

Goodfellows True Santa's Helpers

Christmas is closing in on Haskell, from every direction. Everywhere children look, there are reminders of this Glorious Season.

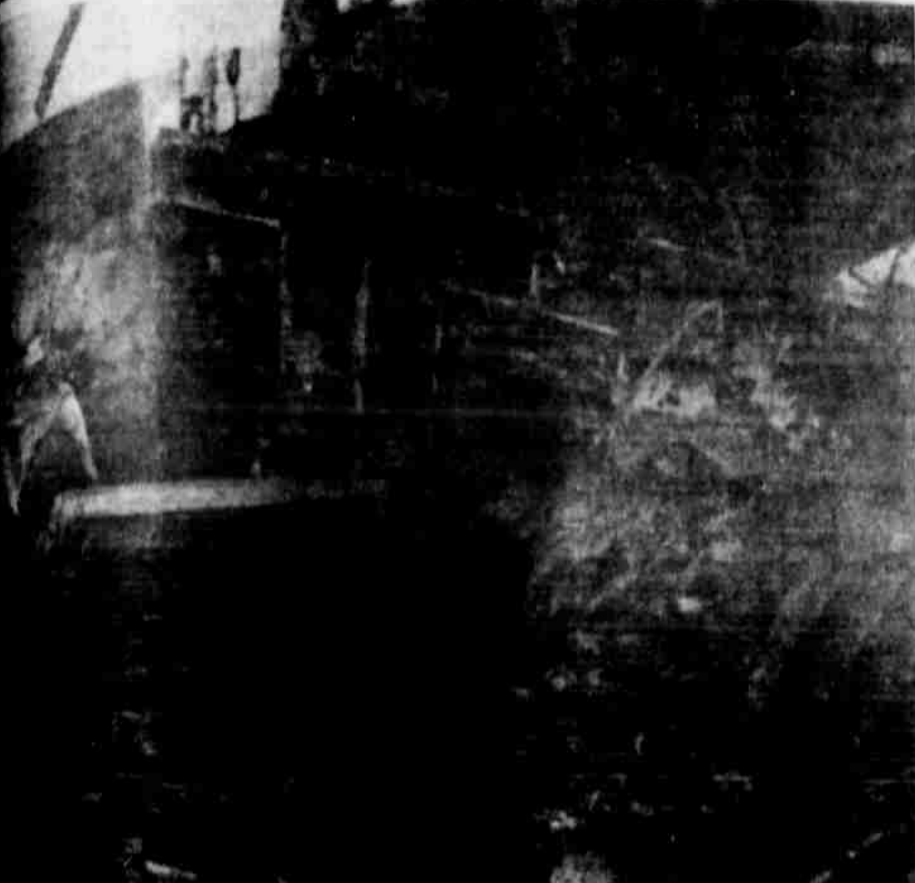

There are adults, too, whose hearts are sure to be heavy laden for whom sickness or adversity, or a combination of both, portend a sparse Christmas. They worry not so much about themselves, but about others dependent upon them.

Join the increasing throng of Santa's helpers, the Goodfellows, by sharing of your means with the less fortunate. Be a Good Fellow, and mail or bring your contribution to "Goodfellows" in care of the Haskell Free Press. All gifts will be acknowledged in the columns of the Free Press unless the donor stipulates otherwise.

Contributors to the Goodfellow Fund through Wednesday were: Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Crawford, $25; Mr. and Mrs. Don Muenzler, $10; Mrs. John W. Pace $10; Mrs. J. U. Fields, $5; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Foster, $10; Philathia Class, First Methodist Church, $20; Couples Class, First Methodist Church, $25.

Strous Blazes Ravage Here And At Rule

At Rule

A roaring fire which raged for two hours in the middle of the night gutted Rule's largest cafe, damaged a fabric shop and hardware store on either side, with a loss estimated at $40,000 late Friday night and early Saturday.

Fire units from Rule, Haskell and Rochester battled the stubborn blaze in the heart of Rule's business from 11 p. m. to 1 a. m. in a cooperative effort of the firemen from the three towns were credited with preventing a holocaust of the entire business section of the community of 1500 population.

Double fire walls on either side, plus the work of alert firemen, prevented the blaze itself from jumping to the Tanner Hardware Company and the Fabric Mart operated by Mrs. Jennie Fay Kevill, the adjacent businesses, but smoke damage at the hardware firm and both smoke and water damage in the piecegoods shop were said to be extensive.

Floyd Lusk, supervisor of the Haskell Fire Department, which spent one and three-quarters hours at the fire scene with several firemen manning one unit from here, reported the battlers "had their work cut out for them for quite a spell."

Only 1 Week Left To Get Letters In For Santa Claus

Attention, All Good Little Boys and Girls! Hopeful Ones too! Only one week remains to get your order in with Santa Claus in that letter you've been meaning to write to Saint Nick, but just haven't found time to do yet.

ANNUAL 4-H ACHIEVEMENT EVENT SLATED FRIDAY NIGHT

Haskell County's eagerly anticipated annual 4-H Achievement Banquet, at which Gold Star Award Recipients Marsha Shaver and David Smith will be honored, and many medals, certificates of projects completion, and other honors will be bestowed to outstanding 4-Hers will be staged at 7:30 p. m. Friday in the Haskell Elementary School cafeteria here.

Featured speaker of the evening for 4-H boys and girls, and their honored guests, their parents, will be Bernard Rule, of Stamford, an authority on area history and particularly Indian folklore and customs in the early beginnings of the settlement of Northwest-North Central Texas.

