

Ask Us

Q—Is it true that commercial license holders are being required to take a test and apply for a new license?

A—In most cases, yes. All commercial motorists who drive vehicles in excess of 26,000 pounds or transport hazardous materials that require the vehicle to be placarded are required to have the new commercial driver's license (CDL) by April 1, 1991. Bus drivers, including school and church bus drivers who carry 16 or more passengers will also be required to have the license. Current licenses cannot be renewed; new licenses must be obtained and a written test is required. There are exemptions for farmers, military personnel, fire fighters and others. You may wish to check with the DPS for more details.

SHS hosts Indians in homecoming tilt
Queen named at halftime

Snyder's Tigers, off to their best start since 1985, tee it up against Seminole tonight in a homecoming game at Tiger Stadium.

The ballgame is the highlight event for Snyder High School's homecoming activities, which began with a parade down College Ave. and a pep rally at the courthouse square Thursday.

"We hope to have a good performance for the people coming back to see us and we hope we can live up to their expectations," said Tiger coach David Baugh, whose Tigers battle Seminole at 8 p.m. "We want to play well for our exes, our fans, and our players from the past that will be here."

Snyder goes into the contest — its final pre-district game — with a 2-1-1 record. The Tigers, whose defense boasts the fewest yards allowed this season in Class 4A, have been victorious over Clyde and Littlefield. Snyder's opening-season loss came against 20th-ranked Monahans and its tie came last week in a 14-14 battle with 9th-ranked Big Spring.

The start is Snyder's best since 1985, when the Tigers were 4-1. The Tigers ended that season 4-6.

Football fans planning to catch a quick meal before tonight's contest may want to try the Snyder All-Sports Booster Club steak supper from 5-7 p.m. in the school cafeteria. The meal will include potato salad, beans, rolls, dessert and tea.

At 6 p.m., the National Honor Society will sponsor an SHS exes reception in the school library. Refreshments will be served.

Crowning of the homecoming queen will take place at halftime of the ballgame. Homecoming queen nominees are Kristi Prather, Dayla Church, Emily King, Angie Bureson, Tonya Mauldin and Theresa Martin. Fathers will serve as escorts.

There will be a dance in the student center until 1 a.m. following the game.

Slightly for Scurry...

Unemployment rises

While statewide unemployment figures dropped to their lowest since March, Scurry County witnessed a slight rise in unemployment for August, according to the Texas Employment Commission.

Scurry County's rate of unemployment still falls well below the statewide average, however.

Statewide figures dipped to 5.9 percent in August, down from 6.3 in July, according to the TEC. In Scurry County, however, the unemployment rate increased from 4.3 in July to 4.8 in August. The county figures are based on an estimated civilian labor force of 10,500, of which 9,996 are employed. The number of county citizens unemployed, 504, is 4.8 percent of the civilian labor force.

If TEC figures are correct, the labor force in the county stayed almost the same — 10,499 in July as compared to 10,500 in August — but the number of citizens employed dropped from 10,049 to 9,996.

Metropolitan statistical areas (MSAs) with the lowest unemployment rates for August continued to be Bryan, at 3.3 percent, and Austin, at 4.5 percent. MSAs with the highest unemployment rates were the McAllen-Edinburg-Mission area with a rate of 15.9 percent, and Brownsville-Harlingen, at 10.8 percent.

August unemployment rates among Snyder-area counties follow.

—Andrews: 4.2 percent, based on a labor force of 7,051, of which 6,754 were employed.

—Borden: 2.3 percent, based on a labor force of 479, of which 468 were employed.

—Dawson: 6.5 percent, based on a labor force of 7,547, of which 7,057 were employed.

—Fisher: 6.5 percent, based on a labor force of 2,424, of which 2,267 were employed.

—Garza: 4.8 percent, based on a labor force of 1,949, of which 1,856 were employed.

—Howard: 5.0 percent, based on a labor force of 13,925, of which 13,222 were employed.

—Kent: 1.5 percent, based on a labor force of 611, of which 602 were employed.

—Lubbock: 5.2 percent, based on a labor force of 115,888, of which 109,918 were employed.

—Mitchell: 7.4 percent, based on a labor force of 3,749, of which 3,470 were employed.

House rejects budget package

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House, brushing aside pleas from President Bush and leaders of both parties, today rejected a package of tax increases and spending reductions designed to cut the federal deficit by $500 billion over the next five years.

The 254-179 vote against the proposal raised anew the specter of widespread disruptions in government services beginning Saturday morning. The government's authority to spend will run out at midnight, and Bush has pledged to veto any stopgap legislation unless Congress has approved a deficit-cutting plan.

Lawmakers rebelled at the proposed increase in Medicare costs for retirees and consumer tax increases — on gasoline, tobacco and alcohol — that would require middle-income families to carry a proportionately larger share of the burden.

"This is a sad night for the House, for our political system and for America," Rep. Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee (see HOUSE, page 10)

Report says Iraq arsenal has FAEs

by The Associated Press
A respected Western research institute says that if war breaks out in the Persian Gulf, Iraq could survive for only weeks. But a newspaper reported today that Iraq has high-explosive devices equal in power to small nuclear bombs.

On the diplomatic front, a Soviet envoy carried a message from Mikhail S. Gorbachev to Iraq on Thursday, and Britain said it supports linking talks on the Palestinian question to an Iraqi pullout from Kuwait.

In other developments:

—Palestinian radicals issued more terrorist threats, saying they would attack Baghdad's opponents if they use force against Iraq.

—In Washington, U.S. officials said they planned another special flight to evacuate Americans from Iraq and Kuwait. The last U.S. flight was on Sept. 22. At least 900 Americans, mostly men, remain trapped, U.S. officials say.

—In London, the director of the International Institute for Strategic Studies, Francois Heisbourg, said on Thursday that Iraq "would not last terribly long" if war broke out, several days or only a few weeks. But at the same news conference, institute spokesman Andrew Duncan said Iraqi President Saddam Hussein would probably resort to using chemical weapons on Western civilians because of problems attacking well-protected and mobile U.S. troops in the gulf.

Meanwhile, The Los Angeles Times reported today that Iraq has acquired explosives equal in power to small nuclear bombs, and it said that has raised concerns that the United States has no ready defense against the weapons.

The fuel-air explosives, or FAEs, have 10 times the power of conventional explosives and create a huge fireball and shock waves over a concentrated area, without the radiation fallout associated with nuclear weapons.

Military officials say the explosives could devastate oil fields, air bases and troops, the newspaper reported.

"It's not your garden-variety weapon," Henry Sokolski of the Pentagon's international security affairs office told the newspaper. "These are blast-effect weapons, and what you can't see can kill you."

"A medical researcher has discovered that the snake has a gland at the end of its tail that secretes a chemical that may prove to be valuable in the treatment of certain cancers.

"A lot more research is needed, but the first results are promising. Wouldn't it be something if the diamondback, one of the most venomous of rattlers, would turn out to be a blessing in disguise?

"Now, if we can find something beneficial in the jackrabbit, the coyote, and the lowly crow, we'll have a new industry in West Texas.

Hearne Wal-Mart to close

HEARNE, Texas (AP) — Discount store chain Wal-Mart will close its Hearne store, the city's largest employer, because it has failed to turn a profit in 10 years.

The closing announcement has caused a furor in Hearne, which earns about $10,000 a month in utilities from the store. Wal-Mart also accounts for a large portion of the monthly sales tax rebates to the city.

The Hearne store will close in December, marking the first time Bentonville, Ark.-based Wal-Mart Stores Inc. has closed a store since the retail chain was started 28 years ago, the Bryan-College Station Eagle reports today.

