Hobbs Co-op bill may reach $50,000, trustees informed

Snyder public schools trustees learned Monday the district may have to pay as much as $40,000 over what was expected for participation in the Hobbs Cooperative School.

In a lengthy workshop, trustees discussed the co-op, the purchase of water filters for North and Northeast elementaries, carpet for Humble-Smith, and re-roofing the administration building. Also discussed was the method of compensation for UIL sponsors, budget amendments for reading programs at three elementary schools and the possibility of hiring an additional staff member for the administration building.

No action was taken during the workshop session, which was a preview for the monthly meeting, scheduled Monday, Oct. 15.

This summer, the board agreed that Snyder ISD would become a member of the Hobbs Co-op. The board was told by co-op organizers that a $10,000 fee was required, and, in addition, the co-op would receive Average Daily Attendance (ADA) funds for each student from the district.

Trustees learned Monday that the school district will receive the ADA funds from the state, which amounts to approximately $10.66 per day per student. However, the district will be required to pay the Hobbs Co-op $16 per day per student. The difference amounts to some $40,000, based on the 48 Snyder students enrolled at Hobbs.

The board was reminded that the state requires each school district to provide an alternative to the normal classroom setting; in other words, a school such as the Hobbs Co-op, or something similar. It was also pointed out that Snyder ISD spends about (see SISD, page 8)

Budget...

Bush signs emergency legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress and the White House sawed through their budget logjam enough to reopen the government today — at least for a few days — and avert a massive layoff of thousands of federal workers.

President Bush sent word he would sign an emergency spending bill this morning that will keep the government operating normally through Oct. 19.

Beyond that, no one knows what will happen.

The hope is that Congress and the White House can get together by then on details of a loosely drawn deficit reduction package for the current fiscal year and four years into the future. It was adoption of that package by both houses earlier Monday that cleared the way for passage of an (see EMERGENCY, page 8)

Farm Bureau elects three new directors

Joe Derouen, David Shifflett and Michael Head were elected as new directors during the Scurry County Farm Bureau annual convention Monday at the county coliseum.

The three men replaced Leon Sterling, Larry Schwarz and C.L. West, whose terms expired. Approximately 400 people attended the event, including Bill Tullis, state director from San Angelo, and Anita Perry, wife of agriculture commissioner candidate Rick Perry.

Sterling was presented a plaque for 24 years as director of the farm bureau.

Receiving $100 savings bonds from Snyder National Bank, West Texas State Bank and Scurry County Farm Bureau were Douglas Foster, Odell Cox, Levi Hill and Johnny Covey. Fifty-dollar gift certificates were donated by Nancy's Art Style, Scurry Ag Center, Bar-H-Bar and Snyder Farm and Ranch and were presented to O.B. Darden, Anson Luna, Elton Lewis and James C. Stewart II. Other door prize recipients were Robert L. Swint, Preston Wilson, Mozell Roggenstein, Royce Patterson, John Zalman Jr., Bert Stahl, Lou Voss, W.J. Fuller, Bill Wimmer, Weldon Key, Pilar Luna, Elbert Hill, Margorie Mathis and Raymond Wagner.

Cotton crop...

Cold spell no threat but warm days needed

From local, wire reports The current cold spell isn't a serious threat to the county cotton crop, but dry, warm weather is what the area particularly needs, local agriculture extension agents are noting.

"Basically we need warm, dry weather for everybody. Those whose cotton is ready for harvesting need the dry weather so they can get into the fields, kill off the plants and harvest, and those whose crop is less mature, need the warmth so that those plants can go ahead and mature," said County Extension Agent Marvin Ensor.

The crop varies widely across the county. Some is ready to be harvested and other fields probably need to be allowed to mature up to first frost, which in most years is about a month away.

The temperature dipped to 43 degrees overnight but winds made the chill factor much lower. The forecast calls for a low this evening in the mid 30s. Wednesday's high is expected to be in the upper 60s. Winds will continue to blow from 5 to 15

WTC enrollment report, bids discussed in board meeting

Western Texas College board of trustees heard two enrollment reports and accepted bids on a car, a van and computer equipment during its October meeting Monday evening.

The board also gave direction concerning several pre-bids and approved a small class report, minutes and financial information.

An enrollment report at Price Daniel Unit showed 107 inmates taking 148 spaces in 12 classes for the fall, 1990 semester. It was pointed out that those inmates represent 11 percent of the Daniel prison population, a figure which is considered excellent.

The enrollment indicates a positive projected net income for the college.

Enrollment at Western Texas College is down slightly, from 1,144 in the fall of 1989 to 1,060 for the current semester. Contact hours are down slightly from 259,824 to 250,816 and semester hours are at 10,479, as compared to 11,145 a year ago.

Most of the difference in enrollment is at the part-time level. There are 462 part-time students enrolled at WTC this semester as compared to 530 last year. A comparison of full-time students shows 598 this semester and 614 a year ago.

A slowly declining population base and more stringent acceptance testing are cited as two key reasons for the decline in enrollment.

