A Shingle to Hang Out

A fellow named Sidney Smith once said that everything which is written is meant either to please or to instruct.

This second object, he declared, is difficult to effect, or attain, without attending to the first. So to instruct, you first have to please.

This same fellow could well have been thinking of this writer when he said, "In composing, as a general rule, run a pen through every OTHER word you have written; you have no idea what vigor it will give your style."

Probably the most widely quoted American who gave the copy editors the least workout, or none at all, with the blue pencil sometimes wildly wielded to run through and re-arrange words, was the immortal Abraham Lincoln. He both pleased and instructed without being "edited."

A. Lincoln's every utterance set down for posterity was pure, or near pure, poetry. Oddly enough, President Lincoln has been misquoted almost as much as he has been quoted. The quotes attributed to him do not necessarily debunk his statesman's stature. They were just revised to become someone's vehicle to suit the time and circumstance, lending the magnetic name of Lincoln to the expression.

A book even has been written setting the pure Lincolnese apart from the adulterated Lincolnese. And the interesting thing about it to us is that abuse, rather than the use, of the words is what literally spelled the difference to the student of Lincoln, thereby facilitating the contrast between the real and the copied Lincoln.

A bit of the real Lincoln, we submit, would be a most digestible morsel of brain food this initial week of a New Year. It was he who projected work, fair play, faith, and hope, when he said:

"Labor was prior to capital, but property is the fruit of labor. Property is desirable, and is a positive good to the world. That some should be rich shows that others may become rich and hence is just encouragement to industry and enterprise."

"Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another, but let him work diligently and build one for himself, thus by example insuring that his own shall be safe from violence when built."

All American businessmen in our free enterprise system would do well to hang out, and abide by, this shingle.

A Safety Creed

I believe in safety for myself, because it preserves my well-being and extends my span of life for useful service.

I believe in safety for my family, because it is my duty to keep them free of anxiety, pain, and the economic loss resulting from avoidable accidents.

I believe in safety for my neighbor, in order that he, too, may pursue a happy and useful life for himself and family.

I believe in safety for my country, because with a sound mind and healthy body, free of the ravaging impacts of accidents, I can better serve her in our national desire for peace and prosperity.

I believe in safety for my God, because my obligation of the One who created me demands my full obedience to His laws—the first of which is self-preservation, and only by strict attention to the practice of safe living can I properly carry out this safety creed.

Oakescripts A Pencil Pusher's Potpourri

By PORTER

Hello, Haskell! It's a cherished privilege to join the ranks of your solid citizenship. And a Big Howdy, too, to the friendly folks whose enterprising endeavors make close-by communities hum in this inner citadel of Texas.

So far as we are concerned, (and the WE is doubly meaningful, speaking editorially, and for my wife, Jewel, and me), this territory is the Dimple of The Universe. We are enamored of it, cater to its personable population, and our cups runneth over. In fact, they are sauced and blowed!

Three days across the threshold of 1934, we find a triplicity of meaningful milestones capturing our cranial capacities. It's a New Year, one during which we fervently hope for peaceful, productive living for all whose eyes scan this newspaper. It's a new chapter, one we anticipate with enthusiasm, in the lives of you, new editor and his family. And it's the beginning of the 77th year of service to the area of your HASKELL FREE PRESS.

It was on January 1, 1886, that THE FREE PRESS began publication. Now wearing a mantle of maturity, your newspaper this week begins Volume 77, Number 1, prosecuting with vigilant vigor its program for continued progress under the attentive and experienced supervision of its competent publishers, Mr. and Mrs. Jetty Clare, its top-notch advertising manager, Al Hinds, and its reliable supporting staff comprised of Bill Tomlinson, Vance Abeldt, Wilma Adkins and Jack Muegee.

This writer is completely cognizant of what it is going to take to try to match the seven-league strides of the late, beloved Lon Pate, whose stature as a newsman is legion throughout the entire State of Texas. He erected an edifice of superb effort that will endure in the minds and hearts of all those who knew him so long as they live. Our only hope for approximating his achievements in this field is through constant unwavering, dedicated service to this community and its environs, which we unreservedly pledge to our entire constituency here and now.

