Turner 'Top Hand'; Wilkinson is Top Teacher

Hooper Wilkinson, principal speaker at the 27th annual Haskell Chamber of Commerce day night, was named recipient of the Lion's Club award for his teaching job as manual training instructor at Mineral Wells. He was asked to return to his native Newcastle a few years later as superintendent of schools. He came to Haskell to teach at the Haskell Normal School, and is completing his seventh year as principal here this spring.

Abe Turner was introduced as the 1963 Chamber president. The introduction came from outgoing President Bailey Tolliver, who presented his successor with a key "to the front door of Haskell," and along with it, the challenge to continue development of this community as "a city of good living."

Tolliver introduced the following other officers named to serve with Turner: Mrs. Opal Adkins, vice president; Clay Smith, second vice president; Miss Nettie McCollum, treasurer; and Dr. T. W. Williams, Haskell director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Roy Johnson continues her dedicated efforts as manager of the chamber here.

New directors include Dr. James F. Cadenhead, Robert R. King, Jack McAdoo, Harold Spain, and Turner.

Holdover directors are Mrs. Adkins, Jon Baum, Wallace Cox, Jr., Desmond Dulaney, Ira Hester, Dr. B. L. Langston, Miss McCollum, Alvin Sherman, Smith, and E. J. Stewart.

Special speaker for the banquet was Ben H. Wooten, outstanding civic and religious leader in the Southwest and chairman of the board of the First National Bank in Dallas. He was introduced by 39th

Gala, Nostalgic Homecoming Here October 4-5

Son-Of-Soil Salute Slated By Walter R. Humphrey

Appeal Voiced To Write Senators, Congressmen

Haskell Homecoming, a community-wide event, gala and nostalgic, which is held every other year, has been set tentatively for October 4 and 5. It was announced following a meeting of the 1963 officers of the Haskell Homecoming Association in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Smith here.

One of the principal "items of business" on the homecoming schedule will be support of the Haskell Indians' gridiron clash with Hirschi High School of Wichita Falls at Indian Stadium here on October 4.

Present officialdom of the homecoming association is anxious to at least double the 25 lifetime memberships now held in the organization.

Walter R. Humphrey, Managing Editor of the Fort Worth Press, Fort Worth, Texas, will be in Haskell Tuesday, April 2, to speak to members of the Lions Club and visiting Rotarians, at the noon-day luncheon meeting of Lions.

Mr. Humphrey will also present a plaque to A. R. (Petey) Eaton, "Outstanding Farmer of the Year," of the Wichita Brazos Soil Conservation District.

The yearly soil award is an annual project of the local Lions Club, and the program on this date will be directed by Frank Martin and Wallace Cox Jr.

Walter R. Humphrey began his newspaper career at the Fort Worth Press as a reporter in 1926. Three years later, he was selected to serve as editor of the Temple Telegram, Temple, Texas. He served in that capacity until he was named editor of the Fort Worth Press in 1945. He was president of Texas Press Association, 1946-1947.

Originator of the Fort Worth Press soil conservation award program, Mr. Humphrey has been honored by virtually every organization in the field for his service to Soil Conservation Society of America and the American Forestry Association.

The Lions Club also is giving $50.00 to the school library in honor of Mr. Wilkinson's name.

Bandman Award
 Friday night, April 5, at the annual band coronation concert, an award of musical merit, National Arion Foundation, will be presented by the Haskell Lions Club to the graduating senior who has contributed most to the musical organization.

Directors Meeting
 Monthly meeting of officers and directors, was called for Tuesday, April 2, 7:00 a. m., Highway Drive in Haskell.

Tuesday's Program
 Hugh Ratliff was in charge of the program Tuesday noon, March 26, and showed a very interesting and educational film, "Dialogue With Life," produced by the Health Insurance Institute.

The dam project near Rule for the purposes of flood control and use as a potential recreational area appeared this week to be at least one step nearer reality.

Construction by the federal government of the projected dam as a flood control project on the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River three miles west of Rule is no longer the province of the U. S. Engineers, who already have given the green light to the proposed site, and has passed into the hands of the Bureau of Reclamation, Department of Interior, in Washington, where the decision will be made, Haskell Rotarians were told last Thursday.

An urgent appeal to write Texas' two U. S. Senators, Ralph Yarborough and John Tower, and 13th District Congressman Graham Purcell, as well as Congressmen with the districts bordering on this general area, tangibly expressing the need for the dam to benefit this territory was voiced in Haskell by Clyde Grice, Rule rancher, farmer, and civic leader, who is president of the Rotary Club of Rule, in a speech here.

Grice, who was one of the spokesmen at the hearing in Plainview held last week by U. S. Engineers, said his information was obtained from one of the engineers of the Ft. Worth district present at the data gathering session.

Individuals desiring life memberships are asked to contact the president, Clay Smith; Vice President Ed Hester; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. C. V. Payne, or her assistants, Mrs. Roy Wiseman and Mrs. Clay Smith.

Haskell's last homecoming was staged in October, 1961, at which time Bates Thornton, Haskell native, and head of a far-flung electronics empire manufacturing many items from adding machines to atomic submarines, was the principal speaker. This year's homecoming speaker will be announced at a later date, according to Mrs. Ed Hester, reporter for the homecoming planners.

Walter R. Humphrey began his newspaper career at the Fort Worth Press as a reporter in 1926. Three years later, he was selected to serve as editor of the Temple Telegram, Temple, Texas. He served in that capacity until he was named editor of the Fort Worth Press in 1945. He was president of Texas Press Association, 1946-1947.

Originator of the Fort Worth Press soil conservation award program, Mr. Humphrey has been honored by virtually every organization in the field for his service to Soil Conservation Society of America and the American Forestry Association.

Teacher Award
 At the annual dinner meeting of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce last Friday night, Al Hinds, Lions Club President, presented the "Outstanding Teacher of the Year" award to Mr. Hooper Wilkinson, Elementary School Principal.

This was the second annual teacher award presented by Haskell Lions. Mr. Wilkinson was the recipient because of his ability, devotion to teaching duties, his wonderful contribution to the school system through his dedicated efforts.

The film pointed out the growth of medical science, and things which can be done today that could not be done only 20 years ago.

The film also emphasized that Health Care Insurance helps us plan for the future.

Guests noted at Tuesday's meeting were J. F. Schaefer, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church, and Dan Dixon, owner-operator of Haskell Auto Parts Company.

"He told us the U. S. Engineers never have pinpointed a dam site like they have the one near Rule, but what it had not been built eventually," said Grice. "We are convinced after the Plainview meeting, at which we had such a fine reception, that this dam will be built sooner or later. We can make it sooner by presenting our views in as great numbers as possible with our Senators and Congressmen."

The Rule citizen said the dam site which U. S. Engineers have had under study for some time, and upon which surveying is complete, is at a point a "little higher up" on the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River than the location of the old spot known to old-timers in this area as the "Baskum" or "Baskin" dam site. Earmarked "Seymour Reservoir" on U. S. Engineer maps, the proposed flood control project to impound water, which would keep tables up in 1800 irrigation wells serving 800,000 acres of cultivated land in the Brazos Basin in this area, when constructed would have a dam 136 feet high, "which sounds like a pretty tall structure in West Texas," Grice said.