Other enrollment figures showed that 384 of the students are from Scurry County, Nolan Coun-

The feller on Deep Creek says, "If you can't be grateful for what you've received, be thankful for what you've missed."

A lot has been said recently about what can be done to improve the local economy. Snyder's Kathy Post sent us the following from the Robert Lee Observer. It is entitled, "Ode to a Dying Town:"

The men were quite cocky as they stood in the sun. Let's go to the city, stock up and have fun. We'll buy by the case all under one roof And save lots too, of that we have proof.

So they did just that for many a year And from the results never took any fear Until one day they met once again Standing uptown just out of the rain.

"What's happened here!" cried one in dismay. There faces were ashen, they had much to say. Then one scratched his head. The other said loud "There's no bread, no coffee, not even a crowd. My wife is real sick and right off her feet I came for some drugs, some milk and some meat. The hospital is closed, the grocery stores too.

What in the world are we going to do?"

"My furnace is shot and the plumbing all broken. The other one gasped, and I thought he was chokin' "My car's a near wreck and my tires are low I need nails and lumber, and there's no place to go."

His friend has his head right down to his chest "We're to blame," he muttered, "On our heads it does rest. We passed this town for the glimmer of lights Bought stuff by the car load and took in the sights. The city is bustling and bursting with pride. While all our own merchants just up and died. The houses are empty, the bank's repossessed. I'll tell you old boy, we're in for a test."

"We should have been smarter and wise," they said. "Then the town would be bustling, not half so dead." "It's never too late, we learned," someone did say. But for the foolishness of many they'd all have to pay. They parted at last as the wind turned cold. And muttered, "Buy locally as this story is told."

Paul, Alice Gray host Australian woman

For a few days last month there was a stranger in our midst.

Gail Blanchard of Melbourne, Australia, visited with local residents Paul and Alice Gray for a few days early last month.

Blanchard was overcome by the friendliness and hospitality of Americans "in Snyder especially...everyone is just so warm it is just like being with family."

In fact, Blanchard said it was going to be hard to leave Snyder.

"When you have fallen in love with a place, you will never forget it," she said.

"Your town really has a charisma...I've been drawn to it like a magnet."

She said the town had a wholesome feel to it. "You keep it so neat. It's like someone has gone and polished all the fences," said the visitor from down under.

Blanchard said her trip to America, her first, was a dream vacation. During her month-long stay in the states, she visited Oklahoma, Florida, California, Nevada, Texas, Tennessee and Washington, D.C.

In Australia, Blanchard has three sons and works in the hospitality industry.

Cutbacks may help smugglers

by The Associated Press

U.S. Border Patrol agents' fear that a continued stalemate over the federal budget could be a boon to drug smugglers may be alleviated by congressional action to reopen the government.

A government shutdown ended early today after a night of budget breakthroughs in Congress that also saw the Senate give final approval to a $500-billion deficit-reduction plan.

The Border Patrol and other federal agencies feared a government shutdown after the three-day holiday weekend would benefit drug dealers.

"A lot of times, drug dealers know when our staff is down," said David Trevino, a U.S. Border Patrol intelligence agent in McAllen. "I imagine they've got a pretty good dossier on us."

Trevino said intelligence reports indicated Colombian and Mexican traffickers are storing narcotics along the Southwest border in anticipation of federal furloughs.

The shutdown caused less glee for thousands of travelers who were turned away from national parks, museums and monuments over the long Columbus Day weekend.

The Statue of Liberty, museums and national parks around the country have been closed since Saturday because the budget crisis had prevented Congress from approving any spending legislation for the new fiscal year. The shutdown affected 13 Texas facilities operated by the National Parks Service.

The full brunt of the federal shutdown was masked because of the long weekend.

The Senate passed an emergency bill on a voice vote Monday night that would let the government open normally today. The House in a vote early this morning.

Nude biker

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — A San Antonio man says a dare made him "run wild" and resulted in the arrest of the man and a female friend for riding nude on a motorcycle.

"Somebody said, 'You wouldn't go riding naked on a motorcycle, and we did,'" said John Hilbrandt, the motorcycle driver. "I just had to let myself run wild."

Police arrested Hilbrandt, 46, and Jeanette Olivarri, 25, on charges of disorderly conduct-exposure early Friday.

Hilbrandt was clad only in brown work boots and Olivarri was wearing tennis shoes when a Live Oak police officer stopped them.

"He had crossed us, and he had seen us," Hilbrandt said of the officer. "I guess he had seen us with no helmets on or no clothes on. He asked us 'why?' and I told him it was a joke."

