

Congress races against Friday deadline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate was asked today to raise taxes on the rich and moderate a Medicare premium increase as it struggled to complete work on a deficit reduction plan. "Do we want to ask senior citizens in the hospital to pay more so the wealthiest in our society can pay less?" asked Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn.

The amendment, sponsored by Gore and Sen. Barbara Mikulski, D-Md., would scale back the increased gasoline tax and Medicare premiums and substitute a House-approved, three-pronged attack on those with higher incomes. A key ingredient of the deficit plan is a 9½-cent increase in the gasoline tax. The Senate voted yesterday to leave that provision intact. The Gore-Mikulski amendment is one of more than two dozen ready for Senate consideration, many of which are designed to move the Senate bill closer to the soak-the-rich package that won House approval Tuesday. The amendment would be attached to a measure raising taxes and reducing benefit programs by $250 billion over the next five years. The Gore-Mikulski plan would raise from 28 percent to 33 percent the maximum income tax rate that applies to upper-income people; impose a 10 percent surtax on those with taxable income over $1 million; and raise to 25 percent the alternative minimum tax designed to snare well-to-do investors who have so many deductions that they might otherwise escape any tax. The bill is on a fast track that congressional leaders hope could place it on President Bush's desk for his signature Friday night. Without final action, or at least a considerable amount of progress on such a package, Bush said he'll shut down the government Saturday morning, when federal spending authority is due to expire. The package appeared to be in considerable trouble Wednesday after Sen. Steven Symms, R-Idaho, proposed stripping the 9 and one-half cent increase in the gasoline tax.

Aggravated assault nets man probation

One of two men charged in an early-morning shooting involving a Snyder police officer entered a guilty plea Wednesday to a charge of aggravated assault. Rayfield Anthony Cooks, 39, Wednesday pled guilty in 132nd District Court and was given a 10-year probation sentence and fined $500 by District Judge Gene Dulaney. Cooks and his companion, 40-year-old Herman Malone, also of Lubbock, were first charged with attempted capital murder, but a Scurry County grand jury on Oct. 1 indicted each man on two counts of aggravated assault. The two former Snyder residents were arrested after turning themselves in to authorities at Scurry County Sheriff's Office around 4 a.m. on Sept. 29. The charges stem from a 2:30 a.m. shooting on Sept. 29 in which Cooks and Malone were said to have used a 12-gauge shotgun to fire at Snyder police officer Sgt. Trevlyn Pitner's patrol car as he answered a disturbance call in the 3400 block of 34th St. According to police reports, Pitner was answering the disturbance call — in which gun shots were reported — when the two suspects fired at his patrol car from a rust-colored Cadillac in which they were traveling. Pitner was traveling west on 33rd St. when the suspects' vehicle, north-bound on Ave. M, struck the patrol car and caused extensive front-end damage to the police vehicle. The suspects fled the scene. The patrol car was later towed. Pitner suffered minor injuries to his left arm when the car's air bag was activated during the collision. James Wells, 32, of 805 34th St. sustained a gunshot wound to the buttocks area in the altercation with Cooks and Malone. He was treated and released at Cogdell Hospital. In other district court action, a seven-year probation sentence given to 29-year-old Tommy Sanders of Gorman was revoked. Sanders had been convicted of delivery of less than four ounces of marijuana for offenses which occurred in September, 1985.

DALLAS (AP) — The judge in the fraud trial of former Vernon Savings Association owner Don R. Dixon has closed part of jury selection proceedings to the public. U.S. District Judge A. Joe Fish said Wednesday that to "ensure candor," he would prohibit the public and reporters from observing the individual questioning of potential jurors by himself and lawyers. Dixon, accused of misusing Vernon funds, faces up to 190 years in prison and a $9.5 million fine if convicted on 38 federal fraud counts. Attorneys quizzed a panel of 73 prospective jurors Wednesday. Opening arguments are expected to begin next week. Dixon's attorney, Billy Ravkind, had asked the judge to close the proceedings so that potential jurors' responses would not be influenced by the presence of other panelists or reporters. Prosecutors did not oppose the motion.

A.—Currently, there is no such designated section in Tiger Stadium. Supt. Dalton Moseley said no such request, to his knowledge, had ever been made.

In Brief

Teen running

PLANO, Texas (AP) — While many members of the Plano East Senior High School class of 1990 are in college or making hamburgers in fast food restaurants, 18-year-old John Payton is preparing to become a judge. The only thing that stands in Payton's way is the desperate write-in campaign of Precinct 3 Justice of the Peace Jim Murrell. "I think it's going to be a strange election," Murrell said this week. Payton surprised everybody, including himself, by beating the 50-year-old judge 6,549-6,029 in March's Republican primary.

