Wrong man keeps getting arrested

AUSTIN (AP) — Austin police and Travis County sheriff's officials apologized to a man who said he was arrested more than a dozen times on warrants meant for someone else with the same

But the authorities deny that the repeated arrests of Sylvester Brown were racially motivated, as alleged by local black

"There have been people of all races arrested on warrants that were issued for another person with the same name," said Assistant Police Chief Ray Sanders.

"We would hope that the person insist he is not the right one and that the officers would listen to him. It would appear that the ball was dropped in this case," Sanders said.

At a Tuesday news conference, Sylvester Brown said he was arrested 14 times over the past 10 years on warrants issued for a Sylvester E. Brown. Both are now 39.

After learning of the mistaken arrests, Sheriff Doyne Bailey issued a memorandum in October alerting deputies and booking officers of the "existence of two Sylvester Browns with the similar descriptions and dates of birth." Brown was given a copy of the memo to carry.

But the wrongly arrested Brown said only one arresting officer gave him the opportunity to explain that he wasn't the man named in the warrants

"There are real racial overtones. I don't think that a white person would have been treated the same way," said Gary Bledsoe, president of the local NAACP.

The judge selecting jurors to try North is making some progress, but the question arises: Will the jury that results be a cross-section of the community, capable of rendering an informed judgment?

In the legal sense, it will be a jury of North's peers. The law only requires that it be a crosssection of citizens from which no one has been excluded by reason of sex, race or other arbitrary criteria. It need not be people comparable to North in any other

What Judge Gerhard A. Gesell seeks is a jury "ignorant" of North's activities — people so removed from world affairs during the summer of 1987 that they were unaware that North told Congress he had lied to it, believing his duty to his country required such deception.

Such searches are conducted to ensure that jurors do not enter a sion of an enormous number of fitt.

DEAR READER: As men grow older, one or both testicles tend to become smaller. In most instances, this is an age-related phenomenon over which we have no control. Testicular shrinkage is usually associated with some loss of sexual drive and performance that can be corrected by the use of supplemental male hormone administered in shots or pills.

Peyronie's disease is an abnormality of the penis characterized by crooked or painful erections due to scar tissue that forms in the erectile tissues. Treatment is often satisfactory and involves injecting the affected area with cortisone or surgically removing the scar tissue

Because your two problems affect your reproductive tract, you should see a urologist for further advice and treatment. Peyronie's disease and testicular shrinkage are not related.

The feel of the table

By James Jacoby

Trading on his eight-card diamond suit and favorable vulnerability, South jumped right to five diamonds over East's opening one-spade bid. When everyone passed, South suspected he might have caught a decent dummy. Sure enough, two aces are nothing to sneeze at when you've made an aggressive bid. Prospects looked quite good when he ruffed West's spade ace, since East, the opening bidder, could be played for the remaining high cards. But South should also be capable of making a table decision based upon human psychology.

Declarer drew three rounds of trumps, discarding a club and a heart from dummy, and then played a heart to the eight. East won the king and returned the nine of clubs. South put up the 10 and won dummy's ace when West played the jack. Declarer then ruffed a spade, played a few more rounds of trump, eventually played a heart to the ace (he hadn't been fooled by the falsecard of the king), and a club toward his queen. West took the king and eight of clubs, and the contract was one away.

Nothing declarer did was really wrong, but I can't help feeling that my late father and many other experts I have known would have figured out at the table that East had no club honors. So when the nine of clubs was covered with the 10 and jack, they would have played low from dummy, letting West hold the trick. Then, whatever happened, they would play the heart ace and ruff out the heart queen. Of course, should West continue clubs,

Coach Kelly Chadwick hopes sites on a conference championhis Western Texas College Lady Dusters don't run into a buzzsaw a highly-charged Frank Phillips

Tipoff for the key Western Junior College Athletic Conference matchup is set for 6 p.m. in Scurry County Coliseum. A men's game follows at 8 p.m.