A number of critical changes could be in the offing for you in the year ahead, because you'll be desirous of breaking off old, unproductive patterns as well as disengaging yourself from troublesome acquaintances. The transition will be good.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Important objectives are achievable today, but you might have to pull out all of the stops to gain your aims. This is not a day for the weak hearted or wishy-washy to try to make their mark in the world.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) It could turn out to be an exercise in futility if you try to make peace between dissenting factions today. In fact, if you're not careful you might end up the target for hostility from both sides.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) There is a possibility you might prematurely try to alter or adjust something in which you're involved today. Poor timing could make the matter worse, not better.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Your credo today should be, "What is good for the majority is also good for me," because only those things that take into consideration everybody's needs will work.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) People who are usually supportive of your plans or programs might assume an adversarial stance today. To be on the safe side, count only on yourself and not others.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) This is one of those days when you might be judged by the company you keep. Be very selective of companions and choose only those who will enhance your image, not tarnish it.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If you overreact emotionally to problems today, it could cause you to behave in a self-defeating manner. Maintain control by focusing your thoughts outside of yourself.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) When you initially size up situations today you are likely to do so from a negative perspective. A poor attitude will cause others to shy away from you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Heavier demands than usual might be placed upon your purse today, so if you do not want to become immersed in red ink, manage your resources with great care.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If others do not appear to be willing to cooperate with you today, it could be due to the example you establish. Watch for critical signals and make adjustments if necessary.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) This is one of those days when it might be advisable to keep your mouth shut. Be open and frank if you must, but only with people who won't condemn you for your comments.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) In your group involvements today take into consideration the desires and needs of others. If you attempt to manipulate them to serve your ends, you could be the one who may suffer.

Summer memories shared by Twentieth Century Club

The Twentieth Century Club held its first meeting of the new club year at the home of Mrs. John McMackin on Sept. 11. President, Mrs. Fred Davis, presided as yearbooks were passed out and reviewed.

The program theme for 1990-91 is "For everything there is a season, and a time for every purpose under heaven."
"A Time for Reminiscing" was the September program title and members shared their summer memories. On Oct. 2, the club met at the new home of Mrs. C.U. Bishop in Cedar Crest. After a tour of her home, Mrs. Bishop demonstrated to members how to tell modern cut glass from antique cut glass. She had many lovely pieces of antique cut glass to show the group.

The program title for the October meeting was "A Time for Learning."
The members welcomed a guest, Mrs. Haskell Beard.

Once South heard North support spades, he was justified in shooting out a game. His minimum high cards were all prime values, and it would take very little in the North hand for game to be easy.

Although West was a finalist in a North American team championship, he clearly took the wrong view on defense this time. He led his fourth-best diamond. Declarer took dummy's king and led a spade back to his king. West won the ace and played another diamond. South won and played a second spade. West was afraid to duck this trick. He did not want to have to win the third spade and then lead away from either the jack of hearts or the jack of clubs. And playing a third round of diamonds might give declarer a useful sluff and ruff. So West grabbed the queen of spades and played another. That was 10 tricks for declarer.

West should realize that declarer is missing the trump 10. If he has it, his first play in the trump suit will be to lead to the 10 in his hand. If declarer is missing the spade 10, he is almost surely going to play low from the dummy on his second play in the trump suit. (He would not be willing to risk that West might have started with A-Q-10-6.) Whatever else is out there for the defense, it is clearly best for West to give declarer a chance to lose three trump tricks. Failing to do so was a clear mistake.

16 ounces semisweet chocolate chips
2 teaspoons confectioners' sugar

Cut a 12- by 12-inch square of aluminum foil and place in the top level of the refrigerator. Remove stems from apples; insert a popsicle into each.

Place chocolate chips in small, deep, microwave-safe bowl that is completely dry. Cook on high (100 percent power) for 1 minute. Stir. Cook on high for another 1 to 2 minutes until chocolate is melted. Remove from microwave and gradually stir in confectioners' sugar. Twirl apple in chocolate to cover most of apple. Then use rubber spatula to smooth and spread chocolate over entire apple. Place on aluminum foil in refrigerator to harden chocolate. If serving immediately, put in freezer for about 15 minutes. If chocolate in bowl begins to harden before all apples have been dipped, cook again in the microwave on high for 30 to 40 seconds. Makes 6-7 covered apples.

Covering with nuts: After apple is covered with chocolate, sprinkle with crushed walnuts. Place in refrigerator.

Drizzling with white chocolate: Put chocolate-covered apples in freezer on aluminum foil for at least 10 minutes. Meanwhile, using the same cooking method as above, melt 1/2 cup white chocolate or vanilla chips, adding 1/2 teaspoon confectioners' sugar. Remove chocolate-covered apple from freezer. Use tablespoon to drizzle white chocolate over chocolate apple. Place apple back in freezer for at least 10 minutes. Store in refrigerator.

Shoestring licorice
Green gumdrops
Combine water, pumpkin pie spice and salt in the top of double boiler; mix well. Add caramels; melt over hot water, stirring often, until smooth. Pour mixture over popped corn in large bowl; toss until kernels are well coated.

With lightly buttered hands, form into pumpkin shape measuring about 8 inches in diameter at the bottom and about 4 1/2 inches high at the center. Make 7 or 8 slight indentations from center to bottom to form a pumpkin "stem."

Arrange with a cornucopia of fresh red and green apples, grapes and nuts.

