In Brief

Gloomy talk

WASHINGTON (AP) -Federal Reserve Chairman Alan Greenspan issued a gloomy assessment of the U.S. economy today, saying the turmoil in the Persian Gulf had introduced "new and substantial risks" for the prospects of continued growth.

With all of the economic uncertainty, Greenspan said the Bush administration and Congress should intensify their efforts to get a credible package to reduce the budget deficit.

Iraq seizes assets from all countries honoring embargo

By The Associated Press Iraqi President Saddam Hussein today seized all foreign assets from countries honoring the embargo on trade with his nation, just days before the U.N. Security Council was expected to toughen its sanctions.

Six weeks into the Persian Gulf crisis, Saddam appeared even more determined to hold on to Kuwait, having boosted his occupation forces to an estimated 360,000.

Nine West European countries on Tuesday endorsed a proposed United Nations air blockade, and Argentina said it was joining the multinational flotilla enforcing the naval blockade of Iraq.

U.N. Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar sounded a pessimistic note, saying he feared the gulf military standoff brought on by Iraq's Aug. 2 invasion of Kuwait could turn into World War III.

-Iraq offered to pump free oil to Turkey through two pipelines Ankara closed last month, a spokesman for Turkey's Foreign Ministry said. The government has made no decision on the offer, which was similar to one Iraq made to Third World countries last week

In Baghdad, the Iraqi government said today that it has seized all cash deposits and property of governments, companies and private and banks government-owned - from countries that are honoring the U.N.ordered embargo.

The state-run Iraqi News Agency said the ruling Revolutionary Command Council ordered the confiscation under a new sevenarticle law dealing with the protection of "Iraqi interests, money and rights in Iraq and abroad."

The seven-man ruling council is Iraq's highest policy making body, headed by Saddam.

Statewide, an analysis of the 1989-90 data identified 741 campuses below the 60 percent standard, an improvement over the 873 identified for the 1989-90 school year. Improved performance was also evident at the district level where a total of 78 districts averaged less than a 60 percent passing rate compared with 103 districts identified for 1988-89.

Among Scurry County schools, students passed both.

Some guys just can't get a fair shake, and a geologist in the earthquake country of San Francisco is one such person.

The guy has made the prediction of earthquakes a commercial enterprise with the installation of a 900 toll number called Quakeline.

The caller is automatically billed for each call, and the man claims to have predicted quakes with an 80 percent accuracy rate since 1974.

So far, the 900-line business has not been as good as expected. Still, the geologist plans to expand into all parts of southern California

His system of predictions is based on the position of the sun and moon, tidal and geyser activity, and the number of pet animals advertised as missing in the newspaper. He claims that animals and other critters can sense something about to happen and they will flee before an earthquake happens.

Most seismologists think he may have been in one too many quakes. One claims that "science knows enough about quakes not to try and predict them.

The geologist, Jim Berkland, defends his scientific approach by saying he observes what goes on in the real world. He has data that shows some people get bad sinus headaches, whales that beach and pigeons that can't or won't find their own way home

He likes to point out that last October he observed ads for 27 missing cats and 58 missing dogs in local papers. He predicted the quake that struck the San Francisco area on Oct. 17.

Plead guilty

HOUSTON (AP) - Two Houston elementary school teachers pleaded guilty to misdemeanor assault charges for punishing a 9year-old boy by spanking him with a wooden paddle.

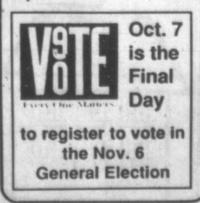

State District Judge Bill Harmon on Tuesday sentenced Christine Cross, 26, and Melanie Darthard, 25, each to deferred adjudication - a type of probation - as well as a probated $500 fine and 100 hours of community service.

The teachers will have no criminal conviction on record if they successfully complete the deferred adjudication sentences.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I am taking zinc supplements because of shingles. What is the safe dose to take, and what are the risks of taking too much?

DEAR READER: Zinc, a versatile mineral vital to normal metabolism, is plentiful in meat, eggs, liver and seafood. The Recommended Daily Allowance is 15 milligrams. Zinc plays a role in tissue growth, sexual maturation, wound healing and the healthy maintenance of many of the body's organs.

Zinc deficiency, which is caused by a diet poor in meat and dairy products, can lead to stunted growth in children, infertility, immune deficiency, a decrease in the sense of taste and smell, night blindness and hypertension during pregnancy.

An excess of zinc (above 100 milligrams a day) can lead to stomach irritation and bleeding, anemia and (perhaps) arteriosclerosis. Massive doses of the mineral (more than 1,000 milligrams a day) can result in acute toxicity: vomiting, stomach cramps, diar-rhea, fever and shock. Zinc poisoning has been reported from drinking water from galvanized (zinc-coated)

Zinc is not appropriate treatment for shingles. This virus infection of

Your intolerance to eggs and dried fruits may indicate a sensitivity to other compounds in these foods. Conversely, people who are allergic to sulfites, compounds commonly used to preserve fresh foods, may not be allergic to sulfa drugs.

