INDIANS OUT TO BEHEAD BURK BULLDOGS HERE FRIDAY AT 8:00

Happy 150 fari Haskell, fresh from thumping Clyde in a well-earned de-footing of Bulldogs, 25-14, in their own kennel last Friday, take on yet another AAAI Burk Burnett Bulldogs, on our own hopeful hunting ground, Indian Stadium, at 8:00 p. m.

Promptly at 7:45, 15 minutes before kickoff, the Haskell Ministerial Alliance will hold a brief program in dedication of a flagpole the Alliance has given to the high school and the citizens of Haskell. Rev. Douglas Finch, president of the Ministerial Alliance, will give a brief dedicatory talk followed by prayer by Rogers Durham, minister of the Christian Church, and the posting of the colors at the flagpole by the color guard of Boy Scout Troop 36, which will have the care of the stadium colors and the flagpole throughout the rest of the football season.

It's possible the Haskell Indians will be used to handling Bulldogs by the time a particularly vicious type is unleashed from Stamford headed this way come November.

In last Friday night's scrap at Clyde, the Indians found a fleet-footed bunch of Bulldogs on their hands, and gained valuable experience at the hands of a Class A outfit before Clyde was subdued.

Quarterback James Davis, a pile-driver with a competitive heart, led the scoring with two TD's on churning yard-eaters, within two and a half minutes of each other as time ran out in the first half to put Haskell in the lead midway in the game, 19-8.

Prior to the Davis scores, Sammy Larned scooted 12 yards across the double stripe with three minutes left in the first quarter, climaxing a 60-yard march to draw first blood for Haskell in the ball game. Joe Thigpen, favoring an injury and played by Coach Ray Overton but sparingly, came in to kick the extra point.

In the second half, Thigpen, although injured, wasn't contained enough by Clyde to be kept from slashing over from seven yards out five minutes deep in the third quarter to chalk up the Indians' only other points of the night.

The difference in the ball game really was spelled out by a twinkle-eyed fullback named Sammy Larned, and a ball-handling half Joe Josselot. The Josselot-to-Larned combination crossing each other on punt returns resulted in Larned's return of punts four times to set up Haskell scoring opportunities. The runbacks were of 34, 28, 33 and 69 yards.

Although Clyde led in statistics, the Indians dominated the game with the scintillating punt returns.

Clyde, which produced some darters in the running department, kept Haskell fans on edge all evening, and the Bulldogs also sank their teeth into Haskell's conversion attempts, all save one Thigpen kick.

Line Coach Sonny Everett's stalwarts up front where it counts, were a beautiful sight to behold with their hard-charging paced by James Ivy, Eddie Smart and Charles Chapman. But the whole front wall was diggin' in for keeps.

That Haskell was "aggressive" is attested by the penalty toll. But sometimes it takes aggression to keep a bunch of Bulldogs at bay.

After Haskell's fourth touchdown, Overton sent most of his sideline standers into the fray, enabling them to get some of the real thing under their scarp slinging belts.

During World War II, the nickname "Seabees" really representing "C. B.'s" (for Construction Battalions) became synonymous with pinnacle "prime movers."

Exemplary among prime movers on the nation's financial front today is "C. B." (for Charles Bates) Thornton, a native of this area, who has justifiably earned the nomenclature of "favorite son" through his scintillating success in the business world.

Thornton, who was born in Knox County, came to Haskell when he was three years old, and graduated from Haskell High School, returned to his native Texas last week as board chairman and chief executive officer of far-flung Litton Industries, of Beverly Hills, California, to break ground in Lubbock for the 88th Litton plant in this nation. The newest Litton expansion will be an electronic components fabrication ad assembly plant estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $2,500,000. Litton is an important subcontractor for General Dynamics TFX fighter production.

The Haskell "boy wonder" in the financial firmament was principal speaker at HHS' biennial homecoming here in October, 1961, and has indicated he will be on hand for this year's high school reunion slated for October 4.

Thornton, remembered here as a "rambunctious redhead," helped start Litton Industries, a huge electronics empire manufacturing everything from business machines to nuclear powered subs, less than 10 years ago. He was one of the ten "whiz kids," all of whom had distinguished themselves as men of achievement in uniform during World War II, one of whom was Secretary of Defense McNamara, who all went with Ford Motor Company in 1946. It was they who ram-rodded the post-war expansion program at Ford.