Halloween Pumpkin Cake

Sift on wax paper:
2 cups cake flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon baking soda

In a mixing bowl combine:
4 tablespoons melted shortening

2-3rds cup sugar
2-3rds cup brown sugar
2 beaten eggs
2-3rds cup pumpkin
1 teaspoon maple flavoring
1/2 teaspoon allspice

Combine dry ingredients with pumpkin mixture and mix well. Stir in 1 cup chopped walnuts. Pour into two greased 8-inch baking pans and bake in preheated 350-degree F oven for 30 minutes or until done. Use toothpick test for doneness. Cool on racks for 10 minutes before removing from pans. Use Brown Sugar Icing

(recipe follows) and decorate with Halloween candy witches and pumpkins.

Brown Sugar Icing

In a double boiler, combine:
1 1/2 cups brown sugar
3 egg whites
1-3rd cup water
Dash of salt
Beat constantly until mixture will stand in peaks. Remove from heat and add 1/2 teaspoon rum extract. Continue to beat until thick enough to spread.

These colorful, festive cupcakes are easy to prepare. A cone-shaped piece is cut from the center of each chocolate cupcake. The cupcake is filled with orange-flavored marshmallow creme. The cone is placed on top of the filling, pointed side up, making a witch's pointed hat. The recipe is provided by Hershey's Cocoa.

Witch's Hat

Chocolate Cupcakes
3/4 cup butter or margarine, softened
1 and 2-3rds cups sugar
3 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
2 cups all-purpose flour
2-3rds cup cocoa

1/4 teaspoons baking soda
1/4 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 and 1-3rd cups water
Orange Cream Filling (recipe follows)

Heat oven to 350 degrees F. Paper-line 30 muffin cups (2 1/2 inches in diameter). In large mixer bowl combine butter, sugar, eggs and vanilla; beat on high speed 3 minutes. Combine flour, cocoa, baking soda, baking powder and salt; add alternately with water to batter mixture. Blend just until combined. Pour batter into cups, filling each 2-3rds full. Bake 20 to 25 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool completely. Meanwhile, prepare Orange Cream Filling. Cut 1 1/2-inch cone-shaped piece from center of each cupcake; reserve. Fill cavity with scant tablespoon filling. Place reserved cake pieces on filling, pointed side up. Chill. Makes 2 1/2 dozen cupcakes.

Orange Cream Filling

1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup marshmallow creme
1 1/4 cups powdered sugar
1/2 to 1 teaspoon freshly grated orange peel

1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
Red and yellow food color (optional)

2 to 3 teaspoons orange juice
In small mixer bowl beat butter; gradually beat in marshmallow creme. Add powdered sugar, orange peel and vanilla, beating until blended. Gradually add food color, if desired, and orange juice; beat to desired consistency. About 1 and 1-3rd cups filling.

Saddam says Iraq has a new missile

By The Associated Press

President Saddam Hussein said today Iraq has developed a new missile with a range of several hundred miles, long enough to strike deep into Saudi Arabia where tens of thousands of American troops are deployed.

Rock 'n' roll music boomed out across the Saudi desert today when U.S. armed forces radio began broadcasting live for the nearly 200,000 U.S. troops.

"It's 9:05 a.m. Tuesday, Oct. 9. Goood Maaaaawrning Saudi Arabia," bellowed disk jockey Rich Yanku, echoing the famous character played by comedian Robin Williams in the movie about Armed Forces Radio in Vietnam.

In another development, a study published this week said Iraq should be able to survive the U.N. trade embargo for at least another six months.

Meanwhile, the Navy searched today for eight Marines missing since Monday. Search and rescue teams have located debris from one of the two helicopters carrying them, but no bodies.

Two American airmen who had volunteered for duty in the Persian Gulf crisis died in jet crash Monday in Saudi Arabia.

In other developments: —A U.S. Embassy official in Baghdad said that a U.S.-chartered Iraqi jetliner on Wednesday will evacuate about 350 more Americans and an unknown number of other foreigners from Kuwait.

—Prime Minister Toshiki Kaifu of Japan returned home from a weeklong Middle East tour and said Arab leaders appreciated Japan's efforts in helping to solve the gulf crisis and the $4 billion in aid in has offered.

Emergency legislation

emergency spending bill Bush was willing to sign.

But there is no guarantee the new deficit package ultimately will pass once the details are filled in — just as there was no guarantee that the package Bush pitched to America from the Rose Garden and from TV cameras barely a week ago would carry.

Indeed the House voted that one down last Friday, rewriting a script that played out as a long, holiday weekend of uncertainty marked by scenes of thousands of Americans being herded from national parks as their government started winding down for lack of authority to spend the money flowing into its coffers.

That partial shutdown of so-called non-essential services translated essentially to an inconvenience to tourists locked out of parks and monuments and federal restrooms. The full-scale shutdown threatened today would have risen from inconvenience to hardship.

Still, as real as the possibility was that the government would not be able to open after the three-day Columbus Day weekend, federal workers had been under orders to report for work as usual — to be sent home again if necessary.

Just as the House was voting final congressional approval — at about 1:45 a.m. — of another of the now infamous "continuing resolutions" to temporarily restore spending authority, White House spokeswoman Laura Melillo was on the telephone assuring news agencies that Bush would sign it.