Marsha Shaver, 13, of Rochester, and David Smith, 16, of Mattson, the 1963 4-H Gold Star Girl and Boy for Haskell County, recipients of one of the loftiest and most cherished honors bestowed upon rural youth, a presentation of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will share the spotlight at the banquet with county winners in many other 4-H realms of competitive endeavor.

EIGHT AREA GIRLS' TEAMS IN B-BALL TOURNNEY HERE TODAY

Haskell High School will host an eight-team Girls' Basketball Invitational Tournament today, Friday and Saturday, Dec. 5, 6 and 7, Coach David Middleton, of the Haskell Squads, the girls' hardwood aggregation here, has announced.

Beginning at 4:35 p. m. this afternoon in Indian Gymnasium here, eight teams will play four games the first evening, four Friday and three Saturday to decide the winners in both the championship and consolation brackets.

The eight teams entered in the invitational tournament are Throckmorton, Benjamin, O'Brien, Munday, Rule, Weinert, Knox City and Haskell.

Pairings Thursday, and game times are: Throckmorton and Benjamin, 4:45 p. m.; Weinert and Knox City, 6 p. m.; O'Brien and Haskell, 7:15 p. m.; and Rule and Munday, 8:30 p. m.

On Friday, the losers of the Munday-Rule and Weinert-Knox City play at 5 p. m., and the winners of the same opening classes get together at 6:15 p. m. At 7:30 p. m., the winners of Throckmorton-Benjamin and O'Brien-Haskell tip-off, while the losers in these same two openers mix it up at 8:45 p. m.

Saturday's schedule calls for the winners in the consolation bracket to play games at 5:30 and 7:00 p. m. The invitational title scrap will be played at 8:30 p. m.

There are some scrappy girls' teams among the schools of this area, and spectators can look forward to an interesting three-evenings of basketball, reported Tournament Director Middleton.

Trophies will be awarded the winner, runnerup, and consolation bracket winner. Admission to tournament games is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

Jaycees Here To Start Sales Of Christmas Trees

A representative group of Haskell Jaycees, continuing their extension activities with the newly organized Bronte Junior Chamber of Commerce, which Jaycees here plotted into existence last month, made another pilgrimage to Bronte Tuesday night to assist that new civic group in launching new projects.

Heading the Haskell contingent to Bronte were Billy Jack Ray, state Jaycee director; James Franklin inter-club director of this Jaycee region in the state organization; and Bill Tomlinson, secretary of the local Jaycees.

Meanwhile, on the Jaycee front here, President Bud Lane Tuesday night directed preparations for an annual Christmas tree sale and organized his sales forces under the supervision of David Strickland, chairman, to man and operate a "Santa House" on the property of the Anderson Tire Company just off the Courthouse Square on Highway 277 here.

Christmas tree salesmen working in shifts for the next two weeks to sell trees, the funds for which will be used to support worthwhile community projects include T. J. Ballard, Jimmy Bledsoe, Oris Gibson, Jimmy Hannz, James Franklin, Don Garrett, Bobby Jenkins, Lyndon Harris, Wilton Klose, Kenneth Lane, Von Marr, Jesse Priest, Tommy Matthews, Jerry Sorrells, Jim Turner, Allen Rieves, Lloyd Klose, Virgil Cobb, Buck Everett, Abe Turner, Wayne Wainwright, Richard Ross, Jack Medford, Dan Dixon, Jerry Jetton, Biggion Drinnon, Curtis Cox, Vernay Teague, Porter Oakes, Jimmy Browning, Bill Tomlinson, Billie Jack Ray, Duke Dixon, Dee Larned, Glen Sammons, Don Perry, L. Passenger In Lost Plane Husband Of Area Native

Joe O. Gardner, of Dallas, one of five Texans apparently killed when a light plane carrying them crashed into Lake Ponchartrain near New Orleans last Tuesday night, was the husband of a former Paint Creek girl.

The former Alice Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Cox, longtime residents of Paint Creek, and a niece of Howard Montgomery, of Haskell, among Gardner's survivors.

Members of the Cox family in this area left immediately after receiving the news to be with Mrs. Gardner in Dallas.

1200 Lights Adorn Square To Herald Yuletide Season

Christmas tree-festooned utility standards on Haskell's Square blending with the glow cast from 1200 individual light bulbs adorning the Courthouse here furnished the focal point for unveiling of windows in store fronts as a weekend of events heralding the Yuletide season began in Haskell last Friday evening.

Trailers of lights extending from the four corners of Haskell's Courthouse pointed the way to an illuminated star on the south side and at the top of the public building here as Christmas lights of the community were switched on for the first time at 5:45 p. m. Friday.

Abe Turner, president of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, said a number of Chamber directors, Rotary and Lions Club members had worked diligently to prepare an additional 2,000 feet of wiring bearing 450 new light sockets for symmetrical stringing at the Courthouse for the Friday night event. The 450 new lights joined 750 in a previously used system to provide a dazzling display of 1200 lights for Haskell's Courthouse Christmas appearance this season.

Income Tax Clinic And Workshop Here Wednesday

A timely income tax clinic and workshop will be held in the Community Room of the Haskell National Bank here Wednesday, Dec. 11, beginning at 10 a. m. under the sponsorship of the Haskell County extension agents, Mrs. Mary Jo Leverett, home demonstration agent and Frank W. Martin, county agricultural agent.

Information at this session will be provided by Tom Hunter, area farm management specialist, of Vernon, and Mrs. Doris Reeves, tax consultant, of Haskell.

The meeting is open to any Haskell County or area citizen who feels the need for direction and information in making and filing income tax returns, Mrs. Leverett and Frank W. Martin announced.