Joanie Frazier Will Be Crowned HHS Band Queen

Joanie Frazier, senior, will be honored at the fourth annual Coronation Concert of the Haskell High School Band Friday night, April 5, at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium. The band queen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Frazier of Haskell.

Bassett Owens, also a senior, and band captain of the Haskell musical organization, will crown Miss Frazier. Bassett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Owens, will be joined by several other members of the band in the coronation ceremonies climaxed the evening's concert presentation.

In the concert, Director Frank Porter said the band has been preparing for six weeks now, and the degree of music to be played is the "most difficult undertaken to date."

Pamela Baird, senior, will be presented with the band accompaniment in an alto sax solo. She is the daughter of Mrs. Pauline Baird.

Three ensembles also will be presented, including a trumpet quartet which recently won a superior rating at UIL; a flute quartet, which has won superior ratings the past two years; and a clarinet quartet which also has won high awards for musical excellence in years past.

There is no admission charge to what will be "a most enjoyable evening," Director Porter declared Monday.

HHS One-Act Play Wins Curtain Calling Classic

Haskell's High School's one-act play placed first in District 6-AA UIL competition at the district contest in Hamlin Tuesday night, and will advance to the regional finals in Lubbock in April.

The Haskell group thus was rewarded for its long and diligent practice with "The Miracle Worker," directed by Mrs. Kathleen Diggs, fine arts supervisor in the Haskell schools. Choice scenes from this play were staged in the district contest.

Other competing schools were Hamlin, Stamford and Winters. Dr. DeWitt Holland, professor of speech at Hardin-Simmons University, was the judge.

All star cast selected included three Haskellites, Beth Vaughtner, Vicki McClure, and Nancy Britte; and Francis Kay Reese, Rudy Jacques, and Jerry Megaffey, all from Balinger.

Funeral Held For Briscoe Child, 4, Leukemia Victim

Bobby Lee Briscoe, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Briscoe, former Haskell residents, now of Abilene, died at 1:45 a. m. Saturday in the Children's Medical Center at Dallas. He had been a leukemia patient for the past eight months, and was in the Dallas hospital for two weeks before his death on Saturday.

Bobby was born April 27, 1958, in Stamford.

Funeral was held Sunday in the Church of Christ here with the minister, Jim Pennington, officiating. Burial was in Willow Cemetery, with Holden Funeral Home in charge.

Pallbearers were Tony Williams, Victor Lowery, Bud Wright and Jay Briscoe.

Survivors include his parents; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Williams of Haskell, and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Briscoe of Haskell.

He told us the U. S. Engineers never have pinpointed a dam site like they have the one near Rule, but what it had not been built eventually," said Grice. "We are convinced after the Plainview meeting, at which we had such a fine reception, that this dam will be built sooner or later. Church Of Christ Sets Reunion, Gospel Meeting

Roger White, evangelist from Knox City, will lead a gospel meeting at the Church of Christ in Haskell, starting Sunday and continuing through April 7. Minister Jim Pennington of the church here has announced.

A reunion and homecoming for former members who have moved away and friends of the Church of Christ in Haskell will be accented with an all-day get-together and program here Sunday, and a new attendance goal of 400 has been set for Bible Study Sunday morning, Minister Pennington said.

Invitations to the reunion and homecoming have been read in about 60 congregations in towns of this area, and a large crowd is anticipated.

Evangelist White will deliver the sermon at 10:30 a. m. and 8:30 p. m. Sunday, March 31 and April 7. Weekday services will be at 7 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

At Sunday's reunion, a noon-time dinner-on-the-grounds at the City Park, or American Legion Hall in the event of inclement weather, will follow worship services. The Haskell congregation will be hosts for the dinner, and friends are invited to eat with them there.

At 2:30 p. m. Sunday, there will be a "song feast" at the church building, where old gospel songs will be sung from books the congregation used years ago.

Wayne Bradford, well known young Haskell businessman, will lead gospel singing each evening at 7:20 during the evangelistic services.

Evangelist White is a 1958 graduate of Abilene Christian College, and a 1962 fellow in the McGarvey Fellowship Program there. He is a native of Washington State. His wife's parents, the Lloyd Giffords, are missionaries at Nohwe Mission, Southern Rhodesia, Africa. White has been minister at Knox City since 1960.

Stamford Native To Hold Revival At Foursquare

Reverend Edwin E. Lee, native of Stamford, and former pastor of the Foursquare Gospel Church at Rotan, will be visiting minister at a week-long revival meeting at the Haskell Foursquare Gospel Church starting Sunday night.

Services will be held each evening at 7:30, March 31 through April 7 at the church here. Reverend Roy Herricks, the Haskell church pastor said, in extending a warm invitation for participation by all interested visitors.

A graduate of LIFE Bible College, the church's seminary in Los Angeles, Calif., Rev. Lee is a full-time evangelist for the Foursquare Gospel Church. He is well-known in this area, and is remembered for his work with the church's summer camp activities at Siloam Springs, Arkansas, in the Ozark Mountains. A number of Haskell and area residents regularly attend this camp.

Rev. Herricks also announced stimulating singing sessions with gospel songs, directed each evening during the revival meeting by a mother-daughter team, Mrs. Dudley Phelps, and her daughter, Elaine, talented Haskell High School senior. Mrs. Phelps is the song leader and her daughter, piano accompanist.

Sego, Thomas Unopposed In Election Tuesday

Haskell's two City Councilmen seeking re-election here next Tuesday, are unopposed.

Bob Sego and John Thomas both are farmers, and both are longtime residents of Haskell County. Sego is a native of Haskell. Thomas came here when he was 12 years old.

Both are seeking their second term on the Haskell City Council.

The Segos have three children. Bobby, 24, teaches school at Garland; a daughter, Jane Ann, is a junior at North Texas State University, where her brother graduated. Both are graduates of Haskell High School, where a third Sego, Judy Kay, is a junior now.

Thomas and his wife are also parents of three children. A son, Clyde, lives in Pasadena, Texas. Another son, Clois, lives here. A daughter, Mrs. Donald DuBois, the former Christine Thomas, lives in Abilene. The Thomases received their high school educations at Haskell High School and Paint Creek.

HASKELL BELLES WILL RING ON TOUR WITH McMURRY CHORUS

June and Jane Bell, talented twins from Haskell, and members of the McMurry College Chanters, 56-voice choir from the Abilene college, will be with this choral group when it whistle-stops through thirteen cities and towns of West Texas March 31 through April 5, according to word received here. The choir will sing in both churches and schools while making the 500-mile trip.

The Bell twins, who are among Haskell's well-known belles, renowned for their musical abilities, are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Bell, of Haskell, prominent themselves in music circles of the area. June and Jane are sophomore students and members of Gamma Sigma Social Club at McMurry. Both are studying elementary education, and are members of the Student Education Association.

While on tour the McMurry students will perform in Throckmorton, Wichita Falls, Quanah, Memphis, Wellington, Shamrock, Berger, Grimes, Spearman, Stratford, Pritchard, Plainview and Post.

"WAY FOR YOUTH" IS OF WEEKEND REVIVAL

First Baptist Church here is sponsoring a "Make Way for Youth" Revival, to be a three-day production, paced by a hard Payne Col.