"The government can resume operations," she said. "All federal employees should report to work this morning."

But the whole scenario of government furloughs and locked national monuments could recur late next week unless the Democratic-controlled Congress and the Republican White House can enact into law tax increases and spending cuts to satisfy a five-year plan to reduce the deficit $500 billion.

That long-term plan, passed by the House Monday and ratified by the Senate early this morning 66-33, is a broad outline of taxes and spending restraints that are similar in scope — but without the detail — of the budget pact between Bush and congressional leaders that the House killed last week.

But the outline is just that — a document that is supposed to provide the shape of legislation to follow imposing specific taxes and spending restraints. That means things like alcohol taxes, increased Medicare premiums, and cuts in farm subsidies that are seen as needed to produce the mandated savings, including $40 billion in the current fiscal year.

Theft reports taken by police

Four arrests were made and two thefts investigated by Snyder police in the last 24-hours.

Santiago Suarez of the Highway Department reported the theft of a cutting torch at 4:22 p.m. A report for Class B theft was filed.

A 52-year-old female was taken into custody at 7:29 p.m. in the 3100 block of Ave. I on a warrant for failure to appear.

Also taken into custody on a failure to appear warrant at 7:47 p.m. at U.S. 84 and U.S. 180 was a 49-year-old male.

At 9:29 p.m. in the 1800 block of 25th St., a 30-year-old male was arrested for driving while intoxicated.

At 1:13 a.m. today, officers were called to the 500 block of 32nd St. where a woman said she had been assaulted by her estranged husband. The male subject, 36, was arrested for public intoxication and on a warrant for criminal trespassing.

Police work two traffic accidents

Local police worked two traffic accidents Monday.

At 8:44 p.m. in the 1800 block of 25th St., a 1985 Chevrolet driven by Karl Humble of 313 34th St. was in collision with a 1989 Chevrolet driven by Carol Money of 2201 Ave. Z.

Money received minor injuries and damage to both vehicles was listed as minor.

News Brief

Astronauts to pack and test systems

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Discovery's astronauts awoke early today to begin their final full day of a nearly flawless mission in which they dispatched the Ulysses probe on a five-year journey to explore the sun.

The flight, NASA's first shuttle mission in nearly six months, is scheduled to end Wednesday morning at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. Good weather is expected for the landing.

Commander Richard N. Richards and pilot Robert Cabana completed a series of tests this morning to make sure Discovery's systems were ready for the fiery dive through the atmosphere and touchdown at the desert base.

A problem was reported when a heater on one of the shuttle's three auxiliary power units failed, but a redundant heater was put into operation and was working fine, Mission Control said.

The auxiliary power units are used during landing, while the heaters operate during the mission to keep the fuel lines from freezing. Even if both heaters failed on a unit, they could be manually operated, Mission Control said.

Later today, Richards and Cabana planned to briefly fire twin braking rockets, which will be used Wednesday to drop the shuttle out of orbit for the trip back to Earth.

Also, the crew of five was scheduled to stow cabin gear and retract the shuttle's robot arm back into the cargo bay. The arm was extended into space for an experiment.

Astronauts Bruce Melnick and Bill Shepherd ran one final test of an experimental system that uses voice commands to control the shuttle cameras. Shepherd has had trouble getting it to recognize his voice, but he finally met with success today after retraining the system.

At Kennedy Space Center in Florida, NASA prepared to move the shuttle Columbia off the launch pad and back to the assembly building today because of bad weather expected from Tropical Storm Klaus. Columbia switched pads Monday so Atlantis could be sent out to the vacated spot.

Both Columbia and Atlantis will remain in the assembly building until the storm passes, NASA officials said.

Church returns to S. Baptist fold

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — The Tarrant Baptist Association has voted to allow the First Baptist Church of Fort Worth to return to the Southern Baptist fold, 65 years after the church was kicked out because of fiery fundamentalist J. Frank Norris.

The vote came Monday night and granted the 2,000-member church now located in Haltom City the right to return on probationary status.

During a meeting attended by about 900 people at North Fort Worth Baptist Church, two people spoke in favor of allowing the church to return and two spoke against.

Only the church representatives, known as "messengers," were allowed to vote. No vote count was announced, but leaders said the vote was "overwhelmingly" in favor of granting "watchcare" status to the church for one year. At that time, the church can apply for permanent membership.

"I think the vote sends a signal that First Baptist is wanted by the association," said the Rev. Bill Ramsey, pastor of the church.

Norris began his attacks against what he considered liberal Baptist leaders nearly 70 years ago. Norris, who died in 1952, was a controversial figure, both revered and hated. In the 1930s, he was acquitted in the slaying of a critic and of charges he burned down his church.

The church, founded in 1867, split with the Southern Baptist congregation in the 1920s and 1930s. It became the "mother church" of Norris' fundamentalist movement.

The Tarrant Baptist Association first ousted the church in 1922, later reinstated it and then kicked the church out in 1925.