Trade deficit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. merchandise trade deficit jumped 2.4 percent in August as spurring oil prices following the Persian Gulf crisis pumped imports to a new record, the government said today. It was the first report on America's trade gap since Iraq stormed Kuwait on Aug. 2 and sent the price of oil soaring.

Hermleigh cancels last four grid contests due to injuries

HERMLEIGH — The Hermleigh Cardinals, for the second year in a row, have been forced to cancel their final four football games of the season due to injuries. "We're just going to have to call them off (the rest of the football games) and try again next year," said Hermleigh school superintendent Jerry Church. "We've got kids sick and hurt, first one thing, then another." "We'll just start getting ready for the roundball." The end of the season came last Friday night in the Cards' 44-13 loss to Borden County. Senior Andrew Sanchez suffered a rib injury just before halftime leaving the HHS squad with the minimum six players to face the Coyotes in the second half. Rather than run the risk of more injuries, coach Doug Cook called the game. Sophomore lineman Lance Price was knocked out for the year with a knee injury earlier in the season. "We're really disappointed about this, but that's just the way it is," Cook said this morning. The Cardinals wind up the season with a 2-4 record with wins over Southland and Patton Springs. They will accept forfeit losses in their final four contests, all district games, against Loraine, Ira, Highland and Trent. Last season the Cardinals were forced into the same corner following a successful 3-3 start.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "A lot of disputes would be avoided if the parties first considered if the difference of opinion is worth arguing about."

A senior citizen friend of ours recently reminded us that "our time" will be here before you know it. That warning was underscored recently when we drove out in the southern part of Coleman County to visit "granddad's farm." We remembered it being far away from the little town with a grocery store, filling station and church. But our recent visit revealed it was actually less than three miles. Our senior friend gave us the following that contains lots of truth: "Everything is farther away now than it used to be. It is twice as far to the corner, and they've added a hill. I have given up running for the bus as it leaves faster than it used to. "It seems they are making steps steeper, and have you noticed the smaller print in the newspaper? There is no sense in asking anyone to read aloud, everyone speaks in such a low voice I can hardly hear them. "The material in dresses and suits is getting so skimpy, especially around the waist and hips. Even people are changing. They're so much younger than they used to be when I was their age. "On the other hand, people my own age are so much older than I am. I ran into one the other day and she had aged so much that she didn't recognize me. "I got to thinking about the poor thing while I was combing my hair this morning. I glanced at my reflection and — confound it — they don't make good mirrors like they used to."

TDCJ Appreciation Day at coliseum on Saturday

Some 800 persons are expected Saturday for Snyder's Appreciation Day barbecue to honor employees of the TDCJ's Price Daniel unit. Employees and their families will be honored in the two-session event at the Scurry County Coliseum, sponsored by the Snyder chamber of commerce and the Board of County Development. Miller Robinson, minister of Colonial Hill Baptist Church and first chairman of the chamber's economic development committee, will speak on behalf of the community. Warden Les Woods is expected to give the response. Chamber Manager Bill Moss said the day has been planned to show appreciation for the many positive impacts that the prison and its 300 employees have made on the local community. Local merchants have donated more than 100 door prizes which will be given away during the event. The first session begins at noon and the second session at 2 p.m. The meal will be catered by The Shack. Entertainment will be provided by Cindy Nix. Also planned is a clown and magician to entertain the young children.

Appeals court: reporters must ID witnesses

HOUSTON (AP) — Two Houston newspapers are continuing their legal challenges to a court order forcing their reporters to help defense attorneys identify possible witnesses to a double killing.

The 14th Texas Court of Appeals, in a brief order Wednesday, rejected a petition from the Houston Post and the Houston Chronicle to quash state District Judge William Harmon's subpoena that requires the two reporters to appear in court.

"It's just that the judgment of the court is so onerous," says Tony Pederson, the Chronicle's managing editor. "The whole thing is preposterous and an infringement on First Amendment protections and we thought it was rather outrageous."

"I have never had a situation where the reporter was compelled and basically (would) be at the beck and call of a defense attorney to look around and identify witnesses in a courtroom."

Pederson said the Chronicle's attorneys would appeal again to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

"Our attorneys will begin work on that in the morning," he said.

The reporters, Felix Sanchez of the Post and James T. Campbell of the Chronicle, conceivably could go to jail on contempt citations if they refuse to cooperate.

But the newsmen say they don't know the names of the people they interviewed the day after the slayings because the people requested anonymity.

"We're just absolutely flabbergasted by the decision," Houston Post Editor David Burgin said. "We thought for sure we could prevail. We will take it to the Supreme Court if necessary."

"It is unprecedented. A reporter's notes have been subpoenaed and reporters have been subpoenaed, but never under these circumstances."

