Murder trial goes to jury

A six-man, six-woman jury heard closing arguments and began deliberations shortly before noon today in the murder trial of a 37-year-old Snyder man. James Jasper White is on trial in 132nd District Court for the Feb. 10 beating and kicking death of his 25-year-old wife, Belinda Joy White. Visiting Judge David Cave of Floydada is presiding.

Before closing arguments, the jury was read instructions from Judge Cave who told them that they could find White guilty of murder or of a lesser charge of aggravated assault.

In his closing argument, District Attorney Ernie Armstrong questioned the credibility of the defendant's testimony, offering his past criminal record as an example.

Holding photographs of Mrs. White taken at Bell-Cypert-Seale Funeral Home shortly after she was pronounced dead, Armstrong said, "You have not heard the testimony of Belinda White, but you have seen the testimony of Belinda White."

"James Jasper White loved Belinda and he did not mean to kill her," said attorney Mark Piland in the defense's closing arguments.

Piland also questioned whether it was a kick from White or CPR from Snyder EMS personnel that caused the heart laceration that killed Mrs. White.

White testified Wednesday morning that his wife had arrived at their 2404 Beaumont home about 7:30 p.m. on Feb. 10. After the couple exchanged words and blows, White said he kicked his wife in the solar plexus and she fell on a mattress. He said she began gasping for breath and he called the ambulance.

The defense began afternoon testimony Wednesday with Lubbock County consulting pathologist Dr. Ralph Urdman.

Urdman testified that he "had serious doubts" that a kick to the Sales tax rebates up

Sales tax rebates were up last month for the City of Snyder and Scurry County, according to the state comptroller's office.

More U.S. reserves are called to duty; extra pay is okayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of Army National Guard and Army Reserve members from 27 states and the District of Columbia are being called to active duty today to support Operation Desert Shield, the military buildup in the Persian Gulf area.

The Navy activated three reserve units Wednesday.

The Pentagon had some good news for the more than 150,000 U.S. soldiers, sailors and airmen already in and around Saudi Arabia. Defense Secretary Dick Cheney on Wednesday approved "imminent danger pay" of $110 a month for them, retroactive to Sept. 1.

"In recognition of the sacrifices our military men and women are making, I have directed the payment of this supplemental benefit to the troops on the front lines," Cheney said. "This is an appropriate step given the risks they face and the harsh conditions in which they serve."

Cheney had been pressed by many members of Congress to improve benefits for the troops, noting complaints from soldiers in Saudi Arabia that they lost their subsistence pay of about $150 a month when they were shipped out of their home bases.

Cheney's announcement made no mention of restoring the subsistence pay.

Maj. Doug Hart, a Pentagon spokesman, said there was no immediately available estimate of the number of reserve soldiers affected by Wednesday's Army call-up. It appeared, however, that at least several thousand soldiers were getting the call.

The services did not say how many of the activated reserves would be sent to the gulf area.

The Navy said the three units it was activating included 166 reservists, but it said not all members of each unit would necessarily be called up.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Most people aren't afraid of hard work 'cause they fight it day after day."

When one of the town's old-timers passes away, people begin to tell their favorite stories about the person's life.

C.E. McCormick Sr., who was buried last Saturday, was one of the community's early civic leaders. Despite his successful efforts to build a coliseum and establish a junior college, what people remember most is his work ethics.

People repeated the same thought during the past few days. Claude worked hard and he taught his family to do the same.

Don Sealy, retired hospital business manager, brought in an invoice from 1939 when McCormick was a struggling Cosden distributor.

Don recalls that McCormick made the delivery himself to the N.J. Sealy farm, one mile south of Fluvanna. Don remembers he and his brother, Bob, holding the funnel while Mr. Mac poured the gasoline out of five gallon cans into the farm's 55-gallon drum.

The invoice for 55 gallons totaled $6.05. The price included six cents a gallon plus four cents state tax and one cent federal tax. Don's dad also purchased five gallons of motor oil for $2.65 and gun grease for one dollar.