Here, at stock-takin' time, as the door opens into a New Year, offering a broad, fresh vista of things to come, we are reminded of the catch phrase in the girdle ad which says a particular type of popularized two-way stretcher is geared up to "Mold 'n Hold." Seems to us this would be a pretty good slogan to keep at the front of our mental filing cabinet as we set sail on the Sea of '34.

Moldin' and holdin' our characters, in addition to our torsoes, through stronger faith, brighter hope through work, and self-analysis, seems like a mighty good apt axiom to follow this New Year.

And speaking of puttin' the tether on the torso calls to mind the post-Christmas "post mortem" we heard in Wichita Falls the other day. Someone whose plight a lot of us share right about now, said, "Woe is me. I'm 60 days ahead on my calories and 60 days behind with my bill paying."

January, you know, was named for the Roman god, Janus, who had two heads, one facing the past; the other, the future, so he could look both ways. There are some folks, with some justification, we reckon, who say if Janus were alive today, he'd hang that first head in shame. But we prefer to thump the tubs for the premise that it ain't such a bad ol' world after all.

Being a rubber-necker by profession (Got to see what's going on!), we, unlike Janus, have but one neck to sacrifice; and we're going to stick it out by looking always ahead and declaring as our New Year's Number One Resolution: If I want to kill time, I'm going to try working it to death! (That SHOULD get me off on the right foot with the new boss!)

Curstone comment heard roundin' the Square: "I'll be glad when Joe gets on his feet so I can get off mine."

Following a format for the future this first week of the New Year, we feel it is "meet and right" to think on these things:

These are the first new days on a new calendar. Each new day brings new challenges, new tasks. It is vitally important to decide how to use the new day. Will we be abundantly grateful for the new opportunities, or will we derailed them on our train of thought?

Earlier in this column, we mentioned stronger faith, brighter hope. It takes faith to hope for the best. Yet, it is imperative in our daily living to have faith, or the day and its work may be lost.

Great faith should be our keynote as we follow in the footsteps of our Master, endeavoring to exemplify His Spirit and His Ideal, as we go about His Work, and ours, in this hopeful year ahead. It is our steadfast feeling that inspiration, stimulation, and food for the very soul may be found in the following potent poetry by William G. Tarrant so appropriate at this time:

My Master was a worker, with daily work to do, And he who would be like Him must be a worker, too. Then welcome honest labor, and honest labor's fare, For where there is a worker the Master's man is there. Oakescript: Open Letter to All: Your contributions to, as well as criticisms of, this kaleidoscopic commentary of fantastic phantasmagoria are invited and solicited.

We are so very glad we are among you. Getting to know you is going to be one of the most exhilarating experiences of our lives. Please come see us. We'll do likewise. And HAPPY NEW YEAR!

P. S. It's been said that it usually seems quiet on New

"Thoughts Along the Way"

(By MIKE CAMPBELL)

During late summer and early fall there was seldom a night that the aroma of a skunk wasn't wafted in on the southern breeze. After noting the number of casualties of the skunk family on the highway from the city limits and on south, the origin of the odor was easily solved.

The colored porter was alone in the prescription department of a drug store when the phone rang. He answered with a confident "Hello."

"Do you have tincture of trinitrosulphate in aqueous solution?" the caller asked.

"Mister," replied the porter after a moment's pause. "When I told you 'hello' I told you all I know."

What's become of the rabbits? I haven't seen but two around in the pastures and fields this year. A rancher's explanation is that the coyotes is the answer to the question.

A citizen who had just returned home from attending his fiftieth class reunion at a large university, remarked to his wife: "You know, of my 50 reunions they did something different this time." Upon being asked in what way he replied: "For the first time they put the men and women in the same dormitories."

Personally, not that it matters, I am allergic to only two things—penicillin and cigarette commercials.