Frank Phillips' Lady Plainsmen, at one time ranked as high as 16th in the nation this season, bring a healthy 17-4 record into the coliseum. The Plainsmen got off to a tough start in the WJCAC however, falling to 1-3 before Tuesday's stunning upset of the nation's current 16thranked squad, New Mexico Junior College. Frank Phillips nailed the Lady Thunderbirds 94-52 in Borger.

FPC is hoping to improve on its 2-3 conference record tonight and aim for a berth in the upcoming Region V Tournament. Only the top four teams in the conference qualify for regional tournament play, and Frank Phillips is currently tied for fourth in terms of losses

SMU knocks Frogs out of 3-way tie

by The Associated Press Southern Methodist Coach John Shumate says Todd Alexander was the difference as the Mustangs defeated Texas Christian and knocked the Horned Frogs out of a three-way tie for the lead in the Southwest Conference basketball title race.

Alexander scored 21 points Wednesday night, including six points in the final two minutes, to lead the Mustangs to a 68-57 victory over TCU, knocking the Horned Frogs out of a three-way with Arkansas and Texas.

Arkansas edged Houston, 88-87, and Texas supped past Texas A&M, 85-80, to remain tied atop the conference standings.

In other SWC games, Texas Tech downed Baylor, 74-66, and Rice whipped Eastern New Mexico, 90-83, in a non-conference game.

The Mustangs increased their record to 8-10 overall and 4-4 in league play while TCU dropped to 13-7 and 6-2.

Houston fell to 12-8 and 4-4.

Sean Gay scored 24 points and Texas Tech hit 22 of 24 free throws in the final four minutes of play to hold off Baylor, 74-66.

The Bears remain in the conference cellar, dropping to 1-7 and 5-14 overall. The Red Raiders evened their SWC mark at 4-4 and improved to 9-10 overall.

The placement of the Whites on the list was no surprise since the non-starters are unlikely to attract any interest because of their large salaries and ages. Danny White is 37, while Randy

Anti-crime group: 40,000 new prison beds 'only solution'

mittee says he wants prison bonding legislation to remain in subcommittee until lawmakers and the governor's office agree to address the whole criminal justice issue "as one problem."

A lack of coordination and planning exists within the criminal justice arena," said Rep. Allen Hightower, a Huntsville Democrat and sponsor of the legislation, on Wednesday.

Hightower said that in that arena, "The left hand builds to relieve overcrowding and the right hand enhances punishment and creates new courts to send more people for longer periods of time, thus overcrowding and exacerbating, not relieving, the system at hand, at the same time having little or no effect on

In other developments Wednesday, a Dallas-based anti-crime group said the "only solution" to problems in the Texas criminal justice system is increasing prison capacity by 40,000 beds at a cost of $1.2 billion.

"If we do anything less than 40,000 beds over the next several years, then we will be here again in two years, same problem, in four years with the same problem, and over and over," said Richard Collins, chairman of Associated Texans Against

Rep. Sam Johnson, R-Plano, also urged the expansion and added that he was considering filing legislation to allow the death penalty to be imposed on criminals who commit multiple

Johnson, one of several lawmakers who joined Collins at a news conference, said he got the idea for the capital punishment bill after participating in a radio call-in show in San Antonio.

"Five straight callers said, What are we going to do with the repeat felony offenders?"" Johnson said. "And I said I don't know, unless we build more prison beds and keep them in jail, because they are not being rehabilitated."

Songwriter killed

AUSTIN (AP) — Austin singersongwriter Blaze Foley, whose "If I Could Only Fly" was recorded by Willie Nelson and Merle Haggard, was shot to death during an argument with the son of a friend, police said.

Foley, 39, whose real name was Michael David Fuller, was shot in the chest early Wednesday and died during surgery at Brackenridge Hospital three hours later, police said.

Homicide Sgt. Edward Balagia said Carey January, 39, of Austin, was charged with murder and held in lieu of $25,000 bond.