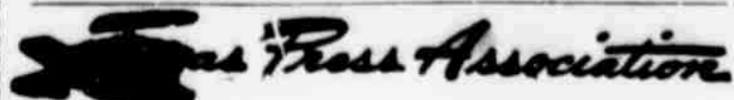

Neal Todd, Kris Stingle, Larry Evans, Jerry Perkins, and Sandra Ledbetter.

For all Haskell area youth, the "Make Way for Youth" revival here will accent Bible preaching, stirring gospel music, fun-filled fellowship, and seminars on pertinent problems of young people.

A special invitation is being extended, too, for adults to sit in on the meetings.

Verbal Vignettes

Hereinafter are capsule comments the Free Press feels it propitious to present concerning people, events, and situations currently topical, and therefore deserving of our views as we evaluate the news.

Restoration Would Be Enriching, Two Ways

It was pleausurably apropos that the wife of the Chamber of Commerce President in Haskell, Mrs. Bailey Toliver, should be the first to alert the Free Press to what we are convinced would be an enduring answer to our prayers for correcting the unsightly depot situation in Haskell.

What we should press for, and tangibly demonstrate our interest in seeing done, Mrs. Toliver submits, is not a new depot, but restoration of the old one. And we concur completely that restoring the old depot, complete with working parts, in spic-and-span shape, with pot-bellied stove operational, and all the other traditional fixtures that are legion and make for the retention of the romance of the railroad, would be so much better than a new structure.

Rehabilitation of this residence of the rails in Haskell, preserving the quaintness of another generation, would be a most magnetic tourist attraction. It also would be an ideal location for a monumental museum. The work of the Haskell County Historical Survey, with County Judge Jim Alvis in charge of the museum phase of its endeavors, could well be tied in to this effort as a two-pronged project, Mrs. Toliver points out.

The suggestion also has been made to petition the FW&DC and Burlington Lines for an antiquated railroad car to park beside that restored depot. Just think of the "picnic" the spit 'n whittle boys would have with such an object d'art!

Somewhat, we think the railroad officialdom mentioned in last week's Free Press would go along with this classic idea. So, again, we implore the citizenship to tangibly record your deep interest in this depot project, striking a note for restoration as well as beautification. Be a bell-ringer for city pride and preservation of a heritage as well by writing or calling any, or all of the following: E. L. Simmons, vice president, Ft. Worth and Denver Lines, T&P Depot, Ft. Worth, Texas; J. W. Terrill, vice president, Colorado and Southern Lines, same address; and J. K. Lamb, Ft. Worth and Denver Lines agent, Burlington Station, Abilene.

This piuperfect project could be enriching, economically as well as environmentally, you know. Let's get at it.

A Civic Bonanza

From Ben Wooten's food for thought to the superbly served food for the palate, from the Nineteens' colorful, curvaceous choristers to the Lions' Club's propitious award to a most deserving Hooper Wilkinson as outstanding teacher of the year, the 27th annual Haskell Chamber of Commerce banquet was a civic bonanza.

The entire program, and the decorative blending with the theme of "Man's Progress From Wagon Wheels to Rockets," a transition which has been made IN OUR TIME, would have done credit to any city twenty times the size of Haskell.

We heard more than a couple of our city guests say just that.

"With charity toward all," we would be fearful of stumping our editorial toe if we tried to name all the people with Haskell in their hearts who contributed to the scintillating success of this enterprising event. Let's let it go with the declaration that seldom has any community-wide endeavor in any town of any size anywhere been any more effectively or productively staged.

A dedicated Bailey Toliver, who surely must have a soul-soothing feeling of accomplishment on many counts, turned over the key to the front door of Haskell to a most Able Abe Turner last Friday night.

Abe, without garnishing the grammar, made a from-the-shoulder statement to wit: "Through the cooperation of all, we will work to make Haskell a better place to live and do business."

Folks who were there saw for themselves by lighting just one little candle, what a brighter world this can be.

Will you light yours, for Haskell, for its future, and hold it high to help show the way?

Oakescripts A Pencil Pusher's Potpourri

By PORTER

Our Chamber of Commerce banquet last Friday night was so "uptown," even to the demeanor of the most unobtrusive witness to the spectacle, you couldn't tell which ones wuz wearin' the tight shoes. The whole shootin' match on the festive firin' line looked cified, even though the question was raised after 90 "outlanders" were introduced, if any natives had showed up at all. Truth of the matter was that 219 or two-thirds of the capacity crowd were Haskellites. And there wasn't a hayseed in the stack, judging from what was showing anyway.

One of the more practiced peas-and-carrots pushers on the knife and fork circuit, Joe McDonald, of Wichita Falls, who was among the brigade of bankers present, recalling that the Dallas Dynamo, Ben Wooten's first "degree" was an East Texas acquired "RFD," (Route 4, Box 22, to be specific) said he knew a lot of folks with ROTC training, too. "Right Off the Top of the Cultivator," Joe said.

Puttin' together a newspaper can be trying on occasion, but you get a lot of laughs out of it along the way, some that you can't afford to try to convey in print. For instance, there was one what would be termed a "run of the mine" piece this week that produced a couple of jelly-bellies.

It was about the Rainbow Sewing Club. Now, the full "handle" of this organization just won't fit in a one-column headline. But "Rainbow Sewers" will. It looks all right, but we had to discard it. Because we didn't mean for the stitch-and-chatter girls to smell, did we?

And Mrs. Jossellet got elected president of the Rainbow Club. So we figured we'd put her name in the headline. There was room for "Jess" in there between "Mrs." and "Jossellet," but we thought to ourselves, "Leave the Jess out, so they'll read the story to see WHICH Jossellet it was who got elected to something. That way you'll have half the county reading your paper and increase your circulation. Because there ARE that many Jossellets, you know."

We've already figured if we could just get the Jossellets, Turnbrows, Ratliffs, and just one or two other families to stay hitched in our behalf we could win an election in these parts, hands down.

The Pencil Pusher saw a fellow in San Antonio last week he hadn't laid eyes on in about 35 years, but he recognized him right off. This gentleman, whose daughter goes to the same school, St. Mary's Hall, as mine, is a pretty fair country promoter. That didn't stump me, because, as I recall, he used to always bat first at the neighborhood sandlot games. He told me that among his many enterprises he is selling a product called "Vita-Spike," that looks like a nail. You hammer it into a tree, and it furnishes the "vitamins" to make trees grow, he says. "Well, I sw'an," the Pencil Pusher says to himself. So he comes back to Haskell and tells the boss about it, because the man wants to advertise it in the Free Press. The boss says he has heard of folks 'way back yonder hammering plain ol' nails into trees. That was when nails really had some "rrrrr" in 'em. And it was supposed to make 'em grow. So we reckon there's nothing plumb new under the sun.

Speakin' of the boss, just wonder if both bosses, Jetty and Jewel, would let me off a day or two. Kinda like to sashay down Huntsville way. They tell me Candy Barr is gettin' out. Thought it might make an interesting interview, of course, even with wrapper.

There's been a lot said lately about Johnny Kimbrough not going to his Dad's alma mater, A&M, where Big (BAD) John's name is immortal on the Aggie campus. The name Kimbrough, as you know, is legend throughout the Southwest Conference, where our Haskell neighbor, as great a booster for this town as you'll ever see, shredded many an opposing line to twice make All-America and lead his Aggies to a national championship and a 19-game win stint.

