MARCH 17, DEADLINE FOR HOG CONTRACTS

Word, that Saturday, March 17th, has been appointed as the last sign-up day in Texas for the corn-hog campaign has been received by Midland-Martin County Agent, S. A. Debnam, from E. M. Regenbrecht, extension swine specialist.

Contract signing has been going as fast as it could be taken care of by the agents who have heen more free to accept contracts since the heaviest of the cotton work is now out of the way, Regenbrecht stated in his letter to Debnam. But unless a good many farmers get in ahead of the last sign-up day March 17th, is likely to be a rush Aay in the County Agent's offices all over the State.

Debnam hopes to get 100 contracts signed in Midland and Martin counties. Acreage conditions of 1932 wil I be a base for corn reduction in these two counties, due to drought conditions. To be eligible to sign a hog contract six litters or more of hogs in two years makes for eligibility.

The Martin County Committee will be made up of signers, further information on which is available at the county agent's
