

SNOOTER KNOWS

LITTLE ABOUT EVERY-THING

NOT MUCH ABOUT ANY-THING

ANOTHER week will witness the close of another term for the Stanton schools. To be exact, Wednesday of next week, will be the last day, and of all the hustling and bustling about this week the students are doing it. Examinations are being held, the seniors are beside themselves preparing for their play Fri- are buzzing at fever heat on the day night, and all in all, things school campus this week.

Twenty-one students are graduating from Stanton high school this year, all, we suppose, with ambitions to go on and finish at college or university. Some, nodoubt, will not make so much as an effort to pursue the opportunity for higher educational advantages further than the diploma from high school, while others ambitious to acquire the advantage of a higher education, will meet disappointment through failure to have the required amount of funds to meet the expense account. One of the surest ways to obtain an education higher than that of high school, is to possess the urge, the industry to work hard, the happy faculty to accept any sort of a job, that is honorable, and the nerve to make the best of everything when out and from under the parental roof.

Parents are eager and willing to assist their boy or girl to gain a high knowledge of learning. When they are at home going to high school the expense is not so great, and too, the children are home among friends and relatives who are in a position to give them a lift by providing them a job, etc. But when the child leaves high school for college, he leaves behind relatives and friends and enters a land wholly strange and among strangers. He has a taste of his first entrance into a cold cruel world where "every tub stands on its own bottom," so to speak. His nerve is to be tested in the strange land, as well as his strength of character, and his willingness to take everything as it comes. He must also acquire the habit of doing something for himself, and not place so much dependence upon the pocket-book of the parents.

The Reporter congratulates the members of the senior class of Stanton high school, and wish for each senior all the luck in the world.

THIS little area around Stanton is up to its old tricks again in the way of rain-making, but getting a very scarce amount of the rain it hatches out. The past two weeks rain clouds have formed around and over Stanton spill a light shower on the populace, then shift off to the south-east and east spreading into real rain clouds soaking the country over which they pass, leaving Martin county high and dry. Rain-showers have visited the county at intervals the past two weeks but they have been very spotted, ranging from a quarter to two inches, while other points have not had enough moisture to scarcely lay the dust.

THE editorial squib in this department last week referring to the division of the State of Texas, seems to have borne fruit, at least it caused one citizen to comment on the movement. The communication appears elsewhere in this issue. Should West Texas be carved out of the State of Texas, responsibility for such a measure would be charged to the unfair tactics that have been and are being employed against West Texas by that section of the state lying east of Fort Worth. Appointments by the Governor, against whom not one iota of offense could be brought only that the appointment came from West Texas, was sufficient evidence to place the applicant's head under the political ax.

CONTRACT AWARDED LOYD

BIG SHIPMENT TO KANSAS To Build 4 1-2 Miles of Hardsurfaced Road

Powell Drives 2500 Head Sheep to T. & P. Pens

LARGEST SINGLE DRIVE OF SHEEP TO STOCK PENS IN STANTON IN HISTORY OF MARTIN COUNTY.

The largest sheep drive to the stock pens in Stanton in the history of Martin county took place last Saturday when Earl Powell from his Bar X ranch, 11 miles north of Stanton, drove 2,500 head of yearlings and 2-year old ewes for loading out to a Beloit, Kansas buyer. The sheep were contracted by the Kansan in the early spring at $5.50 a head, out of the wool, and Powell was making his delivery. The herd had been driven from the ranch the day previous to the John Poe ranch, 4 miles of Stanton, and from that point they were driven to the T&P stockpens here without the loss of a sheep.

GUESTS OF THE LARRY CLOTFELTERS

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Freeman of Hico, came in last Thursday, accompanied by Miss Vera Middlebrook of Abilene, for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Larry Clotfelter. While here the Clotfelters and their guests were honored at several hospitalities. Friday they drove out to the "69" ranch, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Son Powell, to see the shearing of sheep and eat a chuck wagon dinner. Saturday morning they were guests for breakfast of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kelly and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Powell with their house guest, Mrs. Bryan Loveless of Abilene, were also guests. Miss Middlebrook returned home Saturday and Mrs. Loveless, Sunday. On Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Larry Clotfelter, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Freeman, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kelly, were the supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Powell on their Bar X ranch north of Stanton.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman returned home Tuesday.