The Haskellite left Ford to establish Litton, where he exercises supervision over the working end of a billion dollars, conservatively speaking, according to reliable reports.

Litton, which as of this week established a beach-head in Texas with its 88th plant facility start, under Thornton's direction, now has more than 41,000 employees, 69 engineering laboratories and manufacturing plants with more than 2,000 sales and service branches located throughout this country and in 70 countries of the Free World.

Recently, this almost Johnny-come-lately as an entrepreneur of empire building, was named a trustee, one of 32, at the University of Southern California.

Thornton's Litton Industries is engaged in research, development and production of the Monroe line of business and office machines, and it also makes submarines at its Ingalls division at Pascagoula, (See "C. B." Thornton, P. 10)

CHECKING IN AND CHECKING OUT—Abe Turner, left, and Charles E. Swinson, right, pause here at the check counter of the Haskell National Bank to "check in" and "check out of," respectively, the cashier's position at the banking institution here. Vice President W. Roy Johnson, center, is "checking up" on both to see if the change is made properly. Turner succeeds Swinson, cashier of the bank since 1954, who is leaving the position to enter the cotton buying business.

Haskell County Historical Survey Committee, the heritage-conscious group which organized early this year to bring up to date the documentary of this county's 105-year-old history, moves into the second phase of its long-range program of work with a meeting October 1, Mrs. Tom Barfield, general chairman, has announced.

R. C. Couch, Sr., chairman of the most important committee of the organization, that of history and archives, simultaneously announced personnel of his data gathering group of towns in the eight communities of Haskell County. Couch strongly urges that all these people make every effort to attend the October 1 meeting in order to receive briefings on that type of information needed for inclusion in the Haskell County history. Particularly desired is a list of teachers who have taught in various schools of the county, around which much of the activity of the citizens was focused over the years.

Mrs. Barfield said the meeting of October 1, Tuesday, will be held in the Community Room of the Haskell National Bank at 7:30 p. m.

The hard-working general chairman of the historical survey project said it is the goal of her group to have prepared information ready for review for projected publication next January 1.

Couch has announced the following personnel, by communities, of his history-gathering and archives committee, all of whom are being urged to attend the October 1 meeting:

Haskell — Couch, chairman; Miss Nettie McCollum; Mrs. Jack Pippin, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Chapman; Miss May Fields, Mrs. Scott Greene, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Pierson, H. T. Wilkerson, W. P. McCollum, J. E. Walling, Travis Arbuckle, Mrs. R. C. Couch, Sr., Judge Jim Alvis, Belton Duncan, John Crawford, John Rike, Brooks Middleton and Carl Wheatley.

Rule — Ed Cloud, chairman; Mrs. Ed Cloud, Claude Norman, Jim Norman, Jim Davis, and Conner Horton.

Sagerton — Irene Stewart, chairman; Oscar Gibson, Mrs. August Balzer, Fritz Stoegmoeller and Mrs. John Clark.

Mattson — H. H. Sego, chairman; Mrs. Luther Burkett, Lando Guess, Bailey Guess and Stanley Furrh.

Paint Creek — Pat Morrison, chairman; Mrs. M. E. Overton, Mrs. Norman Nanny, Bill Griffith, Mrs. J. H. Montgomery, R. V. Earls, Willie Lee Medford, Marvin Cobb, Elizabeth Stewart.

Weinert — Douglas Myers, chairman; Mabel Derr, Mrs. P. F. Weinert, Bailey Guess, P. E. Weinert, Mrs. Fred Monke, Eddie Sanders.

O'Brien — Sam Held, chairman; Bill Baker, Lillian Waldrop, Mrs. O. S. Johnson, D. S. Gotthard, Gladys Grindstaff and Mrs. Barnard.

Rochester — Truitt Alvis, chairman; Phil Simmons, Beth Porter, Mrs. Felix Mulhoro, Mrs. Eunice Michael, Mrs. Bill Taylor, Mrs. Vestie Alvis, Pete Huntsman, Arnold Hudspeth,

Charles E. Swinson, cashier of the Haskell National Bank for the past nine and a half years and associated since 1940 with the banking institution here, one of the oldest in West Texas, has resigned effective October 1. He will become a partner with R. L. Stephenson, well-known Haskell cotton buyer and civic leader, in a new cotton firm here to be known as Stephenson and Swinson.

