERE IN THE PACIFIC, 1943. The Tax Payer's Pride, shown above, took nine men to a fiery death on June 26th, 1943. The B-17, attached to the 43rd Bomb Group, was downed by Japanese night fighters near Rabaul, New Britain, shortly after this picture was made somewhere in the Pacific. Joel Griffin, the only survivor, has searched for a picture of his plane for forty-seven years. Just this summer, a picture was located and sent to him. Courtesy: Ken Bieler, Garden City, Kansas. THANK YOU KIDS

We want to Thank all the children who participated in our Opening for the AJRA National Finals Rodeo. You were most faithful to attend each night and made our opening most successful. We received many compliments on your performance and we were so proud of you.

We especially want to Thank all the parents for making it possible for you to attend and take part. We realize this took great effort and we sincerely appreciate it.

Also, thanks goes to Cindy Nix and Royce Hataway for sharing their great talents. Dub Everett and Louie Vaughn for taping the music, Snyder Daily News and KSNY for helping us gather all the kids.