The murder trial, originally set for late October, has been pushed back to Feb. 4.

"As far as I'm concerned, those two reporters are to be in court when the trial comes up and they can be put to use," Kevin Oncken, the murder defendant's attorney, said Wednesday. "If they can identify one of these anonymous sources ... they'll be there to impeach."

David Charles Taylor, 18, is accused of killing Percy Banyon and his cousin, Calvin D. Sanders, both 18, during a quarrel at a house party in east Harris County on May 20.

The two reporters interviewed witnesses to the shooting a day later.

Oncken believes the witnesses may show up to watch the trial and may change their stories because they are sympathetic to the slain victims. Oncken wants the reporters to discredit any testimony those witnesses may offer.

Articles by both reporters said Taylor and four other youths arrived uninvited at the party of a 17-year-old girl. The shootings occurred when the party turned into a brawl.

The Chronicle story quoted unidentified witnesses saying Banyon picked up a bat and was getting ready to strike when he was shot in the head. The Post story also quoted an unnamed source saying Banyon swung a baseball bat and hit one of the five intruders just before he was shot.

"As I understand it, we protected those people at that point because the guys who did it had not been apprehended and they were worried about reprisals, or they had friends who might make reprisals," Burgin said.

"Now, they're asking reporters to go in the courtroom and incredibly and stupidly point out people who may or may not be witnesses. This is mind boggling."

"There's case law all over the place, overwhelming, that allows a reporter to pursue the facts with unnamed sources. The unprecedented part is that this ruling asks a reporter to be a witness and therefore, an arm of the law, a part of the investigative process," Burgin said.

Winners announced for White Buffalo Days contests

Your Birthday
Oct. 19, 1990

There are strong indications your earnings will be up in the year ahead and this is well and good. However, there are also some signals that show you might not manage your resources as wisely as you should.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If you get involved in a joint venture arrangement today that requires an investment from both parties, be sure the ante on behalf of each is equal.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Opinions you hold today regarding critical issues are not likely to be in step with those of the majority. There could be valid reasons why most see things one way and you another.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Try to guard against making impulsive judgments based on your feelings today. If you let your emotions overrule your logic, it could result in a distorted assessment.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Usually you have rather sober judgment and if you take a chance, it must be on a sure thing. Today, however, you may be a trifle too reckless for your own good.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) It's best not to affix your signature to any type of agreement today about which you are dubious in hopes it will be rectified later.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You have ample initiative and motivation today, but you might be inclined to do things in fits and starts. A lack of continuity and method could severely lessen your productivity.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) It will require dedicated effort on your behalf to fulfill your expectations today. You could be disappointed if you depend upon chance or even old standbys to help better your lot.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Just because someone you respect is knowledgeable in a specific area, doesn't mean this person is as astute in everything else. Be careful to whom you go for advice today.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Try to keep abreast of your current duties and responsibilities because what you don't do now could be even more difficult with which to contend later. You can't forestall the inevitable.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Extravagant whims of the moment could overpower your more prudent thoughts today and you might end up wasting or losing money. Control expenditures, don't let them control you.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) In an important involvement today, there is a possibility you might miscalculate and bank too heavily upon what you believe to be your ace in the hole. Be realistic.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) There is a very thin line today between wishful thinking and positive thinking. Disappointments are possible if you have difficulty in being able to distinguish between the two.

Call Forwarding - Busy Line and Call Forwarding - Don't Answer are optional call management services that will automatically forward a customer's incoming calls to a pre-designated number whenever that incoming call encounters a busy or don't answer condition. These services are for both business and residence customers. The company proposes that the services be available beginning November 19, 1990.

The monthly rates for Call Forwarding - Busy Line and Call Forwarding - Don't Answer are $1.00 for residence customers and $3.00 for business customers. The monthly rate for subscribing to both services is $1.75 for residence customers and $4.00 for business customers. During this experimental offering period the installation charges will be waived.

Call Forwarding - Busy Line and Call Forwarding - Don't Answer are expected to generate first-year revenues of approximately $752,000.

Call Forwarding - Busy Line and Call Forwarding - Don't Answer will be offered on an experimental basis in selected areas throughout the state for 12 months. The availability of these services after that time will depend on Southwestern Bell's decision of whether to offer the services on a permanent basis.

October is popcorn month

As the fall approaches, thoughts of colored leaves, school bells, shorter days and after-school snacks come to mind. What better way to end the day than with a tasty, sweet treat made with nutritious popcorn.

"Caramel-Nut Popcorn Crunch" combines the sweet taste of caramel with the crunchy goodness of protein-packed popcorn and pecans. Easy to make and fun to munch, it is a perfect companion for brown-bag lunches, after-school snacks or as the star attraction on your Halloween party menu.