A Rushing Business

Lynden White, justice of the peace N. 1, did a rushing business in the marrying business last week. Marriage ceremony was performed on Mr. Willie Morrow and Miss Idalie Baize, the former of Scurry county and the latter of Stanton; Mr. Donley McKee and Miss Isabella McLemore of south of Stanton; Joe Valencia and Miss Vicenta Moncado, (Mexicans), of Ackerville. This all happened on Saturday and Sunday of last week.

re-arranging his "koke" bottles in the frigidaire to make room for a garage for his new midget automobile he anticipates getting to ride in between his home and place of business. The drug store boys sitting around the tables sipping ice water through a straw, are asking Mr. Hall the trade-in value of their wheelbarrows and lawnmowers on his new midget, if he becomes the local representative. Never mind these wise guys' jibs Bro. Hall, this writer will delight in accepting an invitation to ride in the new midget, if and when you get it. The great feature the new car will have over the standard, will be that the driver will not be handicapped turning out of the way of other cars on the highway—it can run under 'em. That drolls the entire highway to yourself, and that's something in these days of congested highways and car drivers who eyes have been crossed from drinking too much booze.

Somewhat of a barrier in the way of the drive that puzzled Powell, was what success he was going to have crossing the sheep over highway 80 and the railroad tracks to reach the pens. Usually, highway 80, is fairly "working" with traffic, and to get 2500 head of sheep across it without scattering them all over the country, was an obstacle confronting Powell that was not to be sneezed at. Luckily, when the herd arrived at the barrier, it was no barrier at all—not a moving automobile on the highway was in sight, and the sheep crossed both the highway and railroad tracks without any trouble. The Powell shipment Saturday to Kansas, was considered the largest single shipment of sheep ever the leave the T&P stock in the history of the county.

ESTIMATE OVER 100,000 LBS. WOOL SHIPPED FROM CO.

FAR CRY FROM NO SHEEP IN COUNTY FEW YEARS BACK TO SEVERAL THOUSAND HEAD NOW.

The conservative estimate of sheepmen is that this year the wool clip of Martin county will reach over the 100,000 pound mark. The figures available gathered by the Reporter places the wool production of the county at 80,851 pounds, but talking to sheep ranchers they state some small herds not sheared yet and some sheared no figures are available at present, would bring the total county clip at over 100,000 pounds.

Sheep shearing of practically all the flocks in the county, ended last week, and the figures on the amount of wool clip reporting include:

Powell	48,000
Wilkinson	14,000
Wilkinson & Morrow	10,227
W. C. Flanagan	7,024
Wilkinson & Haislip	1,600
Total	80,851

The quality of the wool and the turnout, is the best in the history of sheep-raising in the county. The Earl Powell sheep sheared on the average of 12 pounds to the head, and the quality exceptionally good. The surprising part of why a better weight and good quality of wool when considered the dryness of the ranges all year and the number of sandstorms in this area the past year. Mr. Powell solved the problem by "pouring" the feed to his sheep during the winter, he having raised a big feed crop on the farming end of his ranch, and plenty of water was always at hand.

From the Son Powell "69" ranch, south of Stanton in Glasscock county, report has it 8,000 pounds of wool was realized from his sheep, following the shearing of last week.

The entire Martin county wool clip went to San Angelo for sale, but much of it is being held in storage awaiting a better price than was offered last week. Many are holding for 25c or better.

Visited in Sweetwater

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Owens visited with their parents Monday in Sweetwater.

Wednesday, around the courthouse in Stanton, witnessed considerable milling about of folks, much of the activity centering around the office of the Martin county commissioners' court on the third floor of the county's temple of justice.

Bids were to be opened by the court for letting of contract on 4 1/2 miles of road out of Stanton, north, on the Stanton-Lamesa highway, and the folks doing the milling with anxious faces, were the several road contractors from various points who had submitted bids on the job.

When the final curtain on the siesta was rung down at noon Wednesday, and the bids reviewed from every angle, it was found that Ernest Loyd of Fort Worth, had the low bid of $20,878.36.

Work on this segment of road is to start June 1, and is to be completed in 75 working days.

The contract calls for grading and drainage structures, flexible base, and double asphalt surface treatment from a point in the town of Stanton in a northerly direction on the Stanton-Lamesa highway.

Sitting in on the commissioners' court, was the county's engineer, P. H. Caldwell of Fort Stockton, who will be on the job for county until the work has been completed.