Budget talks may affect DOE estimate

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Energy Department may be waiting for the outcome of the budget summit to release its revised cost estimate for the superconducting super collider, a Texas congressman said today.

At a meeting of representatives of businesses and universities interested in the collider, Rep. Joe Barton, R-Ennis, said department officials told him the new estimate was being delayed by the budget process.

Since the collider was redesigned last fall, the DOE and Congress have unofficially estimated the collider's cost at $8 billion. Since last fall, four groups have been studying that estimate to see if it will stand.

Three of the teams agree on about $8 billion. The fourth puts the cost at closer to $12 billion for what will be the world's largest scientific instrument.

The collider, a 54-mile underground ring to be built near Ennis and Waxahachie, will be used to smash atoms. Scientists will study the collisions in an attempt to understand the fundamentals of matter.

The Energy Department first intended to reconcile the cost estimates by Aug. 17. Officials then delayed the estimate until ner on lead, perhaps in the spade suit, Sept. 7 and then for another so he could take the setting trick by week, but the figure still has not been released.

Those 2nd Armored Division troops not scheduled for deployment, about half of the 10,000troop division, will leave Fort Hood by September 1991 and be dispersed among Army posts

The fate of the other 5,000 will be decided in Washington when they return from the Middle East, Ms. Crossan said.

"As the situation in Southwest review the status of the 2nd Armored Division's deploying units and make a decision regarding their inactivation," she said.

Original projections claimed that deactivation of the division would remove 42,000 people from schools and businesses around the base. The Middle East crisis had raised a glimmer of hope that the area might be spared.

Waco economist Ray Perryman has predicted the area around the base could lose up to 32 percent of its population, and could see 9,678 housing units become vacant when the division is fully deactivated.

The post is home to about 37,000 around the country, Crossan soldiers right now, but had 39,000 when the year began.

The first stages of deactivation, after the June announcement, saw the division shrink from about 12,000 to about 10,000 soldiers, where it was frozen last month. The 1st Cavalry Division remains at full strength at 12,500 troops. Other units make up the remaining troop strength on base.

"To pull out any more than have already been pulled out is going to be a shock," Blair said. "It's just the level of the shock treatment that changes."

(Yes, East might have raised to two spades with spades J-10-x-x, hearts Q-J-x-x, diamonds x-x, clubs J-8-7.) Anyway West felt he had a fair chance to make the king of diamonds in the normal course of events. So he cashed the ace of spades and gave up a heart. Declarer now guessed to play ace of diamonds, dropping the king and making the contract.

East should simply play the jack of case you're wondering, yes I do have ing law, the king of spades."

Pentagon to trim overseas operations

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Pentagon is ending operations or ficials said decisions about troop trimming forces at 150 facilities overseas, but the commander of "Bonn is winging it," one Pen-U.S. troops in Europe says the tagon official who asked not to be cuts may not quickly translate into major cost savings.

"Yes, there are some savings," said Gen. Bernard Galvin. "But I doubt they are going to be anything close to what everyone is expecting."

The base closings and cutbacks, most of which will occur in Europe, represent a reduction of up to 25 percent of the air fields, barracks, training grounds and other facilities of Galvin's command claims it will close 150 sites overseas, but these sites include gas stations on the autobahn, isolated housing units, athletic tion's biggest S&L failure, was fields, and sites which had long ago been slated for closure," she said.

Rep. Patricia Schroeder, D-Colo., chairwoman of the House on military installations and facilities, said Defense Secretary Dick Cheney's base closure list was a disappointment.

'Facilities like these are closed every day at bases in the United States with no DOD press release, no news conference, no hoopla," she said.

Galvin, who also is NATO's top military commander, said in an interview that the cutback will result in a reduction in costs for maintenance and military construction.

But he said closing costs, including the cost of moving thousands of U.S. troops back to the United States, repairing environmental damage and destroying some weapons as spelled out in arms control agreements, would reduce the impact of any savings.

Savings, he said, likely will be reduced further when inflation and rapidly rising costs for needed modern military technology are considered.

Pete Williams, the Defense Department spokesman, told reporters: "Ironically, there are some costs associated with closing down sites. But in the long run, of course, the goal is to end operations and save money.

da Joy White on Feb. 11, the day after she was pronounced dead at Cogdell Memorial Hospital emergency room.

Barnard said that the deceased had multiple injuries, abrasions and contusions, over her entire body. He determined the cause of death to be multiple impact wounds, primarily a laceration to the heart.

According to Barnard, within minutes, the heart laceration ed at the residence shortly after caused blood to fill the heart sac and within a short period of time the blood started to clot, compressing the heart and restricting its ability to beat.

Under questioning from District Attorney Ernie Armstrong, Barnard said that an impact of "marked force" was necessary to cause an injury consistent with the heart laceration.

Under cross examination, Defense Attorney Mark Piland asked Barnard if the heart laceration could be a result of CPR performed by Snyder EMS personnel. Barnard said it was not his opinion that CPR could cause such an injury.