Caramel-nut Popcorn Crunch
2½ quarts popped corn
1 cup pecans
½ cup butter
½ teaspoon baking soda
1 cup brown sugar
¼ cup light corn syrup
½ teaspoon salt

Spread popped corn and nuts in a large shallow pan and place in a preheated 250 degree oven. Combine butter, brown sugar, syrup and salt in a saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring until sugar dissolves. Wash sugar from sides of pan with a wet brush. Boil until mixture reaches 248 degrees (firm ball stage on candy thermometer), about 5 minutes. Remove from heat and stir in soda. Pour mixture over corn and nuts, stirring gently to coat. Return glazed popcorn and nut mixture to oven and bake 45 minutes, stirring every 15 minutes. When cooled, pack in airtight tins. Makes slightly more than 2½ quarts crunch.

played one more spade, discarding a club from dummy, and then passed the 10 of diamonds. East won the queen of diamonds and returned a club. South won the ace and then played three more diamonds, throwing a club and a heart from his hand. Declarer was left with Q-9 of hearts and a trump. Dummy held heart ace and the Q-7 of clubs. West now had to reduce to three cards. If he blanked the club king, South would ruff a club in his hand and get back to dummy with the heart ace to cash the club queen. If West threw a heart, declarer would cash dummy's heart ace, dropping West's king, and ruff a club to his hand to take the last trick with his heart queen.

Yes, East could have prevented this by leading back a heart when he won the queen of diamonds, but you would then not be able to see what a criss-cross trump squeeze looks like.

James Jacoby's books "Jacoby on Bridge" and "Jacoby on Card Games" (written with his father, the late Oswald Jacoby) are now available at bookstores. Both are published by Pharos Books. © 1990, NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

In today's rather routine four-spade contract, West got off to the unusual lead of the five of hearts. Although hearts was declarer's second suit, West hoped to perhaps catch his partner with the ace or queen plus shortness. When dummy's jack of hearts held the first trick, declarer did not want to try to take tricks with a cross-ruff for fear that either defender might ruff the second round of diamonds. That might enable the defense to take four tricks. So declarer played trumps. East won the second spade and played another to prevent declarer from ruffing a heart in dummy. Declarer won the king of spades,

Eyewear as an accessory

Eyewear in the shape of cat's eyes is flattering to most any face shape, according to image consultant Carole Jackson.

"They're wonderful for a round face because they give a slimmer look," she says. But if you have a long nose, they'll make it look longer.

Those little round frames Meryl Streep wears in the movie "Postcards from the Edge" are great for everyone except people with round faces. "Then you're just repeating the roundness," she says.

No matter the style, the eyes should be in the center of the lenses and the eyewear should complement skin tone and hair color, according to Jackson, founder of Color Me Beautiful Inc., an international image company based in Chantilly, Va.

Jackson says for metal frames, fair or rosy complexion goes best with silver or pewter while darker complexion does better with gold, bronze or copper.

OU pair convicted on cocaine charges

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Two former University of Oklahoma athletes face up to 40 years in prison now that they have been convicted of obtaining cocaine for former Sooner quarterback Charles Thompson to sell.

After three hours of deliberations Wednesday, the federal jury convicted John Green, 25, of Detroit and Lamont Harris, 23, of Dallas. They were accused of supplying 17 grams of cocaine to Thompson, who sold it to an undercover FBI agent in January 1989.

Thompson is serving a two-year prison sentence in connection with the sale.

Green and Harris each were found guilty of conspiracy to distribute cocaine and cocaine distribution. Harris also was found guilty of using a telephone to facilitate a drug transaction.

Although both could receive up to 40 years in prison, prosecutors said sentences would likely be similar to Thompson's.

U.S. District Judge Ralph Thompson denied bond for both, pending formal sentencing.

A third defendant, Kenneth Hill, 21, of Oklahoma City pleaded guilty Monday. Hill then testified along with Thompson against Green and Harris. He was accused of originally supplying the 17 grams of cocaine.

Leslie Kaestner, assistant U.S. Attorney, said the convictions wrapped up prosecutions in the undercover investigation.

"It was apparently Mr. Harris who initiated all these goings on," Kaestner said. "We feel that he was the one most involved."

Kaestner said the testimony of Thompson and Hill was vital to getting the convictions.

"I believe it was very damaging," she said.

Defense attorneys had attacked the credibility of Hill and Thompson as witnesses, saying Thompson was a convicted drug dealer who had lied about his involvement before.

"He (Thompson) was, as defense attorneys said, a very despicable person," Kaestner said. She said prosecutors tried to show that and Thompson's connection with the defendants.

