tracks -by dave

This Christmas is one we shall remember a long time. It was the first time that we have left Stratford and gone to the mountains, usually we have either gone to East Texas to visit kinfolks, or stayed here and rested!

Well, we thoroughly enjoyed our Christmas and hope that you enjoyed yours.

There wasn't a whole lot of snow up in the mountains, but there was plenty for us folks who hadn't seen any to speak of. The ski cats all got a chance to fall a few times and then we got into a new experience, driving a snowmobile.

Now, we have found sumpin' that we really enjoy. Emily and yours truly never have learned to ski, but we sure did take to the snowmobile and, in fact, we figure there ought to be a way to adapt one to running on tumbleweeds, for it looks as if we won't have any snow around here this winter.

One said item cropped up upon our return. Our dog, Ears, died while we were gone over the weekend.

Ears was almost a legend around our home for about the last 12 or 13 years. He was quite a dog in his day and had been in bad health for the past year or two. The ill effects of his fights in younger years had taken their toll and Ears was getting pretty feeble the past year.

We shall really miss him, and our entire family nearly broke up in tears when we were informed that his last trip out to the vets was a one way trip for him.

Many folks had advised us to put him to sleep recently, but we just couldn't bring ourselves to do that. In fact, we couldn't even get up the guts to go bury him today and Tom finally volunteered to get Ears away. The girls all got plumb shook up and we'll have to admit we nearly had a tear or two.

We recall the many good times we had with Ears in the past. For a long time he went with me everywhere riding in the front seat of the old green pickup we drove for so long.

We remember one summer that Ears and Bill McMinn's dog, Jake, used to fight over the pickup. For some reason or the other Jake claimed the bed of the pickup and Ears would claim the front seat and they'd fight through the window.

We shall always have a soft place in our heart for any small black and white spotted dog, especially a small terrier type for old Ears was a companion to us for a long time.

Another successful promotion came to an end last Wednesday afternoon and seemed that everyone had a good time at the annual drawing. We were all a bit envious of the eventual winner and hope that the Cummings have a blast when they go to Hawaii.

We believe such promotions are good for every community, especially one like Stratford and we are convinced they help build community spirit and encourage folks to shop at home. At least the sponsors we have visited with feel the same way so perhaps we shall have another such promotion another year.

Monday morning was as a tough day to get back on the job, and we had to give Buddy Messer and his crew up at Southwestern Public Service a hard time.

Seems we had a power failure for about 25 minutes Monday morning and we told Buddy we reckoned even the electric company wanted another day off for Christmas.

The Monday power stoppage had a delayed affect on us Tuesday. We had reset every clock in the house, except the one we use to get up by to

Project Christmas Card Total Climbs to $1,537

This year's Project Christmas Card continued to climb after the deadline last Tuesday noon to get names included on the page greeting and now stands at $1,537, according to Martha Mitts to The First State Bank of Stratford.

Seven additional donors were added to last week's list and they include Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Spurlock, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Pittman, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Pittman, Mr. and Mrs. V.O. Lasley, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Judd, Mr. and Mrs. John Lavake and Hartland, Oline and Mary Caraway.

Project Christmas Card has been sponsored by members of the Prospectus Study Club for the past 14 years for benefit of the Sherman County Library. Funds will be used for purchase of new books and other items not covered by the regular budget of the Library.

Mrs. Mitts, of The First State Bank of Stratford, has been in charge of keeping track of the donations each year and works as liaison between the bank, the study club and The Star to make sure everyone who has donated to the fund gets proper recognition.

During the first few years the fund was in operation monies were kept in a special building fund then after the building was constructed the fund has been used to purchase additional books and other needed items.

Over the years since the Project Christmas Card has been in operation over $15,000 has been collected for use of the Library. The largest single year was back in 1962 when the Project first began and a total of $1,727.82 was collected for benefit of the Library.

Each year residents are urged to donate the money they would normally use to mail Christmas Cards in the immediate area and their names are included in a full page Greeting Christmas Card which is published in The Star's Christmas Edition.

HAWAIIAN TRIP WINNER--Darla Cummings is shown with Chamber Manager Johnny West following the drawing last Wednesday at which time Mrs. Cummings name was drawn out of the barrel for the Hawaiian Trip for Holiday for Two sponsored by 29 businesses, all members of the Retail Merchants Committee.

Ag Product Value Up Over County

Market value of all agricultural products sold by the 298 farms in Sherman County during 1974 amounted to $103,103,000, according to a preliminary report of the 1974 Census of Agriculture release by the Bureau of the Census.