Friend Jesse Collier stated that they issued Christmas hams along with other groceries at the commodity store. That was a commendable gesture on the part of the donors.

The relatives arrived on Saturday with their swarm of children, and departed Sunday evening. Grandma, with her daughter-in-law, stood on the porch watching the departing cars disappear in the dark, remarked: "You know, Susie, I

Year's Day because wives aren't speaking to their husbands.

Dear Friends:

With your income tax return due in a few days, it is time to start thinking about your exemptions and deductions. The Internal Revenue Service is now more exacting, but you are expected to claim every allowable deduction. Every five dollars charged off saves you at least one dollar ($1.00) on income tax. There are many allowable deductions, (some new ones for 1962), if you know what you are entitled to charge off.

Social Security laws have been liberalized for 1962. You may qualify for disability retirement at any age, if you have paid in the required number of quarters. There are many other advantages to be gained. It is well to be informed on Social Security laws, as this is the best protection, and the cheapest insurance obtainable from any source.

We will be glad to consult with you on any problem you may have pertaining to Income Tax or Social Security. Come in to see us.

LETTERS ...
To The Editor

January 1, 1963
Beloved Friends of Many Years:

The close of this year has marked the end of my service to you as postmaster and as rural mail carrier on Route 2, Rule, Texas. The moving finger of time has written this phase of my history, and now retirement is upon me.

You have been my customers for these many years, but more importantly you have been my friends. So much of my own life is wrapped up in yours. I have rejoiced with many of you when you have received letters from children away from home. I have sorrowed when some have received letters of bad news. I have anticipated with you that long-awaited letter that never came. I have more often than you probably realize, shared your burdens as well as your joys. The course of my work has bred the habit of caring for those whom I have been privileged to serve. Thus my reward is great indeed.

I know that my successor will come to know all of you as I have. I can only wish for him that his service will produce the rewards in warm friendships that my own service has.

As I take leave of this part of my life, I only want to express my gratitude to each of you for your patience, understanding and kindnesses uncountable during these years. No man was ever endowed with judgement so correct and judicious but that time, circumstances and experience could not teach him something. I have learned that a man does not serve institutions or organizations, but serves people. Even when I have done it badly, your understanding has sustained me and carried me on.

I have enjoyed every minute of my work, it has been more of a hobby than a job. I have met literally thousands of people down the years, and I have driven countless miles. I have tried to live by the philosophy that one serves God best by serving one's fellow men. I appreciated the opportunity to serve that my job gave me.

At this season of the year, may all our hearts be filled with gratitude for God's many mercies toward us. Our lives are always much fuller than we realize, and our blessings our too numerous to count.

May this season be your happiest, and the new year your most prosperous in every way.

Most obediently yours,
Claude F. Norman

Garden Club Holds Gala Christmas Party

A gala Christmas party was the feature of the regular monthly and year's end meeting of the Haskell Garden Club which convened December 22 at the home of Mrs. K. H. Thornton, with Mrs. Ed Hester, president, in charge.

Mrs. Gene Overton was welcomed into the club as a new member, and these gifts were delivered there for Christmas Day.

Mrs. Le Roy O'Neal presented a stimulating, informative talk on the "Importance and Use of Figurines in Flower Arranging." This was followed by Mrs. W. P. Trice's thought-provoking discussion of "Flowers of the Holy Land." With this appropriate subject matter, Mrs. Trice supplemented her discussion with Christmas cards utilizing these flowers.

Christmas gifts were exchanged among the members through the drawing of numbers.

Following the program, the hostesses, Mrs. Riley J. Pace and Mrs. Morrell Dick, served delicious punch and tasty Christmas goodies to the following members: Mrs. Hester, Mrs. Scott Greene, Mrs. Bailey Guest, Mrs. Fred Monke, Mrs. Lee Roy O'Neal, Mrs. Ed Fouts, Mrs. John Fouts, Mrs. P. F. Weinert, Mrs. T. A. Rhoads, Mrs. Gene Overton, Mrs. W. P.