"The indirect impact will be phenomenal and will be crippling," Hearne city manager Floyd Hafley said. "My personal opinion is that Wal-Mart leaving Hearne would be like Texas A&M leaving College Station."

The store's 90 employees were told of the decision Tuesday morning. Jane Arend, public relations coordinator for Wal-Mart, said the company will "make every effort" to provide jobs for employees who want to continue working for Wal-Mart.

Ms. Arend said the store will be closed by Dec. 31. She said she had never heard of a Wal-Mart store closing that wasn't moving to another location in the same community.

Candidate's wife arrested in Amarillo

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — The wife of Republican candidate Dick Waterfield says her motivation for tearing down campaign posters belonging to her husband's opponent was safety, not politics.

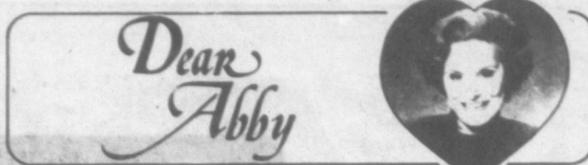

Gail Waterfield was spotted by Hartley County Sheriff Johnny Williams Thursday morning in a Waterfield for Congress campaign car tearing a poster for Bill Sarpalius poster from a utility pole.

When asked what she was doing, Mrs. Waterfield told Williams she was pulling the posters because they were posted illegally on telephone poles, the Amarillo Globe-News reported today.

Sarpalius, a Democrat, is the incumbent congressman for the 13th District. He faces Waterfield in the November election.

Waterfield spokesman David Crowder brushed aside as "ridiculous" assertions that the removal of the Sarpalius election posters was politically motivated. Mrs. Waterfield took down the signs, he said, for safety reasons.

"Signs placed on utility poles are illegal regardless of whether they're campaign or otherwise," said Crowder.

Preteens Need to Know Sex Is Not Child's Play

By Abigail Van Buren
1990 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: My 11-year-old daughter (I'll call her Cindy) just told me that her girlfriend (I'll call her Debbie) told her that she and her boyfriend had had sex. Debbie and her boyfriend are both 11 years old! Debbie made Cindy promise not to tell anybody, so I had to swear on my honor that I wouldn't say or do anything about this.

Abby, I'm afraid not to do anything about it, but if I break my promise to my daughter and she finds out about it, it will ruin the wonderful, close mother-daughter relationship we have always had.

I don't know what to do. Cindy told me the boy's name. If I send it to you, will you intervene? Or should I make an anonymous telephone call to the kids' school — or to the police — and let them deal with this?

SMALL TOWN, U.S.A.

DEAR SMALL TOWN: This is not the business of the school or the police; it's the business of Debbie's and her boyfriend's parents. Assuming that what your daughter told you is true, punishment is not the solution. Education is.

Debbie and her boyfriend need to realize that sex is not all fun and games; along with sex should be commitment and responsibility — far beyond the intellectual and financial capabilities of two 11-year-olds.

Since you and your daughter enjoy such a close relationship, urge her to try to persuade Debbie to confide in her own mother — or even in you if she can't bring herself to discuss this with her mother. She needs an adult friend she can talk to. And so does her boyfriend.

Anyone who doubts that two 11-year-olds can produce a baby, or contract a venereal disease, should get in touch with the nearest United Way or family planning clinic. Regrettably, it can — and does — happen.

DEAR ABBY: My husband died six months ago. We had a wonderful life together, but we were never rich. Our son and daughter — both married — were aware of our circumstances and promised to pay for their father's funeral, but they never did, so I paid for it, which wiped me out financially. Abby, I need this money now. My husband's illness took everything we had, and my children knew this.

I have mentioned this to them many times, but so far they have ignored my hints and requests. My son makes good money, and his wife works, too. My daughter and her husband also have jobs that pay well.

Next week my daughter and I are driving across the state to visit my son and his family. They are all fans of yours, Abby, and never miss your column, so I hope you will print this as a reminder of their promise.

DISAPPOINTED BUT DESPERATE

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: It's too bad your children need to see a letter in my column to remind them of their promise. I suggest that you remind your daughter again on the drive to visit your son. When you get there, remind the two of them while you have them together. And here's your letter — just in case. I wish you well.

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to the letter from "Patti" who lost the sight of one eye because she put a bottle of fingernail polish in the microwave to thin it — and the bottle "exploded" when she went to take it out.

Please inform your readers that if they store nail polish in the refrigerator, it will remain the proper consistency and last a lot longer. This also applies to base-coat and top-coat polishes. I have some that I purchased a year ago, and they're still as good as new.

Faulkner's retrial set on Feb. 11

DALLAS (AP) — Round 2 of the largest bank fraud trial in Texas history is scheduled to begin here Feb. 11.

U.S. District Judge Jerry Buchmeyer issued an order Thursday setting the trial date.

Former Garland developers D.L. "Danny" Faulkner and James L. Toler and five other men will be retried on charges that they conspired to steal more than $130 million from the failed Empire Savings and Loan Association of Mesquite and four other thrifths in Texas and Arkansas.

Their first trial lasted eight months and ended in September 1989 with a deadlocked jury.

That trial had been moved to Lubbock from Dallas because of scheduling conflicts among the judges in the 100-county Northern District of Texas.

In the wake of the mistrial, prosecutors obtained an indictment against Faulkner's daughter, Pamela Faulkner Tomalin, on charges that she attempted to influence a Lubbock juror.

The juror was dismissed from the case before Faulkner's trial ended, and Mrs. Tomalin was acquitted on the jury-tampering charge after a trial in August in Amarillo.

Buchmeyer now is assigned to the bank fraud case. He has not ruled on a string of motions by four defense attorneys seeking to withdraw from the case, but he indicated all such disputes would be resolved by Feb. 11.

All seven defendants are accused of inflating appraisals in the early 1980s on land along Interstate 30 in Dallas County.

The men are accused of using those inflated appraisals to justify excessive loans for condominium developments financed by thrifths under their control.

According to the indictment, defendants siphoned money from the loans under the guise of fees, commissions and profits from rapidly repeated transactions on the same properties. The series of inflated appraisals was used to boost property values by more than $10 per square foot. Multiple sales of the same land frequently occurred on the same day.

In addition to Faulkner and Toler, a former Garland mayor, the other defendants are Dallas resident Spencer H. Blain Jr., former chairman of Empire Savings; Paul Arlin Jensen, a Dallas resident who once controlled Lancaster First Federal and Bell Savings; Kenneth Earl Cansler, a former assistant high school football coach in Rockwall who became a condo salesman for Faulkner; and real estate appraisers Arthur Formann of Hondo and Paul D. Tannehill of Canton.

Each of the five thrifths that funded the transactions mentioned in the indictment has collapsed or been merged into another lender to avoid failure.

NASA said hit by more shuttle trouble

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — NASA, embarrassed by more shuttle trouble, counted down to Saturday's launch of Discovery while trying to figure out how a 9-foot-long, bright yellow beam was left to bang around inside Atlantis.

In Washington, meanwhile, a federal judge was expected to rule today whether Discovery's launch with a nuclear-powered sun probe will be allowed to proceed.

Two women protesting the launch were arrested today when they crossed into a restricted area of Kennedy Space Center. Twenty anti-nuclear activists gathered for a morning demonstration along a busy highway leading to the center's main offices.

The 70-pound metal beam crashed around Atlantis' engine compartment as the orbiter was being hoisted into an upright position in the assembly building. Some insulation covering interior components and plumbing was dented, said Forrest McCartney, director of Kennedy Space Center.

The beam was left by an experienced crew and paperwork indicated that everything had been removed, he said.