Of this total, production expenses on these same farms totaled $99,299,000, during the year.

The figures are for farms qualifying under the definition first used for the 1959 Census of Agriculture: A farm includes all agricultural operations conducted at any time during the census year under the control of an individual management, provided that sales of agricultural products amounted to, or normally would amount to, at least $250 for places of less than 10 acres or $50 for places of 10 acres or more.

Figures for farms with sales of $2,500 or more are shown for 1974 and 1969. These farms accounted for the $103,103,000 of all agricultural products sold in 1974 and compare with $67,788,000 in 1969.

There were 288 of these farms in Sherman County in 1974 compared with 293 in 1969. The average size farm unit increased from 1.776 to 1.896 acres during

SPONSORED BY CHAMBER Darla Cummings Wins Hawaiian Holiday

Darla Cummings was the lucky winner of a Hawaiian Holiday for Two following the big drawing held Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. sponsored by local businesses.

Mrs. Cummings' name was the second one drawn out of the barrel full of registration slips at the drawing. Graydon Gamble's name was drawn first, but he was not present and on the second try Mrs. Cummings was on hand to claim the big prize.

The drawing climaxed a 13 week promotion by 29 participating Stratford merchants and businesses. This is the second year that a similar event has been held. Last year a trip to Disneyworld was given away by local businesses.

Each week during the 13 week period drawings were held on Wednesday afternoon and cash prizes of $25, $15 and $10 were awarded. The winners had to be present in any of the 29 participating businesses in order to win during the weekly drawings. If they were not present the money was added back to the pot and drawn for the following week.

In other events on Wednesday, Mrs. Kemp Thompson won

CPR MANNEQUIN--Cindy Crabtree and Shirley Plunk are shown holding the two CPR mannequins which arrived last week and may now be used to teach CPR treatment classes in the local area. The two mannequins were "donated by concerned citizens for Sherman County." Any club or organization wishing a demonstration may call the Stratford Clinic and make arrangements.

SANTA CLAUS AND FRIENDS--Santa Claus is shown here visiting with a group of his friends by the tree at the First State Bank of Stratford last week. Santa really had a rush of small visitors during the afternoon hours as they all came to tell the old gentleman what they wished for Christmas.

OVER FIVE YEARS

More New Equipment Planned By SWPS

Southwestern Public Service Company will invest more than $500-million during the next five years in new equipment and improvements, Berl Springer, president and chief operating officer of the electric company, announced.

Expenditures for 1977 will be about $84.5 million, while the projected expenditures for the other four years range from $84.5 million, to $116.5 million, the latter expenditure scheduled for 1981. The new equipment and improvements are necessary so that SPS can continue providing electric service for the 45,000-square mile area it serves.

"During the five-year period, Southwestern will be required to borrow about $300-million to meet these construction expenditures," Springer said.

Two additional generating facilities to be installed during this period will increase the SPS system capability by more than 700,000 kilowatts, bringing the total capability to almost three and one-half million kilowatts.

Harrington Station, northeast of Amarillo, will be the site for the two new generating units. Construction has just started on Harrington #2 and it is scheduled to go on the line in 1978. Harrington #3 is scheduled for completion in 1980. Both generators will have a capability of 350,000 kilowatts and will use coal as their primary fuel.

"During the latter part of the five-year period, substantial expenditures will be made on a fourth unit, in the 550,000 kilowatt range, presently planned for completion in 1982. This unit will also use a coal-fired boiler," Springer said.

Southwestern has been using low-sulphur coal from Wyoming at its Harrington Station for about five months. Approximately 11,000 tons are delivered twice a week by a 110-car unit train. The Harrington units each use about 1 million tons per year.

Southwestern Public Service Company, through its fuel subsidiary, TUCO INC., is continuing its aggressive program to assure adequate fuel supplies. "The Company's traditional suppliers of natural gas have been successful in acquiring additional reserves and, at the present time, indicate they have adequate supplies to meet their delivery needs," Springer said.

"The introduction of coal as a fuel to this area should act as a stabilizing factor for the cost of electric service, and we do not contemplate asking the regulatory authorities in our service area for an increase in electric rates during fiscal 1977".

Transmission lines and transmission substations scheduled for completion during the five-year period represent an investment of about $75 million with more than $10 million being invested in 1977.