During the case, Thompson said he sold cocaine to undercover FBI agent Floyd Zimms at the behest of Green, a former teammate, and Harris, a former track star at the university.

Zimms testified Tuesday that Thompson arranged to sell him an ounce of cocaine for $1,400. He said he initially introduced himself to Thompson as "Tony," a collector of illegal debts.

Zimms said he had several meetings with Thompson before obtaining the cocaine Jan. 26, 1989. Harris' and Green's names surfaced when he complained to Thompson that he had been shorted 11 grams in the deal, Zimms said.

He said he eventually met with Green, Harris and Thompson about getting back his money or getting the 11 grams. The conversation was recorded, but a malfunction prevented almost all of it from being heard, he testified.

Zimms said Harris and Green told him they would set things straight or get his money back.

Thompson, who said he made $100 from the deal, testified that Harris had boasted of an Oklahoma City contact who had an unlimited supply of cocaine.

District 2-4A preview...

Tigers-Levelland tilt tops Friday slate

By PHIL RIDDLE
SDN Sports Editor

Week Two of the District 2-4A football season culminates with Friday's games featuring Levelland at Snyder, Estacado at Lamesa and Dunbar at Frenship, all at 7:30 p.m.

Last week the Tigers of Snyder High School lost a hard-fought 10-3 battle to second ranked Lub-

WTC rodeo team travels to Tech event

Western Texas College rodeo team members are scheduled to compete in the annual Texas Tech National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association event in Lubbock's Memorial Coliseum today through Saturday.

The Westerners' men's team finished fourth in last week's Vernon Regional Junior College Rodeo with Darrin Cook claiming first place in bull riding with a two-head 152 and Billy Brown nabbing first place points as a steer wrestler with his 9.9 on two tries.

Jennifer Lee led the WTC women's squad to a third place finish gathering 120 points as the top goat tier in the rodeo.

Lee took a first place 9.1 into Sunday's final in Vernon and added a scant 8.8 to claim the event's top spot.

Western Texas will be without the services of roughstock rider Dwayne Evans who got his foot stepped on by a bull in the VRJC rodeo.

According to WTC rodeo coach Bob Doty no bones were broken but Evans will be sidelined for this, the last event in the NIRA fall schedule for Western Texas.

Benji Fontenot, another of WTC's heralded roughstock specialists, suffered a sore hand and was forced to turn out his bareback horse a week ago. He is listed as probable for the Westerners in Lubbock.

Performances at the Texas Tech rodeo are slated for 7:30 p.m. nightly. The finals, featuring the top ten times or scores from each event, will be run Saturday.

bock Estacado, Levelland blew out Dunbar 34-2 and Frenship pasted Lamesa 43-22.

The Matadors maintained their No. 2 statewide ranking and a perfect slate moving to 6-0 on the year and first place in the district trailed at 4-2 and 1-0 by both Frenship and Levelland.

Snyder is tied with Lamesa for fourth position, each with identical 3-2-1, 0-1 marks and Dunbar holds down the final spot with a 3-3 slate after starting the season at 3-0.

Levelland (4-2, 1-0) at Snyder (3-2-1, 0-1)

The Lobos exploded for 34 points against the Dunbar Panthers last week on 248 yards of offense while limiting Dunbar to a mere 25 yards.

PRESSURE — Hermleigh passer Felix Martinez, in white, is rushed by Borden County's Justin Jenkins in last week's 44-13 win by the Coyotes. The game turned out to be the last of the season for Hermleigh as injuries and sickness have forced the cancellation of their four remaining football games. end of a quarter.

Snyder's offense was able to generate just three points, a 35-yard Bryan Brunson field goal in the third, on 189 offensive yards.

The SHS defense, giving up just under 140 yards an outing before the Estacado game allowed highly-touted Robert J. Johnson just 56 yards on 15 carries.

Estacado (6-0, 1-0) at Lamesa (3-2-1, 0-1)

After clawing to a 10-3 win over Snyder a week ago, the Matadors will face a disappointed Golden Tornado team that was blown out by Frenship last Friday.

The Estacado defense gave up just 97 rushing yards to the Tigers in their last outing limiting Snyder's leading rusher, tailback Paul Anderson, to just 45 yards on 17 carries.

The Mats were led on offense by fullback Patrick Williams, who accumulated 82 yards on just 10 rushing attempts last week, and quarterback Zebbie Lethridge who completed all four of his passing tries for 64 yards.

Lamesa's defense gave up over 500 yards to Frenship, including 243 passing yards, putting the Tors in a 20-8 hole before halftime.

Lamesa's leading rusher in the game was quarterback Jamie Seago who ran for 46 yards on 6 rushes.

Dunbar (3-3, 0-1) at Frenship (4-2, 1-0)

The Panthers, after going 3-0 in the first three weeks of the football season, have dropped three in a row including last week's 34-2 spanking at the hands of Levelland.