"It should have been caught and wasn't. There's not much more you can add to it," McCartney said. "It doesn't enhance our image any, that's for sure."

After the beam was found Thursday, officials reviewed Discovery's paperwork and equipment inventory to make sure nothing was overlooked in that shuttle. An investigative team also was formed to look into the Atlantis error.

NASA test director Al Sofge today said Discovery's paperwork was in order and all work equipment was accounted for.

"We feel confident that there's nothing left in there," Sofge said.

Discovery is scheduled to lift off at 7:35 a.m. EDT Saturday with five astronauts who will send the Ulysses sun probe on a five-year journey covering 1.86 billion miles. The countdown proceeded smoothly today, and Air Force meteorologists predicted a 60 percent chance of favorable weather at launch time.

Environmentalists opposed to Ulysses' plutonium generator asked U.S. District Judge Oliver Gasch on Thursday to delay the mission for at least a year while NASA sorts out its shuttle problems. They said NASA is so anxious to send up Discovery that it is ignoring the danger that would result from an accident involving the radioactive plutonium.

Last year, Gasch refused a similar request and Atlantis lifted off with a plutonium-powered probe bound for Jupiter.

The Ulysses satellite contains nearly 23.7 pounds of plutonium-238 — half as much as the Jupiter probe. NASA officials insist a plutonium generator is the only way Ulysses reach an unprecedented orbit over the sun's poles.

Justice Department attorney Rebecca Donnellan told the judge that delaying the Ulysses mission 13 months — the earliest the planets will be back in the proper alignment — would cost the government more than $350 million.

Andrew Kimbrell, an attorney representing the Florida Coalition for Peace and Justice, countered that an estimated $15 billion was spent to clean up after the 1986 Challenger accident.

The environmentalists based their appeal on NASA's inability to send up a shuttle in nearly six months. Columbia has been grounded by hydrogen leaks since May, Atlantis since June.

NASA stopped trying to launch Columbia two weeks ago after leaking hydrogen halted the mission's fourth countdown. The shuttle is grounded until all leaks can be found and fixed.

NASA finished repairing Atlantis' leaks on Friday. The shuttle was to have been moved to the launch pad early next week to await an early November liftoff with secret military cargo.

McCartney said it was too soon to tell whether the damage caused by the beam would further delay Atlantis' flight, already postponed by four months.

Weak jump bid aids the defense

In East-West's methods, West's jump to two spades showed a six-card spade suit and no more than six high-card points. The purpose is to take away a level of bidding from the opponents. East's raise contributed to that pre-emption but South doubled anyway, showing a good hand with defensive values. It was good that North now bid, since West would surely make nine tricks in spades.

Three no-trump would have worked, but South wrongly decided to play four hearts. That also would have succeeded, but the defense was exceptional in using suit-preference signals to take four tricks. West led the two of spades. Since he was known to hold six cards in the suit, the lead of the deuce could only be a signal that he could ruff something. It was not hard for East to figure out that West had to be void in diamonds. But he also had to be careful. If he led back a diamond honor, West might just think it possible that East held A-K doubleton of spades originally. So East returned the two of diamonds. That made it all easy. West ruffed and played a club to East's ace, and another diamond ruff set the contract.

Lesson: A regular partnership can add some sophistication to its game by playing weak jump shift responses in competition. When an opponent overcalls or makes a takeout double, a single jump in a new suit shows just a long suit and very little in high cards. It goes without saying that the opponents must be alerted to the special meaning of this bid.

Bolt strikes

LONGVIEW, Texas (AP) — A 74-year-old Longview woman is lucky to be alive after a bolt of lightning struck only three feet from the bed where she was sleeping, fire officials say.

The bolt hit the home of Nora Shook early Thursday, disintegrating a four- to five-foot section of her bedroom wall.

"You can't believe what it sounded like," Ms. Shook told the Longview News-Journal. When she looked up, all she could see was a big fireball, Ms. Shook said.

"By the time I got in the hallway I was thanking the Lord. I can't believe it didn't kill me," she said.

She ran next door to her daughter's home thinking her own house was on fire, although it was not. Ms. Shook spent the rest of the night at her daughter and son-in-law's home.

"It's hard to explain how you feel. It feels like I'm still trembling inside," she said.

"Of all of Longview, it had to hit me. But it might have hurt someone else, I guess. I can take it."

The oldest undisputed artifacts (mainly fluted points) ever found in the New World were made by Paleo-Indian hunters known as the Clovis people, who pursued Ice Age mammoths, camels, bison and horses nearly 12,000 years ago.

Hermleigh Methodists are ready for festival

Hermleigh United Methodist Church's annual Fall Festival will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday at Hermleigh Community Center, located one block south of the church.

A flea market will be located under the circus tent in front of the center. Items for sale will include furniture, dishes, glassware, kitchen items, clothing, antiques, tools and an assortment of "junk."

A Farmer's Market featuring fresh garden produce for sale will be set up under the porch. Food stuffs have been donated by members and friends of the church.

Inside the center additional items will be for sale including needlework, artwork, crafts, juices, relishes, pickles, peppers, cakes, wreaths, Christmas decorations, cookbooks, pies and candy.

Church members have been preparing for the annual festival since January. Everything is "priced reasonably."

Drawings will be held every 30 minutes and winners will have a large selection of prizes to choose from, all donated especially for this festival.

Donated items include a toaster, blanket, antique lamp with wooden holder, set of steak knives, framed prints, coffee maker, artwork, pottery, kitchen clock and glassware.

A barbecue lunch with all the trimmings will be served from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Tickets for the meal may be purchased at the door. Prices for the meal which includes, brisket, sausage, beans, potato salad, relishes, desert and coffee or tea, will be $6 for adults and $3 for children.

At 12:30 p.m., a special drawing will be held for a Norelco Coffee Maker, stoneware dishes (service for eight), and art pottery. To be eligible for this drawing, each person must have purchased a meal ticket.

At the conclusion of the festival (around 4 p.m.), drawings will be held for these special prizes, a VCR, bluebird quilt, handmade by women of the church, and a signed framed print — "Life in the Davis Mountains" by Wayne Baize, and the framed print — "Blue Harmony" by Dennis Schmidt, donated by Landes Furniture.

Any left over items will be auctioned at the end of the festival.

Jay Richburg and Sounds Indifferent Band will provide musical entertainment beginning at 12:30 p.m. They will be playing a mixture of German, Cajun, and country and western favorites.

The annual Fall Festival will take place Saturday regardless of the weather and Church members invite everyone to attend. Hermleigh Community Center is located on Highway 84 (turn at the caution light by Allsup's, go one block east and then left for one block).

All proceeds will benefit various church projects.

Applications due Dec. 1 for U.S. service academies

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Congressman Charles W. Stenholm is currently accepting applications from young men and women in the 17th Congressional District who are interested in attending one of the nation's service academies.

Noon Kiwanis Club members attend conference

Snyder Noon Kiwanis Club officers, directors and members participated in a Kiwanis Club leadership training conference on Wednesday, Sept. 26, at Golden Corral Restaurant.

Larry McAden, club president, served as moderator of the conference, where the participants received instruction in several areas of community service in which the club will focus special attention this year.

Major emphasis will be placed on the "Young Children, Priority One" campaign of Kiwanis International, which involves assistance to facilities which provide care for preschool children.

Other areas of focus for the club during the upcoming year include Goodfellows, Key Club, Adopt-A-Highway, youth services, spiritual aims, membership growth and retention, fund raising, interclub meetings and public relations.

Those attending the conference were Scott Gassiot, Gary Sisson, Hubert Cargile, Larry McAden, Joe Ellington, Speedy Prince, Bob Lewis, Polly Echols, Howard Bigham, Bob Cole, Jimmy McGee, Glen Butler, Blanche Butler, Marilyn Graves, Dana Cooley, Mike Grady, Jim Tully and Jack Price.