Happy Throng, 7,000 Strong, Here For Christmas Heraldng Parade

A festive crowd of some 7,000, half the population of Haskell County, jammed the Court-house Square here and spilled over along a 14-block parade route on lead-off streets from the Square to witness a 37-element picturesque parade, labeled a "grassroots spectacular" by the Chamber of Commerce heralding the opening of the Christmas season here Saturday afternoon.

The weather had a "perfect" label, too, crisp, windless and invigorating, when Parade Marshal and Head Wrangler Jetty V. Clare, of Haskell's scarlet-shirted, Palomino mounted Sheriff's posse "headed out" the line of march from the southeast corner of the Square at 3 p. m. Twenty-one floats and five bands formed the principal elements of the parade.

Prior to parade time, Santa Claus himself, in the "World's Largest Sleigh," had arrived auspiciously at 10 a. m., and made about four orbits of the Courthouse Square per hour in "Christmas in Toyland" theme-his Shetland Pony drawn "vehicel" in which the children were packed from runner-tip to runner-tip. Distributing candy and interviewing youngsters as he cracked his whip above heads of his pony power, the Jolly Round Man had a frenzied following from the moment of his arrival here.

The parade was punctuated with many outstanding floats, the products of many hours of effort on the parts of large groups of civic and service organizations.

The Haskell Chapter, Young Homemakers of Texas, its members pantomiming famous doll characters, took first place in the club division with its "Christmas in Toyland" theme-his Shetland Pony drawn "vehicel" in which the children were packed from runner-tip to runner-tip. Distributing candy and interviewing youngsters as he cracked his whip above heads of his pony power, the Jolly Round Man had a frenzied following from the moment of his arrival here.

A unique green-and-gold eye-catcher of the Business and Professional Women's Club placed third in this division.

In the organization's competition, the Kindergarten of Haskell Elementary School was the winner, with its "Christmas Around the World" theme in which children were attractively attired in costumes of many countries of the globe. Mrs. Maurice Gannaway is the kindergarten teacher.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce nativity scene and the Cub Scouts placed second and third, respectively.

In the annual Rotary Club sponsored Pet Parade, supervised by Alvin Sherman and E. J. Stewart "Elf" Greg Thompson captured first prize. (See Happy Throng, Page 10)

We once had a copy of a poem written by someone very dear to us and entitled "Thanksgiving Night." The gist of it was that the writer dreamed on Thanksgiving Night that he was drowning in a lake of turkey gravy, and swam and swam to shore... and just about the time he reached it, a turkey gobbler pushed him back in, and he had to swim some more.

Those of us who overindulged while planting our feet under our heavily laden tables last Thursday can sympathize with such graphic verbiage, we are sure.

The numbing feeling which swept all of us through our eyewitnessing of the national tragedy and its attendant heart-rending events via the miracle of T-V November 22-25 is receding, gradually. But the memory of those days will be vividly with us always.

Some things yet remain, more clearly etched than others, in the mind's eye of this observer whose fate it already had been to personally take part in two of life's most emotional experiences. We speak of the posthumous presentation of the Congressional Medal of Honor to our only sister for the valorous conduct on the field of battle of our brother-in-law, and the triumphant Washington procession of Astronaut John Glenn, the first American to orbit the earth. We know how magnificent the military can be in times like these, one situation strikingly contrasted to the other. But the performance of our mighty and noble military last week was an inspiration that will stand through the years.

The one other situation that will never be removed from our very soul was the demeanor of Jacqueline Kennedy, one of the noblest women who ever graced this earth. Hers was a lesson to the nation in the meaning of dignity. And we believe one of the classic and truest observations to come out of the world's focusing of its rapt attention on this nation in the death of President Kennedy was made by the London Evening Standard when that aristocrat of British publications declared, "Jacqueline Kennedy has given the American people FROM THIS DAY ON one thing they have always lacked, MAJESTY." The London Evening Standard of all sources, should know the yardstick by which majesty is measured. Needless to say, we still are thinking on many things relative to the welfare of our nation, with the strains and words of the Navy Hymn still ringing in our ears. We thank God for the already demonstrated dedication of our new President, Lyndon Baines Johnson, and we know that pertinent to us at this bleak moment is the hand that he holds out to us, a hand steadied by the principles of a forebear like Thomas Jefferson. By walking in His Own Way in paths of courage, judgment, and with integrity and dedication, we may look to the day when the strong are just... and the weak secure. THEN, and then only, will this old world be at PEACE.

It was Sunday morning in a Bible class in a famous church school. (Name being withheld for reasons of our personal security.) "Will you please tell me," said a member to the teacher, "how far in actual miles Dan is from Beersheba?" All my life I have heard the familiar phrase "from Dan to Beersheba," but I have never known the distance.

Before an answer could be given, another member arose in the back of the room and inquired: "Do I understand that Dan and Beersheba are names of places?" "Yes."

"That's one on me. I have always thought they were husband and wife, like Sodom and Gomorrah."

Two of the understatement of the year in connection with football games have come to our attention as we ring down the curtain on the gridiron season. The first occurred early in the third quarter of the always torrid tussle between Haskell and Stamford.

Joe Thigpen kept wiping some blood from under his chin after some real mixing of bodies in the game, and finally stopped long enough to loosen his throat strap from his headgear and inquired of Charlie Chapman about the source of the blood. Replied Charlie, "Just a scratch, Boy. Let's get 'em!" Whereupon Leather-Tough Thigpen promptly forgot the "scratch" and went on to play a whale of a ball game.

It took several stitches to close the "scratch" in post-game "repair and maintenance."

The second understatement was that of Jim Norman, who appeared in the Free Press office about 4 p. m. on the afternoon of the Rule-Rochester ball game. Asked how come he was there instead of at the game, Jim calmly drawled, "Well, Rule was behind at the half, so I left."