A. C. Pierson, president of the bank, announced Swinson's resignation following a board of directors meeting. He immediately revealed that Abe M. Turner, Jr., assistant cashier for the past five years, has been elevated to Swinson's vacated post. Turner, son of the late A. M. Turner, president of the old Farmers and Merchants Bank in Haskell and member of the Haskell National Bank board for 15 years until his death last December, is currently serving as president of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce.

Other personnel changes at the Haskell National Bank announced by the bank's board through Mr. Pierson are: David Conner, from bookkeeper to teller; and Tommy Michaels to head bookkeeper.

Pierson, commenting on Swinson's departure from the banking profession to enter private business, declared, "We reluctantly accepted Charles' resignation, because he has been a most valuable man. We are going to miss him greatly, but wish him Godspeed and good fortune in his worthwhile new endeavors." W. Roy Johnson, vice president of the bank, reiterated strongly the president's expressions.

Swinson enters upon his new business enterprise well-grounded in the operational procedures of the cotton business, having handled government cotton loan papers and other financial matters dealing in cotton for many years. His new business partner, Stephenson, has been in the cotton (See "Charles Swinson" P. 10)

Ching Middleton, 69, prominent Haskell County farmer-rancher, a resident here 54 years and representative of the U. S. Department of Interior's Fish and Wildlife Service in this area for 27 years, died in Haskell County Hospital at 9:10 a. m. last Wednesday, Sept. 11.

He had been in failing health for four years.

Funeral was held in the First Baptist Church here, where he was a longtime member, at 3 p. m. Thursday with the Rev. Ray Nobles, pastor, officiating. He was assisted by the Rev. Ellis Todd, pastor of First Methodist Church, and the Rev. Joel N. Grimes, retired Baptist minister of Avoca. Burial was in Willow Cemetery here under direction of Holden's Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Virgil Cobb, Raymond Couch, Buck Everett, Jesse Miller, C. G. Burson Jr., Harold Spain and Royce Adkins, all of Haskell, and Jim Byrd of Dallas.

Born Aug. 10, 1894, at Mount Calm in Hill County, he was the son of the late Almeida Allen and B. R. Middleton. He came to Haskell County in 1909 when he was 15 years old. He married Miss Addie Cobb Nov. 16, 1915 and the couple settled in the Cobb community, named for his wife's parents, the G. H. Cobbs, in southeast Haskell County where Middleton was engaged in stock farming.

Later, they lived four years at Craig, Colo., where he was employed by a cattle company. (See "Ching Middleton," P. 10)

No Magic To This Formula

Say, Haskell! While other towns are waiting around for something to turn up...let's try our sleeves.

About A Rambunctious Redhead... With A Practical Passion for Change And Growth

A 49-year-old graduate of Haskell High School, who, we're told, used to be called a "rambunctious redhead" by a childhood girl friend still here, recently completed in Lubbock the full storybook circle.

He returned to the town where he spent his college days and left a sample of the golden touch with which he has been endowed since leaving Texas and heading East to claim fame and fortune.

Haskell's Bates Thornton, who was here not so long ago to deliver the principal address at Haskell's Homecoming, another of which we have scheduled soon, broke ground last week in Lubbock for the 88th plant of Litton Industries, a far-flung electronics empire this Haskellite has put together. Under the deft direction of Bates Thornton, Litton is one of the fastest growing companies in the world.

A more complete story of Charles Bates Thornton's phenomenal accomplishments may be found elsewhere in this edition of the Free Press. Our purpose in this column, is to signify salute one of our very own, who, as the driving force of Litton Industries, today occupies a key position in the effort of the United States of America toward greater technical achievement in this fantastic era.

Our pride in Bates Thornton goes beyond all expression. And it we may be so bold, we don't think HE would mind if we took a lesson from his vigorous and productive life thus far which his fellow citizens here would do well to take to mind and heart.

One of Bates Thornton's ingredients for a recipe for success, the ingredient that gives "body" to and holds together, the whole savory dish, is a practical passion for change and growth.

In Lubbock last week, he said, "Some people are against change and growth. They want to keep things like our forefathers had them."

"Well," continued Bates, as if he were reading the minds of too many folks around here, "they forget that our forefathers were pioneers in the field of change."

Bates Thornton seems determined to carry on the tradition. And it is the hope of this newspaper that our distinguished former citizen, whom we proudly claim, will bring some of that determination back to the town in which he was raised, and jog the memories of people here about what it took to build Haskell in the first place.

Then, with a Thornton-like passion for change and growth, we could go from there.