NEW AMBULANCE--The new ambulance which was delivered for use by Sherman County residents was shown last Wednesday at 3rd & Main in Stratford and was on display prior to the Hawaiian Holiday drawing. The new ambulance was purchased by the City of Stratford and Sherman County through a grant made by the Panhandle Regional Health Council and was one of a number of new emergency vehicles made available to Panhandle area citizens recently. The new vehicle is fully equipped and is nearly a rolling hospital with direct radio contact with area doctors and hospitals.

Gifford-Hill's 360. Good to the last drop.

Whether first or last, that little drop of water is more important than you think. Gifford-Hill came up with a fine, mist-like drop that penetrates the soil quickly. In fact, the 360's entire sprinkler spacing and water pattern concept was computer designed to provide efficient distribution and a smaller drop that could virtually eliminate compaction, puddling and runoff. But all that wasn't enough. They went ahead and built in more automation, more control and more plain old durability than you can find in any other system.

All things considered, Gifford-Hill's 360 Pivotal Sprinkler System is the most sophisticated system available today.

Tuesday morning we got up, but we ended up about 30 minutes behind time because we forgot to reset the blooming clock from the day before. Bill Gupton gave us a hard time about running late, along with Pup Wells who is usually up waiting for his paper when we get by.

But, perhaps one of these days we shall get back on schedule.

Speaking of the schedules and holidays, Sunday morning the Amarillo papers were really fouled up, all because of some snafu down at the main office in Amarillo.

J.W. McCarver delivers the papers for TAPCO on weekends and while we were gone for the holidays. Pore J.W. really had a time Sunday as the computer shorted 120 papers for Stratford and they never brought enough up to make up the shortage.

Even computers get fouled up on holidays it seems!

Weather has been warm for this time of year, maybe so one of these days we can get some needed moisture. Still no moisture in our area and the mountain areas are crying because of the shortage of snow. While the East Coast and up around the Great Lakes area is getting snowbound and rained out, we sit around and blow away.

We had hoped that Santa Claus would bring some moisture, but he left that out of his pack for Stratford and the Panhandle.

Commodity prices on local markets Tuesday showed wheat selling for $2.46 per bushel, grain sorghum welling for $3.46 per cwt and corn going at $2.25 per bushel.

Riding Class On Slate At WTSU

They will work on reining, western riding, halter and western pleasure, according to Mrs. Weeks.

We will be stressing a new type of training with snaffle bit, and how to get a horse to bend and flex in more of a natural movement than has been used in this area," Mrs. Weeks said.

District Conservationist Bill Sladek reported that the award was received for providing technical assistance to the Sherman County Soil & Water Conservation District in planning and application of a quality soil water and plant conservation program. "This is what the Certificate read," Sladek reported, "but the real reason we received the award is the positive conservation attitude the farmers and ranchers take in this District. Conservation is not carried out by SCS but farmers and to them we say thanks." Sladek continued.

Land Bank Has New Loan Rate

Burke Bell, manager of the Federal Land Bank Association of Dalhart, announced the Federal Land Bank of Houston will reduce the interest billing rate on variable rate loans to 8 percent. This reduction will be effective on January 1, 1977, and will affect $980 million in variable rate loans to 17,000 Texas farmers and ranchers. This billing rate change will be effective on both farm loans and rural residence loans.

The variable rate loan was introduced by the Houston Bank in July, 1969, and allows the rate to fluctuate with variations in the money market. Improvements in the money market have made this billing reduction possible. Bell stated, "This action is in keeping with the Land Bank's policy to provide farmers and ranchers credit at the lowest possible cost consistent with sound business practices."

The Federal Land Bank of Houston makes long-term real estate loans on farm and ranch land and rural residences throughout Texas and now has $1.2 billion in loans outstanding. The local Association makes and serves loans in four counties. Officers and directors of the Association are Roy Browder, president of Sunray; Hugh Gordon and Ed Lathem, Dalhart; Leslie Dodson, Stratford; and B.N. Williams, Dumas.

Canyon Church Site Of Area Wedding

Deborah Ann Walterscheid and Kerry James Bradley were united in marriage in the First United Methodist Church in Canyon. Officiating were Rev. Bill Kent, pastor and Rev. Father Jack Gist of St. Ann's.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Walterscheid of Hereford and Mr. and Mrs. James H. Bradley of Dumas.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a formal gown of ivory organza over bridal taffeta designed with a victorian neckline trimmed in lace. A sheer insert formed the yoke with Venise grape lace enhancing the bodice. Her self banded fitted waistline was accented with a soft bow in the back. The long sheer sleeves were caught up in a deep cuff of lace with lace falling softly over the hands. Her softly gathered A-line skirt was enhanced by lace motifs and banded in scalloped lace with a lace trimmed hem which swept to the back fullness and cascaded into a full chapel train.