We learned next day that

Rule was behind at the half... nine touchdowns... by a score of 58 to 0! That simple reflection by Norman beat all.

Rochester went on to score a mere 30 points in the second half, making the final score read 88 to 0. The game story was left out of the Free Press, not by choice, but by a space situation that cropped up. We don't know who was gladder, Rule, or madder, Rochester, as a result. We're sorry. In the "game" of putting out publications, too, you can't win 'em all.

The man who took that historic picture of Jack Ruby thrusting the pistol into Lee Oswald's side was Jack Evers of the Dallas Morning News. He's an old East Texas boy with whom we were stationed at Sheppard Field in World War II. He was the photographer on the staff of our base newspaper. Hugh Ratliff will remember him. In conversation with him, we learned that he and his brother, J. H. They made cotton and feed crops on it in 1902, their cotton crop the first year about paying for the land. This year, beside abundant corn and forage crops, they have made 18 bales of cotton, 12 bales of which is yet unsold. It is safe to estimate their cotton crop this year is worth $1,000. Mr. Wade said their corn made about 30 bushels per acre.

There Still Is Time To Be Judicious

A fellow named Will Rogers facetiously once said, "All I know is what I read in the newspapers."

This is a truism, and not so facetious either, with the rank and file of the American people. It's all well and good, too, IF one knows HOW to read newspapers.

One thing we learned a long time ago is that mere headlines do not a story make, for the main and simple reason that space limitations in a headline, particularly on a controversial issue, preclude the presentation of the source of what the headline says, or implies.

Therefore, it's MOST IMPORTANT ALWAYS to read a newspaper story, and take alert cognizance of the source. It's up to the reader to credit or discredit the source, based on the facts.

A recent headline in an area newspaper relative to a development in our water controversy "shook up" a number of readers around here. As the newspaper man says, the story was "privileged," the story being given out by the Mayor and City Council of Haskell concerning an action that body had taken.

The story, giving both sides of a bitterly contested, five-year-long battle over whether to build or not to build, a dam, said, among other things, that the City Council of Haskell said the existing contracts between the water district and the cities desiring to purchase water from the lake to be thus created, are "illegal and void."

Well, the meat of the coconut is WHO SAID, and BY WHAT AUTHORITY, DID WHO SAY this water district's contracts are illegal and void? Also, since the Mayor and City Council of Haskell did say they "have discovered" such contracts were "illegal and void," by what legally constituted authority does this body have the right to declare non-existent a situation which was enacted by state law?

It would seem that the Mayor and City Council of the City of Haskell, Texas, all of a sudden have elevated themselves to Supreme Court status. It may be that all this hubbalooboo they have endeavored to cause through their sudden change of course in the water fight as of last Friday is a move, whether in vain or not is yet to be determined, to jack up a tobogganing status symbol.

Two things we are probably too "willful and arrogant"—a label applied by the Mayor and Council to an increasingly greater number of people in this town—to get through our creased cranium: If the Mayor "disclosed" last Friday he is going to seek a source of water at Lake Stamford, how come he didn't perform this duty months ago? And the Council's recent action, if it does happen to hold water (that's a good one!) why wasn't it initiated also... months ago?

The answers to those two questions, plus the real reason as to why the suit was dropped against the Texas Water Commission, are, to our way of thinking, still in abeyance.

We're still "willful and arrogant" enough to want to know, meanwhile, for the "purpose of the course," it should be said that Haskell IS NOT OUT of the water district or the Miller's Creek dam project, nor are the other three communities, Rule, Goree and Munday... and there still is time to be judicious.

Vows Said By Shirley Grantham And W. L. Mullins

Shirley Ann Grantham, of Stamford, and Willard Lindy Mullins, of Haskell, exchanged marriage vows Saturday afternoon, Nov. 16, 1963, in the chapel of the First Baptist Church of Haskell.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Grantham of Stamford. Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Mullins, of Haskell, are parents of the groom.

Mrs. John Kerr, of Stamford, attended the bride. Mr. Max Poynor, of Jacksboro, served as best man for the groom.

The couple will reside on Star Route near Haskell, where the bridegroom is engaged in farming.

Miss Joan Brooks And Gene Henderson Married By Dr. McClung In Plainview

Miss Joan Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eual W. Brooks of Henrietta, and Gene Henderson, of Haskell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Henderson, of Plainview, were married recently in the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Thompson in Plainview. Officiating was Dr. Roy McClung, president of Wayland Baptist College in Plainview.

White mums and greenery flanked by branched candelabra holding white tapers provided the nuptial background, and traditional wedding music was played.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a suit of sheer white wool fashioned with scalloped bracelet-length sleeves and scalloped jacket hemline. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion was attached to a pillbox hat of silk, and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis centered by a single white orchid with a white prayer book.

Miss Linda Cantrell attended the bride. She was attired in a suit of blue wool with matching accessories and carried a nosegay of white sweetheart roses encircled with blue frenched carnations.

Larry Gene McDonald attended his uncle as best man.

A reception was given by the bride's parents. Blue and white mums centered the refreshment table which was covered with a blue taffeta cloth overlaid with white net caught at intervals with the chosen flowers. Antique cutglass completed the table appointments. Reception assistants included Mrs. Pete McDonald, Grady Henderson, Edell Henderson and Hershell Henderson, all of Plainview, and Joe Brooks of Henrietta.

The former Miss Brooks attended Henrietta High School. She has been employed by Cargill, Inc., in Plainview. The bridegroom is co-owner of the Holden Funeral Home in Haskell where the couple will make their home.

Sonja Fae Carroll Honored With Gift Tea At Norman's

Sonja Fae Carroll, bride-elect of David Scruggs, of El Paso, was named honoree at a miscellaneous gift tea on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 30, from 3:30 until 5:00 in the home of Mrs. Doyle Norman in Rule.