Stenholm will have the opportunity to nominate area citizens for appointments to the four U.S. academies: the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo.; the Military Academy in West Point, N.Y., the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md.; and the Merchant Marine Academy in Kings Point, N.Y.

Persons interested in possible nominations should contact the Congressman's Stamford office as soon as possible. The deadline for completed application files is Dec. 1, 1990.

To be eligible for an appointment, the applicant must meet certain requirements. The requirements are: American citizenship, good SAT or ACT scores, outstanding high school record, and good physical condition, including excellent eyesight. There is a very limited number of waivers for non-pilot candidates whose eyesight is less than 20/20.

Aside from academic achievement, emphasis is also placed on character, church and community involvement, extra-curricular activities and/or part-time employment. Applicants must be single with no dependents and at least 17 years of age, but not past their 22nd birthday upon admission into the academy on July 1, 1991.

Additional information may be obtained from high school guidance counselors or by contacting Jayne Schoonmaker in Congressman Stenholm's Stamford office at (915) 773-3623 or (915) 672-1322 or by writing P.O. Box 1237, Stamford, Tex. 79553.

Last remaining hospital in Morris County closes its doors

LONE STAR, Texas — Morris County's only remaining hospital — Hospital in the Pines — closed its doors this week, leaving its 14,000 residents without a central medical facility and 60 people without jobs. The money-strapped hospital district board voted to close the hospital Thursday, forcing residents to travel 30 miles to Mount Pleasant's Titus County.

the Longview News-Journal reported.

The closing comes on the heels of the county's other hospital shutdown two months ago. David Granberry Memorial Hospital in Naples closed Aug. 17 when its last two doctors resigned, saying the quality of care at the facility was "below patient standards." For Results Use Snyder Daily News Classified Ads Call 573-5486

Seminole to visit Tigers' den

Snyder to host Indians in tonight's homecoming matchup

By PHIL RIDDLE
SDN Sports Editor

Snyder football coach David Baugh sees a lot of question marks when looking at tonight's 8 o'clock homecoming football game against the Seminole Indians.

"They started the season as a split-6 team but since the first game they've played an offset-5, a 6-1 defense and a 5-3 stack.

"We're just not sure," he said, "We don't have any film on them. All we have to go on is what our scouts have told us."

"We've worked against a little of everything this week because we're unsure of what they're going to run against us."

Coach Baugh continued, "The main thing is for us to apply our blocking rules to whatever formation they line up in and just keep cool and do our job."

The Indians offense is another area of concern for SHS coaches. "They are a run-and-shoot team," said the Snyder chief.

"They'll line up in an I formation, an offset-I, they'll move their fullback, or line up with four receivers on one side, just a lot of formations and motions to adjust to."

Trigger man for the Seminole attack is senior Josh Parrott.

Parrott completed 11 of 26 passes last week in the Tribe's 20-14 loss to Reagan County for 123 yards and two touchdowns.

The Seminole QB returned last week after a lengthy bout with mononucleosis that kept him out of action.

Before Parrott's return the Indians were averaging an anemic 123 yards per game in total offense with leading ground gainer Darrell Hill picking up 92 yards on 40 rushes.

The Tiger coaches plan no drastic changes in their defensive strategy.

"I think where you make your mistakes against the run-and-shoot is changing," Baugh philosophized.

"I read something that said the University of Houston has its best offensive games when somebody changes their defense."

"They bust defensive assignments and the offense takes advantage."

"We'll just try to keep from making any misalignment mistakes and play our best."

The Tigers jumped from third in the state in total defense to tops of the Class 4A list since the Big Spring game last week when Snyder gave up just 108 yards to the No. 9 Steers.

Snyder's defenders are holding opposing offenses to a mere 116.5 yards per game.

"That's quite an accomplishment," said Baugh, "I'm really proud for our kids."

The Tigers' offensive scheme is somewhat in limbo with the doubts about the Indians' defensive plans.

"Not knowing what defense they're going to run, we're just going to have to go in and just see what they're doing and try to take advantage. Take what they give us."

"Of course, we'll run some base plays we run against everybody, sweeps and Bryan Brunson on belly plays, but some of the other stuff we'll just have to pick up on."

The Seminole defense has been sporadic at best for 1990 giving up almost 420 yards per game in its 0-4 start which included a 28-6 loss to Levelland and a 56-0 pasting by Andrews.

The Tigers are led on offense by the backfield trio of quarterback Ed Rios, tailback Paul Anderson and fullback Bryan Brunson.

Rios has amassed almost 300 yards passing on 20 completions in 56 attempts. He has thrown for one TD also.

Last week the Snyder passer hit 97 of 197 yards against the Steers.

Brunson was on the receiving end of four of those aerials for 44 yards. He also rushed for 44 bruising yards through the heart of the Big Spring defense.

Anderson gained 58 yards on 19 carries a week ago to bring his total yardage to 292. The Tiger tailback scored Snyder's only touchdown last week, a 17-yarder on a sweep to the right side, in the game's third quarter.

Personnel changes this week include the installation of sophomore Todd Iglehart at defensive tackle.

Iglehart had a sack of Big Spring quarterback Gerald Cobos last week and caused a fumble.

Saul Aviles will step in at center this week for senior Jeff Black. Black suffered a severe thigh bruise against the Steers and the coaches want to sit him out until next week's District 2-4A opener against Estacado.

Other Friday night action within the loop features Dunbar at Borger, Frenship at Canyon Randall, Hereford at Levelland, Roswell, N.M. at Lubbock Estacado and Lamesa at Greenwood.

7th grade tilts are cancelled

Snyder Junior High seventh grade football players will get an unexpected open date this week due to a cancellation of Saturday's scheduled games against Seminole.

The seventh graders were scheduled to play a "B" team game at 10 a.m. and a noon "A" contest.

Sickness among the Indians' players is blamed for the cancellation.

Snyder's eighth grade, originally set to play "A" and "B" games, also, will play a single game beginning at 10:30 a.m. Saturday here.

HHS, Coyotes set homecoming tilts

By PHIL RIDDLE
SDN Sports Editor

Hermleigh will attempt to justify a mention in the latest Lubbock Avalanche-Journal six-man poll while Ira and Borden County try to get the season headed in another direction as area six-man action continues Friday.

The Cardinals received one vote in Wednesday's state-wide poll from the Lubbock newspaper after pouncing Patton Springs, 56-0 a week ago in a game called at the half on the 45-point rule.

Ira hosted Jayton Friday night for homecoming and was handed a 73-44 loss at the hands of the eighth-ranked Jaybirds while Borden County fell to Loop, 24-21, last Friday.

This week Hermleigh and Borden County each celebrate homecoming — the Cardinals against a tough Grady squad and the Coyotes versus Klondike.

Ira continues its killer 1990 schedule with a visit from No. 7 Sands Friday.

Grady (3-1) at Hermleigh (2-2)

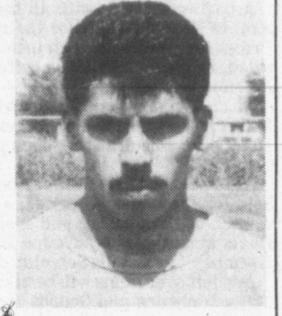

Homecoming brings the 3-1 Wildcats to Hermleigh fresh off a 30-8 win over Loraine last week.

The Cardinals are coming off their second win of the season, a 56-0 thrashing of Patton Springs in which Andrew Sanchez scored 28 points.

The senior deep back in the slick Hermleigh spread offense scored four touchdowns including a 68-yard interception return and a punt return that covered 42 yards.