Don has fond memories of the dilapidated delivery pickup. He also remembers many times when there wasn't money to pay the invoice. Don recalls that sometimes payment might be in the form of a fryer or a dozen eggs.

And the invoice showed proof that Mr. Mac believed in working past five o'clock. The time of the delivery marked on the invoice was 5:30 p.m.

Correctional officer applications are due

Applications for the next Texas Department of Criminal Justice correctional officer evening class must be delivered to the continuing education department at Western Texas College by 4 p.m. Friday.

The class begins Oct. 20 and ends Dec. 11.

College officials also noted two other key dates involving its correctional officer academy. Applications for the next daytime officer class become available on Monday, Sept. 24. Dates for that class will be Nov. 5 through Nov. 28.

Also, certification ceremonies for the current daytime officer class will be held Sept. 28. Some 26 officers are expected to be recognized during those ceremonies. The ceremonies will also recognize eight graduates of the latest evening class who completed their training on Aug. 30.

Q—Do you have to have a license to lease your land for hunting?

A—Yes. A hunting lease license is required of anyone who leases hunting rights or charges a fee for hunting on property they own or control, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. The license fee depends on the acreage.

Defense budget brightens future for Texas installations

KILLEEN, Texas (AP) — Although prospects are brighter for the 2nd Armored Division than they once were, the large deployment of troops to the Mideast has triggered cutbacks by area merchants.

Half of the 10,000 troops in the division have been deployed to the Middle East because of Iraq's invasion of Kuwait, and the remainder of the division is slated for deactivation.

But if the deactivation continues, the departure of the 5,000 soldiers and their families from the Fort Hood area will be a relatively slow process that will take place largely through attrition, not a large-scale transfer of troops to other military posts, Army spokeswoman Liz Crossan said.

"People are sensitive around here, and they're afraid of a mass exodus," Crossan said.

"We've tried to reassure them that won't happen. There eventually will be 5,000 fewer soldiers. When they transfer or retire, the majority won't be replaced," she said.

However, area merchants say it really doesn't make a difference if soldiers exit by the tens or the thousands. The economic impact caused by the troops being sent to the Middle East is their immediate concern.

Emil Pitrucha, the manager of Tire Town in Killeen, said this is the second departure of large numbers of soldiers since the mid-1960s when he first launched a business in the area. "Those of us who have been in business for a while know what to expect, like we're already cutting back on hours and shoring up our businesses in other ways," Pitrucha told the Austin American-Statesman.

"We do expect unemployment to rise because the businesses with two or three (employees) won't be able to make it."

He said during the 1960s, when troops were being moved to Vietnam, every other house in the Killeen and Copperas Cove area was empty.

"Those were some tough times," Pitrucha said. "We do think they will gradually stabilize and bring troops back in."

Said Denise Huntwork, the assistant manager of Po Folks Restaurant: "Mostly we've missed the business from the guys going to Saudi Arabia. We don't think it will get worse by 1991 (the target completion date of deactivation of the 2nd Armored Division) but we won't be experiencing an increase."

Army officials said Wednesday the deactivation of the 2nd Armored Division will not result in a mass exodus of thousands of troops from the Fort Hood area.

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Can having rheumatic fever as a child cause joint and muscle pain? I'm 42 and have a great deal of trouble with my back and joints aching.

DEAR READER: Following an infection with streptococcus bacteria — especially a strep throat — some people seem to develop an allergy to the microorganisms. This affliction, called rheumatic fever, is marked by joint and heart inflammation that can progress to serious arthritis (temporary) and heart damage (permanent).

Rheumatic fever is not as common today as it once was. Although the reasons for this are not completely known, the increased use of antibiotics, such as penicillin to treat strep infections, probably plays a role. Rheumatic fever itself is treated with antibiotics, so complications are unusual.

I believe that joint and muscle pain in an adult are probably not due to a rheumatic infection years ago. However, you should have a blood test for rheumatic fever because your symptoms could be the consequence of a more recent strep infection for which you may not have sought treatment.