Mrs. Norman greeted guests at the door. Miss Carroll, her mother, Mrs. Hugh Carroll and Mrs. E. J. Carroll, were in the receiving line.

Mrs. Jake Wheeler registered guests. Mrs. Carl Norman showed the gifts.

Club Discusses Protection Of Plans for Spring Flower Show

The Garden Club will discuss plans for a flower show at a meeting to be announced by the club president, Mrs. C. C. Couch, Sr., at 7:30 p. m. on Monday, Dec. 8, at the Haskell Community Center.

In her talk, Mrs. Burkett pointed out that there are 20 or more insects which attack the annual 40-million dollar pecan crop and discussed correct soil preparation, fertilizer and insecticides that preserve our trees and add to production.

Miss McCollum gave an informative review on "Winter Wrap Up." She declared, "Now is the time to remember our flowers if we are to have beautiful blooms in the Spring." She concluded with timely pointers on bulb cultivation, preparation of the soil, and insect control.

Mrs. B. F. Cobb gave a brief review on what to do in the garden. Roll call was answered with "My Thanksgiving Menu."

Arrangements were by Mrs. Gene Overton. The table was covered with a white cloth and centered with a cornucopia holding a colorful profusion of fall fruit, vegetables, and nuts accented by bearded wheat. A gold dried arrangement flanked by red candles was noted on a small console. Mr. Overton presented guests with dried plants and flowers from the Overton farm.

Mrs. Earl Atchison and Mrs. Ed Fouts, hostesses, served a refreshment plate of pumpkin pie and coffee.

Attending the meeting were Mmes. Atchison, Burkett, Jetty V. Clare, Couch, Ed Fouts, John Fouts, Greene, Bailey Guess, Heater, Fred Mullen, Lee Roy O'Neal, Overton, P. F. Weinert, Cobb and Miss McCollum.

WEINERT TAKES REGIONAL TILT IN THRILLER WITH MOZELLE

The Weinert Bulldogs edged out the Mozelle Mustangs 47-42 in a thrilling Thanksgiving Day in the last of the season for both teams.

In the first quarter, Bulldog Eddie Roberts scored in a 39-yard run off tackle. A one-point conversion was made in a pass play from quarterback Jimmy Hackney to fullback Dale Carroll.

Gary Pittard, halfback for the Mustangs, scored two TD's in nine and six-yard runs. Two-point conversions were kicked in each instance by end Radford Taylor.

In the second quarter, Weinert scored three touchdowns. Bulldog tailback John Cunningham scored the first two with 42- and two-yard runs. Quarterback Jack Dunham kicked the two extra points in each conversion.

Carroll also scored for Weinert on a three-yard run. Dunham kicked that conversion.

Late in the second quarter, the Mustangs scored in a 25-yard pass-and-run play from quarterback Duncan McCarty to halfback Dale McClellan. Conversion failed.

Weinert scored again early in the third quarter when Hackney passed four yards to end Larry Cuddell. Conversion failed. Mozelle also scored in the third quarter when an unidentified Mustang player recovered

Wedding Date Set By Miss LeFevre And Michael Bailey

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert LeFevre, of Sagerton, are announcing wedding plans for their daughter, Linda, to Michael Quentin Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bailey, of Brownfield.

The couple will be married December 22 at 3 p. m. at the First Baptist Church in Rule, with Rev. Vernon Mayfield of the Sagerton Methodist Church performing the ceremony.

Miss LeFevre, who attended Draughon's Business College in Abilene, is employed at Corporation Court by the City of Abilene. The prospective bridegroom is a freshman at North Texas State College in Denton.

Banquet Set By Christian Church Keystone Class

A holiday banquet "exemplifying the true spirit of Christmas" will be sponsored by the Keystone Class of the Haskell Christian Church next Tuesday night, Dec. 10, at 7 p. m., Rogers Durham, minister, announced.

The entire congregation of the church is expected to attend the event at which the program will be provided by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gates, directors of the Alaska Christian Children's Home at Homer, Alaska.

As leaders of this home in the far north for orphaned and deserted children, the Gates couple will bring a message emphasizing "love, Christian mercy, and all the things which Christmas personifies," said Mr. Durham. The message, coming at this time, should be stimulating to all who hear it, the pastor of the Christian Church here declared.

The Christian children's home directors are on an extensive tour of this section of the country, and have programs scheduled in Benjamin, Crowell, Memphis and Amarillo, after leaving Haskell.

County HD Council To Have Christmas Party Wednesday

A Christmas party during which gifts will be exchanged, will be held at the Courthouse office of Mrs. Mary Jo Leverett, home demonstration agent, by members of the Haskell County Women's Home Demonstration Council Wednesday, Dec. 11, at 3 p. m.

Council delegates will also take care of routine business at the get-together which also will serve as the December meeting of the Council, Mrs. Leverett announced.

Linda LeFevre Is Honored With Tea At Sagerton

Linda LeFevre, of Sagerton and Abilene, bride-elect of Michael Quentin Bailey, of Denton, was honored with a gift tea in the home of Mrs. Charles Clark in Sagerton, Saturday, Nov. 30.

Her chosen colors pink and white, were used in the table decorations. Mrs. Lee Weldon Norman, of Rule, and Mrs. Melvin New, presided at the refreshment table. Jana Ulmer of Lubbock, registered guests. Miss Tommye Jo Simpson of Abilene played piano selections during the party.

Other hostesses were Mmes. M. Y. Benton, F. A. Ulmer, John Clark, Glen Quade, Johnny Spitzer and Herbert Stremmel.