The decorations at the church had a Christmas atmosphere. Three arched candelabra with 29 candles and potted poinsettias surrounded the altar.

David Cameron accompanied Donna Brockman as she presented "Wedding Song," and "The Greatest of These is Love."

Lighting the candles were the sisters of the bride, Joyce and Connie.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Mary Jo Bartles of Hereford. Savoy Brent Bradley of Dumas served his brother as best man. Debbie Wilson of El Paso was bridesmaid and Doug Walterscheid, cousin of the bride, of Hereford was groomsman. Ushers were Bud Warren and David Walterscheid. The female attendants wore deep red dresses with white trim and carried peppermint and white carnations.

The reception was held in the church parlor with the house-party consisting of Susan Elliott, Tammy Thomas, Patti Wright, Brenda and Michelle Walterscheid.

The serving table was covered with a lace cloth over red. Guests were served a three tier cake decorated with a water fall and red roses.

Vicky Faught registered guests.

Mrs. Bradley is a graduate of Hereford High School, a member of Alpha Delta Pi and is attending WTSU in Canyon.

Mr. Bradley is a graduate of Dumas High School, a member of Sigma Nu and is also a student at WT.

For a wedding trip to points in South Texas the bride wore a maroon pants suit and white rose corsage. They are at home in Canyon.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. F.J. Walterscheid, the brides grandparents of Hereford and Mr. and Mrs. L.D. Patterson of Big Springs. Mrs. Adelyne Bradley of Stratford, the grooms grandmother, also attended. Other guests attended from Hereford, Dumas, Nazareth, Amarillo, Stratford and Tulia.

Gifts are valuable sources of enriching the school library's book collection. Possible donors are individuals; civic, professional organizations, and clubs; and business and industrial firms. Last school year, 1975-76, the Alfred Pronger family donated God, Grass, and Grit, Volume II, in memory of Mrs. Clara Hudson. Gifts can also be in the form of money to purchase new books or other items such as audiovisual materials. If a specific purchase is to be made with the money, the selection will be made to coincide with the selection policy set up by the school. Gamma Xi Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma gave us a money donation to purchase a bicentennial book for our history collection. The book, We the People, was selected and a special book plate was put on the cover. In order to maintain good will in the community, yet still be able to politely refuse some donations, the library has a written policy for the acceptance of gifts.

WHAT'S NEW AT SCHOOL
Mrs. Judd's fourth grade closed out the bicentennial year by making salt cookie decorations for their Christmas tree. They also made candles and decorated them for gifts to their mothers. Their picture appeared in last week's issue of the Star

Ask about Nursing Homes

Questions about Nursing Homes sent to this newspaper will be forwarded to Austin for reply by the Texas Nursing Home Association in consultation with state and federal agencies. Letters cannot be answered individually but typical examples will appear in this column each Thursday.

How old does a person have to be before a nursing home will take them?

Adults of all ages are admitted to nursing homes in Texas. The condition of health rather than age is the main consideration. Recent statistics gathered at the national level, show 8% of patients/residents below 50 years of age and a total of 19% under age 70. The average age is 77.

How much would it cost me to start a nursing home in my town?

First, it should be understood that a nursing facility, by law, cannot be placed in operation without first securing a Certificate of Need from the Texas Health Facilities Commission. Assuming that the need could be established, the prospective builder of a modern nursing home should be prepared to invest approximately $6,000.00 per bed plus an additional $750.00 per bed for necessary equipment. Thus a new 60 bed facility, properly built and equipped represents an investment of $405,000.00 at current costs and equipment prices. Facilities must be designed and built to conform with the rigid requirements of the National Life Safety Code and the American National Standards Institute.

What is the "waiting period" to get a person in a nursing home?

In the case of a private paying patient, there would be no "waiting" period except when there is no space available. This is the case in a

Social Security News

Q. How does social security actually determine whether a person is retarded enough to be considered disabled?

A. Social security works with the Texas Rehabilitation Commission in deciding if the retarded person is disabled. In reaching a decision the State agency evaluates reports from Psychologists, psychiatrists and other professional people, and reviews any other evidence describing the retarded person's condition.