Felix Martinez, the Cardinals' quarterback hit four scoring passes and defensive lineman Lance Price added a safety in the HHS win.

Game time today is 7:30 p.m.

ANDREW SANCHEZ

Klondike (3-1) at Borden County (1-3)

Klondike, a member of the Coyote's former District 5, lost to Smyer last week, 39-28, after starting the campaign at 3-0.

Borden County staked Loop to a 24-0 first-quarter lead a week ago and tried to play catch-up.

The Coyotes' John Paul Harris crossed the goal line twice in the loss. He scored on runs of 8 and 20 yards.

Cole Vestal caught a Jimmy Rios pass that covered 8 yards for Borden County's final points in the battle.

Tonight's kick-off is set for 7:30 p.m.

No. 7 Sands (4-0) at Ira (0-4)

Ira remained winless last week in its homecoming loss to Jayton giving up 443 yards rushing to the 'Birds' Paul Morales who scored eight TDs on the night.

The Bulldogs seek their first win of the season after losses to Jayton, No. 4 Guthrie, top ranked private school Midland Christian Academy and Grady.

Ira end James Sturdivant hit paydirt four times against Jayton on passes of 12, 43 and 51 yards from quarterback Chris Haynes and on a 17-yard touchdown run.

Friday's game starts at 7:30 p.m.

Members of District 6 begin loop competition next week.

Snyder takes JV grid win

ABILENE — Snyder's junior varsity football team blasted Abilene Cooper's sophomores, 40-0, in Thursday night action here.

"Everyone played a great game," said SHS coach Roland Herrera.

"We were real proud of the kids. They executed well, they were intense, it was a good team effort."

Raymond Ware, who scored three times Thursday from his tailback position, started things out for the Tigers with a three-yard blast into the end zone.

Ben Wilson added a 35-yard touchdown run followed by a Bobby Clinkinbeard kick for the extra point that put Snyder on top 13-0 at the end of the first period.

The Tigers went on top 19-0 in the third period when Clinkinbeard collected a Michael Humphrey pass and turned it into a 15-yard TD.

Jason Green contributed a touchdown in the final stanza on a 43 yard interception return from his linebacker spot.

Ware topped off the scoring with runs to paydirt of 8 and 7 yards.

Snyder will battle Estacado here next Friday at 6 p.m.

Pirates take LCS Game One

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds' best pitcher misjudged a hot hitter. Their Gold Glove outfielder misjudged a routine fly ball. And their rawest rookie misjudged a critical steal attempt.

They only thing they didn't misjudge Thursday was their predicament.

The Pittsburgh Pirates' rally from a three-run deficit to a 4-3 victory in the first National League playoff game put history in their corner. First-game victories usually translate into World Series appearances.

Now the Pirates can send their best pitcher, 22-game-winner Doug Drabek, to the mound today with the opportunity to take a 2-0 lead back to Pittsburgh.

"This put us in a difficult situation," said Reds outfielder Eric Davis, whose mistake was largely responsible for putting them there. "You always like to win the first one at home."

Winning the first one, period, is a harbinger. In the 21 NL playoffs, the first-game winner went to the World Series 13 times.

"It sets a precedent as far as the rest of the series is concerned," said Sid Bream, who pulled the Pirates out of a 3-0 hole. "Winning here in Cincinnati is definitely a big plus."

And a big surprise, given how it started.

Everything seemed to fall just right for the Reds. Jose Rijo, a dominating pitcher the last six weeks, set the Pirates down in the first inning with ease. The Reds then ran off three first-inning runs against Bob Walk.

Pirates manager Jim Leyland, who chose Walk over Drabek for the first-game start, admitted he was "fairly close" to a pitching change when Hal Morris singled home a run, Davis doubled home another and Paul O'Neill followed with a double for a 3-0 lead and just one out.

"You know guys are jittery sometimes in that first inning," Leyland said. "I figured he'd settle down if I stuck with him."

He did. Walk allowed just one more hit through the sixth, keeping the Pirates within range. There was just one small problem: Rijo's been nearly invincible with a lead lately.

Rijo had pitched complete-game victories in his last three starts before the Reds clinched the NL West. He had five complete games in his last nine starts, his only loss coming in a game when Cincinnati scored just one run.

The Reds couldn't have asked for anything better. Now they know better.

"In the playoffs, three runs don't win the game," Davis said. "That's evident."

Jose Lind tripled home a run in the third on the first hit allowed by Rijo. Barry Bonds walked with two out in the fourth, and Rijo made the first of the Reds' three major mistakes.

He threw to first base eight times with Bream at bat, becoming preoccupied with keeping Bonds from stealing. When he finally came to the plate with a 1-1 pitch, it was his worst pitch of the night.

A fastball, right where Bream's shirt said "Pittsburgh." "It was a terrible feeling," Rijo said.

Bream's two-run homer tied the game.

Davis helped with his unusual misplay in the seventh.

Gary Redus singled and Jay Bell drew a two-out walk from Norm Charlton. Andy Van Slyke, in a 3-for-29 slump, then slapped a routine fly ball towards left field for what appeared to be a threat-ending out. But Davis never got to it.

Cattoor takes 1st in Alpine

ALPINE — Western Texas College cowboy Troy Cattoor of Nephi, Utah, scored a 67 in Thursday's bareback riding event to claim first place in the Sul Ross State University National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association rodeo after one performance.

Cattoor also scored a 63 in saddle bronc riding, which was good enough for third place.

The only other WTC rider in last night's show was bull rider Benji Fontenot who was bucked off.

Tonight's second rodeo performance will feature Western Texas team ropers Russell Merchant, Wes Jeffries, Kevin Tibbs, Kevin Holt, Jeff Johnson and Cattoor, as well as steer wrestlers Merchant, Scot Berger, Brad Loesch and Billy Brown.

Calf ropers Merchant, Brown and Brice Key will show their stuff tonight as well as Fontenot in bareback and saddle bronc events.

The rodeo is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. today and Saturday with the finals, featuring the top ten scores and times in each event, set for 1 p.m. Sunday.

The three-time Gold Glove outfielder went back on the ball and then squared his body around too soon. When he made a desperate lunge, the ball went over his glove and bounced off the warning track for a ground-rule double, scoring Redus.

Bob Patterson came on to pitch the ninth and gave up a lead-off pinch-hit single to Todd Benzinger. Patterson then walked Davis, but got the force at third when Ron Oester tried to sacrifice.

Manager Lou Piniella put rookie Billy Bates in to pinch run for Oester at first, with Davis on second. Bates, called up at the end of the season, made the playoff roster when second baseman Bill Doran had back surgery.

College plans golf tourney

The Gary Schoen Memorial Golf Tournament is set to be played Saturday and Sunday on the Western Texas College Golf Course.

The tourney format features two-man teams playing in a scramble the first round and a low-ball round on Sunday.

Teams will be pre-flighted by the lowest of the two handicaps and the field will be limited to 60 teams.

The tournament is named for the co-captain of the 1988-89 Westerner golf team, Gary Schoen, who was killed in an automobile accident Oct. 26, 1989 at the age of 21.

SCC tourney names champ

David Sharrock fired a two-round 146 to claim the title Club Champion in the Snyder Country Club Men's Championship held recently.

Sharrock edged Larry Anderson, who shot a 147, for first place in the low-gross division of Championship Flight.

Donnie Newman's 148 was good for top honors in the low-net division followed by R.J. Kidd and B.W. Harris, both at 149.

John Reed and Ernie Armstrong won first in First Flight's low-gross and low-net categories, respectively.

Reed wound up with a two-day 160 while Armstrong carded a 146.