But Johnny, Big John's 230-pound "little" boy, is going to SMU this fall. And we think he's plenty smart for the choice. At A&M, John Kimbrough II would have all the pressure in the world on him, and the expectations of him would be sky-high.

It's a nostalgic and "well, isn't that nice" sort of thing to see a boy follow in his Dad's footsteps at Dad's alma mater. It's another thing, a quite solidly principled thing, to have the boy take the attitude that he wants to eliminate all doubt in anyone's mind that he's trying to cash in on his Dad's sterling name.

The world is John Dudley Kimbrough's own oyster anywhere besides A&M, and he won't have a prior cadence to count, or a stride to measure that went before him. With the pressure off, he will come a lot nearer making a name on his own than he would have at Aggie. This is all hard for a sentimental slob like the Pencil Pusher to say. But it's true, and we for one are grateful for this boy's grit.

We have been privileged to know Doak Walker since he was three years old. We at the age of 12 started attending a boys' camp for four summers, 10,300 feet high right in the marrow of the Continental Divide on Brainerd Lake in Colorado. Here, Doak's Daddy, Ewell D. (for Doak) Walker, then principal—and coach—of North Dallas High School, now assistant superintendent of

Haskell County History

We can't say we were surprised when No. 37 also achieved football immortality. His Dad, from the time he could hold a football, taught him to handle it with a dexterity few people before or since ever had. When he was no more than 5 years old at Camp Audubon, I watched Harry Shuford then high school gridiron star on the Tyler High School 1930 state champs, and his teammate Art Johnson, center on the same team, snap, fake, and throw footballs to the Doaker every day most all day. Shuford and Johnson both went on to fame at SMU themselves, and the former today is an outstanding Dallas attorney, and among other things legal counsel for the Federal Reserve Bank there.

That No. 37 Doak wore was no happenstance. It was Harry Shuford's old number. The Doaker worshipped Harry when we all were young together in the rarefied atmosphere of captivating Colorado. We bet he still does.

And the Doaker, we are told, one day as he neared the end of a glory road at SMU, was asked by a friend, "Doak, if you could do it over again, would you still come to SMU?" "Yes," shot back the Doaker, "but I would want to make it on my own. I wouldn't want any of this Doak Walker stuff."

Young John Kimbrough, the Pencil Pusher feels, is made of the same stuff. And he'll be a better man for it.

March 30, 1933, issue of the Free Press bore an eight-column banner headline declaring, "Bank at Knox City Is Robbed of $15,000." The bandits held up Nightwatchman J. H. Finley at the Citizen State Bank of Knox City and while one held him in a stairway near the bank, four or more bandits cut through the outer vault door and into the vault, with an acetylene torch to get to the money. Finishing their work about five o'clock, the gang placed the blindfolded nightwatchman in the vault and left town in two cars, going south. All telephone wires leading out of Knox City were cut, and it was two or more hours before communication with nearby towns could be established.

A by-line story dated March 29, 1933, from the Haskell County Jail, reported that a man, writing in a letter, said, "Not a word about the matter of coming back when the jail here is built. I'll be there to put on the ball game."

Chevrolet Super Sports* have a charm that soothes your springtime yen for romantic adventure as fast as you can slip into a bucket seat. (Especially the Impala's, with its adjustable new Comfortilt steering wheel.) Front bucket seats are a great start, but Super Sports also feature plush all-vinyl interiors, special interior-exterior trim in tasteful touches, and a veritable feast of goodies we call performance options*. Chevrolet and Chevy II Super Sports invite adventure in convertible or coupe form. That same Super Sport zing applies to the Corvair Spyder, very breezy with its all-aluminum horsepower rear-mounted engine, speed shift*. Ditto for the new Corvair Ray, a magnificent thoroughbred pure-blood sports car with a single sacrifice in mind: Spyder and Sting Ray coupe or convertible Chevrolet Super Sports spring days—you've got out in them to savour and catch yourself a passing and wait on down to Chevrolet showroom.

Mesquite District, TFWC, Headed By Mrs. R. W. Herren, Convenes In Graham

Planning, underway for the past year by membership in the Texas Federation of Women's Club Mesquite District, will be productively crystallized when the district convention is held in Graham April 19 and 20, Mrs. R. W. Herren, of Haskell, president, and Mrs. Beverly King, Jr. of Graham convention chairman, announced on Sunday.

Headquarters, Mrs. Herren said, will be in the Memorial Auditorium in Graham, with the Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Club, a 51-year-old organization, hosting the district convention for the first time in more than 30 years.

The Mesquite District, TFWC, meeting will open at 9:00

a. m. Friday, April 19, with Graham Mayor E. S. Graham welcoming the delegates. Mrs. W. G. Street, president of the host club, will also give a welcoming address. Mrs. Herren will preside at the business meeting, and Mrs. A. T. Carleton, of Houston, state president, will address the convention Friday morning.

Graham's Women's Club will be the site of a luncheon Friday noon at which a program will be staged by the first place winner in the district Fine Arts and Education Departments. An evening dinner will honor the council of international affairs, coordinating agencies, and the international affairs departments, Mrs. Herren reports.

A reception honoring the state, district, and club presidents, will be held following the dinner at the home of Mrs. R. C. Turner.

On April 20, outstanding programs include a luncheon honoring Texas heritage, conservation, home life, and public affairs departments. Dr. Rupert Richardson, of Abilene, president emeritus of Hardin-Simmons University, and president and one of the founders of the Texas State Historical Association will be the speaker.

Following the luncheon on Saturday, a pilgrimage will be made to the historical marker under the old oak tree where the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association was organized in 1877. The group will continue to Ft. Belknap, where the convention will conclude its activities with a coffee given by the Newcastle club.

Mrs. Josselet Is Named President Of Rainbow Club

Mrs. Jess Josselet was elected president of the Rainbow Sewing Club of Haskell to serve for the next six months at a meeting of the group in the home of Mrs. W. D. Rogers this week.

Other officers elected on the same slate include: Mmes. Dick Andrews, vice president; Annie Thomas, secretary; Tony Patterson, assistant secretary; John Larned, reporter; Floyd Lusk, recreation chairman; and Rogers, song leader.

Mrs. W. E. Johnson presided at the business session at which the officers were elected.

Mrs. Josselet presented the thought for the day, Mrs. J. B. Edwards, and Mrs. Patterson were recognized for having accomplished the most sewing.

Mrs. Lusk was the recipient of the hostess gift, and Mrs. Ann Taylor was accorded a birthday salute. A social hour with a St. Patrick theme was enthusiastically enjoyed by the membership.

Refreshments were served to Mmes. Patterson, Thomas, F. L. Peavy, John Pittman, Josselet, W. E. Bland, Lusk, Taylor, Johnson, Edwards, Rogers, and a visitor, Mrs. G. D. Payne of Willsboro.

Next meeting of the Rainbow Sewing Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Zada Smith.

Mrs. Frank Porter Reports Catholic Women's Activities

Next monthly meeting of the Abilene Deannery Council of Catholic Women will be held April 24 in Sweetwater. Mrs. Frank Porter, of Haskell, president of the Council, announced here in reporting activities of a deannery session held recently in Anson. Mrs. Porter made the report at the regular monthly meeting of the St. George Catholic Women's Guild held in the sacristy of the church here.

