WHILE many farmers of Martin county were in town Saturday remarks from them were that their crops were looking fine so far, but all admitted that rain would have to be forthcoming within the next few days or what high hopes they had for raising a good crop this fall would be blasted.

The area from which the farmers came that made these flattering remarks had been fortunate enough to get some good showers of rain at a most propitious time for planting and to provide nourishment to sprout and carry the plant up through the soil to a good stand. But a large scope of the agricultural and ranch lands of the county have been far less fortunate and have received only light showers, and some parts not any.

We have farmers who tell us that taking it from year to another in this country, early planting of crops does not prove profitable. Too much moisture added to extreme cold weather, kills the seed, requiring the work and expense of planting over. But the last two or three years has exploded this theory. Little moisture has come through the winter months, leaving the soil with a scant supply of moisture for early spring planting. That fact caused many farmers to put off planting, waiting for early spring rains and the usual time for planting to arrive. As a result the majority of farmers of Martin county were deprived of receiving from $200 to $350 each in the cotton plow-up campaign of last year.

This year finds most of the farmers of the county have planted their crops early, and at this time, in the section where the showers have fallen, the crops are looking fine.

But the whole populace is sitting on the anxious seat at this very moment. High winds have been blowing for the past week, rapidly sapping the soil of what little moisture has fallen, and we all know what that eventually means for crops this fall.

In the next very few days the fate of the crop situation in this county will be determined. It will have solved the matter of whether or not this county is to pass through another year of drought. Here's hoping the weather man will turn the tables and dump down upon a deserving people an abundance of moisture that they may realize some benefit from their hard labors and patience.

A peculiar situation has come about through the statement from Great Britain that she will not pay the United States approximately $40,000,000 due June 15. The excuse offered in substance, that since the Johnson bill denies further borrowing privileges to countries that do not pay up in full, there is no use in remitting anything at all. England states she has no intention of repudiating her obligation, but will not pay anything since she is considered in default if she does not pay all that is justly due. In other words, she is irritated by the truth, by the simple process of calling a spade a spade. Business men have always had to deal with the fellow who runs up a bill and then patronizes another store when further tick is refused. The heavy obligations this writer owes to his creditors, if they come at us to "pay up in full" or we be allowed to borrow no more from them, we'll refuse to pay one thin dime of any of the amount, and cite them to John Bull.

THE biggest piece of news to "break" in this county for many moons was that carried last week in the news columns of The Reporter as that coming from the State Department of Education at Austin, informing the officials of the Stanton high school that it had so well met the requirements of the rules and regulations governing the high schools of the State as to restore the local school its lost credits of affiliation. The blow that removed from the Stanton high school its affiliation status, was stunning, but it came from one of those unfortunate circumstances over which no man has control—a serious drought—disasterous prices offered for commodities of all kinds—rendering it almost impossible for many citizens to pay their taxes, a source from which funds are derived to pay the operating expenses of the school. But a long, strong and hard pull by the school authorities and the loyal supporters of a good school, rehabilitated the damage wrought and today the Stanton high school stands among the affiliated institutions of the state, offering the students of the rural schools an educational facility that at their graduation they are equipped to enter the colleges and the universities of the country. Congratulations are due the superintendent, the teachers, the board of trustees, and those loyal patrons of the school, for the services rendered in placing the local school back in the high rank from which it fell and remained for a short period.

THE Sweetwater Daily Reporter issued an 18-page edition Sunday commemorating the opening of the Sweetwater Lake Thursday and Friday of this week. The issue carried many pictures of the scenery to be found on the lake, and the best of all, its advertising columns sparked with a liberal "smearage" of patronage from the business men of that live and attractive little city.

FORMER STANTON GIRL KILLS SELF ACCIDENTALLY

A newspaper clipping from the Rockwall Success sent to friends of the family in Stanton, recorded the accidental killing of Miss Mary Agnes Moody, 21, at the home of her aunt, Mrs. H. J. "Jap" Lowe, in Del Rio, recently. The aunt and niece were preparing to go to town and on arriving at the car it is supposed that Miss Moody had taken a .32 caliber automatic pistol from the pocket of the car to shoot a rabbit, as there had been a number of rabbits about the place. The aunt a little late leaving the house heard a shot in the back yard and going out to see found Miss Moody on the ground. Mr. Lowe stated he had left the gun on safety, and it is that when the gun wouldn't fire, Miss Moody carelessly handled it and the weapon discharged, the bullet piercing her heart.

Some years ago Miss Moody attended the Catholic school in Stanton, and is remembered by many people of this place. She had just recently gone to Del Rio to live from Rockwall.

American Legion To Stage A Rodeo At Pecos, July 3-4

Expected To Be By Far The Largest Rodeo Ever Held in This Section

By far the largest rodeo ever held in this country is scheduled for July 3 and 4 at Pecos, when the fifth annual American Legion Rodeo will be held. The event, started five years ago, has grown in size and popularity every year, and the 1934 show promises to surpass by a wide margin anything of the kind held before.

Two full days of bronc riding, bulldogging, horse racing, steer roping, and other events will draw a large crowd from all over the country. Expert rodeo performers from far and near will compete for the purses, which are larger than any in the past, and far greater than any others offered in rodeos on the same date anywhere in West Texas.

Several novelty numbers are also offered, including a wild cow milking contest on both days, and a girls' race of 300 yards. Isora DeRay, Pecos cowgirl and calf roping champion of the trans-Pecos region, will defend her title against all other girl contestants. Dances and other celebrations will take place during both evenings.

Already possessing the reputation of the finest show in West Texas, the Pecos rodeo will again be the high spot in this section.

HERE'S ONE REASON why long distance calls are fast

Within its own boundaries, this company, like each of the 24 Bell System associated companies, operates its own long distance system.

Such nation-wide service would be virtually impossible without equipment built to the same designs and used in the same way.

How effectively A. T. & T. meets this need is shown by the fact that today 9 out of 10 long distance calls go through while you hold the line.

Here you may see the workings of a fundamental Bell System policy, adopted because we believe it to be a policy that works.

THE SMART FORD V8

Operates for less—
THAN ANY FORD EVER BUILT

THE smartest car that Ford has ever built is the smartest buy your budget has ever seen. The new Ford V-8 is the most economical car that Ford has yet produced.

That big Ford V-8 engine, which is capable of a generous 80 per, is miserly when it comes to fuel. It consumes less gasoline than many engines with less cylinders and less power.

Aluminum-alloy pistons minimize carbon formation. Tungsten steel valve seat inserts virtually let you say "good-bye forever" to valve grinding.

The Ford V-8's dependable springs—which give you free action on all four wheels—have shackles that require no lubrication. And the whole car is so reliably built that you will never be plagued with repair bills.

Before you buy any car at any price, drive the Ford V-8.