The movement headed by Norris spawned independent Baptist churches, colleges, seminaries and Bible schools throughout the nation.

Baptists who opposed allowing the church to be allowed to return said they were concerned it would add to the divisiveness already present in the denomination between fundamentalists and moderates.

The Rev. Bill Smith, pastor of Bellevue Baptist Church, who spoke in favor of allowing the church to return, said Ramsey had told him his reason for joining was to become part of an evangelistic and cooperative denomination.

Desert Shield game now available

BALTIMORE (AP) — You've seen it on television and in the papers, now there's the board game — Desert Shield.

Armchair generals who hunker down with the $40 game, due to be shipped to stores today, will learn that Iraq's brute force is no match for U.S. technological superiority, the game's maker says.

But Mark Herrman, a Defense Department consultant who designed the game for Avalon Hill Game Co., said his game aims to teach another, more sobering lesson. Driving Iraq out of Kuwait without heavy U.S. casualties requires patience — and a little luck.

"There is a lot of force on the other side of the line; you just don't go after them head on," Herrman said.

Desert Shield is actually an update of a 1983 game by Herrman called Gulf Strike in which the premise is Iran invading Saudi Arabia.

The game of Desert Shield simulates in living room safety the standoff in the Persian Gulf between Iraq and the United States and its allies. The board is a map of the gulf broken into octagonal sections. The game pieces are cardboard rectangles representing troops and armaments.

Players do battle moving back and forth over the octagons, with a die and game cards to direct the outcome.

The game gives the U.S. side a technological advantage, and is set up so that unless the Iraqi side shows a Napoleonic gift for strategy, the United States wins every time. But Herrman said the real challenge for the U.S. player is to defeat Iraq while keeping losses down.

Herrman cautioned prospective players that his game is not a three-day war. "This can take time," he said.

And even if the U.S. player shows proper patience and tactics, there is no guarantee against heavy battlefield losses.

"War is always chance," Herrman said.

Units repond to morning blaze

Two units of Snyder Fire Department responded to a house fire at 11:05 a.m. today at 2206 41st St.

According to Fire Chief Terry Don McDowell, the fire originated and was confined to the kitchen area of the home. The kitchen was gutted by the blaze while the rest of the house sustained heavy smoke damage.

McDowell said it was too early to speculate on the cause of the blaze.

The house is the residence of Geahame Kerry.

WTC

ty is providing 98 students while 86 are from Mitchell County, 42 are from Fisher, 40 from Jones and 36 from Taylor.

Also discussed was the college's GED (General Education Development) and ESL (English as a Second Language) programs. The GED/ESL classes are now held three times a week — from 1-4 p.m. Tuesdays and from 6-9 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays. GED courses are also taught Tuesday afternoons at Scurry County Jail.

Instructional personnel for the programs includes three instructors and an aide at WTC, and one instructor at the jail. All funds for the instructors; supplies, textbooks, utilities and administrative expense are provided by the Sweetwater Cooperative, Adult Basic Education Office, and are administered by the Continuing Education Division of WTC.

There is no cost to GED/ESL students.

Because the program is growing, administrators are considering expanding it.

"We see it was an excellent recruiting tool as well as a good service for these people," said Mike Thornton, dean of the continuing education department. Thornton pointed out that students can work at WTC for their GED, then move into fundamental remedial courses and eventually obtain an associate's degree from the college.

In other business Monday, trustees accepted a bid of $15,061 for a 1991 Chevrolet Caprice and a bid of $21,436.71 for a 15-passenger window van, both from Big Country Chevrolet in Snyder. They also okayed a bid of $3,426 for a computer from Dell Computer Corp. in Austin and a bid of $1,846 for a laser printer from Agriplex in Lubbock.

During an informational discussion, it was noted that bids would be going out for a 32-foot gooseneck trailer to be used by the agriculture department. Trustees questioned whether a trailer of that size was needed and directed administrators to obtain bids for both a 32-foot trailer and a 24-foot trailer. They also requested information on how often the trailer would be fully loaded.

The trailer is used to haul livestock, including bucking stock for the rodeo team.

Also briefly discussed were pre-bids for locks at the dormitory, convection ovens for use at the cafeteria and the senior center, and a conveyor belt for the cafeteria.

Trustees present for the meeting were John Fagin, Bob Hargrove, R.C. Patton, Howard Sterling, Carl Williams and John Gayle. Bill Wilson Jr. was absent.

Freedom of the press in America won an important victory Aug. 4, 1735, when a jury acquitted John Peter Zenger of the New York Weekly Journal of a charge of seditious libel brought by the royal governor of New York.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1990 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Once again you have changed the life of one of your readers. You recently ran a letter from a woman whose husband refused to bathe. You told her that if he didn't clean up his act, she didn't have to sleep with him — or even live with him. Well, I didn't write that letter, but I have had the same problem for 19 years.