Coach Otha Woodard's DHS squad was squelched offensively, gaining just 25 total yards in the contest.

The only positive thing that happened for the Panthers was a fourth quarter safety when cornerback Marlon Jackson dropped running back Brant Wallace of the Lobos behind the goal line.

Frenship, on the other hand, was smoking offensively as quarterback Brad Cade threw for 243 yards and the Tigers' rushing attack added almost 300 more.

Cade also scored on a 6-yard run, kicked four extra points, booted a 23-yard field goal and threw four touchdown passes.

Not to be left out, running back Brandon Bennett contributed 160 yards rushing on 22 attempts including a 1-yard TD that opened floodgates for the Tigers.

On defense, Frenship halted Lamesa's vaunted offensive show, giving up just 161 total yards.

Teams head to Oakland...

Cincy claims 2-0 Series lead

CINCINNATI (AP) — At least the Oakland A's have a day off to figure out what happened.

Manager Tony La Russa and his A's have some time to consider how they lost the first two games of the World Series to Cincinnati and turned Reds Billy Hatcher and Billy Bates into local legends.

In a game that had more twists and turns than the Ohio River, Cincinnati beat Oakland 5-4 in 10 innings Wednesday night. Teams that have taken a 2-0 lead in the Series have gone on to win 31 of 41 times.

Oakland entered the World Series with 10 consecutive postseason wins and looking for its second consecutive world championship. The A's swept the Boston Red Sox in the playoffs and had Dave Stewart well rested to open against the Reds.

Cincinnati took care of Stewart, winning 7-0 in Game 1.

The A's seemed set when Rickey Henderson scored in the first inning of Game 2. They were 2-6-7 during the season when Henderson scored the first run of the game.

With the score 4-4 in the 10th inning, Reds manager Lou Piniella picked Bates to pinch hit, and the diminutive rookie delivered an infield single off the usually un-touchable Dennis Eckersley. It was Bates' first hit in a Reds uniform.

League seeks b'ball players

Men age 18 and over who are interested in competing in a now-forming basketball league should contact Duane Mozingo at 573-1751.

Teams or individual players may sign up to play.

Chris Sabo followed with a sharp single and Joe Oliver won the game with a single just inside the third-base bag.

Oliver doubled in the fourth and scored on Ron Oester's pinch single off Bob Welch to make it 4-3. The Reds tied it in the eighth when Hatcher led off with a triple and eventually scored on pinch-hitter Glenn Braggs' RBI force out at second.

Hatcher, a platoon player in center field, is 7-for-7 in the two games with five extra base hits. His streak of seven hits in a row broke the previous mark set by Goose Goslin (1924) and tied by Thurman Munson (1976).

He also doubled in a run and scored in the first, doubled in the third and reached on a bunt single in the fifth.

Cincinnati pitchers Scott Scudder, Jack Armstrong Norm Charlton and Rob Dibble, who got the win, combined for 7 1-3 scoreless innings.

"I just wanted to get a good pitch when I came up to bat," Oliver said. "I had never seen Eckersley pitch before and I wanted to take a pitch and see how he threw. I was glad after I hit the ball that it stayed fair."

The A's took a 4-2 lead with three runs in the third inning off a shaky Danny Jackson. Jose Canseco hit his first homer since Sept. 16, Ron Hassey had a sacrifice fly and Mike Gallego capped the inning with an RBI single.

But on this night, the A's couldn't hold the lead or Hatcher.

Oil officials in West Texas said 'cautiously optimistic' about future

ODESSA, Texas (AP) — Diehard drillers in this West Texas oil town remember all too well the boom days of ten years ago, and they have a new attitude.

With oil futures prices at a 10-year high, the once brash crude-loving cowboys of the Permian Basin are hardly rushing to the oil patch to poke new holes in the ground.

Instead, they're sitting back, numbed by five years of losses, hoping Washington will start thinking about an energy policy.

"If we could get the federal government to put in a base price of $25 a barrel, we would see a lot more investment," said Harry Spannaus, executive vice president of the Permian Basin Petroleum Association.

"We can not stand to have oil slip down to $10 to $15 a barrel. Oil that cheap would totally dismantle the industry. There would be nothing left after that."

Thousands of oil officials from around the world are gathering here at the 1990 Permian Basin Oil Show to share product innovation and ideas about the industry.

When asked about oil futures prices hitting an all time high of $41.15 last week, more than doubling prices of three months ago, leaders respond with words like, "caution" and "undeniable."

The price of a 42-gallon barrel of sweet crude oil, known in these parts as West Texas Intermediate, closed down $2.17 at $36.72 in Wednesday's trading on the New York Mercantile Exchange.