A Pencil Pusher's
Potpourri
By PORTER

Weather of the past week reminds of that oldie, "the leaves of brown came tumbling down...remember...in September...in the rain...Lost my heart, more times, uphill, agin the wind in the rain, in September than a girl of the Golden Twenties watchin' Rudolph Valentino. New school year, new clothes, new faces, new haircut, and all you know.

The changing season also reminds that soon the Good Lord will decree that defoliation of Haskell County will be in order. Come frost. Then, maybe that Varmin't will show his colors, too. He won't find it so convenient to hide behind Mother Nature's apron strings when the leaves fall.

We could probably be proved wrong, but hope not for the sake of folks' lives and property on the coast. But somehow, a hurricane named Cindy does not sound like she would pack much punch. Carla, yes, that sounds wicked, and she was. And Jewel. If they ever get that far down in hurricane nomenclature, it won't be a gentle zephyr. Head for the cellars, citizens. But Cindy. Our prayer is she'll live up to her name and return to protecting the hearth at home.

The Pencil Pusher has lived in not many, just two, football frenzied towns, but Haskell is a humdinger when it comes to backing its ball club. It's refreshing. At Clyde last Friday night, we heard more than a couple of natives, some of the town's officialdom, in the press box, say it was the biggest football crowd that community had witnessed. And no wonder, Indian supporters filled all our side of the field, and half of Clyde's as well. And here's a studied reflection from someone who "has been there": Students in, and parents of students in, high schools of 1963 enrollment on up, the Class AAAA type, don't know what school spirit and stick-to-each-other-ive-ness is. Inhaling a little Haskell atmosphere would transfuse that feelin' to 'em, though.

Say, you'd think those Clyde Bulldogs after gettin' Josselated around all evening, would have learned something before the game ended, wouldn't you? Sho! do like the way our backs are fentin' and fallin' forward an extra five or six yards, too.

We feel a pride akin (speakin' of that the Fischers in these parts better claim it!) to that of Papa Fischer who doubled his family from five to 10 all at once, up in Aberdeen. We hasten to explain, lest you think the Pencil Pusher is going to spuel out that he's such a sire. What we wanted to say is that Dan Perkes, whose by-line on Associated Press dispatches has become commonplace in the mid-west lately, and particularly the last several days from Aberdeen, S. D., home of the Fischer quintuplets, is a protege of ours. Dan came into the Air Force as an 18-year-old, and his first permanent party assignment was under our wing at the Information Office at Amarillo Air Force Base during Korea. We taught him all we knew and helped get his first newspaper job. Seein' that Perkes by-line from Aberdeen, and recalling the untrained, but determined slick-sleeved airman, who stood at attention when his sweat-soaked khakis didn't, asking for a chance on the base newspaper staff, kinda makes the Pencil Pusher want to strike a papa-proud pose, too.

We hear members of the Haskell Chapter, Young Homemakers of America, have been offered the services of the Future Homemaking girls of HHS as baby sitters while the young Mothers attend meetings. This is what might be called on-the-job training for the Future Homemakers, we figure. Bet it assures 100 per cent attendance at the Young Homemaker sessions.

Anyone interested in character study should come to Haskell. There are more "characters" per capita to study (about what they're going to do or say next!) than anywhere else on earth.

A newspaper editor, if he's worth his salt, doesn't exactly sit in the shadows. So he usually finds himself with a place in the sun. And if he occupies a place in the sun for any length of time, he's liable to get blistered. As folks come to know the Pencil Pusher better around here, and take stock of his merits and demerits, and we hope we may keep the scales tipped in favor of the former, in the interest of public service, we have received communications telling us how to run the town's and our business, which we appreciate. All except the anonymous messages. Our reaction to an anonymous letter is plain vanilla. We are not thin-skinned enough not to be grateful for, and we invite, constructive criticism. As for anonymous opinions, constructive or otherwise, our idea of the effect on the recipient is this: "Didn't mind receiving the communication a bit...Everyone is entitled to his ridiculous opinion."

On the other hand, a signed letter by an individual, standing behind what he, or she, has to say, can be most effective with an editor. There's not one among us, in the Pencil Pusher's opinion, who isn't cognizant of the fact that public opinion is the strongest force in the world, stronger even than atmospheric pressure, mine and a half pounds to the square inch.

Anonymity on letters to the editor, reminds us of the society editor, after our own heart, who, after a lengthy bit of research obtaining the married names of about 30 people in a story, which is the correct way to report them, declared, "Any lady who is not proud enough to use her formal married name shouldn't have married the fellow in the first place."