Trice, Mrs. R. C. Couch, Mrs. W. E. Huse, Mrs. K. H. Thornton, Mrs. W. E. Atchison, Miss Nettie McCollum, and the hostesses.

Harmony Club Hold Annual Christmas Party

The Haskell Harmony Club met in the home of Dr. Gert-rude Robinson for their annual Christmas party, Dec. 20. The home and yard were beautifully decorated.

The Haskell Harmony Club met in the home of Dr. Gert-rude Robinson for their annual Christmas party, Dec. 20. The home and yard were beautifully decorated.

Gifts were exchanged from the tall decorated Christmas tree. Refreshments were served from a lace covered table with red and white candles.

A duet, "Oh Holy Night" was sung by Mrs. J. F. Cadenhead and Dr. Robinson, and the club sang several carols with Mrs. Patterson at the piano.

A short business session was held with Mrs. Meadors, the club president, presiding.

Present were Mesdames O. E. Patterson, Tommy Hawkins, Mart Clifton, Henry Withers, Tommy Squyres, J. F. Cadenhead, Sr., Virgil Meadors, Al C. Williams and Miss Martha Meadors, and the hostess, Dr. Robinson.

The following children were present for the birthday celebration: James Roy Akins, Hemet, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Odus Akins and children, Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Gustafson and son, Gonzales, Texas; Dr. Jack Akins, McKinney, Texas; and Mrs. Woodson. A daughter, Mrs. Gerry Bell, was ill and could not attend. Other out-of-town guests were from Hamlin, San Angelo, Lamesa and Lubbock.

Church of Christ Ladies' Class Starts New Study

Ladies' Bible Class of the Church of Christ will hold a special class period next Wednesday, Jan. 9, at 9:30 a. m. at the church to begin a new study book, "This Life We Live," written by Mrs. L. Q. Robinson of Abilene, according to Jim Pennington, minister.

Mrs. Robinson, the author of the new study book, will be in Haskell at next Wednesday's meeting to introduce her new work and her presentation will emphasize personal spiritual experiences in Bible Class teaching and will accentuate methods of getting the most from study.

This Ladies' Bible Class meets each Wednesday morning in the Church of Christ building and is open to all those who care to study lessons about Christian living. Everyone is invited, and especially are new members urged to attend, now that a new study is being undertaken, Minister Pennington pointed out.

Mrs. O. O. Akins Is Honored On 75th Birthday

Celebration of her seventy-fifth birthday was a happy occasion for Mrs. O. O. Akins when her children held open house for her on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 23, in the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Woodson.

About a hundred friends and relatives called between the hours of two and four. Pink and silver were used in the decorations throughout the reception rooms, and on the dining table. Coffee was poured by Mrs. Akins' sister, Mrs. Fred Carpenter of Hamlin. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Odus Akins of Fort Worth, served the birthday cake. A granddaughter, Penny Akins, registered the guests.

Mrs. Akins is the widow of O. O. Akins, and the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George L. Wilson of Leonard, Texas. Mrs. Akins moved to Texas from Georgia with her parents when she was quite young. She was married to Odus Akins on April 23, 1905. They moved to Haskell, Texas in 1921. They were the parents of eight children, two of whom have preceded them in death.

The following children were present for the birthday celebration: James Roy Akins, Hemet, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Odus Akins and children, Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Gustafson and son, Gonzales, Texas; Dr. Jack Akins, McKinney, Texas; and Mrs. Woodson. A daughter, Mrs. Gerry Bell, was ill and could not attend. Other out-of-town guests were from Hamlin, San Angelo, Lamesa and Lubbock.

Abilene Lady To Address B&PW On Timely Topic

Miss Margaret Anderson of Abilene, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club to be held next Tuesday night, Jan. 8, at 7:30 p. m. in the Haskell National Bank's Community Room.

Mrs. Opal Adkins, first vice president of B&PW, and chairman of the program committee, announced Wednesday the general topic of next week's meeting will be "Challenge of Tomorrow."

"The Need for Women to Develop Community Concern" will be Miss Anderson's subject, a most appropriate keynote for beginning activities of the New Year.