Mr. Loyd, is now building the road through Midland and Glasscock counties. He has recently completed an $189,000 road job in Crane County.

The city of Stanton, is cooperating on this project on a 50-50 basis with the county in building a hardsurfaced street from the First National bank to the north end at a point at the J. K. Barfield residence.

MRS. COX CELEBRATES PRUNE PEDDLERS DEFEATED 8 TO 14

The Prune Peddlers, O. B. Bryan's aggregation of softball artists, "sit the dust" before the onslaughts of the Oil Magnets, Ernest Epley's gang of maruders, or "murderers," whichever the reader may see fit to choose, Wednesday evening, 8 to 14.

The scene of battle was on the softball grounds the city has made in the new city park.

As soon as the fan saw that E. Price was to umpire the game he saw no earthly chance for Prune Peddlers to win. Himself being interested in the oil business to the extent of owning some buildings which house filling stations, it would be to his interest to favor the "oilers"—if he didn't the "oilers" might hold back on their rent.

Rev. Raymond Van Zandt was the pitcher for the Prune Peddlers, and Cubby Heaton was the "Dizzy Dean" for the Oil Magnets.

The two teams will play another match game next Monday afternoon.

PEOPLES' FORUM

WEST TEXAS SHOULD BE AN ENTITY UNTO ITSELF

Conditions and problems affecting the lives and well-being of the people in a State having an area 700 miles east and west and 900 miles north and south are too dissimilar, conflicting and unwieldy to be successfully dealt with by the political machinery of one State government. Laws made applicable to needs of one section and group of citizens are too frequently found to be wholly inadequate and unsuited for another section and group, hundreds of miles apart. One might as well try to navigate a battleship up a creek as to try to legislate for this entire state. We notice a striking example of this in our present school and transportation laws that work immeasurable hardship on West Texas. Under our political system of State Government where such sectional differences exist, it has been demonstrated as in other states of the union where they found their efforts to solve such problems that it is was hopeless and impossible task to administer a representative government that would not favor one section and penalized another. It's an uncontroverted fact that West Texas has frequently suffered the same fate as have other states of the union and continue to suffer irreparable injury on account of these differences. West Texas has often found it difficult to get effective legislation enacted in keeping with the needs of the citizens. Large and costly state institutions of every description are invariably located in the East and South sections of the State in spite of the fact West Texas carries a heavy tax burden all out of proportion to the return thereof. The appointments of virtually all the key political positions such as the Railroad Commission and others are from East and South Texas. The founders of our National and State Governments were very practical and far-seeing men and anticipated such conditions and provided corrective measures by which the mighty should not oppress the weak nor govern and rule over them without their consent. They provided for the unrestricted power even of the minority to call mass meetings and elections of the citizens, free from judicial or other interference that they might establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty. The citizens of West Texas need not be further burdened with the inequality of government, but may cast off the yoke, set up their own legislature as they may see fit and ask and demand recognition by our National Government at Washington. No applicant State so far has ever asked in vain nor been turned down for long. Would it not be worth the effort for every citizen to help make West Texas the last jewel in the Union, the Forty-ninth star in the flag? But in demanding such a division or separate entity of State Government and territory, there should not be and there will not be a division effecting those noble ideals and traditions so gloriously exemplified by the founders of this great and glorious empire within the Union.

HOME DEMONSTRATION NEWS

MRS. ELSIE GILKERSON, Agent

TENDER CUTS OF MEAT

For roasting use tender cuts such as rib, loin, tenderloin or rump. Mrs. Elsie Gilkerson, Martin county home demonstration agent, explained as she gave her demonstration on roasting and broiling meats to the women of the Brown home demonstration club May 4, at the home of Mrs. J. S. Tunnell. If you want a good fresh tender meat you should choose meat that has a cherry color, the fat and bone is creamy white and it has a fine grain. Meat that is old and tough is dark in color, the fat and bone are white and is coarse grain. Know your butcher so you can discuss the different cuts of meat with him and learn which cuts are best. Roll call was answered with "my favorite meat recipe." A poem was given by a club member and is passed on to you "Are you an active member The kind that would be missed Or are you just contented That your name is on the list? Do you attend the meetings, and mingle with the flock, Or do you stay at home and criticize and knock? Think this over member— You know right from wrong, Are you an active member, Or do you just belong?" A healthful menu with the meat prepared for demonstration as main dish, was served to the following: Mmes. Lonnie Montgomery, W. G. Lillard, Belton T. Hill, E. C. Airhart, Lee Castle, Elsie Gilkerson, J. E. Griffin and hostess. Visitors were: Mrs. O.