Summing up the editor's lot also brings to mind the editor who explained away all the mistakes that crept into his publication with the following notice: "If you find any errors, please consider that they appear for the benefit of those readers who always look for them. We try to print something for everybody."

Haskell County History

30 YEARS AGO
(September 21, 1933)

In the election held last Saturday voters in Justice of Peace Precinct legalized the sale of beer with a 33-vote majority. The vote was 79 for and 46 against. Several applications for permits to sell beer have already been filed with the County Judge, and hearing on the applications will be held next Monday. It is understood that the nearest point to Haskell where beer can be sold is about six miles south of town if the election is held legal.

A burglar who rifled the cash drawers of the Water Department Office in the City Hall, and at the telephone office Tuesday at noon obtained about $27 for his work. The thefts occurred during the noon hour.

Seven hundred and eighty-five checks totaling $173,825 have been received by County Agent R. H. Maxwell for Haskell farmers for compliance with the cotton acreage control program.

Van Heusen Shirts come to Augusta

When the Augusta, Arkansas Industrial Development Corporation set out to secure new industry, they came up with one of America's largest and most respected manufacturers of men's shirts.

The Phillips-Van Heusen Corporation, makers of famous Van Heusen shirts, was brought to this 2300 population town about a year ago. They employed local workers, instituted an intensive training program, and completed the first products in the brief time of 14 days. Such aggressive action by local citizens and company officials has caused the plant to become a major factor in the local economy.

It is another reason we say General Telephone towns are on the move. Community improvements are under way, local resources are being developed, new businesses, new industries are coming in. If your town seeks additional information about expansion, perhaps we can help. Just write our Community Development Department, Box 1001, San Angelo, Texas.

Trio Picked Up Speedily Here In $400 Theft

Three Latin American men, ages 18, 19 and 26, were arrested on the northwest corner of the Haskell Courthouse Square Friday afternoon, less than two hours after the theft of $400 in cash from an automobile in Stamford, Sheriff Garth Garrett reported.

The suspects were turned over to Jones County authorities for the filing of charges.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Pete Mercer spotted a car matching the description given over police radio from Stamford at 1:50 p. m. Closing in, with the assistance of Sheriff Garrett and State Highway Patrol Sergeant Frank Jirick, Mercer stopped the trio without incident. The car was a 1958 blue Ford with Idaho license plates, Sheriff Garrett said.

The Haskell County sheriff said his information was that the money, not found immediately, was taken from the car of a Latin American field boss who had just gone to the bank for it to pay off some field hands. The alleged thieves were believed to be living in temporary quarters six miles south of Stamford and are thought to be from Brownville.

Jones County Sheriff Dave Reeves, of Anson, and Stamford Police Chief B. Q. Cooper were given custody of the trio at the Haskell County Jail about 5 p. m. Friday.

MOVE UP TO CHRYSLER '64

Engineered better...backed better than any car in its class

The '64 Chryslers are here: the luxurious New Yorker (above); sports- bred 300; and the surprisingly easy-to-own Newport.

Clean. Crisp. Handsome. Designed in the modern concept. Bold but not brassy. Engineered by men who have accounted for more "firsts" than any automobile maker. So well built the vital moving parts are warranted for 5 years or 50,000 miles. (Details below.)

The '64 Chryslers are full of news: there's an optional steering wheel you can adjust, up or down, to any one of seven different positions. Bucket seats are standard on 300 models (passenger's reclines).

These are the '64 Chryslers. They have no junior editions to com- promise your investment. Go see them. Move up to Chrysler '64.

Solid protection for a solid investment . . . 5-year-50,000-mile warranty. Chrysler Corporation warrants, for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, against defects in materials and workmanship and will replace or repair at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business, the engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excluding manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and dif- ferential, and rear wheel bearings of its 1964 automobiles, provided the owner has the engine oil changed every 2 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first, the oil filter replaced every second oil change and the carburetor air filter cleaned every 6 months and replaced every 2 years, and every 6 months furnishes to such a dealer evidence of performance of the required service, and requests the dealer to certify (1) receipt of such evidence and (2) the car's then current mileage.

IT'S A FACT...

Frank C. Scott, M. D., Specialist on diseases and surgery of eye, ear, nose, throat and specialist on fitting of glasses, has recently added the very latest equipment for fitting of glasses and for visual eye care and for detecting any diseases of the eyes.