Membership committee of the organization, with Mrs. Frank C. Scott, chairman, has charge of the program; and the Personal Development committee, headed by Mrs. Stanley Furrh, will serve as hostesses.

Home for Holidays Is Study Club's Christmas Theme

Three scenes of celebration were displayed at the Progressive Study Club's Christmas program theme, "Home for the Holidays," was animated on December 20.

The first scene depicted an old fashioned setting with traditional green tree and a rocking chair nearby. Miss Betty Hill, dressed as a grandmother, read Dickens' Christmas Carol to a group of children dressed in period costume. The children were Miss Phyllis, Mike Middleton, Donna Nanny, Brenda Nanny, and Amy Medford. This grouping was under the direction of Mrs. David Middleton.

A contemporary tree made of red tape and sprigs of greenery as might be found in a penthouse served as the focal point of the second setting. Mrs. Don Nanny reminisced by telling the story of "The Gift of the Magi," by O'Henry.

Mrs. Wilda Medford presented the third scene setting, representing Christmas in Alaska. This setting contained a serving table with red cloth, a poinsettia, and a Holy Bible. Her remarks reported the fact that holidays are now celebrated there according to the various customs brought to the new state by residents of other states.

The Progressive Study Club's Christmas program was opened by Mrs. Hess Hartsfield, who gave a prayer for peace and good will in the hearts of men. Director of the program was Mrs. Huey Bledsoe, who reminded her audience that regardless of the place or the type of customs, the spirit of Christmas provides the same happy occasion for all.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Wayne Wainscott, Mrs. Abe Turner, and Mrs. Bailey Toliver.

Weinert FHA Visits Sick, Gives Programs

Weinert FHA on Thursday, Dec. 20, went to the Convelescent Home in Haskell to give a program on love, and present the residents with a few small gifts.

Those on the program were: Shirley Sanders, Sherry Hix, Wanda Miller, Linda Adams, Sandra Dutton, Linda Davis, Sue White, and Lois Davis. Those accompanying the girls were: Mrs. Louise Chambers, Mrs. Eddie Sanders, and Scharlet Sanders.

The girls also went to the hospital and visited with Mr. Lowe. While they were there, they sang two Christmas carols for him.

On Friday, Dec. 21, the FHA presented an assembly program. First, Mr. Myers and Coach Adams presented a pantomime, Mr. Myers played the girl's part, while Coach Adams did the boy's part, they pantomimed "Wonderland."

Next, the Home girls modeled the girls had made in class. The Sophomore girls modeled their corduroy jumper. Freshman girls modeled skirts and blouses.

Last on the program program on love that had given to the Convelescent Home. The girls on gram lead "Christmas and sang "We Wish Merry Christmas" and students left the assembly.

Unique Surprise Given Crawford's For Christmas

When the John Crawford's answered the door bell's ring about dark on Christmas Eve, they found at their doorstep an array of 16 wood-fiber dolls, 28 inches high, and with their doll torsos painted to represent clothing in old fashioned ways, adorned with top hats, muff accessories.

Mrs. Jack Lane of Fort Worth, daughter of the Crawford's, had driven quietly up to the house, unloaded the doll group, then clustered her own family about her, out of sight around a corner of the house; and they began to sing Christmas carols.

A sharp, but friendly Christmas breeze swayed the dolls as the Crawford's opened their front door, making the doll array appear most life-like.

This was the manner in which a Christmas visit was presented to the John Crawford's.

And each of the 16 dolls deposited on their doorstep represented one Crawford grandchild!

45 Turnboughs Get Together For Reunion

A total of 45 members of the G. A. Turnbough family gathered Sunday for a New Year's dinner and reunion, their first in several years, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Robert Drinnon.

Present for the family gathering in honor of the elder Mr. Turnbough were the Alfred Turnboughs, the Weldon Turnboughs, the Woodrow Turnboughs, and the Cletus Turnboughs, as well as the Drinnons. Participation of all five family groups swelled the number to 45, with but 12 absent from the occasion.