M. Peacock, and Miss Sarah Evelyn Griffin. The reporter wishes to correct an error made in last report. Instead of 4 lbs of corn starch for paint remover it should be 4 lbs. Sp—Reporter. —HDC—

MEAT DEMONSTRATION AT FLOWER GROVE CLUB

"Dry heat should be used when roasting, broiling or pan broiling tender cuts of meat," Mrs. Elsie Gilkerson, home demonstration agent told member of the Flower Grove club in meeting May 3, at Mrs. Earl Head's. "Meat should not be washed but wiped clean with cloth, if necessary. Place the meat on rack with fat side up. Rack should keep meat from frying in drippings. Meat thermometer should be placed so it does not touch bone or gristle. The pan should not be covered or water-added. Roast in slow oven until done as your family likes it." This is the correct manner of roasting. Demonstrator also explained correct ways of broiling and pan broiling. Members of club answered roll call by giving favorite recipe of preparing beef. Six new frame gardens were reported built by club members and non-members. Supper was served buffet style to fourteen members and visitors. Those present were: Mmes. Dick Butcher, Don Sullivan, Robert Dunn, Earl Heald, Bonnie Culp, C. W. Butcher, Ed. Burns, Ralph Mullins and Mrs. Gilkerson. Denton.—Cotton is no longer King. Yet the sharecropper family shown in the center picture above doesn't know it. Caught in the system of perpetual indebtedness and tied to a single cash crop—cotton—they are unaware that a new South is being born. That South is a land which must learn to solve its problems in relation to its own geographical peculiarities, says Miss Mary Jo Cowling, instructor in geography at the North Texas State Teachers College. So Miss Cowling has organized a 6,000 mile tour of America's "forgotten land," the South, which will reveal the country below the Mason and Dixon line as an area of immense potential richness already building for tomorrow. The tour will last six weeks, from June 8 to July 17.

A new South glamorously studded with warm palm-fringed beaches; crystal lakes where fishermen find rich refuge and pleasure-seekers rival each other in breath-taking water sports.

Rich in beauty, the New South should realize that its pleasure resorts can be increased, bear the section one of its biggest cash crops, says Miss Cowling—tourist trade.

A new South marching toward tomorrow, attacking such problems as erosion control, conserving its natural wealth as in the Tennessee farm shown above, where check dams, and brush are saving the soil. A new South which, through chemo-murgy, is bringing science to its aid in utilization of agricultural crops in building a new industry.

The North Texas geography tour, which may be taken by students for college credit and by pleasure-seekers for pleasure will therefore attempt to present a complete panorama of nine Southern states. Among the many places to be visited on the tour are some of the most beautiful gardens in the world, Florida beach resorts, the famous Herty laboratories; Lake Murray, where is being built the greatest power project in the South; cotton mills and other industrial areas; picturesque Jugtown, North Carolina handicraft center; Tennessee Valley Authority centers; the Martha Berry School for Georgia mountaineers, and the beautiful Natchez, Miss. antebellum homes.

"To solve the public problems and shape the policy of the South of tomorrow, Southerners must become aware of the beauty, wealth, and potential richness of their own land," says Miss Cowling.

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feet tired, nervous, all worn out. Frequent, scanty or burning passages may be further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Instant on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

No Cobwebs in His Brain

"John Nance Garner was born on Nov. 22, as near Thanksgiving as so modest and wise a person would choose to be. His countrymen can't help numbering him among their blessings this week," said an editorial in the New York Times a year or so ago in commenting upon the vice-president's birthday. "He holds playfully," said the editorial, "that the books have got the year of his birth wrong. They say it was 1868. He prefers '69. For us it is '69 until he selects some other date. Commemoration of his birthday should be a movable feast. Early to bed and early to rise has had its proverbial effects. On his anniversary Monday he was out of bed at 7:45 a. m.; into it again at 9 p. m."

"He has been at Washington for nearly 35 years. There he is an institution. Young folks a little careless with their geography yet with an instinctive sense of the higher proprieties are apt to think of Uvalde as the capital of Texas. He has minded his own business perfectly. He has minded the nation's affairs carefully and competently.