Mrs. Jesse Sanchez, chairman of Catholic Charities and Foreign Relief, announced that a collection for the Madonna Plan to aid in the feeding of needy mothers and their children in other parts of the world has been forwarded to the national office of the Council of Catholic Women.

Support of the Feed-A-Family Program, also sponsored by Catholic Women, also has been tangibly performed with a collection, Mrs. Sanchez said.

Father Roger Nuytten, pastor of St. George Church here, said 10 people have enrolled in the instruction class for catechism teachers being taught on alternate Sundays. The pastor presented a spiritual lesson taken from Ephesians, and Mrs. Joe W. Cloud, president of the guild of the Haskell church gave the program, a recording of Gregorian chant by Trappist Monks.

Lynelle Maas To Wed J. D. Riggins In June 1 Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Maas, of La Grange, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Lynelle, to Jimmy D. Riggins, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Riggins, of Rule.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of La Grange High School and Durham's Business College and is employed by TRACOR, Inc. in Austin. The groom-elect is a graduate of Rule High School and is presently enrolled in the College of Pharmacy at the University of Texas.

The wedding is planned for June 1 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in La Grange.

Rule Bride Is Honored With Lovely Gift Tea

Mrs. Tony Massey of Odessa, the former Sharon Carnes of Rule, was honored with a miscellaneous gift tea last weekend.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. T. R. Conner. In the receiving line were Mrs. R. P. Carnes, mother of the bride; Miss Massey, Mrs. Norval Norman, of Odessa, and Mrs. George Reese, of Aspermont.

Mrs. A. D. May registered guests, Mrs. Paul Bell showed the gifts, assisted by Mrs. W. S. Cole, Mrs. B. J. Riggins and Mrs. J. C. Kile served the guests, assisted by Mrs. Doyle Norman and Mrs. B. F. Campbell.

The refreshment table was covered with a pink cloth with a pink net over skirt. The centerpiece was of pink and white, and table appointments were crystal and silver.

Three Generations Attend Monumental Meeting Of Venerated Magazine Club

Haskell's venerated Magazine Club, which has been active in the civic affairs of this community since the turn of the twentieth century, held a monumental March meeting, prosecuting a subject both amusing and amazing, "Creations, Critics, and Just Plain Fun." The program was directed by Mrs. W. L. Richey. Three generations of family of some members of the Magazine Club were present.

The meeting, at which Mrs. C. J. Robinson presided, was held in the Community Room of the Haskell National Bank.

Miss Terry Kay Diggs, who had visited the home of Joel Chandler Harris, renowned author, told graphically of the domicile and presented charmingly one of Uncle Remus' tales.

A trilogy from Mark Twain with dramatizations was directed by Mrs. Terry Diggs. The sketch was, "The White Washing of the Fence," Chapter 2 from "Tom Sawyer." Mrs. William Mercer gave an introduction to the author, Mark Twain. Mrs. V. P. Terrell was narrator for the chapter.

The following cast presented the white washing episode: Mmes. Joe Thigpen, Tom Sawyer; John Darnell, Aunt Polly; H. D. Bland, Ben; Moreland Glass, Jim, the colored friend; C. W. McElvain, Huck Finn; and Bill Lane, Joe.

Bassett Owens, Haskell High School student, was presented by Mrs. Richey as Haskell County's representative with the Texas Panhandle Heritage Association. His sketch of Haskell's Rice Springs park is to be entered in competition with historical writings of other representatives from Panhandle counties.

Another enlightening feature of the program was Mrs. S. Hassen's description of the American University at Beirut. The hostesses, Mmes. Thig-pen, B. C. Chapman, and Wallace Cox, served punch, sandwiches, and cookies, to the following members and a group of special guests, children and grandchildren of Magazine Club members: Mmes. Robinson, John Rike, Richey, S. Hassen, J. U. Fields, J. C. O'Neal, Fred Monke, C. L. Lewis, J. P. Payne, Jack Pippin, Elmer Turner, K. H. Thornton, Diggs, Wallace Cox, Dick Winsted, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; and Misses Beryl Boone, Nettie McCollum, John Richard and Steve Winsted, Pace O'Neal, Little Miss Emily Thigpen and Master John Wallace Cox.

Haskell Ladies Represent WSCS At Conference

Mrs. W. H. Pitman, of Haskell, president of the Stamford district and member of the executive board, Women's Society of Christian Service in the Methodist Church, accompanied by Mrs. D. H. Persons, of the church here, led a representative delegation of 11 women from this district to the recent Northwest Texas conference in Borger.

It was the 23rd annual session of the Northwest Texas WSCS, presided over by Mrs. M. L. Hines, of Lubbock.

There were 602 delegates present from the nine districts of the conference, Mrs. Pitman and Mrs. Persons reported.

Mrs. Patterson Named President Of LL Auxiliary

Mrs. Tony Patterson was elected president of the Haskell Little League Women's Auxiliary in a meeting Monday night at the home of Mrs. Bill Reeves, immediate past president.

Other officers elected as the Auxiliary began organizing its work for the 1963 Little League season, are: Mrs. James Andrews, vice president; Mrs. Roy Pittman, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Glen Sammons, reporter.

Four committee chairmen were chosen to share responsibility for operation of the Auxiliary-sponsored concession stand during the forthcoming season. They are Mmes. T. J. Brueggeman, Books Middleton, Roy Everett and Volly Ivy.

Area Piano Pupils To Give Recital Tomorrow Night

Piano pupils of Mrs. D. A. Watson, of Stamford, will be presented in recital at the First Assembly of God Church in Stamford at 7:30 p. m. Friday.

Haskell area students taking part in the varied instrumental and vocal program, to which the public has been invited to attend, include Jeannie Conner, Patricia Burns, Carol Burns, Kathy Burns, Estalee Jones, Judy Solomon, Janice Reid.

Stamford pupils are Dalton Moeller, Vicki Baldowski, Gary Baldowski, Elaine Smith, Phyllis Green, Paul Chaney, Vewana Foster, and Marnadean Watson. Marie and John Branch are from Anson.

Abilene Women Back Hospital Auxiliary Here

Messages of encouragement as well as offers of tangible support for the newly organized Haskell County Hospital Auxiliary were received in Haskell Monday as the new group planned to hold its first county-wide membership session at the First Baptist Church here Wednesday.

Mrs. Elsie Woodrum, public relations counselor with Hendrick Memorial Hospital, Abilene, notified Anna Kimbrough, RN, at the hospital here, that she and Mrs. Lacy Beckham, president of the Hendrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary planned to bring a car load of their members to Haskell for the initial meeting of the Auxiliary here.

Mrs. Elsie T. Hughes, Haskell native now living in Bartlesville, Oklahoma, wrote Mrs. Byron Frazier, president of the humanitarian organization here, encouraging the project and telling of finding her own auxiliary work with a 98-bed hospital in Bartlesville "a most rewarding service."

Carnes-Massey Vows Exchanged In Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Carnes of Rule have announced the marriage of their daughter, Sharon Kay, to Tony Darrell Massey of Odessa, on March 10 at the East Side Baptist Church in Odessa.

The Rev. H. L. Gregory read the single ring ceremony.