I have begged my husband to bathe. Ralph (not his real name) is a professional man. He plays golf, sweats, works at his profession, smokes two packs of cigarettes a day, drinks beer at night, then at midnight he pours on the cologne, jumps into bed and expects me to respond! I doubt if he bathes once a month. I pretended for years, but five years ago, I stopped pretending. I moved out of our bedroom, and now I'm filing for divorce.

I truly believe this man is ill, physically and mentally. My father offered to pay for a complete physical examination, but Ralph refused. He's overweight and out of shape, and hasn't been to a doctor in years.

The children refuse to get into a car with him unless all the windows are down. He has a very successful practice, and the community will be shocked and will probably say, "Poor Ralph." But I can live with that, because God knows how hard I tried.

LEAVING AT LAST

DEAR LEAVING: Couples who really care about each other try to please each other — and it should go without saying that if one spouse thinks the other needs a bath, the offending party should cooperate.

It's inconceivable that a man who smells so bad his wife hasn't slept with him for five years can have a "successful practice" that must bring him within smelling distance of the community.

Before finalizing the divorce, give counseling a chance. If that fails, to use your words ... God knows you tried.

DEAR ABBY: The summer has ended and again we want to thank you for running the poem "Our Place at the Lake." We clipped it from your column several years ago, had it framed, and it's hanging on the wall of our summer cottage. Everyone who sees it has enjoyed it, and many have copied it.

Did you write that poem, Abby? I say you did. My wife says you didn't. Who's right? We have a steak dinner riding on this. Thank you for years of enjoyment.

BIG FANS IN SPENCER, IOWA

DEAR FANS: You owe your wife a steak dinner. And for those who haven't seen that poem, here it is, crediting its author, Sylvia Lewis Kinney (now Bundy):

OUR PLACE AT THE LAKE

June is past, so is July,
August is ended — likewise I.
The pattering feet of summer and sun
Are over, complete, exhausted, done!

I've fed the young as well as the old,
I've cooled the warm, I've warmed the cold.

The wounded and weeping I have consoled,
The tender and touchy I have cajoled.

I have steeled the scared, I have scared the bold,
I have bit my tongue till it was controlled.

I've broiled the steak, I have caseroled,
And the grocer thinks I am made of gold.

(The other bills I have pigeonholed.)
And frankly, friends, I am ready to fold!

Next time I live I'll make the most
Of being the guest, not the host.

To order "How to Write Letters for All Occasions," send a long, business-size, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $3.95 ($4.50 in Canada) to: Dear Abby, Letter Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054. (Postage is included.)

Dr. Gott Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I recently lost a close friend who suffered from fatigue, nausea, vomiting, abdominal pain, headaches, loss of appetite and weakness. He was on a well-known tonic that contained 50 milligrams of iron. Could he have suffered from iron toxicity?

DEAR READER: Iron poisoning is almost always acute and, for practical purposes, is limited to small children who accidentally ingest iron-containing pills, some of which, unfortunately, look like M&Ms.

Acute iron toxicity causes diarrhea, abdominal pain, lethargy, seizures and gastric bleeding; if untreated, the condition can lead to coma and death.

Iron overload (hemochromatosis) is the most prevalent form of toxicity in adults. It is a genetic disease that causes diabetes, heart failure and inflammation/scarring of the liver (cirrhosis). Hemochromatosis would not cause the symptoms you describe. In addition, 50 milligrams of iron a day is not particularly excessive; the Recommended Daily Allowance is 10 to 18 milligrams.

In healthy adults, excess iron is eliminated in the stools. Therefore, iron toxicity is extremely rare — except when patients take massive doses (in a suicide attempt). Hemochromatosis is an hereditary disease that interferes with the normal controls preventing excess absorption of the mineral.

I believe your friend died from causes other than iron toxicity.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My 72-year-old wife has a problem with not being able to take a few steps forward without stepping to the left or right. She's undergone an MRI, carotid ultrasound, audiologic evaluation, auditory brain stem response, EKG, Holter monitor and routine blood work — all with negative results. What would you suggest?

DEAR READER: I suggest a consultation with a neurologist, if you haven't already obtained one. It sounds to me as though your wife has a neurological disease that is extremely difficult to diagnose.

For instance, two possibilities — Parkinson's disease and multiple sclerosis — spring to mind; neither can be diagnosed in the early stages by the tests you listed. A neurologist, by meticulously examining your wife, should be able to narrow the possibilities and, I hope, arrive at a "clinical judgment," based on how your wife appears.

If she has been examined by a neurologist, I recommend a referral to a diagnostic clinic at a teaching hospital, where specialists welcome unusual and challenging medical problems.

To give you more information, I am sending you free copies of my Health Reports "Medical Specialists" and "Multiple Sclerosis." Other readers who would like copies should send $1.25 with their names and addresses to my attention for each report to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title(s).

Judge signs order dismissing man's murder charge

HOUSTON (AP) — Former death row inmate Clarence Lee Brandley's nine-year legal battle came to a formal end with a judge's signature on a dismissal form.

Visiting state District Judge Curt F. Steib, the last in a series of jurists to preside over the controversial case, dismissed capital murder charges against Brandley Monday.