Also, you should be checked for other diseases, such as rheumatoid arthritis, that are related to rheumatic fever but are treated differently. In general, the aches and pains of rheumatic fever are acute and eventually disappear (with or without permanent joint and heart damage), whereas other forms of arthritis, such as yours, are chronic. See your doctor for a diagnosis.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Understanding Osteoarthritis." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their names and addresses to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have an embarrassing problem — saliva. Whenever I talk, it explodes into the face of anyone I speak with. The reaction is a hand to their face or handkerchief to wipe away the mess. Then, they naturally avoid me at great length to avoid another encounter. What causes this?

DEAR READER: This is an unusual problem that appears to be related to the mechanics of speaking. Excess saliva is forcefully expelled from your mouth when you form words. I suggest you seek help from a speech therapist, who may be able to re-train you to articulate in a way that doesn't spray people to whom you are talking. In the unlikely event that you have developed a physical abnormality of the mouth, such as a weak tongue or difficulty swallowing saliva, the therapist can refer you to appropriate medical specialists.

Dear Abby

Kids Are Never Too Young To Learn to Fight Abuse

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1990 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I'm writing to you in the hope that our experience can help other families.

We all have heard horror stories of child molestation, but we think it can never happen to our children. Most literature on the subject advises that when your children are of school age, teach them that if someone tries to molest them, they should: 1) scream, kick, hit; 2) run; and 3) tell someone.

Well, don't wait until your children are that old! If your children are old enough to know where their private parts are, they are old enough to be taught that nobody should be allowed to touch those parts.

I started teaching our daughter at the age of 4. Within five months, she was molested. Unfortunately, that was not the first time. Through her therapy, we discovered that it had been going on for 2 1/2 years — since she was 21 months old! If I had taught her sooner, we could have stopped it sooner.

There is one more thing that I cannot stress enough. Believe your child. Children do not lie about something like this. It's a known fact that children have been molested by sitters, neighbors and trusted family members of all ages.

If this letter helps just one person, then the pain our family has suffered will not have been in vain. ANONYMOUS, PLEASE

DEAR ANONYMOUS: I'm sure your letter will serve as a helpful "wake-up call" for any parents who think their child is too young to be taught this very important lesson. Thanks for writing.

DEAR ABBY: I am 23 years old and getting a divorce. I was very hurt by this divorce and am trying desperately to get on with my life. The problem is, no matter where I go in this small town, people come up to me and tell me the last time they saw my "ex," where they saw him, who he was with, what he was wearing, what he said, etc. People don't mean to be hurtful; they are just trying to make conversation. They don't realize it causes me to start thinking about him all over again, and I'm trying to forget him.

Please print this, Abby. I am sure there are others who feel as I do. And, do you know a good reply that won't hurt their feelings?

HURTING IN ALABAMA

DEAR HURTING: When someone mentions his name, stop them politely with this: "Please — I'd rather not hear anything about him; he's 'history.' Now what do you know that's cheerful and happy?"

DEAR ABBY: While you were on vacation, one of your reruns (about diminishing memories in older folks) brought to mind this story:

Two elderly ladies who had not seen each other in many years met one day on the street. They were both delighted, and being in front of a restaurant, one of them suggested that they go inside to visit over a cup of coffee.

They had been there several minutes when one of them said, "You know, this is rather embarrassing, but as well as I knew you, and for as long as I knew you, I can't remember your name. Please tell me. What is it?"

The other lady sat for a few moments in silence, then, in a soft voice asked, "How soon do you have to know?"

Although many North-South pairs got to six clubs on today's deal, several failed to make the contract.

When the jack of diamonds was led, South won the ace, and played a spade to dummy's ace and a low club back to his seven. He then ruffed a spade, played king of diamonds and ruffed a diamond, and led dummy's queen of clubs. East now won the ace and returned the jack of hearts. There was nothing left to do except try to cash dummy's second heart winner, but East ruffed.

Declarer can succeed if, at the finish, before leading dummy's queen of clubs, he cashes one high heart. Now East can no longer get his heart ruff.