The bride, a 1962 graduate of Rule High School, was a drummer on the drill team for two years, and was Annual Queen her senior year. She wore a white knit dress, white hat, white gloves, and pearls. Her corsage was an orchid. She is employed by Cobb's Department Store in Odessa.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Ector High School and attended Texas Western in El Paso. He was president of the Ector High School Student Council. He is employed by Gene's El Paso Service Station in Odessa.

After a short wedding trip to Rule and Hobbs, New Mexico, the couple are at home at 1821 North Allegheny, in Odessa.

Mrs. Albert Hannsz THDA Chairman For Center Pointer East Side Baptist Girls' Auxiliary Elects New Officers

Mrs. Albert Hannsz was elected Texas Home Demonstration Association chairman representing the Center Point Home Demonstration Club of Haskell for 1963-64 at a business session of the group this week.

Meeting at the home of Mrs. Claude Ahley, the HD organization also named three delegates and three alternates to the district conference to be held in Vernon on May 7. Delegates are Mmes. Clyde Bland, Joe Holcomb, and T. M. Howeth. Alternates are: Mmes. J. L. Toliver, Ira Townsend, and Oris Gibson.

Haskell County's Home Demonstration Agent, Barbara McAnelly, presented a palatable program on "food buying" and "super supermarkets." She also outlined the long-range program building pyramid now being undertaken by agents throughout the state.

Refreshments were served to: Mmes. Gibson, Travis Smith, O. W. Whiteker, Tony M. Patterson, Clyde Bland, Emma Bland, Hannsz, and Miss McAnelly.

The Center Point Home Demonstration Club's next meeting is at the home of Mrs. Smith on April 4.

Vets Of WWI And Auxiliary To Meet In Rule

Haskell County Barracks 1816, Veterans of World War I, and their Ladies' Auxiliary, will meet Monday, April 1, in the American Legion Hall in Rule at 7 p. m.

E. O. Morgan, commander, and Mrs. Martin Rueffer, president of the Auxiliary, urged a full attendance of all officers and members for the spring and summer sessions to be held in the hall at Rule.

Naomi Class Has Social Members of the Naomi Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met at the Double A Drive In Cafe Monday for their monthly social and business meeting.

Opal Nanny presented a stimulating devotional, using thoughts and highlights from sermons by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale on "Praying for Others."

Ethel Lou Shelton gave the treasurers' report and prayer was led by Betty Jo Clanton.

Thirteen members present were served hamburgers, sandwiches, home-made pie, coffee and tea.

Martha Henderson was elected president of the East Side Baptist Girls' Auxiliary at a meeting Monday in an election held under the direction of the organization's sponsor, Mrs. Thurman Rhoads.

Other officers named included: Carolyn Rhoads, vice president; Mary Brown, secretary; Linda Scheets, treasurer; Janice Scheets, program chairman; Karen Bartley, assistant program chairman; Elizabeth Minor, membership chairman; Gloria Bartley, assistant membership chairman; Betty Fore, Forward Steps chairman; Sandra Bartley, assistant; Martha Henderson, pianist; Carolyn Rhoads, song leader.

Following the lesson, a story, "The Tall Man," was presented. The GA's were dismissed with a prayer by Mary Brown.

Hornblowers Here Toot Trumpets To Rhythmic Win

Four Haskell students, one of them an eighth grader and a double medal winner, received superior ratings in University Interscholastic League contests held last weekend at McMurry College, Abilene.

Ken Barnett, the eighth grade student, won a superior rating with his Class II cornet solo, which is a high school classification. He was accompanied at the piano by Dollie Watson, a junior.

Also at the contest, Haskell's trumpet quartet, composed of young Barnett, Martin Rueffer, Jean King, and Judy Anderson, was entered in a Class I ensemble, the most difficult class, and was awarded a superior rating.

This quartet will be presented in the fourth annual Coronation Concert of the Haskell Indian Band next Friday, April 5, with Frank Porter, director of music for Haskell schools, behind the baton.

respectable activity un- fourth-place, in the ex- Bluebonnet wood. Carlos and musclemen had garnered two seconds and a third place trophies in as many meets at Iowa Park, Seymour, and Graham. The story, pointwise, at Brownwood was the same as all earlier outings. The Indians amassed 40-plus points in each of their meets thus far this year.

The same reliables have come through for Indian points against varying and stiff competition each time. At Brownwood Johnny Kimbrough kept his record-smashing record intact by hurling the discus to a meet record for the fourth consecutive Saturday. His 151 ft., 11 inch heave was nine feet better than the old Bluebonnet mark. Joe Thigpen's 20' 2 1/2" was good for a third in the broad jump. David Anderson's consistent 5' 8" high jump was good enough for a second place at Brownwood. He has done 5' 10".

Haskell's 440-yard relay was first for the second straight week Saturday. Comprised of Joe Josselet, Wayne Perrin, Thigpen, and James Brown, it is bettering its time each week. They should go at Abilene Saturday. It will be a 20-point "lick" if they do.

Also among the point makers were the fourth and fifth places of the Brown boys, James and Charlie, in the 100.

And the mile run relayers, Sammy Larned, Jeter, Perrin, and Thigpen are about ready to break into the scoring column according to the railbirds.

DAN DIXON

Ranger Native Opens New Auto Parts Business

Dan Dixon, native of Ranger, has moved to Haskell and announces the opening of the Haskell Auto Parts Company here at 306 South First Street.

The latest addition to Haskell's expanding realm of business ownership literally grew up in the automobile parts field. His father, Gaston Dixon, is a longtime operator of the Ranger Auto Parts Company in that city.

Mrs. Dixon also is a Ranger native. He is a graduate of Ranger Junior College and attended North Texas State University at Denton.

Herman Cupp Is New Associate With Holden's

Herman Cupp, an associate with funeral homes in Mineral Wells and Ranger for the past seven years, has moved to Haskell to become an associate of Holden's Funeral Home here. W. O. Holden, Haskell funeral director, announced on Monday.

Both Cupp and his wife, the former Clarice Taylor, are natives of Crossville, Tennessee, where they grew up and graduated from high school.

Cupp entered the service with the U. S. Army, in March, 1952, completing his basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri. After attending the service school at Fort Belvoir, Virginia, he went overseas during the Korean conflict, was attached to Air Force units for six months with the aviation engineers, and helped build airstrips at the front near the 38th parallel. He also served with the Second and Third U. S. Infantry Divisions in Korea.

Following his overseas tour, Cupp and Miss Taylor were married in September, 1953, and lived in Mineral Wells, where he was stationed at Wolters Air Force Base, now Camp Wolters, until his discharge.

Discharged from the service in March, 1955, Cupp entered the Gup-ton-Jones College of Mortuary Science in Dallas, graduating in December, 1955.

Returning to Mineral Wells, the new Haskellite was with the Baum and Carlock Funeral Home for four years. The partner in this establishment is the father of Jon Baum, well-known Haskell businessman and civic leader.

The Cupps moved to Ranger three years ago, where he was with the Killingsworth Funeral Home and was prominently identified with the civic activities of that community. He is a past president and director of the Rotary Club of Ranger, was director, a member of the executive board, and vice president of the United Fund of Ranger, and the first vice president of the newly organized Jaycees.

Cupp also served on the information and public relations committee of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce.

The Cupp family attends the Church of Christ. There are three children, a boy, Jann 6, and two daughters, Karen 3, and Kelley 10 months. They have established residence at 916 North Sixth Street in Haskell.