Their wedding date is December 22 at the First Baptist Church in Rule.

Trinity Lutheran Will Hold Series Holiday Services

Trinity Lutheran Church of Haskell is planning a series of special worship services to be held during the Christmas season, Rev. James F. Schaefer, pastor, has announced.

"Christmas is still a church festival," the Lutheran pastor said, "and a time when people should center their attention around the church."

A Christmas Eve children's program will be held at Trinity Lutheran Church at either 6:30 or 7 p. m., the exact time to be announced later according to Rev. Schaefer.

There also will be worship services on both Christmas and New Year's Days at 10 a. m.

Support Sent To Mary Jane Brown, Neighbor In Need

The Mary Jane Brown Fund, established to help a deserving Haskell County lady stricken down with lateral sclerosis, continued to grow this past week. Abe Turner, cashier of the Haskell National Bank, and custodian of the fund, announced Tuesday.

Latest contributions have been those of Clyde Williams, $5, and an anonymous donor for $10.

Mrs. Brown, strengthened by the interest of area citizens in her welfare and by the medicines and therapy their contributions have provided, appears to be making some headway against the dread malady, it was reported Tuesday.

Additional contributions in support of this deserving person should be taken or sent to Turner at the bank here. They will be received with the deep gratitude of a neighbor in need.

Family Night Supper Slated For Legionnaires

Haskell's American Legion Post will sponsor a Family Night with supper and games on Saturday, Pearl Harbor Day, at 7 p. m. in the Legion Hall here, Commander R. V. Black has announced.

A turkey and dressing supper will be served for the nominal price of fifty-cents per person, and bingo games will be played after the meal.

Reservations should be made with Truett Parsons, post adjutant, at 910 North Fifth St., here not later than Thursday, Dec. 5.

Gospel Singing Convention Is Set For Sunday

Haskell County's Singing Convention will convene Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. in the Central Baptist Church here with a stimulating session in prospect, T. C. Cobb president, announced.

"There are plenty of good old time gospel song books available, and we hope there'll be many voices blending in song Sunday afternoon," Cobb declared.

The Good Earth

The blowing wind and pelting rain brings new life to the growing grain.

by MRS. B. F. COBB

The culture of Dahlias may not seem timely right now. Actually it is, for the ground should be prepared now for next year's crop.

In preparing a bed, dig the soil deeply, incorporate some well rotted manure or compost as you dig. This early tilling of the soil helps to hold the winter moisture. By the slow process of decay, fertilizer added at this time, insures the fertility and porosity of next year's garden.

Next spring after the danger of frost has passed, select the type and kind of dahlia most suited to your needs. There are many varieties; they are classified as Tall, decorative, cactus, ball and miniature.

When all danger of frost has passed, drive stakes into the ground where the tall dahlias are to be planted. Space the plants 4 feet apart. Dig a 6-inch deep hole at the base of the stake, wide enough to accommodate the tuber lying horizontally with the eye up and facing the stake. Fill the hole to two or three inches of the top with dirt. As the plant emerges, tie it to the stake, keeping it as the growth develops. This method of planting applies to all dahlias except that the stake is only used with the large varieties.

Dahlias bloom from 80 to 100 days after planting. Large blooms are developed by pinching back the plant for bushiness, careful feeding and disbudding.

Mulch with well dried grass clippings, or well rotted compost, to hold the moisture. Water deeply once or twice a week through dry weather. Shallow watering causes the bottom leaves to curl and die.

Follow these rules and your next year's dahlia garden will help to enrich "the Good Earth."

Appeal Voiced To Aid Our Own At State Hospital

Five Haskell Countians are among the 450 patients at the Vernon State Hospital far from their own families for whom a new coordinator for volunteer services at the hospital is endeavoring to arrange a cheery Christmas.

Mrs. Anna Summerour has just taken on the job as coordinator for volunteer services, and the 450 men and women patients from 96 Texas counties, among them the five from Haskell County, are her chief concern.

Mrs. C. D. Beard of Vernon is chairman of the Volunteer Council for the hospital and she has assured Mrs. Summerour there will be Christmas trees and parties for all wards. Volunteers will gift wrap and tag the gifts for the patients. They will bring homemade cakes and cookies, help the hospital staff and patients with decorations and even do the shopping for organizations and individuals who send cash or checks to help make it a joyous time for the patients.

Such checks, Mrs. Beard emphasized, should be made payable to the Volunteer Council and mailed to Box 1440, Vernon, Texas.

She asked that gifts be mailed by December 7 to avoid dis-appointment to any patient.

The kind of gifts suggested are the "same kind you give to your own aunts and uncles," Mrs. Beard said. Wearing ap- parel, toiletries, smoking ma- terials, soft candies, writing materials and stamps, and small jars of instant coffee, are especially appreciated.

Most of the patients in the Vernon hospital are older men and women and are physically active.

"It takes so little from each county to assure its patients a pleasant Christmas," said Mrs. Beard. But to Anna Summer- our, 450 men and women look like a pretty big family, with Christmas rushing toward her at full speed.

Here for Thanksgiving Mrs. N. I. McCollum and Miss Nettie McCollum had as Thanksgiving homecomers over the weekend Mr. and Mrs. John L. McCollum, of Dallas, and Mr. and Mrs. Elvyn Jordan, of San Antonio. A delight- ful Thanksgiving was spent at the McCollum residence, 1000 North Eighth, here.

Haskell John Deere Dealer To Be Honored

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Gilmore of Haskell will be among ap- proximately 3,000 John Deere dealership personnel to be hon- ored during visits to John Deere facilities at Waterloo and Du- buque, Iowa, and Moline, Il- linois.