What if declarer takes a different approach altogether, playing a club at the second trick? If East wins the ace and returns a spade, declarer will be in the same fix. But if East wins the club ace and returns a diamond, South can draw trumps, play A-K and ruff a heart, return to dummy with the spade ace and ruff another heart. Dummy will then be good, and there will still be a club left for an entry.

Milder soaps, moisturizers and sun screens for winter skin

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Winter's glaring sun and parched wind can cause dry and itchy skin which makes the season uncomfortable.

Milder soaps and the use of moisturizers can help, says Dr. Janet Fairley, assistant professor of dermatology at the University of Rochester Medical Center. And, she adds, take fewer showers.

"Hot showers wash away the body's natural oils, which lubricate the skin," Fairley explains. "To retain the body's lubricants that seal in natural moisturizers, lower the water temperature slightly and take fewer showers or baths."

Other winter skin care suggestions: use sun screens to block out harmful ultraviolet rays; wear good sun glasses, and use a humidifier or vaporizer in your home.

Helen Mock, local president, welcomed members and guests. Workshop sessions were planned by Carmen Camp, area coordinator from Brownfield.

The keynote address was delivered by Dr. Aleene Van De Grift, Alpha state president from Arlington. Also in attendance was Phillis Ellis, past Alpha state president from Fort Worth.

Robbins presents program on 'First Impressions'

On Sept. 4, members of Xi Alpha Alpha Theta held their regular meeting in the home of Dena Ellis.

Program chairman, Mona Bryan, presented her guest speaker Billie Robbins. Ms. Robbins presented a program on 'First Impressions.' She stated that it took approximately 60 seconds to make that first impression, consisting of 11 different areas. Ms. Robbins stressed that make-up and manner of dress were vital to making a confident and dynamic first impression.

The meeting was called to order by president Lisa Rollins. The club had received recognition from International for establishing a new chapter. In recognition of the 60th anniversary, all chapters were encouraged to submit a member from their club to be recognized in the "Hall of Dames." These women were selected due to their qualities as a member of each chapter. Mrs. Dena Ellis was recognized by the local chapter and will have a plaque in the "Hall of Dames" at International. It was also announced that the chapter had received a 'Three Star' rating for the year 1989-90.

The yearbook committee presented Lisa Rollins the new yearbook for the year 1990-91.

alcoholic drinks at a San Antonio night club June 24 and later offered her a ride.

The suit claims that when the woman became ill, Wingate got out of the car with her down the street from his house and sexually assaulted and sodomized her.

Afterward, the suit alleges, Wingate left the woman in a room at his house and "allowed at least two other friends of his in to rape her." The woman required medical care after the attack, the suit states.

The woman reported the incident to police while being treated at a hospital later. She also went to the police department the following day, her attorney said.

No criminal charges have been filed.

Police spokesman Sgt. Paul Buske refused to confirm Wednesday whether Wingate is a suspect in the case, which remains under investigation.

Spurs officials did not return a call late Wednesday from The Associated Press.

1-4A. Seminole (0-2) at Levelland (1-1)

Levelland came back from a 20-0 season-opening shutout at the hands of Pampa to drop Canyon Randall, 20-6, last Friday.

The Lobos are led by potential all-state running back Brooks Broussard who rushed for almost five yards per carry last season.

Levelland, chosen in preseason polls to finish right behind Estacado, rolled to a 5-5 mark a year ago under coach Buster Leaf.

Seminole has been the victim in a pair of runaway contests to start the season.

First the Indians fell to Kermit 28-6 then they were bounced by Andrews 56-8 in the season's second week.

Seminole was held to a measly nine rushing yards a week ago against the Mustangs while allowing 482 yards on the ground. Monahans (2-0) at Frenship (1-1)

Frenship played a second consecutive defensive gem but lost to District 3-5A favorite Lubbock Coronado last week, 13-6.

The Tiger defense held the Mustangs to just 183 total yards in the loss.

Duane Young scored from four yards away to give FHS its points on the evening.

Frenship edged Andrews, 12-7 in the first game of the season.

Monahans remains undefeated in 1990 with wins over Snyder and Midland High.