Chamberlain-Wing Unite In Amarillo Vows

Double ring wedding vows were exchanged at 6 p. m. Friday, Dec. 28, by Jo Chamberlain, daughter of Mrs. and the late Mr. C. E. Chamberlain, and Roger Wayne Wing.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Wing.

Rev. E. B. Cockrell officiated for the wedding in the chapel of St. Paul's Methodist Church in Amarillo.

Their only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Neie.

The bride wore a sheath dress of sculptured cotton with fitted jacket. The three-quarter length sleeves were trimmed with a band of white fur. She wore a white fur hat to match.

For something borrowed, she used white gloves of Dr. Gert-rude Robinson; for something old, an old penny in her shoe; and the traditional garter for something blue.

After a short wedding trip, they will be at home at 4227B, West 2nd Street, Amarillo.

From A Pastor's Study

By DOUGLAS B. FINCH

Pastor, First Presbyterian Church
Haskell, Texas

Sunday is Communion in the Presbyterian and Churches throughout. On this day we observe the sacrament of the Supper in communion with Christians everywhere. We observe this Supper on Sunday of every calendar. Some churches observe it more often; some churches observe it only once a year. The observance is a denominational practice and all practices in this are perfectly justified. In the Presbyterian Church, the observance is a sacrament, and it is never a particular church, and it is never a particular minister. To think that it is so is to claim powers which we simply do not possess. Such practices indicate "playing" God, not worshipping God. We would feel a deep judgment upon us if we tried to "possess" the sacrament which Christ instituted for all those who profess His name and who are true followers of Him.

We Presbyterians feel that the only justification for excluding Christians from the sacrament would be our recognition that those outside of our little church are not Christians, and that we are not the "true" church. We do not feel this way, and we never have. We recognize that we are but a part of Christ's Church, and that wherever two or three people gather together in His name, there He is in the midst of them. We are grateful for all churches that proclaim the Word of God. We do not stand in judgment upon those which we feel to be in error. None of us, I say again, have the whole truth. Even the sacrament of the Supper is a deep mystery, the depth of which we have never fathomed fully. But we say with Paul, at least His name is being proclaimed, and our errors will be made right by God. But He decreed that His Church should be One. In this fact we rejoice, and we feel ourselves in Communion with God's people everywhere because we Commune with the same Christ.

We lovingly invite you to come to the table of our Lord next Sunday if you belong to Him. You will find yourselves among friends who will make you feel welcome. You are invited to the banquet, and there is room aplenty in the House of God and in the heart of Christ.

are your grades?" Second student: "They are under water." First student: "What do you mean, under water?" Second student: "Below 'C' level."

Since politics and elections have used up most of 1962, I am reminded of what A. M. Jackson, former editor, publisher and columnist of the Slaton Slatonite had to say about the difference between a Republican and a Democrat:—"The question as to the difference between a Republican and a Democrat has worried me ever since I was a kid boy and I will probably go to my grave without the information, just as I have often wondered what the exact difference between a Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist. The fine points of ritual does not seem very clear in my befuddled mind," Jackson went on to say: "An old story that crops up in election years is still a good one. "A Republican asked a staunch Democrat why he was a Democrat. "My father was a Democrat, my Grandfather was a Democrat and my Great-grandfather was a Democrat," replied the old timer. "Suppose your father had been a Jackass," asked the Republican, "then what would you be?" "A Republican," said the staunch old Democrat.

I overheard a couple of local high school students discussing their grades recently, and the conversation went something like this — First student: "How

PAINT CREEK . . . COMMUNITY NEWS

BY MRS. GENE OVERTON

Happy New Year, Paint Creekers. May we wish for you the best in 1963. From all reports everyone had a good Christmas, with children home, and nice Christmas weather.