Glenn Patterson was second among low-gross scores with his 164 and Dutch Stehley, Herb Reed and Bear Hardin nailed a 148 apiece to tie for second in low-net play.

Gene Steakley at 166 and Ray Hill's 176 were the top two scores in Second Flight's low-gross division.

R.T. Henderson fired a 153 and Travis Hatter registered a 158 to finish one-two in low-net competition.

Third Flight's low-gross winners were Jeff Fowler, who shot a 189, and L.A. Berry, who wound up at 194.

Johnny Reed's 150 and a 152 from Sam Stephens took net honors.

Rangers sign Ryan for '91

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — The Texas Rangers exercised a $3.3 million contract option on Nolan Ryan for the 1991 season.

General manager Tom Grieve called the action "just a formality."

"Nolan has made a tremendous contribution to the Rangers the last two years, and we are looking forward to his being with the ballclub next year," Grieve said Thursday.

Ryan, 43, was 13-9 with a 3.44 ERA in 30 starts in 1990. He led the American League with 232 strikeouts and held opponents to a major league-low .188 batting average.

He pitched his record sixth no-hitter against Oakland on June 7 and became the 20th pitcher to reach 300 victories with a win July 31 in Milwaukee.

Davis, who has permission to run whenever he wants, took off on a steal of third with Chris Sabo at bat. Bates decided to follow — a bad choice.

The Pirates were looking for the double steal and decided to go for Bates at second. Mike LaValiere's throw beat Bates by three feet for the second out.

ODESSA, Texas (AP) — The school district won't endorse or financially support Odessa Permian football coaches in their legal fight with the University Interscholastic League, which barred the Panthers from defending their Class 5A football title.

"We felt like it was a no-win situation," said trustee President Lee Buice.

Crime bill toughened by U.S. House

WASHINGTON (AP) — A dozen more crimes would be subject to the federal death penalty and executions would be carried out more quickly, under amendments approved by law and order-minded House members.

"I hope we never bring up another crime bill a month before an election," Rep. William Hughes, D-N.J., said Thursday as the House bowed to conservative demands for a major reshaping of the measure.

Hughes said campaign considerations were overshadowing the debate, but critics of the bill said stern measures were needed to curb mounting crime. Sarcastic cries of "kill, kill, kill" wafted through the House as lawmakers added harsh provisions that Rep. George Gekas, R-Pa., said were being demanded "by the cop on the beat and the man on the street."

The bill calls for the death penalty for more than 20 federal crimes, including provisions added Thursday imposing capital punishment for murder aboard trains, planes and automobiles as well as in mail bombings, bank robberies and elsewhere.

Assassination or attempted assassination of the president would be punishable by death under the bill, as would treason and espionage.

The House halted work on the bill Thursday night without debating one of the most controversial features. It would allow death row inmates to use racial statistics in their appeals to show the sentencing courts were biased.

President Bush and congressional conservatives have been highly critical of the provision, which was dropped from a Senate-passed version of the crime bill.

Government bombs Filipino rebels

CAGAYAN DE ORO, Philippines (AP) — Government planes today bombed a military camp seized by mutineers who declared independence for the nation's second-largest island, and a military leader said the uprising was "finished."

However, there were other signs the rebels might be gaining support. About 150 elite troops joined the rebellion because they were angry over an air attack on their garrison on Thursday, local journalists reported.

In today's attack, witnesses and military sources said two T-28 planes from Mactan Air Base in Cebu bombed the garrison in Butuan, one of the two Mindanao cities seized Thursday by the mutineers.

Manila radio station DZXL, reporting from Butuan, said the planes made more than 10 passes over the garrison and set several buildings on fire. One soldier was wounded and rebel troops evacuated the camp, the station said.

Military Chief of Staff Gen. Renato de Villa confirmed the raid on the southern island.

"For all intents and purposes, the pocket rebellion ... is finished," de Villa told reporters in Manila. "What remains to be done is simply to recover the camp and neutralize their forces. ... If they put up a fight, it is unfortunate but they will be defeated."

Before the raid, rebel leader Col. Alexander Noble offered to negotiate with the government but had received no response. He had seized the garrisons in Butuan and Cagayan de Oro without firing a shot and then declared the island's independence.

President Corazon Aquino, who has survived six coup attempts during her four years in office, urged troops to wipe out the rebels.

"We will crush these pretenders as we did before, for our people will never support their naked grab for power," she told a business conference.

After the bombing, Noble remained in control of Camp Evangelista, headquarters of the 4th Infantry Division in Cagayan de Oro. The port city is about 500 miles south of Manila, the capital.

But military transport planes flew in and out of the city's airport throughout the day, bringing in loyal troops and heavy weapons apparently in preparation for a showdown.

Military officials in Manila estimated Noble had about 200 troops and 600 civilian supporters in Cagayan de Oro and 200 in Butuan, about 70 miles to the east.

"I'm waiting (to negotiate)," said Noble at the camp in Cagayan de Oro prior to the bombing. "It's the people who should decide what to do with Mindanao."

Aquino's administration has come under increasing criticism in the congress and press for its stewardship of the nation's shaky economy and failure to deliver basic services.

Noble was formerly chief of staff of Aquino's guard force, but he turned against her and joined a coup attempt last December.

He later fled to the jungles of northern Mindanao, where he organized a private army of Higoano tribesmen renowned as ferocious fighters. Last August, the military launched operations to try to capture Noble.

Noble said he wanted talks with Nur Misuari, the self-exiled leader of the Moro National Liberation Front.

The front is the main Moslem guerrilla group, which has been waging a 20-year-old struggle for self-rule. Mindanao is the home of the 5 million member Moslem community in the Philippines.

In Jiddah, Saudi Arabia, a spokesman for the Front refused to say whether his group was involved in the rebellion.

In Iligan, a major Mindanao industrial city 500 miles south of Manila, about 150 elite Scout Rangers from the 23rd Infantry Battalion declared their allegiance to Noble because of an air raid Thursday on their garrison, said local journalists who visited there.

Military officials said government planes fired on the camp while attacking and destroying a rebel helicopter.

House rejects package

tee, said after the defeat. "Our president has asked us to pull together. Too many of my colleagues have given him the back of their hands."

Only 71 Republicans supported the agreement while 105 voted no. Democrats gave it 106 votes and 149 voted no.

Speaker Thomas S. Foley, D-Wash., who had helped negotiate the agreement, said he and Bush had not discussed at a meeting Thursday what to do in case the plan was rejected. "We were both thinking positively, unfortunately, too positively," Foley said.

Nevertheless, Foley said he would ask the House later in the day to approve a short-term extension of government spending authority and, with it, a brief delay in the $85 billion of arbitrary cuts in many government programs after the midnight deadline. That would require concurrence by the Senate and the president.

In 4½ hours of House debate, there was little praise for the package. It was roundly described as onerous but the best thing available.

Leaders pleaded that it be approved, promising that over the next two weeks, committees of the House and Senate would moderate some of the most objectionable provisions.

"Give us a chance — we will fix it," said Rep. Sam Gibbons, D-Fla., a member of the House Ways and Means Committee, which has jurisdiction over the tax provisions and most of the non-defense spending cuts. He mentioned specifically the Medicare premium increases, the shifting of more taxes onto middle-income people and $12 billion worth of tax cuts for small corporations.

"We have the best chance we ever had to actually make the savings that we claim," said Rep. Bill Frenzel of Minnesota, senior Republican on the House Budget Committee.

But despite a furious lobbying campaign by the Bush administration and pleas from party floor leaders, most members were not convinced the package was the right thing barely a month before the Nov. 6 elections.