Dr. Scott says these diseases, in many cases, must be treated before glasses are fitted, or the glasses will injure the eyes. The medical eye specialist is the only one that can diagnose and treat these conditions. Also occasionally visual training is necessary but not very often. He also gives special attention to fitting children with glasses.

This shows he has had a wonderful training in his speciality of eye care, and would advise any one having trouble with their eyes and needing glasses to see Dr. Scott as he can give you the best service.

If you have any ear, nose or throat trouble, also consult him.

I saw it in the papers: From the Segun, Texas, Gazette: The bride-elect was showered with pieces of her chosen china."

From the Springfield, Mass., Union: "Escaped leopard believed spotted."

"Do it yourself," advertises a Cleveland paperhanger, "and then send for us."

Classified advertisement: "For Sale. One high powered telescope, just like new. Reason for selling: She moved."

Advertisement: "Fifty year old hens, fine for fricassee or stewing, 50 cents each."

In the days of yore, the trees decided to select themselves a king. They first offered the crown to the olive tree. The olive tree felt that bearing its fruit was more worthy than bearing the cares of statecraft. He declined.

The fig was the next one asked. He refused on the grounds that producing sweet figs was better than serving as king.

Then the vine turned down the throne. His reason was that out of his grapes came new wine. That was more important to him. But the thorny bramble had no such conceit of his worth. He accepted it. "If in truth ye anoint me king over you," he said "then come and take refuge in my shade; and if not, let fire come out of the bramble, and devour the cedars of Lebanon."

The parable which is recounted in the Book of Judges, does not tell whether the tall trees knuckled down to the bramble. Yet the presumption is that they did.

For in ordinary life, whenever able or talented people refuse to accept responsibility because for some reason or another they cannot "afford" to, somewhere along the line there is waiting a bramble, ready and willing. Once in power, in the community, town, city, state, he can crack the thorny whip over the talented and able people. And they deserve no better.

I bought a little red car, I feed it gasoline. And everywhere that I go, I walk... my son's sixteen!

If you must talk about your troubles don't bore your friends with them... tell them to your enemies they will be delighted to hear about them.

Higher education, as any parent of a college student can tell you, certainly is.

About the time you struggle up to the level of the neighbors, they renege.

A man has never really tested his strength until he tries to lift the mortgage.

"Easy" payments are often the hardest to make.

"A Tree Grows in Brooklyn," but it has nothing on the large tomato vine which has been growing all summer out of a crack in the sidewalk up against the north wall of the Texas Cafe. At present it looks like the last rose of summer.

I mean the last tomato vine of the summer, and it lies sickly looking... but a few weeks ago it was green, flourishing and full of life and appeared it might produce a goodly crop of tomatoes. Since a few crop dusters are in the area, Kenneth Felker and Stanley Furr might make a deal to have the tomato plant sprayed or have Dr. Frank Cadenhead give it a shot.

P. S.: Since the above was written, the tomato vine has been cut, so there is no need for any of the aerial spraying fellows to contact Felker or Furr.

If you haven't yet purchased your tickets to the Lions Annual Pancake Supper to be held Friday, October 4, from 5:00 to 7:15 p. m., in the High School lunchroom, you had better do so at once, because ticket sales are going "like hotcakes." Where else could you top a deal like this—all the golden brown pancakes, oozing with syrup and butter, plus bacon, you can eat, for 50 cents. Money raised from the Pancake Supper as most everyone knows, goes into the Lions Goodfellow Fund to help less fortunate families at Christmastime.

If TV doesn't improve, husbands may go back to listening to their wives.

"C. B." Thornton---

The tycoon, who cut his financial teeth in Haskell, holds a bachelor of commercial science degree and honorary doctor of laws degree from Texas Tech. He also attended George Washington University, and Columbia University. He recently won the 1963 merit award of the Albert Einstein College of Medicine in New York City.

During World War II, Thornton served in the Air Force, and at one time, was one of the youngest colonels in the War Department. He has served as special consultant to the State Department and Air Force in Washington.

Thornton has been vice president and assistant general manager of Hughes Aircraft and built it into one of the nation's largest in the field of advanced electronics.

When homecomers gather here October 4, the planners hope to have not only Thornton, but Texas Insurance Magnate Troy V. Post, of Dallas, and George L. McGregor, also of Dallas, a utilities top executive, both of whose early life was spent here, present for the big do-in. That way, Haskell feels it might have a momentary curb on the "heads" side of the coin of the realm.