Gilmore, who is associated with Gilmore Implement Com- pany of Haskell, was chosen for recognition as a result of his contribution to the out- standing tractor sales made by the local firm during the past year.

Gilmore is scheduled to make the trip, called "Flite 63," December 8 to December 11. He and his wife will tour John Deere factories in the three locations and attend a schedule of special events be- ing held in their honor.

'64 Pontiac

Here's why you'll like it.

Here's why you'll tell other people you like it.

Wide-Track, for instance. Wide-Track is what does away with tilting your way around turns. Pontiac's smoother, quieter ride is another thing you might point out. A big 389-cubic-inch Trophy V-8 is standard in each and every Pontiac. You get to choose from 34 engine/transmission teams to harness all that power. (Happy choosing!)

Now then—on to more of the things that make the '64 Pontiac so thoroughly likeable. Frankly, we couldn't think of anything radical to do with this car. Oh, we made the styling even more stylish, as you can plainly see. We lavished even more care on the interiors. We even improved the light bulbs. But as for more vital things, why change? Improve, re- fine, sharpen—yes. Change—no. And you can tell that to your friends.

FRIGIDAIRE
NEW 1964 FLOWING HEAT DRYERS

Exclusive Flowing Heat — safer than radiant! Only Frigidaire has it — and the fluffiest fabric love it. No "hot spots." Wonderfully gentle Flowing Heat does every last piece in every load — no hot spots — clear through. Colors stay brighter. No sun fading!

No venting — no plumbing with exclusive Filterator! Save on installation! Not one cent for plumbing or venting. The Frigidaire Filterator removes moisture automatically — into a slide-out spill guard pan! Optional automatic disposal, too!

No stretching — no stretching — no lint problem! In some dryers, lint cleaning's a real chore. Not with Frigidaire! Every Frigidaire Dryer has a no-stoop lint screen right up front — on the door. Cleaning's done in less than 1 minute — without stooping or bending!

Automatic Dry control ends drying time guesswork! No over-drying — under-drying! Automatic Dry control measures moisture — shuts off dryer when clothes are just-right dry. Choice of Timed Drying in every model.

Beats all outdoors for getting clothes dry! One dial does all the work. You have a choice of Timed or No Heat settings. And special settings for delicate fabrics and Wash & Wears. Plus — automatic cool-and-fluff period at end of every cycle — an advanced feature you'll find in every '64 Frigidaire Dryer. Prattle

By AL HINDS

Of Prattle is glad the football season is nearing the end for this season. For last week-end contests, I batted a lousy .333. Only two games are on tap in the Southwest Conference this weekend, and I take my pick like this:

Baylor over SMU: Hate to go against the Ponies, but the Bears are on the come-back trail.

TCU over Rice: May be wrong on this one, but the Owls have let me down too many times.

A pretty good indicator that some very cold weather is on its way, was evident last Friday noon, when literally thousands of honking geese blackened the skies over Haskell as they winged their way high overhead out of the north and headed in a southeasterly direction. Some six or seven long formations flew over in succession, and each time one of the formations broke the line, the "head man" (I mean the "head goose"), leading the "flock" would bring the geese back into line with extra loud honking.

If your eyes were misty while viewing on TV the last rites for our beloved President, then after reading the very touching poem printed below, I know a tear or two will trickle down your cheeks.

Texas

FRIDAY-SATURDAY

SUNDAY-MONDAY

"Summer Holiday"

COMING SOON!

The poem, "Empty Saddle," was written November 25th by the talented Wanda Dulaney, of Dallas. She is a former Haskell resident, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Dulaney, and sister of Bob and Desmond Dulaney, of this city.

Copies of the poem went to Brian, son of Mr. and Mrs. Desmond Dulaney and Mike and Pat, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dulaney.

Miss Wanda Dulaney is publicity director of the Dallas Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Down a main thoroughfare usually jammed by cars. A strange sight came that way. The sight: a horse without a rider.

The street: Washington, USA. The sides of the street are lined with people.

In a span that stretches for miles. Heavy hearts and tearful eyes; Faces devoid of smiles. A caisson rolls ahead of the horse.

With the military flanking each side. A box of bronze is on the cart. In this sad and solemn ride.

Six white horses pull the cart: Military units march ahead. What does all of it signify? Our President is dead.

The day of the week is Monday; The sky overhead is blue. In view of all this peacefulness Could the day of Black Friday be true?

When, in yet another ride, Cheering crowds lined the streets that day.

A smiling, happy President Was coming near their way. The downtown parade was almost over.

When a sniper aimed for the President's head. Soon the news was read that shocked the world. The announcement that he was dead.

Now here was the long cortege. Shown by video to all the land. The Father of our Country. Commander in Chief. A noted man.

To the one in the first car behind the caisson. He was these things, but closer to heart.

He was the man to whom she had vowed. To live 'till death did them part. The face behind the long black veil.

Portrays only stunned disbelief and woe. But she was First Lady secondly. And a Mother first, we know. No doubt amid the grief she feels.

Her thoughts must ever stray. To her little girl who is almost six.

And a boy who is three today. A day he would otherwise celebrate.

In the joyful world of the life he led. But the child's halibon had been burst with sorrow. This little boy's daddy is dead.

Other members of the family followed. Then dignitaries of the world—Emperors, presidents, chancellors, queens.

Princes, representatives here now hurried. They came en masse to pay respect.

In many warm and friendly ways. They came to mourn with a nation.

That hadn't smiled for four long days. Now the procession reaches the Lincoln Monument.

The Potomac River bridge to cross. The journey is almost over. The climax of a country's loss.

An open hill awaits the interment. Where 21,000 honored Americans lie. The funeral dirge continues to play. As Air Force planes now fill the sky.

A time-honored, traditional ceremony is scheduled to begin soon there.