Veterans of the oil patch, who made millions in the boom days of the early 1980s, but watched the bottom fall out of the market by 1986, are taking a wait-and-see approach to the recent surge in prices, Spannaus said.

"Nobody thinks we could ever have the boom we had ten years ago," Spannaus said. "We don't have the equipment any more. The skilled man power have found other jobs and the banks that used to lend money to drillers have all gone under."

"The people in the business these days are more intelligent. They are survivors."

They are also more frugal. Industry officials wandering through the smells of mesquite-grilled barbecue appeared to be doing more window shopping than buying at the nation's largest inland oil show.

Prospective buyers shuffled their cowboy boots from booth to booth, perusing the selection of skyscraper-like rigs and pumpjacks, resembling massive storks bending over to peck food.

But wallets stayed tucked away.

"They are not quite in the spending mood," said Rad Cagle, an oil show director, sporting a Stetson hat and snakeskin boots.

"I think people are upbeat, and as soon as those oil prices stabilize at around $20 to $25 a barrel, the folks will get real excited. But until then, they are not going to get crazy with the checkbook."

Iraq's Aug. 2 invasion of Kuwait and subsequent threats of war helped drive crude oil futures prices up. But officials aren't grateful to Iraqi strongman Saddam Hussein.

The first of three arrests was made at 2:15 p.m. at Cogdell Hospital where a 42-year-old female was taken into custody on warrants from Abilene for theft by check and parole violations.

At 7:13 p.m., officers took a 15-year-old male into custody at 20th St. and Milburn for unlawfully carrying a weapon and possession of drug paraphernalia. He was released to his mother at the scene.

At 1:44 a.m. today, a 31-year-old male was arrested for driving while intoxicated in the 2600 block of College Ave.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Would you please provide information on asthma and asthmatic bronchitis?

DEAR READER: Asthma is a chronic pulmonary disease marked by periodic constriction of the bronchial passages. It is associated with increased bronchial mucus secretion, which obstructs the release of stale air. The condition is characterized by wheezing, squeaking respirations and coughing, as the patient works to expel air through narrowed bronchi that are blocked with mucus. In its least serious form, asthma causes discomfort, breathlessness and constricted respiration. In its most serious form, asthma can cause death by asphyxiation.

Asthma attacks are often caused by air pollution. I remember, as a medical student in New Orleans, seeing epidemics of asthma when the wind direction changed over the city and brought in fumes from garbage incinerators in nearby communities. Asthma can also be triggered by tobacco smoke, pollen and other respiratory irritants. In addition, bronchial infection (bronchitis) in asthmatics can lead to asthma attacks.

Treatment of acute asthma requires drugs called bronchodilators — medicine taken in pill, liquid or aerosol forms to release bronchial spasm. Such drugs include Proventil, Alupent, theophylline and cortisone. Epinephrine injections may be necessary. In severe attacks, intravenous theophylline plus inhaled aerosolized medicine, is standard therapy.

In the presence of infection (asthmatic bronchitis), antibiotics must be added.

Asthma can frequently be prevented by avoiding air pollution and using several types of bronchodilators — such as Proventil, Intal or Azmacort — on a regular basis.

Although asthma is a common, often serious affliction, it can be treated and controlled with the variety of drugs now available.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Living With Chronic Lung Disease." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their names and addresses to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

Man who fled South Texas brought back by authorities

FREER, Texas (AP) — A man who fled South Texas for his Indiana home in a chauffeur-driven limousine after he was indicted in the kidnapping and sexual assault of a San Antonio girl has been returned to Duval County for questioning in the slayings of two young women, authorities say.

Adam Scott Richards, 20, was being held in the Duval County Jail today in lieu of $150,000 on a charge accusing him of kidnapping the 16-year-old San Antonio girl and sexually assaulting her at a roadside park between San Diego and Freer Sept. 20.

Sheriff Santiago Barrera said Wednesday that officers will question Richards in the shooting deaths of Dorina Marie Albrecht, 20, and Sandra Medellin, 16. Their bodies were found Oct. 12 in a brushy area about nine miles north of Freer.

One victim was nude and both suffered gunshot wounds, Barrera said. The women, who were friends, had been reported missing Oct. 5. It has not been determined if they had been sexually assaulted.

The sheriff said officers are awaiting the results of forensic tests before proceeding in the case.

"Depending on what we find out, we could charge him or wait until the grand jury meets next week," Barrera said.

Richards, a construction worker, posted bond with the help of his employer, who called authorities around Oct. 10 and said he had learned that Richards had left the state for his home in Fort Wayne, Ind., the sheriff said.