Mrs. Collier---

Turner, 31, the step-son of Mrs. Pearl B. Turner, of Columbia, Tenn., who was for a long time the postmaster at Weinert, is a graduate of the 1949 class of Haskell High School. He moved here in 1933 from Jayton when his late father became associated with the Farmers' State Bank in Haskell. He obtained his degree from Texas Tech in 1954, entered the U. S. Army, serving until late 1955. He was engaged in farming and was employed with Burton Chevrolet Company here until December, 1956, at which time he moved to Canyon to take graduate work. He met and married Ruby Mann, of Clarendon, and the couple has two children, Mike 5, and Sharon 10 months old.

Survivors include the husband, Jesse L. Collier, of Haskell; one daughter, Mrs. R. W. Herren, of Haskell; two sisters, Mrs. Walter Moore, of Oiney; and Mrs. Royal Mullins, of Wolfe City; two brothers, Ellis Hallmark, of Killeen, and Hamilton Hallmark, of Wichita Falls; six grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. A second daughter, Mary Frances, who was Mrs. Paul Comolli, of Sweetwater, died six years ago.

Gala Homecoming

The new cashier began working at Haskell National Bank on Feb. 17, 1958. He has completed two AIB-sponsored courses, Principals of Banking and Commercial Law, and currently is attending one in Negotiable Instruments.

Charles Swinson---

buying business at his location here for 25 years. "I feel most fortunate to make this business alignment," Swinson said Friday.

A native of Hunt County, Swinson came to Haskell County and a farm near Rochester in 1927. He was raised in the Rochester area and received his high school education in Rochester schools. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Swinson, both associated with the Haskell schools.

His first banking job was with the Home State Bank of Rochester in 1939, and he moved to Haskell to start work as a bookkeeper at the Haskell National Bank in January, 1940. Swinson entered the United States Army Air Corps on July 27, 1942, and served with the finance department of that branch of service, attaining the rank of staff sergeant before his discharge in November, 1945.

After a brief period of operating a butane business with some partners here, Swinson returned to the Haskell National Bank as teller in 1947. He became cashier on Feb. 11, 1954.

Swinson and Miss Latrice Wheeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wheeler, of Haskell, were married on September 14, 1941. They have no children, but are known far beyond the environs of Haskell for having substituted as parents for many children through their countless benevolent acts of kindness and tangible assistance to deserving youth of this area.

In his profession, Swinson has served as director of the Abilene chapter, American Institute of Banking, and has completed three of the AIB's prescribed courses in finance. He is secretary-treasurer and one of the owners of the Haskell County Warehouse and Compress Company, Inc. A hobby, "feeding" and spraying pecan trees, has grown into a business, the Swinson Spray Company, in which Swinson's wife, Latrice, is his "right hand man." An avid follower of Haskell High School athletics, he has filmed Indian football games for six years and has missed but two, played away from here in East Texas, since 1946. He also has found time to build himself an electronic organ with parts and instructions delivered in a kit.

Swinson has taught Sunday School in the young people's department of the First Baptist Church of Haskell for 16 years, is a member of Haskell Lodge 682, AF&AM, the American Legion, a charter member of the Indian Booster Club, and served as president of this organization two years and as secretary-treasurer for five. He has served as a director of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce.

Turner, 31, the step-son of Mrs. Pearl B. Turner, of Columbia, Tenn., who was for a long time the postmaster at Weinert, is a graduate of the 1949 class of Haskell High School. He moved here in 1933 from Jayton when his late father became associated with the Farmers' State Bank in Haskell. He obtained his degree from Texas Tech in 1954, entered the U. S. Army, serving until late 1955. He was engaged in farming and was employed with Burton Chevrolet Company here until December, 1956, at which time he moved to Canyon to take graduate work. He met and married Ruby Mann, of Clarendon, and the couple has two children, Mike 5, and Sharon 10 months old.

The new cashier began working at Haskell National Bank on Feb. 17, 1958. He has completed two AIB-sponsored courses, Principals of Banking and Commercial Law, and currently is attending one in Negotiable Instruments.

Turner is a Sunday School teacher at the First Baptist Church, was a charter member of the Canyon Jaycees, and has been most active in the Haskell Jaycees, serving as president of the Chamber of Commerce here less than two years later.