Capped Clan Studies Citizen Survival Setup

A civil defense program was effectively presented through speech and demonstration by Judge Jim Aivis, Haskell County civil defense coordinator; J. C. Yearly, and Lloyd Feemster, at the March meeting of the Licensed Vocational Nurses' Association, Division 39, here in the Haskell County Hospital dining room.

President Fay Fowler presented the program personnel who graphically presented the needs for know-how for survival in the event of atomic attack which might befall people at home or in the hospital. A demonstration was staged by Yearly following talks by Judge Aivis and Feemster, and a question and answer session climaxed the program.

Attending the meeting were the following vocational nurses, in addition to the president; Mildred Knippling, Dimple Nehring, Bertha Pelsue, Lucille Roberts, Faye Jetton, Dewey Wester, Mattie Faye Johnson, Leona Carter, Anna Mae Davis, Minnie Fayer Turner, Vera Hunt, Joyce Berry, Ruth Ezell, Lena Petrech, Pat Caddell, Matilda Soleta, Ernestine Minor, Corda Johnston, Erma Russell; the Supervisor of Nurses at Haskell County Hospital, Retta Stewart, and the hospital administrator, Hallie Chapman.

Faye Jetton, reporter, said the next meeting of the LVNA here will be next Tuesday, April 2.

Albany High Has 'Chaotic' Assembly For HHS Students

Albany High School students, on a goodwill barnstorming tour of area high schools, presented a program styled "chaotic entertainment" at a special assembly of Haskell High School students here this week. Chaos reportedly reigned, according to Bassett Owens, reporter for the Haskell High student newspaper, "The War Whoop," when the Albany students portrayed a typical classroom while the teacher was away. Desks were pushed back and a twisting scene ensued with a beatnik setting, followed by a courting scene which was a throwback on the '20's.

Two members of the "Topics," a musical combo, played guitars; a stage band performed, African style, with a "Voodoo" song and a twirling exhibition was presented. Two girls from Albany High did a tap routine, and three others danced to a calypso record.

After the chaos subsided, the Albany contingent at the inter-high school jamboree invited a reciprocal program to be staged by Haskell High in Albany at an early date.

Rochester Steer Band to Stage Festival Tonight

An annual Spring Festival, "Sounds In Music," will be presented Thursday night, March 28, by the Rochester High School Band in the school auditorium at 8 p. m. A small admission fee will be charged to assist with worthy band projects.

Rochester's Steer Band each year presents this musical program for the entertainment of home towners and citizens of surrounding communities. This year's presentation promises to be the "best ever," school officials said.

The program includes a variety of acts, solos, and band selections.

Crowning of the Steer Band favorites, and presentation of Steer majorettes and cheerleaders will highlight the program.

Lassie Leaguers To Elect Officers At Monday Session

Haskell's Lassie Softball League ladies group of mothers of daughters between the ages of 8 and 16, who play league softball in the spring and summer, will meet Monday night at 8 o'clock in the Texas Cafe here to organize teams and schedules and elect officers for the 1963 playing season. Mrs. Alvin A. Smith nounced Friday.

Mrs. Smith urged that newcomers to Haskell who have daughters in this age group desiring to play softball have a cordial invitation to participate in the season.

A total of 135 Haskell girls participated in this youth development program last year, and hopes are for increased numbers this year, Mrs. Smith said.

In addition to the tremendous investment in equipment and regular customer service, West Texas Utilities spends another $400,000 a year maintaining the vast complex of machinery to keep the power flowing. Here you see the hood being pulled from giant turbine.

The repaired unit is lowered back into its bearings by huge cranes, and the alignment minutely inspected before the bolts are secured — just one of the countless jobs performed regularly by West Texas Utilities' maintenance crew to assure you an uninterrupted flow of electrical power.

To go in the generating room at Oak Point, the gigantic turbine does its job to power for West Texas Utilities customers the vast West Texas area. Because the electrical power is so dependable, you're living better electrically.

Prattle

Prattle wants to put in a word here on regard to our school teachers and the importance of their jobs, however, I have never enjoyed the school teacher, because they have one of the biggest responsibilities upon their shoulders of any one I know. Our children are placed in their hands nine months a year and teaching is a difficult task and must not only be done by kindness, but watching, by warning, by precept, and by praise, but by example.

The title of my column is "Prattle." A reader asked me the other day to define Prattle. Webster says prattle is to babble or utter artlessly so if I babble and ramble about in a peculiar manner . . . just consider the source from which it comes and keep in mind the column's title.

At a dinner convention, a long and boring one, the presiding officer was not satisfied without calling upon a parade of speakers to say a few words. After about the 16th had taken his seat, a sigh of relief filled the hall. Deliverance was in sight. But no! The chairman was on his feet, exclaiming: "I'm sure this meeting does not want to break up without hearing from our good friend, John Doe."

Mr. Doe stood up. He said: "Gentlemen, I am reminded of the story of the two skeletons. For days they had been imprisoned in the mustiest closet possible. Finally, one skeleton said to the other: 'What are we doing here anyhow?' 'Whereupon the other skeleton replied: 'I'll be darned if I know!'"

By example . . . just nine letters, but such a big and important meaning. If we would set an example in our daily thinking and action, if we would govern our lives more by the Golden Rule, if we would in other words "practice what we preach" this would be a grand old world. No, I am not trying to preach a sermon to the readers of this column, but I was just thinking how careless we are sometimes in the example we set.

This brings to mind an incident that happened to a Sunday School teacher one Sunday morning as he was conducting a class of intermediates. The teacher in his discussion brought out the Golden Rule meant to "Do Unto Others As Ye Would Have Them Do Unto You." One of the boys replied he thought

Cub Scouts Elect Officials, Hold Award Ceremony

Bobby Cobb, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Cobb, a Cub Scout for five months, presented a jeweled pin award to a member of Haskell Pack 36 at an awards ceremony held last Monday night.

Pins were announced by Cub Scout officials at this session that a continuity project of great importance to scouts will be prosecuted starting at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, which, armed with sack and gloves, Pack 36 will take to the field to grope and grub to clean grass and mow from the new Elementary School ground here.

It was for a project of this type, which benefits the Pack's sponsoring institution, the Elementary P-TA, plus accomplishment of a mission for God and Country, as well as recruiting a new Cub Scout, that the Cobb youth received his jeweled pin.

Saturday's project will help the school as well as the advancement of the rank of each participating boy, it was pointed out.

Only other Cub to receive the jeweled award here was Larry Hartsfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hess Hartsfield, who earned it in 1961.

At a business meeting preceding the awards ceremonies, the following officials were elected to serve Pack 36 for another year: Cubmaster, John Smith; Assistant Cubmaster, in charge of Webelos, Jon Baum; other assistants, Allen Reeves and R. V. Black; institutional representative, Hooper Wilkinson; Pack Committee, H. H. Hartsfield, chairman; Roy Amonett, T. J. Brueggeman, Virgil Cobb, John Seroggin, Bob Dulaney, John Long; and reporter, Mrs. Virgil Cobb.

Cubmaster Smith reported that the annual Dad and Lad camp will be an all-day, but not an overnight, affair.

The group was reminded of the Scouting Exposition which will be held Saturday, April 27, from 2 to 5 p. m., in Haskell at which time booths and demonstrations by Cubs and Scouts will depict the various Scouting skills.