The dismissal, mostly a formality, clears Brandley, 39, now a Houston electrician and minister, from retrial for the Aug. 23, 1980, strangulation of Bellville High School student Cheryl Dee Ferguson, 16.

Make-A-Wish foundation gifts stolen

PLAINVIEW, Texas (AP) — Wishes were starting to come true for fifth-grader Leah Rushing, a victim of an abdominal tumor.

And then a burglar stole those wishes.

The Make-A-Wish Foundation, which grants special requests to children with severe illnesses, gave Leah a new bicycle, clothes, videocassette recorder, color TV, cassette tapes and Nintendo games.

But the gifts were nabbed from the Rushings' home here Sept. 28 while Leah was undergoing chemotherapy.

"This burglary ... brought me down," said Martha Rushing, Leah's mother. "I feel sorry for (the burglars). If they have a conscience, they should feel bad. But, on the other hand, it could've been worse. More could've been taken or we could've been injured."

The burglars had the heist well planned, Mrs. Rushing said.

"They know of Leah's plight and they know what stuff is here," she said. "Plainview is not that big of a place. What's really bad is that whoever it was had to know of the circumstances — that I was here a lot and that the Make-A-Wish people had visited. They also had to know me."

Leah said she was upset about the theft. But she was relieved her mother wasn't hurt. "What if they had a gun and killed her?" asked Leah. "I don't know what I'd do if something happened to my mom."

Two weeks before the theft, Leah was diagnosed with neuroblastoma, a rare form of cancer affecting the autonomic nervous system in young children.

Philips working on new project

EINDHOVEN, Netherlands (AP) — Dutch electronics giant Philips Consumer Electronics confirmed Monday it was developing a new digital cassette machine that would also play regular analog tapes.

The company said the system, when used with digital tapes, would provide the same sound quality as compact discs.

Fort Worth-based Tandy Corp. said Monday it was working with Philips on the technology.

Tandy said the system's introduction would depend on action from the U.S. Congress on copyright legislation. Record companies have been fearful that digital audio tapes' ability to make near-perfect copies would encourage record piracy.

Police force under fire from mayor, citizens

COCKRELL HILL, Texas (AP) — Tensions are running high between the new mayor of this southwest Dallas community and its embattled police force.

Seven officers have left the police force, reportedly after confrontations with Mayor Sam Rodriguez and the public.

Two months ago, Rodriguez sent an expletive-filled memo to the police department after hearing that a patrolman had talked of shooting him. In the memo, Rodriguez dared the "big bad officer" to pull the trigger. He also threatened to fire city employees who denounced him, the Dallas Times Herald reported Monday.

Last week, in an effort to quell rumors of drug abuse in the department, all 10 officers were ordered to take a surprise drug test.

But despite the department's problems, Acting Chief Kyle Cox said the recent firings and resignations have not hurt public protection.

"There isn't a police chief around who wouldn't want more officers, but I think our needs aren't as obvious as other departments like Dallas," he said.

"Our heat pump keeps the house comfortable all year long. And saves us money, too."

—James and Jami Haest
Midland, Texas

A Heat Pump cools, heats and saves.

Honest talk from your neighbors about heat pumps.

Texas is heat pump territory. And your neighbors are spreading the word that the amazing electric heat pump is today's most efficient, money-saving way to keep their homes comfortable all year long.

In the summer, the heat pump is a high efficiency air conditioner.

And in the winter, it keeps your home comfortable and saves money on your heating bills. The heat pump actually costs less to operate than a gas furnace.

Plus, today's heat pumps are made to last. Their proven reliability assures you virtually years of trouble-free service.

So when you're looking for a new home, or when it's time to replace your old air conditioner, check out the amazing heat pump. It cools, heats and saves. And has people talking.

Jesus - The Way - The Truth - The Life

Jesus said, "For whoever wants to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for Me will find it. What good will it be for man if he gains the whole world, yet forfeits his soul?"

In each advertisement on this page you will find the contestants in a prominent football game being played around the country this weekend. On the entry blank at the bottom of the page, fill in your selection of the WINNING TEAM only...opposite the name of the business firm on the entry blank. Then clip out the entry blank and send it to FOOTBALL CONTEST EDITOR, Snyder Daily News, Box 949, or bring it by the news office at 3600 College Ave. Entries must be in the hands of the editor by 5:00 p.m. Friday. Games ending in a tie must be specified as a tie or else it will be considered a miss.

To avoid splitting the prize money a TIE-BREAKER slot will be provided on each entry blank. Pick the total points of the score for that game and in case of a tie the one who picks the winner and the nearest number of total points will receive the prize money. The same formula will apply to second and third place winners. In the case of a perfect score, the formula would apply for that cash prize.

There will be fun for the entire family. Only one entry blank will be permitted for any one person. More than one will disqualify all that person's entries. Entries must be on the official entry blank (No Copies Please). Scores listed on the entry blank will have no bearing except in the case of the tie-breaker. Sign your entry blank and list your address and phone number and watch for the winner's story in next Tuesday's SDN. Employees of the SDN and their families are not eligible to enter.