Lions' Pancake Tickets Going Like Hotcakes

Advance ticket sales to the Lions annual Pancake Supper indicate that this year's event will shatter past records. J. M. Crawford is in charge of ticket sales, and they are going like "hotcakes."

Two members of the club have already sold more than 50 tickets each, and most every member has sold at least 10 tickets.

Where else could you get all the "flapjacks" you can eat for only 50c, and where else could the money raised from the supper do more good than to bring added cheer to less fortunate Haskellites at Christmas time?

The Pancake Supper is slated Friday, October 4, from 5:00 to 7:15 p. m., in the High School lunchroom, and Lions are already "busy as bees" in preparation for the big event.

If you haven't already done so, you better get your tickets now before the "all sold out" sign" goes up.

Tuesday's Program

"A Better World" was the title of the film Lions viewed at the Tuesday noon-day luncheon meeting. Hugh Ratliff was in charge of the program, and presented a very colorful and educational film which showed International Lionism at work in Hawaii, Japan, India and other countries.

Lions, the largest service organization in the world, are constantly working together for a better world.

Travis Smith, Elementary School Principal, was introduced as a new member.

Guests noted at Tuesday's meeting were Tony Ziegler, area manager treasury department U. S. Savings Bond Division, Fort Worth, Texas, and Tommy Perry, Gene Hester and Randy Wiseman, members of Boy Scout Troops 38 and 48, who are working on their "God and Country" citizenship award.

Following Tuesday's luncheon a short directors and officers meeting was held, and Lion C. O. Holt was authorized to purchase two grills to be used for the Pancake Supper.

Singing Sunday

The Bethel Baptist Church in Stamford will be the site of a gospel singing session Sunday at 2 p. m., and everyone is invited to attend.

Ching Middleton---

The family moved back to Haskell County and the Cobb community, and in 1928 Middleton became supervisor in this area for the government Fish and Wildlife Service. He held this post until his retirement in 1955.

Survivors include his wife; a daughter, Mrs. E. J. Stewart, Haskell County tax assessor-collector; three sons, Brooks and Gentry of Haskell, and Rudolph of Whiteface; two sisters, Mrs. Elmer Rice and Mrs. C. M. McCrackne, both of Tahoka; three brothers, G. C., of Stephenville, R. M. of O'Donald, and F. M. of Seagraves; and eight grandchildren. A daughter, Joan, died in 1939 at the age of nine.

James Franklin Jaycee Delegate At Houston Meet

James Franklin, officer and director of the Haskell Jaycees, represented the civic organization here at an Americanism seminar in Houston last week-end sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of that city.

The seminar, held at the Ramada Inn in Houston, was open to but two members of each Jaycee organization in the state and had a representative attendance, Franklin reported.

H. M. Stones Gadabout South

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Stone, accompanied by their grandson, J. V. Perrin, of Hereford, and Mrs. Jim Curry, of Lindale, recently made a trip into the southern states to visit relatives and friends.

At Magnolia, Ark., they spent some time with Mrs. Stone's relatives, the late Mrs. McNeely's brothers and sisters. From there, the travelers went to Knoxville, Tenn., via southern Arkansas, Mississippi, and Birmingham, Alabama. A four-day visit of old homesteads in and near Knoxville was supplemented by tours of the Great Smoky Mountains, Cherokee Indian Reservation, Lookout Mountain, Andrew Jackson's home, The Hermitage, near Nashville. An outstanding occasion was the open house given the visitors from Texas by Mrs. Elle Haskenjas, to which 40 relatives of the Stones came. The Stones returned here last Wednesday with many pleasant memories of a delightful trip.

Rotarians To Get Low Down On Burk Bulldogs

Haskell High School's coaching staff will huddle with Rotarians here Thursday noon, showing pictorial proof of the Indians' 25-14 victory over the Clyde Bulldogs last Friday night, and briefing them on the potency of Burk Burnett, Haskell's Class AAA opponent here in the home opener tomorrow night.

Head Coach Ray Overton will narrate the films of the Clyde scrap last week, and will be joined by his cohorts, Sonny Everett, Bill Blakeley, Carlos Berry, and Dave Middleton, in giving Rotarians the "low down" on the "high up" Burk Burnett Bulldogs.

Burkburnett, which opened last week against a formidable Bonham eleven, won this game 7 to 6. As every loyal Haskellite knows, the Indians now have two scalps at their belts, whipping Seymour and Clyde in the first two tussles, scoring a total of 58 points, and allowing 32.