"Why does the option we are being given put the burden squarely on the middle class again?" asked Rep. Marty Russo, D-Ill. He and other liberals said the proposal represented a continuation of the Reagan administration's tax and spending policies.

"This is going to be an inequitable burden placed on the middle income, the low income, and the elderly in our society," said Rep. Henry Waxman, D-Calif.

"I personally took a no-tax pledge and I intend to keep it," said Rep. Denny Smith, R-Ore., pointedly reminding colleagues that Bush had made the same promise.

The $135.3 billion of tax increases in the plan would send the nation "back to recession, back to high interest rates, back to double-digit inflation, back to malaise," said Rep. Dana Rohrabacher, R-Calif.

The package was worked out by senior White House officials and leaders of Congress during 4½ months of negotiations.

The plan required serious compromises by the administration and Democratic leaders. The president had to give up the capital-gains tax cut he had promised investors during his 1988 campaign and many times since. And Democrats were forced to accept reductions in Medicare services and higher premiums on beneficiaries.

THE PHILIPPINES

The Pentagon is ready to begin phasing out U.S. military bases in the Philippines. The subject has become a major irritant in U.S.-Philippine relations and a focal point for groups trying to destabilize the pro-American government of Corazon Aquino. It was obvious the base negotiations had reached the end of the line when Aquino herself said it was time to begin talking about a pull-out.

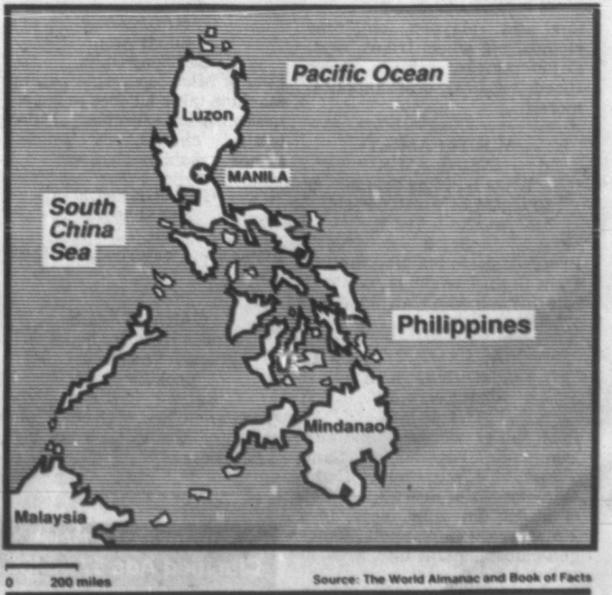

Clark Air Base in Angeles City, near Manila, is one of the largest U.S. airbases in the world. Subic Bay Naval Station in Olongapo is the largest U.S. naval base outside the United States. In addition, the United States currently has four other smaller facilities scattered around the Philippines.

The bases have become a symbol of the last vestiges of U.S. rule. The Philippines were claimed for Spain by Magellan in 1521. They remained Spanish until 1898 when they were sold to the United States as part of the settlement of the Spanish-American war. Congress voted Philippine independence in 1934, but before it became effective the Japanese invaded. Independence finally came in 1946.

Both the United States and the Aquino government want a long phase-out period, perhaps as long as 10 years. This will give the United States time to find alternative base sites in the Pacific, and it will give the Philippines a chance to plan how to make up for the loss of billions in income that the bases provided annually to the Philippine economy.

Singapore, and its leader Lee Kuan Yew, has invited the United States to build naval and airbases in his country. It is an option the Pentagon is studying closely.

Keating fundraiser is linked to Riegle probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — A fundraiser hosted by savings and loan operator Charles H. Keating Jr. plays a major role in a recommendation that an ethics investigation proceed against Sen. Donald W. Riegle Jr., say sources familiar with the inquiry.

Just weeks after the March 23, 1987, fundraiser for Riegle, the Michigan Democrat and four Senate colleagues met with U.S. banking regulators on behalf of Keating — a political donor to all five.

The Senate Ethics Committee is trying to establish whether any of the five senators were influenced to help Keating by the $1.3 million he and associates donated to the lawmakers' campaigns.

Congressional sources previously confirmed that special counsel Robert S. Bennett had recommended that the investigation continue against Riegle and Sens. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., and Dennis DeConcini, D-Ariz.

Bennett also proposed that Sens. John McCain, R-Ariz., and John Glenn, D-Ohio, be dropped from the investigation.

The committee now is at a juncture where it can advance some or all the cases to expanded levels of inquiry, including public hearings, or dismiss senators from the probe.

Congressional sources, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said earlier this week that any links between the senators' actions and the timing of political donations are crucial to Bennett's recommendations.

Sources said Thursday that the fundraiser Keating held for Riegle is one of the links cited by Bennett. Riegle has said the proximity of the event and the sessions with regulators were coincidental.

One source said Bennett is "throwing up for the committee the possibility that when a political contribution is so close to an event, is there a way it cannot be connected?"

Riegle's case could be the most difficult of the five. The two senators that Bennett recommended dropping, McCain and Glenn, broke off contacts with banking regulators after an April 9, 1987, meeting attended by all five lawmakers.

The five senators were told during that session that criminal referrals would be made to the Justice Department on the conduct of Keating's Lincoln Savings and Loan Association of Irvine, Calif.

Cranston and DeConcini continued their contacts with regulators until April 1989, when Lincoln was seized by the government — leaving the taxpayers to cover losses that could exceed $2 billion. The two senators said the contacts after April 1987 were in support of a sale of Lincoln that could have saved jobs.

Riegle has said he ended his intervention with regulators, as did Glenn and McCain, after the April 9 meeting.

But in Riegle's case, Bennett's report gives weight to the timing of the fundraiser hosted by Keating on March 23, 1987, and a meeting a few weeks earlier — on March 6 — between Riegle and the top S&L regulator at the time, Edwin J. Gray.

Consumer group says Texas is nothing but energy 'hog'

DALLAS (AP) — A consumer group is accusing Texas of hogging the nation's energy, but state officials call the charge another example of Texas bashing.

Public Citizen's "Energy Hog Index" listed Texas as the nation's "most energy wasteful state." Although the state boasts less than seven percent of the U.S. population, the group said, Texas consumes nearly 12 percent of the country's energy.

Public Citizen charged that

Texas and other wasteful states were "allowing Saddam Hussein to undermine the nation's energy security."

But several Texas officials said the study was flawed.

Randy Erben, director of the Office of Texas State-Federal Relations in Washington, told The Dallas Morning News that the study was "a typical case of a person reaching a conclusion and then going out to find the facts to support it."

Public Citizen is a non-profit consumer advocacy group founded by Ralph Nader. It leveled its charges in a study titled, "Energy Audit: A State-by-State Profile of Energy Conservation and Alternatives."

The authors used three factors to compile the hog index: per capita energy consumption, per capita petroleum consumption and the percentage of energy derived from renewable energy resources.

Texas ranked next to last in the percentage of energy from renewable sources, fourth in per capita energy use and in per capita oil use. Wyoming, Alaska, Kansas and Louisiana were the next four most wasteful states named.

The study said the "most responsible" states were New York, Arizona, Vermont, California and Colorado.

"Texas bashing has replaced football as the favorite sport in Washington this fall," Erben said.

He said Texas has a large petrochemical industry, which has different energy requirements from industries in the Northeast.

Erben said that — along with other factors such as Texas' size, its lack of public transportation in rural areas, its warmer climate and the amount of energy produced by the state — skewed the results.

Miss America boss praises changes in Texas pageant

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — The executive director of the Miss America pageant says he's pleased with changes the Miss Texas contest has implemented since its chairman stepped down in controversy.