Progress reports on the projected Cub Scout building, a joint activity of the Scouters and American Legion here, which other organizations, the Haskell Jaycees, principally, and individuals are supporting, were given by Assistant Cubmaster Black.

Black said the building's exterior finish will be white over-size brick. In addition to previous donations of $800 by the Legion, $500 by the Haskell Jaycees, $25 by the M-System grocery here, the following firms have contributed labor or material: Marion Killion Plumbing, Perry Read-Mix Concrete, and R. B. Spencer Lumber Company.

The assistant cubmaster stated additional donations would be gratefully received and welcomed for this community-wide project.

Following is a list of award recipients:

Wolf—David Dodson, Rodney Gammill, John Seroggin, Walton Wooten Gary Long, Frank P. Jirick, Terry Hutson.

Bear—Mike Brazell.

Arrowpoints under Bear—Richard Rieves, Clifford Campbell, Jack LeFevre.

Lion—Wayne Reeves, Jack LeFevre.

One-Year Pin—Terry Hutson, Steve Stephens, Jerry Miller.

Two-Year Pin—Gwynn Butler, Clifford Campbell, Jerry Henshaw, Jack LeFevre.

Denners—Bill Cox, David Dodson, Gary Long, Steve Clapton, Glenn Thompson.

First Baptist Choses Winners In TU Contests

Winners of a newly established Sword Drill Contest and a speakers' tournament, events in training unions in churches of the Southern Baptist Convention, in which the First Baptist Church of Haskell will participate for the first time this Spring, were announced here Tuesday.

Bassett Owens, Haskell High School senior and Baptist youth leader here, won the speakers' tourney, in which competitors were given their choice of 20 subjects to make a six-minute speech. Youths between the ages of 17 and 25 delivered speeches judged 25 per cent on content, 25 per cent on composition, and 50 per cent on delivery.

Sword Drill Contest winners were Jo Nelle Anderson, Eloise Watson, Jerre Sue Couch, and Barry O'Neal, who emerged victorious in competitions Sunday night. In these contests, which includes the 13-16 age group, the entrants are given certain scriptures, quotations, or name of a Bible character and must furnish scriptural references within 8 seconds.

All these winners will take part in an associational elimination contest Sunday at the church here. The survivors will enter the district tournament and contest in Abilene on April 7. District winners will compete at state level on April 19 in Ft. Worth, and each state has the privilege of sending its winners to Baptist assemblies at Ridgecrest, North Carolina, or Glorietta, New Mexico.

Church leaders here said the programs were inaugurated here with the "hope that our youth will have the incentive to learn more about the Bible and how to handle it and how to express themselves through speaking for Christ."

Brownies Trek To Camp That Cookies Built

Haskell Brownies from three troops, accompanied by a representative group of parents, and escorted by seasoned Girl Scouts with prior experience as summer campers will make a pilgrimage Saturday to Camp Boothe Oaks, the summer Scout command post "built with cookies" near Sweetwater.

Mrs. Henry Harris, publicity chairman, and Mrs. Don Nanny, Neighborhood chairman for Haskell, said personnel of three Brownie brigades led by Mrs. Eugene Loeue, Troop 468, Mrs. Glenn Sammons, Troop

465 and Mrs. Cliff Berry, Troop 466, some accompanied by parents, will converge on Camp Boothe Oaks for the first time to become acquainted with the layout made possible by their cookie sales. The event is known as Brownie Rally Day and all mothers are being urged to attend with their daughters.

Intermediate Girl Scouts of Troop 465, under the direction of Mrs. Burnell Gilliland and Mrs. C. E. Stephens, will serve as guides and hostesses for their "little sisters" at the camp and will participate themselves in a camp-out, spending the weekend.

Haskell's Scouters are joining the entire West Texas Girl Scout Council in the Camp Boothe Oaks pilgrimage. Mrs. Nanny said.

Book Written By President Given HHS Library

Editor Oakes will present an autographed copy of the book, "Profiles in Courage," written by President John F. Kennedy, to the Superintendent, King, at an early assembly of Haskell High School students, King said. The Haskell school superintendent and he would turn the book over to High School Principal W. P. McCollum for display and use at the high school library.

The inside cover of the autographed copy obtained by Oakes contains a personal note from the White House indicating that the copy of "Profiles in Courage" was autographed particularly for the Haskell library.

The President's book, a best-seller even when it was first published in 1956, tells of the courageous stands made by U. S. Senators from the early days of our country to the present day. "Profiles in Courage" has become even more popular since JFK's election to the presidency. "Why England Slept" is another book written in 1940 by the President.

Lutherans Believe. . .

YOU ARE A SINNER

Of course Lutherans believe they are sinners, too. Before we dismiss this as "old-time religion" or superstition, let's give a little thought to the Old Testament account of the creation of man.

God created man and placed him in the world, telling him to use all of creation for his livelihood. Humans were to eat the fish and fowls; name the animals of the fields; and enjoy God's creation.

There was one thing that the Creator asked man to do—OBEY.

And so, when our Heavenly Father asked man not to eat of the tree of knowledge of good and evil, it was His desire that man should obey.

But man disobeyed and ate. Man did just what he felt like doing and he still does today. He was not of a mind to obey the Creator. He wanted to be his own little God. That's every man's story.

No one—except Jesus Christ, of course—has ever obeyed God fully . . . at all times—in every instance. No man has been willing to accept his life from God in complete trust and return it in love and obedience.

Man has been and still is his own God. That's sin. Rebellion. Transgression.

Lutherans believe every human being is a sinner, needing forgiveness—and there is forgiveness in Jesus Christ!

Jack Lemmon and Lee Remick "DAYS OF WINE AND ROSES" Presented by WARNER BROS.

36 days that proved Ford's total performance

- RIVERSIDE, CAL. January 20 In a total performance test of brakes, suspension and steering on the twisting Riverside sports car course, Dan Gurney drove a Ford hardtop to victory over 43 other stock cars. The 500-mile grind demonstrated Ford's superior stamina and road-holding.
- MONTE CARLO January 23 The '63 1/2 Falcon V-8 Sprints made their debut with a fantastic showing in the 2,500-mile Monte Carlo Rallye. Through Europe's worst winter weather they placed 1st and 2nd in class. Besides this . . . one Sprint defeated every entrant in the Rallye's six special stages.
- PURE OIL TRIALS January 27 In a competition designed to test all-around performance, Fords were over all winners in Class I and Class II in the Pure Oil Performance Trials at Daytona. Their total performance design added up to most total points in gas economy, acceleration and braking events.
- DAYTONA February Daytona "500" history was made by a Ford. Since Daytona is the track in the world, the proof that Ford's design can endure in automotive performance.

... and here are the 63 1/2's that gave total proof of Ford's durability and handling!

You may never see a competitive auto event. But at 30 mph on rain-slick blacktop, in the close-packed rush of 5 o'clock traffic, on a twisting mountain road, the results are important to you. On every slippery surface you need the kind of roadability that placed five Fords out front in the Daytona "500." On every busy cross street—you want the brakes that won on Riverside's sports car circuit. Your engine will hold up better through years of turnpike use because it's as beautifully balanced as Falcon's Monte Carlo V-8's. The winning competition car is bound to be a great road car—and Ford is the big winner!