Investigators learned that Richards had used his employer's car on Oct. 5, the day the women vanished. Duval County deputies and Texas Rangers found traces of blood inside the car, Barrera said.

Barrera said officers got information from a Corpus Christi limousine driver that led to the discovery of the two bodies.

The sheriff said the driver told him he drove Richards to an area north of Freer on Oct. 6, left him there for a time and returned for him. He then drove Richards to Fort Wayne, Ind., and Richards refused to pay the $6,500 fare for the trip, Barrera said.

Roxanne does it again

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Roxanne Pulitzer, who parlayed her lurid 1982 divorce into a career as a novelist, apparently has landed in the middle of another breakup.

This time, she has been accused of cavorting with a 27-year-old race car driver who two weeks ago filed for divorce from his wife of five years, the Palm Beach Post reported Wednesday.

Group advocating air bags

AUSTIN (AP) — A public interest group is calling on auto manufacturers to install safety air bags in lower-priced cars, saying the life-saving protection now is weighted to high-priced models.

"Safety is not a luxury," said Ross Crow, an organizer for the Public Interest Research Group.

"Automakers say small cars are less safe but have neglected the leading technology for making them safer — air bags. Tragically, consumers who want to buy an inexpensive, fuel-efficient car equipped with air bags have few choices," Crow said.

Crow said that auto crashes continue to be the leading killers of Americans under age 35, with the fatality rate in small cars more than double that of larger cars.

"But what have most manufacturers done to close the safety gap? They only put air bags in their large cars — in the luxury models," he said Wednesday.

Insurance facts available to vets

Veterans who have questions about their government insurance can now call the Department of Veterans Affairs toll free, E.H. (Dan) Dever, Jr., Scurry County Veterans Service officer, said.

A change in telephone service resulted in the new number, 1-800-669-8477. Calling the VA Insurance Center is faster than communication by mail and allows the policyholder to ask additional questions based on the response to the original inquiry or request. An overnight message service allows callers to leave messages after 5:30 p.m. ET and on weekends and insurance specialists return those calls within two working days.

Computer basics course planned

An 18-hour computer basics course scheduled by the Adult Vocational Education department of Western Texas College will start on Oct. 22.

Classes will meet from 6:30-9:30 p.m. on Mondays and Thursdays through Nov. 8. Fees will be $35 per person.

Lesla Flowers will teach the course, which will include an introduction to the computer, DOS and Lotus.

Love That Won't Blossom Should Be Nipped in the Bud

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1990 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am a single woman with a male friend who is obsessed with me. I have been dating him for more than five years. Abby, this man is totally crazy in love with me, but for me there is no "spark" at all. He's kind, considerate and very generous. I have told him many times that I like him as a friend, but he won't accept it. He's hoping that in time it will blossom into love. Believe me, it never will.

Since I have been seeing so much of him, my social life is the pits; everyone thinks it's a love affair, and it's not. Some of my friends have suggested that this could be a "fatal attraction" situation. I want to end this friendship, but I don't know how to handle it. Your advice, please.

NOT ATTRACTED

DEAR NOT ATTRACTED: This man is trying to wear you down with his persistence. He has nothing to lose and everything to gain by taking up as much of your time as you will give him.

Stop dating him; tell him you love him "like a brother," but he deserves someone who can love him like a lover.

Don't you have any friends you can fix him up with? One woman's leftovers can be another woman's banquet.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been happily married for 28 years, but his behavior these past few months has me worried. He goes outside in the mornings to turn on the lawn sprinkler wearing only his boxer shorts. We live on a corner where he is visible from two angles.

Daily, after he comes out of our sauna, he wraps a towel around his middle, then sits on the patio to cool off in full view of our neighbors. Last week, I was appalled when I came home from work to find him preparing supper with only a T-shirt on!

Tonight, I discovered him barbequing in a long shirt. Abby, he had to walk up several stairs to come back into the house. I am totally disgusted with this kind of behavior and want your opinion of this 49-year-old man.

BAFFLED IN VANCOUVER

DEAR BAFFLED: Your husband could be careless, thoughtless, or just plain unconcerned about what the neighbors might see or think.

But if you suspect that his behavior has suddenly become exhibitionistic and totally out of character with his normal personality, I urge that you persuade him to see his physician for a complete examination from the neck both ways.

DEAR ABBY: Lately, you have had some letters in your column about rape. I have a suggestion that would put an end to the rape problem. We should pass a law making castration the punishment for rape! Then, and only then, could we make sure that the rapist would never rape again.

SICK OF RAPISTS

DEAR SICK: I would be opposed to such a law. Assume that a man was convicted of rape, was found guilty and was subsequently castrated. Then it was discovered that it had been a case of mistaken identity, and the "rapist" was innocent. Then what? Would the law say, "Oops! Sorry?"