Leonard Horn's visit was prompted by a Life magazine article this summer that alleged unfairness and undignified conduct surrounding the Miss Texas Scholarship Pageant, which takes place in Fort Worth each July.

"We are supposed to be giving every young woman in this country the equal opportunity to compete for scholarship money and a crown," Horn said. "As a result of the Life magazine article, there are some people who think that's not so."

The magazine article pictured then-pageant chairman B. Don Magness sitting in a bubble bath and portrayed him as a crude-mouthed pageant godfather pulling all the strings. In subsequent newspaper and television reports, contestants said that some pageants were fixed and that Magness made improper advances toward some of the young women.

To stem the negative publicity, Magness resigned as Miss Texas chairman in August but remains on the board of directors. He didn't attend Wednesday's meeting.

"I was very impressed with the board's willingness to correct whatever problems may exist," Horn said of a two-hour, closed-door meeting Wednesday.

Colon surgery calls for aftercare

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My husband had his upper large bowel removed because of cancer. As a result, he has no control and cannot even leave home. His doctor says this is normal for about six months following surgery, yet it's a monumental problem.

DEAR READER: The large intestine (colon) permits fluid from the bowel contents to be re-absorbed back into the body, leaving waste material that is relatively dry. When portions of the colon are surgically removed, less water is re-absorbed and the stools remain loose. This causes frequent diarrhea that may be difficult to control.

With time, your husband's intestine will learn to compensate for the missing segment and, although his stools may never return to normal, they will at least become firmer and controllable. In the meantime, ask his doctor to prescribe a constipating agent, such as paregoric, Lomotil or Imodium.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I've been diagnosed with endometriosis and adhesions behind my uterus. My doctor suggested a hysterectomy, yet I'm only 32 and understand I could have a difficult time with depression when I get older.

DEAR READER: Endometriosis, the presence of abnormal collections of uterine cells in locations other than the uterine lining, can cause abdominal pain, painful intercourse and partial bowel obstruction. Over time, the continued irritation from these cells leads to scar tissue (adhesions).

I am not clear why you need a hysterectomy. This seems like a drastic solution for a woman your age, who may wish to have children. I suggest you obtain a second opinion from another gynecologist.

Perhaps medical therapy, such as the temporary use of birth control pills, would — by stopping menstruation — alleviate your symptoms. This medicine often suppresses endometriosis and may permit you to take the time to make an informed decision about which you can feel comfortable. You may not need a hysterectomy unless your symptoms are unmanageable and cannot be controlled with hormones. Also, laparoscopic surgery, performed through a small abdominal incision, is often used to treat endometriosis; this might be an option for you to consider.

In my opinion, the chance of depression would be minimal from the hysterectomy itself. Rather, I'm more concerned that the operation is so final. Keep your choices open by exploring other alternatives.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "An Informed Approach To Surgery." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their names and addresses to my attention at P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

Incumbent, former klansman go head-to-head in election

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Louisiana's U.S. Senate race has become a head-to-head match between an incumbent Democrat reluctantly supported by Republican party leaders over a Republican who was once a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

State Sen. Ben Bagert dropped out of the primary race Thursday, saying he feared his Republican candidacy could force incumbent Democrat J. Bennett Johnston into a runoff with ex-Klansman and Republican state Rep. David Duke. Under Louisiana's open primary system, all candidates run on one ballot, regardless of party affiliation. A runoff between the top two finishers is held if no one receives a majority of votes.

Bagert said his polls indicated he might pull just enough votes to keep Johnston from getting more than 50 percent of the vote and force the three-term incumbent into a runoff with Duke.

GOP leaders say such an event would embarrass the state and the Republican party nationally. Eight Republican senators endorsed Johnston earlier this week.

"All my supporters understand how important this race is," Bagert said in announcing his withdrawal. "The state's on trial. The state has a chance to show what it is, what its values are, to the rest of the country."

"I'm not endorsing anybody," but I'm not voting for David Duke," he said. Asked if he would vote for Johnston, he said, "Yes, reluctantly."

A poll released Wednesday by Mason-Dixon Opinion Research of Columbia, Md., showed Johnston was the choice of 53 percent of voters surveyed. Duke drew 26 percent, while Bagert polled 8 percent, with 13 percent undecided. The poll of 825 registered voters had a margin of error of 3.5 percent.

Johnston refused to predict that Bagert's move would assure him victory in Saturday's election and added he was making sure now that his supporters do not become complacent.

Duke scoffed at the idea that Bagert's conservative Republican support might move to Johnston's camp.

Your Birthday

Oct. 6, 1990

Material conditions look rather stable for you in the year ahead and you should have access to all the funds you'll want or need. A word of caution, however, don't spend money before you have it in the bank.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Today your greatest material gains are likely to come from other than your customary sources. If you have something profitable on the burner, give it priority attention. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) It could be best today to go along with the will of the majority, even though you have some misgivings about whether or not you'll have a good time. If you relax, you'll enjoy yourself.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You're in a better bargaining position than you may realize so when negotiating with someone who has need of your talents or service, be fair, but don't sell yourself short.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Your popularity is ascending at this time and you should begin to see happier circumstances in your social life. A jealous acquaintance could be your one fly in the ointment.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Something disruptive might develop today affecting a member of your family. It's best you support your kin, even though you might not be totally in accord with your relative's views or position.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Social involvements should be fun for you today, provided the repartee is restricted to light topics. It could be another story if you start talking about politics or religion.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Even though you are not innately selfish, you may still be reluctant today to share with others the good things that happen for you, especially the ones that are not of a material nature.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your leadership qualities will be pronounced today and you're likely to be a bit more assertive than usual. This is all well and good, provided you don't walk over anyone in your zeal to forge ahead.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It's a noble aspiration to do what you can to look out for the welfare of others, but you must be careful today not to take on the burdens of people capable of tending for themselves.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Try to be selective regarding your social commitments today, because you won't want to get involved with a group that contains someone you dislike. The bad apple could spoil the barrel.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Your chances for fulfilling your ambitious objectives look better than usual today. However, you must be careful you don't do something that could offend a competitor with a long memory.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Even though you may have to contend with some less-than-ideal developments today, things will work out to your satisfaction if you keep your cool. Your temper is your worst enemy.

Souter plans to work hard & go sightseeing

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — David Souter says he will live up to his monkish, bookish, workaholic image when he joins the Supreme Court next week, but he also hopes to do a few "touristy things" after he moves to Washington.

Souter, whose primary after-work pleasure seems to be more work, said this week he expects that he will stick to his office and lawbooks at least for his first year in the nation's capital.

"We all know the work load there is enormous," he said Tuesday in an interview with The Associated Press. "I realize what I'm getting into. I intended to work a long week anyway, but I imagine I'm going to have my limits tested."

He said he understands his fellow justices want him to start as soon as he is sworn in Tuesday morning.

"They very much wanted me to start sitting Tuesday because there is always the possibility of a 4-4 decision if they're sitting without a full complement," Souter said.

What little free time Souter may have already is being mapped out for him by the district's social set. An article this week in The Washington Post named the 51-year-old jurist the city's most eligible bachelor, which Souter said "sounds pretty good to me."

"I've really got to wait and see what effects it brings," he said.

Potential dates might prepare themselves for a trip to the Smithsonian Institution or the Lincoln Memorial.

"There are some things that I have never done that most school kids have done," Souter said. "I have never, for example, toured the Capitol."

He did manage a brief peep at the building's Rotunda as he called on members of the Senate Judiciary Committee in July.

"I said to the man from the White House who was with me, 'I've just got to go in and look at this for a minute,'" he said. "I kind of gawked around until I realized that people were moving their eyes from the murals to me, so I retreated...."