The state rested its case shortly after 2:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The defense opened its case by calling adverse witness Perry Westmoreland, Snyder EMS operator. He testified that a call was received at 7:47 p.m. Feb. 10. and an ambulance was dispatched. However Westmoreland and EMS employee Albert Canon left Westmoreland's residence at 4501 El Paso in Westmoreland's private vehicle enroute to the White residence, arriving at 7:50 p.m.

Westmore eland and Canon w could not find one. At that time, Canon told Westmoreland that White had stopped Mrs. breathing.

Both Canon and Westmoreland were unsuccessful in finding a pulse. Westmoreland explained that is when CPR was administered.

Both Canon, asked to testify after Westmoreland, and Westmoreland testified the time frame of events happened very quickly and the ambulance arriv-CPR was started.

According to Westmoreland, on the way to the hospital, Mrs. White did not have a pulse and was unable to breathe on her own. CPR was administered to her all the way to the hospital where they arrived at 8:07 p.m. Mrs. White was pronounced dead at 8:31 p.m.

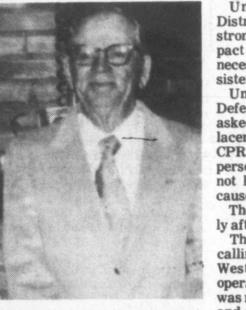

The defense was to call at least one more witness, a doctor, Wednesday afternoon. District Judge David Cave of Floydada is presiding.

Governor was late

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) - Being governor didn't hurt Kay Orr when she went back to college and was late to class.

Students packed an English class Monday for Mrs. Orr's appearance as part of a fund-raiser for the University of Nebraska in which she traded places with a freshman.

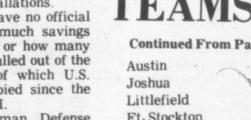

Luckily, Dave Lewis isn't one of those professors who lock the door when class begins. He didn't even reprimand the governor for arriving late.

bases to small installations.

The Pentagon gave no official estimate of how much savings would be realized or how many troops would be pulled out of the facilities, many of which U.S. forces have occupied since the end of World War II.

The West German Defense Ministry said plans call for the pullout by 1997 of about 60,000 U.S. soldiers from West Germany. The bulk of the reductions will occur by 1993. About 250,000 American troops are stationed in the country.

On my last visit to my OB doctor. he diagnosed me as having chlamydia! I have been faithful to my husband for 9 1/2 years, and he also claims to be with me. But for this entire period of time, could it be true that neither one of us has shown any signs of this disease?

I would hate to live the rest of my life wondering if my husband is lying to me. But it seems strange that I get this disease now, if I had it all along. Is he lying to me?

If you went to your doctor with symptoms - abdominal pain or fever (symptoms of pelvic inflammatory disease) — that would imply a recent infection. But, if you were without symptoms and your chlamydia was discovered from a routine culture, it is possible that the organism has been there since you and your husband were both single.

Convict can mail letters officials say

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) - State prison officials say that a man serving a life prison term for aggravated sexual assault may continue to mail letters from his prison cell despite a district court order that restricts his letter writing

District Judge J. Manuel Banales said Tuesday he received a letter from the prison's general counsel informing him that prison officials could not comply with his order of May 24.

Banales had limited Zule's correspondence after hearing evidence that Zule had mailed letters to residents of Westside neighborhoods warning them about purported sexually active homosexual teen-agers spreading the AIDS virus.

The judge had limited letter writing to his lawyers, the news media and governmental entities

Exceptional opportunities could pre sent themselves to you in the year ahead, but unless each is capitalized on in a practical, methodical manner, you might not reap what they have to yield. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) There is a possibility that things might not unwind in ways today that will enable you to acquire something you desire. Instead of gnashing your teeth and grumbling, focus on winning tomorrow. Trying to patch up a broken romance?

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Whereas yesterday you may have been forceful and bold, today you are apt to be more reticent and retiring. Unfortunately, your lack of drive will not serve your best interests.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) There is a good chance that most of the things about which you'll worry today will never transpire. Nothing will be gained by anticipating negative results before they occur

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Although you are basically generous by nature, there is a possibility today that you might be unduly stingy with a friend who has always been quite helpful to

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If you fail to make the most of what you have at your disposal today, it isn't likely you'll achieve the objectives you establish. If you're handed lemons, make lemonade

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) On most occasions you have the courage of your convictions, but this quality might be dormant today, because it looks like you'll let your negative thoughts dominate your positive ones.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Guard against inclinations today to anticipate the worst, because it could impede your judgment and cause you to behave in a egative fashion

A good night's sleep.

Now AmWest has "DreamSavers"—a savings program designed to bring peace of mind to all those who worry about saving money

Here's how it works: You tell AmWest how much you want to save every month, (as little as $25 if you like) and they'll deduct it automatically from a free checking account (that's right, free checking) and put it into a CD account.

Keep your money there for a full 12 months and it will earn a high-interest CD rate. Take it out early, and you'll get a penalty — three months interest or $50. So "DreamSaver™" not only helps you save money on a regular monthly > basis - it helps you keep your hands off it too. And with a little money in savings a good night's sleep will come a whole lot easier.