Mrs. Jim Dean had to spend Christmas in the hospital with her leg broken just above the knee. It is a bad break, but Mrs. Dean says she will be up and walking before we know it. The only other tragedy to happen to any Paint Creek family or former Paint Creeker was the accident in which the little four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Dean, turned over a vaporizer beside her bed, and received third degree burns. She was a patient in the Haskell hospital but went home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sims had their son, Dub, the Vocational Agriculture teacher at Eastland High School, and Miss Cindy Williams from Houston here for the holidays, and their other two sons and families. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sims and children from Coleman, and Dr. and Mrs. Frank Sims Jr., and their children from Vernon.

Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Griffith had as holiday guests their children, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Griffith of College Station, Miss Joan Griffith of Hardin-Simmons University, and Rev. and Mrs. Bill Goff of Anson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Carlos Montgomery, Johnny P. u. April and Scottie of Snyder, visited several days with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Montgomery and Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Smith and Jeff. Carlos sang the special "Holy Night" at the Methodist Church Sunday morning. He and Pat sang with the Methodist Church choir in Snyder, and both have beautiful voices.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mickler had their children for a family Christmas dinner on Sunday before Christmas. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Mickles and family of Fort Worth, and Mr. and Mrs. Durward Mickler of Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bahren of Denton and Miss Glenda Walton of Lubbock, spent the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Walton, Terri and Larry.

Brother and Mrs. Bud Moore and children spent the holidays with her father, George Damon in Port Worth.

Sunday night Bro. Moore's brother, Rev. Jack Moore, preached at the Paint Creek Baptist Church. He and his family were visiting here from their home at Hart Camp Baptist Church near Littlefield.

Paint Creekers attending the funeral of Judge John Ivy at Haskell were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Overton, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Terrell, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond King, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Overton, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Isbell, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Brown, Mr. Bill Mickler, Howard Montgomery, Edwin Terrell, Mrs. Fannie McKeever, Mrs. Leo McKeever, Mrs. Morris Hughes, Mrs. Doc Raughton, Mrs. Clarence Raughton, and maybe others I can't remember.

Mr. and Mrs. Durward Liven, good and children spent several days of the holidays with his mother, Mrs. Pope Liven-good in Kaufman.

Coach Ray Overton Jr. of Haskell was the visiting teacher for the Couples Sunday School class at the Methodist Church Sunday morning. This class has a visiting teacher every fifth Sunday. Little Mary Margaret also visited the primary class.

The Gene Overtons had a wonderful Christmas, thanks to a phone call from Bad Kissingen, Germany on Christmas Eve. Their son, Lt. Waller Overton, called at noon in Bad Kissingen and it was 5:45 a. m. here. His voice was just as clear as if he were in the room, and we tape recorded the call and played it over and over all during the holidays. Cadet Mike Overton of Texas A&M came home Thursday and William Overton who teaches in Garland arrived Saturday. He had to wait until after the last performance of "The Emperor's New Clothes" at Theatre Three, in which he is playing the part of the King's Courier.

William and Bobby Segro of Haskell flew to Washington and New York for part of their vacation. I am afraid they have been in some cold, cold weather.

The Baptist Church had their Christmas program Wednesday night, Dec. 19. The young people had the program and gave a play. Then they had their tree with bags of fruit and candy for everybody.

The Methodist Church had their Christmas program on Wednesday night. The Primary and Intermediate children gave the program of carols, a play and Christmas poems. After the program they had a tree with gifts and bags of candy and nuts and fruit. The pastor, Rev. C. L. Lemond, and his family received a radio from the church.

The Paul Fischers and daughters attended two family gatherings during the holidays. The Peiser family dinner and tree was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mueller at Mattson, and the Fischer family dinner and tree was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kinder of Sagerton.

Paint Creek senior basketball teams played two games with Lueters last week. On Tuesday they won both the boys' and the girls' A and B games. On Thursday, they won the girls' games, but lost the boys'.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Cox were in Dallas the first of the week for a visit with their daughters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. James Gardner and children and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cole. Then after they came home their sons and families, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Cox and children from Odessa, and Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Cox and children of Lubbock, spent several days with them.