Though the defense was thought to be largely inexperienced, the Lobos have held opponents to a total of just 17 points in two games.

Monahans was ranked No. 18 by Texas Football before the start of the season.

Crane (2-0) at Lamesa (2-0) Lamesa's Golden Tornados made short work of Denver City to open the season then came back with a 7-6 win over Amarillo

Dumas is 0-2 on the year and selected in preseason polling to finish in second place in District

Rebels ready to talk about ending war

ABIDJAN, Ivory Coast (AP) — Sickness, starvation and the possibility of further fighting are on the rise in Liberia, but rival guerrilla chiefs are willing to talk peace, a senior U.S. diplomat said after meeting the leaders.

Herman Cohen, U.S. assistant secretary of state for African affairs, had put himself at considerable personal risk in traveling to the civil war-ravaged land, where sporadic fighting continues. "The prospects for increased warfare are growing," Cohen told a news conference Wednesday in Abidjan after returning from the visit.

"I feel the situation in Liberia is deteriorating. More and more people are in danger of starvation and death from diseases, especially a growing cholera

Burglary of firm cleared

The Sept. 1 burglary of the Texaco service at 2300 25th St. was cleared Wednesday with the identification of two juvenile suspects.

Police said the two males, ages 15 and 16, had entered the business on four different occasions. The case has been forwarded to the juvenile court.

Wednesday was a quiet day for Snyder police. At 4:43 p.m. Mrs. Homer Reed of 2902 42nd St. told police that a chair had been taken from the front porch of her home.

At 6:01 p.m., a woman in the 1200 Block of 20th St. reported that she had been assaulted by another woman. Police took an offense report for Class A assault.

At 7:29 p.m., an employee Allsup's on College Ave. called police to report that a customer had left the store owing 21 cents.

At 7:36 p.m. in the area of Ave. E and Browning, city officers received a report of a possible gun shot. No disturbance was located, however.

At 10:55 p.m., Melissa Hernandez of 202 Elm reported that juveniles had done minor damage to her fence.

Deputies called to domestic squabble

Scurry County sheriff's deputies were called to a domestic disturbance in Hermleigh about 11:30 p.m. Wednesday.

A man told deputies that his live-in and mother would not let him in the rented residence, and he threatened to kick in the door. No arrests were made.

At 10:40 a.m., firemen were called to 30th St. and El Paso where a storage shed owned by Hank Earnest was on fire. Firemen were at the scene until 11:25 a.m.

He said conditions worsened after President Samuel Doe, accused by the rebels of corruption and human rights abuses, was captured and killed last week by the rebel forces of Prince Johnson.

Reprisals against Doe supporters have been reported and many Doe loyalists are still refusing to surrender to rebels for fear of being killed. Rival rebel forces have also clashed.

day were preparing to send another 1,000 soldiers to Monrovia. They were waiting in Freetown to board ships for the besieged capital.

More than 5,000 people, mostly civilians, have died in the conflict. They were killed mainly because of their tribal affiliation.

Earlier Wednesday, Cohen crossed the border from Ivory Coast to go behind the lines of rebel leader Charles Taylor, who controls most of Liberia.

The U.S. envoy said he found the man many accuse of prolonging the war "in a negotiating mood."

On Tuesday, he flew to Monrovia aboard a U.S. Marine helicopter and met with rebel chief Johnson, whose forces control Liberia's capital. "He was helpful and pro-democratic," Cohen said.

reported missing by their families. The gunman claimed he killed them, police said.

He said investigators hoped the 26-year-old woman could show them where she last saw the man, who police say gunned down a man at a country store and fled with the female hostage in a stolen pickup truck Wednesday. The man reportedly abducted the woman from a Mason motel Tuesday.

"We know that he did know her, but there wasn't anything voluntary about her being with him," Department of Public Safety spokesman Mike Cox said today.

"Throughout the ordeal in the store, he was repeatedly bragging that he'd already killed two people," Cox said. The others were male acquaintances, Cox authorities are looking for Michael Joseph Griffith, 35, of Mason. He is described as 5-foot-6, 170 lbs., with brown hair and grey eyes. He was last seen wearing camouflage gear.