"I'll tell you right now, I'm thinking about doing that (filing legislation) because of those people's suggestion." An additional 40,000 beds would increase Texas prison capacity to 90,000 by 1992, Collins said. The expansion could be financed

Austin update

Sex education proposal explained

AUSTIN (AP) — Ethics, self-control and sexual abstinence should be part of public school sex education courses, which normally emphasize contraceptives and ways to avoid sexual diseases, a state

In a public hearing before the Senate Education Committee, Sen. Kenneth Armbrister, D-Victoria, proposed a resolution urging the State Board of Education to adopt such a curriculum

"We're just saying that if you are teaching all these other things, you should at least have a unit of instruction to show that there is only one, 100 percent truly effective method in the prevention of unwanted pregnancy and disease control, and that's abstinence," Armbrister said Wednesday.

Several others, including parents, doctors and Planned Parenthood of Austin, tesified on both sides of the issue.

The Associated Press con-Del Garcia, of Planned Parenthood, told lawmakers her organization supports abstinence education in public schools, but only along with information about contraceptives, including condoms.

Quoting a study, Ms. Garcia said, "Merely discouraging an activity does not make it unattractive and does not mean it will stop.

Mauro proposes new legislation

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro and a coalition of groups said promoting increased use of compressed natural gas will ignite the state economy and help Texans breathe

Thousands of state vehicles, school buses and mass transit buses would be converted to compressed natural gas under bills proposed Wednesday by Mauro.

'The bottom line is, we can breathe new life into the economy of this state by attacking air pollution," Mauro said. Natural gas burns cleaner than other fossil fuels, he said. One bill would require conversion to compressed natural gas for state-owned or -operated fleets with more than 15 vehicles, school districts with 50 or more buses and local transit authorities. The bill sets out a timetable for compliance, requiring 30 percent conversion by 1994; 50 percent by 1996; and 90 percent by 1998.

In areas of the state that fail to meet minimum air quality standards, private fleets and local government fleets, except for police and emergency vehicles, would also have to convert to natural gas. These areas include Houston, Dallas-Fort Worth, Austin and Beau-

The legislative package also would prohibit the burning of fossil fuel oil in utility and industrial boilers capable of burning natural gas between April 15 and Oct. 15 each year.

continue today with a visit to the Henry Street Settlement, a 96year-old community center that helps immigrants, homeless people and the elderly

"She's a real-life person, not someone with a wand," day care director Karen Leslie explained to a dozen excited pre-schoolers Wednesday as they prepared for the princess' visit.

Diane was to visit the day care center and a homeless shelter at the settlement, which has served generations of poor people on Manhattan's lower East Side.

Tonight she was to attend the American debut of the Welsh National Opera, which will perform Verdi's "Falstaff" at the Brooklyn Academy of Music. As the Princess of Wales, she is patron of the opera company.

Irish-American activists opposed to British rule in Northern Ireland planned to demonstrate outside the opera performance. But Diana's first evening in the city was devoid of controversy.

The princess arrived on a British Airways supersonic Concorde flight at Kennedy International Airport at 5:49 p.m. Wednesday for her three-day visit. Her first public appearance was on the 50th floor of the Equitable Tower, where she attended a gala reception and buffet dinner hosted by Dawson International, producers of Scottish cashmere.

Before she arrived, guests received some last minute instructions from British Consul George Finlayson. "For British subjects it's protocol for the men to nod and the women can curtsy," he said. "For Americans, ever since the War of Independence, you can do what you want."

Many of the guests opted to shake hands.

The princess arrived wearing a gathered blue satin tunic over a black wool skirt with pearls at her neck. "She looks divine!" exclaimed

Designer Oscar de la Renta went further. "She has extraordinary looks and when you have extraordinary looks you can wear anything," he said. "With time, she will be one of the great well-dressed ladies of the world."

For Schultz, the gathering was bittersweet. His son, Thomas Schultz, was among a group of Syracuse University students who died in the December crash of a Pan Am jet in Scotland.

When it came his turn to greet Diana, Schultz pulled out a picture of his son and showed the princess.

She was "very sympathetic," said Irwin Joffe, president of Dawson International USA, who observed the exchange. "She said, 'I'm very sorry. He would not have felt anything.' She dealt with it extremely well."