One of the nicest Christmas gifts I heard of during the holidays was the one given Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Peiser and their children by their landlords, the Haley twins. The two Mr. Hales of Canyon, took their tenants and Mrs. Peiser's sister, Dofie Earles, on a two-week trip to Washington and New York and places of interest in between. They left on Friday, Dec. 21, and were not back Saturday, but may be home by now. Wasn't that nice? We all looked for them on the audience participation T.V. programs, but I for one didn't see them. I know they had a wonderful time.

Sonny Coleman and sons from Fort Sumner, N. M., spent the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Coleman, Dorothy and Phil.

The scouts of Troop 48 enjoyed a tree and exchanged gifts at their regular meeting the night of Saturday, Dec. 22. After the tree they went to the Stam-ford Lanes and bowled all morning. Scoutmasters Roy Wiseman and Gene Overton sponsored the party.

The Bill Griffiths had their children home for Christmas. Cadet Jimmy Griffith from Texas A&M was here, as well as Mr. and Mrs. Glen Berry and children from Beaumont.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Overton, her daughter, Kay, and the other girls in her Girl Scout troop, were caroling and sang for the residents of the Fielding Rest Home the week before Christmas. They took the residents small gifts also.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sheets are expecting their son Howard from his naval base in Florida on Wednesday of this week. He will be married on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Overton had as supper guests Christmas Eve her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lennis Jones of Rule and her sister's family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McBeath of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Loe and baby daughter of Garland spent Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Callaway. Another daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Bounds and children of Colorado City also were here.

Mr. and Mrs. George Free had as Christmas guests their children, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Free and daughter, Roberta, and their daughter, Mrs. Ray Overton, Jr., Mr. Overton and daughter, Mary Margaret.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Isbell were in Stamford on December 26 at the hospital where Mrs. Isbell's nephew, Peewee Mickler, underwent a tonsilectomy. His remark when he woke up was priceless. "That was the scariest sleep I ever had," he stated.

Mrs. Laveda Lambert and her family from Commerce, were here during the holidays to visit her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dean, and her sister's family, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Middlebrook.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Cox spent Christmas Day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Allen in Rule.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Overton, Mike and William, spent Christmas day in Rule at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Jones, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Roberts had as their Christmas Day guests their children, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Roberts, and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Roberts and children of Haskell.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Williams and daughters of Lubbock, and Mr. and Mrs. James Ross Mickler and children of Van Horn, joined Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Mickler and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Twain Mickler in a holiday visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess J. Mickler.

The Ben Isbells had their children home for Christmas dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Stanford Wright of McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Isbell and children of Haskell and Mr. and Mrs.

THE 10 COMMANDMENTS OF GOOD DRIVING

1. The good driver keeps his car in safe condition.
2. He drives only when sober and never when extremely tired.
3. He keeps his mind on his driving.
4. He recognizes the hazards of night driving and lowers his speed.
5. He knows and obeys the traffic laws.
6. He is considerate of other drivers for he knows that he is his brother's keeper.
7. He keeps his temper, knowing that self-control is vital to car-control.
8. His care protects children and pedestrians, for over them he has the power of life and death.
9. He constantly remembers that courtesy is the first law of self-preservation.
10. He obeys the Golden Rule, driving with the care, caution and courtesy he would have others use.

FACTS ABOUT PLYMOUTH'S NEW WARRANTY***

DOES IT INCLUDE THE COST OF LABOR?

Yes. There is absolutely no charge for labor and parts. For the entire life of the warranty, should any defect in material or workmanship occur on the parts covered by the warranty, it will not cost you one single cent to have this defect corrected.

DOES IT COVER EXPENSIVE PARTS?

Absolutely! It covers the major power train components—the engine block and its internal parts, the automatic transmission and its internal parts, the rear axle. These are parts that would normally cost plenty to replace or repair.

IS IT TRANSFERABLE WHEN YOU SELL THE CAR?

Yes. As long as the car has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Plymouth-Valiant Certified Car Care schedules, the warranty can be passed on to the new owner. Think what that will do to the resale value of your Plymouth!