"He can be patient with policies that he disapproves. A sort of Ben Franklin, he has no cobwebs in his brain. He can be exposed freely to fantasists and fanatics and keep the peace. It is lucky for his own that he is a philosopher. The felicitations of his colleagues drove him from the chamber. Politicians who habitually spread their ears upon the ground can admire a man given to forming his own opinions.

"He is wise by nature and long experience, without pretense, pedantry or solemnity. He is a good man, an able man, full of humor and a good fellow. If he doesn't make his years a round hundred, that will be the first time that he has disappointed the public hope."

FIRST-SECOND GRACE PICNIC

Picnics seem to be the traditional form of entertainment the last few days of school. The first and second grades kept this tradition by having their annual picnic Friday, May 12, on the local football field. The usual picnic lunch, consisting of sandwiches, potato chips, pickles, cookies and apple suckers was served to seventy-five children.

Mrs. James Jones, one of the room-mothers, assisted by Mrs. Lamar and Mrs. Anderson in spreading the lunch.

ORR DRUG STORE, ODESSA, ROBBED

The second attempt of burglary at Orr's Pharmacy at 713 North Grant Avenue in two months proved successful Friday night and turned into armed robbery as well as burglary.

One of the burglars stuck a gun in J. W. Orr's body as he interrupted them in their work. Mr. Orr, son of Henry, owner of the pharmacy, said Saturday he "couldn't give much of a description of the man with the gun. I was looking at the gun."

He came on the burglars about 1 o'clock Saturday morning. He was just preparing to fire to his room at the rear of the store when he noticed the open door on the north end.

"I started in, but when I saw that the lock was broken off I started backing up. The man with the gun was behind me and got me as I came out," Mr. Orr said.

The gunman's companion was inside the store, at the company's cash register, when Mr. Orr entered.

The burglars got about $30 change from the day's business from the register. They had not yet attacked the safe and left a 10-pound hammer at its side when they fled.

Orr and officers, called as soon as the burglars left, traced their footprints down the alley at the rear of the store until they lost them at Seventh Street. The tracks and several finger prints are the only clues left for officers to work on.

The first attempt at robbery at Orr's two months ago, was frustrated when Mr. Orr threw a beam of light on the intruders frightening them away.—Odesa News-Times.

PIONEER SISTER OF MERCY, CALLED TO HER ETERNAL REWARD

On Friday, May 5th, at 3:00 a. m., at Mercy Hospital, Slaton, our beloved Sister M. Stanislaus, passed to her eternal reward.

Born in County Galway, Ireland, she came to this country at a very early age. Being a member of the Order of the Sisters for almost sixty years, it goes without saying, that her loss will be keenly felt. She belonged to the pioneer band, and was in fact, one of the first Sisters of Mercy, to be found in Texas. She taught in many schools of her Order, and her memory is venerated by all who had the pleasure of knowing her.

As a teacher of music she was one of the best.

Her death was not unexpected, as she had been ailing for some time, and was eighty years old. In fact, for years she knew the Grim Reaper might strike at any time, yet she valiantly kept at her post of duty until well nigh the end. Her demise marked the passing of a great soul.

On Saturday at 9:00 a. m., a Solemn Requiem Mass was offered in St. Joseph's Church, Slaton, for the repose of her soul. The Celebrant was the Very Reverend T. D. O'Brien, pastor of St. Joseph's. He was assisted by Reverend Gabriel Diamante of Lubbock, and Reverend Matthew Schafle of Rotan.

After the Mass Father O'Brien preached an eloquent sermon—a fitting tribute to the dear departed one. Interment was made in Englewood cemetery.

The above communication was sent to the Reporter, from Slaton, as news to many Stanton folks who had become acquainted with Sister M. Stanislaus, during her long period here as Sister in Our Lady of Mercy Convent in Stanton. She was with the Catholic institution in Stanton 18 years.

STANTON STUDY CLUB IN FINAL MEET OF YEAR

The Stanton Study club held its final meeting of the year last Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Floyd Smith.

In the business session, the club voted to have the year-books printed for the coming year rather than having them typewritten as has been done for several years. A committee was appointed by the president to rewrite the club constitution, bringing it up to date, and conforming to the State Federation Constitution. The committee is composed of Miss Maude Alexander, Mrs. J. E. Kelly and Mrs. Poe Woodard. Final plans were completed for the antique tea to be held at the home of Mrs. Poe Woodard on the afternoon of May 25, honoring past presidents of the club.