School buses weren't running in the area as the search continued for Griffith.

The woman was found late Wednesday on a dirt road near a San Saba County ranch.

Cox said the woman told officers the gunman ditched the truck, covered it with brush and the two walked several hours. The man said he was going to kill himself.

"She told him she didn't want to watch, and he told her to leave then," Cox said. "She walked away and heard two shots fired."

solar plexus could cause a laceration to the heart without causing damage to the liver. Urdman explained that any mention of the liver was absent from the autopsy report.

Under questioning from Defense Attorney Mark Piland, Urdman said it was possible that CPR had caused the laceration to the heart. The pathologist agreed that the laceration was the cause of death, but questioned the quality of the autopsy report.

The autopsy was performed by Dr. Jeffrey Barnard, senior medical examiner for Dallas County. On Tuesday, Barnard testified that the cause of death was multiple impact wounds, primarily a laceration to the heart. Barnard said that an impact of "marked force" was necessary to cause an injury consistent with the heart laceration and further said that it was his opinion that CPR could not have caused the injury.

The defense rested its case at 3:45 p.m. Wednesday.

District Attorney Ernie Armstrong called three rebuttal witnesses to dispute testimony by the defendant that he and his wife had only had one previous fight, approximately 10 days before Mrs. White died.

Kim Blakenship of Colorado City testified that Mrs. White had come to the Blakenship house two weeks before her death and asked if she could stay with Blakenship and her husband because she was afraid of White. Blakenship also said that Mrs. White had been at her home the day she died, and they agreed Mrs. White and her infant son could come stay with Blakenships.

According to Blakenship, Mrs. White, on the day she died, was going to go home to get clothes for her and the baby and then return to Mrs. Blakenship's home.

"She was afraid of him," testified Blakenship.

The state also offered two witnesses employed at Pizza Inn who testified they saw White strike his wife at the business the day before she died.

Wednesday morning, White took the stand and described the actions that led to him calling Snyder EMS.

"I swung at her. I kicked her in the solar plexus. She stumbled back and fell on the mattress," White told the six-man, six-woman jury.

He said he called the ambulance service moments later because his wife was gasping for breath.

"There's no way I would want to kill Belinda. I didn't mean to kill her," he said.

Perry Westmoreland, Snyder EMS operator, testified that he received a call at 7:47 p.m. and an ambulance was dispatched. He said he and EMS employee Albert Canon were the first medical personnel at the scene, arriving in a private vehicle. They found Mrs. White unconscious with shallow breathing. Westmoreland said he then tried to take Mrs. White's blood pressure but could not find one. Mrs. White's breathing stopped, and after being unable to find a pulse, CPR was administered. The ambulance arrived within a short time and transported Mrs. White to Cogdell Memorial Hospital at 8:07 p.m. She was pronounced dead at 8:31 p.m.

If found guilty, jury will also set punishment.

Amateur Athletic Union....

Former longtime resident inducted into Hall of Fame

James Wade Greene of San Francisco, Calif., former longtime Snyder resident, was to be inducted into the AAU (Amateur Athletic Union) Hall of Fame during the annual banquet and convention currently underway in Las Vegas, Nev. Activities began Wednesday and will continue through Saturday.

Greene's involvement with the AAU started in 1932 when he first became active with the organization. His interest in the Olympics, which are held every four years, began in the summer of 1924 with a visit to Paris, France where the games were held that year.

That marked the beginning of Greene's commitment to the games and since that time he has attended and/or worked at every summer Olympic Games since then.

During the 1952 Olympics, Greene served as an official to the Mexican delegation in swimming and diving.

Three years later, he was appointed as assistant to Carl H. Hansen, who was then president of AAU. In 1956, Greene was appointed chairman of the public relations committee for the Olympics which were held in Melbourne, Australia.