Q. I'm not sure my employer reported all my wages each year. Since I'll retire in a few years, how can I check into this?

A. Get a free Request for Statement of Earnings card at any social security headquarters. You'll get a statement of earnings reported for you. If you think you spot an error, get in touch with the people at any social security office. They'll be happy to help you check it out.

Q. I was in a bad accident 9 months ago and still must use a cane. The doctor said it'll be several more months before I can work and suggested I apply for disability benefits. But since I'm only 20 and worked just 2 years, could I qualify?

At your age, you need only 1 1/2 years of social security work credits during the 3-year period before you became disabled. You should apply for disability benefits at any social security office. A decision will then be made as to whether your disability is severe enough to qualify you for benefits.

More Vets Take Part In GI Bill

College training under the current GI Bill has attracted more veterans than the combined total enrolled in college courses under the World War II and Korean Conflict bills, Jack Coker, VA Regional Director, reported today.

More than 3.5 million veterans have received college training under the current bill. The World War II bill provided college training for 2.2 million veterans. There were 1.2 million enrolled in college courses under the Korean bill.

Vietnam-era veterans have been the greatest participants in GI Bill training. Of 8.3 million persons who served during the Vietnam era, 64.1 percent have enrolled in some form of training, 37 percent of college courses. Only 14.4 percent of the World War II veterans chose college courses and 22 percent of the Korean veterans.

Enrollments in GI Bill training during November totaled 1.2 million, including 857,000 in college courses. Regional VA offices reported increasing interest in the additional nine months educational entitlement signed into law during October for eligible GI Bill students. The law extended entitlement to 45 for all persons who have served at least 18 months continuous active duty and have not been separated for more than 10 years.

The law also terminated eligibility for GI Bill training for those entering active duty after

County Agent's Report

By Jim Allison

Cyanides are sometimes used in the chemical form as fumigants, soil sterilizers, or rodenticides, and livestock can become poisoned with this; but poisoning occurs much more frequently from eating plants which contain hydrocyanic acid. Plants which are potentially dangerous in this area are Johnson grass, Sudan grass, common sorghum, and arrow grass. These plants contain a compound called cyanogenic glucosides. This form of the acid is non-toxic, but it may be broken down to hydrocyanic acid, which is toxic, by an enzyme which may be present in the same or other plants or by the activity of the bacteria in the rumen. This action in the normal plant is usually slow enough, though, that there is no problem since poisoning depends both on the amount of cyanide compound consumed and how fast it is absorbed into the blood stream.

Damage to the plant by freezing does not increase the amount of cyanogenic glucoside in the plant but this damage may release the enzyme so that the glucoside is broken down in the plant. Therefore, temporarily, there would be more free cyanide available which could be absorbed rapidly. Heavy nitrate fertilization, wilting, plant diseases or young rapidly growing plants have a higher content of cyanogenic glucoside.

Cyanide is one of the most toxic and quickest acting poisons, preventing the transfer of oxygen from the red blood cells to the body tissue cells and the animal dies from lack of oxygen. Cattle are much more susceptible to poisoning from grazing plants containing hydrocyanic acid than horses or swine because the acidity of the stomach of single stomach animals helps destroy the enzyme.

Symptoms of poisoning will vary depending on the amount of poison absorbed at a given time. If large doses are consumed the animal goes into severe convulsions and dies in a few minutes. With smaller doses and absorption over a longer period of time the onset of symptoms is rapid and characterized by salivation, an increased respiration rate, very heavy breathing will develop in 5 to 15 minutes, and staggering and convulsions occur shortly before death. The course usually does not last over 30 to 45 minutes. Animals that live for 2 hours after onset of symptoms usually will recover.

Treatment consists of injecting sodium nitrite and sodium thiosulfate. The best precaution is to avoid grazing prussic acid producing plants when factors that increase the toxic hazard are present. If in doubt, samples of the forage can be sent to the Diagnostic Lab for analysis. Samples should be collected from several areas in the pasture; also select samples from all types of terrain such as low spots where extra water would stand and high spots that drain better.

If prussic acid is high, continue testing every week or so until the prussic acid content goes down.

If you are thinking of grazing forage that is potentially dangerous it would be advisable to talk with your veterinarian. Make sure he has plenty of the treatment drugs on hand and I would also suggest that you have some medicine yourself. Get specific instructions on how to give it and the proper dosage.

Gene E. Cope, Area Extension Veterinarian, Amarillo, Texas.