A review of "Rebecca" by Daphne DuMaurier was presented by Miss Vernay Boynton. Several facts about the author were given by Mrs. H. A. Houston.

The club adjourned for the summer, and will renew meetings in October.

Those present were Mrs. H. A. Houston, Mrs. Poe Woodard, Mrs. Edmund Tom, Mrs. James Jones, Mrs. Filmore Epley, Mrs. Floyd Smith, Mrs. Calvin Jones, Mrs. A. R. Houston, Mrs. Jim Tom, Mrs. J. E. Kelly, Miss Boynton, and one visitor, Mrs. Bartley Smith.

Garner Man of the People, Sound, Rugged and Honest

The time has definitely arrived in America when positions of trust and responsibility should be placed exclusively in the hands of the elders, declared Roy Miller, old-time editor of Texas, in speaking recently at a gathering of old friends and neighbors of John Nance Garner, vice president, in the little village of Detroit, Texas, where the distinguished Texan was born nearly sixty-nine years ago.

"There is no substitute, either in public or private life, for experience, and experience, of course, comes only with years. As a matter of fact, the only thing that is old about John Nance Garner is some of his political philosophy. He still believes in the old-fashioned virtues of economy, thrift, and self-reliance. In other words, he believes in the old-fashioned, fundamental principles of democracy, and no man in America, in both his public and private life, exemplifies those principles to such a degree as does this great man."

"While achieving high place politically, he has made substantial success of his private life, and it is his proud boast that he owes no human being a thin dime. He believes in the pay-as-you-go system, and what a blessing it would be if that system could be applied to America today."

"Let me be misunderstood, let me say here, with all of the emphasis I can command, that John Garner is no reactionary in his political philosophy. Indeed, he is not even a conservative, if the term be applied with the meaning with which it was clothed in years gone by."

"John Garner is a liberal and a great liberal. He was a liberal Democrat practicing liberalism many years before some of the most vocal present-day sponsors of liberalism were even born. But there is no tinge or taint of radicalism in the liberalism of John Garner. His liberalism is that which would guarantee to every American citizen the right and opportunity to work out his or her salvation with the least possible interference upon the part of the Government. Therefore, he believes in all necessary legislation and regulation to protect the weak against the strong, the poor against the rich, the owner of property against those who would destroy the ownership of property; in short, equality of opportunity for every American citizen. He believes in Democracy and prefers to be known as a Democrat in the old-fashioned interpretation of the term without qualification, prefix, or suffix."

"In such an atmosphere as this, I think we find the real soul and personality of America. From such humble surroundings as these, typified by the lowly log cabins where John Garner and his sainted mother were born, have come the truly great in America's glorious history. They knew, as he knows, what America is, what America stands for, and how and why our American system of government was conceived. They knew, as he knows, what it means to toil and strive and work. They knew, as he knows, that there is no substitute for self-reliance and individual initiative, and that any system of government which takes from the individual these fundamental tenets of liberty cannot long endure as a democracy of freemen. They knew, as he knows, that for men to be free they must be guaranteed only freedom of opportunity to work out their own destinies, and that the highest purpose and duty of government in a democracy is to assure to every citizen an equal chance with his neighbor. This is the essence of John Garner's political philosophy."

"I have no patience with those who would seek to analyze the percentage of one's Americanism. It is not a divisible thing. It is not something that can be broken up into parts and appraised in its constituent elements. Either one is an American or he is not. Nevertheless, I cannot help but feel that there never was a time in the history of our beloved country when the need for the leadership of those whose Americanism is beyond all peradventure of doubt was so essentially and vitally necessary to the preservation of America and American institutions as it is at the present moment."

"Here in Red River County, where John Garner's widowed grandmother with her six fatherless children came from Tennessee almost a hundred years ago, built yonder log cabin, and joined the ranks of pioneer pioneers who blazed a trail for civilization and laid deep and broad the firm foundations of Imperial Texas, may we find, indeed, the soil from which true Americanism is generated and born. Here in this community, plain, home-like, typically American, is the birth-place of a great American who, in my humble opinion, has been marked by the hand of destiny to become the President of the greatest, richest, and most powerful nation of all time, the United States of America."