During the Melbourne games, some 69 Hungarian athletes were stranded due to the political upheaval in Hungary. At Hansen's request, Greene readily agreed to "take charge" of these athletes. Greene was at the athletes disposal 24-hours-a-day for the next four months. A U.S. competitive tour was organized for them and he ended up traveling some 13,000 miles with the athletes as they competed with other Olympic contestants and searched for sponsors willing to take them into their homes. As the tour came to a close, all athletes had been placed.

One of the athletes, Nicholas O. Martin, Ph.D., wrote a letter to AAU President Richard E. Harkin in February of this year praising Greene for all of his help on their behalf.

Martin, who competed on Hungary's water polo team, said in his letter that everyone treated them like "hot potatoes" because they feared an international scandal. But Greene changed all that. From the beginning, he said Greene did everything he could to seek political asylum and immigration to the United States for the Hungarian athletes who had decided not to return to Hungary. "Sports Illustrated" arranged a tour of the U.S. for the remaining athletes and Martin said they unanimously elected Greene to serve as their manager. The tour lasted several months and Martin said it was an unqualified success due to Greene's hard work and dedication.

According to Martin's letter, when the tour was over every

JAMES WADE GREENE

Hungarian athlete had a scholarship, a job, or a sponsor as they all started new lives in the U.S.

Martin's letter also said that Greene kept track of him as well as other athletes, always encouraging them in their studies. Greene's help was invaluable when Martin purchased his first car, as well as doing other favors for his family, friends and fellow Hungarians, Martin said.

Their association continued over the years, as Martin often traveled with Greene throughout Europe and to several other Olympic Games.

In 1960, Greene served as host for the AAU Hospitality Center which was located in Rome, Italy. There he helped to entertain dignitaries and Olympic officials from around the world.

Eight years later, Greene was officially appointed national chairman of the AAU Hospitality Committee and he served in this capacity through the last summer games which were held in Seoul, Korea.

Throughout his long association with the AAU, Greene has served as host to more than 20,000 guests, athletes, dignitaries and Olympic officials of every country competing in the games.

The purpose of the hospitality committee is to promote goodwill towards the U.S. and its athletes while they are guests in other countries.

When Greene took the position of hospitality chairman, the Guest Book had recorded less than 100 signatures per location. However, at the last three Olympic Games over 5,000 signatures were recorded at each of the games.

Greene and his wife, the former Mary Scarborough also of Snyder, have already traveled to Barcelona, Spain in preparation for the upcoming Olympic Games. He will serve as the hospitality chairman emeritus.

This year, Greene was elected to the Executive Committee of the American AAU Foundation's Board of Trustees. In addition, on July 7 of this year, Greene received a life time achievement presentation from the Pacific Association of the AAU for more than a half decade of outstanding service.

On July 23, Greene was elected by his peers to be inducted into the National AAU Volunteer Hall of Fame. Criteria for selection is very demanding. In a letter of congratulations, current AAU President Gussie Crawford states "...It is obvious that you have demonstrated an unselfish interest in promoting amateur sports, while providing leadership through your understanding of the goals and objectives of our organization....You are truly an AAU role model who is being recognized not solely for your accomplishments, but more significantly as a result of the confidence and respect shown by your peers...."

Greene's family was from Snyder, but he was born in the Oklahoma Indian Territories in 1904 while they were away from home.

He is the youngest of five children born to James Woodson Greene and Anna Cordelia. His brothers and sister, now all deceased, were all longtime residents of Snyder. They were John L., Willie K., Everett C., and Mary Almeda (Mame Caton).

The historical location east of Snyder, known as Greene Springs, was named for Greene's uncle, J.I. Greene, and his father, James Woodson Greene.

Greene attended Snyder High School where he played on the first football team. In 1924, he left Snyder to attend Oklahoma A&M at Goodwell. However, he soon found himself drawn to semi-pro baseball which he played first in Albuquerque, N.M., and later in Wichita, Kan. Injuries cut his career short.

Greene moved to Oakland, Calif. in 1933 where he drove a bus and attended night school at the University of California, receiving a real estate license in 1936. He then formed his own realty company, Greene Realty, in Oakland.