All units stand at attention. The National Anthem fills the air.

A 21-gun salute is the sound now heard.

The President's plane flies on high; "Taps" remind that the day is done.

That "all is well and God is nigh." As is the custom in such procedures.

When honoring a military man, The flag from the coffin is folded.

And placed in his widow's hand. She now lights a torch. With a permanent glow.

Symbolic of the unquenchable spirit. Of the one who lies below.

The riderless horse is imbued with that spirit. And though we ponder why this all happened so. The reason a saddle is empty. Is not for mortal men to know.

Happy Throng--

followed by Danny Hartsfield in second place, and Debbie Brown, third.

Many other floats drew tremendous applause from the pleased crowd for unique appearance and originality as they passed along the parade route. It was one of the most picturesque and most ambitious projects ever undertaken here, and accomplished all its goals. Chamber of Commerce leaders said.

The Courthouse Square here, bedecked with festoons of Christmas trees and huge bells adorning utility standards, received the pargest parade in history here in gay spirit.

Due to the cancellation of a Shrine Ceremonial from the previous Saturday to last in Wichita Falls, the appearance of the Maskat Temple Clown Patrol from that city necessarily had to be cancelled here.

W. A. Spoons, recorder of Maskat Temple, said the widely publicized and eagerly anticipated appearance of the unit in Haskell will be made at a later date.

Goggle-eyed children and equally rapt parents stood six deep along the snaking parade route to watch the following elements in the line of march here Saturday afternoon: State, County and City law enforcement patrol cars. Haskell High School Band, Mayor J. E. Walling, Mrs. Walling, members of their family; Abe Turner, president of the Chamber of Commerce and chairman of Christmas events; and directors of the chamber; Rotary Club sponsored annual Pet Parade, an "institution" of the Yuletide heralding procession; the Chamber of Commerce float, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Lane-Feiker float, Bill Wilson Motor Company, Business and Professional Women's Club float, Haskell Junior High Band, another Girl Scout contingent; Negro Cub Scout Troop 65; Rotary Club float, Medford Motor Co., Rochester High School Band, Jones-Cox float, Progressive Study Club, Sherman's Interiors, Perry Motor Company, Aspermont High Band, Lions Club float, Santa Claus and his Sleigh, Frazier's float, Personality Shoppe float, Christine's Beauty Salon, Haskell High School Nativity scene, American Legion float, White's Auto Store, Rule Pep Squad, Tolliver Motor Company, Kindergarten float, Young Homemakers of Texas, Haskell Chapter, float; Jaycees' Nativity scene, Wooten Oil Company.

Closing out the parade was the 22-member Haskell Sheriff's Posse, winners of trophies as the outstanding riding club in ten of fourteen appearances and rodeos, fairs and other special events this year.

A. L. (Ace) Davis Seeks 2nd Term As Constable

A. L. (Ace) Davis Constable Precinct One, Haskell County Tuesday formally announced his candidacy for a 2nd term in the office he now holds, subject to the 1964 Democratic Primaries.

The well-known law enforcement officer, familiar with every nook and cranny of the territory and most of the people he serves by virtue of his 40 years' residence here, was in office two and a half years of the unexpired term of Bob Marlow prior to taking office for his first elective term on January 1, 1961. His announcement this week is in quest of a second elective term as constable of Precinct 1.

In announcing his candidacy Constable Davis declared, "I have endeavored to faithfully and well prosecute the duties and responsibilities of this office which I consider a public trust. The unwavering past support of my constituents has been tremendously appreciated and their continued backing in returning me to office for a second term, will be deeply appreciated."

Jim Schaefer Lions Speaker Tuesday Noon

Jim Schaefer, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church, spoke to members of the Haskell Lions Club at the Tuesday noon luncheon meeting. C. O. Holt was in charge of the program, and President Wallace Cox, Jr. introduced the guest speaker.

"Although Christianity has had the most profound influence upon the lives of mankind, it is not the only major religion in the world. Another religion which must be considered major, is Hinduism," Mr. Schaefer said.

Continuing, Mr. Schaefer said: "As you all know, Hinduism is mainly found in India. It is a faith that professes a Trinity as does Christianity. This Trinity is different, however, than that which Christianity has. It is composed of Brahma, the God of all; the creator;

Political Announcements

The Free Press is authorized to make the following announcements for office in Haskell County, subject to action of the Democratic primaries in 1964:

FOR SHERIFF: G. T. (Garth) Garrett, For re-election. 2nd term.

J. R. (Skeeter) Miller FOR COMMISSIONER: Precinct 3--Louie Kuenstler. For re-election.

FOR TAX ASSESSOR-COLLECTOR: Elizabeth Stewart for Re-election.

Siva, the Goddess of love; and Vishnu, the God of war. Under these three are thousands of minor gods and goddesses which are embraced by separate villages and tribes in order to ward off sickness--famine, poverty, and the like."

"Hinduism is a religion that uses human emotions as the basis for its appeal to mankind. For people who have not heard the way of love it does a very complete job of wrapping up their lives in ritual, fear and superstition.

"We are indeed fortunate in having been shown the better way," the guest speaker said.

Guests, other than the speaker, noted at Tuesday's session were Le Roy Havenlah and Pat Smith, of Haskell.

Officers and directors met Tuesday morning at 7:00 o'clock at the Highway Drive-In. With the exception of planning the Goodfellows project for December, a regular routine business was on the agenda at the early morning breakfast meeting.

President Wallace Cox, Jr., appointed Pluto Pruett chairman of the "Safety Month" project for January.

Secretary Harold Spain reported the club netted $268.80 from the Do-Nut sale. All of this money was placed in the Goodfellows Fund.
